26 And (there were) seuen steppes at the goeyng vp to it, and the arches thereof before them: and it had palme trees, one on this syde, and another on that syde, vpon the front thereof.

27 And (there was) a gate in the inner court towarde the south, and he measured from gate to gate towarde the south, a hundred cubites.

E 28 So he brought me into the inner courte thorow the south gate, and he measured the south gate accoyding to those measures.

29 And the chambers therof, ẏ frontes therof, and the arches therof, accoyding to these measures, and windowes in it: and in the arches thereof rounde about, fiftie cubites long, and fiue and twentie cubites broade.

30 And the arches rounde about (were) fiue and twentie cubites long, and fiue cubites broade.

31 And the arches thereof (were) towarde the vtter court, and palme trees vpon the frontes therof, and the goeyng vp to it (had) eyght steppes.

32 He brought me also into the inmost court towarde the east, and measured the gate accoyding to those measures.

33 And the chambers thereof, and frontes thereof, and the arches therof (were) accoyding to those measures, & there were wyndowes therein, and in the arches thereof rounde about, it (was) fiftie cubites long, and fiue and twentie cubites broade.

34 And the arches thereof (were) towarde the vtter courte, and palme trees vpon the frontes thereof on this syde, and on that side, & the goyng vp to it had eight steppes.

35 And he brought me to the north gate, & F measured it accoyding to those measures.

36 The chambers therof, the frontes therof, and the arches thereof, and (there were) wyndowes therein rounde about: and the length (was) fiftie cubites, and the breadth fiue and twentie cubites.

37 And the frontes thereof (were) towarde the vtter courte, and palme trees (were) vpon the frontes thereof on this syde and on that syde, and the goeyng vp to it had eyght steppes.

38 And a chamber and the entrie thereof (was) vnder the frontes of the gates: there they washed the (g) burnt offeringes.

(g) That is, the inwardes or entrayles of the sacrifice that was offered for a burnt offering.

39 And in the porche of the gate stoode two tables on this side, and two tables on that syde, vpon the whiche they slue the burnt offeryng, and the sinne offeryng, and the trespasse offeryng.

40 And at the syde without the steps at the entry of the north gate (stoode) two tables, and on the other syde whiche was at the porche of the gate (were) two tables.

41 Foure tables were on this syde, & foure G on that syde, by the syde of the gate, (euen) eyght tables, whereupon they slue (their sacrifices.)

42 And the foure tables were of hewen stone for the burnt offryng, of a cubite and a halfe long, and a cubite & a halfe broade, and one cubite hygh, whereupon were laid the instrumentes wherewith they slue the burnt offering, and the sacrifice.

43 And within there were "hookes one "or, trehande breadth (long) fastened round about, nettes. and vpon the tables was the offeryng fleashe.

44 And without the inner gate (were) the chambers of the singers in ẏ inward court, whiche was at the syde of the north gate, and theyr prospect was toward the south: and one was at the side of the east gate, hauing the prospect towarde the north.

45 And he sayde vnto me, This chamber whose prospect is towarde the south, (is) for the priestes that haue charge to kepe the house.

46 And

46 And the chamber whose prospect is towarde the north (is) for the priestes that haue charge to keepe the aulter: these are the sonnes of Sadoc, whiche of the sonnes of Leui come neare to the Lord, to minister vnto him.

47 So he measured the courte, whiche had in length a hundred cubites, and a hundred in breadth, (euen) foure square: and the aulter stoode before the house.

48 And he brought me to the porche of the (h) house, and measured the porche fyue cubites on this side, and fiue cubites on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubites on this side, and three cubites on that syde.

(h) That is, of the temple.

(i) Frō north to south.

49 The (i) length of the porche was twentie cubites, the breadth eleuen cubites, and by steps went men vp to it: by the frontes also were pyllers, one on this syde, and another on that syde.

The .xli. Chapter.

1. The disposition and deuice of building agayne of the temple, and of the other thinges thereto belonging.

¶ 1 AFter this he brought me to the temple, and measured the frontes, sixe cubites broade on the one syde, and sixe cubites brode on the other syde (which was) the breadth of the tabernacle.

2 The breadth of ẏ dooze was ten cubites, and the sydes of the dooze (were) fiue cubites on the one syde, and fyue cubites on the other syde, and he measured the length (a) therof fourtie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites.

(a) Of the temple from this doore to the most holy place.

3 Then went he in and measured the front of the dooze two cubites: but the dooze it selfe was sixe cubites, and the breadth on the other syde of the dooze was seuen cubites.

4 He measured the length thereof twentie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites before the temple: and he sayde vnto me, This is the moste holy (place.)

5 He measured also the wal of the house sixe cubites, & the breadth of a chamber foure cubites rounde about the house on euery syde.

6 And the chambers were chamber vpon chamber, "three and thirtie in order: and they entred the wal which was of the house for the chambers rounde about, that they myght be fastened, and not be fastened in the wal of the house.

"or, three and thirtie foote high.

¶ 7 There was an enlarging, and a winding about, mounting still vpward to the chambers: for the stayze of the house was mounting styl vpwarde rounde about the house, therfore the house was larger vpwarde: so they went vp from the lowest (chamber) to the highest by the middest.

8 And I sawe the house high rounde about: the fundations of the chambers (were) a ful cane of sixe cubites (b) vp to the armeholes.

(b) That is, great, and of the largest syse.

9 The thickneſse of the wal whiche was for the chamber without (was) fyue cubites, and that whiche remayned was the place of the chambers that were within.

10 And betweene the chambers was the wydeneſse of twentie cubites round about the house on euery syde.

11 And the doores of the chambers were toward the " place that remained, one dooze toward the north, and another toward the south: and the breadth of the place that remayned, was fiue cubites rounde about.

" or, voyde space.

12 Nowe the buildyng that was before the separate place at the ende toward the west (was) seuentie cubites broade: and the wal of the building was fyue cubites thicke rounde about, and the length ninetie cubites.

13 So he measured the house, whiche was a hundred cubites long, and the separate place and the building with the walles, were a hundred cubites long also.

14 The breadth also of the forefront of the house and of the separate place toward the east, was a hundred cubites. C

15 And he measured the length of the building ouer agaynst the separate place which was behynde it, and the chambers on the one syde, and on the other side, a hundred cubites, with the temple within, and the porches of the court.

16 The dooze postes, and the narowe wyndowes, and the chambers round about, on three sydes ouer agaynst the dooze, seeled with wood round about, & from the ground vp to the wyndowes: and the wyndowes themselues were seeled.

17 And from aboue the dooze vnto the house within and without, and vpon euery wal rounde about within and without, (tooke he) measure.

18 And it was made with (d) Cherubims and palme trees, so that a palme tree was betweene a Cherub and a Cherub, and euery Cherub had two faces.

(d) That is, Cherubims and palme trees were grauen and carued in the walles.

19 So that the face of a man was towarde the palme tree on the one syde, and the face of a Lion towarde the palme tree on the other syde: (thus) was it made through al the house rounde about.

20 From the grounde vnto aboue the dooze were Cherubims and palme trees made: and and (thus was) the wal of the temple.

D 21 The postes of ỹ temple were foure squared, and the fashion of the sanctuarie was (c) appearance lyke appearance.

(e) That is, the doore postes or cheekes of the sanctuarie, were like the doore cheekes of the temple.

22 The aulter of wood was three cubites hygh, and two cubites long: the corners, the length, and the walles thereof were of wood. And he sayde vnto me, This is the table that shalbe before the Lorde.

23 The temple and the holyest of al had eyther of them two doores.

24 And the doores had two (f) doores (a peece, euen) two folding doores, two for the one doore, and two doores for the other.

(f) That is, two leaues, one on the one side, and the other on the other side, of either of the dores.

25 And vpon the doores of the temple there were made Cherubims and palme trees, like as was made vpon the walles: & thicke beames vppon the forefront of the porche without.

26 And (there were) narowe wyndowes and palme trees on the one side, and on the other side, by the sides of the porche, and vppon the sides of the house, and thicke beames.

The.xlii.Chapter.

1. Of the chambers of the temple for the priestes, and the holy thynges.

A 1 THen led he me into the vtter court by the way towarde the North, and he brought me into the chamber that (was) ouer agaynst the separate place, whiche (was) before the buyldyng towarde the North.

2 Before the length of a hundred cubites (was) the North doore: and the breadth (was) fyftie cubites.

3 Ouer agaynst the twentie cubites whiche were for the inner court, and ouer against the pauement, whiche was for the vtter court, (was) chamber agaynst chamber, three (orders.)

4 And before the chambers, there was a walking place of ten cubites wide inward, the way of one cubite: and their doores towarde the North.

5 Thus the vpper chambers were alwaye narrower: for those chambers (seemed) to eate vp these, (to wit) the lower and the myddlemer of the buyldyng.

6 For they were in three orders, but had no pyllers as the pyllers of the courtes: therfore were they smaller thē the neatherwost and the myddlemoste (to recken) from the grounde.

B 7 And the wal that was without ouer agaynst the chambers, towarde the vtter court on the forefront of the chambers, the length thereof was fyftie cubites.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the vtter courte, was fiftie cubites: and lo, before ỹ temple was a hundred cubites.

9 And vnder these chambers (was) the entrie from the East, as one goeth vnto them from the vtter court.

10 In the thickneſſe of the wal of the court towarde the East, before the separate place, and before the buyldyng of the chambers.

11 And the way before them after the appearaunce of the chambers whiche were towarde the North: as their length, so was their breadth: and al their entryes (were) accordyng to their fashion, and accordyng to their doores.

12 And accordng to the doores of the chambers that were towarde the South, (was) a doore in the head of the way, (euen) the way directly before the wal towarde the East as one entreth.

13 Then sayde he vnto me, The chambers towarde the North, and the chambers towarde the South, whiche are before the separate place, those be holy chambers, wherin the priestes that (a) approche vnto the Lorde must eate the most holy thynges, and there must they lay the most holy thynges: and the meate offeryng, and sinne offering, and trespasse offering: for it is a holy place.

(a) That is, which exercise the priestes office, as more fully is declared in the nexte chapter following. verse.19.

14 When the priestes comme therein, they shal not goe out of the holy place into the vtter court, but there they shal lay vp their garmentes wherein they minister, for they are holy: and shal put on (b) other garmentes, and so shal approche to those which are for the people.

(b) That is, their cōmon apparel whiche thei vsed among the people: and as some say, was such as the common people vsed.

15 Nowe when he had finished the measuring of the house within, he led me foorth toward the gate, whose prospect is toward the East, and he measured it round about.

16 He measured the East side with the measuring cane, fiue hundred canes, (euen) with the measuryng cane rounde about.

17 And he measured the North side fiue hundred canes, (euen) with the measuryng cane rounde about.

18 The South side also measured he fiue hundred canes, by the measuryng cane.

19 He turned about (also) to the Weast side, and measured fiue hundred canes, by the measuryng cane.

(c) That is, betwene the temple & the citie, whiche in respect of the sanctuarie and temple was coūted prophane

20 So he measured it by the foure sides: it had a wal round about, fiue hundred canes long, and fiue hundred broad, to make a separation betweene the (c) sanctuarie, and the prophane place.

The.xliii.Chapter.

1. He seeth the glory of God goeyng into the temple, from whence it had before departed.

A 1 SO he brought me to the gate (euen) the gate that turneth towarde the East:

2 And beholde, then came the glorye of the God of Israel from out of the East, whose voyce was lyke a great noyse of waters, and the earth was lightened with his glory.

Ezech.9.c. 3 And accordyng to the appearance of the vision whiche I sawe, (euen) according to the vision whiche I sawe (a) when I came to destroy the citie: and the visions were lyke the visions whiche I sawe by the riuer Chebar, and I fel vpon my face.

(a) When I prophecied the destruction of the citie by the Chaldeans.

4 And the (b) glory of the Lorde came into the house by the way of the gate whose prospect is towarde the East.

(b) Whiche wasdeparted before.chap. 10.a 11.c.

5 So a "wynde tooke me vp, and brought me into the innermer court: and behold, the house was ful of the glory of the Lorde.

" or, the spirite.

6 And I heard one speakyng vnto me out of the house, and there stoode a man by me,

B 7 And he sayde vnto me, O thou sonne of man, this roome is my seate, and the place of my footsteppes, whereas I wyl dwel among the children of Israel for euermore: so that the house of Israel shal no more defyle my holy name, neyther they nor theyr kynges through theyr whoredome, and through the dead bodyes of theyr (c) kinges (in) theyr hygh places.

(c) He alludeth to Ammon & Manasses, who were buryed in their gardens neare the temple, & there had erected vp monuments to their idols

8 Albeit they haue set theyr thresholdes by my thresholdes, and theyr postes by my postes, and a wal betwixt me and them, yet haue they defyled my holy name with theyr abominations that they haue committed: wherefore I haue consumed them in my wrath.

9 But nowe let them put away their whoredome, and the dead bodyes of their kinges out of my sight, and I wyl dwel among them for euermore.

10 Therfore, O thou sonne of man, shewe thou the house of Israel this house, that they may be ashamed of theyr wickednesse, and measure them selues an example therat.

11 And yf they be ashamed of al theyr workes: then shew them the fourme of the house and patterne therof, ỹ goyng out, the commyng in, al the maner therof, yea, al the ordinances therof, the fygures, & al the lawes therof, and wryte it in theyr sight, that they may keepe the whole fashion therof, and al the ordinances therof, and doo them.

(d) Or, description.

12 This is the (d) lawe of the house: Vpon the toppe of the mount shal al the limittes therof be, round about the most holy place: loe, this is the lawe of the house.

13 And these are the measures of the aulter in cubites: the cubite is a cubite and a hand breadth, the bottome (shalbe) a cubite, and the breadth a cubite, and the border thereof by the edge thereof rounde about was one spanne, and this (shalbe) the heyght of the aulter.

14 And from the bottome vpon the ground, C vnto the lower peece, (shalbe) two cubites, the breadth one cubite: and from the litle peece to the great peece, (shalbe) foure cubites, and the breadth one cubite.

15 The aulter was foure cubites hygh, and from ỹ aulter vpward stoode foure hornes.

16 And the aulter was twelue cubites long, and twelue cubites broade, square in the foure corners thereof.

17 The frame of the aulter (shalbe) fourteene cubites long, and fourteene broade in the foure square corners therof, and the border about it shalbe halfe a cubite, and the bottome therof (shalbe) a cubite about, and the steppes thereof shalbe turned towarde the East.

18 And he sayde vnto me, Thou sonne of man, thus sayth the Lorde God, These are the ordinances of the aulter, in the day whē it is made, to offer burnt offerings thereupon, and to sprynkle blood thereupon.

19 And thou shalt geue to the priestes, to the Leuites that be of the seede of Sadoc, and approche vnto me, sayth the Lorde God, to minister vnto me, a young bullocke for a sinne offeryng.

20 And thou shalt take of the blood therof, and put it on the foure hornes of it, and on the foure corners of the frame, and vpon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse it, and purge it.

21 Thou shalt take the bullocke also of the D sinne offeryng, and burne hym in the appointed place without the sanctuarie.

22 The second day, take a goate bucke without blemishe for a sinne offeryng, to cleanse the aulter withal, lyke as it was cleansed with the bullocke.

23 Nowe when thou hast made an ende of cleansyng it, then offer a young bullocke without blemishe, and a ramme out of the flocke without blemishe also.

24 Offer them before the Lorde, and let the priestes cast salt therevpon, and geue them so vnto the Lorde for a burnt offeryng.

25 Seuen dayes shalt thou prepare euerye day a goate bucke for sinne, a young bullocke and a ramme of the flocke, both without blemishe shal they prepare.

26 Seuen dayes shal they reconcile and cleanse the aulter, & (e) fil the place therof.

(e) Or, consecrate it.

27 When these dayes are expired, then vpon the eyght day, and so forth, the priestes shal make your burnt offeringes, & pease offeringes feringes vpon the aulter: so I wyl accept you, sayth the Lorde God.

The .xliiii. Chapter.

I. He sheweth what doore of the temple is shut. 6. He is commaunded to vpbrayde the people with theyr offence.

A 1 AFter this he brought me agayne to the outward gate of the sanctuarie on the east syde, and that was shut.

2 Then sayde the Lorde vnto me, This gate shalbe styl (a) shut and not opened, neyther shal any man goe through it: for the Lorde God of Israel hath entred by it, and it shalbe shut.

(a) Meaning from the cõmon people, but not from the priestes, nor the prince. Cap. 46. b.

3 It is for the prince, the prince hym selfe shal syt in it to eate bread before the Lorde: he shal enter by the way of the porche of that gate, and shal goe out by the way of the same.

4 Then brought he me towarde the north gate before the house: and as I looked, beholde, the glory of the Lorde fylled the house of the Lorde, and I fel vpon my face.

5 So the Lord spake vnto me: O thou sonne of man, set thyne hart, and beholde with thyne eyes, and heare with thyne eares al that I say vnto thee concerning al the ordinances of the house of the Lorde, and al the lawes thereof, and marke wel the entring in of the house, with euery goeyng foorth of the sanctuarie.

(b) For they had brought idolaters whiche were of other countreys, to teache them their idolatrie. Cap. 13. g.

6 And thou shalt say to the rebellious (euen) to the house of Israel, thus sayth the Lorde God, O house of Israel, ye haue yenough of al your abominations.

(c) Ye haue not offered vnto me accordyng to my lawe.

7 Seeyng ye haue brought into my sanctuarie (b) strangers, hauyng vncircumcised hartes and vncircumcised flesshe, to be in my sanctuarie to pollute my house, when ye offer my bread, fat, and blood, and they haue broken my couenant because of al your abominations:

8 And ye haue not kept the (c) ordinances of my holy thinges, and ye haue set keepers to keepe my sanctuarie (d) for you.

(d) In your place.

9 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God, Of al the strangers that dwel among the children of Israel, no stranger vncircumcised in hart, nor vncircumcised in flesshe, shal enter into my sanctuarie.

(e) That is, the Leuites whiche had committed idolatrie, were put frõ theyr dignitie, & coulde not be receiued into the priestes office, although they had ben of the house of Aaron, but must serue in the inferior offices, as to watche and to keepe the doores, 2. Kin. 23. b.

10 But the Leuites that went backe from me when Israel went astray, which strayed from me after theyr idols, (e) shal beare theyr iniquitie:

11 And they shalbe ministers in my sanctuarie, and keepe the gates of the house, and minister in the house: they shal slay the burnt offerynges, and the sacrifice for the people, and they shal stande before them to serue them.

12 Because they serued before theyr idols, and caused the house of Israel to fal into iniquitie: therefore haue I lyft vp my hande agaynst them, sayth the Lorde God, and they shal beare theyr iniquitie.

13 And they shal not come neare vnto me to do the office of a priest vnto me, neither shal they come neare vnto any of myne holy thynges in the most holy place: but they shal beare theyr owne shame and abominations whiche they haue done.

14 And I wil make them keepers of the watch of the house for al the seruice thereof, and for al that shalbe done therein. C

15 But the priestes, the Leuites, the sonnes of Sadoc, that (f) keapt the charge of my sanctuary whẽ the children of Israel strayed from me, shal come to me, to doo me seruice, to stand before me, and to offer me the fat and the blood, sayth the Lorde God.

(f) Whiche obserued the lawe of god, and fel not to idolatrie.

16 They shal goe into my sanctuarie, and approche vnto my table to do me seruice, and they shal keepe my charge.

17 Nowe when they goe in at the gates of the innermer court, they shal put on linnen clothes, so that no wollen come vpon them whyle they do seruice vnder the gates of the innermer court, and within.

18 They shal haue lynnen bonnettes vpon theyr heades, and lynnen "breeches vpon theyr loynes: they shal not gird them selues in the "sweate.

"in the places of sweat, or els not ouer straite to make thẽ to sweate.

19 And when they goe forth into the vtter court, (euen) to ỹ vtter court of the people, they shal put of the clothes wherein they haue ministred, and lay them in the chamber of the sanctuarie, and put on other apparel, and they shal not sanctifie the people with theyr clothes.

20 They shal not (g) shaue theyr heades, nor suffer theyr heare to growe long, but powle theyr heades only.

(g) For that as saint Ierome sayth, was the maner of the gentiles & infidels.

21 Al the priestes that goe into the inmost court shal drynke no wine.

22 They shal marye no wydowe, neyther one that is put from her husbande, but a mayde of the seede of the house of Israel, or a wydowe that hath had a priest before.

23 They shal shewe my people the difference betweene the holy and vnholy, and cause them to discerne betwixt the cleane and vncleane.

24 And in controuersie they shal stande to iudge, and geue sentence after my iudgementes: and my lawes and my statutes shal they kepe in al my solemne feastes, and halowe my sabbothes.

25 They shal come at no dead person to defile them selues, but to father or mother, Leuit. 21. b

sonne or daughter, brother or syster, that hath yet no husbande, (h) (in those) may they be defiled.

(h) They may be at their burial, whiche was termed a defyling.

26 And when he is cleansed, there shalbe reckoned vnto hym seuen dayes.

27 And when he goeth into the sanctuarie vnto the inner courte to minister in the sanctuarie, he shal bring his sinne offering, sayth the Lorde.

(i) Vnderstande, the priesthood.

28 (i) There shalbe to them an inheritance, (euen) I theyr inheritance: but possession shal ye geue them none in Israel, for I am theyr possession.

29 The meate offeryng, sinne offering, and trespasse offering, shal they eate: and euery dedicate thing in Israel shalbe theyrs.

Exod. 13.a. Num. 3.c.

30 And al the first of al the first borne, and euery oblation, (euen) al of euery sorte of your oblations shalbe the priestes: ye shal also geue vnto the priestes the firste of your dough, that he may cause the blessing to reast in thyne house.

Exod. 22.c. Leuit. 22.b.

31 But the priestes shal eate nothyng that is dead (by it selfe) or torne of foule, or of beaste.

The .xlv. Chapter.

10. Of iust weightes and measures.

A

1 When ye diuide the lande by the lot for inheritance, ye shal offer an oblation to the Lorde, a holy (a) portion of the lande, twentie & fyue thousand canes long, and tenne thousande broade: this shalbe holye in al the borders thereof rounde about.

(a) Of al the land of Israel, the Lorde requireth only this portion, for the temple and for the priestes, for the citie, and for the prince.

2 Of this parte there shal belong vnto the sanctuarie fiue hundred cubites (in length) with fiue hundred (in breadth) square round about: and fiftie cubites rounde about for the suburbes.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure, (namely) of the length of twentie and fiue thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand, and in it shalbe the sanctuary, and the most holy place.

4 That holy portion of the lande shal perteyne vnto the priestes whiche do seruice in the sanctuary, whiche come neare to serue the Lorde: and it shalbe vnto them a place for theyr houses, and a holy place for the sanctuarie.

5 And in the twentie and fiue thousande length, and ten thousande breadth, shal the Leuites that minister in the house haue theyr possession for twentie chambers.

6 Ye shal geue also vnto the citie a possession of fiue thousande canes broade, and twentie and fiue thousande long, ouer against the oblation of the holy portion that shalbe for the whole house of Israel.

7 And (a portion shalbe) for the prince on this side and on that syde of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the citie, (euen) before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the citie, from the west corner westwarde, and from the east corner eastwarde: and the length shalbe by one of the portions, from the west border, vnto the east border. B

8 In this lande shalbe his possession in Israel: and my princes shal no more oppresse my people, and (the rest) of the lande shal they geue to the house of Israel accordyng to theyr tribes.

9 Thus sayth the Lorde God, (b) Let it suffise you, O ye princes of Israel: leaue of crueltie and oppression, & execute iudgement & iustice: take away your exactions from my people, sayth the Lorde God.

(b) The prophete sheweth that the heades must be first reformed, afore any good order can be established among the people.

10 Ye shal haue a true ballance, a true (c) Ephah, and a true Bath.

(c) Ephah & Bath were both of one quantitie, for the ephah conteyned in drye thinges, that as the Bath did in licour.

11 The Ephah and the Bath shalbe a lyke: one Bath shal conteyne the tenth part of an Homer, and the Ephah the tenth parte of an Homer: the equalitie thereof shalbe after the Homer.

12 The Sicle maketh twentie Gerrahs: and twentie Sycles, and (d) twentie and fyue Sycles, & fifteene Sycles make a Maneh.

(d) That is, threescore sicles make a weight called Maneh: for he ioyneth these three partes to a Maneh.

13 This is the oblation that ye shal offer: the sixth part of an Ephah out of an Homer of wheate, and the sixth part of an Ephah out of an Homer of barley.

14 Concernyng the ordinances of the oyle, (euen) of the Bath of oyle, (ye shal offer) the tenth part of a Bath out of the Cor: ten Bathes (shalbe) a Homer, because ten Bathes (fyl) a Homer.

15 And one lambe from two hundred sheepe out of the fat pastures of Israel for a meate offring, whole burnt offring, and peace offring, to reconcile them, sayth the lord god.

16 Al the people of the lande shal geue this oblation for the prince in Israel.

17 Agayne, it shalbe the princes part to offer whole burnt offeringes, meate offeringes, and wine offeringes, in the holy dayes, newe moones, Sabbothes, and in al the high feastes of the house of Israel: he shal prepare the sinne offering, meate offering, whole burnt offering, and peace offering, to reconcile the house of Israel.

18 Thus sayth the Lorde God, The firste day of the first (e) moneth, thou shalt take a young bullocke without blemyshe, and cleanse the sanctuarie.

(e) Whiche was Nisan, conteynyng parte of Marche and part of Apryl

19 So the priest shal take of the blood of the sinne offryng, and put it vpon the postes of the the house, and vpon the foure corners of the frame of the aulter, and vpon the postes of the gate of the inner court.

20 And thus shalt thou do also the seuenth day of the moneth for suche as haue sinned of ignorance, or beyng deceiued, to reconcile the house withal.

D 21 Upon the fourteenth day of the first moneth ye shal haue the passeouer, a feast of seuen dayes, and ye shal eate vnleauened bread.

Exod.12.c Leuit.13.a Deut.16.a

22 Upon the same day shal the prynce prepare for him selfe and al the people of the lande a bullocke, for a sinne offeryng.

23 And in the seuen dayes of ỳ feast, he shal make a whole burnt offeryng to the Lorde, (euen) of seuen bullockes & seuen rammes without blemishe dayly, for seuen dayes, and a hee goate dayly for a sinne offeryng.

24 And he shal prepare a meate offeryng of an Ephah for a bullocke, & an Ephah for a ramme, and a(f) Hin of oyle for an Ephah.

(f) Reade Exod.29.g.

25 In the seuenth (moneth) in the fifteenth day of the moneth, on the feast, he shal doo accordyng vnto these for seuen dayes: accordyng to the sinne offeryng, accordyng to the whole burnt offeryng, and according to the meate offeryng, and accordyng to the oyle.

The.xlvi.Chapter.

1. The sacrifice of the Sabbothes, and of the new moones. 8. Through which doores they must goe in, or comme out of the temple.

A 1 THus saith the Lorde God, The gate of the inner court towarde the east shalbe shut the fyre worckyng dayes: but in the Sabboth and in the day of the newe moone it shalbe opened.

2 And the prince shal enter by the way of the porche of the gate without, & shal stande by the poste of the gate: and the priestes shal make his whole burnt offeryng, and his peace offerynges, and he shal woorshyp at the threshold of the gate, and go forth: and the gate shal not be shut tyl the euenyng.

3 On the same maner shal the people of the lande also doo their woorshyp before the Lorde, at the doore of this gate vpon the Sabbothes, and newe moones.

4 The whole burnt offering that the prince shal bryng vnto the Lorde vpon the Sabboth, shalbe sixe lambes without blemishe, and a ramme without blemishe.

5 And the meate offeryng shalbe an Ephah for a ramme, and the meate offering for the lambes a(a) gyft of his hande, and a Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

(a) That is, as muche as he wyl.

6 In the day of the newe moneth, (it shalbe) a young bullocke without blemishe, and sixe lambes, and a ramme also without blemishe.

7 With the bullocke he shal geue an Ephah: B and with the ramme an Ephah also for a meate offeryng: but to the lambes (b) according as his hande shal take, and a Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

(b) According to his habilitie.

8 And when the prince shal enter, he shal goe in by the way of the porch of that gate: he shal goe forth by the way thereof.

9 But when the people of the lande comme before the Lorde in the hygh solemne feast, as many as comme in by the north gate to doo woorshyp, shal goe out agayne at the south gate: and they that comme in at the south gate, shal goe forth agayne at the north gate: there shal none returne by the gate where he came in, but shal goe ryght forth ouer on the other syde.

10 And the prince he shal goe in the myddest of them when they go in, and so come forth when they comme forth.

11 Upon the solemne and hygh feast dayes this shalbe the meate offeryng: an Epha to a bullocke, and an Epha to a ramme, and to the lambes the gyft of his hande, and a Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

12 Nowe when the prince shal make a free whole burnt offeryng, or peace offerynges freely vnto the Lorde: one then shal open him the gate that turneth toward the east, & he shal make his whole burnt offerynges, and his peace offerynges, as he dyd on the Sabboth day: after he shal goe forth, and when he is gonne forth, one shal shut the gate.

13 Thou shalt dayly make a whole burnt offeryng vnto the Lorde of a lambe of one yeere without blemishe, thou shalt doo it euery morneyng.

14 Thou shalt prepare a meate offeryng for it euery morneyng, the sixth part of an Ephah, and the third part of a Hin of oyle to mingle with the fine floure: this meat offeryng shalbe cõtinually by a perpetual ordinance vnto the Lorde. C

15 Thus shal they prepare the lambe, the meate offeryng, and oyle, euery morneyng, for a continual whole burnt offeryng.

16 Moreouer, thus saith the Lorde God, If ỳ prince geue a gyft vnto any of his sonnes, the inheritance thereof shalbe his sonnes: their possession shalbe by inheritance.

17 But yf he geue a gyft of his inheritance to one of his seruantes, then it shalbe his to the (c) yeere of libertie, and then returne to the prince: but the inheritance thereof is his sonnes, and shalbe theirs,

(c) Whiche was at the yere of Iubile. Leui.25.b

(d) But be content with that portion that God hath assigned hym. Ezech.45.b

18 The prince also (d) shal take none of the peoples inheritance, nor put them frō their possession: but to his sonnes shal he geue his owne possession, that my people be not scattered abroade euery man from his possession.

19 And he brought me through the entrance at the side of the gate to the holy chambers of the priestes whiche stoode towarde the north, and beholde there was a place vpon the west syde of them.

20 Then sayde he vnto me, This is the place where the priestes shal seeth the trespasse and sinne offerynges, and bake the meate offeringes: that they neede not beare them into the outwarde court, and to (e) sanctifie the people.

D

(e) To cause the people to thinke it is lawful for them to eate them, and so fal into a vayne opinion of holynes & sanctification.

21 So he brought me into the vtter courte, and caused me to goe by the foure corners of the court: and behold in euery corner of the court there was a court.

22 In the foure corners of the court there were courtes ioyned of fourtie cubites lōg, & thirtie broade: these foure corners were of one measure.

23 And there went a wal round about them, (euen) about those foure: and vnder the walles there were "kitchins made rounde about.

" Ranges.

24 Then sayde he vnto me, These are the cookes houses, where the ministers of the house shal boyle the sacrifice of the people.

The.xlvii.Chapter.

I. The vision of the waters that came out of the temple. 13. The coastes of the lande of promise, and the deuision thereof by tribes.

AFterwarde he brought me agayne vnto the dooze of the house, and beholde there gushed out (a) waters frō vnder the threshold of the house eastwarde: for the forefront of the house stoode towarde the east: and the waters ranne downe from vnder the right syde of the house, whiche lyeth to the aulter southwarde.

(a) Whereby are meant the spiritual graces that should be geuen to the Churhe vnder the kyngdome of Christe, as Iohn.4,c.

2 Then ledde he me to the north gate, and ledde me about by the way without vnto the vtter gate by the way that turneth eastwarde: and beholde, there issued foorth waters from the right syde.

3 Nowe when the man that had the lyne in his hande went foorth eastwarde, he measured a thousande cubites, and then he brought me through the waters, ẏ waters were to the anckles.

4 So he measured yet a thousande, and brought me through the waters, the waters were to the knees: yet measured he a thousand, and brought me through, the waters (were) to the loynes.

5 After this he measured a thousand agayne, then was it such a (b) riuer that I myght not wade through it, the waters was risen, and the waters dyd flowe as a ryuer that myght not be waded ouer.

(b) Signifiyng that the graces of God should neuer decrease, but euer abounde in his church

6 And he sayde vnto me, Hast thou seene this, O thou sonne of man? & with that he brought me, and caused me to returne to the ryuer bancke agayne.

7 Nowe when I returned, beholde, at the banke of the ryuer were very many trees (c) on the one syde and on the other.

(c) Meaning, the multitude of them that should be refreshed by the spiritual waters.

8 Then sayde he vnto me, These waters flowe out towarde the east countrey, and runne downe into the playne, and comme into the (d) sea: which when it cōmeth into the sea, the (e) waters shalbe wholesome.

(d) Shewyng that the abundance of these graces should be so great, that al the worlde should be ful thereof, which is here meant by the Persian sea or Genezareth, and the sea called Mediterraneum. Zach.14.b.

(e) The waters whiche of nature are salt and vnholsome, shalbe made sweete and comfortable.

9 Yea, al that lyue and moue, whereunto this ryuer commeth, shal lyue: and there shalbe a very great multitude of fyshe, because these waters shal comme thyther, for they shalbe holsome: and euery thing shal liue whither the riuer commeth.

10 By this ryuer shal the fyshers stande, from Engaddi vnto Eneglaim, and there spreade out their nets: for their fyshe shalbe accordyng to their kyndes as the fyshe of the mayne sea, exceedyng many.

11 But the marishes thereof, and the pittes therof, shal not be made holsome, they shalbe made salt pittes.

12 By this riuer vpon the bankes therof on this side & on that syde, shal growe al trees for meate, whose leaues shal not fade, neyther shal the fruite thereof fayle, but shal bryng foorth newe fruite accordyng to his monethes, for the waters thereof runne out of the sanctuarie: and the fruite therof shalbe for meate, and the leaues thereof for "medicine.

13 Thus sayth the Lorde God, Let this be the border whereby ye shal inherite the land, accordyng to the twelue tribes of Israel, Ioseph shal haue two portions.

C

Gen.48 d. Gen.12.d Deut.34.a

14 And ye shal inherite it one aswel as another, concernyng the whiche I lyft vp my hande to geue it vnto your fathers: & this lande shal fal vnto you for inheritance.

15 This is the border of the (f) lande vpon the north syde, from the mayne sea toward Hethlon, as menne goe to Zedada.

(f) By the lande of promise, he signifieth the spiritual land, wherof this was a figure.

16 (Namely) Hamah, Berotha, Sabarim, whiche are betweene the borders of Damascus, and betweene the borders of Hamah, Hazar Hatichon, that lyeth vpon the coastes of Hauran.

17 Thus the borders from the sea forth shalbe be Hazar Enan, the borders of Damascus, and the north northwarde, and the borders of Hamah: this is the north part.

18 The east syde shal ye measure from Hauran and Damascus, from Gilead and the lande of Israel by Iordane, and from the border vnto the east sea: and this is the east part.

19 The south syde shalbe towarde Teman, from Thamar to the waters of * strife in Cades, and the riuer to the maine sea: and that is the south part toward Teman.

20 The weast part also shalbe the great sea, from the borders til a man comme ouer against Hamah: this is the weast part.

21 This lande shal ye part among you according to the tribes of Israel, 22 And diuide it by lot to be an heritage for you, and for the strangers that dwel among you, and beget children among you: for ye shal take them among the children of Israel, like as though they were of your owne countrey, and they shal haue (g) heritage with you among the children of Israel.

23 And in what tribe the stranger dwelleth, in the same tribe shal ye geue him his heritage, sayth the Lorde God.

* or, meriboth.

(g) Meaning that in this spiritual kingdome, there should be no difference betweene Iewe nor gentile, but that al shoulde be partakers of this inheritance in their head Christe.

The. xlviii. Chapter.

1. The lots of the seuen tribes. 23. The lots of the other tribes.

1 These are the names of the tribes: From the north syde to the coast towarde Hethlon, til thou commest vnto Hamah and Hazer Enan, the borders of Damascus northwarde, the coast of Hamah, Dan shal haue his portion from the east quarter vnto the weast.

2 Upon the borders of Dan, from the east syde vnto the weast, shal Aser haue his portion.

3 Upon the borders of Aser, from the east part vnto the weast, shal Nephthali haue his portion.

4 Upon the borders of Nephthali, from the east quarter vnto the weast, shal Manasses haue his portion.

5 Upon the borders of Manasses, from the east syde vnto the weast, shal Ephraim haue his portion.

6 Upon the borders of Ephraim from the east part vnto the weast, shal Ruben haue his portion.

7 Upon the borders of Ruben, from the east quarter vnto the weast, shal Iuda haue his portion.

8 Upon the borders of Iuda, from the east part vnto the weast part, shalbe the (a) offering whiche they shal offer, of fyue and twentie thousande (canes) broade, and of length as one of the partes from the east syde vnto the weast syde: and the sanctuarie shalbe in the middest of it.

(a) That is, the portion of the grounde whiche they shal separate and appoynt to the Lord, which shalbe diuided into three partes: for the prieſtes, for the prince, and for the citie.

9 The oblation that ye shal offer vnto the Lorde, shalbe fiue and twentie thousande long, and tenne thousande broade.

10 And for these (euen) for the priestes, shalbe this holy oblation: towarde the north fiue and twentie thousande (long) and toward the weast tenne thousande broade, towarde the east tenne thousande broade also, and towarde the south fiue and twentie thousande long, and the sanctuarie of the Lorde shalbe in the middest thereof.

11 This sanctifyed portion shalbe the priests that are of the children of Sadoc, whiche haue keapt my charge, whiche went not astray in the errour of the children of Israel like as the Leuites went astray. Ezech. 44. a 12 Therefore this oblation of the lande that is offered, shalbe theirs as a thing most holy, harde vpon the borders of the Leuites.

13 And ouer agaynst the border of ỹ priests, shal the Leuites haue fiue & twentie thousande lang, and tenne thousande broade: al the length shalbe fiue and twentie thousande, and the breadth ten thousande.

14 Of this portion they shal sel nothyng, nor make any permutation therof, nor alienate the fyrst fruites of the lande: for it is holy vnto the Lorde.

15 And the fiue thousande that are leaft in the breadth ouer against the fiue and twentie thousande, shalbe a prophane place for the citie, for housyng and for suburbes: and the citie shalbe in the middest thereof.

16 And these shalbe the measures thereof: The north part fiue hundred and foure thousande, and the south (b) part fyue hundred and foure thousand, and the east part fiue hundred and foure thousand, and the weast part fiue hundred and foure thousande.

(b) Meaning that it shuld be square.

17 The suburbes of the citie shal haue towarde the north two hundred and fiftie, towarde the south two hundred and fiftie, towarde the east two hundred and fiftie, towarde the weast also two hundred & fiftie.

18 And the residue in length ouer agaynst the oblation of the holy portion, shalbe tenne thousand towarde the east, and tenne thousande towarde the weast: and it shalbe ouer agaynst the oblation of the holy portion: and the encreas therof shalbe for their meate that serue the citie.

19 And they that serue the citie, they shal serue it out of al the tribes of Israel.

20 Al the oblation shalbe fiue and twentie

(c) Euery way it ſhalbe fiue & twentie thouſand.

thouſande (c) with fiue and twentie thouſande: ye ſhal offer this oblation foure ſquare, for the ſanctuarie, and for the poſſeſſion of the citie.

21 And the reſidue ſhalbe for the prince, on the one ſide and on the other of the holye oblation, and of the poſſeſſion of the citie ouer againſt the fiue and twentie thouſand of the oblation toward the eaſt border, and weaſtwarde ouer againſt the fiue & twentie thouſande towarde the weaſt border, ouer againſt ſhalbe the portion for the prince: this ſhalbe the holy oblation, and the houſe of the ſanctuarie ſhalbe in the middeſt thereof.

D 22 Moreouer, from the poſſeſſion of the Leuites, and the cities poſſeſſion, that whiche is in the middeſt ſhalbe ỳ princes, betwixt the border of (d) Iuda and the border of Beniamin ſhalbe the princes.

(d) So that Iuda was on the north ſyde of the princes and Leuites portions, and Beniamin on the ſouth ſyde.

23 Nowe of the other tribes: from ỳ eaſt part vnto the weaſt, ſhal Beniamin haue his portion.

24 Upon the borders of Beniamin, from the eaſt ſyde vnto the weaſt, ſhal Simeon haue his portion.

25 Upon the borders of Simeon, from the eaſt ſyde vnto the weaſt, ſhal Iſachar haue his portion.

26 Upon the borders of Iſachar, from the eaſt ſyde vnto the weaſt, ſhal Zabulon haue his portion.

27 Upon the borders of Zabulon, from the eaſt part vnto the weaſt, ſhal Gad haue his portion.

28 Uppon the borders of Gad at the ſouth ſyde towarde Temanah, the border ſhalbe from Thamar, vnto the waters of * ſtrife to Cades, and to the riuer (that runneth) into the maine ſea.

* or, Meribath.

29 This is the lande whiche ye ſhal diuide by lot for an inheritance vnto the tribes of Iſrael, and theſe be their portions, ſaith the Lorde God.

30 Theſe be the bondes of the citie, vpon the north part fyue hundred and foure thouſande meaſures.

31 The gates of the citie ſhal haue the names of the tribes of Iſrael, three gates of the north ſyde: one gate of Ruben, another of Iuda, the thirde of Leui.

32 Upon the eaſt ſyde fyue hundred & foure thouſande (meaſures,) with three gates: the one of Ioſeph, another of Beniamin, the thirde of Dan.

33 Upon the ſouth ſyde fiue hundred and foure thouſande meaſures, with the three gates: the one of Simeon, another of Iſachar, the thirde of Zabulon.

34 And vpon the weaſt ſyde, fyue hundred and fyue thouſande meaſures, with their three gates alſo: the one of Gad, another of Aſer, the thirde of Nephthali.

35 Thus ſhal it haue eyghteene thouſande meaſures rounde about: and the name of the citie from that time foorth ſhalbe, " The Lorde is there.

The ende of the prophecie of Ezechiel.

The booke of the prophete Daniel.

The fyrſt Chapter.

1. The prophete ſheweth the captiuitie of Iehoakim king of Iuda, 4. Of the children that were in captiuitie, the king commaundeth to chooſe whiche of them ſhould be taught the learnyng and language of the Chaldeans.

A 1 IN the (a) thirde yere of the raigne of Iehoakim king of Iuda, came Nabuchodonoſor king of Babylon vnto Hieruſalem, and beſieged it.

(a) Reade 2.kin.24.a. Iere.25.a.

2 And the Lorde deliuered Iehoakim the king of Iuda into his hande, with part of the veſſels of the houſe of God, whiche he caryed away into the lande of (b) Sennar, to the houſe of his God, and he brought the veſſels into his goddes treaſurie.

(b) Whiche was a plaine by Babylon, where was the temple of the great god, and is here taken for Babylon.

3 And the king ſpake vnto Aſphenaz the (c) cheefe chamberlayne, that he ſhoulde bring him certayne of the children of Iſrael, of the kinges ſeede, and of the princes,

(c) Or, maiſter of the Eunuches.

4 Sprigales without any blemiſhe, but wel fauoured, ſtudious in al wyſdom, ſkilful for knowledge, able to vtter knowledge, and ſuche as haue liuelineſſe in them, that they they (d) may stande in the kynges palace: and whom they myght teache the learnyng and the tongue of the Chaldeans.

(d) Aswel to serue at the tables as in other offices.

5 Unto these the kyng appoynted a dayly prouision euery day of a portion of ẏ kinges meate, and of the wine whiche he dranke, so to nourishe them three yeeres, that afterwarde they myght stande before the kyng.

6 Among these nowe were certayne of the chyldren of Juda: (namely) Daniel, Ananias, Misael, and Azarias.

B 7 Unto these the cheefe chamberlaine gaue (e) other names, and called Daniel, Baltassar: Ananias, Sidrach: Misael, Misach: and Azarias, Abednego.

(e) Eyther because they woulde declare their power, as cõquerers, to change the names of thẽ they ouercame, or els for hatred of theyr Hebrue names.

8 But Daniel purposed in his hart that he woulde not defyle him selfe with the portion of the kynges meate, nor with the wyne whiche he dranke: therefore he required the cheefe chamberlayne that he might not defile hym selfe.

9 (And God brought Daniel into fauour and tender loue with the cheefe chamberlayne.)

10 And the cheefe chamberlayne sayd vnto Daniel, I am afrayde of my lorde the king which hath appoynted you your meate and your drynke: wherefore shoulde he see your faces worse lyking then the spryngaldes of your age, and so ye shal make me indaunger my head vnto the kyng.

11 Then Daniel sayd vnto Melassar, whom the cheefe chamberlayne had set ouer Daniel, Ananias, Misael, and Azarias:

12 O proue but tenne dayes with thy seruantes, and let vs haue pulse to eate, and water to drinke.

13 Then let our countenances be looked vpon before thee, and the countenances of the chyldren that eate of the portion of the kynges meate: and as thou seest, deale with thy seruantes.

C (f) Or, better lykyng.

14 So he consented to them in this matter, and proued them tenne dayes.

15 And at the ende of ten dayes their countenances appeared fayrer and (f) fatter in fleashe then al the childrens which did eate the portion of the kinges meate.

16 Thus Melassar tooke away the portion of their meate, & the wyne that they should drinke, and gaue them pulse.

17 As for these foure chyldren, God gaue them knowledge and vnderstanding in (g) al learnyng and wysedome: also he gaue Daniel vnderstanding of al (h) visions and dreames.

(g) Meanyng liberal sciences & natural knowledge, whiche was vsed where they were conuersant.

(h) So that he onely was a prophete, and none of the other, for by dreames and visions God appeared to his prophets. Num. 12. a.

18 Nowe when the (i) tyme was expired that the king had appoynted to bring them in, the cheefe chamberlayne brought them before Nabuchodonosor.

(i) Of the three yeeres aboue mentioned, vers. 5

19 And the king communed with them: but among them al were founde none suche as Daniel, Ananias, Misael, and Azarias: therefore stoode they before the king. D

20 In al matters of wisedome and vnderstandyng that the king enquired of them, he founde them tenne tymes better then al the wyse menne and soothsayers that were in al his realme.

21 And Daniel abode styl vnto the (k) first yeere of king Cyrus.

(k) That is, he was esteemed in Babylon as a prophete, and in authoritie so long as the common wealth stood.

The. ii. Chapter.

1. The dreame of Nabuchodonosor. 2. He calleth vnto hym soothsayers, and requireth of them both the dreame and the interpretation thereof.

1 IN the (a) seconde yeere of the raigne of Nabuchodonosor, had Nabuchodonosor a dreame, wherethrough his spirite was troubled, and his sleepe brake from hym. A

(a) The father and the sonne were both called by this name, so that it is meant of the sonne when he raigned alone: for he raigned also after a sort with his father: Or els in the second yeere of his general conqueste of other barbarous nations.

2 Then the kyng commaunded to cal the wyse men, and soothsayers, and sorcerers, and the Chaldees, for to shew the king his dreame: So they came, and stoode before the kyng.

3 And the king sayde vnto them, I haue dreamed a dreame, and my spirite was troubled to knowe the dreame.

4 Upon this the Chaldees answeared the kyng in the Syrians speache, O king, God saue thy lyfe for euer: shewe thy seruantes the dreame, and we shal shewe the interpretation.

5 The kyng answeared and sayde to the Chaldeans, The thyng is gonne from me: If ye wyl not make me vnderstande the dreame, with the interpretation thereof, ye shalbe drawne in peeces, and your houses made a iakes.

6 But yf ye tel me the dreame and the interpretation thereof, ye shal receiue of me gyftes, rewardes, and great honour, therefore shewe me the dreame and the interpretation thereof.

7 They answeared agayne, and sayd, The king must shewe his seruantes the dreame, and so shal we declare the interpretation thereof. B

8 Then the kyng answeared, sayeing, I perceiue of a trueth that ye woulde (b) redeeme the tyme, for so muche as ye see the thing is gonne from me.

(b) Ye seeke occasion of delayes, vntyl some other affaires might happẽ, and make me forget the matter.

9 Therfore if ye wil not tel me the dreame, this is your onely purpose, Ye haue prepared lying and corrupt woordes to speake before me, tyl the tyme be changed: therefore tel me the dreame, that I may knowe that ye can declare me the interpretation thereof.

10 Upon this the Chaldees gaue answeare before the king, and said, There is no man vpon earth that can tel the thyng whiche the kyng speaketh of, yea there is neyther kyng, prince, nor lorde that euer asked such thyngs at a wyse man, soothsayer, or Chaldean.

11 For it is a rare matter that the kyng requireth, neyther is there any that can certifie the king therof, except the gods whose dwellyng is not with fleashe.

12 For the which cause the king was wroth with great indignation, and commaunded to destroy al the wyse menne at Babylon.

13 So the decree went forth, and the wyse menne were slayne: they sought also to slay Daniel, with his companions.

℣ 14 Then Daniel stayed the counsel and decree with Arioch the captayne of the kings garde, who was gonne forth to put to death the wyse menne of Babylon.

15 He answered and sayde vnto Arioch the kynges captayne, Why is the sentence so hastie from the kyng? Then Arioch tolde Daniel the matter.

16 Upon this went Daniel, and desyred the kyng that he would geue hym leysure, and that he woulde shewe the kyng the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his house, and shewed the thyng to Ananias, Misael, and Azarias, his companions:

18 That they shoulde beseeche the God of heauē for grace in this secrete, that Daniel and his felowes, with other suche as were wyse in Babylon, perished not.

19 Then was this secrete reuealed vnto Daniel in a vision by nyght: then Daniel praysed the God of heauen.

Psal. 13. a 20 Daniel also answeared, and sayde, The name of God be praysed for euer and euer: for wysedome and strength are his.

D 21 He changeth the tymes and seasons, he taketh away kynges, he setteth vp kynges: he geueth wysdome vnto the wyse, and vnderstandyng to those that vnderstande.

22 He reuealeth the deepe & secrete thinges, he knoweth the thyng that lyeth in darkenesse, for the light dwelleth with him.

23 I thanke thee and prayse thee, O thou God of my fathers, that thou hast geuen me wysedome and strength, and hast shewed me now the thyng that we desyred of thee: for thou hast declared the kynges matter vnto vs.

24 Upon this went Daniel in vnto Arioch, whom the king had ordeined to destroy the wyse mennt at Babylon: he went and sayd thus vnto hym, Destroy not the wyse men of Babylon, but bring me before the kyng, & I shal shewe the kyng the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought Daniel before the king in al the hast, and sayd thus vnto him, I haue founde a man among the children of Iuda that were brought captiues, that wyl declare vnto the kyng the interpretation.

26 Then answeared the kyng and sayde to Daniel, whose name was Balthasar, Art thou able to shewe me the dreame which I haue seene, and the interpretation therof?

27 Daniel answeared in the presence of the kyng, and sayde, As for this secrete for the whiche the kyng maketh inquisition, there can neyther the menne of vnderstandyng, nor soothsayers, nor the wyse men, nor readers of destinies declare it vnto the kyng:

28 But there is a (c) GOD in heauen that E reuealeth secretes, and sheweth the kyng Nabuchodonosor what is for to comme in the latter dayes. Thy dreame & that which thou hast seene in thyne head vpon thy bed is this.

(c) Hereby he smyteth the kyng with a certayne feare & reuerence of God, that he might be the more apt to receiue the high mysteries that shoulde be reuealed.

29 O kyng, when thou wast in thy bedde, thoughtes came into thy mynd what shuld comme hereafter: so he that is the opener of mysteries, telleth thee what is for to comme.

30 As for me, this secrete is not shewed me for any wysedome that I haue more then any other lyuyng: but onely that I myght shewe the king the interpretation, and that thou mightest know the thoughtes of thine owne hart.

31 Thou kyng sawest, and beholde, there (was) a great image: this great (d) image whose brightnesse was excellent stoode before thee, and the fourme therof was terrible.

(d) By this is vnderstanded the worlde.

32 This images (e) head was of fine gold, his brest and armes of siluer, his belly and his thyghes of brasse.

(e) By golde, siluer, brasse, and iron, are ment the Chaldean, Persian, Macedonean, and Romane kyngdome, which shuld successiuely rule the worlde tyl Christ (which is here called the stone) comme hym selfe and destroy the last.

33 His legges were of iron, his feete were part of iron and part of clay.

34 Thou beheldest it tyl a stone was cut without handes, whiche smote the image vpon his feete that were of iron and clay, and brake them to peeces.

35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brasse, the siluer and gold broken altogeather, and became lyke the chaffe of sommer flowres, and the wynde caryed them away, that no place was founde for them: and the stone that smote the image became a great mountayne, and fylled the whole earth.

36 This is the dreame: and nowe wyl we shewe before the kyng what it meaneth.

37 O kyng, thou art a kyng of kynges: for the the God of heauen hath geuen vnto thee a kingdome, power, strength, and glorie.

38 And in al places whereſoeuer the chyldren of men dwel, the beaſtes of the feeld, and the foules of the ayre hath he geuen into thy hande, and hath made thee ruler in them al: thou art this (f) head of golde.

39 After thee ſhal aryſe (g) another kingdome inferiour to thee, and another (h) third kingdome ſhalbe of braſſe, whiche ſhal beare rule ouer al the earth.

40 The (i) fourth kingdome ſhalbe ſtrong as iron: for as iron breaketh in peeces and ſubdueth al thinges, and as iron bruiſeth al theſe thinges, (ſo) ſhal it breake in peeces and bruiſe (al.)

41 Where as thou ſaweſt the feete and toes, part of potters claye, and part of iron, the kingdome ſhalbe (k) diuided, but there ſhalbe in it of the ſtrength of iron, for ſo muche as thou ſaweſt the iron mixt with the claye and earth.

42 And (as) the toes of the feete (were) part of iron and part of clay: (ſo) ſhal the kingdome be part ſtrong and part broken.

43 And whereas thou ſaweſt iron mixt with claye and earth, they ſhal mingle them ſelues with the ſeede of menne, and yet not ioyne one with another, as iron wyl not be mixt with claye.

44 And in the dayes of theſe kinges ſhal the God of heauen ſet vp a kingdome whiche ſhal neuer be deſtroyed, and this kingdome ſhal not be geuen ouer to another people: but it ſhal breake and deſtroy al theſe kingdomes, and it (l) ſhal ſtande for euer.

45 Like as thou ſaweſt that (m) without any handes there was cut out of the mount a ſtone, whiche brake the iron, the braſſe, the clay, the ſiluer and golde in peeces: ſo the great God hath ſhewed the king what ſhal comme to paſſe after this: this is a true dreame, and the interpretation of it is ſure.

46 Then the king Nabuchodonoſor fell downe vpon his face, and bowed him ſelfe vnto Daniel, and commaunded to ordeyne (n) rewardes and ſweete odours for him.

47 The king anſweared Daniel, and ſaide, Of a trueth (o) your God is a god of gods, and the Lorde of kinges, and a reuealer of ſecretes, ſeeyng thou couldeſt reueale this ſecrete.

48 So the king made Daniel a great man, and gaue him many and great giftes: he made him ruler of al the countreys of Babylon, and the cheefe of the rulers aboue al the wyſe men of Babylon.

49 Then Daniel made requeſt to the kyng, and he ſet Sidrach, Miſach, and Abednego, ouer the charge of the prouince of Babylon: but Daniel (ſate) in the kinges gate.

The. iii. Chapter

I. The kyng ſetteth vp a golden image, which he commaundeth to be woorſhipped. 8 Sidrach, Miſach, and Abednego are accuſed, becauſe they deſpiſed the kinges commaundement.

1 NAbuchodonoſor the king made an image of golde, whiche was threeſcore cubites high, and ſixe cubites thicke: he ſet it vp in the plaine of Dura, in the prouince of Babylon. A

2 Then Nabuchodonoſor the king ſent foorth, to geather togeather the dukes, lordes, and nobles, the iudges and officers, the deputies, and sheriffes, with al the rulers of the prouinces, that they might come to the (a) dedication of the image whiche Nabuchodonoſor the king had ſet vp.

(a) Shewyng that the idol is not knowen for an idol ſo long as it is with the woorkman: but when the ceremonies & cuſtomes and recited and vſed, and the conſent of the people is there, then of a blocke they thinke they haue made a God.

3 So the dukes, lordes, and nobles, the iudges and officers, deputies, and sheriffs, with al the rulers of the prouince, geathered them togeather vnto the dedication of the image that Nabuchodonoſor the kyng had ſet vp, and they ſtood before the image whiche Nabuchodonoſor had ſet vp.

4 Then an heralde cryed a loude, To you it is commaunded, O people, nations, and languages,

5 That when ye heare the noyſe of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, ſhawme, pſalteries, dulcimer, and al manner of inſtrumentes of muſicke, ye fall downe and woorſhip that golden image that Nabuchodonoſor the king hath ſet vp.

6 Who ſo then falleth not downe & woorſhippeth, ſhal euen the ſame houre be caſt into the middeſt of a hot fierie fornace.

7 Therefore when al the folke heards the noyſe of ỹ cornet, trumpet, harpe, ſhawme, pſalteries, and al inſtrumentes of muſicke, then al the people, nations, and languages fell downe and woorſhipped the golden image that Nabuchodonoſor the kyng had ſet vp.

8 Nowe were there certayne menne of the Chaldees, that went euen then, and (b) cried out an accuſation of the Iewes. B

(b) That is, accuſed the Iewes with an out crie.

9 They ſpake, and ſayd vnto the kyng Nabuchodonoſor, O king, liue for euer.

10 Thou, O king, haſt made a decree, that euery man that ſhal heare the ſound of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, ſhawme, pſalteries, dulcimer, and al inſtrumentes of muſicke, ſhal fall downe and woorſhippe the golden image:

11 And who so then fell not downe, and worshipped not, that he shoulde be cast into the middes of an hotte fierie fornace.

12 Nowe are there certaine Iewes, whom thou hast set ouer the charge of the prouince of Babylon: (namely) (c) Sydrach, Misach, & Abednego: these men, O kyng, regarded not thy commaundement: yea they wyl not serue thy goddes, nor worship the golden image that thou hast set vp.

13 Then Nabuchodonosor in his anger and wrath commaunded that Sidrac, Misach, & Abednego, shoulde be brought vnto him: so these men were brought before the king.

14 Then Nabuchodonosor spake vnto them, and saide, Is it true, O Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, wil not you serue my gods, nor worship the golden image that I haue set vp?

15 Nowe therefore be redye when ye heare the sounde of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, shawme, psalteries, dulcimer, and al instrumentes of musicke, to fall downe and worship the image whiche I haue made: for yf ye worship it not, ye shalbe cast immediatly into the middes of a hotte fierie furnace: for who is that God that can deliuer you out of my handes?

16 Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, answeared the king, and saide, O Nabuchodonosor, we are not (d) careful to answeare thee in this matter:

17 Beholde, our God whom we serue, is (e) able to deliuer vs from the hot fierie fornace: & he wyl deliuer vs out of thy hand, O kyng.

18 And though he wyl not, yet shalt thou knowe, O king, that we wyl not serue thy goddes, nor worshippe the golden image whiche thou hast set vp.

19 Then was Nabuchodonosor ful of indignation, so that the countenance of his face changed vpon Sidrach, Misach, & Abednego: therefore he charged and commaunded that they shoulde heate the fornace, one seuen times more then it was wont to be heat, 20 And he charged the most valiant menne of warre that were in his armie, to binde Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the hot fierie furnace.

21 So these menne were bounde in their coates, hosen, head attire, with their other garmentes, and cast into the middes of the hotte fierie fornace.

22 Therefore because the kinges commaundement was straite, and the furnace was exceeding hot, the menne that put in Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, the flambe of the fyre destroyed them.

23 And these three men, Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, fell downe in the middes of the hotte fierie fornace bound.

24 Then Nabuchodonosor the king was astonied, and rose vp in al haste: he spake vnto his counsel, and saide, Dyd not we cast three men bounde into the middes of the fyre? They answeared and saide vnto the king, It is true, O king.

25 He answeared and saide, Loe I see foure men lose, walking in the middes of the fire, and they haue no hurt: and the fourme of the fourth is like the (f) sonne of God.

26 Upon this went Nabuchodonosor vnto the mouth of the hot firie fornace, he spake also, and saide, O Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, ye seruantes of the high God, goe forth, and comme hyther. And so Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, came forth of the middes of the fyre.

27 The Dukes, Lordes, and Nobles, & the kinges counsel came togeather to see these men, vpon whom the fyre had no manner of power in their bodyes: in so much that ỳ very heare of their head was not burnt, and their clothes vnchaunged, yea there was no smel of fyre felt vpon them.

28 Then spake Nabuchodonosor, and saide, Blessed be the God of Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, which hath sent his angel, and deliuered his seruantes that put their trust in him, and haue altered the kinges commaundement, and ieoparded their bodyes, rather then they woulde serue or worship any god, except their owne God only.

29 Therefore I make a decree, that euery people, nation, & language, whiche speake any blasphemie agaynst the God of Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, shalbe drawen in peeces, and their houses shalbe made a iakes: because there is no God that can deliuer after this sort.

30 So the king promoted Sidrach, Misach, & Abednego, in the prouince of Babylon.

The .iiii. Chapter.

Nabuchodonosor dreameth agayne.

1 NAbuchodonosor king, vnto al people, nations, and languages that dwell vpon the (a) whole earth, peace be multiplyed among you.

2 I thought it good to shewe the signes and marueylous woorkes that the high God hath wrought vpon me.

3 O howe great are his signes, and howe mighty are his woonders? his kingdome is an (b) euerlasting kingdome, & his dominion is from generation to generation.

4 I Nabuchodonosor beyng at rest in my house,

(c) It seemeth that they named not Daniel, because he was greatly in the kinges fauour, thinking yf these three had benne destroyed, they might haue better occasion to accuse Daniel after: and this declareth that this pollicie of erecting this image, was inuented by the malitious flatterers, which sought nothing but the destruction of the Iewes, whom they accused of rebellion, & ingratitude.

(d) They should haue done iniurie to God, yf they shoulde haue doubted in this holy cause, and therfore they say that they are resolued to die for gods cause.

(e) They grounde on two pointes: fyrst on the power and prouidence of god ouer them: secondly on their cause, whiche was gods glory, & the testifying of his true religion with their blood, and so make open confession, that they wyl not so much as outwardly consent to idolatrie.

(f) That is, an angel of god, as verse. xxviii.

(a) Meaning so farre as his dominion extended.

house, and florysshyng in my palace,

3 Sawe a (c) dreame whiche made me afrayde, and the thoughtes vpon my bedde with the visions of my head troubled me.

6 Therefore made I a decree, that they shoulde bryng al the wyse men of Babylon before me, that they myght declare vnto me the interpretation of the dreame.

7 So came the wyse men, the soothsayers, the Chaldeans, and wysardes, to whom I tolde the dreame: but they coulde not shew me the interpretation thereof.

8 Tyl at the last Daniel came before me, (whose name was Baltassar, accordyng to the name of my God) whiche hath the spirite of the holy goddes in hym, and before him I tolde the dreame, sayeing, 9 O Baltassar, thou prince of wyse men, for so muche as I knowe that thou hast the spirite of the holy goddes, and no secrete troubleth thee: tel me therefore the visions of my dreame that I haue seene, and the interpretation thereof.

10 Thus were the visions of my head vpon my bed: and beholde, I sawe a tree in the myddes of the earth, and the heyght thereof was great:

12 A great tree and strong, and the heyght thereof reached vnto the heauen, and the sight thereof to the endes of al the earth.

12 The leaues thereof were fayre, and the fruite thereof muche, and in it was meate for al: the beastes of the feeld had shadowes vnder it, and the foules of the ayre dwelt in the boughes thereof: al flesshe fedde of it.

13 I sawe in the visions of my head vppon my bed, and beholde, a (d) watcher, and a holy one came downe from heauen, 14 And cryed myghtily, saying thus, Hewe downe the tree, breake of his branches, shake of his leaues, and scatter his fruite abroade: that the beastes may geat them away from vnder hym, and the foules from his branches.

15 Neuertheless, leaue the stumpe of his rootes styl in the earth, and with a band of iron and brasse (bynde it) among the grasse of the feelde, & let it be wet with the deawe of heauen, and let his portion be with the beastes among the grasse of the feelde.

16 Let his hart be (e) changed from mans (nature) and let a beastes harte be geuen vnto hym, and let seuen tymes be passed ouer hym.

17 This sentence (is) accordyng to the (f) decree of the watchers, and the request accordyng to the woorde of the holy ones: because lyuyng men shoulde knowe that the hyghest hath power ouer the kingdome of men, & geueth it to whom it liketh him, and setteth vp ouer it the basest among men.

18 This is the dreame that I kyng Nabuchodonosor haue seene: therefore thou, O Baltassar, declare the interpretation thereof, for so muche as al the wyse menne of my kingdome are not able to shewe me what it meaneth: but thou canst doo it, for the spirite of the holy goddes is in thee.

19 Then Daniel, whose name was Baltassar, held his peace by the space of one houre, and his thoughts (g) troubled him. So the kyng spake, and sayd, O Baltassar, let neyther the dreame, nor the interpretatiō therof trouble thee. Baltassar answeared, saying, O my Lorde, this dreame be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation therof to thyne aduersaries.

20 As for the tree that thou sawest, whiche was great and myghty, whose height reached vnto the heauen, and the sight thereof through al the worlde,

21 Whose leaues were fayre, and the fruite thereof muche, and in it was meate for al, vnder the whiche the beastes of the feelde had their habitation, & vpon whose branches the foules of the ayre dyd sit:

22 It is thou, O kyng, which art great and myghty, for thy greatnesse encreaseth and reacheth vnto the heauen, so dooth thy dominion to the endes of the earth.

23 But whereas the kyng sawe a watcher, and a holy one that came downe from heauen, and sayde, Hewe downe the tree, and destroy it, yet leaue the stumpe of the rootes thereof in the earth, and with a bande of iron and brasse bynd it among the grasse of the feelde, and let it be wet with the deawe of the heauen, and let his portion be with the beastes of the feelde, tyl (h) seuen tymes passe ouer hym.

24 This, O king, is the interpretation, yea it is the very decree of hym that is hyghest of al, and it toucheth my Lorde the kyng.

25 Thou shalt be cast out from menne, and thy dwelling shalbe with the beastes of the feelde: with grasse shalt thou be fed lyke (i) oxen, thou must be wet with the deawe of the heauen, yea, seuen tymes shal passe ouer thee, tyl thou (k) knowe that the hyghest hath power ouer the kyngdome of menne, and geueth it to whom he lyst.

26 Moreouer, whereas it was sayde that the stumpe of the roote of the tree should be leaft styl: it betokeneth that thy kingdome shal remayne whole vnto thee, after thou hast learned to knowe that the power commeth from heauen.

27 Wherefore, O king, let my counsayle be acceptable vnto thee, and (l) breake of thy sinnes

rours of thy former lyfe

(c) This was another dreame, beside that whiche he sawe of the foure Empires.

(d) Whiche was an angel of God.

(e) That is, let hym be depriued of natural reason, & mans vnderstāding

(f) This was the decree of God hym selfe, as appeareth in the. 24. verse folowyng, but it is called the decree of the watchmen or angelles, because they brought it & reuealed it: whiche the holye ones desire to comme to passe, so consentyng to the decree of God, that the proude myght be brought downe, and the humble exalted.

(g) Partlye consyderyng the greate iudgementes of god in the horrible punishment of this greate prince: and partly mooued with pitie of his cause, whom God had cōmaunded the Iewes to wish wel to, and pray for, as, Ier. 29. b.

(h) Whereby he meaneth a long space, as seuē yeres, or seuē quarters of yeres, or seuen monethes: for the interpretation is diuers.

(i) Not that his shape or fourme was changed into a beast, but that he was eyther stricken madde, and so auoyded mans cōpany: or was cast out for his tyrannie, & so wandered among the beasts, & ate hearbes and grasse.

(k) Daniel sheweth the cause why god thus punished hym.

(l) Ceasse from prouokyng god to anger anye lōger by thy sinnes, and where thou hast cruelly oppressed many poore, be now merciful vnto thē in righteousnesse, so shal the erbe redressed.

sinnes by ryghteousnesse, and thyne iniquities by mercy towarde the poore: loe, let there be a healyng of thyne errour.

E 28 All these thynges touch the kyng Nabuchodonosor.

29 So after twelue monethes, the kyng walked in the palace of the kyngdome of Babylon.

30 And the kyng spake, and sayde, Is not this great Babylon that I haue buylte for the house of the kyngdome by the myght of my power, and for the honour of my maiestie?

31 Whyle these woordes were yet in the kynges mouth, there fel a voyce from heauen, sayeing, O kyng Nabuchodonosor, to thee be it spoken, Thy kyngdome is departed from thee, 32 And thou shalt be cast out of mens companie, thy dwellyng shalbe with the beastes of the feelde: so that thou shalt eate grasse lyke oxen, and seuen tymes shal passe ouer thee, vntyl thou knowest that the hyghest hath power vpon the kyngdome of men, & geueth it vnto whom it pleaseth hym.

33 The very same houre was this matter fulfilled vpon Nabuchodonosor, so that he was caste out of mens companie, and dyd eate grasse like oxen, and his body was wet with the deawe of heauen, tyl his heares were growen as Egles (feathers) and his nayles lyke byrdes clawes.

F 34 When this (m) tyme was past, I Nabuchodonosor lift vp mine eyes vnto heauen, & mine vnderstanding was restored vnto me: then gaue I thankes vnto the hyghest, I magnified and praysed hym that lyueth for euermore, whose power is an euerlastyng power, and his kyngdome is from one generation to another.

(m) That is, the seuen tymes or yeres mentioned in the verses. 16. 23. and. 25.

35 And al they that dwel vppon the earth are to be reputed as nothing, and according to his wyl he woorketh in the armie of heauen, and among the inhabiters of the earth: and there is none that may resist his hand, or say vnto hym, What dooest thou?

(n) By whom it seemeth he was put frō his kyngdome before

36 At the same tyme was myne vnderstandyng geuen me agayne, & I was (restored) to the honour of my kyngdome, my glory and my beautie was restored vnto me, and my counsaylours and (n) princes sought vnto me, & I was established in my kingdome, and my glory was augmented towarde me.

(o) He dooth not onelye prayse God for his deliuerance, but also confesseth his fault that God only may haue the glorye, and man the shame, and that he may be exalted, and man cast downe.

37 Nowe therfore I (o) Nabuchodonosor, prayse, and extol, and magnifie the kyng of heauen, whose woorkes are al truethe, and his waies iudgement, and those that walke in pryde he is able to abase.

The.v. Chapter.

I. Balthasar kyng of Babylon abusyng the vesselles of the temple, seeth an hande wrytyng in the wal. 8. The soothsayers called of the kyng, can not expound the wrytyng.

1 KYng Balthasar made a great feaste to A a thousande of his princes, and dranke wyne (a) before the thousande.

(a) That is, not alone, as commonly he was wont, but in a solemne banquet, where vnto he receyued al his nobles to accompanye hym.

2 And Balthasar when he had tasted the wyne, commaunded to bryng hym the golden and siluer vessels, which his father Nabuchodonosor had brought from the temple in Hierusalem, that the kyng and his princes, and his wyues, and his concubines, myght drynke therein.

3 So were brought the golden vessels that they had taken out of the temple of the Lordes house at Hierusalem: and the kyng, and his princes, his wyues, and his concubines dranke in them.

4 They dranke wyne, and praysed the gods of golde, siluer, brasse, iron, wood, & stone.

5 In the very same houre there appeared fyngers of a mans hande wrytyng ryght ouer (b) agaynst the candlesticke vppon the plaster of the wal of the kynges palace, and the king sawe the knockles of the hand that wrote.

(b) That is, myght the better be seene.

6 Then changed the king his countenance, and his thoughtes troubled hym, so that the ioyntes of his loynes were loosed, and his (c) knees smote one agaynst the other.

(c) So he that before contemned god, was mooued by this sight to tremble for feare of Gods iudgementes.

7 Wherefore the king cryed mightyly, that they shoulde bryng the soothsayers, Chaldees, and wysardes: the kyng spake also to the wyse men of Babylon, and sayde, Who so can reade this wrytyng, and shewe me the interpretation thereof, shalbe clothed with purple, and haue a chayne of golde about his necke, and shalbe the third ruler in the kyngdome. B

8 Vpon this came al the kynges wise men, but they coulde neither reade the wrytyng, nor shewe the kyng the interpretation.

9 Then was kyng Balthasar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his princes were astonyed.

10 Nowe the (d) queene by reason of the talke of the kyng and his princes, came into the banquet house: and the queene spake, and sayd, O kyng, lyue for euer: let not thy thoughtes trouble thee, and let not thy countenance be changed.

(d) This some thinke was his mother, other, his grādmother: of al like lyhood a woman of great age, that conlde remember the actes of Daniel.

11 There is a man in thy kyngdome that hath the spirite of the holy goddes within hym: and in the dayes of thy father, lyght, and vnderstandyng, and wysedome, lyke the the wysdome of the gods was founde in hym, whom the kyng Nabuchodonosor thy father, the king (I say) thy father made cheefe of the (e) wise men, soothsayers, Chaldeans, and wysardes,

(e) Reade Chap. 4. b. and this declareth both that this name was odious vnto him, and also that he dyd not vse these vile practises because he was not among them whē al were called.

12 Because that such an abundant spirite, knowledge, & vnderstanding, to exponnde dreames, to open secretes, and to declare harde doubtes, was founde in him, yea euen in Daniel, whom ỹ king named Baltassar: let Daniel be called, and he shal declare the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought before the kyng: so the kyng spake vnto Daniel, and sayde, Art thou that Daniel, whiche art of the chyldren of the captiuitie of Juda, whom my father the kyng brought out of Jurie?

¶ 14 I haue hearde of thee that thou hast the spirite of the holy gods, and that lyght and vnderstandyng, and excellent wisedome is founde in thee.

15 Nowe haue there ben brought before me wise men, and soothsayers, to reade this writing, and to shewe me the interpretation thereof: but they coulde not declare the interpretation of the thing.

16 Then hearde I of thee, that thou couldest shewe interpretations, and dissolue doubtes: nowe yf thou canst reade this writyng, and shewe me the meaning thereof, thou shalt be clothed with purple, and haue a chaine of golde about thy necke, and be the thirde ruler in the kingdome.

17 Then Daniel answeared, and sayde before the king, As for thy rewardes keepe them to thee selfe, and geue thy gyftes to another: yet I wyl reade the writyng vnto the kyng, and shewe him the interpretation.

(f) Before he read the writyng, he declareth to the kyng his great ingratitude towarde god, who coulde not be moued to geue him the glory, consyderyng his woonderful woorke towarde his graundfather: and so sheweth that he sinneth, not of ignorance, but of malice.

18 O thou king, the most high God gaue vnto (f) Nabuchodonosor thy father a kyngdome, and maiestie, and honour, and glory.

19 And for the maiestie that he gaue hym, al people, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him: he slue whom he would, he smote whom it pleased hym: agayne, whom he woulde he set vp, and whom he lyst he put downe.

20 But because his hart was loftie, and his mynde strengthened in pride, he was depssed from his kyngly throne, and they tooke his glory from hym.

21 He was driuen out from the sonnes of men, his hart was made lyke the beastes, and his dwelling was with the wylde asses, they fedde him with grasse like oxen, and his body was wet with the deawe of the heauen, til he knew that the most high God bare rule ouer the kingdome of men, and that he appoynteth ouer it whom so euer he pleaseth.

22 And thou his sonne, O * Balthasar, hast not submitted thine hart, though thou knewest al these thinges:

* or, Belsasar.

23 But hast lift vp thee selfe against the Lorde of heauen, so that the vesselles of his house were brought before thee, that thou and thy princes, with thy wiues and concubines, might drinke wine thereout: and thou hast praysed the goddes of syluer, and golde, of brasse, and iron, of wood, & stone, whiche neither see, heare, nor vnderstande: as for the God in whose hande consysteth thy breath and al thy wayes, thou hast not glorysied hym.

24 (g) Then was the knockles of the hande sent from hym, and hath wrytten this writyng.

(g) After that God had so long tyme deferred his anger, and patiently wayted for thine amendement.

25 And this is the writing that he hath written: MENE(h) MENE, THECEL, VPHARSIN.

(h) This woorde is doubled, not only to exaggerate the certaynty of the matter, but also as some thinke, the one to signifie the ende of the kyng, the other the ende of the kingdome.

26 Nowe the interpretation of the thing is this, MENE, God hath numbred thy kingdome, and brought it to an ende.

27 THECEL, thou art weighed in the ballance, and art founde wanting.

28 PHERES, thy kyngdome is diuided, and geuen to the Medes, and Perses.

29 Then commaunded Balthasar, and they clothed Daniel with purple, and a chayne of golde about his necke, and made a proclamation concerning him, that he shoulde be the thirde ruler in the kyngdome.

30 The very same nyght was Balthasar the kyng of the Chaldees slayne.

31 And (i) Darius of the Medes tooke the kingdome, being threescore and two yeeres of age.

(i) Cyrus his sonne in lawe gaue him this title of honor, although Cyrus in effect had the dominion.

The. vi. Chapter.

I. Daniel is made ruler ouer the lordes.

1 IT pleased Darius to set ouer his kyngdome a hundred and twentie gouernours, whiche shoulde be ouer the whole kyngdome.

(a) Thus the wicked can not abyde the graces of God in others, but seeke by al occasions to deface them, therefore agaydst suche assaults there is no better remedy then to walke vprightly in the feare of god, and to haue a good conscience.

2 Aboue these he set three princes, of whom Daniel was one, that ỹ gouernours myght geue accomptes vnto them, and the kyng shoulde haue no damage.

3 Nowe this Daniel was preferred aboue the princes and gouernours, for the spirite (of God) was plenteous in hym, so that the kyng was mynded to set hym ouer the whole realme.

4 Wherefore the rulers and gouernours (a) sought an occasion agaynst Daniel concerning the kingdome, but they could finde none occasion nor faulte: for he was so faythful, faythful, that there was no blame nor fault founde in hym.

5 Then sayd these men, We shal finde none occasion agaynst this Daniel, except we finde it agaynst hym concernyng the lawe of his God.

6 Upon this went the princes and lordes togeather vnto the kyng, and sayd thus vnto hym, Kyng Darius, liue for euer.

7 All the rulers of thy kyngdome, the officers, and gouernours, the counselours, and dukes, haue consulted togeather to make a decree for the kyng, and to establyshe a statute, That who so desyreth any petition eyther of any god or man within these thirtie dayes, except of thee, O kyng, he shalbe cast into the lions denne.

8 Nowe, O kyng, confirme the decree, and seale the wryting, that it be not changed, accordyng to the lawe of the Medes and Persians, whiche altereth not.

9 Wherefore kyng Darius sealed the wrytyng and decree.

10 Nowe when Daniel vnderstoode that he had sealed the writing, he went into his house, and the (b) wyndowes of his chamber toward Hierusalem stoode open, there kneeled he downe vpon his knees three tymes a day, he made his petition, & praysed his God, as he dyd afore tyme.

11 Then these men assembled, and founde Daniel makyng his petition, and prayng vnto his God.

12 So they came to the kyng, and spake before him concerning his commaundement, saying, O kyng, hast thou not sealed the decree, that within thirtie dayes who so requireth his petition of any god or man, but only of thee selfe, O kyng, he shalbe cast into the denne of lions? The kyng answered, and sayd, Yea it is true, according to the lawe of the Medes and Perses that altereth not.

13 Then answeared they, and sayde vnto the king, This Daniel which is of ỹ children of the captiuitie of Juda, O kyng, regardeth neither thee, nor thy decree that thou hast sealed: but maketh his petition three tymes a day.

14 When the kyng hearde these woordes, he was soare displeased with hym selfe, and set his hart on Daniel to deliuer him, and he laboured til the sunne went downe, to deliuer hym.

15 Then these men assembled vnto the kyng, and sayd vnto him, Knowe this, O kyng, that the lawe of the Medes & Perses (is) that the commaundement and statute whiche the kyng maketh, may not be (c) altered.

16 Then the kyng commaunded, and they brought Daniel, and they cast him into the Lions denne. Nowe the king spake vnto Daniel, and sayde, Thy God whom thou alway seruest, euen he wyl deliuer thee.

17 And there was brought a stone, and layd vpon the mouth of the denne, this the kyng sealed with his owne ryng, and with the signette of his princes, that the purpose concerning Daniel shoulde not be changed.

18 So the kyng went into his palace, and remayned fasting, neither was there any instrumentes of musicke brought in before him, and his sleepe went from hym.

19 But betymes in the mornyng at the breake of the day, the kyng arose, and went in al haste vnto the denne of the Lions.

20 Nowe as he came nigh vnto the denne, he cryed with a pitious voyce vnto Daniel, yea the kyng spake, & sayd vnto Daniel, O Daniel, thou seruant of the liuing God, is not thy God whom thou seruest alway able to deliuer thee from the Lions?

21 Then sayde Daniel vnto the kyng, O kyng lyue for euer.

22 My God hath sent his angel, whiche hath shut the Lions mouthes, so that they might not hurte me, for myne (d) vngyltinesse is founde out before hym: and as for thee, O king, I neuer (e) offended thee.

23 Then was the kyng exceedyng glad for hym, and commaunded to take Daniel out of the denne: so Daniel was brought out of the denne, and no manner of hurt was found vpon hym, for he (f) put his trust in his God.

24 And as for those men whiche had accused Daniel, ỹ kyng commaunded to bryng them, & to cast them into the Lions denne, them, their children, and their wyues: so the Lions had the maistrie of them, and brake al their bones a sunder or euer they came at the grounde of the denne.

25 After this wrote kyng Darius vnto al people, nations, and tongues, that dwelt in al landes, Peace be multiplied vnto you:

26 My commaundement is in al my dominion and kyngdome, that men feare and stande in awe of Daniels God: for he is the liuing God whiche abydeth euer, his kyngdome shal not fayle, and his power is euerlasting.

27 It is he that deliuereth and saueth, he doth woonders and marueilous workes in heauen and in earth, he hath preserued Daniel from the power of the Lions.

B (b) Because he woulde not by his sciléce shew that he consẽted to this wicked Decree, he set open his windowes towarde Hierusalem whẽ he prayed, both to surre vp hym selfe with the remẽbrance of gods promises to his people when they should pray toward the temple: and also that others might see that he would neuer consent in hart nor deede, for these fewe dayes, to any thing contrary to gods glory.

(c) Thus the wicked mainteyne yl lawes by cõstancie and auctoritie, which is oft tymes either lightnesse or stubburnenesse, whẽ as the innocentes thereby perishe: and therfore gouernours ought neyther to feare, nor be ashamed to breake such,

D (d) Mine vprightnesse in this thyng wherein I was charged, was approued of God,

(e) For he did disobey the kynges wicked commaũdement to obey god, and so dyd no iniurie to the kyng, who ought to cõmaund nothyng wherby God shoulde be dishonoured

(f) Because he committed him selfe wholly vnto God, whose cause he dyd defende: he was assured that nothing but good coulde come vnto hym, wherein we see the power of fayth, as Heb. xi, c

28 So this Daniel proſpered in the raigne of Darius, and in the raigne of Cyrus of Perſia.

The.vii.Chapter.

1. A viſion of foure beaſtes is ſhewed vnto Daniel.

1 IN the fyrſte yeere of Balthaſar kyng of Babylon, ſawe Daniel a dreame, & there were viſions in his head vpon his bedde: whiche dreame he wrote, and declared the ſumme of the matter.

2 Daniel ſpake, and ſayd, I ſawe in my viſion by nyght, and beholde, the foure (a) wyndes of heauen ſtroue vppon ỹ great ſea,

3 And foure great beaſtes came vp from the ſea, one diuers from another.

4 The fyrſt was as a (b) Lion, & had Egles wynges: I behelde tyl his wynges were pluckt from hym, and he lifted vp from the earth, and ſet vpon his feete like a man, and there was geuen hym a mans hart.

5 Beholde, an other beaſt (whiche was) the ſeconde, was like a (c) beare, and ſtood vpon the one ſide: betwixte his teeth in his mouth he had three rybbes, and it was ſaid vnto him thus, Aryſe, eate vp much fleſhe.

6 Then I looked, and beholde, there was another lyke vnto a (d) leoparde, this had wynges as a foule, euen (e) foure vpon the backe: this beaſt had foure heades, and there was power geuen hym.

7 After this I ſaw in a viſion by night, and beholde, the fourth beaſt was (f) grymme and horrible, and marueylous ſtrong: it had great iron teeth, it deuoured and deſtroyed, and ſtamped the reſidue vnder his feete, it was vnlyke the other beaſtes that were before it: for it had (g) ten hornes.

8 As I conſydered the hornes, behold, there came vp among them another lytle horne, before whom there were three of the fyrſte hornes pluckt away: and behold, this horne had eyes lyke the eyes of a man, & a mouth ſpeakyng preſumptuous thynges.

9 I behelde til the thrones were ſet vp, and the ancient of dayes did ſit, whoſe garment was whyte as ſnowe, and the heares of his head lyke the pure wool: his throne was lyke the fiery flambe, and his wheeles as burnyng fyre.

10 There iſſued fourth a fiery ſtreame, and went out from before him: a thouſand thouſandes miniſtred vnto hym, and ten thouſande thouſandes ſtoode before hym: the iudgement was ſet, and the bokes opened.

11 Then tooke I heede thereunto, becauſe of the voyce of the proud wordes which the horne ſpake: I behelde tyl the beaſt was ſlayne, and his body deſtroyed, and geuen to be brent in the fire.

12 As concernyng the other beaſtes, they had their dominion taken away, but theyr lyues were prolongued for a certayne tyme and ſeaſon.

13 I ſawe in viſions by nyght, and beheld, there came one in the cloudes of heauen, lyke the ſonne of man, which went vnto the ancient of dayes, before whō they brought hym.

14 And he gaue him dominion and honour, and a kyngdome, that al people, nations, and languages ſhoulde ſerue hym: his dominion is an euerlaſtyng dominion, which ſhal neuer be taken away, and his kyngdome ſhal neuer be deſtroyed. C

15 I Daniel was troubled in my ſpirite in the myddeſt of my body, and the viſions of my head made me afrayde, 16 I gate me vnto (h) one of them that ſtoode by, and aſked hym the trueth concernyng al theſe thynges: ſo he tolde me, and made me vnderſtande the interpretation of theſe thynges.

17 Theſe great beaſtes whiche are foure, are foure kynges whiche ſhal aryſe out of the earth:

18 But the (i) high ſaintes ſhal receyue a kyngdome, and poſſeſſe a kyngdome for euer, euen for euer and euer.

19 After this, I requyred to knowe the trueth concerning the fourth beaſt, whiche was ſo vnlyke the other beaſtes, and ſo horrible, whoſe teeth were of iron, and his nayles of braſſe, whiche deuoured and deſtroyed, and ſtamped the reſidue vnder his feete:

20 (I deſired) alſo (to knowe the trueth) as touchyng the ten hornes that he had vppon his head, and this other which came vp afterward, before whoſe face there fel downe three, whiche horne had eyes, and a mouth that ſpake preſumptuous thynges, and looked with a grymmer viſage then his (k) felowes.

21 I behelde, and the ſame horne made batayle agaynſt the ſaintes, yea, and preuayled agaynſt them, D

22 Until the (l) ancient of dayes came, that the iudgement was geuen to the high ſaintes, and tyl the tyme came that the ſaintes had the kingdome in poſſeſſion.

23 He gaue me this anſweare, That fourth beaſt ſhalbe the fourth kyngdome vppon earth, it ſhalbe vnlike to al the kingdomes: it ſhal deuoure, treade downe, and deſtroy al other landes.

24 The ten hornes, are ten kynges that ſhal aryſe

(a) Whiche ſignified that there ſhould be horrible troubles and afflictions in the world in al quarters.

(b) The beaſtes are kynges, kyngdomes, or monarchies. By the lion, the kyngdome of Babylon is vnderſtanded, which ſpeedily vanquiſhed the nations adioynyng: but after his wynges were pluckt, and his kyngdome taken away, he returned to the condition of a man, and no lion.

(c) The ſecond monarchie of the Perſians and Medes.

(d) The third monarchie of the Macedonians.

(e) That is, his foure cheefe captaynes, whiche had the empire after his death diuided among them.

(f) That is, the Romaue Empire, whiche was as a monſter, and coulde not be compared to any beaſt, becauſe the nature of none was able to expreſſe it.

(g) Whiche ſignifye ten kynges, as, verſe. 24.

(h) Meaning of the angels as, verſe. 10.

(i) That is, Gods electe people, whiche ſhal haue a kingdome and churche to continue in for euer.

arise out of ỹ kingdome: after whom there shal stande vp another, whiche shalbe vnlyke to the fyrste, and he shal subdue three kinges:

25 And he shal speake wooꝛdes agaynst the hyghest of al, he shal destroy the high saintes, and thinke that he may change tymes and lawes: they shalbe geuen into his hand vntyl a tyme, and tymes, and the diuidyng of a tyme.

26 But the iudgement shal sit, and they shal take away his dominion, to consume and destroy it vnto the ende.

27 And the kyngdome and dominion, and the greatnesse of the kyngdome vnder the whole heauen, shalbe geuen to the (m) people of hygh saintes, whose kyngdome is an euerlastyng kyngdome, and al power shal serue and obey it.

(m) That is, to the churche.

D 28 Hytherto the ende of the wooꝛdes: I Daniel had many cogitations (whiche) troubled me, and my countenance changed in me: but the wooꝛdes I keapt styl in my hart.

The.viii. Chapter.

1. A vision of a stryfe betweene a Ramme and a hee Goate.

(a) After the general visiõ he commeth to certayne particuler visions, as touching the destruction of the monarchie of the Persians, and Macedonians, for the ruine of the Babylonians was at hand, and also he had sufficiently spoken thereof.

1 IN the thirde yeere of the raigne of kyng Balthasar, there appeared a vision vnto me, (euen) vnto me Daniel, (a) after that whiche I had seene in the beginnyng.

2 I sawe in a vision, (and when I sawe it, I was in the palace of Susis, whiche is in the pꝛouince of (b) Elam) and in the vision me thought I was by the riuer of Ulai.

3 Then I locked vp, and sawe, and behold, there stoode before the ryuer a (c) Ramme whiche had two hoꝛnes, and these two hoꝛnes were hygh, but (d) one was hygher then the other, and the highest came vp last.

4 I saw that this Ramme pushed with his hoꝛnes agaynst the Weast, agaynst the Noꝛth, and agaynst the South: so that no (e) beastes myght stande before hym, noꝛ defende them from his power, but he dyd as hym lysted, and became great.

5 And as I consydered, behold, there came a hee (f) Goate from the Weast, ouer the whole earth, and touched not the grounde, and this Goate had a (g) horne appeared betwixt his heyes.

6 And he came vnto the Ramme that had the two hoꝛnes (whom I had seene standing by the riuer) and ranne fiercely vpon hym with his myght.

(b) Elam is Persia.

(c) That is, the kyngdome of the Persians and Medes, now ioyned togeather.

(d) Meaning Cyrus, who after grewe greater in power then Darius his vncle & father in law.

(e) No kings or nations.

(f) Meanyng, Alexander, that came with great expeditiõ.

(g) Though he came in the name of al Gretia, yet he bare the title and dignitie of the general captaine, so that the strẽgth was attributed to him, which is ment by this horne.

7 And I sawe hym drawe nygh vnto the Ramme, beyng very fierce vppon hyme, yea, he (h) smote the Ramme, and brake his two hoꝛnes, neyther had the Ramme so much strength as to stand before hym: but he cast him downe to the ground, trode hym vnder his feete, and there was none able to delyuer the Ramme out of his power.

8 Therefore the Goate waxed exceedyng great, and when he was at the strongest, his great hoꝛne was broken: then grewe there other foure notable ones in the steade of it, towarde the foure wyndes of the heauen.

9 And out of one of them came foorth a litle hoꝛne, whiche waxed very great towarde the South, towarde the East, and towarde the pleasant lande.

10 (i) It grew vp vnto the hoste of heauen, whereof it dyd caste somme downe to the grounde, and of the starres also, and trode them vnder foote.

11 Yea, it grewe vp agaynst the (k) pꝛince of the hoste, from whom the dayly (sacrifice) was taken away, & the places of his sanctuarie cast downe.

12 And power was geuen vnto it ouer the dayly (sacrifice) foꝛ the iniquitie, and it shal (l) cast downe ỹ trueth to the ground: and thus shal it doo and pꝛosper.

13 Vpon this I heard one of the saintes speakyng, and one of the (m) saintes spake vnto (n) Palmoni, saying, Howe long shal the vision of the dayly (sacrifice) and of the iniquitie of desolation (endure,) to geue both the sanctuarie and the power to be troden vnder foote?

14 And he answered me, Vnto the (o) euenyng and the moꝛnyng, two thousand and three hundred: then shal the sanctuarie be cleansed.

15 Nowe when I Daniel had seene this vision, and sought foꝛ the vnderstanding of it: beholde, there stoode before me (p) like the similitude of a man.

16 And I heard a mans voyce (q) betweene Ulai, whiche cryed, and sayde, O Gabriel (r) make this man vnderstande the vision.

17 So he came and stood by me, but I was afrayde at his commyng, and fel downe vpon my face: then sayde he vnto me, Vnderstande, O thou sonne of man: foꝛ at the (s) tyme of the ende this vision (shalbe.)

18 Nowe as he was speakyng vnto me, I fel in a slumber vpon my face to ỹ ground: but he touched me, and set me vp in my place.

19 And

(h) Alexander ouercame Darius in two battayles, and so had the kingdomes of the Medes and Persians.

(i) That is, God.

(k) Antiochus who raged against the cleche of God.

(l) This horne shal abolish for a tyme the true doctrine and so corrupt Gods seruice.

(m) One of the angels.

(o) Euenyng & morning, do signifie a natural day, that is, 2300 dayes.

(p) That is, Christe.

(q) That is, betwene the banks of the riuer Vlai.

(r) This power to commaunde the angel, declareth it was God.

(s) That is, the vision shalbe fulfilled hereafter in time conuenient.

19 And he sayd, Beholde, I will shewe thee what shalbe in the last wrath: for in the tyme appoynted it shalbe fulfilled.
20 The ramme which thou sawest hauing two hornes, is the kyng of the Medes and Perses, D 21 And the Goate is the kyng of Grecia: and the great horne that is betwixt his eyes, that is the first kyng.
22 But where as it brake, and foure other rose vp in the steade, (it signifieth) that out of this people shal stande vp foure kyngdomes, but not so mightie as it.
23 And in the ende of their kyngdome, when the wycked are come to the full, a kyng of a (t) fierce countenance, and vnderstandyng harde sentences, shal stande vp.
24 His power shalbe myghtie, but not in (v) his strength, and he shal destroy wonderfully, he shal prosper and practise, and destroy the (x) mightie and the holy people.
25 And through his pollicie also he shal cause craft to prosper in his handes, he shal extol hym selfe in his hart, and in prosperitie he shal destroy many, and many one shalbe put to death in his wealthynesse: he shal stande vp agaynst the (y) prince of princes, but he shalbe destroyed without (z) hande.
26 And the vision of the * euenyng and the mornyng whiche is declared, is true: therfore seale thou vp the vision, for it shalbe after many dayes.
27 Upon this was I Daniel feeble, so that I lay sicke (certayne) dayes: but when I rose vp, I went about the kinges businesse, and was astonied at the vision, neuertheles, no man vnderstoode it.

(t) That is, Antiochus who should be impudēt, shameles, subtil, and craftie.

The. ix. Chapter.

1. Daniel desyreth to haue that performed of God, whiche he hath promysed concernyng the returne of the people frō their banishment in Babylon. 26. The death of Christe.

1 IN the firste yeere of Darius the sonne of (a) Ahasuerus, which was of the seede of the Medes, and was made king ouer the (b) realme of the Chaldees,
2 Euen in the firste yeere of his raigne, I Daniel vnderstode by (c) bookes the number of the yeeres, whereof the Lorde spake vnto Jeremie the prophete that he woulde accomplishe seuentie yeeres in the desolation of Hierusalem.
3 And I turned my face vnto the lord God, and sought by prayer & supplication, with fastyng, sackcloth, and ashes.
4 I prayed vnto the Lorde my God, and made my confession, saying, O Lord God, great and feareful, which kepeth couenant and mercy with them that lone "him, and keepe his commaundementes. "thee.
5 We haue sinned, and haue committed iniquitie, and haue done wickedly, yea we haue rebelled, and haue departed from thy precептes, and from thy iudgementes.
6 We woulde not obey thy seruantes the prophetes, that spake in thy name to our kinges, and princes, to our forefathers, and to al the people of the lande.
7 O Lorde, ryghteousnesse belongeth vnto thee, vnto vs open shame, as is come to passe this day vnto euery man of Juda, and to them that dwel at Hierusalem, yea vnto al Israel, whether they be farre or nigh, throughout al the landes whyther thou hast driuen them, because of their offences that they haue done agaynst thee. B
8 Yea, O Lord, vnto vs, to our kinges and princes, to our forefathers that haue offended thee, belongeth open shame.
9 Unto the Lord our God parteyneth compassion and forgeuenesse, though we haue rebelled agaynst hym.
10 And we haue not obeyed the (d) voyce of the Lorde our God, to walke in his lawes whiche he layde before vs, by the hande of his seruantes the prophetes. (d) He sheweth that they rebel against God, which serue hym not according to his commaundement and woorde.
11 Yea al Israel haue transgressed and gone backe from thy lawe, so that they haue not hearkened vnto thy voyce: wherefore the (e) curse and othe that is wrytten in the lawe of Moses the seruant of God, against whom we haue offended, is powred vpon vs. (e) As Deut. 17. c. or the curse confirmed by an othe.
12 And he hath confirmed his wordes whiche he spake agaynst vs, and agaynst our iudges that iudged vs, to bryng vpon vs suche a great plague as neuer was vnder heauen, lyke as it is nowe come to passe in Hierusalem.
13 Yea al this plague as it is wrytten in the lawe of Moses, is come vpon vs: yet made we not our prayers before the Lorde our GOD, that we myght turne agayne from our wickednesse, and vnderstande thy trueth.
14 Therfore hath the Lord watched vpon the plague, and brought it vpon vs: for the Lorde our God is ryghteous in al his workes whiche he dooth: for we woulde not hearken vnto his voyce. C
15 And nowe, O Lorde our God, thou that with a mightie hand hast brought thy people out of ỹ land of Egypt, to get thee selfe a name,

(a) Otherwise called Astyages.
(b) For Cyrus led with ambition, went about warres in other countreys, and therfore Darius had the title, though Cyrus were kyng in effect.
(c) Though he were an excellent prophete, yet dayly encreased in knowledge by readyng the scriptures.

a name, whiche remayneth this day, we haue ſinned, we haue done wickedly.

16 O Lorde, according to al thy (f) righteouſneſſe, I beſeeche thee let thine anger and thy wrath be turned away from thy citie of Hieruſalem, thy holy hyl: for becauſe of our ſinnes, and for the wickedneſſe of our fathers, Hieruſalem and thy people are a reproche vnto al them that are about vs.

17 Nowe therefore, O our God, heare the prayer of thy ſeruant, and his interceſſion: O let thy face (g) ſhyne ouer thy ſanctuary that lyeth waſte, for the (h) Lordes ſake.

18 O my God, encline thine eare, and hearken, open thyne eyes, beholde howe we be deſolated, yea and the citie alſo whiche is called after thy name: for we do not preſent our prayers before thee in our (i) owne ryghteouſneſſe, but in thy great mercies.

19 O Lord heare, O forgeue Lord, O Lord (k) conſyder, & do it, deferre not for thyne owne ſake, O my God: becauſe thy name is called vpon thy citie, and vpon thy people.

20 As I was yet a ſpeaking at my prayers, knowledging myne owne ſinnes, and the ſinnes of my people Iſrael, preſentyng ſo mine interceſſion before the Lorde my God for the holy hyl of my God:

21 Yea while I was yet ſpeaking in my prayer, the man Gabriel (whō I had ſeene afore in the viſion) came fleeyng, and touched me about the tyme of the euenyng oblation:

22 And he enfourmed me, and talked with me, and ſayd, O Daniel, I am nowe come foorth to geue thee knowledge and vnderſtandyng.

23 At the beginning of thy ſupplications the commaundement came foorth, and I am come to ſhewe thee, for thou art greatly beloued: therfore vnderſtande the matter, and conſyder the viſion.

24 (l) Seuentie weekes are determined ouer thy people, and ouer thy holy citie, to finiſhe the wickednesſe, and to ſeale vp the ſinnes, and to reconcile the iniquitie, and to bryng in euerlaſtyng ryghteouſneſſe, to ſeale vp the viſion and prophesie, and to annoynt the moſte holy.

25 Knowe therefore and vnderſtande, that from the goeing foorth of the commaundement to bryng agayne the (people) and to builde Hieruſalem, vnto Meſſiah ỹ prince, there ſhalbe ſeuen weekes, and threeſcore and two weekes: and the ſtreete ſhalbe built agayne, and the wal, (euen) in the ſtrayteneſſe of tyme.

26 After theſe threeſcore and two weekes ſhal Meſſiah be ſlayne, & not for him ſelfe: and the people of the prince that ſhal come, ſhal deſtroy the citie and the ſanctuary, and the ende thereof ſhalbe with a flood, and vnto the end of the battel it ſhalbe deſtroyed by deſolations.

27 He ſhal confirme the couenant with many for one weeke, and in the middeſt of the weeke he ſhal cauſe the ſacrifice and the oblation to ceaſſe, and for the ouerſpreading of the abominations, he ſhal make it deſolate, (euen) vntyl the conſummation determined ſhalbe powred vpon the deſolate.

(f) That is, according to al thy merciful promiſes, and the performance therof.

(g) Shew thy ſelfe fauourable.

(h) That is, for thy Chriſtes ſake, in whom thou wilt accepte al our prayers.

(i) Declaring that the godly flee only vnto Gods mercies, and renounce theyr owne workes, whē they ſeke for remiſſion of theyr ſinnes.

(k) Thus he coulde not content him ſelfe with any vehemencie of wordes, whē he was led with a feruent zeale, conſydering gods promiſe made to the citie in reſpect of the Church, and for the aduancement of Cods glory.

(l) He alludeth to Ieremies prophecie, wher by he declared there ſhoulde be ſeuentie yeres of the Iewes captiuitie, for the execution of Gods iudgement: but nowe Gods mercie ſhoulde ſeuen folde exceede his iudgement, in geuyng them ſeuentie tymes ſeuen yeeres of a happyer ſtate, though not altogeather voyde of affliction: whiche amounteth to foure hundred and ninetie yeers, euen to the comming of Chriſte, and ſo then it ſhoulde continue for euer.

The.x. Chapter.

1. There appeareth vnto Daniel a man clothed in linnen. 11. Whiche ſheweth hym wherefore he was ſent.

1 IN the (a) thirde yeere of Cyrus kyng of Perſia, there was ſhewed vnto Daniel, otherwiſe called Baltaſſar, a matter, yea a true matter, but it is yet a long tyme vnto it: he vnderſtoode the matter, and perceiued what the viſion was.

(a) He noteth this thirde yeere, becauſe at this time the buildyng of the temple began to be hyndered by Cambyſes Cyrus ſonne, when the father made warre in Aſia minor agaynſt the Scithians, which was a diſcouraging to the godly, and a great feare to Daniel.

2 At the ſame tyme I Daniel mourned for the ſpace of three weekes of dayes.

3 I ate no pleaſant bread, as for fleaſhe and wine there came none within my mouth: no, I did not once annoynt mee ſelfe til the whole three weekes of dayes were fulfylled.

4 Upon the foure and twentieth day of the firſte moneth, I was by the ſyde of that great riuer (euen) Hiddekel.

5 I lyft vp myne eyes, and looked: and beheld a man clothed in linnen, whoſe loynes were girded vp with fine golde of Aphaz.

6 His body was lyke the Thurkis ſtone, his face to looke vpon was like lightning, his eyes as lampes of fyre, his armes and feete were like in colour to pulliſhed braſſe, and the voyce of his woordes was like the voyce of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone ſawe this viſion, for the men that were with me ſawe not the viſion: but a great fearefulneſſe fel vpon them, ſo that they fled away, and hid themſelues.

8 Therfore I was left alone, and ſaw this great viſion, & there remayned no ſtrength in me: for my colour was turned in me into to corruption, and I reteyned no strength.

9 Yet hearde I the voyce of his wooydes: & when I hearde the voyce of his wooydes, I fel astonyed vpon my face, and my face towarde the earth.

10 And beholde a hande touched me, which set me vp vpon my knees, and vpon the paulmes of my handes.

11 And he sayde vnto me, O Daniel, thou welbeloued man, take good heede to the wooydes that I say vnto thee, and stand in thy place: for vnto thee am I nowe sent. And when he had saide these wooydes vnto me, I stoode vp tremblyng.

12 Then sayde he vnto me, Feare not Daniel: for since the first day that thou diddest set thyne hart to vnderstand, and to chasten thy selfe before thy God, thy wooydes were hearde, and I am comme for thy wooydes.

13 But the (b) prince of the kyngdome of Persia withstoode me one & twentie daies: but loe, Michael one of the cheefe princes came to helpe me, and I remained there by the kinges of Persia.

14 And I am comme to shewe thee what shal comme vnto thy people in the latter dayes: for it wyl be long yet or the vision be fulfylled.

15 Now when he had spoken these wooydes vnto me, I cast downe my head to the grounde, and helde my tongue.

16 And behold, there touched my lippes one very lyke vnto a man: then opened I my mouth and spake, and sayde vnto him that stoode before me, O my Lord, by the vision my * ioynts are turned out of (their) place, and I haue reteyned no strength.

17 For how can the seruant of this my lord talke with my Lorde (beyng) suche a one? And as for me, strayghtway there remayned no strēgth in me, neither is there breath left in me.

18 Then there came agayne and touched me one lyke the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me:

19 And sayd, O man greatly beloued, feare not, peace be vnto thee, be strōg and of good courage. So when he had spoken vnto me, I was strengthened, and sayd, Speake on my Lord: for thou hast strengthened me.

20 Thus sayde he, Knowest thou wherfore I am come vnto thee? nowe wyl I returne to fyght with the prince of the Perses: as soone as I goe forth, lo, the (c) prince of Greeke lande shal comme.

21 Neuertheless I wyl shewe thee that that is noted in the scripture of truth: and there is none that helpeth me in these thinges, but (d) Michael your prince.

(b) Meanyng Cambises, who raigned in his fathers absence, dyd not onely hynder thus long the buylding of the temple, but woulde haue further raged, yf God had not sent me to resiste hym: and therfore haue I stayed for the profite of the Church.

* or, my sorowes are returned vpon me.

(c) Meanyng that he woulde not onely bridle the rage of Cambises, but also the other kynges of Persia, by Alexander the kyng of Macedonia.

(d) For this angel was appoynted for the defence of the Churche, vnder Christe, who is the head thereof.

The. xi. Chapter.

1. A prophecie of the kynges of Persia. 3. Of the kyngdome of Greece. 5. Of the kyngdome of Egypt, and of the bond therof. 15. Of the battayle with the kyngdome of Syria.

1 AND in the fyrst yeere of Darius of Media (a) I stood to comfort him, and to strength hym.

2 And nowe wyl I shewe thee the trueth: behold, there shal stand vp yet three kinges in Persia, but the fourth shalbe far richer then they al: and by his strength and by his richesse he shal stirre vp al agaynst the realme of Greeke lande.

3 Then shal there arise yet a mightie king, that shal rule with great dominion, and do what hym lyst.

4 And when he shal stande vp, his kyngdome shalbe (b) broken, and shalbe diuided towarde the foure wyndes of the heauen, and not towarde his posteritie, nor accordyng to his dominion whiche he ruled: for his kyngdome shalbe pluckt vp, euen for others besydes these.

5 And the (c) kyng of the south shalbe mightie, and (d) (one) of his princes, and he shal preuayle agaynst hym, and beare rule: his dominion shalbe a great dominion.

6 And in the ende of yeeres, they shalbe ioyned togeather, and the kynges (e) daughter of the south shal comme to the kyng of the north for to make agreement, but she shal not reteyne the power of the (f) arme, neyther shal he continue nor his arme: but she shalbe delinered (to death) and they that brought her, and he that begate her, and he that comforted her in these tymes.

7 But out of the budde of her rootes shal one stand vp in his steede, which shal come with an armie, and shal enter into the fortresse of the kyng of the north, and doo with them (as he list) and shal preuayle,

8 And shal also carye captiues into Egypt their goddes, with their molten images, with their precious vessels of siluer and of gold, and he shal continue more yeeres then the kyng of the north.

9 So the kyng of the south shal comme into his kyngdome, and shal returne into his owne lande.

10 Wherfore his sonnes shalbe stirred vp, and shal geather togeather a mightie great host of people, and one shal comme and ouerflowe, and passe through: then shal he turne agayne and be stirred vp at his fortresse.

(a) The angel assureth Daniel, that god hath geuen hym power to perfourme these thinges, seyng he appoynted him to assist Darius when he ouercame the Chaldeans.

(b) Reade chapt. 8. b.

(c) To wit, Ptolemeus kyng of Egypt.

(d) That is, Antiochus the sonne of Seleucus and one of Alexanders princes shalbe more mightie, for he shal haue both Asia and Syria.

(e) That is, Berenice the daughter of Ptolomeus Philadelphus shalbe geuen in marriage to Antiochus Theos, thynkyng by this affinitie that Syria and Egypt shoulde haue a continual peace togeather.

(f) That force and strength shal not continue: for soone after, Berenice and her young sonne after her husbands death, was slaine of her stepsonne Seleucus Calinicus the sonne of Laodice the lawful wife of Antiochus, but put away for this womans sake.

S I II Then

11 Then the king of the south shalbe angry, and shal comme fooꝛth to fight with hym, (euen) with the kyng of the nooꝛth: foꝛ he shal set fooꝛth a great multitude, and the multitude shalbe geuen into his hande.

12 Then the multitude shalbe proude, and their hartes shalbe lifted vp, foꝛ he shal cast downe thousandes: but he shal not styl preuayle.

13 Foꝛ the kyng of the nooꝛth shal returne, and shal set fooꝛth a greater multitude then afooꝛe, and shal comme fooꝛth (after certayne yeeres) with a mightie armie and great ryches.

14 And at the same tyme there shal many stande vp agaynst the kyng of the south, so that the seditious children of thy people also shal exalt them selues to establishe the vision, but they shal fal.

15 So the king of the nooꝛth shal comme and cast vp a mount, and take the strong cities: & the (q) armes of the south shal not resiste: neither his chosen people, neither shal there be any strength to withstande.

16 And when he commeth, he shal handle hym as he lyst, & no man shal stande against hym: he shal stande in the pleasant (h) land, whiche by his hande shalbe consumed.

17 Agayne, he shal set his face to enter with the power of his whole kyngdome, and his confederates with him, thus shal he doo: & he shal geue him the (i) daughter of women to destroy her, but she shal not stand (on his side) neyther be foꝛ hym.

18 After this shal he turne his face vnto the (k) iles, and shal take many: but a prince shal cause his shame to lyght vpon him, beside that, he shal cause his owne shame to turne vpon hym selfe.

19 Foꝛ he shal turne his face towarde the foꝛtes of his owne land: but he shalbe ouerthꝛowen and fal, and be no moꝛe founde.

20 Then shal stand vp in his place a rayser of taxes (l) the glory of the kyngdome, and after a fewe dayes he shalbe destroyed, neither in wrath noꝛ in battayle.

21 In his steede there shal stande vp a vyle person, to whom they shal not geue the honour of the kingdome: but he shal comme in peaceably, and obteyne the kingdome with flatteries.

22 And the armes shalbe ouerflowed with a fludde before hym, and also the prince of the couenant.

23 And after the league made with him, he shal woꝛke deceitfully: foꝛ he shal comme vp, and ouercome with a smal people.

24 He shal enter into the quiet and plentyfull prouince, and he shal doo that whiche his fathers haue not donne, noꝛ his fathers fathers: he shal diuide among thē the pray, and the spoyle, and the substance, yea and shal foꝛecast his deuices agaynst the strong holdes (euen) foꝛ a tyme.

25 Also his powꝛe and hart shal he styrre vp with a great armie agaynst the kyng of the south, the kyng of the south shalbe moued vnto battayle with a great and a mightie host also: neuertheleſſe he shall not stande, foꝛ they shal foꝛecast deuices agaynst hym.

26 Yea (l) they that feede of the portion of his meate shal destroy him, and his armie shal (m) ouerflowe, and many shal fal and be slayne.

27 These two kynges hartes shalbe to doo (n) mischeefe, and they shal talke of deceyt at one table, but it shal not prosper, foꝛ yet the ende shalbe at the tyme appoynted.

28 Then shal he goe home agayne into his lande with great (o) substance, and set his hart agaynst the holy couenant, so shal he doo, and returne to his owne lande.

29 At the tyme appoynted he shal comme agayne, and go towarde the south: but the last shal not be as the first.

30 Foꝛ the shippes of (p) Chithim shal come agaynst him, therefoꝛe he shalbe sooꝛie, and returne, & fret agaynst the holy couenant: so shal he doo, he shal (euen) returne and haue intelligence with them that foꝛsake the holy couenant.

31 And armes shal stande on his part, and they shal pollute the sanctuarie of strength, and shal take away the dayly (sacrifice) and they shal set vp the abominable desolation.

32 And suche as wickedly breake the couenant, shal he cause to sinne by flatterie: but the people that knowe their God, shal preuayle and prosper.

33 Those also that haue vnderstandyng among the people, shal enfourme the multitude, and foꝛ a long season they shal fal with the swoꝛde, with fyre, with captiuitie, and with the takyng away of their goodes.

34 Nowe when they shal fal, they shalbe holpen with a litle helpe, but many shal cleaue vnto them faygnedly.

35 Yea some of those that haue vnderstandyng shal fal, that they may be tryed, purified, and made whyte, tyl the tyme be out: foꝛ there is a tyme appoynted.

36 And a kyng shal doo what hym lyst, he shal exalt and magnifie him selfe against al that is good, yea he shal speake marueilous thynges agaynst the God of Gods, and he shal prosper tyl the wrath be fulfylled: foꝛ the determination is made.

37 He shal not regarde the God of his fathers,

(g) That is, the Egyptians with their captayne Scopas, were not able to withstande Antiochus.

(h) He sheweth that he shal not only afflict the Egyptians, but also the Iewes, and shal enter into their countrey, whereof he admonisheth them before, that they may know that al these thinges come by gods prouidence.

(i) Antiochus maryed his daughter Cleopatra to Ptolomeus Epiphanes, thereby the rather to ouercome hym: but she fauoured her husband, and obeyed not the subtyle practises of her father.

(k) The Iewes maner was to cal al countreys, iles, that were diuided from them by the sea: yet Antiochus inuaded somme that were iles in deede, as Enboca, Phocea, Samos, Ciprus, &c. and at length conducted his armie into Grecia.

(l) Signifiyng Philometers princes and cheefe about hym.

(m) Antiochus shal vanquisshe the Egyptians.

(n) The vncle and nephewe shal take truice and banket togeather, yet in their hartes they shal imagine mischeefe one agaynst another.

(o) Whiche Philometor shal take of the Iewes in spoyling Hierusalem and the temple, & this is tolde them before, to moue thē to patience, knowyng al thynges are done by gods prouidence.

(p) That is, the Romane power shal come agaynst hym: for Publius Popilius ambassadour appoynted hym to depart in the Romanes name, whiche thing he obeied though with greefe: & to reuenge his rage, he came agaynst the people of God the seconde tyme, thers, nor the desyres of women, yea he shal not care for any god: for he shal magnifye him selfe aboue al.

38 But in his place shal he honour the god Mauzzim, and the god whom his fathers knewe not shal he honour with golde and siluer, with pretious stones, and pleasant thinges.

39 Thus shal he doo in the holdes of Mauzzim with a strange god whom he shal acknowledge, he shal encrease his glory, and shal cause them to rule ouer many, and shal diuide the lande for gayne.

40 And at the ende of time shal the kyng of the (q) south pushe at him, and the king of the north shal comme against him lyke a whirlewinde, with charrettes, horsemen, and with many shippes: he shal enter into the countreys, and shal ouerflowe & passe through.

41 He shal enter also into the pleasant lande, and many countreys shalbe ouerthrowen: but these shal escape out of his hand (euen) Edom and Moab, and the cheefe of the children of Ammon.

42 He shal stretch foorth his hande also vpon the countreys, and the lande of Egypt shal not escape.

43 But he shal haue power ouer the treasures of golde and of siluer, and ouer al the pretious thinges of Egypt, and of the Libyans and Ethiopians in his passing (by them.)

44 Neuertheleſſe, the tydinges out of the east (r) and the north shal trouble him, therefore he shal (s) goe foorth with great wrath, to destroy and roote out many.

45 And he shal plant the tabernacles of his pallace betweene the seas, in the glorious and holy mountayne: yet he shal comme to his ende, and none shal helpe him.

(q) That is, both the Egyptians and the Syrians shal at length fyght against the Romanes, but they shalbe ouercomme.

(r) When he shal heare that Crassus is slaine, and Antonius discomfyted. (s) For Augustus ouercame the Parthians, and recouered that whiche Antonius had lost.

The.xii.Chapter.

2. He prophecieth the resurrection of the dead. 9. The darkneſſe of the prophecie of Daniel.

1 AND at that time shal (a) Michael stande vp, the great prince, whiche standeth for the children of thy people: for there shalbe a time of trouble, such as neuer was since there began to be a nation, vnto that same time: and at that tyme thy people shalbe deliuered euery one that shalbe founde written in the booke.

2 And many of them that sleepe in the dust of the earth, (b) shal awake, some to euerlasting life, and some to shame and perpetual contempt.

3 They that be (c) wyse, shal shine as the brightneſſe of the fyrmament: and they that (d) turne many to righteousneſſe, as the starres for euer and euer.

4 But thou, O Daniel, shut vp the wordes, and seale the booke til the time of the ende: many shal (e) goe about here and there, and knowledge shalbe encreased.

5 Then I Daniel looked, and behold there stoode other two, the one on this syde of the bancke of the (f) riuer, and the other on that syde of the bancke of the riuer.

6 And (one) sayde vnto the man clothed in linnen, whiche was ouer the waters of the riuer, When shal the end of these wonders be?

7 And I heard the man clothed in linnen, whiche was ouer the waters of the riuer, when he helde vp his right (g) hande and his leaft hande vnto heauen, and sware by him that liueth for euer, that (it shall be) for a (h) time, times, and a halfe: and when he shal haue accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, al these thinges shalbe finished.

8 Then I heard it, but I vnderstoode it not: then sayde I, O my Lorde, what shal be the ende of these thinges?

9 And he sayde, Goe thy way Daniel, for the wordes are closed vp and sealed til the time of the ende.

10 Many shalbe purified, made white, and tryed: but the wicked shall doo wickedly, and none of the wicked shal haue vnderstanding, but the wyse shal vnderstande.

11 And from the time that the (i) dayly (sacrifyce) shalbe taken away, and the abominable desolation set vp, there shalbe a (k) thousande, two hundred, and ninetie dayes.

12 Blessed is he that wayteth and commeth to the thousande, three hundred, and fyue and thirtie dayes.

13 But goe thou thy way til the ende be, for thou shalt rest, and stande vp in thy lot at the ende of the dayes.

(a) The angel here noteth two things: fyrst that the Church shal be in great affliction and trouble at Christes comming, & next, that god wil send his angel to declare it, whom here he calleth Michael. (b) Meanyng al shal ryse at the general resurrection, which here he mentioneth, that the faythful may euer haue respect vnto it, for in earth shal they fynd no cõfort.

(c) Or suche as teache & instruct others, or such as haue kept the feare of god, and his religion. (d) He cheefly meaneth the ministers of gods woorde, and next, al the faithful whiche instruct the ignorant, and bryng them to the true knowledge of God. (e) Not wandring as vagabounides, but to search for knowledge of God. (f) Which was Tygris, in Hebrue Hiddekel, as Exec.x.a. (g) Whiche was a double oth, and did the more confirme the thing. (h) Whereby the angel declareth rather that whiche pertayneth to the comfort of the elect, that these afflictions shoulde once haue a certayne ende, then that the tyme thereof shoulde be certaynely knowen, as a thing not expedient for creatures to knowe. Actes 1.a. (i) From the time that Christ by his sacrifyce shal take away the sacrifyce and ceremonies of the lawe, and the destruction of the temple and citie, whiche is ment here by the abominable desolation. (k) Signifiyng that the tyme shalbe long, and yet the children of God ought not to be discouraged though it be deferred.

The ende of the prophecie of Daniel.

The prophecie
The booke of the prophete Oſee.

The fyrſt Chapter

1. The time wherein Oſee prophecied. 2. The idolatrie of the people.
10. The calling of the Gentiles. 11. Chriſte is the head of al people.

A 1 THe wooꝛd of the Loꝛd came vnto Oſee the ſonne of Beeri, in the dayes of Vzia, Joathan, Ahas, and Hezekias, kynges of Juda, and in the time of Jeroboam the ſonne of Joas kyng of Iſrael.

2.king.15. 16.and.17.

2 When the Loꝛde ſpake fyrſt vnto Oſee, he ſaide vnto him, Goe take vnto thee a wyfe of (a) fornications, and childꝛen of fornications: foꝛ the lande hath committed great fornication (departing) from the Loꝛde.

Leui.21.b. Eze.44.d.

3 So he went and tooke Gomer the daughter of Deblaim: whiche conceaued and bare him a ſonne.

4 And the Loꝛde ſayde vnto him, Call his name Jezrahel: foꝛ I wyl ſhoꝛtly auenge the blood of Jezrahel vppon the houſe of Jehu, and wyl bꝛing the kingdome of the houſe of Iſrael to an ende.

5 And in that day wyl I alſo bꝛeake the bowe of Iſrael in the valley of Jezrahel.

6 And ſhe conceaued agayne, and bare a daughter: and (the Lorde) ſayde vnto him, Call her name Loꝛuhamah (that is, not obteyning mercie) foꝛ I wyl no moꝛe haue pitie vpon the houſe of Iſrael, but I wyl vtterly take them away.

(a) That is, one that of long time hath accuſtomed to play the harlot, not that the prophete did this in deede, but he ſawe this in a viſion: or els was commaunded by god, to ſet foorth vnder this parable or figure, the idolatrie of the Iſraelites.

B 7 Yet I wyl haue mercie vpon the houſe of Juda, and wyl ſaue them, euen thꝛough the Loꝛd their God: and wil not ſaue them by bowe, ſwoꝛde, batel, hoꝛſes, oꝛ hoꝛſemen.

8 Now when ſhe had weaned Loꝛuhamah, ſhe conceaued agayne, and bare a ſonne.

9 Then ſaide he, Call his name Loammi (that is, not my people:) foꝛ ye are not my people, therefoꝛe I wyl not be your (God.)

10 Yet the number of the childꝛen of Iſrael ſhalbe as the ſande of the ſea, whiche can neither be meaſured noꝛ tolde: and in the place where it was ſaide vnto them, Ye are not my people: it ſhalbe ſaide vnto them, Ye are the childꝛen of the liuyng God. Rom.9.c.

11 Then ſhal the childꝛen of Juda and the childꝛen of Iſrael be geathered togeather, and appoynt them ſelues one head, & they ſhal comme vp out of the lande: foꝛ great ſhalbe the day of Jezrahel. John.1.a. Ezec.37.c.

The.ii.Chapter.

1. The people is called to repentance. 5. He ſheweth their Idolatrie, and threatneth them, except they repent.

1 TEl your bꝛethꝛen that they are my people, and your ſyſterne that they haue obteyned mercie. A

2 As foꝛ your mother, ye ſhal chide with her, and repꝛooue her, foꝛ ſhe is not my wyfe, neither am I her huſbande: let her therefoꝛe put away her whoꝛedome from her face, & her adulterie from her bꝛeaſtes: Jere.8.a.

3 Leſt I ſtrip her naked, and ſet her euen as ſhe came into the woꝛlde, and make her as a wylderneſſe, and as a dꝛye land, and ſlay her foꝛ thirſt. Ezec.16.a.

4 And I wyl haue no pitie vpon her chyldꝛen: foꝛ they be the childꝛē of fornication. John.8.b.

5 Their mother hath played the harlot, and ſhe that bare them is comme to confuſion: foꝛ ſhe ſaide, I wyl goe after my louers, that geue me my bꝛead and my water, my wooll, and flaxe, my oyle and my dꝛinke. 2.king.16.a

6 Therefoꝛe behold, I wyl ſtoppe thy way with thoꝛnes, and make a hedge, that ſhe ſhal not fynde her pathes.

7 And though ſhe runne after her louers, yet ſhal ſhe not ouertake them: ſhe ſhal ſeke them, but not fynde them. Then ſhal ſhe ſay, I wyl goe and returne to my fyrſt huſbande: foꝛ at that time it was better with me then nowe. B Leuit. 15.c.

8 And ſhe dyd not knowe that I gaue her coꝛne, and wine, and oyle, and multiplied her ſiluer and golde, whiche they beſtowed on Baal. Ezec.16.c.

9 Therefoꝛe wyl I returne and take away my coꝛne in the time thereof, and my wine in the ſeaſon thereof, and fet agayne my wooll and my flaxe (whiche I gaue her) to couer her ſhame.

10 And nowe wyl I diſcouer her ſhame, Jere.13.a.

(euen) in the syght of her louers, & no man shal deliuer her out of my handes.

11 Moreouer I wyl take away al her mirth, her holy dayes, her new moones, her Sabbothes, and al her solemne feastes.

Deut.16.c

12 I wyl destroy her vineyardes and fygge trees, whereof she sayde, These are my rewardes that my louers haue geuen me: I wyl make them as a wood, & wylde beastes shal eate them vp.

Judi.2.b and.10.b

13 I wyl visite vpon her the dayes of Baal wherin she burned incense to him, and decked her selfe with eare rynges and iewels, she folowed her louers, & forgate me, sayth the Lorde.

C

14 Wherfore behold, I wyl allure her and bryng her into the wylderneſſe, and speake freendly vnto her.

Iosue.7.d

15 From thence wyl I geue her her vineyardes agayne, yea and the valley of Achor for an entrie of hope: and she shal sing there as in the dayes of her youth, and as in the day when she came vp out of the lande of Egypt.

Judi.5.a Ezech.15.a

16 And at that day (sayth the Lorde) thou shalt cal me, My husbande, and shalt cal me no more Baal.

17 For I wyl take away those names of Baal from her mouth, yea she shal neuer remember their names any more.

Leuit.26.a

18 Then wyl I make a couenant for them, with the beastes of the feelde, with ỹ foules of the ayre, and with euery thyng that creepeth vpon the earth: As for bowe, swoorde, and battayle, I wil destroy out of the land, and wyl make them to sleepe safely.

Ezech.16.b

19 And I wyl marrie thee vnto mine owne selfe for euer, yea euen to mee selfe wyl I marrie thee in righteousnesse, in iudgemēt, in louyng kindnesse, and mercy.

20 In faythfulnesse also wyl I marry thee vnto mee selfe, and thou shalt knowe the Lorde.

D

21 At the same tyme wyl I shewe mee selfe gratious vnto the heauens, sayth the Lord, and the heauens shal helpe the earth:

22 And the earth shal helpe the corne, wine, and oyle: and they shal helpe Iezrahel.

1.Pet.2.b Rom.9.c

23 And I wyl sowe her for mee selfe in the earth, and wyl haue mercy vpon her that had not obteyned mercy: and to them whiche were not my people, I wyl say, Thou art my people: and they shal say, Thou art my God.

The.iii. Chapter.

I. The Iewes shalbe cast of for their idolatry. 5. Afterward they shal returne to the Lorde.

1 Then sayd the Lorde to me, Goe yet and loue a woman beloued of her husband, and yet an adultresse, accordyng to the loue of the Lorde towarde the chyldren of Israel: and yet they haue respect to strange goddes, and loue the wine pottes.

A Ezech.42.d

2 So I gate her for fyftene syluerlynges, and for an Homer and an halfe of barlye,

Esai.28.a Amos.6.a

1 And sayd vnto her, Thou shalt byde with me a long season, thou shalt not play the harlot, thou shalt be to no other man, and I wyl be so vnto thee.

4 For the chyldren of Israel shal sit a great whyle without king, without prince, without sacrifice, without image, without Ephod, and without Theraphim.

2.Chro 15.a

5 But afterwarde the chyldren of Israel shalbe conuerted and seeke the Lorde their God, and Dauid their king, and in the latter dayes they shal woorshyp the Lord, and his louyng kyndnesse.

Ezech.34.d

The.iiii. Chapter.

A complaynt agaynst the people, and the prieſtes of Israel.

1 Heare the woorde of the Lorde, O ye chyldren of Israel, for the Lorde hath a controuersie with the inhabitantes of the lande: for there is no trueth, there is no mercy, there is no knowledge of God in the lande.

A

2 But swearing, lying, manslaughter, theft, and adulterie hath getten the ouer hande, and one bloodgyltinesse foloweth another.

3 Therefore shal the lande mourne, and al they that dwel therein shalbe rooted out, the beastes of the feelde, the foules of the ayre, and the fyshes in the sea, shalbe consumed.

4 Yet let no man rebuke or reproue another, for thy people (are) as they that * are at controuersie with the priest.

Mala.1.b * or, contende.

5 Therfore shalt thou fal in the day tyme, and the prophete with thee in the nyght, and I wyl bryng thy mother to destruction.

6 My people perish for lacke of knowledge: because thou hast refused knowledge, therfore wyl I refuse thee also, so that thou shalt no more be my priest: and forsomuch as thou hast forgotten the lawe of thy God, I wyl also forgeat thy chyldren.

Baru.3.d Esai.5.b

7 The more they increased in multitude, the more they sinned agaynst me, (therefore) wyl I change their honour into shame.

B

8 They eate vp the (a) sinnes of my people, and encourage them in their wickednesse.

(a) That is, the prieſtes seeke to eate the peoples offeringes, & flatter thē in their sinnes.

9 Thus the prieſt is become lyke ỹ people: wherefore I wyl puniſhe them for their wicked wayes, and rewarde them accordyng to their owne imaginations.

Leuit.26.b Miche.6.c Agge.1.a. 10 They ſhal eate and not haue ynough, they haue vſed whoredome, but ſhal not proſper, they haue forſaken the Lorde, and not regarded hym.

11 Whoredome, wine, and newe wine, take the hart away.

2.King.1.a 12 My people aſke counſel at their ſtockes, and their ſtaffe teacheth them: for the ſpirit of fornication hath cauſed (them) to goe aſtray, and they haue committed fornication agaynſt their God.

2.king.17.b 13 They make ſacrifices vpon the toppes of the mountaynes, and burne their incenſe vpō the hilles, yea vnder the okes, poplars, and elmes, for there are good ſhadowes: therefore your daughters are become harlottes, and your ſpouſes haue broken their wedlocke.

¶ 14 I wyl not puniſhe your daughters for beyng defiled, & your ſpouſes that became whoores, ſeeyng the fathers them ſelues Num.25.d haue medled with harlottes, and ſacrificed with whoores: but the people that wyl not vnderſtande, muſt be puniſhed.

15 Though thou Iſrael play the harlot, yet let not Iuda ſinne, comme not ye vnto Gilgal, neyther goe ye to Bethauen, neither I.King.12.d Deut.10.d ſweare ye, The Lorde lyueth.

16 For Iſrael is rebellious lyke an vnruly heyffer: nowe the Lorde wyl feede them as a lambe in a large place.

17 Ephraim (is become) partaker of idols, let hym alone.

18 Their drunkenneſſe ſtinketh, they haue committed whoredome: their rulers loue (to ſay) with ſhame, Bryng ye.

19 The wynde hath bounde them vp in her wynges, and they ſhalbe aſhamed of their ſacrifices.

The.v. Chapter.

1. Agaynſt the prieſtes and rulers of Iſrael.
13. The helpe of man is in vayne.

A 1 OYe prieſtes heare this, take heede, O thou houſhold of Iſrael, geue eare, O thou houſe of the king, for iudgement is agaynſt you, becauſe you are become as a ſnare on Mizphah, and a ſpread net vpon the mount of Thabor.

* or, they were profounde wyſe to offer ſacrifices. 2 They * kyl ſacrifices by heapes, & turne farre from the Lorde, and I haue benne a rebuker of them al.

3 I knowe Ephraim wel ynough, & Iſrael is not hyd fro me: for nowe, O Ephraim thou art become an harlot, and Iſrael is defyled.

4 They wil not geue their mindes to turne vnto their God: for ỹ ſpirite of fornication (is) in the middeſt of them, and they haue not knowen the Lorde.

5 And the pryde of Iſrael dooth teſtifie to Oſee.7.b his face, therefore both Iſrael and Ephraim ſhal fal for their wickedneſſe, and Iuda with them alſo.

6 They ſhal comme with their ſheepe and Iere.3.b bullockes to ſeeke the Lorde, but they ſhal Deut.4.c not fynde him: for he is gonne from them. Ezech.13.a

7 They haue tranſgreſſed agaynſt the lord, B and brought vp baſtarde chyldren: a moneth therefore ſhal deuour them, with their portions.

8 Blowe with the ſhawmes at Gibea, and with the trumpet in Ramah, crye out at Bethauen, after thee, O Beniamin.

9 In the tyme of the plague ſhal Ephraim be layde waſte: in the tribes of Iſrael haue I ſhewed the trueth.

10 The princes of Iuda haue benne lyke them that remoue the lande markes: therefore wyl I powre out my wrath vpon them lyke water.

11 Ephraim is oppreſſed & broken in iudgement, becauſe he wyllingly folowed the commaundement.

12 Therefore wyl I be vnto Ephraim as a moth, and to the houſe of Iuda as a caterpyller.

13 When Ephraim ſawe his ſickneſſe, and 2.King.15.b Iuda his diſeaſe, Ephraim went vnto Aſſur, & ſent vnto king Iareb, yet coulde not he helpe you, nor eaſe you of your payne.

14 I wyl be vnto Ephraim as a Lion, and as a Lions whelpe to the houſe of Iuda: I (euen) I wyl ſpoyle, and goe my way: I wyl take away, and no man ſhal reſcue.

15 I wyl goe and returne to my place, tyl they knowledge that they haue ſinned, and ſeeke me. In their aduerſitie they ſhal (a) early ſeeke me. (a) That is, diligently.

The.vi. Chapter.

1. Affliction cauſeth a man to turne to God.
9. The wickedneſſe of the prieſtes.

1 COmme, let vs turne agayne to the A Lorde: for he hath ſmitten vs, and he Iob.5.b ſhal heale vs, he hath wounded vs, and he ſhal bynde vs vp agayne.

2 After two dayes ſhal he quicken vs, in the thirde day he ſhal rayſe vs vp, ſo that we ſhal lyue in his ſight.

3 Then ſhal we haue vnderſtandyng, and endeuour our ſelues to know the Lorde: he ſhal goe forth as the ſpryng of the day, and comme vnto vs as the rayne, and as the latter rayne vnto the earth.

Pſon. 16.a. 4 O Ephraim, what ſhal I doo vnto thee? O Iuda, howe ſhal I entreate thee? for your goodneſſe is like a morning cloude, and like a deawe that goeth early away.

5 Therfore haue I cut downe the prophets, and let them be ſlaine for my woords ſake, ſo that thy pounifhment ſhal come to light.

Mat.9.b. and.12.a. Ierc.7.e. 6 For I deſyred mercie and not ſacrifyce: and the knowledge of god more then whole burnt offeringes.

B 7 But euen like as Adam did, ſo haue they Gene.3.b. broken my couenant, and ſet me at nought.

8 Gilead is a citie of wicked doers, and (is) polluted with blood.

9 And as theeues (armed) waite for hym that paſſeth by the way: ſuche is the counſel of the prieſtes, whiche with one agreed counſel murder cruelly ſuche as keepe the way, yea they dare doo al vnſpeakeable miſcheefe.

Ierc.8.d. 10 Horrible thinges haue I ſeene in the houſe of Iſrael: there is the fornication of Ephraim, and Iſrael is defyled.

11 Yea and thou Iuda keepeſt an harueſt for thee ſelfe, when I returne the captiuitie of my people.

The.vii.Chapter.

1. Of the vices and wantonneſſe of the people.
12. Of their pouniſhment.

A 1 WHen I vndertooke to make Iſrael whole, then the vngratiouſneſſe of Ephraim, and the wickedneſſe of Samaria came to lyght, for they goe about with lyes, therefore the theefe robbeth within, & the ſpoyler deſtroyeth without.

2 They conſyder not in their hartes that I remember al their wickednesſe: Nowe their owne inuentions haue beſet them, whiche I ſee wel yenough.

Rom.1.d. 3 They made the king glad with their wickednesſe, and the princes with their lyes.

4 Al theſe burne in adulterie, as it were an ouen that the baker heateth when he hath leaft kneading, til the dowe be leauened.

5 (That is) the day of our king, the princes haue made him ſicke with bottels of wine, he hath ſtreatched out his hande to ſcorners.

6 For whyles they lye in wayte, they haue made redy their hart like an ouen, their baker ſleepeth al nigh:, in the morning it burneth as a flame of fyre.

B 7 They are altogeather as hot as an ouen, and haue deuoured their owne iudges, al their kinges are fallen, yet is there none of them that calleth vpon me.

8 Ephraim hath mixt him ſelfe among (heathen) people, Ephraim is become like a cake that no man turneth.

9 Strangers haue deuoured his ſtrength, and he regardeth it not: he waxeth full of gray heares, yet wyl he not knowe it.

10 And the pride of Iſrael teſtifyeth to his face, yet wyl they not turne to the Lorde their God, nor ſeeke him for al this. Oſee.5.a.

11 Ephraim is lyke a doue that is beguiled, and hath no hart: nowe call they vpon the Egyptians, nowe goe they to the Aſſyrians. 2.kin.16.b.

12 But whyle they be goyng here and there, Eſai.1.a. I ſhal ſpread my net ouer them, and drawe 2.Pet.2.a. them downe as the foules of the ayre: and accoyding as they haue ben warned, ſo wyl I pounifhe them.

13 Wo be vnto them, for they haue forſaken me, they muſt be deſtroyed, for they haue ſet me at nought: I am he that hath redeemed them, yet haue they ſpoken lyes agaynſt me.

14 They cal not vpon me with their hartes, Mat.15.a. but lye howlyng vpon their beddes: they Eſai. 20.c. wyl aſſemble them ſelues for corne & wine, Ezech.33.f. but they rebel agaynſt me.

15 I haue bounde (vp) and ſtrengthened their arme: yet doo they imagine miſcheefe agaynſt me.

16 They turne them ſelues, but not to the moſt higheſt, and are become as a broken bowe, their princes ſhalbe ſlayne with the ſwoorde for the malice of their tongues: this ſhalbe their deriſion in the lande of Egypt.

The.viii.Chapter.

1. The deſtruction of Iuda and Iſrael, becauſe of their idolatrie.

1 SEt the trumpet to thy mouth, (ſwifely) as an Eagle (ſhal the enemie comme) agaynſt the houſe of the Lorde: for they haue broken my couenant, and tranſgreſſed my lawe. A Deut.3.b.

2 Iſrael ſhoulde haue ſaide vnto me, Thou art my God, we knowe thee.

3 But he hath refuſed the thing that is good, therfore ſhal the enimie purſue him.

4 They haue ordayned kinges, but not I.king.12.c throughe me, they haue made princes, and Ezech.6.b. I knewe it not: of their ſiluer and golde haue they made them idols, therefore ſhal they be deſtroyed.

5 Thy Calfe, O Samaria, hath caſt thee I.king.12.b of, for my wrathful indignation is gonne foorth agaynſt them: howe long wyl they be without innocencie?

6 For (the Calfe) came from Iſrael, the workeman made it, therefore can it be no

God: but euen in peeces shal the calfe of Samaria be broken.

B 7 They haue sowen winde, therefore shal they reape a whirlewinde: it hath no stalke, the bud shal bring foorth no meale: and yf haply it doo, strangers shal deuoure it vp.

8 Israel is deuoured, nowe shal they be among the gentiles as a vessel of no reputation.

9 For they haue gonne vp to Assyria (and are as) a wylde Asse solitarie by him selfe: Ephraim hath hyred louers.

2.king.17.c Etc.16.b. 10 And though they haue hyred them among the heathen, yet now wyl I gather them, and they shal begin to be weerie with the burden of the king and the prince.

11 Ephraim hath made many aulters to doo wickednesse, his aulters (I say) he had to his sinne.

12 I haue written to them the great thinges of my lawe, (but) they are counted as a strange thing.

13 They sacrifyce fleashe for the sacrifyce of myne offeringes, and eate it, (but) the lord hath no pleasure in it: nowe wyl he remember their iniquitie, and visite theyr sinnes, they shal returne into Egypt.

C 14 For Israel hath forgotten him that made him, and hath builded fayre palaces, and Iuda hath encreased strong cities: but I wyl sende a fyre into their cities, and it shal consume their palaces.

The.ix.Chapter.

Of the hunger and captiuitie of Israel.

A 1 DO not thou triumph, O Israel, make no boasting ouer ioyous thinges as doo the heathen: for thou hast committed adulterie agaynst thy God, whyrthe rewardes hast thou loued more then all the corne floores.

2 The corne floore and the wine presse shal not feede them: and the newe wine shal fayle them.

Etc.4.c. 3 They shal not dwel in the Lordes lande, but Ephraim shal turne agayne into Egypt, and eate vncleane thinges among the Assyrians.

4 They powre out no wine for a drinke offering vnto the Lorde, neither shal their slaine offerings be pleasant vnto him, they shalbe vnto them as ỹ bread of mourners, al they that eate shalbe defyled: for theyr bread (a) for theyr soules shal not come into the house of the Lorde.

(a) The sacrifyce whiche they offered for their sinnes.

5 What wyl ye doo then in the solempne day, and in the feast day of the Lorde?

6 For beholde, they are gonne away for destruction, (but) Egypt shal gather them, and Memphis shal burie them: the nettles shal possesse the pleasant (places) of their syluer, thornes shalbe in their tabernacles.

7 The dayes of visitation are comme, the B dayes of recompence are comme: and then shal Israel knowe that they were deceaued by a foolishe, mad, and francticke prophet: for the multitude of their iniquitie (God) shal multiplie enimies agaynst thee.

8 The watchman of Ephraim (was) with my (b) God (but) the prophete (is) the snare of a fouler in al his wayes, and an abomination in the house of his God.

(b) At the beginnyng the teachers instructed the people out of gods worde only: but afterwarde trayned them in idolatrie.

9 They haue gonne to the bottome, they are corrupt as in the dayes of Gibea: (therfore) he wyl remember their iniquitie, and visyte theyr sinnes.

10 I founde Israel like grapes in the wyldernesse, and sawe their fathers as the fyrst ripe in the figge tree at her fyrst season: but they went to Baal Peor, and separated them selues to that shame, and became as abominable as their louers.

11 Ephraim their glory shal flee away lyke a birde: from the byrth, from the wombe, and from the conception.

12 And though they bring vp children, yet I wyl destroy them before they be menne: Yea wo shal come to them when I depart from them.

13 Ephraim (as me thinke) is planted in a pleasant place, like as is Tyrus: but nowe must she bring her owne children foorth to the manslayer. Gen.48.a.

14 O Lorde gene them: what shalt thou geue them? Geue them an vnfruiteful wombe, and drye brestes. C

15 Al their wickednesse is donne at Gilgal, there doo I abhorre them: for the vngratiousnesse of their owne inuentions I wyl dryue them out of my house, I wyl loue them no more, for al their princes are vnfaythful. Iosue. 4.d.

16 Ephraim is hewen downe, their roote is dryed vp, so that they shal bring no more fruite: yea and though they bryng foorth any, yet wyl I slay euen the best beloued of their body.

17 My God shal cast them away, for they haue not benne obedient vnto him, therefore shal they wander among the heathen.

(a) As the vine spoyled of her grapes beareth newe the yere following, so the Israelits enioying rest after afflictions, renewed their former wickednesse and idolatrie.

The.x.Chapter.

1. Agaynst Israel and his idols. 14. His destruction for the same.

1 ISrael (is) an (a) emptie vine, (yet) hath it brought foorth fruite to it selfe, according to the multitude of the fruit therof he hath encreased the aulters, according to the the goodnesse of theyr land, they haue made them fayre images.

2 Theyr harte is diuided, (therefore) shal they nowe be destroyed, (the Lorde) shal breake downe theyr aulters, he shal destroy theyr images.

3 For now shal they say, We haue no king, because we haue not feared the Lorde, and what shoulde then a kyng doo to vs?

4 They haue spoken woordes, swearing falsly in making a (b) couenant: thus (c) iudgment groweth as woormewood in the furrowes of the feelde.

5 They that dwel in Samaria shal feare, because of the Calfe of Bethauen, for the people thereof shal mourne ouer it, yea, and the priestes also reioyced on it for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it.

6 It shalbe brought to the Assyrian for a present to the kyng Iareb: Ephraim shal receyue shame, and Israel shalbe confounded for his owne imaginations.

7 Samaria with his kyng shal vanishe away as the fome vpon the water.

8 The hygh places of Auen where Israel dooth sinne, shalbe destroyed, thystles and thornes shal grow vpon theyr aulters: then shal they say to the mountaines, Couer vs, and to the hylles, Fal vpon vs.

9 O Israel, thou hast sinned from the dayes (d) of Gabaa: there they stood, the batayle in Gabaa agaynst the chyldren of iniquitie dyd not touche them.

10 It is my desire that I shoulde chastise them, and the people shalbe geathered agaynst them, when they shal ioyne them selues togeather in theyr (e) two furrowes.

11 And Ephraim (is as) an heyffer vsed to delite in (f) treading out ỹ corne: but I wyl passe by her fayre (g) necke, I wyl make Ephraim to (h) ryde: Iuda shal (i) plow, and Iacob shal breake his cloddes.

12 Sowe to your selues in ryghteousnesse, and reape the fruites of wel dooyng, plowe vp your freshe lande: for it is tyme to seeke the Lorde tyl he come and rayne righteousnesse vpon you.

13 For you haue plowed vngodlynesse, ye haue reaped iniquitie, you haue eaten the fruite of lyes, because thou puttest thy confidence in thyne owne wayes, and leanest to the multitude of thy strong men.

14 There shal growe a sedition among thy people, al thy strong cities shalbe layde waste, euen as Salma destroyed Beth Arbel in the day of batayle, where the mother with the chyldren were dashed in peeces.

15 Euen so shal Bethel doo vnto you because of your malicious wickednesse: in a mornyng shal the kyng of Israel be destroyed.

(b) Promising to be faythful to God.
(c) They pretend sincerite, but theyr fruites shewed the contrary, muche like as when woormwood groweth where wheat was looked for.
Luke.23.c. Apoc.6.c.
(d) In those dayes wast thou as wicked as the Gabaonites, and hast continued in the same euer sithence.
(e) Byndyng them selues togeather by leagues to ayde one an other, as cattel are yoked togeather at the plough.
(f) Delityng in pleasure & profite without payne.
(g) I wil lay the yoke of affliction on his necke.
(h) To be caried away into captiuitie.
(i) The remnant of the people shal remaine and tyll the grounde.

The.xi. Chapter.

1. The benefites of the Lorde towarde Israel. 5. Their ingratitude agaynst hym.

1 When Israel was young, I loued him, and called my sonne out of the lande of Egypt. A

2 They (a) called them (but) they went thus from them: they sacrificed vnto Baal, and burned incense to images. Exod.3.b. Matth.2.c.

3 I gaue to Ephraim one to leade (b) him, who shoulde beare hym in his armes: but they knew not that I healed them.

4 I led them with cordes of a man (euen) (c) with bands of loue: and I was to them as he that taketh of the yoke from theyr iawes, and I layde (d) meate to them.

5 He shal no more returne into Egypt, but Asshur (e) shalbe his kyng, because he refused to conuert.

6 Therefore shal the swoorde fal on his cities, and shal consume his (f) branches, & deuoure them, because of theyr owne counsayles.

7 And my people shalbe in a doubt for their rebellion agaynst me: for when the (prophetes) called them to the moste hygh, not one yet woulde geue hym his glory.

8 Howe shal I geue thee vp Ephraim? (howe) shal I deliuer thee Israel? howe shal I make thee as (g) Adama? (how) shal I set thee as Zeboim? myne hart is turned within me, my repentynges are kyndeled within me.

9 I wyl not execute the fiercenesse of my wrath, I wil not returne to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man, the holy one in the myddest of thee, and I wyl not enter into the citie.

10 They shal walke after the Lord, he shal roare lyke a Lion: when he shal roare, then the chyldren of the Weast shal feare.

11 They shal feare as a sparrowe out of Egypt, and as a doue out of the lande of Asshur, and I wyl place them in theyr houses, sayth the Lorde.

12 Ephraim compasseth me about with lies, and the house of Israel with deceite: but Iuda yet ruleth (h) with God, and is faythful with the saintes.

(a) The prophetes called the people.
(b) He meaneth Moses.

6 Therefore turne to thy God, keepe mercy and iudgement, and hope styl in thy God.

8 And Ephraim hath sayde, Tushe, I am riche, I haue good yenough: in al my workes shal not one iniquitie be founde wherin I haue offended.

Apoc.3.c. 9 Yet am I the Lorde thy God from the lande of Egypt, I wyl yet make thee dwel in the tabernacles as in ỹ hygh feast dayes.

10 I haue spoken through the prophetes, & haue multiplyed visions, and shewed similitudes by the ministerie of the prophetes.

11 In Galaad is iniquitie, they are fallen to vanitie: at Gilgal they haue sacrificed oxen, and theyr aulters are as heapes in the furrowes of the feelde.

Gene.28.b. 12 Iacob fled into the lande of Syria, and Israel serued for a wyfe, and for a wyfe he kept (sheepe.)

13 By a prophete the Lorde brought them out of Egypt, and by a prophete was he preserued.

3 Therefore they shalbe as the morning cloude, and as the deawe that early passeth away, and lyke as dust that the whyrlwind taketh away from the floore, and as smoke that goeth out of the chimney.

11 I gaue thee a kyng in my wrath, & in my displeasure I tooke him from thee agayne.

12 The wickednesse of Ephraim is bounde togeather, and his sinne lyeth hyd.

13 Therefore shal sorowes come vpon hym as vpon a woman that trauaileth: an vndiscreete sonne is he, els woulde he not stande styl at the tyme (c) of byrth of chyldren. (a) As a woman not labouring at the byrth of her chylde, destroyeth her selfe, and the chylde, so the people yf they do not repēt when God pounisheth for sinnes, are occasion of their own destruction.

14 I wyl redeeme them from the power of the graue, and deliuer them from death: O death, I wyl be thy death: O hel, I wyl be thy kyng: yet can I see no comfort.

15 Though he grewe among his brethren, the east winde (euen) the wind of the Lord shal come vp from the wylderneſſe, and dry vp his veyne, & his fountaynes shalbe dried vp: he shal spoyle the treasure of al pleasant vesselles.

16 Samaria shalbe made waste, for she is disobedient vnto her GOD: they shal perishe with the sworde, their children shalbe dashed in peeces, and their women great with chylde shalbe rypt vp.

The.xiiii.Chapter,

I. The destruction of Samaria. 3. He exhorteth the Israelites to turne to God, who requyreth prayse and thankes.

4 I wyl heale their rebellion, I wyl loue them freely: for mine anger is turned away from hym.

5 I wyl be vnto Iſrael as the deawe, and he ſhal grow as the lilie, and his roote ſhal breake out as the (trees) of Libanus.

The ende of the prophecie of Oſee.

The booke of the prophete Joel.

The firſt Chapter.

1. A prophecie agaynſt the Iewes. 2. He exhorteth the people to prayer and faſtyng for the miſerie that was at hande.

A 1 THe worde of the lord that came to Joel ỹ ſonne of Pethuel.

2 Heare ye this you elders, & hearken with your eares al you that dwel in this land: was there euer ſuch a thing in your dayes, or in the dayes of your fathers?

3 Of this thyng tel your chyldren, and let your children (ſhewe it) to their chyldren, and their children to (their) poſteritie afterwarde.

4 That which the catterpiller hath left, the graſſhopper hath eaten, and what the graſſhopper left, hath the (a) canker woorme eaten, and what the canker woorme left, the locuſt hath deuoured.

(a) That is, a woorme that hath winges, ſhaueth of the vtmoſt rine of hearbes and the tender barke of trees, feeding on the. Nahum. 3.c.

5 Awake ye drunkardes, and weepe, howle al ye wine bibbers for lacke of new wine: for it is cleane taken away from your mouth.

6 For a nation is come vp vpon my lande, myghtie and without number: his teeth are as the teeth of a Lion, and he hath the fawes of a great Lion.

7 He hath deſtroyed my vine, and barked my fygge tree, he hath pylled it, and caſt it from him, and hath left boughes thereof whyte. B

8 Lament as a virgin girded with ſackcloth for the huſbande of her youth.

9 The meate offeryng and drynke offering is cut of from the houſe of the Lorde, the prieſtes (I meane) the Lordes miniſters mourne.

10 The feelde is waſted, the land mourneth: for corne is deſtroyed, the newe wine is dryed vp, the oyle is vtterly taken away.

11 Be ye aſhamed, O ye huſbandmen, howle, O ye vine dreſſers for the wheate and for the barley: for the harueſt of the feelde is perished.

12 The vine is dryed vp, & the figge tree is decayed, the pomgranate tree, & the palme, and the apple tree, (euen) al the trees of the feelde are withered vp: for ioy is withered away from the ſonnes of men.

13 Girde your ſelues, and lament, O ye prieſtes, howle ye out ye miniſters of the aulter, come, and lye al night in ſackcloth ye ſeruantes of my God: for the meate and drinke offeringes are taken away from the houſe of your God.

14 Proclayme a faſt, cal a congregation, gather ỹ elders togeather, (with) al the inhabitantes C bitantes of the lande, vnto the house of the Lorde your God, and crye vnto the Lorde, 15 Alas for this day, for the day of the Lord is at hande, euen as a destruction from the almightie shal it come.

16 Is not the meate cut of before our eyes, (yea) myrth and ioy from the house of our God?

17 The seede is rotten vnder their cloddes, the garners are destroyed, the barnes are ouerthrowen: for the corne is wythered.

18 O howe cattel mourne, the heardes of beastes are in woful case for lacke of pasture, & the flockes of sheepe are destroyed.

19 Vnto thee, O Lorde, wyl I crye, for fyre hath destroyed the fruitful places of the desart, and the flame hath burnt vp al the trees of the feelde.

20 The beastes also of the feeld cry out vnto thee: for the riuers of waters are dryed vp, and fyre hath deuoured vp the fruitful places of the desart.

The.ii.Chapter.

1. He prophecieth of the comming and crueltie of their enimies. 13. An exhortation to moue them to conuert. 18. The loue of God towarde his people.

¶ 1 BLowe vp a trumpet in Sion, & showte in my holy hyl, let al the inhabitantes of the earth tremble: for the day of the Lorde is come, for it is nigh at hande.

2 A darke and glomie day, a cloudie and blacke day: as the morning is spread ouer the mountaynes (so is this) populus and strong people: like it there was none from the begynning, nor shalbe hereafter for euermore.

3 Before him is a deuouring fire, and behynde him a burning flame: the lande is as a pleasant garden before him, and behinde him a waste desart, yea and nothyng shal escape him.

4 The shewe of hym is as the shewe of horses, and lyke horsemen, so shal they ruene.

5 Like the noyse of charrets vpon the toppes of the mountaynes they shal skippe, lyke the noyse of a flaming fyre deuouryng the stubble, (and) as a strong people prepared to battayle.

6 Before his face shal the people tremble, the countenance of al folkes shal waxe blacke.

¶ 7 They shal runne lyke strong men, and clime the walles lyke men of warre: and euery one shal marche on in his way, and they shal not linger in their pathes.

8 No man shal thrust another, but euery one shal walke in his path: and if they shal fal on the swoorde, they shal not be wounded.

9 They shal runne to and fro in the citie, they shal runne vp & downe vpon the wal, they shal clyme into the houses, they shal enter in at the windowes lyke a theefe.

10 The earth shal quake before hym, the heauens shal tremble, the sunne and the moone shalbe darke, and the starres shal withdrawe their shynyng.

11 And the Lorde shal geue his voyce before his host, for his campe is exceeding great, for he is myghtie that executeth his commaundement: for the day of the Lorde is great and very terrible, and who can abide it?

12 But nowe, sayth the Lorde, Turne you vnto me with al your hartes, with fasting, with weeping, and with mournyng. The Epistle on Ashwednesday.

13 And rent your hartes, and not your garmentes, and turne you vnto the Lord your God, for he is gratious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great goodnesse, and he wil repent hym of the euyl.

14 Who knoweth whether the Lorde wyl ¶ returne and take compassion, & wyl leaue behynde him a blessyng, (euen) meate offeryng and drynke offeryng vnto the Lorde your God?

15 Blowe vp a trumpet in Sion, proclaime a fast, cal an assembly, sanctifie the congregation.

16 Geather the people, geather the elders, assemble the children and sucking babes: let the bridegrome come forth of his chamber, and the bryde out of her closet.

17 Let the priestes the Lordes ministers weepe betwixt the porche and the aulter, and let them say, Spare thy people, O Lorde, and geue not ouer thine heritage to reproche, that the heathen should rule ouer them: Wherefore should they say amongst the heathen, Where is their God?

18 And (then) the Lorde wyl be gelous ouer his lande, and wyl spare his people.

19 Yea the Lorde wyl answeare, and say to his people, Beholde, I wil sende you corne, and wine, and oyle, and wyl satisfie you therewith, and wyl not geue you ouer any more to be a reproche among the heathen.

20 And I wyl remoue farre of from you the northren (armie) and I wyl drine hym into a lande barren and desolate, with his face towardes the east sea, and his hynder partes towardes the vttermost sea: and his stinche shal aryse, and his corruption shal assende, because he hath exalted hym selfe to do this.

21 Feare

D 21 Feare not, O thou land, be glad and reioyce: for the Lorde wyl doo great thynges.
22 Be not afrayde ye beastes of the feelde, for the fruiteful places of the desart are greene: for the tree beares her fruite, the fygge tree & the vine yeelde their strength.
23 Be glad then, ye children of Sion, and reioyce in the Lord your God: for he "for, he hath geuen you the teacher of ryghteousnesse. hath geuen you moderate (a) rayne, and he wyl sende downe for you the rayne, (euen) the first rayne and the latter rayne, and in the first (moneth.)
(a) At the first beginning belongyng to sunning, and in the fyrst beginnyng belongyng to corning or hardenyng of corne, that there be no hynderance for lacke of necessarye rayne.
24 And the barnes shalbe filled with corne, and the presses shal ouerflowe with wyne and oyle.
25 And I wyl restore to you the yeres whiche the grashopper, the canker worme, the locust, and the caterpyller haue deuoured, my great armie which I sent amongst you.
26 And you shal eate in plentie, and be satisfied, and shal praise the name of the Lord your God, which hath dealt woonderously with you, and my people shal not be ashamed any more.
27 And you shal knowe that I am in the myddle of Israel, & (that) I am the Lorde your God, and none but I: and my people shal neuer be ashamed.
E 28 And it shal comme to passe after this, I wyl powre out my spirite vpon al flesh, and your sonnes and your daughters shal prophecie, your olde men shal dreame dreames, your young men shal see visions.
29 Also in those dayes vppon the seruantes, and vppon the handmaydens wyl I powre out my spirite:
30 And I wyl shewe woonders in heauen & in earth, blood, & fire, and pillers of smoke.
31 The sunne shalbe turned into darknesse, and the moone into blood, before that great and terrible day of the Lorde come.
32 But whosoeuer shal cal on the name of the Lorde shalbe saued: for there shalbe deliuerance in mount Sion, and in Hierusalem, as the Lorde hath promised, and (also) in the remnant whom the Lord shal cal.

The. iii. Chapter.

Of the iudgement of God agaynst the enimies of his people.

A 1 FOR beholde, in those dayes and in that time when I shal bring agayne the captiuitie of Iuda and Hierusalem,
2 I wyl also geather al the gentiles, & cause them to come into the valley of (a) Iehosaphat, and I wil pleade with them there for my people and heritage Israel, which they haue scattered amongest the nations, and haue parted my lande.
(a) He alludeth to the victorie described. 2. Chro. 20.
3 And they haue cast lottes for my people, and changed the boy for an (b) harlot, and solde the gyrle for wyne, that they myght drynke.
(b) They bestowed the spoyle of Gods people on whordome and drunkennes.
4 And what haue you to doo with me, O Tyre and Sidon, and al the cost of Palestine? wyl you render me recompence? and yf you recompence me, I shal swiftly (and) speedily returne your recōpence vpon your owne heades.
5 For ye haue taken my siluer and my gold, my pleasant and precious thynges, and haue carryed them into your temples.
6 You haue solde also children of Iuda, and the children of Hierusalem to the Grecians, that you myght send them farre from theyr owne countrey.
B 7 Beholde, I wyl rayse them out of that place whyther you haue solde them, and wyl returne your recompence vpon your owne heades.
8 And I wyl sel your sonnes & your daughters into the handes of the chyldren of Iuda, and they shal sel them vnto the Sabeans, to a nation that dwelleth farre of: for the Lorde hath spoken it.
9 Publyshe this thing among the Gentiles, proclayme warre, wake vp the myghtye men, let al the men of warre drawe neare, and come vp.
10 Breake your plough shares into swords, and your sythes into speares, let the weake say, I am strong.
11 Assemble your selues, and comme al you heathen, and geather your selues togeather rounde about, there shal the Lorde caste downe thy myghty men.
12 Let the heathen aryse, and comme vp to the valley of Iehosaphat: for there wyl I sit to iudge al nations rounde about.
13 Put in your sythes, for the haruest is rype, comme ye (and) descende, for the (c) wyne presse is ful, (yea) the presses ouerflowe: for theyr wickednesse is multiplyed.
(c) When the measure of wickednesse is ful, then destruction is at hande.
14 O people, people, (come) into ỹ valley of final "iudgement: for the day of the Lord is at hand in the valley of final iudgement.
" or, threshyng.
15 The sunne and the moone shalbe darkened, and the starres shal withdrawe theyr lyght.
16 The lord also shal roare out of Sion, and out of Hierusalem shal he geue his voyce, the heauens and the earth shal shake: but the Lorde wyl be the hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel.
17 So shal ye knowe that I am the Lorde your god, dwelling in Sion my holy mountaine: then shal Hierusalem be holy, and there shal no strangers passe through here any " any more.

18 And in that day shal the mountaynes droppe downe sweete wyne, and the hylles shal flowe with mylke, and al the ryuers of Juda shal ranne with water, & a fountaine shal comme out of the house of the Lorde, and shal water the valley of Sittim.

19 Egypt shalbe waste, and Edom shalbe a desolate wylderneſſe: for the iniuries (done) to the children of Juda, because they haue shed innocent blood in theyr lande.

20 But Juda shal dwel for euermore, and Hierusalem from generatiō to generation.

21 I wyl also cleanse the blood of them (that) I haue not cleansed, and the Lorde dwelleth in Sion.

The ende of the prophete Ioel.

The booke of the prophete Amos.

The first Chapter.

1. The condition and state of Amos, and the tyme of his prophecie. 3. The woorde of the Lorde agaynst Damascus, the Philistines, Tyrus, Idumea. and Ammon.

A 1 THe woordes of Amos, who was among the " sheepeheards at Thecua, which he " sawe vpon Israel in ỳ dayes of Osia kyng of Juda, & in the dayes of Ieroboam the sonne of Joas kyng of Israel, two yeere before the earthquake.

" or, heardmenne.

" or, prophecied.

Zacha.14.a. 2 And he said, The Lorde shal roare out of Sion, and vtter his voyce from Hierusalem: and the " dwellyng places of the sheepheardes shal " mourne, and the top of Charmel shal wyther.

" or, pastures.

" or, perish.

" or, transgressions.

3 Thus sayth the Lorde, For (a) three " wickednesses of Damascus, and for foure I wyl not " spare her, because they haue threashed Gilead with iron flayles.

(a) The manifold sinnes of Damascus are meant by three and foure, which make seuen.

4 But I wyl sende a fyre into the house of Hazael, and it shal deuoure the palaces of Benhadad.

5 I wyl breake also the barres of Damascus, and " roote out the inhabitours from the " playne of Auen, and hym that holdeth the scepter out of the house of " Eden, and the people of Syria shal goe into captiuitie vnto Kir, sayth the Lord.

" or, bryng her againe, or turne to it

" or, cut of.

" or, valley

" or, pleasure.

6 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three wickednesses of " Azza, and for foure, I wyl not spare her: because they carried " away prisoners into captiuitie, to shut them vp in Edom.

" or, Gaza.

" or, away prisoners the whole captiuitie.

7 Therefore wyl I sende a fire vppon the walles of " Azza, whiche shal deuoure her palaces.

" or, Gaza.

8 And I wyl cut of the inhabiter from Asdod, and hym that holdeth the scepter from Ascalon, and turne my hande to " Ekron, and the remnant of the Philistines shal perishe, sayth the Lorde God.

" or, Ekron.

9 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three " wickednesses of Tyre, and for foure, I wyll not spare her: because they shut the whole captiuitie in Edom, and haue not remembred the (b) brotherly couenant.

" or, transgressions.

(b) For Esau, (of whom came the Edomites) & Iacob were brethren,

10 Therfore wyl I sende a fire vppon the wal of Tyre, and it shal consume the palaces thereof.

11 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three wickednesses of Edom, and for foure I wil not spare hym: because he pursued his brother with the sworde, and dyd " cast of al pitie, and " in his anger spoyled hym continually, & his indignation he kept alwayes.

" Heb, corrupt his compassions.

" or, his anger spoyled.

12 Therfore wyl I sende a fire into Theman, whiche shal deuoure the palaces of Bozra.

13 Thus sayth the Lord, For three wickednesses of the chyldren of Ammon, and for foure I wil not spare them: because they (c) haue rypt vp the women with childe of Gilead, that they might enlarge their borders.

(c) He noteth the great cruelnes of the Ammonites, that spared not the women with chylde, &

14 Therefore wyl I kyndle a fyre in the walles of Rabbah that shal consume her palaces with a great crye in the day of batayle, and with a tempest in the day of the whyrle wynde.

15 And their kyng shal goe into captiuitie, he & his princes together, saith the Lorde.

The. ii. Chapter.

He prophecieth agaynst Moab, Iuda, and Israel.

1 Thus

A 1 THus sayth the Lorde, For three wyckednesses of Moab, and for foure I wil not * spare hym: because he burnt the bones of the kyng of Edom into (a) lyme.

* or, turne to hym.
(a) That is, into ashes.

2 Therfore wyl I sende a fyre into Moab, whiche shal consume the palaces of Carioth, and Moab shal dye with tumult, with showting, and with the sound of the trumpet.

3 And I wil cut of the iudge out of the mids therof, and wil slay al the princes therof with hym, sayth the Lorde.

4 Thus sayth the Lord, For three wickednesses of Juda, and for foure I wyl not spare hym: because they haue cast away the lawe of the Lorde, and haue not kept his ordinances, and their lyes caused them to erre, after the which their fathers walked.

5 Therefore wyl I sende a fyre into Juda, whiche shal consume the palaces of Hierusalem:

6 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three wickednesses of Israel, & for foure I wil not spare him: because they selde the righteous for siluer, and the poore for a payre of shoes.

7 They * gape for breath ouer the head of the poore in the dust of the earth, and peruert the way of the * meeke: A man and his father wil goe in to one * maide, to dishonour my holy name.

B
* or, preasse vnto the head, or treade vpon the head.
* or, wretched.
* or, young woman.

8 And they * lye vpon clothes layde to pledge by euery aulter: and in the house of their god they drinke the wine * of the condemned.

* or, syt downe.
* or, of suche as they haue fyned or moulten.

9 Yet destroyed I the Amorite before them, whose heigth was lyke the heigth of the Cedar trees, & he was strong as the okes: notwithstanding, I destroyed his fruite from aboue, and his roote from beneath.

10 Also I brought you vp from the lande of Egypt, and led you fourtie yeeres through the wyldernesse, to possesse the lande of the Amorites.

11 And I raysed vp of your sonnes for prophetes, and of your young men for * Nazarites: Is it not euen thus, O ye children of Israel, sayth the Lorde?

* or, abstayners.

12 But ye gaue ye Nazarites wine to drinke, and commaunded the prophetes, saying, Prophecie not.

13 Behold, I am pressed vnder you, as a cart is pressed that is ful of sheaues.

14 Therfore the * flight shal not perish from the swifte, & the strong shal not strengthen his force, neither shal the myghtie saue his lyfe.

* or, swyfte by flyght shal not escape.

15 Nor he that handleth the bow shal stand, nor he that is swift of foote shal escape, neither shal he that rydeth the horse saue his lyfe.

16 And he that is of mightie courage among the strong men, shal flee away naked in that day, sayth the Lorde.

The .iii. Chapter.

1. He reproueth the house of Israel of ingratitude, foreshewing gods moste iust punishmeut for the same. 9. Strangers are called to see the equitie of Gods iudgementes agaynst Israel.

1 HEare this woorde that the Lorde pronounceth agaynst you, O chyldren of Israel (euen) agaynst the whole familie whiche I brought vp from the lande of Egypt, saying,

A

2 You only haue I knowen of al the families of the earth, therefore I wyl visite you for al your iniquities. Deut. 4.

3 Can two walke togeather, except they be agreed?

4 Wyl a Lion roare in the forrest when he hath no pray? or wyl a Lions whelpe crye out of his denne yf he haue taken nothing?

5 Can a birde fal in a snare vpon the earth where no fowler is? or wyl he take vp the snare from the earth, and haue taken nothyng at al?

6 Or shal a trumpet be blowen in the citie, and the people be not afrayde? or shal there be (a) euyl in a citie, and the Lorde hath not done it?

(a) That is, calamitie, or aduersitie.

7 * Surely the Lord God wyl do nothing, but he reuealeth his secrete vnto his seruantes the prophetes.

* or, for.

8 The Lion hath roared, who wyl not be afrayde? The Lorde God hath spoken, who * can but prophecie?

* or, who wil not prophecie?

9 Proclayme in the palaces at Asdod, and in the palaces in the lande of Egypt, and say, Assemble your selues vpon the mountaynes of Samaria, and beholde the great tumultes in the middes therof, and the oppressed in the middes therof:

10 For they knowe not to do vyght, sayth the Lord, they store vp * violence and robberie in their palaces.

11 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God, An aduersarie (shal come) euen rounde about the countrey, and shal bryng downe thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shalbe spoyled.

12 Thus sayth the Lord, As the shepheard taketh out of the mouth of the Lion two legges or a peece of an eare: so shal the children of Israel be taken out that dwel in Samaria in the corner of a bed, and in Damascus (as in) a couche.

13 Hear;

13 Heare and teſtifie in the houſe of Iacob, ſayth the Lorde God, the God of hoſtes:

C 14 That in the day that I ſhal viſite the " tranſgreſſions of Iſrael vpon hym, I wyl alſo viſite the aulters of Bethel, and the hornes of the aulter ſhalbe " broken of, and fal to the grounde.

15 And I wyl ſmyte the winter houſe with the ſommer houſe, and the houſes of Ivorie ſhal peryſhe, and the great houſes ſhalbe conſumed, ſayth the Lorde.

" or, wyckednesse.
" or, cut of.

The. iiii. Chapter.

1. Vnder the name of fat kyne of Baſan, he inueyeth againſt the gouernours of Samaria, and foreſheweth their pouniſhment.

A 1 HEare this woorde, ye kyne of Baſan, that are in the mountayne of Samaria, whiche oppreſſe the poore, and deſtroy the needie, whiche ſay to theyr (a) maiſters, Bring, and let vs drinke.

(a) That is, to the creditours to whō the poore are indebted

2 The Lorde God hath ſworne by his holyneſſe, that loe, the dayes ſhal come vpon you, that he wil take you away with (b) thornes, and your poſteritie with fleſhehookes.

(b) He alludeth to fyſhers, which catche fyſhe by hookes & thornes.

3 And ye ſhal goe out at the breaches, euery (Cowe) forwarde: and ye ſhal " caſt your ſelues out of the palace, ſayth the Lorde.

" or, caſt downe the palace.

4 Come to Bethel, & " tranſgreſſe: to Gilgal, and multiplie tranſgreſſion: and bring your ſacrifices in the morning, and your tythes after three yeeres.

" or, commyt wyckednesse.

5 And offer a thankeſgeuing of leauen, publyſhe and proclayme the free offeringes: for this lyketh you, O ye children of Iſrael, ſayth the Lorde God.

(c) That is, lack of bread and meate.

6 Therefore haue I geuen you (c) cleanneſſe of teeth in al your cities, and ſcarceneſſe of bread in al your places: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, ſayth the Lorde.

B 7 And alſo I haue withholden the rayne from you when there were yet three monethes to the harueſt, & I cauſed it to rayne vpon one citie, and haue not cauſed it to rayne vpon another citie: one peece was rayned vpon, and the peece whereupon it rayned not, wythered.

8 So two (or) three cities wandered vnto one citie to drynke water, but they were not ſatisfied: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, ſayth the Lorde.

9 I haue ſmytten you with blaſtyng and mildewe, your great gardens, and your vineyardes, and your figge trees, and your olive trees, did the " Palmer woorme deuoure: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, ſayth the Lorde.

" or, catterpyller.

10 Peſtilence haue I ſent among you after the manner of Egypt: your young men haue I ſlayne with the ſwoorde, and haue taken away your horſes, and I haue made the ſtynke of your tentes to come euen vp to your noſethyrles: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, ſayth the Lorde.

11 I haue ouerthrowen " you, as God ouerthrewe Sodoma and Gomorrha: and ye were as a fyrebrande pluckt out of the burnyng: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, ſayth the Lorde.

" or, Among you, meanyng ſome part of theyr countrey to haue benne ouerthrowen.

12 Therefore thus wyl I do vnto thee, O Iſrael, (and) becauſe I wyl do this vnto thee, (d) prepare to mecte thy God, O Iſrael.

(d) Turne to hym by repentance.

13 For loe, he that fourmeth the mountaines, and createth the wind, and declareth vnto man what is his thought, whiche maketh the " morning darkeneſſe, and walketh vpon the high places of the earth, the Lord God of hoſtes is his name.

" or, morning and darkeneſſe.

The. v. Chapter.

1. The prophete lamenteth the captiuitie of Sion. 4. He calleth to repentance. 8. He deſcribeth the power of God.

1 HEare ye this woorde whiche I lift vp vpon you (euen) a lamentation " of the houſe of Iſrael.

A " or, O ye houſe.

2 The virgin Iſrael is fallen, and ſhal no more ryſe: ſhe is left vpon her lande, and there is none to rayſe her vp.

3 For thus ſayth the Lorde God, The citie whiche went out by a thouſande, ſhal leaue an hundred, and that whiche went forth by an hundred, ſhal leaue tenne to the houſe of Iſrael.

4 For thus ſayth the Lorde vnto the houſe of Iſrael, Seeke ye me, and ye ſhal lyue.

5 But ſeeke not Bethel, nor enter into Gilgal, and goe not to Beer-ſeba: for Gilgal ſhal goe into captiuitie, and Bethel ſhal come to nought.

6 Seeke the Lorde, and ye ſhal liue: leſt he breake out lyke fyre in the houſe of Joſeph, and deuour it, and there be none to quench it in Bethel.

7 They turne iudgement to woormewood, B and forſake righteouſneſſe in the earth.

8 He maketh the ſeuen ſtarres and Orion, and he turneth the (a) ſhadowe of death into the morning, and he maketh the day darke as nyght: he calleth the waters of the ſea, and powreth them out vpon the open earth, the Lorde is his name.

(a) That is, the thickeſt darkneſſe into the morning lyght.

9 He ſtrengtheneth the deſtroyer againſt the mightie, and the deſtroyer ſhal " come againſt the fortreſſe.

" or, aſſaulte

10 They hate hym that rebuketh (b) in the gate

(b) That is, in open aſſemblies.

gate, and they abhorre hym that speaketh vprightly.

11 Forasmuche then as your treadyng is vpon the poore, and ye (c) take from hym burdens of wheate: ye haue buylt houses of hewen stone, but ye shal not dwel in thē: ye haue planted pleasant vineyardes, but ye shal not drinke wine of them.

(c) Ye take both his money, and also his foode wherwith he should lyue.

12 For I knowe your * manyfolde transgressions, and your myghtie sinnes: they afflict the iust, they take rewardes, & they oppresse the poore in the gate.

* or, great wickednesse.

13 Therefore the wyse shal keepe silence in that tyme: for it is an euyl tyme.

14 Seeke good, and not euyl, that ye may lyue: and so the Lorde God of hostes shalbe with you, as you haue spoken.

15 Hate the euyl, and loue the good, and stablishe iudgement in the gate: it may be, that the Lord God of hostes wyl be mercyful vnto the remnant of Ioseph.

16 Therefore the Lorde God of hostes, the Lorde sayth thus, Mournyng shalbe in al streetes, and they shal say in al the hygh wayes, Alas, alas: and they shal cal the husbandman to lamentation, and suche as can mourne * to mournyng.

* or, shal mourne.

17 And in al the vynes shalbe lamentation: for I wyl passe through thee, saith the lord.

18 Wo vnto you that desyre the day of the Lorde, what haue ye to doo with it? the day of the Lorde is darkenesse, and not lyght.

19 As if a man dyd flee from a Lion, and a Beare meete him, and went into the house, and leaned his hande vnto the wal, and a Serpent byte hym:

20 Shal not the day of the Lorde be darkenesse, and not lyght? euen darkenesse and no * lyght in it.

D 21 I hate, I abhorre your feast dayes, and I wyl not (d) smel in your solempne assemblies.

(d) That is, I wil not delite in the smel of your incense.

22 Though ye offer me whole burnt offerynges, and meate offerynges, I wyl not accept them, neyther wyl I regarde the peace offeryng of your fat beastes.

23 Take thou away from me the multitude of thy songues, for I wyl not heare the melodie of thy vials.

* or, iudgement shal run downe.

24 And * let iudgement runne downe as water, and ryghteousnesse as a myghtie ryuer.

(e) That idol whiche ye esteemed as your kyng, & caryed about as ye dyd Chiun: in the whiche images ye thought that there was a certayne diuinitie.

25 Haue ye offered vnto me sacrifices and offeringes in the wyldernesse fourtie yeres, O house of Israel?

26 But ye haue borne (e) Siccuth your kyng, and Chiun your images, and the starre of your goddes, whiche ye made to your selues.

27 Therefore wyl I cause you to go into captiuitie beyonde Damascus, sayth the Lord, whose name is the God of hostes.

The. vi. Chapter.

I He prophecieth agaynst the princes of Israel lyuyng in pleasures.

A 1 WO to them that are at ease in Sion, and trust in the mountayne of Samaria, which were famous at the beginning of the nations, and the house of Israel came to them.

2 Goe you vnto Calneh, and see, and from thence goe you to Hemath the great, then goe downe to Gath of the Philistines: be (a) they better then these kyngdomes? or the border of their lande greater then your border?

(a) If God haue destroied these excellent cities in three diuers kyngdomes, as in Babylon, Syria, & of the Philistines, & hath brought their wyde borders into a greater straytnesse then yours yet are: thinke you to be better, or to escape?

3 Ye that put farre away the euyl day, and * approche to the seate of iniquitie.

* or, bryng vpon you.

4 They lye vpon beds of yuorie, and stretch them selues vpon their couches, and eate the lambes out of the flocke, and the calues out of the stal.

5 They sing to the sounde of the vial, they inuent to them selues instrumentes of musicke, lyke Dauid.

6 They drynke wine in bowles, & annoynt them selues with cheefe oyntments: but no man is sory for the affliction of Ioseph.

7 Therefore now shal they goe captiue with the first that goe captiue, and * the sorowe of them that stretched them selues is at hande.

* or, the ioy of them that stretched thē selues, shal depart.

8 The Lord God hath sworne by him selfe, sayth the Lorde God of hostes, I abhorre the * excellencie of Jacob, and hate his palaces, therefore wyl I deliuer vp the citie, with al that is therein.

* or, magnificencie, that is the riches and pompe.

9 And yf there remayne tenne menne in one house, they shal dye.

10 And his vncle shal take hym vp, & burne hym, to cary out y bones out of the house, and shal say to hym that is by the (b) sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? And he shal say, None. Then shal he say, Holde thy tongue: for we may not remember the name of the Lorde.

(b) That is, to some neyghbour that dwelleth neare about.

11 For beholde the Lorde commaundeth, and he wil smite the great house with breaches, and the litle houses with clefts.

(c) He compareth them to barren rockes, wher vpon it is in vayne to bestow labour, shewyng that Gods benefites can haue no place among them.

12 Shal horses runne vpon the (c) rocke? or wyl one plowe there with oxen? for ye haue turned iudgement into * gal, & the fruite of righteousnesse into wormewood.

* or, poyson

13 Ye reioyce in a thing of nought, ye say, Haue not we gotte vs hornes by our owne strength?

14 But behold, I wyl raise vp agaynst you a nation, O house of Israel, sayth the Lord God of hostes, and they shal afflict you frō the entryng of Hemath, vnto the ryuer of the wyldernesse.

The.vii. Chapter.

I. God sheweth certayne visions, whereby he signifieth the destruction of the people of Israel.

A 1 THus hath the Lorde God shewed vnto me, and beholde, he fourmed grashoppers in the begynnyng of the shootyng vp of the latter growth, & loe it was in the latter growth, after the (a) kings mowing.

(a) After the publique commaundement for mowing was geuen, or as some reade, after the kings sheepe were shorne.

2 And when they haue made an ende of eatyng the grasse of the lande, then I sayd, O Lorde God, spare I beseeche thee: Who shal rayse vp Iacob? for he is smal.

3 So the Lorde (b) repented for this: it shal not be, sayth the Lorde.

(b) That is, stayed this plague at my prayer.

4 Thus also hath the Lorde God shewed vnto me, and beholde the Lorde God called to iudgement by fire, and it deuoured the great deepe, and dyd eate vp * a part.

* or, the possession, meanyng the whole feeld.

5 Then sayde I, O Lorde God, ceasse I beseech thee: Who shal rayse vp Iacob? for he is smal.

6 So the Lorde repented for this: this also shal not be, sayth the Lorde God.

B 7 Thus agayne he shewed me, & behold the Lorde stood vpon a wal (made) by lyne (c) with a line in his hande.

(c) Signifiyng that this shoulde be the last measuring of the people, and that he would defer his iudgement no longer.

8 And the Lorde sayd vnto me, Amos what seest thou? And I sayde, A line. Then sayde the Lorde, Beholde, I wyl set a lyne in the middest of my people Israel, and wil passe by them no more.

9 And the hygh places of Isahac shalbe desolate, and the * temples of Israel shalbe destroyed, and I wyl ryse against the house of Ieroboam with the swoorde.

* or, sanctuaries, or holy places.

10 Then Amazia the priest of Bethel sent to Ieroboam kyng of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired agaynst thee in the middest of the house of Israel: the lande is not able to beare al his woordes.

11 For thus Amos saith, Ieroboam shal dye by the swoorde, and Israel shalbe led away captiue out of their owne lande.

12 Also Amazia sayde to Amos, O thou the seer, Goe, flee thou away into the lande of Iuda, and there eate thy bread, and prophecie there.

13 But prophecie no more at Bethel: for it is the kynges chappel, and it is the kynges court.

C 14 Then answeared Amos, and sayde vnto Amazia, I was no prophete, neyther was I a prophetes sonne: but I was an heardman, and a gatherer of wylde fygges.

15 And the Lorde toke me as I followed the flocke, and the Lorde sayde vnto me, Goe, prophecie vnto my people Israel.

16 Nowe therfore heare thou the woord of the Lorde: Thou sayest, Prophecie not agaynst Israel, & speake nothing against the house of Isahac.

17 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde, Thy wyfe shalbe an harlot in the citie, and thy sonnes and thy daughters shal fal by the swoorde, and thy lande shalbe diuided by line, and thou shalt dye in a polluted land, and Israel shal surely goe into captiuitie foorth of his lande.

The.viii. Chapter.

I. By a vision of a basket of sommer fruite, the ende of the kyngdome of Israel is shewed.

A 1 THus hath the Lorde God shewed vnto me: and beholde, a basket of sommer fruite.

2 And he sayd, Amos what seest thou? And I sayd, A basket of sommer (a) fruit. Then sayd the Lord vnto me, The ende is comme vpon my people of Israel, I wyl passe by them no more.

(a) Whiche signified the rypenesse of their sinnes, and the redynesse of gods iudgementes.

3 And the songues of the tēple shalbe howlynges in that day, sayth the Lorde God: many dead bodyes shalbe in euery place, they shal cast them foorth with silence.

4 Heare this, O ye that swalowe vp the poore, that ye may make the needy of the lande to fayle,

5 Sayeing, When wyl the new moneth be gonne, that we may sel corne? and the Sabboth, that we may set foorth wheate, and make the (b) Ephah smal, & the sicle great, and falsifie the waightes by deceipt?

(b) That is, the measure smal, and the price great.

6 That we may buy the poore for siluer, and the needy for shoes, yea, and sel the refuse of the wheate?

B 7 The Lord hath sworne by the excellencie of Iacob, Surely I wil neuer forgeat any of their workes.

8 Shal not the lande tremble for this, and euery one mourne that dwelleth therein? And it shal ryse vp wholly as a fludde, and it shalbe cast out, & (c) drowned, as by the fludde of Egypt.

(c) That is, the inhabitantes of the lande shalbe drowned, as Nilus drowneth many whē it ouerfloweth.

9 And in that day, sayth the Lorde God, I wyl euen cause the (d) sunne to goe downe at noone, & I wyl darken the earth in the cleare day.

(d) In the middes of their prosperitie, I wyl sende great affliction.

10 And I wil turne your feastes into mourning, and al your songues into lamentation: and I wyl bring sackcloth vpon al loynes, and baldnesse vpon euerye head, and I wyl make it as the mournyng of an onely only sonne, and the ende thereof as a bitter day.

11 Beholde the dayes comme, sayth the Lord God, that I wyl sende a famine in the lande, not a famine of bread, nor thirste for water, but of hearing the woorde of the Lorde.

12 And they shal wander from sea to sea, and from the north euen vnto the east shal they runne to and fro to seeke the woord of the Lorde, and shal not fynde it.

(c) For the idolaters did vse to sweare by their idols, whiche here he calleth their sinne.

13 In that day shal the fayre virgins, and the young men perishe for thirst.

14 They that sware by the (c) sinne of Samaria, and that say, Thy God, O Dan, liueth, and the (f) manner of Beer-seba liueth, euen they shal fall, and neuer ryse vp agayne.

(f) That is, the common manner of woorshipping, and the seruice or religion there vsed.

The.ix.Chapter.

1. Threatnynges agaynst the temple. 5. The subuertion of the people.

A 1 I Sawe the Lorde standing vpon the (a) aulter, and he sayde, Smite the lintel of the doore, that the postes may shake, and * cut them in peeces, euen the (b) heades of them al, and I wyl slay the last of them with the swoorde: he that fleeth of them, shal not flee away, and he that escapeth of them, shal not be deliuered.

(a) Whiche was at Hierusalem.

* or, wound them in the head euen all.

(b) Both the cheefe of them and also the common people.

2 Though they digge into hel, thence shal my hande take them, though they clime vp to heauen, thence wil I bring them downe.

3 And though they hyde them selues in the toppe of Charmel, I wyl searche, and take them out thence: and though they be hyd from my syght in the bottome of the sea, thence wyl I commaunde the (c) serpent, and he shal byte them.

(c) That is, the Whale or some other huge beast of the sea.

4 And though they goe into captiuitie before their enimies, thence wil I cõmaund the swoord, and it shal slay them: and I wyl set myne eyes vpon them for euyl, and not for good.

5 And the Lord God of hoastes shal touche the lande, and it shal melt away: and al that dwel therein shal mourne, and it shal ryse vp whole like a flood, & shalbe drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

6 He buildeth his * spheres in the heauen, and hath laide the fundation of his globe of elementes on the earth: he calleth the waters of the sea, and powreth them out vpon the open earth, the Lord is his name.

* or, ascentes, or degrees.

7 Are ye not as the Ethiopians (d) vnto me, O children of Israel, sayth the Lorde? haue not I brought vp Israel out of the lande of Egypt? and the Philistines from Cappadocia, and the Syrians from Cyrene?

(d) That is, am I more bound vnto you, then to the Ethiopians, or black Mores? yet haue I bestowed vpon you greater benefytes.

8 Beholde, the eyes of the Lorde God are vpon the sinful kingdome, and I wyl destroy it cleane out of the earth: neuertheles, I wyl not vtterly destroy the house of Jacob, sayth the Lorde.

9 For lo, I wyl commaunde, and I wyl sift the house of Israel among al nations, like as corne is sifted in a siue: yet shal not the (e) least stone fal vpon the earth.

(e) Meaning that none of his should perishe in his wrath.

10 But al the sinners of my people shal dye by the swoorde, whiche say, The euil shal not comme, nor hasten for vs.

11 In that day wil I rayse vp the tabernacle of Dauid that is fallen downe, and close vp the breaches thereof, and I wyl rayse vp his ruines, and I wyl builde it, as in the dayes of olde:

12 That they may possesse the remnant of Edom, and of al the heathen, * because my name is called vpon them, sayth the Lorde, that doeth this.

* or, vpon whom my name is called.

13 Beholde, the dayes comme, sayth the Lorde, that the plowman shal (f) touche the mower, and the treader of grapes hym that soweth seede, and the mountaynes shal droppe sweete wine, and al the hilles shal melt.

(f) Signifiyng that there shalbe great plentie of al thinges, so that when one kinde of fruite is ripe, another shoulde folowe, and euery one in course. Leuit. xxvi

14 And I wyl bring agayne the captiuitie of my people of Israel, and they shal build the wast cities, and inhabite them: and they shal plant vineyardes, and drinke the wine thereof, they shal also make gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

15 And I wyl plant them vpon their lande, and they shal no more be pulled vp agayne out of their lande whiche I haue geuen them, sayth the Lorde thy God.

The ende of the prophete Amos.

The prophecie
The booke of the prophete Abdias.

Agaynst Edom, and the truste that they had in ryches.

A 1 THE vision of Abdi, Thus sayeth ỹ lorde GOD agaynst Edom, We haue heard a rumour from the Lorde, and an ambassadour is sent among the heathen: Arise, and let vs ryse vp against her to batayle.

2 Beholde, I haue made thee smal among the heathen, thou art vtterly despised.

3 The pride of thyne hart hath deceaued thee, thou that dwellest in the clefte of the rockes, whose habitation (is) hygh, that saith in his hart, Who shal bring me downe to the grounde?

4 Yea though thou exalt thee selfe as the Eagle, & make thy nest among the starres, thence wyl I bring thee downe, sayth the Lorde.

5 Came theeues to thee, or robbers by night? howe wast thou brought to sylence? woulde they not haue stollen til they had ynough? If the grape gatherers came to thee, woulde they not leaue (some) grapes?

6 Howe are the thinges of Esau sought vp, (and) his treasures searched?

B 7 Al the men of thy confederacie haue dryuen thee to the borders, the men that were at peace with thee haue deceaued thee, and preuayled agaynst thee, (they that eate) thy bread haue laid a wounde vnder thee, there is none vnderstanding in him.

8 Shal not I in that day, sayde the Lorde, euen destroy the wyse men out of Edom, & vnderstanding from the mount of Esau?

9 And thy strong men, O Theman, shalbe afrayde: because euery one of the mount of Esau shalbe cut of by slaughter.

10 For thy crueltie against thy brother Jacob, shame shal couer thee, and thou shalt be cut of for euer.

11 When thou stoodest on the other syde, in the day that the strangers caryed away his substance, and strangers entred into his gates, and cast lottes vpon Hierusalem, euen thou wast as one of them.

12 But thou shouldest not haue beholden the day of thy brother in the day that he was made a stranger, neither shouldest thou haue reioyced ouer the children of Juda in the day of their destruction, thou shouldest not haue spoken proudly in the day of affliction:

13 Thou shouldest not haue entred into the gate of my people in the day of their destruction, neither shouldest thou haue once looked on their affliction in the day of their destruction, nor haue layde hands on their substance in the day of their destruction: C

14 Neither shouldest thou haue stande in the crosse wayes to cut of them that shoulde escape, neither shouldest thou haue shut vp the remnaunt thereof in the day of affliction.

15 For the day of the Lorde is neere vpon al the heathen: as thou hast donne, it shalbe donne to thee, thy rewarde shal returne vpon thyne head.

16 For as ye haue (a) drunke vpon myne holy mountayne, so shal al the heathen drinke continually: yea, they shal drinke and swalowe vp, and they shalbe as though they (b) had not ben.

17 But vpon mount Sion shalbe deliuerance, and it shalbe holy, and the house of Jacob shal possesse their possessions.

18 And the house of Jacob shalbe a fyre, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau as stubble, and they shal kindle in them and deuoure them, and there shalbe no remnaunt of the house of Esau: for the Lorde hath spoken it.

19 And they shal possesse the southsyde of the mount of Esau, and the plaine of the Philistines, and they shal possesse the feeldes of Ephraim, and the feeldes of Samaria, and Beniamin (shal haue) Gilead.

20 And the captiuitie of his hoast of the chyldren of Israel, whiche were among the Chanaanites (shal possesse) vnto Zarephath, and the captiuitie of Hierusalem whiche is in Sepharad, shal possesse the cities of the south.

21 And they that shal (c) saue, shal comme vp to mount Sion to iudge the mount of Esau, and the kingdome shalbe the lords.

(a) That is, reioyced and triumphed.

(b) That is, at the length they shal vtterly perishe

(c) Meanyng that god wyl rayse vp in his Churche suche as shal rule and gouerne for the defence of the same, and destruction of his enimies vnder Messias.

The ende of the prophete Abdias.

The booke of the prophete Ionas.

The fyrſt Chapter.

3. Ionas fled when he was ſent to preache. 4. A tempeſt aryſeth, and he is caſt into the ſea for his diſobedience.

1 THe wooꝛd of the loꝛd came vnto (a) Ionas the ſonne of Amittai, ſayeing,

(a) He propheſied vnder Ieroboã the ſeconde. 2. King. 14.

2 Aryſe, and goe to (b) Minive ẏ great citie, and crye agaynſt it: foꝛ their wickednesſe is comme vp befoꝛe me.

(b) It was the greateſt citie of the Aſſyrians, ſcituate by the ryuer Lycus as Strabo wꝛiteth, hauing in number a hundred and fiftie towres.

3 And Ionas roſe vp to flee into Tharſis from the preſence of the Loꝛde, and went downe to (c) Ioppa, and founde a ſhyp going to (d) Tharſis: ſo he paied his fare, and went downe into it, that he might go with them vnto Tharſis from the (e) preſence of the Loꝛde.

(c) It is an hauen towne in the which Peter lodged, Actes. 10.

(d) It is the name of a place lykely to be Cicilia, for there was a great citie of that name, where alſo Paul was borne.

(e) As the Leuites whiche minister to the Lorde are ſaid to ſtande before hym: ſo they which forſake his commaundement are ſaid to flee before his preſence.

4 But the Loꝛd ſent out a great winde into the ſea, and there was a myghtie tempeſt in the ſea, ſo that the ſhip was in danger of ſplitting in ſunder.

5 Then the mariners were afrayde, & cryed euery man vnto his God, & caſt the wares that were in the ſhip into the ſea, to lighten it of them: but Ionas was gonne downe into the ſides of the ſhyp, and he lay downe ſleepyng.

6 And the ſhipmaiſter came vnto him, and ſaide, What meaneſt thou ſleeper? Vp, and cal vpon thy God, yf ſo be that God wyl * ſhyne vnto vs, that we periſhe not.

* oꝛ, be fauourable.

7 And they ſayde euery one to his felowe, Comme, let vs caſt lottes: that we may knowe foꝛ whoſe cauſe this euyl is on vs. And they caſt lottes: & the lot fel on Ionas.

8 Then ſayde they vnto hym, Tel vs foꝛ whoſe cauſe is this euyl comme vpon vs? what is thyne occupation? whence cameſt thou? what countrey man art thou? and of what nation?

9 And he anſwered them, I am an Hebꝛue, and I feare the Loꝛde God of heauen, whiche hath made the ſea, and the dꝛye lande.

10 Then were the men exceedyngly afrayd, and ſayde vnto hym, Why haſt thou donne this? (foꝛ the menne knewe that he fledde from the preſence of the Loꝛde, becauſe he had tolde them.)

11 And they ſayde vnto hym, What ſhal we doo vnto thee, that the ſea may be calme vnto vs? foꝛ the ſea wꝛought and was troublous.

12 And he ſayde vnto them, Take me, and caſt me into the ſea, & the ſea ſhalbe calme vnto you: foꝛ I know that foꝛ my ſake this great tempeſt is vpon you.

13 Neuertheleſſe, the menne aſſayed with rowing to bꝛyng the ſhip to lande, but they coulde not, becauſe the ſea wꝛought, and was troublous agaynſt them.

14 Wherfoꝛe they cryed vnto the Loꝛd, and ſayde, We beſeeche thee, O Loꝛde, we beſeeche thee, let vs not peryſhe foꝛ this mans lyfe, and lay not to our charge innocent blood: foꝛ thou, O Loꝛde, haſt donne as it pleaſed thee. C

15 So they tooke vp Ionas, & caſt hym into the ſea, and the ſea left ragyng.

16 And the menne feared the Loꝛde exceedyngly, & offered a ſacrifice vnto the Loꝛd, and made (f) vowes.

(f) To ſerue the Lorde, to cal vpõ him, as Dauid oft tentymes in the Pſalmes maketh mention, none other vowes.

17 And the Loꝛde pꝛepared a great fyſhe to ſwalowe vp Ionas: and Ionas was in the belly of the fiſh thꝛee dayes & thꝛee nightes.

The. ii. Chapter.

1. Ionas is in the fiſhes belly. 3. His prayer. 10. He is deliuered.

1 AND Ionas pꝛayed vnto the Loꝛde his God out of the (a) fiſhes belly,

(a) Hebꝛewarde calleth it hel, and the woorde is taken often for the graue: being comme to hym ſelfe, he in great affliction called vpon the Lorde.

2 And ſayde, In affliction I cryed vnto the Loꝛd, and he heard me: out of the belly of hel cryed I, and thou heardeſt my voyce.

3 Thou haddeſt caſt me downe into the deepe, into the middeſt of the ſea, and the fluddes cõpaſſed me about: al thy billowes and wawes paſſed ouer me.

4 And I ſayde, I am caſt away out of thy ſight, yet wyl I loke agayne toward thyne holy temple.

5 The waters compaſſed me euen vnto the ſoule, the deapth cloſed me on euery ſide, & the weedes were wꝛapt about my head.

6 I went downe to the bottome of the mountaynes, the earth with her barres was about me foꝛ euer: yet haſt thou bꝛought vp my life from corruption, O Lorde my god.

7 When my soule fainted within me, I remembred the Lorde, and my prayer came in vnto thee into thy holy temple.

8 They that holde vpon (b) lying vanitie, forsake " his mercy.

9 But I wyl sacrifice vnto thee with the voyce of thankesgeuyng, and wyl pay that that I haue vowed: for saluation is of the Lorde.

10 And the Lorde spake vnto the fyshe, and it cast out Jonas vpon the (c) drye lande.

(b) Al that is lying vanitie that a man inuenteth of hym selfe to trust in " or, their owne.

(c) Iosephus in the ninth booke of antiquities sayth, He was cast out on the shore of the sea Euxinum, whiche is not farre from Asia.

The. iii. Chapter.

2. Jonas is sent agayne to Niniue. 5. The repentance of the kyng of Niniue.

A 1 AND the woorde of the Lorde came vnto Jonas the seconde tyme, sayeing, 2 Aryse, and goe to Niniue that great citie, and preache agaynst it the preachyng whiche I speake vnto thee.

3 So Jonas arose and went to Niniue accordyng to the woorde of the Lord (Niniue was a great citie and (a) excellent, of three dayes iourney.)

(a) In the Hebrue it is a great citie to God: but so the Hebrues cal great and excellent thinges. So the hyl of God the Cedar of God, for a great hyl and hygh Cedar.

4 And Jonas began to enter into the citie a dayes iourney, and he cryed, and sayde, Yet fourtie dayes, and Niniue shalbe destroyed.

5 And the menne of Niniue beleeued God, and proclaymed a fast, and put on sackcloth from the greatest of them to the least of them.

6 And woorde came vnto the kyng of Niniue: whiche arose from his throne, and put of his robe, and couered hym selfe with sackcloth, and sate downe in asshes.

B 7 And he caused a cryer to crye, and saye through the citie by the counsel of the king and his nobles, Let neyther man nor beast, bullocke, nor sheepe, taste ought at al, neyther feede, nor drinke water.

(b) God is said to repent whē he doth those thinges that men doo repentyng.

8 And let both man and beast put on sackecloth, and crye myghtyly vnto GOD: yea let euerye man turne from his euyl way, and from the wyckednesse that is in his handes.

9 Who can tel whether God wyl turne and be moued with (b) repentance, and turne from his fierce wrath, that we perysshe not?

10 And god saw their workes that they turned from their euyl waies, and he repented of the (c) euyl that he sayd he would do vnto them, and dyd it not.

(c) Of the euyl, that is, of the plague which is euyl to our selfe, although not in his owne nature.

The. iiii. Chapter.

The great goodnesse of God towarde his creatures.

1 AND this displeased Jonas greatly, & he was (a) angrye (within hym selfe.)

A (a) Because hereby he shoulde be taken as a false prophet, and so the name of God whiche he preached, shoulde be blasphemed, " or, preuented.

2 And he prayed vnto the Lorde, and sayde, I pray thee, O Lorde, was not this my sayeing when I was yet in my countrey? therfore I " hasted to flee vnto Tharsis: For I knewe that thou art a gratious GOD, and mercyful, long sufferyng, and of great kyndnesse, and repentest thee of euyl.

3 And now, O Lorde, take I beseeche thee my lyfe from me: for it is better for me to dye then to lyue.

4 Then sayde the Lorde, Doest thou wel to be angry?

5 And Jonas went out of the citie, and sate hym downe on the east syde thereof, and there made hym a boothe, and sate vnder it in the shadow, til he might see what should be donne in the citie.

6 And the Lorde God prepared a gourde, and made it spring vp ouer Jonas, that it myght be a shadowe ouer his head, to deliuer hym from his greefe: So Jonas was exceedyng glad of the gourde.

7 But GOD prepared a wezme when the morrowe rose the next day, whiche smote the gourde, that it withered. B

8 And when the sunne rose, God prepared a ferment east wynde, and the sunne beate vpon the head of Jonas that he fainted: and wished vnto his soule that he myght dye, and sayde, It is better for me to dye, then to lyue.

9 And the Lorde sayde vnto Jonas, Doest thou wel to be so angry within thee selfe for the gourde? And he sayde, I doo wel to be angry euen vnto death.

10 Then sayde the Lorde, Thou hast had compassion on the gourde about the which thou bestowedst no labour, neyther madest it growe: whiche came vp in a nyght, and perished in a nyght:

11 And shal not I spare Niniue that great citie, in the whiche are more then syxe score thousande persons that knowe not their ryght hande and their leaft, and also much cattayle?

The ende of the prophete Ionas.

The booke of the prophete Micheas.

The fyrst Chaprer.

Of the destruction of Samaria because of their idolatrie.

A 1 THE woord of the Lorde came vnto Micheas ỳ Moraslthite, in the dates of Iotham, Ahas, and Ezekias, kinges of Juda, whiche he sawe concernyng Samaria & Hierusalem.

2.king.15.a 2.Chr.27.a 1.king.16.a. 2.king.18.a.

2 Heare al ye people, marke this wel, O earth, and al that therein is, yea let the Lorde God him selfe be witnesse agaynst you, (euen) the Lorde from his holy temple.

3 For beholde, the Lorde shal comme out of his holy place, and comme downe & treade vpon the high thinges of the earth.

4 The mountaines shal melt vnder him, and the valleyes shal cleane a sunder, lyke as waxe (melteth) before the fyre, and as the waters runne downewarde.

5 And al this shalbe for the wickednesse of Jacob, and the sinnes of the house of Israel: but what is the wickednesse of Jacob? is not (a) Samaria? whiche are the high places of Juda? is not Hierusalem?

(a) Samaria and Hierusalem were the cheefe cities of the two kingdomes: idolatrie vsed in them, sheweth a general corruption through al.

6 Therefore I wyl make Samaria an heape of the feelde (meete) for the planting of a vineyarde: her stones wyl I tumble downe into the valley, and discouer her fundations.

7 Al her images shalbe broken downe, and al her "garmentes shalbe brent in the fyre, yea al her idols wyl I destroy: for they are geathered out of the hyre of an (b) harlot, and into an harlots hyre shal they be turned agayne.

" or, gifftes.
(b) Hail gotten euil gotten.

8 Wherefore I wyl mourne and make lamentation, bare and naked wyl I goe: I wyl mourne like the dragons, and take sorowe as the Estriches.

9 For their wounde is past remedie, it is comme into Juda, and hath touched the gate of my people at Hierusalem alredye.

10 Declare it not at Gath, neither weepe ye: for the house of Aphra roule thee selfe in the dust.

11 Thou that dwellest in Saphir geat thee hence naked with shame: she that dwelleth at (c) Zaanan, shal not comme forth in the mournyng of Bethezel: (the enimie) shal receiue of you for his (d) standing.

(c) Names of cities that shoulde be fyrst annoyed by the enimies.
(d) The long continuance of an armie in one place is hurtful.

12 For the inhabitantes of Maroth wayted for good, but the plague shal comme from the Lorde, euen vnto the gates of Hierusalem.

13 O thou (e) inhabitaunt of Lachis, binde the charet to the swiftest (f) beast, she is ỳ beginning of the sinne of the daughter of Sion: for the transgressions of Israel were founde in thee.

(e) It appeareth that this citie was one of the fyrst which receiued the worshipping of the golden calues, set vp by Ieroboam
(f) Make haste to flee away.

14 Therefore shalt thou bring presentes to (g) Mozesheth Gath: the houses of Achzib (shalbe) as a lye to the kinges of Israel.

(g) A citie so named.

15 And as for thee, O thou that dwellest at Maresa, I wyl bring a possessioner vpon thee, he shal comme to Adullam the glory of Israel.

16 Make thee baulde, (h) and shaue thee because of thy tender chyldren: make thee cleane baulde as an Egle, for they shalbe caryed away captiue from thee.

(h) Shauyng & plucking of heare, was vsed in time of mourning

The.ii. Chapter.

Threatnynges agaynst the sinfull people. 6. They woulde teache the prophetes to preache.

A 1 WO vnto them that imagine iniquitie, and worke wickednesse vpon theyr beddes: when the morning is lyght they practise it, because their hand hath power.

2 And they couet feeldes, and take them by violence, and houses, and take them away: so they oppresse a man and his house, (euen) man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde, Behold, agaynst this housholde haue I deuised a plague, whereout ye shal not plucke your neckes: ye shal no more goe so proudly, for it wyl be a perilous time.

4 In that day shal this parable be vsed, and a mournyng shalbe made ouer you on this manner: We be vtterly "desolate, the portion of my people is changed: how wyl "he part vnto vs the lande that he hath taken from vs.

" or, wasted
" or, howe shal he take our lande to restore it vnto me, (seeing the enimie) hath diuided its

5 Therefore there shalbe no man to diuide thee thy portion in the congration of ỳ lord.

6 Ye shal not (a) prophecie (say they) to them that prophecie: (b) they shal not prophecie to them, neither shal they take shame.

7 O thou that art named the house of Jacob, is the spirite of the Lorde shortened? are these his woorkes? are not my woordes good vnto him that walketh vpryghtly?

8 But he that was yesterday my people, is rysen vp on the other syde (as) against an enimie: they spoyle the beautiful garment from them that passe by peaceably, as though they returned from the warre.

9 The women of my people haue ye shut out from their pleasant houses, & taken away myne excellent giftes from theyr childre.

10 Up, geat you hence, for here shal ye haue no rest: because (the lande) is defyled, it shal destroy (you) with vtter destruction.

11 If a man (c) walke in the spirite, & would lye falsely (saying,) I wyl prophecie to thee of (d) wine and strong drinke: that were a prophete for this people.

12 I wyl surely geather (e) thee wholy, O Jacob, I wyl surely geather ỹ remnant of Israel, I wyl put them togeather as the sheepe of (f) Bozra, as the flocke in ỹ middest of their folde, they shal make great noyse by reason of the (multitude) of menne.

13 The breaker shal comme vp before them, they shal breake out, and passe by the gate, and goe out by it: and their king (g) shal goe before them, and the Lorde shalbe vpon (h) their heades.

(a) The people toke vpon them to forbid the prophetes to preache and rebuke sinne.
(b) God threatneth he wyl sende no mo prophetes to preache vnto them, which is the greatest plague that can comme to a nation.
(c) Taking vpon them the office of a prophete, and pretendyng that he is directed by the spirite of God.
(d) Flattring them, by promising plentie, and not reprooning their sinnes.
(e) To make an vniuersal destruction.
(f) Where was great plentie of sheepe, by reason of the good pastures.
(g) As a prisoner, or captiue.
(h) To stirre his wrathful indignation agaynst the Israelites, for their obstinate wickednesse.

The.iii.Chapter.

Agaynst the tyranny of princes and false prophetes.

1 And I sayde, Heare, I pray you, O heades of Jacob, and ye princes of the house of Israel, shoulde not ye knowe iudgement?

2 (But) they hate the good, and loue the euil, they plucke of their skinnes from them, and their fleath from their bones.

3 And they eate also the fleashe of my people, and flay of their skinne from them: and they breake their bones, and chop them in peeces as for the pot, and as fleashe within the cauldron.

4 Then shal they crie vnto the Lorde, but he wyl not heare them: he wyl euen hyde his face from them at that time, because they haue donne wickedly in their woorkes.

5 Thus saith the Lorde concerning the prophetes that deceiue my people, (a) and bite them with their teeth, and crie peace: but yf a man put not into their mouthes, they prepare warre against him.

(a) False prophetes deuoured the substance of their felowers, & make gayne of religion.

6 Therefore (b) night (shalbe) vnto you for a vision, and darknesse (shalbe) vnto you for a diuination: and the sunne shal goe downe ouer the prophetes, and the day shalbe darke ouer them.

7 Then shal the seers be ashamed, and the soothsayers confounded: yea (c) they shal al couer their lippes, for they haue no answeare of God.

8 Yet notwithstanding, I am ful of power by the spirite of the Lorde, and of iudgement, and of strength, to declare vnto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sinne.

9 Heare this, I pray you, ye heades of the house of Jacob, and princes of the house of Israel: they abhorre iudgement, and peruert al equitie.

10 (d) They builde vp Sion with blood, and Hierusalem with iniquitie.

11 (The heades thereof iudge for rewardes, and the priestes thereof teache for hyre, and the prophetes thereof prophecie for money: yet wyl they leane vpon the Lord, and say, Is not the Lorde among vs? no euil can comme vpon vs.)

12 Therefore shal Sion for your sake be plowed (as) a feelde, and Hierusalem shalbe an heape, & the mountayne of the house as the high places of the forest.

(b) The knowledge whiche ye nowe pretende, shalbe knowen to be grosse ignorance.
(c) They shal couer their faces for shame.
(d) They fortifie and garnisshe their citie with goodes wrongfully gotten, whiche here are called blood and iniquitie

The.iiii.Chapter.

The calling of the gentiles and conuersion of the Iewes.

1 But in the (a) latter dayes it wyl come to passe, that the hil of the Lordes house shalbe prepared in the toppe of the mountaynes, and shalbe set vp hygher then any mountaines or hilles, and people shal preasse vnto it.

2 Yea the multitude of the gentiles shal hast them thither, saying, Comme, let vs goe vp to the hil of the Lorde, and to the house of the God of Jacob, and he shal teache vs his wayes, and we wyl walke in his pathes: for the lawe shal comme out of Sion, and the woorde of God from Hierusalem.

3 And he shal iudge many people, & rebuke mighty nations of farre countreys: so that of their swoordes they shal make ploughshares, and sythes of their speares: one people shal not lyft vp a swoorde against another, yea they shal no more learne to fight.

4 But euery man shal syt vnder his vineyarde, and vnder his figge tree, and no man shal make them afrayde: for ỹ mouth of the Lorde of hoastes hath spoken it.

5 Therefore al people wyl walke euery man man in the name of his God: and we wyl walke in the name of our Lorde God for euer and euer.

6 At the same tyme, sayth the Lorde, wyl I geather vp the lame and the outcaste, and suche as I haue chastened.

B 7 And wyl geue a remnant vnto the lame, & make of the outcast a myghty people: and the Lorde hym selfe shalbe theyr kyng vpon the mount Sion, from this tyme fooryth for euermore.

8 And vnto thee, O thou towre of ỷ flocke, thou strong hold of the daughter Sion, vnto thee shal it come, euen the lordshyp and kyngdome to the daughter Hierusalem.

9 Why then doest thou crye and lament? is there no kyng in thee? are thy counsailours perished, that thou art so payned as a woman in her trauayle?

10 And nowe, O thou daughter Sion, sorowe and lament as a woman in her trauayle: for nowe must thou geat thee out of the citie, and dwel vpon the playne feelde: yea, vnto Babylon shalt thou goe, (but) there shalt thou be delyuered, and there the Lorde shal redeeme thee from the hande of thyne enimies.

11 Now also are there many people geathered togeather agaynst thee, sayeing, Sion shalbe condemned, and our eye shal loke vpon Sion.

12 But they know not the thoughtes of the Lorde, they vnderstande not his counsayle: for he shal geather them togeather as the sheaues in the barne.

13 Therefore geat thee vp, O thou daughter Sion, & threash out the corne: for I wyl make thy horne iron, and thy hooues brasse, that thou mayst breake in peeces many people: theyr goodes shalt thou consecrate vnto the Lorde, and theyr substance vnto the ruler of the whole worlde.

The.v. Chapter.

Of the destruction of Hierusalem.

1 A NOw "shalt thou be robbed thee selfe, O thou robbers daughter: they shal laye siege agaynst vs, and smyte the iudge of Israel with a rodde vppon the cheeke.

" or, nowe assemble thy garrisons, O daughter of garrisons

2 And thou Bethlehem Ephrata art lytle among the thousandes of Iuda, out of thee shal he come fooryth vnto me whiche shalbe the gouernour in Israel, whose outgoyng hath benne from the begynnyng, and from euerlastyng.

3 Therefore wyl he geue them vp for a season, vntyl the tyme that she whiche shal beare, haue borne: then shal the remnant of his brethren be conuerted vnto the children of Israel.

4 He shal stande fast, and geue foode in the strength of the Lorde, and in the maiestie of the name of the Lorde his God: and when they be conuerted, he shalbe magnified vnto the farthest partes of the worlde.

5 And he shalbe our peace: when the Assyrians shal come into our lande, when he shal treade in our palaces, then shal we rayse agaynst hym seuen shepheardes, and eyght principal men.

6 These shal subdue the land of Assur with the swoorde, and the land of Nimrod with their naked weapons: thus shal he delyuer vs from the Assyrian when he commeth within our land, and setteth his foote within our borders.

7 And the remnant of Iacob shalbe among B the multitude of people as the deawe of the Lord, and as the drops vpon the grasse, that tarryeth for no man, and wayteth on no body.

8 Yea, the residue of Iacob shalbe among the Gentiles, and the multitude of people, as the lion among the beastes of the wood, and as the lions whelpe among the flockes of sheepe, whiche when he goeth through, treadeth downe, teareth in peeces, & there is no man that can delyuer.

9 Thyne hande shalbe lyft vp vppon thyne enimies, and al thyne aduersaries shal perishe.

10 And it shal comme to passe in that day, sayth the Lorde, that I wyl take thyne horses from thee, and destroy thy charets.

11 I wyl breake downe the cities of thy lande, and ouerthrow al thy strong holdes.

12 Al witchcraftes wil I roote out of thine hande, there shal no moe soothsayinges be within thee.

13 Thyne idolles and thyne images wyl I destroy out of thee, so that thou shalt no more bowe thee selfe vnto the woorkes of thyne owne handes.

14 Thy groues wyl I plucke vp by the roo- C tes, and breake downe thy cities.

15 And I wyl execute a vengeance in my wrath, and indignation vpon the heathen, suche as they haue not hearde.

The.vi. Chapter.

I. An exhortation to heare the iudgement agaynst Israel beyng vnkynde. 8. What maner of sacrifices doo please God.

1 HEarken ye now what the Lord sayth, A Aryse thou, and contende with the mountaynes, and let the hylles heare thy voyce.

2 Heare

2 Heare, O ye mountaynes, the Lordes quarel, and myghty fundations of the earth: for the Lorde hath a quarel against his people, and wyl pleade with Israel.

3 O my people, what haue I donne vnto thee? or wherein haue I greeued thee, geue me answeare.

4 I haue brought thee out of the land of Egypt, and delyuered thee out of the house of bondage, and I made Moses, Aaron, and Miriam to leade thee.

5 Remember, O my people, what Balach ỳ kyng of Moab had deuised agaynst thee, and what answeare that Balaam the sonne of Beor gaue hym, from Sethim vnto Galgal, that ye may knowe the ryghteousnesse of the Lorde.

6 Wherewith shal I come before the Lord, and bow mee selfe to the hygh God? Shal I come before hym with burnt offerynges, and with calues of a yeere olde?

7 Hath the Lorde a pleasure in many thousandes of Rammes, or innumerable streames of oyle? shal I geue my firste borne for myne offences, and the fruite of my bodye for the sinne of my soule?

8 He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good, and what the Lord requyreth of thee: (namely) to doo iustly, to loue mercy, and to humble thee selfe to walke with thy God.

9 The Lordes voyce cryeth vnto the citie, and the man that shalbe saued consydereth thy name: hearken what is your rod, and heare hym that warneth you.

10 Are not yet the treasures of wickednesse in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure whiche is abominable?

11 Should I iustifie the false ballances, and the bagge of deceitful wayghtes?

12 For the riche men therof are ful of crueltie, and the inhabitantes therof haue spoken lyes, and haue deceitful tonges in theyr mouthes.

13 Therefore I wyl take in hande to punisthee, and to make thee "desolate, because of thy sinnes.

C 14 Thou shalt eate, and not haue ynough: yea, thou shalt bryng thee selfe downe in the middes of thee, thou "shalt flee, but not escape, and those that thou wouldest saue, wyl I delyuer to the swoorde.

"or, the women shal cõceyue, but not bryng foorth, and whom they bryng foorth wyl I delyuer to the swoorde.

15 Thou shalt sowe, but not reape, thou shalt presse out olyues, but oyle shalt thou not haue, to annoynt thee selfe with oyle: thou shalt treade out swette must, but thou shalt drynke no wyne.

16 Ye kepe the ordinances of Amri, and al the customes of ỳ house of Ahab, ye walke in theyr counsayles: therefore wyl I make thee waste, and cause thy inhabiters to be hyssed at, and ye shal beare the reproche of my people.

The. vii. Chapter.

1. A complaynt of the litle number of the righteous. 5. Against the trueth ought we not to holde with our greatest freendes. 14. The prosperitie of the Churche.

1 WO is me, I am becomme as the sommer geatheryngss, and as the grapes of the vintage: there are no moe grapes to eate, yet would I fayne with al my hart haue of the best fruite.

2 There is not a godly vpon earth, there is not one righteous among men: they al lie in waite for blood, and euery man hunteth his neighbour as with a net.

3 To make good the euyl of theyr handes, the prince & the iudge (a) asketh a reward, therefore the great man speaketh out of the corruption of his soule, and so they wrappe it vp.

(a) Both the prince and iudges for gayne peruert iustice? and so the myghty and the riche escape vnpunished, though they commit greeuous crymes. Jerem. 9.a.

4 The best of them (is) as bryer, the most righteous of them is (sharper) then a thorne edge: the day of thy watchmen (and) of thy visitation commeth: then shalbe theyr confusion.

10 She that is mine enimie, shal looke vpon it, and be confounded, whiche nowe sayth, Where is the Lorde thy God? mine eyes shal beholde her when she shalbe troden downe as the myre in the streetes. 2. Kin. 19.a Amos. 9.c.

11 This is the day that thy walles shalbe buylte, this day shal dryue farre away the (b) decree.

(b) Thou shalt no more be subiect to the forraine tyrannie of the Babylonians thee from Assur, from the strong cities, & from the strong holds, euen vnto the riuer: from the one sea to the other, & from mountayne to mountayne.

13 Notwithstandyng the land must be wasted, because of them that dwel therin, and for the fruites of theyr owne imaginations.

C 14 Therefore feede thy people with thy rod, the flocke of thyne heritage (whiche dwelt desolate in the wood) let them feede vpon the (c) mount of Carmel: in Basan, and Gilead, as aforetyme.

(c) That the people may returne out of the captiuitie of Babylon, and enioy the lande of promise as they dyd before.

16 This shal the heathen see, and be ashamed for al theyr power: so that they shal lay theyr hande vpon theyr mouth, and theyr eares shalbe deaffe.

17 They shal licke the dust lyke a serpent, and as the wormes of the earth that tremble in theyr holes: they shalbe afrayde of the Lorde our God, and they shal feare thee. Iob.39.d. Deut.3.c.

18 Who is such a God as thou, that pardonest wickednesse, and forgeuest the offences of the remnant of thyne heritage? He keepeth not his wrath for euer: for his delite is to haue compassion.

19 He shal turne agayne, and be mercyful to vs, he shal put downe our wyckednesses, and cast al our sinnes into the bottome of the sea. Iere.9.d.

The ende of the prophecie of Micheas.

The booke of the prophete Nahum.

The first Chapter.

Of the destruction of the Assyrians, and of the deliuerance of Israel.

A 1 THe burden of (a) Niniue: the booke of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.

(a) The Niniuites were spared, because they repented at the preaching of Ionas: but afterwardes they returned to theyr former wickednesse, therefore God threateneth them by this prophete.

2 GOD is iealous, and the Lorde auengeth, the lord auengeth and hath wrath in store: the Lorde taketh vengeance on his aduersaries, and keepeth wrath in store for his enimies.

3 The Lorde is slowe to anger, and (also) of great power, and in no case wyl acquite (the wicked,) the Lordes dealyng is with blustring tempest and whirle winde, and the cloudes are the dust of his feete.

4 He rebuketh the sea and dryeth it vp, al the ryuers also he maketh drye: Basan and Carmel are destroyed, the spryng also of Libanus is destroyed.

* or, for hym.

5 The mountaynes quake * at his power, and the hilles are resolued: the earth also burneth at his countenance, the worlde, and al that dwelleth therein.

6 Who can stand before his wrath? or who can ryse vp before the anger of his countenance? his fiercenesse is powred out lyke fyre, yea the rockes cleane in peeces at his myght.

B 7 The Lorde is gratious, a strong holde in the day of trouble, and knoweth them that trust in hym.

8 But with an ouerrunning flood he wyl destroy her place, and wyl pursue his enimies with darkenesse.

9 What imagine (b) ye agaynst the Lord? he makes an vtter destruction: ye shal not be troubled twyse.

(b) Meaning Niniue, and the Assyrians.

10 For though they be as thornes folden one in another, and as drunkardes in their banquet, yet shal they be deuoured vp as very drye stubble.

11 There came out of thee such as thought euyl agaynst the Lorde, suche as gaue wicked counsel.

12 Thus sayth the Lord, Though ye be in concorde, and also many, yet so shal ye be cut downe, and passe: and (though) I haue afflicted thee, yet wyl I trouble thee no more.

13 And nowe I wyl breake of his yoke from thee, and I wyl breake thy bones in sunder.

14 The Lord also hath geuen a commaundement touching thee, that there shalbe no more offspryng of thy name: from the house of thy god I wyl cutte of the carued and moulten image, I wyl make (it) thy graue, for thou art vile.

15 Beholde vpon the mountaynes the feete of hym that bryngeth good tydynges, that preacheth peace, keepe thy festiual dayes, O Juda, pay thy vowes: for the wycked shal hereafter passe no more through thee, he is vtterly cut of.

The.ii.Chapter.

He describeth the victories of the Chaldeans agaynst the Assyrians.

A 1 THE destroyer is come vp before thy face, keepe thy forte, see to (thy) way, strengthen (thy) loynes, encreale (thy) strength mightily:

2 For the Lorde restores agayne the glorious estate of Jacob, as (also) the glorious estate of Israel: for spoylers hath spoyled them, and hath wasted theyr branches.

3 The shielde of his valiant souldiers (is) dyed red, his captaynes of warre are clad with scarlet: the charret is (compassed) with flamyng torches in the day of his expedition, and the firre staues are drenched in poyson.

4 The charrets shal rage in the streetes, they shal make a terrible noyse in the brode wayes, to looke to lyke (flaming) cressets, shooting as lightning.

5 He shal remember his notable souldiers, they shal stumble in goeyng, they shal hasten to the wal, the couerynge fence is prepared.

6 The riuer gates are opened, and the palace dissolued.

B 7 (a) Huzab is brought forth captiue, made to ascend (into the charrets,) her handmaydens also leading (one another) as in the voyce of doues, knockyng vpon theyr breastes.

(a) The name of the queene of the Assyrians, so called because she stoode by her husbande the kyng.

8 Yea many a day Ninive was as a ponde ful of water, yet (nowe) they flee: Stande ye, stande ye, and no man looketh backe.

9 Take your spoyle of syluer, take your spoile of gold, for there is no ende of riches: and her treasure passing al treasure.

10 Sackyng, resackyng, raisyng, a dissolued hart, and collision of knees, sorowe in al loynes also, and the faces of them al as blacke as a pot.

11 Where is the abydyng place of Lions, and the feedyng plot of Lions whelpes, whither the young and olde Lion had their resort? there dwelt the Lion, and there was no man to put him in feare.

C 12 The Lion made his pray abundantly for his whelpes, and strangled for his thee Lions, and hath filled his dennes with pray, and his abydyng places with spoyle.

13 Beholde me against thee, saith the Lorde of hostes, and I wyl burne in smoke her charrets, and the swoorde shal deuour thy Lions, I wil roote out also from the earth thy spoyling, and the voyce of thy messengers shalbe heard no more.

The.iii.Chapter.

I. Of the fal of Ninive. 8. No power can escape the hande of God.

1 O Bloody citie, stuffed throughout with falshood, with "extreme dealing, nor wyl be brought from spoylyng. A " or, robberie.

2 The noyse of the whippe, the noyse of ratling of wheeles, the praunsing of horses, and the iumping of charrets:

3 The horseman lifting vp both the glysteryng blade of the swoorde, and also the shining speare, many wounded, many corpses, and no ende of carkasses, they shal stumble at dead bodyes.

4 Because of the manifolde fornication of the beautiful harlot, ful of charmes, that selles nations by the meanes of her whoredome, & the people through her charmings.

5 Loe, I agaynst thee, sayth the Lorde of hostes, and wyl turne vp thy skirtes ouer thy face, and wyl shewe the gentiles thy filth, and kyngdomes thy shame:

6 And wil cast vpon thee abominable filth, and wil bring thee downe, and wyl make thee as vile as donng.

7 And it shal come to passe that al that shal beholde thee, shal flee from thee, & shal say, Ninive is destroyed, and who is greeued therwith? from whence shal I seeke out comforters for thee? B

8 Wylt thou count thee selfe better then Alexandria the great, that was scituate amonges the riuers, compassed round about with water, whose fortresse was the sea (and had) her wal from the sea?

9 Ethiopia and Egypt (were thy) strength, and there was none ende (of ayde:) Phut and Lubim were thy helpers.

10 Notwithstandyng, she passed away, she went into captiuitie, her chyldre also were dashed in peeces in ỹ top of al the streetes: for her honourable men they cast lottes, and al her great states they chayned in fetters.

11 And thou (also) shalt be dronken (with trouble) thou shalt be hydde: thou also shalt seeke after strength agaynst thine enimie.

" or, more ouer.

12 Al thy strong aydes (are as) figge trees with with the firste ripe figges: if they be stirred they fal into the mouth of the eater.

13 Beholde, thy men (are as barren) women in the middest of thee, the gates of thy land shalbe set wyde open to thyne enimies, fire hath deuoured thy barres.

14 Draw thee water for the siege, strengthen thy fortes, goe into the claye, treade the morter, make strong the bricke woorke.

15 There the fire shal deuoure thee, the swoorde shal cut thee of, it shal deuoure as the locust, though (thou) be multiplyed as the locust, and though thou be as many as the grashopper.

16 Thou hast encreased thy Merchantes as the starres of heauen, the locust spoyleth and fleeth away.

17 Thy princes are as grashoppers, and thy rulers as great locustes, they swarme in hedges in colde weather, the sunne aryseth and they flee, and the place where they were is not knowen.

18 Thy sheepheardes, O kyng of Assur, slumber, thy noble men shal dwel (in death) thy people is scattered vppon the mountaines, and there is none to geather them togeather.

19 Thy wounde (shal) not be healed, thy plague is great, al that heare of thee, clap their handes: for vpon whom hath not thy euyl dealyng passed continually?

The ende of the prophecie of Nahum.

The booke of the prophete Habacuc.

The first Chapter.

1. A complaynt agaynst the wicked that persecute the iust.

1 THE (a) burthen which Habacuc the prophete dyd see.

2 O Lord, howe long shal I cry, and thou wylt not heare? (euen) crye out vnto thee for violence, and thou wylt not helpe?

3 Why dooest thou shewe me iniquitie, and cause me to beholde sorowe? for spoylyng and violence are before me, and there are that rayse vp stryfe and contention.

4 Therefore the lawe is * dissolued, and iudgement dooth neuer goe forth: for the wicked dooth compasse about the righteous, therfore wrong iudgment proceedeth.

5 Beholde among the heathen, and regard, and woonder, and marueyle: for I wyl woorke a woorke in your dayes, ye wyl not beleeue it though it be tolde you.

6 For loe, I rayse vp the Chaldeans, that bytter and furious nation, whiche shal * goe vpon the breadth of the land, to possesse the dwellyng places that are not theyrs.

7 They are terrible and fearful: (b) theyr iudgement and theyr dignitie shal proceede of them selues.

8 Theyr horses also are swyfter then the leopardes, and are more fierce then the woolues in the euenyng, and theyr horsmen are many, and shal come from farre: they shal flee as the Egle hastyng to meate.

9 They come al to spoyle: before theyr faces shalbe (c) an east wynde, and they shal geather the captiuitie as the sande.

10 And they shal mocke the kynges, and the princes shalbe a scorne vnto them: they shal deride euery strong holde, for they shal geather (d) dust and take it.

11 Then shal they * take a courage, & transgresse, and doo wickedly, (imputing) this their power vnto theyr god.

12 Art not thou of olde, O Lorde my God, my holy one? we shal not dye, O Lord thou hast ordeyned them for iudgement, and, O God thou hast established them for correction.

13 Thou art of pure eyes, and canst not see euyl, thou canst not beholde wickednesse: wherefore (then) dooest thou looke vppon the transgressours, and holdest thy tongue, when the wicked deuoureth the man that is more ryghteous then he,

14 And makest men as the (e) fishe of the sea, and as the creepyng thynges that haue no ruler ouer them?

15 They take vp al with the angle, they catche it in theyr net, & geather it in theyr yarne: whereof they reioyce and are glad.

16 Therefore they sacrifice vnto theyr (f) net, and burne incense vnto theyr yarne: because Actes. 12.f.

(b) That is, they them selues shalbe your iudges in this cause, and none shal haue authoritie ouer them to controle them.

(c) For the Iewes moste feared this wynde, because it destroyed their fruites.

(d) They shal cast vp mountaynes agaynst it.

(f) Meanyng that the enimies flatter them selues, and glory in their owne force, power wit, and practise.

because by them theyr portion is fat, and their meate * plenteous.

* or, dainty

17 Shal they therefore * stretche out theyr net, & not spare continually to slay the (g) nations?

* or, empty.

(g) Meaning that they should not.

The .ii. Chapter.

A vision against pride, couetousnesse, drunkennesse, and idolatrie.

1 I Wyl stande vpon my watche, and set me vpon the towre, & wil looke and see what he wyl say vnto me, and what I shal answere to * hym that rebuketh me.

* or, concerning my rebuke or checke, meaning suche rebuke as the wicked obiected vnto hym.

2 And the Lorde answeared me, and sayde, Wryte the vision, and make it playne vpon tables, that he may run that (a) readeth it.

(a) Wryte it in great lettera, that he that runneth maye reade it.

3 For the vision is yet for an appoynted tyme, but at the last it shal speake, and not lye: though it tary, wayte: for it shal surely comme, and shal not staye.

4 Beholde, (b) he that lyfteth * vp hym selfe, his mynde is not vpryght in hym: but the iust shal lyue by his fayth.

(b) To trust in him selfe, or in anye worldlye thing, is neuer to be quiet: for the onely rest is, to stay vpon God by faith Roman. 1. b. Galat. 3. b. Heb. 10. c.

* or, fortifieth hym selfe as in a strong hold.

5 Yea, in deede the proude man (is as) he that transgresseth by wyne, therfore shal he * not endure, because he hath enlarged his desire as the hel, and is as death, and can not be satisfied, but geathereth vnto him al nations, and heapeth vnto hym al people.

* or, haue no rest.

6 Shal not al these take vp a parable against hym? and a * taunting prouerbe against hym, and say, Woe to hym that increaseth that whiche is not his? How long? & he that laden hym selfe with thicke clay?

* or, prouide taunt.

7 Shal they not ryse vp sodaynely that shal byte thee? and awake, that shal stirre thee? and thou shalt be * theyr pray?

* or, troden vnder theyr feete.

8 Because thou hast spoyled many nations, al the remnant of ỳ people shal spoyle thee, because of mens blood, and for the wrong (done) in the land, in the citie, and vnto al that dwel therein.

* or, wo vnto him that coueteth euyl againe.

9 * Woe to hym that coueteth an euyl couetousnesse to his house, that he maye set his nest on hygh to escape from the power of * euyl.

* or, misfortune.

10 Thou hast consulted shame to thyne owne house by destroying many people, and hast sinned agaynst thyne owne soule.

(c) He sheweth what the stone shal crye, & what the woode shal answere

11 For the stone shal crye out of the wal, and the beame out of ỳ timber shal answere it.

12 (c) Woe vnto hym that buyldeth a towne with blood, & * erecteth a citie by iniquity.

13 Beholde, is it not of the Lorde of hostes, that the people shal * labour in the very (d) fyre? the people shal euen weery themselues for very vanitie.

* or, stablisheth. * or, for the fyre. (d) That is, God wyl destroy al their labours, as though they were consumed with fyre.

14 For the earth shalbe (e) filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lorde, as the waters couer the sea.

(e) In the destruction of the Babylonians his glory shal appeare thorow al the world.

15 Woe vnto hym that geueth his neyghbour drynke, thou loynest thy * rage, and makest (hym) drunken also, that thou mayst see theyr priuities.

16 Thou art filled with shame for glory, drynke thou also * & be made naked: ỳ cup of the lords ryght hand shalbe turned vnto thee, & shameful spuing shalbe for thy glory.

* or, thy bottel.

* or, tyl thou slumber withal

17 For the crueltie of (f) Libanus shal couer thee: so shal the spoyle of the beastes * whiche he made afrayde, because of mens blood, and for the wrong done in the land, in the citie, and vnto al that dwel therein.

(f) By Libanus and the beastes therof, he meaneth the land and people of Iurie.

18 What profiteth the image? for the maker therof hath made it an image and a teacher of lyes, though he that made it trust therein when he maketh dumbe idolles.

19 Woe vnto hym that sayth to the wood, Awake: and to the dumbe stone, Ryse vp, * it shal teache (thee:) beholde, it is layde ouer with golde and siluer, and there is no breath in it.

* or, shal it teache thee?

20 But the Lorde is in his holy temple: let al the earth keepe silence before hym.

The .iii. Chapter.

A prayer for the faythful.

(a) That is, the people of Israel.

1 A Prayer of Habacuc the prophet for (a) the ignorances.

(b) That is, the state of thy Church, whiche is nowe ready to perish before it come to halfe a perfectage, which shold be vnder Christe.

2 O Lorde, I haue hearde thy voyce, and was afrayde, O Lorde reuiue thy (b) woorke in the myddes of the yeeres, in the myddes of the yeeres make it knowen, in wrath remember mercie.

(c) That is, the tentes.

3 God commeth from Theman, and the holy one from mount Paran, selah. his glory coureth the heauens, and the earth is ful of his prayse.

(d) Meaning that god was not angrye with the waters, but that by this meanes, he wold destroye his enimies, and delyuer his Churche.

4 And (his) bryghtnesse was as the lyght: he had hornes (commyng) out of his handes, & there was the hyding of his power.

5 Before hym went the pestilence, and burning coales went forth before his feete.

(e) And so diddest vse al the elemẽtes as instrumentes for the destruction of thine enimies.

6 He stoode and measured the earth, he beheld, and dissolued the nations, and the euerlastyng mountaynes were broken, and the ancient hilles dyd bowe, his wayes are euerlastyng.

7 For iniquitie I sawe the tentes of Chusan (and) the (c) curtaynes of the lande of Madian dyd tremble.

8 Was the Lorde angry agaynst the (d) riuers? or was thyne anger agaynst the floudes? or was thy wrath agaynst the sea, that thou dyddest ryde (e) vpon thy horses? thy charets (brought) saluation.

(f) That is, thy power.

9 Thy (f) bowe was manifestly reuealed, and and the (g) othes of the tribes (were) a sure woord. Selah. thou diddest cleane the earth with riuers.

10 The mountaynes sawe thee, and they trembled, the streame of the water (h) passed by, the deepe made a noyse, and lyft vp his handes on high.

11 The sunne (and) moone stoode styl in (their) habitation, (i) at the light of thine arrowes they went, (and) at the bryght shynyng of thy speares.

12 Thou * trodest downe the land in anger: (and) dyddest threshe the heathen in displeasure.

13 Thou wentest fooryth for the saluation of thy people, (euen) for saluation with thine (k) annoynted: thou hast wounded the head of the house of the wycked, and discouerdst the fundations vnto the (l) necke. Selah.

14 Thou diddest strike through with his owne staues the heades of his villages, they came out as a whirlewinde to scatter me: their reioycyng was as to deuour the poore secretely.

15 Thou didst walke in the sea with thyne horses vpon the heape of great waters.

16 When I heard, my belly trembled, my lippes shooke at the voyce, rottennesse entred into my bones, and I trembled in mee selfe, that I myght reast in the day of trouble: for when he commeth vp vnto the people, he shal destroy them.

17 For the figge tree shal not floryshe, neyther shal fruite be in the vines: the labour of the olyne shal fayle, and the feeldes shal yeelde no meate: the sheepe shalbe cut of from the fold, and there shalbe no bullocke in the stalles.

18 But I wyl reioyce in the Lorde, I wyl ioy in the God of my saluation.

19 The Lorde God is my strength, he wyl make my feete lyke hindes (feete) & he wyl make me to walke vpon my high places. To the cheefe synger on Neginothai, (or vpon the instrumentes of musicke.)

(g) For he had not only made a couenant with Abraham, but renued it with his posteritie.

(h) He alludeth to the red sea and Iordane, whiche gaue passage to gods people, and shewed signes of their obedience, as it were by lyftyng vp of their hands.

(i) According to Gods commaundement the sunne was directed by the weapons of Godspeople whiche fought in his cause, as though it durst not goe forwarde, whose weapons are here called the arrowes and speares of God.

* or, diddest walke vpon. (k) Signifiyng that there is no saluation but by Christ. (l) From the toppe to the toe thou hast destroyed the enimies.

6 Ye haue (d) ſowen much, but ye bring litle in: ye eate, but ye haue not yenough: ye drinke, but ye are not filled: ye cloth you, but ye be not warme: & he that earneth wages, putteth the wages into a broken bagge.

(d) God is the geuer of encreaſe, neyther may any thyng proſper without his bleſſing.

7 Thus ſaith the Loꝛd of hoſtes, Conſyder your owne wayes in your hartes.

8 Get you vp to the mountayne, and fetche wood, and buylde this houſe, & I wyl take pleaſure in it, and I wyl be gloꝛified, ſayth the Loꝛde.

9 Ye loked foꝛ much, and lo it came to litle, and when ye brought it home, I dyd blowe vpon it: and why, ſaith the Loꝛde of hoſtes? becauſe of my houſe that is waſte, and you runne euery man into his owne houſe.

10 Therfoꝛe vpon you the heauen is ſtayed from deawe, and the earth is ſtayed from yeeldyng her increaſe.

11 And I haue called foꝛ a drought vpon the lande, and vpon the mountaynes, and vpon the coꝛne, and vpon the wyne, and vpon the oyle, and vpon al that the ground bryngeth foꝛth, vpon menne, and vpon cattayle, and vpon al the labour of the handes.

12 When Zoꝛobabel the ſonne of Salathiel, and Ioſua the ſonne of Ioſedech the hygh pꝛieſt, with al the (e) remnant of the people heard the voyce of the Loꝛd their God, and the (f) woꝛdes of the pꝛophete Aggeus, as the Loꝛde their God had ſent hym, then the people dyd feare befoꝛe the Loꝛde.

(e) For the greater part taryed in Babylon, and woulde not take the libertie which Cyrus had geuen them.

13 Then Aggeus the Loꝛdes meſſenger ſaid in the loꝛdes meſſage vnto the people, ſayeing, I am with you, ſayth the Loꝛde.

(f) Here is no difference made betweene the worde of the prophet and the woord of God to ſhew that the prophete muſt ſo ſpeake, & the people ſo heare them as the words of God.

14 And the Loꝛde ſtirred vp the ſpirite of Zoꝛobabel the ſonne of Salathiel a pꝛince of Iuda, and the ſpirite of Ioſua the ſonne of Ioſedech the hygh pꝛieſt, and the ſpirite of al the people: and they came and dyd the woꝛke in the houſe of the Loꝛde of hoſtes their God.

The. ii. Chapter.

He ſheweth that the glory of the latter temple ſhal exceede the firſt.

A

1 IN the (a) twentie and fourth day of the ſixth moneth, in the ſeconde yeere of king Darius,

(a) They had but three weekes and three dayes to heare the prophete, & to prepare their tooles for their woorke, ſo diligent were they after the preachyng of the prophet.

2 In the (b) ſeuenth moneth, in the twentie & one day of the moneth, came the woꝛde of the Loꝛde by the miniſterie of the pꝛophete Aggeus, ſayeing,

(b) They had nowe not wrought a ful moneth yet they waxed weerie: and therfore had neede to be ſet on a freſhe by the prophete, who was therefore now ſent vnto the againe

3 Say nowe to Zoꝛobabel the ſonne of Salathiel pꝛince of Iuda, & to Ioſua the ſonne of Ioſedech the hygh pꝛieſt, and to the reſt of the people, ſayeing,

4 Who is among you left, which ſawe this houſe in her firſt glory, and how doo you ſee it nowe? Is it not in your eyes in compariſon of it as nothyng?

5 Yet now be of good cheare, O Zoꝛobabel, ſayth the Loꝛde, and be of good comfoꝛt, O Ioſua thou hygh pꝛieſt ſonne of Ioſedech, and be ſtrong al ye people of the land, ſayth the Loꝛde, and woꝛke: foꝛ I am with you, ſayth the Loꝛde of hoſtes,

6 Accoꝛdyng to the (c) woꝛde that I couenanted with you, when ye came out of Egypt: and my (d) ſpirite ſhal remayne with you, feare ye not.

7 Foꝛ

(c) God made many promiſes to his people after their departure out of Egypt: but in as much as he goeth about to ſpeake of Chriſt in this place, it may wel be thought that he meaneth here by promiſe made. Deut. 18. verſ. 15. & repeated. Act. 7. verſ. 27. (d) Before he confirmed his promiſe made of Chriſte, nowe he promiſeth his ſpirite: therefore there is no cauſe of feare.

B 7 For thus saith the Lorde of hostes, (e) Yet a litle whyle, and I wil shake the heauens, and the earth, and the sea, and the drye lande:

(e) There passed. 519. yeres after this prophecie, before Christe came.

8 And I wyl moue al nations, and the desyre of al nations shal come, and I wyl fyl this house with glory, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

9 The siluer is mine, and the gold is mine, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

10 The glory of the latter house, shalbe greater then the glory of the fyrst, sayth the lord of hostes: and in this place wyl I geue peace, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

11 In the twentie & fourth day of the ninth moneth, in the seconde yeere of king Darius, came the woorde of the Lorde vnto the prophete Haggeus, sayeing,

12 Thus sayth the Lorde God of hostes, Aske now ye priestes (concerning) the law, sayeing, 13 If one beare holy fleashe in the skirt of his coate, and with his skirt doo touche the bread, potage, wine, oyle, or any other meate, shal it be holy? And the priestes answeared and sayde, No.

C 14 And Haggeus saide, If a polluted person touche any of these, shal he not be polluted? And the priestes answeared and said, He shalbe polluted.

15 Then Haggeus answeared, and sayde, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, sayth the Lorde, and so is al the woorke of their handes: and that whiche they offer there is vncleane.

16 And nowe consyder, I pray you, in your mindes, from this day and vpwarde, before there was layde one stone vpon another in the house of the Lorde, 17 Before these thinges (were donne) when one came to a heape of twentie (measures) there were but tenne: so who came to the wine presse for to drawe out fiftie (vessels of wine) out of the presse, there were but twentie.

18 I smote you with blasting and with mildeawe, and with hayle, in al the woorke of your handes, and you turned not vnto me, sayth the Lorde.

19 Consyder nowe in your mindes from this day, and afore, from the foure & twentieth day of ỹ ninth (moneth) euen from the day that the fundation of the Lordes temple was layd, consyder it in your mindes:

20 Is the seede yet in the barnes, as yet the vines, and the figge tree, and the pomegranate, & the olive tree hath not brought foorth? from this day wyl I blesse (you.)

(f) He is sent twyse in one day to prophecie vnto the people. D

21 And (f) agayne the woorde of the Lorde came vnto Haggei in the foure and twentieth (day) of the moneth, sayeing,

22 Speake to Zorobabel the prince of Iuda, and say, I wyl shake the heauens and the earth:

23 And I wyl ouerthrowe the " throne of kyngdomes, and I wil destroy the strength of the kingdomes of the heathen, and I wil ouerthrowe the charrets and the sitters thereon, and the horse and the ryders shal fall downe euery one by the swoorde of his brother.

" or, seate.

24 In that day, sayth the Lorde of hostes, wyl I take thee Zorobabel my seruant, sone of Salathiel, sayth the Lorde, & wyl make thee as a signet: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lorde of hostes.

The fyrst Chapter.

I. He moueth the people to returne to the Lorde, and eschewe the wickednesse of theyr fathers. 36. He prefigureth Christe and his Apostles.

A 1 IN the eyght moneth of the seconde yere of king Darius, came the woord of the lord vnto Zacharias the sonne of Barachias the sonne of Addo the prophete, sayeing, Mat.25.b.

Iere.31.c. Mala.3.b. 2 The Lorde hath benne sore displeased with your forefathers.

3 And say thou vnto them, thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Turne you vnto me, saith the Lorde of hostes, and I wyl turne vnto you, sayth the Lorde of hostes,

4 Be ye not like your forefathers, vnto whom prophetes cryed, saying, Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, Turne you from your cuyl wayes, and from your wicked imaginations: but they wouldo not heare nor regarde me, sayth the Lorde.

Iere.44.a. Psal.78.a. Osee.14.a. Tob.13.b. Iere.44.a.

5 What is nowe become of your forefathers? and doo the prophetes liue for euer?

6 But did not my woordes & statutes which I commaunded by my seruantes the prophetes take holde of your forefathers? and they returned, and saide, Like as the Lorde of hostes determined to doo vnto vs according to our owne wayes and imaginations, euen so hath he dealt with vs.

ℬ 7 Upon the twentie and fourth day of the eleuenth moneth, (whiche is the moneth (Sebah) in the seconde yeere of Darius, came the woorde of the Lorde vnto Zacharias the sonne of Barachias the sonne of Addo the prophete, sayeing,

Zach.6.a. Apoc.6.a

8 I sawe by night, and beholde, there sate one vpon a red horse, and stoode stil among the Myrre trees that were in a bottome: and behinde him were there red, speckled, and white horses.

9 Then saide I, O my Lorde, what are these? And the angel that talked with me, said vnto me, I wyl shewe thee what these be.

10 And the man that stood among the Myrre trees answeared, and said, These are they whom the Lorde hath sent to goe through the worlde.

11 And they answeared the angel of the lord that stoode among the Myrre trees, and saide, We haue gonne through the worlde, and beholde, al the worlde sitteth stil, and is careles.

12 Then the Lordes angel gaue answeare, and saide, O Lorde of hostes, howe long wylt thou be merciful vnto Hierusalem, and to the cities of Juda, with whom thou hast ben displeased nowe these threescore and tenne yeeres?

Jere.25.b. and.29.b. 1.Esd.1.a.

13 So the Lorde gaue a louing and a comfortable answeare vnto the angel that talked with me.

℃ 14 And the angel that communed with me, saide vnto me, Crie thou, & speake, Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, I am exceeding ielous ouer Hierusalem and Sion, 15 And sore displeased at the careles heathen: for where as I was but a litle angry, they helped forwarde the affliction.

Zach.8.a.

16 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde, I wyl returne vnto Hierusalem in tender mercie, so that my house shalbe builded in it, sayth the Lorde of hostes: yea and the (a) line shalbe stretched vpon Hierusalem.

(a) Suche as Masons and Carpenters vse in buyldyng.

17 Crie also and speake, thus sayth the Lord of hostes, My cities through prosperitie shalbe spread abrode, the Lorde shal yet comfort Sion, and choose Hierusalem.

18 Then lyft I vp mine eyes and sawe, and beholde foure hornes.

19 And I saide vnto the angel that talked with me, What be these? He answeared me, These are the hornes which haue scattred Juda, Israel, and Hierusalem. Dan.7.d.

20 And the Lorde shewed me foure carpenters.

21 Then saide I, What wyl these doo? He answeared, and saide, These are the hornes whiche haue scattered Juda, so that no man durst lyft vp his head: but these are comme to fray them away, and to cast out the hornes of the gentiles whiche lyft vp their horne ouer the lande of Juda to scatter it abrode.

The.ii.Chapter.

The renewyng of Hierusalem and Iuda.

1 I Lyft vp myne eyes agayne and looked: and beholde a man, with a measure line in his hande. A Ezech.14.a Apoc.21.c.

2 Then saide I, Whyther goest thou? And he said vnto me, To measure Hierusalem, that I may see howe long and howe brode it is.

3 And beholde the angel that talked with me, went his way foorth: then went there out another angel to meete him,

4 And saide vnto him, Runne, speake to this young man, and say, Hierusalem shalbe inhabited without any wal, for the very multitude of people and catel that shalbe therein.

5 For I mee selfe, sayth the Lorde, wyl be vnto her a wal of fyre rounde about, and wyl be the glory in the middest of her. Deut.4.b.

6 O get you foorth, O flee from the lande of the north, sayth the Lorde: for I haue scattered you into the foure windes of the heauen, sayth the Lorde.

7 Saue thee selfe, O Sion, thou that dwellest with the daughter of Babylon:

ℬ 8 For thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, After this glory hath he sent me out to the heathen whiche spoyled you: for who so toucheth you, shal touche the apple of his owne eye. Jere.2.a.

9 Beholde, I wyl lyft vp myne hande ouer them, so that they shalbe spoyled of those which afore serued them: and ye shal know that the Lorde of hostes hath sent me. Psal.17.b.

10 Be glad & reioyce, O daughter Sion: for loe I am comme to dwel in the middest of thee, sayth the Lorde. Exod.25.a.

11 At the same time there shal many heathen cleaue to the Lorde, and shalbe my people: thus wyl I dwel in the middest of thee, and thou shalt knowe that the Lorde of hostes hath sent me vnto thee.

12 The Lorde shal haue Juda in possession for his part in the holye lande, and shal choose thoose Hierusalem yet agayne.

Sopho.1.a 13 Let al fleashe be styl before the Lorde: for he is rayſed vp out of his holy place.

The.iii.Chapter.

3. Of the lowe and hygh eſtate of Chriſte vnder the figure of Ioſua the prieſt, 8. A propheeie of Chriſte.

A 1 AND he ſhewed me Ioſua ỹ high prieſt
Pſal.109.a ſtandyng before the angel of the Lord, and Satan ſtoode at his ryght hande to reſiſt hym.

2 And the Lorde ſayde vnto Satan, The Lord reproue thee thou Satan, yea the lord that hath choſen Hierusalem reproue thee: is not this a brande taken out of the fire?

3 Now Ioſua was clothed in vncleane rayment, and ſtoode before the angel.

4 And he anſwered and ſayde vnto thoſe that ſtood before him, Take away the foule clothes from hym. And vnto hym he ſayde, Behold, I haue taken away thy ſinne from thee, and I wyl clothe thee with change of rayment.

5 And I ſayde, Let them ſet a fayre myter vpon his head. So they ſet a fayre myter vpon his head, & put on clothes vpon hym, and the angel of the Lorde ſtoode there.

6 Then the angel of the Lord teſtified vnto
" or, Ieſua. " Ioſua, and ſpake,

B 7 Thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, If thou wylt walke in my wayes, and keepe my watch, thou ſhalt iudge my houſe, and kepe my courtes, and I wyl geue thee place among theſe that ſtande here.

8 Heare O Ioſua thou high prieſt, thou and thy felowes that ſit before thee, for they are monſtruous perſons: behold, I wyl bryng foorth the branche my ſeruant.

Eſai.4.a 9 For lo, the ſtone that I haue layde before
Iere.33.a Ioſua, vpon one ſtone ſhalbe ſeuen eyes: beholde, I wyl cut out the grauyng thereof, ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, and I wyl take away the ſinne of the lande in one day.

10 In that day ſhal euery man cal his neighbour vnder the vine, and vnder the figtree, ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes.

The.iiii.Chapter.

The viſion of the golden candleſticke, and the expoſition thereof.

A 1 AND the angel that talked with me came agayne, and waked me, as a man that is rayſed out of his ſleepe,

2 And ſayd vnto me, What ſeeſt thou? And I ſaide, I haue loked, and behold a candleſticke al of gold, with a bowle vpon it, and his ſeuen lampes therein, and vpon euery lampe ſeuen pypes.

3 And two oliue trees thereby: one vpon the Apoc.11.a
ryght ſyde of the bowle, and the other vpon the left ſyde.

4 So I anſweared and ſpake to the angel that talked with me, ſayeing, O my Lorde, what are theſe?

5 The angel that talked with me anſwered and ſaide vnto me, Knoweſt thou not what theſe be? And I ſayde, No my Lorde.

6 He anſweared and ſayde vnto me, This is the woorde of the Lorde vnto Zorobabel, ſayeing, Neither through an hoſt of menne, Eſai.11.a nor through ſtrength: but through my ſpirite, ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes.

7 What art thou great mountayne before B
Zorobabel? thou muſt be made euen, and he ſhal bryng forth the head ſtone therof, with ſhoutynges, crycing, Grace, grace vnto it.

8 Moreouer the woorde of the Lorde came vnto me, ſayeing, 9 The handes of Zorobabel haue layde the Phil.1.a.

fundation of this houſe, his handes ſhal alſo fynyſhe it: and thou ſhalt knowe that the Lorde of hoſtes hath ſent me vnto you:

10 For who hath deſpiſed the day of ſmal thynges? they ſhal reioyce, and ſhal ſee the ſtone (a) of tynne in the hand of Zorobabel: (a) A plummet of tinne, as nowe men vſe plummets of lead.
theſe ſeuen are the eyes of the Lorde, which goe through the whole worlde.

11 Then anſweared I, and ſayd vnto hym, What are theſe two oliue trees vpon the ryght and left ſyde of the candleſticke?

12 I ſpake moreouer, and ſayde vnto hym, What be theſe two golden branches whiche through the two golden pypes emptie them C ſelues into the golde?

13 He anſwered me, and ſayde, Knoweſt Apoc.11.a thou not what theſe be? and I ſayd, No my Lorde.

14 Then ſayde he, Theſe are the two oliue branches, that ſtande with the ruler of the whole earth.

The.v.Chapter.

1. The viſion of the fleeyng booke, ſignifiyng the curſe of theeues, and ſuche as abuſe the name of God. 6. By the viſion of the meaſure, is ſignifyed the bryngyng of Iuda to Babylon.

1 SO I turned me, lyftyng vp myne eyes, A and looked, and behold a fleeyng booke.

2 And he ſayde vnto me, What ſeeſt thou? I anſweared, I ſee a fleeing booke of twentie cubites long, & ten cubites broade.

3 Then sayde he vnto me, This is the curse that goeth foorth ouer ỹ whole earth: for al theeues shalbe * iudged after this booke, and al periured persons shalbe iudged accordyng to the same.

* or, cut of as is written on the one side: & al periured persons shalbe cut of as is on thother syde.

4 And I wyl bring it foorth, sayth the Lord of hostes, so that it shal enter into the house of the theefe, and into the house of him that falsely sweareth by my name: and shal remayne in the middest of his house, and consume it, with the timber and stones thereof.

5 Then the angel that talked with me, wēt foorth, and sayde vnto me, Lyft vp thyne eyes, and see what is this that goeth foorth.

6 And I sayde, What is it? He answered, This is a * measure goyng out. He sayde moreouer, Euen thus are they that dwel vpon the whole earth to looke vpon.

* or, Ephah

25 7 And beholde there was lyft vp a talent of lead: and loe, a woman sate in the middest of the * measure.

* or, Ephah

8 And he sayd, This is vngodlynesse: so he cast her into the middest of the * measure, & threwe the lumpe of lead into the mouth of the * measure.

* or, Ephah

* or, Ephah

9 Then lyft I vp myne eyes, and looked, and beholde there came out two women, & the winde was in their wynges: for they had winges lyke the wynges of a storke, & they lyft vp the * measure betwixt the earth and the heauen.

* or, Ephah

Gen.15.b. 10 Then spake I to the angel that talked with me, Whyther wyl these beare the measure?

11 And he sayde vnto me, Into the lande of Sinnaar to buylde it an house, and it shalbe stablished, and set there vpon her owne place.

The.vi. Chapter.

I. By the foure charrettes he describeth the prosperitie of foure kyngdomes.

A 1 MOreouer I turned me, lyftyng vp myne eyes, and looked, and beholde there came foure charrettes out from betwixt two hylles, whiche hylles were of brasse.

Zacha.1.b Apoc.6.a 2 In the first charret were red horses, in the seconde charret were blacke horses,

3 In the thirde charret were whyte horses, in the fourth charret were horses of diuers colours, and strong.

4 Then spake I, and sayde vnto the angel that talked with me, O my Lorde, What are these?

Iere.4.b 5 The angel answeared and sayd vnto me, These are the foure spirites of the heauen, whiche be comme foorth to stande before the ruler of al the earth.

6 That with the blacke horse went foorth into the lande of the north, and the whyte folowed them, & the speckled horses went foorth towarde the south.

7 And the * strong horses went out, and required to goe and take their iourney ouer the whole earth: and he sayde, Geat you hence, and goe through the worlde: so they went throughout the worlde.

* or, the speckled.

8 Then cryed he vpon me, and spake vnto me, saying, Beholde, these that goe toward the north, shal styl my wrath in the north countrey.

9 And the woorde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

10 Take of the prisoners that are comme from captiuitie, namely, Heldai, Tobiah, and Idaia, whiche came from Babylon: & comme thou the same day, and go vnto the house of Iosiah the sonne of Sophonia.

11 Then take golde and siluer, and make crownes therof, & set them vpō the head of Iosua the son of Iosedech the high priest,

12 And speake vnto hym, Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Beholde the man whose name is the branche, and he shal growe vp out of his place, and he shal buylde vp the temple of the Lorde. Zach.3.b. Psal.127.a

13 Yea euen he shal buylde vp the temple of the Lorde, and he shal beare the prayse: he shal sit vpon * the Lordes throne, and haue the domination: a priest shal he be also vpō his throne, and a peaceable counsel shalbe betwixt them both. Apoc.4.b * or, his. Psal.110.b. Heb.5.6.7.

14 And the crowne shalbe to Helem, and to Tobiah, and to Idaia, & to Hen the sonne of Zophoni, for a memorial in the temple of the Lorde. C

15 And suche as be farre of shal comme and buylde in the temple of the Lorde, that ye may knowe howe that the Lorde of hostes hath sent me vnto you: and this shal comme to passe, if ye wyl hearken diligently vnto the voyce of the Lorde your God.

The.vii. Chapter.

I. The true fasting. II. The rebellion of the people, is the cause of their affliction.

1 AND the fourth yere of kyng Darius, A the woorde of the Lord came vnto Zacharia in the fourth (day) of the ninth moneth, whiche is called Casleu,

2 What time as Sarasar and Rogemmelech, and the menne that were with them, sent vnto the house of God for to pray before the Lorde:

3 And that they shoulde speake vnto the priestes which were in the house of the lord of hostes, and to the prophetes, saying,

Shoulde

Shoulde I weepe in the fyfth moneth, and abstayne as I haue donne nowe these so many yeeres?

1.king. 25.b

4 Then came the woorde of the Lorde of hostes vnto me, sayeing,

5 Speake vnto al the people of the lande, and to the priests, and say, When ye fasted and mourned in the fyfth and seuenth moneth nowe this threescore and ten yeeres, dyd ye fast vnto me?

Jere. 41.a. 3.king 25.b

6 When ye dyd eate also and drinke, dyd ye not eate and drinke for your owne selues?

B 7 Are not these the woordes whiche the Lorde spake by his prophetes aforetyme, when Hierusalem was yet inhabited and wealthy, she and the cities rounde about her, when there dwelt men both towarde the south and in the plaine countreys?

8 And the woorde of the Lorde came vnto Zacharie, sayeing, 9 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Execute true iudgement, shewe mercie and louing kindnesse euery man to his brother.

Zach. 13.b. Exod. 22.c.

10 Doo the wydowe, the fatherlesse, the strangers and poore no wrong, and let no man imagine euyl agaynst his brother in his hart.

11 Neuertheless, they would not take heede, but turned their "backes, and stopped their eares that they shoulde not heare.

Jere. 8.g. "or, shoulders.

12 Yea they made their hartes as an Adamant stone, lest they shoulde heare the law and woordes whiche the Lorde of hostes sent in his holy spirite by the prophetes aforetime: wherefore the Lorde of hostes was very wroth at them.

2. Pet. 1.b.

13 And thus is it comme to passe, that lyke as he cryed, and they would not heare: euen so they cryed, and I would not heare, sayth the Lorde God of hostes:

Jere. 11.b.

C 14 But scattered them among al the nations whom they knewe not: thus the lande was made so desolate after them, that there trauailed no man in it, neither to nor fro: for that pleasant lande was vtterly layde waste.

The. viii. Chapter.

2. Of the returne of the people vnto Hierusalem, and of the mercie of god toward them. 16. Of good woorkes. 20. The calling of the gentiles.

A 1 SO the woorde of the Lorde of hostes came vnto me, sayeing,

2 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, I was in great ielousie for Sion, yea I haue ben very ielous for her with great wrath.

3 Thus sayth the Lorde, I wyl returne vnto Sion, and wyl dwel in the middest of Hierusalem: so that Hierusalem shalbe called, A faythful and true citie, the hil of the Lorde of hostes, an holy hil.

Esai. 1.b.

4 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, There shal yet olde men and olde women dwel agayne in the streetes of Hierusalem: yea and suche as goe with staues in their handes for very age.

5 The streetes of the citie also shalbe ful of young boyes and damsels playing in the streetes thereof.

6 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, If the residue of this people thinke it to be vnpossible in (their) eyes in these dayes: shoulde it therfore be vnpossible in my syght, sayth the Lorde of hostes?

Mat. 19.b.

7 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Behold, I wyl deliuer my people from the countreys of the east and west,

B

8 And wyl bryng them agayne, that they may dwel in the middest of Hierusalem: they shalbe my people, and I wylbe they? God in trueth and righteousnesse.

Jere. 52.e. Apoc. 21.c.

9 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Let your handes be strong ye that nowe heare these woords by the mouth of the prophets whiche are in these dayes, that the foundation of the house of the Lorde of hostes is layde, that the temple may be builded.

10 For before these dayes neither men nor catayle could winne any (a) thing, neither myght any man comme in and out in rest for trouble: but I let euery man ges against his neyghbour.

Agge. 1.a. (a) They laboured and toyled them selues and their carel without encrease, because they cared not for god glory in reed fyng of the temple, but went about their priuate gayne.

11 Neuertheless, I wyl nowe intreate the residue of this people no more as aforetime, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

12 For the seede shal prosper, the vine shal geue her fruite, the grounde shal geue her encrease, and the heauens shal geue their deawe, and I shal cause the remnant of this people to haue al these in possession:

13 And it shal comme to passe, that like as ye were a curse among the heathen, O ye "house of Juda and ye house of Israel, euen so wyl I deliuer you, that ye shalbe a blessing: feare not, but let your handes be strong:

14 For thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Lyke as I thought to punishe you, what tyme as your fathers prouoked me vnto wrath, sayth the Lorde of hostes, and spared not:

C

15 Euen so am I determined nowe in these dayes for to doo wel vnto the house of Juda and Hierusalem: (therefore) feare ye not.

16 Nowe the thinges that ye shal doo, are these, Speake euery man the trueth vnto his neighbour, execute iudgement truely & peaceably

Ephe. 4.c. Zach. 7.b.

peaceably within your portes:
17 And let none of you imagine euil in his hart against his neighbour, and loue no false othes: for al these are the thinges that I hate, sayth the Lorde.
18 And the woorde of the Lorde of hostes came vnto me, sayeing,
19 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, The fast of the fourth (moneth) the fast of the fyfth, the fast of the seuenth, and the fast of the tenth, shalbe ioy and gladnesse, & prosperous high feastes vnto the house of Iuda: only loue the trueth and peace.
20 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, There shal yet comme people, and the inhabiters of many cities:
21 And they that dwel in one citie shal goe to another, sayeing, Up, Let vs goe & pray before the Lorde, let vs seeke the Lorde of hostes: I wyl goe with you.
Esai.2.a. Psal.122.
D 22 Yea muche people and mighty nations shal comme to seeke the Lorde of hostes at Hierusalem, and to pray before the lord.
23 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, In that time shal tenne menne (out of al manner of language of the Gentiles) take one Iewe by the hemme of his garment, and say, We wyl goe with you: for we haue heard that God is among you.

The.ix.Chapter.

I. The conuertion of the Gentiles. 9. The comming of Christe sytting on an Asse.

A 1 THe burden of the woorde of the Lorde in the lande of Hadrach: and Damascus shalbe his rest, when the eyes of menne, euen of al the tribes of Israel shalbe towardes the Lorde.
Ioel.4.a. 2 The borders of Hemath shalbe harde thereby, Tyrus also and Sidon, for they are very wyse.
3 Tyrus shal make her selfe strong, heape vp siluer as the sande, and golde as the claye of the streetes.
Exo.14.e. 4 Beholde, the Lorde shal spoyle her, he shal smite downe her power in the sea, and she shalbe consumed with fyre.
Iere.47.a. Amos.1.d. 5 This shal Ascalon see, and be afraid: Gaza shalbe very sory, so shal Accaron also, because her hope is comme to confusion: For the king of Gaza shal perishe, and at Ascalon shal no man dwel.
6 Strangers shal dwel at Asdod, and as for the pride of the Philistines I shal roote it out.
Actes.15. 7 Their blood wil I take away from their mouth, and their abominations from betweene their teeth: Thus they that shalbe leaft shalbe for our God, he shalbe as a prince in Iuda, and Accaron like as a Iebusite.
8 And I wyl pitche a campe (a) about mine house agaynst the armie, against him that passeth by, and against him that returneth, and no oppressour shal comme vpon them any more: For nowe I haue seene with myne eyes.
(a) God is strong yenough to defende his Churche against al his aduersaries.
9 Reioyce thou greatly, O daughter Sion, be glad, O daughter Hierusalem: For loe, the king commeth vnto thee, euen the righteous and sauiour, lowly and simple is he, he rydeth vpon an Asse, and vpon the foale of an Asse.
B Esai.62.e.
10 I wyl roote out the charrettes from Ephraim, and the horse from Hierusalem, the batayle bowes shalbe destroyed, he shal geue the doctrine of peace vnto ỹ heathen: and his dominion shalbe from the one sea to the other, and from the riuer to the ende of the worlde.
Psal.39.k.
11 Thou also (shalt be saued) through the blood of thy couenant: I haue loosed thy prisoners out of the pit wherein is no water.
12 Turne you nowe to the strong holde ye that be in prison and long sore to be deliuered: euen this day I bryng thee woorde, that I wyl reward thee double agayne.
13 For Iuda haue I bent as a bowe for me, Ephraim (his hande) haue I filled, and thy sonnes, O Sion, wyl I rayse vp agaynst the Grekes, and make thee as a Giantes swoorde.
14 The Lord God shalbe seene aboue them, and his dartes shal goe forth as the lightnyng: the Lorde God shal blowe the trumpet, and shal comme forth as a storme out of the south.
C
15 The Lorde of hostes shal defende them, they shal consume and deuoure, and subdue them with sling stones, they shal drinke and rage as it were through wine, they shalbe filled like the basons, and as the hornes of the aulter.
16 The Lorde their God shal deliuer them in that day, as the flocke of his people: for as pretious stones of a Diademe they shalbe set vp ouer his lande.
Zach.2.a. 1.Sam.17.f
17 O howe great is his goodnesse, and howe excellent his beautie? For the corne shal make the young men cheerful, and the newe wine the maydens.

The.x.Chapter.

I. The people is mooued to require the doctrine of trueth of the Lorde. 3. The Lorde promyseth to visite and comfort the house of Israel.

Pray

A 1 PRay the Lord then betymes to geue the latter rayne, so shal the Lorde make bryght cloudes, and geue you rayne ynough, and to euery one grasse in the feelde.
Deut.28.b.

2 For vayne is the answeare of idolles, the soothsayers see lyes, and the dreamers tel but vayne thynges, the comfort that they geue is nothyng worth: therefore they went away lyke a flocke of sheepe, and were troubled, because they had no sheephearde.

3 My wrathful displeasure was mooued agaynst the sheepheardes, and I wyl visite the goates: for the Lorde of hostes wyl visite his flocke the house of Iuda, and wyl make them as a goodly fayre horse in the batayle.
Ezech.13.a.

4 Out of (Iuda) shal comme the corner, the nayle, the batayle bowe, and the appoynter of tribute also.
Gene.49.b. Esai.22.d.

5 They shalbe as gyantes whiche in the batayle treade downe theyr enimies in the myre of the streetes, they shal fight, for the Lord shalbe with them, and the horsmenne shalbe confounded.

6 I wyl comfort the house of Iuda, and preserue the house of Ioseph, I wyl bryng them agayne, for I pitie them, and they shalbe lyke as they were when I had not cast them of: for I the Lord am theyr God, and wyl heare them.

B 7 Ephraim shalbe as a giant, and their hart shalbe chearful as through wyne: yea, their children shal see it, and be glad, and their hart shal reioyce in the Lorde.

8 I wyl hysse for them, and geather them togeather, for I wyl redeeme them, they shal encrease, as they encreased afore.

9 I wyl sowe them among the people, that they may thynke vpon me in farre countreyes, they shal lyue with their children, and turne agayne.

10 I wyl bryng them agayne also from the lande of Egypt, and geather them out of Assyria: I wyl carrye them into the lande of Gilead, and to Libanus, and place (a) shal not be founde for them.
(a) The multitude shalbe so great.

11 And affliction shal passe ouer vnto the sea, and smyte the sea waues, so that al the deepe fluddes shalbe dryed vp, the proude boastyng of Assur shalbe cast downe, and the scepter of Egypt shalbe taken away.
Esai.10.a. Ezech.29.a

12 I wyl comfort them in the Lorde, that they maye walke in his name, sayth the Lorde.

The.xi. Chapter.

1. The destruction of the temple. 4. The care of the faythful is committed to Christe by the father. 7. A grecuous vision against Hierusalem and Iuda.

1 OPen thy doores, O Libanus, that the A fire may consume thy Cedar trees.

2 Howle ye firre trees, for the Cedar is fallen, yea, al the proude are wasted away: Howle, O ye Oke trees of Basan, for the myghty strong wood is cut downe.

3 Men may heare the sheepheards mourne, for theyr glory is destroyed, men may heare the Lions whelpes roare, for the pride of Iordan is wasted away.

4 Thus sayth the Lord my God, Feede the sheepe of the slaughter,

5 Whiche haue ben slayne of those that possessed them, yet they (tooke it) for no sinne, but they that solde them, sayde, The Lord be thanked, for I am riche, yea, their owne sheepheardes spare them not.

6 Therefore wil I no more spare those that dwel in the lande, sayth the Lorde: but loe, I wyl delyuer the people, euery man into his neighbours hande, and into the hand of his kyng, that they maye smyte the lande, and out of theyr handes I wyl not delyuer them.

7 I mee selfe fedde the slaughter sheepe, a B poore flocke veryly, and tooke vnto me two staues, the one called Beautie, the other called Bandes: and so fedde the sheepe.

8 Three sheepheardes I put out of office in one moneth, for I myght not away with them: neyther had they any delyght in me.

9 Then sayde I, I wyl feede you no more: Apoc.22.c. the thyng that dyeth, let it dye: and that that wyl perishe, let it perishe: and let the remnant eate euery one the flesh of his neyghbour.

10 I tooke also my staffe (euen) Beautie, and brake it, that I myght disanul the couenant whiche I made with al people.

11 And so it was broken in that day, then Osee.2.c. the poore simple sheepe that had a respecte vnto me, knewe thereby that it was the worde of the Lord.

12 And I sayde vnto them, If ye thynke it good, bryng hyther my wages, yf no, then leaue. So they wayed downe thirtie siluer Mat.27.c. pence, the valne that I was prysed at.

13 And the Lord said vnto me, Cast it vnto the potter, a goodly price for me to be valued at of them. And I tooke the thirtie siluer pence, and caste them to the potter in the house of the Lorde.

14 Then broke I my other staffe also, (namely) Bandes, that I myght loose the brotherhood betwixt Iuda and Israel.

15 And the Lord sayde vnto me, Take thee also the " staffe of a foolishe sheephearde. " or, instrument.

16 For loe, I wyl rayse vp a sheephearde in the lande, whiche shal not seeke after the thynges that be lost, nor seeke the tender lambes, lambes, he shal not heale the wounded, he shal not nourish the things that are whole: but he shal eate the flesshe of such as be fat, and teare theyr clawes in peeces.

17 O idol sheepheard that leaueth the flocke, the swoorde shal come vpon his arme, and vpon his ryght eye: his arme shalbe cleane dryed vp, and his right eye shalbe sore blynded.

The.xii.Chapter.

1. Of the destruction and buylding agayne of Hierusalem.

A 1 THE (heauie) burden whiche the Lord hath deuised for Israel. Thus sayth the Lorde which spread the heauens abroade, layde the fundation of the earth, and gaue man the breath of lyfe. Esai.10.a.

2 Beholde, I wyl make Hierusalem a cup of "inrfet vnto al the people that are round about her: yea Juda hym selfe also shalbe in the siege agaynst Hierusalem. "or, poyson Zach.14.c.

3 At the same tyme wyl I make Hierusalem an heauie stone for al people, so that al suche as lift it vp shalbe torne and rent, and al the people of the earth shalbe geathered togeather agaynst it.

4 In that day, sayth the Lord, I wil make al horses astonied, and those that ride vpon them to be out of theyr wittes: I wyl open myne eyes vpon the house of Juda, and smite al the horses of the people with blindnesse. Abdias.1.c.

5 And the princes of Juda shal say in theyr hartes, The inhabiters of Hierusalem shal geue me consolation in the Lorde of hostes theyr God.

6 In that tyme wyl I make the princes of Juda like an hot burning ouen with wood, and lyke a fyrebrande among the "strawe, so that they shal consume al the people rounde about them, both vpon the ryght hande, and vpon the leaft: Hierusalem also shalbe inhabited agayne, (namely) in the same place where Hierusalem standeth. "or, sheafe.

B 7 The Lorde shal preserue the tentes of Juda as afore tyme, so that the glory of the house of David, and the glory of the citizens of Hierusalem shal not be exalted agaynst Juda.

1.Sam.17.f 8 In that day shal the Lorde defende the citizens of Hierusalem, so that the weakest then among them shalbe as David, and the house of David shalbe as Gods house, and as the angel of the Lorde before them.

9 At the same tyme wyl I goe about to destroy al suche people as goe agaynst Hierusalem.

10 Moreouer, vpon the house of David, & vpon the citizens of Hierusalem wyl I powre out the spirite of grace and compassion, so that they shal looke vpon me whom they haue pearsed, and they shal lament for hym as men mourne for theyr onely begotten sonne: yea, and be sory for hym, as men are sory for theyr first chylde. Ezech.36.c

11 Then shal there be a great mournyng at Hierusalem, lyke as the lamentation at Hadadremmon in the feelde of Mageddon. Luke.23.c. 2.Chr.35.c.

12 And the lande shal bewayle, euery kynred by them selues alone: the kynred of the house of David by them selues, and theyr wyues by them selues: the kynred of the house of Nathan them selues, and theyr wyues by them selues:

13 The kynred of the house of Leui them selues alone, and theyr wyues by them selues: the kinred of the house of Semei them selues alone, & their wyues by them selues. 2.Sam.21.

14 In lyke maner, al the other generations euery one by them selues alone, and their wyues by them selues.

The.xiii.Chapter.

1. Of the wel of grace and trueth. 2. Of the cleane riddance of idolatrie, and of false prophetes.

1 IN that time shal the house of David and the citizens of Hierusalem haue an open wel to washe of sinne and vncleannesse. A Ezech.46.a

2 And then sayth the Lorde of hostes, I wyl destroy the names of the idolles out of the lande, so that they shal no more be put in remembrance: as for the false prophetes also, and the vncleane spirites, I wyl take them out of the lande. Zacha.14.b. Iohn.19.d. Esai 2.c. Ezech.30. Ierem.14.

3 So that yf anye of them prophecie anye more, his owne father and mother that begate hym, shal say vnto hym, Thou shalt not lyue, for thou speakest lyes vnder the name of the Lorde: yea, his owne father and mother that begate hym shal wounde hym when he prophecieth. Deut.13.b.

4 And then shal those prophetes be confounded euery one of his vision when he prophecieth: neyther shal they weare heare cloth any more to deceiue men withal.

5 But he shalbe fayne to say, I am no prophete, I am an husbandman: for so am I taught by man from my youth vp. Amos.7.c.

6 And yf it be sayde vnto hym, Howe came these wounds then in thine handes? he shal answeare, Thus was I wounded in the house of mine owne frendes. Gene.3.d.

7 Aryse, O thou swoorde, vpon my sheepheard, and vpon the man that is my felowe, sayth B

the

Mat.26.c. the Lord of hostes: smite the sheephearde, & the sheepe shalbe scattered abroade: and so wyl I turne my hande to the litle ones.

Psal.17.a. Amos.9.b. Job.13.a. Esai.43.a. 8 And it shal come to passe, sayth the Lorde, that in al the lande two partes shalbe rooted out and dye, but the third part shal remayne therein.

9 And the same thirde part wyl I bryng through the fyre, and wyl cleanse them as the syluer is cleansed, yea and trye them lyke as golde is tryed: then shal they cal vpon my name, and I wyl heare them, I wyl say, It is my people, and they shal say, Lorde my God.

Wisd.3.a. Eccle.2.a. Pro.18.

The.xiiii.Chapter.

I. The wasting of the Churche vnder the figure of Hierusalem. 9. Of the kyngdome of the Lorde.

A 1 BEholde, the day of the Lord commeth, and thy spoyle shalbe diuided in the middest of thee.

2 For I wil geather togeather al the heathen to fyght agaynst Hierusalem, so that the citie shalbe wonne, the houses spoyled, and the women defiled: the halfe of the citie shal goe away into captiuitie, and the residue of the people "shal not be carryed out of the citie.

"shal not be cut of from the citie.

3 After that shal the Lord goe foorth to fight agaynst those heathen, as men vse to fight in the day of battayle.

4 Then shal his feete stand vpon the mount Oliuete that lyeth vpon the east syde of Hierusalem, and the mount Oliuete shal cleaue in two, eastwarde and westwarde, so that there shalbe a great valley: and the halfe mount shal remoue towarde ỹ north, and the other towarde the south.

5 And ye shal flee vnto the valley of my hilles, for the valley of the hilles shal reach vnto Asal: yea flee shal ye lyke as ye fled for the earthquake in the dayes of Oziah kyng of Juda: and the Lorde my God shal come, and al the saintes with hym.

Amos.1.c.

6 In that day shal there be no cleare lyght, but darke.

B 7 This shalbe that special day whiche is knowen vnto the Lorde, neyther day nor night: but about the euenyng tyme it shalbe lyght.

Mat.24.c.

Zach.13.a. Apoc.22.a. 8 In that tyme shal there waters of lyfe runne out from Hierusalem: the halfe part of them towarde the east sea, and the other halfe towarde the vttermost sea, and shal continue both sommer and wynter.

Abdias.1.b. 9 And the Lorde hym selfe shalbe kyng ouer al the earth: At that tyme shal there be one Lord only, and his name shalbe but one.

10 Al the lande shalbe turned as a playne from Gibea to Remmon towardes ỹ south of Hierusalem: She shalbe set vp, and inhabited in her place, from Beniamins port vnto the place of the first port, and vnto the corner port, and from the towre of Hananeel vnto the kynges wyne presses.

2.Esd.3.f. Iere.41.f.

11 There shal men dwel, and there shalbe no more destruction, but Hierusalem shalbe safely inhabited.

12 This shalbe the plague wherewith the Lord wyl smyte al people that haue fought agaynst Hierusalem, their fleashe shal consume away, though they stande vpon their feete, their eyes shalbe corrupt in their holes, and their tongue shal consume in their mouth.

13 In that day shal the Lord make a great sedition among them: so that one man shal take another by the hande, and lay his handes vpon the handes of his neyghbour.

14 Juda shal fyght agaynst Hierusalem, & the armies of al the heathen shalbe geathered togeather rounde about with gold & siluer, & a very great multitude of apparel.

C Zach.12.a.

15 And this plague shal goe ouer Horses, Mules, Camels, Asses, and al the beastes that shalbe in ỹ host, lyke as yonder plague was.

16 Euery one that remayneth then of al the people whiche came agaynst Hierusalem, shal goe vp yeere by yeere to worship the kyng (euen) the Lord of hostes, and to kepe the feast of tabernacles.

Leuit. 23.f. Num.29.b.

17 And looke what generation vpon the earth goeth not to Hierusalem for to worshyp the kyng the Lorde of hostes, vpon the same shal come no rayne.

18 If the kynred of Egypt goe not vp, and come not, it shal not (rayne) vpon them: This shalbe the plague wherewith the Lorde wyl smyte al the heathen that come not vp to keepe the feast of tabernacles, 19 Yea this shalbe the plague of Egypt, and the plague of al people that goe not vp to keepe the feast of tabernacles.

20 At that tyme shal the riding geare of horses be holy vnto the Lord: the kettles in the Lordes house shalbe lyke the basons before the aulter.

21 Yea, al the kettles in Hierusalem and Juda shalbe holy vnto the Lorde of hostes: and al they that slay offerynges, shal come and take of them, and seethe therein: And at that tyme there shalbe no more Chananites in the house of the Lorde of hostes.

The ende of the prophecie of Zacharias.

The booke of the prophete Malachias.

The fyrſt Chapter.

A complaynt agaynſt Iſrael, and cheefely the prieſtes.

A 1 THE (a) burden of the woꝛde of the loꝛd to Iſrael, by the miniſterie of Malachi.

(a) That is, the greeuous and threatnyng prophecie.

2 I haue loued you, ſayth the Loꝛde: yet ye ſay, Wherein haſt thou loued vs? (b) Was not Eſau Jacobs bꝛother, ſayth the Loꝛd, yet loued I Jacob?

(b) In our election is gods great loue to vs warde declared.

3 And I hated Eſau, and made his mountaynes waſte, and his heritage a wylderneſſe foꝛ dꝛagons.

4 Though Edom ſay, we are impouerißhed, but we wyl returne and buylde the deſolate places: yet ſayth the Loꝛde of hoſtes, They ſhal builde, but I wyl deſtroy: and they ſhal cal them, The boꝛder of wickedneſſe, and the people with whom the Loꝛde is angry foꝛ euer.

5 And your eyes ſhal ſee: and you ſhal ſay, The Loꝛd wyl be magnified vpon the boꝛders of Iſrael.

6 A ſonne honoureth his father, and a ſeruant his maiſter: If then I be a father, where is mine honour: if I be a maiſter, where is my feare, ſayth the Loꝛde God of hoſtes to you O ye prieſtes that deſpiſe my name? and ye ſay, Wherein haue we deſpiſed thy name?

B 7 Ye offer vpon myne aulter (c) vncleane bꝛead, and ſay, Wherein haue we polluted thee? In that ye ſay, The table of the Loꝛde is not to be regarded.

(c) Vnpure ſacrifices: for by bread in ſcripture, is ſignified thynges nourysh.

8 When ye bꝛyng the blinde foꝛ ſacrifice (you ſay) it is not euyl: and when ye bꝛyng the lame and ſycke (you ſay) it is not euil: offer it nowe (d) to thy prince, wyl he be content with thee, oꝛ accepte thy perſon, ſayth the Loꝛde of hoſtes?

(d) Thou offereſt that to me, whiche thou art aſhamed to geue to a mortal man, ſo greatly doeſt thou contemne my lawe.

9 And nowe I pꝛay you, pꝛay befoꝛe God, that he may haue mercy vpon vs (this (euyl) hath ben done by your meanes) wyl he regarde your perſons, ſayth the Loꝛd of hoſtes?

10 Who is there euen among you that would ſhut the dooꝛes, and kindle not fire on mine aulter in vayne? (e) I haue no pleaſure in you, ſayth the Loꝛde of hoſtes, neyther wyl I accept an offeryng at your hande.

(e) Againſt al thoſe that folowe religion for lukers ſake.

11 From the riſing of the ſunne vnto the goeyng downe of the ſame, my name is great among the gentiles, & in euery place (f) incenſe ſhalbe offered to my name, and a pure offeryng: foꝛ my name is great among the very heathen, ſayth the Loꝛde of hoſtes.

(f) Al nations ſhal cal vpon my name: for incenſe doth ſignifie the woorſhip of God.

12 But ye haue (g) polluted it, in that ye ſay, The table of the Loꝛd is polluted, and the fruite thereof, (euen) his meate is not to be regarded.

(g) The gentiles ſhal honourme: but you defyle my name. Thus are you farre woorſe then they, whom you iudge moſt vile.

13 And ye ſaid, Beholde (it is) a weerineſſe, and you haue ſnuffed at it, ſayth the Loꝛde of hoſtes, and ye haue offred the ſtolne, and the lame, and the ſicke, ye haue offered an offeryng: ſhoulde I accept this of your handes, ſayth the Loꝛde?

14 Curſed be the deceiptful whiche hath in his flocke a male, and voweth, and ſacrificeth a coꝛrupt thyng to the Loꝛde: becauſe I am a great king, ſaith the loꝛd of hoſtes, and my name is feareful among the heathen.

The.ii. Chapter.

Threatninges agaynſt the prieſtes, being ſeducers of the people.

1 AND nowe, O ye prieſtes, this commaundement is foꝛ you. A

2 If ye wil not heare it, noꝛ regard it, to geue the glozy to my name, ſayth the Loꝛde of hoſtes, I wyl ſende a curſe vpon you, and wyl curſe your bleſſynges, yea I haue curſed them alredy, becauſe ye do not conſyder it in your hart.

3 Beholde, I wyl (a) coꝛrupt your ſeede, and caſt (b) doung on your faces (euen) the doung of your ſolemne feaſtes, and you ſhalbe lyke vnto it.

(a) God is the auᵭhor of ſcarſitie, leſt they ſhould impute it to any other cauſe.

(b) I wyl bring you to confuſion & ſhame.

4 And you ſhal knowe that I haue ſent this commaundement vnto you, that my couenant whiche I haue made with Leui might ſtande, ſayth the Loꝛde of hoſtes.

5 My couenant was with hym of lyfe and peace, and I gaue them hym (foꝛ) the feare wherewith he feared me, and was afrayde befoꝛe my name.

6 The lawe of trueth was in his mouth, and there was no iniquitie founde in his lyppes, lippes, he (c) walked with me (d) in peace and (e) in equitie, and he turned many from their iniquitie.

7 (f) For the priestes lyppes shall keepe knowledge, and they shal seeke the lawe at his mouth: because he is the messenger of the Lorde of hostes.

8 But ye haue gone out of the way, ye haue caused many to fal by the law, ye haue corrupted the couenant of Leui, saith the Lord of hostes.

9 Therefore haue I also made you despised and vyle before al the people, because you kept not my wayes, but haue benne partial in the lawe.

10 Haue we not al one father? hath not God made vs al? why then is euery one deceyued of his brother, to violate the couenant of our fathers.

11 Juda hath offended, and abomination is committed in Israel & in Hierusalem: for Juda hath defiled the holynesse of the Lord whiche he loued, and hath married the daughter of a strange god.

12 The Lorde wyl destroye the man that dooth this, both the " rayser vp and the answerer out of the tabernacle of Jacob, & him that offereth an offering vnto the Lord of hostes.

13 (g) And this againe haue ye donne in couering the aulter of the Lorde with teares, with weepyng and mournyng, and therefore there is no more respect to the offering, neyther acceptable receyuyng of it at your handes.

14 Yet ye say, Wherein? Because the Lord hath benne witnesse betweene thee and the wyfe of thy youth, agaynst whom thou hast transgressed, yet is she thyne owne companion, and the wyfe of thy couenant.

15 And dyd not he make one? yet had he abundance of spirite: And wherefore one? Because he sought a godly seede: therfore keepe your selues in your spirite, and let none transgresse agaynst the wyfe of his youth.

16 If thou hatest her, put her away, sayth the Lorde God of Israel: yet he couereth the iniurie vnder his garment, sayth the Lorde of hostes, and be ye kept in your spirite, and transgresse not.

17 Ye haue wearyed the Lorde with your wordes, & you haue sayd, Wherin haue we wearyed him? Whylest you say, Euery one that dooth euyl, is good in the syght of the Lorde, and he is pleased in them: or where is the God of iudgement?

(c) To walke with God, is to walke accordyng to his wyl.
(d) Towards God and towardes men.
(e) Al peace is not commended, but that which is in equitie: the consent of the wicked is to be auoyded, because it is not in trueth.
(f) The priest therfore must be learned in the lawe, otherwyse the people seeke an answere at his mouth in vayne.
" or, the question mouuer.
(g) Not contented with one wickednes, you wylfully fal into another.

The. iii. Chapter.

Of the messenger of the Lorde Iohn Baptist, and of Christes office.

1 BEholde, I wyl sende my messenger, and he shal prepare the way before me, and the Lorde (a) whom ye seeke, shal speedily come to his temple, and the messenger of the couenant whom ye desire, behold he commeth, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

2 But who maye abide the day of his commyng? and who shal stand when he appeareth? for he is lyke a purgyng fire, and like Fullers sope.

3 And he shal sit downe to trye and fine the siluer, & he shal purge the children of Leui, and purifie them as golde & siluer: and they shal bryng vnto the Lord offerynges in righteousnesse.

4 Then shal the (b) offerynges of Juda and Hierusalem be acceptable vnto the Lord as in olde tyme, and as in the yeeres afore.

5 And I wyl comme neare to you in iudgement, and I wyl be a (c) swyft witnesse agaynst the (d) soothsayers, and agaynst the adulterers, and against false swearers, and agaynst those that wrongfully keepe backe the hyrelynges wages, and vexe the widow and the fatherlesse, and oppresse the stranger, and feare not me, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

6 For I am the Lord, I change not: and ye sonnes of Jacob are not consumed.

7 From the dayes of your fathers ye are gone awaye from mine ordinances, & haue not kept (them:) turne you to me, and I wil turne to you, sayth the Lorde of hostes. And ye sayde, Wherein shal we returne?

8 Wyl a man (e) spoyle his goddes? yet ye haue spoyled me; and ye say, Wherin haue we spoyled thee? In tythes and offeringes.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse, and me haue ye spoyled, euen this whole nation.

10 Bryng euery tythe into the store house, that there maye be meate in myne house, and prooue me withal, sayth the Lorde of hostes: yf I wyl not open the wyndowes of heauen vnto you, and powre you out a blessyng without measure.

11 And I wyl reproone the deuourer for your sakes, and he shal not destroy the fruit of the ground, neyther shal your vine be baren in the feeld, sayth the Lord of hostes.

12 And al nations shal cal you blessed: because you shalbe a pleasant lande, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

13 Your woordes haue ben stoute agaynst me, sayth the Lorde: and you sayde, Wherin haue we spoken agaynst thee?

14 Ye haue sayde, (It is but) vayne to serue God,

A

(a) Though not as you shoulde: for you seeke an earthly Messias, and a worldly kingdome.
(b) When Christe shal haue cleansed his, and reconciled them to his father again, then shal their seruice be accepted.
(c) Offenders thynke them selues safe, if they may denye theyr faulte: but when the iudge hym selfe is a witnesse against them, they shall not escape.
(d) Soothsaying not inferior to adulterie, swearyng, and such like vices, with whom it is here numbered.
(e) Such regarde hath God to his ministers & poore members, that he thinketh him selfe robbed when they are defrauded.

God, and what profite (is it) that we haue kept his commaundement, & that we haue walked humbly before the face of the Lord of hostes?

15 And nowe we cal the proude happie: yea, the woorkers of wickednesse are set vp, and also they that tempt God, yea, they are delyuered.

16 Then they that feared God, sayd euery one to his neyghbour, and the Lorde consydered and hearde, and there was wrytten a boke of remembrance before him, for them that feared the Lorde, and for them that thynke vpon his name.

17 And they shalbe to me, sayth the Lord of hostes, in that day wherin I shal do (iudgement) a flocke, and I wyl spare them as a man spareth his owne sonne which serueth hym.

18 Then shal ye returne, and discerne betweene the iust and the wicked, betweene hym that serueth God, and hym that serueth hym not.

The .iiii. Chapter.

The day of the Lord, before the which Elias shoulde comme.

1 FOR marke, the day commeth burnyng lyke an Ouen: and al the proude, and al that woorke wickednesse shalbe stubble, and the day that is for to come shal burne them, sayth the Lorde of hostes, and shal leaue them neyther roote nor branche. A

2 But to you that feare my name shal that sonne of ryghteousnesse aryse, and health shalbe vnder his wynges: and ye shal goe foorth and skyppe lyke fatte calues.

3 And ye shal treade downe the vngodly: for they shalbe dust vnder the soles of your feete in the day that I shal doo this, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

4 Remember the lawe of Moses my seruant, whiche I commaunded hym in Horeb for al Israel, with the ordinances and iudgementes.

5 Beholde, I wyl sende you Elias the prophet, before the commyng of the great and feareful day of the Lord. Mathew 17. 10.

6 He shal turne the hart of the fathers to theyr chyldren, and the hart of the chyldren to theyr fathers, lest I come and smyte the earth with cursyng.

The first Chapter.

1. Iosias appoynteth priestes and keepeth the passouer. 7. Offeringes for the priestes and the people. 23. The vpright lyfe of Iosias. 53. The destruction of Hierusalem.

A 1 AND Iosias helde the feast of Easter in Hierusalem vnto his lord, and offered the passeouer the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

2.Chr.25.a 2.king.23.c

2 He set the priestes also in order accordyng to their dayly course, beyng arayed in long garments, in the temple of the Lorde.

3 And he spake vnto the Leuites the holye ministers of Israel, that they should halow themselues vnto the Lorde, to set the holy arke of the Lorde in the house that kyng Solomō the sonne of Dauid had buylded,

4 And sayd, Ye shal no more beare the arke vpon your shoulders: and nowe serue the Lord your God, and take the charge of his people Israel, and prepare you after your villages and tribes,

5 Accordyng as kyng Dauid the kyng of Israel hath left in writing, & " accordyng as Solomon his sonne hath honourably prepared, and standyng eche of you in that degree of authoritie whiche in the distribution was appoynted vnto your fathers the Leuites, in the presence of your brethren the chyldren of Israel:

" or, accordyng to Solomon his sonnes great liberalitie.

6 Offer the passeouer in order, and make redy the sacrifices for your brethren, and keepe (the passeouer) accordyng to the commaundement of the Lorde whiche was geuen vnto Moses.

B 7 And vnto the people that was founde there, Iosias gaue thirtie thousand lāmes and kiddes, and three thousande calues. These thynges were geuen of the kynges owne possessions, according as he promised to the people, to the Priestes, and to the Leuites.

8 And Helkias, and Zacharias, and Syelus the gouernours of the temple, gaue to the priestes for the passouer two thousand and fiue hundred sheepe, & three hūdred calues.

9 Moreouer Iechonias, and Samaias, and Nathanael his brother, and Sabias, and Ochiel, and Ioram, captaynes ouer thousandes, gaue to the Leuites for the passeouer, fiue thousande sheepe, and seuen hundred calues.

10 And when these thynges were brought to passe, the Priestes and Leuites stoode goodly in their order, and had the vnleauened bread throughout the tribes.

11 And after the degrees of preeminence appointed to their fathers, to offer to the Lorde in the sight of the people, according as it is written in the booke of Moses: and thus dyd they in the morning.

12 And they rosted the Easter lambe with fire, as accordyng was: as for the offerynges, they dight them in kettles and pottes with good sauours, 13 And set them before all them of the people, and afterward they prepared for them selues and the priestes their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

14 For the priestes offered the fat, " vntyll the tyme was expired, & the Leuites prepared for them selues, and for the priestes their brethren the chyldren of Aaron.

C " or, vntyl the cuenyng tyme.

15 The holy singers also the chyldren of Asaph, stoode in their orders accordyng as Dauid deuised, to wit, Asaph, " Zacharias, and Iduthun, whiche was appoynted by the kyng.

" or, Azaras and Eddinus.

16 Moreouer, the (porters and) doore keepers stoode by the doores (and that diligently,) so that none went out of his " standyng and seruices, for their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

" or, his watche, or turne and course.

17 Thus were all thinges perfourmed that belonged to the offeryng of the Lorde in that day, that they myght holde the passeouer, 18 And offer sacrifices vpon the aulter of the Lorde, accordyng to the commaundement of kyng Iosias.

19 So the chyldren of Israel whiche were then present, held a (honourable) passeouer, and the feast of sweete bread seuen dayes long:

20 Yea suche a passeouer was not kept in Israel, from the tyme of the prophete Samuel.

D

21 And all the kynges of Israel helde not such an Easter as this which kyng Iosias helde, and the Priestes, the Leuites, the Iewes, & al Israel, of al them that " were at Hierusalem.

" or, founde dwellyng at Hierusalem.

22 In the eyghteenth yeere of the raigne of Iosias was this passeouer kept.

23 And with an hart ful of godlynesse dyd kyng Iosias ryghtly order al his woorkes before the Lorde.

24 And the thinges that came to passe in his tyme, they were written of olde before those dayes, concernyng those that sinned, and were vngodly agaynst the Lord aboue al people and kyngdomes, and howe they greeued hym in seruyng sensible thynges, so that the wordes of the Lorde rose vp agaynst Israel.

25 Nowe after all these actes of Iosias, it came to passe that Pharao the kyng of Egypt came to Carthamis vpō Euphrates to moue warre: & Iosias went out against hym.

26 But the kyng of Egypt sent to hym, sayeing, What haue I to doo with thee, O kyng of Iudea?

27 I am not sent of the Lorde God agaynst thee, for my warre is vpō Euphrates, and nowe the Lorde is with me, yea the Lorde maketh diligent * speede with me: depart from me, and be not agaynst the Lorde.

* or, haste.

℣ 28 Howbeit Iosias wouldе not turne backe his chariot from hym, but vndertooke to fight with hym, and hearkened not to the wordes of the prophete Ieremie spoken by the mouth of the Lorde:

29 But pitched a battayle agaynst hym in the feelde of * Mageddo: and the princes preasled to kyng Iosias.

* or, Megidda.

30 Then sayd the kyng vnto his seruantes, Cary me away out of the battayle, for I am very weake. And immediatly his seruantes tooke hym away out of the fruut of the battayle.

31 Then gate he vp vpon his seconde charret, came to Hierusalem, dyed, and was buryed in his fathers sepulchre.

32 And in al Iurie they mourned for Iosias, yea Ieremie the prophet lamented for Iosias, and the rulers also with their wyues made lamentation for him vnto this day, and it became a custome to be done continually in al the kinred of Israel.

33 These things are written in the booke of the storyes of the kynges of Iuda: and al the actes of Iosias, and his glory, and vnderstandyng in the lawe of the Lorde, and the thinges which he had done before, and that was now (recited) are written in the booke of the kinges of Israel and Iuda.

3.Reg.23.f 2.Chr.26.a

34 And the people tooke Iechonias the sonne of Iosias, & made him king in steede of Iosias his father, when he was twentie and three yeeres olde.

(a) This place is corrupt, & thus it seemeth to be: As for Ioacim and his rulers he bounde, and hauing take his brother Zaracen, led them away into Egypt.

35 And he raigned in Iuda and in Hierusalem three monethes: and then the kyng of Egypt put him downe from raignyng in Hierusalem:

36 And rayled vp a taxe of the people, namely an hundred talentes of siluer, and one talent of golde.

37 The kyng of Egypt also made Ioacim his brother king of Iuda & Hierusalem.

38 (a) And (thus) he * bounde Ioacim and his gouernours: but Zaracen his brother he apprehended, and led away with him into Egypt.

* or, established.

39 Fiue and twentie yeeres olde was Ioacim when he was made king in the lande of Iuda and Hierusalem, and he dyd euill before the Lorde.

40 Wherefore against him Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon came vp, & bound him with bandes of iron, and caryed hym vnto Babylon.

41 Nabuchodonosor also tooke of the holy vessels of the Lorde, caryed them away, and set them in his owne Temple at Babylon.

42 But all his actes, and his prophanation and reproche, are written in the Chronicles of the kinges.

43 And Ioachin his sonne raigned in his steede. He was made king being eyghteene yeeres olde, 44 And raigned but three monethes and ten dayes in Hierusalem, and dyd euyl before the Lorde.

45 So after a yeere Nabuchodonosor sent, and caused him to be brought vnto Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lorde, 46 And made Zedechias king of Iuda and Hierusalem when he was twentie and one yeeres olde, and he raigned a leuen yeeres.

47 And he dyd euyll also in the sight of the Lorde, and cared not for the wordes that were spoken vnto him by the prophete Ieremie from the mouth of the Lorde.

Iere.38. verse.21.

48 And where he had made an othe vnto king Nabuchodonosor, he forswore hym selfe by the name of the Lorde, and hardened his necke and heart, and transgressed the lawes of the Lorde God of Israel. G

49 The gouernours also of the people and priestes dyd many thinges agaynst the lawes, and passed all the pollutions of all nations, & defiled the temple of the Lorde whiche was sanctified in Hierusalem.

50 Wherefore the god of their fathers sent his (b) messenger to call them backe, because he spared them and his tabernacle also.

(b) Meanyng Ieremie.

51 But they had his messengers in derision: and looke when the lord spake vnto them, they made a sport of his prophetes.

52 This drewe on so long tyll the Lorde was wroth with his people for their great vngodlinesse, so that he caused the kinges of the Chaldees to come vp against them:

53 Whiche slue their young men with the swoorde, yea * euen in the compasse of their holy temple, and spared no body, neither young man nor mayden, olde man nor childe among them.

* or, round about their.

54 But they were all deliuered into theyr handes, handes, and al the holy veſſels of the Lorde both great and ſmal, with the veſſels of the arke of GOD: and they tooke and caryed away the kynges treaſure into Babylon.

55 As for the houſe of the Lorde, they went vp into it, and brent it, brake downe the walles of Hieruſalem, ſet fire vpon her towres,

56 Deſtroyed al her * noble buyldynges, & brought them to nought, and the people that were not ſlaine with the ſword, he caryed vnto Babylon:

57 Whiche became ſeruantes to hym and his chyldren, tyl the Perſians raigned, to fulfil the woorde of the Lorde (ſpoken) by the mouth of Ieremias:

58 Tyl the lande had fully * taken her eaſe from them, whiche tooke that eaſe al the tyme ſhe lacked her inhabitantes, to the ende and tearme of ſeuentie yeeres.

* or, precious thinges.

* or, keapt her Sabbothes.

The .ii. Chapter.

1. Cyrus gaue leaue to the Iewes to returne. 13 The names of them that returned. 16. Their aduerſaries dyd let their buyldyng, 17. and the kynges letters for the ſame.

A 1 NOwe when king Cyrus raigned ouer the Perſians in his firſt yeere, when the Lorde woulde perfourme the woorde that he had promiſed by the mouth of (the prophete) Ieremie:

2 The Lord rayſed vp the ſpirite of Cyrus the kyng of the Perſians, ſo that he cauſed this writing to be proclaymed throughout his whole realme,

3 Sayeing, Thus ſayth Cyrus kyng of the Perſians, The Lorde of Iſrael, that hygh Lorde, hath made me kyng of the whole worlde:

4 And commaunded me to buylde hym an houſe at Hieruſalem in Iurie.

5 If there be any now of you that are of his people, let the Lorde, euen his Lorde, be with hym, and let hym goe vp to Hieruſalem that is in Iudea, and buylde the houſe of the Lorde of Iſrael, that is, the Lorde that dwelleth in Hieruſalem.

6 And al they that dwel rounde about that place, ſhal helpe hym, al that dwel in his place I ſay, whether it be with gold, with ſiluer,

B 7 With gyftes, with horſes, and neceſſarie cattel, and al other thynges that are brought with a freewyl to the * houſe of the Lorde at Hieruſalem.

* or, temple

8 Then the principal menne out of the tribes and villages of Iuda and Beniamin ſtoode vp: ſo dyd the Prieſtes alſo and the Leuites, and al they whoſe mynd the Lord had moued to goe vp, and to buylde the houſe of the Lorde at Hieruſalem.

9 And they that dwelt about them, helped them in al thinges, with ſiluer and golde, horſes, and cattel, and with * many free gyftes of many menne, whoſe mindes were ſtirred vp thereto.

* or, ſundry vowes of ſundry men.

10 Kyng Cyrus alſo brought foorth the veſſels and ornamentes that were halowed vnto the Lorde, whiche Nabuchodonoſor had caryed away from Hieruſalem, and conſecrated them to his idol (and image.)

11 And hauyng brought them foorth, he deliuered thē to Mithridates his treaſourer.

12 And by hym they were delinered to Abaſſar the deputie in Iurie.

13 And this was the number of them: a thouſande golden cuppes, and a thouſande of ſiluer, baſons of ſiluer twentie and niene for the ſacrifices, vials of golde thirtie, and of ſiluer two thouſande foure hundred and ten, and a thouſand other veſſels.

C 14 So al the veſſels of golde and ſiluer whiche they caryed away, were fiue thouſande, foure hundred, threeſcore and niene.

15 Theſe were brought by Salmanaſar, with them of the captiuitie, from Babylon to Hieruſalem.

16 But in the tyme of Artaxerxes kyng of the Perſians, Belemus, and Mithridates, and Tabelius, and Rathumus, and Beeltethmus, and Semellius the ſecretarie, with other that were ioyned to thē, dwellyng in Samaria and other places, wrote vnto hym againſt thē that dwelt in Iudea and Hieruſalem, theſe letters folowyng:

To the kyng Artaxerxes our lorde.

17 Thy ſeruantes, Rathumus the ſtorie writer, and Semellius the ſecretarie, and the reſt of their counſel, and the iudges that are in Coeloſyria and Phenice:

18 Be it now knowen to our lord the kyng, that the Iewes which are comme vp from you vnto vs into the rebellious and wicked citie, begin to buylde the market places, and to make vp the walles about it, and to ſet vp the temple a newe.

19 Nowe if this citie and the walles therof be ſet vp agayne, they ſhal not onely refuſe to geue tributes (and taxes) but alſo rebel vtterly againſt kynges.

20 And forſomuche as they take this in hande now about the temple, we thought it reaſon to thinke no ſcorne of it:

D 21 But to ſhewe it vnto the lorde the kyng, to the intent that if it pleaſe the kyng, he may cauſe it to be ſought in the bookes of olde,

22 And thou ſhalt finde in recordes hereof written, & ſhalt vnderſtande that this citie hath alway beme rebellious and disobedient, that it hath troubled kynges and cities, 23 And that the Iewes were rebellious, and rayſed alwayes warres therein: for the whiche cause this citie is walted.

24 Wherefore nowe we certifie our lorde the kyng, that if this citie be buylded (and occupyed) agayne, and the walles therof ſet vp a newe, thou canſt haue no paſſage into Coeloſyria and Phenice.

25 Then wrote the kyng to Rathumus the * ſtory writer, to Beeltethmus, to Semellius the ſcribe, & to the other officers and dwellers in Samaria, and Syria, and Phenice, after this maner.

* or, regiſter.

26 I haue read the epiſtle whiche ye ſent vnto me: therfore I commaunded to make diligent ſearche, and haue founde that this citie hath euer reſiſted kynges, 27 That the ſame people are diſobedient, & haue cauſed much warre, and that mighty kinges haue raigned in Hieruſalem, which alſo haue rayſed vp taxes of Coeloſyria and Phenice.

℣ 28 Wherefore I haue commaunded to forbyd thoſe menne that they ſhal not buylde vp the citie, & heede to be taken that there be no more donne in it:

29 And that they proceede no further in thoſe wicked woorkes, forſomuche as it might be occaſion of trouble vnto princes.

30 Now when Rathumus, and Semellius the ſcribe had read the writing of king Artaxerres, they gate them together, and came in al the haſte to Hieruſalem, with an hoſt of horſemen, and with muche people on foote, 31 And forbad them to buylde: and ſo they left of from buyldyng of the temple, vnto the ſeconde yeere of kyng Darius, kyng of the Perſians.

The. iii. Chapter.

1. The feaſt of Darius. 16. The three wyſe ſentences.

A 1 KYng Darius made a great feaſt vnto his * ſeruantes, vnto al his court, and to al the officers of Medea & Perſia,

* or, ſubiectes.

2 Yea to al the gouernours and captaynes, and lieſetenantes that were vnder hym, from India vnto Ethiopia, an hundred and twentie and ſeuen * countreys.

* or, prouinces.

3 So when they had eaten and dronken, being ſatisfied, and were gonne home againe, Darius the kyng went into his chamber, layde hym downe to ſleepe, and after that awaked.

* or, were of the garde.

4 Then the three young menne that * kept the kynges perſon, and watched his body, (communed among them ſelues, and) ſpake one to another,

5 Let euery one of vs ſpeake a ſentence, and looke who ſhal ouercome, & whoſe ſentence may ſeeme wyſer then the others, vnto him ſhal kyng Darius geue great gyftes, and great thynges, in token of victorie:

6 As to weare purple, to dronke in golde, and to ſleepe in golde, and a chariot with bridles of golde, and an * head tyre of fine linnen, and a chayne about his necke:

* or, a ſilken bonet.

7 Yea he ſhal ſit next to Darius, becauſe of his wiſedome, and ſhalbe called Darius coſin.

8 So euery one wrote his * meaning, ſealed it, and layde it vnder kyng Darius pelowe,

* or, ſentence.

9 And ſayde, When the king aryſeth, they would geue hym the writynges, and looke whoſe woorde the kyng & the three princes of Perſia ſhal iudge to be the moſt wiſely ſpoken, the ſame ſhal haue the victorie as it was appoynted.

10 One wrote, Wine is a ſtrong thyng.

11 The ſeconde wrote, The king is ſtrong.

12 The thirde wrote, Women haue very muche ſtrength, but aboue al thynges the trueth beareth away the victorie.

13 Nowe when the king was ryſen vp, they tooke their writinges, and deliuered them vnto hym, and ſo he read them.

14 Then ſent he foorth to cal al his cheefe Lordes of Perſia, and of Media, and the rulers, and the captaynes, & lieſetenantes, and conſuls: ℭ

15 And when he had ſet hym downe in the counſel, the writynges were read before them.

16 And he commaunded to cal for the young menne, that they myght declare their * meaninges them ſelues by mouth. So they were ſent for, and came in.

* or, ſentences.

17 And then he ſayde vnto them, Shewe vs, and make vs to vnderſtande what the thinges are that ye haue written. Then beganne the firſt, whiche had ſpoken of the ſtrength of wine, 18 And ſayd thus, O ye menne, how ſtrong is wine, that deceiueth al menne whiche drinke it?

19 It maketh the kynges mynde and the fatherleſſe to be both one, the bondmans and the free, the poore mans and the riche.

20 It turneth alſo euery thought into ioy and gladneſſe, ſo that a man remembreth neyther heauyneſſe nor debt.

21 And it maketh euery hart (thinke it ſelfe) riche, ſo that a man remembreth neyther kyng nor gouernour, & it maketh to ſpeake al thynges by talentes.

22 Moreouer, when menne haue dronke, they forgeat all freendſhip and brotherly faythfulneſſe, and a litle after they drawe out ſwordes:

23 And afterwardes when they are from the wyne, they remember nothyng what was donne.

24 O ye menne, is not wyne the ſtrongeſt, that thus enforceth (menne) to doo? And when he had ſpokē this, he helde his peace.

The.iiii.Chapter.

1. Of the ſtrengrh of a kyng. 13. Of the ſtrength of women. 34. Of the ſtrength of trueth, whiche ſentence is approued, 47. and his petition graunted.

1 THen the ſeconde that had ſpoken of the ſtrength of the kyng, began to ſay,

A 2 O ye menne, are not menne the ſtrongeſt of al, that conquer both by lande and ſea, & al the thynges that are in them?

3 Nowe is the kyng ſtronger, as lorde of al theſe thynges, and that hath the dominion ouer them: and looke what he commaundeth them, it is al donne.

4 If he byd them the one agaynſt the other to make warre, they doo it: if he ſend them out agaynſt the enimies, they goe & breake downe mountaynes, walles, and towres.

5 They ſlay and are ſlayne, and ouerpaſſe not the kynges commaundement: if they geat the victory, they bring al to the kyng, ſo wel the ſpoyle as other thynges.

6 Lykewyſe the other that meddle not with warres and fightyng, but tyl the grounde: when they haue ſowen and reaped, they bryng to the kyng, and compel one another to pay his tribute vnto the kyng.

7 And yf the kyng, though he be but one man, commaunde to kil, they kil, yf he commaunde to " forgeue, they forgeue:

B 8 If he commaunde to ſmite, they ſmyte, yf he byd " dryue away, they dryue away, yf he commaunde to buylde, they buylde:

" or, to ſpare, they ſpare.

9 If he commaunde to breake downe, they breake downe, yf he commaunde to plant, they plant.

" or, make waſte, they make waſte.

10 " So the common people and the rulers are obedient vnto him, and the kyng in the meane ſeaſon ſytteth hym downe, eateth and drynketh, and taketh his reſt.

" or, ſo al his people and al his armies obey vnto one.

11 And theſe keepe hym rounde about, and not one of them dare geat him out of the way to doo his owne buſineſſe, " but muſt be obedient vnto the kyng at a woorde.

" or, neyther diſobeye they hym in any thyng.

12 Iudge ye nowe, O ye menne, how ſhould not the kyng goe farre aboue, when in ſuch ſort he is obeyed? And (when he had ſpoken thus) he helde his tongue.

13 The thirde (whoſe name was Zorobabel) whiche had ſpoken of women, & of trueth, begamne to ſay (after this manner.)

14 O ye menne, it is not the great kyng, it is not the multitude of menne, neyther is it C wine that excelleth. Who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordſhippe ouer them? is it not women?

15 Women haue borne the kyng, and al the people whiche beare rule by ſea and by lande.

16 And euen of them were they borne, and they brought thoſe vp that planted the vines, whereof the wine commeth.

17 They make garmentes for menne, they geat honour vnto menne, and without women, can not menne continue.

18 Yea if they haue geathered togeather gold and ſiluer, or any other pretious thyng, doo they not loue a woman for her comely ſhape and beautie?

19 And lettyng al thoſe thynges goe, doo they not gape, and euen with open mouth fixe theyr eyes faſt on her? and haue not al men more deſyre vnto her, then vnto ſyluer & golde, or any manner of pretious thyng?

20 A man leaueth his owne father that Gene.2.b. brought hym vp, leaueth his owne natural Mat.19.a countrey, and cleaueth vnto his wyfe. 1.Cor.6.a

21 Yea, he " ieopardeth his lyfe with his D wyfe, and remembreth neyther father nor " paſſeth. mother, nor countrey.

22 By this alſo ye muſt needes knowe, that women haue dominion ouer you: doo ye not labour, and trauayle, and geue and bryng al to the woman?

23 A man taketh his ſwoorde, and goeth his way to ſteale, (to ky',) to murther, to ſayle vpon the ſea, and vpon riuers, 24 And ſeeth a Lion, and goeth in the darkneſſe: and when he hath ſtollen, " deceiued, " or, ſpoyled. and robbed, he bryngeth it vnto his loue.

25 Wherefore, a man loueth his wife better then father and mother:

26 Yea, many there be that runne out of theyr wits, and become bondmen for theyr " wyues ſake. " or, for womens.

27 Many one alſo haue periſhed, haue erred, and ſinned alſo for women.

28 And nowe doo ye not beleeue me? is not the kyng great in his power? doo not al regions feare to touche hym?

29 Yet dyd I ſee him, & Apame the daughter of the great kyng Bartacus the kynges concubine, ſate beſyde the kyng vpon the ryght hande, 30 And tooke of his crowne from his head, and ſet it vpon her owne head, and ſtroke the kyng with her leaft hande.

31 And therwhyle ſtedily the king loked vpō her with open mouth: if she laughed vpon him, he laughed also: but if she tooke any displeasure with hym, the kyng was fayne to flatter her (and to geue her good woords) til he had gotte̅ her fauour againe.

32 O ye menne, are not women then stronger, that doo these thinges?

33 Then ỳ kyng & the princes loked one vpon another: so he began to speake of the truth,

34 O ye menne, are not women stronger? Great is the earth, hygh is the heauen, swyft is the course of the sunne, he compasseth the heauens round about, and fetcheth his course agayne to his owne place in one day. Eccle.1.a

35 Is he not excellent that maketh these thynges? therefore great is the trueth, and stronger then al thinges.

36 Al the earth calleth vpon trueth, the heauen prayseth it, al woorkes shake and tremble at it, and with it is no vnryghteous thyng.

37 Wine is wicked, the kyng is wicked, women are wicked, al the chyldre̅ of menne are wicked, yea and suche are al their wicked woorkes, & there is no trueth in them, in their vnrighteousnesse also shal they (be destroyed and) perishe: E

38 As for the trueth it endureth, and is alway strong, it lyueth, and conquereth for euermore worlde without ende. Esai.40.a Psal.117.a.

39 With her there is no exception or difference of persons, but she dooth that iust is, and refrayneth from al vniust and wicked things, & al men do wel lyke of her woorkes.

40 In the iudgement of it there is no vnryghteous thyng, and she is the strength, kyngdome, power, and maiestie of al ages. Blessed be the God of trueth.

41 And with that he helde his peace: and al the people cryed, and then sayde, Great is trueth, and aboue al.

42 Then sayde the king vnto hym, Aske what thou wylt, more then is appoynted in the wryting, and we shal geue it thee, for thou art found wyser (then thy companions) thou shalt syt next me, and shalt be called my kinsman.

43 Then sayd he vnto the kyng, Remember thy (promise and) vowe whiche thou hast vowed (and promised) in the day when thou camest to the kingdome, to buylde vp Hierusalem:

44 And to sende agayne al the vessels (and iewels) that were taken away out of Hierusalem, whiche Cyrus set apart when he vowed to destroy Babylon, and to sende them agayne thyther. F

45 And thy minde was also to buylde vp the temple, which the Edomites burnt, when Iudea was destroyed by the Chaldees.

46 And nowe this only (O kyng) is ỳ thyng that I require and desire of thee, this is the princely liberalitie that I aske of thee, I desyre therefore, that thou performe the vowe, which thou with thyne owne mouth hast made vnto the kyng of heauen.

47 Then Darius the king stoode vp, and kissed hym, wrote him letters vnto al the deputies and liefetenantes, to al the lordes and nobles, that they shoulde conuey hym forth, & al them that went vp with him, to buylde Hierusalem. ii. Esd.ii.b.

48 He wrote letters also vnto al the liefetenantes that were in Coelosyria and Phenices, and vnto them in Libanus, that they shoulde bryng Cedar trees from Libanus vnto Hierusalem, and builde the citie with hym. 4. Esd.vi.d

49 Moreouer, he wrote for al the Iewes that were gonne out of his * realme into Iurie concernyng theyr freedome, that no officer, no ruler, no Liefetenant, nor Stewarde, shoulde enter into theyr doores: * or, kyngdome.

50 And that al theyr land which they kept, shoulde be free, and not tributary: and that the Edomites shoulde geue ouer the (cities and) villages of the Iewes which they had taken in:

51 Yea, and that there should be yeerely geuen twentie talentes to ỳ buyldyng of the temple, vntil the time that it were finished: G

52 And to maynteyne the whole burnt offerings vpon the aulter euery day, (as they had a commaundement to offer seuenteene) other ten talentes euery yeere.

53 And that al they whiche came from Babylon to builde the citie, shoulde haue free libertie, they and theyr chyldren, and al the priestes that went away.

54 He wrote also concerning the charges, & the priestes garment wherin they minister, 55 And lykewyse for the charges of the Leuites to be geuen them, vntyl the day that the house were finished, and Hierusalem buylded vp.

56 And he commaunded, that al they that watched the citie, shoulde haue theyr pensions and wages.

57 He sent away also al the vesselles that Cyrus had separated from Babylon: and al that Cyrus had geuen in commaundement, ỳ same charged he also that it should be donne, and sent vnto Hierusalem.

58 Nowe when this young man was gonne forth, he lyfted vp his face to heauen, towarde Hierusalem, and praysed the kyng of heauen,

59 And sayde, Of thee commeth victorie, of thee commeth wisdome, and thine is the glory, Eccle.1.a

glyry, and I am thy ſeruant.
60 Bleſſed art thou whiche haſt geuen me wyſedome, for to thee I acknowledge it, O Lorde (thou God) of our fathers.
61 And ſo he tooke the letters, and went out, and came vnto Babylon, and told it al his brethren.
62 And they praiſed the god of their fathers, that he hadde geuen them freedome and libertie, 63 To goe vp, and to buylde Hieruſalem and the temple, * wherein the name of the Lorde is called vpon: and they reioyced with inſtrumentes of muſicke & gladneſſe ſeuen dayes long.

38 Of the prieſtes that executed the office of the prieſthood, and were not founde, the ſonnes of Hobia, the ſonnes of Hacoz, the ſonnes of Addus, whiche maryed Augia, one of the daughters of Barzeleus, 39 And was named after hym: The wryting of the ſame kynrede, was ſought in the regiſter of theyr generation, but it was not founde, and therefore were they forbidden to execute the office of the prieſthood.

40 For vnto them ſayde Nehemias and Atharias, that they ſhoulde haue no portion in the ſanctuarie, tyl there roſe vp an hygh prieſt that were wel inſtruct in the playne clearenelſe and trueth.

41 So of Iſrael from them of twelue yeeres olde, and chyldren, they were al in number fourtie and two thouſande three hundred and three ſcore, beſides men ſeruantes and women ſeruantes.

44 And of their rulers alſo after their families, when they came to the temple of God G

45 And to geue into the holy treaſure of the woꝛkes, a thouſande poundes of golde, fiue thouſande of ſiluer, and an hundred precious garmentes.

46 And ſo dwelt the prieſtes and the Leuites and the people in Hieruſalem, and in the countrey (there about) the ſingers alſo and the poꝛters, and al Iſrael in theyr villages.

47 But when the ſeuenth moneth came, and 1.Eſd.3.1.
when the chyldren of Iſrael were euery man in his owne, they came altogeather with one conſent into the open place of the gate, whiche is towardes the eaſt.

48 And there Jeſus the ſonne of Joſedec, and his brethren the prieſtes, and Zoꝛobabel the ſonne of Salathiel and his brethꝛẽ, ryſing vp, made ready the aulter of the god of Iſrael, 49 To offer whole burnt ſacrifices vpon it, ſo as it is written in the lawe of Moſes the man of God.

50 And thyther were geathered agaynſt them, diuers of other nations of the lande: but they dreſſed the aulter in his owne place, although al the nations in the lande were enemies to them, and vexed them: and they offered ſacrifices to the Lord both mornyng and euenyng.

51 And alſo they helde the feaſt of tabernacles as it is * commaunded in the lawe, and ſacrifices dayly as it was appartey-nyng.

* or, ordey-ned.

52 And after that alſo the continual oblations, and the offeryuges of the ſabbothes, and of the newe moncthes, and of al holy feaſtes.

53 And al they whiche had made any vowe to God, began to offer ſacrifice to God, from the firſte day of the ſeuenth moneth, although the temple of the Lorde was not yet built vp.

54 And they gaue vnto the maſons and carpenters, money, meate, and drynke, with chearefulneſſe.

55 Unto them of Sidon alſo, and Tyre, they gaue carres, that they ſhoulde bryng Cedar trees from Libanus, whiche ſhould be brought by flote to the hauen Ioppe, accordyng as it was commaunded them by Cyrus kyng of the Perſians.

56 And in the ſeconde yeere and ſecond moneth, came into the temple of God at Hieruſalem, Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel, and Ieſus the ſonne of Joſedec, and theyr brethren, and the prieſtes and Leuites, and al they that were comme vnto Hieruſalem out of the captiuitie (of Babylon.)

Eccle. 29. b

57 And they layde the fundation of the houſe of God, in the * newe moone of the ſecond moneth, in the ſecond yeere that they were comme to Iurie and Hieruſalem.

* or, in the firſt day.

58 And they appoynted the Leuites that were aboue twentie yeeres olde, ouer the woorkes of the Lorde: ſo Ieſus, and his ſonne and brethren aſſiſted, and Cadmiel alſo his brother, and the ſonnes of Madiabon, with the ſonnes of Joda, the ſonne of Eliadon, and his ſonnes and brethren, euen al the Leuites with one accorde folowed on earneſtly to aduaunce the woorkes in the houſe of God: ſo the woorkemen built vp the temple of the Lorde.

59 And the prieſtes ſtoode, and had theyr garmentes, with muſical inſtrumentes, and trumpets, and the Leuites the ſonnes of Aſaph had Cymbales, 60 Geuyng thankes and prayſes vnto the Lord, accordyng as Dauid the king of Iſrael had ordayned.

1. Chr. 10. d

61 And they ſong with loude voyces, ſonges to the prayſe of the Lorde, becauſe his mercy and glory is for euer in Iſrael.

62 And al the people blew out with trumpettes, and cryed with loude voyce, prayſyng the Lord togeather for the rearyng vp of the houſe of the Lorde.

63 There came alſo from among the prieſtes and Leuites, and of the cheefeſt, according to the tribes and kynredes, to wite, the elders which had ſeene the former houſe, 1. Eſd. 3. a.

64 To the buyldyng of this, with great crye and great mourning, manye alſo with trumpets and (great) ioy cryed with loude voyce:

65 Inſomuche that the trumpettes myght not wel be hearde for the weeping and mournyng of the people: yet there was a great multitude that blewe trumpettes marueilouſly, ſo that it was hearde farre of.

1. Eſd. 4. a.

66 Wherfore, when the enimies of the tribes of Juda and Beniamin hearde it, they came to know what that noiſe of trumpets ſhoulde meane.

67 And they perceiued that they whiche were comme agayne out of captiuitie, built the temple vp a newe vnto the Lorde God of Iſrael.

68 So they went to Zorobabel and Ieſus, and to the rulers of the villages, and ſayde vnto them, Shal we builde with you alſo?

69 For we lykewyſe, as you, doo obey your Lorde, and doo ſacrifice vnto him from the dayes of Aſbazareth the kyng of Aſſyria, whiche brought vs hyther.

70 Then Zorobabel, and Ieſus, and the rulers of the villages of Iſrael, ſayde vnto them, It dooth not agree that ye ſhoulde buylde the temple of our God with vs.

71 We our ſelues alone wyl buylde vnto the Lord of Iſrael, as is meete, and lyke as Cyrus the king of the Perſians hath commaunded vs. 1. Eſd. 1. a.

72 But the heathen in the lande made them ſluggyſhe that were in Iurie, and ſundred them, and letted theyr buyldynges.

73 And by theyr embuſhmentes, ſeditions, and conſpiracies, ſtopped that the building coulde not be finiſhed, al the tyme that kyng Cyrus lyued, ſo that they put of the buyldyng for the ſpace of two yeeres, vntil the raigne of kyng Darius.

pheres, propheried vnto the Iewes, and to them in Iurie and Hierusalem, euen in the name of the Lorde God of Israel.

2 Then Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Jesus the sonne of Josedec, stoode vp, and began to builde the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem, when the prophetes of the Lorde were with them, and helped them.

3 At the same tyme, came Sisinnes the gouernour of Syria & Phenice, with Sathrabuzanes, and his companions, and sayde vnto them,

4 Who hath bidden (and commaunded) you to build this house, to make this roofe, and al other thynges agayne? and who are the " worlkemen that builde them?

" or, builders that dyd these thynges.

5 Neuertheleſſe, the elders of the Iewes had (such) grace of the Lorde, after he had visited the captiuitie,

6 That they were not letted from building, vntyl the tyme that kyng Darius was certified therof, and an answeare receiued (from him.)

B 7 The copie of the letters which he wrote, & sent vnto Darius. Sisinnes, gouernour of Syria and Phenice, & Sathrabuzanes, with theyr companions, whiche are head rulers in Syria and Phenice, sende theyr salutation vnto Darius the kyng.

8 We certifie our Lorde the kyng, that we came into the lande of Iurie, and went to Hierusalem, where we founde the auncientes of the Iewes, that were of the captiuitie, in the citie of Hierusalem,

9 Building an house vnto the Lorde, great and newe, of hewen and costly stones, and the tymber alredy layde vpon the walles:

10 Yea, they make great haste with the woorke, and it goeth foorth prosperously in theyr handes, and with great diligence and woorshyp is it made.

11 Then asked we the elders, sayeing, By whose commaundement build you vp this house, and lay the foundations of these woorkes?

12 Whiche we demaunded of them, to the intent that we might geue knowledge vnto thee, and wryte vnto thee of those that gouerned it: and we required of them theyr names in wryting, that were theyr cheefe leaders to it.

13 So they gaue vs this answeare, We are the seruantes of the Lorde, whiche made heauen and earth.

C 14 And as for this house, it was buylded many yeeres agone, by a kyng of Israel great and strong, and was finished. 3. Kin. 6. a 15 But when our fathers prouoked God vnto wrath, and sinned agaynst the Lorde of Israel, which is in heauen, he gaue them ouer into the power of Nabuchodonosor kyng of Babylon, of the Chaldees: 4. King. 24. Iere. 39.

16 Whiche brake downe the house, & burnt it, and caryed away the people prysoners vnto Babylon.

17 Neuertheleſſe, in the first yeere that kyng Cyrus raigned ouer the countreys of Babylon, Cyrus the king wrote (and commaunded) to builde vp this house (agayne.) 1. Esd. 5. a.

18 And the holy vessels of golde, and of siluer, that Nabuchodonosor had caryed away out of the house at Hierusalem, and had dedicated them in his owne temple: those brought Cyrus foorth agayne out of the temple at Babylon, and delyuered them to Zorobabel, and to Sanaballarus the ruler;

19 Commaunding him, that he should cary away those same vessells, and put them in the temple at Hierusalem, and that the temple of the Lorde shoulde be built in his (owne) place.

20 Then the same Sanaballarus beyng comme hyther, layde the fundations of the house of the Lord at Hierusalem, and from that to this, beyng styl a buyldyng, it is not yet fully ended.

D 21 Nowe therefore, O kyng, if thou thinkest it good, let it be sought in the libraries (and rolles) of kyng Cyrus:

22 And if it be founde then, that the buyldyng of the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem hath ben donne with the (counsel and) consent of kyng Cyrus, and yf our Lorde the kyng be so mynded, let him geue answeare vnto vs thereof.

23 Then commaunded kyng Darius to seeke in the kynges libraries at Babylon: and so at Ecbatane, a towre in the region of Medea, there was founde a place where these thynges was layde vp for " memorie. 1. Esd. 6. a 2. Esd. 4. c " or, remembrance.

24 In the firste yeere of the raigne of Cyrus, (the same) kyng Cyrus commaunded that the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem shoulde be builded agayne, where they doo sacrifice with the continual fyre.

25 Whose heigth shalbe sixtie cubites, and the breadth sixtie cubites, with three rowes of hewen stones, & one rowe of newe wood, and of that countrey, and the expences therof, to be geuen out of the house of kyng Cyrus:

26 And the holy vessels of the house of the Lord, both of golde and of syluer, that Nabuchodonosor tooke out of the house at Hierusalem, and brought to Babylon, shoulde be restored to the house at Hierusalem, and be set in the place where it was (before.)

27 And

27 And alſo he commaunded that Siſinnes the gouernour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuſanes, with their companyons, and other conſtituted rulers in Syria and Phenice, ſhoulde take heede not to meddle with that place, but to ſuffer Zorobabel the ſeruaunt of the Lorde and gouernour of Iuda, and the elders of the Iewes, to buylde that houſe of the Lorde in that place.

28 I haue commaunded alſo to haue it built vp whole agayne, and that they be diligent to helpe thoſe that be of the captiuitie of the Iewes, til the houſe of the Lorde be finiſhed:

29 And out of the tribute of Coeloſyria and Phenice, a portion diligently to be geuen thoſe meme vnto the offerings of the lord, and the ſame to be deliuered vnto Zorobabel the officer, that he therewithal may ordayne oxen, rammes, lambes,

℣ 30 And alſo corne, ſalte, wine, and oyle, and that continually euery yeere, after the expences whiche the prieſtes that be at Hieruſalem ſhal teſtifie to be made dayly (this ſhalbe geuen vnto them) without delay,

1.Eſd.6. 31 That they may offer ſacrifices dayly to the hyghest God for the kyng and for his chyldren, and to pray for their liues.

32 And he commaunded alſo, that who ſo euer ſhoulde breake any poynt of the foreſayde and foredecreed thinges, or make it voyde, of his owne goodes ſhoulde a tree be taken, and he thereon be hanged, and al his goodes ſeaſned vnto the kyng.

33 The Lord therefore whoſe name is there called vpon, roote out and deſtroy euery kyng and nation that ſtreatcheth out his hande to hynder or (hurt and) endomage that houſe of the Lorde in Hieruſalem.

34 I Darius the kyng haue ordayned, that accordyng to theſe thinges it be donne with diligence.

The.vii.Chapter.

1. Siſinnes and his companyons folowe the kinges commaundement, and helpe the Iewes to buylde the temple. 5. The time that it was built. 10. They keepe the Paſſeouer.

¶ 1 Then Siſinnes ỹ gouernour in Coeloſyria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companyons, obeyed ỹ thynges that king Darius had ordeined,

2 And were diligent aſſiſters in the holye woorkes, woorking with the auncientes and gouernours of the ſanctuarie:

3 And ſo the holy woorkes, went foorth and proſpered when Aggeus and Zacharias the prophetes propheried.

4 And they perfourmed al thinges through the commaundement of the Lorde God of Iſrael, and with conſent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes kinges of Perſia.

5 And thus was the holy houſe finiſhed in the twentie and three day of the moneth Adar, in the firſt yeere of Darius king of the Perſians.

6 And the chyldren of Iſrael, the prieſtes and the Leuites, and other that were of the captiuitie that had any charge, dyd accordyng to the thinges written in the booke of Moſes.

7 And to the dedication of the temple of the Lorde, they offered an hundred oxen, two hundred rammes, foure hundred lambes, ℣ or, bulles.

8 And twelue goates, for the ſinnes of all (the people of) Iſrael, after the number of the cheefe of the tribes of Iſrael.

9 The prieſtes alſo and the Leuites ſtoode arayed in their long robes, after their kinredes, in al the woorkes of the Lorde God of Iſrael, accordyng to the booke of Moſes, and the porters at euery dooze.

10 And the chyldren of Iſrael with thoſe that were comme out of captiuitie, held the Paſſeouer the fourteenth day of the firſt moneth, after that the prieſtes and the Leuites were ſanctified.

11 They that were of the captiuitie were not al ſanctified togeather: but the Leuites were al ſanctified togeather.

12 And ſo they offered the Paſſeouer for all them of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the prieſtes, and for them ſelues.

13 And the chyldren of Iſrael that came out of captiuitie dyd eate, al they that had ſeparated themſelues from ỹ abominations of the people of the lande, and ſought the Lorde:

14 And they kept the feaſt of the vnleauened ℣ breade ſeuen dayes long, makyng merry before the Lorde, 15 That the Lorde had turned the counſel of the kyng of Aſſyria towardes them, to ſtrengthen their handes vnto the woorkes of the Lorde God of Iſrael.

The.viii.Chapter.

1. Eſdras commeth from Babylon to Hieruſalem. 10. The copie of the commiſſion geuen by king Artaxerxes. 26. Eſdras geueth thankes to the Lorde.

1 AND after theſe, when Artaxerres the king of the Perſians raigned, there went vnto hym Eſdras the ſonne of Saraias, the ſonne of Ezerias, the ſonne of A 1.Eſd.7.d.

of Helchiah, the sonne of Sallum,

2 The sonne of Sadoc, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Amarias, the sonne of Ezias, the sonne of Meneraeth, the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of Sanias, the sonne of Boccas, the sonne of Abisum, the sonne of Phinees, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron the first priest:

3 This Esdras went vp from Babylon, beyng a scribe of good vnderstandyng in the lawe of Moses that was geuen by the Lorde God of Israel.

4 And the kyng fauoured him, and dyd hym great (worshyp and) honour * after al his desires.

* or, in al his states.

5 There went vp with hym also certayne of the chyldren of Israel, of the priestes, of the Leuites, of the singers, porters, and ministers of the temple, vnto Hierusalem.

6 In the seuenth yeere of the raigne of king Artaxerxes, in the fifth moneth, which was the seuenth yeere, (for they went from Babylon in the first day of the first moneth,

7 And came to Hierusalem accordyng as GOD gaue them speede in their iourney.)

8 For Esdras had gotten great knowledge B to omit nothyng of that was in the lawe & the commaundementes of the Lorde, and to teache al Israel al the * ordinances and iudgementes.

* or, righteousnesse.

9 The copie of the commission whiche Artaxerxes the kyng wrote, and that was geuen to Esdras the priest and reader of the lawe of the Lorde, this is it that foloweth.

10 Kyng Artaxerxes sendeth his greeting vnto Esdras the priest and reader of the lawe of the Lorde.

11 I hauyng wayed thynges with pitie, haue (ordeyned and) charged, yf there be any of the Iewes, of the priestes and Leuites in my * realme, whiche desyreth and is content to goe with thee vnto Israel, that he may doo it.

* or, kyngdome.

12 Therefore, so many as long thereafter, let them depart togeather, and goe with thee, like as I am content and my seuen freends my counsaylers,

13 To see what they doo at Hierusalem and in Iurie, conuenientlye, accordyng as thou hast in the lawe of the Lorde:

14 And to bryng the gyftes vnto (God) the Lorde of Israel, that I and my freendes haue * promised to Hierusalem, and al the siluer and gold that in the countrey of Babylon may be founde (partaynyng) to the Lorde in Hierusalem,

* or, vowed

15 With the thing that is geuen of the people to the Lorde their Gods temple at Hierusalem: that the same siluer and golde may be geathered for oxen, rammes, sheepe, and goates, and other that belong to these thynges, 16 That they may offer sacrifices vnto the C Lorde vppon the aulter of the Lorde their God whiche is at Hierusalem.

17 And what so euer thou and thy brethren wyl doo with the siluer and golde, that doo accordyng to the wyl of thy God.

18 And the holy vessels of the Lorde, whiche are geuen thee for the seruice of the Temple of thy God whiche is in Hierusalem, thou shalt set (them) before thy GOD in Hierusalem.

19 And what so euer thyng els thou shalt remember for the vse of the temple of thy God, thou shalt geue it out of the kynges treasure.

20 And I kyng Artaxerxes haue also commaunded the keepers of the treasures in Syria and Phenice, that what so euer Esdras the priest and the reader of the lawe of the hyghest God shal sende for, they shoulde geue it hym with speede:

21 Euen to the summe of an hundred talentes of siluer: of corne also an hundred * measures, and tyl an hundred * vessels of wine, and other thinges abundantly.

* or, cores.
* or, peeces.

22 Let al thynges be donne after the lawe of God diligently vnto the hyghest God, that wrath come not vpon the kyngdome of the kyng and of his sonnes.

23 I commaunde you also, that ye require no D tare nor tribute of the priestes, Leuites, holy singers, porters, and ministers of the temple, nor of any that haue dooynges in this temple, and that no man haue auctharitie to put any impost vppon them.

24 As for thee, O Esdras, set thou iudges and arbitrers to iudge in the whole lande of Syria and Phenice after the wysedome of God, al skilful in the lawe of God, and teache suche as are ignorant.

25 And let al them whiche shal offende agaynst the lawe of God and the king, be diligently pounished, whether it be by death or other payne, by pounishment in money, or els by banishment.

26 Then sayde Esdras the scribe, Blessed 3. Esd. 7. a. be the only Lorde God of my fathers, that hath geuen so good a minde and wyl into the hart of the kyng, to magnifie his house that is at Hierusalem, 27 And hath * made me to be accepted in the syght of the kyng, of his counsayle, of his freendes, and of his nobles.

* or, honoured me.
* or, of a good courage.

28 And so I was * stedfast in my mynde accordyng recoꝛdyng as the Loꝛd my God helped me, and I geathered vp menne of Iſrael to goe vp with me.

1.Eſd.8.b. 29 And theſe are the guides after theyꝛ families and oꝛders of dignities, that went vp with me from Babylon in the raigne of kyng Artaxerres.

30 Of the ſonnes of Phinees, Gerſom: of the ſonnes of Ithamar, Gamaliel: of the ſonnes of Dauid, Hattus the ſonne of Cechemah:

31 Of the ſonnes of Phares, Zacharias, and with him there returned againe an hundꝛed and fiftie menne.

32 Of the ſonnes of Pahath, Moab, Elioenai, the ſonne of Zacharias, and with hym two hundꝛed men.

33 Of the ſonnes of Zathoe, Shechenias the ſonne of Jezolus, and with hym thꝛee hundꝛed menne: and of the ſonnes of Adin, Obed the ſonne of Jonathan, & with him two hundꝛed and fiftie menne.

34 Of the ſonnes of Elam, Jeſias, ſonne of Gotholias, and with him ſeuentie men.

F 35 Of the ſonnes of Saphatias, Zarias ſonne of Machael, and with him thꝛeeſcoꝛe and ten menne.

36 Of the ſonnes of Joab, Badias, ſonne of Jezelus, and with him two hundꝛed and twelue menne.

37 Of the ſonnes of Banid, Aſſalimoth ſonne of Joſaphias, and with hym an hundꝛed and thꝛeeſcoꝛe menne.

38 Of the ſonnes of Babi, Zacharias ſonne of Bebai, & with hym twentie & eight men.

39 Of the ſonnes of Aſtath, Johannes ſonne of Acatan, and with hym an hundꝛed and tenne.

40 Of the ſonnes of Adonicam the laſt: and theſe are the names of them, Eliphalet, Jeonel, and Maias, and with them ſeuentie menne.

41 Of the ſonnes of Bagouthi, ſonne of Iſtalcourus, and with hym ſeuentie menne.

1.Eſd.13.b. 42 All theſe called I togeather by the water Thia, where we pytched our tentes thꝛee dayes, and there I muſtered them.

43 As foꝛ the ſonnes of the pꝛieſtes and Leuites, I founde none there.

G 44 Then ſent I vnto Eleazar, and behold there came Maaſman, and Maloban, 45 And Alnathan, and Samaian, and Joribon, and Nathan, Ennatan, Zacharian, and Moſollamon the cheefe & beſt learned:

46 And I bad them that they ſhoulde goe vnto Daddeus the captaine, which was in the place of the treaſurie:

47 And commaunded them that they ſhould ſpeake vnto Daddeus, and to his bꝛethꝛen, and to thoſe that were the treaſourers, to ſende vs ſuche menne as myght execute the pꝛieſtes office in the houſe of our Loꝛde.

48 And with the mightie hand of our loꝛde (God) they bꝛought vnto vs menne of good * experience, from among the ſonnes of Moli, the ſonne of Leui, the ſonne of Iſrael, Seredia, and his ſonnes, and his bꝛethꝛen, whiche were eighteene. * oꝛ, leaꝛnyng.

49 And Aſebia, and Amon, and Oſaian his bꝛethꝛen, of the ſonnes of Canaineus, theyꝛ ſonnes were twentie menne.

50 And of them that ſerued in the temple, whom Dauid had oꝛdayned, and the pꝛincipal menne to the wooꝛke of the Leuites, that were miniſters in the temple, two hundꝛed and twentie, whoſe naines are al ſigned vp in wꝛytyng.

51 And then commaunded I a faſtyng vnto the young menne beſoꝛe the Loꝛde, that I myght deſyꝛe of hym a pꝛoſperous iourney (and a good way) both foꝛ vs, and them that were with vs, foꝛ our chyldꝛen, and foꝛ the cattel.

52 Foꝛ I feared to deſyꝛe of the kyng men of hoꝛſe and of foote, to conueygh vs ſafely agaynſt our enimies.

53 Foꝛ we had ſayd vnto the kyng, that the power of the Loꝛde our God ſhoulde be with them that ſeeke hym, to diꝛect them in al thynges.

54 And therefoꝛe we beſought our Loꝛde agayne, as touchyng theſe thynges, and founde hym fauourable vnto vs.

55 Then I ſeparated from among the cheefe of the tribes, and from the pꝛieſtes, twelue menne, (to wit,) Eſebꝛias, and Aſſanias, and ten menne of theyꝛ bꝛethꝛen with them.

56 And I weighed them the golde, and the ſyluer, and the holy veſſelles of the houſe of our Loꝛd, whiche the king & his counſel & his pꝛinces, and whole Iſrael had geuen.

57 And when I had weighed it, I deliuered vnto them ſixe hundꝛed and fiftie talentes of ſyluer, and an hundꝛed talentes in ſyluer veſſelles, and an hundꝛed talentes of golde, 58 And twentie golden baſons, and twelue veſſelles of bꝛaſſe, euen fine bꝛaſſe, lyke thynyng golde.

59 And I ſayde vnto them, ye are holy vnto the Loꝛde, and the veſſelles are holy, and the golde and the ſiluer is * pꝛomiſed vnto the Loꝛde (God) of our fathers. * oꝛ, bowed

60 Be * diligent nowe, and keepe it vntyl the tyme that ye deliuer it to the cheefe of the pꝛieſtes and Leuites, and to the pꝛincipal men of the families of Iſrael in Hieruſalem, in the chambers of the houſe of our God. * oꝛ, watch

1.Esd.8.a. 61 So the priestes & the Lenites which receiued of me the golde, the syluer, and the vesselles, brought it vnto Hierusalem vnto the temple.

62 And from the riuer Thia we brake vp the twelfth day of the first moneth, according to the mightie hande of our Lorde whiche was with vs: and from the begynnyng of our iourney, the Lorde deliuered vs from euery enimie, so that we came vnto Hierusalem:

63 And when the thirde day was past, the weighed golde and syluer was deliuered in the house of the Lord on the fourth day, vnto Marimoth the priest, & sonne of Jozi:

64 And with hym was Eleazar the sonne of Phinees, & with them were Josabdus the sonne of Jesu, and Moeth the sonne of Sabbanus Leuites: al was deliuered them by number and weight.

65 And al the weight of them was written vp the same houre.

66 After that, they that were come out of captiuitie, offered sacrifice vnto the Lorde God of Israel, euen twelue oxen for al Israel, foure score and sixteene rammes, 67 Threescore and twelue sheepe, twelue goates for saluation, al in sacrifice to the Lorde.

68 And the kynges commission deliuered they vnto the kynges stewardes, and to the gouernours of Coelosyria & Phenice, who honoured the people & the temple of God.

69 Nowe when these thynges were donne, the rulers came vnto me, and sayde,

1.Esd.6.a 70 The nation of Israel, the princes, the priestes & Leuites haue not put away from them the strange people of the lande, nor the vncleanneste of the Gentiles: to wyt, of the Chanaanites, Hethites, Pherezites, Jebusites, and the Moabites, Egyptians, and Edomites:

71 For both they and theyr sonnes haue myngled them selues with the daughters of them, and the holy seede is myxt with the strange people of the lande: and since the begynnyng of the affayres, the rulers and head menne haue benne partakers of this wyckednesse.

1.Esd.9.a. 72 And assoone as I had heard these thinges, immediatly I rent my clothes and the holy garment, and pulled of the heare of my head and my beard, & sate me downe sorowful and heauie.

73 So al they that were moued thorough the woorde of the Lorde God of Israel came vnto me whyles I wept for the iniquitie: but I sate styl ful of heauinesse vntyl the euenyng sacrifice.

74 Then stoode I vp from fasting, hauing rent clothes, and the holy garment, and kneeled downe vpon my knees, and helde out my handes vnto the Lorde, 65 And sayde, O Lorde, I am confounded, and ashamed before thy face.

76 For our sinnes are become many, euen aboue our heades, and our ignorances are lyfted vp, euen vnto heauen:

77 For since the time of our fathers, we are in great sinne vnto this day.

78 And for the sinnes of vs, and our fathers, we with our brethren, and with our kynges, and with our priestes, haue benne geuen vp vnto the kynges of the earth, into the swoorde, and into captiuitie, and became a spoyle with confusion (and shame) vnto this day.

79 And nowe, O Lorde God, howe great is the mercy that we haue gotten of thee, in that thou hast left vs a roote and a name is the place of thy sanctuarie,

80 And that thou haste discouered to vs a lyght in the house of the Lorde our God, and hast geuen vs meate in the tyme of our seruitude:

81 And when we were in captiuitie, we were not forsaken of the Lorde our God: but he made the kyngs of Persis gratious and fauourable vnto vs, so that they gaue vs victualles (and meate,) 82 Yea, and honoured the temple of our Lorde, and repayred the wasted places of Sion, and gaue vs assurance in Jurie and Hierusalem.

83 And nowe, O Lorde, what shal we say hauyng al these thynges (in possession?) For we haue broken thy commaundementes, whiche thou gauest vnto vs by the handes of thy seruantes the prophetes, sayeing,

84 Because the lande whiche ye goe to possesse as an heritage, is a lande defiled with the vncleanneste (and filthinesse) of the strangers of the lande, and with theyr abomination they haue polluted it altogether:

85 Therefore nowe shal ye not ioyne theyr daughters vnto your sonnes, neyther mary your daughters to theyr sonnes.

86 Moreouer, ye shal neuer seeke to make peace with them, that ye may * increase and eate the best in the lande, and that ye may leaue the inheritance of the lande vnto your children for euermore.

* or, waxe strong, and eate the good thyngs of the lande.

87 As for the thynges that are comme to passe, they comme al for our wicked woorkes and great sinnes: for thou, O Lorde, hast made our sinnes lyght,

88 And geuen vs such a roote: but we haue turned backe agayne, so that we haue broken thy lawe, and myngled our selues with the vncleannesse of the outlandyshe heathen.

kē

89 Wyghteck not thou be angry with vs to destroy vs, so that thou shouldest leaue vs neyther roote, seede, nor name?

90 O Lorde God of Israel, thou art true: for our roote endureth yet vnto this present day.

91 And beholde, nowe are we before thee in our sinnes, neyther can we stande before thee for them.

y.Esd.10.a. 92 And when Esdras with this prayer had knowleged the sinne, weeping, and lyeing flat vpon the grounde before the temple, there geathered vnto hym from Hierusalem, a great multitude of men and women, of young men and maidens: for there was a very great (weepyng and) mourning among the multitude.

93 Then Jechonias the sonne of Jeheli, one of the children of Israel, cryed out, and sayde, O Esdras, we haue sinned agaynst the Lorde God, (because) we haue maried strange women of the nations of the lande.

94 And nowe al Israel hangeth in doubt: We wyl sweare an othe therefore vnto the Lorde, that we shal put away al our wiues which we haue take of the " heathen, with theyr children:

" or, strangers.

95 Like as it may seeme good to thee, and to al those that obey the lawe of the Lorde.

96 Stande vp, and put it in execution: for to thee dooth this matter apparteyne, and we are with thee, to adde thee strength.

97 So Esdras arose, and tooke an othe of the cheefe of the priestes and Leuites of al Israel, to doo after these thynges: and they sware.

The.ix.Chapter.

7. After Esdras had read the lawe for the strange wiues. 18. They promised to put them away.

A 1 Then Esdras rysyng from the courte of the temple, went to the chamber of Joannan, the sonne of Eliasib,

2 And remayned there, and dyd eate no meate, nor drynke " drynke, weepyng for the great wyckednesse of the people.

" or, water.

3 And there was made a proclamation in al Jurie, & at Hierusalem, for al them that were of the captiuitie, that they should geather togeather at Hierusalem,

4 And that whosoeuer met not there within two or three dayes, accordyng as the elders that bare rule appoynted, theyr catel shoulde be sealed to the vse of the temple, and he be excluded from them that were of the captiuitie.

5 And in three dayes were al they of the tribe of Juda and Beniamin geathered togeather at Hierusalem, the twentieth day of the ninth moneth.

6 And the whole multitude sate trembling in the " court of the temple, for it was wynter.

" or, the large roome

B 7 So Esdras arose vp, & sayde vnto them, Ye haue done vnrightcously, in that ye haue taken " outlandishe wiues to mariage, and so to encreale the sinnes of Israel.

" or, strange.

8 And nowe knowledge the same, and geue prayse vnto the Lorde God of our fathers:

9 And performe his wyl, departing from the heathen of the lande, and from the " outlandyshe wyues.

" or, strange.

10 Then cryed the whole multitude, and sayd with a loude voyce, Lyke as thou hast spoken, so wyl we doo.

11 But forasmuche as the people are many, and wynter season, so that we may not stande without the house, and because this worke is not a thyng that can be finished in a day or two, seeyng we be many that haue sinned in these thynges:

12 Ordeyne therefore that the rulers of the multitude, and they of our families that haue strange wiues, tary.

13 And let the priestes and iudges comme out of euery place in theyr time appoynted, tyll they swage the wrath of the Lorde in this busynesse.

C 14 Then Jonathas the sonne of Azaiel, and Ezechias the sonne of Theean, receiued the charge of this matter: and Mosollam, and Leuis, and Sabatheus helped them thereto.

15 And they that were of the captiuitie, dyd accordyng to al these thynges.

16 And Esdras the priest chose vnto hym the principal menne from among the fathers, and them al by name: and in the first day of the tenth moneth, they sate togeather, to examine this matter.

17 And so the matter was a determining concernyng the menne that had maryed strange wyues, vntyl the newe moone of the first moneth.

18 And of the priestes that had myxt them selues with " outlandishe wiues, there were founde,

" or, strange.

19 Of the sonnes of Jesu the sonne of Josedec and his brethren, Mathelas, Eleazar, Joribus, and Joadanus:

20 Which offered them selues to put away theyr wyues, and to offer a ramme vnto reconcilement for theyr purgation.

21 And of the sonnes of Emmer, Ananias, and Zabdeus, and Canes, and Samaius, D and Hierael, and Azarias.

22 And of the ſonnes of Phaiſu, Elionas, Maſſias, Elmaelus, and Nathanael, and Ocidelus, and Tallas.
23 And of the Leuites, Jozobadus, and Semis, and Colius, whowas called Calitas, and Patheus, and Dudas, and Jonas.
24 Of the holy ſingers, Eleazurus, Bacchurus.
25 Of the porters, Sallumus, & Tolbanis.
26 Of them of Iſrael, of the ſonnes of Phozus, Hiermas, and Eddias, and Melchias, and Maelus, and Eleaſar, and Aſibias, and Banaias.
27 Of the ſonnes of Ela, Matthanias, Zacharias, and Hiericlas, and Hieremoth, and Acdias.
28 And of the ſonnes of Zamoth, Eliadas, Eliſunus, Othonias, Jarimoth, and Sabatus, and Sardeus.
29 Of the ſonnes of Bebai, Joannes, and Ananias, and Joſabad, and Ematheas.
30 Of the ſonnes of Nani, Olamus, Mamuchus, Jedaias, Jaſubus, Jaſael, and Jeremoth.
31 And of the ſonnes of Addi, Naathus, Noofias, Laccunus and Naidus, and Matthanias, and Seſchel, and Balnuus, and Manaſſeas.
32 And of the ſonnes of Annas, Elionas, and Aſeas, and Melchias, and Sabbeus, and Simon a Choſamite.
33 And of the ſonnes of Aſom, Altaneus, and Matthias, and Banaias, Eliphalet, and Manaſſes, and Semi.
34 And of the ſonnes of Maani, Jerenias, Momdis, Omairus, Inel, Mamai, and Paelias, and Amos, Carabaſion, and Euaſibus, and Mammitata, Naius, Eliſiaſis, Uamus, Eliali, Samis, Selemias, Nathanias: and of the ſonnes of Ozoras, Seſis, Eſril, Ezailus, Samatas, Sambis, Joſyphus.
35 And of the ſonnes of Ethna, Mazitias, Zabadias, Ethes, Inel, Banaias.
36 Al theſe had taken " outlandyſhe women to maryage, and they put them away with theyr chyldren.
37 And the prieſtes and Leuites, and (al) they that were of Iſrael, dwelt at Hieruſalem, and throughout al the lande in the " newe moone of the ſeuenth moneth: and the chyldren of Iſrael were in their ' dwellynges.
38 And the whole multitude came togeather with one accorde, into the wyde place before the eaſt gate of the temple.
39 And they ſpake vnto Eſdras the hygh prieſt and reader, that he woulde bring the lawe of Moſes, whiche had benne geuen of the Lorde God of Iſrael.
40 So Eſdras the hygh prieſt brought the lawe vnto the whole multitude, to man, and woman, and to al the prieſtes, that they myght heare the lawe in the " newe moone of the ſeuenth moneth.
41 And he read in the ſtrete wide place that is before the porte of the temple, from the morning early vnto midday, before menne and women: and they applyed theyr mind al vnto the lawe.
42 And Eſdras the prieſte, and reader of the lawe, ſtoode vp vpon a pulpit of wood, whiche was made therefore:
43 And vpon his ryght hande, there ſtoode by hym, Matthathias, Samus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, Ezechias, and Balaſam:
44 Upon his leaft hande, ſtoode Faldeus, Sael, Melchias, Aothaluphus, and Nabarias.
45 Then tooke Eſdras the booke of the lawe before the whole multitude, (for he was the principal, & had in moſt honor of them al.)
46 And when he expounded the lawe, they ſtoode al ſtraight vpon theyr feete. So Eſdras ' prayſed the Lorde the moſte hygh God, the almyghtie God of hoaſtes.
47 And al the people anſweared, Amen.
48 And Jeſus, Anus, Sarabias, Adinus, Jacobus, Battaias, Autamas, Maianias, Calitas, Azarias, Johaſabdus, Ananias, and Biatas, the Leuites, lyft vp theyr handes, and fel downe on the grounde, and woorſhypped the Lorde.
49 And taught the lawe of the Lorde, and were earneſtly occupyed togeather in the readyng thereof.
50 Then ſpake Atharates vnto Eſdras the hygh prieſt and reader, and to the Leuites that taught the multitude, ſaying, 51 This day is holy vnto the Lorde: and al when they heard the lawe, weapt.
52 (So Eſdras ſayd,) Depart your way therfore: and eate the fat meates, and drynke the ſweete drynkes, and ſende gyftes vnto them that haue nothyng.
53 For this day is holy vnto the Lord, and be not ye ſory: for the Lorde wil bring you to honour.
54 So the Leuites " publiſhed al theſe thynges to the people, ſayeing, This day is holy to the Lorde, be not ſory.
55 Then went they theyr way euery one to eate and drynke, and were mery, and ſent preſentes to them that had nothyng, and made very good cheare.
56 For they were as yet " filled with the woordes that had benne taught them, and for the whiche they had benne aſſembled.

¶ The fourth booke of Esdras.

The first Chapter.

8. The people is reprooued for theyr vnthankfulnesse. 30. God wyl haue another people, yf these wyl not be reformed.

1 A THe second booke of the prophete Esdras, the sonne of Sarayas, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Helchia, the sonne of Sadanias, the sonne of Sadoc, the sonne of Achitob,

1.Esd.7.a 3.Esd.8.a

2 The sonne of Achia, the sonne of Phinees, the sonne of Heli, the sonne of Amerias, the sonne of Aziel, the sonne of Marimoth, the sonne of Arna, the sonne of Ozias, the sonne of Bozith, the sonne of Abisei, the sonne of Phinees, the sonne of Eleazar,

3 The sonne of Aaron, of the tribe of Leui, whiche (Esdras) was pylgroner in the lande of Medes, in the raigne of Artaxerxes kyng of Persia.

4 And the wordre of the Lorde came vnto me, sayeyng, Esai.58.a.

5 Goe thy way, and shewe my people theyr sinful deedes, and theyr chyldren theyr wickednesse whiche they haue donne agaynst me, that they may tel their chylders chyldren the same:

6 For the sinnes of their fathers are increased in them: and why? they haue forgotten me, and haue offered vnto strange gods.

B 7 Am not I euen he that brought them out of the lande of Egypt from the house of bondage? But they haue prouoked me vnto wrath, and despised my counsels.

8 Pul thou * out then the heare of thy head, and cast al eupl vpon them, for they haue not benne obedient vnto my lawe: but it is a people without (learning and) nurture.

* or, of.

9 Howe long shal I forbeare them, vnto whom I haue donne so muche good?

10 Many kynges haue I destroyed for their sakes, Pharao with his seruantes and al his * power haue I smitten downe (and slayne.)

Num.21.b. Iosue.8.10. and.12. Exod.14.g

* or, armie.

11 Al the nations haue I destroyed (and rooted out) before them, and in the East haue I brought two landes & people to nought, euen Tyre and Sidon, and haue slayne al their enimies.

12 Speake thou therefore vnto them, sayeing, Thus sayth the Lorde, 13 I led you through the sea, and haue geuen you sure strectes since the begynnyng: I gaue you Moses to be your captayne, and Aaron to be the priest:

14 I gaue you lyght in a pyller of fire, and great woonders haue I donne among you: yet haue ye forgotten me, sayth the Lorde.

Exod.7.g Exod.3.i

C

15 Thus sayth the almyghtie Lorde, The quales were as a token for you, I gaue you tentes for your * succour, neuertheless in them ye murmured:

Num.18.a Exod.13.d Exod.16.c

* or, safegarde.

16 And * ascribed not the victorie of your enimies vnto my name, but euer to this day doo ye yet murmure.

* or, and triumphed not in my name for the destruction of your enimies.

17 Where are the benefites that I haue done for you? When ye were hungry in the wyldernesse, dyd ye not crye vnto me,

Num.14.a

18 Saying, Why hast thou brought vs into this wyldernesse to kyl vs? It had ben better for vs to haue serued the Egyptians, then to dye in this wyldernesse.

19 Then had I pitie vpon your mournings, and gaue you Manna to eate. So ye dyd eate angels foode.

20 When ye were thirstie, dyd not I cleaue the rocke, and waters flowed out, to satisfie you withal? for the heate, I couered you with the leaues of the trees.

Sapi.16.g. Num.20.b.

21 A good pleasant fat lande gaue I you: I cast out the Chanaanites, the Pherezites, and Philistines before you: what shal I doo more for you, sayth the Lorde?

22 Thus sayth the almyghty Lorde, When ye were in the wyldernesse * in the water of the Amorites, beyng a thirste, and blasphemyng my name, Esai.5.a. Exod.15.b.

* or, at the bitter waters.

23 I gaue you not * fyre for your blasphemies, but cast a tree into the water, and made the ryuer swete.

* or, wood.

24 What shal I doo vnto thee, O Iacob? thou Iuda wouldest not obey me: I wyl turne me to other nations, and vnto those wyl I geue my name, that they may keepe my statutes.

Deut.32.b.

25 Seeyng ye haue forsaken me, I wyl forsake you also. When ye desire me to be gracious vnto you, I shal haue no mercie vpon you.

D

26 When ye cal vpon me, I wyl not heare you: for ye haue defiled your handes with blood, and your feete are swifte to commit manslaughter.

Esai.1.d.

27 Ye haue not as it were forsaken me, but your owne selues, sayth the Lorde.

28 Thus sayth the almightie Lorde, Haue I not prayed you, as a father his sonnes, as a mother her daughters, and as a nurse her young babes,

29 That ye woulde be my people, and I shoulde be your God, that ye woulde be my children, and I shoulde be your father:

Mat.23.d. 30 I geathered you togeather, as a henne geathereth her chickens vnder her winges: but now, what shal I doo vnto you? I wil cast you out from my face.

31 When you offer vnto me, I wyl turne my face from you: for your solemne feaste dayes, your newe moones, and your circumcisions haue I forsaken.

Esai.1.d. and.65.a.

32 I sent vnto you my seruantes the prophetes, whom ye haue taken and slaine, and torne their bodyes in peeces, whose blood I wyl " require of your handes, sayth the Lorde.

" or, renenge.

33 Thus sayth the almightie Lorde, Your house shalbe desolate, I wyl cast you out, as the wynde doth stubble:

" or, haue procreation. 34 Your children shal not " be fruiteful, for they haue despised my cõmaundement, and donne the thyng that is euyl before me.

35 Your houses wyl I geue to a people that shal comme, whiche not hauyng heard of me, yet shal beleeue me: to whom I haue shewed no signes, yet they shall doo that I haue commaunded them.

" or, hate their iniquities. 36 They haue seene no prophetes, yet shal they " cal their sinnes to remembrance, and knowledge them.

37 I wyl declare the grace that I wyl doo for the people that is to comme, whose children reioyce in gladnesse: and though they haue not seene me with bodyly eyes, yet in spirite they beleeue the thyng that I say.

" or, glory. Esai.12.d. Luke.13.f. Mat.8.d. 38 And nowe brother, beholde what great " worshyp: and see the people that commeth from the east.

39 Unto whom I wyl geue for leaders Abraham, Isahac, and Iacob, Oseas, Amos, and Michеas, Joel, Abdias, and Jonas, 40 Nahum, and Abacuc, Sophonias, Aggeus, Zacharie, and Malachie, whiche is called also an angel (or messenger) of the Lorde.

The.ii.Chapter.

2. The synagogue findeth fault with her owne children. 18. The Gentiles are called.

A 1 THus sayth the Lorde, I brought this people out of bondage, I gaue them my cõmaundementes by my seruantes the prophetes, whom they would not heare, but despised my counsayles.

2 The mother that bare them, sayth vnto them, Goe your way ye children, for I am a wydowe and forsaken.

3 I brought you vp with gladnesse, but with sorowe and heauynesse haue I lost you: for ye haue sinned before the Lord your GOD, and donne that thing that is euyll before him.

4 But what shal I nowe doo vnto you? I am a widowe and forsaken: goe your way, O my children, & aske mercy of the Lorde.

5 As for me, O father, I cal vpon thee for a witnesse ouer the mother of these children, whiche woulde not keepe my couenant:

6 That thou bryng them to confusion, and their mother to a spoyle, that she beare no more.

7 Let their names be scattered abroade among the Heathen, let them be put out of the earth: for they haue " thought scorne of my couenant. B " or, despised.

8 Wo be vnto thee Assur, thou that hydest the vnrighteous in thee: thou wicked people, remember what I dyd vnto Sodome and Gomorrhe, Gen.19.a

9 Whose lande is turned into cloddes of pitche, and heapes of ashes: euen so also wyl I doo vnto al them that heare me not, sayth the almyghtie Lorde.

10 Thus sayth the Lorde vnto Esdras, Tel my people that I wyl geue them the kingdome of Hierusalem, which I would haue geuen vnto Israel.

11 Their glory also wyl I take vnto me, and geue them the euerlastyng tabernacles, whiche I had prepared for those.

12 They shal haue the tree of lyfe at wyl, as in the sweete sauour of oyntment, they shal neyther labour, nor be weery.

13 Go ye your way, and ye shal receaue it: pray that there may be but fewe dayes, and the long tyme may be shortened for thee: the kyngdome is already prepared for you, therefore watche.

14 Take heauen and earth to witnesse, for I haue broken the euyl in peeces, and created the good: for I lyue, sayth the Lorde. C

15 Mother embrace thy children, and bring them vp with gladnesse, make their feete as fast as a piller: for I haue chosen thee, sayth the Lorde.

16 And those that be dead, wyl I rayse vp agayne from their places, and bryng them out of the graues: for I haue knowen my name in Israel.

17 Feare not thou mother of the children: for I haue chosen thee, sayth the Lorde.

18 And for thy helpe I shal sende thee my seruantes Esai and Jeremie, after whose counsayle I haue sanctified and prepared for thee twelue trees, laden with diuers fruites.

19 And as many fountaynes flowyng with mylke

with myłke and hony: and ſeuen myghtie mountaynes, wherupon there growe roſes & Lylies, whereby I wyl fyl thy chyldren with ioy.

20 Execute iuſtice for the wydowe, iudge for the fatherleſſe, geue to the poore, defend the fatherleſſe, clothe the naked, 21 Heale the wounded and ſicke, laugh not a lame man to ſcorne, defende the creeple, and let the blynde comme into the lyght of my clearenelſe.

D

22 Keepe the olde and young that are within thy walles.

Tobi.1.d.

23 Whereſoeuer thou findeſt the dead, take them, and burye them, and I ſhal geue thee the firſt place in my reſurrection.

24 Abyde ſtyl, O my people, and take thy reaſt, for thy quietneſſe ſhal comme.

25 Feede thy chyldren, O thou good nurſe, ſtablyſhe theyr feete.

26 As for the ſeruantes whom I haue geuen thee, there ſhal not one of them periſhe: for I wil ſeeke them from among thy number.

27 Be not weerie: for when the day of trouble and heauineſſe commeth, other ſhal weepe and be ſorowful, but thou ſhalt be merry and plenteous.

28 The heathen ſhalbe ielous (at it) but they ſhalbe able to doo nothyng agaynſt thee, ſayth the Lorde.

E

29 My handes ſhal couer thee, ſo that thy chyldren ſhal not ſee the "fyre euerlaſting.

" or, hel.

30 Be ioyful, O thou mother, with thy chyldren, for I wyl deliuer thee, ſayth the Lorde.

31 Remember thy chyldren that ſleepe, for I ſhal bryng them out of the ſydes of the earth, and ſhewe mercye vnto them: for I am mercyful, ſayth the Lorde almyghtie.

32 Embrace thy chyldren vntil I comme, & ſhewe mercy vnto them: for my "welles runne ouer, and my grace ſhal not fayle.

" or, fountaynes.

33 I Eſdras receiued a charge of the Lord vpon the mount Oreb, that I ſhoulde goe vnto Iſrael: but when I came vnto them, they ſet me at nought, & deſpiſed the commaundementes of the Lorde.

34 And therfore I ſay vnto you, O ye heathen that heare and vnderſtande, "Looke for your ſhephearde, he ſhal geue you euerlaſting reaſt: for he is nigh at hande that ſhal comme in the ende of the worlde.

" or, wayte.

35 Be ready to the rewarde of the kyngdome, for the euerlaſting lyght ſhal ſhyne vpon you for euermore.

F

36 Flee the ſhadowe of this world, receiue the ioyfulneſſe of your glory: I teſtifie my ſauiour openly.

37 O receiue the gyft that is geuen you, & be glad, geuyng thankes vnto hym that hath called you to the heauenly kyngdome.

38 Aryſe vp, and ſtande faſt, beholde the number of thoſe that be ſealed "in the feaſt of the Lorde,

" or, for.

39 Whiche are departed from the ſhadowe of the worlde, and haue receiued glorious garmentes of the Lorde.

40 Take thy number, O Sion, and ſhut vp "thy purified which haue fulfylled the lawe of the Lorde.

" or, thoſe of thyne that are clothed in whyte.

41 The number of thy chyldren whom thou longedſt for, is fulfilled: beſeeche the power of the Lord, that thy people whiche haue bene called from the beginning, may be halowed.

42 I Eſdras ſawe vpon the mount Sion a great people, whom I coulde not number: and they al prayſed the Lorde with ſonges (of thankeſgeuyng.)

Apoc.7.a. G

43 And in the middeſt of them there was a young man of an high ſtature, more excellyng then al they, and vpon euery one of theyr heades he ſet crownes, and was euer "hygher and hygher: which I marueyled at greatly.

" or. and was higher then the other.

44 So I aſked the angel, and ſayde, Sir, what are theſe?

45 He anſweared, and ſayd vnto me, Theſe be they that haue put of ỹ mortal clothing, and put on the immortal, and haue "teſtified and knowledged the name of GOD: nowe are they crowned, and receiue the "rewarde,

" or, haue confeſſed.

" or, the palmes.

46 Then ſayde I vnto the angel, What young perſon is it that crowneth them, and geueth them the palmes in theyr handes?

47 So he anſweared, and ſayd vnto me, It is the ſonne of God, whom they haue "knowledged in the worlde: then began I greatly to commende them that ſtoode ſo ſtiffely for the name of the Lorde.

" or, confeſſed.

48 Then the angel ſayde vnto me, Goe thy way, and tel my people what manner of thynges, and howe great woonders of the Lorde thy God thou haſt ſeene.

The. iii. Chapter.

4. The wonderous workes whiche God did for the people are recited. 31. Eſdras marueyleth that God ſuffereth the Babylonians to haue rule ouer his people, whiche yet are ſinners alſo.

1 IN the thirtieth yeere after the fal of the citie, I was at Babylon, and lay troubled vpon my bedde, and my thoughtes came vp ouer my hart: A

2 For I ſawe the deſolation of Sion, and the plenteous wealth of them that dwelt at Babylon.

3 And my spirite was soare moued, so that I began to speake fearefull woordes to the moste hyghest, and sayde,

4 O Lord, Lord, thou spakest at the beginnyng, when thou plantedst the earth (and that thee selfe alone) and gauest commaundement vnto the people,

5 And a body vnto Adam without soule, which was a " creature of thy handes, and hast breathed in him the breath of lyfe, and so he liued before thee:

" or, workemanship.

6 And thou leddest hym into paradise, whiche thy right hande had planted or euer the earth brought fruites:

B 7 And vnto hym thou gauest commaundement to loue thy way, whiche he transgressed, and immediatly thou appoyntedst death in hym, and in his generations: of whom came nations, tribes, people, and kynredes out of number.

Gene.6.b 8 And euery people walked after their owne wyl, and dyd woonderful thynges before thee: and as for thy commaundementes, they despised them.

Gen.7.b. 9 But " in processe of tyme, thou broughtest the water fludde vpon those that dwelt in the worlde, and destroyedst them.

" or, at tyme appoynted.

10 So that by the fludde, that was wrought in each of the, that was by death in Adam.

11 Neuerthelesse, one of them thou leauest, namely Noah, with his houshold, of whom came al righteous menne.

" or, came to passe. 12 And it " happened that when they that dwelt vpon the earth began to multiplie, and had gotten them many chyldren, and were a great people, they began to be more vngodly then the first.

13 Now when they lyued so wyckedly before thee, thou dyddest choose thee a man from among them, whose name was Abraham.

C 14 Hym thou louedst, and vnto hym only thou shewedst thy wyl:

15 And madest an euerlastyng couenant with hym, promysyng hym that thou wouldest neuer forsake his seede.

Gen.21.a. Gen.25.c Gen.32.a Exod.19.a Deut.4.b 16 And vnto hym thou gauest Isahac, vnto Isahac also thou gauest Iacob and Esau. As for Iacob, thou diddest choose hym to thee, and put backe Esau: and so Iacob became a great multitude.

17 And it came to passe, that when thou leddest his seede out of Egypt, thou broughtest them vp to the mount Sina,

" or, abasyng. " or, astonishyng. 18 Bowyng downe the heauens, " settyng fast the earth, mouyng the grounde, makyng the deapthes to shake, and " troublyng the worlde.

" or, gates. 19 And thy glorye went through foure " portes, of fyre, & earthquakes, and windes, and colde, that thou myghtest geue the lawe vnto the seede of Iacob, and " diligence vnto the generation of Israel.

" or, and that whiche the generation of Israel shoulde keepe with diligence.

20 And yet tookest thou not away from them that wicked hart, that thy law might bryng foorth fruite in them.

21 For the firste Adam bearyng a wicked hart, transgressed, and was ouercome: and so be al they that are borne of hym.

22 Thus remayned weakenesse styl: and the lawe in the hartes of the people, with the wyckednesse of the roote: so that ỳ good departed away, and the euyl abode styl.

D Rom. 8.a

23 So the tymes passed away, & the yeeres were brought to an ende: then diddest thou rayse thee vp a seruant called Dauid,

1.Sam.15.c 2.Sam.5.a. 24 Whom thou commaundedst to builde a citie vnto thy name, and to offer vp incense and sacrifice vnto thee therein.

25 When this was done now many yeeres, then the inhabiters of the citie forsoke thee.

26 And in al thinges did euen as Adam and al his generations had donne: for they also had a wicked hart.

27 And so thou gauest the citie ouer into the handes of thyne enimies.

28 But doo they of Babylon then any thing better, that they shoulde therefore haue the dominion in Sion?

E

29 For when I came thither, and sawe there so great wickednesse that it coulde not be numbred: then my soule sawe many euyl doers in this thirtieth yeere, so that my hart fayled me:

30 For I saw howe thou sufferedst them in such vngodlynesse, and sparedst the wicked doers: but thyne owne people hast thou rooted out, and preserued thyne enimies, and this hast thou not shewed " me.

" or, it.

" or, commeth to passe. 31 I can not perceiue howe this " happeneth. Doo they of Babylon then better then they of Sion?

32 Or is there any other people that knoweth thee, sauyng the people of Israel? or what generation hath so beleeued thy " couenantes, as Iacob?

" or, testimonies.

33 And yet theyr rewarde appeareth not, and theyr labour hath no fruite: for I haue gone here & there throughe the heathen, and I see that they be " rich and wealthie, and thinke not vpon thy commaundementes.

" or, flowe in wealth.

34 Weigh thou therefore our wyckednesse nowe in the ballance, and theyrs also that dwel in the worlde: and so shal thy name be no where founde, but in Israel.

35 Or whē was it, that they which dwel vpō earth, haue not sinned in thy sight? or what people hath so kept thy cōmaundementes?

F

36 Thou shalt fynde that Israel by name hath kept thy preceptes: but not the (other people and) heathen.

The

The.iiii.Chapter.

I. The angel reproueth Esdras, because he seemed to enter into the profounde iudgementes of God.

A 1 AND the angel that was sent vnto me, whose name was Uriel, gaue me an answeare,

2 And sayde, Thy hart hath taken to much vpon it in this woꝛld, and thou thynkest to comprehende the way of the hyghest.

3 Then sayde I, Yea my Loꝛde. And he answeared me, and sayd, I am sent to shew thee three wayes, and to set fooꝛth three similitudes before thee:

4 Whereof, yf thou canst declare me one, I wyl shewe thee also the way that thou desirest to see: and I shal shewe thee from whence the wycked hart commeth.

5 And I sayde, Tel on my Loꝛde. Then sayde he vnto me, Goe thy way, weygh me the weyght of the fyre, oꝛ measure me the blaste of the winde, oꝛ cal me agayne the day that is paste.

6 Then answeared I, and said, What man boꝛne, is able to doo that, that thou shouldest aske suche thynges of me?

B 7 And he sayde vnto me, If I shoulde aske thee howe deepe dwellynges are in the middest of the sea, oꝛ howe great water spꝛinges are in the begynnyng of the deepe, oꝛ howe great water spꝛynges are vpon the stretching out of the heauens, oꝛ whiche are the * outgoynges of paradise:

* Or, borders.

8 Peraduenture thou wouldest say vnto me, I neuer went downe yet into the deepe, noꝛ hel, neyther dyd I euer clymbe vp into heauen.

9 Neuertheless, now haue I asked thee but only of fyre, and wynde, and of the day wherethꝛough thou hast trauayled, and from the whiche thou canst not be separated, and yet canst thou geue me no answeare of them.

10 He sayde moꝛeouer vnto me, Thyne owne thynges, and suche as are growen vp with thee, canst thou not knowe:

11 Howe shoulde thy vessel then be able to comprehende the way of the hyghest, and nowe outwardly in the coꝛrupt woꝛlde to vnderstande the coꝛruption that is evident in my sight?

12 Then sayde I vnto hym, It were better that we were not at al, then that we should lyue in wickednesse, and to suffer, and not to knowe wherefoꝛe.

Iudi.9.b. 2.Chro.25.c

13 He answeared me, and sayde, I came to a foꝛrest in a playne, and the trees toke such a deuice,

14 And sayde, Comme, let vs goe, and fight agaynst the sea, that it may depart away before vs, and that we may make yet moꝛe woods.

15 The fluddes of the sea also in lyke maner tooke counsayle, and sayde, Comme, let vs goe vp, and fight agaynst the trees of the wood, that there we may make vs another countrey. C

16 The thought (and deuice) of the wood was but vaine (and nothyng woorth:) foꝛ the fire came and consumed it.

17 The thought of the fluddes of the sea, came lykewyse to nought also: foꝛ the sande stoode vp and stopped them.

18 If thou were iudge nowe betwixt these two, whom wouldest thou iustifie, oꝛ whom wouldest thou condemne?

19 I answeared and sayde, Uerely it is a foolishe thought that they both haue deuised: foꝛ the ground is geuen vnto the wood, and the sea also hath his place to beare his fluddes.

20 Then answeared he me, and sayd, Thou hast geuen a ryght iudgement: but why iudgest thou not thee selfe also?

21 Foꝛ like as thy gromde is geuen vnto the wood, and the sea to his fluddes: euen so they that dwelle vppon earth, may vnderstande nothyng but that whiche is vppon earth: and he that dwelleth aboue the heauens, may onlye vnderstande the thynges that are aboue the heauens. Esai.45. Iohn.3.c. 1.Cor.2.b.

22 Then answeared I, and said, I beseeche thee, O Loꝛde, let me haue vnderstanding,

23 Foꝛ it was not my minde * to be curious of thy hygh thynges, but of suche as we dayly meddle withal, namely, as wherefoꝛe Israel is geuen vp as a reproche to the heathen, and foꝛ what cause the people whom thou hast loued is geuen ouer vnto vngodly nations, and why the lawe of our foꝛefathers is bꝛought to nought, and the writte * couenantes comme to none effect:

* Or, to enquire.

* Or, ordinances.

24 And we passe away out of the woꝛlde as the grashoppers, and our lyfe is a very feare, and we are not wooꝛthy to obteyne mercie.

25 What wyl he doo then vnto his name whiche is called vpon ouer vs? Of these thynges haue I asked question. D

26 Then answeared he me, and sayde, The moꝛe thou searchest, the moꝛe thou shalt marueyle: foꝛ the woꝛlde hasteth faste to passe away,

27 And can not comprehende the thynges that are promised to the ryghteous in tyme to comme: foꝛ this woꝛlde is ful of vnryghteousnesse and weakenesse. 1.Iohn.v.c.

E 28 But as concernyng the thynges whereof thou askest me, I wyl tel thee: the euyl is sowen, but the destruction thereof is not yet comme.

29 If the euyl nowe that is sowen, be not turned vpsyde downe, & yf the place where the euyl is sowen passe not away: then can not the thyng comme that is sowen with good.

30 For the corne of euyl seede hath benne sowen in the hart of Adam from the beginnyng: and howe muche vngodlynesse hath he brought vp vnto this tyme? and howe muche shal he yet bryng foorth vntyl he comme into the barne?

31 Ponder nowe by thee selfe howe great fruite of wickednesse the corne of euil seede bryngeth foorth.

32 And when the stalkes shalbe cut downe, whiche are without number, howe great a barne shal it fyl?

33 Then I answeared, and sayde, Howe, and when shal these thinges come to passe? wherefore are our yeeres fewe and euyl?

Apoc. 6.b 34 And he answeared me, saying, Haste not thou to muche aboue the moste hygheſt: for thy hastinesse to be aboue him, is but vaine, though thou doo al that thou canst for it.

35 Dyd not the soules also of the ryghteous aske question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long shal I hope on this fashion? when commeth the fruite of my barne, and our rewarde?

36 And vpon this, Jeremiel tharchangel gaue them answeare, & sayde, Euen when the number of the seedes is filled in you, for he hath weighed the worlde in the ballance.

37 In measure and number hath he measured the tymes, & mooueth it not, nor shaketh it, vntyl the sayd measure be fulfilled.

F 38 Then answeared I, and sayde, O Lord, Lorde, nowe are we al ful of sinne:

39 And for our sake peraduenture it is that the barne of the ryghteous is not fulfilled, because of the sinnes of them that dwelle vpon the earth.

40 So he answeared me, and sayde, Goe thy way to a woman with chylde, and aske of her, when she hath fulfilled her nine monethes, yf her wombe may kepe the birth any longer within her?

41 Then said I, No Lord, that can she not. And he sayde vnto me, In the graue, the secrete places of soules are lyke the wombe of a woman.

42 For lyke as a woman that trauayleth, maketh haste to escape the necessitie of the trauayle: euen so doo these places haste to deliuer those thynges that are committed vnto them.

43 Looke what thou desirest to see, it shalbe shewed thee from the begynnyng.

44 Then answeared I, and sayde, If I haue found fauour in thy sight, and yf it be possible, and yf I be meete therefore, 45 Shewe me then whether there be more to comme then is past, or more past then is for to comme.

46 What is past, I knowe: but what is for to comme, I knowe not.

47 And he sayde vnto me, Stande vp vpon the ryght side, and I shal expounde the similitude vnto thee.

48 So I stoode, and behold an hot burning ouen passed by before me: and it happened, that whē the flame was gonne by, I loked, and behold, the smoke had the vpper hand.

49 After this there passed by before me a waterie cloude, & sent downe muche rayne with a storme: and when the stormie raine was past, " the droppes remayned stil. G

50 Then sayde he vnto me, Consyder with thee selfe: lyke as the rayne is more then the droppes, and as the fyre exceedeth the smoke: euen so, the measure of the thynges that are past hath the vpper hande, and the droppes and smoke woorke muche in quantitie. " or, the litle droppes came after.

51 Then I prayed, and sayde, May I lyue thynkest thou vntyl that tyme? or what shal happen in those dayes?

52 He answeared me, and sayde, As for the tokens whereof thou askest me, I may tel thee of them in part: but as touchyng thy lyfe, I am not sent to shewe thee: for I doo not knowe it.

The. v. Chapter.

I. In the latter tymes trueth shalbe hidde, vnryghteousnesse and al wickednesse shal raigne in the worlde.

1 NEuertheless as concernyng the tokens (marke this:) beholde the dayes shal come, that they whiche dwelle vpon earth shalbe taken in a great number, and the way of the trueth shalbe hid, and the lande shalbe barren from fayth:

2 But iniquitie shalbe increased aboue that whiche nowe thou seest, or that thou hast hearde long agoe. Math. 24.a

3 And the lande that thou seest nowe to haue rule, shalt thou shortly see waste.

4 But yf God graunt thee to liue, thou shalt see after the third trumpet, that the sunne shal sodenly shine agayne in the nyght, and the moone three tymes in the day:

5 And blood shal droppe out of wood, and the stone shal geue his voyce, and the people shalbe vnquieted:

6 And euen he shal rule, whō they hope not that dwel vpon earth, & the soules shal flit:

7 And

7 And the Sodomitiſhe ſea ſhal caſt out the filſhe, and make a noyſe in the nyght, whiche many haue not knowen: but they ſhal al heare the voyce thereof.

B 8 There ſhalbe a confuſion alſo in manye places, and the fire ſhalbe oft ſent out agayne: and the wylde beaſtes ſhal change their places, and menſtruous women ſhal beare monſters,

9 And ſalte waters ſhalbe founde in the ſweete, and al freendes ſhal fyght one agaynſt another: then ſhal al witte and vnderſtandyng be hydde, and put aſide into theyr ſecrete places:

10 And ſhalbe ſought of many, and yet not be founde: then ſhal vnryghteouſneſſe and * voluptuouſneſſe haue the vpper hande vppon earth.

* or, incontinencie.

11 One lande alſo ſhal aſke another, and ſay, Is ryghteouſneſſe * that maketh a man ryghteous gone through thee? And it ſhal ſay, No.

* or, that iuſtifieth. Or, that doth ryghtwyſely.

12 At the ſame tyme ſhal menne hope, but nothyng obteyne: they ſhal labour, but theyr wayes ſhal not proſper.

13 To ſhewe thee ſuche tokens I haue leaue: and yf thou wylt pray agayne, and weepe as nowe, and faſt ſeuen dayes, thou ſhalt heare yet greater thynges.

C 14 Then I awaked, and a fearefulneſſe went through al my body, and my mynde was feeble, ſo ỹ I almoſt ſowned withal:

15 So the angel that was comme to talke with me, helde me, comforted me, and ſet me vp vppon my feete.

16 And in the ſeconde nyght it came to paſſe, that Salathiel the captayne of the people came vnto me, ſayeing, Where haſt thou benne? & why is thy countenance ſo heauy?

17 Knoweſt thou not that Iſrael is committed vnto thee in ỹ land of theyr captiuitie?

18 Up then and eate, and forſake vs not, as the ſhepheарde that leaueth his flocke in the handes of * wicked woolues.

19 Then ſayde I vnto hym, Goe thy wayes fro me, and comme not nygh me. And he hearde it, and as I ſayde, ſo he went his way from me.

20 And ſo I faſted ſeuen dayes, mournyng and weepyng, like as Uriel the angel commaunded me.

D 21 And after ſeuen dayes ſo it was, that the thoughtes of my hart were very greeuous vnto me agayne:

22 And my ſoule receaued the ſpirite of vnderſtandyng, and I beganne to talke with the moſt hygheſt agayne:

23 And ſaid, O Lorde, Lorde, of euery wood of the earth, and of al the trees therof, thou haſt choſen thee one only vineyarde:

24 And of al lands of the whole world, thou haſt choſen thee one pitte: and of al floures of the grounde, thou haſt choſen thee one Lylie:

25 And of al the deapths of the ſea, thou haſt filled thee one ryuer: and of al buylded cities, thou haſt halowed Sion vnto thee ſelfe:

26 And of al the foules that are created, thou haſt named thee one doue: and of al the catel that are made, thou haſt prouided thee one cheepe:

27 And among al the multitudes of peoples, thou haſt gotten thee one people: and vnto this people whom thou louedſt, thou gaueſt a lawe that is prooued of al.

28 And nowe, O Lorde, why haſt thou geuen this one people ouer vnto many? and vpon the one roote thou haſt * prepared others, and why haſt thou ſcattered thy one only people among many?

* or, ſette.

E 29 Whiche treade them downe, yea whiche haue euer withſtande thy promiſes, and neuer beleeued thy couenantes.

30 If thou dydſt ſo muche hate thy people, yet ſhouldeſt thou pounish them with thine owne handes.

31 Nowe when I had ſpoken theſe wordes, the angel that came to me the nyght afore, was ſent vnto me, 32 And ſayd vnto me, Heare me, and I wyl inſtructe thee: hearken to the thyng that I ſay, and I ſhal tel thee more.

33 And I ſayde, ſpeake on my Lorde. Then ſayde he vnto me, Thou art ſoare troubled in mynde for Iſraels ſake: loueſt thou that people better then he that made them?

34 And I ſayde, No Lorde, but of very greefe (and compaſſion) haue I ſpoken: for my reynes payne me euery houre, becauſe I woulde * haue experience of the way of the moſt hygheſt, and ſeeke out part of his iudgement.

* or, comprehende.

35 And he ſayde vnto me, That thou * mayeſt not. And I ſayde, Wherefore Lorde? whereunto was I borne then? or why was not my mothers wombe then my graue, that I myght not haue ſeene the miſerie (and trouble) of Iacob, and the wearyng out of the ſtocke of Iſrael?

F 36 And he ſayde vnto me, Number me the thynges that are not yet come, geather me togeather the droppes that are ſcattered abroade, make me the floures greene againe that are wythered, 37 Open me the places that are cloſed, and bring me forth the windes that in them are ſhut vp, ſhewe me the image of a voyce: and then I wyl declare to thee the thyng that thou laboureſt to knowe.

38 And

F 38 And I sayde, O Lorde, Lorde, who may knowe these thynges, but he that hath not his dwellyng with men?

39 As for me, I am vnwyse: howe may I then speake of these thinges whereof thou askest me?

40 Then sayde he vnto me, Lyke as thou canst doo none of these thynges that I haue spoken of: euen so canst thou not finde out my iudgement, or in the ende the loue that I haue promised vnto my people.

41 And I sayde, Beholde, O Lorde, yet art thou nygh vnto them that be reserued tyll the ende: and what shal they doo that haue benne before me, or we that be nowe, or they that shal comme after vs?

42 And he sayde vnto me, I wyl lyken my iudgement vnto a ryng: Lyke as there is no slackneſſe of the last, euen so there is no swiftneſſe of the first.

43 So I answeared and sayde, Couldest thou not make those that haue benne made, and be nowe, and that are for to comme, at once, that thou mightest shewe thy iudgement the sooner?

44 Then answeared he me, and sayde, The creature may not haste " aboue the maker, neyther may the worlde holde them at once that shalbe created therein.

" or, before

45 And he sayde, As thou hast sayde vnto thy seruant, that thou whiche quickenest al thynges, hast geuen lyfe at once to the creature (or woorke) that thou hast created, and the creature bare it: euen so might it nowe also beare them that nowe be present at once.

G 46 And he sayde vnto me, Aske the wombe of a woman, and say vnto her, If thou bringest foorth chyldren, why doost thou it not togeather, but one after another? Pray her therefore to bryng foorth tenne chyldren at once.

47 And I sayd, She can not: but must doo it by distance of tyme.

48 Then sayde he vnto me, Euen so haue I diuided by distance of tyme the chyldbed of the earth, for those that be sowen vpon her.

49 For lyke as a young chyld may not bring foorth the thynges that belong to the aged, euen so haue I ordeyned " the worlde which I created.

" or, the tyme.

50 And I asked, and sayd, Seyng thou hast nowe geuen me the way, I wyl proceede to speake before thee: for our mother, of whom thou hast tolde me that she is young, draweth she nowe nygh vnto age?

51 He answeared me, and sayde, Aske a woman that beareth chyldren, and she shal tel thee.

52 Say vnto her, Wherefore are not they whom thou hast nowe brought foorth, lyke those that were before thee, but lesse of stature?

53 And she shal answeare thee, They that be borne in the youth of strength, are of one fashion: and they that are borne in the tyme of age (when the wombe fayleth) are otherwyse.

54 Consyder nowe thee selfe, howe that ye are lesse of stature then those that were before you:

55 And so are they that comme after you lesse then ye, as the creatures whiche nowe begyn to be olde, and haue passed ouer the strength of youth.

56 Then sayde I, Lorde, I beseeche thee, yf I haue founde fauour in thy sight, shewe thy seruant by whom thou visitest thy " creature?

" or, woork manship.

The. vi. Chapter.

1. God hath foreseene al thinges in his secrete counsayle, and is aucthour thereof, and hath created them for his chyldren. 25. The felicitie of the age to comme.

1 AND he sayde vnto me, In the begynnyng when the " grounde was made, before the borders of the worlde stoode, or euer the wyndes blewe,

" or, compasse of the earth.

2 Before it thundred and lyghtened, or euer the fundations of Paradise were layde,

3 Before the fayre floures were seene, or euer the moueable powers were stablished, before the innumerable " multitude of angels were geathered togeather,

" or, armies.

4 Or euer the hyghnesses of the ayre were lyfted vp, afore the measures of the firmament were named, or euer the chimneys in Sion were hot,

5 And or the present yeres were sought out, and or euer the inuentiõs of them that now sinne were " put aside, before they were sealed that haue geathered fayth for a treasure:

" or, turned away.

6 Then did I consyder and ponder al these thinges, and they al were made through me alone, and through none other: by me also they shalbe ended, and by none other.

7 Then answeared I, and sayde, What shalbe the " partyng asunder of the tymes? or when shalbe the ende of the first, and the begynning of it that foloweth?

" or, diuision.

8 And he sayde vnto me, From Abraham vnto Isahac, when Jacob and Esau were borne of hym, Jacobs hande helde first the heele of Esau:

9 For Esau is the ende of this worlde, and Jacob

Jacob is the beginnyng of it that folowth.
10 The hande of man, betwixt the heele and the hande: Other question Esdras aske thou not.
11 I answeared then, and sayde, O Lorde, Lorde, yf I haue found fauour in thy sight, 12 I beseeche thee " shew thy seruant the end of thy tokens, whereof thou shewedst me part the last nyght.
13 So he answeared, and sayde vnto me, Stande vp vppon thy feete, and heare " a perfect voyce and sounde.
14 There shal comme " a great motion, but the place where thou standest, shal not be mooued.
15 And therefore when " thou hearest the woordes, be not afrayde: for of the end shal the woorde be, and of the fundation of the earth shal it be vnderstande.
16 And why? the woorde thereof trembleth and quaketh: for it knoweth that it must be changed at the ende.
17 And it happened, that when I had hearde it, I stoode vp vpon my feete, and hearkened: and beholde, there was a voyce that spake, and the sounde of it, was lyke the sounde of many waters,
18 And it sayde, Beholde, the dayes comme, that I wyl beginne to drawe nygh, and to visite them that dwel vpon earth:
19 And wyl beginne to make inquisition of them, what they be that haue hurt vniustly with their vnrighteousnesse, and when the lowe estate of Sion shalbe fulfilled.
20 And when the worlde that shal vanishe away shalbe ouersealed, then wyl I doo these tokens: the bookes shalbe opened before the " firmament, and they shal see altogeather.
21 And the chyldrē of a yeere old, shal speake with their voyces, the women with chylde shal bring foorth vntimely childrē of three or foure monethes olde, and they shal lyue, and be raysed vp.
22 And sodenly shal the sowen places appeare as the vnsowen, the ful store houses shal sodenly be founde emptie:
23 And the trumpet shal geue a sounde, whiche when euery man heareth, they shalbe hastyly afrayde.
24 At that tyme, shal frendes fyght one agaynst another like enemies, and the earth shal stand in feare with them: the springes of the welles shal stande stil, and in three houres they shal not runne.
25 Who so euer remayneth from al these thynges that I haue tolde thee, " shal escape, and see my saluation, and the ende of your worlde.
26 And the menne that are receiued shal see it, they that haue not tasted death from their byrth: and the hart of the " indwellers shalbe changed, and turned into another meanyng.
27 For euyl shalbe put out, and deceipt shalbe quenched.
28 As for fayth, it shal florishe, corruption shalbe ouercome, and the trueth whiche hath benne so long without fruite, shalbe " declared.
29 And when he talked with me, beholde, I looked a litle and a litle vppon him, before whom I stoode:
30 And these woordes sayde he vnto me, I am come to shewe thee the tyme of ỹ nyght for to come.
31 If thou wylt pray yet more, and fast seuen dayes agayne, I shal tel thee more thinges, and greater then before, whiche I haue hearde by the day.
32 For thy voyce is hearde before the hyghest: for why? the myghty hath seene thy ryghteous dealyng, he hath seene also thy chastitie whiche thou hast had euer since thy youth:
33 And therefore hath he sent me to shewe thee al these thynges, and to say vnto thee, Be of good comfort, and feare not:
34 And haste not with the times that are past, to thynke vayne thynges, that thou mayest not hasten from the latter tymes.
35 And it came to passe after this, that I weapt agayne, and fasted seuen dayes in lyke manner, that I myght fulfil the three weekes whiche he tolde me.
36 And in the eyght night was my harte vexed within me agayne, and I began to speake before the hyghest.
37 For my spirite was greatly set on fire, and my soule was in distresse:
38 And I sayde, O Lorde, thou spakest vnto thy creature from the beginnyng, euen the first day, & saydest, Let heauen and earth be made: & thy woord was a perfect woorke.
39 And then was there the spirite, and the darkenesses were yet on euery side, and scilence: there was no mans voyce as yet from thee.
40 Then cōmaundedst thou a " fayre lyght to comme foorth of thy treasures, that thy woorke myght appeare and be seene.
41 Upon the seconde day thou madest the spirite of the firmament, and commaundedst it to part a sunder, and to make a diuision betwixt the waters, that ỹ one part might remayne aboue, & the other beneath.
42 Upon the thirde day thou broughtest to passe, that the waters were geathered in the seuenth part of the earth: fiue partes hast thou dryed vp, and kept them, " to the intent intent that menne myght lowe and occupy hul handy therein.

43 Assoone as thy woorde went foorth, the woorke was made,

44 For immediatly there was great and immumerable fruite, and many diuers pleasures for the taste, and floures of vnchangeable colour, and odours of woonderfull smel: And this was donne the thirde day.

Gen.1.d. 45 Upon the fourth day thou cõmaundedst that the sunne shoulde geue his shyne, and the moone her lyght, the starres diddest thou set in order:

Deut.4.c. 46 And gauest them a charge to doo seruice, euen vnto man that was to be made.

Gen.1.c. 47 Upon the fyfth day, thou saydest vnto the seuenth part where the waters were geathered, that it shoulde bryng foorth (diuers) beastes, foules, and fishes: and so it came to passe.

48 For the dumbe water & without soule, brought foorth lyuyng thynges at the commaundement of GOD, that al " people might prayse thy woonderous woorkes.

" or, the nations.

49 Then diddst thou ordeyne two soules: the one thou calledst " Enoch, and the other Leuiathan,

" or, Behemoth.

G 50 And diddst separate the one from the other: for the seuenth part (namely, where the water was geathered togeather) might not holde them both.

" or, Behemoth. 51 Unto " Enoch thou gauest one part, whiche was dryed vp the thirde day, that he shoulde dwel in the same part, wherein are a thousandes hylles.

52 But vnto Leuiathan thou gauest the seuenth part, namely the moyst, and hast kept hym to deuoure what thou wylt, and when.

53 Upon the sixth day thou gauest commaundement vnto the earth, that before thee it shoulde bring foorth beastes, cattel, and all that creepe:

54 And besides this, Adam also, whom thou madest lorde of al thy creatures, of hym comme we al, and the people also whom thou hast chosen (specially vnto thy selfe.)

55 Al this haue I spoken before thee, O Lorde (that I might shewe howe) that the worlde is made for our sakes.

56 As for the other people whiche also comme of Adam, thou hast sayde that they are nothyng, but be lyke vnto spittle, and hast lykened the abundance of them vnto a drop that falleth from a vessel.

57 And nowe, O Lorde, beholde, the heathen whiche haue euer benne reputed as nothyng, haue begun to be lordes ouer vs, and to deuoure vs:

58 But we thy people (whom thou hast called thy first borne, thy onely begotten, and thy feruent louer) are geuen into their handes and power.

59 If the world now be made for our sakes, why haue we not the inheritance of the worlde in possession? Howe long shal this endure?

The. vii. Chapter.

5. Without tribulation none can comme to felicitie. 12. God aduertiseth al in time. 28. The commyng and death of Christe. 32. The resurrection and last iudgement.

A 1 AND when I had made an ende of speakyng these woordes, there was sent vnto me an angel, whiche had benne sent vnto me also the nyghtes afore:

2 And he sayde vnto me, Up Esdras, and heare the woordes that I am comme to tel thee.

3 And I saide, Speake on (Lorde) my God. Then sayde he vnto me, The sea is set in a wyde place, that it might be deepe and great.

4 But put case the entrance is narowe and smal, lyke a ryuer.

5 Who then coulde goe into the sea to loke vpon it, & to rule it? If he went not through the narowe, how might he comme into the broade?

" or, againe 6 Item " awother. A citie is builded, and set vpon a broade feelde, and is ful of al good thynges:

B 7 The entrance thereof is narowe, and is set in a dangerous place to falle, lyke as if there were a fire at the ryght hande, and a deepe water at the left,

8 And as it were onely one strayte path betwixt them both, euen betweene the fire and the water, so smal that there could but one man goe there at once:

9 If this citie nowe were geuen to a man for an inheritance, & he neuer went through the perilous way before, howe woulde he receiue his inheritance?

10 And I sayde, It is so Lorde. Then sayd he, Euen so also is Israels portion.

11 And why? for their sakes haue I made the world: and when Adam trãsgressed my statutes, then was the thing so appoynted as nowe is donne.

12 Then were the entrances of the worlde made narowe, ful of sorowe and trauayle: they are but few and euil, ful of perils, and labour.

13 For the entrances of the fore world were wide and sure, & brought immortal fruite.

C 14 If then they whiche are lyuyng, enter not not diligently through these strayt and lyttle thynges, they can not receiue the thyngs so layde vp in secrete.

15 Why disquietest thou thy selfe then, seeing thou art but a corruptible man? And why art thou mooued, whereas thou art but mortal?

16 And why hast thou not receiued into thine hart, the thyngs that are to comme, rather then them that are present?

17 Then sayde I, O Lorde, Lorde, thou hast ordeyned in thy lawe, that the ryghteous shoulde inherite these thynges, but that the vngodly shoulde perishe:

18 Neuertheless, the ryghteous shal suffer strayte thinges, and hope for wyde: for they that haue lyued vngodly, & suffered strayte thynges, shal not see the wyde.

19 And he sayd vnto me, There is no iudge aboue God, and none that hath vnderstanding aboue the hyghest.

20 For there be many that perishe in this lyfe, because they despise the lawe of GOD that is " set before them:

" or, appointed the. D

21 For God hath geuen strayt commaundement to suche as came, so oft as they came, what they should doo to haue life, and what they shoulde keepe to auoyde punishment.

22 Neuertheless, they were not obedient vnto hym, but spake agaynst hym, and imagined vayne thynges:

23 And deceiued them selues by wicked deedes, and denyed the power of the most hygh, and regarded not his wayes, 24 But his lawe haue they despised, and denyed his promises: in his statutes and ordinantes haue they not benne faythful and stedfast, and haue not perfourmed his woorkes.

25 And therefore Esdras, for the emptie, are the emptie thinges, and for the ful, are the ful thynges.

26 Beholde the tyme shal comme, that these tokens which I haue told thee, shal comme to passe, and the bryde shal appeare, and the commyng fooryth shalbe seene, that nowe is vnder the earth:

27 And whosoeuer is deliuered from the foresayde euyls, shal see my wonders.

E 28 For my sonne Jesus shalbe openly declared, with those that be with hym: and they that remayne, shalbe mery within foure hundred yeeres.

29 After these same yeeres shal my sonne Christe dye, and al menne that haue lyfe:

30 And the worlde shalbe turned into the olde silence seuen dayes, lyke as in the foreiudgementes, so that no man shal remayne.

31 And, after seuen dayes the worlde that yet awaketh not, shalbe rayled vp, and that shal dye that is corrupt.

32 And the earth shal restore those that haue slept in her, and so shal the dust those that dwel therin in silence, and the secrete places shal deliuer those the soules that were committed vnto them.

33 And the most hyghest shalbe openly declared vpon the seate of iudgement, and al miserie shal vanishe away, and long sufferyng " shalbe geathered togeather.

" or, haue an ende.

34 But the iudgement shal continue, the trueth shal remayne, and fayth shal ware strong, 35 The woorke shal folowe, and the reward shalbe shewed, the " ryghteousnesse shal watch, and the vnrighteousnesse shal beare no rule.

" or, the good deedes shalbe of force.

36 Then sayde I, Abraham prayed first for the Sodomites, and Moses for the fathers that sinned in the wyldernesse, Gen. 18. c. Exod. 32. c.

37 And they that came after hym, for Israel, in the tyme of Achas and Samuel, 38 And Dauid for the destruction, and Solomon for them that came into the sanctuarie, 2. Sa. 24. b. 2. Chro. 6. c.

39 And Helias for those that receiued raine, and for the dead, that he myght lyue, 3. King. 17. d

40 And Ezechias for the people in the time of Sennacherib, and diuers other in lyke maner whiche haue prayed for many. 4. King. 16. c 41 Euen so nowe, seeyng the " corrupt is growen vp, and wickednesse increased, and the righteous haue prayed for the vngodly: wherefore shal it not be so nowe also?

" or, vice.

42 He answeared me, and sayde, This present lyfe is not the end, oft tymes honour is reteyned in it: therefore haue they prayed for the weake.

43 But the day of doome shalbe the ende of this time, and the beginning of the immortalitie for to comme, wherein al corruption shalbe vanished: F.

44 Intemperauncie shalbe loosed, infidelitie be cut of, righteousnesse growe, and the veritie spring vp.

45 Then shal no man be able to saue hym that is destroyed, nor to oppresse hym that hath gotten the victorie.

46 I answeared then, and sayde, This is my first and last sayeing, that it had benne better not to haue geuen the earth vnto Adam: or els when it was geuen him, to haue keapt hym that he shoulde not haue sinned.

47 For what profite is it for menne, now in this present tyme to lyue in heauynesse, and after death to " looke for punishment?

48 O thou Adam, what hast thou donne? For though it was thou þ sinned, thou art not fallen alone, but we al that comme of thee.

F 49 For what profite is it vnto vs, if there be promised vs an immortal " time, whereas we doo the workes that bryng death:

" or, lyfe.

50 And that there is promised vs an euerlastyng hope, where as our selues are euyl and vayne:

51 And that there is layde vp for vs dwellynges of health and saftie, whereas we haue lyued wickedly:

52 And that the glory of the hyghest is kept to defende them whiche haue led a patient lyfe, where as we haue walked in the most wicked wayes of al:

53 And that there shoulde be shewed a paradise, whose fruite endureth for euer, wherin is " freedome and medicine, whereas we shal not goe in:

" or, saftie and health.

54 For we haue walked in vnpleasant places.

55 And that the faces of them whiche haue abstayned, shall shyne aboue the starres: whereas our faces shalbe blacker thē darknesse.

56 For whyle we lyued and dyd vnryghteously, we consydered not that we shoulde suffer therefore after death:

57 Then answeared he me, and sayd, This is the maner of the battayle, whiche man that is borne vpon the earth shal fight, 58 That if he be ouercome, he shal suffer as thou hast sayde: but if he geat the victory, he shal receiue the thyng that I say.

Deut.30.d. 59 For this is the life wherof Moses spake vnto the people whyle he liued, sayeing, Choose thee lyfe, that thou mayest lyue.

60 Neuertheless they beleeued hym not, neyther the prophetes after hym, no wr me whiche haue sayde vnto them, 61 That heauynesse shoulde not so be vnto their destructiō, like as ioy is for to comme ouer those " that haue suffered them selues to be enfourmed in saluation.

" or, to whom salnation is perswaded.

62 I answeared then, and sayde, I knowe Lorde, that the hyghest is called mercyful, in that he hath mercy vpon them which are not yet comme vnto that worlde, 63 And vpon those also that walke in his lawe.

Rom.2.a. 64 And that he is patient: for he long sufferreth those ẏ haue sinned, as his creatures.

G 65 And that he is liberal to geue whereas neede requireth.

66 And that he is of great mercy: for he passeth in mercy muche both those that are present, and that are past, and also them whiche are for to comme.

67 For if he multiplyed not his mercies, the worlde coulde not continue his beyng with those that haue inheritances therein.

" or, forgeueth. 68 He " geueth also: for if he gaue not of his goodnesse, that they whiche haue bonne euyl might be eased from their wickednes, the ten thousandth part of menne shoulde not remayne lyuyng.

69 And if he, beyng iudge, forgaue not those that be healed with his worde, and tooke not away the multitude of contentions, 70 There shoulde be very fewe left, peraduenture in an innumerable multitude.

The.viii. Chapter.

6. The woorkes of God are excellent. 20. Esdras prayeth for hym and for his people. 39. The promise of saluation to the iust.

A 1 AND he answeared me, sayeing, The most hyghest made this world for many, but the worlde to comme for fewe.

2 I wyl telle thee a similitude Esdras. As when thou askest the earth, it shal say vnto thee that it geueth muche " moulde wherof earthen vessels are made, but litle of it that golde commeth of: euen so is it with the woorke of this worlde.

" or, earthy matter. Mat.20.b and.21,b.

3 There be many created, but fewe shalbe saued.

4 Then answeared I, and sayde, Then swalowe vp the wyt (O my soule) and deuoure the vnderstandyng.

5 For thou art agreed to hearken and to geue eare, and wyllyng to prophecie: for thou hast no longer space but this lyfe geuen thee.

6 O Lorde, yf thou suffer not thy seruant to intreate thee, that thou mayest geue seede vnto our hart, and buylde our vnderstanding, that there may comme fruite of it, wherby ech man may lyue that is corrupt: thē who shal step forth in the place of man?

B 7 For thou art alone, & we al one woorkmanship of thy handes, like as thou hast sayde.

8 For when the body is fashioned nowe in the mothers wombe, and thou geuest the members, thy creature is preserued in fire and water, and nine monethes dooth thy worke suffer thy creature whiche is fashioned in her:

9 But the thinges that keepeth, and that is keapt, shal both be preserued: and when the time commeth, the wombe preserued deliuereth vp the thynges that grewe in it.

10 For thou hast commaunded the partes of the body, euen the brestes, to geue mylke vnto the fruite of the brestes:

11 That the thyng whiche is created and fashioned, may be nourished for a tyme, tyl thou disposest & ordrest it with thy mercy.

12 And then thou bryngest it vp with thy ryghteousnesse, nurturest it in thy law, and reformest it with thy vnderstandyng,

13 " Mortifiest it as thy creature, and makest

" or, slayest.

makest it lyuyng as thy woorke.

14 Seeyng then that thou destroyest hym whiche with so great labours is created and fashioned through thy commaundement, thou couldest lyghtly ordeyne also that the thyng whiche is made, myght be preserued.

15 Nowe therefore Lorde, I wyl speake (for concernyng al menne in general thou shalt rather prouide) but touchyng thy people, for whose sake I am sory,

E

16 And thyne inheritance for whose cause I mourne, and Israel for whom I am woful, and Iacob for whose sake I am greeued:

17 Therefore beginne I to pray before thee for mee selfe and for them: for I see the faultes of vs that dwel in the lande.

18 But I haue hearde the "swiftnesse of the iudge whiche is to comme.

"or, soden comming.

19 Therefore heare my voyce, and vnderstande my woordes, and I shal speake before thee. This is the beginnyng of the woordes of Esdras, before he was taken vp:

20 O Lorde, thou that dwellest in euerlastyngnesse, whiche beholdest from aboue thinges in the heauen and in the ayre:

21 Whose throne is inestimable, whose glory (and maiestie) may not be comprehended, before whom the hoastes of angels stande with tremblyng,

22 Whose keepyng is turned in wynde and fyre, whose woorde is true, whose sayeings are stedfast, whose commaundement is strong, whose ordinance is feareful,

23 Whose looke dryeth vp the deapthes, whose wrath maketh the mountaynes to melt away, "and whose trueth beareth witnesse:

"or, as the effect it selfe beareth witnes.

24 O heare the prayer of thy seruant, and marke with thyne eares the petition of thy creature.

25 For whyle I lyue, I wyl speake, and so long as I haue vnderstandyng, I wyl answeare.

D

26 O looke not vpon the sinnes of thy people, rather then on them whiche serue thee in trueth.

27 Haue no respect vnto the wicked studies of the heathen: but to the desyre of those that keepe thy testimonies with afflictions.

28 Thynke not vpon those that haue walked faignedly before thee: but remember them whiche accordyng to thy wyl haue knowen thy feare.

29 Let it not be thy wyl to destroy them, whiche haue had beastly manners: but to looke vpon them that haue clearely taught thy lawe.

30 Take thou no indignation at them whiche "are woorse then beastes: but loue them that alway put theyr truste in thy ryghteousnesse and glory.

"or, appeare.

31 For we and our fathers haue al the same sickenesse (and disease:) but because of vs sinners, thou shalt be called mercyful.

32 For yf thou hast mercie vppon vs, thou shalt be called mercyful to vs that haue no woorkes of ryghteousnesse.

33 For the ryghteous whiche haue layde vp many good woorkes togeather, shal out of theyr deedes receiue rewarde.

34 But what is man that thou shouldest take displeasure at hym? Or what is this corruptible and mortal generation, that thou shouldest be so rough towarde hym?

2.Chro. 6.f
1.Ioh.1.b.

35 For of a trueth, there is no man among them that be borne, but he hath dealt wickedly, and among the "faythful, there is none whiche hath not done amisse.

"or, suche as confesse thee.

36 For in this, O Lorde, thy ryghteousnesse and thy goodnesse shalbe praysed (and declared) yf thou be mercyful vnto them whiche "are not riche in good woorkes.

"or, haue not the substance of good workes.

37 Then answeared he me, and sayd, Some thinges hast thou spoken aright, and accordyng vnto thy woordes, it shalbe.

38 For I wyl not veryly consyder ỹ woorkes "of them which haue sinned before death, before iudgement, before destruction:

"or, of the wicked. Gen.4.a.

39 But I wyl reioyce ouer the woorke and thought of the ryghteous, I wyl remember also the pilgrimage, the saluation, and the rewarde that they shal haue.

40 Lyke as I haue spoken nowe, so shal it come to passe.

41 For as the husbandman soweth muche seede vpon the grounde, and planteth many trees, and yet alway the thyng that is sowen or planted, is not al kept safe, neyther doth it al take roote: euen so is it of them that are sowen in the worlde, they shal not al be saued.

E

42 I answeared then, and sayde, If I haue founde grace, then let me speake.

43 Lyke as the husbandmans seede perisheth, yf it comme not vp, and receyue not thy rayne in due season, or yf there comme to muche rayne vppon it, and corrupte it:

44 Euen so perisheth man also, whiche is created with thy handes, and is lyke vnto thyne owne image and to thee selfe, for whose sake thou hast made al thynges, and likened hym vnto the husbandmans seede.

45 Be not wroth with vs, (O lord) but spare thy people, and haue mercie vppon thyne owne inheritance: for thou wilt be merciful vnto vnto thy creature.

46 Then answeared he me, and sayd, Thinges present, are for the present, and thinges to come, for suche as be to come.

47 For thou lackest yet muche, seeyng thou canst loue my creature aboue me: but I haue oft tymes drawen nygh vnto thee, and vnto it, but neuer to the vnryghteous.

48 In this also thou art marueylous before the hyghest,

49 In that thou hast humbled thee selfe as it becommeth thee, and hast not iudged thee selfe woorthy to be muche glorified among the ryghteous.

50 For many and great miseries remayne for them that in the latter tyme shal dwelle in the worlde, because they " haue walked in great pride.

51 But vnderstande thou for thee selfe, and seeke out the glory for suche as be like thee.

52 For vnto you is paradise opened, the tree of lyfe is planted, the tyme to come is prepared, plenteousnesse is made ready, the citie is buylded (for you) and rest is prepared, yea perfect goodnesse and wysedome.

" or, sealed vp.

53 The roote of euyl is " marked from you, the weakenesse and moth is hyd from you, and into hel fleeth corruption in forgetfulnesse.

54 Sorowes are vanished away, and in the ende is shewed the treasure of immortalitie.

55 And therefore aske thou no more questions concernyng the multitude of them that perishe.

56 For when they had taken libertie, they despised the hyghest, thought scorne of his lawe, and forsooke his wayes.

57 Moreouer, they haue troden downe his ryghteous,

58 And sayde in theyr harte, that there is no God, " yea and that wyttingly, for they dye.

Psal. 14. a.

" or, for al they knewe that they shoulde dye.

59 For lyke as the thyng that I haue spoken of, is made ready for you, euen so is thyrste and payne prepared for them: for it was not " his wyl that man shoulde " come to nought.

" or, gods.

" or, perish.

60 But they whiche be created, haue defiled the name of hym that made them, and are vnthankful vnto hym whiche prepared life for them.

61 And therefore is my iudgement nowe at hande.

62 These thynges haue I not shewed vnto al menne, but vnto fewe, namely vnto thee, and to suche as be lyke thee. Then answeared I, and sayde, 63 Beholde, O Lorde, nowe hast thou shewed me the multitude of ỹ woonders whiche thou wylt beginne to doo in the last tymes: but at what tyme (and when) thou hast not shewed me.

The. ix. Chapter.

5. Al thynges in this worlde haue a beginnyng and an ende. 10. Tormentes for the wicked after this lyfe. 15. The number of the wicked is more then of the good.

1 HE answeared me then, & sayde, Measure thou the tyme dilygently in it selfe: and when thou seest that one part of the tokens comme to passe, whiche I haue tolde thee before, A

2 Then shalt thou vnderstande, that it is the very same time wherein the hyghest wyl begynne to visite the worlde whiche he made.

3 Therefore when there shalbe seene an earthquake, and vproare of the people in the worlde,

4 Then shalt thou wel vnderstand that the most hyghest spake of those thynges from the dayes that were before thee, euen from the beginnyng.

5 For lyke as al that is made in the worlde, hath a beginnyng and ende, and the ende is manyfest:

6 Euen so, the times also of the highest haue playne beginninges in woonders & signes, and ende in " woorkyng and in tokens. B " or, effect & myracles.

7 And euery one that shalbe saued, and shalbe hable to escape by his woorkes, and by fayth, wherein ye haue beleeued,

8 Shalbe preserued from the sayde perilles, and shal see my " sauiour in my lande, and within my borders: for I haue halowed " me from the worlde.

" or, saluation.

" or, my selfe.

9 Then shal they pitie them selues, whiche nowe haue abused my wayes: and they that haue cast them out dispitefully, shal dwel in paynes.

10 For suche as in theyr lyfe haue receyued benefites, and haue not knowen me:

11 And they that haue abhorred my lawe, whyle they had yet " freedome, and when they had yet open leysure of amendement and conuertion, vnderstoode not, but despised it:

" or, libertie.

12 The same must knowe it after death in payne.

13 And therefore be thou no more " careful howe the vngodly shalbe pounished: but enquire howe the ryghteous shalbe saued, and whose the worlde is, and for whom the worlde is, and when (it is.)

" or, curious to knowe.

14 Then answeared I, and sayde, C

15 I haue sayde before, and nowe I speake, and

4. Esd. 8. b.

and wyl ſpeake it alſo hereafter: that there be many mo of them which periſhe, then of them which ſhalbe ſaued:

16 Lyke as the flud is greater then a drop.

17 And he answeared me, ſayeing, Lyke as the ſeelde is, ſo is alſo the ſeede: as ẏ floures be, ſo are the colours alſo: ſuch as the workman is, ſuche is alſo the worke: and as the hus bandman is hym ſelfe, ſo is his hus bandry alſo: for it was the tyme of the worlde.

18 And when I prepared for them that are nowe, or euer the world was made, wherin they ſhoulde dwel: then was there no man that ſpake agaynſt me.

19 For then euery one (obeyed) but now the maners of them whiche are created in this world that is made, are corrupted by a perpetual ſeede, and by a lawe wherout they can not ryd them ſelues.

20 So I conſydered the world, and behold there was peril, becauſe of the " thoughtes that were comme into it.

" or, deuiſes.

D 21 And I ſawe, and ſpared them greatly, & haue keapt me a " wyneberie of grapes, and a plante of a great people.

" or, grape of the cluſter

22 Let the multitude periſhe then whiche are growen vp in vayne, and let my grape (and wyneberie) be keapt, and my plant: for with great labour haue I made it vp.

23 Neuertheleſſe, yf thou wylt ceaſſe yet ſeuen dayes mo, but thou ſhalt not faſt in them:

24 Go thy way then into a feeld of floures, where no houſe is buylded, and eate onely of the floures of the feelde, taſte no fleaſhe, drinke no wyne, but eate floures onely.

25 And pray vnto the hygheſt continually, ſo wyl I comme and talke with thee.

26 So I went my way, and came into the feelde whiche is called Ardath, lyke as he commaunded me, and there I ſate among the floures, & dyd eate of the hearbes of the feelde, & the meate of the ſame ſatiſfied me.

27 After ſeuen dayes I ſate vpon the graſſe, and my hart was vexed within me lyke as before.

E 28 And I opened my mouth, and began to talke with the moſt hygheſt, and ſayde, Exod.19.b and.24.a. Deut.4.b.

29 O Lorde, thou that ſhewest thy ſelfe vnto vs, thou haſt declared and opened thy ſelfe vnto our fathers in the wylderneſſe, in a place where no man dwelleth, in a barren place, when they came out of Egypt:

30 And thou ſpakeſt, ſayeing, Heare me, O Iſrael, and marke my wordes thou ſeede of Iacob.

31 For behold, I ſowe my lawe in you, and it ſhal bring fruite in you, and ye ſhalbe honoured in it for euer.

32 But our fathers which receiued the law, keapt it not, and obſerued not thy ordinances and ſtatutes, and the fruite of thy lawe dyd not appeare, neyther could it: for why? it was thyne.

33 For they that receiued it, periſhed, becauſe they keapt not the thyng that was ſowen in them. Deut.32.k.

34 And lo, it is a cuſtome when the ground receiueth ſeede, or the ſea a ſhip, or a veſſel meate and drynke: that when it periſheth, or is broken, wherein a thyng is ſowen, or wherein any thyng is put,

35 The thinges alſo periſhe and are broken whiche are ſowen or put therein and receiued, and the thynges that are receiued, remayne not then with vs: but in vs it hath not happened ſo. F

36 For we that haue receiued the lawe, periſhe in ſinne, and our hart whiche alſo receiued the lawe:

37 Notwithſtanding the law periſheth not, but remayneth in his force. Eſai.40.a 2.Tim.2.a.

38 And when I ſpake theſe thynges in my hart (after this maner) I looked about me with myne eyes, and vpon the ryght ſide I ſawe a woman which mourned ſore, made great lamentation, and wept with loude voyce, and was greeued in hart, and rent her clothes, and ſhe had aſhes vpon her head. 4.Eſd.10.d

39 Then let I my thoughtes goe that I was in, and turned me vnto her, 40 And ſayde, Wherefore weepeſt thou? why art thou ſo ſory in mynde?

41 And ſhe ſaid vnto me, Sir, let me alone, that I may bewayle my ſelfe, and take yet more ſorowe: for I am ſore vexed in my mynde, and brought very lowe.

42 And I ſaid vnto her, What ayleth thee? (Or who hath donne any thyng to thee?) telle me.

43 She ſayde vnto me, I thy ſeruant haue benne vnfruitful and barren, and haue had no chylde, though I haue had an husbande thirtie yeeres. G

44 And theſe thirtie yeeres I do nothyng els day and nyght, and al houres, but make my prayer to the hygheſt.

45 After thirtie yeeres, God hearde me thy handmayden, looked vpon my miſerie, conſydered my trouble, & gaue me a ſonne: & I was glad of hym, ſo was my husbande alſo, and al my neyghbours, and we gaue great honour vnto the almightie.

46 And I nourished him with great trauayle.

47 So when he grewe vp, and came to the tyme that he ſhould " haue a wyfe, I made a feaſt. " or, take.

The.x. Chapter.

Esdras and the woman that appeareth vnto him, commune togeather.

A 1 AND it so came to passe, that when my sonne went into his chamber, he fell downe, and dyed.

2 Then ouerthrewe we al the lyghtes, and al my neyghbours rose vp to comfort me, then tooke I my rest vnto the second day at night.

3 And when they had al left of to comfort me, that I shoulde be quiet: then I rose vp by night and fled, and am comme hither into this feeld, as thou seest,

4 And am purposed not to returne into the citie, but to remayne here, and neyther to eate nor drinke, but continually to mourne, and to fast vntyl I dye.

5 Then let I my meditation and thoughtes fal that I was in, and spake to her in displeasure, sayeing,

6 Thou folishe woman aboue al other, seest thou not our heauinesse and mournyng, and what happeneth vnto vs?

B 7 Howe Sion our mother is al woful and sory, and how she is cleane brought downe, and mourneth extremely?

8 Seeyng we be al nowe in heauynesse, and make our mone, for we al be sorowful: art thou so heauy for one sonne?

9 Demaund the earth, and she shal tel thee, that it is she whiche ought (by reason) to mourne for the fal of so many that growe vpon her.

10 For from the begynnyng al menne are borne of her, and other shal comme: and behold, they walke almost al into destructiō, & the multitude of them shalbe rooted out.

11 Who shoulde then (by reason) make more mournyng, then she that hath lost so great a multitude, and not thou which art sory but for one?

12 But if thou wouldest say vnto me, My mournyng is not lyke the mournyng of the earth: for I haue lost the fruite of my " body, whiche I brought foorth with heauynesse, and bare with sorowes:

" or, wōbe.

13 But the earth is according to the maner of the earth, and the present multitude goeth agayne into her, " as it is comme to passe:

" or, as it is accustomed.

C 14 Then say I vnto thee, Lyke as thou hast borne with trauayle and sorowe, euen so the earth also from the begynnyng geueth her fruite vnto man, euen to hym that laboured her.

Hebr. 12. a. 15 And therefore withholde thy sorowe and heauynesse by thee self, and looke what happeneth vnto thee beare it " strongly.

" or, constantly.

16 For if thou iudgest the marke and end of god to be righteous and good, and receiuest his counsel in tyme, thou shalt be commended therein.

17 Goe thy way then into the citie, to thy husbande.

18 And she sayde vnto me, That wyl I not doo: I wyl not goe into the citie, but here wyl I dye.

19 So I communed more with her, & sayd,

20 Doo not so, but be counselled, and folow me: for howe many fauls hath Sion? Be of good comfort, because of the sorow of Hierusalem.

21 For thou seest that our sanctuarie is laid D waste, our aulter broken, our temple destroyed,

22 Our playeing of instrumentes is layde downe, and songues are put to scilence, our myth is vanished away, & light of our candelsticke is quenched, the arke of our couenant is taken from vs, al our holy thynges are defiled, and the name that is called vpō ouer vs, is almost dishonoured: our children are put to shame, our priestes are brent, our Leuites are caryed away into captiuitie, our virgins are defiled, and our wyues rauished, our righteous menne spoyled, and our chyldren destroyed, our young menne are brought in bondage, and our strong worthyes are become weake:

23 And Sion our seale, whiche is the greatest of al, is loosed vp from her worship: for she is deliuered into the handes of them that hate vs.

24 And therefore shake of thy great heauynesse, & put away the multitude of sorowes, that the myghtie may be mercyful vnto thee, and that the hyghest may geue thee rest and ease from thy labour and trauayle.

25 And when I was talkyng with her, her face and beautie shined sodaynly, and her countenance glistered, so that I was afraid of her, and mused what it might be.

26 And immediatly she cast out a great voice, very feareful, so that the earth shooke at the noyse of the woman.

27 And I looked, and beholde, the woman appeared vnto me no more: but there was a citie buylded, and a place was shewed from the grounde and fundation: then was I afrayde, and cryed with a loude voyce, and sayde, 28 Where is Uriel the angel, whiche came E to me at the first? For he hath caused me to 4. Esd. 4. a. comme in many considerations and hygh thoughtes, and myne ende is turned to corruption, and my prayer to rebuke.

29 And as I was speakyng these wordes, he came vnto me, and looked vpon me:

30 And

30 And lo, I lay as one that had benne dead, and mine vnderstandyng was altred: and he tooke me by the ryght hande, and comforted me, and set me vpon my feete, and sayde vnto me, 31 What ayleth thee? and why is thyne vnderstandyng vexed, and the vnderstandyng of thy hart? and wherefore art thou sory?

32 And I sayd, Because thou hast forsaken me, and I haue donne accordyng vnto thy woordes, I went into the feelde, and there haue I seene thinges, and see that I am not able to expresse.

33 He sayde vnto me, Stande vp, and be manly, and I shal geue thee exhortation.

34 Then sayde I, Speake on to me, my Lorde, forsake me not, lest I dye thorowe my rashnesse:

35 For I haue seene that I knewe not, and heare that I doo not knowe.

36 Or is my vnderstandyng deceiued, or dooth my soule dreame?

37 Now therefore I beseeche thee, that thou wylt shewe thy seruant of this wonder.

38 He answeared me then, and sayde, Heare me, and I shal enfourme thee, and tel thee wherefore thou art afrayde: for the hyghest hath opened many secrete thynges vnto thee, 39 He hath seene that thy * way is ryght, for that thou takest sorowe continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion.

* or, purpose.

40 And therefore vnderstande the vision whiche thou sawest a litle while agoe, after this maner.

41 Thou sawest a woman mournyng, and thou beganneste to comfort her.

42 Neuertheless, nowe seest thou the lykenesse of the woman no more, but there appeared vnto thee a citie buylded:

43 And where she tolde thee of the fal of her sonne, so is this the solution of it,

44 This woman whom thou sawest, is Sion: and where as she tolde thee, euen she whom thou seest nowe as a citie buylded.

45 And as touchyng that she sayde vnto thee, that she hath benne thirtie yeeres vnfruiteful and barren: those are the thirtie yeeres wherein there was no offring made in her.

46 But after thirtie yeeres, Solomon buylded the citte, and offered offeringes: and then bare the barren a sonne.

47 And where as she tolde thee, that she nourished him with labour, that was ỹ dwellyng in Hierusalem.

48 But where as she told thee, that her sonne dyed as his chance was, when she came into her chamber, that is the fal that is come to Hierusalem.

49 And beholde, when thou sawest her lyke one that mourned for her sonne, and beganneste to comfort her: of these thinges whiche haue chanced, these are to be opened vnto thee.

50 For nowe the most hyghest seeth that thou art sory in thy mynde, and sufferest from thy whole hart for her, and so hath he shewed thee her clearenesse, and the fayrenesse of her beautie.

51 And therefore I bade thee remayne in the feelde, where no house was buylded.

52 For I knewe that the hyghest woulde shewe this vnto thee.

55 Therefore I commaunded thee to goe into the feelde where no fundation nor buyldyng is.

54 For in the place where the hyghest beginneth to shewe his citie, there can no mans buyldyng be hable to stande.

55 And therfore feare not, and let not thine hart be afrayde, but goe thy way in, and see the beautie and greatnesse of the buylding, as muche as thine eyes be able to see.

56 And then shalt thou heare as muche as thine eares may comprehende.

57 For thou art blessed aboue many other, and art called with the highest as the few.

58 But to morowe at night thou shalt remayne here:

59 And so shal the highest shew thee visions of the high thinges, whiche he wil doo vnto them that dwel vpon earth in the laste dayes. So I sleapt the same night and another, like as he commaunded me.

The. xi Chapter.

1. The vision of an Egle comming foorth of the sea, and of her feathers. 37. Of a Lion commyng out of the forreſt.

1 THen sawe I a dreame, and beholde there came vp from the sea an Egle, whiche had twelue feathered winges, and three heades: A

2 And I sawe, and beholde, she spread her winges ouer al the earth, and al the windes of the ayre blewe on her, and geathered them togeather.

3 And I beheelde, and out of her feathers there grewe other contrary feathers, and they became litle feathers, and smal.

4 But her heades remayned styl, the head in the myddest was greater then the other, yet reasted it with the residue.

5 Moreouer, I sawe that the Egle flewe with her winges, and raigned vpon earth, & ouer al them that dwelt vpon the earth.

6 And I sawe that al things vnder heauen were subiect vnder her, and no man spake against her, no not one creature vpō earth.

B 7 I sawe also that the Egle stoode vp vpon her clawes, and " gaue a sounde with her fethers, & a voyce sayeing after this maner, " or, spake to her fethers, saye-ing.
8 Watch not altogeather, sleepe euery man in his owne place, and watche by course.
9 But let ỹ heades be preserued for the last.
10 Neuertheless, I sawe that the voyce went not out of her heades, but from the middest of her body.
11 And I numbred her contrary fethers, and beholde there were eyght of them.
12 And I looked, and beholde vpon the ryght side there arose one fether, & raigned ouer al the earth.
13 And so it was that when it raigned, the ende of it came, and the place thereof appeared no more: so the next folowing stood vp, and raigned, and had a great tyme.
C 14 And it happened that when it raigned, the ende of it came also lyke as the first, so that it appeared no more.
15 Then came there a voyce vnto it, & sayd,
16 Heare thou that hast keapt the earth so long, this I say vnto thee before thou beginnest to appeare no more,
17 There shal none after thee atteyne vnto thy tyme, neyther vnto the halfe thereof.
18 Then arose the thirde, and raigned as the other afore: and appeared no more also.
19 So went it, with al the residue, one after another, so that euery one raigned, & then appeared no more.
20 Then I looked, & beholde in processe of tyme the fethers that folowed stoode vp on the ryght side, that they myght rule also, and somme of them ruled: but within a whyle they appeared no more.
D 21 For somme of them were set vp, but ruled not.
22 After this, I looked, and beholde, the twelue fethers appeared no more, nor the two wynges:
23 And there was no more vpon the Eagles body, but two heades that reasted, and sixe wynges.
24 Then sawe I also that two wynges diuided them selues from the sixe, & remayned vnder ỹ head that was vpon the right side: for the foure continued in theyr place.
25 So I looked, and beholde the fethers that were vnder the wyng, thought to sette vp them selues, and to haue the rule.
26 Then was there one set vp, but shortly it appeared no more.
27 And the seconde was sooner away then the first.
28 And I behelde, and loe, the two that remayned, thought also in them selues to raigne:
29 And when they so thought, beholde, there awaked one of the heads that were at rest, namely it that was in the middest: for that was greater then the two other heades.
30 And then I sawe that the two heades E were ioyned with hym:
31 And the head was turned with them that were with hym, and did eate vp the two vnder wynges that would haue raigned.
32 But this head put ỹ whole earth in feare, and bare rule in it ouer al those that dwelt vpon the earth, with muche labour: and he had the gouernance of the worlde ouer al the wynges that had benne.
33 After this I looked, and beholde, the head that was in the middest, sodenly appeared no more, like as the wynges.
34 But there remayned the two heades whiche ruled vpon earth, and ouer those that dwelt therein.
35 And I behelde, and loe, the head vpon the ryght syde, deuoured it that was vpon the leaft syde.
36 Then I hearde a voyce whiche said vnto me, Looke before thee, and consyder the thyng that thou seest.
37 Then I sawe, and beholde as it were a F Lion that roareth, runnyng hastyly out of the wood: & I saw that he sent out a mans voyce vnto the Eagle, and sayde,
38 Heare thou, I wyl talke with thee, and the hyghest shal say vnto thee, 39 " Is it not thou that hast the victorie of the foure beastes whom I made to raigne (vpon earth and) in my world, that the ende of theyr tymes might come through them?
" or, art not thou he that remay-nest of the foure beastes
40 And the fourth came, and ouerran al the beastes that were past, and had power ouer the worlde with great fearefulnesse, and ouer the whole compasse of the earth with moste wycked oppression, and so long tyme dwelt he vpon the earth with deceipt.
41 For the earth hast thou not iudged with trueth.
42 For thou hast troubled the meeke, thou hast hurt the peaceable (and quiet,) thou hast loued lyers, and destroyed the dwellynges of them that brought foorth fruite, and hast cast downe the walles of suche as dyd thee no harme.
43 Therefore is thy wrongful dealing (and blasphemie) comme vp vnto the highest, and thy pryde vnto the myghtie.
44 The hyghest also hath looked vpon the G proude tymes, and beholde they are ended, and theyr abominations are fulfilled.
45 And therfore appeare no more thou Egle, and thy horrible wynges, and thy wycked feathers, and thy vngratious heades, & thy sinneful clawes, and al thy vaine body:

46 That

46 That the earth may be refreſhed, (and comme agayne to her ſelfe) when ſhe is deliuered from thy violence, and that ſhe may hope for the iudgement and mercy of hym that made her.

The.xii. Chapter.

The declaration of the former viſions.

A 1 AND it happened when the Lion ſpake theſe woordes vnto the Egle, I ſawe:

2 And beholde, the head that afore had the vpper hand, appeared no more, neyther dyd the foure wynges appeare any more that came to him & were ſet vp to raigne, & their kyngdome was ſmal & ful of vproare.

3 And I ſawe, and beholde they appeared no more, and the whole body of the Egle was burnt, ſo that the earth was in great feare: then awaked I out of the trouble and traunce of my mynde, and from great feare, and ſayde vnto my ſpirite,

4 Loe, this haſt thou geuen me, in that thou ſearcheſt out the wayes of the hygheſt.

5 Lo, yet am I weery in my mynde, and very weake in my ſpirite: and litle ſtrength is there in me, for the great feare that I receiued this nyght.

6 Therfore wyl I now beſeech the higheſt, that he wyl comfort me vnto the ende.

B 7 And I ſayd, Lord, Lord, if I haue founde grace before thy ſight, and if I am iuſtified with thee before many other, and if my prayer in deede be come vp before thy face:

8 Comfort me then, and ſhewe me thy ſeruant the interpretation and playne difference of this horrible ſight, that thou mayeſt perfectly comfort my ſoule:

9 For thou haſt iudged me woorthy to ſhew me the laſt of tymes.

10 And he ſayde vnto me, This is the interpretation of this ſight:

Dan.7.c. 11 The Egle whom thou ſaweſt comme vp from the ſea, is the kyngdome whiche was ſeene in the viſion of thy brother Daniel:

12 But it was not expounded vnto hym, therefore nowe I declare it vnto thee.

13 Behold the dayes wyl comme, that there ſhal ryſe vp a kyngdome vpon earth, and it ſhalbe feared aboue al the kyngdomes that were before it.

C 14 In " the ſame kyngdome ſhal twelue kynges raigne one after another.

" or, it.

15 Wherefore the ſeconde ſhal beginne to raigne, and ſhal haue more tyme then the other twelue.

16 And this doo the twelue wynges ſignifie whiche thou ſaweſt.

17 As for ỹ voyce that thou heardeſt ſpeake, and that thou ſaweſt not to goe out from the heades, but from the mids of the body therof, it betokeneth,

18 That after the tyme of that kyngdome, there ſhal aryſe great ſtryuinges, and it ſhal ſtand in peryl of fallyng: neuertheleſſe it ſhal not then fal, but ſhalbe reſtored agayne into his begynnyng.

19 And the eyght fethers vnder the wynges, which thou ſaweſt hang vnto her wynges, betoken, 20 That in hym there ſhal aryſe eight kinges, whoſe time ſhalbe but ſmal, and their yeeres ſwift, and two of them ſhal peryſhe.

21 But when the myddeſt tyme commeth, there ſhalbe foure keapt for a tyme, whyles " his tyme begynneth to comme, that it may be ended: but two ſhalbe keapt vnto the ende. D " or, eche his time begynneth.

22 And whereas thou ſaweſt three heades reſtyng, this is the interpretation:

23 In his laſt dayes ſhal the moſt hygh rayſe vp three kyngdomes, and cal many thyngs agayne in to them, and they ſhal haue the dominion of the earth,

24 And of thoſe that dwel therein, with muche " labour, aboue al thoſe that were before them: therefore are they called the heades of the Egle.

" or, greefe.

25 For it is they that ſhal " bryng foorth his wickednes agayne, and that ſhal perfourme and finiſhe his laſt.

" or, accompliſhe his wickednes.

26 And wheras thou ſaweſt that the great head appeared no more, it ſignifieth that one of them ſhal dye vpon his bed, and yet with payne.

27 For the two that remayne, ſhalbe ſlayne with the ſworde.

28 For the ſworde of the one ſhal deuoure the other: but at the laſt ſhal he fal thorowe the ſworde hym ſelfe. E

29 And whereas thou ſaweſt two fethers vnder the wynges, paſſyng towarde the head that is on the ryght ſide,

30 It ſignifieth, that it is they whem the hygheſt hath keapt vnto their ende: this is the ſmal kyngdome, and ful of trouble, as thou ſaweſt.

31 And the Lion, whom thou ſaweſt ryſing vp out of the wood, and roaring, and ſpeaking vnto the Egle, and rebukyng her for her vnrighteouſneſſe, with al the woordes whiche thou haſt heard, 32 Is the wynde whiche the hygheſt hath keapt for them, and for their wickednes vnto the ende: he ſhal reproue them, and caſt before them their owne ſpoylinges.

33 For he ſhal ſet them alyne in iudgement, and ſhal rebuke them, and correct them.

34 For the reſidue of my people ſhal he deliuer by trouble, thoſe that be preſerued vpon my borders, and he shal make them ioyful vntyl the comming of the day of iudgement, whereof I haue spoken vnto thee from the begynnyng.

F 35 This is the dreame that thou sawest, and these are the interpretations.

36 Thou onely hast benne meete to knowe this secrete of the hyghest.

37 Therefore write al these thynges that thou hast seene in a booke, and hyde them, 38 And teache thē to the wise of the people, whose hartes thou knowest may comprehende and keepe these secretes.

39 But wayte thou here thee selfe yet seuen dayes mo, that it may be shewed thee what soeuer it pleaseth the hyghest to declare vnto thee. And with that he went his way.

40 And when al the people perceiued that the seuen dayes were past, & I not comme agayne into the citie, they geathered them altogeather, from the least vnto the most, and came vnto me, and sayde, 41 What haue we offended thee? and what euyl haue we donne agaynst thee, that thou forsakest vs, and sittest here in this place?

42 For of al the people thou onely art left vs, as a grape of the vine, and as a candel in a darke place, and as an hauen or shippe preserued from the tempest.

43 Haue we not els aduersitie ynough?

44 If thou shalt forsake vs, were it not better for vs that we had benne burnt with Sion?

45 For we are not better then they that dyed there. And they wept with loude voyce. Then answeared I them, and sayde, G 46 Be of good comfort, O Israel, and be not heauy thou house of Iacob.

47 For the hyghest hath you in remembrance, and the myghtie hath not forgotten you in temptation.

48 As for me I haue not forsaken you, neyther am I departed from you: but am comme into this place to pray, because of the miserie of Siō, that I might seeke mercy for the lowe estate of your sanctuarie.

49 And now go your way home euery man, & after these dayes wyl I comme vnto you.

50 So the people went their way into the citie, lyke as I commaunded them:

51 But I remayned styl in the feelde seuen dayes, as * the angel bad me, and dyd eate onely of the floures of the feelde, & had my meate of the hearbes in those dayes.

* or, he.

The.xiii. Chapter.

2. The vision of a wynde commyng foorth of the sea, 3. which became a man, 5. His propertie and power agaynst his enimies, 21. The declaration of this vision.

1 AND after the seuen dayes, I dreamed a dreame by nyght.

2 And beholde, there arose a wynde from the sea, that it mooued al the waues thereof.

3 And I looked, and behelde there was a strong man with the thousands of heauen: and when he turned his countenance to looke, al the thynges trembled that were seene vnder hym:

4 And when the voyce went out of his mouth, al they burnt that heard his voyce, lyke as the earth fayleth when it feeleth the fyre.

5 After these I sawe, and behold there was geathered togeather a multitude of menne out of number, from the foure windes of the heauen, to fight agaynst the man that came out of the sea.

6 And I looked, and behold he graued him selfe a great mountayne, & flew vp vpon it.

7 But I woulde haue seene the region or place whereout the hyl was grauen, and I could not. B

8 And I saw after these, that al they which came to fight against him were sore afraid, and yet durst they fight.

9 Neuertheless, when he saw the fiercenesse & violence of the people that came, he neyther lyft vp his hande, " nor helde sworde, nor any weapon: " or, for he helde no sworde nor any instrument of warre.

10 But onely, as I sawe, he sent out of his mouth as it had benne a blast of fire, and out of his lippes the wind of the flame, and out of his tongue he cast out sparkes and stormes.

11 And they were al mixt togeather: the blast of fire, the winde of the flame, and the great storme: and fel with " a rushe vpon the people whiche was prepared to fight, and burnt them vp euery one, so that of the innumerable multitude, there was nothyng sene but only dust and smel of smoke: When I sawe this, I was afrayde. " or, violence

12 Afterward saw I the same man comme downe from the mountayne, and callyng vnto hym another peaceable " people. " or, multitude.

13 And there came much people vnto hym, somme were glad, somme were sory, somme of them were bounde, and other somme brought of them that were offered: then was I sicke through great feare, and I awaked, and sayde,

14 Thou hast shewed thy seruant these woonders from the begynnyng, and hast counted me woorthy that thou mightest receiue my prayer: C

15 Shewe me nowe yet the interpretation of this dreame.

16 For thus I conseyue in my vnderstandyng:

hyng: wo vnto them that shalbe left in those daies, and much more wo vnto them, that are not left behynde:

17 For they that were not left, were in heavynesse.

18 Nowe vnderstande I the thynges that are layde vp in the latter dayes, which shal happen vnto them, and to those that are left behynde.

19 Therfore are they comme into great perils, and many necessities, lyke as these dreames declare.

20 Yet is it easier that he whiche is in danger, falle (into these) and nowe to see that whiche shal chance hereafter, then to passe out of this worlde as a cloude. Then answeared he me, and sayd,

D 21 The interpretation of the sight shal I shewe thee, and I wyl open vnto thee the thyng that thou hast required.

22 Whereas thou hast spoken of them that are left behinde, this is the interpretation, 23 He that beareth the peryl in that tyme, hath keapt him selfe: they that be fallen into danger, are suche as haue woorkes and fayth vnto the most mightie.

24 Know this therfore, that they which be left behinde, are more blessed then they that be dead.

* or, these are the meanynges. 25 * This is the meanyng of the vision, Whereas thou sawest a man commyng vp from the * deepe of the sea, * or, middest. 26 The same is he whom God the hyghest hath keapt a great season, whiche by his owne selfe shal deliuer his creature: and he shal order them that are left behynde.

27 And wheras thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came as a blast of wynde, fire, and stormes:

* or, fiercenesse. 28 And how that he lyft vp neyther sworde nor weapon, but that the * rushing in of hym destroyed the whole multitude that came to fyght agaynst hym: it signifieth,

29 That the dayes comme, when the moste hyghest wyl beginne to deliuer them that are vpon earth:

* or, he shal astonishe the hearts of them. Mat. 24. a. 30 And * in a traunce of mind shal he come vpon them that dwel in the earth.

31 And one shal vndertake to fight agaynst another: one citie agaynst another, one place agaynst another, one people agaynst another, and one realme agaynst another.

C 33 When this commeth to passe, then shal the tokens comme that I shewed thee before: and then shal my sonne be * declared, whom thou sawest climbe vp as a man.

* or, reuealed. 33 And when al the people heare his voyce, euery man shal in their owne lande, leaue the batayle that they haue one agaynst another:

34 And an innumerable multitude shalbe geathered togeather, as they that be wyllyng to comme, and to ouercome hym by fyghting.

35 But he shal stande vpon the toppe of the mount Sion.

36 And Sion shal comme, and shalbe shewed to al menne, being prepared and buylded, lyke as thou sawest the hil grauen forth without any handes.

37 And this my sonne shal rebuke those nations which are fallen into the tempest, for their wickednesse and euil imaginations, 38 And into tormentes lyke to flame, wherewith they shalbe punished: and without any labour shal he destroy them, euen by the lawe, whiche is compared vnto the fire.

39 And whereas thou sawest, that he geathered another peaceable people vnto hym, 40 Those are the ten tribes which were caried away prisoners out of their owne land in the tyme of Oseas the kyng, whom Salmanasar the kyng of Assyria tooke prisoners, and caried them * ouer the water, and so came they into another lande. F 2. Reg. 17. a * or, beyonde the riuer.

41 But they tooke this counsayle among them selues, that they would leaue the multitude of the heathen, and to goe forth into a farther countrey, where neuer mankinde dwelt:

42 That they might there keepe their statutes, which they neuer kept in their owne lande.

43 And so they entred in at the narowe passages of the riuer of Euphrates.

44 For the moste hyghest then shewed tokens for them, and helde styl the fludde tyl they were passed ouer. Exod. 13. e. Iosue. 3. d.

45 For thorowe ý countrey there was a great way, namely of a yeere and a halfe iourney: and the same region is called Arsareth.

46 Then dwelt they there vntyl the latter tyme: and when they comme forth againe, 47 Thy highest shal holde stil the springes of the streame agayne, that they may goe through: therefore sawest thou the multitude with peace.

48 But they that be leaft behind of thy people, are those that are founde within my borders.

49 Now when he destroyeth the multitude of the nations that are geathered together, he shal defende his people that remayne:

50 And then shal he shewe them great wonders.

51 Then sayde I, O Lorde, Lord, shewe me this, Wherfore haue I seene the man commyng vp from the * deepe of the sea? * or, myddest.

52 And he sayd vnto me, Like as thou canst neyther seeke out nor knowe these thynges that are in the deepe of the sea: euen so can no man vpon earth see my sonne, or those that be with hym, but in the tyme of * the day.

* or, that day.

53 This is the interpretation of the dreame whiche thou sawest, and whereby thou only art here lyghtned:

54 For thou hast forsaken thyne owne law, and applyed thy diligence vnto myne, and sought it.

1. King. 3. a Prou. 7. a. 55 Thy lyfe hast thou ordered in wysdome, and hast called vnderstanding thy mother:

56 And therefore haue I shewed thee the treasures of the hyghest. After other three dayes I wyl shewe thee more, and talke with thee more at large, yea heauie and woonderous thinges wil I declare vnto thee.

57 Then went I forth into the feelde, geuyng prayse and thankes greatly vnto god, because of his woonders whiche he dyd in tyme, 58 And because he gouerneth the same, and suche thynges as falle in their seasons: and there I sate three dayes.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

3. How God appeared to Moses in the bushe. 10. Al thynges decline to age. 16. The latter age woorse then the former. 29. The ingratitude of Israel. 35. The resurrection and iudgement.

A VPon the thirde day I sate vnder an oke tree, then came there a voyce vnto me out of the bushe, and sayd, Esdras, Esdras.

2 And I sayde, Here am I Lord: and stood vp vpon my feete.

Exod. 3. a. 3 Then sayde he vnto me, In the bushe dyd I appeare vnto Moses, and talked with hym when my people serued in Egypt.

4 And I sent hym, and led my people out of Egypt, and brought him vp to the mount Sina, where I held him by me a long season:

5 And told him many woonderous woorks, and shewed him the secretes of the times, and the ende, & commaunded him, sayeing,

B 6 These woordes shalt thou declare, and these shalt thou hyde.

7 And nowe I say vnto thee,

8 That thou lay vp in thyne hart, the signes that I haue shewed, and the dreames that thou hast seene, and the interpretations whiche thou hast heard.

9 For thou shalt be taken away from among al, and hencefoorth thou shalt remayne with my counsayle, and with suche as be lyke thee, vntil the times be ended.

10 For the woorlde hath lost his youth, and the times beginne to waxe olde.

11 For the woorlde is diuided into twelue partes, and the tenne partes of it are gone already, and halfe of a tenth part:

12 And there remayneth there that which is after the halfe of * the tenth part.

* or, that

13 Therefore set thine house in order, and reforme thy people, comfort suche of them as be in trouble, and nowe renounce corruption,

C 14 Let goe from thee mortal thoughtes, cast away the burdens of menne, put of the weake nature,

15 And set aside the thoughtes that are most heauy vnto thee, and haste thee to flee from these times:

16 For as for suche euyl (and wickednesse) as thou hast nowe seene happen, they shal doo yet muche woorse.

Mat. 24. a

17 For the weaker that the woorlde is, by reason of age, the more shal euilles encrease vpon them that dwel therein. Iohn. 2. c 18 For the trueth is fledde farre away, & leasyng is harde at hande: For nowe hasteth the vision to comme that thou hast seene.

19 Then answeared I before thee, and said,

20 Beholde Lorde, I wyl goe as thou hast commaunded me, & reforme the people whiche are present: but they that shalbe borne afterwarde, who wyl admonyshe them? Thus the woorld is set in darkenesse, & they that dwel therein are without light.

D 21 For thy lawe is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the thynges that are donne of thee, or the woorkes that shalbe donne.

22 But yf I haue founde grace before thee, sende the holy ghost into me, and I shal write al that hath benne done in the woorld since the begynnyng, which was wrytten in thy law, that menne may finde the path, and that they whiche wyl lyue in the latter dayes, may lyue.

23 And he answeared me, sayeing, Goe thy way, geather the people togeather, and say vnto them, that they seeke thee not for fourtie dayes.

24 But looke thou geather thee many bore trees, and take with thee Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ecamis, and Asiel, these fyue whiche are ready to wryte swiftly:

25 And come hither, & I shal light a candel of vnderstanding in thine hart, whiche shal not be put out, til the thynges be performed whiche thou shalt begin to wryte.

26 And then shalt thou declare some thinges openly vnto the perfect, & some things shalt thou shewe secretely vnto the wise: To morowe this houre shalt thou begin to wryte.

27 Then

27 Then went I forth as he commaunded me, and geathered al the people togeather, and ſayde, 28 Heare theſe woordes, O Iſrael,
29 Our fathers at the beginning were ſtrangers in Egypt, from whence they were deliuered,
30 And receyued the lawe of lyfe, whiche they kept not, whiche ye alſo haue tranſgreſſed after them. Deut.4.d.
31 Then was the lande, euen the lande of Sion, parted amõg you by lot, (to poſſeſſe:) but your fathers, and ye your ſelues alſo, haue done vnryghteouſneſſe, and haue not kept the wayes whiche the hyghеſt commaunded you:
32 And for ſo muche as he is a ryghteous iudge, he tooke from you in tyme, the thyng that he had geuen you.
33 And nowe are ye here, and your brethren among you.
34 Therefore, yf ſo be that ye wyl ſubdue your owne vnderſtandyng, and refourme your harte, ye ſhalbe kept aliue, and after death ſhal ye obteyne mercie.
35 For after death ſhal the iudgement come, when we ſhal liue agayne: and then ſhal the names of the ryghteous be manyfeſt, & the workes of the vngodly ſhalbe declared. C
36 Let no man therefore comme nowe vnto me, nor ſeeke after me theſe fourtie dayes.
37 So I tooke the fiue menne, as he commaunded me, and we went into the feelde, and remayned there. Ezech.3.a. Apoc.10.b.
38 The next day a voyce called me, ſayeing, Eſdras, open thy mouth, and drynke that I geue thee to drinke.
39 Then opened I my mouth, and beholde, he reached me a ful cuppe, whiche was ful as it were with water, but the colour of it was lyke fyre.
40 And I tooke it, and dranke: and when I had dronken it, my harte had vnderſtanding, and wyſedome grewe in my breſt: for my ſpirite was ſtrengthened in remembrance, 41 And my mouth was opened, and ſhut no more.
42 The hyghеſt gaue vnderſtandyng vnto the fiue men, that they wrought the hygh thynges of the nyght, whiche they vnderſtoode not.
43 But in the nyght they dyd eate bread: as for me I ſpake in the day, and helde not my tongue by nyght.
44 In fourtie dayes they wrote two hundred and foure bookes.
45 And it came to paſſe, when the fourtie dayes were fulfilled, that the hyghеſt ſpake, ſayeing, The firſt that thou haſt written, publiſhe openly, that the woorthy and vnwoorthy, may reade it:
46 But keepe the ſeuentie laſt, that thou mayeſt deliuer them onlye to ſuche as be wyſe among thy people.
47 For in them is the ſpring of vnderſtandyng, the fountayne of wyſedome, and the ſtreame of knowledge.
48 And I dyd ſo.

The. xv. Chapter.

1. The prophecie of Eſdras is certayne.
5. The euils that ſhal come on the worlde.
9. The lord wil auenge the innocent blood.

1 BEholde, ſpeake thou in the eares of my people the woordes of prophecie, which I wil put in thy mouth, ſayth the Lord, A
2 And cauſe them to be written in a letter: for " it is the trueth.
3 Feare not the imaginations againſt thee, let not the vnfaythfulneſſe of them trouble thee, that ſpeake againſt thee: " or, they are faythful and true.
4 For al the vnfaythful, ſhal dye in theyr vnfaythfulneſſe.
5 Beholde (ſayth the Lorde) I wyl bryng plagues vpon the worlde, the ſwoord, hunger, death, and deſtruction:
6 For wickedneſſe hath the vpper hande in al the earth, and their ſhameful woorkes are fulfilled:
7 Therefore ſayth the Lorde,
8 I wyl holde my tongue no more of theyr wickedneſſe, whiche they doo ſo vngodly, neyther wyl I ſuffer them in the thinges that they deale withal ſo wickedly: beholde, the innocent and ryghteous blood cryeth vnto me, and the ſoules of the iuſte complayne continually. B Apoc.6.b. and.19.a.
9 And therefore, ſayth the Lorde, I wyl ſurely auenge, and receyue vnto me al the innocent blood from among them. Pſal.44.c. Rom.8.c. 1.Cor.4.b.
10 Beholde, my people is ledde as a flocke of ſheepe to be ſlayne, I wyl not ſuffer them nowe to dwel in the lande of Egypt:
11 But wyl bryng them out with a myghty hand, and a ſtreatched out arme, and ſmite it with plagues as afore, and wyl deſtroy al the lande of it.
12 Egypt ſhal mourne, and the fundations of it ſhalbe ſmitten with the plague, and pounyſhment that God ſhal bring vpon it.
13 They that tille the grounde ſhal mourne, for their ſeedes ſhalbe deſtroyed through the blaſtyng and hayle, and by an horrible ſtarre.
14 Wo wooyth the worlde, and them that dwel therein:
15 For the ſwoorde and their deſtruction draweth nygh, and one people ſhal ſtande vp to fyght againſt another, and ſwoordes in their handes. C for shalbe ction a- among men.

16 * For menne shalbe brokedfast, and some shal doo violence vnto other, they shal not regarde their kyng, and the princes shal measure the way of their dooinges by their power.

17 A man shal desire to goe into a citie, and shal not be hable.

18 For because of their pride, the cities shalbe troubled, the houses shal tremble, and menne shalbe afrayde.

19 A man shal haue no pitie vpon his neyghbour, but shal destroy their houses with the swoorde, and spoyle their goodes, because of the * hunger of breed, and because of the great trouble.

* or, lacke.

20 Beholde, sayth God, I call togeather al the kinges of the earth to reuerence me, whiche are from the * vprysing, from the south, from the east, and Libamis, to turne vpon them, and restore the thinges that they haue donne to them:

* or, weste.

D

21 Like as they doo yet this day vnto my chosen, so wyl I doo also, & recompence them in their bosome: Thus sayth the Lorde God, 22 My ryght hande shal not spare the sinners, and my swoorde shal not ceasse ouer them that shedde the innocent blood vpon earth.

23 The fyre is gone out from his wrath, and hath consumed the fundations of the earth, & the sinners like the straw that is kindled.

24 Wo wooyth them that sinne, and keepe not my commaundementes, sayth the lord.

25 I wyl not spare them: goe your way ye chyldren from the power, defile not my sanctuarie:

26 For the Lorde knoweth al them that sinne agaynst him, and therefore deliuereth he them vnto death and destruction.

27 For nowe are the plagues come vpon the worlde, and ye shal remayne in them: for God shal not deliuer you, because ye haue sinned agaynst hym.

28 Beholde, an horrible vision commeth from the east,

29 Where generations of Dragons of Arabia shal comme out with many charettes, and the multitude of them shalbe caryed as the wynd vpon earth, that al they which heare them, may feare and tremble,

30 Euen the Carmanites ragyng in wrath, shal goe forth as the wylde bores of the forrest, and with great power shal they comme, and stande fighting with them, and shal waste a portion of the lande of the Assyrians.

31 And then shal the Dragons haue the vpper hande, and remembryng their nature, shal turne about, conspiring togeather in great power to persecute them.

32 Then these shalbe troubled, and keepe silence in their power, and shal flee:

33 And from the lande of the Assyrians shal the enemie besiege them, and consume some of them, and in their hoste shalbe feare and dreade, and strife among their kinges.

34 Beholde cloudes from the east, and from the north vnto the south, and they are very horrible to looke vpon, fulle of wrath and stormes:

35 They shal smite one vpon another, and they shal smite downe a great multitude of starres vpon the earth, euen their owne starre: and the blood shalbe from the swoord vnto the belly,

36 And the doung of man vnto the Cammels lytter,

37 And there shalbe great fearefulnesse and tremblyng vppon earth: and they that see the wrath shalbe afrayde, and a tremblyng shal comme vpon them:

38 And then shal there comme great raynes F from the south, and from the North, and part from the weste:

39 And strong windes shal aryse from the easte, and shal open it, and the cloud which he rayled vp in wrath, and the starre styrred to cause feare towarde the easte and weste wynde, shalbe destroyed:

40 The great cloudes shalbe lyfte vp, and the myghtie cloudes ful of wrath, and the starre, that they may make al the earth afrayde, and them that dwel therein, and that they may powre out ouer euery hygh places an horrible starre,

41 Fire, & hayle, and fleeing swoordes, and many waters: that al feeldes may be ful, and al riuers with the abundance of great waters.

42 And they shal breake downe the cities, and walles, mountaynes, and hilles, trees of the wood, and the grasse of the meddowes, and al their corne.

43 And they shal goe stedfast vnto Babylon, and make her afrayde.

44 They shal comme to her, and besiege her, the * starre and al wrath shal they powre out vpon her, then shal the dust and smoke goe vp vnto the heauen, and al they that be about her, shal bewayle her:

* or, constellation & tempest.

45 And they that remayne vnder her, shal doo seruice vnto them that haue put her in feare.

46 And thou Asia, that comfortest thee selfe also vpon the hope of Babylon, and art the glory of her person:

47 Wo be vnto thee thou wretche, because thou hast made thee selfe like vnto her, and hast decked thy daughters in whoredome,

that that they myght * triumph, and please thy louers whiche haue alway desyred to commit whoredome with thee.

* or, please and glory in.

48 Thou hast folowed the abominable citie in al her woorkes and inuentions: therfore sayth God, 49 I wil sende plagues vpon thee, widowhood, pouertie, hunger, warres, and pestilence, to waste thy houses with destruction and death.

50 And the glory of thy power shalbe dryed vp as a floure, when the heate ryseth that is sent * ouer thee:

* or, vpon.

51 Thou shalt be sycke as a poore wife that is plagued and beaten of women, so that the myghtie and louers shal not be able to receiue thee.

52 Mouldе I so hate thee, sayth the Lorde,

53 If thou haddest not alway slayne my chosen, exaltyng the strok: of thy hands, & said ouer they? death when thou wast drunken,

54 Set forth the beautie of thy countenance:

55 The rewarde of thy whoredome shalbe recompenced thee in thy bosome, therefore shalt thou receiue rewarde.

56 Lyke as thou hast donne vnto my chosen, sayth the Lorde, euen so shal God doo vnto thee, and shal deliuer thee into the plague.

57 Thy children shal dye of hunger, and thou shalt fal through the swoorde: thy cities shalbe broken downe, and al thyne shal perysshe with the swoorde in the feelde.

58 They that be in the mountaynes, shal dye of hunger, and eate they? owne fleashe, and drynke they? owne blood, for very hunger of bread, and thirst of water.

59 Thou as vnhappy shalt comme through the sea, and receiue plagues agayne.

60 In the passage they shal cast downe the slayne citie, and shal roote out one part of the lande, and consume the portion of thy glory, and shal returne to her that was destroyed.

61 They shal treade thee downe lyke stubble, and they shalbe thy fyre:

62 And shal consume thee, thy cities, and thy lande, and thy mountaynes, al thy woodes and thy fruiteful trees shal they burne vp with the fyre.

63 Thy children shal they carie away captiue, and looke what thou hast, they shal spoyle it, and marre the beautie of thy face.

The.xvi. Chapter.

18. 38. Of the euilles that shal come vpon the worlde, with admonition howe to gouerne them selues in afflictious.

21 WO be vnto thee Babylon and Asia, wo be vnto thee Egypt and Syria:

2 Gird vp your selues with clothes of sacke and heare, and mourne your children, be sory: for your destruction is at hande.

3 A swoorde is sent vpon you, and who wyl turne it backe?

4 A fyre is sent among you, and who wyl quenche it?

5 Plagues are sent vnto you, and what is he that wyl dryue them away?

6 May any man dryue away an hungry Lion in the wood? or may any man quenche the fyre in stubble when it hath begunne to burne?

7 May one turne agayne the arrowe that is shot of a strong archer? B

8 The myghtie Lorde sendeth the plagues, and what is he that wil dryue them away?

9 The fyre is kyndled & gonne forth in his wrath, and what is he that may quench it?

10 He shal cast lightninges, and who shal not feare? he shal thunder, and who shal not be afrayde?

11 The Lorde shal threaten, & who shal not vtterly be beate to powder at his presence?

13 The earth quaketh, and the fundations therof, the sea ariseth vp with waues from the deepe, and the waues of it are vnquiet, and the fishes thereof also, before the Lord, and before the glory of his power:

13 For strong is his right hand that bendeth the bowe, his arrowes that he shooteth are sharpe, and shal not misse when they begyn to be shot into the endes of the worlde.

14 Beholde, the plagues are sent, & shal not turne agayne til they comme vpon earth. C

15 The fyre is kyndled, and shal not be put out, til it consume the fundations of the earth.

16 Like as an arrowe whiche is shot of a mightie archer, returneth not backwarde: euen so the plagues that shalbe sent vpon the earth, shal not turne agayne.

17 Wo is me, wo is me, who wil deliuer me in those dayes?

18 The begynnyng of sorowes and great mournyng, the begynnyng of dearth and great death, the begynnyng of warres, and the powers shal stande in feare: the begynnyng of euilles, and they shal tremble euery one.

19 What shal I doo in these thinges, when the plagues comme?

20 Beholde, hunger, and plague, trouble, & anguishe, are sent as scourges for amendement;

21 But for al these thynges, they shal not turne from they? wickednesse, nor be alway mindful of the scourges. D

22 Beholde, victuals shalbe so good cheape vpon earth, that they shal thynke them selues selues to be in good case: and euen then shal mischeefe growe vpon earth, warres, dearth, and great " disquietnesse.

" Gr. vnquietnesse.

23 For many of them that dwel vpon earth, shal perysshe of hunger, and the other that escape the hunger, shal the swoorde destroy:

24 And the dead shalbe cast out as doung, and there shalbe no man to comfort them: For the earth shalbe wasted, and the cities shalbe cast downe.

25 There shalbe no man leaft to tyl the earth, and to sowe it.

26 The trees shal gene fruite, and who shal plucke them of, and geather them?

27 The grapes shalbe ripe, & who shal treade them? For al places shalbe desolate of men:

28 So that one man shal desyre to see another, or to heare his voyce.

C 29 For of one whole citie, there shalbe ten leaft, and two of the feelde, which shal hide them selues in the thycke " bushes, and in the cliftes of stones,

" Or, woods

30 Lyke as when there remayne three or foure olives, in the place where olives growe, or among other trees,

31 Or as when a vineyarde is geathered, there are leaft somme grapes of them that diligently sought through the vineyarde:

32 Euen so, in those dayes there shalbe three of foure leaft, by them that searche theyr houses with the swoorde.

33 And the earth shalbe leaft waste, and the feeldes therof shal ware olde, & her wayes, and al her pathes shal grow ful of thornes, because no man shal trauaile therethrough.

34 The virgins shal mourne, hauing no bridegromes, the women shal make lamentation, hauing no husbandes, theyr daughters shal mourne, hauyng no helpers, 35 In the warres shal theyr bridegromes be destroyed, and theyr husbandes shal perysshe of hunger.

F 36 But ye seruantes of the Lord, heare these thynges, and marke them.

37 Beholde the woorde of the Lorde, O receiue it: beleeue not the gods of whom the Lord spake, 38 Beholde, the plagues drawe nygh, and are not slacke in tarying.

39 Lyke as a trauaylyng woman, whiche in the ninth moneth bringeth forth a sonne, when the houre of the byrth is comme, an houre two or three afore that, the paynes comme vpon her body, and when the chylde commeth to the byrth, they tary not the twincklyng of an eye:

40 Euen so shal not the plagues be slacke to comme vpon the earth, and the worlde shal mourne, and sorowes shal comme vpon it on euery syde.

41 O my people, heare my woorde, make you ready to the battayle, and in al euil be euen as pylgrimes vpon earth.

42 He that selleth, let hym be as he that fleeth his way: and he that buyeth, as one that wyl leese:

43 Who so occupyeth marchandise, as he that wynneth not: and he that buildeth, as he that shal not dwel therein:

G 1. Cor. 7.b

44 He that soweth, as one that shal not reape: he that cutteth the vineyarde, as he that shal not geather the grapes:

45 They that mary, as they that shal geat no chyldren: and they that mary not, as the wydowes.

46 And therefore they that labour, labour in vayne.

Psal. 127.a
Pro. 10.c

47 For strangers shal reape theyr fruites, and spoyle theyr goodes, ouerthrowe theyr houses, and take theyr chyldren captiues: for in captiuitie and hunger shal they geat children.

Eccle. 11.b.

48 And they that occupie theyr marchandise with robberie, the more they decke theyr cities, theyr houses, theyr possessions, and theyr owne persons, 49 The more wil I pounishe them for their sinnes, sayth the Lorde.

50 Lyke as an whoore enuieth an honest and vertuous woman:

51 So shal ryghteousnesse hate iniquitie, when she decketh her selfe, and shal accuse her to her face, when he commeth that shal bryde the aucthour of al sinne vpon earth.

52 And therefore be not ye lyke thereunto, nor to the woorkes thereof:

53 For or euer it be long, iniquitie shalbe taken away out of the earth, and ryghteousnesse shal raigne among you.

54 Let not the sinner say, that he hath not sinned: for coales of fyre shal burne vpon his head whiche sayth, Before the Lorde God and his glory, I haue not sinned.

55 Beholde, the Lorde knoweth al ỹ woorkes of men, theyr imaginations, theyr thoughtes, and theyr hartes.

56 For he spake but the woorde, Let the earth be made: and it was made, Let the heauen be made: and it was created.

Gen. 1.a.

57 In his woorde were the starres made, and he knoweth the number of them.

Psal. 146.a

58 He searcheth the grounde of the deepe, and the treasures therof, he hath measured the sea, and what it conteyneth.

59 He hath shut the sea in the middest of the waters, and with his woorde hath he hanged the earth vpon the waters.

60 He spreadeth out the heauens like a vaut, vpon the waters hath he founded it.

61 In

61 In the deſart and dryе wyldernesſe hath he made ſpringes of water, and pooles vpon the toppes of the mountaynes, that the fluddes myght poure downe from the ſtony rockes to water the earth.

62 He made man, and put his harte in the middes of the body, and gaue him breath, lyfe, and vnderſtanding,

63 Yea and the ſpirite of the almyghty God whiche made al thinges, and hath ſearched the grounde of al the ſecretes of the earth, 64 He knoweth your imaginations and inuentions, and what ye thynke when ye ſinne, and wouldе hyde your ſinnes.

65 Therefore hath the Lorde ſearched and ſought out al your woorkes, and he ſhal bewray you al:

66 And when your ſinnes are brought forth, ye ſhalbe aſhamed before men, and your owne ſinnes ſhalbe your accuſers in that day.

67 What wyl ye doo? or howe wyl ye hyde your ſinnes before God and his angels?

68 Beholde, God hym ſelfe is the iudge, feare hym: leaue of from your ſinnes, and forgeat your vnryghteouſneſſes, & meddle no more with them: ſo ſhal God leade you forth, and deliuer you from al trouble.

69 For beholde, the heate of a great multitude is kindled ouer you, & they ſhal take away certayne of you, & ſhal ſlay for meate to the idols:

70 And they that conſent vnto them, ſhalbe had in deriſion, laughed to ſcorne, and troden vnder foote.

71 For there ſhalbe in euery place, and in the next cities, a great inſurrection vpon thoſe that feare the Lorde:

72 They ſhalbe like madde men, they ſhal ſpare no man, they ſhal ſpoyle and waſte ſuche as yet feare the Lorde:

73 For they goods ſhal they take from them, and ſhut them out of their houſes.

74 Then ſhal it be knowen who are my choſen, and they ſhalbe tryed as the gold in the fire.

75 Heare, O ye my beloued, ſayth the Lorde: beholde, the dayes of trouble are at hande, but I wyl deliuer you from the ſame.

76 Be not ye afrayde, diſpayre not: for God is your captayne.

77 Who ſo keepeth my commaundementes and preceptes, ſayth the Lorde God, let not your ſinnes waygh you downe, and let not your vnrighteouſneſſe be lyft vp.

78 Woe be vnto them that are bounde with their ſinnes, and couered with their wickedneſſe, like as a feelde is hedged in with buſhes, and the path thereof couered with thornes, that no man may trauaile through: it is ſhutte vp, and is caſt into the fyre for euer, to be conſumed therewith.

The ende of the fourth booke of Eſdras.

The booke of Tobias.

The firſt Chapter.

1. Tobias parentage. 3. His godlyneſſe. 6. His equitie. 8. his charitie and proſperitie. 23. He fleeth, and his goodes are confiſcate, 25. and after reſtoared.

A 1 TObias was of the tribe and citie of Nephthali, whiche lyeth in the hygh countreys of Galilee aboue Naaſſon, beſide the way that leadeth to the weſte, hauyng the citie of Sephet vpon the leaſt ſide.

2 Though he was taken priſoner in the dayes of Salmanaſar king of the Aſſyrians, neuertheleſſe beyng in captiuitie, he forſooke not the way of truethe:

3 In ſo muche that whatſoeuer he myght geat, he parted it dayly with his felowe priſoners and brethren that were of his kinrede.

4 And though he were younger then al in the tribe of Nephthali, yet dyd not he behaue hym ſelfe chyldyſhly in his woorkes.

5 And when al the other went to the golden calues, whiche Jeroboam the kyng of Iſrael had made, he alone fledde al their companies:

6 And gate hym to Hieruſalem vnto the Temple of the Lorde, and there woorſhipped the Lorde God of Iſrael, faythfully offeryng of al his firſt fruites and tythes:

7 So that in the thirde yeere, he miniſtred al the tithes vnto the ſtrangers and conuertes.

8 Theſe and ſuche lyke thynges dyd he obſerue, accordyng to the lawe of God, when he was yet but young. B

9 But when he was a man, he tooke out of his owne tribe a wyfe called Anna: and of her he begate a ſonne, whom he called after his owne name.

10 And

10 And tauȝht him from his youth vp to feare God, and to refraine from al ſinne.
11 Nowe when he, with his wyfe, his ſonne, and with al his * kinrede, was comme in captiuitie vnto the citie of Ninive, 12 What tyme as they al dyd eate of the meates of the heathen, he kept his ſoule, and was neuer defiled in their meates.
13 And for ſo muche as he was mindful of the Lorde in al his hart, God gaue hym fauour in the ſyght of Salmanaſar the kyng:
14 Whiche gaue hym power to goe where C he wouldoe, and ſo had he libertie to doo what ſo euer he wouldoe.
15 So went Tobias vnto al them that were in captiuitie (and comforted them) and gaue them wholſome exhortations.
16 And when he came to Rages, a citie of the Medes, hauing tenne talentes of ſiluer (of the thinges wherewith the kyng had honoured hym)
17 And ſawe among a great company of people of his kinrede, one Gabelus whiche was of his owne tribe, being in neceſſitie, he gaue hym the ſayde wayght of ſiluer vnder an hande wryting.
18 After a long ſeaſon, when Salmanaſar the kyng was dead, and Sennacherib his ſonne raigned in his ſteede, whiche hated the chyldren of Iſrael:
19 Tobias went dayly throughout al his kynrede, and comforted them, and gaue of his goodes to euery one of them as muche as he myght.
20 He fedde the hungry, clothed the naked, and buryed the dead and ſlayne, and that diligently.
21 And when Sennacherib the kyng came agayne, and fledde out of Iurie (what tyme as God pounished hym for his blaſphemie) and in his wrath ſlue many of the chyldren of Iſrael, Tobias buryed theyr bodyes.
D 22 But when it was tolde the kyng, he commaunded to ſlay hym, and tooke away al his goodes.
23 Neuertheleſſe, Tobias, with his ſonne, and with his wyfe, fledde away naked, and was hydde: for there were many that loued hym.
24 But after fourtie and fiue dayes, the king was ſlayne of his owne ſonnes:
25 Then came Tobias agayne to his houſe, and al his goodes were reſtored vnto hym.

* or, tribe.

The. ii. Chapter.

I. Tobias calleth the faythful to his table. 3 He leaueth the feaſte to burie the dead. 10. Howe he became blynde. 13. His wyfe laboureth for his liuyng. 16. She reprocheth him bitterly.

1 AFter thoſe thinges, vpon a ſolempne A day of the Lorde, Tobias made a good feaſte in his houſe,
2 And ſayde vnto his ſonne, Goe thy way, and bryng hyther ſome of our tribe, ſuche as feare God, that they may make meery with vs.
3 And when he was gone, he came agayne, and tolde his father, that one of the chyldren of Iſrael lay ſlayne vpon the ſtreete.
4 And immediatly he leapt from his table, leaft the feaſt, came faſtyng to the dead coarſe, tooke hym, & bare him priuilie into his houſe, that when the ſunne was downe, he myght ſafely burie hym.
5 And when he had hydde the coarſe, he dicate his meate with mournyng and feare,
6 Remembryng the woordes that the Lord ſayde by the prophete Amos, Your hygh feaſtes ſhalbe turned to ſorow & heauineſſe. Amos. 8. c.
7 But when the ſunne was downe, he went his way, and buryed hym.
8 Then al his * neyghbours reproued hym, ſaying, It is not long ſince it was commaunded to ſlay thee becauſe of this B matter, and haſt ſcarce eſcaped the danger of death: and buryeſt thou the dead againe? * or, his next of kin.
9 Neuertheleſſe, Tobias fearyng GOD more then the kyng, tooke the bodyes of the ſlayne, and hydde them in his houſe, and buryed them at mydnyghtes.
10 It happened vpon a day, that he had buryed the dead, and was weery, came home and layed hym downe by the wal, & ſleapt.
11 And whyle he was a ſleepe, there felle downe vpon his eyes warme doung out of the ſwalowes neſte, ſo that he was blynde.
12 This temptation dyd God ſuffer to happen vnto him, that they which came after, myght haue an example of his patience, like as of holy Iob.
13 For in ſo muche as he euer feared GOD from his youth vp, and kept his commaundementes, he grudged not againſt GOD, that the plague of blyndneſſe chanced vnto him:
14 But remained ſtedfaſt in the feare of God, C and thanked God al the dayes of his lyfe.
15 For like as bleſſed Iob was had in deriſion of kynges: euen ſo was he laughed to ſcorne of his elders and kinſfolkes, whiche ſayde vnto hym, 16 Where is thy hope for the whiche thou haſt donne almes, and buryed the dead?
17 But Tobias rebuked them, and ſpake, Say not ſo:
18 For we are the chyldren of holy men, and looke for the lyfe whiche God ſhal geue vnto them that neuer turne theyr beleefe from hym.

19 And

19 And Anna his wyfe went dayly to the weauyng wooꝛke:
20 And looke what lyuyng she coulde geat with the labour of her handes, she bꝛought it. And it happened that she tooke a kyd, and bꝛought it home:
D 21 And when her husbande heard it crie, he sayde, Looke that it be not stollen: reſtoꝛe it agayne to the owners, foꝛ it is not lawful foꝛ vs to eate oꝛ to touche any thyng of theaft.
22 Then was his wyfe angry, and sayde, Nowe is thy hope become vayne openly, and thyne almes deedes are manyfeſt.
23 With theſe and ſuche lyke wooꝛdes, did ſhe caſt hym in the teeth.

The.iii.Chapter.

3. The prayer of Tobias. 7. Sara Raguels daughter, and the thynges that came vnto her. 12. Her prayer hearde. 19. The angel Raphael ſent.

A 1 THen Tobias * tooke it heauily, & with teares began to make his pꝛayer,
* oꝛ, ſighed.
2 Sayeing, O Loꝛde, thou art ryghteous, and al thy iudgementes are true: yea, al thy wayes are mercy, faythfulneſſe, and iudgement.
3 And nowe, O Loꝛde, be myndful of me, and take no vengeance of my ſinnes, neyther remember my miſdeedes, neyther the miſdeedes of my foꝛefathers.
4 Foꝛ we haue not beene obedient vnto thy commaundementes, therefoꝛe are we ſpoyled, bꝛought into captiuitie, into death, into deriſion and ſhame vnto al nations, among whom thou haſt ſcattered vs.
5 And nowe, O Loꝛde, thy iudgementes are great: foꝛ we haue not donne accoꝛding to thy commaundementes, neyther haue we walked innocently befoꝛe thee.
6 And nowe, O Loꝛd, deale with me accoꝛdyng to thy wyl, and commaunde my ſpiꝛite to be receiued in peace: foꝛ moꝛe expedient were it foꝛ me to dye, then to lyue.
B 7 At the ſame tyme it happened that Sara the daughter of Raguel, at Rages a citie of the Medes, was alſo ꝛepꝛoched by one of her fathers handemaydes, 8 That ſhe had had ſeuen husbandes, which aſſoone as they were gone in vnto her, were ſlayne of the deuyl, called Aſmodeus.
9 Therefoꝛe when ſhe repꝛooued the mayden foꝛ her fault, ſhe anſweared her, ſayeing, God let vs neuer ſee ſonne noꝛ daughter of thee moꝛe vpon earth, thou kyller of thy husbandes.
10 Wylt thou ſlaye me alſo, as thou haſt ſlayne ſeuen men? At this voyce went Sara into an hygh chamber of her houſe, and thꝛee dayes and thꝛee myghtes ſhe neyther ate, noꝛ dꝛanke:
11 But continued in pꝛayer, and beſought God with teares, that he woulde delyuer her from this rebuke.
12 Upon the third day it came to paſſe, that when ſhe had made an ende of pꝛayer, ſhe pꝛayſed the Loꝛde,
13 Sayeing, Bleſſed be thy name, O God of our fathers, which when thou art wꝛoth ſheweſt mercy, and in tyme of trouble thou foꝛgeueſt the ſynnes of them that cal vpon thee,
C 14 Unto thee, O Loꝛde, turne I my face, vnto thee lyft I vp myne eyes:
15 I beſeeche thee, O Loꝛde, looſe me out of the bondes of this rebuke, oꝛ els take me vtterly away from of the earth.
16 Thou knoweſt Loꝛde that I neuer had deſyꝛe vnto man, and that I haue keapt my ſoule cleane from al vncleanly luſt:
17 I haue not keapt company with thoſe that paſſe theyꝛ tyme in ſpoꝛte, neither haue I made mee ſelfe partaker with them that walke in light behauour.
18 An husbande haue I conſented to take, not foꝛ my pleaſure, but in thy feare.
19 Nowe peraduenture eyther I haue ben vnwoꝛthy of them, oꝛ els were they vnmete foꝛ me: foꝛ thou happyly haſt keapt me to another husbande.
20 Foꝛ why? thy counſel is not in the power of man.
D 21 But euery one that ſerueth thee, is ſure of this, that yf his lyfe be in tryeing, it ſhalbe crowned: and yf he be in trouble, that God (no doubt) ſhal delyuer hym: and if his life be in chaſtening, that he ſhal haue leaue to comme vnto thy mercy.
22 Foꝛ thou haſt no pleaſure in our * damnation: and why? after a ſtoꝛme, thou makeſt the weather fayꝛe and ſtyl, after weepyng and heauineſſe, thou geueſt great ioy.
* oꝛ, deſtruction.
23 Thy name, O God of Iſrael, be pꝛayſed foꝛ euer.
24 At the ſame tyme were both theyꝛ pꝛayers hearde, in the ſyght of the maieſtie of the byghest God.
25 And Raphael the holy angel of the Loꝛd, was ſent to helpe them both, whoſe pꝛayers * came at one tyme togeather befoꝛe God.
* oꝛ, were recited at one tyme togeather.

The.iiii.Chapter.

Preceptes and exhoꝛtations of Tobias to his ſonne.

1 SO when Tobias thought his pꝛayer to be hearde, that he myght dye, he called vnto hym his ſonne Tobias:
2 And ſayde vnto hym, My ſonne, heare the wooꝛdes wordes of my mouth, and lay them in thine hart as a fundation.

3 When God taketh away my soule, burie thou my body: and holde thy mother in honour, al the dayes of her lyfe.

4 For thou oughtest to remember, what, and howe great perilles she suffred for thee in her wombe.

" or, about. 5 And when she also hath fulfilled the time of her lyfe, burie her " beside me.

6 Haue God in thy thought al the dayes of thy lyfe, and beware lest at any tyme thou consent vnto sinne, and lest thou let slyppe the commaundementes of the Lorde our God.

ℬ 7 Geue almes of thy goodes, and turne neuer thy face from the poore: and so shal it comme to passe, that the face of the Lorde shal not be turned away from thee.

8 Be mercyful after thy power.

9 If thou haue muche, geue plenteously: yf thou hast lytle, doo thy diligence gladly to geue of that lytle:

10 For so geatherest thou thee selfe a good reward in the day of necessitie.

11 For mercie deliuereth from al sinne, and from death, and suffereth not the soule to comme into darknesse.

12 A great comfort is mercy before the high God, vnto al them that shewe it.

13 My sonne, keepe thee wel from al whoredome: and beside thy wyfe, suffer not thee selfe to knowe of sinne.

ℭ 14 Let neuer pryde haue rule in thy mynde, nor in thy woorde: for in pryde beganne al destruction.

15 Whosoeuer wooreth any thing for thee, immediatly geue hym his hyre, and looke that thy hyred seruantes wages remayne not at al with thee.

16 Looke that thou neuer doo vnto another man, the thyng that thou wouldest not another man shoulde doo vnto thee.

17 Eate thy bread with the hungry & poore, and couer the naked with thy clothes.

18 Set thy bread and wine vpon the burial of the ryghteous, and do not thou eate and drynke therof with the sinners.

19 Aske euer counsel at the wyse.

" or, direct. 20 Be alway prayeng of God, and beseche hym that he wyl " order thy wayes, and that whatsoeuer thou deuisest or takest in hande, it may remayne in hym.

ℒ 21 I certifie thee also my sonne, that when thou wast yet but a babe, I deliuered tenne talentes of siluer vnto Gabelus at Rages a citie of the Medes, and his hande wryting haue I by me:

22 And therfore seeke sonme meanes, howe thou mayest comme by hym, and receiue of hym the sayde weight of siluer, and gene hym his hande wryting agayne.

23 My sonne be not afrayde: trueth it is we leade here a poore lyfe, but great good shal we haue yf we feare God, and depart from al sinne, and doo wel.

The.v. Chapter.

2. Tobias is sent to Rages. 5. He meeteth with the angel Raphael, whiche dyd conduct hym.

1 WHen Tobias answeared his father, ℊ and sayde, Father, al that thou hast commaunded me, wyl I doo, and that diligently.

2 But howe I shal require this money, I can not tel, neither dooth he knowe me, nor I hym: what token shal I geue hym? And as for the way thyther, I neuer knewe it.

3 Then his father answeared hym, & sayd, I haue his hande wryting by me: whiche when thou shewest him, immediatly he shal pay thee.

4 But goe thy way nowe, and geat thee some faythful man to goe with thee for an hyre, that thou mayest receine the money whyle I am yet lyuyng.

5 Then went Tobias out, and vpon the streete he founde a fayre young man standyng, gyrded vp, and as it were one ready to take his iourney.

6 And he knewe not that it was an angel of God, but saluted hym, and sayde, From whence art thou, thou good young man?

7 He answeared, Of the children of Israel. ℬ And Tobias said vnto him, Knowest thou the way that leadeth vnto the countrey of the Medes?

8 He answeared, I knowe it wel, and al those " streetes haue I gonne oft tymes, " or, wayes and haue lodged with our brother Gabelus that dwelleth in Rages a citie of the Medes, whiche lyeth vpon the mount Ecbatanis.

9 Tobias sayde vnto hym, I pray thee tary for me, tyl I haue tolde my father these thynges.

10 Then went Tobias in, and told his father al: at the whiche his father marueyled, and prayed that he woulde comme in vnto hym.

11 Nowe when he came in, he saluted hym, and sayd, Joy be with thee for euermore.

12 And olde Tobias sayde, What ioy can I haue, that sit here in darknesse, and see not the lyght of heauen?

13 The young man sayde vnto hym, Be of good cheare, God shal helpe thee shortly.

14 And Tobias sayde vnto hym, Canst thou thou bryng my sonne to Gabelus vnto the citie of Rages in Medea: and when thou commest agayne, I shal pay thee thy hyre?

15 And the angel sayde vnto hym, I shal leade thy sonne, and bryng him to thee agayne.

16 Then Tobias answeared him, Tel me, I pray thee, of what house, or of what tribe art thou?

17 The angel Raphael said vnto hym, Seekest thou after the kinrede of an hyreling, or an hyred man him selfe, for thy sonne to goe with hym?

18 But that I make thee not careful, I am Azarias, the sonne of great Hananias.

19 And Tobias answeared, Thou art come of a great kinrede: but, I pray thee, be not displeased that I desire to knowe thy kynrede.

20 The angel sayde vnto him, Thy sonne shal I leade foorth safely, and bryng hym whole and sounde to thee agayne.

21 Then answeared Tobias, and said, Wel, goe on your way, and God be in your iourney, and his angel beare you company.

22 So when they had prepared al thinges that they woulde take with them in their iourney, Tobias bade his father and his mother farewel: and they went on their way both together.

23 Nowe when they were gone, his mother beganne to weepe, and sayde, The staffe of our age hast thou taken away, and sent hym from vs.

24 Woulde God that money had neuer ben, for the whiche thou hast sent hym away.

25 For our pouertie was sufficient for vs, why we shoulde haue counted it ryches se that we sawe our sonne here.

26 Then sayde Tobias vnto her, Weepe not, our sonne shal goe safely, and comme to vs agayne sounde, and thyne eyes shal see him.

27 For I trust that the good angel of God shal beare hym company, and order wel al the thynges that he dooth, so that he shal comme to vs agayne with ioy.

28 At these woordes his mother leaft of from weeping, and helde her peace.

The.vi. Chapter.

2. Tobias deliuered from the fisshe. 8. Raphael sheweth hym certayne medicines. 19. He conducteth him towarde Sara.

SO Tobias went on his way, & a dogge folowed hym: and the fyrst nyght they abode by the water of Tigris.

2 Then went he out to wasshe his feete, and beholde, there came foorth an horrible fisshe to deuoure hym.

3 Of whom Tobias was afrayd, and cryed with a loude voyce, sayeing, Lorde, he commeth vpon me.

4 And the angel sayde vnto hym, Take hym by the gil, and drawe him to thee. And he dyd so, and drewe hym vnto the lande: and the fisshe beganne to leape at his feete.

5 Then sayde the angel vnto him, Take out the bowels of this fisshe: and as for the hart, the gal, and the liuer, keepe them by thee: for these thinges are necessarie and good for medicines.

6 Tobias dyd so, and rosted the fleash, and they tooke it with them in their iourney: the residue they salted, as muche as was sufficient for them, tyl they came to Rages a citie of the Medes.

7 Then Tobias asked the angel, and sayd vnto hym, I pray thee brother Azarias, tel me, whereto are these thinges good of the fisshe that thou hast bidden me keepe.

8 The angel answeared him, and sayde, If thou layest a peece of the harte vppon the coales, the smoke thereof dryueth away al euyl spirites, whether it be from man or from woman, so that from thencefoorth the same shal comme no more vnto them.

9 The gal is good to annoynt or to strike the eyes withal, where as there is any blemishe in them, so that they shalbe whole.

10 And Tobias sayde vnto hym, Where wylt thou that we remayne? The angel answeared, 11 And sayde, Here is a nygh kynsman of thyne, of thy tribe, one Raguel by name, whiche hath a daughter called Sara, and hath neither sonne nor daughter but her.

12 Al his good belongeth vnto thee, and thou must marry her.

13 And therefore desyre her of her father, and he shall geue her thee to wyfe.

14 Then answeared Tobias, and sayde, As I vnderstand, she hath benne marryed vnto seuen husbandes, and they al are dead: and I haue hearde say, that the deuil slue them.

15 I am afrayde therefore, leste such thinges happen vnto me also: whiche yf it came to passe, seeyng I am the only sonne of my father and my mother, I shoulde bring them in their age with sorowe to their graues.

16 Then sayde the angel Raphael vnto him, Heare me, and I wyl telle thee what they be of whom the deuil hath power.

17 Namely, they that receyue marryage after suche a fashion, that they shutte God out from them and from their harte, and geue them selues to their owne lust, euen as it were an Horse and Mule which haue no vnderstandyng: vppon suche hath the deuyl power.

18 But when thou takest her, and art comme into the chamber, withhold thee selfe from her three dayes, and geue thy diligence vnto nothyng but vnto prayer with her.

19 And in the first nyght roste the lyuer of the fisshe, and the deuil shalbe driuen away.

20 The seconde nyght shalt thou be receyued into the company of the holy patriarches.

21 The thirde nyght shalt thou obteyne the blessing of God, so that " whole chyldren shalbe borne of you.

" or, sound.

D 22 After the thirde nyght, take the mayden in the feare of God, and more for the desire of children, then for any fleshly lust, that in the seede of Abraham thou mayst obteyne the blessing in chyldren.

The. vii. Chapter.

Tobias maryeth Sara Raguels daughter.

A 1 THen went they in vnto Raguel, which receyued them ioyfully.

2 And when Raguel looked vpon Tobias, he said vnto Anna his wife, How like is this young man vnto my sisters sonne?

3 And when he had spoken this, he sayde, Whence be ye, ye young men, and our brethren? They sayde, Of the tribe of Nephthali, out of the captiuitie of Niniue.

4 Then sayde Raguel vnto them, Knowe ye my brother Tobias? They sayde, Yea we knowe hym wel.

5 And when he had spoken muche good of him, the angel saide vnto Raguel, Tobias of whō thou askest, is this young mans father.

6 Then Raguel bowed hym selfe downe, and weapt, and tooke him about the necke and kissed him:

7 And sayde, Gods blessing haue thou my sonne, for thou art the sonne of a good ver-

B tuous man.

8 And Anna his wyfe and Sara his daughter weapt also.

9 Nowe when they had talked togeather, Raguel bade kille a weather, and to make a feaste: and when he had exhorted them to sitte downe to dinner,

10 Tobias sayde, I wyl neither eate nor drinke here this day, except thou first graunt me my petition, and promise me to geue me thy daughter Sara.

11 When Raguel hearde this, he was astonyed, for he knewe what hadde happened vnto the other seuen menne that went in vnto her: and he begamne to feare that it shoulde chaunce vnto him in lyke manner.

And whyle he stoode so in doubt, and gaue the young man no answeare, 12 The angel sayde vnto him, Feare not to geue him thy daughter, for vnto this man that feareth God, belongeth thy daughter to wyfe: therefore myght none other haue her.

13 Then said Raguel, I doubt not but God hath accepted my prayers and teares in his sight:

14 And I beleeue he caused you to come vnto me for the same intent, that this daughter of myne myght be marryed in her owne kinrede, accordyng to the lawe of Moses: and nowe doubt thou not, but I wyl geue her vnto thee. Num. 36.c.

15 So he tooke the right hande of his daughter, and gaue her into the right hande of Tobias, and sayde, The God of Abraham, the God of Isahac, and the God of Jacob be with you, ioyne you togeather, and fulfill his blessing in you. C

16 And they tooke a letter, and made a writing of the maryage.

17 And then made they meery, and praysed God.

18 And Raguel called Anna his wyfe vnto him, and bade her prepare another chamber.

19 And thyther he brought Sara his daughter, and she weapt.

20 Then said he vnto her, Be of good cheare my daughter: the Lorde of heauen geue thee ioy, for the heauynesse that thou hast suffered.

The. viii. Chapter.

2. Tobias driueth away the euyl spirite.
4. He prayeth to God with his wyfe.
11. Raguel prepareth a graue for his sonne in lawe. 16. Raguel blesseth the Lorde.

A 1 NOwe after that they had supped, they brought the young man in to her.

2 Then thought Tobias vppon the woordes of the angel, and tooke out of his bagge a peece of the liuer of the fisshe, and layde it vpon the hotte coales.

3 So the angel Raphael tooke holde of the deuil, and sent him away, and bounde him in the wyldernesse of the hygher Egypt.

4 Then spake Tobias vnto the virgin, & sayde, Up Sara, let vs make our prayer vnto God to day, to morowe, and " ouermorowe: for these three nyghtes wyl we " reconcile our selues with God: & when the thirde holy night is past, we shal ioyne togeather in the ductie of marryage.

" or. the thirde day.

" or, ioyne our selues to God.

5 For we are the chyldren of holye menne, and we may not comme togeather as the heathen that knowe not God.

6 Then

6 Then stoode they vp both togeather, and besought God earnestly * that he woulde preserue them.

* or, that health myght be geuen them.

7 And Tobias sayde, O Lorde God of our fathers, prayse be thou of heauen & earth, of the sea, welles, and fluddes, and of al thy creatures that be therein.

8 Thou madest Adam of the moulde of the earth, and gauest hym Eua for an helper. Genesis. 2.

9 And nowe Lorde, thou knowest that it is not because of voluptuousnesse, that I take this sister of myne to wyfe, but onlye for the loue of chyldren, in whom thy name may be blessed for euer.

10 And Sara sayde, Haue mercie vppon vs, O Lorde, haue mercie vpon vs, and let vs both comme whole and sounde togeather to a good age.

11 And about the cocke croweing it came to passe, that Raguel called his seruantes:

12 And they went with him to make a graue.

13 For he saide, It is chanced nowe vnto hym peraduenture, as it dyd vnto the other seuen menne that went in vnto her.

14 Nowe when they had made the graue, Raguel came agayne to his wyfe, and said vnto her, Sende one of thy maydens to looke yf he be dead, that I may burye hym afore it be lyght day.

15 So she sent a mayden to see: which when she came into the chamber, founde them whole and sounde, sleeping togeather.

16 And so she came agayne, and brought good tydynges: then Raguel and Anna his wyfe, praysed the Lorde, 17 And sayde, Praysed be thou, O Lord God of Israel, that it is not happened vnto vs as we thought.

18 For thou hast dealt mercyfully with vs, and put away from vs the enemie that persecuted vs,

19 And hast shewed mercy vnto yonder two, the only borne children of theyr parentes: O Lord, cause them to magnifie thee more perfectly, and to offer the sacrifice of thy prayse and of theyr health: that al people may knowe that thou only art God in al the earth.

20 And immediatly Raguel commaunded his seruantes to fyl the graue, that they had made, with earth, afore it was light.

21 And bade his wife prepare a feast, and to make ready al thinges that were necessary for meate to suche as went by the way.

22 He caused two fat kyne also, and foure weathers to be slaine, and meates to be prepared for al his neighbours and freendes.

23 And Raguel charged Tobias to remaine with him two weekes.

24 As for al the good that he had, he gaue Tobias the halfe of it, and made his writing, that the halfe which remained, should fal vnto Tobias after theyr death.

The. ix. Chapter.

The angel goeth to Gabelus at the desire of Tobias: whiche deliuereth the letter, and receiueth the money.

1 THen Tobias called vnto him the angel, whom he thought to haue benne a man, and sayde vnto him, Brother Azarias, I pray thee hearken vnto my woordes,

2 If I shoulde geue mee selfe to be thy seruant, I shal not deserue thy prouidence.

3 Neuertheless, I beseeche thee that thou wilt take the beastes, and the seruantes, and goe vnto Gabelus in Rages the citie of the Medes, and deliuer hym his hande writing, and receiue the money of him, and pray hym to comme to my marriage.

4 For thou knowest thee self that my father dooth number the dayes: and yf I tary one day to long, he wyl be sorye in his mynde.

5 Nowe seest thou howe earnestly Raguel hath required me, so that I can not say him nay.

6 Then tooke Raphael foure of Raguels seruantes, & two Cammels, and went vnto Rages the citie of the Medes: and when he had founde Gabelus, he gaue hym his hande writing, and receiued al the money.

7 He tolde hym also of Tobias the sonne of Tobi, how al thynges had happened: and caused him to comme with him to the marriage.

8 Now when he came into the house of Raguel, he found Tobias sitting at the table: and he leaped vp, and they kissed one another, and Gabelus wept, and prayed God,

9 And sayde, The blessyng of the GOD of Israel haue thou, for thou art the sonne of a ryght vertuous and iust man, and of one that feareth God, and geueth great almes:

10 And blessyng haue thy wyfe, and your elders,

11 That ye may see your children, and your childrens children vnto the thirde and fourth generation: & your seede be blessed of the GOD of Israel, whiche raigneth woulde without ende.

12 And when they al had sayde Amen, they went to the feast: but with the feare of the Lorde helde they the feast of the marriage.

The. x. Chapter.

1. Tobias and his wyfe thinke long for their sonne. 10. Raguel sendeth away Tobias and Sara.

A 1 NOwe whyle young Tobias made long tarying, by reason of the maryage, his father was ful of care and heauyneſſe, ſayeing, Canſt thou thynke what ſhoulde be the cauſe that my ſonne taryeth ſo long? or why he ſhoulde be kept ſo long there?

2 Thynkeſt thou Gabelus is dead, and no man wyl gene him the money?

3 Thus beganne he to be very ſorowful, he and Anna his wyfe with him: and beganne to weepe both togeather, becauſe their ſonne was not comme agayne vnto them at the day appoynted.

4 As for his mother, ſhe wept with diſcomfortable teares, and ſayde, Wo is mee my ſonne, Oh what ayled vs to ſende thee away into a ſtrange countrey, thou lyght of our eyes, thou ſtaffe of our age, thou comfort of our lyfe, thou hope of our generatiō?

5 Seeing al the thinges that we haue are only in thee, we ſhoulde not haue ſent thee away from vs.

6 Then Tobias (comforted her and) ſayde, Holde thy peace, and be not diſcomforted, our ſonne is whole and ſounde: the man that we ſent him withal, is faythful ynough.

7 Neuertheleſſe, ſhe myght in no wyſe be comforted: but dayly went out, looked about, and went about al the ſtreetes whereby ſhe thought he ſhoulde comme agayne, that yf it were poſſible, ſhe myght ſee hym comming a farre of.

8 But Raguel ſayde vnto his ſonne in law, B Do tary here, and I ſhal ſende a meſſenger vnto thy father Tobias, to telle him that thou art in good health.

9 Tobias ſayde vnto hym, I am ſure that my father and my mother count euery day, and that theyr hartes are ſorye.

10 So when Raguel had prayed Tobias with many wordes, and he wouldē in no wiſe beare him, he deliuered Sara vnto hym, and the halfe part of al his good, in ſeruantes, and handmaydens, in ſheepe, in cammels, and in kyne, and muche money: & ſo ſent hym away from hym with health and ioy, 11 And ſayde, The holy angel of the Lorde be with you in your iourney, and bryng you foorth ſafe and ſounde: that ye may fynde al thynges in good caſe with your elders, and that myne eyes may ſee your chyldren afore I dye.

12 So the elders imbraced theyr daughter, kyſſed her, and let her goe:

13 Exhortyng her to honour her father and mother in law, to loue her husband, to rule wel her houſholde, to keepe her houſe in good order, and to ſhew her ſelfe faultleſſe.

The. xi. Chapter.

1. The returne of Tobias to his father. 11. How he was receiued. 15. His father hath his ſight reſtored, and prayſeth the Lorde.

1 AS they nowe were goeyng homeward agayne, vpon the eleuenth day they I came to Charran, whiche lyeth in the halfe way towarde Niniue.

2 And the angel ſaid, Brother Tobias, thou knoweſt howe thou haſt leaft thy father.

3 Therefore yf it pleaſe thee, we two wyl goe before, and let the houſholde, with thy wyfe and the catel, comme fayre and ſoftly after vs.

4 And when Tobias was content that they ſhould goe before, Raphael ſayde vnto him, Take of the gal of the fiſhe with thee: for it ſhalbe neceſſarie. So Tobias toke of the gal, and they went their way,

5 But Anna the mother of Tobias ſate dayly by the way ſide vpon the top of an hil, frō whence ſhe might ſee far about her.

6 And whyle ſhe was wayting there for his commyng, ſhe looked a farre of, and anone ſhe perceiued her ſonne comming, and ran and tolde her husbande, ſayeing, Beholde, thy ſonne commeth.

7 And Raphael ſaid vnto Tobias, Aſſoone B as thou commeſt into the houſe, immediatly worſhip the Lorde thy God, and geue thankes vnto hym: then goe to thy father, and kyſſe hym.

8 And ſtrayghtwayes ſtryke his eyes ouer with the gal of the fiſhe that thou haſt brought with thee: for be ſure that his eyes ſhal ſtrayghtway be opened, and thy father ſhal ſee the light of heauen, and ſhal reioyce at the ſight of thee.

9 Then the dogge that had ben with them in their iourney ranne before, and came as a meſſenger, and wagged his taile for gladneſſe.

10 So the blinde father aroſe, and beganne to runne, and ſtumbled with his feete: and gaue a ſeruant his hande, and ran to meete his ſonne, 11 Receiued him, and kyſſed hym, he & his wife, and they both began to weepe for ioy.

12 Nowe when they had worſhipped and thanked God, they ſate downe.

13 Then toke Tobias of the fiſhes gal, and annoynted his fathers eyes:

14 And taryed halfe an houre, & then began C the blemiſhe to goe out of his eyes, lyke as it had benne the white ſkinne of an egge:

15 Which Tobias tooke, & drewe from his eyes, and immediatly he receiued his ſight.

16 Then

16 Then they prayſed God, he and his wyfe, and al they that knewe hym.
17 And Tobias sayde, O Lorde God of Israel, I geue thee prayse and thankes, for thou hast chastened me, & made me whole: and loe, nowe doo I see my sonne Tobias.
18 After seuen dayes came Sara his sonnes wyfe also whole and sounde, with al the householde and catel, with Cammels, and muche money of his wyues, and with the money that he had receyued of Gabelus.
D 19 And he tolde his father and his mother, al the benefites whiche God had donne for hym by the man that ledde hym.
20 Achior also and Nabath, Tobias sisters sonnes came, and were gladde, and reioyced with hym, by reason of al the good thynges that God had shewed vnto hym: and so for the space of seuen dayes they made meery, and were ryght ioyful euery one.

The. xii. Chapter.

2. Tobias declareth to his father, the pleasures that Raphael had donne hym. 5. The whiche he woulde recompence.

A 1 THen Tobias called his sonne vnto hym, and sayde, What may we geue this holy man that * went with thee?
* or, came.
2 Tobias answeared his father, and saide, Father, what rewarde shal we geue hym? or what thyng can deserue his benefites?
3 He hath benne my guide, and brought me safe agayne, he receyued the money from Gabelus, he caused me to geat my wyfe, he dryue the euyl spirite from her, he hath benne an occasion of gladnesse to her father and mother, he deliuered me that I was not deuoured of ỹ fiſhe, he hath made thee to see the lyght of heauen: yea, we al haue receyued great good of hym.
4 Howe shoulde we woorthyly deserue these thynges vnto hym? But, I pray thee my father, that thou wylt desyre him, yf happyly he wyl vouchsafe to take with him the halfe of al that we haue brought.
5 So the father and the sonne called him, tooke hym aside, and beganne to pray hym, that he woulde be content to take in good woorth, the halfe part of al that they had brought.
6 Then sayd he secretely vnto them, Prayse ye the God of heauen, and geue thankes vnto hym before al men liuyng: for he hath shewed his mercie vnto you.
B 7 It is good to hyde the kinges secrete: but to shewe and to prayse the woorkes of God, it is an honourable thyng.
8 Prayer is good with fastyng, and mercie is better then to hoorde vp treasures of golde.
9 For mercie deliuereth from death, cleanseth sinne, and causeth to finde mercie and lyfe euerlastyng.
10 But they that doo sinne and vnryghteousnesse, are the enemies of theyr owne soule.
11 Wherefore I tel you the trueth, and wyl hyde no secrete sayeing from you.
12 When thou prayedst with teares, and buryedst the dead, and leaftest thy dynner, and hydest the dead in thyne house vppon the day time, that thou mightest burie them in the night, I offered thy prayer before the Lorde.
13 And because thou wast accept and beloued of God, it was necessary that temptation shoulde trye thee.
14 And nowe hath the Lord sent me to heale thee, and to deliuer Sara thy sonnes wyfe from the euyl spirite. C
15 For I am Raphael an angel, one of the seuen that stande before the Lorde.
16 When they hearde this, they were soare afrayde, and trembled, and fel downe vpon their faces vnto the grounde.
17 Then sayd the angel, Peace be with you, feare not.
18 For where as I haue benne with you, it is the wyl of God: geue prayse and thankes vnto hym.
19 You thought that I dyd eate and drynke with you, but I vse meate that is inuisible, and dryncke that can not be seene of menne. Gen. 18. a. Iudi. 13. c.
20 Nowe therefore is the tyme that I muste turne agayne vnto hym that sent me: but be ye thankful vnto God, and tel out al his woonderous woorkes.
21 And when he had spoken these woordes, he was taken away out of their sight, so that they coulde see hym no more.
22 Then fel they downe flatte vpon theyr D faces by the space of three houres, & prayſed God: and when they rose vp, they told al his woonderous woorkes.

The. xiii. Chapter.

A thankesgeuing of Tobias, who exhorteth al to prayse the Lorde.

A 1 THen olde Tobias opened his mouth, and prayſed the Lord, and sayd, Great art thou, O Lorde for euermore, and thy kyngdome woorde without ende.
2 For thou scourgest and healest, thou leadest vnto hel, and bryngest out agayne: and there is none that may escape thyne hande.
3 O geue thankes vnto the Lorde ye chyldren of Israel, and prayse hym in the sight of the heathen:

4 For among the heathen whiche knowe hym not, hath he scattered you, to the intent that ye shoulde shewe forth his meruelous woorkes, and cause them for to knowe, that there is none other God Almyghty but he.

5 He hath chastened vs for our misdeedes, and for his owne mercie sake shal he saue vs.

6 Consyder then howe he hath dealt with you, and prayse him with feare & dreade: and magnifie the euerlasting king in your woorkes.

7 I wyl prayse him euen in the lande of my captiuitie: for he hath shewed his maiestie vnto a sinful people.

8 Turne you therefore, O ye sinners, and doo ryghteousnesse before God, and be ye sure that he wil shew his mercie vpon you.

9 As for me and my soule, we wyl reioyce in God.

10 O prayse the Lorde al ye his chosen: hold the dayes of gladnesse, and be thankful vnto him.

11 O Hierusalem thou citie of God, the Lord hath punished thee for the woorks of thyne owne handes.

12 O prayse the Lorde in thy good thynges, and gene thankes to the euerlastyng God, that he may buylde vp his tabernacle agayne in thee, that he may cal agayne vnto thee al suche as be in captiuitie, and that thou mayst haue ioy for euermore.

13 With a fayre lyght shalt thou shine, and al the endes of the worlde shal honour thee.

14 The people shal comme vnto thee from
C farre, they shal bring giftes, and woorship the Lorde in thee, and thy lande shal they haue for a sanctuarie: for they shall cal vpon the great name in thee.

15 Cursed shal they be that despise thee, and al that blaspheme thee shalbe condemned: but blessed shal they be that builde thee vp.

16 As for thee, thou shalt reioyce in thy children: for they al shalbe blessed, and geathered togeather vnto the Lorde.

17 Blessed are al they that loue thee, and that be gladde of thy peace.

18 Prayse thou the Lorde, O my soule: for the Lorde our God hath deliuered his citie Hierusalem from al her troubles.

19 I wyl count mee selfe happy, yf my seede remayne to see the clearenesse of Hierusalem.

D 20 The gates of Hierusalem shalbe buylded with Saphir and Smaradge, and al the cõpasse of her walles with pretious stones.

21 Al her streetes shalbe paued with white and fayre stone, and in al streetes shal Hallelui̇a be song.

22 Praysed be the Lorde whiche hath exalted her, that his kyngdome may be vppon her for euermore. Amen.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

5. Lessons of Tobias to his sonne. 6. He prophecieth the destruction of Niniue, 7. and the restoring of Hierusalem and the temple.

1 AND so Tobias made an ende of speakyng: and after that Tobias had gotten his sight agayne, he lyued fourtie and two yeeres, and sawe his childers children. A

2 Nowe when he was an hundred and two yeeres olde (he dyed, and) was buryed honorably in Niniue.

3 For when he was fyue and fiftie yeeres of age, he lost the sight of his eyes: and when he was threescore yeeres olde, he gate his sight agayne.

4 The residue of his lyfe ledde he in ioye, and increased wel in the feare of God, and departed in peace.

5 But in the houre of his death, he called vnto him his sonne Tobias, and seuen young * springaldes his sonnes chyldren, and sayde vnto them, * or, young ympes.

6 The destruction of Niniue is at hande, (for the woorde of the Lorde can not fayle) and our brethren that are scattered out of the lande of Israel, shal comme thyther agayne.

7 And the whole land of it that hath benne B waste, shalbe filled, and the house of God that was brent in it, shalbe builded againe: & al such as feare God, shal returne thither.

8 The heathen then also shal forsake theyr idolles, and comme to Hierusalem, and dwel there:

9 And al the kings of the earth shalbe glad in her, & woorship the Lord God of Israel.

10 And therefore my chyldren, heare your father, serue the Lorde in the trueth, seeke after his wil to doo the thing that pleaseth him:

11 Commaunde your chyldren that they doo ryght, gene almes, be mindful of God, and euer to be thankful vnto him in trueth, and with al their power.

12 Heare me nowe therefore my chyldren, and abyde not here: but in what day soeuer ye haue buryed your mother by me in one sepulchre, geat you from hence:

13 For I see, that the wickednesse of it shall bring it to (destruction and) ende.

14 After ỹ death of his mother, Tobias de- C parted away from Niniue, with his wife & chyldren, chyldren, and with his chylders chyldren, and came agayne to his father and mother in lawe,

15 And founde them whole, and in a good age, and tooke the care of them: and he closed their eyes, and was heyre vnto all Raguels goodes, and sawe the fifth generation, and his chylders chyldren.

16 And nintie and nine yeeres being ended in the feare of God, they buryed him with ioy.

17 And al his kinrede and posteritie continued in a good lyfe and holy conuersation: so that they were loued and accepted both of God and menne, and of al the people of the lande.

The ende of the booke of Tobias.

The booke of Iudith.

The first Chapter.

2. The buyldyng of Ecbatanis. 5. Nabuchodonosor made warre agaynst Arphaxad, and ouercame him. 12. He threatneth them that woulde not helpe him.

1 ARpharad the kyng of the Medes, subdued many people vnto his dominion, and builded a strong citie, which he called Ecbatanis.

2 The walles of it made he of free stone foure square, seuentie cubites hygh, and thirtie cubites broade: he made towres thercupon an hundred cubites high.

3 But along the foure corners, euery syde was twentie foote broade: he made the portes in the heigth, lyke as the towres.

4 (This king) trusted in his myghtie host, and in his glorious charrettes.

5 So in the twelfth yeere of his raigne, it happened that Nabuchodonosor the kyng of the Assyrians, whiche raigned in the great citie of Nintue, fought agaynst Arphaxad:

6 And ouercame him in the great feelde called Ragau, beside Euphrates, and Tigris, and Iadason, in the feelde of Erioth the kyng of the Elikes.

7 Then was the kyngdome of Nabuchodonosor exalted, and his hart was lyft vp: and he sent vnto al them that dwelt in Cilicia, in Damascus, and Libanus:

8 And vnto the heathen that dwelt in Carmel and Cedar, and to suche as dwelt in Galilee in the great feelde of Esdrelon:

9 To al them that dwelt in Samaria, and beyonde the water of Iordane vnto Hierusalem, and the whole lande of Iesse, vnto the borders of Ethiopia:

10 Vnto al these dyd Nabuchodonosor the kyng of the Assyrians sende messengers.

11 But they al with one consent woulde not agree vnto hym, & sent the messengers agayne emptie, and put them away without honour.

12 Then Nabuchodonosor the kyng tooke indignation at al those landes, and sware by his throne and by his kingdome, that he woulde be auenged of al those countreys.

The.ii. Chapter.

1. Nabuchodonosor commaunded presumptuously that al people shoulde be brought in subiection.

A 1 IN the thirtienth yeere of kyng Nabuchonosor, vpon the twentie and two day of the first moneth, it was deuised in the court of Nabuchodonosor the kyng of the Assyrians, that he woulde reuenge him self.

2 So he called vnto hym al the elders, al his captaynes and menne of warre, and shewed them his secrete counsel,

3 And tolde them that his purpose was to bring the whole earth vnder his dominion.

4 Nowe when they were al content with this sayeing, Nabuchodonosor the kyng called Holophernes the cheefe captayne of his warres,

5 And sayde vnto hym, Goe thy way forth against al the kingdomes of the Weast, and specially agaynst those that haue despised my commaundement.

6 Thou shalt spare no realme, al strong cities shalt thou bring in subiection vnto me.

B 7 Then Holophernes called togeather al the captaynes and rulers of al the power in Assyria, and mustred the souldiers vnto the host, lyke as the kyng commaunded hym, (namely) an hundred and twentie thousand fightyng menne vpon foote, and twelue thousande archers vpon horsebacke.

8 Al his ordinance sent he before, with an immunerable multitude of Cammelles, so that the hoaste was wel prouided for with oxen and smal catel, and that without number.

9 He appoynted to prepare corne out of al
Syria in his passage.

10 Muche golde and siluer also tooke he out of the kynges house.

11 So he tooke his iourney, and al his hoast, with charettes, horsemen, and archers: of whom there were so many, that they cou-ered the grounde of the lande lyke the grashoppers.

12 And when he was gone past the borders of the Assyrians, he came towarde the great mountaynes of Ange, whiche lye vpon the lefte side of Cilicia: and so he went vp into al their castels, and wonne euery strong holde.

13 As for the wealthie citie of Melothus he brake it downe, & spoyled al the children of Tharsis, and the Ismaelites, whiche laye towarde the wyldernesse, and vppon the south side of the lande of Chellon.

14 He went ouer Euphrates also, and came into Mesopotamia, and brake downe al the hygh cities that were there, from the broke of Mambre, til a man comme to the sea:

15 And he tooke the borders in, from Cilicia vnto the coastes of Japhet, towarde the south.

16 He caryed away al the Madianites, and spoyled al their goodes, and who so euer withstoode him, he slue them with the swoorde.

17 After this, he went downe into the feelde of Damascus in the tyme of haruest, and burnt vp al the corne, and al the trees and vines he caused to be cut downe:

18 And the feare of hym fel vpon al them that dwelt on the earth.

The. iii. Chapter.

1. The people subiect to Holophernes. 12. He destroyed theyr gods, that Nabuchodonosor might only be woorshipped.

1 SO the kinges and princes of al the cities & lands, sent theyr embassadours, namely, they of Syria and Mesopotamia, Syria Sobal, and Libya, and Cilicia, whiche came to Holophernes, and sayde,

2 Let thy wrath cease towarde vs: it is better for vs to serue the great kyng Nabu-chodonosor with our liues, and to be subiect vnto thee, then that we should dye, and with our slaughter suffer the cuylles of our bondage.

3 Al our cities and possessions, al moun-taynes and hilles, al feeldes, great & smal, catel, sheepe, goates, horses, and cammels, al our goodes and housholdes, be in thy power.

4 Under thy subiection be al that we haue.

5 We our selues, and also our chyldren, wil be thy seruantes.

6 Comme vnto vs, peaceable Lorde, and vse our seruice at thy pleasure.

7 Then came Holophernes downe from the mountaynes, with horsemen and great power, and conquered al strong fensed cities, and al that dwelt in the lande.

8 And out of al cities he tooke strong men, and suche as were meete for the warre (to helpe him.)

9 And there came suche a feare vpon those countreyes, that the indwellers of al the cities, the princes and rulers, and the people togeather, went forth to meete hym as he came:

10 And receiued hym (honourably) with garlandes and torches, with daunces, tabrets, and pypes.

11 Neuertheless though they dyd this, yet myght they not swage his rigorous stomacke.

12 But he destroyed their cities, and hewed downe their woods.

13 For Nabuchodonosor the kyng had commaunded hym that he shoulde roote out al
the goddes of the " lande, to the intent " or, earth.
that he onely myght be called (and taken) for god of the nations, which Holophernes with his power might bring vnder hym.

14 So went he through Syria Sobal, and through al Appames, & al Mesopotamia, and came to the Idumeans in the lande of Gabaa,

15 And tooke their cities, and remayned there thirtie dayes, in whiche space he caused al the whole multitude of his host to be geathered togeather.

The. iiii. Chapter.

5. Eliacim the priest writeth to Bethulia, that they shoulde fortifie them selues. 8. They cryed to the Lorde, and humbled them selues before hym.

1 WHen the children of Israel that dwelt in Iurie hearde this, they were sore afrayde of hym.

2 There came suche tremblyng also and feare vpon them, lest he shoulde doo vnto the citie of Hierusalem and the temple of the Lorde, as he had donne to other cities and their temples.

3 So they sent into al Samaria rounde about vnto Jericho, (tooke in) and occupyed al the toppes of the mountaynes:

4 And

4 And made fast the townes with walles, and prepared corne for them agaynst the batayle.

5 Eliacim also the prieste wrote vnto al them that dwelt towarde Esdrelon, which lyeth ouer agaynst the great feelde by Dothain, and vnto al those by whom menne myght haue passage vnto them,

6 That they shoulde take in the wayes of the mountaynes, whereby there myght be any way and passage to Hierusalem, and that they shoulde holde diligent watche where any strayte was betwixt the mountaynes.

℣ 7 And the chyldren of Israel dyd as Eliacim the prieste of the Lorde had commaunded them.

8 And al the people cryed vnto the Lorde earnestly, and humbled theyr soules with fastyng and prayers, they and their wiues:

9 The prieste put on heary clothes, and layde the young babes before the temple of the Lorde, and couered the aulter of the Lorde with an hearie cloth:

10 And with one accorde they cried vnto the Lorde God of Israel, that theyr chyldren shoulde not be geuen into a pray, and theyr wiues into a spoyle, that theyr cities shoulde not be layde waste, and that theyr " sanctuarie shoulde not be vnhalowed, and so they to be a shame and rebuke vnto the heathen.

" or, holy thinges.

11 Then Eliacim the high prieste of the Lord, went rounde about al Israel, and spake vnto them, 12 Sayeing, Be ye sure that the Lorde wyl heare your petitions, yf ye continue stedfast in fastynges and prayers in the sight of the Lorde.

13 Remember Moses the seruant of the Lorde, whiche ouerthrewe the Amalekites that trusted in theyr might and power, in theyr host, in theyr shieldes, in theyr charettes, and horsemen, not with weapons, but with holy prayers.

℣ 14 Euen so shal al the enimies of Israel be, yf ye continue in this worke that ye haue begunne.

15 So vpon this exhortation, they continued in prayer before the Lorde.

16 Insomuch that they which offred burnt sacrifices vnto the Lorde, offered the offerynges vnto the Lorde, beyng arayed in hearie clothes, and had ashes vpon theyr heades.

17 And they al besought God from theyr whole hart, that he woulde visite his people of Israel.

The.v. Chapter.

5. Achior the Ammonite dooth declare to Holophernes of the maner of the Israelites.

1 AND worde came to Holophernes the prince of the warre of the Assyrians, that the chyldren of Israel prepared them selues to make resistance, and howe they had stopped the wayes betwixt the mountaynes. A

2 Then was he exceeding wroth, and called al the princes of Moab, and the captaynes of Ammon,

3 And sayde vnto them, Tel me, what people is this that keepeth in the mountaines? Or what manner, and howe great cities theyrs are? What is theyr power? Or what manner of host haue they? Who is theyr captayne?

4 And why doo they despise vs more then al those that dwel in the east, and comme not forth to meete vs, that they might receiue vs with peace?

5 Then Achior the captayne of al the Ammonites, answeared, and sayde, Sir, yf it please thee to heare, I wil tel the trueth before thee, concerning this people that dwel in the mountaynes, and there shal no vntrueth goe out of my mouth.

6 This people is of the generation of the Chaldees:

7 They dwelt firste in Mesopotamia, for they would not folow the Gods of theyr fathers that were in ỹ land of the Chaldees: B

8 And so forsooke they the customs of theyr forefathers whiche had many goddes, and worshypped one God that made heauen and earth: whiche also commaunded them that they should goe from thence, and dwel at Charran. Gen.12.a

9 Nowe when there came a dearth into the whole lande, they went downe to Egypt, and there they dwelt foure hundred yeeres, in the which they multiplied greatly, that theyr host might not be numbred. Gen.15.c. Actes.7.a. Exod.12.f. Gala.3.c.

10 And when the kyng of Egypt oppressed them, and yoked them in buylding of his cities, with makyng of clay and bricke, they cried vnto God their lord, which punished the whole lande of Egypt with diuers plagues.

11 And when the Egyptians had cast them out, and the plague ceassed from them, and they folowing after them to take them, and to bring them agayne into theyr bondage:

12 Whyle they were fleeyng away, the God of heauen opened the sea, so that the waters stoode fast vpon both the sydes as a wal, and these went through the bottome of the sea drye shod.

13 In the whiche place when an innumerable people of the Egyptians folowed vpon them, they were so ouerwhelmed with the waters, that there remayned not one to tel them that came after how it happened.

C 14 So when this people was passed through the red sea, they came into the wylderneſſe of mount Sina, where neuer man myght dwel afore, and where the sonne of man had neuer rested.

15 There were the bytter waters made swete for them that they myght drynke, & fourtie yeeres had they meate from heauen.

16 Whereſoeuer they went, without bowe and arrowe, without buckler or swoorde, they? God fought for them, and caused them to haue the victorie.

17 Yea, no man was able to hurt this people, except it were when they departed vnfaythfully from the woorshipping of the Lorde they? God.

18 But as oft as they woorshipped any other beſyde they? God, he gaue them ouer to be spoyled, to be slayne, and to be put to confuſion.

19 Neuertheleſſe, as oft as they were sory for they? departing from the woorshippe of they? God: the same God of heauen gaue them power and strength to withstande (their enimies.)

Ioſu. 12.c 20 Moreouer, they slue the king of the Chanaanites, Iebuſites, Pherezites, Hethites, Heuites, and Amorites, and al the mightie in Heſebon, and tooke they? landes and cities in poſſeſſion:

D 21 And so long as they sinned not in the sight of their God, it went wel with them: for their God hateth vnryghteouſneſſe.

Iudi. 2.b. 2.Reg. 25.a 22 For in times past, when they went out of the way whiche God had geuen them, that they shoulde walke in it, they were deſtroyed in diuers battailes of many nations, and many of them were caried away priſoners vnto a strange countrey.

1.Eſd.1.a. 23 But nowe lately they haue turned themſelues agayne vnto the Lorde they? God, and are comme togeather agayne out of the countreyes where they were scattered abroade: and thus haue they conquered theſe mountaynes, and dwel therein: and as for Hieruſalem where they? sanctuarie is, they haue it agayne in poſſeſſion.

24 And therefore my Lorde, make diligent inquiſition yf this people haue donne wyckednesse in the sight of they? God, then let vs goe vp agaynſt them: for doubtleſſe their God shal deliuer them into thine handes, and subdue them vnto thy power.

25 But if this people haue not displeased their God, we shal not be able to withstand them: for they? God shal defend them, and so shal we be a shame to al the worlde.

26 Nowe when Achior had spoken out theſe woordes, al the great menne of Holopherneſ were wroth, and thought to slay hym, and sayde one to another, E

27 What is he this whiche dare say that the children of Iſrael are able to withstand Nabuchodonoſor the king, and his hostes: whereas they are an vnweaponed people, without strength or vnderstandyng of the feates of warre.

28 That Achior therefore may knowe that he hath deceiued vs, we wyl goe vp into the mountaynes: and when the mightie menne of them are taken, he with them shalbe stryckt with the swoorde:

29 That al the people may know that Nabuchodonoſor is the God of the earth, and that there is none other beſyde hym.

The.vi. Chapter.

2. Holophernes blaſphemeth God, whom Achior confeſſed.

1 SO when they had leakt of speakyng, Holophernes tooke soare indignation, and sayde vnto Achior, A

2 For so muche as thou haſt prophecied vnto vs, sayeing, That the people of Iſrael shalbe defended of they? God: I wil shewe thee that there is no God but Nabuchodonoſor.

3 Yea, when we slay them al as one man, thou also shalt periſhe with them through the swoorde of the Aſſyrians, and al Iſrael shalbe deſtroyed with thee:

4 And then shalt thou feele that Nabuchodonoſor is the Lorde of the whole earth: then shal the swoorde of my knyghthood goe through thy sydes, and thou shalt fal downe stickt among ỳ wounded of Iſrael, and " shalt not comme to thee selfe againe, but be vtterly deſtroyed with them. " or, shalt not drawe breath agayne.

5 Furthermore, if thou thinkeſt thy prophesie to be true, why doeſt thou then change thy colour? why art thou afrayde? Thinkeſt thou that my woordes are not able to be performed?

6 But that thou mayeſt knowe that thou shalt feele theſe thynges with them, beholde from this houre forth, wil I send thee vnto yonder people, that when the pounyſhment of my swoorde, (whiche they haue woorthyly deſerued) falleth vpon them, thou mayeſt be pounished with them.

7 So Holophernes commaunded his seruantes to take Achior, and to cary hym vnto Bethulia, and to deliuer hym into the handes of the children of Iſrael. B

8 Then

8 Then Holophernes ſeruantes tooke him, and went through the playne feelde: but when they drue nigh vnto the mountaines, the flyng caſters came out agaynſt them.

9 Neuertheleſſe they gat them away by the ſide of the mountayne, and bounde Achior hande and foote to a tree, and ſo left hym bounde with withes, and turned agayne vnto their Lorde.

10 After that, the chyldren of Iſrael went downe from Bethulia, came vnto hym, looſed him, brought hym into Bethulia, ſet hym in the middeſt of the people, and aſked hym what the matter was that the Aſſyrians had left hym bounde?

11 Dias the ſonne of Micha, of the tribe of Simeon, and Charmi whiche is alſo called Gothoniel, were the principal rulers at the ſame tyme.

12 Now when Achior ſtoode in the middeſt of the ſenatours, and before them al, he told them what anſweare he gaue Holophernes to the thyng that he aſked hym, and howe Holophernes people woulde haue ſlayne hym for ſo ſayeing, 13 And howe Holophernes hym ſelfe was wroth, and commaunded hym for the ſame cauſe to be deliuered vnto the Iſraelites: that when he ouercame the chyldren of Iſrael, he myght commaunde Achior alſo to be put to death with diuers tormentes, becauſe he ſayde, The God of heauen is their defender.

℣ 14 And when Achior had playnly tolde out al theſe thynges, al the people felle downe vpon their faces, prayſing the Lorde, and powred out their prayers togeather vnto the Lorde, with a general complaynt and weepyng,

15 And ſayde, O Lorde God of heauen and of earth, behold their pryde, and loke vpon our lowlyneſſe, and conſyder howe it ſtandeth with thy ſaintes, and make it to be knowen that thou forſakeſt not thoſe which holde them faſt by thee: and how that thou bryngeſt them lowe that preſume of them ſelues, and make their boaſt in their owne ſtrength.

16 So when the weepyng and prayer of the people (whiche they had made the whole day long) was ended, they cõforted Achior, 17 Sayeing, The God of our fathers, whoſe power and ſtrength thou haſt prayſed, ſhal ſo rewarde thee, that thou ſhalt rather ſee theyr deſtruction.

18 When the Lorde our God then ſhal geue his ſeruantes this libertie, GOD be alſo with thee among vs: ſo that as it ſhal pleaſe thee, ſo thou with al thyne mayeſt dwelle with vs.

19 Nowe when Dias had ended the counſel, he tooke hym into his houſe, and made a great ſupper,

20 Called the elders to it: and ſo they refreſhed them ſelues after the faſtyng. ℣

21 And afterward was al the people called togeather, which made their prayers al the nyght long " in the congregation, and beſought the God of Iſrael for helpe.

" or, within the Churche

The. vii. Chapter.

I. Holophernes dooth beſiege Bethulia.

1 THE next day Holophernes commaunded his hoſt to go vp againſt Bethulia. ℣

2 There were an hundred and twentie thouſande fightyng menne on foote, and two and twentie thouſande horſemen, beſide the preparyng of them that were won, and came to them on euery ſide out of the countreys and cities whiche he had taken.

3 Al theſe prepared them ſelues vnto the batayle agaynſt the Iſraelites, and came on by the hyl ſide vnto the top that looketh ouer againſt Dothain, from the place whiche is called Belma, vnto Chelmon, that lyeth towarde Eſdrelon.

4 Now when the chyldren of Iſrael ſaw ſo great a multitude of the Aſſyrians, they fel downe flat vpon the grounde, ſtrawed aſhes vpon their heades, and prayed with one accorde that the God of Iſrael woulde ſhewe his mercie vpon his people.

5 And ſo they tooke their weapons, and ſate betwixt the mountaynes in the narowe place, and keapt the way day and nyght.

6 But whyle Holophernes was goeyng rounde about, he founde the water ſpryng, whiche from the ſouth ſide was conueyed into the citie by a conduite, and he commaunded their cõduite to be cut in ſunder.

7 There were welles alſo not farre from the walles, whiche they vſed ſecretly, more for pleaſure " then for neceſſitie. ℣

" or, then to drinke them.

8 Then went the Ammonites & the Moabites vnto Holophernes, and ſayde, The children of Iſrael truſt neyther in ſpeare nor arrow, but haue taken in and keapt the mountaynes, and ſteepe hylles defende them.

9 That thou mayeſt ouercome them therefore without the ſtrykyng of any battel, ſet menne to keepe the welles, that they drawe no water out of them, ſo ſhalt thou deſtroy them without ſwoorde: or at the leaſt they ſhal be ſo feeble that they muſt be fayne to geue ouer the citie, which they thynke not able to be wonne, for ſo muche as it lyeth in the mountaynes.

10 Theſe

10 These woordes pleased Holophernes wel, and al his menne of warre, and he set an hundred at euery wel rounde about.

11 And when this watche had endured twentie dayes, the cesternes and al that had water fayled them that dwelt in the citie of Bethulia, so that in the whole citie they had not dronke yenough for one day, for the people had water geuen them dayly in a measure.

12 Then came the menne & women, young persons and chyldren, al vnto Ozias, and sayde al with one voyce, 13 God be iudge betwixt vs & thee, for thou hast dealt euyl with vs: thou wouldest not speake peaceably with the kyng of the Assyrians, therefore hath GOD solde vs into their handes.

14 And there is no man to helpe vs, whereas we are brought downe before their eyes in thirst and great destruction.

15 Therefore geather nowe togeather al the people that be in the citie, that we may al yeelde our selues willingly vnto the people of Holophernes.

16 For better it is that we be captiue, and prayse the Lorde with our liues, then to be slayne and perishe, and to be laughed to scorne, and shamed of euery man when we see our wynes and chyldren dye before our eyes.

17 We take heauen and earth this daye to recorde, and the GOD of our fathers, whiche punisheth vs according to (the deseruyng of) our sinnes, (and geue you warnyng) that ye geue vp the citie nowe into the power of Holophernes host, that our ende may be short with the sworde, whiche els shal endure long for wante of water, and for thirst.

18 When they had spoken out these woords, there was a great weeping and howling in the whole congregation (and that of euery man) and they cryed * a whole houre long vnto God with one voyce,

* or, many houres.

19 Sayeing, We haue sinned with our fathers, we haue donne amisse, we haue dealt wickedly.

20 Thou that art gratious haue mercie vpon vs, or punishe our vnrighteousnesse with thyne owne scourge, and geue not those ouer that knowledge thee, vnto a people whiche know thee not:

21 That they may not say among the Heathen, Where is their God?

22 And when they were so weery with this cryeing and weepyng, that they helde their peace,

23 Ozias stoode vp with watry eyes, & said, O take good hartes vnto you, deare brethren (and be of good cheare) & let vs wayte yet these fiue dayes for mercy of the Lorde.

24 Peraduenture he shal put away his indignation, and geue glory vnto his name.

25 But if he helpe vs not when the fiue dayes are past, we shal doo as ye haue sayde.

The. viii. Chapter.

I. The parentage, lyfe, and conuersation of Iudith.

1 AND it happened when these woordes came to the eares of Judith, a widow, whiche was the daughter of Merari the sonne of Idor, the sonne of Joseph, the sonne of Ozia, the sonne of Elai, the sonne of Jamnor, the sonne of Gedeon, the sonne of Raphaim, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Melchia, the sonne of Enan, the sonne of Nathania, the sonne of Salathiel, the sonne of Simeon, the sonne of Ruben:

2 And her husband was called Manasses, whiche dyed in the dayes of the barly harueste.

3 For whyle he was byndyng the sheaues togeather in the feelde, the heate came vpon his head, and he dyed at Bethulia his citie, and there was he buryed beside his fathers.

4 Nowe was Judith his desolate wydowe three yeeres and fiue monethes.

5 And in the hygher partes of her house she made her selfe a priuie chamber, where she dwelt, beyng closed in with her maydens:

6 She ware a smocke of heare, and fasted al the dayes of her lyfe, except the Sabbothes, and newe moones, and the solemne dayes that the people of Israel keapt.

7 She was a very fayre and beautiful person, her husbande also had left her great riches, a plenteous housholde, great vnmooueable possessions, and many cattel.

8 This Judith was a woman of a very good report with euery one, for she feared the Lorde greatly: and there was no body that spake an euyl woorde of her.

9 When this Judith hearde howe Ozias had promised the people, that after the fifth day he woulde geue vp the citie vnto the Assyrians, she sent for the elders, Chabri and Charmi.

10 And when they came to her, she sayde, What thyng is this wherein Ozias hath consented, that yf GOD helpe not within fiue dayes, he wyl geue ouer the citie to the Assyrians?

11 What are ye, that ye tempt the Lorde?

12 This deuice obteyneth no mercy of god: but prouoketh hym vnto wrath and displeasure.

13 Wyl

13 Wyl ye set the mercy of the Lord a time, and appoynt hym a day after your wyl?

C 14 Neuertheleſſe, for ſo muche as the Lorde is patient, let vs rather repent in this, powryng out teares, and beſeechyng hym of grace.

15 For God threatneth not as a man, neyther wyl he be prouoked vnto wrath as the chyldren of menne.

16 And therfore let vs hartily fal downe before hym, & ſerue him with a meeke ſpirite, 17 And with weepyng eyes, ſay vnto the Lorde, that he deale with vs accordyng to his owne wyl ſpeedily in mercy: that like as our hart is now vered and brought lowe through the pryde of them, it " may ſo be comforted through his grace.

" or, we may ſo glory.

18 In ſo muche as we ſolowe not the ſinnes of our fathers whiche forſooke theyr God, and worſhypped other gods:

19 For the whiche ſinne they periſhed with the ſwoorde, were ſpoyled, and brought to ſhame of al theyr enimies: as for vs, we knowe none other God but only hym.

20 For whoſe comfort let vs tary with meekeneſſe, and he ſhal require and make inquiſition for our blood from the vexations of our enimies: he ſhal bryng downe al the heathen that riſe vp againſt vs, and put them to dishonour, euen the Lorde our God.

D 21 Therefore deare brethren, ſeeyng ye are the (honourable and) elders in the people of God, and theyr lyfe hangeth al vpon you, lift of theyr hartes with your exhortation, that they may cal to remembrance howe our fathers alſo in times paſt were tempted, that they myght be proued yf they worſhypped theyr God a right.

Gen.22.a. 22 They ought to remember howe our father Abraham beyng tempted, and tryed through many tribulations, " was founde a louer and freende of God.

" or, was made.

23 So was Iſahac, ſo was Iacob, ſo was Moſes: and al they that pleaſed God, paſſed ſtedfaſt in fayth through manifolde troubles.

24 Agayne, they that receiued not theyr temptations with the feare of God, but put them ſelues forth with vnpatiencie and murmuryng againſt God, 25 Periſhed of the deſtroyer, & were ſlayne of ſerpentes.

26 And therefore ſhoulde we not vndertake to be auenged for the thynges that are done vnto vs:

27 But to conſyder that al theſe punyſhmentes are farre leſſe then our ſinnes and miſdeedes, and beleeuyng that this correction commeth vnto vs as to the ſeruantes of God, for amendement, and not for our deſtruction.

28 Then ſayde Oſias and the elders vnto Iudith, Al that thou ſpeakeſt is true, and no man can reproue thy woordes. C

29 Pray thou for vs nowe therefore (vnto God) for thou art an holy woman, and feareſt God.

30 And Iudith ſaid vnto them, Seeyng ye knowe that my woordes are of God, 31 Then prooue my counſayle and deuice if it be of God: and beſeeche God that he wyl bring my counſaile to good ende.

32 (Thus haue I deuiſed,) Ye ſhal ſtande this nyght before the porte, and I wil goe forth with Abra my mayden: & pray ye therefore vnto God, that he wyl gratiouſly remember his people of Iſrael within fiue dayes, as ye haue ſayde.

33 As for the thyng that I goe in hand withal, aſke ye no queſtions of it: and tyl I bryng you woorde agayne of it, doo ye nothyng els but pray vnto the Lorde our God for me.

34 Then Oſias the prince of the people of Iuda ſayd vnto her, Goe thy way in peace, the Lorde be with thee, that we may be auenged of our enimies. And ſo they went from her agayne.

The. ix. Chapter.

1. Iudith humbleth her ſelfe before the Lorde, and maketh her prayers for the deliuerance of her people.

1 NOwe when they were " gonne theyr way, Iudith went into her cloſet, put on a heary ſmocke, ſtrawed aſhes vpon her head, fel downe before the Lorde, and cryed vnto him, ſayeing,

A " or, gonne vp.

2 O Lorde God of my father Simeon, whiche gaueſt him a ſwoorde for " a defence againſt the enimies that vſed violence in theyr vncleanneſſe, and that rauiſhed the virgin, (and) put her to ſhame and confuſion:

Gen.34.b. " or, to reuengement of the ſtrangers.

3 Thou that gaueſt theyr wiues into a pray, and theyr daughters into captiuitie, and al their pray for a ſpoyle vnto thy ſeruantes whiche bare a zeale vnto thee: helpe me widowe, O Lorde my God, I beſeeche thee.

4 For thou haſt made the firſte thinges: and after that, looke what thou haſte taken in hande and deuiſed, it came euer to paſſe.

5 For al thy wayes are prepared, and thy iudgementes are put in thy euerlaſting foreknowledge.

6 O looke nowe vpon the " armies of the Aſſyrians, " or, tentes.

Assyrians, like as it was thy pleasure sometime to looke vpon the host of the Egyptians, when they being weaponed persecuted thy seruantes, and put theyr trust in their charettes, horsemen, & in the multitude of theyr manne of warre.

B 7 But thou lookedst vpon their host, casting a thicke darknesse before them.

8 And when they came into the deepe, the waters ouerwhelmed them.

9 Euen so Lorde, let it goe with these that trust in the power and multitude of theyr menne of warre, in theyr charrettes, arrowes, and speares:

10 And knowe not that thou only art our God, which destroyest warres from the begynning, and * that thou art the Lorde.

11 O lyft vp thyne arme (nowe) like as euer from the begynnyng, & in thy power bring theyr power to nought: cause theyr myght to fal in thy wrath, which make their boast that they wyl vnhallowe and defile thy sanctuarie, and to waste the tabernacle of thy name, and to cast downe the horne of thyne aulter with theyr swoorde.

12 Bryng to passe, O Lorde, that the pryde of * the enimie may be cut downe with his owne swoorde, 13 That he may be taken with the snare of his eyes in me, and that thou mayest smyte him with the lippes of my loue.

14 O geue me a stedfast mynde, that I may despise him and his strength, and that I may destroy hym.

15 This shal bring thy name an euerlasting remembrance, yf the hande of a woman ouerthrowe hym.

16 For thy power, O Lorde, standeth not in the multitude (of menne) neither hast thou any pleasure in the strength of horses, neyther was there from the beginning any proude persons that pleased thee: but in the prayer of the humble and meeke hath thy pleasure benne euermore.

17 O thou God of the heauens, thou maker of the waters, and Lorde of al creatures, heare me poore woman callyng vpon thee, and puttyng my trust in thy mercy.

18 Remember thy couenant, O Lorde, and minister woordes in my mouth, & stablishe this deuice in my hart, that thy house may continue styl in holynesse:

19 And that al the heathen may knowe that thou art God, and that there is none other but thou.

* or, and that it apparteyneth to thee to be called lord.

* or, of this man.

The. x. Chapter.

I. Iudith decketh her selfe, and goeth foorth of the citie. II. She is taken of the watche of the Assyrians, and brought to Holophernes.

1 AND when she had leaft of crying vnto the Lorde, she rose vp from the place where she had lien flat before the lord, A

2 And called her maiden Abra, went downe into her house, layde the hearie cloth from her, put of the garmentes of her widowhood,

3 Washed her body, annoynted her selfe with pretious thynges of sweete sauour, brayded and platted her heare, set a coyfe vpon her head, and put on suche apparel as belonged vnto gladnesse, slyppers vpon her feete, bracelettes, spanges, eare rynges, fynger rynges, and decked her selfe with al her best aray.

4 The Lorde gaue her also a special beautie and fayrenesse, for al this decking of her selfe was not done for any voluptuousnesse, but of a right discretion and vertue: therefore did the Lorde encrease her beautie, so that she was exceeding amiable and wel fauoured in al mennes eyes.

5 She gaue her mayden Abra also a bottel of wine, a potte with oyle, pottage, cake bread, and cheese, and went her way.

6 Nowe when they came to the porte of the citie, they founde Ozias and the elders of the citie wayting there.

7 Whiche when they sawe her, they were astonied, & marueiled greatly at her beautie. B

8 Neuertheleſſe, they asked no question at her, but let her goe, sayeing, The God of our fathers geue thee grace, and with his power perfourme al the deuice of thy hart, that Hierusalem may reioyce ouer thee, and that thy name may be in the number of the holy and ryghteous.

9 And al they that were there said with one voyce, So be it, so be it.

10 Judith made her prayer vnto the Lord, & went out at the port, she & her mayde Abra.

11 And as she was goeing downe the mountayne, it happened that about the spryng of the day, the spyes of the Assyrians mette with her, and tooke her, sayeing, Whence commest thou? or whither goest thou?

12 She answeared, I am a daughter of the Hebrues, and am fledde from them: for I knowe that they shalbe geuen vnto you to be spoyled, because they thought scorne to yeelde thē selues vnto you, that they might finde mercy in your sight.

13 Therfore haue I deuised by mee selfe after this maner, I wyl goe before the prince Holophernes, & tel hym al their secretes, and wil shewe him howe he may comme by them, and winne them: so that not one man of his host shal perysshe.

14 And when these men had heard her woordes, & considered her faire face, they were C astonied,

astonied (for they woondred at her excellent beautie,)

15 And sayd vnto her, Thou hast saued thy lyfe by findyng out this deuice, that thou wouldest comme downe to our lorde.

16 And be thou sure that when thou commest vnto hym, he shal entreate thee wel, and thou shalt please hym at the hart. So they brought her in to Holophernes pauilion, and tolde hym of her.

17 Nowe when she came in before him, immediatly he was ouercome and taken with her beautie.

18 Then sayde his seruantes, Who would despise the people of the Iewes that haue so faire women: should we not by reason fight agaynst them for these?

19 So when Iudith sawe Holophernes sittyng in a canapie, that was wrought of purple silke, golde, smaragde, and precious stones, 20 She looked fast vpon hym, bowed her self, and fel downe vpon the earth: and Holophernes seruantes tooke her vp againe at their lordes commaundement.

The.xi. Chapter.

I. Holophernes comforteth Iudith, 3. and asketh the cause of her commyng. 5. She deceiueth hym by her fayre woordes.

A 1 Then sayde Holophernes vnto her, Be of good cheare, and feare not in thyne hart: for I neuer hurt man that would serue Nabuchodonosor the kyng.

2 As for thy people yf they had not despised me, I shoulde not haue lyft vp my speare agaynst them.

3 But tel me nowe, what is the cause that thou art departed from them, and wherefore art thou comme vnto vs?

4 And Iudith sayde vnto hym, Sir, vnderstande the woordes of thy handmayden: for yf thou wylt doo after the woordes of thy handmayden, the Lord shal bryng thy matter to a prosperous effect.

5 As Nabuchodonosor the king of the earth lyueth, and as his power liueth, whiche is in thee to the pounishment of al menne that goe wrong: al menne shal not onely be subdued vnto hym through thee, but al the beastes also of the feelde.

6 For al people speake of thy prudent actiuitie, and it hath euer benne reported howe thou onely art good and myghtie in al his kyngdome, and thy * discretion is commended in al landes.

* or, discipline.

B 7 The thyng is manifest also that Achior spake, & it is wel knowen what thou commaundest to doo vnto hym.

8 For this is playne and of a suretie, that our GOD is so wroth with vs by the reason of our sinnes, that he hath shewed by his prophetes vnto the people, howe that for their sinnes he wyl deliuer them ouer (vnto the enimie.)

9 And for so muche as the chyldren of Israel knowe that they haue so displeased their God, they are sore afrayde of thee.

10 They suffer great hunger also, and for want of water they are dead nowe in a maner.

11 Moreouer they are appoynted to slay al their cattel, that they may drinke the blood of them:

12 And are purposed to spende the holye thynges of their GOD, whiche he hath forbydden them to touche, (as) of corne, wine, and oyle, and they wil consume those thynges whiche they ought not to touche with their handes: Seeyng nowe that they doo these thinges, it is a playne case that they must needes be destroyed.

13 Whiche when I thy handmayden perceiued, I fledde from them: and the Lorde hath sent me to shewe thee these thynges.

C 14 For I thy handmayden woorshyp God, euen here nowe beside thee, and thy handemayden shal goe forth, and I wyl make my prayer vnto God:

15 And he shal tel me when he wyl reward them their sinne, then shal I comme and shewe thee, and bryng thee through the middest of Hierusalem, so that thou shalt haue al the people of Israel as sheepe without a shepheard, and there shal not so much as one dogge barke agaynst thee.

16 For these thynges are shewed me by the prouidence of God.

17 And for so muche as God is displeased with them, he hath sent me to tel thee the same.

18 These woordes pleased Holophernes, and al his seruantes: whiche marueyled at the wysedome of her, and sayde one to another, 19 There is not such a woman vpon earth, in fauour, in beautie, and discretion of woordes.

D 20 And Holophernes sayde vnto her, God hath donne wel, that he hath sent thee hyther before thy people, that thou mayest geue them into our handes.

21 And for so much as thy promise is good, yf thy GOD performe it vnto me, he shalbe my God also, and thou shalt be excellent, and great in the court of Nabuchodonosor, and thy name shalbe spoken of in al the lande.

The

The.xii.Chapter.

Iudith woulde not pollute her selfe with the meate of the Gentiles.

A 1 THEN commaunded he her to goe in where his treasure lay, and charged that she shoulde haue her dwellyng there, and appoynted what shoulde be geuē her from his table.

2 Iudith answeared hym, and sayde, As for the meate that thou hast commaunded to geue me, I may not eate of it as nowe, lest I displease my GOD: but wyl eate of suche as I haue brought with me.

3 Then sayde Holophernes vnto her, If these thinges that thou hast brought with thee fayle, what shal we doo vnto thee?

4 And Iudith sayde, As thy soule lyueth my Lorde, thy handmayden shal not spende al this, tyl God hath brought to passe in my hande the thynges that I haue deuised. So his seruantes brought her into the tent whereas he had appoynted.

5 And as she was goyng in, she desyred that she might haue leaue to go foorth by night, and before day to her prayer, and to make intercession vnto the Lorde.

6 Then commaunded Holophernes his chamberlaynes, that she shoulde go out and in at her pleasure, to pray vnto God those three dayes.

B 7 And so in the nyght season she went foorth into the valley of Bethulia, and washed her selfe in the wel water.

8 And commyng vp, she besought the Lorde God of Israel that he woulde prosper her way, for the deliuerance of his people.

9 And so she went in, and remayned cleane in her tent, tyl she tooke her meate in the euenyng.

10 Upon the fourth day it came to passe, that Holophernes made a supper vnto his seruantes, and sayde vnto Vagao his chamberlayne, Goe thy way, and counsel this Hebrueſſe that she may be wyllyng to consent to keepe companie with me.

11 For it were a shame vnto al the Assyrians, that a woman shoulde so laugh a man to scorne, that she were comme from hym vnmedled withal.

12 Then went Vagao vnto Iudith, and sayde, Let not the good daughter be afrayd to comme in to my lorde, that she may be honoured before him, that she may eate and drinke wyne, and be mery with hym.

13 Unto whom Iudith answeared, Who am I that I shoulde say my lorde nay?

C 14 Whatsoeuer is good and best before his eyes, I shal doo it: and looke what is his pleasure, that shal I thinke wel donne as long as I lyue.

15 So she stood vp, and deckt her selfe with her apparel, and went in and stoode before hym.

16 And Holophernes hart was whole moued: for he brent in desire towarde her.

17 And Holophernes said vnto her, Drinke nowe, and sit downe, and be mery, for thou hast founde fauour before me.

18 Then sayde Iudith, Sir, I wyl drinke, for my minde is meryer to day then euer it was in al my lyfe.

19 And she tooke, and dyd eate, and drinke before hym the thynges that her mayden had prepared for her.

20 And Holophernes was mery with her, and dranke more wyne then euer he dyd afore in his lyfe.

The.xiii.Chapter.

7. Iudith prayeth for strength. 10. She smyteth of Holophernes head. 12. She returneth to Bethulia, and reioyceth her people.

A 1 NOwe when it was late in the nyght, his seruantes made hast euery man to his lodgyng, & Vagao shut the chamber doores, and went his way: Eccle.37.a.

2 For they were al ouerladen with wyne.

3 So was Iudith alone in the chamber.

4 As for Holophernes he lay vpon the bed (al drunken) and of very drunkennesse fel asleepe.

5 Then commaunded Iudith her mayden to stande without before the doore, and to wayte.

6 And Iudith stood before the bed, making her prayer with teares, and mooued her lippes secretly,

7 And sayde, Strengthen me, O Lord God B of Israel, and haue respect vnto the workes of myne handes in this houre, that thou mayest set vp thy citie of Hierusalem, lyke as thou hast promised: and graunt that I may performe the thyng, whiche in hope that it may be donne by thee, I haue deuised.

8 And when she had spoken this, she went to the piller that was at Holophernes beds head, and loosed his swoorde that hanged vpon it, and drewe it out:

9 And when she had taken it out of the scabberd, she tooke hold of the heary lockes of his head, and sayde, Strengthen me, O Lorde God in this houre.

10 And with that she gaue hym two strokes vpon the necke, and smote of his head: then toke she the canapie away from the pilleres, Iud.16.2

and

and rolled the dead body aſyde.

11 Immediatly ſhe gate her fooꝛth, and deliuered the head of Holophernes vnto her mayden, and bad her put it in her wallet.

12 And ſo theſe two went fooꝛth togeather after their cuſtome, as though they woulde pꝛay: and ſo paſſed by the hoſt, and came about thꝛough the valley vnto the pooꝛte of the citie.

13 And Iudith cryed a farre of vnto the watchemen vpon the walles, Open the gates (ſayde ſhe) foꝛ God is with vs, which hath ſhewed his power in Iſrael.

℄ 14 And when they hearde her voyce, they called the elders of the citie (togeather.)

15 And they came al to meete her, litle and great, young and olde: foꝛ they thought not that ſhe ſhoulde haue comme ſo ſoone.

16 So they lighted candels, and geathered about her euery one: but ſhe went vp into an high place, and cauſed ſcilence to be pꝛoclaymed.

17 And when euery man now held his peace, Iudith ſayde, O pꝛayſe the Loꝛd our God, foꝛ he hath not deſpiſed noꝛ foꝛſaken them that put theyꝛ truſt in him:

18 And in me his handmayden he hath perfourmed his mercie, whiche he pꝛomiſed vnto the houſe of Iſrael: Yea, in my hande this ſame night hath he ſlayne the enimie of his people.

19 And with that ſhe tooke fooꝛth the head of Holophernes out of the wallet, and ſhewed it them, ſayeing, Beholde the head of Holophernes the captayne of the armie of the Aſſyꝛians, and this is his canapie wherein he lay in his dꝛunkenneſſe, where the Loꝛde our God hath ſlayne hym by the hande of a woman.

20 But as the Loꝛde lyueth, his angel hath keapt me, goeing thither, remaining there, and comming hither agayne from thence: and the Loꝛd hath not ſuffred me his handmayden to be defiled, but without any defiling of ſinne, hath he bꝛought me agayne vnto you, and that with great victoꝛie, ſo that I am eſcaped, and ye deliuered.

D 21 O geue thankes vnto him euery one, foꝛ he is gratious, and his mercy endureth foꝛ euer.

22 So they pꝛayſed the Loꝛde al togeather, (and gaue thankes vnto him) and to her they ſayde, The Loꝛde hath bleſſed thee in his powꝛer, foꝛ thꝛough thee he hath bꝛought our enimies to nought.

23 And Oſias the cheefe ruler of the people of Iſrael, ſayd vnto her, O daughter, bleſſed art thou of the Loꝛde the hygh God, aboue al women vpon earth.

24 Bleſſed be the Loꝛd the maker of heauen and earth, whiche hath guided thee aryght to wounde and to ſmyte of the head of the captayne of our enimies.

25 Foꝛ this day he hath made thy name ſo honoꝛable, that thy pꝛaiſe ſhal neuer come out of the mouth of men, which ſhal alway remember the powꝛer of the Loꝛde, ſeeyng thou haſt not ſpared thyne owne ſelfe (but put thee in ieopardie) conſyderyng the anguiſhe and trouble of thy people, and ſo haſt helped theyꝛ fal befoꝛe God our Loꝛd.

26 And al the people ſayde, Amen. Amen.

27 Achioꝛ alſo was called, and he came: then ſayde Iudith vnto hym, The God of Iſrael, vnto whom thou gaueſt witneſſe that he woulde be auenged of his enimies, euen he hath this night thꝛough my hande ſmitten of the head of al the vnfaythful.

28 And that thou mayeſt ſee that it ſo is, beholde this is the head of Holophernes, whiche in his pꝛeſumptuous pꝛyde deſpiſed the God of Iſrael, and thꝛeatned thee with deſtruction, ſayeing, When the people of Iſrael is taken, I ſhal cauſe thee alſo to be ſtickt with the ſwoꝛde. ℄

29 When Achioꝛ ſawe Holophernes head, he fel downe vpon his face to the grounde foꝛ very anguiſhe and feare, ſo that he ſowned withal.

30 But after that he was comme agayne to hym ſelfe, he fel downe befoꝛe her, and pꝛayſed her, ſayeing, 31 Bleſſed art thou of thy God in al the tabernacles of Jacob: foꝛ al the people that heare of thy name, ſhal pꝛayſe the God of Iſrael, becauſe of thee.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

1. Iudith cauſeth to hang vp the head of Holophernes. 6. Achior ioyneth hym ſelfe to the people of God. 7. The Iſraelites goe out agaynſt the Aſſyrians.

1 IUdith ſayde vnto al the people, Bꝛethꝛen heare me, Sticke vp this head vpon our walles: A 2. Mac. 15. c

2 And when the ſunne aryſeth, take euery man his weapon, & fal out violently: not as though ye woulde goe beſyde them, but to runne vpon them with violence.

3 When the ſpyes ſee this, they ſhal of neceſſitie be compelled to flee backward, and to rayſe vp theyꝛ captayne to the battayle.

4 So when theyꝛ captaynes comme into Holophernes pauilion, and finde the dead body wꝛapped in the blood, fearefulneſſe ſhal fal vpon them.

5 And when ye perceiue that they flee, foꝛlowe them without al care, foꝛ God ſhal " deliuer them vnto you to be deſtroyed. " oꝛ, the Loꝛde ſhal bꝛeake them vnder your feete.

6 Then Achioꝛ ſeeyng the powꝛer of God, whiche he had shewed vnto the people of Israel, fel of from his heathenishe beleefe, and put his trust in God, and let hym selfe be circumcised, & so was he numbred among the people of Israel, he and al his posteritie vnto this day.

7 Nowe assoone as it was day, they styckt B vp Holophernes head vpon the walles, and euery man tooke his weapon, and so they went out with an horrible crye.

8 When the spyes sawe that, they ranne vnto Holophernes tent.

9 And they that were within the tent, came before his chamber, and made a great rustlyng, that Holophernes might awake, not by styrryng hym vp, but by theyr noyse.

10 For there durst not one of the Assyrians knocke, goe in, or open.

11 But when the captaynes and princes, and al the cheefe in the kyng of the Assyrians host came togeather, they sayde vnto the chamberlaynes:

12 Goe your way in, and wake hym vp: for the mice are creapt out of theyr holes, and dare prouoke vs vnto battayle.

13 Then went Vagao into his chamber, stoode before the * bed, and clapped with his handes: for he thought he had benne sleepyng with Judith.

* or, curtayne.

C 14 But when he hearkened perfectly with his eares, and coulde perceiue no stirring, he went nygher to the * bed, and lift it vp, & when he saw the dead body of Holophernes lyeing there without a head, weltered in his blood vpon the earth, he cryed with a loude voyce, and with weepyng, rent his clothes,

* or, curtayne.

15 And went into Judithes tent, and found her not.

16 And so he leapt out vnto the people, and sayde, One woman of the Iewes hath brought al Nabuchodonosors people to shame: for loe, Holophernes lyeth vpon the grounde, and hath no head.

17 When the cheefe of the Assyrians host heard that, they rent theyr clothes, and there fel an intollerable feare and tremblyng vpon them: so that theyr myndes were soare afrayde.

18 And there was an exceedyng great crye in * the whole host.

* or, myddest of the host.

The. xv. Chapter.

1. The Assyrians are afrayde and flee.
6. The Israelites pursue them.

A 1 NOwe when al the host heard that Holophernes was beheaded, theyr minde and counsayle fel from them: and beyng amased with feare only and tremblyng, they saued them selues by fleeyng away.

2 One spake not to another, but hanged downe theyr heades, leaft al behinde them, & made haste to escape from the Hebrues: for they heard that they were hastyng to comme after with theyr weapons, & so they fled by the wayes of the feeldes, & through al the foote pathes of the * dales.

* or, woodes.

3 And when the children of Israel sawe that they fled, they folowed vpon them: & went downe with trumpettes blowyng, and makyng a great crye after them.

4 As for the Assyrians, they had no order, and keapt not them selues togeather, but fled theyr way: neuertheless, the children of Israel fel vpon them with one company and order, and discomfited as many as they might geat.

5 And Ozias sent messengers vnto al the cities and countreyes of Israel.

6 So al the region and euery citie sent out theyr best men after them in harnesse, and smote them with the swoord, tyl they came to the vtternost part of theyr borders.

7 And the other that were in Bethulia, B came into the tentes of the Assyrians, and tooke al that they which were fled had left behinde them, & so they founde great good.

8 And they that came agayne to Bethulia from the battayle, tooke with them suche thynges as had benne theyrs: there was no number of the cattaile, and of al costly iewels, so that from the lowest vnto the highest, they were al made riche of the spoyles of them.

9 And Joachim the hygh priest, came from Hierusalem to Bethulia, with al ỹ elders, that they myght see Judith.

10 Nowe when she came out vnto them, they began al to prayse her with one voyce, sayeing, Thou woorshyp of the citie of Hierusalem, thou ioy of Israel, thou honor of our people.

11 Because thou hast donne manly, and thy hart is comforted, and for that thou hast loued cleanlinesse and chastitie, and hast knowen no man but thyne owne husbande: therefore hath the hande of the Lorde comforted thee, & blessed shalt thou be for euer.

12 And al the people sayde, So be it, So be it.

13 In thirtie dayes coulde the people of Israel scarse geather vp the spoyles of the Assyrians.

14 But al that belonged vnto Holophernes, C and had ben his specially (whether it were of golde, of syluer, pretious stone, clothyng, & al ornamentes) they gaue it vnto Judith, and it was deliuered vnto her of the people.

the

15 And al the people reioyced, both women, maydens, and young people, with pypes, and harpes.

The.xvi. Chapter.

I. Iudith prayseth God with a song. 25. She offereth to the Lorde Holophernes stuffe. 26. Her continencie, life, and death. 29. Al Israel lamenteth her.

1 THen sang Iudith this song vnto the Lorde, sayeng,

2 Beginne vnto the Lorde vpon the tabrettes, syng vnto the Lorde vpon the cymbales, & syng vnto him a newe song of thankesgeuing, be ioyful, and cal vpon his name.

3 It is the Lorde that destroyeth warres, euen the Lorde is his name.

4 Whiche hath pytched his tentes in the middest of his people, that he might deliuer vs from the hande of al our enimies.

5 Assur came out of the mountaynes of the north in the multitude of his strength: his people stopped the water brookes, & their horses couered the valleys.

6 He purposed to haue brent vp my "land, and to slay my young men with the sword. * or, borders.

7 He woulde haue caried away my children and virgins into captiuitie, but the almyghtie Lord hyndred hym, and deliuered him into the handes of a woman "whiche brought hym to confusion. * or, which dyd stycke hym thorowe.

8 For theyr myghtie was not destroyed of the young menne, it was not the sonnes of Titan that slue him, neither haue the great giantes set them selues agaynst hym: but Iudith the daughter of Merari, with her fayre beautie hath discomfited hym, (and brought him to nought.)

9 For she layde away her widowes garment, and put on the apparrel of gladnesse, to the reioycyng of the chyldren of Israel.

10 She annointed her face with oyntment, and bounde vp her heare in a coyffe, and tooke a newe "stole to beguyle hym. " or, garment.

11 Her slippers rauished his eyes, her beautie captiuated his mynd, with the sworde smote she of his necke.

12 The Persians were astonied at her stedfastnesse, and the Medes at her boldnesse.

13 Then howled the armies of the Assyrians, when my simples appeared drye of thirst.

14 The sonnes of the daughters haue pearsed them through, and slayne them as fugitiue children: they perished in the battayle, "for the very feare of the Lorde my God. * or, from the face.

15 Let vs sing a song of thankesgeuing vnto the Lorde, a new song of prayse, wyl we syng vnto our GOD.

16 Lorde, Lorde, thou art a great GOD, mighty in power, whom no man may ouercome.

17 Al thy creatures must serue thee: for thou spakest, & they were made, thou sentest thy spirite, and they were created, and no man can withstande thy voyce. Gen. 1. Psal. 32. b

18 The mountaynes shal moue from the fundations with the waters, the stonie rockes shal melt before thee lyke ware.

19 But they that feare thee, shalbe great with thee in al thynges.

20 Wo vnto the people that ryse vp against my generation: for the almightie Lord wyl auenge hym selfe of them, and in the day of iudgement wyl he visite them.

21 For he shal geue fire and wormes in their fleashe, that they may burne and feele it for euermore. D

22 After this it happened, that after the victorie, al the people came to Hierusalem, to geue prayse and thankes vnto the Lorde: and when they were purified, they offered al their whole burnt sacrifices, and theyr vowes, and their promised offeringes.

23 And Iudith offered al Holophernes weapons (and al the iewels) that the people had geuen her, and the canapie that she tooke from his bedde, and hanged them vp "vnto the Lorde. " The olde interpreter hath, Inanathema obliuionis, 24 The people were ioyful as the vse is: and this ioy with Iudith, by reason of the victorie, endured three monethes.

25 So after these dayes, euery man went home agayne, and Iudith was in great reputation at Bethulia, and ryght honourably taken in al the lande of Israel.

26 Unto her vertue also was chastitie ioyned, so that after her husbande Manasses dyed, she neuer knewe man al the dayes of her lyfe.

27 Upon the hygh solempne dayes, she went out with great worship.

28 She dwelt in her husbandes house an hundred & fiue yeeres, and leaft her handemayden Abra free, E

29 And died, and was buried beside her husband in Bethulia: and al the people mourned for her seuen dayes.

30 So long as she lyued, there was none that troubled Israel, and many yeeres also after her death.

31 The day wherein this victory was gotten, was solemply holden, and reckened of the Iewes in the number of ỹ holy dayes, and it is yet greatly holden of the Iewes euer since, vnto this day.

The dreame of Mardocheus.

A 1 MArdocheus the ſonne of Iari, the ſonne of Semei, the ſonne of Cis, of the tribe of Beniamin,

2 A Iewe, whiche had his dwellyng in the citie of Suſis, a man of great reputation, and excellent among al them that were in the kynges courte:

2.Reg.24.d Ier.c.24.a 3 Neuertheleſſe, he was one of the pryſoners whom Nabuchodonoſor the kyng of Babylon had caryed away from Hieruſalem vnto Babylon, with Iechonias the kyng of Juda.

4 In the ſecond yeere of the raigne of great Artaxerxes, in the firſte day of the moneth Niſan, had this Mardocheus ſuche a dreame.

5 He thought he hearde a great tempeſt, horrible thunderclappes, earthquakes, and great vprore in the lande,

6 And that he ſaw two great dragons, ready to fight one agaynſt another.

B 7 Their cry was great: at the which roaring and cry, al the heathen were vp to fight agaynſt the ryghteous people.

8 And the ſame day was ful of darkneſſe and very vncleare, ful of trouble and anguiſhe, yea a great fearefulneſſe was there in the lande.

9 The righteous were amaſed, for they feared the plague and euyl that was deuyſed ouer them, and were at a poynt with them ſelues to dye: So they cryed vnto God.

10 And whyle they were cryeing, the litle wel grew into a great riuer, and into many waters.

11 And with that it was day, and the ſunne roſe vp agayne: & the lowly were exalted, and deuoured the glorious and proude.

12 Nowe when Mardocheus had ſeene this dreame, he awoke, and muſed ſtedfaſtly in his hart what God woulde doo: and ſo he deſired to knowe al the matter, & his minde was thereupon vntyl nyght.

The.xii. Chapter.

Mardocheus vttereth the treaſon deuiſed againſt the kyng, and is therefore rewarded of hym.

A 1 AT the ſame tyme dwelt Mardocheus with Bagatha and Thara in the kynges court, the kinges chamberlaynes and porters of the palace.

2 But when he hearde their deuiſe, and had diligently conſydered their imaginations, he perceiued that they went about to lay their (cruel) handes vpon the kyng Artaxerxes, and ſo he certified the kyng thereof.

3 Then cauſed the kyng to examine the two * gelded with tormentes: and when they had graunted it, they were put to death. * or, chamberlaynes.

4 This the king cauſed to be put in the Chronicles for an euerlaſting remembrance, and Mardocheus wrote vp the ſame matter.

5 So the kyng commaunded that Mardocheus ſhoulde remayne in the courte, and for this faythfulneſſe of his, he gaue hym a rewarde.

6 But Aman, the ſonne of Amadathu the Agagite, whiche was holden in great honour and reputation in the kinges courte, vndertooke to hurte Mardocheus and his people, becauſe of the two chamberlaines that were put to death.

The.xiii. Chapter.

1. The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes agaynſt the Iewes. 9. The prayer of Mardocheus.

A 1 THE great kyng Artaxerxes, whiche raigneth from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and twentie and ſeuen landes, ſendeth his freendly ſalutation vnto al the princes & deputies of the countrey, whiche be ſubiect vnto his dominion.

2 When I was made lorde ouer many people, and had ſubdued the whole earth vnto my dominion, my mynd was not with crueltie and wrong to exalt mee ſelfe, by the reaſon of my power: but purpoſed with equitie alway and gentleneſſe, to gouerne thoſe that be vnder my iuriſdiction, and wholy to ſet them in a peaceable lyfe, and thereby to bryng my kingdome vnto tranquilitie, that men might ſafely goe through on on euery ſyde, and to renue peace agayne, whiche al menne deſyre.

3 Now when I aſked my counſellours how theſe thynges myght be brought to a good ende, there was one by vs excellent in wyſdome, whoſe good wyl, trueth, and fayth-fulneſſe hath oft benne ſhewed & proued, (whiche was alſo the principal and nexte vnto the kyng) Aman by name,

4 Whiche certified vs, howe that in al landes there was ſcattred abroade a rebellious folke, that made ſtatutes and lawes agaynſt al other people, & haue alway deſpiſed the proclaymed commaundementes of kynges, and howe that for this cauſe it were not to be ſuffred that ſuch rule ſhould continue by you, and not to be put downe.

5 Seeyng nowe we perceiue the ſame, that this people alone are contrary vnto euery man, vſyng ſtrange and other manner of lawes, and withſtand our ſtatutes and dooynges, and goe about to ſtablyſhe ſhrewde matters, that our kyngdome ſhoulde neuer comme to good eſtate (and ſtedfaſtneſſe.)

6 Therefore haue we commaunded that al they that are appointed in writing, and ſhewed vnto you by Aman, whiche is ordayned and ſet ouer al our landes, and the moſte principal next vnto the kyng, and in manner as a father, ſhal with theyr wyues and chyldren be deſtroyed and rooted out with the ſwoorde of theyr enimies and aduerſaries, and that there ſhalbe no mercie ſhewed, and no man ſpared: and this ſhalbe donne the fourteenth day of the moneth called Adar of this yeere.

7 That they which of olde, & now alſo haue euer benne rebellious, may in one day with violence be thruſt downe into the hel, to the intent that after this maner our empire may haue peace and tranquilitie.

8 But Mardocheus thought vpon al the woorkes and noble actes of the Lorde, and made his prayer vnto hym, 9 Sayeing, O Lorde, Lorde, thou valiant and almightie kyng, for al thinges are in thy power: and yf thou wylt helpe and deliuer Iſrael, there is no man that can withſtande nor let thee.

10 For thou haſt made heauen and earth, and what woonderous thing ſo euer is vnder the heauen.

11 Thou art Lord of al things, & there is no man that can reſiſt thy maieſtie, O Lorde.

12 Thou knoweſt al things, thou woteſt lord that it was neither of malice nor preſumption, nor for anye deſyre of glorie, that I would not bowe downe mee ſelfe, nor worſhyp yonder proude preſumptuous Aman:

13 (For I woulde haue benne content, and that with good wyl, if it might haue donne Iſrael any good, to haue kyſte euen his footeſteppes.)

14 But that I dyd it becauſe I would not ſet the honour of a man in the ſteede of the glory of God, and becauſe I woulde worſhyp none but only thee, my Lorde: and this haue I donne in no pryde nor preſumption. C

15 And therefore, O Lorde, thou God and kyng, haue mercy vpon thy people, for they imagine how they may bring vs to nought, yea, theyr minde and deſyre is to deſtroy and to ouerthrowe thy people that hath euer benne thyne inheritance of olde.

16 O deſpiſe not thy portion, whiche thou haſt deliuered and brought out of Egypt for thyne owne ſelfe.

17 Heare my prayer, and be mercyful vnto thy people whom thou haſte choſen for an heritage vnto thee ſelfe, turne our complaynt and ſorowe into ioy, that we may lyue, O Lorde, and prayſe thy name: O Lorde ſuffer not the mouthes of them that prayſe thee, to be deſtroyed.

18 Al the people of Iſrael in lyke manner cryed as earneſtly as they coulde vnto the Lorde, for theyr death and deſtruction ſtoode before theyr eyes.

The.xiiii. Chapter.

The prayer of Eſther for the deliuerance of her and her people.

1 QVeene Eſther alſo beyng in the "battayle of death, reſorted vnto the Lorde, A "or, peryl.

2 Layd away her glorious apparel, and put on the garmentes that ſerued for ſighing and mourning: In the ſteede of precious oyntment, ſhe ſcattered aſhes and doung vpon her head: & as for her body, ſhe humbled it with faſting, and brought it very lowe: Al the places where ſhe was wont to haue ioy afore, thoſe filled ſhe with her owne heare that ſhe pluckt of.

3 She prayed alſo vnto the Lorde God of Iſrael with theſe woordes, O my Lorde, thou only art our kyng, helpe me deſolate woman, whiche haue no helper but thee.

4 For my miſerie and deſtruction is harde at my hande.

5 Fro my youth vp, I haue hearde out of the kynred of my father, that thou tookeſt Iſrael from among al people, and ſo haue our fathers of theyr fore elders, that they ſhoulde be thy perpetual inheritance, and looke what thou dydſt promiſe them, thou hast made it good vnto them.

6 Nowe Lorde, we haue sinned before thee, therefore hast thou geuen vs into the handes of our enimies,

B 7 Because we worshypped their goddes: Lorde thou art ryghteous.

8 Neuertheless, it satisfieth them not that we are in bitter and heauie captiuitie, and oppressed among them, but they haue laide their handes vpon the hands of their gods.

9 So that they begin to take away the thing that thou with thy mouth hast ordeyned & appoynted, to destroy thyne inheritance, to shut and to stoppe the mouthes of them that prayse thee, to quenche the glory and worshyp of thy house and thyne aulter:

10 And to open the mouthes of the heathen, that they may prayse the power and vertue of the goddes, and to magnifie the fleashly kyng for euer.

11 O Lorde geue not thy scepter vnto them that be nothyng, lest they laugh vs to scorne in our miserie and fal: but turne their deuice vpon them selues, and punyshe hym that hath bezun the saxie ouer vs, and set hym to an example.

12 Thinke vpon vs, O Lord, and shew thee selfe vnto vs in the tyme of our distresse, and of our trouble: strength me, O thou kyng of gods, thou Lorde of all power:

13 Geue me an eloquent and pleasant speach in my mouth before the Lion: turne his hart into the hate of our enimies, to destroy him, and al suche as consent vnto him.

C 14 But deliuer vs with thy hande, & helpe me thy handmaide, which haue no defence nor helper, but only thee Lord.

15 Thou knowest al thinges, thou wotest that I loue not the glorie and worshyp of the vnryghteous, and that I hate and abhorre the bedde of the vncircumcised, and of al heathen.

16 Thou knowest my necessitie, that I hate the token of my preeminence & worshyp, whiche I beare vpon my head what tyme as I must shew mee selfe and be seene, and that I abhorre it as an vncleane cloth, and that I weare it not when I am quiet and alone by mee selfe.

17 Thou knowest also that I thy handmaiden haue not eaten at Amans table, and that I haue had no pleasure nor delight in the kinges feast, that I haue not dzunke the wine of the dzynke offerynges, 18 And that I thy handmayden haue no ioy, since the day that I was brought hyther, vnto this day, but only in thee, O lord, O thou God of Abzaham.

19 O thou mightie God aboue al, heare the voyce of them that haue no other hope, and deliuer vs out of the hande of the wycked, and deliuer me out of my feare.

The.xv. Chapter.

I. Mardocheus mooueth Esther to goe in vnto the kyng, and make intercession for her people. 9. And she performed his request.

1 MArdocheus also bade Esther goe in A vnto the kyng, and pray for her people, and for her countrey.

2 Remember (sayth he) the dayes of thy lowe estate, howe thou wast nourished vnder my hande: for Aman whiche is nert vnto the king, hath geuen sentence of death agaynst vs:

3 Cal thou therefore vpon the Lorde, and speake for vs vnto the kyng, and deliuer vs from death.

4 And vpon the third day it happened, that Esther laide away the mourning garmentes, and put on her glorious apparel,

5 And deckt her selfe goodly (after that she had called vpon God, whiche is the beholder and sauiour of al thynges) (and) tooke two maydens with her:

6 Upon the one she leaned her selfe, as one that was tender:

7 The other folowed her, & bare the trayne B of her vesture.

8 The shine of her beautie made her face rose coloured, the similitude of her face was chearful and amiable: but her hart was sorowful for great feare.

9 She went in through al the doores, and stoode before the kyng: the kyng sate vpon the throne of his kingdome, and was clothed in his goodly aray, al shining with golde, and set with pretious stones, and he was very terrible.

10 He lyft vp his face that shone in the clearenesse, and looked grymly vpon her: then fel the Queene downe, was pale and faint, leaned her selfe vpon the head of the mayde that went with her.

11 Neuertheless, God turned the kynges mynde that he was gentle, that he leaped out of his seate for feare, and gate her in his armes, and helde her vp tyl she came to her selfe agayne, he gaue her louing woordes also, and sayde vnto her,

12 Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good chearet

13 Thou shalt not dye, for our commaundement toucheth the commons, and not thee: Comme nigh.

14 And with that he held vp his golden rod, C and and layde it vpon her necke.

15 And imbraced her frendely, and sayde, Talke with me.

Gen.33.d. 16 Then sayde she, I sawe thee (O Lorde) as an angel of God, and my hart was troubled for feare of thy maiestie & clearenesse.

17 For excellent and wonderful art thou O Lorde, and thy face is ful of amitie.

18 But as she was thus speaking vnto him, she fel downe agayne for fayntnesse:

19 For the which cause the king was afraid, and al his seruantes comforted her.

The.xvi. Chapter.

The copy of the letters of Artaxerxes, wherby he reuoketh those whiche he firste sent foorth.

A 1 THe great king Artaxerxes, which raigneth from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and twentie and seuen landes, sendeth vnto the princes and rulers of the same landes, suche as loue hym, his frendly salutation.

2 There be many that for the sundry frendshippes and benefites whiche are diuersly donne vnto them for theyr worshyp, be euer the more proude and high minded:

3 And vndertake not only to hurt our subiectes, (for plenteous benefites may they not suffer, and begin to imagine some thing agaynst those that doo them good,

4 And take not only al thankfulnesse away from men) but in pride and presumption, as they that be vnmyndful and vnthankful for the good deedes, they go about to escape the iudgement of God that seeth al thynges, whiche iudgement hateth and punisheth al wickednesse,

5 It happeneth oft also, that they whiche be set in office by the higher power, and vnto whom the businesse and causes of the subiectes are committed to be handled, ware proude, and defile them selues with sheddyng of innocent blood, whiche bryngeth them to intollerable hurt.

6 Whiche also with false and deceytful woords, and with lyeing tales, deceiue and betray the innocent goodnesse of princes.

B 7 Nowe is it profitable and good that we take heede, make searche thereafter, and consyder not only what hath happened vnto vs of olde, but the shameful, vnhoneft, & noysome thynges that the deputies haue nowe taken in hande before our eyes.

8 And therby to beware in tyme to comme, that we make the kyngdome quiet and peaceable for al menne, and that we might sometyme drawe it to a change.

9 And as for the thing that nowe is present before our eyes, to withstande it, and to put it downe after the most freendly maner.

10 What tyme nowe as Aman the sonne of Amadathu the Macedonian, a stranger veryly of the Persians blood, and farre from our goodnesse, was comme in among vs as an aliant,

11 And had obteyned the frendship that we beare towarde al people, so that he was called our father, and had in hygh honour of euery man, as the next and principal vnto the kyng:

12 He could not forbeare him selfe from his pryde, hath vndertaken not onely to rob vs of the kyngdome, but of our lyfe:

13 With manyfold deceit also hath he desyred to destroy Mardocheus our helper and preseruer, which hath donne vs good in al thyngs, and innocent Esther the lyke partaker of our kyngdome, with al her people.

14 For his minde was (when he had taken them out of the way, and robbed vs of them) by this meanes to translate the kingdome of the Persians, vnto them of Macedonia. C

15 But we finde that the Iewes (whiche were accused of the wicked, that they myght be destroyed) are no euyl doers, but vse reasonable and ryght lawes:

16 And that they be the chyldren of the most hygh lyuyng God, by whom the kingdome of vs, and of our progenitours, hath benne wel ordered hytherto.

17 Wherefore, as for the letters and commaundementes that were put forth by Aman, the sonne of Amadathu, ye shal doo wel yf ye holde them of none effect.

18 For he that set them vp and inuented them, hangeth at Susis before the porte, with al his kinrede: and God, whiche hath al thinges in his power, hath rewarded hym after his deseruyng.

19 And vpon this ye shal publishe and set vp the coppie of this letter in al places, that the Iewes may freely and without hynderance holde them selues after their owne statutes:

20 And that they may be helped, and that vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar, they may be auenged of them, whiche in the time of their anguishe and trouble woulde haue oppressed them. D

21 For the God that gouerneth al thynges, hath turned to ioy the day wherein the chosen people shoulde haue perished.

22 Moreouer, among ỹ high solempne dayes that ye haue, ye shal holde this day also with al gladneſſe:

B 23 That nowe, and in tyme to comme, this day may be a remembrance of good, for al ſuche as loue the proſperitie of the Perſians: but a remembrance of deſtruction to thoſe that be ſeditious vnto vs.

24 Al cities and landes that doo not this, ſhal horribly periſhe, and be deſtroyed with the ſwoorde and fire, and ſhal not only be no more inhabited of menne, but be abhorred alſo of the wylde beaſtes and foules.

The ende of the reaſt of the booke of Eſther.

¶ The wiſdome of Solomon.

The firſt Chapter.

1. Howe we ought to enquire and ſearche after God. 2. Who they are that finde hym.

1 A LOue ryghteouſneſſe, ye that be iudges of the earth: conſyder deepely of the Lord in goodnes, and ſeeke him in ſingleneſſe of hart.

2 For he wyl be founde of them that tempt him not, and appeareth vnto ſuche as put no diſtruſt in hym.

3 For wicked thoughtes ſeparate from god, and (his) power when it is * tryed, reproueth the vnwyſe. * or, tempted.

4 For why? wyſedome ſhal not enter into a wicked ſoule, nor dwel in the body that is ſubiect vnto ſinne.

5 For the holy ſpirite of diſcipline fleeth from deceit, and withdraweth him ſelfe from thoughtes that are without vnderſtandyng, and is declared when wickedneſſe commeth.

6 For the ſpirite of wyſedome is louyng, and wyl not abſolue hym that blaſphemeth with his lippes, for God is witneſſe of his reynes, and a true beholder of his hart, and an hearer of his tongue.

B 7 For the ſpirite of the Lorde filleth the rounde compaſſe of the world, and the ſame that vpholdeth al thinges, hath knowledge alſo of the voyce.

8 Therefore he that ſpeaketh vnrighteous thinges, can not be hydde, neyther ſhal the iudgement of reproofe let hym eſcape.

9 And why? inquiſition ſhalbe made for the thoughtes of the vngodly, and the ſounde of his woordes ſhal comme vnto GOD, ſo that his wickedneſſe ſhalbe pounyſhed.

10 For the eare of gelouſie heareth al thinges, and the noyſe of the grudgynges ſhal not be hid.

11 Therfore beware of murmuring, which is nothyng woorth, & refrayne your tongue from ſclaunder: for there is no woorde ſo ſecrete that it ſhal goe for nought, and the mouth that ſpeaketh lyes, ſlayeth the ſoule.

12 O ſeeke not your owne death in the errour of your lyfe, deſtroy not your ſelues thorough the woorkes of your owne hands:

13 For God hath not made death, neyther hath he pleaſure in the deſtruction of the liuyng:

14 For he created al things, that they might haue their being, and the * generations of the worlde were healthful, and there is no poyſon of deſtruction in them, nor the kingdome of hel vpon the earth. C * or, beginnynges.

15 For ryghteouſneſſe is (euerlaſtyng and) immortal: but vnryghteouſneſſe bringeth death.

16 Neuertheleſſe, the vngodly call (a) it vnto them both with woorkes and woordes: and whyle they thynke to haue it their freende, they come to nought, and they haue made an agreement with it, for they are woorthy to be of her part. (a) To wit, death.

The.ii. Chapter.

The imaginations and deſires of the wicked, and their counſel agaynſt the faythful.

1 FOr the vngodly ſay, reaſonyng with them ſelues, but not aright, Our lyfe is ſhort and tedious, and in the death of a man there is no remedie, neither is there any man knowen to haue returned from the graue. I

2 For we are borne at al aduenture, and we ſhalbe hereafter, as though we had neuer beene: for our breath is as a ſmoke in our noſethrilles, and woordes as a ſparke rayſed out of our hartes:

3 Whiche being extinguiſhed, our bodye ſhalbe turned into aſhes, and our ſpirite ſhal vaniſhe as the ſoft ayre.

4 Our lyfe ſhal paſſe away as the trace of a cloude, and comme to nought as the miſt that is driuen away with the beames of the ſunne, & put downe with the heate ther-

of:

of: our name also shalbe forgotten by litle and litle, and no man shal haue our workes in remembrance.

5 For our tyme is a very shadowe that passeth away, and after our ende there is no returnyng: for it is fast sealed, so that no man commeth agayne.

6 Comme on therfore, let vs enioy the pleasures that are present, and let vs chearefully vse the creatures lyke as in youth:

B 7 Let vs fyl our selues with good wyne and oyntment, and let there no flowre of the tyme escape vs.

8 Let vs crowne our selues with rose buds, afore they be withered:

(a) This sentence of the medowe is not in the Greeke.

9 (a) Let there be no fayre medowe, but our lust go through it. Let euery one of vs be partakers of our voluptuousnesse, let vs leaue somme token of our pleasure in euery place: for that is our portion, and this (onely) our lot.

10 Let vs oppresse the poore ryghteous, let vs not spare the wydowe nor olde man, let vs not regarde the heades that are gray for age.

11 Let the lawe of vnrighteousnesse be our strength: for the thyng that is feeble is nothyng worth.

12 Therfore let vs defraude the righteous, and why? he is not for our profite, yea he is cleane contrary to our doynges, he checketh vs for offending agaynst the lawe, and slaundereth the faultes of our maner of liuyng.

13 He maketh his boast to haue the knowledge of God, yea he calleth him selfe gods sonne.

C 14 He is made vnto vs for reproofe of our thoughtes.

15 It greeueth vs also to looke vpon hym, for his lyfe is not lyke other mennes, his wayes are of another fashion.

" or, counterfayte coyne.

16 He counteth vs but " vayne persons, he withdrawyth hym selfe from our wayes as from filthynesse, he commendeth greatly the latter ende of the iust, and maketh his boast that God is his father.

17 Let vs see then if his woordes be true, let vs proone what shal happen in the ende of hym.

18 For if the iust man be the sonne of God, he wyl receiue hym, and deliuer hym from the handes of his enimies.

19 Let vs examine hym with dispiteful rebuke and tormentyng, that we may knowe his meekenesse, and proone his pacience.

20 Let vs condemne him with the moste shameful death: for as hym selfe sayth, he shalbe rewarded (of God.)

D 21 Such thyngs doo they imagine, and goe astray, for their owne wickednes hath blinded them.

22 As for the mysteries of God they vnderstande them not, they neyther hope for the rewarde of ryghteousnesse, nor regarde the worthyp that holy soules shal haue.

23 For God created man to be vndestroyed, yea after the image of his owne lykenesse made he hym. Gen. 4. b.

24 Neuertheless thorow enuie of the deuil came death into the worlde, and they that helde of his side doo finde it.

The. iii. Chapter.

I. The conseruation and assurance of the ryghteous. 7. The rewarde of the faythful. 11. Who are miserable.

1 BVT the soules of the ryghteous are in the hande of GOD, and there shal no torment touche them. A

2 In the sight of the vnwyse they appeared to dye, and their ende is taken for myserie,

3 And their departyng from vs to be vtter destruction: but they are in rest.

4 For though they suffer payne before men, yet is their hope ful of immortalitie.

5 They are punished but in fewe thynges, neuertheless in many thynges shal they be wel rewarded: for God prooueth them, and findeth them meete for him selfe.

6 As gold in the furnace doth he trye them, and receiueth them as a burnt offeryng: and when the tyme commeth they shalbe looked vpon.

7 They shal shine and runne through, as the sparkles among the stubble. B

8 They shal iudge the nations, and haue dominion ouer the people: and their lorde shal raigne for euer.

9 They that put their trust in him, shal vnderstande the trueth, and suche as be faythful, shal perseuer with hym in loue: for his saintes haue grace and mercy, and he hath care for his elected.

10 But the vngodly shalbe punished accordyng to their owne imaginations, for they haue dispised the righteous, and forsaken the Lorde.

11 For who so dispiseth wysedome & " nurture, he is " vnhappy, & as for the hope of such it is but vayne, their labours vnfruitful, and their woorkes vnprofitable. " or, discipline. " or, he is miserable.

12 Their wyues are vndiscrete, and their chyldren most vngodly.

13 Their offspryng (or progenie) is cursed: wherefore blessed is the barren that is vndefiled, whiche hath not knowen the sinful bed, she shal haue fruite in the visitation of soules:

14 And the gelded whiche with his handes C hath hath wrought no vnrighteousnes, nor imagined wicked thinges agaynst God: for vnto hym shalbe geuē the special gift of faith, and the most acceptable portion in the temple of God.

15 For glorious is the fruite of the good labour, and the roote of wysedome shal neuer fade away.

16 As for the chyldren of adulterers, they shal not comme to a perfect end, & the seede of an vnrighteous bed shalbe rooted out.

17 And though they lyue long, yet shal they be nothyng regarded, & their last age shalbe without honour.

18 If they dye quickly, they haue no hope, neyther comfort in the day of inquirie.

19 For horrible is the ende of the vnrighteous generation.

The.iiii. Chapter.

1. Of vertue, and the commoditie thereof. 10. The death of the ryghteous, and the condemnation of the vnfaythful.

A 1 O How fayre is a chaste generation with vertue: the memorial thereof is immortal: for it is knowen with GOD and with menne.

2 When it is present, menne take example at it, and if it goe away, yet they desyre it: it is crowned, and euer triumpheth, when it hath wonne the rewarde of the vnfiled batayles.

3 But the multitude of the vngodly abounding in chyldren, shal profite nothyng, nor geue deepe roote by the seede of adulterie, nor lay any fast fundation.

4 For though they bud fooryth in the branches for a time, yet shal they be shaken with the wynde, for they stande not fast, and through the vehemencie of the wynde they shalbe rooted out:

5 The vnperfect branches shalbe broken, their fruite shalbe vnprofitable, and sowre to eate, yea meete for nothyng.

6 And why? al the chyldren that are borne of the wicked bed, must beare recorde of the wickednesse agaynst their fathers and mothers when they be asked:

B 7 But though the ryghteous be ouertaken with death, yet shal he be in rest.

8 For honorable age is not that which standeth in length of time, nor that that is measured by number of yeeres:

9 But a mans wysedome is the gray heare, and an vndefyled lyfe is the olde age.

10 He pleased GOD, and was beloued of hym, so that whereas he lyued among sinners, he translated hym.

11 Yea speedyly was he taken away, to the intent that wickednesse should not alter his vnderstandyng, and that deceit shoulde not beguile his soule. Gen.5.c.

12 For wickednesse with bewitching, sooth darken the honest thynges: and the lyghtnesse of * voluptuous desyre * turneth aside the single minde.

13 Though he was soone dead, yet fulfilled he muche tyme:

14 For his soule pleased God, therefore hasted he to take him away * from among the wicked.

15 This the people see, and vnderstande it not, they lay not vp suche thinges in their hartes, howe that the louyng fauour and mercy (of God) is vpon his saintes, and that he hath respect vnto his chosen.

16 Thus the righteous that is dead, condenneth the vngodly whiche are lyuyng: and the youth that is soone brought to an ende, the long lyfe of the vnryghteous.

17 For they see the end of the wyse: but they vnderstand not what God hath deuised for hym, and wherefore the Lorde hath taken hym away to be in safetie.

18 And why? they see him, and despise hym, therfore shal god also laugh them to scorne.

19 So that they them selues shal dye hereafter without honour, yea in shame among the dead for euermore: for without any voyce shal he burst those that be puft vp, and shake them from the fundations, so that they shalbe layde as vtterly wasted: they shalbe in sorowe, and their memorial perishe.

20 So they shal comme afrayde in remembrance of their sinnes, and their owne iniquities before theyr face shall conuince them.

* or, concupiscence.

* or, changeth, or altereth.

* or, from out of the vnyddest of wickednesse.

The.v. Chapter.

1. The constantnesse of the ryghteous before their persecutours. 14. The hope of the vnfaithful is vayne. 15. The blessednes of the saintes and godly.

1 THen shal the righteous stande in great A boldnesse before the face of suche as haue dealt extremely with them, and taken away their labours.

2 When they see it, they shalbe vexed with horrible feare, & shal woonder at his health so farre beyonde al that they looked for.

3 And changyng their opinion, with gronyng for the redresse of mynd, they shal say, This is he whom we sometyme had in derision, and iested vpon.

4 We fooles thought his life very madnesse, and his ende to be without honour:

5 But

5 But loe howe he is counted among the chyldren of God, and his portion is among the saintes.

6 Therefore haue we erred from the way of trueth, the lyght of righteousnesse hath not shined vnto vs, and the sunne of vnderstandyng rose not vp vpon vs.

B 7 We haue weeryed our selues in the way of wickednesse & destruction, yea we haue gone through tedious desartes: but as for the way of the Lorde, we haue not knowen it.

8 What good hath pride donne vnto vs? or what profite hath the pompe of richesse brought vs?

9 Al those thinges are passed away lyke a shadowe, and as a poste that hasteth by:

10 As a shippe that passeth ouer the waues of the water, which when it is gone by, the trace thereof can not be founde, neither the path of it in the fludds:

Prou.30. vearle.19. 11 Or as a birde that fleeth through in the ayre, and no man can see any token where she is flowen, but only heareth the noyse of her wynges beatyng the lyght winde, parting the ayre through the vehemencie of her goyng, and fleeth on shaking her wynges, whereas afterwarde no token of her way can be founde:

12 Or lyke as when an arrowe is shotte at a marke, it parteth the ayre, whiche immediatly commeth togeather agayne, so that a man can not know where it went through:

C 13 Euen so we in lyke manner, as soone as we were borne, beganne immediatly to drawe to our ende, & haue shewed no token of vertue, but are consumed in our owne wickednesse.

14 Such wordes they that haue sinned speake in the hel:

This vearle is only in the olde interpreter. " or, dusse. " or, fome. 15 For the hope of the vngodly is lyke a " drye thistle flowre that is blowen away with the winde, like a thinne " scumme that is scattered abroade with the stoorme, like as the smoke which is dispearsed here and there with the winde, and as the remembrance of a stranger that taryeth but a day, and then departeth.

16 But the righteous shal liue for euermore, theyr rewarde also is with the Lorde, and the care for them is with the hyghest.

17 Therefore shal they receyue a glorious kyngdome, and a beautiful crowne of the Lordes hande: for with his right hande shal he couer them, and with his arme shal he defende them.

18 His iealousie also shal take on harnesse, and he shal arme the creature to be reuenged of his enimies.

19 He shal put on righteousnesse for a breste plate, and take vnfaigned iudgement in steede of an helmet.

20 The inuincible sheelde of equitie shal he take.

21 His fierce wrath shal he sharpen for a swoorde, and the whole compasse of the woorlde shal fight with hym agaynst the vnwyse.

22 Then shal the thunder boltes goe " right out of the lightninges, and come as out of the wel bent bowe of the cloudes, to the place appoynted. " or, straight-

23 And as from an angry caster of stones, there shal falle thicke hayles, and the water of the sea shalbe wroth agaynst them, and the fludds shal runne roughly togeather.

24 Yea a mighty wind shal stand vp against them, & a stoorme shal scatter them abroade: thus vnryghteous dealyng shal bryng all the lande to a wylderneſſe, and wickednesse shal ouerthrowe the royal " seates of the myghty. " or, thrones.

The.vi. Chapter.

2. The callyng of kinges, princes, and iudges, whiche are also exhorted to searche wysedome.

1 WYsedome is better then strength: and a man of vnderstandyng is more woorth then one strong. A This vearle is only in the olde interpreter.

2 Heare therefore (O ye kynges) and vnderstande, O learne ye that be iudges of the endes of the earth.

3 Geue eare ye that rule the multitudes, and glory in the number of peoples.

4 For the power is geuen you of the Lorde, and the strength from the hyghest, whiche shal trye your woorkes, and searche out your imaginations:

5 Howe that ye beyng officers of his kingdome, haue not geuen true iudgement, haue not kept the lawe of ryghteousnesse, nor walked after the wyl of God.

6 Horribly, and that right soone, shal he appeare vnto you: for an harde iudgement shal they haue that beare rule.

7 Mercie is graunted vnto the lowest: but they that be in auctoritie shalbe soare punished.

8 For he whiche is Lorde ouer al, shal " except no mans person, neither shal he stande in awe of any mans greatnesse: for he hath made the smal and great, and careth for al a lyke. B " or, feare. or, spare.

9 But the myghty shal haue the sorer trial.

10 Unto you therefore, (O ye kinges) doo I speake, that ye may learne wysedome, and not goe amisse.

11 For they that keepe holynesse " holyly, shalbe iudged holy: & they that haue learned suche thinges, shal finde defence. " or, holy thynges.

12 Wherefore

* or, couet my wordes.
* or, be instructed and learned.

12 Wherefore * set your delight vppon my wordes, and desire them, so shal ye * come by nurture.
13 Wysedome is a noble thyng, and neuer fadeth away: yea she is easily seene of them that loue her, & founde of such as seeke her.
14 She preuenteth them that desire her, that she may shewe her selfe vnto them.
15 Who so awaketh vnto her betimes, shall haue no great trauayle: for he shal finde her sitting ready at his doores.
16 To thinke therefore vpon her, is perfecte vnderstandyng: and who so watcheth for her, shal quickely be dispatched of care.
17 For she goeth about seekyng suche as are meete for her, sheweth her selfe chearefully vnto them in * theyr goynges, and meeteth them with * al diligence.
18 For the vnfaigned desyre of * reformation is her beginning: to care for nurture is loue.
19 And loue is the keeping of her lawes, and the keeping of her lawes, is the assurance of immortalitie:
20 And immortalitie maketh a man familier with God.
21 And so the desyre of wysedome, leadeth to the kyngdome (euerlastyng.)
22 If your delight be then in royal seates and scepters (O ye kinges of the people) set your * lust vpon wysedome, that ye maye raigne for euermore.
23 O loue the lyght of wysedome al ye that be rulers of the people.
24 As for wysedome, what she is, and howe she came vp, I will tel you, and wil not hide the mysteries of (God) from you: but wyll seeke her out from the beginnyng of her natiuitie, and bryng the knowledge of her into lyght, and wyl not keepe backe the trueth, 25 Neyther wyl I haue to doo with consuming enuie: for suche a man shal not be partaker of wysedome.
26 But the multitude of the wyse, is the welfare of the worlde: and a wyse king is the * vpholdyng of the people.
27 O receyue nurture then through my wordes, and it shal doo you good.

* or, intheir wayes.
* or, euery thought.
* or, discipline.
* or, honour.
This vearse is only in the olde interpreter.
* or, stay.

The. vii. Chapter.

Wysdome ought to be preferred aboue al things.

A 1 I Mee selfe also am a mortal man, like as al other, and am come of the earthy generation of hym that was first made,
2 And in my mothers wombe was fashioned to be fleashe in ỹ tyme of ten monethes, being brought together in blood, through the seede of man, & the pleasure that came with sleepe.
3 And when I was borne, I receyued lyke ayre as other menne, & felle vpon the earth whiche is of lyke nature, crying and weeping at the first as al other doo.
4 I was wrapped in swadling clothes, and brought vp with cares.
5 For there is no kyng that hath hadde any other beginnyng of byrth:
6 Al menne then haue one entrance vnto lyfe, and one goyng out in lyke manner.
7 Wherefore I desyred, and vnderstanding B was geuen me: I called, and the spirite of wysedome came into me.
8 I set more by her, then by kingdomes and royal seates, and counted richesse nothing in comparison of her.
9 As for pretious stone, I compared it not vnto her: for al golde is but a litle grauel vnto her, and siluer shalbe counted but clay before her sight.
10 I loued her aboue * welfare and beautie, and purposed to take her for my lyght: for her lyght can not be quenched.
11 Al good thinges togeather came to me with her, & innumerable richesse through her handes.
12 And I was gladde in al thinges, because wysedome went before them: and I knew not that she was the mother of them.
13 And I mee selfe learned vnfaignedly, and make other men partakers of her without enuie, and hyde her rychesse from no man.
14 For she is an infinite treasure vnto men: whiche who so vse, become partakers of the loue (and frendship) of God: and are accepted vnto him for ỹ gyfts of * wysdome.
15 God hath graunted me to speake what my mind conceaueth, and to thinke as is meete for the thinges that are geuen me: for it is he that leadeth vnto wysedome, and teacheth to vse wysedome aryght.
16 For in his hande are both we and our wordes, yea al our wysedome, and knowledge of (his) workes.
17 For he hath geuen me the true science of the thinges that are, so that I knowe howe the worlde was made, and the powers of the elementes:
18 The beginnyng, endyng, and myddest of the tymes, howe the tymes alter, howe one goeth after another, and howe they are fulfilled,
19 The course of the yeere, the ordinances of the starres,
20 The natures of lyuyng thynges, the furiousnesse of beastes, the power of the winds, the imaginations of menne, the diuersities of young plantes, the vertues of rootes:
21 And al suche thinges as are eyther secrete or manyfest, them haue I learned.

* or, health.
* or, knowledge. C

22 For wysedome, which is the wooꝛker of al thinges, hath taught me: for in her is the ſpirite of vnderſtandyng, whiche is holy, one only, manifold, ſubtile, * quicke, mouyng, cleare, vndefiled, playne, ſweete, louyng the thyng that is good, ſharpe, which can not be letted, dooyng good,

* oꝛ, lyuely.

23 Kynde to man, ſtedfaſt, ſure, free from care, hauyng al * vertues, * circumſpect in al thynges, and paſſyng through al vnderſtandyng, cleane, and ſubtile ſpirites.

* oꝛ, power.
* oꝛ, hauing regarde of.

24 For wyſedome is nimbler then al nimble things, ſhe goeth through, and atteyneth to al thinges, becauſe of her cleanneſſe.

25 For ſhe is the breath of the power of god, and a pure influence flowyng from the glory of the almightie (God:) therefore can no defiled thyng comme vnto her.

26 For ſhe is the bꝛyghtneſſe of the euerlaſtyng lyght, the vndefiled mirrour of the maieſtie of GOD, and the image of his goodneſſe.

27 And beyng (but) one, ſhe can doo al thinges: and remayning in her ſelfe, ſhe renueth al, and in al ages of tymes entryng into holy ſoules, ſhe maketh Gods freendes, and pꝛophetes:

28 For GOD loueth none, if he dwel not with wyſedome.

29 For ſhe is moꝛe beautiful then the ſunne, * and geueth moꝛe lyght then the ſtarres, and the day is not to be compared vnto her.

* oꝛ, aboue al the oꝛder of ſtarres.

30 For vpon * the day commeth nyght: but wickednelle can not ouercome wyſedome.

* oꝛ, it.

The. viii. Chapter.

The effectes of wiſedome.

A 1 WISEDOME reacheth from one ende to another myghtily, & * louyngly dooth ſhe oꝛder al thynges.

* oꝛ, ſhe,
* oꝛ, pꝛoſitably.

2 I haue loued her, and * laboured for her from my youth vp: I dyd my diligence to marrie mee ſelfe with her, ſuch loue had I vnto her beautie.

* oꝛ, ſought.

3 That ſhe hath the company of GOD, it commendeth her nobilitie: yea the Lord of al thynges hym ſelfe loueth her.

4 For ſhe is the ſcoolemaiſtreſſe of the knowledge of GOD, and the chooſer out of his wooꝛkes.

5 If * a man woulde deſire riches in this lyfe, what is richer then wyſedome, that wooꝛketh al thynges?

* oꝛ, yf ryches be a poſſeſſion that a man would deſire

6 For if pꝛudencie wooꝛke: what is it amõg al thynges that wooꝛketh better?

B 7 And if a man loue righteouſneſſe, her labours are but vertues: For why? ſhe teacheth ſoberneſſe & pꝛudence, * righteouſnes & ſtrength, whych are ſuch things as menne can haue nothing moꝛe pꝛofitable in their lyfe.

* oꝛ, iuſtice & manhood.

8 If a man deſire muche * knowledge, ſhe can tel the thynges that are paſt, and diſcerne thinges for to comme: ſhe knoweth the ſubtilties of wooꝛdes, and can expounde darke ſentences: ſhe foreſeeth ſignes and wooonders oꝛ euer they comme to paſſe, and the * endes of al tymes and ages.

* oꝛ, much experience.

* oꝛ, ſucceſſe of tymes.

9 Therfore I purpoſed after this maner: I wyl take her into my cõpanie, that ſhe may lyue with me, knowyng for certayntie ſhe ſhal geue me good counſayle, and ſpeake comfoꝛtably vnto me in my carefulneſſe and greefe.

10 For her ſake ſhal I be wel (and honeſtly) taken among the commons, & with honour among the elders though I be young.

11 I ſhalbe found to be of ſharpe iudgement, ſo that I ſhalbe marueylous in the ſight of great menne: * and the faces of pꝛinces ſhal wooonder at me.

* This part of ꝑ eleuenth verſe is only in the olde translation.

12 When I hold my tongue, they ſhal byde my leyſure, and when I ſpeake, they ſhal geue good eare vnto me, & if I talke much, they ſhal laye their handes vppon their mouth.

13 Moꝛeouer, by the meanes of her, I ſhal obteyne immoꝛtalitie, and leaue behynde me an euerlaſtyng memoꝛial among them that comme after me.

14 I * ſhal ſet the people in oꝛder, and the nations ſhalbe ſubdued vnto me.

& * oꝛ, I ſhal gouerne the people.

15 Hoꝛrible tyrantes ſhalbe afrayde when they doo but heare of me, among the multitude I ſhalbe counted good, and mightie in battayle.

16 When I comme home, I ſhal finde reſt with her: for her companie hath no bitternelſe, & her felowſhyp hath no tediouſneſſe, but mirth and ioy.

17 Now when I conſydered theſe thynges by mee ſelf, and pondered them in my hart, howe that to be ioyned vnto wyſedome is immoꝛtalitie,

18 And great pleaſure to haue her frendſhip, and that in the wooꝛkes of her handes are infinite riches, and that who ſo * keepeth companie with her ſhalbe wiſe, and that he whiche talketh with her ſhal comme to honour: I went about ſeekyng howe to geat her vnto me.

* oꝛ, exerciſeth talke with her.

19 For I was a lad of tꝛype wit, and had a good * vnderſtandyng.

20 * But when I grewe to moꝛe vnderſtandyng, I came to an vndefiled body.

* oꝛ, ſpirite with me.

21 Neuertheleſſe when I pꝛeceiued that I could not enioy it, except God gaue it (me) and that was a poynt of wiſedome alſo, to knowe whoſe gyft it was, I ſtepped vnto the Lorde, and beſought hym, and with my whole hart I ſayde after this manner.

* oꝛ, yea rather being good.

The.ix. Chapter.

A prayer of Solomon to obteyne wysedome.

A 1 O GOD of * (my) fathers, and Lorde of mercy, thou hast made al thynges with thy woorde,

* or, the.

Gen.i.d. 2 And ordeined man through thy wisdome, that he shoulde haue dominion euer the creatures whiche thou hast made,

3 That he shoulde * order the worlde accordyng to equitie and ryghteousnesse, and execute iudgement with a * true hart:

* or, gouerne.

* or, an vpryght. 4 Geue me wysedome which is euer sitting about thy seate, and put me not out from among thy chyldren:

5 For I thy seruant and sonne of thy handmayden, am a feeble person, and of a short time, * and to young to the vnderstanding of iudgement and lawes.

* or, and yet lesse in. 6 And though a man be newer so perfect among the chyldren of menne, yet yf thy wisedome be not with him, he shalbe nothyng regarded.

B 7 Thou hast chosen me to be a kyng vnto thy people, and the iudge of thy sonnes and daughters.

8 Thou hast commaunded me to buylde a temple vpon thy holy mount, and an aulter in the citie wherein thou dwellest, a lykenes of thy holy tabernacle, which thou hast prepared from the beggynnyng.

9 And thy wysedome with thee, whiche knoweth thy woorkes, whiche also was with thee when thou madest the world, and knewe what was acceptable in thy sight, and right in thy commaundementes.

10 O send her out of thy holy heauens, and from the throne of thy maiestie, that she may be with me, and labour (with me) that I may knowe what is acceptable in thy sight.

11 For she knoweth and vnderstandeth al things, and she shal leade me soberly in my woorkes, and preserue me * in her power.

* or, by.

12 So shal my woorkes be acceptable, and then shal I gouerne thy people righteously, and be woorthy to sit in my fathers seate.

C 13 For what man is he that can knowe the counsayle of God? or who can thynke what the wyl of God is?

* or, dreadful.

* or, the mynde that hath many cares.

14 For the thoughtes of mortal menne are * miserable, and our forecastes are but vncertayne.

* or, & with much labour finde we out the thynges that are in our handes.

15 For why? a corruptible body is heauye vnto the soule, and the earthy mansion keepeth downe * that vnderstādyng that museth vpon many thynges.

16 Very hardly can we discerne the thyngs that are vpon earth, * and great labour haue we or we can finde the thinges which are before our eyes: and who hath then sought out the grounde of the thynges that are donne in heauen?

17 (Oh Lorde) who can haue knowledge of thy * (vnderstandyng and) meanyng, except thou geue wysedome, and sende thy holy ghost from aboue?

* or, counsayle.

18 For so the wayes of them whiche lyued on the earth were reformed, and menne haue learned the thynges that are pleasant vnto thee, and were preserued through wysedome.

The.x. Chapter.

The deliuerance of the ryghteous, and destruction of the enimies commeth through wysedome.

A 1 SHE preserued the first fourmed father of the worlde that was created alone, and brought hym out of his fal:

2 And gaue him power to rule al thinges. Gen.2.c.

3 But when the vnrighteous went away in his wrath from her, he perished by the furious desire to murder his brother. Gen.4.b.

4 For whom when the water destroyed the whole worlde, wysedome agayne preserued it, her selfe gouernyng the iust man by no costly woorke of wood. Gen.7.b.

5 Moreouer, when the nations were confounded (or ioyned togeather) in their malicious confederacie, she founde out the righteous, & preserued him faultlesse vnto God, and kept him strong against the loue of his sonne. Gen.11.a.

6 She preserued the righteous when he fled from the vngodly that perished, what tyme as the fire fel downe vpon the fiue cities. Gen.19.k.

7 Lyke as yet this day the (vnfruitful) waste (and) smoking lande geueth testimonie of their wickednesse: yea the * vnripe and vntimely fruites that growe vpon the trees, & for a token of a remembrance of the vnfaithful soule, there standeth a piller of salt.

8 For al suche as regarded not wysedome, gat not onely this hurt, that they knew not the thinges whiche were good: but also left behinde them vnto menne a memorial of their foolishnesse, so that in the thinges wherin they sinned, they coulde not be hid.

9 But as for such as tooke heede vnto wysdome, she hath deliuered them from sorow.

10 When the righteous fled because of his brothers wrath, * wysedome led hym the right way, shewed hym the kyngdome of God, gaue hym knowledge of holy thyngs, made hym rich in his labours, and brought to passe the thynges that he went about. Gen.28.a.

Gen.41.f. 14 And fayled him not in the bandes, till she had brought him the scepter of the realme, and power agaynst those that oppressed hym: as for them that had accused hym, she declared them to be lyers, and brought hym to perpetual * worship.

Exod.1.b. 15 She deliuered the ryghteous people, and faultlesse seede from the nations that oppressed them.

Exod.3.c. 16 She entred into the soule of the seruant of the Lorde, and stoode by hym in wonders & tokens agaynst the dreadful kinges.

Exod.14.c. 18 She brought them through the redde sea, and caryed them through the great water.

19 But she drowned theyr enemies (in the sea) but brought them out of the bottome of the deepe.

Exod.12.c. Exod.15.a. 20 So the ryghteous tooke the spoyles of the vngodly, and praysed thy holy name, O Lorde, and magnified thy victorious hande with one accorde.

Psalm.18.a 21 For wysedome openeth the mouth of the dumbe, and maketh the tongues of babes to be eloquent.

The.xi. Chapter.

I. The myracles donne for Israel. 13. The vengeance of sinners. 28. The great power and mercie of God.

A 1 SHe * ordered theyr woorkes in the handes of the holy prophete:

* or, directed or prospered.

2 (So that) they went through the wyldernesse that was not inhabited, and pitched their tentes in the waste desart.

3 They stoode agaynst their enimies, and were auenged of their aduersaries.

4 When they were thirstie, they called vpon thee, and water was geuen them out of the (most) hygh rocke, and their thirste was quenched out of the harde stone.

Exod.17.c. Num.20.b.

5 For by the thinges wherethrough theyr enimies were punished, were the * children of Israel helped in their neede.

* or, they, that is, the Israelites.

6 For in steede of a fountayne of the perpetual runnyng fludde, al troubled with sorye blood,

7 In reproche of the commaundement published to murder the infantes, thou gauest vnto them abundance of water, and that not looked for neither:

8 Declaring by that thirste then, how thou hadst punished thyne aduersaries.

B

9 For when they were tryed, and nurtured with (fatherly) mercie, they knewe howe the vngodly were iudged and punished in the wrath (of God.)

Deut.8.a.

10 For these hast thou exhorted as a father, and proued them: but vnto the other thou hast bene a boystous kyng, * layed harde to their charge, and condempned them.

* or, examined them strayghtly.

11 Whether they were absent or present, their punishment was a lyke.

12 For their greefe was double, and mournyng for the remembrance of thinges past.

13 For when they perceyued that theyr punyshmentes did them good, they * thought vpon the Lorde.

* or, they felt.

14 For whom, in his casting out before as an abiect, they had denyed with derision, hym in the ende, when they sawe what happened, they woondred at: for they were of another thirste then was the iust.

C

15 But for the foolishe deuises of theyr wickednesse, wherewith beyng deceiued, they worshipped serpentes that had not the vse of reason, and vyle beastes, thou sentest a multitude of vnreasonable beastes vppon them for reuengeance:

16 That they myght know, that looke wherwithal a man sinneth, by the same also shal he be punished.

Leuit.26.d. Sapi.16.a. Jerem.8.c.

17 For vnto thy almyghty hande that made the worlde of nought, it was not vnpossible to sende among them an heape of beares, or wood lions,

18 Or cruel beastes of a strange kinde, suche as are vnknowen, or spoute fyre, or cast out a smoking breath, or shoote horrible sparkes out of theyr eyes:

19 Whiche myght not onlye destroye them with hurting, but also kil them with their horrible sight.

20 Yea without these (beastes) myght they haue bene slayne with one wynde, beyng persecuted by the reuengeance, and scattered abroade through the breath of thy power: neuertheless, thou hast ordered al thinges in measure, number, and wayght.

21 For thou hast euer had great strength and myght, and who may withstande the power of thyne arme?

22 For why? like as the smal thyng that the the ballance wayeth, so is the worlde before thee: yea as a droppe of the morninge dewe that falleth downe vppon the earth.

Rom.2.a. 23 But thou hast mercie vppon al, for thou hast power of al thinges, and makest thee as though thou sawest not the sinnes of menne, because they shoulde amende.

24 For thou louest al the thinges that are, and hatest none of them whom thou hast made: for thou wouldest not haue made any thyng, yf thou haddest hated it.

25 Yea howe myght any thyng endure, yf it were not thy wyl? or how coulde any thing be preserued, except it were called of thee?

26 But thou sparest al: for they are thyne, (O Lorde) thou louer of soules.

The.xii.Chapter.

2. The mercie of God towarde sinners. 14. The woorkes of God are vnreprouable. 19. God geueth leasure to repent.

1 FOr thy vncorruptible spirite, O Lord, is in al thynges.

2 Therefore chastenest thou them measurably that goe wrong, and warnest them, by putting them in remembrance in what thinges they haue offended, that leauyng their wickednesse, they may beleeue on thee O Lorde.

Deut.9.a. 12.d.18.c. 3 As for those olde inhabiters of thy holye lande, thou mightest not away with them:

4 For they committed abominable woorkes (agaynst thee,) as witchcrafte, sorcerie, and wicked sacrifices:

5 They slue their owne chyldren without mercie, they dyd eate vp the bowels of mens fleashe, and deuoured the blood in abominable banquettes, and had their madde fanatical priestes:

6 And the fathers were the theefe murderers of the soules destitute of helpe, (these doers) thou wouldest destroy by the handes of our fathers:

7 That the lande which thou louest aboue al other, might be a meete dwellyng for the children of God.

8 Neuertheles, thou sparedst them also as men, and sendedst the forerunners of thine hoaste, euen hornettes, to destroy them out by litle and litle.

9 Not that thou wast vnhable to subdue the vngodly vnto the ryghteous in batayle, or with cruell beastes, or with one rough woorde to destroye them togeather:

Exod.13.d. Deut.7.d. 10 But thy mynde was in pounishing them by litle and litle, to geue them place for amendement, knowyng wel that it was an vnryghteous nation, and wicked of nature, and that their thought myght neuer be altered:

11 For it was a cursed seede from the beginnyng: yet hast thou not pardoned their sinnes wherein they offended, for that thou feareste any man.

12 For who dare say (vnto thee) what hast thou done? or who wyl stande agaynst thy iudgement? or who wyl blame thee for the nations that perishe, whō thou hast made? or who wyl comme before thy face to be reuenged for the vnryghteous menne? ℭ

13 For there is none other God but thou, that carest for al thynges: that thou mayst declare, howe that thy iudgement is not vnryght. 1.Pet.v.a.

14 There dare neyther king nor tyrant in thy sight require accomptes of them whom thou hast " destroyed. " or, pounished.

15 Forsomuche then as thou art ryghteous thee selfe, thou ordereste al thynges ryghteously, thinking it vnseemely for thy power to condempne him that hath not deserued to be pounished. Iob.9.a.

16 For thy power is the beginnyng of righteousnesse, and because thou art Lorde of al thynges, it maketh thee to be gratious vnto al.

17 For when menne thinke thee not to be of a ful strength, thou declarest thy power, and reprouest the boldnesse of the wyse.

18 But thou " mastring thy power, doest iudge with equitie, and ordrest vs with great fauoure: for thou mayest vse power when thou wylt. " or, tryyng.

19 By suche woorkes nowe hast thou taught thy people, that the iust man shoulde be louyng, and hast made thy chyldren to be of a good hope, because thou geuest roome to repentance for sinnes.

20 For insomuche as thou hast pounished, and with suche deliberation and obtestation, the enimies of thy seruantes whiche were woorthy to dye, where through thou gauest them time & place of amendement, that they myght turne from their wickednesse:

21 With howe great circumspection then pounishest thou thyne owne chyldren, vnto whose fathers thou hast swoorne, and made couenantes of good promises? ℭ

22 So where as thou doest chasten vs, thou " pounishest our enemies a thousande tymes more: to the intent that when we pounishe, we shoulde diligently thynke of thy goodnesse, and when we our selues are " pounished, we shoulde hope for mercie. " or, scourgest. " or, iudged.

23 Wherefore, where as menne haue lyued dissolutely and vnryghteously, thou hast pounished them euen with their owne abominations.

Sept.xi.c. Rom.i.c.

abominations.

" or, farre.

24 For they went astray very " long in the waye of errour, and helde the beastes (whiche euen their enimies despised) for Gods, deceiued as chyldren of no vnderstandyng.

25 Therfore hast thou sent them thy iudgement in scorne, as to chyldren voyde of reason.

26 As for such as wyl not be reformed by those scornes (and rebukes) they shal feele the woorthy " punishment of God.

" or, iudgment.

" or, murmured and grudged.

" or, were chastised.

" or, murmuryng.

27 For looke in what thynges they " disdained when " they suffered for their sakes whom they counted goddes, seeyng them selues punished in the " same, they perceiued that he was in deede the true GOD, whom before they had denyed to knowe, and therefore came extreme damnation vpon them.

The.xiii.Chapter.

I. All thynges be vayne except the knowledge of God. 10. Idolaters and idols are mocked.

A 1 SVrely vayne are al menne by nature, which were ignorant of God, and could not out of the good thynges that are seene, knowe him that of him selfe is (euerlastyng,) neyther tooke so muche regarde of the woorkes that are made, as thereby to knowe who was the craftes man of them:

2 But somme tooke the fire, somme the wynde or swift ayre, somme the course of the starres, somme the runnyng water, (somme tooke sunne and moone) or the lights of heauen, for gods that rule the worlde.

3 But though they had suche pleasure in their beautie, that they thought them to haue benne goddes, yet shoulde they haue knowen howe muche more " fayrer he is that made them: for the " maker of beautie hath ordeyned al these thynges.

" or, excellent.

" or, the first aucthour.

4 Or if they marueyled at the power and woorke of them, they should haue perceiued thereby, howe muche he which made these thinges is myghtier then they.

5 For by the greatnesse of the beautie & of the creatures, the maker thereof compared with them, may playnely be " knowen:

" or, seene.

6 Notwithstandyng they are the lesse to be blamed that seeke God, and woulde finde hym, and yet peraduenture " misse:

" or, erre.

B 7 For they beyng occupyed in his woorkes, doo seeke hym diligently, and are perswaded by the sight, because the thynges are beautiful that are seene.

8 Howbeit, yet neither are they to be excused.

" or, edifycature of.

9 For if their vnderstading (and knowledge) be so great, that they can " discerne the worlde (and discourses,) why doo they not rather finde out the Lorde thereof?

" or, indeed thinges.

10 But miserable are they, and " among the dead is their hope, that cal them gods which are but the woorkes of mens handes, golde, siluer, and the thyng that is founde out by " cunning, the similitude of beastes, or any vayne stone that hath benne made by hande of olde.

" or, arte.

11 Or as when a carpenter cutteth downe a tree meete for the purpose, and pareth of al the barke cunningly, and so by art comely maketh a vessel profitable to the vse of lyfe:

12 And with that whiche is cut of from his woorke, dooth dresse his meate to fille his belly:

13 And as for the other part that is leaft, which is profitable for nothyng (for it is a crooked peece of wood and ful of knobbes) he carueth it diligently by leysure, and according to the knowledge of his cunnyng, he geueth it somme proportion, fashioneth it after the similitude of a man, 14 Or maketh it lyke somme vyle beast, C straketh it ouer with red, and paynteth it, and looke what foule spot is in it, he casteth somme colour vpon it.

15 Then maketh he a " conuenient tabernacle for it, setteth it in the wal, and maketh it fast with iron:

" or, an houle woorthy of it.

16 Prouidyng so for it, lest it happen to fal, " for it is wel knowen that it can not helpe it selfe: for why? it is but an image, and must of necessitie be helped.

" or, for he knoweth well.

17 Then makyng prayer for his goodes, for his marriage, and for chyldren, he is not ashamed to speake to that whiche hath no soule.

18 For health, he maketh his petition vnto him that is " sicke: for life, he humbly praieth vnto hym that is dead: he " calleth vpo him for helpe, that hath no experience at al: and to send hym a good iourney, he prayeth hym that may not goe.

" or, weake.

" or, maketh supplication vnto hym.

19 And for gayne, for woorke, and for successe of his affaires, he asketh power of him which is without al maner of power.

The.xiiii.Chapter.

I. The detestation and abomination of images. 8. A curse of them and of hym that maketh them. 14. Whereof idolatrie proceeded. 23. What euyls comme of idolatrie.

A 1 AGayne, another man purposing to sayle, & " begynnyng to take his iourney through the raging " sea, calleth for helpe vnto a stocke, that is farre weaker then the vessel that beareth hym.

" or, preparing & making redy.

" or, waues, ceyth

2 For as for it, couetousnesse of money hath founde it out, and the craftes man made it with his cunnyng.

3 But thy prouidence, O father, gouerneth it: for thou hast made a way euen in the sea, and a sure path in the middest of ỹ waues,

4 Declaryng thereby that thou hast power to helpe " in al thynges, yea though a man went to the sea without " shyp.

" or, euery way.
" or, art.

5 Neuertheless thou wouldest not that the workes of thy wisdome should be in vayne: and therfore doo menne commit their liues to a final peece of wood, passyng ouer the stormie sea in a ship, and are saued.

Gen. viii. d.
" or, the hope of the woordes.

6 For in the olde time also when the proude giantes perished, he in whom " the hope was left to increase the worlde, went into the shyp whiche was gouerned through thy hande, and so left seede behynde hym vnto the worlde.

B 7 For " happy is the tree, wherethrough ryghteousnesse commeth:

" or, blessed
" or, the thing.
Psal. 115. a
Baruc. 6. d
" or, corruptible.
Psal. 7. d.

8 But cursed is " (the idol) that is made with handes, yea both it and he that made it: he, because he made it: and it, because it was called God, whereas it is but a " fraple thyng.

9 For the vngodly and his vngodlinesse, are both lyke abominable vnto God.

10 (Euen so) the woorke, and he that made it also, shalbe punished togeather.

11 Therefore shal there a plague comme vpon the idols of the heathen: for out of the creature of G O D they are become an abomination, a " temptation vnto the soules of menne, and a snare for the feete of the vnwyse.

" or, a sclander and offence, or stumblyng blocke.

12 For why, the " seekyng out of idols, is the begynnyng of whoredome, and the " bryngyng vp of them, is the " destruction of lyfe.

" or, deuising.
" or, inuentions.
" or, the corruption.

13 For they were not from the beginning, neither shal they continue for euer.

14 The vayne glory of menne hath founde them out vpon earth, therefore shal they comme shortly to an ende.

C 15 For when a father mourned heauyly for his sonne " sodenly taken away from hym, he made hym an image: and hym whiche then was but a dead man, he nowe began to woorshyp as a God, and ordayned for his " seruantes ceremonies and sacrifices.

" or, soone.

16 Thus by processe of tyme this " vngratious custome beyng waxen strong, was keapt as a lawe, and images were woorshipped by commaundement of tyrantes.

" or, subiectes.
" or, wicked

17 As for those that were so farre of, that menne might not woorshyp them present, their visage being drawen out from farre of, was made as the " cleare image of an honorable king, that they might with " affection flatter alwel the absent as the present.

" or, gorgeous.
" or, diligence.

18 Agayne the singuler ambition of the craftes man gaue the ignorant also a great occasion to increase the superstition.

19 For he wyllyng to please one peraduenture that " bare rule, laboured with al his cunning to make the image of the best fashion.

" or, was of aucthoritie.

20 And so through the beautie of the worke, the " common people beyng thereto allured, tooke hym now for a god, which a litle before was but honoured as a man.

" or, multitude.

21 And this was to be deceiuing of mans lyfe, when menne eyther with calamitie or tirannie oppressed, ascribed vnto stones and stockes that name (of God) whiche ought not to be geuen vnto any thyng (els.)

D

22 Moreouer this was not yenough for thē, that they erred in the knowledge of God: but whereas they lyued in the great warre of ignorance, those so (many and) great " plagues called they peace.

" or, euyls.
Deut. 18. b.
Ierem. 7. b.

23 For either they slue their owne children and offered them in sacrifice, or vsed secrete ceremonies, or folowed madde drunken dissoluteneſse of rites in sacrifice:

24 So that they keapt neither lyfe nor mariage cleane: but either one slue another traytorously, or greeued hym by adulterie.

25 So that there raigned in al menne without exception, blood, manslaughter, theft, " dissimulation, corruption, vnfaythfulnesse, sedition, periurie,

" or, deceit

26 Disquieting of good menne, vnthankefulnesse, defyling of soules, changing of birth, disordering of mariages, adulterie, and vncleannesse.

27 For why? the honouring of " abominable images, is the beginnyng, the cause and ende of al euyl.

" or, of idols that ought not once to be named of vs.

28 For (they that woorshyp idols) eyther they are mad when they be mery, or prophesie lyes, or lyue " vngodly, or els lyghtly forsweare them selues.

E " or, vniustly.

29 For in so muche their trust is in the idols whiche haue no " soule, though they sweare falsely, yet they thinke it shal not hurt them.

" or, lyfe.

30 Therfore commeth a great plagne vpon them, and that woorthyly for both causes: for they haue an euyl opinion of God that geue heede vnto idols, and they sweare vniustly in deceit, dispising holynesse.

31 For it is not the power of them by whom they sweare: but it is the iust " vengeance of sinners that punisheth alwayes the offence of the vngodly doers.

" or, iudgement.

The.xv. Chapter.

The voyce of the faythful prayſing the mercy of God, by whose grace they serue not idols.

1 BVT thou, O our God, art gratious, true, and long ſuffering, and in mercye ordereſt thou al thynges.

2 Though we ſinne, yet are we thyne, for we knowe thy ſtrength: but we wyl not ſinne, becauſe we knowe we are counted thyne.

3 For to knowe thee, is perfect ryghteouſneſſe: yea to knowe thy power, is the roote of immortalitie.

4 As " for the thing that menne haue found out through their cuyl ſcience, it hath not deceiued vs, nor the paynters vnprofitable labour (to wit) an image " ſpotted with diuers colours,

" or, for neither the malicious deuiſe of men deceiued vs.

" or, ſtayned

5 Whoſe ſight entiſeth the ignorant to luſt after it, and he deſireth the " picture of a dead image that hath no breath.

" or, fourmes.

6 Both they that make them, they that deſyre them, and they that worſhip them, loue euyls, and are worthy to haue ſuche thynges to truſt vpon.

7 For the potter tempereth ſoft earth, laboureth it, & geueth it the faſhion, of whatſoeuer veſſel ſerueth for our vſe: and of the ſelfe ſame clay he maketh both the veſſels that ſerue for cleane vſes, and alſo ſuche as ſerue to the contrarye: whereunto euerye veſſel ſerueth, the potter hym ſelf being the iudge.

8 So by his wicked labour he maketh a vayne god of the ſame clay, this dooth euen he whiche a litle before was made of earth hym ſelfe, and within a litle whyle after returneth to the ſame out of which he was taken, when the lone of his lyfe ſhalbe demaunded from him agayne.

9 Notwithſtandyng he careth not the more for this that he muſt labour, nor that his lyfe is ſhort: but ſtriueth to excel goldeſmithes and ſiluerſmithes, and endeuoureth to doo like the copperſmithes, and taketh it for an honour to make " deceauable thynges.

" or, falſe and counterfeite.

10 His hart is but aſſhes, his hope is more vayne then earth, and his lyfe of " leſſe honour then claye.

" or, more baſe.

11 For ſomuche as he knoweth not his owne maker, that gaue hym his ſoule of power to worke, and breathed in him the breath of lyfe.

12 But they counted our lyfe but a paſtime, and (our) converſation to be but a market for gayne, and that menne ſhoulde euery way be getting, yea though it were by euil meanes.

13 Nowe he that of earth maketh frayle veſſels and images, knoweth him ſelfe to offende aboue al other.

14 Al the enimies of thy people that holde them in ſubiection, are moſt vnwyſe, and are more miſerable then very " fooles.

" or, very babes.

15 For they iudge al the idols of the heathen to be goddes, whiche neyther haue eyeſight to ſee, nor noſes " to ſmelle, nor eares to heare, nor fingers or handes to grope, and as for their feete they are (to) ſlowe to goe.

" or, to drawe the ayre or breath.

16 For man made them, and he that borowed his owne ſpirite faſhioned them: but no man can make a god like vnto him ſelf.

17 For ſeeing he is but mortal, it is but mortal that he maketh with vnrighteous handes: he him ſelfe is better then they whom he worſhippeth, for he lyued, as they dyd neuer.

18 Yea they worſhypped (ſuche) beaſtes alſo as are " moſte hateful: for yf they were compared, for " madneſſe they are worſe then others.

" or, their moſte enimies.

19 Neyther haue they any beautie why to be deſyred in reſpect of other beaſtes: but are al voyde of the prayſe of God, and his bleſſing.

" or, lacke of vnderſtandyng.

The.xvi. Chapter.

1. The pouniſhment of idolaters. 20. The benfites donne vnto the faythful.

1 THerfore by ſuch thinges are they worthily pouniſhed, & through the multitude of beaſtes are they " rooted out.

" or, tormented.

2 In ſteede of the whiche pouniſhments, thou haſt gratiouſly ordered thyne owne people, preparing for the deſyre of their appetite a ſtrange taſte, euen Quayles to be their meate:

Num. 11.g

3 To the intent that by the thynges whiche were ſhewed and ſent vnto them, they that were ſo greedie of meate, might begyn to lothe euen their neceſſary appetite, and they which had ſuffered penurie for a ſhort ſpace, might be partakers of the new taſte.

4 For it was requiſite that without any excuſe pouertie ſhoulde comme vpon thoſe whiche vſed tyrannie, and to ſhewe only vnto the other howe their enimies were " deſtroyed.

" or, tormented.

5 For when the cruel " woodneſſe of the beaſtes came vpon them, and they periſhed through the ſtynges of the cruel ſerpentes, (notwithſtanding) thy wrath endured not perpetually:

Num. 21.b

" or, fiercenesſe

6 But they were " put in feare for a litle ſeaſon, that they might be reformed, hauing a " token of ſaluation, to remember the commaundement of thy lawe.

" or, troubled.

" or, the braſen ſerpent.

7 For it that looked backe (to it) was not healed by the thyng that he sawe, but by thee, O sauiour of al.

8 So in this thou shewest our enimies, that it is thou whiche deliuerest from al euyl.

Exod.7.a. 9 For them whē they were bitten with grashoppers and flyes, they dyed, neyther was there any remedie founde for their lyfe, for they were woorthy to be pounished by suche.

10 But not the very teeth of venemous dragons dyd ouercome thy chyldren: for thy mercy was euer by them, & healed them.

11 For they were pricked, because they should remember thy woordes, but speedyly were they healed agayne, least they shoulde falle into so deepe forgetfulnes, that they might not be called backe by thy benefite.

12 For it was neyther hearbe, nor plaster that restored them to health: but thy word, O Lorde, whiche healeth al thynges.

Deut.32.f. 1.Sam.2.a. 13 It is thou, O Lorde, that hast the power of lyfe and death, thou leadest " vnto deathes doore, and bringest vp agayne.

" or, downe to hel gates.

Exod.9.e 14 A man in deede through his wickednesse may slay (another,) but when his spirite is gonne foorth, it turneth not againe, neither may he calle agayne the soule that is taken away.

15 But it is not possible to escape thy hand.

16 For the vngodly that wouldē not knowe thee, were pounished by the strength of thyne arme: with strange raynes, hayles, and showres were they persecuted that they coulde not auoyde, and through fire were they consumed.

17 For it was a woonderous thyng that fire myght doo more then water which quencheth al thynges: but the worlde is the auenger of the ryghteous.

18 For sometymes was the fyre so tame, that the beastes whiche were sent to pounishe the vngodly bent not, and that because they shoulde see and knowe that they were persecuted with the pounishment of God,

19 And sometime burnt the fyre in the myddest of the water, that it myght destroy the fruites of the vniust lande.

D 20 In steede whereof, thou hast fedde thyne owne people with angels foode, and sent them bread redy frō heauen without their labour, " beyng very pleasant and of good taste.

Exod.16.c.

" or, beyng of force for al pleasures, and apt to euery taste.

21 For this thy substance vnto thy chyldren declared thy sweetenesse, and serueng to his appetite that tooke it, tempered it selfe accordyng to his desyre.

22 But the snowe and yce abode the violence of the fyre and melted not, that they myght knowe that the fyre burnyng in the hayle, and sparkelyng in the rayne, destroyed the fruite of the enimies.

23 The fyre also forgate his owne strength agayne, that the ryghteous myght be nourished.

24 For the creature that serueth thee which art the maker, is fierce in pounishing the vnryghteous, but is easie (and gentle) to doo good vnto suche as put their truste in thee.

25 Therefore dyd it alter at the same tyme into al fashions, and was obedient vnto thy grace, whiche is the nurse of al things, accordyng to the desyre of them that haddē neede thereof:

26 That thy chyldren, O Lord, whom thou louest, myght knowe that it is not the " growing of fruites that feedeth menne, but that it is thy woorde whiche preserueth them that put their truste in thee.

Deut.8.a. Matth.4.a.

" or, increase and reuenues.

27 For looke what " might not be destroyed at al with the fyre, assoone as it was warmed with a litle sunbeame, it melted:

" or, could.

28 That al men might know, that thankes ought to be geuē vnto thee before the sunne ryse, and that thou oughtest to be " woorshypped before the day spryng.

" or, prayed vnto at.

29 For the hope of the vnthankful, shal melt away as the wynter yce, and flow away as vnprofitable water.

The .xvii. Chapter.

The iudgementes of God agaynst the wycked.

1 FOr great are thy iudgementes (O Lord) and can not be expressed: therefore men doo erre that wyl not be reformed (by thy wysedome.)

A Rom.11.c.

2 For when the vnryghteous thought to haue thy holy people in subiection, they were bound with the bandes of darknesse and long night, shut vp vnder rookes, and lay there to escape the eternal prouidence.

Exod.10.c.

3 And while they thought to be hyd in the darknesse of their sinnes, they were scattered abroade in ỳ very middest of the darke coueryng of forgeatfulnesse, put to horrible feare, and " woonderously vexed.

4 For the corner where they lay hid, might not keepe them from feare, because the soundes came round about them, and vexed them, yea many terrible and " strange visions appeared vnto them.

" or, astonyed with sightes of strange apparitions.

5 No power of the fyre myght geue them lyght, neyther myght the cleare flames of the starres lighten the horrible night:

" or, phantasies with woful countenances.

6 But there appeared vnto them a sudden fyre only, very dreadful: at the whiche sight wherin they sawe nothing throughly, they they were so afrayde, that they thought the thyng whiche they sawe to be * the more fearefull.

* or, the woorse.

17 As for the illusions of the magical art they came to nought, and it was a most shameful reproche of the pryde that they had of their owne wysedome.

18 For they that promised to dryue away the feares and troubles from the sicke soule, were sicke them selues with feare woorthy to be laughed at.

19 For though no terrible thyng dyd feare them, yet were they afrayde at the beastes whiche passed by them, and at the hissyng of the serpentes.

20 In so muche that with tremblyng, they * sowned, and * sayde they sawe not the ayre, whiche no man yet may escape.

* or, dyed.

* or, & denyed euen to see the ayre.

21 For malice is a dreadful thyng that is condemned by his owne witnesse: and beyng pressed with conscience, it euer * suspecteth cruel thynges.

* or, forecasteth.

22 For feare is nothyng els but a * betrayeing of the succours whiche reason offereth.

* or, a forsakyng and reuoltyng of the helpes which reason suggesteth.

23 And looke howe muche the lesse his hope is within, the greater dooth he recount his ignorance of that cause that bryngeth the torment.

24 But (they that dyd indure) the nyght that in deede was intollerable, and that came from the dungeons of intollerable hel, sleepyng the same sleepe, 25 Were sometymes chased with monsterous apparitions, and sometimes they sowned as their owne soules had betrayed the: for an hastie feare, and that was not looked for, came vpon them.

26 And thus whosoeuer was there fallen, he was in prison, but without chaynes.

27 For whether a man had occupyed husbandry, or had benne an heardman, or labourer in the * woods, if he were taken, he suffered * intollerable necessitie.

* or, alone, or in the desartes.

28 For they were al bound with one chaine of darkenesse: whether it were a blasing wind, or a sweete song of the birdes among the thicke branches of the trees, or the vehemencie of hastie runnyng water,

29 Or great noyse of the fallyng downe of stones, or the runnyng of playing beastes, whiche they sawe not, or the myghtie noyse of roaryng wylde beastes, or * the sounde that answeared agayne in the holownesse of mountaynes: these terrible thynges made them sowne (for very feare.)

* or, ecco.

30 For al the * earth shyned with cleare light, and no man was hyndred in his labour.

* or, woorld.

31 Only vpon them there fel a heauy night, an image of darkenesse that was to comme vpon them: yea they were vnto them selues more heauy then darkenesse.

The. xviii. Chapter.

3. The fyrie pyller that the Israelites had in Egypt. 8. The deliuerance of the faythful.

1 NEuertheless thy saintes had a very great light, whose voyce they hearing, and not seeyng their figure, for that they suffered not the same thynges, they thought them blessed.

2 And for that they dyd not hurt them now of whom they had benne wronged before, they thanked them, and besought them pardon of that they had benne enimies.

3 Therefore thou gauest them a burnyng pyller of fire to leade them in the vnknowē way, & the sunne not to hurt them in their honorable iourney.

4 But reason it was that they shoulde leese the lyght, and be put in the prison of darkenesse, whiche had kept thy chyldren * shut vp, by whom the vncorrupt lyght of the lawe was to be geuen vnto the worlde.

* or, in bondage. Exod. i. c. and. ii. a.

5 After when they thought to slay the babes of the saintes, one child beyng cast out, and preserued to reproue them, thou tookest away the whole multitude of their children, and destroyedst them altogether in a mightie water. Exod. 14. f. and. xviiii. g.

6 Of that nyght were our fathers certified afore, that they knowyng vnto what othes they had geuen credence, myght be of good cheare.

7 Thus thy people receiued the health of the righteous, but the vngodly were destroyed.

8 For lyke as thou hast * reuenged our enimies, so hast thou promoted vs whom thou hast called. * or, punished.

9 For the ryghteous chyldren of the good menne offered secretly, and made a godly lawe with one consent, that the saintes shoulde in lyke maner receiue togeather both good and euyl, and that the fathers nowe shoulde first sing prayses.

10 But there was heard a disagreeyng voyce of the enimies, and there was a miserable lamentation for chyldren that were bewayled.

11 The maister and the seruant were punished after one maner: and lyke as the kyng, so suffered the common people.

12 So they had innumerable that dyed with one kind of death altogeather: neither were the lyuyng sufficient to burie * the dead: for in the twincklyng of an eye the noblest of spring of them was destroyed. Exod. xii. c. * or, them.

13 For whereas they would discredite al chinges by reason of the inchantmentes, in the destruction of the first borne, they acknowledged that this people was the chyldren of God.

C 14 For whyle al thynges were styl in scilence, and when the night was in the middest of her course, thy almightie woorde, O Lorde, leapt downe from heauen out of thy royal throne, * or, fierce. 15 As a * rough man of warre in the middest of the lande that was destroyed,

16 And brought thyne vnfaygned commaundement as a sharpe swoord, and standyng vp, filled al thinges with death, yea it stood vpon the earth, and reached vnto the heauen.

17 Then the sightes of the euyl dreames vexed them sodaynely, and fearefulnesse came vpon them vnawares.

18 Then lay there one here, another there halfe dead (halfe quicke) & shewed the cause of his death.

19 For the visions that vexed them, shewed them these thinges afore, that they myght not be ignorant wherefore they perished.

20 Yea the temptation of death touched the rygheteous also, and * among the multitude in the wyldernesse there was * insurrection: but thy wrath endured not long.

* or, of.
* or, a slaughter.

Numm. 16. g

D 21 For the blameless man went in al the haste, and tooke the batayle vpon hym, brought forth the weapon of his ministration, euen prayer, and the reconciliation of incense, set hym self agaynst the wrath, and so brought the miserie to an ende, declaring (thereby) that he was thy seruant.

* or, the destroyer.

22 For he ouercame not the * multitude with bodyly power or force of weapons: but with the woorde he subdued him that * vexed, alleagyng the othe and couenant made vnto the fathers.

* or, that punished.

23 For when the dead were fallen downe by heapes one vpon another, he stoode in the middest, * pacified the wrath, and * parted the way that it might not comme to the lyuyng.

* or, cut of.
* or, brake.

Exod. 28. a.

24 And why? in his long garment was al the beautie, and in the foure rowes of the stones was the glory of the fathers grauen, and thy maiestie was written in the * crowne of his head.

* or, diademe.

25 Unto these the destroyer gaue place, and was afrayde of them: for it was yenough that they onely tasted of the wrath.

The. xix. Chapter.

1. The death of the Egyptians, and the great ioy of the Hebrewes.

1 AS for the vngodly, the wrath came vpon them without mercye vnto the ende: for he knewe before what should happen vnto them: A

2 Howe that when they had consented to let them goe, and had sent them out with great diligence, they woulde repent, and * folowe vpon them.

* or, pursue them.

3 For whyles they were yet mournyng and makyng lamentation by the graues of the dead, they deuised another foolishnesse, so that they persecuted them in their fleeyng, whom they had (a) cast out afore with prayer.

Exod. 14. a

(a) That is, the chyldren of Israel whom they before had desyred and prayed for to go their way

4 For the * necessitie whiche they had deserued, brought them vnto this ende, and made them forgeat the thynges that had alredy happened, that they myght by tormentes fulfil their punishment whiche remayned:

* or, destinie.

5 And that thy people myght trye a marueylous passage: and these might finde a strange death.

6 For euery creature in his kynde was fashioned agayne of newe, seruyng the peculiar offices, as was commaunded them, that thy chyldren might be keapt without hurt:

7 For the cloude ouershadowed their tentes, and the drye earth appeared where afore was water: so that in the red sea there was a way without impediment, and the great deepe became a greene feelde: B

8 Wherethrough al the people went that were defended with thy hande, seeyng thy marueylous strange woonders.

9 For as the horses, ryght so they neyghed, and leaped lyke lammes, praysing thee (O Lorde) whiche hadst deliuered them.

10 And why? they were yet myndeful of the thynges that were donne whyle they dwelt in the strange lande, howe the grounde brought forth flyes in steade of cattel, and howe the ryuer scrawled with the multitude of frogges in steade of fishes.

11 But at the last they sawe a newe generation of birdes, what tyme as they were stirred with lust, and desyred delicate meates.

Exod. 16. g
Numm. 11. g

12 For why? the Quayles came vp to them from the sea for their comfort: but punishmentes came vpon the sinners, not without the signes whiche came before to passe by vehemencie of the thicke lightnynges: for they suffered woorthyly according to their wickednesse, because they dealt so churlishly and with an hate of strangers.

13 For somme woulde not receiue * menne that came vnto them and were vnknowen: & somme brought the strangers into bondage that dyd them good.

14 Nor onely so, but yf they had benne any where regarded, they could not suffer it: for they entreated strangers very dispitefully.

15 Others that had receiued the with great solemnitie, when they were admitted vnto their * societie, they afflicted them with greeuous labours.

* or, rightes.

Gen. 19. c.

16 Therfore were they stricken with blindnesse, lyke as when they that were couered with sodayne darknesse at the doores of the righteous, sought euery one of them the entrance of his doores.

17 Thus the elementes beyng changed, agreed among them selues, lyke as when tunes are changed vpon an instrument of musicke, & yet keepe styl a melodie: whiche may easyly be perceiued by the sight of the thynges that are comme to passe.

18 For the earthy thinges were turned into wattre: and the thing that before swamme in the water, nowe went vpon the grounde.

19 The fyre had power in the water, forgetting his owne vertue: and the water forgat his owne kynde to quenche (the fyre.)

20 Agayne thy flames hurted not the fleash of the corruptible lyuyng thinges, though they walked therein, neither melted they that icye kind of immortal meate that was of nature apt to melt.

21 For in al thyngs hast thou promoted thy people (O Lorde) and brought them to honour, thou hast not dispised thē, but alway and in al places hast thou * stand by them.

* or, assisted them.

The ende of the booke of wysedome.

The booke of Iesus the sonne of Sirach, whiche is called in Latine Ecclesiasticus.

The prologue of Iesus the sonne of Sirach vnto his booke.

MANY and great menne haue declared wysedome vnto vs out of the lawe, out of the prophetes, and out of other that folowed them: in the whiche thynges Israel ought to be commended, by the reason of doctrine and wysedome: therefore they that haue it, and reade it, shoulde not only them selues be wyse thereth̄rough, but serue other also with teachyng and wryting. After that my grandfather Iesus had geuen diligent labour to reade the lawe, the prophetes, and other bookes that were leaft vs of our fathers, and had wel exercised hym selfe therein: he purposed also to wryte somme thyng of wysedome and good manners, to the intent that they whiche were wyllyng to learne, and to be wyse, myght haue the more vnderstandyng, and be the more apt to leade a good conuersation. Wherefore, I exhort you to receiue it lovingly, to reade it with diligence, and to take it in good worth, though our wordes be not so eloquent as the famous oratours. For the thyng that is wrytten in the Hebrue tongue, soundeth not so wel when it is translated into another speache: not only this booke of myne, but also the lawe, the prophetes, and other bookes, sounde farre otherwise then they doo, when they are spoken in theyr owne language.

Nowe in the thirtie and eigth yeere, when I came into Egypt, in the tyme of Ptolomie Euerges, and continued there a long season, I founde bookes there leaft ful of great and profounde learnyng. Wherefore, I thought it good and necessary to bestowe my diligence and trauayle to interprete this booke: and consyderyng that I had tyme, I laboured and dyd my best to perfourme this booke, and to bryng it vnto lyght, that the strangers also whiche are disposed to learne, myght applye them selues vnto good manners, and lyue accordyng to the lawe of the Lorde.

The first Chapter.

1. Wysedome commeth of God. 11. A prayse of the feare of God. 29. The meanes to comme by wysedome.

A 1 ALl wysdome (commeth) of GOD the Lorde, and hath benne euer with hym, and * is before al tyme.

Job. 18. c
Jacob. 1. a
* or, and is with hym for euer.

2 Who hath numbred the sande of the sea, the droppes of the rayne, and the dayes of * tyme? Who hath measured the heyght of heauen, the breadth of the earth, and the deepenesse of the sea?

* or, the worlde.

3 Who hath sought out the ground of gods wysedome, whiche hath benne before al thynges?

Rom. 11. c

4 Wysedome hath benne created before al thynges, & the vnderstandyng of prudence from euerlastyng.

5 (Gods woorde in the heyght is the wel of wysedome, and the euerlastyng commaundementes are the entrance of her.)

Rom. 11. d

6 Unto whom hath the roote of wysedome benne declared? or who hath knowen her wit?

B 7 Unto whom hath the doctrine of wysedome benne discouered and shewed? & who hath vnderstande the manyfolde entrance of her?

8 There is one, euen the hyghest, the maker of al thynges, the Almightie, the kyng of power, of whom menne ought to stande greatly in awe, whiche sitteth vpon his throne, beyng a God of dominion.

9 He hath created her through the holye ghost, he hath seene her, numbred her, and measured her.

10 He hath poured her out vppon al his woorkes, and vpon al fleashe, according to his gyft he geueth her richely vnto them that loue hym.

11 The feare of the Lorde is woorshippe and triumphe, gladnesse, and a ioyfull crowne.

12 The feare of the Lorde maketh a merry hart, geueth gladnesse, ioy, and long lyfe.

13 Who so feareth the Lorde, it shal goe wel with him at the last, and in the day of his death he shalbe blessed.

14 The loue of God is honorable wysedome: C looke vnto whom it appeareth, they loue it, for they see what woonderous thynges it dooth.

15 The feare of the Lorde is the beginnyng of wysedome, and was made with the faythful in the mothers wombe, it shal goe with the chosen women, and shalbe knowen of the ryghteous and faythful.

Psal. 111. b.
Prou. 9. c.

16 The feare of the Lorde is the right gods seruice,

17 That preserueth and iustifieth the harte, and geueth myrth and gladnesse.

18 Who so feareth the Lorde shalbe happy, and when he hath neede of comfort, he shalbe blessed.

19 She hath buylt her euerlastyng fundations with menne, and is geuen to be with theyr seede.

20 To feare God is the wysedome that maketh riche, and bryngeth al good with her.

21 She filleth the whole house with her D gyftes, and the garners with her treasure.

22 The feare of the Lorde is the crowne of wysedome, and geueth plenteous peace and health: he hath seene her, and numbred her: both these are the gyftes of God.

23 Knowledge and vnderstandyng of wysedome hath he powred out as rayne, and them that helde her fast hath he brought vnto honour.

24 The feare of the Lorde is the roote of wisdome, and her branches are long lyfe.

25 In the treasures of wysedome is vnderstandyng and deuotion of knowledge, but wysedome is abhorred of sinners.

26 The feare of the Lord driueth out sinne, and when she is present, she driueth away anger.

27 For he that is without feare can not be made ryghteous, and his wylful boldnesse is his owne destruction.

28 A patient man wil suffer vnto the time, E and then shal he haue the reward of ioy.

29 A good vnderstanding wil hide his woordes for a tyme, and many mens lyppes shal speake of his wysedome.

30 In the treasures of wysedome is the declaration of doctrine: but the sinner abhorreth the woorshyp of God.

31 My sonne, yf thou desyre wisedome, keepe the commaundement, and God shal geue her vnto thee.

32 For the feare of the Lorde is wysedome and nurture: he hath pleasure in fayth and louyng meekenesse, and he shal fil the treasures thereof.

33 Be not obstinate and vnfaythful to the feare of the Lorde, and comme not vnto hym with a double hart.

34 Be not an hypocrite in the sight of men, and take good heede what thou speakest.

35 Exalt not thee selfe, lest thou happen to fal, and bryng thy soule to dishonour: and so discouer thy secretes, and cast thee

downe

bowne in the middest of the congregation: because thou wouldest not receiue the feare of God, and because thy hart is ful of faignednesse and deceipt.

The.ii. Chapter.

1. He exhorteth the seruantes of God to righteousnesse, loue, vnderstanding, and patience. 11. To trust in the Lorde. 13. A curse vppon them that are faint harted and impatient.

Q Matth.4.a. 2.Tim.3.c.

1 MY sonne, yf thou wylt come into the seruice of God, stande fast in righteousnesse and feare, & arme thy soule to temptation.

2 Settle thyne harte and be patient, bowe downe thyne eare, receiue the wordes of vnderstanding, and shrinke not away when thou art assaulted.

3 Holde thee fast vpon God, ioyne thee selfe vnto hym: and suffer, that thy lyfe may encrease at the last.

4 Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto thee, receiue it: suffer in heauynesse, and be patient in thy trouble.

Sapi.3.a. Psal.17.a. 5 For like as golde and syluer are tryed in the fyre, euen so are acceptable menne in the furnace of aduersitie.

6 Beleeue in God, and he shal helpe thee: order thy way aryght, and put thy trust in hym: hold fast his feare, and growe therin.

B 7 O ye that feare the Lorde, take sure hold of his mercie, shrinke not away from hym, that ye falle not.

8 O ye that feare the Lorde, beleeue hym, and your rewarde shal not be emptie.

9 O ye that feare the Lorde, (a) trust in good thynges, and mercie shal comme vnto you for pleasure.

(a) That is, looke for good things, and trust to haue the reward of euer lastyng lyfe, promised to them that with patience continue in his feare.

10 O ye that feare the Lorde, set your loue vpon hym, and your harts shalbe lightned.

11 Consyder the olde generations of menne (O ye chyldren) and marke them well: was there euer any one confounded that put his trust in the Lorde? who euer continued in his feare, and was forsaken? or whom did he euer despise that called faithfully vpon hym?

12 For God is gracious and mercyful, he forgeueth sinnes in the time of trouble, and is a defendour for al them that seeke hym in the trueth.

C * or, double 13 Wo be vnto them that haue a * fearefull harte, wicked lippes, and euyl occupyed handes, and to the sinner that goeth two maner of wayes.

14 Wo be vnto them that are faynt harted, whiche put not their trust in God, & therefore shal they not be defended of hym.

15 Wo be vnto you that haue lost patience, forsaken the aryght wayes, and are turned backe into frowarde wayes: what wyl you doo when the Lord shal begin to visite you? * or, them.

16 They that feare the Lorde, wyl not disobey his woorde: and they that loue hym, wyl keepe his commaundementes. John.14.c.

17 They that feare the Lorde, wyl seeke out the thinges that are pleasant vnto hym: and they that loue hym, be fulfilled with his lawe. Rom.13.c.

18 They that feare the Lorde, wyl prepare their hartes, and humble their soules in his sight.

19 They that feare the Lord, keepe his commaundementes, and wil be patient tyl they see him selfe.

20 Saying, If we doo not repent, we shall falle into the handes of the Lorde, and not into the handes of menne. 2.Sa.24.c. Susan.5.b.

21 For his mercie is as great as him selfe.

The.iii. Chapter.

2. To our father and mother ought we to geue double honour. 10. Of the blessing and curse of the father and mother.

1 THe chyldren of wysedome are a congregation of the ryghteous, and their offspring is obedience and loue. Q

2 Heare your fathers iudgement (O my deare chyldren) and doo thereafter, that ye may be safe.

3 For the Lorde wyl haue the father honoured of the chyldren: and looke what a mother commaundeth her chyldren to doo, he wyl haue it keapt. Exod.20.b. Deut.5.b.

4 Who so honoureth his father, his sinnes shalbe forgeuen him: and he shal absteyne from them, and shal haue his dayly desires.

5 And he that honoureth his mother, is like one that geathereth treasure togeather. Ephes.6.a.

6 Who so honoureth his father, shal haue ioy of his owne children: and when he maketh his prayer, he shalbe heard.

7 He that honoureth his father, shal haue a long lyfe: and he that is obedient vnto the Lorde, shal comfort his mother.

8 He that feareth the Lorde, honoureth his father and mother, and dooth them seruice as it were vnto lordes.

9 Honour thy father and mother in deede, in woorde, and in al pacience, that thou mayest haue Gods blessing: and his blessing shal abide with thee at the last. Exod.20.c. Deut.5.b.

10 The blessing of the father stablisheth the houses of the chyldren: but the mothers curse rooteth out the foundations. Gen.27.d. Deut.33.a.

11 Reioyce not when thy father is reproued: for for it is not honour vnto thee, but a shame.

12 For the worshippe of a mans father, is his owne worshippe: and the reproche of the mother, is the dishonestie of the sonne.
13 My sonne, make mirthe of thy father in his age, and greeue hym not as long as he lyueth.
14 And yf his vnderstandyng fayle, haue patience with him, and despise not hym in thy strength.
℣ 15 For the good deede that thou shewest vnto thy father, shal not be forgotten: and when thou thee selfe wantest, it shalbe rewarded thee: and for thy mothers offence thou shalt be recompenced with good, yea it shalbe founded for thee in righteousnesse.
16 And in the day of trouble thou shalt be remembred: thy sinnes also shal melt away, like as the yce in the fayre warme weather.
17 He that forsaketh his father, shal comme to shame: and he that defieth his mother, is cursed of God.
18 My sonne, perfourme thy woorkes with louyng meekenesse, so shalt thou be loued aboue other menne.
Phil.2.a. 19 The greater thou art, the more humble thee selfe in al things, and thou shalt finde fauour in the sight of God.
20 Many are excellent and of renowme: but the secretes are reuealed vnto the meeke.
21 For great power belongeth onlye vnto God, and he is honoured of the lowly.
D 22 Seeke not out the thinges that are aboue thy capacitie, and searche not the grounde of suche thynges as are to myghty for thee.
Psal.131.a. Deu.25.a. Rom.12.a.
23 But looke what God hath commaunded thee, thynke vpon that alway, and be not curious in many of his woorkes: for it is not needeful for thee to see with thyne eyes the thinges that are secrete.
24 Make not to muche searche in superfluous thynges, and be not curious in many of his woorkes: for many thinges are shewed vnto thee already, whiche be aboue the capacitie of menne.
25 The medlyng with suche hath beguiled many a man, and tangled their wittes in vanitie.
26 Thou canst not see without eyes, therefore professe not the thyng that thou hatest not.
℣ 27 An harde harte shal feare euyl at the last: and he that loueth danger, shal perishe therein.
28 An hart that goeth two wayes, shal not prosper, and he that is frowarde of harte, wyl euer be woorse and woorse.
29 An obstinate harte shalbe laden with sorowes, and the vngodly sinner wyl heape one sinne vpon another.
30 The counsayle of the proude hath no health, and his footesteppes shalbe plucked vp: for the plant of sinne hath taken roote in hym.
31 The harte of hym that hath vnderstandyng, shal perceiue hygh thynges: and a good eare wyl gladly hearken vnto wysdome.
32 An harte that is wyse and hath vnderstandyng wyl abstayne from sinnes, and increase in the woorkes of ryghteousnesse.
33 Water quencheth burnyng fyre, and mercie reconcileth sinnes. Psal.41.a.
34 God hath respect vnto him that is thankful: he thinketh vpon him against the time to comme, so that when he falleth, he shal finde a strong holde.

The.iiii.Chapter.

1. Almes must be donne with gentlenesse.
12. The studie of wysedome and her fruite.
20. An exhortation to eschewe euyl, and to doo good.

1 MY sonne, defraude not the poore of his almes, and turne not away thyne eyes from hym that hath neede. A Deut.15.b.
2 Despise not an hungry soule, and defye not the poore in his necessitie.
3 Greeue not the harte of him that is helpelesse, and withdrawe not the gyfte from the needeful.
4 Refuse not the prayer of one that is in trouble, turne not away thy face from the needy.
5 Cast not thyne eyes aside from the poore for any euyl wyl, that thou geue hym not occasion to speake euyl of thee.
6 For yf he complayne of thee in the bitternesse of his soule, his prayer shalbe heard: euen he that made hym shal heare hym.
7 Be curteous vnto the company of the poore, humble thy soule vnto thy elder, and bowe downe thy head to a man of worshippe. B
8 Let it not greeue thee to bowe downe thyne eare vnto the poore, (a) but pay thy debt, and geue him a freendly answeare, and that with meekenesse.
9 Deliuer him that suffereth wrong, from the hande of the oppressour: and be not faint harted when thou sittest in iudgement.
10 Be mercyful vnto the fatherlesse as a father, and be in steede of an husbande vnto their mother: so shalt thou be as an obedient sonne of the hyghest, and he shal loue thee more then thy mother dooth.
11 Wysdome exalteth her children, receiueth them

(a) As a man must of duetie be curteous to the poore, humble to the auncient, bowe downe to the worshipful: so is it his duene to comfort, helpe, and deliuer the innocent and simple soule from the crueltie of the vngodly.

them that ſeeke her, and wyl goe before them in the way of ryghteouſneſſe.

12 He that loueth her, loueth lyfe: and they that ſeeke her diligently, ſhal haue great ioy.

13 They that keepe her, ſhal inherite glory: for where ſhe entreth in, there is the bleſſyng of God.

14 They that honour her, ſhalbe the ſeruantes of the holy one: and they that loue her, are beloued of God.

15 Who ſo geueth eare vnto her, ſhal iudge the heathen: and he that * hath reſpect vnto her, ſhal dwel ſafely.

* or, goeth.

16 He that beleeueth her, ſhal haue her in poſſeſſion, and his generation ſhal endure.

17 For when he * falleth, ſhe dooth goe with hym, and chooſeth hym among the beſt: feare, dread, and temptation ſhal ſhe bring vpon hym, and trye him in her doctrine, til ſhe haue ſo proued him in his thoughtes, that he commit his ſoule vnto her.

* or, walketh.

18 Then ſhal ſhe ſtablyſhe hym, bring the right way vnto him, make hym a glad man, ſhewe hym her ſecretes, and heape vpon hym the treaſures of knowledge, and vnderſtandyng of ryghteouſneſſe.

19 But yf he goe wrong, ſhe ſhal forſake hym, and geue him ouer into the handes of deſtruction and ruine. Rom. 12.b

20 My ſonne, make muche of the tyme, eſchewe the thyng that is euyl:

21 And for thy lyfe ſhame not to ſay the trueth: (b) for there is a ſhame that bringeth ſinne, and there is a ſhame that bringeth worſhyp and fauour.

(b) To be aſhamed to confeſſe thy God, thy fayth, to teſtifie the trueth, and to reproue ſinne, dooth bring ſinne vnto thee: the contrary ſhame bringeth worſhip.

22 Accept no perſon after thyne owne wil, that thou be not confounded to thyne owne decay: Be not aſhamed of thy neighbour in his aduerſitie.

23 And kepe not backe thy counſayle when it may doo good, neither hide thy wiſdome in her beautie.

24 For in the tongue is wyſdome knowen, ſo is vnderſtandyng, knowledge, and learnyng in the talkyng of the wyſe, and ſtedfaſtneſſe in the workes of ryghteouſneſſe.

25 In no wyſe ſpeake agaynſt the worde of trueth: but be aſhamed of the lyes of thyne owne ignorance.

26 Shame not to confeſſe thine errour, and reſiſt not the courſe of the riuer.

27 And ſubmit not thee ſelfe vnto a fooliſhe man, neyther accept the perſon of the myghtie.

28 And ſtriue thou not agaynſt the ſtreame: but for ryghteouſneſſe take paynes with al thy ſoule, and for the trueth ſtryue thou vnto death, & God ſhal fight for thee againſt thyne enimies.

29 Be not haſtie in thy tongue, neither ſlacke and negligent in thy workes.

30 Be not as a Lion in thyne owne houſe, deſtroyeing thy houſholde folkes, and oppreſſyng them that are vnder thee.

31 Let not thyne hande be ſtretched out to receiue, and ſhut when thou ſhouldeſt geue. Actes. 20.35

The.v. Chapter.

1. In riches may we not put any confidence.
7. The vengeance of God ought to be feared, and repentance may not be deferred.

1 TRuſt not vnto thy riches, and ſay not, Tuſhe, I haue ynough for my lyfe, for it ſhal not helpe in the tyme of vengeance and temptation. Luke. 12.c. Eccle. 11.c

2 Folowe not the luſt of thyne owne hart in thy ſtrength.

3 And ſay not, Tuſhe, howe haue I had ſtrength? or who wil bring me vnder, becauſe of my workes? For doubtleſſe God ſhal auenge it.

4 And ſay not, I haue ſinned, and what euil hath happened me? for the almyghtie is a patient rewarder.

5 Becauſe thy ſinne is forgeuen thee, be not therefore without feare, neither heape one ſinne vpon another. Rom. 7.a

6 And ſay not, Tuſhe, the mercy of the Lord is great, he ſhal forgeue me my ſinnes be they neuer ſo many: for like as he is mercyful, ſo goeth wrath from him alſo, and his indignation commeth downe vpon ſinners. Eccle. 21.a Eccle. 16.a.

7 Make no tarying to turne vnto the Lord, and put not of from day to day: for ſuddenly ſhal his wrath comme, and in the time of vengeance he ſhal deſtroy thee. B

8 Truſt not in wicked riches, for they ſhal not helpe thee in the day of pounyſhment and wrath. Pro. 10.a Ezech. 7.a Soph. 1.c.

9 Be not caried about with euery wynde, and goe not into euery way: for ſo dooth the ſinner that hath a double tongue.

10 Stande faſt in the way of the Lorde, be ſtedfaſt in thy vnderſtandyng, abyde by the worde, and folow the worde of peace and ryghteouſneſſe.

11 Be gentle to heare the worde of God, that thou mayeſt vnderſtande it: and make a true anſweare with wiſedome.

12 Be ſwift to heare, but ſlowe and patient in geuyng anſweare. Iacob. 1.a

13 If thou haſt vnderſtandyng, ſhape thy neyghbour an anſweare: if no, lay thy hand vpon thy mouth, leſt thou be trapped in an vndiſcrete worde, and ſo confounded.

14 Honour and ſhame is in the talke, but the tongue of the vndiſcrete, is his owne deſtruction. &

15 Be not a prinie accuser as long as thou liuest, and vse no slaunder with thy tongue: for shame and sorow goeth ouer the theefe, and an euyl name ouer hym that is double tongued: but he that is a prinie accuser of other menne, shalbe hated, enuied, and confounded.

16 Doo not rashly, neyther in great nor smal.

The. vi. Chapter.

I. It is the propertie of a sinner to be euyl tongued. 6. Of frendshyp. 33. Desyre to be taught.

A

1 BE not of a freende an enimie: (a) for suche a man getteth an euil name, shame, and rebuke: and whosoeuer beareth emnie, and a double tongue, offendeth.

2 Be not proude in the deuice of thyne vnderstandyng, lest thy soule rent thee as a (b) bul:

3 And lest thy leaues wyther, and thy fruite be destroyed, and so thou be leaft as a dryc tree in the wylderneſſe.

4 For a wycked soule destroyeth hym that hath it, maketh him to be laughed to scorne of his enimies, and bryngeth hym to the portion of the vngodly.

5 A sweete word multiplieth freendes, and pacifieth them that be at variance: and a thankeful tongue wyl be plenteous in a good man.

6 Holde frendshyp with many, neuertheleſſe, haue but one counsellour of a thousande.

7 If thou geatteſt a frend, proone him first, and be not haſtie to geue hym credence.

8 For somme man is a freende but for his owne turne, and wyl not abyde in the day of trouble.

B

9 And there is somme freende that turneth to enmitie, and taketh part agaynſt thee: and if he knowe any hurt by thee, he telleth it out.

10 Agayne, somme frend is but a companion at the table, and in the day of neede he continueth not.

11 But in thy prosperitie he wyl be as thou thee selfe, & deale playnely with thy houſeholde folke.

12 If thou be brought low, he wil be againſt thee, and wyl be hydden from thy face.

13 Depart from thyne enimies, yea and beware of thy freendes.

14 A faythful freende is a strong defence, who so findeth such one, findeth a treasure.

15 A faythful freende hath no peere, the weight of gold and syluer is not to be compared to the goodneſſe of his fayth.

16 A faythful freende is a medicine of lyfe and immortalitie, and they that feare the Lorde shal fynde hym.

17 Who so feareth the Lorde, shal prosper with freendes: and as he is hym selfe, so shal his freende be also.

18 My sonne, receiue doctrine from thy youth vp, so shalt thou fynde wiſedome tyl thou be olde.

19 Goe to her as to one that ploweth and soweth, and wayte patiently for her good fruites: for thou shalt haue but litle labour in her woorke, but thou shalt eate of her fruites ryght soone.

20 O howe exceeding sharpe is wyſedome to vnlearned men: an vnstedfast body wyl not remayne in her.

21 Vnto such she is as it were a touchſtone, and he casteth her from him in al the haſte. D

22 For wiſedome is with him but in name, there are but fewe that haue knowledge of her.

23 But with them that knowe her, she abydeth euen vnto the appearyng of God.

24 Geue eare, my sonne, receiue my doctrine, and refuſe not my counsayle.

25 Put thy foote into her linckes, and take her yoke vpon thy necke. Mat. 11. d.

26 Bowe downe thy shoulder vnder her, beare her patiently, and be not weerie of her bandes.

27 Comme vnto her with thy whole hart, and keepe her wayes with al thy power.

28 Seeke after her, & she shalbe shewed thee: and when thou haſt her, forſake her not.

29 For at the laſt thou shalt find reſt in her, and that shalbe turned to thy great ioy.

30 Then shal her fetters be a strong defence for thee, and her yoke a glorious rayment. E

31 For there is a golden ornament in her, and her bandes are laces of purple colour.

32 Thou shalt put her on as a robe of honor, and shalt put her about thee as a crowne of ioy.

33 My sonne, yf thou wilt take heede, thou shalt haue vnderstandyng, and if thou wylt applye thy minde, thou shalt be wyſe.

34 If thou wilt bowe downe thyne eare, thou shalt receiue doctrine: and yf thou delite in hearyng, thou shalt be wiſe.

35 Stande with the multitude of suche elders as haue vnderstandyng, and consent vnto their wiſedome with thyne hart, 36 That thou mayeſt heare al godly sermons, and that the woorthy sentences escape thee not. Eccle. 8. a.

37 And yf thou seeſt a man of discrete vnderstandyng, geat thee soone vnto hym, and let thy foote treade vpon the steppes of his doores.

38 Let thy mynde be vpon the commaundementes Psal. 1. a.

(a) For that is againſt the rule of charitie, whiche louerh al, & hateth nothyng but only sinne.

(b) As a bul teareth in peeces a young tree with his hornes, so thou truſting in thine owne wiſedome, & standyng in thyne owne conceipt, because of thy witte, thy power, or riches, should destroy thee selfe.

Eccle. 37. a.

The. vii. Chapter.

2. We muſt forſake euyl, and yet not iuſtifie our ſelues. 23. The behauiour of the wyſe towarde his wyfe, his freende, his chyldren, his ſeruantes, his father and mother.

A 1 DDo no euyl, ſo ſhal there no harme happen vnto thee.

2 Depart away from the thyng that is wicked, and no miſfortune ſhal meddle with thee.

3 My ſonne, ſowe no euyl thynges in the forowes of vnryghteouſneſſe, ſo ſhalt thou not reape them ſeuen folde.

4 Labour not to the Lord for preheminence, neyther vnto the kyng for the ſeate of honour.

B and put not thee ſelfe amo[illegible] the people.
Eccle.12.c. 8 Bynde not two ſinnes togeather: for in ons ſinne thou ſhalt not be vnpouniſhed.

9 Say not, tuſhe, God wyl looke vppon the multitude of my oblations, and when I offer to the hygheſt God, he wyl accept it.

10 Be not faynt harted when thou makeſt thy prayer, neyther ſlacke in geuing of almes.

11 Laugh no man to ſcorne in the heauyneſſe of his ſoule, for God (whiche ſeeth al thynges) is he that can bryng downe, and ſet vp agayne.

12 Accept no leaſyng agaynſt thy brother,
I.Sam. 2.b neyther doe the ſame agaynſt thy freende.

13 Uſe not to make any manner of lye: for the cuſtome thereof is not good.

C 14 Make not many wordes when thou art
Matth.6.a. among the elders: and when thou prayeſt, make not muche babling.

Rom. 12.b. 15 Let no labourous workes be tedious vnto thee, neither the huſbandry whiche the almyghty hath created.

16 Make not thy boaſte in the multitude of thy wickednesſe: but humble thee ſelfe euen from thyne hart.

17 And remember that the wrath ſhal not be long in tarying, and that the vengeance of the fleaſhe of the vngodlye is a very fyre and woorme.

18 Geue not ouer thy freende for any good, nor thy faythful brother for the beſt golde.

19 Departe not from a diſcreete and good woman that is fallen vnto thee for thy portion in the feare of the Lorde: for the gyfte of her honeſtie is abaue golde.

20 Where as thy ſeruant woorketh truely, D intreare him not euyl, nor the hyrelyng that Luke.19.c.

21 Loue a diſcreete ſeruant as thyne owne ſoule, defraude him not of his libertie, neyther leaue hym a poore man.

22 If thou haue catel, looke wel to them: Deut.25.b. and yf they be for thy profite keepe them. Eccle.30.a.

23 If thou haue ſonnes, bryng them vp in nurture and learnyng, and holde them in awe from their youth vp.

24 If thou haue daughters, keepe their body, and ſhewe not thy face cheareful to-warde them.

25 Marry thy daughter, and ſo ſhalt thou perfourme a wayghty matter: but geue her to a man of vnderſtandyng.

26 If thou haue a wyfe after thyne owne mynde, forſake her not: but commit not thee ſelfe to the hateful.

27 Honour thy father from thy whole harte: and forgeat not the ſorowful trauayle that thy mother had with thee.

28 Remember that thou waſt borne through them, & howe canſt thou recompence them the thinges that they haue donne for thee?

29 Feare the Lorde with al thy ſoule, and honour his miniſters.

30 Loue thy maker with al thy ſtrength, and forſake not his ſeruantes.

31 Feare the Lorde with al thy ſoule, and honour his prieſtes: geue them their portion of the firſt fruites & encreaſe of the earth, lyke as it is commaunded thee, and reconcile thee ſelfe of thy negligence with the litle flocke, geue them the ſhoulders, and their appoynted offringes and firſtlinges.

32 Reache thyne hande vnto the poore, that God may bleſſe thee with plenteouſneſſe.

33 Be liberal vnto al men liuyng: yet let not but doo good euen to them that are (a) dead.

34 Let not them that weepe, be without comfort, but mourne with ſuche as mourne.

35 Let it not greeue thee to viſite the ſicke, for that ſhal make thee to be beloued.

36 Whatſoeuer thou takeſt in hande, remember the ende, and thou (b) ſhalt neuer doo amiſſe.

The

(b) Doo al thinges to the glory of God, and the profit of thy neighbour, or otherwyſe remember the day of death, of the laſt iudgement of euerlaſting ioy or paine.

The.viii. Chapter.

1. We must take heede with whom we haue to doo.

Matth.5.b. 2 Make no variance with a riche man,
Eccle.31.a. lest he happen to bryng vp an harde quarel agaynst thee: for golde and siluer hath vndone many a man, yea euen the hartes of kynges hath it made to falle.

3 Striue not with a man that is fulle of woordes, and lay no stickes vpon his fyre.

4 Keepe no company with the vnlearned, lest he geue thy kinrede an euyl reporte.

Gal.6.a. 5 Despise not a man that turneth him selfe
2.Cor.2.b. awaye from sinne, and cast him not in the teeth withal: but remember that we are fraile euery one.

Leuit.19.g. 6 Thinke scorne of no man in his olde age, for we waxe olde also.

7 Be not gladde of the death of thyne enimie: but remember that we muste dye all the sorte of vs, and faine woulde we come into ioy.

B Eccle.6.b. 8 Despise not the sermons of suche elders as haue vnderstandyng, but acquaint thee selfe with the wyse sentences of them: for of them thou shalt learne wysedome, and the doctrine of vnderstandyng, and howe to serue great men without complaynt.

9 Goe not from the doctrine of the elders, for they haue learned it of their fathers: for of them thou shalt learne vnderstandyng, so that thou mayest make answeare in the tyme of neede.

10 Kindle not the coales of sinners when thou rebukest them, lest thou be brent in the fierie flames of their sinnes.

11 Resist not the face of the blasphemer, that they laye not wayte for thy mouth.

Eccle.29.a 12 Lende not vnto hym that is myghtyer then thee selfe: yf thou lendest hym, count it but lost.

13 Be not suretie aboue thy power: yf thou be, then thinke surely to pay it.

C 14 Goe not to lawe with the iudge: for he wyl iudge accordyng to his owne honour.

Gene.4.b. 15 Trauayle not by the way with hym that is brayneleſſe, lest he doo thee euyl: for he followeth his owne wilfulnesse, and so shalt thou perishe through his follie.

16 Striue not with hym that is angry and cruel, and goe not with him into the wyldernesse: for blood is nothyng in his syght, and where there is no helpe, he shal murder thee.

19 Open not thyne harte vnto euery man, lest he be vnthankful to thee, and put thee to reproofe.

The.ix. Chapter.

1. Of ielousie. 12. An olde freende is to be preferred before a newe.

A 1 BE not ielous ouer the wyfe of thy bosome, that she shewe not some shrewde poynt, (a) leste thou teache her an euyl lesson agaynst thee selfe.

(a) Let her not haue rule ouer thee, for then wyl she be contrary vnto thee, take away thy hart and strength, and bring thee to confusion among thine enimies, as did Eua to Adam, Dalila to Samson, and strange women to Solomon. Gen.34.a. I.Sam.11.a Iud.10.11. and.12.

2 Geue not the power of thy lyfe vnto a woman, leste she comme in thy strength, and so thou be confounded.

3 Looke not vppon a woman that is desirous of many menne, leste thou falle into her snares.

4 Use not the company of a woman that is a player and a dauncer, and heare her not, lest thou perishe through her entising.

5 Beholde not a mayden, that thou be not hurte in her beautie.

6 Cast not thy minde vppon harlottes in any manner of thyng, lest thou destroy both thee selfe and thyne heritage.

7 Goe not about gasing in euery lane of the citie, neyther wander thou abroade in the streetes thereof.

8 Turne away thy face from a beautifull woman, and looke not vppon the fayrenesse of other: many a man hath benne deceiued through the beautie of women, for through it the desire is kindled as it were a fyre.

B 9 An adulterous woman shalbe troden vnder foote as myre, of euery one that goeth by the way.

10 Many a man woondring at the beautie of a strange woman, hath benne cast out: for her woordes kindle as a fire.

11 Sit not with an other mans wyfe by any meanes, lye not with her vpon the bedde, make no woordes with her at the wine: lest thine hart consent vnto her, and so thou with thy blood falle into destruction.

12 Forsake not an olde freende, for the newe shal not be like him: a newe freend is newe wine, let him be olde, and thou shalt drinke him with pleasure.

13 Desire not the honour and richesse of a sinner: for thou knowest not what destruction is for to comme vpon him.

14 Delite not thou in the thyng that the vngodly hath pleasure in, being sure that the vngodly shal not be accepted vntil their graue. C

15 Keepe thee from the man that hath power to to slay, so needest thou not to be afrayde of death: and if thou commest vnto hym, make no fault, lest he happen to take away thy lyfe: remember that thou goest in the middest of snares, & vpon the bulwarkes of the citie.

16 Beware of thy neighbour as nygh as thou canst, & meddle with suche as be wyse and haue vnderstandyng.

Eccle. 8.c. and. 37.a

17 Let iust menne be thy gheastes, let thy myrth be in the feare of God.

Deut. 6.b. and. 11.c.

18 Let the remembrance of God be in thy mind, and let al thy talkyng be in the commaundemeantes of the hyghest.

1. Reg. 3.c

19 In the handes of craftesmen shal the woorkes be commended: so shal the princes of the people in the wysedome of theyr talkyng.

20 A man ful of woordes is perillous in his citie: and he that is rashe in his talking, shalbe abhorred.

The. x. Chapter.

1. Of kynges and iudges. 7. Pryde and couetousnesse are to be abhorred. 38. Labour is praysed.

A 1 A Wise iudge wil order his people with discretion: and where a man of vnderstanding beareth rule, there goeth it wel.

Pro. 29.a.

2 As the iudge of the people is hym selfe, euen so are his officers: and looke what maner of man the ruler of the citie is, such are they that dwel therein also.

1. Reg. 12.a. Pro. 28.d. and. 29.a

3 An vnwyse kyng destroyeth his people: but where they that be in auctoritie are men of vnderstanding, there the citie prospereth.

4 The power of the earth is in the hand of God, and al iniquitie of the people is to be abhorred, and when his tyme is, he shal set a profitable ruler vpon it.

5 In the hande of God is the prosperitie of man, and vpon the person of the scribe shal he lay his honour.

6 Be not angry for any wrong of thy neighbour, and meddle thou with no vnryghteous woorkes.

Leuit. 19.a

B 7 Pryde is hateful before God and man, (a) and al wickednesse of the heathen is to be abhorred.

(a) That is, cheefely idolatrie in false religion, and wantonnesse and vanitie in lyfe.

8 Because of vnryghteous dealyng, wrong, blasphemies, & diuers deceiptes, a realme shalbe translated from one people to another.

9 There is nothing woorse then a couetous man: why art thou proude, O thou earth and ashes? there is not a more wicked thing then to loue money: and why? suche one hath his soule to sel, yet is he but filthie doung while he liueth.

10 Al tyrannie is of smal endurance, and the disease that is harde to heale, greeueth the phisition.

11 And though the phisition shewe his helpe neuer so long, yet in conclusion it goeth after this manner, To day a kyng, to morow dead.

12 For when a man dyeth, he is the heyre of serpentes, beastes, and woormes.

13 The beginning of mans pride, is to fal away from God: and why? his hart is gonne from his maker.

14 For pryde is the original of al sinne: who so taketh holde thereof, shalbe fylled with cursynges, and at the last it shal ouerthrow hym: therefore hath the Lorde brought the congregations of the wycked to dishonour, and destroyed them to the ende. C

15 God hath destroyed the seates of proude princes, and set vp the meeke in theyr steede. Sapi. 6.b. Luke. 1.c. 14 c. and. 18.b

16 God hath withered the rootes of the proude heathen, and planted the lowly for them.

17 God hath ouerthrowen the landes of the heathen, & destroyed them vnto the ground: he hath caused them to wither away, he hath brought them to nought, and made the memorial of them to ceasse from out of the earth. Gen. 29.b.

18 God hath destroyed the name of the proude, and left the name of the humble in mynde.

19 Pryde was not made for man, neyther wrothfulnesse for mens chyldren.

20 The seede of men that feareth God, shalbe brought to honour: but the seede whiche transgresseth the commaundementes of the Lorde, shalbe shamed.

21 He that is the ruler among brethren, is holden in honour among them: and he that regardeth suche as feare the Lorde, is acceptable in his sight. D

22 The feare of the Lorde causeth that the kyngdome fayleth not: but the kingdome is lost by crueltie and pryde.

23 The glory of the rich, of the honourable, and of the poore, is the feare of God.

24 Despise not thou the iust poore man that hath vnderstandyng, and magnifie not the riche vngodly.

25 Great is the iudge, and mightie in honour, yet is there none greater then he that feareth God.

26 Vnto the seruant that is discrete shal the free doo seruice: he that is wise and wel nurtured, wyl not grudge when he is reformed, and an ignorant body shal not comme to honour. Prou. 22.a. 2. Sa. 12.b

Pro.12.b 27 Be not proude to doe thy worke, and dispayre not in the tyme of aduersitie.

C 28 Better is he that laboureth & hath plenteousnesse of al thynges, then he that is gorgious, and wanteth bread.

29 My sonne, geat thy soule honor by meekenesse, and geue her her due honour.

30 Who shal iustifie hym that sinneth against him selfe? Who wyl honour hym that dishonoureth his owne soule?

31 The poore is honoured for his faythfulnesse and trueth: but the riche is had in reputation because of his goodes.

32 He that ordereth hym selfe honestly in powertie, howe muche more shal he behaue hym selfe honestly in riches? and who so ordereth hym selfe vnhonestly in riches, howe muche more shal he behaue him selfe vnhonestly in powertie?

The.xi. Chapter.

1. The prayse of humilitie. 2. After the outwarde appearance ought we not to iudge.

A 1 The wisedome of him that is brought lowe, shal lift vp his head, & shal make hym to sitte among great menne.

2 Commend not thou a man in his beautie, neyther despise a man in his vtter appearance.

3 The Bee is but a smal beast among the foules, yet is her fruite exceeding sweete.

Actes.12.d 4 Be not proude of thy rayment, and exalt not thee selfe in the day of thy honour: for the woorkes of the highest only are woonderful: yea glorious, secrete, and vnknowen are his woorkes.

1.Sam.15.f Esther.6.a. 5 Many tyrantes haue benne fayne to sitte downe vpon the earth, and the vnlykely hath worne the crowne.

6 Many mightie menne haue ben brought lowe, and the honourable haue ben deliuered into other mens handes.

B 7 Condemne no man before thou haue tryed out the matter: and when thou hast made inquisition, then reforme ryghteously.

Deut.13.b

Pro.17.c 8 Geue no sentence before thou hast hearde the cause: but firste let menne tel out theyr tales.

9 Striue not for a matter that toucheth not thee selfe, and stande not in the iudgement of sinners.

Mat.19.c 1.Tim.6.b. 10 My sonne, meddle not with many matters: and if thou gayne muche, thou shalt not be blameleisse, and yf thou folowe after it, thou shalt not attayne it, and though thou runnest thy way afore, yet shalt thou not escape.

11 There is sonme man that laboureth and taketh payne, and the more he weerieth hym selfe, the lesse he hath. Pro.10.c. Psal.128.a.

12 Agayne, sonme man is slouthful, hath neede of helpe, wanteth strength, and hath great powertie:

13 And Gods eye looketh vpon him to good, setteth him vp from his lowe state, and lifteth vp his head: so that many menne marueyle at hym, and geue honour vnto God. Iob.42.c.

14 Prosperitie, and aduersitie, lyfe, and death, powertie, and richesse, comme al of the Lorde. C Iob.1.c. Ezech.28.b

15 Wysedome, nurture, and knowledge of the law are with God, loue, & the wayes of good are with hym.

16 Errour and darkenesse are made for sinners, & they that exalt them selues in euil, ware olde in euil.

17 The gift of God remayneth for the righteous: and his good wil shal geue prosperitie for euer.

18 Sonme man is riche by his care and nigardshyp, and that is the portion of his rewarde:

19 In that he sayth, Nowe haue I gotten reast, and nowe wyl I eate and drynke of my goodes mee selfe alone: and yet he consydereth not that the tyme drawet nygh, and death approcheth, that he must leaue al these thynges vnto other menne, and dye hym selfe. Luke.12.b

20 Stande thou fast in thy couenant, and exercise thee selfe therein, and remayne in the woorke vnto thy age.

21 Marueile not at the woorkes of sinners, but put thy trust in God, and byde in thy labour: for it is but an easie thyng in the sight of God to make a poore man ryche, and that suddenly. D

22 The blessyng of God hasteth to the rewarde of the ryghteous, and maketh his fruites soone to flourishe and prosper.

23 Say not, What helpeth it me: and what good thyng shal I haue hereafter?

24 Agayne, say not, I haue ynough, howe can I want?

25 When thou art in welfare, forgeat not aduersitie: and when it goeth not wel with thee, haue a good hope that it shalbe better: Eccle.18.c

26 For it is but a smal thyng vnto God in the day of death to rewarde euery man accordyng to his wayes.

27 The aduersitie of an houre maketh one to forgeat al pleasure: and when a man dyeth, his woorkes are discouered.

28 Iudge no man blessed before his death: E for a man shalbe knowen in his children.

29 Bryng not euery man into thyne house: for

(a) That is, after they knowe thy ſecretes, vtter the ſame with ſylthy raylinges.

for the deceiptful layeth waite diuerſly, (a) and are like ſtomackes that belche filthyly.

30 Like as a Partriche in a maunde, ſo is the hart of the proude: and lyke as a ſpie that looketh vppon the falle of his neyghbour.

31 For he turneth good vnto euyl, and ſlaundereth the choſen.

32 Of one ſparke is made a great fire, and of one deceiptful man is blood increaſed: and an vngodlye man layeth wayte for blood.

33 Beware of the deceiptful, for he imagineth wicked thynges, to bryng thee into a perpetual ſhame.

34 If thou takeſt an aliant vnto thee, he ſhal deſtroy thee in vnquietneſſe, and driue thee from thyne owne wayes.

The.xii.Chapter.

I. Vnto whom we ought to doo good.
10. Enimies ought not to be truſted.

¶ 1 WHen thou wylt doo good, knowe to whom thou dooeſt it, and ſo ſhalt thou be greatly thanked for thy benefites, Galat.vi.a. 1.Tim.5.a.

2 Doo good vnto the ryghteous, and thou ſhalt finde great reward, though not of him, yet (no doubt) the Lorde himſelfe ſhal reward thee.

3 He ſtandeth not in a good caſe that is alway occupied in euil, and geueth no almes: for the hyghest hateth the ſinners, & hath mercie vppon them that ſhewe the woorkes of repentance.

4 Geue thou vnto ſuche as feare God, and receiue not a ſinner.

5 As for the vngodly and ſinners, he ſhal recompence vengeance vnto them, and keepe them to the day of wrath.

6 Geue thou vnto the good, and receiue not the ſinner, doo wel vnto hym that is lowly, but geue not to the vngodly: Let not the bread be geuen him, that he be not myghtyer then thee ſelfe therein: for ſo ſhalt thou receiue twyſe as muche euil, in all that good that thou dooeſt vnto him.

B 7 And why? the hyghest hateth ſinners, and ſhal reward vengeance to the vngodly.

8 In proſperitie a freende ſhalbe knowen, and in aduerſitie an enimie ſhal not be hydde.

9 For when a man is in wealth, it greeueth his enimies: but in heauyneſſe and trouble a mans very freende wil depart from him.

10 Truſt neuer thyne enimie: for like as iron ruſteth, ſo dooth his wickednesſe.

11 And though he make muche crouching and kneeling, yet keepe wel thy mynd, and beware of hym: and thou ſhalt be to hym as he that wypeth a glaſſe, and thou ſhalt knowe that al his ruſt hath not benne wel wyped away.

12 Set hym not by thee, neyther let him ſitte at thy ryght hande: leſt he turne hym, geat into thy place, take thy roome, and ſeeke thy ſeate, and ſo thou at the laſt remember my woordes, and be pricked at my sayeinges.

13 Binde not two ſinnes togeather: for there ſhal not one be vnpuniſhed. Eccle.7.a. and.21.a.

14 Who wyl haue pitie of the charmer that is ſtinged of the ſerpent, or of al ſuche as comme nygh the beaſtes? ¶

15 Euen ſo is it with hym that keepeth company with the wicked man, and lappeth him ſelfe in his ſinnes.

16 For a ſeaſon wyl he byde with thee: but yf thou ſtumble, he taryeth not.

17 An enimie is ſweete in his lippes, he can make many woordes, and ſpeake manye good thynges: Yea he can weepe with his eyes, but in his hart he imagineth howe to throwe thee into the pitte: and yf he maye finde opportunitie, he wyl not be ſatiſfied with blood. Iere.41.b.

18 If aduerſitie comme vpon thee, thou ſhalt finde him there firſt, and though he pretende to doo thee helpe, yet ſhal he vndermine thee.

19 He ſhal ſhake his head, and clappe his handes ouer thee for very gladneſſe: and whyle he maketh many woordes, he ſhal diſguiſe his countenance.

The.xiii.Chapter.

I. The companies of the proude and of the riche are to be eſchewed. 15. The loue of God. 17. Like doo company with theyr lyke.

1 WHo ſo toucheth pitche, ſhalbe defiled withal: and he that is familier with the proude, ſhal clothe him ſelfe with pride. A

2 He taketh a burden vppon him, that accompanyeth a more honourable man then him ſelfe, therefore keepe no familiaritie with one that is richer then thee ſelfe: Howe agree the kettel and the pot togeather? for yf the one be ſmitten agaynſt the other, it ſhalbe broken.

3 The riche dealeth vnryghteouſly, and threatneth withal: but the poore beyng oppreſſed and wrongfully dealt withal, ſuffereth ſcarceneſſe, and geueth fayre woordes. If the riche haue donne wrong, yet muſt he be entreated: but yf the poore haue done it, he ſhal ſtrayghtwayes be threatned.

4 If thou be for his profite, he vſeth thee:

but yf thou haue nothyng, he shal forsake thee.

5 As long as thou hast any thyng of thyne owne, he shalbe a good felowe with thee: yea he shal make thee a bare man, and not be sory for thee.

6 If he haue neede of thee, he shal defraude thee, and with a prinie mocke shal he put thee in an hope, and geue thee al good woordes, and say, What wantest thou?

V 7 Thus shal he shame thee in his meate, vntil he haue supt thee cleane vp twyse or thryse, and at the last shal he laugh thee to scorne: afterwarde, when he seeth that thou hast nothyng, he shal forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.

8 Submit thee selfe vnto God, and wayte vpon his hande.

9 Beware that thou be not deceiued and brought downe in thy simplenesse: Be not to humble in thy wysedome, lest when thou art brought lowe, thou be deceiued through foolishnesse.

10 If thou be called of a myghty man, absent thee selfe, so shal he call thee to hym the more oft.

11 Preasse not thou vnto hym, that thou be not shutte out: but goe not thou farre of, leste he forgeate thee.

12 Withdraw not thee selfe from his speach, but beleeue not his many woordes: for with muche communication shal he tempt thee, and with a prinie mocke shal he question with thee of thy secretes.

(a) That is, with a sinner that returneth continually to his sinne againe as a dogge to his vomit: or els after the other translation Hyena is a subtyl beast, watchyng about shepheardes foldes resembling a mans voyce, and learning certayne names, doth cal thē foorth & so destroy thē, whose nature is contrary to the dog, whiche is a keeper of the folde, & freendly vnto man.

13 The vnmercyful minde of his shal marke thy woordes, he shal not spare to doo thee hurte, and to put thee in prison.

14 Beware and take good heede to thee selfe, for thou walkest in peril of thy ouerthrowyng: Nowe when thou hearest his woords, make thee as though thou wast in a dreame, and wake vp.

15 Loue God al thy lyfe long, and call vppon hym in thy neede.

16 Euery beast loueth his lyke: euen so let euery man loue his neyghbour.

17 Al fleashe wyl resorte to their lyke, and euery man wyl keepe company with suche as he is hym selfe.

18 But as the woolfe agreeth with ỹ lambe: so dooth the vngodly with the ryghteous.

19 (a) What peace is there betweene Hyena and a dogge? howe can the riche and the poore agree togeather?

20 The wylde asse is the lions pray in the wylderneste: euen so are poore menne the meate of the riche.

21 Like as the proude may not away with lowlynesse: euen so dooth the riche abhorre the poore.

22 If a ryche man fall, his freendes set hym vp agayne: but when the poore falleth, his acquaintance forsake him.

23 If a riche man fal into an errour, he hath many helpers, he speaketh proude woordes, D and yet menne iustifie him: but yf a poore man goe wrong, he is pounyshed, yea though he speake wysely, yet can it haue no place.

24 When the ryche man speaketh, euery body holdeth his tongue, and looke what he sayth, they prayse it vnto the cloudes: but yf the poore man speake, they say, What felowe is this? and yf he doo amisse, they shal destroy hym.

25 Richesse are good vnto him that hath no sinne in his conscience: and pouertie is a wicked thyng in the mouth of the vngodly.

26 The harte of man changeth his countenance, whether it be in good or euyl.

27 A cheareful countenance is a token of a good heart: for els it is an harde thyng to knowe the thought.

The.xiiii.Chapter.

1. The offence of the tongue. 17. Man is but a vayne thyng. 21. Happy is he that continueth in wysedome.

1 Blessed is the man that hath not fallen with the woorde of his mouth, and is not pricked with the conscience of sinne. A Eccle.19.c. and.25.c. Iames.3.a.

2 Happy is he that hath no heauynesse in his mynde, and is not fallen from his hope in the Lorde.

3 It becommeth not a couetous man and a nigarde to be riche: and what shoulde an enuious man doo with money?

4 He that with al his carefulnesse heapeth togeather vnryghteously, geathereth for other folkes, and another man shal make good cheare with his goodes.

5 He that is wicked vnto hym selfe, howe shoulde he be good vnto other men? howe can suche one haue any pleasure of his goodes.

6 There is nothyng woorse then when one disfauoureth hym selfe: & this is a rewarde of his wickednesse.

7 If he doo any good, he dooth it, not knowyng therof and agaynst his wyl, and at the last he declareth his vngratiousnesse. Pro.17.c. Eccle.1.a.

8 A nygarde hath a wicked eye, he turneth away his face, and despiseth menne.

9 A couetous mans eye hath neuer ynough in the portion of wickednesse, vntil the tyme that he wyther away, and haue loste his owne soule.

10 (a) A wicked eye enuieth bread, and there is scarcenesse vpon his table. (a) For he that is couetous and enuious counteth al lost that is not layde vp for him selfe, & pineth away at another mans welth.

11 My

11 My sonne, doo good to thee selfe of that thou hast, and geue the Lorde his due offerynges.

12 Remember that death taryeth not, and howe that the (b) graue is not shewed vnto thee: for the couenant of this worlde shal dye the death.

(b) Though death be certaine, yet the time of it is vnknowen to thee.

13 Doo good vnto thy freende before thou dye, and accordyng to thy habilitie reache out thy hande and geue vnto the poore.

C 14 Be not disapoynted of the good day, and let not the portion of the good desyre ouerpasse thee.

15 Shalt thou not leaue thy trauayles and labours vnto other menne? In the dividyng of the herytage geue and take, and sanctifie thy soule.

16 Worke thou ryghteousnesse before thy death: for in the hel there is no meate to finde.

17 Al fleashe shal fade away lyke a garment, and like a flourishing leafe in a greene tree.

18 Some growe, some are cast downe: euen so is the generation of fleashe and blood: one commeth to an ende, another is borne, and this is the condition of al tymes, thou shalt dye the death.

19 Al transitorie thynges shal fayle at the last, and the worker therof shal goe withall.

20 Euery chosen worke shalbe iustified, and he that medled withal, shal haue honour therein.

D 21 Blessed is the man that keepeth hym in wysedome, and exerciseth him selfe in vnderstandyng, and with discretion shall thynke vpon the foreknowledge of God,

22 Whiche consydereth the wayes of wysedome in his harte, hath vnderstandyng in her secretes, 23 Goeth after her as one that seeketh her out, and continueth in her wayes.

24 He looketh in at her wyndowes, and hearkeneth at her doores.

25 He taketh his reast beside her house, and fasteneth his stake in her walles: he shal pitche his tent nygh vnto her hande, and in his tent shal good thinges reast for euermore.

26 He shal set his children vnder her couering, and shal dwel vnder her branches.

27 Vnder her couering shal he be defended from the heate, and in the glory shal he reast.

The.xv. Chapter.

1. The goodnesse that folowerh hym whiche feareth God. 8. God reiecteth and casteth of the sinner, 11. God is not the auethour of euyl.

1 HE that feareth God, wyl doo good: A and who so keepeth the lawe, shal obtayne wysedome.

2 As an honourable mother shal she meete hym, and (a) she as his wyfe maryed of a virgin shal receiue hym.

(a) As a pure virgin newly maried, doth frendely entreate her husbande: so shal iustice pure & vndefiled, gently entertayne her louers. Mat.4.a. Ioh.4.a

3 With the bread of life and vnderstanding shal she feede hym, and geue hym the water of wholsome wisedome to drynke.

4 If he be constant in her, he shal not be moued, and yf he holde hym fast by her, he shal not comme to confusion.

5 She shal bryng hym to honour among his neyghbours, and in the myddest of the congregation shal she open his mouth: With the spirite of wysedome and vnderstanding shal she fil hym, and clothe hym with the garment of glory.

6 She shal heape the treasure of myrth and ioy vpon hym, and geue hym an euerlastyng name to heritage.

7 Foolishe menne wyl not take holde vpon her, but suche as haue vnderstandyng wyl meete her: foolishe menne shal not see her, for she is farre from pryde and deceit. B

8 Menne that goe about with lyes, wyl not remember her: but menne of trueth shalbe found in her, and shal prosper euen vnto the beholdyng of God.

9 Prayse is not seemely in the mouth of the vngodly, for he is not sent of the Lorde.

10 But if prayse comme of wysedome, and be plenteous in a faythful mouth, then the Lorde wyl prosper it.

11 Say not thou, It is the Lordes fault that I am gonne by: for thou shalt not doo the thyng that God hateth.

12 Say not thou, He hath caused me to doo wrong: for he hath no neede of the vngodly.

13 GOD hateth al abomination of errour, and they that feare god wyl loue none such.

14 GOD made man from the beginning, C and left him in the hande of his counsel: Gen.1.d. he gaue him his commaundementes and preceptes.

15 If thou wylt obserue the commaundementes and keepe acceptable faythfulnesse for euer, they shal preserue thee.

16 He hath set water and fyre before thee, Iere.21.b. reache out thyne hande vnto whiche thou wylt.

17 Before man is lyfe and death, good and euyl: looke what hym lyketh, shalbe geuen hym.

18 For the wysedome of God is great and mightie in power, and beholdeth al thyngs continually.

19 The eyes of the Lord are vpon them that feare hym, and he knoweth al the workes of man.

20 He hath commaunded no man to doo vngodly, neyther hath he geuen any man licence to sinne: for he desireth not a multitude of infidels and vnprofitable children.

The.xvi.Chapter.

I. Of vnhappy and wicked children. 19. No man can hyde hym selfe from God.

A

1 DElite not thou in the multitude of vngodly children, and haue no pleasure in them, yf they feare not God.

2 Trust not thou to their lyfe, and regarde not their labours.

3 For one sonne that feareth God, is better then a thousande vngodly: and better it is for a man to dye without children, then to leaue behinde him suche children as are vngodly.

4 For by one that hath vnderstanding, may a whole citie be vpholden: but though the vngodly be many, yet shal it be wasted thorowe them.

5 Many such thinges hath myne eye seene, and greater thinges then these haue I heard with myne eares.

Eccle.21.b. 6 In the congregation of the vngodly shal a fire burne, and among vnfaythful people shal the wrath be kyndled.

Gene.6.a. 7 The olde giantes obteyned no grace for their sinnes, whiche were destroyed trusting to their owne strength.

B 8 Neither spared he them among whom
Gen.19.c. Lot was a stranger: but smote them, and abhorred them, because of the pride of their woordes.

9 He had no pitie vpon them: but destroyed al the people that were so stoute in sinne.

Num.14.c 10 And forasmuche as he ouersawe the fire hundred thousande that geathered themselues togeather in the hardnesse of their hart, in afflictyng them, in pitieyng them, in smytyng them, and healyng them with mercy & chastisement: it were marueyle yf one beyng hardnecked should be free.

Eccle.5.a. 11 For mercy and wrath is with hym, he is both mightie to forgeue, and to powre out displeasure.

12 Lyke as his mercy is great, euen so is his pounishment also: he iudgeth a man accordyng to his woorkes.

13 The vngodly shal not escape in his spoyle, and the long patience of hym that sheweth mercy, shal not byde behynde.

C 14 He wyl make a place for euery mercyful deede, and euery man shal finde accordyng to his woorkes.

15 The Lorde hardened Pharao that he shoulde not knowe hym, and that his woorkes myght be knowen vpon the earth vnder the heauen.

16 His mercy is knowen to al creatures, he hath separated his light from the darkenesse with an Adamant.

17 Say not thou, I wil hide mee selfe from God: for who wyl thynke vpon me from aboue? I shal not be knowen in so great an heape of people: for what is my soule among so many creatures?

18 Beholde the heauen, yea the heauen of heauens of God, the deepe, the earth, and al that therein is, shalbe moued at his presence.

19 The mountaynes, the hilles, and the fundations of the earth shal shake for feare, when God visiteth them.

20 These thynges dooth no hart vnderstand worthily: but he vnderstandeth euery hart.

21 And who vnderstandeth his wayes? no D man seeth his stormes, and the most part of his woorkes are secrete.

22 Who wyl declare the woorkes of his righteousnesse? or who shalbe able to abyde them? For the couenant is far from somme, and tryeing out of menne is in the ende.

23 He that is humble of hart, thinketh vpon such thinges: but an vnwyse and erronious man, casteth his mind vnto foolish thinges.

24 My sonne, hearken thou vnto me, and learne vnderstandyng, and marke my woordes with thyne hart: I wyl geue thee a sure doctrine, and playnly shal I instruct thee.

25 Marke my woordes then in thyne hart: for in righteousnesse of the spirite doo I speake of the woonders that GOD hath shewed among his woorkes from the beginnyng, and in the trueth doo I shew the knowledge of hym.

26 God hath set his woorkes in good order from the begynning, and part of them hath he sundred from the other.

27 He hath garnished his woorkes from euerlastyng, and their begynnynges accordyng to their generations: they are not hungry nor weeryed in their labours, nor ceasse from their offices.

28 None of them hyndred another, ney- E ther was any of them disobedient vnto his woordes.

29 After this God looked vpon the earth, and fylled it with his goodnesse.

30 With al maner of lyuyng beastes hath he couered the grounde, and they al shalbe turned vnto earth agayne.

Gene.2.d. 4 He made out of him an helper lyke vnto him ſelfe, and gaue them diſcretion and tongue, eyes, and eares, and a harte to vnderſtande:

22 But vnto them that wyl repent, he hath geuen the way of ryghteouſneſſe: as for ſuche as be weake, he comforteth them, ſuffereth them, and ſendeth them the portion of the veritie. Actes.3.c.

23 O turne then vnto the Lord, forſake thy ſinnes, make thy prayer before the Lorde, doo the leſſe offence.

24 Turne agayne vnto the Lord, for he wyl bryng thee from darkneſſe vnto holſome lyght, forſake thyne vnryghteouſneſſe, be an vtter enimie to abomination.

25 Learne to knowe the ryghteouſneſſe and iudgementes of God, ſtande in the portion that is ſet foorth for thee, and in the prayer of the moſt hygh God.

26 Goe in the portion of the holy worlde with ſuche as be liuing, and geue thankes vnto God.

27 Who wyl prayſe the Lorde in the hel? abyde not thou in the errour of the vngodly, but geue thankes before death. Pſal.7.a. E

28 As for the dead, thankfulneſſe periſheth from hym as nothyng: geue thou thankes in thy lyfe, yea whyle thou art liuyng and whole ſhalt thou geue thankes, and prayſe God, and reioyce in his mercie.

29 O howe great is the louyng kyndneſſe of the Lorde, and his mercyful goodneſſe vnto ſuche as turne vnto him?

30 For al thinges may not be in man, and why? the ſonne of man is not immortal, and he hath pleaſure in the vanitie of wickednelſe.

31 What is more cleare then the ſunne? yet ſhal it fayle.

32 Or what is more wicked then the thyng that fleaſhe and blood hath imagined? and that ſame ſhalbe reproued.

33 The Lorde ſeeth the power of the hygh heauen, and al are but earth and aſſhes.

The.xviii.Chapter.

1. The marueylous woorkes of God. 6. The miſerie and wretchednelſe of man. 9. Agaynſt God ought we not to complayne.

A 1 He that liueth for euermore, made all thynges togeather: God only is righteous, and there is none other but he, and remayneth a victorious king for euer.
Gene.1.a.
2 He ordereth the worlde with the power of his hande, and al thynges obey his wyl: for he gouerneth al thynges by his power, and diuideth the holy thynges from the prophane.
3 Who shalbe hable to expresse the workes of him? who wyl seeke out the grounde of his noble actes?
Psal.105.a.
4 Who shal declare the power of his greatnesse? or who wyl take vpon hym to tel out his mercie?
5 As for the woonderous woorkes of the Lorde, there may nothyng be taken from them, nothyng may be put vnto them, neyther may the grounde of them be founde out.
6 But when a man hath donne his best, he must beginne agayne: and when he thynketh to be come to an ende, he must goe agayne to his labour.
7 What is man? whereto is he woorth? what good or euyl can he doo?
B 8 If the number of a mans dayes be almost an hundred yeeres, it is much: and no man hath certayne knowledge of his death.
Psal.110.a.
9 Lyke as the droppes of rayne are vnto the sea, and as a gravelstone is in comparison of the sande: so are these fewe yeeres to the dayes of euerlastyng.
2.Pet.3.b.
10 Therfore is the Lord patient with them, and powreth out his mercie vppon them.
11 He sawe and perceiued the thoughtes and imaginations of their harte that they were euyl, therefore heaped he vp his mercyfull goodnesse vppon them, and shewed them the way of ryghteousnesse.
12 The mercie that a man hath, reacheth to his neyghbour, but the mercie of God is vpon al fleashe: He chasteneth, he teacheth and nurtureth: yea euen as a shepheard turneth agayne his flocke, so dooth he al them that receiue chastenyng, nurture, and doctrine.
13 Mercyful is he vnto them that diligently seeke after his iudgementes.

26 A wyse man feareth God in al thynges, and in the dayes of transgression he keepeth him selfe from sinne: but the foole dooth not obserue the tyme.
27 A discreete man hath pleasure in wysedome, and he that findeth her, maketh muche of her.
28 They that haue had vnderstandyng, haue dealt wysely in woordes, haue vnderstand the trueth and ryghteousnesse, and haue sought out wyse sentences & iudgementes.

A 1 A Labouryng man that is geuen vnto dronkennesse, ſhal not be ryche: and he that maketh not muche of ſmall thinges, ſhal fal by litle and litle.

3 And he that companyeth adulterers, ſhal become an impudent man: mothes and wormes ſhal haue hym to herytage, yea he ſhal be ſet vp to a great example, and his ſoule ſhalbe rooted out of the number. Iosu.22.c.

4 He that is haſtie to geue credence, is light mynded, and dooth agaynſt him ſelfe.

5 Who ſo reioyceth in wickednesse, ſhalbe pouniſhed: but he that reſiſteth pleaſures, crowneth his owne ſoule: he that refrayneth his tongue, may liue with a troubleſome man: he that hateth to be reſourned, his lyfe ſhalbe ſhortened: and he that abhorreth bablyng of woordes, quencheth wickednesse.

6 He that offendeth againſt his owne ſoule, ſhal repent it: and he that reioyceth in wickednesse, ſhalbe pouniſhed.

13 Tel thy freende his fault, leſt he be ignorant, and ſay, I haue not donne it: or yf he haue ſpoken, that he doo it no more.

C 14 Reprooue thy neighbour, that he keepe his tongue: and yf he haue ſpoken, that he ſay it no more.

15 Tel thy neighbour his fault, for oft tymes an offence is made: and geue not credence to euery woorde.

Eccle.14.a. 16 A man falleth ſometime with his tongue, but not with his wyl: for what is he that hath not offended in his tongue.

17 Geue thy neighbour warning before thou threaten hym: and geue place vnto the law of the Lorde.

18 The feare of the Lord is the firſt degree to be receiued of hym: and wiſedome obteyneth his loue.

19 The knowledge of the commaundementes of the Lorde, is the doctrine of lyfe: and they that obey hym, ſhal receiue the fruite of immortalitie.

20 The feare of God is al wyſedome: and he that is a righteous man keepeth the lawe.

21 If a ſeruant ſay vnto his maſter, I wil not doo as it pleaſeth thee: though afterwarde he doo it, he ſhal diſpleaſe hym that nouriſheth hym. D

22 As for the doctrine of wyckednesse, it is no wiſedome, and the prudence of ſinners is no good vnderſtandyng: it is but wyckednesse and abomination, and a blaſphemyng of wyſedome.

23 A ſymple man of ſmal vnderſtanding that feareth God, is better then one that hath muche wiſedome, and tranſgreſſeth the lawe of the hyghest.

24 A craftie ſubtle man can be wyſe, but he is vnrighteous, & with gyftes he wreſteth the open and manifeſt lawe: agayne there is that is wyſe, and iudgeth righteouſly.

25 A wicked man can behaue hym ſelfe humbly, and can ducke with his head, and yet is he but a deceiuer within: he hydeth his face, and diſguiſeth it, and becauſe he ſhoulde not be knowen, he preuenteth thee, to hurt thee.

26 And though he be ſo weake that he can doo thee no harme, yet when he may fynde opportunitie, he ſhal doo ſomme euyl. Mat.6.b.

The.xx.Chapter.

1. Of correction and repentance. 6. Of the gyft of the wyſe man, and of the foole. 23. Of lyeing.

1 SOmme man reproueth his neyghbour oft times, but not in due ſeaſon: agayne, ſomme man holdeth his tongue, and he is wyſe and diſcrete. A Eccle.31.d

2 It is muche better to geue warnyng and to reproue, then to beare cuyl wyl: for he that knowledgeth hym ſelfe openly, ſhalbe preſerued from hurt and deſtruction.

3 Lyke as when a gelded man through deſyre and luſt defyleth a mayden: euen ſo is it with hym that vſeth violence and vnrighteouſnesse in the lawe.

4 O howe good a thyng is it, a man that is reproued to ſhewe openly his repentance:

for so shalt thou escape wylful sinne.

5 Some man keepeth scilence, and is found wyse: but he that is not ashamed what he sayth, is hateful.

6 Some man holdeth his tongue, because he hath not vnderstanding of the language: and some man keepeth scilence, waytyng a conuenient time.

D 7 A wyse man wyl holde his tongue till he see opportunitie: but a wanton and vndiscreete body shal regarde no time.

Eccle.3.a. 8 He that vseth many wordes, shall hurte his owne soule: and he that taketh authoritie vpon him vnrighteously, shalbe hated.

9 Some man hath oft times prosperitie in wicked thynges: agayne, some man geatteth muche, and hath harme and losse.

10 There is some gift that is nothing worth: agayne, there is some gyft whose rewarde is double.

11 There is an humilitie for glories sake, and some commeth to worshyp from lowe estate.

12 Some man byeth muche for a litle price, and must pay for it seuen folde.

Eccle.6.d. 13 A wyse man with his wordes maketh hym selfe to be beloued: but the merry tales of fooles shalbe poured out.

14 The gyft of the vnwyse shal doo thee no good, nor yet of the enuious, for his importunitie is seuen folde: for he looketh to receiue many thinges for one.

18 He taketh a more perillous fal by suche wordes, then if he fel vpon the grounde: euen so shal the fal of wycked men comme hastily.

19 In the mouth of him that is vntaught, are many vncomenient & vnmeete wordes.

20 A wyse sentence shal not be alowed at the mouth of the foole: for he speaketh not it in due season.

D 21 Somme man sinneth not, because he hath not wherewithal, and in his rest he shalbe stynged.

22 Somme man there is that destroyeth his owne soule with shame, and for an vnwyse bodies sake destroyeth he it, and with accepting of persons shal he vndoe hym selfe.

23 Somme man promiseth his frend a gift for very shame: and geatteth an enimie of hym for nought.

24 A lye is a wycked shame in a man: yet shal it be euer in the mouth of the vnwyse.

The.xxi. Chapter.

1. Not to continue in sinne. 5. The prayer of the afflicted. 6. To hate to be reproued. 17. The mouth of the wyse man. 26. The thought of the foole.

two edged swoorde, whiche maketh suche woundes that they can not be healed.

4 Strife and wrongful dealing shal waste away a mans goods, and through pryde a riche house shalbe brought to nought: so the riches of the proude shalbe rooted out.

5 The prayer of the poore goeth out of the mouth, & commeth vnto the eares, and his vengeance (or defence) shal comme hastyly.

6 Who so hateth to be reproued, it is a token of an vngodly person: but he that feareth God, wyl remember hym selfe.

7 A mightie man is knowen a farre of by his tongue: but he that hath vnderstandyng perceiueth that he shal haue a fal.

10 The way of the vngodly is ſet with ſtones: but in theyr ende, is hel, darkneſſe, and paynes.

11 He that keepeth the lawe, wyl holde faſt the vnderſtandyng therof: and the ende of the feare of God is wyſedome and vnderſtandyng.

12 He that is not wyſe, wyl not be taught in good, but the vnwiſe man aboundeth in wickednelle: and where bitternelle is, there is no vnderſtandyng.

13 The knowledge of the wyſe ſhal flowe like water that runneth ouer: & his counſayle is lyke a pure fountayne of lyfe.

14 The hart of a foole is like a broken veſſel, he can keepe no wyſedome.

15 When a man of vnderſtandyng heareth a wyſe woorde, he ſhal commende it, and make muche of it: but yf a voluptuous man heare it, he ſhal haue no pleaſure therein, but caſt it behinde his backe.

16 The talkyng of a foole is like an heauy burden by the way: but to heare a wyſe man ſpeake, it is pleaſure.

17 Where a doubt is in the congregation, it is aſked at the mouth of the wyſe, & they ſhal ponder his woordes in theyr hartes.

18 Like as is a houſe that is deſtroyed, euen ſo is wiſedome vnto a foole: as for the knowledge of the vnwyſe, it is but darke woordes.

19 Doctrine is vnto hym that hath no vnderſtanding, euen as fetters about his feete, and like manicles vpon his ryght hande.

Eccle. 19. c. 20 A foole lifteth vp his voyce with laughter: but a wiſe man ſhal ſcarſe laugh ſecretely.

D 21 Learning is vnto a wyſe man a iewel of golde, and lyke an armelet vpon his right arme.

22 A foolyſhe mans foote is ſoone in his neighbours houſe: but one that hath experience ſhalbe aſhamed at the perſon of the mightie.

23 A foole wyl peepe in at the wyndowe into the houſe: but he that is wel nurtured, wyl ſtande without.

24 A foolyſhe man ſtandeth hearkening at the doore: but he that is wiſe wyl be aſhamed.

25 The lippes of the vnwyſe wil be telling ſoolyſhe thinges: but the woordes of ſuche as haue vnderſtandyng, ſhalbe weighed in the ballance.

(b) For while he curſeth another, he dooth the ſame thyng, & ſo curſeth hym ſelfe, 26 The hart of fooles is in their mouth: but the mouth of the wyſe is in theyr hart.

27 When the vngodly curſeth the (b) blaſphemer, he curſeth his owne ſoule.

28 A priuie accuſer of other men, ſhal defile his owne ſoule, and be hated of euery man: but he that keepeth his tongue and is diſcrete, ſhal comme to honour.

The. xxii. Chapter.

1. Of the ſluggarde. 12. Not to ſpeake muche to a foole. 16. A good conſcience feareth not.

1 A Slouthful body is moulded (a) of a ſtone of clay, & euery man wil ſpeake to his diſpraiſe.

2 A ſlouthful body is made of the doung of oxen, and euery one that toucheth him, muſt waſhe his handes agayne.

3 A miſnurtured ſonne is the diſhonour of the father: a foolyſhe daughter ſhalbe litle regarded.

4 A wiſe daughter is an heritage vnto her huſbande: but ſhe that commeth to diſhoneſtie, bryngeth her father in heauineſſe.

5 A daughter that is paſt ſhame, diſhonoureth both her father and her huſbande: the vngodly ſhal regard her, but they both ſhal deſpiſe her.

6 A tale out of time, is as muſicke in mournyng: but wiſedome knoweth the ſeaſons of correction and doctrine.

7 If children liue honeſtly, and haue wherewithal, they ſhal put away the ſhame of theyr parentes:

8 But yf children be proude with hautines and fooliſhneſſe, they blot out the nobilitie of theyr kynrede.

9 Who ſo teacheth a foole, is euen as one that gleweth a potharde togeather, as one that telleth a tale to hym that heareth hym not, and as one that rayſeth a man out of an heauie ſleepe.

10 Who ſo telleth a foole of wiſedome, is euen as a man whiche ſpeaketh to one that is aſleepe: when he hath tolde his tale, he ſayth, What is the matter?

11 When one dyeth, lamentation is made for him, becauſe the lyght faileth him: euen ſo, let meune mourne ouer a foole, for he wanteth vnderſtandyng. Make but litle weeping becauſe of the dead, for he is come to reaſt: but the lyfe of the foole is wooſſe then the death.

12 Seuen dayes doo men mourne for hym that is dead, but the lamentation ouer the vnwyſe and vngodly ſhoulde endure all the dayes of theyr lyfe.

15 Sande, salt, and a lumpe of yron, is easier to beare, then an vnwyse, foolishe, and vngodly man.

16 Lyke as the bande of wood bounde together in the fundation of the house can not be loosed: euen so is it with the hart that is stablished in the thought of counsel. The thought of the wyse shal neuer feare, nor be offended at any tyme.

17 Lyke as a fayre plastered wal in a wynter house & a hygh building, may not abide the wynde and storme: euen so is a fooles hart afraide in his imagination, he feareth at euery thyng, and can not endure.

18 A wauerynge hart in the imagination of a foole, wyl not euer stande in awe: but he that abydeth in the commaundementes of God, wil alway feare.

19 He that nyppeth a mans eye, bryngeth foorth teares: and he that prycketh the hart, bryngeth foorth the meanynge and thought.

20 Who so casteth a stone at the byrdes, frayeth them away: and he that blaspheme th his freende, breaketh frendshyp.

21 Though thou drewest a swoorde at thy freende, yet dispayre not: for thou mayest comme agayne to thy freende.

22 If he speake sourely, feare not: for ye may be agreed togeather agayne, except it be that thou blaspheme him, disdaine him, open his secretes, and wounde hym traytorously: for al such thynges shal driue away a freende.

23 Be faythful vnto thy neighbour in his powertie, that thou mayest reioyce with hym also in his prosperitie: abyde stedfast vnto him in the tyme of his trouble, that thou mayest be heyre with him in his heritage: for powertie is not alwayes to be contemned, nor the riche that is foolyshe to be had in estimation.

24 Lyke as the vapour and smoke goeth out at the ouen before the fyre: euen so euil woordes, rebukes, and threatnynges, goe before bloodsheddyng.

25 Be not ashamed to defende thy freende, as for me, I wil not hide my face from him though he shoulde doo me harme: whosoeuer heareth it, shal beware of hym.

The.xxiii. Chapter.

I. A prayer agaynst pryde, letcherye, and gluttonie. 23. Many sinnes proceede of adulterie. 27. Of the feare of God.

1 O Lorde, father and gouernour of my lyfe, leaue me not in theyr imagination and counsel: oh let me not fal in suche reproofe.

2 Who wyl keepe my thought with the scourge, and the doctrine of wysedome in myne hart? that he spare not mine ignorance, that I fal not with them?

3 Lest myne ignorances increase, that mine offences be not many in number, and that my sinnes exceede not: lest I fal before myne enimies, and so mine aduersarie reioyce, whose hope is farre from thy mercy.

4 O Lorde, thou father and God of my life, leaue me not in theyr imagination: O let me not haue a proude looke, but turne away al voluptuousnesse fro me.

5 Take from me the lustes of the body, let not the desyres of vncleannesse take holde vpon me.

6 And geue me not ouer into an vnshamefaste and obstinate mynde.

7 Heare me, O ye chyldren, I wyl geue you a doctrine howe ye shal order your mouth: who so keepeth it, shal not perysshe through his lippes, nor be hurt through wycked woorkes.

8 As for the sinner, he shalbe taken in his owne vanitie: he that is proude and cursed, shal fal therein.

9 Let not thy mouth be accustomed with swearyng, for in it there are many falles: let not the namyng of God be continually in thy mouth, and meddle not with the names of saintes, for thou shalt not be excused of them. Exod. 20.b

10 For like as a seruant which is oft punished, can not be without somme soare: euen so, what so euer he be that sweareth and nameth God, shal not be cleane purged from sinne.

11 A man that vseth muche swearyng, shal be filled with wyckednesse, and the plague shal neuer goe from his house, if he beguile his brother, his fault shalbe vpon hym, yf he knowledge not his sinne, he maketh a double offence, and yf he sweare in vayne, he shal not be founde ryghteous: for his house shalbe ful of plagues.

16 To ſinne twiſe is to much, but the third bringeth wrath and deſtruction: An hot ſtomacke can not be quēched (euen lyke a burnyng fire) tyl it haue ſwalowed vp ſomme thyng: euen ſo an vnchaſt man hath no reſt in his fleaſhe, tyl he haue kyndled a fire.

17 Al bread is ſweete to an whoremonger, he wyl not leaue of tyl he dye.

Eſai.21.a. 18 A man that breaketh wedlocke, and regardeth not his ſoule, but ſayth, Tuſhe who ſeeth me: I am compaſſed about with darkeneſſe, the walles couer me, no body ſeeth me, whom nede I to feare: the higheſt wyl not remember my ſinnes:

19 He vnderſtandeth not that his eyes ſee al thynges, for al ſuche feare of menne driueth away the feare of God from hym: for he feareth onely the eyes of menne, and conſydereth not that the eyes of the Lorde are clearer then the ſunne, beholdyng al the wayes of menne, and the grounde of the deepe, and lookyng euen to mens hartes in ſecrete places.

20 The Lorde GOD knewe al thynges or euer they were made, and after they be brought to paſſe alſo he looketh vpon them al.

D 21 The ſame man ſhalbe openly pounished in the ſtreetes of the citie, and ſhalbe chaſed abroade lyke a young horſe foale: and when he thinketh leaſt vpon it, he ſhalbe taken.

Leuit.20.b. Deut.22.b.

22 Thus ſhal he be put to ſhame of euery man, becauſe he woulde not vnderſtande the feare of the Lorde: and thus ſhal it goe alſo with euery wife that leaueth her huſbande, and getteth inheritance by a ſtrange mariage.

Exod.20.e. 23 Firſt, ſhe hath benne vnfaithful vnto the lawe of the higheſt: ſecondly, ſhe hath forſaken her owne huſbande: thirdly, ſhe hath played the whoore in adulterie, and gotten her chyldren by another man.

24 She ſhalbe brought out of the congregation, & her chyldren ſhalbe looked vpon.

25 Her chyldren ſhal not take roote: and as for fruite, her branches ſhal bring foorth none.

26 A ſhameful report ſhal ſhe leaue behynd her, and her diſhonour ſhal not be put out.

27 And they that remayne, ſhal knowe that C there is nothyng better then the feare of GOD, and that there is nothyng ſweeter then to take heede vnto the commaundementes of the Lorde.

28 A great worſhyp is it to folow the lord: for long lyfe ſhalbe receiued of hym.

The.xxiiii. Chapter.

I. A prayſe of wyſedome proceedyng foorth of the mouth of God. 6. Of her woorkes and place where ſhe reſteth.

1 WYſedome ſhal prayſe her ſelfe, and be A honoured in God, and reioyce in the myddeſt of the people.

2 In the congregations of the hygheſt ſhal ſhe open her mouth, and triumph in the beholdyng of his power.

3 In the myddeſt of her people ſhal ſhe be exalted, and woondred at in the holy fulneſſe.

4 In the multitude of the choſen ſhe ſhalbe commended, and among ſuch as be bleſſed ſhe ſhalbe prayſed, and ſhal ſay,

5 I am comme out of the mouth of the hygheſt, firſt borne before al creatures.

6 I cauſed the lyght that fayleth not to ariſe in the heauen, and couered al the earth as a cloude.

7 My dwellyng is aboue in the heygth, and B my ſeate is in the pyller of the cloude.

8 I mee ſelfe alone haue gonne round about the compaſſe of heauen, and pearſed the grounde of the deepe.

9 I haue walked in the ſluddes of the ſea, and haue ſtande in al landes, my dominion is in euery people, and in euery nation, and with my power haue I troden downe the hartes of al both hygh and lowe.

10 In al theſe thynges alſo I ſought reſt, and a dwellyng in ſomme inheritance.

11 So the creator of al thinges gaue me a commaundement, and he that made me, appoynted me a tabernacle, and ſayde vnto me, Let thy dwellyng be in Jacob, & thyne inheritance in Iſrael, and roote thee ſelfe among my choſen.

12 I was created from the beginnyng, and Prou.8.c. before the world, and ſhal not leaue of vnto the worlde to comme: in the holy habitati- Exod.31.a. on haue I ſerued before hym, and ſo was I ſtabliſhed in Sion.

13 In the holy citie reſted I in lyke maner, Pſal.132.a. and in Hieruſalem was my power.

14 I tooke roote in an honorable people, C euen in the portion of the Lorde and in his heritage, and kept me in the fulneſſe of the ſaintes.

15 I am

15 I am set vp an hygh lyke a Cedar vpon Libanus, and as a Cipers tree vpon the mount Hermon.

16 I am exalted like a palme tree in Cades, and as a rose plant in Jericho, as a fayre Olyue tree in the feelde, and am exalted lyke as a plantane tree by the water side.

17 I haue geuen a smelle in the streetes as the Cynamom & Balme, that hath so good a sauour, yea a sweete odour haue I geuen as it were myrrhe of the best: I haue made my dwellynges to smelle as it were of Rosin, Galbanum, of Cloues, Incense, and as Libanus, when it is not hewen downe, and myne odour is as the pure Balme.

(a) Terebint is a harde tree spread abrode with log boughes, where out runneth the gumme called a pure turpentine, whiche clenseth the stomacke of putrified humours, and purifieth the eares: so the wysedome of god declared in his scriptures, spreadeth abrode her manifold branches of knowledge and vnderstanding, to purge the inwarde eares and corruption of the soule.

18 As the (a) Terebint haue I stretched out my branches, and my branches are the branches of honour, and louyng sauour.

19 As the vine haue I brought foorth fruite of a sweete sauour, and my floures are the fruite of honour and riches.

20 I am the mother of beautiful loue, of feare, of knowledge, and of holy hope: I geue eternal thynges to al my chyldren to whom God hath commaunded.

21 In me is al grace of lyfe and trueth, in me is al hope of lyfe and vertue.

22 O comme vnto me al ye that be desirous of me, and fyl your selues with my fruites.

23 For my spirite is sweeter then hony, and so is myne inheritance more then the hony combe: the remembrance of me endureth for euermore.

24 They that eate me, shal haue the more hunger: and they that drinke me, shal thirst the more.

25 Who so hearkeneth vnto me, shal not comme to confusion, and they that worcke in me, shal not offende: they that take me to be knowen, shal haue euerlastyng lyfe.

26 Al these thinges are the booke of lyfe, the couenant of the highest, and the knowledge of the trueth.

27 Moses commaunded the lawe in the preceptes of ryghteousnesse for an heritage vnto the house of Jacob, and committed the promise vnto Israel.

28 Be not weery to behaue your selues valiantly with the Lorde, that he may also confirme you: cleaue vnto hym, for the Lord almightie is but one God, and besides hym there is no other sauiour.

Psal.131.b. Actes.2.d. 29 (Out of Dauid his seruant he ordayned to rayse vp a most mightie kyng, sittyng in the seate of honour for euermore.)

Deut.4.a. and.29.b. 30 This fylleth with wysedome, lyke as the flood of Phison, and as the flood of Tigris when the newe fruites are a growyng.

31 This bringeth plenteous vnderstandyng lyke Euphrates, and filleth it vp as Jordane in the tyme of haruest. Iosue.3.c.

32 This maketh nurture to breake foorth as the lyght, and as the water Gehon in the haruest.

33 The first hath not knowen her perfectly: no more shal the last seeke out the grounde of her.

34 For her thought is fuller then the sea, & her counsel is profounder then the great deepe.

35 I wysedome haue cast out fluddes, I am as a great water brooke out of the ryuer, I am as the riuer Dorir, and as a water conduite am I comme out of the garden of pleasure. F

36 I sayde, I wyl water the garden of my young plantes, and fylle the fruite of my birth: So my water brooke became exceedyng great, and my ryuer approched vnto the sea.

37 For I make doctrine to be vnto al men as lyght as the fayre mornyng, and I shal make it to be euer the clearer.

38 I wyl pearse through al the lower parties of the earth, I wyl looke vpon al suche as be a sleepe, and lighten al them that put their trust in the Lorde.

39 I shal yet powre out doctrine lyke as prophecie, and leaue it vnto suche as seeke after wysedome, and their generations shal I neuer fayle vnto the holye euerlastyng worlde.

40 Beholde howe that I haue not laboured for mee selfe onely: but for al them that seeke after the trueth. Eccle.33.b

The.xxv. Chapter.

1. Of three thynges whiche please God, and of three which he hateth. 7. Of nine thinges that be not to be suspect, and of the tenth. 15. Cheefely of the malice of a woman.

THree thinges there are that my spirite A fauoureth, which be also alowed before God & menne: The vnitie of brethren, Gen 13.b.
the loue of neyghbours, a man and wife Rom.12.b
that agree wel togeather. Eccle.40.d

2 Three thinges there be whiche my soule hateth, and I vtterly abhorre the lyfe of Gen.18.b.
them: A poore man that is proude, a ryche man that is a lyer, and an olde body that doteth, and is vnchaste.

3 If thou hast geathered nothyng in thy youth, what wylt thou finde then in thyne age?

4 O howe pleasant a thing is it when gray headed menne are discrete, and when the elders can geue good counsel.

How comely a thyng is wisdome vnto aged men? yea, vnderstanding and counsel to men of honour is a glorious thyng.

6 The crowne of olde men, is to haue much experience: and the feare of God is theyr worshyp.

¶ 7 There be nyne thinges whiche I haue iudged in my hart to be happy, & the tenth wil I tel foorth vnto men with my tongue: A man that while he liueth hath ioy of his children, and seeth the fal of his enimies.

Eccle. 19.c. and. 24.a Iacob. 3.a.

8 Wel is hym that dwelleth with an houswyfe of vnderstandyng, and that hath not fallen with his tongue, and that hath not benne fayne to serue suche as are vnmeete for hym.

* or, prudent.

9 Wel is him that findeth * a faythful frende: and wel is him whiche talketh of wisdome to an eare that heareth hym.

10 O howe great is he that fyndeth wysedome and knowledge? Yet is he not aboue hym that feareth the Lorde.

11 The feare of God hath set it selfe aboue al thynges.

12 Blessed is the man vnto whom it is graunted to haue the feare of God: vnto whom shal he be likened that keepeth it fast?

13 The feare of God is the begynning of his loue: and the begynnyng of fayth, is to cleaue fast vnto it.

¶ 14 The heauinesse of the hart is al the pounishment, and the wickednesse of a woman goeth aboue al.

15 Al pounishment and plague is nothing in comparison to the plague of the hart: euen so, al wyckednesse, is nothyng to the wickednesse of a woman.

16 Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto a man, is nothing in comparison of it that his euil willers doo vnto hym: and al vengeance is nothyng to the vengeance of the enimie.

17 There is not a more wycked head then the head of the serpent: and there is no wrath aboue the wrath of a woman.

Pro. 21.a.

18 I wyl rather dwel with a lion and dragon, then to keepe house with a wycked wyfe.

19 The wyckednesse of a woman changeth her face, she shal mokle her countenance as it were a beare, and as a sacke shal she shew it among the neighbours.

20 Her husband is brought to shame among his neighbours because of her, and when he heareth it, it maketh hym to sygh.

21 Al wickednesse is but litle to the wyckednesse of a woman: the portion of the vngodly shal fal vpon her.

22 Lyke as the clymyng vp a sandy way is to the feete of the aged: euen so is a wife ful of woordes to a styl quiet man.

23 Looke not to narowly vpon the beautie of a woman, lest thou be prouoked in desyre towarde her. Eccle. 42.a 2. Reg. 11.a. and. 13.a.

24 The wrath of a woman is dishonour and great confusion: yf a woman geat the masterie, then is she contrary to her husbande.

25 A wycked wyfe maketh a sory hart, an heauie countenance, and a dead wounde: Weake handes and feeble knees, is a woman that her husband is not the better for. Gen. 3.c. 1. Tim. 2.b. (a) 1. Tim. ii. Adam was not deceiued. But to the Rom. v. he saith, By one man sinne entred into the worlde. The occasion was offred by the woman, but the sinne was finished by the man consentyng therevnto.

26 Of the woman came the (a) begynning of sinne, and through her we al are dead.

27 Geue thy water no passage, no not a litle, neyther geue a wycked woman her wyl.

28 If she walke not after thy hand, she shal confounde thee in the syght of thyne enimies: cut her of then from thy fleashe, that she doo not alway abuse thee.

The. xxvi. Chapter.

1. The prayse of a good woman. 6. Of the ielousie and drunkennesse of a woman.

1 HAppy is the man that hath a vertuous wyfe: for the number of his yeeres shalbe double. A

2 An honest woman maketh her husbande a ioyful man, and she shal fil the yeeres of his lyfe in peace.

3 A vertuous woman is a noble gift, which shalbe geuen for a good portion vnto suche as feare God:

4 Whether a man be riche or poore, he may haue euer a merry hart, and a chearefull countenance.

5 There be three thynges that my hart feareth, & my face is afrayde of the fourth: treason in a citie, a seditious people, and noysome tongues: al these are heauier then the death.

6 When one woman is ielous ouer an other, it bryngeth payne and sorow vnto the hart: and a woman that telleth out al thynges, is a scourge of the tongue. B

7 When one hath an euil wife, it is euen as when an vnlike payre of oxen must draw togeather: he that geatteth her, geatteth a scorpion. Iud. 16.a.

8 A drunken woman is a great plague: for she can not couer her owne shame.

9 The whoredome of a woman may be knowen in the pryde of her eyes and eye lydes. Eccle. 13.b.

10 If thy daughter be not shamefast, holde her strayghtly, lest she abuse her selfe thorowe ouermuche libertie.

11 Beware of al the dishonestie of her eyes, and marueyle not yf she doo agaynst thee.

12 As a way faryng man that is thirstie, when he hath found a wel, drynketh of euery ry next water: so wyl she syt downe by euery hedge, and make her selfe common to euery man that passeth by.

13 A louyng wyfe reioyceth her husband, and feedeth his bones with her wisedome.

C 14 A woman of fewe woordes is a gift of God: to al nurtured myndes may nothyng be compared.

15 An honest and mannerly woman is a gift aboue other gyftes: and there is no weight to be compared vnto a mynde that can rule it selfe.

16 Like as the sunne when it aryseth is an ornament in the high heauen of the Lorde: so is a vertuous wyfe the beautie of her house.

17 Like as the cleare light is vpon the holy candelsticke: so is the beautie of the face vpon an honest body.

Canti. 5.d 18 Like as the golden pyllers are vpon the sockets of syluer: so are the fayre feete vpon a woman that hath a constant mynde.

19 Perpetual are the fundations that be layde vpon a whole stony rocke: so are the commaundementes of God vpon the hart of an holy woman.

20 There be two thynges that greeue my hart, and in the thirde is displeasure come vpon me: When an expert man of warre suffereth scarcenesse and pouertie, when menne of vnderstandyng and wysedome are not set by, and when one departeth from ryghteousnesse vnto sinne: who so doth suche, the Lorde hath prepared hym vnto the swoorde.

21 There be two manner of thynges which mee thinke to be harde and perillous: A marchant can not lyghtly keepe him from wrong, neither a tauerner hym selfe from sinne.

The.xxvii.Chapter.

3. Of the poore that would be riche. 5. The probation of the man that feareth God. 20. The wycked imagineth euil, whiche returneth vpon him selfe.

A 1 BEcause of pouertie haue many one offended: and he that seeketh to be riche, turneth his eyes aside.

2 Lyke as a nayle in the wal stycketh fast betwixt two stones: euen so dooth sinne stycke betwixt the buyer and the seller.

3 If he hold hym not diligently in the feare of the Lorde, his house shal soone be ouerthrowen.

4 Lyke as when one syfteth, the fylthynesse remayneth in the siue: so remayneth there somme vncleane thing in the thought of man.

5 The ouen proueth the potters vessel: so doth temptation of trouble trye ryghteous menne.

6 The tree of the feelde is knowen by his fruite: so is the thought of mans hart knowen by his woordes. I.Pet.3.b Mat.7.b

7 Prayse no man except thou haue hearde hym, for a man is knowen by his woordes. B

8 If thou folowest righteousnesse, thou shalt geat her, and put her vpon thee as a fayre garment: & thou shalt dwel with her, and she shal defende thee for euer, and in the day of knowledge thou shalt finde stedfastnesse.

9 The byrdes resorte vnto theyr lyke: so dooth the trueth turne vnto them that be occupyed withal.

10 The Lion watteth the pray: so dooth sinne vpon them that woorke vnryghteousnesse.

11 The talkyng of hym that feareth God, is nothyng but wysedome: as for a foole, he changeth as the moone.

12 If thou be among the vndiscrete, keepe thy woordes to a conuenient tyme: but among suche as be wise, speake on hardyly.

13 The talkyng of fooles is abomination, and theyr sport is voluptuousnesse, and misnurture.

14 Muche swearyng maketh the heare to C stande vp: and to striue with such, stoppeth the eares. Eccle.22.b.

15 The stryfe of the proude is bloodsheddyng, and theyr blasphemyng is heauie to heare.

16 Who so discouereth secretes, leeseth his credence, & findeth no frende after his wyl. Eccle.19.b. and.22.d

17 Loue thy freende, and bynde thee selfe in faythfulnesse with hym: but yf thou bewrayest his secretes, thou shalt not geat hym agayne.

18 For lyke as the man is that destroyeth his enimie: so is he also that dealeth falsly in the frendshyp of his neighbour.

19 Lyke as one that letteth a byrde goe out of his hande, can not take her agayne: euen so thou, yf thou geue ouer thy freende, thou canst not geat him againe.

20 Yea, thou canst not comme by hym, for he is to farre of: he is vnto thee as a Roe escaped out of the snare, for his soule is wounded.

21 As for woundes they may be bounde vp agayne, and an euil woorde may be reconciled: but who so bewrayeth the secretes of a freende, there is no more hope to be had vnto hym. D

22 He that winketh with the eyes, imagineth somme euil: and he that knoweth him, wyl let hym alone. Pro.9.d.

23 Whē thou art present, he shal highly commende & prayse thy woordes: but at the last

he

he ſhal turne his tayle, and ſclander thy layeing,

24 Many things haue I hated, but nothing ſo euyl: for the Lorde hym ſelfe alſo abhorreth ſuche a one.

Exod.21.b 25 Who ſo caſteth a ſtone an hygh, it ſhal falle vpon his owne head: and he that ſmiteth with guyle, woundeth hym ſelfe.

26 Who ſo diggeth a pit ſhal falle therein, and he that laieth a ſtone in his neighbours way, ſhal ſtumble thereon, and he that layeth a ſnare for another, ſhalbe taken in it hym ſelfe.

Deut.7.d Pſal.7.d Prou.26.c 27 Who ſo geueth a wicked noyſome counſayle, it ſhal comme vpon hym ſelfe, and he ſhal not knowe from whence.

Eccle.10.a 28 The proude blaſpheme and are ſcorneful: but vengeance lurketh for them as a lion.

29 They that reioyce at the fal of the righteous, ſhalbe taken in the ſnare: anguiſhe of hart ſhal conſume them before they dye.

30 Anger and rygorouſneſſe are two abominable thynges, and the vngodly hath them both vpon hym.

The.xxviii. Chapter.

1. We ought not to deſyre vengeance, but to forgeue the offence. 13. Of the vices of the tongue, and of the dangers thereof.

A 1 HE that ſeeketh vengeance, ſhal finde vengeance of the Lorde, whiche ſhal ſurely keepe his ſinnes.

Deut.32.a Rom.12.c. Mat.5.b.6.b.and.18.b. 2 Forgeue thy neyghbour the hurt that he hath donne thee, and ſo ſhal thy ſinnes be forgeuen thee alſo when thou prayeſt.

3 A man that beareth hatred agaynſt another, howe dare he deſyre forgeueneſſe of God?

4 He that ſheweth no mercie to a man whiche is lyke him ſelfe, howe dare he aſke forgeueneſſe of his ſinnes?

5 If he that is but fleaſhe, beareth hatred, and keepeth it, who wyl intreate for his ſinnes?

6 Remember the end, and let enmitie paſſe, whiche ſeeketh death and deſtruction, and abyde thou in the commaundementes.

B 7 Remember the commaundementes, ſo ſhalt thou not be rygorous ouer thy neyghbour: thynke vpon the couenant of the hyghеſt, & forgeue thy neyghbours ignorance.

8 Beware of ſtryfe, and thou ſhalt make thy ſinnes fewer.

Eccle.28.a. 9 For an angry man kindleth variance: and the vngodly diſquieteth freendes, and putteth diſcorde among them that be at peace.

Prou.26.c 10 The more wood there is, the more vehement is the fire, and the myghtier that menne be, the greater is the wrath: according to his riches, his anger increaſeth, and the longer the ſtrife endureth, the more it burneth.

11 An haſtie brawlyng kindleth a fyre, and an haſtie ſtrife ſheddeth blood: a tongue alſo that beareth falſe witneſſe, bryngeth death.

12 If thou blowe the ſparke, it ſhal burne, if thou ſpit vpon it, it ſhal goe forth, and both theſe comme out of the mouth.

Exod.21.b 13 The ſclanderer and double tongued is curſed: for many one that be freendes ſetteth he at variance.

C 14 The " thirde tongue hath diſquieted many one, and driuen them from one lande to another: ſtrong cities of the riche hath it broken downe, and ouerthrowen the houſes of great menne: the ſtrength of the people hath it brought downe, and ben the decay of mightie nations.

15 The thirde tongue hath caſt out many an honeſt woman, and robbed them of their labours.

16 Who ſo hearkeneth vnto ſuche, ſhal neuer finde reſt, and neuer dwel ſafely.

17 The ſtroke of the rod maketh prints in the ſkinne: but the ſtroke of the tongue ſmiteth the bones in ſunder.

18 There be many that haue periſhed with the ſwoorde: but many mo through the tongue.

19 Wel is hym that is keapt from an euyl tongue, and commeth not in the anger therof, whiche draweth not the yoke of ſuche, and is not bounde in the bandes of it.

20 For the yoke thereof is of iron, and the bande of it of " ſteele.

21 The death thereof is a very euyl death: hel were better for one, then ſuch a tongue.

22 But the fire of it may not oppreſſe them that feare God, and the flame thereof may not burne them.

23 Suche as forſake the Lorde, ſhal falle therin, and it ſhal burne them, and no man ſhalbe able to quenche it: it ſhal falle vpon them as a lion, and deuoure them as a leoparde.

24 Thou hedgeſt thy goodes with thornes: why dooeſt thou not rather make doores and barres for thy mouth?

25 Thou wayeſt thy golde and ſiluer: why dooſt thou not way thy woordes alſo vpon the balance, and make a doore and a barre, and a ſure bridle for thy mouth?

26 Beware that thou ſlyde not in thy tongue, and ſo fal before thyne enimies that lay waite for thee, and thy fal be incurable, euen vnto death.

" or, A double tongue: which ſayth and vnſaith, or ſpeaketh one thing & thinketh an other. The third tongue doo ſomme take for that whiche ſpeaketh neyther out of the newe nor the olde teſtament, but of their owne brayne.

The.xxix.Chapter.

1. How we ought to lende our money, and doo almes. 15. Of a faythful man answearyng for his freende. 22. Of liberalitie and hospitalitie.

A 1 Who so wyl shewe mercie, let him lende vnto his neyghbour: and he that is able, let hym keepe the commaundementes.
Deut.15.a. Luke.6.d.

2 Lende vnto thy neyghbour in tyme of his neede, and pay thou thy neyghbour agayne in due season.

3 Keepe thy wooꝛde, and deale faythfully with hym: and thou shalt alway finde the thyng that is necessarie foꝛ thee.

4 There haue benne many that when a thyng was lent them, reckened it to be found, and made them trauayle and labour that had helped them.

5 Whyle they receiue any thing, they kysse the handes of suche as geue them, and foꝛ their neyghbours good, they humble theyꝛ voyce: but when they shoulde pay agayne, they keepe it backe, and geue euil wooꝛdes, and make many excuses by reason of the tyme.

6 And though he be able, yet geueth he scarse the halfe agayne, & reckeneth the other to be found: and if he withhold not his money, yet hath he an enimie of hym, and that vndeserued: he payeth hym with cursing and rebuke, & geueth hym euyl wooꝛdes foꝛ his good deede.

B 7 There be many one whiche are not glad foꝛ to lende, not because of envy, but they feare to loose the thyng that they lende.

8 Yet haue thou patience with the simple, and withholde not mercy from hym.

9 Helpe the pooꝛe foꝛ the commaundements sake, and let hym not goe emptie from thee, because of his necessitie.

10 Loose thy money foꝛ thy bꝛother & neighbours sake, and burie it not vnder a stone where it rusteth and coꝛrupteth.

Mat.6.c. Luke.12.d 1.Tim.6.d. 11 Geather thy treasure after the commaundement of the hyghest, and so shal it bꝛyng thee moꝛe profite then golde.

Tobias.4.d 12 Lay vp thyne almes in the hande of the pooꝛe, and it shal keepe thee from al euyll.
or, in the secrete chambers.

13 A mans almes is as a purse with hym, and shal keepe a mans fauour as the apple of an eye: and afterwarde shal it aryse, and pay euery man his rewarde vpon his head.

C 14 It shal fight foꝛ thee agaynst thyne enimies better then the shielde of a giant oꝛ speare of the mightie.

15 A good honest man is a suretie foꝛ his neighbour: but a wicked person letteth hym comme to shame.

16 Foꝛget not the freendshyp of thy suertie: foꝛ he hath geuen his soule foꝛ thee.

17 The vngodly despiseth the good deede of his suretie.

18 (a) The wicked wyl not become suretie, and the vnthankeful and ignoꝛant leaueth his suretie in danger.
(a) As he is a foole that is suretie for euery man: so is he vngodly that in no case wyl be suretie for one man.

19 Somme man pꝛomiseth foꝛ his neyghbour: and when he hath lost his honestie, he shal foꝛsake hym.

20 Suretishyp hath destroyed many a rich man, and remooued them as the waues in the sea: mightie people hath it dꝛiuē away, and caused them to wander in strange coumtreys.

21 An vngodly man transgressyng the commaundement of the Loꝛde, shal fal into an euyl suretishyp: and though he foꝛge hym selfe to geat out, yet shal he fal into iudgement. D

22 Helpe thy neighbour out after thy power, and beware that thou thee selfe fal not in suche debt.

23 The cheefe thyng that keepeth thy lyfe, is water, and bꝛead, clothing, and lodging, to couer the shame. Eccle.39.

24 Better is it to haue a pooꝛe lyning in a mans owne house, then delicate fare amōg the strange.

25 Be it litle oꝛ muche that thou hast, holde thee content withal: and thou shalt not be blamed as a vagabounde. Psal.36.b 1.Tim.6.b. Heb.13.a.

26 Foꝛ a miserable lyfe is it to goe frō house to house, and where a man is (b) fremde, he dare not open his mouth.
(b) That is, a stranger without acquaintance or kynred.

27 Though one be lodged, and haue meate and dꝛinke, yet shal he be taken as vnwooꝛthy, and heare many bitter rough wooꝛdes, (namely thus,)

28 Goe thy way thou stranger, and pꝛepare a table foꝛ thee selfe, and feede me also of that thou hast. E

29 Gene place thou stranger to an honoꝛable man, my bꝛother commeth into my house: and so telleth hym the necessitie of his house.

30 These thinges are heauy to a man that hath vnderstanding, (namely) the foꝛbidding of the house, & that the lender casteth hym in the teeth.

he grope not after his neighbours doores.

Deut. 6.a. 2 He that teacheth his sonne, shal haue ioy in hym, and neede not to be ashamed of him among his acquaintance.

3 Who so enfourmeth and teacheth his sonne, greeueth the enimie: and before his freendes, he may haue ioy of hym.

4 Though his father dye, yet is he as though he were not dead: for he hath left one behynde hym that is like hym.

5 In his lyfe he sawe hym, and had ioy in him, and was not sory in his death, neither was he ashamed before the enimies.

6 For he left behinde hym an auenger agaynst his enimies, and a good doer vnto the freendes.

B 7 For the life of children he shal binde the woundes together, and his hart is greeued at euery crie.

8 An vntamed horse wil be harde, and a wanton childe wyl be wylful.

9 If thou bring vp thy sonne delicately, he shal make thee afrayde: and yf thou play with him, he shal bryng thee to heauinesse.

10 Laugh not with hym, lest thou weepe with him also, and lest thou gnashe with thy teeth at the last.

Eccle.7.c. 11 Geue hym no libertie in his youth, and excuse not his follie.

12 Bow downe his necke while he is yonng, hyt hym vpon the sydes whyle he is but a chylde: lest he waxe stubburne, and geue no more force of thee, and so shalt thou haue heauinesse of soule.

13 Teache thy childe, and be diligent therin, lest it be to thy shame.

14 Better is the poore being whole & strong, then a man to be riche, and not to haue his health.

15 Health and welfare is aboue al golde, and a whole body aboue al treasure.

16 There is no riches aboue a sounde body, and no ioy aboue the ioy of the hart.

17 Death is better then a bitter lyfe, and eternal rest better then continual sickenesse.

(a) Lyke as meate that is set vpon the graues of dead men is vnprofitable for that they eate it not: euen so, knowledge in him that openeth not his mouth to vtter it, is vnprofitable. Eccl.xli. wysedome that is hid.

18 (a) The good thynges that are put in a close mouth, are like as when meate is laid vpon the graue.

19 What good doth the offring vnto an idol? for he can neither eate, taste, nor smel: euen so is he that is chaced of the Lord, and beareth the rewardes of iniquitie.

20 He seeth with his eyes, and groneth like a gelded man that lieth with a virgin, and sigheth.

21 Geue not ouer thy mynde into heauinesse, & vexe not thee selfe in thine owne counsel.

22 The ioy and chearefulnesse of the hart is the lyfe of man, and a mans gladnesse is the prolongyng of his dayes.

23 Loue thine owne soule, and comfort thine hart, as for sorowe and heauinesse driue it farre from thee: for heauinesse hath slayne many a man, and bryngeth no profite.

24 Zeale and anger shorten the dayes of the lyfe, carefulnesse and sorowe bryng age before the tyme.

25 Vnto a mery hart, euery thyng hath a good taste that he eateth.

2 When one lyeth and taketh care, he waketh euer vp, lyke as a great sickenesse breaketh the sleepe.

3 The rich hath great labour in geathering his riches togeather, and then with the pleasure of his riches he taketh his reast, and is refreashed.

4 But who so laboureth and prospereth not, he is poore: and though he leaue of, yet is he a begger.

5 He that loueth riches, shal not be iustified: Eccle.8.a and who so foloweth corruption, shal haue yenough therof.

6 Many one are comme in great misfortune by the reason of golde, and haue founde theyr destruction before them.

7 It is a tree of falling vnto them that offer B

8 Blessed is the rich which is founde without blemishe, & hath not gonne after golde, nor hoped in money and treasures.

9 Where is there suche a one, and we shal commende hym, and cal him blessed? for woonderful thinges dooth he among his people.

10 Who so is tryed and sounde perfect in such thinges, shalbe commended and praysed: who might offende, and hath not offended? who coulde doo euil, and hath not donne it?

12 If thou sit at a great mans table, open not thy mouth wide vpon it, and say not, There is muche meate on it.

15 Ponder by thee selfe what thy neighbour would fayne haue, and be discrete in euery poynt.

16 Eate the thing that is set before thee mannerly as it becommeth a man, and eate not to muche, lest thou be abhorred.

17 Leaue thou of first of al, because of nurture, lest thou be he whom no man may satisfie, whiche may turne to thy decay.

18 When thou sittest among many menne, reache not thine hande out first of al, neyther cal thou first for drynke.

Eccle. 37.c. 19 O how wel content is a wise man with a litle wine? so that in sleepe thou shalt not be sicke thereof, nor feele any payne.

20 A sweete holsome sleepe shal suche a one haue, & feele no inward greefe: he ryseth vp betymes in the morning, and is wel at ease in hym selfe: but an vnsatiable eater sleepeth vnquietly, and hath ache and payne of the body.

D 21 If thou feelest that thou hast eaten to muche, aryse, goe thy way, caste it of thy stomacke, and take thy reast: and it shal ease thee, so that thou shalt bryng no sickneesse vnto thy body.

Rom. 12.c. 22 My sonne, heare me, and despise me not, and at the last thou shalt finde as I haue tolde thee: in al thy woorkes be diligent and quicke, so shal there no sickneesse happen vnto thee.

23 Who so is liberal in dealing out his meat, many men shal blesse him, and prayse him with theyr lippes, and the same is a sure token of his loue and faythfulneesse.

24 But he that is vnfaythful in meate, the whole citie shal complayne of hym: and that is a sure experience of his infidelitie and wyckednesse.

25 Shewe not thy valiantnesse in wine, for wine hath destroyed many a man.

26 The fyre proueth the harde yron: euen so doth wine proue the harts of the proud, when they be drunken.

Pro. 22.a. 27 Wine soberly drunken, quickeneth the lyfe of man: if thou drinkest it measurably, thou shalt be temperate: what is the lyfe of him that is ouercome with wine? what taketh away the lyfe? euen death.

E 28 Wine was made from the begynnyng to make men glad, and not for drunkennes: wine measurably drunken is a reioycing of the soule and body: a measurable drinking is healthy to soule and body.

29 But yf it be drunken with excesse, it maketh bitternesse, & sorowe vnto the minde.

30 Drunkennesse filleth the minde of the foolishe with shame and ruine, minisheth the strength, and maketh woundes.

31 Rebuke not thy neighbour at the wine, and despise hym not in his myrth: geue hym no dispiteful woordes, and presse not vpon hym with contrary sayeinges. Eccle. 20.a

2 And when thou hast done al thy duetie, sit thee downe, that thou mayest be mery with them, and receiue a crowne of honour.

3 Speake thou that art the elder, for it becommeth thee, but with sure knowledge: hynder not musicke.

4 Speake not where there is no audience: and powre not foorth wisedome out of time at an importunitie. Eccle. 3.a

5 Like as the carbuncle stone shyneth that is set in golde: so dooth a song garnishe the wine feast.

6 And as the Smaradge that is set in golde: so is the sweetenesse of musicke by the myrth of wine.

7 Geue eare and be stil, and for thy good behauour thou shalt be loued. B

8 Thou young man speake that becommeth thee, and that is profitable, and yet scarse when thou art twise asked.

9 Comprehend muche with fewe woordes, in many thinges be as one that is ignorant: geue eare, and holde thy tongue withal.

10 If thou be among men of high auctoritie, desire not to compare thee selfe vnto them: and when an elder speaketh, make not thou many woordes therein.

11 Before the thunder, goeth lyghtnyng: and before nurture and shamefastenesse goeth loue and fauour.

12 Stande vp betymes, and be not the last: but geat thee home soone.

13 And there take thy pastime, and doo what thou wilt: so that thou doo no euyl, and desie no man.

14 But for al thinges geue thankes vnto hym that hath made thee, and replenished thee with his goodes. C

15 Who so feareth the Lorde, wil receiue his doctrine: and they that geat them to hym betimes, shal finde grace.

16 He that seeketh the lawe, shalbe filled withal: as for him that is but faygned, he wil be offended thereat.

17 They that feare the Lord, shal fynde the iudgement: and their righteousnesse shalbe kindled kyndled as a lyght.

18 An vngodly man wyl not be reformed, but can helpe hym selfe with the example of others in his purpose.

19 A man of vnderstandyng despiseth no good counsel: but a wylde and proud body hath no feare, yea euen when he hath dealt rashly with another man: but his owne doynges shalbe his rebuke.

D 20 My sonne, doo nothyng without aduisement: so shal it not repent thee after the deede:

21 Goe not in the way where thou mayest fal, nor where thou mayest stumble against the stone: agayne, neyther trust thou to the way that is playne.

22 And beware of thine owne children, and take heede of them that be of thyne owne housholde.

23 In al thy woorkes put thy trust in God from thy whole hart: for that is the keepyng of the commaundementes.

24 Who so beleeueth Gods woorde, taketh heede to the commaundementes: and he that putteth his trust in the Lorde, shal want nothyng.

The. xxxiii. Chapter.

I. The deliuerance of him that feareth God. 12. Man is in the hande of God, as the earth is in the hande of the potter.

A 1 There shal no euil happen vnto him that feareth God: but when he is in temptation the Lorde shal deliuer hym, and keepe hym from euil.

2 A wyse man hateth not the lawe, but an hypocrite (a) is as a shyp in ragyng water.

3 A man of vnderstanding geueth credence vnto the lawe of God, and the lawe is faythful vnto him.

4 Be sure of the matter, then take thereof: be first wel instruct, then mayest thou geue answeare.

5 The hart of the foolishe is lyke a cart wheele, and his thoughtes runne about lyke the axeltree.

6 (b) Lyke as a wylde horse that neyeth vnder euery one that sitteth vpon him, so it is with a scorneful freende.

7 Why dooth one day excel another, seeyng al ỹ dayes of the yeere comme of the sunne?

8 The wysdome of the Lord hath so parted them a sunder, and so hath he ordeyned the tymes and solemne feastes.

9 Somme of them hath he chosen and halowed before other dayes.

10 And al menne are made of the grounde, and out of the earth of Adam: in the multitude of science hath the lord sundred them, and made their wayes of diuers fashions.

11 Somme of them hath he blessed, made much of them, halowed them, and claymed them to hym selfe: but somme of them hath he cursed, brought them low, and put them out of their estate.

12 Like as the clay is in the potters hande, and al the ordering thereof at his pleasure: so are menne also in the hande of hym that made them, so that he may geue them as lyketh him best.

13 Agaynst euyl is good, and agaynst death is lyfe: so is the vngodly agaynst suche as feare God.

14 Beholde, these are the woorkes of the hi- C ghest, and there are euen two agaynst two, and one set agaynst another.

15 I am awaked vp last of al, as one that geathereth after in harueste, in the gyftes of God, and in his blessyng I am increased, and haue filled my wyne presse lyke a grape geatherer.

16 Beholde howe I haue not laboured onlye for mee selfe, but for al suche as loue nurture and wysedome. Eccle. 24. B

17 Heare me, O ye great menne of the people, and hearken with your eares ye rulers of the congregation.

18 Geue not thy sonne, & wyfe, thy brother, and freende, power ouer thee whyle thou lyuest: and gene not away thy substance and good to another, lest it repent thee, and thou be faine to aske of them agayne.

19 As long as thou liuest and hast breath, (c) set no man change thee.

20 For better it is thy chyldren to pray thee, then that thou shouldest be fayne to looke in their handes. (c) Let no man vse thee as his seruant, when thou hast committed al thy goods into his hande.

21 In al thy woorkes be excellent, that thy honour be neuer stayned.

22 At the time when thou shalt ende thy dayes and finishe thy lyfe, distribute thyne inheritances.

23 The fodder, the whyppe, and the burden D belongeth vnto the asse: meate, correction, and woorke vnto the seruant.

24 If thou set thy seruant to labour, thou shalt finde rest: but if thou let him goe idle, he shal seeke libertie.

25 The yoke and the whippe bowe downe the harde necke: but tame thou thy euyl seruant with bondes and correction.

26 Send him to labour, that he goe not idle: for idleneesse bringeth much euyl.

27 Set hym to woorke, for that belongeth vnto him, and becommeth him wel.

28 If he be not obedient, bynde his feete: but doo not to much vnto him in any wyse, and without discretion doo nothyng.

29 If thou haue a (faythful) seruant, let him be vnto thee as thyne owne soule: en-

(a) As a shyp in the surgyng wanes without a guide, dasheth against the rockes, or runneth on the sand: so the hypocrite that is not stayde vpon Gods woorde, is ouerthrowen with euery blast of trouble and temptation.

(b) As a horse caryeth euery man, and yet neyeth after euery mare: so is a scorneful freende that wyl flatter & serue euery man, and yet laugh hym to scorne.

treate hym as a brother, for in blood hast thou gotten hym: yf thou haue a seruant, holde hym as thee selfe, for thou hast neede of hym, as of thee selfe.

30 If thou entreatest him euil, and keepest him harde, and makest hym to be proude, and to runne away from thee, thou canst not tel what way thou shalt seeke hym.

The.xxxiiii.Chapter.

1. Of dreames, diuinations, and enchauntmentes. 6. We ought to confute vayne hope, and lyeing. 13. The prayse of them that feare God.

A " or, dreames make fooles to haue wynges: for honour, ryches, pleasures, and suche lyke, are but as dreames, wherein fooles doo glorie: for when they awake from their long sleepe, this thing shalbe vanquished cleane away.

1 VAnwise people beguile them selues with vayne & deceiptful hope, " and fooles trust in dreames.

2 Who so regardeth dreames, is like hym that wyl take holde of a shadowe, and folowe after the winde.

3 Euen so is it with the appearynges of dreames: before the face is the lykenesse of a face.

4 Who can be cleansed of the vncleane? or what trueth can be spoken of a lyar?

5 Soothsayeyng, witchcraft, sorcerie, and dreamyng, is but vayne: lyke as when a woman trauaileth with chylde, and hath many fantasies in her hart.

6 Where as suche visions comme not of God, set not thyne hart vpon them.

7 For dreames haue deceiued many a man, and they fayled that put their trust therin.

8 The lawe shalbe fulfilled without lyes, and wisedome is sufficient to a faythful mouth: what knowledge hath he that is not tryed?

9 A wyse man that is wel instruct, vnderstandeth muche: and he that hath good experience, can talke of wysedome.

10 He that hath no experience knoweth litle, and he that erreth, causeth muche wickednesse: he that is not tryed, what thinges knoweth he? he that hath benne deceiued, is ful of subtelties.

11 When I was yet in errour, I learned muche also: yea I was so learned, that I coulde not expresse it al, 12 And came oft in peryl of death therfore, tyl I was deliuered from it through the grace of God.

13 Nowe I see that they whiche feare God haue the ryght spirite, for their hope standeth in him that can helpe them: and the eyes of the Lord are on them that loue him.

¶ 14 Who so feareth the Lorde, standeth in awe of no man, and is not afrayde: for the Lorde is his hope and comfort.

15 Blessed is the soule of hym that feareth the Lorde: in whom putteth he his trust? who is his strength?

16 For the eyes of the Lorde haue respect vnto them that loue him, he is their mightie protection and strong ground, a defence for the heat, a refuge for the hot noone day, a succour for stumblyng, and an helpe for fallyng.

17 He setteth vp the soule, and lightneth the eyes: he geueth health, lyfe, and blessyng.

18 He that geueth an offeryng of vnrighteous good, his offering is refused: and the scorneful dealynges of the vnryghteous please not God.

19 The Lorde is theirs only that pacientlye abyde him in the way of the trueth and of ryghteousnesse.

20 The hyghest dooth not alowe the giftes of the wicked: and God hath no delight in the offeringes of the vngodly, neyther may sinne be reconciled in the multitude of oblations.

21 Who so bryngeth an offering out of the goodes of the poore: dooth euen as one that killeth the sonne before the fathers eyes.

22 The bread of the needeful is the lyfe of the poore: he that defraudeth hym therof, is a man of blood.

23 Who so robbeth his neyghbour of his liuing, dooth as great sinne as though he slue him to death: he that defraudeth the labourer of his hyre, is a blood shedder.

24 When one buildeth and another breaketh downe: what profite haue they then but labour?

25 (a) When one prayeth and another curseth, whose voyce wyl the Lorde heare?

26 He that washeth him selfe because of a dead body, and then toucheth the dead agayne, what dooth his washing?

27 So is it with a man that fasteth for his sinnes, and dooth them agayne: who wyll heare his prayer, or what dooth his fastyng helpe hym?

(a) Whē one riche man hauyng gotten his goodes by robberie, extortion, briberie, or craft, & subteltie, vsurie or simonie, or withholding seruantes or labourers wages, & of that wyl offer a gyft vnto God that he may heare his prayer: on the other part, the poore which is oppressed or defrauded, prayeth to God to see and iudge his caule: whose prayer thinke you wyl god most cheefely heare?

The.xxxv.Chapter.

Exod. 33.a. 4 Thou shalt not appeare emptie before the Lorde:

Gen.4.a. 5 For al suche is donne because of the commaundement of God.

6 The offeryng of the ryghteous maketh the aulter fat, and a sweete smel is it before the highest.

ℬ 7 The offeryng of the ryghteous is acceptable vnto God, and shal neuer be forgotten.

8 Geue God his honour with a cheareful hart: and keepe not backe the firstlynges of thyne handes.

9 In al thy gyftes shewe a cheareful countenance, and halowe thy tythes vnto God with gladnesse.

2.Cor.9.b Tobi.4.b.

10 Geue vnto God accordyng as he hath enriched & prospered thee: & looke what thine hande is able, geue with a cheareful eye.

11 For the Lorde recompenceth and geueth thee seuen tymes as muche agayne.

12 Geue no vnryghteous gyftes, for suche wyl he not receiue: beware of wrong offeringes, for the Lord is a ryghteous iudge, and regardeth no mans person.

13 He accepteth not the person of the poore: but he heareth the prayer of the oppressed.

℃ 14 He despiseth not the desyre of the fatherlesse, nor the widowe when she poureth out her prayer before hym.

Judith.4.b.

15 Dooth not God see the teares that runne downe the cheekes of the wydowe? or heareth he not the complaynt ouer suche as make her to weepe? For from her cheekes doo the teares goe vp vnto heauen, and the Lorde whiche heareth them, dooth accept them.

Lamen.3.d. 16 Who so serueth God after his pleasure, shalbe accepted: and his prayer reacheth vnto the cloudes.

14 The prayer of hym that humbleth hym selfe, goeth through the cloudes: tyl she come nigh she wyl not be comforted, nor goe her way til the highest god haue respect vnto her, geue true sentence, & performe the iudgement.

ℒ 18 And the Lorde wyl not be slacke in comyng, nor tary long, til he haue smytten in sunder the backes of the vnmercyful, and auenged him selfe of the heathen, tyl he haue taken away the multitude of the cruel, and broken the scepter of the vnryghteous, til he geue euery man after his workes, and rewarde them after their doynges, til he haue deliuered his people, mayntayned their cause, & reioyced them in his mercy.

19 O how fayre a thing is mercy in the time of anguishe and trouble? it is like a cloude of rayne that commeth in ỹ time of drouth.

3 Lyft vp thyne hande ouer the outlandishe heathen, that they may learne to knowe thy myght and power.

4 Lyke as thou art halowed in vs before them: so bryng to passe that thou mayest be magnified also in them before vs.

5 That they may knowe thee, like as we knowe thee: for there is none other God but only thou, O Lorde.

6 Renue the tokens, and change the woonderous woorkes: shewe thyne hande and thy ryght arme gloriously.

7 Rayse vp thyne indignation, and poure out thy wrath: take away the aduersarie, and smyte the enimie. ℬ

8 Make the tyme short, remember the couenant, that thy woonderous woorkes may be praysed.

2 Remayneth not there heauinesse vnto death, when a companion and frende is turned to an enimie.

3 O most wicked presumption: frō whence art thou sprong vp to couer the earth with falshood and deceipt?

4 There is some companion which in prosperitie reioyceth with his frend: but in the time of trouble he taketh part against him.

" or, There is somme companion that helpeth his frende for the bellies sake, and taketh vp the buckler agaynst the enimie.

5 " There is some companion that mourneth with his frende for the bellies sake: but when trouble commeth, he taketh hold of the shielde.

6 Forgeat not thy frende in thy minde, and thinke vpon him in thy riches.

7 Seeke no counsel at thy kinsmen, & hyde thy counsel from suche as beare thee no good wyl.

8 Euery counseller prayseth his counsel: nenertheleſſe, there is some that counselleth but for his owne profite.

B 9 Beware of the counseller, and be aduised afore wherto thou wylt vse hym (for he wil counsel for hym selfe) lest he cast the lot vpon thee, 19 And say vnto thee, Thy way and purpose is good: and afterwarde he stande agaynst thee, and looke what shal become of thee.

11 Aske no counsel at him that suspecteth thee for an enimie, and hide thy counsel from suche as hate thee: aske no counsel for religion of hym that is without religion, nor for iustice of hym that hath no iustice: aske no counsel at a woman, touching her of whom she is ielous, nor at a fearefull and faynt harted body in matters of warre: or at a marchant how deare he wil cheape thy wares toward his: or at a buier, of selling: or at an enuious man, of thankesgeuyng: or at the vnmercyful, of louing kindnesse: or at an vnhoneſt man, of honestie: or at the slouthful, of woorking: or at an hyrelyng whiche hath no house, of profite or wealth: or at an idle body, of much labour: take no suche folkes to counsel.

12 But be diligent to seeke counsel at a vertuous man that feareth God, suche a one as thou knowest to be a keeper of the commaundementes, which hath a mynde after thyne owne mynde, & is sory for thee when thou stumblest.

13 And holde thy counsel fast in thyne hart: for there is no man more faythful to keepe it, then thou thee selfe.

14 For a mans minde is sometyme disposed to tel out more, then seuen watchemen that sit aboue in an high place loking about thē. C

15 And aboue al this pray the highest, that he wyl leade thy way in faythfulnesse and treuth.

17 Before al thy woorkes aske counsel first: and or euer thou doest any thyng be wel aduised.

16 There be foure thynges that declare a changed hart, whereout there springeth euil and good, death and lyfe, and a maisterful tongue that bableth muche.

18 Some man is apt and wel instructed in many thinges, and yet very vnprofitable vnto hym selfe.

19 Some man there is that can geue wyse and prudent counsel, and yet is he hated, and continueth a begger, 20 For that grace is not geuen him of God to be accepted.

21 Another is robbed of al wysedome: yet D is he wyse vnto hym selfe, and the fruite of vnderstandyng is commendable in his mouth.

22 A wise man maketh his people wise, and the fruites of his wysedome fayle not.

23 A wyse man shalbe plentcously blessed of God: and al they that see hym, shal speake good of hym.

24 The lyfe of man standeth in ỹ number of the the dayes: but the dayes of Israel are innumerable.

25 A wyse man shal obtayne faythfulnesse and credence among his people, and his name shalbe perpetual.

26 My sonne, proue thy soule in thee selfe, and yf thou see any euil thyng, geue it not vnto her:

1.Cor.6.c. 27 For al thinges are not profitable for al menne, neither hath euery soule pleasure in euery thyng.

Eccle.30.b 28 Be not greedy in euery eating, and be not to hastie vpon al meates.

29 For excesse of meates bringeth sickenesse, and gluttonie commeth at the last to an vnmeasurable heate.

30 Through surfet haue many one perished: but he that dieteth hym selfe temperately, prolongeth his lyfe.

The.xxxviii.Chapter.

A Phisition is commendable. 16. To bury the dead. 24. The wisedome of him that is learned.

a 1 HOnour the phisition, honour him with that honour that is due vnto hym, because of necessitie, for god hath created hym.

2 For of the hyghest commeth medicine, and he shal receiue giftes of the kyng.

3 The wisedome of the phisition bringeth him to great worshyp, and in the sight of the great menne of this world he shalbe honourably taken.

4 The Lorde hath created medicine of the earth: and he that is wise will not abhorre Exod.16.b. it.

6 The Lord hath geuen menne wysedome and vnderstandyng, that he might be ho-

7 With suche doth he heale menne, and taketh away their payne:

8 Of suche doth the Potheearie make a confection, yet can no man perfourme al his woorkes: for of the Lord commeth prosperous wealth ouer al the earth.

9 My sonne, despise not this in thy sickenesse: but pray vnto the Lorde, and he shal make

2.Chr.16.d thee whole.

10 Leaue of from sinne, and order thy handes aryght, clense thyne hart from al wickednesse.

11 Geue a sweete sauoured offering, and the fyne flowre for a token of remembrance: make the offeryng fat, as one that geueth the first fruites.

12 And geue roome to the Phisition, for the Lorde hath created hym, let hym not goe from thee, for thou hast neede of hym.

13 The houre may comme, that the sicke may be helped through them, c 14 When they pray vnto the Lorde, that he may recouer and get health to lyue longer.

15 He that sinneth before his maker, shal fal into the handes of the phisition.

16 My sonne, bring tooth thy teares ouer the dead, and begyn to mourne, as if thou haddest suffered great harme thee selfe: and then couer his body after a conuenient maner, and dispise not his buryal. Eccle.22.c.

17 Enforce thee selfe to weepe, and prouoke thee selfe to mourne, and make lamentation expediently, & be earnest in mourning, and vse lamentation as he is worthy, and that a day or two, lest thou be euyl spoken of: and then comfort thee selfe, because of the heauynesse. 2.Thess.4.

18 For of heauynesse commeth death, the heauynesse of the hart breaketh strength. Prou.xii.d.

19 Heauynesse and powertie, grieueth ỹ hart in temptation and offence.

20 Take no heauinesse to hart, driue it away, and remember the last thynges.

21 Forgeat it not, for there is no turnyng agayne, thou shalt doo him no good, but hurt thee selfe.

22 Remember his iudgement, thyne also shalbe lykewyse: vnto me yesterday, vnto thee to day. 2.Sa.12.c.

d 23 Let the remembrance of the dead ceasse in his rest, and comfort thee agayne ouer him, seeing his spirite is departed from hym.

24 The wysedome of the scribe is at conuenient time of rest: and he that ceasseth from exercises and labour, shalbe wyse.

25 Howe can he get wysedome that holdeth the plough, and he that hath pleasure in the goade and in driuing the oxen, and is occupied in their labours, and his talke is but of the breedyng of bullockes?

26 He setteth his hart to make forowes, and is diligent to geue the kine fodder.

27 So is euery carpenter also a woorkemaister that laboureth stil nyght and day: he caruyth, graueth, cutteth out, and his desire is in sundry cunnyng thynges, his hart imagineth howe he may cunnyngly cast an image, his diligence also and watchyng perfourmeth the woorke.

28 The iron smyth in lyke maner bydeth by his stithie, and doth his diligence to labour the iron: the vapour of the fire burneth his fleashe, & he muste fyght with the heat of ỹ furnace: the noyse of the hammer euer soundeth in his eares, & his eyes looke stil vpon the thyng that he maketh: he hath set his minde therevpon, that he wil make out his woorke, and therefore he watcheth howe he may set it out, and bryng it to an ende.

29 So dooth the potter set by his woorke: he turneth the wheele about with his feete, he is diligent and careful in al dooynges, and maketh his woorke in number.

30 He fashioneth the clay with his arme, & with his feete he tempereth it: his hart imagineth howe he may make it pleasant, and his diligence is to cleanse the ouen.

31 Al these hope in theyr handes, and euery one thynketh to be cunning in his woorke.

32 Without these may not the citie be maynteyned, inhabited, nor occupied:

33 Yet comme they not high in the congregation, neither sit they vpon the iudgement seates: they vnderstande not the couenant of the lawe, they can not declare equitie and iudgement, they can not finde out the darke sentences.

34 But through them shal the creature of the worlde be maynteyned, theyr desire concerneth only the woorke & labour of cunning.

The.xxxix.Chapter.

1. A wyse man. 16. the woorkes of God. 24. Vnto the good, thinges do profite: but vnto the euil, euen good thinges are euil.

1 HE that applyeth his minde to vnderstande the lawe of God, dooth diligently seeke out the wisdome of them of the olde time, and exerciseth him selfe in the prophetes.

A

2 He keepeth the sayeinges of famous men, and preasseth to the vnderstanding of darke sentences of wysedome.

3 He seeketh out the mysterie of secrete sayeinges, and exerciseth hym selfe therin continually.

4 He dooth service among great menne, and appeareth before the prince: he goeth into a strange countrey, and trauayleth through it: looke what good or euyl is among men, he prooueth and seeketh it out.

5 He purposeth in his hart to resort early vnto the Lorde that made hym, and to pray before the hyghest GOD: he openeth his mouth in prayer, and praieth for his sinnes.

6 When the great Lorde wyl, he shalbe fylled with the spirite of vnderstandyng, that he may then powre out wyse sentences, and geue thankes vnto the Lord in his prayer.

B 7 He shal order his deuise, and leade his knowledge a ryght, and geue hym vnderstanndyng of secrete thynges.

8 He shal shewe forth the science of his learnyng, and reioyce in the couenant of the lawe of the Lorde:

9 The whole congregation shal commende his wysedome, and it shal neuer be put out: the remembrance of hym shal neuer be forgotten, and his name shal continue from one generation to another.

10 His wysedome shalbe spoken of among the people, and the whole congregation shal openly declare his prayse. Eccle.44.5

11 Whyle he lyueth, he hath a greater name then a thousande beside: and after death, the same name remayneth vnto hym.

12 Yet wyl I speake of mo menne of vnderstandyng, for I am ful as the moone.

13 Hearken vnto me ye holy vertuous chyldren, bryng foorth fruite as the rose that is planted by the brookes of the feelde.

14 And geue ye a sweete smelle as incense, flourishe as the rose garden, sing a song of prayse, & geue thankes vnto God ouer al his woorkes. C

15 Geue magnificence vnto his name, and set him foorth in his prayse with your lippes, and with musicke and harmonie: yea euen with the song of your lippes, with harpes and playeing, and in geuing thankes vnto hym, say after this manner:

16 Al the woorkes of the Lord are exceeding good, and al his commaundementes are meete and conuenient in due season. Gen.1.d.

17 A man neede not to say, what is that? what is that? for at a time conuenient they shal al be sought: at his commaundement the water was as a wall, and at the woord of his mouth the water stoode stil.

18 In his commaundement is euery thyng acceptable and reconciled, and his healthy can not be minished.

19 The woorkes of al fleashe are before him, and there is nothyng hyd from his eyes. D

20 He seeth from euerlastyng to euerlasting, and there is nothyng to woonderful or high vnto him.

21 A man neede not to say then, What is this, or that? for he hath made al thynges to doo good vnto man.

22 His blessing shal runne ouer as a streame, & moysture the earth like a fludde of water.

23 Like as he maketh the drouth: so shal his wrath fal vpon the heathen.

24 His wayes are playne and ryght vnto the iuste: but the vngodly stumble at them.

25 (a) For the good, are good thynges created from the beginnyng, and euyl thinges for the vngodly.

26 Al thynges necessarie for the lyfe of man, are created from the beginnyng: water, fire, iron, and salt, meale, wheate, & honye, mylke, and wine, oyle and clothing:

(a) The creatures of god are good by creation. But as good men vse them to the glory of god, the profite of others, and their owne necessitie: so the vngodly doo not acknowledge them as the good gyfts of god, but abuse them eyther in riot and excesse, or els in miserable keping of them, take them for their god.

27 Al

27 Al theſe thynges are created for the beſt to the faithful: but to the vngodly ſhal al theſe thynges be turned to hurt & harme.

28 There be ſpirites that are created for vengeance, and in their rigorouſneſſe haue they faſtened their tormentes: in the tyme of the end they ſhal powre out their ſtrēgth, and " pacifie the wrath of hym that made them.

Mat.25.d. " or, accomplyſhe.

Eccle.40.b 29 Fyre, hayle, hunger, and death: al theſe thynges are created for vengeance.

30 The teeth of wilde noyſome beaſtes, the ſcorpions, ſerpentes, and the ſwoorde, are created alſo for vengeance, to the deſtruction of the vngodly.

31 They ſhalbe glad to doo his commaundementes, and when neede is, they ſhalbe redy vpon earth: and when their houre is comme, they ſhal not ouerpaſſe the commaundement of the Lorde.

32 Therefore haue I taken a good courage vnto me from the begynnyng, and haue thought to put theſe thinges in writing, and to leaue them behynde me:

Gen.vi.b 33 Al the woorkes of the Lorde are good, and he geueth euery one in due ſeaſon, and when neede is.

34 So that no man neede not to ſay, This is woorſe then that: for in due ſeaſon they are al pleaſant and good.

35 And therefore prayſe the Lorde with whole hart and mouth, and geue thankes vnto his name.

The.xl.Chapter.

I. Many miſeries lyght in a mans lyfe. II. Al thynges paſſe away, but a firme and ſtable faith remayneth. 14. Of the bleſſyng of the righteous, and prerogatiue of the feare of God.

A 1 A Great trauayle is created for al men, and an heauy yoke vpon al the ſonnes of Adam, from the day that they goe out of their mothers wombe, til they be buryed in (the earth) the mother of al thynges.

2 (Namely) their thoughtes and imaginations, feare of the hart, counſel, meditations, longing and deſyring the day of death:

3 From the hyghest that ſitteth vpon the glorious ſeate, vnto the loweſt and moſt ſimple vpon the earth.

4 From hym that is gloriouſly arayed, and weareth a crowne, vnto hym that is but homely and ſimply clothed.

5 There is nothyng but wrath, zeale, feareſulneſſe, vnquietneſſe, and feare of death, rigorouſneſſe, anger, and ſtryfe: and in the night when one ſhould reſt and ſleepe vpon his bed, the ſleepe changeth his vnderſtandyng and knowledge.

6 A litle or nothyng is his reſt in the ſleepe, aſwel as in the day of labour: he feareth and is diſquicted in the viſion of his hart, as one that runneth out of a battel.

7 And in the tyme of health he awaketh, & B marueyleth that the feare was nothyng.

8 Such thynges happen vnto al fleaſh, both man and beaſt: but ſeuen folde to the vngodly.

9 Moreouer, death, bloodſheddyng, ſtryfe, & ſwoorde, oppreſſion, hunger, deſtruction, and pounyſhment: Eccle.39.f

10 Theſe thinges are al created againſt the vngodly, and for their ſakes came the flood alſo. Gen.vii.b

11 Al that is of the earth, ſhal turne to earth agayne, and al waters ebbe agayne into the ſea. Gen.iii.d.

12 Al bribes and vnrighteouſneſſe ſhalbe put away: but faythfulneſſe and trueth ſhal endure for euer.

13 The ſubſtance and goodes of the vngodly ſhalbe dryed vp, and ſincke away as a water flood, (a) and they ſhal make a ſound lyke a great thunder in the rayne. C (a) That is, with great tumult and trouble ſhal they be diſperſed, and ſcattered abrode like as the roaryng thunder.

14 Like as the righteous reioyceth when he openeth his hand: ſo ſhal the tranſgreſſours be faynt when their goodes vaniſhe and conſume away.

15 The children of the vngodly ſhal not obtayne many branches:

16 And the vncleane rootes vpon the hygh rockes, ſhalbe rooted out before the graſſe by the water ſide, & vpon the riuer bankes.

17 Freendlyneſſe and liberalitie in the increaſe and bleſſyng of God, is lyke a paradiſe and garden of pleaſure: ſuche mercie alſo and kindneſſe endureth for euer. 1.Tim.6.h. Phil. iiii.b.

18 To labour and to be content with that a man hath, is a ſweete pleaſant lyfe: and that is, to finde a treaſure of al treaſures.

19 To begeat chyldren and to repayre the citie, maketh a perpetual name: but an honeſt woman is more worth then they both.

20 Wine and minſtrelſie reioyceth the hart: but the loue of wyſedome is aboue them both.

21 Pypyng and harping make a ſweete noyſe: but a freendly tongue goeth beyonde them both. D

22 Thyne eye deſyreth fauour and beautie: but a greene ſeede tyme, rather then they both.

23 A freende and companion comme togeather at opportunitie: but aboue them both is a wyfe that agreeth with her huſbande.

24 Brethren and helpers are profitable in tyme of trouble: but almes ſhal deliuer more then they both.

25 Golde

25 Golde and syluer fasten the feete: but a good counsel is more pleasant then they both.

26 Temporal substance and strength lift vp the minde: but the feare of the Lorde more then they both: the feare of the Lorde wanteth nothyng, and needeth no helpe.

27 The feare of the Lord is a pleasant garden of blessyng, and nothyng so beautiful as it is.

28 My sonne leade not a beggers lyfe: for better it were to dye then to begge.

29 The lyfe of hym that looketh vpon another mans table, is not to be counted for a lyfe, for he defyleth his soule in other mens meate: but a wyse and wel nurtured man wyl beware thereof.

30 Beggyng is sweete in the mouth of the vnshamefast: but in his belly there burneth a fire.

The.xli. Chapter.

1. Of the remembrance of death. 3. Death is not to be feared. 8. A curse vpon them that forsake the lawe of God.

A (a) Temporal death is bitter to foure sortes of mē: one to infidels that looke for no lyfe after this. Seconde to them that set their pleasure in theyr ryches from whence they nowe must needes depart: thirde, to them that neuer tasteth of the crosse: fourth, to thē that be strōg and lusty in body, for that they strongly struggle with death: but sweete vnto the cōtrary. " or, there is no defence for lyfe agaynst the graue.

1 O Death (a) howe bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that seeketh rest and comfort in his substance and riches, vnto the man that hath nothing to vexe him, and that hath prosperitie in al thynges, yea vnto hym that yet is able to receiue meate?

2 O death, how acceptable and good is thy iudgement vnto the nedeful, and vnto hym whose strength fayleth, and that is nowe in his laste age, and that in al thynges is ful of care & fearefulnesse, vnto him also that is in dispayre, and hath no hope nor patience?

3 Be not thou afrayde of death, remember them that haue benne before thee, and that comme after thee: this is the iudgement of the Lorde ouer al fleashe.

4 And why wouldest thou be agaynst this pleasure of the hyghest? Whether it be ten, an hundred, or a thousande yeares, " death asketh not howe long one hath lyued.

5 The chyldren of the vngodly are abominable chyldren, and so are they that kepe companie with the vngodly.

6 The inheritance of vngodly chyldren shal comme to nought, and their posteritie shal haue a perpetual shame and confusion.

7 The chyldren complayne of an vngodly father: and why? for his sake they are rebuked and dispised.

8 Wo be vnto you, O ye vngodly, whiche haue forsaken the lawe of the hyghest God: for though ye doo encrease, yet shal you perishe.

9 If ye doo lyue, ye shalbe accursed: yf ye dye, the curse shalbe your portion.

10 Al that is of the earth, shal turne to earth agayne: so doth the vngodly also out of the curse into destruction. Eccle.xl.b

11 Though mēne mourne for their body: yet the name of the vngodly shalbe put out, for it is nothyng worth.

12 Labour to get thee a good name: for that shal continue surer by thee then a thousand great treasures of golde. Eccle.xxii.a

13 A good lyfe hath a number of dayes: but a good name endureth euer.

14 My chyldren keepe wysedome in peace: for wisdome that is hid, and a treasure that is not seene, what profite is in them both?

15 A man that hydeth his foolishnesse, is better then a man that hydeth his wysedome.

16 Therefore be ye turned at my woordes: for it is not good in al thynges and alway to be ashamed: (a) true fayth must proue and measure it.

17 Be ashamed of whoredome before father and mother: be ashamed to leasing before the prince and menne of auctoritie:

18 Of synne, before the iudge and ruler: of offence, before the cōgregation and people: of vnryghteousnesse, before a companion and freende:

19 Of theft, before thy neyghbours: as for the trueth of God and his couenant, be not ashamed therof: (b) be ashamed to lye with thyne elbowes vpon the bread, or to be reprooued for geuyng or takyng:

20 And of silence, vnto them that salute thee: be ashamed to looke vpon harlots:

21 Be ashamed to turne away thy face from thy kynseman, be ashamed " to take and not to geue:

22 Be ashamed also to looke vpon another mans wyfe, and to make many trifling woordes with her mayden, or to stande by her bedde side.

23 Be ashamed to vpbrayde thy freende: when thou geuest any thyng, cast him not in the teeth withal:

24 Or to repeat the matter that thou hast heard, or to disclose the secrete woordes: so shalt thou wel be shamefast, and shalt finde fauour with al menne.

(a) True faith dooth al thinges in season and opportunitie, when and howe euery one ought to be ordered. For strong meat & hard bread nourisheth some, and strangleth other: somme one hearbe healeth somme mans disease, and increaseth somme agayne. (b) Beyng bidden to an other mans table, presume not to the hyghest place, be not so homely that thou lye with thyne elbowes vpō the table ouer thy bread for that is vnmanerly. Luke.xiiii. " or, to take away a gyft from any man.

The.xlii. Chapter.

1. The lawe must be taught. 9. A daughter. 14. A woman. 18. God knoweth al thinges, yea euen the secretes of the hart.

1 Of these thinges be not ashamed, and accept no person to offende. (Namely of these thinges be not ashamed:) A

2 Of the lawe of God, of the couenant, of iudgement to bryng the vngodly from his vngodlyneſſe vnto ryghteouſneſſe, and to make him a good man,

3 To deale faythfully with thy neyghbour and companyon, to diſtribute the heritage vnto the frendes:

4 To be diligent to keepe true meaſure and weyght: to be content whether thou geatteſt muche or litle:

5 To deale truely with tempozal goodes in bying & ſelling, to bring vp chyldren with diligence, to cozrect an euyl ſeruant:

6 To keepe that thyne is from an euyl wyfe, to ſet a locke where many hands are:

7 What thou delinereſt and geueſt out to be kept, to tel it, and to wey it: to write vp al thy outgeuing and receiuing:

8 To enfourme the vnlearned and vnwyſe, of the aged that are iudged of the young: yf thou be diligent in theſe thinges, truely thou ſhalt be learned and wyſe, and accepted of al menne.

9 The daughter maketh the father to watch ſecretly, and the carefulneſſe that he hath for her taketh away his ſleepe, yea in her youth, leſt ſhe ſhould ouergrowe him, and when ſhe hath an huſbande leſt ſhe ſhould be hated:

10 Leſt ſhe ſhoulde be defiled or rauiſhed in her virginitie, or gotten with chylde in her fathers houſe: or when ſhe commeth to the man, leſt ſhe behaue her ſelfe not ryght, or continue vnfruiteful.

11 If thy daughter be wanton, keepe her ſtrayghtly, leſt ſhe cauſe thyne enimies to laugh thee to ſcorne, and the whole citie to geue thee an euyll repozt: and ſo thou be fayne to heare thy ſhame of euery man, and be confounded before al the people.

12 Beholde not euery bodyes beautie, and haue not muche dwellyng among women. Eccle.25.

13 For lyke as the wooznne and moth commeth out of clothyng: ſo dooth wickednelſe comme of women. Gen.3.d.

14 It is better to be with an euyl man, then with a freendly wyfe that putteth one to ſhame and rebuke. ℭ

15 I wyl remember the wooznes of the lord, and declare the thyng that I haue ſeene: In the wooznes of the Lord are his wooznes.

16 The ſunne ouerlooketh all thynges with his ſhine, * and al his wooznes are fulle of the clearneſſe thereof.

17 Hath not the Lozde bzought to paſſe, that his ſaintes ſhoulde telle out al his woonderous wooznes whiche the almyghtie Lozde hath ſtabliſhed? al thynges endure in his glozy.

18 He ſeeketh out the grounde of the deepe, and the hart of men, & he knoweth al theyr imaginations and wyſedome: for the Lord knoweth al ſcience, and he lookith into the token of the tyme.

19 He declareth the things that are paſt and for to come, and diſcloſeth thynges that are ſecrete.

20 No thought may eſcape him, neither may any wooznde be hyd from hym.

21 He hath garniſhed the hygh excellent wooznes of his wyſedome, and he is from euerlaſtyng to euerlaſtyng: vnto him may nothyng be added, neyther can he be minſhed, he hath no neede alſo of any mans counſel.

22 O howe amiable are al his wooznes, and as a ſparke to looke vpon?

23 They liue al, and endure for euer: and when ſo euer neede is, they are al obedient vnto him.

24 They are al double one agaynſt another: he hath made nothyng that hath fault or blemiſhe.

25 He hath ſtabliſhed the goodes of euery one: (a) and who may be ſatiſfied with his glozy when he ſeeth it?

* or, and al the wooznke thereof is ful of the glozy of the Lozde.

(a) As who ſhoulde ſay, no man, for where Dauid ſayth, Pſalm.17. I ſhalbe ſatiſfied when the glory appeareth: he ſpeaketh of that glory which he deſireth to obtayne, which he yet wantyng is not ſatiſfied: but whē he hath obtayned it, he hath the thyng he dooth deſire, and yet is not weery of it, but delyteth in that ioy whiche neuer ſhalbe ended as, 1.Pet.1.

The.xliii.Chapter.

The ſumme of the creation of the wooznes of God.

1 THe glozy of the heyght, is the faire and cleare firmament, the beautie of the heauen is his glozious clearenelſe. A Pſalm.8.a.

2 The ſunne when it appeareth, declareth the day in the going out of it, a marueylous wooznke of the hygheſt.

3 At noone it burneth the earth, and who may abyde for the heate thereof?

4 Who ſo keepeth an ouen when it is hotte, three times more dooth the ſunne burne vpon the mountaynes: when it breatheth out the fiery beames & ſhineth, with the bzightneſſe of it, it blyndeth the eyes.

5 Great is the Lozde that made it, and in his commaundement he cauſeth it to run haſtyly.

6 The moone alſo in al thynges accozding to her ſeaſon, is a declaration of the tyme, and a ſigne for the wozlde. Gene.1.b.

7 The token of the ſolempne feaſt is taken of the moone, a lyght that miniſheth and increaſeth agayne. Exod.12.a. B

8 The moneth is called after the moone, it groweth woondercully in her changyng.

9 The armie of heauen alſo is in the height: in the firmament of heauen it geueth a cleare & a glozious ſhine: this is the clearneſſe of the ſtarres, the beautiful apparell of of heauen, the apparel that the Lorde lighteneth in the heyght.

10 In his holy woorke they continue in their order, and not one of them fayleth in his watche.

Gene.9.d. 11 Looke vppon the raynebowe, and prayse him that made it: very beautiful is it in his shine.

12 He compasseth the heauen about with a glorious circle, the handes of the hyghest haue bended it.

13 Through his cõmaundement he maketh the snowe to falle, and the thunder of his iudgement to smite haskyly.

C 14 Through his commaundement the treasures are opened, and the cloudes flee as the foules.

15 In his power hath he strengthened the cloudes, and broken the hayleſtones.

or, moue. 16 The mountaynes " leape at the sight of hym, the wynde bloweth accordyng to his wyl.

17 The sounde of his thunder beateth the earth, and so doo the stormes of the north: the whirle winde also lighteth downe as a feathered foule, casteth out and spreadeth the snowe abrode, and as the grashoppers that destroy al, so falleth it downe.

18 The eye marueyleth at the beautie of the whitenesse thereof, and the hart is afrayde at the rayne of it.

19 He powreth out the frost vpon earth lyke salt, and when it is frosen, it is as sharpe as the pricke of a thistle.

20 When the colde north wynde bloweth, harde Christal commeth of the water: he lyghteth downe vpon al the geatherynges togeather of water, and putteth on the water as a brestplate.

21 He deuoureth the mountaynes, and burneth the wyldernesses: and looke what is greene, he putteth it out lyke fyre.

D 22 The medicine of al these is, when a cloud commeth haskyly, and when a dewe commeth vpon the heate, it shalbe refreashed agayne.

23 In his woorde he stilleth the winde, in his counsel he appeaseth the deepe, & hath planted Iſlandes in it.

24 They that sayle ouer the sea, tel of the perils and harmes thereof, and when we heare it with our eares, we marueyle thereat.

25 For there be strange woonderous woorkes, diuers manners of nyce beastes, and whale fishes.

26 Through him are al thinges set in good order and perfourmed, and in his woorde al thinges endure.

27 I speake muche, but I can not sufficiently atteyne vnto it: for he him selfe only is the perfection of al woordes.

28 We shoulde prayse the Lorde after al our power, for he is great in al his woorkes. E

29 The Lord is to be feared, yea very great is he, and marueylous is his power. Pſal.116.a.

30 Prayse the Lorde, and magnifie hym as muche as ye may, yet dooth he farre exceede al prayse: O magnifie hym with al your power, & labour earnestly, yet are ye in no wyse hable sufficiently to prayse him. Pſal.106.a

31 Who hath seene him, that he myght telle vs? Who can magnifie him so greatly as he is?

32 For there are hydde yet greater thynges then these be: as for vs, we haue seene but fewe of his woorkes. Deut.5.c. Iohn.1.b.

33 For the Lorde hath made al thinges, and geuen wysedome to suche as feare God.

The.xliiii. Chapter.

1. The prayse of certayne holy menne, 16. Enoch, 17. Noah, 18. Abraham.

1 LET vs commende the noble famous menne, and the generation of our fore elders and fathers. A

2 Many more glorious actes haue the lorde donne in them, and shewed his great power euer sence the beginnyng.

3 The noble famous menne raigned in their kingdomes, and bare excellent rule in their wysedome and vnderstandyng, they folowed the counsel shewed in the prophecies:

4 They ledde the folke through the counsel and wysedome of the Scribes of the people, wyse sentences are founde in their instructions: Exod.18.c.

5 They sought the sweetenesse and melody of musicke, and brought forth the pleasant songes in scripture:

6 They were riche also, and coulde comforte & pacifie those that dwelt with them,

7 Al these were very noble and honorable menne in their generations, and were wel reported of in their times. B

8 These haue leaft a name behynde them, so that their praise shal alway be spoken of.

9 Afterwarde there were some whose remembrance is gonne, they came to nought and perished, as though they hadde neuer benne, and became as though they had neuer benne borne, yea and their children also with them. Gene.7.b.

10 Neuertheleſſe these are louyng menne, whose righteousnesse shal neuer be forgotten, but continue by their posteritie.

11 Their children are an holy good heritage: their seede endured fast in the couenant.

12 For their sakes shall their children and seede seede continue for euer, and their prayse shal neuer be put downe.

13 Their bodyes are buryed in peace, but their name lyueth for euermore.

℣ 14 The people can speake of their wysdome, & the congregatiō can talke of their prayse.

Eccle.44.c. Gen.5.c. 15 Enoch walked ryght and acceptably before the Lorde, therefore was he translated for an example of amendment to the generations.

Gen.6.a. and.7.8. 16 Noe was a stedfast and righteous man, and in the tyme of wrath he became a reconcilyng: therefore was he left a remnant vnto the earth when the flood came.

Gen.9.c. 17 An euerlasting couenant was made with hym, that al flesshe shoulde perishe no more with the water.

Gen.17.a. 18 Abrahā was a great father of many people, in glory was there none lyke vnto him.

19 He keapt the lawe of the hyghest, & came into a couenant with hym.

20 He set the couenant in his flesh, & when he was prooued he was founde faythful.

D 21 Therfore swore God vnto hym with an othe, that he woulde blesse al people in his seede, that he would multiply and increase hym as the dust of the earth, and to exalte his seede as the starres: yea and that his seede shoulde haue the possession and inheritance of the lande from sea to sea, & from the riuer vnto the borders of the worlde.

Gen.22.a. (a) He dyd alow hym, & made hym worthy and meete for such blessings of riches and increase: or els he made be knowē by this blessing Laban his vncle so oftē changing his wages, yet dyd God prosper him, that it dyd wel appeare he bare a fauour to hym as to Ioseph and Dan. &c.

22 With Isahac dyd he stablishe the same couenant for Abraham his fathers sake: Yea that gratious blessyng and health of al menne, and couenant dyd he stablishe with Isahac, and made it rest vpon the head of Iacob.

23 (a) He knewe hym in that he prospered hym so wel and rychely, and gaue hym an heritage, and sundred his portion by it self, and parted among the twelue tribes.

24 Mercyful menne brought he out of him, which found fauour in the sight of al flesshe.

The.xlv.Chapter.

I. The prayse of Moses, 6. Aaron, and Phineches.

A 1 MOses beloued of GOD and menne, whose remēbrance is in hygh prayse:

Exod.xi.a. Acres.vii.c 2 Hym that the Lorde made like in the glory of the saintes, & magnified hym, so that the enimies stoode in awe of hym.

3 Through his woordes he dyd great wonders: he made hym glorious in the sight of kynges, gaue hym commaundement before his people, and shewed him glorious power.

Num.xii.a. 4 He stablished him with faythfulnesse and meekenesse, and chose him out of al menne.

5 For he hearde his voyce, and he led him in the darke cloude, and there he gaue him the commaundementes, yea the lawe of lyfe and wisedome: that he might teache Iacob the couenant, and Israel his lawes. Exod.xix.b.

6 He chose Aaron his brother also out of the tribe of Leui, exalted hym, and made him suche lyke.

7 An euerlasting couenant made he with hym, and gaue hym the priesthood in the people: he made hym glorious in beautiful aray, and clothed him with the garment of honour. B

8 He put perfect ioy vpon him, and gyrded hym with strength, he deckt hym with syde clothes & a tunicle, with an ouerbody coate also, and a girdle.

9 Round about made he him belles of gold, and that many: that when he went in, the sounde myght be hearde, that they might make a noyse in the sanctuarie, and geue the people warnyng. Exod.28.f

10 The holy garment was wrought and bordered with golde, yelowe silke, and purple: and in the brestlap there was a goodly woorke, wherein was fastened lyght and perfectnesse.

11 Upon the same also there was a woorke fastened and set with costly precious stones al bounde with golde, and this he brought in his ministration: the stones were fastened for a remembrance, after the number of the twelue tribes of Israel. Exod.xxviii.c.

12 Upon his miter there was a plate of pure gold, a grauen image of holynesse, a famous and noble woorke, garnished, and pleasant to looke vpon.

13 Before hym were there seene no suche faire ornamentes, and these it behoued hym alway to vse: there myght none other put them on, but onely his children, and his chyldrens chyldren perpetually.

14 Dayly perfourmed he his burnt offerinC ges two tymes.

15 Moses fylled (a) his handes, and anwinted him with holy oyle: this was now confirmed hym with an euerlasting couenant, and to his seede as the dayes of heauen, namely that his children should alway minister before hym, and perfourme the office of the priesthood, and wyth the people good in his name. Leuit. viii.a (a) That was, either to put into his hand the booke of the law written to reade vnto the people, or els somme sacrifice that he myght offer vnto god for their offences.

16 Before al menne lyuyng choose he him, that he should offer incense before the Lord, and make odours for a sweete sauour and remembrance, that he shoulde reconcile the people of the Lorde with hym agayne.

17 He gaue hym auctoritie also in his commaundementes, and in the couenant, that he should teache Iacob the statutes & testimonies, monies, and to enfourme Israel in the law.

Num.xvi.a. 18 Therfore there stoode vp certayne against hym, and had enuie at him in the wylderneſſe: namely they that were of Dathan and Abirons ſyde, and the furious congregation of Thore.

19 This the Lord ſaw, & it diſpleaſed him, and in his wrathful indignation were they conſumed: a great woonder dyd he vpon them, and conſumed them with the fire.

Exod.25.f Leuit.24.b. Deut.xii.b and.xviii. 20 Beſides this, he made Aaron yet more honourable and glorious, he gaue hym an heritage, and parted the firſt fruites vnto hym: vnto hym ſpecially he appoynted the bread of ſuſtenance.

D 21 For the prieſtes dyd eate of the offerings of the Lorde: this gaue he vnto hym and his ſeede.

Ezech.14.b 22 Els had he no heritage nor portion in the lande and with the people: for the Lord hym ſelfe is his portion and inheritance.

Num.xv.c 23 The thirde noble and excellent man is Phinehes the ſonne of Eleazar, whiche pleaſed the God of Iſrael, becauſe he had the zeale and feare of the Lorde: for when the people were turned backe, he put hym ſelfe forth ryght ſoone, and that with a good wyl to pacifie the wrath of the Lorde towarde Iſrael.

24 Therfore was there a couenant of peace made with hym, that he ſhould be the principal among the ryghteous in the people, that he and his poſteritie ſhoulde haue the office of the prieſthood for euer.

25 Like as there was made a couenant with Dauid of the tribe of Juda, that from among his ſonnes onely there ſhoulde be a kyng, and that Aaron alſo and his ſeede ſhould be an heritage, to geue vs wyſdome in our hart, to iudge his people in ryghteouſneſſe, that his goodes ſhoulde not comme into forgetfulneſſe, and that their honour myght endure for euer.

The.xlvi. Chapter.

1. The prayſe of Ioſue. 9. Caleb. 13. Samuel.

A 1 MAnly and ſtrong in battayle was Ieſus the ſonne of Naue, and was the ſucceſſour of Moſes in prophecies, Jo.xii.c. Num.27.d. Deut.34.b. Joſue.i.a. and was geuen to be captayne of the people, whiche accordyng vnto his name was a great ſauiour vnto the elect of GOD, to puniſhe the enimies that roſe vp agaynſt Iſrael, that Iſrael myght obtayne their inheritance.

2 O howe great, noble, and excellent was he, when he lyft vp his hande, and drue out his ſwoorde agaynſt the cities?

3 Who ſtoode ſo manly before hym? for the Lorde hym ſelfe brought in the enimies?

4 Stoode not the ſunne ſtyll at his commaundement, and one day was as long as two? Joſue.x.a

5 He called vpon the hyghest & moſt mighty when the enimies preaſſed vpon hym on euery ſyde, and the myghty Lorde hearde hym with the hayle ſtones.

6 They ſmote the heathenith people mightyly, and in fallyng downe they ſlue al the aduerſaries: ſo that the Heathen knewe his hoſt, and al his defence, that the Lorde him ſelfe fought agaynſt them: for he folowed vpon the mighty menne of them.

7 In the tyme of Moſes alſo, he & Caleb the ſonne of Jephune dyd a good worke, which ſtoode agaynſt the enimies, withhelde the people from ſinne, and ſtylled the wicked murmuryng. B Num.24.a.

8 And of ſixe hundred thouſande people of foote, they two were preſerued to bryng them into the heritage, namely, a land that floweth with mylke and hony. Num.26.g.

9 The Lorde gaue ſtrength alſo vnto Caleb, whiche remayned with him vnto his age: ſo that he went vp into the hygh places of the lande, and his ſeede conquered the ſame for an heritage: Joſue.13.c

10 That al the chyldren of Iſrael myght ſee howe good a thyng it is to be obedient vnto the Lorde.

11 And the iudges or rulers euery one after his name, whoſe hart went not a whoozing nor departed from the Lorde, and that forſooke not the Lorde vnfaythfully, whoſe remembrance hath a good report.

12 Yea their bones floriſh out of their place, and their names ſhal neuer be changed: but honour remaineth ſtyl with the children of thoſe holy menne.

13 Samuel the prophete, beloued of the Lorde his GOD, ordeyned a kyng, and annoynted the princes ouer the people. 1.Sam.x.a

14 In the lawe of the Lorde ruled he, and iudged the congregation, and the Lord had reſpect vnto Jacob. C

15 The prophet was found diligent in his faythfulneſſe: yea and he is knowen faythful in his woordes, becauſe he ſawe the god of lyght.

16 He called vppon the Lorde Almightie when the enimies preaſſed vpon him on euery ſyde, what tyme as he offered the ſuckyng lamme. 1.Sam.7.a

17 And the Lorde thundered from heauen, and made his voyce to be hearde with a great noyſe.

18 He diſcomfited the princes of Tyre, and al the rulers of the Philiſtines.

19 Before

1.Sa.12.a. 19 Before his laſt ende, he made proteſtation in the ſyght of the Lord and his annoynted, that he tooke neither ſubſtance nor good of any man, no not ſo muche as a ſhoe: and no man myght accuſe him.

D 20 After this he tolde that his ende was at hande, and ſhewed the king alſo his ende and death: and from the earth lyft he vp his voyce in the prophecie, that the vngodly people ſhoulde periſhe.

The.xlvii.Chapter.

I. The prayſe of Nathan, 2. Dauid, 12. and Solomon.

A I AFterwarde in the time of king Dauid there roſe vp a prophete called Nathan.

2 For lyke as the fatte is taken away from the offering: ſo was Dauid choſen out of the chyldren of Iſrael.

3 He played with the lions as with kiddes, and with beares like as with lambes of ſheepe.

4 Slewe he not a Giant when he was yet but young, and tooke away the rebuke from his people, what time as he tooke the ſtone in his hande, and ſmote downe proud Goliath with the ſling?

1.Sa.17.f. 5 For he called vppon the hyghest Lorde, which gaue him ſtrength in his righthand, ſo that he ouerthrewe the mightie Giant in the batel, that he myght ſet vp the horne of his people agayne.

6 So he glorified him in tenne thouſande, and made him to haue a good report in the prayſe of the Lorde, that he ſhoulde weare a crowne of glory.

B 7 For he deſtroyed the enimies on euery ſide, rooted out the Philiſtines his aduerſaries, and brake their horne in ſunder, lyke as it is broken yet this day.

2.Sa.5.b.

8 In al his woorkes he prayſed the hyghest and holyest, and aſcribed the honour vnto hym: with his whole hart dyd he prayſe the Lorde, and loued God that made hym.

2.Chr.16.a 9 He ſet ſingers alſo before the aulter, and in their tune he made ſweete ſonges, that they myght gene prayſes euery day to God with ſonges.

10 He ordayned to keepe the holy dayes worſhipfully, and that the ſolempne feaſtes throwe the whole yeere ſhoulde be honorably holden with prayſing the name of the Lorde, and with ſinging betimes in the morning in the ſanctuarie.

11 The Lorde tooke away his ſinnes, and exalted his horne for euer: he gaue him the couenant of the kingdome, and the throne of worſhippe in Iſrael.

2.Sa.12.d.

12 After him there roſe vp the wyſeſonne (called Solomon) who by him dwelt in a large poſſeſſion, and for his ſake he drone the enimies away farre of. 1.king.3.c.

13 This Solomon raigned with peace in his tyme, and he obtayned glory: for God gaue him reſte from his enimies on euery ſide, that he myght buylde him an houſe in his name, and prepare the ſanctuarie for euer.

14 Howe wyſe waſt thou in thy youth, and filled with wyſedome and vnderſtandyng, C as it were with a water ſluddes?

15 Thou couereddſt and filleddſt the whole lande with ſimilitudes, and wyſe prudent ſentences.

16 Thy name went abrode in the Iles, becauſe of thy peace, thou waſt beloued.

17 Al landes marueyled at thy ſonges, prouerbes, ſimilitudes, and at thy interpretations.

18 And in the name of the Lorde God, which is called the God of Iſrael, thou gatheredſt gold as tinne, and thou hadſt as much ſiluer as leade. 1.king.10.b

19 Thou waſt moued in inordinate loue towarde women, and waſt ouercome in affection. 2.king.11.a

20 Thou ſtaynedſt thy honour and woorſhippe, yea thy poſteritie defiledſt thou alſo, in bringing the wrath of the Lord vpon thy children, & haſt felt ſorow for thy folly. 1.king.12.c.

21 So that thy kingdome was diuided, and Ephraim became an vnfaythful and a rebellious kyngdome. 2.Sam.7.c

22 Neuertheleſſe God forſooke not his mercie: neyther was he vtterly deſtroyed becauſe of his woorkes, that he ſhoulde leaue him no poſteritie: as for the ſeede that came vpon him, whiche he loued, he brought it not vtterly to nought, but gaue yet a remnant vnto Jacob, and a roote vnto Dauid out of hym. D

23 Thus reſted Solomon with his fathers, and out of his ſeede he leaft behynde hym a very foolihneſſe of the people, and ſuch one as had no vnderſtandyng: euen Roboam, whiche turned away the people through his counſel, and Jeroboam the ſonne of Nabat, whiche cauſed Iſrael to ſinne, and ſhewed Ephraim the way of vngodlyneſſe. 1.king.12.b

24 In ſo muche that their ſinnes and miſdeedes had the vpper hande ſo ſoare, that at the laſt they were driuen out of the land for the ſame.

25 Yea he ſought out and brought vp al wickedneſſe, tyll the vengeance came vppon them.

The.xlviii.Chapter.

The prayse of Elias, Elizeus, Ezechias, and Esaias.

A 1 THen stoode vp Elias the prophete as a fire, and his woord brent like a cresset.
2.Sa.17.a. 2 He brought an hunger vppon them, & in his zeale he made them fewe in number: for they myght not away with the commaundementes of the Lorde.
1.king.18. 3 Through the woorde of the Lorde he shut the heauen, and three times brought he the fire downe.
4 O Elias, howe honorable art thou in thy woonderous deedes? who may make his boaste to be lyke thee?
1.king.17. 5 One that was dead thou raysedst vp from death, and in the woord of the hyghest thou broughtest him out of the graue agayne.
6 Thou hast cast downe kynges, & destroyed them, & the honorable from their seate.
7 Upon the mount Sina thou hardest the iudgement, and vpon Horeb the iudgement of the vengeance:
B 1.king.19. 8 Whiche dyddest annoynt kynges to recompence, and ordaynedst prophetes after thee.
2.king.2.c. 9 Thou wast taken vp in the stormе of fire, in a charet of fierie horses.
10 Thou wast ordayned in the reprooninges in time, to pacifie the wrath of the Lord before it raged, to turne the hartes of the fathers vnto the chyldren, and to set vp the tribes of Jacob agayne.
Luke.1.a. 11 Blessed were they that sawe thee, and were garnyshed in loue, for we lyue in lyfe: but after death we shal haue no suche name.
2.king.2.c. 12 Elias was couered in the stormе, but Elizeus was filled with his spirite: whyle he lyued he was afrayde of no prince, and no man myght ouercome hym.
13 There coulde no woord deceiue hym, and 2.king.13.d after his death his body prophecied.
C 14 He dyd woonders in his lyfe, & in death were his woorkes marueylous.
15 For al this the people amended not, neyther departed they from their sinnes, tyll they were caryed away prisoners out of the 2.king.18. lande, and were scattered abroade in all countreys, so that of them there remayned but a very litle people, and a prince vnto the house of Dauid.
16 Howbeit some of them did ryght, and some heaped vp vngodlynesse.
2.Chr.32.a 17 Ezechias made his citie strong, conueyed water into it, digged through the stonye rocke with iron, and made vp a wal by the water side.
18 In his tyme came Sennacherib vp, and
2.king.18.a sent Rabsakes, lyft vp his hande agaynst Sion, and defied them with great pryde.
19 Then trembled their hartes and handes, so that they sorowed lyke a woman trauayling with chylde.
20 So they called vpon the Lorde which is mercyful, and lyft vp their handes before hym: immediatly the Lord heard them out of heauen.
21 He thought no more vpon their sinnes, nor gaue them ouer to their enimies: but deliuered them by the hande of Esaias.
22 He smote the hoast of the Assyrians, and D his angel destroyed them.
23 For Ezechias had donne the thyng that pleased the Lorde, and remayned stedfastly in the way of Dauid his father, as Esaias the great and faythful prophete in the sight of God had commaunded hym.
24 In his tyme the sunne went backwarde, 2.kin.20.b. and he lengthned the kinges lyfe.
25 With a ryght spirite prophecied he what shoulde come to passe at the last: and to suche as were sorowful in Sion, he gaue consolation, wherewith they myght comforte them selues for euermore.
26 He shewed thinges that were for to come and secrete, or euer they came to passe.

The.xlix.Chapter.

Of Iosias, Ezechias, Dauid, Ieremie, Ezechiel, Zorobabel, Iesus, Nehemias, Enoch, and Ioseph.

A 1 THe remembrance of Iosias, is lyke as when the Apothecarie maketh many 2.king.22.a precious sweete smellyng thynges togeather: his remembrance shalbe sweete as hony in al mouthes, and as the playing of musicke at a banket of wine.
2 He was appointed to turne the people agayne, and to take away al abominations of the vngodly.
3 He directed his harte vnto the Lord, and in the tyme of the vngodly he set vp ỹ worship of God agayne.
4 Al kinges except (a) Dauid, Ezechias, and Iosias, committed wickednesse: for euen the kinges of Juda also forsooke the lawe of God.
5 For they gaue their horne vnto other, their honour and woorshippe also to a strange people.
6 Therefore was the elect citie of the sanctuarie brent with fire, and the streetes thereof layde desolate and waste in the hande of Ieremie.
7 For they entreated hym euyl, (b) whiche neuertheless was a prophete, ordeyned from his mothers wombe, that he myght roote out, breake of, and destroy: and that he myght buylde vp, and plant agayne.
8 Ezechiel sawe the glory of the Lorde in a vision,

(a) These also were sinners, but eyther they were not idolaters which here is cheefly counted sinne: or els they dyd repent, so that their sinnes were couered, for that they were enimies to idolatrie.

(b) That is, accordyng to the prophesie of Ieremie: for the hand in scripture is taken for any mans office, and function.

vision, whiche was shewed hym vpon the charet of the Cherubims.

9 For he thought vpon the enimies in the rayne, to doo good vnto suche as had ordered their wayes aryght.

10 And the bones of the twelue prophetes flozished from out of their place, for they gaue comfort and consolation vnto Jacob, and deliuered them faythfully.

Agge.ii.a. 11 Howe shal we prayse Zorobabel, whiche was as a ryng on the ryght hande:

Agge.i.a. 12 So was Jesus also the sonne of Josedec: these men in their tymes buildsed the house, & set vp the sanctuarie of the Lorde againe, whiche was prepared for an euerlastyng worshyp.

13 And among the elect was Nehemias, whose renowme was great, whiche set vp for vs the walles that were broken downe, made the portes and barres agayne, and buylded our houses a newe.

Ꝯ

Gen.v.c. (c) For that he propheci. ed of the deliuerance of Israel from Egypt into Chanaan, & also of the resurrection to be made by Christe.

14 But vpon the earth there is no man created lyke Enoch: for he was taken vp from the earth.

15 Neither was there a lyke man vnto Joseph, whiche was lorde of his brethren, and the vpholder of his people: (c) his bones were couered and kept.

16 Seth and Sem were in great honour among the people, and so was Adam aboue al the beastes when he was created.

The.l. Chapter.

I. Of Simon the sonne of Onias. 22. An exhortation to prayse the Lorde.

A 1 SImon the sonne of Onias ỹ hygh priest, which in his life set vp the house againe, and in his dayes made fast the temple.

2 The heyght of the temple also was founded of hym, the double buyldyng, and the hygh walles of the temple.

3 In his dayes the welles of water flowed out, and were exceedyng ful as the sea.

4 He tooke care for his people, and deliuered them from destruction: he kept his citie and made it strong, that it shoulde not be besieged.

5 Howe honorable was his conuersation among the people, and when he came out of the house couered with the vayle:

6 He gaue lyght as the morning starre in the middest of the cloudes, & as the moone when it is ful:

B 7 He shyned as the sunne in the temple of god, he is as bryght as the raynebow in the fayre cloudes,

8 And flozisheth as the floures and roses in the spring of the yeere, and as lylies by the ryuers of water, lyke as the branches vpon the mount Libanus in the tyme of sommer:

9 As a fire and incense that is kindled, lyke as an whole ornament of pure golde set with al maner of precious stones,

10 And as an Olyue tree that is fruitful, and as a Cypres tree whiche groweth vp an hygh.

11 When he put on the garment of honour, and was clothed with al beautie, when he went to the holy aulter, he made the garment of holynesse honourable.

12 When he tooke the portions out of the priestes hande, he him selfe stoode by the hearth of the aulter, & his brethren rounde about in order: as the branches of Cedar tree vpon the mount Libanus, so stoode they rounde about him:

13 And as the branches of the Olyue tree, so stoode al the sonnes of Aaron in their glorie, & the oblations of the Lorde in their handes before al the congregation of Israel.

14 And that he might sufficiently perfourme his seruice vpon the aulter, and garnish the offeryng of the hyghest God, Ꝯ

15 He stretched out his hande, and tooke of the drinke offeryng, and powred in of the wyne: so he powred vpon the bottome of the aulter a good smelle vnto the hyghest prince.

16 Then began the sonnes of Aaron to sing, and to blowe with trumpets, and to make a great noyse, for a remembrance and prayse vnto the Lorde.

17 Then al the people togeather were hasted, and fel downe to the earth vpon their faces to worshyp the Lorde their God, and to gene thankes to the almightie God.

18 They song goodly also with their voyces, so that there was a pleasant noyse in the great house of the Lorde.

19 And the people in their prayer besought the Lorde the hyghest, that he woulde be mercyful, tyl the honour of the Lorde were perfourmed, and they had ended their ministration and seruice.

20 Then went he downe, and stretched out his handes ouer the whole multitude of the people of Israel, that they should gene prayse and thankes out of their lippes vnto the Lorde, and to reioyce in his name.

21 He began yet once also to pray, that he D myght openly shewe the thankesgeuyng before the hyghest,

22 (Namely thus) D gene prayse & thankes al ye vnto the Lorde our God, whiche hath euer donne noble and great thinges, which hath increased our dates from our mothers wombe, and dealt with vs according to his mercy,

23 That he wyl gene vs the ioyfulnesse of hart, and peace for our tyme in Israel:

24 Whiche faythfully keepeth his mercy for vs euermore, and alway deliuereth vs in due season.

25 There be two maner of people that I abhorre from my hart, as for the thirde whom I hate, it is no people:

26 They that sit vpon the mountayne of Samaria, the Philistines, and the foolishe people that dwel in Sichimis.

27 I Iesus, the sonne of Sirach, Eleazarus, of Hierusalem, haue tokened vp these informations and documentes of wysdome and vnderstanding in this booke, and powred out the wysedome of my hart.

28 Blessed is he that exercyseth hym selfe therein: and who so taketh suche to hart, shalbe wyse for euer.

29 If he doo these thinges, he shalbe strong in al: for the lyght of the Lord leadeth him, whiche geueth wysdome to the godly: The Lorde be praysed for euermore, so be it, so be it.

The.li. Chapter.

The prayer of Iesus the sonne of Sirach.

A 1 I Wyl thanke thee, O Lord, and kyng, and prayse thee, O God, my sauiour: I wyl yeelde prayse vnto thy name.

2 For thou art my defender and helper, and hast preserued my body from destruction, from the snares of trayterous tongues, and from the lips that are occupyed with lyes.

3 Thou hast benne my helper from suche as stoode vp agaynst me, and hast deliuered me after the multitude of thy mercy, and for thy holy names sake, from the roaryng of them that prepared thē selues to deuoure me, out of the handes of suche as sought after my lyfe, from the multitude of them that trouble me,

4 And from them that went about to set fire vpon me on euery side, so that I am not brent in the middest of the fire:

5 From the deepe of hel, from an vncleane tongue, from lyeing woordes, from false accusation to the kyng, and from an vnrygh-teous tongue.

6 My soule shal praise the Lord vnto death: for my life drue nigh vnto hel downeward.

B 7 They compassed me round about on euery syde, and there was no man to helpe me: I looked about me if there were any man that woulde succour me: but there was none.

8 Then thought I vppon thy mercy, O Lorde, and vpon thy actes that thou hast donne euer of olde: (namely) that thou deliuerest suche as put their trust in thee, and riddest them out of the handes of the heathen.

9 Thus lift I vp my prayer from the earth, and prayed for deliuerance from death.

10 I called vpon the Lorde the father of my Lorde, that he woulde not leaue me without helpe in the day of my trouble, and in the tyme of the proude.

11 I wyl praise thy name continually, yeeldyng honour and thankes vnto it: and so my prayer was hearde.

12 Thou sauedst me from destruction, and deliueredst me from the vnrighteous time: therefore wyl I acknowledge and praysse thee, and magnifie the name of the Lorde.

13 When I was yet but young, or euer I went astray, I desyred (a) wysedome openly in my prayer.

14 I came therefore before the temple, and sought her vnto the last: then flowished she vnto me, as a grape that is soone ripe.

15 My hart reioyced in her, then went my foote the ryght way: yea from my youth vp sought I after her.

16 I bowed downe myne eare, and receiued her: I found me much wysedome, and prospered greatly in her.

17 Therefore wyl I ascribe the glorie vnto hym that geueth me wysedome.

18 For I am aduised to doo thereafter, I wyl be gelous to cleaue vnto the thyng that is good, so shal I not be confounded.

19 My soule hath wrestled with her, and I haue ben diligent to be occupyed in her: I lyft vp myne handes on high, then was my soule lightened through wysedome, and I knowledged my foolishnesse.

20 I ordered my soule after her, she and I were one hart from the begynnyng, and I founde her in cleannesse, and therefore shal I not be forsaken.

21 My hart longed after her, and I gat a good treasure.

22 Through her the Lord hath geuen me a newe tongue, wherwith I wyl praise him.

23 O comme vnto me ye vnlearned, & dwel in the house of wysedome.

24 Withdrawe not your selues from her, but talke and commune of these thynges: for your soules are very thirstie.

25 I opened my mouth, & spake, O comme and bye wysedome without money.

26 Bow downe your necke vnder her yoke, & your soule shal receiue wisedome: she is harde at hande, and is content to be found.

27 Beholde with your eyes, howe that I haue had but litle labour, & yet haue found muche rest.

28 O receiue wisedome, and ye shal haue plenteousnesse of siluer & gold in possession.

29 Let

The ende of the booke of Iesus the sonne of Sirach, whiche is called in Latine Ecclesiasticus.

The booke of the prophete Baruch.

The first Chapter.

1. Baruch wrote a booke duryng the captiuitie of Babylon, whiche he read before Iechonias and al the people. 10. The Iewes sent the booke with money vnto Hierusalem to their other brethren, to the intent that they shoulde pray for them.

A 1 AND these are the woordes of the booke, which were (a) written by Baruch the sonne of Nerias, the sonne of Maasias, the sonne of Sedechias, the sonne of Helchias, at Babylon,

(a) Baruch was secretarie to Ieremie the prophet, of whō in Ieremie is often made mention.

2 In the fifth yeere, and in the seuenth day of the moneth, what tyme as the Chaldees tooke Hierusalem, & brent it vp with fyre.

3 And Baruch dyd reade the woordes of this booke, that Iechonias the sonne of Joachin king of Juda myght heare, and in the presence of al the people that were come to heare the booke,

4 And before al ỳ nobles, the kinges sonnes, and before the elders, and before the whole people, from the lowest vnto the highest: before al them that dwelt at Babylon, by the water of * Sody,

* Or, Sud.

5 Whiche when they hearde it, weapt, fasted, and prayed before the Lorde.

6 They made a collection also of money, accordyng to euery mans power:

7 And sent it to Hierusalem vnto Joachin the sonne of Helchia, the sonne of Salom priest, with the other priestes, and to al the people whiche were with hym at Hierusalem,

B 8 (What tyme as they had gotten ỳ * vessels of the temple of the Lord that were taken away out of ỳ temple, that they myght bryng them agayne into ỳ land of Juda the tenth day of the moneth (b) Siuan, (namely) siluer vessels, whiche Sedechias the sonne of Josias kyng of Juda had made,)

* Or, ornamentes.

(b) Siuan contayneth part of May, and part of June, it is the thirde moneth after the reckonyng of the Iewes. Deut. 14. c.

9 After that Nabuchodonosor kyng of Babylon had taken Iechonias, with al his princes, lordes, and al the people, and led them captiue from Hierusalem vnto Babylon:

10 And they sayde, Beholde, we haue sent you money to bye you burnt offeringes and incense withal, prepare a meate offering, and offer for sinne vppon the aulter of the Lorde our God:

11 And (c) pray for the prosperitie of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the welfare of Balthasar his sonne, that they dayes may be vppon earth as the dayes of heauen:

1. Tim. 2. b.

(c) By this example we are taught to pray for kinges and princes as 1. Tim. 2.

12 That God also may geue vs strength, and lighten our eyes, that we may liue vnder the defence of Nabuchodonosor kyng of Babylon, and vnder the protection of Balthasar his sonne, that we may long do them seruice, and fynde fauour in their syght.

13 Pray for vs also vnto the Lord our God: for we haue sinned agaynst the Lorde our God, & vnto this day is not his wrath turned yet away from vs.

Baruc. 2. a.

14 And see that ye reade this booke, which we haue sent vnto you to be rehearsed in the temple of the lord vpon the high dayes, and at tyme conuenient.

C

15 Thus shal ye say, The Lorde our God is ryghteous, but we are woorthy of confusion and shame, lyke as it is comme to passe this day vnto al Juda, and to euery one that dwelleth at Hierusalem, 16 To our kynges, princes, priestes, prophetes, and to our fathers.

17 We haue sinned before the Lorde our God, we haue not put our trust in him, nor geuen hym credence.

18 We haue not obeyed hym, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde our God, to walke in the commaundementes that he gaue vs openly.

19 Since the day that he brought our forefathers out of the lande of Egypt, vnto this present day, we haue benne euer a misbeleeuyng and an vnfaythful people vnto the Lorde our God, destroyeng our selues vtterly, and shrynkyng backe, that we shoulde not heare his voyce.

20 Wherefore, there are come vpon vs great plagues, and diuers curses, like as the lord deuised by Moses his seruant, whiche brought our fathers out of the lande of Egypt, to geue vs a lande that floweth with milke and hony, like as it is to see this day.

D Exod.xii. 21 Neuertheleſſe, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde our God, accordyng to al the woordes of the prophetes, whom he sent vnto vs (and to our rulers:)

22 But euery man folowed his owne mind and wicked imagination, to offer vnto strange goddes, and to doo euyl in the sight of the Lorde our God.

The.ii. Chapter.

I. The Iewes confesse that they iustly suffer for their sinnes. 21. The Lorde wyl that we obey vnto princes, although they be euyl.

A 1 FOr the whiche cause the Lorde our God hath performed his deuice, whereof he certified vs, and our heades that ruled in Hierusalem, yea and our kynges, our princes, with al Israel and Juda:

Dani.ix.b. 2 And such plagues hath the Lord brought vpon vs, as neuer came to passe vnder the heauen, lyke as it is fulfilled in Hierusalem, accordyng as it is written in the lawe of Moses,

Deut.28.f. 3 That a man shoulde eate the fleash of his owne sonne, and the fleashe of his owne daughter.

4 Moreouer, he hath deliuered them into the handes of al the kinges that are rounde about vs, to be confounded and desolate, and scattered them abrode in al landes and nations.

5 Thus are we brought beneath and not aboue, because we haue sinned agaynst the Lorde our God, and haue not benne obedient vnto his voyce.

Baruc.i.d. 6 Therfore the Lord our God is righteous, and we with our fathers (as reason is) are brought to open shame, as it is to see this day.

7 And as for these plagues that are comme vpon vs alredy, the Lord had deuised them for vs.

B 8 Yet woulde we not pray vnto the Lorde our God, that we myght euery man turne from his vngodly wayes.

9 So the Lorde hath caused suche plagues to comme vpon vs: for he is ryghteous in al his woorkes which he hath cõmaunded vs:

10 Which we also haue not donne, nor hearkened vnto his voyce, for to walke in the commaundementes of the Lorde, that he hath geuen vnto vs.

Dan.9.c. 11 And nowe, O Lorde God of Israel, thou
Exod.7.d. that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a myghty hande, with tokens and woonders, with thy great power and outstreatched arme, & hast gotten thee selfe a name, as it is come to passe this day:

12 O Lorde our God, we haue sinned, we haue donne wickedly, we haue behaued our selues vngodly in al thy ryghteousnesse.

13 Turne thy wrath from vs (we beseeche thee) for we are but a fewe leaft among the heathen where thou hast scattered vs.

14 Heare our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, bryng vs out of captiuitie for thyne owne sake, geat vs fauour in the sight of them whiche haue ledde vs away: C

15 That al landes may knowe that thou art the Lorde our God, and that Israel and his generation calleth vpon thy name. 2.Par.6.c.

16 O Lorde, looke downe from thy holye house vpon vs, encline thine eare, and heare vs.

17 Open thyne eyes, and beholde, for the dead that be gonne downe to their graues: Deut.26.c. and whose soules are out of theyr bodyes, ascribe vnto the Lorde neyther prayse nor ryghteousnesse. Psal.113.c

18 But the soule that is vexed for the multitude (of her sinnes) whiche goeth on heauily and weakely, whose eyes begin to fayle, yea suche a soule ascribeth prayse and righteousnesse vnto the Lorde.

19 For we poure not our prayers before thee, & require mercy in thy sight, O Lord, our God, not for any godlinesse of our fathers:

20 But because thou hast sent out thy wrath and indignation vpon vs, accordyng as thou diddest threaten vs by thy seruantes the prophetes, sayeing,

21 Thus sayth the Lord, Bowe downe your shoulders and neckes, and serue the kyng of Babylon: so shal ye remayne styl in the lande that I gaue vnto your fathers. D Iere. 27.a

22 But yf ye wyl not heare the voyce of the Lord your God to serue ỹ king of Babylon, 23 I wyl destroy you in the cities of Juda within Hierusalem and without: I wyl also take from you the voyce of myrth, and the voyce of ioy, the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voice of the bride, and there shal no man dwel more in the lande.

24 But they woulde not hearken vnto thy voyce to doo the king of Babylon seruice: & therfore hast thou performed the woordes that thou spakest by thy seruantes the prophetes: (namely) that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers, should be translated out of theyr places:

25 And lo, nowe are they layde out in the heate of the sunne, and in the colde of the night, and dead in great miserie, with hunger, with swoorde, (with pestilence,) and are cleane cast foorth.

26 As for the temple wherin thy name was called vpon, thou hast layde it waste, as it is to see this day, and that for the wickednesse of the house of Israel, and the house of Iuda.

27 O Lorde our God, thou hast intreated vs after al thy goodnesse, and according vnto al that great louing mercy of thyne.

C 28 Lyke as thou spakest by thy seruant Moses, in the day when thou diddest commaunde hym to write thy lawe before the chyldren of Israel, saying,

Deut.xiii.d. 29 If ye wyl not hearken vnto my voyce, then shal this great multitude be turned into a very smal people amõg the nations, for I wyl scatter them abroade.

30 Notwithstandyng, I am sure that this folke wyl not heare me, for it is an harde necked people: but in the land of their captiuitie they shal remember them selues, 31 And learne to know that I am the lorde their GOD, when I geue them an hart to vnderstande, and eares to heare.

32 Then shal they prayse me in the land of their captiuitie, and thinke vpon my name.

33 Then shal they turne them from their harde backes, and from their vngodlinesse: then shal they remember the thinges that happened vnto their fathers whiche sinned agaynst me.

34 So wyl I bryng them agayne into the lande whiche I promised with an oth vnto their fathers Abraham, Isahac, & Iacob, and they shalbe lordes of it, yea I wyl encrease them, and not minishe them.

F Ezech.xxxvii.c 35 And I wyl make another couenant with them, suche one as shal endure for euer: (namely) that I wyl be their God, and they shalbe my people: and I wyl no more driue my people the chyldren of Israel out of the lande that I haue geuen them.

The.iii.Chapter.

36. Onely God was the finder of wysedome.
37. Of the incarnation of Christe.

A 1 AND nowe, O Lorde almightie, thou GOD of Israel, the soule that is in trouble, and the spirite that is vexed cryeth vnto thee:

2 Heare vs, O Lorde, & haue pitie vpon vs, for thou art a mercyful GOD: be gracious vnto vs, for we haue sinned before thee.

3 Thou endurest for euer: shoulde we then vtterly perishe?

Ephes.ii.a Dani.iii.c Ier.2.e.3.e and.5.c. 4 O Lorde almighty, thou God of Israel, heare nowe the prayer of the dead Israelites, & of their children, which haue sinned before thee, & not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde their God, for the which cause these plagues hang nowe vpon vs.

5 O Lorde, remember not the wickednesse of our forefathers, but thinke vpõ thy power and name nowe at this tyme:

6 For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lorde, wyl we prayse.

7 For thou hast put thy feare in our hartes, to the intent that we shoulde call vpon thy name, and praise thee in our captiuitie, and that we might turne from the wickednesse of our forefathers that sinned before thee.

B Num.14.a Psal.77.a

8 Behold, we are yet this day in our captiuitie, where as thou hast scattered vs to be an abomination, curse, & subiect to exactions: lyke as it hath happened vnto our fathers also, because of al their wickednesse and departing from thee, O Lorde our God.

Psal. 79.a.

9 O Israel heare the commaundementes of lyfe, ponder them wel with thyne eares, that thou mayest learne wysedome.

10 But howe happeneth it Israel that thou art in thyne enimies land? thou art waxen old in a strange countrey, and defyled with the dead.

11 Why art thou become lyke them that go downe to their graues?

Iere.ii.b.

12 Euen because thou hast forsaken the wel of wysedome.

13 For if thou hadst walked in the way of God truely, thou shouldest haue remayned styl safe in thyne owne lande.

14 O learne then where is wysdome, where vertue is, where vnderstandyng is: that thou mayest knowe also from whense commeth long continuance and lyfe, the lyght of the eyes, and quietnesse.

The.iiii. Chapter.

I. The rewarde of them that keepe the lawe, and the punishment of them that despise it.

A 1 THis is the booke of the commaundementes of God, and the lawe that endureth for euer: al they that keepe it shal comme to lyfe, but suche as forsake it shal comme to death.

2 Turne thee, O Jacob, and take holde of it, walke by this way thorowe his brightnesse and shyne.

5 Be of good cheare thou people of God, O thou ancient Israel. 4.Reg.17.b and.25.

6 Nowe are ye solde among the Heathen, howbeit not for your vtter destruction: but because ye prouoked GOD the Lorde to wrath and displeasure, therfore were ye deliuered vnto your enimies.

B 7 For ye displeased the euerlastyng GOD that made you, offeryng vnto deuils, and not to God.

8 Ye haue forgotten hym that brought you vp, and ye haue greeued Hierusalem that nursed you.

9 When she sawe that the wrath of GOD was comming vpon you, she sayd, Hearken O ye that dwel about Sion, for God hath brought me into great heauynesse.

10 And why? I see the captiuitie of my people, of my sonnes & daughters, whiche the euerlastyng God wyl bryng vpon them.

11 With ioy dyd I nourish them: but nowe must I leaue them with weeping & sorow.

12 Let no man reioyce ouer me wydowe and forsaken, whiche for the sinnes of my children am desolate of euery man: For why? they departed from the lawe of God.

13 They would not know his righteousnes, nor walke in the wayes of his commaundementes: and as for the pathes of trueth and godlynesse, they had no lust to goe in them.

14 O ye dwellers about Sion, comme and let vs calle to remembrance the captiuitie that the euerlasting God hath brought vpō my sonnes and my daughters. C

15 He hath brought a people vppon them from farre, an vncurteous people, and of a strange language, which neyther regarde the olde, nor pitie the young. Deut.28.c Iere.v.b.

16 These haue caried away the deare beloued of the widowes, leauing me alone both desolate and chyldelesse.

17 But alas, what can I helpe you?

18 Now he that brought these plagues vpon you, deliuer you also from the handes of your enimies.

19 Goe your way, O my children, goe your way: for I am desolate and forsaken.

20 I haue put of the clothing of peace, & put vpon me the sackecloth of prayer, & for my tyme I wyl cal vpon the most hyghest. Deut.iiii.b. and.xxx.a. Psal. cxxx.a

21 Be of good cheare, O my children, crye vnto the Lorde, & he shal deliuer you from the power of the princes your enimies. D

22 For verily I haue euer a good hope of your prosperous health, yea a very gladnes is comme vpon me from the holy one, because of the mercy that ye shal haue of our euerlastyng sauiour.

23 With mourning and weeping did I let you goe fro me: but with ioy and perpetual gladnesse shal the Lorde bryng you agayne vnto me.

24 Lyke as the neyghbours of Sion sawe your captiuitie from God: euen so shal they also see shortly your health in God, whiche shal comme on you with great honour and euerlastyng worshyp.

2.Sa.16.b 25 O my chyldren suffer patiently the wrath that shal comme vpon you: for the enimie hath persecuted thee, but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt treade vppon his necke.

26 My dearlinges haue gonne rough harde wayes, for they are led away as a flocke that is scattered abroade with the enimies.

27 But be of good comfort, O my children, and cry vnto the Lorde: for he that led you away, hath you yet in remembrance.

E 28 And lyke as ye haue benne mynded to swarue from your God: so shal ye nowe endeuour your selues ten times more to turne agayne and to seeke hym.

Esai.lv.b.

29 For he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, shal bring you euerlastyng ioy agayne with your health.

30 Take a good hart vnto thee, O Hierusalem: for he whiche gaue thee that name, exhorteth thee so to doo.

32 The cities whom thy children serue, and that haue caryed away thy sonnes, shalbe corrected.

33 For lyke as they be nowe glad of thy decay, and reioyce at thy falle: so shal they mourne in their owne destruction.

34 The ioy of their multitude shalbe taken away, and their cheare shalbe turned to sorowe.

35 For a fire shal falle vpon them from the euerlasting God, long to endure, and it shal be inhabited of deuils for a great season.

36 O Hierusalem, looke about thee towarde the East, and behold the ioy that commeth vnto thee from God.

37 For loe, thy sonnes whom thou hast forsaken, and that were scattered abrode, come geathered togeather from the East and Weast, reioycing in the woorde of the holy one, vnto the honour of God.

The.v.Chapter.

1. Hierusalem is mooued vnto gladnesse for the returne of her people, and vnder the figure thereof, the Churche.

1 PUt of thy mournyng clothes, O Hierusalem, and thy sorowe, and decke thee with the worshyp & honour that commeth vnto thee from God with euerlasting glory. A

2 God shal put the garment of ryghteousnesse vpon thee, and set a crowne of euerlasting worshyp vpon thyne head:

3 For vppon thee wyl God declare his brightnesse, that is vnder the heauen.

4 Yea an euerlastyng name shall be geuen thee of God, with peace of righteousnesse, and the honour of Gods feare.

5 Aryse, O Hierusalem, stande vp on high, looke about thee towarde the East, and behold thy children geathered from the East vnto the Weast, whiche reioyce in the holy woorde, hauyng God in remembrance.

6 They departed from thee on foote, and were ledde away of their enimies: but nowe shal the Lord bryng them caryed with honour, as chyldren of the kyngdome.

7 For God is purposed to bryng downe al stoute mountaines, yea and al high rockes, to fyl the valleys, & so to make them euen with the grounde, that Israel may be diligent to liue vnto the honour of God. B

8 The wooddes and al pleasant trees, shal ouershadowe Israel at the commaundement of God.

9 For hyther shal God bring Israel with ioyful myrth, and in the lyght of his maiestie, with the mercy and ryghteousnes that commeth of him selfe.

The.vi.Chapter.

A copie of the epistle that Ieremie sent vnto the Iewes, whiche were ledde away prisoners by the kyng of Babylon: wherein he certifieth them of the thyng that was commaunded hym of God.

In this chapter are the makers and maynteyners of images mightily confuted.

1 BEcause of the sinnes that ye haue done agaynst God, ye shalbe ledde away captiue vnto Babylon, euen of Nabuchodonosor the kyng of Babylon. A Jere.25.a.

2 So when ye be comme into Babylon, ye shal remayne there many yeeres, and for a long season, (namely) (a) seuen generations: and after that wyl I bryng you away peaceably from thence. (a) That is, seuentie yeeres.

3 Now shal ye see in Babylon gods of gold, of syluer, of wood, and of stone, borne vpon mens shoulders, to cast out a fearefulnesse before the heathen.

4 But looke that ye doo not as the other: be not ye afraide, and let not the feare of them ouercome you.

5 Therfore whē ye see the multitude of people woorshypping them behind and before, say ye in your hartes, O Lorde, it is thou Deut. 6.c.

that oughteſt onely to be woꝛſhipped.

6 Myne angel alſo ſhalbe with you, and I mee ſelfe wyl care foꝛ your ſoules.

B 7 As foꝛ the "tymber of thoſe goddes, the carpenter hath pulliſhed them: yea gylted be they, and layed ouer with ſiluer, yet are they but vayne things, and can not ſpeake.

" oꝛ, tongue

8 Lyke as a wenche that loueth paramours is trimly deckt: euen ſo are theſe made and hanged with golde.

9 Crownes of gold veryly haue their gods vpon their heades: ſo the prieſtes them ſelues take gold and ſiluer from them, and put it to their owne vſes:

10 Yea they geue of the ſame vnto harlots, and trimme their whoores withal: agayne, they take it from the whoores, and decke their goddes therewith:

Iere. 10. a. 11 Yet can not theſe goddes deliuer them ſelues from ruſt and mothes.

12 When they haue couered them with clothing of purple, they wype their faces foꝛ the duſt of the temple, whereof there is muche among them.

13 One hath a ſcepter in his hand as though he were iudge of the countrey, yet can he not ſlay ſuche as offende hym.

C 14 Another hath a ſwoꝛde oꝛ an axe in his hande: foꝛ al ỹ he is neyther able to defend him ſelf from battaile, noꝛ frō murtherers.

15 By this ye may vnderſtande that they be no goddes: theꝛefoꝛe ſee that ye neyther woꝛſhyp them, noꝛ feare them.

16 Foꝛ lyke as a veſſel that a man vſeth, is nothyng woꝛth when it is broken, euen ſo is it with their gods: when they be ſet vp in the temple, their eyes be ful of duſt through the feete of thoſe that comme in.

17 And lyke as the doores are ſhut in round about vppon him that hath offended the king, oꝛ as it were a dead body kept beſide the graue: euen ſo the prieſtes keepe the doores with barres and lockes, leſt theyr goddes be ſpoyled with robbers.

18 They ſet vp candels beꝛoꝛe them, yea veryly and that many, whereof they can not ſee one: but euen as blockes, ſo ſtande they in the temple.

19 It is ſayde, that the ſerpentes & woꝛmes whiche come of the earth gnawe out theyr hartes, eatyng them and their clothes alſo, and yet they feele it not.

20 Their faces are blacke, through ỹ ſmoke that is in the temple.

D 21 The Owles, Swalowes, & birdes flee vpon them, yea and the cattes runne ouer their heades.

22 By this ye may be ſure that they are no goddes, theꝛefoꝛe feare them not.

23 The gold that they haue is to make them beautiful: foꝛ al that, except ſome bodye dight of their ruſt they wyl geue no ſhine, and when they were caſt into a fourme, they felt it not.

24 They are bought foꝛ money, and haue no breath of lyke within them.

25 They muſt be boꝛne vppon mens ſhoulders as thoſe that haue no feete, whereby they declare vnto menne that they be nothyng woꝛth: confounded be they then that woꝛſhip them. Wyſd. 44. e

26 Foꝛ yf they falle to the grounde, they can not ryſe vp agayne of them ſelues: Yea though one helpe them vp & ſet them right, yet are they not hable to ſtande alone, but muſt haue proppes ſet vnder them like dead menne. Pſal. 114. a.

27 As foꝛ the thing that is offred vnto them, their prieſtes ſel it, and abuſe it, yea the prieſtes wyues take thereof: but vnto the ſicke and pooꝛe they geue nothing of it.

28 The women with childe, and the menſtruous lay handes of theyr offeringes: By this ye may be ſure that they are no gods, theꝛefoꝛe be not ye afrayde of them. E

29 From whence commeth it then that they be called gods? becauſe women " ſit beꝛoꝛe the gods of ſyluer, golde, and woꝛde? " oꝛ, bryng gyftes.

30 And the prieſtes ſit in theyr temples, hauyng " open clothes, whoſe heades and beardes are ſhauen, and haue nothing vpon theyr heades. " oꝛ, rent.

31 Roaryng and cryeing vpon theyr gods, as menne doo at the feaſt when one is dead.

32 The prieſtes alſo take away the garmentes of the images, & decke their wiues and chyldren withal.

33 Whether it be good oꝛ euil that any man doo vnto them, they are not able to recompence it: they can neither ſet vp a kyng, noꝛ put hym doꝛwne.

34 In like manner, they may neither geue riches, noꝛ rewarde euyl: though a man make a vowe vnto them, and keepe it not, they wil not require it. Eccle. 5. a.

35 They can ſaue no man from death, neyther deliuer the weake from the myghtie.

36 They can not reſtoꝛe a blind man to his ſight, noꝛ helpe any man at his neede.

37 They can ſhew no mercy to the widow, noꝛ doo good to the fatherleſſe.

38 Theyr gods of wood, ſtone, golde, and ſyluer, are but euen as other ſtones that be hewen of the mountayne: they that woꝛſhyp them, ſhalbe confounded.

39 How ſhould they then be taken foꝛ gods? yea, howe dare menne cal them gods?

40 "And though the Chaldees woꝛſhyped them not, hearyng that they were but dumbe, and coulde not ſpeake:

" oꝛ reade, 40 The Chaldees alſo diſhonour them, the whiche, yf they ſhal ſee a dumbe one that can not ſpeake, doo preſent it to Bel, and doo require that it may ſpeake.

41 Yet

41 Yet they them ſelues offer vnto Bel, and woulde fayne haue hym to ſpeake: as who ſay they coulde feele that may not moue.
42 But when theſe menne comme to vnder-ſtandyng, they ſhal forſake them, for theyr goddes haue no feelyng.
42 A great ſort of women gird with cordes, ſitte in the ſtreetes, and burne * oliue berries: Nowe yf one of them be conueyed away, and lye with ſuche as come by, ſhe calleth her neighbours in the teeth, becauſe ſhe was not woorthyly reputed, nor her corde broken.
44 What ſo euer is donne for them, it is but in vayne and loſte: Howe may it then be thought or ſayde that they are goddes?
45 Carpenters & Goldſmithes make them:
neyther be they any other thyng but euen
what the woorkeman wyl make of them.
46 Yea the goldſmithes them ſelues that make them, are of no long continuance: how ſhoulde then the thynges that are made of them be goddes?
47 Vayne therefore are the thynges, yea very ſhame is it that they leaue behynd them for their poſteritie.
48 For as ſoone as there commeth any warre or plague vpon them, then the prieſtes imagine where they may hide them ſelues with them.
49 Howe can menne then thinke that they be goddes, whiche neyther may defende them ſelues from warre, nor deliuer them from miſfortune?
50 For ſeeing they be but of wood, (of ſtone) of ſiluer, and of golde, al people and kinges ſhal know hereafter, that they be but vaine thinges: yea it ſhalbe openly declared that they be no goddes, but euen the very woorks of mens handes, and that God hath nothyng to doo with them.
51 It is manyfeſt then that they are no gods, but the woorkes of mens handes, and no
woorke of God in them.
52 They can ſet no king in the land, nor geue raine vnto menne.
53 They can geue no ſentence of a matter, neyther defende the lande from wrong: for they are not hable to doo ſo muche as a crowe that fleeth betwixt heauen & earth.
54 When there happeneth a fire into the houſe of thoſe goddes of wood, and ſiluer, and of golde, the prieſtes wyl eſcape and ſaue them ſelues, but the goddes burne as the balkes therein.
55 They can not withſtande any king or batel: howe may it then be thought or grauted that they be goddes?
56 Moreouer, theſe goddes of wood, of ſtone, of golde and ſiluer, may neyther defende them ſelues from theeues nor robbers.
57 Yea the very wicked are ſtronger then they: theſe ſtrippe them out of their apparel that they be clothed withal, theſe take their golde and ſiluer from them, and ſo geat them away, yet can they not helpe them ſelues.
58 Therefore it is muche better for a man to be a kyng, and ſo to ſhewe his power, or els a profitable veſſel in a houſe, wherein he that oweth it myght haue pleaſure, yea or to be a doore in a houſe, to keepe ſuch thin-ges ſafe as be therein: then to be ſuche a vayne god.
59 The ſunne, the moone, and al the ſtarres, ſeeing they geue their ſhine and light, are obedient, and doo menne good.
60 When ỹ lightning glidereth, al is cleare.
61 The winde bloweth in euery countrey:
and when God commaundeth the cloudes to goe rounde about the whole world, they doo as they are bidden.
62 When the fire is ſent downe from aboue and commaunded, it burneth vp hilles and woodes: but as for thoſe goddes, they are not like one of theſe thinges, neyther in beautie, neither in ſtrength.
63 Wherefore menne ſhoulde not thinke nor ſay that they be goddes, ſeeyng they can neither geue ſentence in iudgement, nor doo menne good.
64 For ſo muche nowe as ye are ſure that they be no goddes, then feare them not:
65 For they can neither ſpeake euil nor good of kinges.
66 They can ſhewe no tokens in heauens for the heathen, neyther ſhine as the ſunne, nor geue light as the moone:
67 Yea the vnreaſonable beaſtes are better then they: for they can geat them vnder the roofe, and doo them ſelues good.
68 So can ye be certified by no manner of meanes that they be goddes, therfore feare them not.
69 For like as a ſcarcrowe in a garden of hearbes keepeth nothyng: euen ſo are their goddes of wood, of ſiluer, and golde.
70 And like as a white thorne in an orchard that euery birde ſitteth vpon, yea lyke as a dead body that is caſt in the darke: euen ſo is it with theſe goddes of wood, ſiluer, and golde.
71 By the purple and ſcarlet whiche they haue vpon them, and ſoone fadeth away, ye may vnderſtande that they be no goddes:
yea they them ſelues ſhalbe conſumed at the laſt, whiche ſhalbe a great confuſion of the lande.
72 * Bleſſed is the godly man that hath no images (and woorſhippeth none:) for he ſhal be farre from reproofe.

The end of the booke of the prophete Baruch.

The ſong of the three children, whiche were put into the hot burnyng ouen. The common tranſlation readeth this ſong in the thirde Chapter of Daniel.

25. The prayer of Azarias. 46. The crueltie of the kyng. 48. The flame deuoureth the Chaldeans. 49. The angel of the Lorde was in the furnace.

24 AND they walked in the middes of E the flame, prayſing God, and magnifyng the Lorde.
25 Then Azarias ſtoode vp, & prayed in this manner, euen in the middeſt of the fyre opened he his mouth, and ſayde,
26 Bleſſed be thou, O Lorde God of our fathers, ryght worthy to be prayſed and honoured is that name of thyne for euermore:
27 For thou art righteous in al the thinges that thou haſt donne to vs, yea faythful are al thy woorkes, thy wayes are ryght, and al thy iudgementes true.
28 In al the thinges that thou haſt brought vpon vs, and vpon the holy citie of our fathers, euen Hieruſalem, thou haſt executed true iudgement: yea accordyng to right and equitie haſt thou brought al theſe thinges vpon vs, becauſe of our ſinnes.
29 For why? we haue offended and donne wickedly, departing from thee.
Dani.9.c 30 In al thinges haue we treſpaſſed, and not obeyed thy commaundementes, nor kept them, neither donne as thou haſt bydden
Baruc.3.b. vs, that we may proſper.
31 Wherefore al that thou haſt brought vpon vs, and euery thing that thou haſt donne to vs, thou haſt donne them in true iudgement:
32 As in deliuering vs into the hands of our enimies, among vngodly and wicked abominations, and to an vnryghteous king, yea the moſt frowarde vpon earth.
F 33 And nowe we may not open our mouthes, we are become a ſhame and reproofe vnto thy ſeruantes, & to them that worſhip thee.
34 Yet for thy names ſake (we beſeeche thee) geue vs not vp for euer, breake not thy couenant,
35 And take not away thy mercie from vs for thy beloued Abrahams ſake, for thy ſeruant Iſahacs ſake, and for thy holy Iſraels ſake:
Gen.15.e. 36 To whom thou haſt ſpoken and promiſed that thou wouldeſt multiplie their ſeede as the ſtarres of heauen, and as the Deut.10.d. ſande that lyeth vpon the ſea ſhore, 37 For we, O Lorde, are become leſſe then any people, and be kept vnder this day in al the worlde, becauſe of our ſinnes.
38 So that nowe we haue neither prince, duke, prophete, burnt offering, ſacrifice, oblation, incenſe, nor ſanctuary before thee.
39 Neuertheleſſe, in a contrite harte and an humble ſpirite let vs be receiued, that we may obtayne thy mercie.
40 Like as in the burnt offering of rammes and bullockes, and like as in thouſandes of fat lammes: ſo let our offering be in thy ſight this day, that it may pleaſe thee: for there is no confuſion vnto them that put their truſt in thee.
41 And nowe we folowe thee with al our hart, we feare thee, and ſeeke thy face. I.Pet.2.a.
42 Put vs not to ſhame: but deale with vs after thy louyng kindneſſe, and accordyng to the multitude of thy mercies. Rom.10.c. Eſai.28.b. Rom.9.g.
43 Deliuer vs by thy myracles, O Lorde, and geat thy name an honour, that al they whiche doo thy ſeruantes euil, may be confounded:
44 Let them be aſhamed through thy almyghty power, and let their ſtrength be broken:
45 That they may knowe howe that thou only art the Lorde God, and honour woorthy throughout al the worlde. G
46 And the kinges ſeruantes that put them in, ceaſſed not to make the ouen hotte with (a) wylde fire, drie ſtrawe, pitche, towe, and faggottes. (a) Which is called Naphtha, which is a certayne kinde of fat and chalkie claye.
47 So that the flame went out of the ouen vpon a fourtie and nine cubites:
48 Yea it tooke away & brent vp thoſe Chaldees that it gate holde vpon beſide ỹ ouen.
49 But the angel of the Lorde came downe into the ouen to Azaria and his felowes, & ſmote the flame of the fire out of the ouen,
50 And made the middes of the ouen as it had benne a colde winde blowyng: ſo the fire neither touched them, greeued them, nor dyd them hurte.
51 Then theſe three, as out of one mouth, prayſed, honoured, and bleſſed God in the furnace, ſayeing, 52 Bleſſed be thou, O Lorde God of our fathers: for thou art prayſe and honour worthy, yea and to be magnified for euermore. I.Mac.4.d Pſal.72.c.
53 Bleſſed be the holy name of thy glory, for it is wooꝛthy to be pꝛayſed and magnified in al wozldes:

54 Bleſſed be thou in the holy temple of thy glozy: foꝛ aboue al thynges thou art to be pꝛayſed, yea and moꝛe then wooꝛthy to be magnified foꝛ euer.

55 Bleſſed be thou in the thꝛone of thy kingdome: foꝛ aboue al thou art wooꝛthy to be wel ſpoken of, and to be moꝛe then magnified foꝛ euer.

56 Bleſſed be thou that lookeſt thꝛough the deepe, and ſitteſt vpon the Cherubims: foꝛ thou art wooꝛthy to be pꝛayſed, and aboue al to be magnified foꝛ euer.

57 Bleſſed be thou in the firmament of heauen: foꝛ thou art pꝛayſe and honour wooꝛthy foꝛ euer.

The

The ſtorie of Suſanna, which is the

.xiii. Chapter of Daniel, after the Latine.

8. The two gouernours are taken with the loue of Suſanna. 19. They take her alone in the garden. 20. They entice her to wickednesse. 23. Shee chooseth rather to obey God, though it be to the danger of her lyfe. 34. She is accuſed. 45. Daniel dooth deliuer her. 62. The gouernours are put to death.

A 1 THere dwelt a man in Babylon, called Ioacim,

2 That tooke a wyfe whoſe name was Suſanna, the daughter of Helchia, a very fayre woman, and ſuche one as feared God.

3 Her father & her mother alſo were good people, and taught theyr daughter accordyng to the lawe of Moſes.

4 Nowe Ioacim (her husband) was a great riche man, and had a fayre orchard ioyning vnto his houſe: and to hym reſorted the Iewes commonly, becauſe he was a man of reputation among them.

5 The ſame yeere were there made two iudges, ſuche as the Lord ſpeaketh of, The wyckednesse of Babylon commeth from the elders (that is) from the iudges which ſeeme to rule the people.

6 Theſe came oft to Ioacims houſe: and al ſuche as had any thyng to doo in the lawe, came thither vnto them.

B 7 Nowe when the people departed away at noone, Suſanna went into her husbandes orcharde to walke.

8 The two elders ſeeing this, that ſhe went in dayly and walked, they burned for luſt to her,

9 Yea, they were almoſt out of their wittes, and caſt downe theyr eyes, that they ſhould not ſee heauen, nor remember that God is a ryghteous iudge.

10 For they were both wounded with the loue of her, neither durſt one ſhewe another his greefe:

11 And for ſhame they durſt not tel her theyr inordinate luſt, that they woulde fayne haue had to doo with her:

12 Yet they layde wayte for her earneſtly from day to day, that they might (at the leaſt) haue a ſyght of her.

13 And the one ſayde to the other, Vp, let vs goe home, for it is dinner tyme. So they went theyr way one from another.

C 14 When they returned agayne, they came together, enquiring out the matter betwixt them ſelues, yea, the one tolde the other of his wycked luſt: Then appoynted they a tyme when they might take Suſanna alone.

15 It happened alſo that they ſpyed out a conuenient tyme, when ſhe went forth to walke, as her manner was, and no body with her but two maydens, and thought to waſhe her ſelfe in the garden: for it was an hot ſeaſon. Exod. 2. c

16 And there was not one perſon there, except the two elders that had hyd thē ſelues to beholde her.

17 So ſhe ſaid to her maydens, Goe fetch me oyle and ſope, and ſhut the orcharde dooze, that I may waſhe me.

18 And they did as ſhe bad them, and ſhut the orcharde dooze, & went out them ſelues at a backe dooze to fetche the thyng that ſhe had commaunded: * but Suſanna knewe not that the elders lay there hyd within.

* or, but they ſawe not the elders becauſe they were hyd.

19 Nowe when the maydens were gonne foorth, the two elders gate them vp, and ranne vpon her, ſayeing, 20 Nowe the orchard doores are ſhut, that no man can ſee vs, we haue a luſt vnto thee, therefore conſent vnto vs, and lye with vs.

21 If thou wilt not, we ſhal bring a teſtimonial agaynſt thee, that there was a young felowe with thee, and that thou haſt sent away thy maydens from thee for the ſame cauſe. D

22 Suſanna ſighed, and ſayde, Alas, I am in trouble on euery ſyde: though I folowe your minde, it wyl be my death: and yf I conſent not vnto you, I can not eſcape your handes.

23 Wel, it is better for me to fal into your hands without the deede dooyng, then to ſinne in the ſight of the Lorde.

24 And with that ſhe cried out with a loud voyce: the elders alſo cried out againſt her.

25 Then ran there one to the orchard dooze, and ſmote it open.

26 Nowe when the ſeruantes of the houſe hearde the crie in the orchard, they ruſhed in at the backe dooze to ſee what the matter was.

27 So when the elders tolde them, the ſeruantes were greatly aſhamed: for why? there was neuer ſuch a report made of Suſanna.

28 On the morowe after came the people to Ioacim her husbaude, and the two elders came came alſo ful of miſchenous imaginations agaynſt Suſanna, to bryng her vnto death, 29 And ſpake thus before the people, Sende for Suſanna the daughter of Helchias, Joacims wyfe. And immediatly they ſent for her.

30 So ſhe came with her father and mother,
her children, and al her kinrede.
31 Nowe Suſanna was a tender perſon, and marueylous fayre of face.
32 Therefore the wicked men commaunded to take her clothes from her face (for ſhe was couered) that at the leaſt they myght ſo be ſatiſfied in her beautie.
33 Then her freendes, yea and al they that knewe her, beganne to weepe.
Lenit.24.c. 34 Theſe two elders ſtood vp in the middes of the people, and layde their handes vpon
F the head of Suſanna,
35 Which weapt, and looked vp toward heauen: for her hart had a ſure truſt in ỳ Lord.
36 And the elders ſayde, As we were walkyng in the orcharde alone, this woman came in with her two maydens, whom ſhe ſent away from her, & ſparred the orcharde doores:
37 With that a young felowe whiche there was hyd, came vnto her, and lay with her.
38 As for vs, we ſtoode in a corner of the or-charde: and when we ſawe this wickedneſſe, we ranne to them, and we ſawe them as they were togeather.
39 But we coulde not holde him, for he was ſtronger then we. Thus he opened ỳ doore, and gate him away.
40 Nowe when we had taken this woman, we aſked her what young felowe this was,
but ſhe woulde not tel vs. This is the matter, and we be witneſſes of the ſame.
41 The common ſort beleeued them, as thoſe that were the elders and iudges of the people, and ſo they condempned her to death.
Hebr.4.c. 42 Suſanna cryed out with a loude voyce, and ſayde, O euerlaſtyng God, thou ſear-cher of ſecrets, thou that knoweſt al things before they come to paſſe:
G 43 Thou woteſt that they haue borne falſe witneſſe agaynſt me, and beholde I muſte dye, whereas I neuer dyd any ſuch thyngs as theſe menne haue malitiouſly inuented agaynſt me.
44 And the Lorde hearde her voyce.
2.Sam.3.f. 45 For when ſhe was ledde forth to death, the Lorde rayſed vp the ſpirite of a young childe, whoſe name was Daniel, 46 Whiche cryed with a loude voyce, I am cleane from this blood.
47 Then al the people turned toward hym, and ſayde, What meane theſe woords that thou haſt ſpoken?
48 Daniel ſtoode in the middes of them, and ſayde, Are ye ſuche fooles, O ye children of Iſrael, that ye can not diſcerne and knowe the trueth? Ye haue here condempned a daughter of Iſrael vnto death, and knowe not the trueth wherefore?
49 Goe ſitte in iudgement agayne: for they haue ſpoken falſe witneſſe agaynſt her.
50 Wherefore the people turned agayne in al the haſte: and the elders (that is the principal heades) ſayde vnto him, Comme ſitte downe here among vs, and ſhewe vs this matter, ſeeyng God hath geuen thee as great honour as an elder.
51 And Daniel ſayde vnto them, Put theſe 2.Sam.3.d two aſide one from an other, and then ſhall
I examine them.
52 When they were put a ſunder one from another, he called one of them, and ſayde vnto him, O thou olde cankarde carle, that haſt vſed thy wickednes ſo long, thine vngratious deedes whiche thou haſt donne afore, are nowe come to lyght.
53 For thou haſt geuen falſe iudgementes, thou haſt oppreſſed the innocent, and letten
the gyltie goe free: where as yet the Lorde Exod.23.a. ſayth, The innocent & ryghteous ſee thou ſlay not.
54 Wel then, yf thou haſt ſeene her, telle me vnder what tree ſaweſt thou them companying togeather? He anſweared, vnder a " Mulberie tree. " or, a Lentiſke tree.
55 And Daniel ſayde, Very wel, nowe thou lyeſt euen vpon thyne head: loe, the meſſenger of the Lorde hath receiued the ſentence of hym, to cut thee in two.
56 Then put he him aſide, and called for the other, and ſayde vnto him, O thou ſeede of Chanaan, but not of Juda, fayreneſſe hath deceiued thee, & luſt hath ſubuerted thyne hart.
57 Thus dealt ye afore with the daughters of Iſrael, and they for feare conſented vnto you: but the daughter of Juda woulde not abide your wickednes.
58 Nowe telle me then, vnder what tree dyddeſt thou take them companying together? He anſweared, vnder a " Pomegra-nare tree. " or, a prune tree, or a mirtel tree
59 Then ſaide Daniel vnto him, Very wel, nowe thou lyeſt alſo euen vpon thyne head:
the meſſenger of the Lorde ſtandeth waytyng with the ſwoorde to cut thee in two,
and ſlay you both.
60 With that al the whole multitude gaue a great ſhowte, and prayſed God, which al-way deliuered them that put their truſt in Pſal.17.a.
him.
61 And they came vpon the two elders, whō
Daniel hadde conuict with their owne mouth

mouth, that they had geuen falſe witneſſe,
62 And dealt with them euen lykewyſe as they woulde haue donne with their neyghbours, yea they did accoꝛding to the lawe of Moſes, and put them to death: Thus the innocent blood was ſaued ỹ ſame day.
Deut.19.d.
63 Then Helcias and his wyfe prayſed God foꝛ their daughter Suſanna, with Joacim her huſband, and al the kinrede, that there was no diſhoneſtie founde in her.
64 From that day foꝛth was Daniel had in great reputation in the ſight of ỹ people.
65 And king Aſtyages was layde with his fathers, and Cyrus of Perſia raigned in his ſteede.

The ende of the ſtory of Suſanna.

The ſtory of Bel and of the Dragon, whiche is the fourteenth Chapter of Daniel, after the Latine.

A 1 DAniel did eate at the kinges table, and was had in reuerence aboue al his freendes.
2 There was at Babylō an image called Bel, and there were ſpent vpon him euery day twelue cakes, fourtie ſheepe, and fiue great pottes of wine.
3 Him did the king wooꝛſhip him ſelfe, and went dayly to honour hym, but Daniel wooꝛſhipped his owne God: and the kyng ſayd vnto him, Why dooeſt not thou wooꝛſhip Bel?
4 He anſweared and ſayde, Becauſe I may not wooꝛſhip thinges that be made with handes, but the liuyng God whiche made heauen and earth, and hath power vppon al fleaſhe.
5 The king ſayde vnto him, Thinkeſt thou not that Bel is a liuing God? oꝛ ſeeſt thou not howe muche he eateth and dꝛynketh euery day?
6 Daniel ſmiled, and ſaid, O kyng deceiue not thee ſelfe: foꝛ this is but made of claye within, and of bꝛaſſe without, neither eateth he euer any thyng.
B 7 Then the king was wꝛoth, and called foꝛ his pꝛieſtes, and ſayde vnto them, If ye tel me not who is this that eateth vp theſe expences, ye ſhal dye:
Eccle.30.c.
8 But yf ye can certifie me that Bel eateth them, then Daniel ſhal dye: foꝛ he hath ſpoken blaſphemie againſt Bel. And Daniel ſayde vnto the king, Let it ſo be, accoꝛding as thou haſt ſaide.
9 The pꝛieſtes of Bel were threeſcoꝛe and tenne, beſides their wyues and chyldꝛen: And the kyng went with Daniel into the Temple of Bel.
10 So Bels pꝛieſtes ſayde, Loe, we wyl goe out: and ſet thou the meate there, O kyng, and powꝛe in the wine, then ſhut the dooꝛe faſt, and ſeale it with thyne owne ſignet:
11 And to mooꝛowe when thou commeſt in, yf thou fin deſt not that Bel hath eaten vp al, we wyl ſuffer death: oꝛ els Daniel that hath lyed vpon vs.
12 The pꝛieſtes thought them ſelues ſure ynough: foꝛ vnder the * aulter they hadde made a pꝛiuie entrance, & there went they in euer, and did eate vp what there was. * oꝛ, table.
13 So when they were gonne foꝛth, ỹ king ſet meates befoꝛe Bel: Nowe Daniel had commaunded his ſeruantes to bꝛing aſſhes, & theſe he * ſyfted thꝛoughout al the temple, that the king myght ſee: then went they out and ſparred the dooꝛe, ſealing it with the kinges ſignet, and ſo departed. * oꝛ, ſtrowed.
14 In the night came the pꝛieſtes, with their wyues and chyldꝛen, as they were wont to doo, and did eate and dꝛinke vp al.
C 15 In the mooꝛning betimes at the bꝛeake of the day the king aroſe, & Daniel with him.
16 And the king ſaide, Daniel, are the ſeales whole yet? He anſweared, Yea, O kyng, they be whole.
17 Nowe as ſoone as he had opened ỹ dooꝛe, the kyng looked vnto the * aulter, and cryed with a loude voyce, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceipt. * oꝛ, table.
18 Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he ſhould not goe in, and ſayd, Behold the pauement, marke wel, whoſe footeſteps are theſe?
19 The king ſayde, I ſee the footeſteppes of menne, women, and chyldꝛen.
20 Therfoꝛe the king was angry, and tooke the pꝛieſtes, with their wyues and chyldꝛen: & they ſhewed him the pꝛiuie dooꝛes where they came in, and dyd eate vp ſuch thinges as were vpon the aulter:
21 Foꝛ the whiche cauſe the kyng ſlue them, and deliuered Bel into Daniels power, whiche deſtroyed hym and his temple.
D Ieere. 51.g. Eſai. 46.a.
22 And in that ſame place there was a great Dꝛagon, whiche they of Babylon wooꝛſhipped.
23 And the kyng ſayde vnto Daniel, Sayeſt thou that this is but a god of bꝛaſſe alſo? Loe, he liueth, he eateth and dꝛynketh, ſo that thou canſt not ſay that he is no lyuyng god: therefoꝛe wooꝛſhip him.
24 Daniel ſaide vnto the king, I wyl wooꝛſhip ſhip the Lorde my God, he is the true lyuyng God: as for this, he is not the God of lyfe.

25 But geue me leaue, O kyng, and I ſhall deſtroy this Dragon without ſwoorde or ſtaffe. The kyng ſayde, I geue thee leaue.

26 Then Daniel tooke pitche, fat, and hearie wool, and dyd ſeethe them togeather, and made lumpes thereof, this he put in the Dragons mouth, and ſo the Dragon burſt in ſunder. And Daniel ſayde, Lo, there is he whom ye woorſhypped.

27 When they of Babylon heard that, they tooke great indignation, and geathered them togeather againſt the kyng, ſayeing, The kyng is become a Iewe, and he hath deſtroyed Bel, he hath ſlayne the Dragon, and put the prieſtes to death.

E 28 So they came to the kyng, and ſayde, Let vs haue Daniel, or els we wyl deſtroy thee, and thyne houſe.

29 Nowe when the kyng ſawe that they ruſhed in ſo ſoare vpon hym, & that neceſſitie conſtrayned hym, he deliuered Daniel vnto them:

Daniel.6.c.

30 Whiche caſt hym into the Lions denne, where he was ſyxe dayes.

31 In the denne there were ſeuen Lions, and they had geuen them euery day two bodyes, and two ſheepe: which then were not geuen them, to the intent that they might deuoure Daniel.

32 There was in Iurie a prophete called Habacuc, whiche had made pottage, and broken bread in a bowle, and was goeing into the feeld for to bring it to the reapers.

33 But the angel of the Lord ſayd vnto Habacuc, Goe cary the meate that thou haſt, into Babylon, vnto Daniel, whiche is in the Lions denne.

34 And Habacuc ſayd, Lord, I neuer ſawe Babylon, & as for the denne I know it not.

F

35 Then the angel of the Lorde tooke hym by the toppe, and bare hym by the heare of the head, and through a mightie winde ſet hym in Babylon vpon the denne.

37 And Daniel ſayde, O God, haſt thou thought vpon me? wel, thou neuer fayleſt them that loue thee.

38 So Daniel arole, and did eate. And the angel of the Lorde ſet Habacuc in his owne place agayne immediatly.

39 Upon the ſeuenth day, the kyng went to beweepe Daniel: and when he came to the denne, he looked in, and beholde, Daniel ſate (in the middeſt of the Lions.)

40 Then cryed the kyng with a loud voice, ſaying, Great art thou, O lord God of Daniel, and there is none other beſydes thee.

G

41 And he drew him out of the Lions denne, and caſt thoſe that were the cauſe of his deſtruction into the denne, and they were deuoured in a moment before his face.

Iere.17.b.

42 After this, wrote the kyng vnto al people, kynredes, and tongues, that dwelt in al countreyes,

43 Sayeing, Peace be multiplied with you: My commaundement is in al the dominion of my realme, that menne feare & ſtande in awe of Daniels God, for he is the liuing God, whiche endureth euer:

44 His kyngdome abideth vncorrupt, and his power is euerlaſtyng.

75 It is he that can deliuer & ſaue, he dooth woonders and marueilous woorkes in heauen and in earth: for he hath ſaued Daniel from the power of the Lions.

The prayer of Manaſſes king of Iuda, when he was holden captiue in Babylon.

O Lorde almyghtie, God of our fathers, Abraham, Iſahac, and Jacob, and of the ryghteous ſeede of them, whiche haſt made heauen and earth, with al the ornamente thereof, whiche haſt " ordayned the ſea by the woorde of thy commaundement, whiche haſt ſhut vp the deepe, and haſt ſealed it for thy feareful and laudable name, whiche al menne feare, and tremble before the face of thy power, and not for the anger of thy threatnyng, the whiche is importable to ſinners, but the mercy of thy promyſe is great and vnſearchable: for thou art the Lorde God moſte high aboue al the earth, long ſufferyng, and exceedyng mercyful, and repentant vpon the malice of menne: Thou Lord after thy goodneſſe haſt promiſed repentance of the remiſſion of ſinnes, and thou that art the God of the ryghteous, haſt not put repentance to the ryghteous Abraham, Iſahac, and Jacob, vnto them that haue not ſinned againſt thee: but becauſe I haue ſinned aboue the number of the ſandes of the ſea, and that myne iniquities are multiplyed, I am " humbled with many bandes of yron, and there is in me no breathyng, I haue prouoked thyne anger, and haue donne euyl before thee, in committyng abominations, and multiplyng offences: and nowe I bowe the knees of my hart, requiryng goodneſſe of thee, O Lord. I haue ſinned Lord, I haue ſinned, and knowe myne iniquitie. I deſyre thee by prayer, O Lorde forgeue me, forgeue me, and deſtroy me not with myne iniquities, neyther doo thou alwayes remember myne euyles to pounyſhe them: but ſaue me (whiche am vnworthy) after thy great mercy, and I will prayſe thee euerlaſtingly al the dayes of my lyfe: for al the power of heauen prayſeth thee, and vnto thee belongeth glory, worlde without ende. ¶ A neceſſarie Table for the knowledge of the ſtate of Iuda, from the beginning of the Monarchie of the Grekes (where the Table that we haue ſet foorth vpon Eldras endeth) vntil the death and paſſion of Ieſus Chriſte.

The. 70. weekes foreſhewed. Dan 9.

THe angel of the Lord ſent to Daniel ſaid, that it was. 70. weekes of yeeres, that is to ſay, 70. times ſeuen, whiche commeth to. 490. from the geuyng foorth of the commaundement that Hieruſalem ſhould be builded agayne and reſtored, vntyl Chriſte the prince. This commaundement was geuen foorth by the mouth of Darius longhande, monarche of the Perſians, the yeere of his raigne, as it is written in Nehemias. 2. Therfore the ſaide. 70. weekes ought to begyn there, though al agree not therein: for ſomme begyn it in the. 2. yeere of the ſaid Darius: other, the firſte yeere of Cyrus. So that from the begynnyng of the ſayde weekes, tyl the tyme that Alexander vsurped the monarchie, we recken. 4. yeeres and. 18. weekes, whiche maketh 130. yeeres. To ſhewe the verifiyng of the ſayd weekes, accordyng to the aforeſaide prophecie of Daniel the. 9. we wil proportion them with the yeeres in whiche the kynges of Syria (ſet here in order on the ryght ſide) haue ended theyr kyngdome eche of them in order.

The monarchie of the Grekes.

ALexander the great, ſonne to Philip king of Macedo, conquered the monarchie of the Perſians from Darius, the 192. yeere of Cyrus the firſt monarche, and tranſported it to the Grekes: he raigned, 6. whole yeres, and the ſeuenth died, leauing diuers ſucceſſors, to whom he diuided the ſayde monarchie before his death, that is, the kingdomes of Syria, Aſia, Egypt, and Macedonia. We wyl here treate of his ſucceſſors the kinges of Syria only, becauſe the ſcripture maketh mention therof, and maketh the ſupputation of the yeeres by the tyme that the ſayde kynges raigned, beginning at the firſt: as appeareth in the firſte booke of Machabees. And we wyl orderly ſet theyr names, and the tyme that eache of them hath raigned, to conferre them with the number of the weekes placed on the left ſide of this Table, to the ende that ſayde weekes may be verified, and that the propheſie of Daniel may be playnely vnderſtoode touching the commyng and death of our ſauiour Chriſte.

A 1 After that Alexander king of Macedonia sonne of Philip went fooꝛth of the land of "Cethim, and (a) slewe Darius king of ỹ Persians and Medes, and raigned foꝛ him, as he had donne befoꝛe in Grecia:

" oꝛ, Chettim.

(a) The first batel with the Carthaginenses was fought at this tyme.

2 It happened that he tooke great warres in hande, wanne very many stꝛong cities, and slue many kinges of the earth,

3 Goeyng thꝛough to the endes of the woꝛlde, and geatting many spoyles of the people, in so muche that the whole woꝛlde stoode in awe of hym, and therefoꝛe was he proude in his hart.

10 And caused them selues to be crowned as kinges: and so dyd their chyldꝛen after them many yeeres, and much wickednesse increased in the woꝛlde.

11 Out of these came the vngratious roote "noble Antiochus, the sonne of Antiochus the king, which had beene a pledge at Rome: and he raigned in the hundꝛed thirtie and seuen yeere of the empire of the Grekes.

(f) The wicked fal headlong into mischeefe.

15 (f) Then set they vp an open schoole at Hieꝛusalem, of the lawes of the heathen:

16 (g) And made them selues vncircumcised, but foꝛsooke the holy testament, and ioyned them selues to the heathen, & were cleane soulde to doo mischefe.

17 So when Antiochus began to be mighty in his kyngdome, he went about to obtayne the land of Egypt also, that he might haue the dominion of two realmes.

18 Vppon this entred he into Egypt with a stꝛong hoast, with charettes, Elephantes, hoꝛsemen, and a great number of shippes.

19 (h) And beganne to warre agaynst Ptolome the kyng of Egypt: but Ptolome was afrayde of him, and fledde, and many of his people were wounded to death.

20 Thus Antiochus wanne many stꝛong cities in Egypt, and tooke away great good out of the lande of Egypt.

21 And after that Antiochus had smytten Egypt, he turned agayne in the hundꝛed fourtie and three yeere, and went towarde Israel,

22 And came vp to Hieꝛusalem with a myghty people,

D 23 And entred pꝛoudly into the sanctuarie, and tooke away the golden aulter, the candelsticke, and al the oꝛnamentes thereof, the table of the shewe bꝛead, the pouring vessels, the chargers, the golden spoones, I.Mac.5.c. the vayle, the crownes, and golden apparel of the temple, & bꝛake downe al in peeces.

24 He tooke also the siluer and gold, the pꝛetious iewels, and the secrete treasures that he founde.

25 And when he had taken away altogeather, caused a great murther of menne, and spoken very pꝛoudely, he departed into his owne lande.

26 Therefoꝛe there was great lamentation thꝛoughout al Israel.

27 The pꝛinces and the elders of the people mourned, the young menne and the maydens were "defiled, & the fayꝛe beautie of women was changed,

28 The bꝛidegrome & the bꝛide tooke them to mournyng,

29 The lande and those that dwelt therein was moued: foꝛ al the house of Jacob was bꝛought to confusion.

32 He fel sodenly vpon the citie, and smote it soare, & destroyed muche people of Israel.
33 And when he had spoyled the citie, he set fyre on it, castyng downe houses & walles on euery side.
34 The women and their chyldren tooke they captiue, and ledde away their catel.
35 Then buylded they the citie of Dauid with a great and thicke wal, and with myghty towers, and made it a strong hold for them.
36 Beside al this, they set wicked people, and vngodly menne to keepe it,
F 37 Stored it with weapons and victualles, geathered the goodes of Hierusalem, and layd them vp there: thus became it a theeuishe castel.
38 Thus they became a heauy burden, laying wayte for the people that went into the sanctuarie, and for the cruel destruction of Israel.
39 Thus they shedde innocent blood on euery side of the sanctuarie, and defiled it:
40 In so muche that the citezins were faine to depart, and the citie became an habitation of strangers, beyng desolate of her owne seede: for her owne natiues were faine to leaue her.

43 Antiochus also the kyng sent out a commission vnto al his kyngdome, that all the people shoulde be one.
44 Then they leaft euery man his law, and al the heathen agreed to the commaundement of kyng Antiochus:
45 Yea, many of the Israelites consented thereunto, offering vnto idols, and defiling the sabboth.
46 So the king Antiochus sent his messengers with his commission vnto Hierusalem, and to al the cities of Juda, that they shoulde folowe the lawes of the heathen:
47 And forbad the whole burnt offeryng, meate offryng, or peace offring to be made in the temple of God, and that there should no sabboth nor high feast day be keapt:
48 But commaunded that the sanctuarie & the holy people of Israel shoulde be defiled:
49 He commaunded also, that there shoulde bee set vp aulters, temples, and idols, to offer vp swines fleash, and vncleane beastes,
50 That menne shoulde leaue their chyldren vncircumcised, to defyle their soules with al maner of vncleanesse and abominations:
51 That they might so forget the lawe, and change al the holy ordinances of God,
52 And that whosoeuer woulde not doo according vnto the commaundement of kyng Antiochus, shoulde suffer death.
53 In lyke maner commaunded he throughout al his realme, and set rulers ouer the people, for to compel them to doo these thinges:
54 Commaundyng al the cities of Juda to doo sacrifice (vnto idols.) G
55 Then went the people vnto the heathen by heapes, forsooke the lawe of the Lorde, and committed muche euyl in the lande:
56 And they drone the Israelites into secrete places, euen whereseoeuer they coulde flee for succour.
57 The fifteenth day of the moneth Casleu, in the hundred threescore and fift yeere, set king Antiochus an abominable idol of desolation vpon the aulter of God, and they builded aulters throughout al the cities of Juda on euery side, Nouembey.

60 Whatsoeuer he was that had a booke of the testament of the Lorde founde by hym, yea whosoeuer endeuoured hym selfe to keepe the law of the Lord, the kinges commaundement was, that they shoulde put hym to death.
61 And through his auctoritie they executed these thynges euery moneth, vpon the people of Israel that were founde in the cities.
62 The twentie & fifth day of the moneth, what tyme as they did sacrifice vpon the aulter, whiche stoode in the steade of the aulter of the Lorde:
63 Accordyng to the commaundement of king Antiochus, they put certayne women to death, whiche had caused their children to be circumcised:
64 Not onely that, but they hanged vp the chyldren by the neckes throughout al their houses, and slue the circumcisers of them:
65 Yet were there many of the people of Israel, whiche determined in them selues that they would not eate vncleane thinges: but chose rather to suffer death, then to be defyled with vncleane meates:
66 So because they woulde not breake the blessed law of god, they were cruelly slaine.
67 And this great tyrannie encreased very sore vpon the people of Israel.

The.ii.Chapter.

I. The mournyng of Mathathias and his sonnes for the destruction of the holy citie.

A

1 IN those dayes there dyd stande vp one Mathathias the sonne of John, ỹ sonne of Simeon the priest, out of the kinrede of Joarib, from Hierusalem, and dweit vpon the mount of Modin,

2 And had fiue sonnes: John called Gaddis,

3 Simon called Thast,

4 Judas, otherwyse called Machabeus.

5 Eleazer, otherwyse called Abaron, and Jonathan, whose surname was Apphus.

6 These sawe the euyl that was donne among the people of Juda and Hierusalem.

B 7 And Mathathias sayde, Wo is me, alas that euer I was borne, to see this miserie of my people, and the piteous destruction of the holy citie, and thus to sit so stil, it beyng delinered into the handes of the enimies.

8 Her sanctuarie is come into the power of strangers, her temple is as it were a man that hath lost his good name:

9 Her pretious ornamentes are caryed away captiue, her olde menne are slayne in the streetes, and her young menne are fallen through the swoorde of the enimies.

10 What people is it that hath not somme possession in her kingdome? or who hath not gotten somme of her spoyles?

11 Al her glory is taken away, she was a free woman, and nowe she is become an handemayde.

12 Beholde our sanctuarie, our beautie and honour is wasted away, and defiled by the gentiles.

13 What helpeth it vs then to liue?

C 14 And Mathathias rent his clothes, he and his sonnes, and put sackcloth vpon them, and mourned very soare.

15 Then came the meane thyther, whiche were sent of kyng Antiochus to compel suche as were fled into the citie of Modin for to doo sacrifice, & to burne incense vnto idols, and to forsake the lawe of God.

16 So many of the people of Israel consented and enclined vnto them: but Mathathias and his sonnes remayned stedfast.

17 Then spake the commissioners of kyng Antiochus, and sayde vnto Matthathias, Thou art a noble man, of high reputation, and great in this citie, hauing many fayre children and brethren.

18 Comme thou therfore first, and fulfyl the kynges commaundement, lyke as al the heathen haue donne, yea, and the menne of Juda, and such as remayne at Hierusalem, so shalt thou and thy children be in the kynges fauour, and enriched with golde, siluer, and great rewardes.

19 Mathathias answeared, and spake with a loude voyce, Though al nations obey the king Antiochus, & fal away euery man frō keeping the lawe of their fathers, though they consent to his commaundementes:

20 (a) Yet wil I and my sonnes and my brethren not fal from the lawes of our fathers, 21 GOD forbydde we shoulde: that were not good for vs that we shoulde forsake the lawe and ordinances of God, and to agree vnto the commaundement of kyng Antiochus.

22 Therefore we wyl doo no such sacrifice, neyther breake the statutes of our lawe, to goe another way.

23 And when he had spoken these wordes, there came one of the Jewes, which openly in the sight of al did sacrifices vnto the idols vpon the aulter in the citie of Modin, accordyng to the kinges commaundement.

24 When Mathathias sawe this, it greeued (b) him at the hart, so that his reynes shoke withal, and his wrath kyndled for very zeale of the law: with that he start vp, and kylled the Jewe beside the alter.

25 Yea and slue the kynges commissioner that compelled him to do sacrifice, and destroyed the aulter at the same tyme:

26 Suche a zeale had he vnto the lawe of God, lyke as Phinehes dyd vnto Zambri the sonne of Salomi.

27 And Mathathias cryed with a loude voyce through the citie, sayeing, Who so is feruent in the law, and wyl keepe the couenant, let hym folowe me.

28 So he and his sonnes fled into the mountaynes, and left al that euer they had in the citie.

29 Many other godly menne also whiche lyued iustly and vprightly departed into the wyldernesse, with their children, their wyues, and their cattel, and remayned there: for the tyrannie increased sore vpon them.

30 Nowe when the kinges seruantes, and the host whiche was at Hierusalem in the citie of David, heard that certayne menne had broken the kinges commaundement, and were gonne their way to the wyldernesse into secrete places:

31 Then many pursued after them, and after they had ouertaken them, they camped thē selues, and set the battayle in aray agaynst them in the sabboth day,

32 And sayde vnto them, Wyl ye yet rebel? Geat you hence, and doo the commaundement of kyng Antiochus, and ye shal liue.

(a) The father promiseth for his children that they shal serue God, so doth Iosue for his housholde, Iosue. xxiiii. D Prou. 4. c.

33 They

33 They answeared, We wyl not goe (for thee) neither wyl we doo the kynges commaundement, to defile the Sabboth day.
34 Then beganne they to fyght against thē:
35 But the other gaue them none other answeare, neither cast they one stone at them, nor made fast their priuie places:
36 But sayde, We wyl dye al in our innocencie, heauen and earth shal testifie with F vs that ye put vs to death wrongfully.
37 Thus they fought agaynst them vppon the Sabboth, and slue both menne and cattel, their wyues and their chyldren, to the number of a thousande people.
38 When Mathathias & his freendes heard this, they mourned for them vyght soare, 39 And sayde one to another, If so be that we al doo as our brethren haue donne, and fight not for our liues, and for our lawes agaynst the heathen, then shal they the sooner roote vs out of the earth.
40 So they concluded among them selues at the same time, sayeing,
41 What so euer he be that cōmeth to make batayle with vs vpon the Saboth day, we wyl fyght agaynst him, and not dye all as our brethren that were murthered in the wylderneſſe.
42 Upon this came the assemblie of the Assideans vnto them, whiche were of the strongest menne in Israel, and al suche as were feruent in the lawe:
43 And al they that were fled for persecution came to helpe them, & to stand by them:
44 In so muche that they geathered an hoast of menne, and slue the wicked doers in their gelousie, and the vngodly menne in their wrath: but the rest fledde vnto the heathen and escaped.
45 Then Mathathias & his freendes went about, and destroyed the aulters.
46 And circumcised the chyldren that had not yet receiued circumcision, as many as they founde within the coastes of Israel:
G 47 And followed myghtyly vpon the proude menne: and this acte prospered in their handes, 48 In so muche that they kept the lawe agaynst the power of the gentiles and the kynges, and gaue not ouer their dominion vnto wicked doers.
49 After this, when the time drewe on fast that Mathathias shoulde dye, he sayde vnto his sonnes, Nowe is pride and persecution increased, nowe is the tyme of destruction and wrathful displeasure:
50 Wherefore O my sonnes, be ye feruent in the lawe, and ieoparde your liues for the testament of the fathers.
51 Call to remembrance what actes our fathers dyd in their time, so shall ye receiue great honour, and an euerlastyng name.
52 Remember Abraham: was not he found faythful in temptation, and it was reckened vnto him for ryghteousnesse? James.2.d. Rom.4.a. Gene.22.b.
53 Joseph in time of his trouble kept the commaundement, and was made a Lorde of Egypt. Hebre.11.d. Eccle.44.c Gene.41.f.
54 Phinehes our father was so feruent for the honour of God, that he obtayned the couenant of an euerlasting priesthood, Num.27.d. Eccle.45.f. Num.27.c.
55 Josuah for fulfilling the woorde of God, was made the captayne of Israel. Josua.1.a. Num.14.a.
56 Caleb bare recorde before the congregation, and receiued an herytage. 1.Reg.25.c.
57 David also in his merciful kyndnesse, obtayned the throne of an euerlastyng kyngdome.
58 Elias beyng zelous and feruent in the lawe, was taken vp into heauen. 4. Reg.7.a.
59 Ananias, Azarias, and Misael remayned stedfast in fayth, and were deliuered out of the fyre. Dan.3.c.
60 In like manner Daniel beyng vngylty, was saued from the mouth of the Lions. Dan.6.c. Hebre.11.b.
61 And thus ye may consyder throughout al ages since ỹ world began, that who so euer put their trust in God were not ouercome.
62 Feare not ye then the woordes of an vngodly man, for his glory is but doung and woormes: Mat.10.d. Esai.40.a. and.51.c.
63 To day is he set vp, and to morowe is he gonne: for he is turned into earth, and his memorial is come to nought. 1.Pet.1.b. James.1.b. Eccle.14.b.
64 Wherfore O my sonnes, take good harts vnto you, and quite your selues lyke menne in the lawe: for yf ye doo the thynges that are commaunded you in the lawe of the Lorde your God, ye shal obtayne great honour therein. Psal.26.c.
65 And beholde, I knowe that your brother Simon is a man of wysedome: see that ye geue eare vnto him alway, he shalbe a father vnto you.
66 As for Judas Machabeus, he hath euer benne myghty and strong from his youth vp: let hym be your captayne, and order the batayle of the people.
67 Thus shal ye bring vnto you al those that fauour the lawe, and see that ye auenge the wrong of your people, 68 And recompence the heathen agayne, and apply your selues wholy to the commaundement of the lawe.
69 So he gaue them his blessing, and was layde by his fathers,
70 And dyed in the hundred fourtie and fyue yeere at Modin, where his sonnes buryed him in his fathers sepulchre, and al Israel made great lamentation for hym.

The.iii.Chapter.

I. Iudas is made ruler ouer the Iewes. II. He killeth Appollonius and Seron the prince of Syria.

A 1 THen stoode vp Judas Machabeus in his fathers steede, Joseph. cap.8.9.10. 11.12.Lat. 2 And al his brethren helped him, and so dyd al they that helde with his father, and fought with cheerefulnesse for Israel.

3 So Judas gate his people great honour: he put on a brestplate as a Giant, and arayed him selfe with his harnesse, and defended the hoast with his swoorde.

Psal.101.b. 2.Mac.8.a. 4 In his actes he was lyke a Lion, and as a Lions whelpe rearing at his pray.

5 He was an enimie to the wicked, and hunted them out, and brent vp those that vexed his people:

6 So that his enimies fledde for feare of hym, and al the woorkers of vngodlynesse were put to trouble: suche lucke and prosperitie was in his hande.

B 7 This grieued diuers kinges: but Jacob was greatly reioyced through his actes, and he gate him selfe a great name for euer.

8 He went through the cities of Juda, destroying the vngodly out of them, turnyng away the wrath from Israel, 9 And receauing suche as were oppressed: and the fame of him went vnto the vttermost part of the earth.

10 Then Appollonius (a prince of Syria) gathered a mighty great hoaste of ỹ heathen, & out of Samaria, to fyght agaynst Israel:

11 Whiche when Judas perceaued, he went foorth to meete hym, fought with hym, slue him, and a great multitude with hym: the remnant fledde, & he tooke their substance.

12 Judas also tooke Appollonius owne swoord, and fought with it al his life long.

13 Nowe when Seron a prince of the armie of Syria, heard say that Judas had gathered vnto him the congregation & church of the faythful.

C 14 He sayde, I wyl get me a name and a prayse throughout the realme: for I wyll goe fyght with Judas and them that are with hym, as many as haue despised the kynges commaundement.

15 So he made him ready, and there went with hym a great myghty hoast of the vngodly to stande by him, and to be auenged of the children of Israel.

16 And when they came nigh vnto Bethoron, Judas went foorth agaynst them with a smal company.

17 And when his people sawe suche a great hoast before them, they sayde vnto Judas, Howe are we hable, beyng so fewe, to fight agaynst so great a multitude and so strong, seeyng we be so weery, and haue fasted all this day?

18 But Judas sayde, It is a smal matter for many to be ouercome with fewe: yea there is no difference to the God of heauen, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a small company: 1.Reg.14.a

19 For the victorie of the batayle standeth not in the multitude of the hoast, but the strength commeth from heauen.

20 Beholde, they comme agaynst vs with a cruel and proude multitude, to destroy vs, our wyues, & our children, and to robbe vs: 2.Chr.25.b

21 But we wyl fyght for our lyues, and for our lawes,

22 And the Lord him selfe shal destroy them before our face: therefore be not ye afrayde of them.

23 As soone as he had spoken these woordes, he leapt sodenly vppon them: Thus was Seron smitten, and his hoast put to flight, D

24 And Judas folowed vpon them beyonde Bethoron, vnto the plaine feelde, where there were slaine eyght hundred menne of them, and the residue fledde into the lande of the Philistines.

25 Then al the heathen on euery side were afrayde of Judas and his brethren:

26 So that the * rumour of him came vnto the kynges eares, for al the gentiles coulde tell of the warres of Judas. * or, feare.

27 So when king Antiochus heard these tydynges, he was angry in his minde: wherefore he sent foorth, and geathered an hoaste of his whole realme, very strong armies:

28 And opened his treasurie, and gaue his hoast a yeeres wages in hande, commaundyng them to be ready at al tymes.

29 Neuertheless, when he sawe that there was not money yenough in his treasuries, and that through the discorde and persecution whiche he made in the lande to put downe the lawes that had benne of olde tymes, his customes and tributes of the lande were minished:

30 He feared that he was not hable for to beare the costes and charges any longer, nor to haue such giftes to geue so liberally as he dyd afore, more then the kynges that were before him.

31 Wherefore he was heauy in his minde, and thought to goe vnto Persides for to take tributes of the land, and so to geather muche money. 1.Mac.6.a.

32 So he leaft Lysias, a noble man of the kynges blood, to ouersee the kynges busynesse, from the water Euphrates, vnto the borders of Egypt:

33 And to keepe well his sonne Antiochus tyl he came agayne.

34 Moreo-

34 Moreouer, he gaue him halfe of his hoſt, and Elephantes, and committed vnto him euery thing, and gaue him the charge of al thinges that he would haue donne, concernyng thoſe whiche dwelt in Juda and Hieruſalem:

35 That he ſhoulde ſende out an armie agaynſt them, to deſtroy and to roote out the power of Iſrael, and the remnant of Hieruſalem, to put out their memorial from that place:

F 36 To ſet ſtrangers for to inhabite al their quarters, and to parte their lande among them.

Ioſephus cap. 10. lib. anti. 37 Thus the kyng tooke the other parte of the hoſt, and departed from Antioche, a citie of his realme, ouer the water Euphrates, in the hundred and fourtie and ſeuen yeere, & went through the hygh countreyes,

1. Mac. 8. d. 38 And Lyſias choſe vnto him Ptolome the ſonne of Doryminius, Nicanor, and Gorgias, mighty menne, and the kinges freendes.

39 Theſe he ſent with fourtie thouſande footemenne, & ſeuen thouſande horſmenne, for to goe into the lande of Juda, and to deſtroy it, as the kyng commaunded.

40 So they went forth with al their power, and came to Emmaus into the playne feelde.

41 When the marchantes of the countrey hearde the rumour of them, they and their ſeruantes tooke very much ſiluer and gold, for to buye the chyldren of Iſrael to be their bondmenne: there came vnto them alſo yet moe menne of warre on euery ſide, out of Syria, and from the Paleſtines.

42 Nowe when Judas and his brethren ſawe that trouble increaſed, and that the hoſt drue nygh vnto theyr borders, conſidering the kinges words which he commaunded vnto the people (namely) that they ſhoulde vtterly waſte and deſtroy them:

43 They ſayde one to another, Let vs redreſſe the decay of our people, let vs fyght for our folke, and for our ſanctuarie.

44 Then the congregation were ſoone ready geathered to fight, to pray, and to make ſupplication vnto God for mercie and grace.

1. Mach. 1. d 45 As for Hieruſalem it laye voyde, and was as it had benne a wylderneſſe: there went no man in nor out at it, and the ſanctuarie was troden downe, the aliantes keapt the caſtel, there was the habitation of the heathen, the myrth of Jacob was taken away, the pipe and the harpe was gone from among them.

46 The Iſraelites geathered them togeather, and came to Maſpha before Hieruſalem: for in Maſpha was the place where they prayed aforetime in Iſrael.

47 So they faſted that day, and put ſackclothes vpon them, caſte aſhes vpon their heades, rent their clothes, & 1. Sam. 7. b.

48 And layde forth the bookes of the law, whereout the heathen ſought to paynt the lykeneſſe of their images.

49 And brought the prieſtes ornamentes, the firſtlinges, and the tithes: they ſet there alſo the Nazarites, whiche had accompliſhed their * vowes before God: Num. 6. b. * or, dayes.

50 And cryed with a loude voyce towarde heauen, ſayeing, What ſhal we doo with theſe? and whyther ſhal we cary them away?

51 For thy ſanctuarie is troden downe and defiled, the prieſtes are comme to heauineſſe and diſhonour.

52 And beholde, the heathen are comme together for to deſtroy vs: thou knoweſt what thynges they imagine agaynſt vs.

53 Howe may we ſtand before them, except thou (O God) be our helpe?

54 Then they blewe out the trumpet alſo with a loude voyce.

55 Then Judas ordeyned captaynes ouer the people, ouer thouſandes, ouer hundredes, ouer fiftie, and ouer tenne. Exod. 28. d.

56 But as for ſuche as buylded them heuſes, marryed wyues, planted them vyneyardes, and thoſe that were fearefull, he commaunded them euery man to goe home agayne, accordyng to the lawe.

57 So the hoſt remooued, and pitched vpon the South ſide of Emmaus. Deut. 20. a. Judic. 7. a.

58 And Judas ſayde, Arme your ſelues, be ſtrong, O my chyldren, make you ready agaynſt to morowe in the morning, that ye may fight with theſe people, whiche are agreed togeather to deſtroy vs and our ſanctuarie.

59 Better is it for vs to dye in batayle, then to ſee our people and our ſanctuarie in ſuch a miſerable caſe.

60 Nevertheleſſe, as thy wyl is, O God in heauen, ſo be it. Mat. 6. b. Luke. 11. a.

The. iiii. Chapter.

1 Iudas goeth agaynſt Gorgias, whiche lyeth in wayte.

1 THen tooke Gorgias fiue thouſande menne of foote, and a thouſande of the beſt horſmenne, and remoued out of the campe by nyght, Ioſeph. li. 12. cap. 10.

2 To comme nygh where the Iewes hoſt lay, and ſo to ſlay them ſodainly: (Now the menne that keapt the caſtle, were the conueyers of them.)

3 Nowe when Judas hearde this, he remo-ned, and al the ſtrong menne that were with hym, to ſmyte the cheefe and principal of the kynges hoſt at Emmaus:

4 For ỳ armie was not yet come togeather.

5 In the meane ſeaſon came Gorgias by nyght into Judas tentes, and when he founde no man there, he ſought them in the mountaynes, and thought they had benne fledde away becauſe of hym.

6 But when it was day, Judas ſhewed him ſelfe in the feelde with three thouſand men onely whiche had neyther harneſſe, nor ſwoordes to their mindes.

7 But on the other ſide they ſawe that the Heathen were myghty and wel harneſſed, and their horſemen about them, & al theſe wel expert in feates of warre.

8 Then ſaid Judas to the menne that were with him, Feare not ye the multitude of thē, be not afrayd of their violent running.

Exod.14.f. 9 Remember howe our fathers were deliuered in the red ſea, when Pharao folowed vpon them with a great hoſt.

10 Euen ſo let vs alſo crye nowe towarde heauen, and the Lorde ſhal haue mercie vpon vs, and remember the couenant of our fathers, yea and deſtroy this hoſt before our face this day:

11 And al the heathen ſhal knowe that it is God hym ſelfe whiche delyuereth & ſaueth Iſrael.

12 Then the heathen lyft vp their eyes, and when they ſaw that they were comming agaynſt them, 13 They went out of their tentes into the bataile, and they that were with Judas blewe vp the trumpettes.

C

2.Mac.7.d 14 So they buckled togeather, and the heathen were diſcomfited, and fledde ouer the playne feelde:

15 But the hindmoſte of them were ſlayne with the ſwoorde: for they folowed them vnto Aſſaremoth, and into the feeldes of Idumea toward Azot and Jamnia: ſo that there were ſlayne of them vpon a three thouſande menne.

a2, Gazeron.

16 So Judas turned agayne with his hoſt,

17 And ſaid vnto the people, Be not greedy of the ſpoiles, we haue yet a bataile to fight.

18 For Gorgias and his hoſt are here by vs in the mountaines, but ſtand ye faſt againſt our enimies, and ouercome them, then may ye ſafely take the ſpoyles.

19 As Judas was ſpeaking theſe woordes, beholde there appeared one parte of them vpon the mount.

20 But when Gorgias ſawe that they of his partie were fledde, and the tentes brent vp (for by the ſmoke they myght vnderſtande what was donne) they perceauyng this, were very ſoare afrayde:

21 And when they ſawe alſo that Judas and his hoſt were in the feelde ready to ſtryke bataile. D

22 They fledde euery one into the lande of the heathen.

23 So Judas turned agayne to ſpoyle the tentes, where they gate muche golde and ſiluer, precious ſtones, purple, and greate riches.

24 Thus they went home, & ſong a pſalme of thankeſgeuyng, and prayſed God in heauen, For he is gratious, and his mercie endureth for euer. Pſa.107.a. Pſal.18.a.

25 And ſo Iſrael had a greate victorie in that day.

26 Now al the heathen that eſcaped, came & tolde Lyſias euery thing that had hapned.

27 Wherefore Lyſias was ſoare afrayde, and greeued in his mynde, becauſe Iſrael had not gotte ſuch miſfortune as he would they ſhoulde, neyther as the kyng commaunded.

28 The nexte yeere folowyng, geathered Lyſias three ſcore thouſande choſen menne of foote, and fiue thouſande horſmenne to fight agaynſt Hieruſalem.

29 So they came into Jurie, and pitched their tentes at Bethoron: where Judas came agaynſt them with tenne thouſand menne.

30 And when he ſawe ſo great and mightie an hoſt, he made his prayer, and ſayde, Bleſſed be thou O ſauiour of Iſrael, whiche dydſt deſtroy the violent power of the giant in the hande of thy ſeruant Dauid, and gaueſt the hoſt of the heathen into the hande of Jonathan the ſonne of Saul, and of his harneſſe bearer: E 1.Sap.17.a 1.Sa.14.b.

31 Put this hoſt nowe into the hande of thy people of Iſrael, and let them be confounded in their multitude and horſmenne.

32 Make them afraide, and diſcomfite the boldneſſe of their ſtrength, that they maye be mooued throughe their deſtruction.

33 Caſte them downe throughe the ſwoorde of thy louers, then ſhal al they that knowe thy name, prayſe thee with thankeſgeuing.

34 So they ſtroke the bataile, & there were ſlayne of Lyſias hoſt fiue thouſande menne.

35 Then Lyſias ſeeyng the diſcomfiting of his menne, & the manlyneſſe of the Iewes, howe they were readie eyther to liue or to dye like menne: he went vnto Antioch, and choſe out menne of warre, that when they were geathered togeather, they myght come agayne into Jurie.

36 Then ſaide Judas & his brethren, Beholde our enimies are diſcomfited, let vs nowe goe vp to cleanſe & to repayre the ſanctuarie.

37 Vpon

37 Upon this al the hoſt geathered them togeather, and went vp into mount Sion.
38 Nowe when they ſawe the ſanctuarie layde waſte, the aulter defiled, the dooꝛes bꝛent vp, the ſhꝛubbes growyng in the courtes, lyke as in a wood, oꝛ vpon mountaynes, yea, and that the pꝛieſtes chambers were bꝛoken downe:
39 They rent theyꝛ clothes, and made great lamentation, caſt aſhes vpon theyꝛ heades,
40 Fel downe flatte to the grounde vpon theyꝛ faces, made a great noyſe with the trumpettes, and cryed towarde heauen.
G 41 Then Judas appoynted certaine menne to fyght agaynſt thoſe whiche were in the caſtle, tyl they had cleanſed the ſanctuarie.
42 So he choſe pꝛieſtes that were vndefiled, ſuche as had pleaſure in the lawe of God:
43 And they cleanſed the ſanctuarie, & bare out ẏ defiled ſtones into an vncleane place.
44 And foꝛſomuche as the aulteꝛ of burnt offerynges was vnhalowed, he tooke aduiſement what he myght doo withal:
45 So he thought it was beſt to deſtroy it, leſt it ſhould happen to do them any ſhame, foꝛ the heathen had defiled it: and therfoꝛe they bꝛake it downe.
46 As foꝛ the ſtones they layde them vp vpon the mountayne by the houſe in a conuenient place, tyl there came a pꝛophete to ſhewe what ſhoulde be donne with them.
Exod.20.d. Deut.27.a. Joſue.8.g. 47 So they tooke whole ſtones accoꝛdyng to the law, and builded a newe aulter, ſuch one as was befoꝛe,
48 And made vp the ſanctuary within & without, and halowed the houſe & the courtes:
49 They made newe holy oꝛnamentes, and bꝛought the candleſticke, the aulter of incenſe, and the table into the temple:
50 The incenſe laide they vpon the aulter, and lyghted the lampes whiche were vpon the candelſticke, that they might burne in the temple:
51 They ſet the ſhewe bꝛead vpon the table, and hanged vp the vaile, and finiſhed al the wooꝛkes whiche they had begun to make.
2.Mac.10.a 52 And vpon the twentie & fifth day of the ninth moneth (whiche is called the moneth of ▪ Calleu) in the hundꝛed, fourtie, and eight yeere:
November. 53 They roſe vp betymes in the moꝛnyng, foꝛ to doo ſacrifice accoꝛdyng to the lawe, vpon the newe burnt offeryng aulter that they had made.
54 After the tyme and ſeaſon that the heathen had defiled it, the ſame day was it ſet vp agayne, with ſonges, pypes, harpes, and cymbales.
55 And al the people fel vpon theyꝛ faces, wooꝛſhyppyng & thankyng the God of heauen, whiche had geuen them the victoꝛie.
56 So they keapt the dedication of the aulter eight dayes, offeryng burnt ſacrifices and thanke offerynges with gladneſſe: 2.Chꝛo.7.b
57 They deckt the foꝛefrunt of the temple alſo with cꝛownes and ſhieldes of golde, and halowed the poꝛtes and celles, and hanged dooꝛes vpon them.
58 Thus there was very great gladneſſe among the people, becauſe the blaſphemie of the heathen was put away.
59 So Judas and his bꝛethꝛen, with the whole congregation of Iſrael, oꝛdayned, that the tyme of the dedication of the aulter ſhould be keapt in his ſeaſon from yeere to yeere, by the ſpace of eight dayes, from the twentie and fifth day of the moneth ▪ Calleu with myrth and gladneſſe. Iohn.10.a November.
60 And at ẏ ſame tyme buylded they vp the mount Sion, with high walles, and ſtrong towꝛes round about, leſt the gentiles ſhould come & treade it downe as they did afoꝛe.
61 Therefoꝛe Judas ſet menne of warre in it, to keepe it, and made it ſtrong foꝛ to defend Bethſura, that the people might haue a refuge agaynſt the Edomites. 1.Mac.6.b.

3. Iudas vanquiſheth the heathen that goe about to deſtroy Iſrael, and is holpen of his bꝛethꝛen Simon and Ionathas.

1 IT happened alſo, that when the heathen rounde about hearde howe that the aulter & the ſanctuarie were ſet vp in theyꝛ olde eſtate, it diſpleaſed them very ſoare. A Ioſeph.cap. xii.lib.xiii.
2 Wherefoꝛe, they thought to deſtroy the generatiõ of Jacob that was among them: in ſo muche that they began to ſlay and to perſecute certayne of the people. Ezech. 25.b and.35.a.
3 Then Judas fought agaynſt the childꝛen of Eſau in Idumea at Arabathane: foꝛ they dwelt roumde about the Iſraelites, where he ſlue & ſpoyled a great multitude of them.
4 He thought alſo vpon the malice and vnfaythfulneſſe of the chyldꝛen of Bean, how they were a ſnare and ſtoppe vnto the people, and howe they layde wayte foꝛ them in the high way:
5 Wherefoꝛe he ſhut them vp into towꝛes, and came vnto them, beſieged them, and deſtroyed them vtterly, and bꝛent vp theyꝛ towꝛes, with al that were in them.
6 Afterwarde went he agaynſt the childꝛen of Ammon, whereof he founde a mightie power & a great multitude of people with Timothi theyꝛ captayne.
7 So he ſtroke many battelles with them, B whiche were deſtroyed befoꝛe hym.
8 And when he had ſlayne them, he wanne

Gazer the citie, with the townes belonging thereto, and so turned agayne into Iurie.

9 The heathen also in Galaad geathered them togeather agaynst the Israelites that were in theyr quarters, to slay them: but they fled to the castle of Datheman,

10 And sent letters vnto Judas and his brethren, sayeing, The heathen that are about vs, are geathered agaynst vs on euery syde, to destroy vs.

11 And nowe they make them ready for to come and lay siege to the castle whereunto we are fled, and Timothi is captayne of theyr host:

12 Come therefore, and deliuer vs out of theyr handes, for there is a great multitude of vs slayne already.

13 Yea, and our brethren that were at Tubin are slayne and destroyed, welnigh a thousande menne, and theyr wyues, theyr children, and theyr goodes, haue the enimies led away captiue.

℣ 14 While these letters were yet a reading, beholde there came other messengers from Galilee with rent clothes, which told euen the same tydynges, 15 And sayde, that they of Ptolemais, of Tyrus, and of Sidon, were geathered agaynst them, and that al Galilee was filled with * enimies to destroy Israel.

* or, strangers.

2. Mac. 8. c.

16 When Judas and the people hearde this, they came togeather a great congregation, to deuise what they might doo for their brethren that were in trouble, and besieged of theyr enimies.

17 And Judas sayde vnto Simon his brother, Choose thee out certayne menne, and goe, deliuer thy brethren in Galilee: as for me and my brother Jonathas, we wyl goe into Galaaditim.

18 So he left Josephus the sonne of Zachari, and Azarias, to be captaynes of the people, to keepe the remnant of the host in Iurie, 19 And commaunded them, sayeing, Take the ouersight of this people, and see that ye make no warre agaynst the heathen, vntyl the tyme that we comme agayne.

20 And vnto Simon he gaue three thousand men for to goe into Galilee: but Judas himselfe had eight thousande in Galaaditim.

℣ 21 Then went Simon into Galilee, and stroke diuers battayles with the heathen, whom he discomfited, 22 And folowed vpon them into the port of Ptolemais: and there were slayne of the heathen almost three thousande menne.

23 So he tooke the spoyles of them, and caryed away the Israelites that were in Galilee and Arbatis, with theyr wiues, theyr children, and al that they had, and brought them into Iurie with great gladnesse.

24 Judas Machabeus also, and his brother Jonathas, went ouer Jordane, and trauayled three dayes iourney in the wyldernesse:

25 Where the Nabathees met them, and receiued them louingly, and tolde them euery thyng that had happened vnto theyr brethren in Galaaditim:

26 And howe that many of them were besieged in Barasa, Bosor, Alimis, Casbon, Mageth, and Carnaim (al these are strong walled and myghtie great cities,)

27 And that they were keapt in other cities of Galaaditim also, and to morow they are appoynted to bryng theyr host vnto these cities, to take them, and to destroy them in one day.

28 So Judas and his host turned in al the haste in the wyldernesse towarde Bosor, ℰ wan the citie, slue al the males with the swoorde, tooke al theyr goodes, and set fire vpon the citie: ℰ

29 And in the nyght they tooke theyr iourney from thence, and came to the castle,

30 And betymes in the morning when they looked vp, beholde there was an innumerable people bearyng ladders and other instrumentes of warre to take the castel, and to ouercome them.

31 When Judas saw that the battel began, and that the noyse thereof went vp ℰ rang into the heauen, ℰ that there was so great a crye in the citie,

32 He sayde vnto his host, Fyght this day for your brethren:

33 And so came behynde theyr enimies in three companyes, and blewe vp the trumpettes, and cryed in theyr prayer to God.

34 But so soone as Timotheus host perceiued that Machabeus was there, they fled from him: and he slue them downe ryght soare, so that there were kylled of them the same day almost eight thousande menne.

35 Then departed Judas vnto Malpha, layde siege vnto it, and wanne it, slue al the males in it, spoyled it, and set fyre vpon it. ℣

36 From thence went he and tooke Casbon, Mageth, Bosor, and the other cities in Galaaditim.

37 After this geathered Timothi another host, whiche pitched theyr tentes before Raphon, beyonde the water. 2. Mac. 10 ℣

38 Judas also sent to spye the host, and they brought hym woorde agayne, sayeing, Al the heathen that be rounde about vs, are geathered vnto hym, and the host is very great:

39 Yea, they haue hyred the Arabians to helpe them, ℰ haue pitched their tentes beyonde yonde the water, and are redy to comme and fyght agaynst thee. So Judas went on to meete them.

40 And Timothi sayd vnto the captaynes of his host, When Judas & his host comme nygh the ryuer, yf he goe ouer first, we shal not be able to withstande him: for why? he wyl be to strong for vs.

41 But if he dare not comme ouer, so that he pitche his tent beyonde the water: then wyl we goe ouer, for we shalbe strong ynough agaynst hym.

42 Nowe assoone as Judas came to the riuer, he appoynted certayne scribes of the people by the riuer, & commaunded them, sayeing, See that ye leaue none behynde vpon this side of the riuer, but let euery man comme to the battel.

43 So he went first ouer vnto them, and al his people after hym, and al the Heathen were discomfited before hym, and let their weapons falle, and ranne into the temple that was at Carnaim, 44 Whiche citie Judas wanne, and brent the temple, with al that were in it: So was Carnaim subdued, and might not withstande Judas.

F 45 Then Judas geathered al the Israelites that were in Galaaditim, from the least vnto the moste, with their wyues and their children, a very great host, for to comme into the lande of Israel.

2.Mac.7.c. 46 So they came vnto Ephron, which was a myghtie great and strong citie, and lay in their way: for they coulde not goe by it, neither on the ryght hande, nor on the left, but must goe through it.

47 Neuertheleſſe they that were in the citie woulde not let them goe through, but walled vp the portes with stones: and Judas sent vnto them with peaceable woordes, sayeing, 48 Let vs passe through your lande, that we may goe into our owne countrey, there shal no body doo you harme, we wyl but onely goe through on foote. But they woulde not let them in.

49 Wherefore Judas commaunded a proclamation to be made throughout the host, that euery man shoulde assault the citie in his order.

50 And so they did their best, lyke valiant menne: and Judas besieged the citie al that day, and al that nyght, and so wan it:

51 Where they slue as many as were males with the edge of the swoord, and destroyed the citie, and spoyled it, and went through al the citie ouer them that were slayne.

52 Then went they ouer Jordane into the playne feelde before Bethsan.

53 And Judas helped those forwarde that came behinde, and gaue the people good exhortation al the way through, tyl they were comme into the lande of Juda.

54 Thus they went vp vnto the mount Sion, where they offered whole burnt offeringes with mirth and thankesgeuyng, because there were none of them slayne, but came home agayne peaceably. 2.Chro.xx.8

55 Nowe what tyme as Judas and Jonathas were in the lande of Galaad, and Simon their brother in Galilee before Ptolemais:

G 56 Then Josephus the sonne of Zachari, and Azarias, the captaines, hearing of the actes that were donne, and of the battels that were striken, sayde, 57 Let vs get vs a name also, and goe fight agaynst the Heathen that are rounde about vs.

58 So they gaue their host a commaundement, and went towarde Jamnia.

59 Then came Gorgias and his menne out of the citie to fight agaynst them:

60 Josephus also and Azarias were chased vnto the borders of Jurie, and there were slayne that day of the people of Israel two thousande menne: so that there was a great miserie among the people of Israel,

61 And al because they were not obedient vnto Judas and his brethren, but thought they shoulde quite them selues manfully. 1.Mach.5.b

62 Neuertheleſſe they came not of the seede of these men by whom Israel was helped.

63 But the menne that were with Judas, were greatly commended in the sight of al Israel, and al the Heathen whereſoeuer their name was harde vpon.

64 And the people came vnto them, bidding them welcome.

65 After this went Judas forth with his brethren, and fought agaynst the children of Esau, in the land that lyeth toward the South, where he wan the citie of Hebron, and the townes that lye beside it: and as for the walles and towres rounde about it, he brent them vp.

66 Then remooued he to goe into the land of the "Philistines, and went through Samaria. "or, strangers.

67 At the same tyme were there (many) priestes slayne in the battel, whiche wylfully and without aduisement went out for to fight to geat them honour.

68 And when Judas came to Azot, in the Philistines lande, he brake downe their aulters, brent the images of their idols, spoyled their cities, and came agayne into the lande of Juda. Deut.6.a.

1. Antiochus wyllyng to take the citie of Elymas for a pray, is driuen away of the citezins.

A 1 NOwe when kyng Antiochus trauayled throughe the hygh countreys, he hearde that Elymas in Persia was a noble and plenteous citie in syluer & gold,

2 And that there was in it a very rich temple, whereas were clothes, coate armours, and shieldes of golde, whiche Alexander the sonne of Philip kyng of Macedonia that raigned first in Grecia had left behind hym.

3 Wherfore he went about to take the citie, and to spoyle it, but he was not able: for the citezins were warned of it, and fought with him.

4 And so he fled, and departed with great heauinesse, and came agayne into Babylon.

1. Mach. 3. c 5 Moreouer there came one which brought him tydinges in Persia, that his hostes which were in the lande of Juda were dryuen away:

6 And howe that Lysias went forth first with a great power, and was dryuen away of the Jewes, howe that they had wonne the victorie, and gotten great goodes out of the hostes that perished:

B 7 Howe they had broken downe the abomi-

8 So it chaunced that when the kyng heard these woordes, he was afrayd, and greeued very sore: wherefore he layde him downe vppon his bed, and fel sicke for very sorow, and al because it had not happened as he had deuised.

9 And there cõtinued he long: for his greefe was euer more and more, so that he sawe he must needes dye.

10 Therfore he sent for al his freendes, and sayde vnto them, The sleepe is gonne fro myne eyes, for the very sorow and vexation of hart that I haue.

11 For when I consyder in my mynde the great aduersitie that I am comme vnto, and the floodes of heauinesse whyche I am comme in, whereas afore tyme I was so mery, and so greatly set by, by reason of my power:

12 Agayne consydering the euyl that I haue donne at Hierusalem, from whence I tooke al the ryches of golde and syluer that were in it, & sent to destroy the inhabitours of Jurie without any reason why:

13 I knowe that these troubles are comme vpon me for the same cause: and behold I must dye with great sorowe in a strange lande.

14 Then called he for one Philip a freende C of his, who he made ruler of al his realme, 15 And gaue him the crowne, his robe, and his ryng, that he should take his sonne Antiochus vnto hym, and bryng hym vp, tyll he myght raigne hym selfe.

16 So the king Antiochus died there, in the 2. Mac. 9. a. hundred fourtie and niene yeere. Iosep. cap.

17 When Lysias knewe that the kyng was 14. lib. 12. dead, he ordeyned Antiochus his sonne, whom he had brought vp, to raigne in his fathers steede, and called hym Eupator.

18 Now they that were in the castle (at Hierusalem) keapt in the Jewes rounde about the sanctuarie, and sought euer styl to doo them harme, and the strengthnyng of the Heathen.

19 Wherefore Judas thought to destroy them, and called al the people together, that they might lay siege vnto them.

20 So they came togeather in the hundred and fiftie yeere, and besieged them, layeing forth their ordinance and instrumentes of warre.

21 Then certayne of them that were besie- D ged, went forth: vnto whom sonme vngodly menne of Israel ioyned them selues also,

22 And went vnto the kyng, sayeing, How long wyl it be or thou pounishe, and auenge our brethren?

23 We haue euer benne minded to doo thy father seruice, to walke in his statutes, and to obey his commaundementes:

24 Therefore our people fel from vs, and whersoeuer they founde any of vs, they slue them, and spoyled our inheritance.

25 And they haue not onely medled with vs, but with al our countreys.

26 And behold, this day are they besieging the castle at Hierusalem to take it, & haue made vp the strong holde in Bethsura.

27 And if thou doest not preuent them right I. Mac. 4. g. soone, they wyl doo more then these, and thou shalt not be able to ouercome them.

28 When the king heard this, he was very E angrie, and called al his freendes, the cap- 2. Mac. 13. b taynes of his armie, and (al his footmen and) horsemen:

29 He hired menne of warre also, of other realmes parteyning to the kynges that were confederate with hym, and of the Iles of the sea, whiche came vnto hym.

30 And the number of his host was an hundred thousande footmen, and twentie thousande horsemen, and thirtie and two Elephantes wel exercised to battayle.

31 These came through Idumea vnto Beth- 2. Mac. 4. F sura, sura, and besieged it a long season, & made diuers instrumentes of warre agaynst it: but the Iewes came out and brent them with fyre, and fought lyke menne.

32 Then departed Iudas from the castle (at Hierusalem) and remooued the host towarde Bethzacharan, ouer agaynst the kynges armie.

33 So the kyng arose before the day, and brought the power of his hoast into the way to Bethzacharan, where the hoastes made them ready to the batayle, blowyng the trumpettes.

34 And to prouoke the Elephantes for to fight, they shewed them the sappe of redde grapes and mulberies.

F 35 And diuided the Elephantes among the host: so that by euery Elephant there stoode a thousande menne wel harnessed, and helmets of steele vpon theyr heades: yea, vnto euery one of the Elephantes also were ordayned fiue hundred horsemen of the best, 36 Whiche wayted on the Elephant, goeyng where so euer he went, and departed not from hym.

37 Euery Elephant was couered with a strong towre of wood, fastened theron with instrumentes, whereupon were thirtie and two valiant menne with weapons to fight, and within was a man of Inde to rule the beast.

38 As for the remnant of the horsemen, he set them vpon both the sides in two partes, with trumpets to prouoke the host, and to stirre vp suche as were slowe in the armie.

39 And when the sunne shone vpon theyr shieldes of gold and steele, the mountaines glistered agayne at them, & were as bryght as the tresselets of fyre.

40 The kynges host also was diuided, one part vpon the high mountaynes, the other lowe beneath: so they went on, takyng good heede, and keepyng theyr order.

41 And al they that dweit in the lande, were afrayde at the noyse of their host, when the multitude went forth, and when the weapons smote togeather: for the host was both great and myghtie.

42 Iudas also and his host entred into the G battel, and slue sixe hundred menne of the kynges armie.

* or, Aharon. 43 Nowe when Eleazar the sonne of * Saura did see one of the Elephantes decked with the kynges badge, and was a more goodly beast then the other, he thought the kyng shoulde be vpon hym:

44 And iooparded hym selfe to deliuer his people, and to geat hym a perpetual name:

45 Wherefore, he ranne with a courage vnto the Elephant in the myddest of the hoast, smytyng them downe on both the sides, and slue many about hym.

45 So went he to the Elephantes steete, and gate hym vnder hym, (a) and slue him: then fell the Elephant downe vpon him, and there he dyed.

(a) This example is not to be followed, because it is contrary to the commaundement.

47 Iudas also and his men, seeyng the power of the kyng, and the mightie violence of his host, departed from them.

48 And the kynges armie went vp agaynst them towarde Hierusalem, and pitched theyr tentes in Iurie beside mount Sion.

49 Moreouer, the kyng tooke truice with them that were in Bethsura: but when they came out of the citie, because they had no victuales, but were shut vp within, and the lande lay vntylled, 1. Mac. 4. g.

50 The king tooke Bethsura, and set menne to keepe it, and turned his host to the place of the sanctuarie, 51 And layd siege to it a great whyle, where he made al maner ordinance, handbowes, fiery dartes, rackets to caste stones, scorpions to shoote arrowes, and slynges.

52 The Iewes also made ordinance agaynst theyrs, and fought a long season.

53 But in the citie there were no victuales, for it was the seuenth yeere of the warres, and those heathen that remayned in Iurie, had eaten vp al theyr store.

54 And in the sanctuarie were fewe menne leaft: for the hunger came so vppon them, that they were scattered abroad euery man to his owne place.

55 So when Lysias heard that Philip (whom Antiochus the kyng whyle he was yet lyuyng, had ordayned to bryng vp Antiochus his sonne that he myght be kyng) 2. Mac. 6. b.

56 Was comme agayne out of Persia and Media with the kinges host, and thought to obtayne the kyngdome, with the gouernance of al thynges:

57 He gate hym to the king in al the haste, and to the captaynes of the host, and sayd, We decrease dayly, and our victuales are but smal: agayne, the place that we lay siege vnto is very strong, and it were our part to see for the Realme:

58 Let vs agree with these menne, and take truice with them, and with al their people, 59 And graunt them to lyue after theyr law, as they dyd afore: for they be greeued, and doo al these thynges agaynst vs, because we haue * despised theyr lawe.

* or, broken.

60 So the kyng and the princes were content, and sent vnto them to make peace: and they receaued it.

61 Nowe

61 Nowe when the kyng and the princes had made an othe vnto them, they came out of the castle.

62 And the kyng went vp to mount Sion: but when he sawe that the place was wel fenced, he brake the othe that he had made, and commaunded to destroy the wal round about.

63 Then departed he in al the haste, and returned vnto Antiochie, where he founde Philip hauyng dominion of the citie: so he fought agaynst hym, and tooke the citie agayne into his handes.

The. vii. Chapter.

I. Demetrius raigned after he had kylled Antiochus and Lysias.

A 1 In the hundred fiftie and one yeere, came Demetrius ỳ sonne of Seleuchus, from the citie of Rome, with a smal company of menne, vnto a citie of the sea coast, and there he bare rule.

2 And when he came to Antiochie, the citie of his progenitours, his host tooke Antiochus and Lysias to bryng them vnto hym.

3 But when it was tolde hym, he said, Let me not see theyr faces.

4 So the host put them to death. Nowe when Demetrius was set vpon the throne of his kyngdome,

5 There came vnto him wicked and vngodly men of Israel, whose captaine was Alcimus, that woulde haue benne made high priest.

6 These men accused the people of Israel vnto the kyng, sayeing, Iudas and his brethren haue slayne al thy freendes, and driuen vs out of our owne lande.

B 7 Wherefore, sende nowe somme man to whom thou geuest credence, that he may goe, and see al the destruction whiche he hath donne vnto vs, and to the kinges lande, and let hym be punished with al his freendes and fauourers.

8 Then the kyng chose Bacchides a frende of his, whiche was a man of great power in the realme, beyond the water, and faithful vnto the kyng, and sent hym (to see the destruction that Iudas had donne:)

9 And as for that wicked Alcimus, he made hym high priest, and commaunded him to be auenged of the children of Israel.

10 So they departed (from the kyng) and came with a great host into the land of Iuda, sendyng messengers to Judas & his brethren, and speaking vnto them with peaceable woordes, but vnder deceipt.

1. Mach. 1. b 11 Therefore Judas and his people beleeued not theyr sayeing: for they sawe that they were comme with a great host.

12 After this came the scribes togeather vnto Alcimus and Bacchides, to entreate of reasonable couenantes.

13 And the Assideans were the first among the children of Israel that required peace of them, 14 Sayeing, Alcimus the priest is comme C of the seede of Aaron, howe can he deceiue vs, though he comme with an armie?

15 So he gaue them louyng woordes, and swore vnto them, and sayde, We wyl doo you no harme, neyther your freendes.

16 And they beleeued him: but the very same day tooke he threescore menne of them, and slue them, accordyng to the woordes that are wrytten,

17 They haue (cast) the fleashe of thy saintes, Psal. 79. a and shead theyr bloood rounde about Hierusalem, and there was no man that would burye them.

18 So there came a great feare and dread among al the people, sayeing, There is neyther trueth nor righteousnesse in them: for they haue broken the appoyntment and othe that they made.

19 And Bacchides remooued his host from Hierusalem, and pitched his tent at Bethzecha, where he sent foorth and tooke many of them that had forsaken hym: he slue many of the people also, and cast them into a great pyt.

20 Then committed he the lande vnto Alcimus, and least men of warre with hym to helpe hym: and Bacchides hym selfe went vnto the kyng.

21 And thus Alcimus defended his high D priesthood.

22 And al suche as vexed Israel, resorted vnto hym: insomuche that they obtayned the lande of Juda, and dyd muche euyl vnto the Israelites.

23 Nowe when Judas sawe al the mischeefe that Alcimus and his company had donne (yea more then the heathen themselues) vnto the Israelites:

24 He went foorth rounde about al the borders of Iurie, and punyshed those vnfaythful runnagates, so that they came no more out into the countrey.

25 So when Alcimus sawe that Judas and his people had gotten the vpper hande, and that he was not able to abyde them: he went agayne vnto the kyng, and layd al the woorst of them that he coulde.

26 Then the kyng sent Nicanor, one of his cheefe princes, whiche bare euyl wyl vnto Israel, & commaunded him that he shoulde vtterly destroy the people.

27 So Nicanor came to Hierusalem with a 2. Mac. 15. a great host, & sent vnto Judas & his brethren with with freendly woordes: but vnder deceipt, sayeing,

28 There shalbe no warre betwixt me and you, I wyl comme with a fewe menne, to see howe ye doo, with freendshyp.

29 Upon this he came vnto Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably: but the enimies were appoynted to take Judas by violence.

30 Neuertheless it was tolde Judas that he came vnto him but vnder deceipt: wherfore he gate him away from hym, & woulde see his face no more.

31 When Nicanor perceiued that his counsel was bewrayed, he went out to fight agaynst Judas beside * Capharsalama:

* or, Carphasalama.

32 Where there were slayne of Nicanors host fiue thousande menne, and the residue fled vnto the castle of Dauid.

33 After this came Nicanor vp vnto mount Sion, and the priestes with the elders of the people went fooryth to salute hym peaceably, and to shewe hym the whole burnt sacrifices that were offered for the kyng.

34 But he laughed them and the people to scorne, mocked them, defiled their offeryngs, and spake disdaynefully:

F 35 Yea and swore in his wrath, sayeing, If Judas and his host be not deliuered nowe into my handes, assoone as euer I comme agayne and fare wel, I shal burne vp this house. With that went he out in a great anger. 2.Mac.14.c

36 Then the priestes came in, and stoode before the aulter of the temple, weepyng, and sayeing,

Esai.56.b 37 Forsomuche as thou, O Lorde, hast chosen this house, that thy name myght be called vpon therein, and that it shoulde be an house of prayer and petition for thy people:

38 Be auenged of this man and his host, and let them be slayne with the swoorde: remember the blasphemies of them, and suffer not them to continue any longer.

39 When Nicanor was gonne from Hierusalem, he pitched his tent at Bethoron, and there an host met hym, out of Syria.

40 And Judas came to Adarsa with three thousande menne, and made his prayer vnto God, sayeing,

Esai.37.f 41 O Lorde, because the messengers of king Semacherib blasphemed thee, the angel went fooryth and slue an hundred fourescore and fiue thousande of them:

42 Euen so, destroy thou this host before vs to day, that other people may knowe howe that he hath blasphemed thy sanctuarie, & pounisshe him accordyng to his malitiousnesse.

G 43 And so the hostes stroke the feelde the thirteenth day of the moneth * Adar, and Nicanors host was discomfited, and he himselfe was first slayne in the battayle. * Febmari. 2.Mac.15.b

44 When Nicanors menne of warre sawe that he was kylled, they cast away their weapons and fledde:

45 But the Jewes folowed vpon them a whole dayes iourney from Adazer vnto Gazara, blowyng with the trumpets, and makyng tokens after them.

46 So the Jewes came fooryth of al the townes rounde about, and blewe out their hornes vpon them, & turned agaynst them: thus were they al slayne, and not one of them left.

47 Then they tooke their substance for a pray, and smote of Nicanors head, and his ryght hande, which he held vp so proudly, and brought it with them, and hanged it vp afore Hierusalem. 2.Mac.14.c

48 Wherefore the people were exceedyngly reioyced, and passed ouer that day in great gladnesse.

49 And Judas ordeyned that the same day (namely) the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, should be keapt in mirth euery yeere.

50 Thus the lande of Juda was in rest a litle whyle.

The. viii. Chapter.

2. Iudas consyderyng the power and goodly pollicie of the Romanes, maketh peace with them. 22. The rescript of the Romanes sent vnto the Iewes.

A 1 IUdas hearde also the fame of the Romanes, that they were mighty & valiant menne, and agreeable to al thynges that are required of them, and make peace with al men whiche comme vnto them,

2 And howe they were doughtie menne of strength: besides that, it was tolde hym of their battayles and noble actes which they dyd in * Galatia, how they had conquered them, and brought them vnder tribute, * or, France.

3 And what great thynges they had donne in Spayne: how that with their wysedome and sober behauiour they had wonne the mines of siluer and golde that are there,

4 And obtayned al the lande, with other places farre from them: howe they had discomfited and slayne downe the kynges that came vpon them from the vttermost part of the earth, and howe other people gaue them tribute euery yeere:

5 How they had slayne and ouercome Philip and Perses kinges of * Cethim, and other mo in battayle, whiche had brought their ordinance agaynst them:

* or, the Macedonians.

6 Howe

6 Howe they discomfited great Antiochus king of Asia, that woulde needes fight with them, hauyng an hundred and twentie Elephantes, with horsemen, charettes, and a very great host:

B 7 Howe they tooke hym selfe aline, and ordayned hym, with suche as shoulde raigne after him, to pay them a great tribute, yea and to find them good suerties and pledges besydes al this:

8 Howe they had taken from hym India, Media, and Lydia, his best landes, and geuen them to kyng Eumenus.

9 Agayne, howe they perceiuing that the Greekes were commyng to vexe them,

10 Sent agaynst them a captayne of an host, whiche gaue them battayle, slue many of them, led away their wyues and chyldren captiue, spoyled them, tooke possession of their land, & destroyed their strong holdes, and subdued them to be their bondmen vnto this day.

11 Moreouer, howe that as for other kyngdomes and Iles whiche sometyme withstood them, they destroyed them, & brought them vnder their dominion:

12 But kept amitie with their owne freendes, and those that were confederate with them, and conquered kingdomes both farre and nygh: and that whosoeuer hearde of their renowme was afrayde of them.

13 For whom they woulde helpe to their kyngdomes, those raigned: and whom it lyked not them to raigne, they put them downe: And howe they were come to great preheminence,

C 14 Hauyng no kyng among them, neyther any man clothed in purple to be magnified therethrough:

" or, a counsel, or senate house.

15 But had ordayned them selues a " parliament, wherein there sate three hundred and twentie senatours dayly vpō the counsel, to dispatche euer the businesse of the people, and to keepe good order:

" or, one man.

16 And howe that euery yeere they chose a " Maire to haue the gouernance of al their lande, to whom euery man was obedient, and there was neither enil wyl nor discention among them.

" or, Acthus.

17 Then Judas chose Eupolemus the sonne of John the sonne of " Jacob, and Jason the sonne of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome for to make freendship, & a bonde of loue with them, 18 That they myght take from them the bondage of the Greekes: for the Iewes saw that the Greekes woulde subdue the kyngdome of Israel.

" or, senate house.

19 So they went vnto Rome a very great iourney, and came vnto the " parliament, and sayde, 20 Judas Machabeus, with his brethren, and the people of the Iewes, hath sent vs vnto you, to make a bonde of frendship and peace with you, and ye to note vs as your louers and freendes.

21 And that matter pleased the Romanes D rycht wel.

22 Wherefore it was written vp: of the whiche the Romanes made a writyng in tables of brasse, and sent it to Hierusalem, that they might haue by them a memorial of the same peace and bonde of freendship, after this maner:

23 God saue the Romanes and the people of the Iewes both by sea and by lande, and keepe the swoorde and enimie from them for euermore:

24 If there comme first any warre vpon the Romanes, or any of their frendes throughout al their dominion, 25 The people of the Iewes shal helpe them, as the tyme requireth, and that with al their hartes.

26 Also they shal neyther geue nor send vnto their enimies victuales, weapons, money, nor ships: but fulfyl their couenantes at the Romanes pleasure, taking nothing of them therefore.

27 Agayne, if the people of the Iewes happen first to haue warre, the Romanes shal stande by them with a good wyl, according as the tyme wyl suffer:

28 Neyther shal they geue vnto the Iewes E enimies victuales, weapōs, mony, or ships: Thus are the Romanes content to do, and shal fulfyl their charge without any deceit.

29 According to these articles the Romanes made the bonde with the Iewes.

30 Nowe after these articles (sayde they) yf any of the parties wyl put to them, or take any thyng from them, they shal doo it with the consent of both: and whatsoeuer they adde vnto them, or take from them, it shal stande fast.

31 And as touchyng the euyl that Demetrius hath donne vnto the Iewes, we haue written vnto hym, saying, Wherefore layest thou thy heauie yoke vpon the Iewes our freendes and louers?

32 If they make any complaynt of thee agayne vnto vs, we shal defende them, and fight with thee by sea and by lande, according to iustice.

The.ix. Chapter.

1. After the death of Nicanor, Demetrius sendeth his armie against Iudas. 18. Iudas is slaine.

1 IN the meane season when Demetrius A hearde that Nicanor and his host was slayne slayne in the feelde, he proceeded further to sende Bacchides and Alcimus agayne into Jurie, and the chiefe strength of his host with them.

2 So they went fourth by the way that leadeth vnto Galgala, and pitched their tents before Masaloth (whiche is in Arbellis) and wan the citie, and slue muche people.

3 In the first moneth of the hundred fiftie and two yeere, they brought their host and layde their siege agaynst Hierusalem:

4 But rayling their campe, they came to Berea with twentie thousande footemen, and two thousande horsemen.

" or, Eleasa 5 Nowe Judas had pitched his tent at "Laisa, with three thousande chosen menne,

6 And when they sawe the multitude of the other armie that it was so great, they were soare afrayde, and many conueyed them selues out of the host, insomuche that there abode no mo of them but eyght hundred menne.

27 When Judas sawe that his host fayled him, & that he must nedes fight, it brake his hart, that he had no tyme to geather them togeather: wherefore the man was in extreme trouble.

8 Neuertheless he sayde vnto them that remayned with him, Up, let vs goe agaynst our enimies, peraduenture we shalbe able to fight with them.

9 But they woulde haue stopped him, sayeing, We shal not be able: therefore now let vs saue our lyues, and turne agayne to our brethren: for should we fight against them, beyng so fewe:

(a) He which was wont to pray & ouercome, is ouercome when he trusteth in his strength and omitteth prayer.

10 And Judas said, (a) God forbid that we should flee from them: wherfore if our time be comme, let vs dye manfully for our brethren, and let vs not stayne our honour.

11 Then the host remoued out of the tentes, and stoode agaynst them, and the horsemen were diuided in two partes: and sling casters and archers went before the host, and al the mightie menne were formost in the feelde.

12 Bacchides hym selfe was in the ryght wing of the battaile, and the host drue nigh in two partes, and blewe the trumpets.

13 They of Judas side blewe the trumpets also, and the earth shooke at the noyse of the hostes: and they strake a feelde from the morowe tyl night.

& 14 And when Judas sawe that Bacchides host was strongest of the ryght side, he toke with hym al the hardie menne, 15 And brake the ryght wing of their order, and folowed vpon them vnto mount Azot.

16 Nowe when they whiche were the leaft wyng sawe that the ryght side was discomfited, they persecuted Judas and them that were with him harde at the heeles.

17 Then was there a soare battayle: for many were slayne and wounded on both the partes.

18 Judas also him selfe was kylled, and the remnant fled.

19 So Jonathas and Simon tooke Judas their brother, and buryed him in his fathers sepulchre in the citie of Modin.

20 And al the people of Israel made great lamentation for hym, and mourned long, sayeing, 21 Alas that this worthy should be slaine, D whiche deliuered the people of Israel.

22 As for other thinges parteynyng to the battayles of Judas, the noble actes that he did, and of his worthynesse, they are not written, for they were very many.

23 Nowe after the death of Judas, wicked menne came vp in al the coastes of Israel, and there arose al suche as dyd worke vngodlynesse. Iosephus. cap. 3. li. 13. ant.

24 In those dayes was there a great dearth in the lande, and al the countrey gaue ouer them selues and theirs vnto Bacchides.

25 So Bacchides chose wicked menne, and made them lordes in the lande.

26 These sought out and made searche for Judas freendes, and brought them vnto Bacchides, which auenged him selfe vpon them with great dispite.

27 And there came so great trouble in Israel, as was not since the tyme that no prophete was seene there.

28 Then came al Judas freendes togeather, & and sayde vnto Jonathas,

29 Forsomuche as thy brother Judas is dead, there is none lyke him to goe fourth agaynst our enimies, agaynst Bacchides, and suche as are aduersaries of our owne people:

30 Wherefore this day we choose thee for him, to be our prince and captayne, to order our battayle.

31 And Jonathas toke the gouernance vpon hym at the same tyme, and ruled in steade of his brother Judas.

32 When Bacchides gate knowledge therof, he sought for to slay hym.

33 But Jonathas and Simon his brother, perceiuing that, fled into the wildernesse of Thecua with al their companie, & pitched their tentes by the water poole of Asphar.

34 Whiche when Bacchides vnderstoode, he came ouer Jordane with al his host vpō the Sabbath day.

35 Nowe had Jonathas sent his brother (Iohn) a captayne of the people, to pray his freendes the Nabuthites, that they woulde lende them their ordinance, for they had muche.

" or, Ambri 36 So the chyldren of " Jambri came out of Madaba, and tooke John and al that he had, and went their way withal when they had taken it.

37 Then came woorde vnto Jonathas and Simon his brother, that the children of Jambri made a great mariage, & brought the bryde frō Madaba with great pompe: for she was daughter to one of the noblest princes of Chanaan.

38 Wherefore they remembred the blood of John their brother, and went vp, and hyd them selues vnder the shadow of the mountayne.

39 So they lyft vp their eyes, and looked, and beholde there was muche a doo and great preparation: for the brydegrome came forth, and his freendes and his brethren met them with tympanies, instrumentes of musicke, and many weapons.

40 Then Jonathas, and they that were with hym, rose out of their lurkyng places agaynst them, and slue many of them: and the remnant fledde into the mountaynes, and they tooke al their substance.

41 Thus the mariage was turned to mournyng, and the noyse of their melodie into lamentation.

(a) Blood doth require blood. 42 And so when they had auenged the (a) blood of their brother, they turned agayne vnto Jordane.

F 43 Bacchides hearyng this, came vnto the very borderof Jordane, with a great power, vpon the Sabboth day.

44 And Jonathas sayde to his companie, Let vs geat vp, and fyght agaynst our enimies: for it standeth not with vs to day, as in tyme past.

45 Behold, our enimies are in our way, the water of Jordane vpon the one side of vs, with banckes, fennes, and woods on the other side, so that there is no place for vs to depart vnto.

2. Mac. 4. b. 2. Chr. 10. a. 46 Wherefore crye nowe vnto heauen, that ye may be deliuered frō the power of your enimies: So they stroke the battayle.

47 And Jonathas stretched out his hande to smite Bacchides, but he fled backward.

48 Then Jonathas and they that were with hym, leapt into Jordane, and swimmed ouer Jordane vnto the further banke: but the other woulde not passe ouer Jordane after hym.

49 And there were slayne of Bacchides side that day a thousande menne.

50 Therfore Bacchides with his host turned againe to Hierusalem, and built vp the castles and strong holdes that were in Jurie, Jericho, Emaus, Bethoron, Bethel, Thamnata, " Phara, and " Thopo, with high walles, with portes, and with lockes:

" or, Bharathoni.

" or, Tephe

51 And set menne to keepe them, that they might vse their malice vpon Israel.

52 He walled vp the citie Bethsura, Gazara, and the castle, and prouided them with menne and victuales.

53 He tooke also the cheefest mens sonnes in the countrey for pledges, and put them in the castle at Hierusalem to be keapt.

54 Afterwarde, in the hundred fiftie and three yeere, in the second moneth, Alcimus commaunded that they shoulde destroy the walles of the inwarde court of the sanctuarie, and he pulled downe and began to destroy the monumentes of the prophetes.

55 But at the same tyme Alcimus was plagued and smitten with a paulsie, and his enterprises were hindred, & his mouth was stopped (by God) so that he coulde no more speake nor commaunde any of his house concernyng his businesse.

56 Thus dyed Alcimus in great miserie at the same tyme. G

57 And when Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, he turned agayne to the kyng: and so the lande was in rest two yeeres.

58 Then al the vngodlye menne helde a counsel, sayeing, Beholde, Jonathas and his company are at ease, and dwel without care, wherefore let vs bring Bacchides hyther, and he shal take them al in one nyght.

59 So they went, and gaue Bacchides this counsel.

60 Whiche arose to comme with a great host, and sent letters priuily to his adherentes which were in Jurie, to take Jonathas and those that were with hym: but they myght not, for the other had gotten knowledge of their deuice.

61 And Jonathas tooke fiftie menne of the countrey, whiche were the ryngleaders of them, and slue them.

62 Then Jonathas and Simon, with their company, departed vnto the citie " Bethbasin, whiche lyeth in the wylderneſſe, and repayred the decay therof, and made it strong.

" or, Bethbessen.

63 When Bacchides knewe this, he geathered al his host, and sent woorde to them that were in Jurie.

64 Then came he and layde siege to Bethbasin, and fought agaynst it a long season, and made instrumentes of warre.

65 Now Jonathas left his brother Simon in the citie, & went forth him selfe into the countrey, & came with a certayne number, 66 And slue " Dbomeras & his brethren, and reb.

" or, Oda-and ỹ chyldren of Phaseron in their tentes, so that he beganne to be strong and to increase in power.

67 As for Simon & his company they went out of the citie, and brent vp the instrumentes of warre, 68 And fought agaynst Bacchides, and discomfited hym: and Bacchides was soare vexed, because his counsel and trauayle was in vayne.

69 Wherefore he was wroth at the wicked menne (a) that gaue him counsel to comme into their lande, and slue many of them: then purposed he with his company to goe away into his owne countrey.

(a) Wicked counsel falleth on the counsellers.

70 Whereof when Jonathas had knowledge, he sent ambassadours vnto him for to make peace with him, and that he shoulde deliuer him his prisoners agayne.

71 To the whiche Bacchides consented gladly, and dyd accordyng to his desire: yea and made an othe that he shoulde neuer doo him harme al the dayes of his lyfe.

72 So he restored vnto him all the prisoners that he had taken out of the lande of Juda, and then turned and went his way into his owne lande, neither proceeded he any further to come vnto the borders of Juda.

73 Thus Israel had no more warre, and Jonathas dwelt at Machmas, and beganne there to gouerne the people, and destroyed the vngodly menne out of Israel.

The.x.Chapter.

4. Demetrius desireth to haue peace with Ionathas. 48. Alexander mooueth warre agaynst Demetrius. 50. Demetrius is slaine. 51. The freendship of Ptolomeus and Alexander.

1 IN the hundred and threescore yeere, came Alexander the sonne of noble * Antiochus, and tooke Ptolemais, whose citizens receaued him, and there he raigned.

A

* or, Epiphanes.

2 When Demetrius heard thereof, he gathered an exceedyng great hoast, and went forth agaynst him to fyght.

3 Wherefore Demetrius sent letters vnto Jonathas with louyng wordes, and praysed him greatly.

4 For he sayde, We wyl first make peace with hym, before he bynde hym selfe with Alexander agaynst vs:

5 Els he shal remember the euyl that we haue donne agaynst hym, his brother, and his people.

6 And so he gaue Jonathas leaue to gather an hoast to make weapons, and to be confederate with him, and commaunded the pledges that were in the castle to be deliuered vnto him.

7 Then came Jonathas to Hierusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, & of them that were in the castle. B

8 And therefore were they soare afrayd, because they hearde that the kyng had geuen hym licence to gather an hoast.

9 Thus were the pledges deliuered vnto Jonathas, whiche restored them to theyr parentes.

10 Jonathas also dwelt at Hierusalem, and beganne to buylde vp and to repayre the citie:

11 Commaundyng the workemen to wall it and the mount Sion rounde about with free stone, to be a strong holde: and so they dyd.

12 As for the heathen that were in the castles whiche Bacchides had made vp, they fled:

13 So that euery man leaft the place, and went into his owne countrey.

14 Onlye at Bethsura remayned certayne of the Jewes, whiche had forsaken the law and commaundementes of God, for Bethsura was their refuge. C

15 Nowe when kyng Alexander heard of the promises that Demetrius had made vnto Jonathas, and when it was tolde hym of the batayles and noble actes which he and his brethren had donne, and of the great trauayles that they had taken,

16 He sayde, Where shall we finde suche a man? well, we wyl make him our freende, and be confederate with him.

17 Vppon this he wrote a letter vnto him, with these wordes:

18 Kyng Alexander saluteth his brother Jonathas.

19 We haue hearde of thee, that thou art a valiant man, and meete to be our freende:

20 Wherefore this day we ordayne thee to be the hygh priest of thy people, and to be called the kinges freende (Vppon this he sent him a purple clothyng, and a crowne of golde) that thou mayest consyder what is for our profite, and keepe freendshyp towarde vs.

21 So in the seuenth moneth of the hundred and threescore yeere, vppon the solempne feast day of the tabernacles, Jonathas put the holy rayment vppon him: then gathered he an hoast, & prepared many weapons. D

22 Whiche when Demetrius heard, he was marueylous sory,

23 And saide, Alas what haue we donne, that Alexander hath preuented vs, in geatting the freendshyp of the Jewes for his owne defence?

24 Yet wil I write louingly vnto them also, yea and promise them dignities and rewardes, that they may be of my side.

25 Whereupon he wrote vnto them these woordes, Kyng Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto the people of the Jewes:

26 Whereas ye haue kept your couenant toward vs, and continued in our freendship, not inclinyng to our enimies, we were glad when we heard thereof.

27 Wherefore remayne stil, and be faythfull to vs, and we shal wel recompence you for the thinges that ye haue donne on our partie:

28 We shal releasse you of many charges, and geue you rewardes.

E 29 And nowe I discharge you and all the Jewes from tributes, I forgeue you the customes of salt, and releasse you of the crowne tares, of the thirde part of seede, 30 And halfe the fruite of trees, whiche is myne owne duetie, I doo releasse them frō this day forth, so that they shal not be taken of the lande of Juda, nor of the three cities whiche are added therevnto out of Samaria & Galilee, from this day forth, for euermore.

31 Hierusalem also, with al thynges belongyng thereto shalbe holy and free, yea the tythes and tributes shall parteyne vnto it.

32 As for the power of the castle whiche is at Hierusalem, I remit and geue it vnto the hygh priest, that he may set in it suche menne as he shal choose to keepe it.

33 I freely deliuer al the Jewes that are prisoners throughout al my realme, so that euery one of them shalbe free from paying any tribute, yea euen of their catel.

34 Al the solempne feastes, Sabbothes, newe moones, the dayes appoynted, the three dayes before and after the feast, shalbe free for al the Jewes in my realme.

35 So that in them no man shall haue power to doo any thyng, or to vexe any of them in any manner of cause.

36 There shal thirtie thousande also of the Jewes be written vp in the kynges hoaste, and haue their wages payed as all other men of warre of the kynges houlde haue: and of them shalbe ordayned certayne to keepe the kynges strong holdes,

37 Yea and some of them shalbe set ouer the
F kynges secrete affayres: and their gouernours and princes shalbe of them selues, and lyue after their owne lawes, as the kyng hath commaunded in the lande of Juda.

38 And the three cities that are fallen vnto Jurie from the countrey of Samaria, shalbe taken as Jurie, and be vnder one, neyther be subiect to any strange lorde, but to the hygh priest.

39 As for Ptolemais and the lande parteynyng thereto, I geue it vnto the sanctuarie at Hierusalem, for the necessarie expences of the holy thinges.

40 Moreouer, I wyl geue euery yeere fifteene thousand sicles of siluer of the kinges reuenues, out of the places apparteynyng vnto me.

41 And all the ouerplus whiche they haue not payde for thynges due, as they dyd in the former yeeres, from hencefoorth they shall geue it towarde the woorkes of the temple.

42 And besides this, the fiue thousand sicles of siluer whiche they receaued yeerely of the accompt appoynted for the interteynement of the sanctuarie these yeeres passed, euen these thinges shalbe releassed, because they apparteyne to the priestes that minister

43 Item, who so euer they be that flee vnto the temple at Hierusalem, or within the liberties thereof, where as they are fallen into the kinges danger for any manner of businesse, they shalbe pardoned, and all the goodes that they haue in my realme shalbe free.

44 For the buyldyng also and repayring of G the woorke of the sanctuarie, expences shalbe geuen out of the kinges reuenues:

45 Yea and for the makyng of the walles rounde about Hierusalem, for the breaking downe of the olde, and for the setting vp of the strong holdes in Jurie, shal the coastes and charges be geuen out of the kynges reuenues.

46 But when Jonathas & the people heard these woordes, they gaue no credence vnto them, neither receaued them: for they remembred the great wickednesse that he had donne vnto Israel, and howe soare he had vexed them. 1. Mac. 7. d.

47 Wherefore they agreed vnto Alexander, for he was a prince that had dealt freendly with them, and so they stoode by hym alway.

48 Then geathered kyng Alexander a great hoast, and brought his armie against Demetrius: Josep. cap. 6 lib. 13.

49 So the two kynges stroke batayle togeather, but Demetrius hoast fledde, and Alexander followed after, and felle vppon them.

50 A myghty soare feelde was it, continuing tyll the sunne went downe, and Demetrius was slayne the same day.

51 And Alexander sent ambassadours vnto Ptolome the kyng of Egypt, with these woordes, sayeing,

52 For-

52 Forsomuche as I am comme agayne to my realme, and am set in the throne of my progenitours, and haue gotten the dominion, ouercommed Demetrius,

53 Conquered our land, and striken a feelde with him, so that we haue discomfited both him and his host, and sit in the throne of his kyngdome:

54 Let vs now make freendship togeather, geue me thy daughter to wyfe, so shal I be thy sonne in lawe, and both geue thee rewardes and her, according to thy dignitie.

55 Ptolome the king gaue answeare, sayeing, Happy be the day wherein thou art comme agayne to the lande of thy progenitours, and set in the throne of their kingdome:

56 And nowe wyl I fulfyl thy writing: but meete me at Ptolemais, that we may see one another, & that I may mary my daughter vnto thee, according to thy desire.

57 So Ptolome went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolemais in the hundred threescore and two yeere, 58 Where kyng Alexander met hym: and he gaue Alexander his daughter Cleopatra, and maryed them at Ptolemais with great worshyp, like as the maner of kinges is to be.

59 Then wrote kyng Alexander vnto Jonathas, that he shoulde comme & meete him.

60 So he went honorably vnto Ptolemais, and there he met the two kynges, and gaue them and their freendes great presentes of golde and siluer, and found fauour in their sight.

61 And there came togeather agaynst Jonathas certayne wicked menne & vngratious persons of Israel, makyng complayntes of hym: but the king regarded them not.

62 As for Jonathas, the king commaunded to take of his garmentes, and to clothe him in purple: and so they dyd. Then the kyng appoynted hym to sit by hym, 63 And sayde vnto his princes, Goe with him into the middest of the citie, and make a proclamation, that no man complayne agaynst hym of any matter, & that no man trouble him for any maner of cause.

64 So it happened, that when his accusers sawe the worshyp which was proclaymed of hym, and that he was clothed in purple, they fled euery one.

65 And the kyng made much of hym, wrote him among his cheefe freendes, made him a duke, and partaker of his dominion.

Iosep. cap. 6 lib. 13. anti. 66 Thus Jonathas went agayne to Hierusalem with peace and gladnesse.

67 In the hundred threescore and fift yeere, came Demetrius, the sonne of Demetrius, from Creta, into his fathers lande:

68 Wherof when Alexander hearde tel, he was right sory, and returned vnto Antioch.

69 And Demetrius chose Apollonius, whi- 1. Mac. 3. a che had the gouernance of Celosyria, to be his captayne: so he geathered a great host, and came vnto Jamnia, and sent worde vnto Jonathas the high priest, sayeing, 70 Darest thou withstand vs thy self alone? As for me, I am but laughed to scorne and shamed, because thou dyddest vaunt thy strength agaynst vs in the mountaynes.

71 Nowe therefore if thou trustest in thyne owne strength, comme downe to vs into the playne feelde, and there let vs trye the matter togeather, for thou shalt know that I haue the strength of many cities,

72 And shalt knowe who I am, and the other that stande by me, whiche say, That your foote is not able to stande before our face, for thy fathers haue benne twise chased in their owne lande.

73 And nowe howe wylt thou be able to abyde so great an host of horsemen & footemen in the feeld, where as is neither rocke, stone, nor place to flee vnto?

74 When Jonathas hearde the wordes of Apollonius, he was moued in his mynde, wherfore he chose tenne thousande menne, and went out of Hierusalem: and Simon his brother met him, for to helpe him.

75 And they pitched their tentes at Joppa: G but the citie keapt him forth, for Apollonius garrison was in Joppa.

76 Then Jonathas layde siege to it, and they that were in the citie for very feare let hym in: and so Jonathas wanne Joppa.

77 Apollonius hearyng of this, tooke three thousande horsemen, with a great host on foote, and went to Azotus as though he woulde goe further, and came immediatly into the playne feelde, because he had so many horsemen, and put his trust in them.

78 So Jonathas followed vppon him to Azotus, and the armie skirmished with his rereward, and there they stroke the battayle.

79 Nowe had Apollonius leaft a thousand horsemen behynde them priuily in the tentes.

80 And when Jonathas knewe that suche wayte was layde behynde them, they went rounde about the enimies host, and shotte dartes at the people, from the mornyng to the euenyng.

81 As for Jonathas people, they keapt their order as he had commaunded them, and the enimies horses were weery.

82 Then brought Simon forth his host, and set them agaynst the footemen (for the horsemen were weery alredy:) so he discōfited them, and they fled.

83 And they that were scattered in the feeld, gate them to Azotus, and came into the tēple of Dagon their idol, that they might there saue their lyues.

1.Mac.11.a 84 But Jonathas set fire vpon Azotus, and al the cities round about it, and tooke their goodes, and brent vp the temple of Dagon, with al them that were fled into it.

85 Thus were slayne and brent welnigh eyght thousande menne.

86 So Jonathas remooued the host from thence, & brought them to Ascalon, where the menne of the citie came forth, and met hym with great worshyp.

87 After this went Jonathas and his host agayne to Hierusalem, with great substance of good.

88 And when kyng Alexander heard these thinges, he thought to do Jonathas more worshyp:

89 And sent him a coller of gold, as the vse is to be geuen vnto such as are of the kings next blood: He gaue hym also the citie of Accaron, with the landes belongyng therto, in possession.

The .xi. Chapter.

3. The discention betwixt Ptolemeus and Alexander his sonne in lawe. 17. The death of Alexander.

A 1 Joseph.cap. 7.lib.13. AND the kyng of Egypt geathered an host lyke the sande that lyeth vpon the sea shore, and many shippes, and went about thorowe disceipt to obtaine the kingdome of Alexander, and to ioyne it vnto his owne realme.

2 Upon this he tooke his iourney into Syria, vsing gentle wordes, so that he was letten into the cities, and menne came forth to meete him: for kyng Alexander had commaunded them so to doo, because he was his father in lawe.

3 Nowe when Ptolomi entred into any citie, he left menne of warre to keepe it: and this he dyd throughout al the cities.

2.Mach.x.c 4 And when he came to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon, and Azotus that was brent vp, with the other thynges whiche were destroyed, the dead bodyes cast abroade, and the graues that they had made by the way side for suche as were slayne in the feelde,

5 And tolde the king that Jonathas had donne al these thynges, to the intent they might geat him euyl wyl: but the kyng sayde not one woorde thereto.

6 And Jonathas met the kyng with great honour at Joppa, where they saluted one another, and tooke their rest.

7 So when Jonathas had gonne with the king vnto the water that was called Eleutherus, he turned agayne to Hierusalem. B

8 Nowe Ptolome had gotten the dominion of the cities vnto Seleucia vppon the sea coast, imagining wicked counsels agaynst Alexander, 9 And sent ambassadours vnto Demetrius, sayeing, Comme, let vs make a bonde betwixt vs, so shal I geue thee my daughter that Alexander hath, and thou shalt raigne in thy fathers kyngdome.

10 I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter, for he goeth about to slay me.

11 And thus he slaundered Alexander, because he woulde haue had his realme.

12 Thus he tooke his daughter from hym, gaue her vnto Demetrius, and forsooke Alexander: so that his malice was openlye knowen.

13 And Ptolome came to Antioch, where he set two crownes vppon his owne head, the crowne of Egypt, and of Asia.

14 In the meane season was kyng Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwelt in those places had rebelled agaynst hym. C

15 But when Alexander heard of this, he came to warre agaynst hym: so kyng Ptolome brought forth his host, and met hym with a myghtie power, and chased hym away.

16 Then fled Alexander into Arabia, there to be defended: and kyng Ptolomeus honour increased.

17 And Zabdiel the Arabian smote of Alexanders head, and sent it vnto Ptolome.

18 But the thirde day after dyed kyng Ptolome hym selfe, and they whom he had set in the strong holdes were slayne one of another.

19 And Demetrius raigned in the hundred threescore and seuenth yeere.

20 At the same tyme geathered Jonathas them that were in Jurie, to lay siege vnto the castle whiche was at Hierusalem, and so they made many instrumentes of warre agaynst it.

21 Then went there certayne vngodly persons, which hated their owne people, vnto kyng Demetrius, and tolde him that Jonathas besieged the castle. D

22 So when he heard it, he was angry, and immediatly came vnto Ptolemais, and wrote vnto Jonathas, that he shoulde not not lay siege to the castle, but comme and speake with him at Ptolemais in al haste.

23 Neuertheleſſe, when Jonathas hearde this, he commaunded to beſiege it: he chose also certayne of the elders and prieſtes of Israel, and put him selfe in peril, 24 And tooke with him golde, siluer, cloathyng, and diuers presentes, and went to Ptolemais vnto the kyng, and founde him gratious.

25 And though certayne vngodly menne of his owne people made complaintes vppon hym,

1.Ma.10.d. 26 Yet the kyng intreated him like as his predeceſſours had donne before, and promoted him in the syght of al his freendes,

E 27 Confirmed him in the hygh prieſthood, with al the worshyp that he had afore, and made him his cheefe freende.

1.Ma.10.e. and.11.d. 28 Jonathas also desyred the kyng that he woulde make Jurie free, with the three head cities of Samaria, and the landes parteynyng thereto: vpon this dyd Jonathas promise him three hundred talentes.

29 Wherevnto the king consented, and gaue Jonathas writyng of the same, conteynyng these woordes, 30 King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto his brother Jonathas, and to the people of the Jewes.

31 We send you here a copy of the letter whiche we dyd write vnto our cosin Lasthenus concernyng you, that ye shoulde knowe it.

32 King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto Lasthenus his father.

33 For the faythfulneſſe that our freendes the people of the Jewes keepe vnto vs, and for the louing kyndneſſe whiche they beare towarde vs, we are determined to doo them good.

34 Wherefore we assigne vnto the coastes of Judea the three gouernementes, Afferema, Lydda, and Ramatha, whiche are added vnto Jurie from Samaria, and al the landes parteynyng therevnto, to be freely separated for suche as doo sacrifice in Hieruſalem, both concernyng the paymentes whiche the kyng tooke yeerely aforetyme, and the fruite also of the earth and trees:

F 35 As for other tythes and tributes that belonged vnto vs, we discharge them thereof from this time forth.

36 In lyke manner we graunt vnto them al the customes of salt, and crowne taxes whiche were brought vnto vs: and this freedome shal they haue firme and stedfast from this time forth for euermore.

37 Therfore see that ye make a copy of these our letters, and deliuer it vnto Jonathas, that it may be set vpon the holy mount in a conuenient place.

38 After this, when Demetrius the kyng sawe that his lande was in rest, and that no resistance was made agaynst hym, he sent away al his hoast, euery man to his owne place, except certaine bands of strangers, whom he brought from the Iles of the heathen: wherefore al his fathers host hated hym.

39 Nowe was there one Tryphon, that had benne of Alexanders part afore, whiche when he sawe that all the hoast murmured agaynst Demetrius, he went to Simalcue the Arabian, that brought vp Antiochus the sonne of Alexander, 1.Mac.12.c

40 And lay soare vpon hym to deliuer hym this young Antiochus, that he myght raigne in his fathers steede: he tolde hym also what great euil Demetrius had done, and howe his menne of warre loued hym not: and so remayned there a long season.

41 And Jonathas sent vnto kyng Demetrius, to driue them out whiche were in the castle at Hieruſalem, and those that were in the fortresses, for they dyd Israel great harme.

42 So Demetrius sent woorde vnto Jonathas, saying, I wyl not only doo these thynges for thee and thy people: but at tyme conuenient, I wyl doo both thee and thy people great worshyp.

43 But nowe thou shalt doo me a pleasure, yf thou wylt sende me menne to helpe me: for al myne armie is gonne from me. G

44 So Jonathas sent him three thousande strong men vnto Antioche, and they came vnto the kyng, wherefore the kyng was very gladde at theyr comming.

45 But they that were of the citie, euen an hundred and twentie thousande menne, geathered them togeather in the middest of the citie, and woulde haue slayne the king:

46 Whiche fledde into his court, and the citizens kept the streetes of the citie, and beganne to fyght.

47 Then the kyng called for ỹ Jewes helpe, whiche came vnto hym altogeather, and went abroade through the citie, 48 And slue the same day an hundred thousande menne, set fyre vpon the citie, and gate many spoyles in that day, and deliuered the kyng.

49 So when the citizens sawe that ỹ Jewes had gotten their wyl of the citie, and they themselues disapointed of their purpose, they made their supplication vnto the king, saying,

50 Graunt vs peace, and let the Jewes ceasse from troublyng vs and the citie.

51 And vpon this they cast away their weapons: thus they made peace, and the Iewes gate great worshippe in the syght of the king, and in the syght of al that were in his realme, and were spoken of throughout the kyngdome: and so they came agayne to Hierusalem with great goodes.

52 So the king Demetrius sate in the throne of his kingdome, and hadde peace in his lande.

53 Neuertheleſſe, he diſſembled in all that euer he spake, and withdrewe him selfe from Ionathas, neyther rewarded him accordyng to the benefites whiche he hadde donne for him, but troubled him very sore:

54 After this came Tryphon agayne with yonng Antiochus, which raigned, and was crowned king.

55 Then there geathered vnto hym all the menne of warre, whom Demetrius hadde put away, these fought agaynst Demetrius: whiche fledde, and turned his backe.

56 So Tryphon tooke the Elephantes, and wanne Antioche,

57 And young Antiochus wrote vnto Ionathas, sayeing, I confirme thee in thy prieſthood, and make thee ruler of foure countreys that thou mayest be a freend of the kynges.

58 Vpon this he sent hym golden vessels to
G be serued in, and gaue him leaue to drinke in golde, to be clothed in purple, and to weare a coller of golde.

59 He made his brother Simon also captayne from the coastes of Tyrus, vnto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Ionathas tooke his iourney, and went through the cities beyonde the water of Iordane, and al the menne of warre of Syria geathered them vnto him for to helpe him: so he came vnto Ascalon, and they of the citie receaued him honourably.

61 And from thence went he to Gaza, but they wouldе not let him in: wherefore he layed siege vnto it, burnyng vp and spoyling the places that were about the citie.

62 And the citizens of Gaza submitted them selues vnto Ionathas, whiche made peace with them: but tooke of their sonnes to pledge, sent them to Hierusalem, and went through the countrey vnto Damascus.

63 Nowe when Ionathas heard that Demetrius princes were comme into Cades, whiche is in Galilee, with a great hoaste, purposing to driue hym out of the countrey:

64 He came agaynst them, and left Simon his brother in the lande.

65 And Simon came to Bethsura, and layde siege to it a long season, and discomfited them.

66 So they desyred to haue peace with him: whiche he graunted them, and afterwarde put them out from thence, tooke the citie, and set menne to keepe it.

67 And Ionathas with his hoast came to the water of Genesar, and betimes in the morнyng gate them to the plaine feelde of Azor:

68 And beholde, the hoastes of the heathen mette them in the feelde, and layde watche for them in the mountaynes,

69 So that when Ionathas came agaynst them, the other which were layd to watch, rose out of their places, and fought,

70 And they that were of Ionathas side fledde euery man, and there was not one of them left, except Mathathias the sonne of Absalomus, and Iudas the sonne of Calphi the captayne of the hoast.

71 Then Ionathas rent his clothes, layde earth vpon his head, (a) made his prayer, (a) Beholde the effect of prayer.

72 And turned agayne to them in the feeld, where they fought togeather, and he put them to flyght.

73 Nowe when his owne menne that were fledde sawe this, they turned agayne vnto hym, and helped hym to folowe vppon all their enimies vnto theyr tentes at Cades, and there they camped.

74 So there were slayne of the heathen the same day three thousande menne, and Ionathas turned agayne to Hierusalem.

The.xii.Chapter.

1. Ionathas sendeth ambassadours to Rome, 2. and to the people of Sparta to renue theyr couenant of freendship. 20. Ionathas pretteth to slight the princes of Demetrius. 40. Tryphon taketh Ionathas by deceipt.

1 IOnathas seeyng that the tyme was meete for hym, chose certayne men, and sent them to Rome, for to stablishe and to renue the freendship with them: A 1.Mac.7.a.

2 He sent letters also vnto Sparta, and to other places in lyke manner.

3 So they went vnto Rome, and entred into the " counsel, and sayde, Ionathas the hygh prieſt, and the people of the Iewes, sent vs vnto you, for to renue the old frendship and bonde of loue. " or, senate.

4 Vpon this the Romanes gaue them free passportes, that menne shoulde leade them home into the lande of Iuda peaceably.

5 And

5 And this is the copy of the letters that Jonathas wrote vnto the Spartians,

6 Jonathas the hygh priest, with the elders, priestes, and the other people of the Iewes, sende greetyng vnto the Spartians theyr brethren.

B 7 There were letters sent long agoe vnto Onias the hygh priest from " Arius whiche raigned then among you, that ye are our brethren, as the copy here vnder wrytten dooth specifie.

" or, Darius.

8 And Onias entreated the Ambassadour that was sent honourably, and receiued the letters, wherin there was mention made of the bonde of loue and freendship.

9 But as for vs, we nede no suche wrytinges, for why? we haue the holy bookes of scripture in our handes to our comforte.

10 Neuertheless we had rather sende vnto you for the remyng of the brotherhood and freendshippe, leaste we shoulde be strange vnto you: for it is long since the tyme that ye sent woorde vnto vs.

11 Wherefore in the sacrifices that we offer, and other ceremonies vpon the hygh solemne dayes, and other, we alway remember you without ceassyng, like as reason is, and as it becommeth vs to thynke vpon our brethren, 12 Yea, and are ryght glad of your prosperous honour.

13 And though we haue had great troubles and warres, so that the kynges about vs haue fought agaynst vs:

14 Yet would we not be greeuous vnto you, nor to other of our louers and freendes in these warres.

C 15 For we haue had help from heauen that hath succoured vs, so that we are deliuered, and our enimies subdued.

16 Wherefore we chose Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason, and sent them vnto the Romanes for to renue the olde " bonde of freendshyp and loue with them.

" or, league

17 We commaunded them also to comme vnto you, to salute you, and to delyuer you our letters concernyng the renouation of our brotherhood.

18 And nowe ye shal doo ryght wel to geue vs an answeare thereunto.

19 And this is the copie of the wrytyng whiche Arius the kyng of Sparta sent vnto Onias.

20 Arius the kyng of the Spartians, sendeth greetyng vnto Onias the high priest:

D 21 It is founde in wrytyng, that the Spartians and Iewes are brethren, and comme out of the generation of Abraham:

22 And nowe forsomuche as this is comme to our knowledge, ye shal doo wel to wryte vnto vs of your prosperitie.

23 As for vs, we haue wrytten our mynde vnto you, our cattel and goodes are yours, and yours, ours: these thinges haue we commaunded to be shewed vnto you.

24 When Jonathas hearde that Demetrius princes were comme foorth to fyght agaynst him with a greater host, then afore, 25 He went from Hierusalem, & met them in the lande of Hemath: for he gaue them not space to comme into his owne countrey.

26 And he sent spyes vnto theyr tentes, which came againe and told hym that they were appointed to comme vpon him in the night season.

27 Wherefore when the sunne was gonne downe, Jonathas commaunded his menne to watche al the nyght, and to be ready with weapons for to fight, and set watchemenne rounde about the host.

28 But when the aduersaries hearde that Jonathas was ready with his menne to the batayle, they feared, and were afrayde in their hartes, and kindled fires in their tentes, brake vp, and gate them away. E

29 Neuertheless, Jonathas and his company knew it not tyl the mornyng, for they sawe the fires burning.

30 Then Jonathas folowed vpon them, but he myght not ouertake them, for they were gone ouer the water Eleutherus.

31 So Jonathas departed vnto the Arabians, which were called Zabadei, slue them, and tooke theyr goodes.

32 He proceeded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went through al the countrey.

33 But Simon his brother tooke his iourney, and came to Ascalon, and to the nexte strong holdes, departing vnto Joppa, and wanne it,

34 (For he hearde that they woulde delyuer the holde to them that tooke Demetrius parte) wherefore he set menne of warre in the citie to keepe it. F

35 After this came Jonathas home againe, and called the Elders of the people togeather, and deuised with them for to buylde vp the strong holdes in Iurie,

36 And to make the walles of Hierusalem hygher, to set vp an hygh wal betwixt the castle and the citie, for to separate it from the citie, that it myght be alone, and that menne shoulde neyther buye nor sel in it.

37 Upon this they came togeather for to buylde vp the citie, and for so muche as the wal vpon the brooke of the East side, called Capyenetah, Caphetetah, was fallen down, repaired it.

38 And Simon set vp Adiada in Sephela, and made it strong, setting portes & lockes vpon it.
1.Mac.11.c 39 Nowe when Tryphon purposed to raigne in Asia, to be crowned, and to slaye the kyng Antiochus:
40 He was afrayde that Jonathas woulde not suffer him, but fight against him, wherfore he went about to take Jonathas, and to kil him: so he departed, and came vnto Bethsan.
41 Then went Jonathas forth against him to the batayle, with fourtie thousande chosen menne, and came vnto Bethsan also:
42 But when Tryphon sawe that Jonathas came with so great an host to destroye him, he was afraide:
43 And therefore he receiued him honourably, commended him vnto al his freendes, and gaue him rewardes, and commaunded his menne of warre to be as obedient vnto him, as to him selfe:
6 44 And sayde vnto Jonathas, Why hast thou caused this people to take suche trauayle, seeyng there is no warre betwixt vs?
45 Therefore send them home agayne, and choose certayne menne to wayte vpon thee, and comme thou with me to Ptolemais, for I wil geue it thee, with the other strong holdes, menne of warre, and their officers: as for me, I must departe, this is onely the cause of my comming.
46 Jonathas beleeued him, and dyd as he sayd, putting away his host, whiche went into the lande of Juda.
47 He kept but three thousande by hym, whereof he sent two thousande into Galilee, and one thousand went with him selfe.
48 Nowe as soone as Jonathas entred into Ptolemais, the citizens sparred the gates of the citie, and tooke him, and slue al them with the swoorde that came in with him.
49 Then sent Tryphon an host of foote-menne and horsmenne into Galilee, and into the great playne feelde, to destroy al Jonathas companie:
50 But when they knewe that Jonathas was taken, and al they slayne that wayted vpon hym, they tooke counsel togeather, and encouraged one another, and came forth agaynst them ready to fight.
51 So when they whiche folowed vppon them, saw that it was a matter of lyfe, they turned backe agayne.
52 As for the other, they went into the land of Juda peaceably, and bewailed Jonathas, and them that were with him ryght sore: and Israel made great lamentation.
53 Then al the heathen that were rounde about them, sought to destroy them:
54 For they sayde, Nowe haue they no captayne, nor any man to helpe them, therefore let vs ouercomme them, and roote out their name from among menne.

The. xiii. Chapter.

I. After Ionathas was taken, Simon is chosen captayne, 17. Of whom Tryphon takyng his chyldren and money for the redemption of Ionathas, kylleth him and his chyldren.

1 NOwe when Simon heard that Tryphon geathered a greate host to come into the land of Juda, and to destroy it, H
2 And sawe that the people was in greate fearefulnesse and care: he came vp to Hierusalem, & geathered the people togeather,
3 And gaue them exhortation, sayeing, Ye knowe what great batayles I and my brethren, and my fathers house, haue fought for the lawe and the sanctuarie, and what manner of troubles we haue seene. 1.Ma.6.c.
4 Through occasion whereof, al my brethren are slaine for Israels sake, and I am leaft alone.
5 And nowe let me not spare myne owne lyfe in any manner of trouble, for I am no better then my brethren:
6 But wyl auenge my people and the sanctuarie, our chyldren and our wyues: for al the heathen are gathered togeather to destroy vs of very malice.
7 At these woordes the hartes of the people B were kyndled togeather.
8 So that they cryed with a loude voyce, sayeing, Thou shalt be our captayne, in steede of Judas and Jonathas thy brethren:
9 Order thou our batayle, and whatsoeuer thou commaundest vs, we shal doo it.
10 So he geathered al the menne of warre, makyng haste to finishe al the walles of Hierusalem, whiche he made strong round about.
11 Then sent he Jonathas the sonne of Absolomus, with a freshe host vnto Joppa, whiche dyoue them out that were in the castle, and remayned there him selfe.
12 Tryphon also remooued from Ptolemais with a greate armie, to comme into the lande of Juda, and Jonathas with him in warde.
13 And Simon pitched his tentes at " Addus, before the playne feelde. or, Addis.
14 But when Tryphon knew that Simon stood vp in steede of his brother Jonathas, and and that he woulde warre agaynst him, he sent messengers vnto hym, sayeing, 15 Whereas we haue keapt Jonathas thy brother, it is for money that he is owyng in the kynges accompt, concernyng the busines that he had in hande.

16 Wherefore, sende nowe an hundred talentes of siluer, and his two sonnes for suretie (that when he is letten forth, he shal not forsake vs) and we shal sende hym agayne.

17 Neuertheless, Simon knewe that he dissembled in his woordes: yet commaunded he the money and children to be deliuered vnto him, lest the Israelites might haue hated hym, 18 And sayde, Because he sent hym not the money and the children, therefore is Jonathas dead.

19 So Simon sent hym the children, and an hundred talentes: but he dissembled, and woulde not let Jonathas goe.

20 Afterwarde came Tryphon into the land to destroy it, and went rounde about by the way that leadeth vnto Ador: but whersoeuer they went, thyther went Simon and his host also.

D 21 Nowe they that were in the castle, sent messengers vnto Tryphon, that he shoulde make haste to comme by the wylderneste, and to sende them victuales.

22 And Tryphon made ready al his horsemen to come the same nyght: neuertheless, it was a very great snowe, so that he came not because of the snowe, but he remooued and went into the countrey of Galaad.

23 And when he drue nigh Bascama, he slue Jonathas and his sonnes there, 24 And then turned for to goe home into his owne lande.

25 Then sent Simon for to fetche his brothers dead coarse, and buryed it in Modin his fathers citie.

26 So al Israel bewayled hym with great lamentation, and mourned for hym very long.

27 And Simon made vpon the sepulchre of his father, and his brethren, a buyldyng, high to looke vnto, of free stone, behind and before,

E 28 And set vp seuen pyllers vpon it, one against another, for his father, his mother, and foure brethren, 29 And set great pillers rounde about them, with armes vpon them, for a perpetual memorie, and carued shyppes beside the armes, that they myght be seene of vnto saylyng in the sea.

30 This sepulchre whiche he made at Modin, standeth yet vnto this day.

31 Nowe as Tryphon went forth to walke with the young kyng Antiochus, he slue hym trayterously, Ioseph. cap. x. lib. xiii.

32 And raigned in his steede, crowned him selfe kyng of Asia, and dyd muche euyl in the lande.

33 Simon also built vp the castles in Jurie, makyng them strong, with hygh towres, great walles, portes, and lockes, and layde vp victuales in the strong holdes.

34 And Simon chose certayne menne, and sent them to king Demetrius, to desire him that he woulde discharge the lande from al bondage, for Tryphon had spoyled it very soare.

35 Whereupon Demetrius the king answeared him, and wrote vnto him after F this manner,

36 Demetrius the kyng sendeth greetyng vnto Simon the high priest his frend, with the elders and people of the Jewes:

37 The golden crowne and pretious stone that ye sent vnto vs, haue we receiued, and are redy to make a stedfast peace with you, yea, and to wryte vnto our officers for to release you concerning the thynges wherin we made you free.

38 And the appoyntment that we make with you, shalbe fyrme and stable: the strong holdes which ye haue builded, shalbe your owne.

39 As for any ouersight or fault committed vnto this day, we forgeue it, & the crowne tare that ye ought vs also: and where as was any other tribute in Hierusalem, it shal nowe be no tribute:

40 And looke who are meete among you to be in our court, let them be written vp, that there may be peace betwixt vs.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken G from Israel, in the hundred & seuentieth yere.

42 And the people of the Jewes began to wryte in their letters and actes on this maner, In the first yeere of Simon the hygh priest, a gouernour & prince of the Jewes, 43 In those dayes went Simon vnto Gaza, and besieged it rounde about, where he set vp ordinance of warre, and wanne a towre, whiche he tooke.

44 So they that gat into the towre, leapt into the citie, whiche was in a great feare:

45 Insomuche that the people of the citie rent their clothes, and clymed vp vpon the walles, with their wyues and children, beseeching Simon to be at one with them, sayeing,

46 O rewarde vs not after our wickednesse, but be gratious vnto vs, (and we shal doo thee seruice.)

47 Then Simon for very pitie woulde

fyght no more agaynst them, but put them out of the citie, & cauſed the houſes, wherin the images were, to be cleanſed, and ſo entred the citie with pſalmes of prayſe, geuyng thankes vnto the Lorde.

C 48 So when he had caſt al abominations out of the citie, he ſet ſuche menne in it as keapt the law (of God) and made the citie ſtrong, and builded a dwellyng place for hym ſelfe.

49 Nowe when they in the caſtle at Hieruſalem were keapt ſo ſtraightly that they coulde not comme forth, nor goe into the countrey, and myght neither buy nor ſel, they were very hungry, and many of them famiſhed to death:

50 Inſomuche that they beſought Simon to be at one with them, which he graunted them: ſo he put them out from thence, and cleanſed the caſtle from filthineſſe.

51 And vpon the twentie and three day of the ſeconde moneth, in the hundred, threeſcore, and eleuenth yeere, they entred into it with thankeſgeuyng, and branches of palme trees, with harpes, croudes, cymbales, and lutes, ſyngyng pſalmes and ſonges of prayſe vnto GOD, for that the great enimie of Iſrael was ouercome.

52 And Simon ordeyned that the ſame day ſhoulde be keapt euery yeere with gladnes, 53 And made ſtrong the hyl of the temple that was beſyde the caſtle, where he dwelt hym ſelfe with his company.

54 Simon alſo perceiuing that John his ſonne was a myghtie man of armes, made hym captayne of al the hoſtes, and cauſed hym to dwel at * Gaza.

* or, Gazaris.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

1. Demetrius is ouercome of Arſaces. II. Simon beyng captayne, there is great quietneſſe in Iſrael. 18. The couenant of frendſhip with the Romanes, and with the people of Sparta, is renued.

A 1 IN the hundred, threeſcore, and twelfth yeere, gearhered kyng Demetrius his hoſt, and departed vnto Media to geat hym helpe for to fyght agayneſt Tryphon.

2 Nowe when Arſaces the kyng of Perſia and Media, hearde that Demetrius was entred within his borders, he ſent one of his princes to take hym alyue, (and to bring him vnto hym.)

3 So he went and ſlue Demetrius hoſt, toke him ſelfe, brought hym to Arſaces, whiche keapt hym in warde.

4 And al the lande of Juda was in reaſt ſo long as Simon lyued, for he ſought the wealth of his people, therefore were they glad to haue hym for their ruler, and to doo hym worſhyp alway.

5 Simon wanne the citie of Joppa alſo for an hauen towne, and made it an entrance into the Iles of the ſea:

6 He enlarged the borders of his people, and conquered them more lande:

7 He geathered vp many of their people B that were priſoners, he had the dominion of Gaza, Bethſura, and the caſtle whiche he cleanſed from filthineſſe, and there was no man that reſiſted hym.

8 So that euery man tylled his grounde in peace, the lande of Juda, and the trees gaue their fruite and increaſe.

9 The elders ſate al in iudgement, and tooke their deuice for the wealth of the lande, the young men put on worſhip and harneſſe vpon them.

10 He prouided victuales for the cities, and made goodly ſtrong holdes of them, ſo that the fame of his worſhyp was ſpoken of vnto the ende of the worlde.

11 For he made peace throughout the lande, Leuit. 26.6. and Iſrael was ful of myrth and ioy.

12 Euery man ſate vnder his vine and figge trees, and there was no man to fray them away.

13 There was none in the lande to fyght agaynſt them, for then the kinges were ouercome.

14 He helped thoſe that were in aduerſitie C among his people, he was diligent to ſee the lawe keapt: as for ſuche as were vngodly and wycked, he tooke them away.

15 He ſet vp the ſanctuarie, and increaſed the holy veſſelles of the temple.

16 When the Romanes and Spartians had gotten woorde that Jonathas was dead, they were ryght ſory:

17 But when they hearde that Simon his brother was made high prieſt in his ſteede, and howe he had wonne the lande agayne, with the cities in it:

18 They wrote vnto hym in tables of braſſe, to renue the frendſhyp and bonde of loue, 2. Mac. 8.1 whiche they had made afore with Judas and. 12.3. and Jonathas his brethren.

19 Whiche writinges were read before the congregation at Hieruſalem. And this is the copie of the letters that the Spartians ſent,

20 The Senatours and citizens of Sparta, ſende greetyng vnto Simon the great prieſte, with the elders, prieſtes, and the other people of the Jewes their brethren:

21 Whom your Ambaſſadours, that were D ſent vnto our people, certified vs of your worſhyp, honour, and proſperous wealth,

we

we were glad of theyr comming,

22 And haue wrytten the ambassage in the publique recordes in this manner: (namely) that Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason, the Jewes ambassadours, are comme vnto vs for to renue the olde freendshippe with vs.

23 Upon this, the people consented that the menne shoulde be honourably entreated, and that the copie of theyr ambassage shoulde be wrytten in the special bookes of the people for a perpetual memorie vnto the Spartians: Yea and that we shoulde sende a copie of the same vnto Simon the great priest.

24 After this did Simon sende Numenius vnto Rome with a golden shielde of a thousand pound waight, to confirme the freendshippe with them.

25 Which when the Romanes vnderstood, they sayde, What thankes shal we recompence agayne vnto Simon & his children?

26 For he and his brethren, and the house of his father, hath stablished Israel, and ouercommed theyr enimies, wherefore they graunted hym to be free, and confirmed the libertie therof: therefore they wrote this in tables of brasse, and set it vpon pillers in mount Sion.

27 The copie of the wryting is this, The eyghteenth day of the moneth Elul, in the hundred three score and twelfth yeere, in the thirde yeere of Simon the hygh priest,

E 28 In the great congregation of the priestes, rulers of the people, and elders of the countrey at * Saramel, were these woordes openly declared:

* or, Hierusalem.

29 For so muche as there was much warre in our lande, therefore Simon the sonne of Mathathias, comme of the chyldren of Jarib, and his brethren, put them selues in peril, and resisted the enimies of their people, that their sanctuarie and law might be mainteyned, and did their people greate woorshyp.

30 Jonathas in lyke manner, after that he had gouerned his people, and benne their high priest, dyed, and lyeth buryed beside his elders.

31 After that woulde their enimies haue troden their holy thinges vnder foote, destroyed theyr lande, and vtterly wasted their sanctuarie.

32 Then Simon withstood them, & fought for his people, spent much of his owne mney, weaponed the valiant menne of his people, gaue them wages, 33 Made strong the cities of Juda, with Bethsura that lyeth vpon the borders of Jurie, where the ordinance of their enimies lay sometime, and set Jewes there for to keepe it.

34 He made faste Joppa also whiche lyeth vpon the sea, and * Gazy that bordereth vpon Azotus, where the enimies dwelt afore, and there he set Jewes to keepe it: and what so euer was meete for the subduyng of the aduersaries, that layde he therein.

* or, Gasaris.

35 Nowe when the people sawe the noble actes of Simon, and what woorshyppe he purposed to doo for them, his godly behauiour and faythfulnesse whiche he kept vnto them, and howe he sought by al wayes the wealth of his people: because he dyd al this, therefore they chose him to be their prince and high priest.

F 36 And in his time they prospered well by him, so that the heathen were taken out of theyr lande, and they also whiche were in the citie of Dauid at Hierusalem in the castle, where they went out and defiled al thyngs that were about the sanctuarie, and did great harme vnto cleanlynesse:

37 And Simon put menne of the Jewes in it, for the defence of the lande and citie, and set vp the walles of Hierusalem.

38 And kyng Demetrius confirmed him in his hygh priesthood

39 For these causes, made him his freende, and dyd hym great woorshyp:

40 For he harde that the Romanes called the Jewes theyr freendes, louers, and brethren: howe honourably they receaued Simons ambassadours:

41 How the Jewes and priestes consented that he shoulde be their prince and hygh priest perpetually, tyl God rayse vp the true prophete:

42 And that he shoulde be theyr captayne, to care for the sanctuarie, and to set officers vpon the woorkes thereof, ouer the lande, ouer the weapons, ouer the houses of defence, to make prouision for the holy thynges:

43 And to be obeyed of euery man, and al the wrytynges of the land to be made in his name, that he shoulde be clothed in purple and golde:

44 And that it shoulde be lawful for none of the people nor priestes to breake any of these thinges, to withstand his woordes, nor to cal any congregation in the land without hym: that he should be clothed in purple, and weare a coller of golde. G

45 And if there were any whiche disobeyed or brake this ordinance, that he shoulde be pounished.

46 So al the people consented to alowe Simon, & to do according to these woords:

47 Simon

47 Simon also hym selfe tooke it vppon hym, and was content to be the hygh priest, the captayne and prince of the Iewes and priestes, and to gouerne them al.

48 And they commaunded to make this writyng in tables of brasse, and fasten it vnto the wal that compasseth the sanctuarie in an open place:

49 And to laye vp a copie of the same in the treasurie, that Simon and his posteritie myght haue it.

The.xv.Chapter.

15. The Romanes wryte letters vnto kynges and nations in the defence of the Iewes.

1 MOreouer kyng Antiochus the sonne of Demetrius, sent letters from the Iles of the sea, vnto Simon the high priest and prince of the Iewes, and to al the people,

2 Concernyng these woordes, Antiochus the kyng sendeth greetyng vnto Simon the hygh priest, and to the people of the Iewes.

3 For so muche as certayne wicked menne haue gotten the kyngdome of our progenitours, I haue purposed to chalenge the realme againe, and to restore it to the olde estate: Wherfore I haue geathered a great host, and made shyppes of warre,

4 That I may goe through the countrey, and be auenged of them whiche haue destroyed our lande, and wasted many cities in my realme.

5 And therefore nowe I make thee free also from al the tributes whereof al kynges my progenitours haue discharged thee, and from other customes wherefrom they haue released thee, whatsoeuer they be:

6 Yea, I geue thee leaue to smyte money of thyne owne within thy lande.

B 7 As for Hierusalem, I wyl that it be holy and free, and al the weapons and houses of defence whiche thou hast buylded and keepest in thyne handes, shalbe thyne:

8 Where as any thyng is or shalbe owyng vnto the kyng, I forgeue it thee, from this tyme forth, for euermore.

9 And when we haue obteyned our kyngdome, we shal doo thee, thy people, and the temple great worshyp: so that your honour shalbe knowē throughout the whole world.

10 In the hundred, three score and fourteenth yeere, went Antiochus into his fathers lande, and al the menne of warre came togeather vnto hym, so that fewe were leaft with Tryphon.

11 So the kyng Antiochus folowed vpon him, but he fled vnto Dora, which lyeth by the sea side:

12 For he sawe that there was mischeefe comming vnto him, and that his host had forsaken him.

13 Then came Antiochus vnto Dora, with an hundred and twentie thousande menne of armes on foote, and eight thousande horsmenne: so he compassed the citie rounde about, and the shippes came by the sea.

14 Thus they vexed the citie by lande and C by water, in so muche that they suffered no man to goe in nor out.

15 In the meane season came Numenius, 1.Ma.14.d. and they that had benne with hym, from the citie of Rome, hauyng letters wrytten vnto the kynges & prouinces, wherin were conteyned these woordes.

16 Lucius the consul of Rome, sendeth greetyng vnto Ptolome the kyng,

17 The ambassadours of the Iewes our freendes, being sent from Simon the high priest, and from the people of the Iewes, came vnto vs for to renue the olde freendshyp and bonde of loue, 18 Brought a shielde of golde, weyghing a thousande pounde.

19 Wherefore we thought it good to wryte vnto the kynges and prouinces to doo them no harme, nor to take parte agaynst them, their cities, nor countreyes, neyther to maintayne their enimies agaynst them.

20 And we were content to receiue of them D the shielde.

21 If there be any wicked persons therfore fledde from their countrey, vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the hygh priest, that he maye punishe them accordyng to their owne lawe.

22 The same woordes wrote the Romanes also vnto Demetrius the kyng, to Attalus, Araba, Arsaces, 23 And to al Regions: as Samsames, to them of Spartia, * Delo, * Mydo, Sicyon, Caria, Samos, Pamphylia, Lycia, Halicarnassem, and to the Rhodes, to Faceliditis, Coo, Sida, Arado, Cortyna, Gnidum, to Cyprus, and Cyrene.

* or, Delus
* or, Mydus.

24 And of euery letter they sent a copy to Simon the hygh priest.

25 So Antiochus the king brought his host vnto Dora the seconde tyme, to take it, where he made diuers ordinance of warre, and keapt Tryphon, in that he shoulde not goe eyther in or out.

26 Then sent Simon vnto Antiochus two thousande chosen menne to helpe him, with golde, syluer, and other plenteous thynges.

27 Neuertheless he woulde not receaue them, them, but brake al the couenant whiche he made with Simon afore, and withdrewe hym selfe from hym.

E 28 He sent Athenobius also a freende of his vnto Simon, for to reason with him, sayeing, Ye withhold from me Joppa and Gaza, with the castle that is at Hierusalem, whiche are cities of my realme:

29 Whose borders ye haue destroyed, and donne great euyl in the lande, hauyng the dominion in many other places of my kingdome.

30 Wherefore, deliuer nowe the cities whiche ye haue taken, with the tributes of the places that ye haue rule vpon without the borders of Jurie:

31 Or els geue me fiue hundred talentes of syluer, yea and for the harme that ye haue donne in the cities, and for the tributes of the same other fiue hundred talentes: yf no, we shal come and fight agaynst you.

32 So Athenobius the kynges freende came to Hierusalem, and when he sawe the great worshyp and honour of Simon, in golde, syluer, and so great plentie of ornamentes, he marueyled: and tolde Simon as the kyng commaunded hym.

Iud.11.d. 33 Then answeared Simon, and said vnto him, As for vs, we haue neither taken other mennes landes, nor withholden them: but only our fathers heritage, whiche our enimies had vnryghteously in possession a certayne tyme.

34 This heritage of our fathers, haue we chalenged in processe of tyme.

F 35 And whereas thou complaynest concerning Joppa & Gaza, they did great harme to our people, and in our lande, yet wyl we geue an hundred talentes for them. Nevertheless, Athenobius answeared hym not one woorde:

36 But turned agayne wrothfully vnto the kyng, and tolde hym al these woordes, and the great dignitie of Simon, with al that he had seene: and the kyng was very angry.

37 And in the meane tyme fled Tryphon by shyp vnto Dorsolias.

38 Then the kyng made Cendebeus captayne of the sea coast, and gaue hym an host of footemen and horsemen.

39 Commaunding him to remoone the host towarde Jurie, and to builde vp the citie of Cedron, to make vp the portes, and to warre agaynst the people of the Jewes: as for the kyng hym selfe he folowed vpon Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came vnto Jamnia, and began to vexe the people, to treade downe Jurie, to take the people prysoners, to slay them,

41 And to builde vp Cedron: where he set horsemen, and other men of warre, that they might come forth, and goe through the streetes of Jurie, lyke as the kyng had commaunded hym. 1.Mac.16.h

The.xvi.Chapter.

1. Cendebeus the captaine of Antiochus host, is put to flight of the sonnes of Simon.

1 THen came John vp from Gaza, and A tolde Simon his father what Cende- 1.Mac.13.f
beus had donne (among theyr people.)

2 Upon this called Simon two of his eldest sonnes, Judas & John, and said vnto them, I and my brethren, and my fathers house, haue euer from our youth vp vnto this day foughten agaynst the enimies of Israel: and God gaue vs good fortune to deliuer Israel oftentymes.

3 And nowe forasmuche as I am olde, and ye by gods goodnesse are of a sufficient age, be ye in steede of me and my brother, to goe forth and fyght for our people: and the helpe of God be with you.

4 So he chose twentie thousande fightyng men of the countrey, with horsemen also, whiche went forth agaynst Cendebeus, and reasted at Modin.

5 In the morning they arose and went into the playne feelde, and beholde a myghtie great host came against them, both of footemen and horsemen: nowe was there a water brooke betwixt them.

6 And John remooued the host towarde them: and when he sawe that the people was afrayde to goe ouer the water brooke, he went ouer first him selfe: and the men seeyng this, folowed hym.

7 Then John set his horsemen and foote- B men in order the one by the other: for their enimies horsemen were very many.

8 But when they blewe vp the * priestes * or, holy.
trumpets, Cendebeus fled with his host: wherof many were slaine, and the remnant gat them to theyr strong holdes.

9 Judas also Johns brother was wounded at the same tyme, and John folowed styl 1.Mac.15.k
vpon the enimies, tyl he came to Cedron, whiche Cendebeus had builded.

10 The (enimies) fled also vnto the towres that were in the feeldes of Azotus, and those dyd John burne vp with fyre: thus there were slayne two thousande menne of them, and John turned agayne peaceably into Jurie.

11 And in the feelde of Jerecho was Ptolo-me

me the sonne of Abobus made captayne: whiche, because he had abundance of syluer and golde,

12 (For he had maryed the daughter of Simon the hygh priest,)

13 Waxed proude in his mynd, and thought to conquere the lande, imagining falshood agaynst Simon and his sonnes, to destroy them.

C 14 Nowe as Simon was goeyng about thorowe the cities that were in the countrey of Iurie, and caring for them, he came downe to Iericho, with Mathathias and Iudas his sonnes, in the hundred, threescore, and seuententh yeere, in the eleuenth moneth, called Sabat.

15 Then (Ptolome) the sonne of Abobus, receiued them, but with deceipt, into a strong house of his, called Dochus, whiche he had builded, where he made them a banket, and had hyd menne there.

16 So when Simon and his sonnes were mery, & had dronken wel, Ptolome stoode vp with his menne (whom he had hid there) and tooke theyr weapons, entred into the banket house, and slue Simon with his two sonnes, and certayne of his seruantes.

17 Such great vnfaythfulnesse did Ptolome in Israel, and recompenced euyl for good.

18 Then wrote Ptolome these thinges, and sent vnto kyng (Antiochus) requiryng hym that he shoulde sende hym an host to helpe him: and so should he deliuer him the land, with the cities and tributes of the same.

19 He sent other men also vnto Gaza for to take Iohn, and wrote vnto the captaynes to comme to him, and he shoulde geue them syluer, golde, and rewardes.

20 And to Hierusalem he sent other to take it, and the sanctuarie.

D 21 Then ran there one before, and told Iohn in Gaza, that his father and his brethren were slayne, and howe that Ptolome had sent to slay hym also.

22 When Iohn hearde this, he was soare abashed, & layde handes of them that were come to destroy hym, and slue them: for he knewe that they went about to kyl hym.

23 As for other thynges concernyng Iohn, of his warres, of his noble actes, wherein he behaued hym selfe manfully, of the buildyng of walles whiche he made, and other of his deedes, 24 They are written in the chronicles of his priesthood, from the tyme forth that he was made high priest after his father.

The ende of the first booke of the Machabees.

The seconde booke of the Machabees.

The first Chapter.

1. An epistle of the Iewes that dwelt at Hierusalem, sent vnto them that dwelt in Egypt, wherein they exhort them to geue thankes for the death of Antiochus. 19. Of the fire that was hyd in the pyt. 24. The prayer of Nehemias.

A 1 THE brethren of the Iewes whiche be at Hierusalem, and in the lande of Iurie, wishe vnto these brethren of the Iewes that are thorowout Egypt, healthe and peace.

2 God be gratious vnto you, and thynke vpon his couenant that he made with Abraham, Isahac, and Iacob, his faythful seruantes:

Deut. 30. b.

3 And geue you al such an hart that ye may loue and serue hym, yea and perfourme his wyl with an whole hart, and a wyllyng mynde:

4 He open your hartes vnto his lawe, and in his commaundementes, and sende you peace,

5 Heare your prayers, be at one with you, and neuer forsake you in tyme of trouble.

6 For so much as nowe we here be prayeng for you,

7 What tyme as Demetrius raigned, in B the hundred, threescore, and nine yeere, we Iewes wrote vnto you in the trouble and violence that came vnto vs in those yeeres, after that Iason departed out of the holy lande and kyngdome.

8 They brent vp the portes, and shedde innocent blood: then made we our prayer vnto the Lord, and were heard, we offered vp sacrifices and fine flowre, and lyghted Leuit. 23. f. the lampes, and set forth the bread.

9 And nowe comme ye vnto the feast of tabernacles, in the moneth * Casleu. November.

10 In the hundred, fourescore, and eighteene yeere, the people that was at Hierusalem, and in Iurie, the counsel, and Iudas hym selfe, sent this wholesome salutation vnto Aristobulus kyng Ptolomes maister, whiche came of the generation of the annoynted priestes, and to the Iewes that were in Egypt:

11 Inso-

11 Insomuche as GOD hath deliuered vs from great perils, we thanke him highly, no lesse at al then if we had vanquished the kyng in battel.

12 For when he, with those that had fought agaynst the holy citie, did set vpon Persia:

13 For as he was in Persia (namely) the captayne with the great host, he perished in the temple of Naneas, beyng deceiued through the deuice of Naneas priestes.

14 For when Antiochus, as he that shoulde marrie with her, came, and his freendes with him, into the place to receiue by name of dowrie the money whiche the priestes of Naneas had set foorth:

15 He entred with a smal company into the compasse of the temple, and so they shut the temple.

16 Nowe when Antiochus entred by openyng the priuie entrance of the temple, the priestes stoned the captaine to death, hewed them in peeces that were with him, smote of their heades, and threwe them out.

17 In al thinges God be praised, which hath deliuered the wicked into our handes (to be punished.)

18 Whereas we are now purposed to keepe the purification of the temple vpon the twentie and fiue day of the moneth Casleu, we thought necessarie to certifie you thereof: that ye also myght keepe the tabernacles feast day, and the day of the fire, which was geuen vs when Nehemias offered, after that he had set vp the temple and the aulter.

Leuit. 23. f. Num. 29. b. 3. Esd. 5. c.

19 For what tyme as our fathers were led away vnto Persia, the priestes which then sought the honour of GOD, tooke the fire priuily from the aulter, & hyd it in a valley, where as was a deepe drye pit: and therein they keapt it, so that the place was vnknowen to euery man.

20 Nowe after many yeeres when it pleased GOD that Nehemias shoulde be sent from the kyng of Persia, he sent the chylders childzen of those priestes whiche had hyd the fire, to seeke it: and as they tolde vs they founde no fire, but thicke water.

Leuit. 6. a 10. a. 15. c

21 Then commaunded he them to drawe it vp, and to bryng it hym, and the offerynges withal: Nowe when the sacrifices were layed on, and ordred, Nehemias commaunded the priestes to spinckle them and the wood with water.

22 When this was donne, and the tyme comme that the sunne shone whiche afore was hid in the cloude, there was a great fire kyndled, insomuche that euery man marueyled.

23 Nowe al the priestes prayed whyle the sacrifice was a makyng: Jonathas prayed first, and the other gaue answeare.

24 And Nehemias prayer was after this maner, O Lorde God, maker of al thinges, thou fearefu̇l and strong, thou righteous & mercifu̇l, thou ỳ art onely a gratious kyng,

25 Onely liberal, onely iust, almightie and euerlastyng, thou that deliuerest Israel from al trouble, thou that hast chosen the fathers, and halowed them fauourably:

26 Receiue the offeryng for thy whole people of Israel, preserue thyne owne portion, and halowe it, 27 Geather those togeather that are scattered abrode from vs, deliuer them that are vnder the Heathens bondage, looke vpon them whiche are despised & abhorred: that the Heathen may knowe and see howe that thou onely art God, whiche art our God.

28 Pounishe them that oppresse and proudly put vs to dishonour.

Deut. 30. a

29 Set thy people agayne in thyne holy place, lyke as Moses hath spoken.

30 And the priestes song Psalmes of thankesgeuing, so long as the sacrifice endured.

31 Now when the sacrifice was brent, Nehemias commaunded the great stones to be spinckled with the residue of the water.

Iud. vi. d. 1. King. 18. c Eccle. 48. a.

32 Whiche when it was donne, there was kindled a flame of them also: but it was consumed through the lyght that shyned from the aulter.

33 So when this matter was knowen, it was tolde the king of Persia, that in the place where the priestes, which were led away, had hid fire, there appeared water, and that Nehemias and his companie had purified the sacrifices withal.

34 Then the kyng, consydering and ponderyng the matter diligently, inclosed the place, and consecrated a temple, to proone the thing that was donne:

35 And when he founde it so in deede, he gaue the priestes many gyftes, and diuers rewardes, yea he toke them with his owne hande, and gaue them.

36 And Nehemias called the same place (a) Nephthar, whiche is as muche to say as a clensing: but many menne cal it Nephi.

(a) Ephthar, whiche is to say, a shining: it is also called Nephi or Nephthar, whiche is a clensing.

The. ii. Chapter.

4. How Ieremie hyd the tabernacle, the arke, and the aulter in the hyl. 21. Of the fyue bookes of Iason conteyned in one.

1 IT is found also in the writtings of Ieremie the prophete, that he commaunded them whiche were caryed away, to take fyre, as it is sayde afore.

A 2. Mach. 1. c Iere. 29. b. Baruc. 6. a.

2 He cõmaunded them also that they should not forget the lawe and commaundements of the Lorde, and that they shoulde not erre in their mindes, when they see images of siluer and golde, with their ornamentes.

3 These and suche other thinges commaunded he them, and exhorted them that they shoulde not let the lawe of God goe out of their heartes.

4 It is written also, howe the prophete at the commaundement of god, charged them to take the tabernacle and the arke with them: and he went foorth vnto the mountayne where Moses clymed vp, and sawe the heritage of God.

Deut.34.a. 5 And when Jeremi came there, he founde an open caue, wherein he layde the tabernacle, the arke, and the aulter of incense, and so stopped the doore.

6 There came certayne menne togeather also, folowing hym to marke the place, but they coulde not finde it.

¶ 7 Whiche when Jeremie perceiued, he reprooued them, sayeing, As for that place it shalbe vnknowen, vntyl the tyme that God geather his people togeather agayne, and receiue them vnto mercy.

Exod.13.d 8 Then shal God shewe them these things, and the maiestie of the Lorde shal appeare, and the cloude also, lyke as it was shewed vnto Moses: and lyke as when Solomon desired that the place might be honorably sanctified, and it was shewed hym.

I.Sam.8.b.

9 For he beyng a wyse man, handled honorably and wylely, offeryng vnto GOD in the halowyng of the temple when it was finished.

Leuit. 10.d. 10 And lyke as when Moses prayed vnto the Lord, the fire came downe from heaue, and consumed the burnt offeryng: euen so prayed Solomon also, and the fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the whole burnt offeryng.

11 And Moses sayd, Because the sinne offeryng was not eaten, therefore it is consumed.

12 In like maner Solomon keapt the dedication (or halowyng) eyght dayes.

2.Chr.7.a 13 In the annotations and writinges of * Jeremie were these thinges put also: and howe he made a librarie, and howe he geathered out of al countreys the bookes of the kynges, and of the prophetes, and of Dauid, and the epistles of the kynges concernyng the holy gyftes.

* Somme reade, Nehemias.

¶ 14 Euen so Judas also, looke what he learned by experience of warre, & suche thinges as hath happened vnto vs, he geathered them altogeather, & so we haue them by vs.

15 If ye nowe desire to haue the same, sende somme body to fetche them vnto you.

16 Where as we then are about to celebrate the purification, we haue written vnto you therefore ye shal doo wel yf ye keepe the same dayes.

17 We hope also that the God whiche deliuered his people, and gaue them al the heritage, kyngdome, priesthood, & sanctuarie,

18 That he promised them in the law, shal shortly haue mercy vpon vs, and geather vs togeather from vnder the heauen into his holy place: for he hath saued vs from great perils, and hath cleansed the place. Deut.30.a

19 As concernyng Judas Machabeus, and his brethren, the purification of the great temple, the dedication of the aulter:

20 Yea and of the warres that concerne noble Antiochus and Eupator his sonne: 1.Mach.6.a

21 And the miracles shewed from heauen by the valiant actes of those whiche defended the Jewes religion, so that a few ranne through the whole countrey, & draue away the barbarous armies: D

22 Repaired agayne the temple that was spoken of throughout al the worlde, deliuered the citie, dooyng their best that the lawe of the Lorde which was put downe, might with al tranquilitie be restored agayne vnto the Lorde that was so mercyful vnto them:

23 As touchyng Jason also of Cyren, we haue vndertaken compendiously to bryng into one booke the thinges that were comprehended of him in fiue.

24 For we consyderyng the multitude of the bookes, and howe harde it shoulde be for them that woulde meddle with stories and actes, and that because of so diuers matters:

25 Haue vndertaken so to comprehende the stories, that suche as are disposed to reade, might haue pleasure and pastyme therein, and that they whiche are diligent in suche thinges, might the better thinke vpō them: yea and that whosoeuer reade them, myght haue profite thereby.

26 Neuertheless, we our selues that haue medled with this matter, for the shortnyng of it, haue taken no smal labour, but great diligence, watchinges, and trauayle.

27 Lyke as they that make a feast, woulde fayne doo other menne pleasure: euen so we also for many mens sakes, are very wel content to take the labour:

28 Where as we may shortly comprehende & the thinges that other menne haue truely written.

29 For he that buyldeth an house a newe, must prouide for many things to the whole building: but he ỳ paynteth it afterwarde, seeketh but onely that is comely, meete, and conuenient to garnishe it withal.

30 Euen

30 Euen so doo we also in lyke manner: and why? He that beginneth first to wryte a storie, must with his vnderstandyng gether the matter togeather, set his woordes in order, & diligently seeke out euery part.

31 But he that afterwarde wyll shorten it, vseth fewe woordes, and toucheth not the matter at the largest: let this be sufficient for a prologue.

32 Nowe wyl we beginne to shewe the matter: for it is but a foolishe thyng to make a long prologue, and to be short in the storie it selfe.

The. iii. Chapter.

1. Of the honour donne vnto the temple by the kinges of the gentiles. 6. Simon vttereth what treasure is in the temple.

1 WHat tyme as the holy citie was inhabited in all peace and wealth, and when the lawes were yet very well kept: for so was it ordayned through the godlynesse of Onias the hygh priest, and other godly menne that were enimies to wickednesse,

1.Mac.1.b. 2 It came thereto, that euen the kynges and princes them selues did the place great woorshyp, and garnished the temple with great gyftes:

3 In so muche that Seleucus kyng of Asia, of his owne rentes bare al the costes belongyng to the seruice of the offeringes.

2.Mac.3.a. 4 Then Simon of the tribe of Beniamin, being ruler of the temple, vpon a variance rysen betweene hym and the hygh priest, for wickednesse that was donne in the citie,

2.Mac.3.b. 5 For that he coulde not ouercome Onias, he gate him to Apollonius the sonne of Tharsia, whiche then was cheefe Lorde in Celosyria and Phenices,

6 And tolde him that the treasurie in Hierusalem was fulle of immuerable money, and howe that the common goodes which belongeth not vnto the offeringes, were exceedyng great also: yea and how it were possible that all these myght comme vnder the kynges power.

7 Nowe when Apollonius had shewed the king of the money, as it was tolde hym: the kyng called for Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commaundement to bryng him the same money.

8 Immediatly Heliodorus tooke his iourney, but vnder a colour as though he would goe through Celosyria and Phenices to visite the cities, but his purpose was to fulfil the kynges pleasure.

9 So when he came to Hierusalem, & was louyngly receyued of the hygh priest into the citie, he tolde what was determined concernyng the money, and shewed the cause of his comming: he asked also yf it were so in deede.

10 Then the hygh priest tolde him, that there was suche money layde vp for the vpholdyng of wydowes and fatherlesse chyldren.

11 And howe that a certayne of it belonged vnto Hircanus the sonne of Tobias, a nobleman, and that of al the money (and not as that wicked Simon had reported) there were foure hundred talentes of siluer, and two hundred of golde:

12 Yea and that it were vnpossible for those menns meanyng to be deceaued that had put assured confidence in the holynesse of the place, and in the maiestie and vndoubted safetie of the temple, whiche is had in woorshyp through the whole worlde, for the mayntenance and honour of the same.

13 Whereunto Heliodorus answeared, that the king had cõmaunded hym in any wyse to bryng hym the money.

14 So at the day appoynted Heliodorus entred into the temple to order this matter: wherefore there was no smal feare throwe out the whole citie.

15 The priestes felle downe before the aulter in their vestments, and called vnto heauen vpon hym which had made a lawe concernyng stuffe geuen to keepe, that they shoulde be safely preserued for such as committed them vnto keeping. C Exod.22.b

16 Then who so had looked the hygh priest in the face, it would haue greeued his hart: for his countenance and the changyng of his colour, declared the inwarde sorowe of his minde.

17 The man was al in heauynesse, and his body in feare: whereby they that looked vpon hym might perceyue the greefe of his hart.

18 The other people also came out of theyr houses by heapes vnto the common prayer, because the place was lyke to comme into confusion.

19 The women came togeather through the streetes with heary clothes about theyr brestes: the virgins also that were kept in, ranne to Onias, some of them ranne to the gates, some vp vpon the walles, other some looked out at the wyndowes, 20 Yea they al held vp their handes toward heauen and prayed.

21 A miserable thing was it to looke vppon the common people, and the high priest, beyng in suche trouble.

22 But they besought almighty God, that the goodes whiche were committed vnto them, myght be kept whole for those that had delinered them vnto their keeping.

23 Neuertheleſſe, the thing that Heliodorus was determined to doo, that perfourmed he in the ſame place, he him ſelfe perſonally beyng about the treaſurie with his men of warre.

24 But the ſpirite of almyghty God ſhewed him ſelfe openly, ſo that all they whiche preſumed to obey Heliodorus, felle thorough the power of God, into a great fearefulneſſe and dreade.

D

2. Mac. 10. c and. 11. b. 25 For there appeared vnto them an horſe, with a terrible man ſitting vppon hym, decke in goodly aray, and the horſe ſmote at Heliodorus with his fore feete: nowe he that ſate vppon the horſe, had harneſſe of golde vpon him.

26 Moreouer, there appeared two fayre and beautiful young menne of notable strēgth, in goodly aray, which ſtoode by him, ſcourged him of both the ſides, and gaue hym many ſtripes without ceaſſing.

2. Mac. 3. c. 27 With that felle Heliodorus ſodenly vnto the grounde: ſo they tooke hym vp, beyng compaſſed about with great darkneſſe, and bare him out vpon a beere.

28 Thus he that came with ſo many runners and menne of warre into the ſaid treaſurie, was borne out, where as no man myght helpe him, beyng deſtitute of harneſſe and weapons: and ſo the power of God was manyfeſt and knowen.

29 He lay ſtill dumbe alſo by the power of God, deſtitute of al hope and lyfe.

30 And they prayſed the Lorde, that he had ſhewed his power vppon his place and temple, whiche a litle afore was fulle of feare and trouble, and that thorough the reuelation of the almyghty Lorde it was filled with ioy and gladneſſe.

C

31 Then certayne of Heliodorus freendes prayed Onias, that in all haſte he would call vppon God, to graunt hym his lyfe, whiche was geuing vp the ghoſt.

32 So the hygh prieſt, fearing leſt the kyng ſhoulde ſuſpect that the Iewes had donne Heliodorus ſome (a) euyl, he offered an offering for his health.

(a) In woorkyng ſome trechery or ſorcerie agaynſt hym.

33 Nowe when the hygh prieſt had obtayned his petition, the ſame young menne in the ſame clothyng appeared, and ſtoode beſide Heliodorus, ſayeing, Thanke Onias the hygh prieſt: for, for his ſake hath the Lorde graunted thee thy lyfe.

Actes. 27. c. 34 Therefore ſeeyng that God hath ſcourged thee, gene him prayſe and thankes, and ſhewe euery man his myght and power. And when they had ſpoken theſe woordes, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus offered vnto God, made great vowes vnto hym whiche had graunted him his lyfe, thanked Onias, tooke his hoaſt, and went agayne to the kyng.

36 Then teſtified he vnto euery man, of the great woorkes of GOD, that he had ſeene with his eyes.

37 And when the kyng aſked Heliodorus who were meete to be ſent yet once agayne to Hieruſalem, he ſayde, 38 If thou haſt any eminie or aduerſarie vnto thy realme, ſende him thyther, and thou ſhalt haue hym pounithed, if he eſcape with his lyfe: for in that place (no doubt) there is a ſpecial power and woorkyng of God.

39 For he that dwelleth in heauen, viſiteth and defendeth that place, and all that come to doo it harme he pounitheth, and plagueth them.

40 This is nowe the matter concernyng Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treaſurie (at Hieruſalem.)

The. iiii. Chapter.

1. Simon reporteth euyl of Onias. 7. Iaſon deſyring the office of the hygh prieſt, corrupted the kyng with rewardes.

1 THis Simon nowe (of whom we ſpake afore) beyng a bewrayer of the money, A and of his owne natural countrey, reported the woorſt of Onias, as though he had moued Heliodorus vnto this, and as though he had benne a bringer vp of euyl.

2 Thus was he not aſhamed to call hym an enimie of the realme, that was ſo faythful an ouerſeer and defender of the citie and of his people, yea and ſo feruent in the lawe of God.

3 But when the malice of Simon increaſed ſo farre, that thorough his freendes there were certayne manſlaughters committed:

4 Onias conſydered the peril that myght come thorough this ſtrife, and how that Apollonius the cheefe Lord in Celoſyria and Phenices was all ſet vppon tyrannie, and Simons malice increaſed the ſame,

5 He gate him to the king, not as an accuſer of the citizens, but as one that by hym ſelfe intended the common wealth of the whole multitude.

6 For he ſawe it was not poſſible to lyue in peace, neyther Simon to leaue of from his fooliſhneſſe, except the kyng dyd looke thereto.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, whiche is called the noble, tooke the kyngdome, Iaſon the brother of

Onias

Onias laboured to be high priest:

8 For he came vnto the kyng, and promised hym three hundred and threescore talentes of siluer, and of the other rentes fourescore talentes.

9 Beside this, he promised hym yet an hundred and fiftie more, yf he myght haue licence to set vp a scoole and an exercise of weapons, and that he might cal them of Hierusalem Antiochians.

10 Whiche when the kyng had graunted, and he had gotten the superioritie, he began immediatly to drawe his kinsemen to the custome of the Heathen, 11 Put downe the thinges that the Iewes had set vp of loue by John, the father of Eupolonius, which was sent ambassadour vnto Rome, for to make the bonde of frendship and loue, he put downe al the lawes and liberties of the Iewes, and set vp the wicked statutes.

12 For when he had made a scoole of fence vnder the castle, he drewe al the cherfest young menne on his side, and trayned them to were (a) hattes.

(a) These hattes were tokens of wantonnesse that the gentiles vsed.

13 And there was suche a feruent desyre to comme to the manners of the Heathen, and to take vp new strange fashions brought in through the vngratious and vnheard wickednesse of Jason, whiche shoulde not be called a priest, but an vngodly person:

℣ 14 Insomuche that the priestes were nowe no more occupyed about the seruice of the aulter: but despised ỳ temple, regarded not the offerynges, yea gaue their diligence to learne to fight, to wrastle, to leape, to dance, and to cast the stone:

15 Not setting by the honour of the fathers, but lyked the glory of the Greekes best of al:

16 For the whiche they stroue perilously, & were greedy to folowe their statutes, yea their lust was in al thinges to be like them, whiche afore were their enimies, and destroyers.

17 Howbeit to doo wickedly agaynst the lawe of God, shal not escape vnpounished, but of this we shal speake hereafter.

*These were keapt euery fiftieth yere.

18 What tyme as the * Olimpians sportes were played at Tyrus, the kyng him selfe beyng present, 19 This vngratious Jason sent wicked menne, bearyng from them of Hierusalem (whiche nowe were called Antiochians) three hundred drachmes of syluer for an offeryng, to Hercules: these had they that caryed them desyred, vnder suche a fashion as though they should not haue benne offered, but bestowed to other vses.

20 Neuertheles he that sent them, sent them to the intent that they shoulde be offered vnto Hercules: but because of those that were present, they were geuen as to the making shippes.

21 And Apollonius the sonne of Menesthe- ℣ us was sent into Egypt, because of the noble menne of king Ptolome Philometor. Nowe when Antiochus perceiued that he (b) From his honour and gaynes.
was put out frō (b) medlyng in the realme, he sought his owne profite, departed from thence, came to Joppa, and then to Hierusalem, 22 Where he was honorably receiued of Jason, and of the citie, and was brought in with torche lyght, and with great prayse: and so he turned his host vnto Phenices.

23 After three yeeres, Jason sent Menelaus 2. Mac. 4. b
(the foresayde Simons brother) to beare the money vnto the kyng, and to bring hym answeare of other necessarie matters.

24 But he, when he was commended to the kyng for magnifieyng of his power, turned the priesthood vnto hym selfe, layeing vp three hundred talentes of siluer for Jason.

25 So when he had gotten commaundementes from the kyng, he came hauyng nothing that becommeth a priest, but bearing the stomache of a cruel tyrant, & the wrath of a wylde bruite beast.

26 Then Jason, whiche had deceiued his 1. Mach. 3. b owne brother, seeyng that he him selfe was beguiled also, was fayne to flee into the lande of the Ammonites, 27 And Menelaus gate the dominion: but as for the money that he had promised vnto the kyng, he dyd nothing therein, albeit Sostratus the ruler of the castle required it of him.

28 For Sostratus was the man that gea- ℣ thered the customes: wherefore they were both called before the kyng.

29 Thus was Menelaus put out of the priesthood, and Lysimachus his brother came in his steade, and Sostratus leaft Crates ouerseer of the (c) Cyprians. (c) That is, of them that measured the corne.

30 It happened in the meane season, that the Tharsians and Mallotians made insurrection, because they were geuen for a present vnto Antiochis the kinges concubine.

31 Then came the kyng in al haste to styl them agayne, and to pacifie the matter, leauyng Andronicus there to be his deputie, as one meete therefore.

32 Nowe Menelaus supposing that he had gotten a ryght conuenient tyme, stole certayne vessels of gold out of the temple, and gaue them to Andronicus for a present: and somme he solde at Tyrus, and in the cities thereby.

33 Whiche when Onias knewe of a suretie, he reproued hym: but he kept him in a sanctuarie beside Daphnis, that lyeth by Antioche.

34 Wherefore Menelaus gate hym to Andronicus, and prayed hym that he woulde slay Onias. So when he came to Onias, he counseled him craftyly to comme out of the sanctuarie, geuyng hym his hande with an othe (how be it he suspect hym) and then he slue Onias, without any regarde of ryghteousnesse.

F 35 For the which cause not only the Iewes, but other nations also, tooke indignation, and were displeased for the vnrighteous death of so godly a man.

36 And when the kyng was comme againe from Cilicia, the Iewes and certayne of the Greekes went vnto hym, complaynyng for the vnryghteous death of Onias.

37 Yea Antiochus hym selfe was sory in his minde for Onias, so that it pitied hym: and he wept, remembryng his soberneſſe, and manerly behauiour.

38 Wherefore he was so kyndled in his mynde, that he commaunded Andronicus to be stripped out of his purple clothyng, and so to be ledde throughout the citie, yea and the vngratious man to be slayne in the same place where he committed his wickednesse vpon Onias: thus the Lorde rewarded hym his punishment, as he had deserued.

39 Nowe when Lysimachus had donne many wicked deedes in the temple through the counsel of Menelaus, & the voyce came abroade: the multitude gathered them togeather agaynst Lysimachus, for he had caryed out nowe muche golde.

40 So when the people arose, and were ful of displeasure, Lysimachus armed three thousande vnthryftes to defende hym, a certayne tyrant beyng their captayne, whiche was growen both in age and woodnesse.

41 They therefore seeyng the enterprise of Lysimachus, caught vp somme stones, somme blockes endes, & somme handfulles of dust that was next at hande, and threwe them vpon the rebels of Lysimachus bande that had set vpon them.

G 42 Thus there were many of them wounded, somme beyng slayne, and al the other chased away: but as for the wicked churche robber hym self, they kylled hym beside the treasurie.

43 Of these matters therefore there was keapt a court agaynst Menelaus.

44 Nowe when the kyng came to Tyrus, three men that were sent from the senate, pleaded him giltie before the kyng.

45 But Menelaus beyng nowe conuict, went and promised Ptolome the sonne of Dorymenes to geue hym muche money, yf he woulde pacifie the kyng towarde hym.

46 So Ptolome went to the kyng into a court, where as he was set to coole hym, & brought him out of that minde:

47 Insomuche that he discharged Menelaus from the accusations, that notwithstanding was cause of al mischeefe: and those poore menne, whiche yf they had told their cause, yea before the Scythians, they shoulde haue benne iudged innocent, them he condemned to death.

48 Thus were they soone punished, which folowed vpon the matter for the citie, for the people, and for the holy vessels.

49 Wherefore they also of Tyrus, mooued with hatred of that wicked deede, caused them to be very honorably buryed.

50 And so through the couetousnesse of them that were in power, Menelaus remayned styl in auctoritie, increasing in malice, to the hurt of the citezins.

The. v. Chapter.

2. Of the signes and tokens seene in Hierusalem. 6. Of the ende and office of Iason. 11. The pursute of Antiochus against the Iewes.

1 ABout the same tyme Antiochus vndertooke his seconde viage into Egypt. A

2 And then were there seene throughout al the citie (of Hierusalem) fourtie dayes long, horsemen rumnyng in the ayre, with robes of golde, and as bandes of speare menne,

3 And as troupes of horsemen set in aray, incounteryng and coursing one agaynst another, with shakyng of shieldes and multitude of dartes, and drawyng of swoordes, and shotyng of arrowes, & the glitteryng of the golden armour seene, and harnesse of al sortes.

4 Wherefore euery man prayed, that those tokens myght turne to good.

5 Now when there was gonne foorth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had benne dead, Iason tooke a thousande menne, and came sodaynely vpon the citie: the citezins ranne vnto the walles, at the last was the citie taken, and Menelaus fled into the castle.

6 As for Iason, he spared not his owne citezins in the slaughter, neither consydered he what great euil it were, to destroy the prosperitie peritie of his owne kinsmen: but did as one that had gotten the victorie of his enimies, and not of his freendes.

7 For al this gate he not the superioritie, but at the last receiued confusion for his malice, and fledde agayne lyke a vagabond into the lande of the Ammonites. 2.Mac.4.k.

8 Finally, for a reward of his wickednesse he was accused before Aretha the kyng of the Arabians, in so muche that he was fayne to flee from citie to citie, being despised of euery man as aforsaker of the lawes, and an abominable person: and at the last, as an open enimie of his owne naturall countrey and of the citizens, he was dryuen into Egypt.

9 Thus he that afore put many out of theyr owne natiue land, perished from home him selfe: he went to Lacedemon, thinkyng there to haue gotten succour by reason of kynrede.

10 And he that afore had cast many one out vnburyed, was throwen out him selfe, no man mournyng for hym, nor putting hym in his graue: so that he neyther enioyed the buryal of a stranger, neyther was he partaker of his fathers sepulchre.

11 Nowe when this was donne, the kyng suspected that the Iewes woulde haue fallen from him, wherefore he came in a great displeasure out of Egypt, and tooke the citie by violence. 1.Mac.1.c.

12 He commaunded his menne of warre also, that they shoulde kyl and not spare: but slay downe suche as withstoode them, or clymed vp vpon the houses.

13 Thus was there a great slaughter of young menne, olde menne, women, childre, and virgins.

14 In three dayes were there slayne foure score thousande, fourtie thousande put in prison: and there were as many solde as were slayne. C

15 Yet was he not content with this, but durst goe into the most holy temple of all the worlde, Menelaus, that traytour to the lawes and to his owne naturall countrey, beyng his guyde.

16 And with his wicked handes tooke the holy vessels, whiche other kinges and cities had geuen thyther for the garnishing and honour of the place, them tooke he in his handes vnwoorthyly, and defiled them.

17 So mad was Antiochus, that he consydered not howe that GOD was not a litle wroth for the sinnes of them that dwelt in the citie, for the whiche suche confusion came vpon that place.

Iudi.5.b. 18 And why? yf it had not happened them to haue bewne lapped in many sinnes, this Antiochus as soone as he had comme, had sodenly benne pounished and shut out of his presumption, lyke as Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the king sent to robbe the treasurie. 2.Mac.3.b.

19 Neuertheless, God hath not chosen the people for the places sake: but the place for the peoples sake.

20 And therefore is the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but afterwarde shal it enioy the wealth of them: and lyke as it was nowe forsaken in the wrath of almyghty God: so when the great God is reconciled, it shalbe set vp in hygh woorshipagayne.

21 So when Antiochus had taken a thousande and eyght hundred talentes out of the temple, he gate him to Antioche in al the haste, thynkyng in his pride that he myght make men sayle vpon the drye land, and to goe vpon the sea, suche an hygh mind had he.

22 He leaft deputies there to vexe the people: at Hierusalem leaft he Philip a Phrygian, in maners more cruel then him selfe that set him there: D

23 At Garizim he leaft Andronicus & Menelaus, whiche were more greeuous to the citizens then other.

24 Nowe as he was thus set in malice agaynst the Iewes, he sent Apollonius, a cruel prince, with an armie of twentie and two thousande, commaundyng hym to slay those that were of perfect age, and to selle the women, and the younger sorte. 1.Mac.1.a.

25 When he came nowe to Hierusalem, he faygned peace, and kept him stil vntyll the Sabboth day: and then he commaunded his menne to take them to their weapons, for the Iewes kept holy day:

26 And so he slue all them that were gonne foorth to the open playe, runnyng (here and there) through the citie with his menne weaponed, and murdered a great number.

27 But Judas Machabeus, whiche was the tenth, fledde into the wyldernesse, led his lyfe there with his company among wylde beastes, and vpon the mountaynes, dwellyng there, and eating hearbes, lest they shoulde be partakers of the filthynesse. 1.Mac.1.c.

The.vi.Chapter.

1. The Iewes are compelled to leaue the lawe of God. 4. The temple is defiled. 12. The readers are admonished that they shal not abhorre the aduersitie wherewith the Lorde afflicteth them. 28. The greeuous payne of Eleazarus.

1 NOt long after this, sent the kyng an A olde man of Antioche for to compel or, Athens.

the Jewes to transgresse the ordinances of the fathers, and of the lawe of God,

2 To defile the temple that was at Hierusalem, and to call it the temple of Jupiter Olympius: and that they should be in Garizim, as those whiche dwelle at the place of Jupiter the harberous.

3 This wicked sedition of the vngodly, was heauie vpon al the people:

4 For the temple was fulle of voluptuousnesse, bybbyng and bollyng of the heathen, of rybaudes and harlottes togeather: the women went into the holy place, and bare in that was not lawful.

5 The aulter also was ful of vnlawful thinges, whiche the lawe forbiddeth to laye vppon it,

6 The Sabbothes were not kept, the other solempne feastes of the lande were not regarded: to be playne, there durst no man be knowen that he was a Jewe.

B 7 In the day of the kinges birth they were compelled parforce to offer, and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, they were constrayned to were garlandes of yuie, and so to goe about to the honour of Bacchus.

8 Moreouer, through the counsel of Ptolomeus, there went out a commaundement vnto the next cities of the heathen, agaynst the Jewes, that the lyke custome and * banketyng shoulde be kept.

* or, eating of the fleashe that was sacrificed.

9 And who so woulde not conforme themselues to the manners of ỳ gentiles, shoulde be put to death: then myght a man haue seene the present miserie.

10 For there were two women accused to haue circumcised their sonnes: whō when they had ledde rounde about the citie, the babes hangyng at their brestes, they cast them downe headlonges ouer the walles.

11 Somme that were crept in dennes, and had kept the Sabboth, were accused vnto Philip, and brent in the fyre, because that for the feare of GOD they kept the commaundement so strictly, and woulde not defende themselues.

12 Nowe I beseeche al those whiche reade this booke, that they refuse it not for these falles of aduersitie, and iudge the thinges that are happened for no destruction, but for a chastenyng of our people.

13 And why? When God suffereth not sinners long to folowe their owne mynd, but shortly punisheth them, it is a token of his Prou.3.b.

C great louyng kyndnesse.

14 For this grace haue we of God, more then other people, that he suffereth not vs long to sinne vnpounished, lyke as other nations:

15 That when the day of iudgement cometh, he may pounishe them in the fulnesse of theyr sinnes.

16 If we sinne, he correcteth vs, but he neuer withdrawyeth his mercie from vs: and though he pounishe with aduersitie, yet dooth he neuer forsake his people.

17 But let this that we haue spoken nowe with fewe woordes, be for a warnyng and exhortation * of the heathen: nowe wyll we comme to the declaryng of the matter.

* or, vnto vs.

18 Eleazar one of the principal scribes, an aged man, and of a wel fauoured countenance, was constrayned to gape with open mouth, and to eate swynes fleashe.

19 But he desyring rather to dye gloriously, then to lyue with shame, offered hym selfe wyllyngly to the martyrdome. Leuit.11.a

20 Nowe when he sawe that he must needes goe to it, he tooke it patiently: for he was at a poynt with hym selfe, that he woulde not consent to any vnlawful thyng for any pleasure of lyfe.

21 They that (a) stoode by, beyng mooued with pitie (but not a ryght) for the olde freendshyp of the man, tooke hym aside priuily, and prayed him that he would let such fleashe be brought him as were lawfull to eate, and then to make a countenance as though he had eaten of the fleashe of the sacrifice, lyke as the kyng commaunded,

(a) They that had the charge of that wicked banket.

22 For so he might be deliuered from death: and so for the olde freendshyp of the man, they shewed hym this kyndnesse. D

23 But he beganne to consyder discreetely, and as became his age, and the excellencie of his auncient yeeres, and the honour of his gray heares whereunto he was comme, and his most honest conuersation from his chyldehood, but chefely the holy lawe made and geuen by God, therefore he answeared consequently, and wylled them strayghtwayes to sende him to the graue:

24 For it becommeth not myne age, sayd he, in any wyse to dissemble, whereby many young persons myght thynke that Eleazar beyng fourescore yeeres olde and temne, were nowe gonne to a strange religion:

25 And so through myne hypocrisie for a litle tyme of a transitorie lyfe, they myght be deceiued: by this meanes also shoulde I defyle myne age, and make it abominable.

26 For though I were nowe deliuered from the tormentes of menne, yet shoulde I not escape the hande of almyghty God, neither aliue nor dead.

27 Wherefore I wyl dye manfully, and doo as it becommeth myne age:

28 Whereby I may peraduenture leaue Amos.1.a.

an an example of stedfastnesse for suche as be young, if I with a readie minde, and manfully, dye an honest death for the most worthye and holy lawes. When he had sayde these woordes, immediatly he was drawen to the torment.

29 Nowe they that ledde him, and were milde a litle afore, beganne to take displeasure, because of the woordes that he sayde: for they thought he had spoken them of an hygh mynde.

30 But when he was in his martyrdome, he mourned, and saide, Thou, O Lorde, whiche hast the holy knowledge, knowest openly, that whereas I might be deliuered from death, I suffer these sore paines of my body: but in my minde I am wel content to suffer them, because I feare thee.

31 Thus this man dyed, leauing the memorial of his death for an example, not only vnto young menne, but vnto al the people to be stedfast and manly.

The. vii. Chapter.

The punishment of the seuen brethren, and of their mother.

A 1 IT happened also that there were seuen
Leuit. 11. a. brethren with their mother taken, & compelled by the kyng agaynst the lawe to eate swynes fleash (namely) with scourges and leatherne whippes,

2 And one of them whiche was the cheefe, sayde, What seekest thou, and what requirest thou of vs? As for vs, we are ready rather to suffer death, then to offende the lawes of God and the fathers.

3 Then was the king angry, and bad heate cauldrons, and brasen pottes: whiche when they were made hot,

4 Immediatly he commaunded the tongue of him that spake first, to be cut out, to pul the skinne ouer his head, to pare the edges of his handes and feete, yea, and that in the sight of his mother, and the other of his brethren.

5 Nowe when he was cleane mangled, he commaunded a fire to be made, & so (while there was anye breath in him) to be fryed in the cauldron: In the whiche when he had benne long payned, the other brethren with their mother, exhorted him to dye manfully, sayeing, Deut. 32. c. 6 The Lorde God shal regarde the trueth, and comforte vs, like as Moses testifieth and declareth in his songue (sayeing) And he wyl haue compassion on his seruantes.

B 7 So when the firste was dead after this manner, they brought the seconde to haue him in derision, pulled the skinne with the heare ouer his head, and asked him if he woulde eate swynes fleash or he were payned in the other members also throughout his body.

8 But he answeared in his owne language, and saide, I wyl not doo it, and so he was tormented like as the first.

9 And when he was euen at the geuing vp of the ghost, he sayde, Thou most vngratious person puttest vs nowe to death: but the king of the worlde shal raise vs vp whiche dye for his lawes, in the resurrection of euerlasting lyfe.

10 After him was the thirde had in derision, and when he was required, he put out his tongue, and that right soone, holdyng foorth his handes manfully:

11 And spake with a stedfast fayth, These haue I of heauen, but nowe for the lawes of God I despise them: for my trust is that I shal receiue them of him againe.

12 Insomuch that the king and they which were with him, marueyled at the young mans boldnesse, that he nothing regarded the paynes.

13 Now when he was dead also, they vexed the fourth with tormentes in like manner.

14 So when he was nowe at his death, he C sayde, It is better that we being put to death of menne, haue our hope and trust in God, for he shal rayse vs vp agayne: as for thee thou shalt haue no resurrection to life.

15 And when they had spoken to the fifth, John. 5. c. they tormented him.

16 Then looked he vnto the kyng, and said, Thou hast power among menne, for thou art a mortal man also thee selfe, to do what thou wylt: but thinke not that God hath forsaken our generation.

17 Abyde thee, tarry stil awhile, and thou shalt see the greate power of God, howe he wyl punishe thee and thy seede.

18 After him they brought the sixth, whiche being at the poynt of death, sayde, Be not deceiued O kyng: for this we suffer for our owne sakes, because we haue offended our God, and therefore marueilous thinges are shewed vpon vs.

19 But thinke not thou whiche takest in hande to striue agaynst God, that thou shalt escape vnpounished.

20 This excellent mother, woorthy to be D wel reported of and had in remembraunce, sawe her seuen sonnes dye in one day, and suffered it patiently, because of the hope that she had in God:

21 Yea she exhorted euerye one of them in her countrey language, and that boldly and stedfastly with perfect wysedome, wakyng vp her wyuilshe thought with a manly stomacke, and sayde vnto them,

22 I can not tel howe ye spyang in my wombe, for I neyther gaue you breath nor soule, nor lyke, it is not I that ioyned the members of your bodyes togeather,

23 But the maker of the worlde whiche fashioned the birth of man, and beganne al thinges: euen he also of his owne mercie shal geue you breath and life agayne, lyke as ye nowe regarde not your owne selues for his lawes sake.

24 Nowe thought Antiochus that she had despised him, therefore he let her goe with her reproofes, and begamne to exhorte the youngest sonne whiche was yet leafte, not onely with woordes, but swore vnto hym with an othe, that he shoulde make him a riche and wealthie man, yf he woulde forsake the lawes of his fathers: yea and that he shoulde geue him what so euer were necessarie for him.

25 But when the young man woulde not be mooued for al these thinges, he called his mother, and counselled her to saue her sonnes life.

26 And when he had exhorted her with many woords, she promised him that she would speake to her sonne.

¶ 27 So she turned her vnto him, laughyng the cruel tyrant to scorne, and spake in her countrey language, O my sonne, haue pitie vpon me, that bare thee nyne monethes in my wombe, that gaue thee sucke, nourished thee, and brought thee vp vnto this age:

28 I beseech thee my sonne looke vpon heauen and earth, and al that is therein, and consyder that God made them and mans generation of nought:

29 So shalt thou not feare this hangman, but suffer death stedfastly, lyke as thy brethren haue donne: that I maye receiue thee againe in the same mercie with thy brethren.

30 While she was yet speaking these woordes, the young man sayde, Whom looke ye for? (Wherefore doo ye tary.) I wyl not obey the kinges commaundement, but the lawe that God gaue vs by Moses.

Leuit. 11. a. 31 As for thou that imaginest al mischeefe against the * Iewes, thou shalt not escape the hande of God.

* or, Hebrues.

32 For we suffer these thinges because of our sinnes.

33 And though the liuing Lorde be angrye with vs a litle while, for our chastening and reformation, yet shal he be at one againe with his seruantes.

¶ 34 But thou, O godlesse man, and of al other the moste wicked, pride not thee selfe through vaine hope, in being so malitious vpon the seruantes of God:

35 For thou hast not yet escaped the iudgementes of God, which is almighty, and seeth al thinges.

36 My brethren that haue suffered a litle payne, are now vnder the couenant of euerlasting life: but through the iudgement of god, thou shalt be punished righteously for thy pride.

37 As for me, like as my brethren haue donne, I offer my * soule and my body for the lawes of our fathers, calling vpon God, that he wyl soone be merciful vnto our people, yea and with payne and punishment to make thee graunt that he only is God.

* or, lyke.

38 In me nowe and in my brethren the wrath of almightie God is at an ende, whiche ryghteously is fallen vpon al our people. 2. Mac. 2. 8.

39 Then the king, being kindled in anger, was more cruel vpon him, then vpon al the other, and tooke indignation that he was so lightly regarded.

40 So this young man dyed vndefiled, and put his truste stil in the Lorde.

41 Last of al, after the sonnes, was the mother put to death also.

42 Let this now be yenough spoken concernyng the offeringes & extreame cruelnesse.

The. viii. Chapter.

1. Iudas geathereth togeather his host,
9. Nicanor is sent agaynst Iudas.
27. The Iewes geueth thankes after they haue put their enimies to flight, diuiding the spoyles vnto the fatherlesse and wydowes.

1 ¶ Then Iudas Machabeus, and they that were with him, went priuily into the townes, called their kinsfolkes and freendes togeather, tooke vnto them al suche as continued yet in the fayth and law of the Iewes, and brought foorth sixe thousande menne.

2 So they called vpon the Lorde, that he woulde haue an eye vnto his people which was troden downe of euery man, to be gratious vnto the temple that was defiled of the vngodly,

3 To haue compassion vpon the destruction of the citie, whiche was shortlye lyke to be layde waste, to heare the voyce of the blood that cryed vnto him,

4 To remember the moste vnryghteous deathes of young innocent chyldren, the blasphemies also donne vnto his name, and to punishe them,

5 Nowe

1.Mac.2.a. 5 Nowe when Machabeus had geathered this multitude togeather, he was to mightie for the heathen: for the wrath of the Lorde was turned into mercy.

6 He fel vpon the townes & cities vnwares, brent them, tooke the moste commodious places, and slue many of the enimies.

7 But specially he made suche chases by nyght, insomuche that his manlynesse was spoken of euery where.

8 So when Philip sawe that the man encreased by litle and litle, and that the matter prospered with hym for the most part: he wrote vnto Ptolome, which was a captayne in Celosyria and Phenices, to helpe hym in the kynges busynesse.

1.Mac.3.c 9 Then sent he Nicanor the sonne of Patroclus, a special frende of his, in al the haste, & gaue hym of the common sort of the heathen, no lesse then twentie thousande harnessed menne, to roote out the whole generation of the Iewes, hauyng to helpe hym one Gorgias a man of warre, whiche in matters concerning battayles, had great experience.

10 Nicanor ordayned also the tribute whiche the Romanes should haue had, to be geuen vnto the kyng out of the captiue of the Iewes (namely) two thousande talentes.

11 And immediatly he sent to the cities of the sea coast, requiring them for to buye Iewes to be their seruantes and bondmen, promisyng to sel them fourescore and tenne for one talent: but he consydered not the wrath of almightie God that was to come vpon hym.

12 When Iudas knewe of this, he tolde the Iewes that were with hym of Nicanors comming.

13 Nowe were there some of them fearful, not trusting vnto the righteousnesse of god, & fled their way, & abode not in that place:

E 14 But the other solde al that they had leaft, and besought the lord to deliuer them from that wicked Nicanor, which had sold them or euer he came nygh them:

15 And though he wouldе not doo it for theyr sakes, yet for the couenant that he made with theyr fathers, and because they called vpon his holy and glorious name.

1.Mac.5.b. 16 And so Machabeus called his menne togeather, (namely) about syxe thousande, exhortyng them not to agree vnto theyr enimies, neyther to be afrayde for the multitude of theyr aduersaries comming against them vnryghteously, but to fyght manly,

Deut.20.a.

17 Consyderyng the reproofe that they had donne to the holy place without cause, how they had despised and oppressed the citie, yea, & destroyed the lawes of the fathers.

18 For they, said he, trust in theyr weapons, and boldnesse: but our confidence is in the almightie Lord, whiche in the twynckling of an eye, may both destroy them that come agaynst vs, and al the worlde. Iere.19.b.

19 He exhorted them also to cal to remembrance the helpe that GOD shewed vnto theyr fathers, as when there perished an hundred, fourescore, and fyue thousande of Sennacheribs people:

20 And of the battayle that they had in Babylon agaynst the Galathians: howe al the Macedonians that came to helpe them, beyng foure thousande, stoode in feare: and howe they beyng only but * fyre thousand, slue an hundred and twentie thousand, thorowe the helpe that was geuen them from heauen, wherby they also had receiued many benefites. * or, eight thousande.

21 Thorough these woordes, the men tooke good hartes vnto them, ready to dye for the lawe and the countrey. D

22 So he set vpon euery companie a captayne, one of his owne brethren, Simon, Joseph, and Jonathas, geuyng eache one fifteene hundred menne.

23 He caused * Eldras also to reade the holy booke vnto them, and to geue them a token of the helpe of GOD: then he hym selfe beyng captayne in the forefront of the battel, buckled with Nicanor. * or, Eleazarus. 1.Mac.4.b.

24 And God was theyr helpe, insomuche that they slue aboue nine thousande menne, and compelled the more parte of Nicanors host to flee, they were so wounded & feeble.

25 Thus they tooke the money from those that came to buye them, and folowed vpon them on euery syde.

26 But when the time came vpon thē, they returned, for it was ỳ day before the sabboth, & therfore they folowed no more vpon them.

27 So they tooke theyr weapons & spoyles, & kept the sabboth, geuing thankes vnto the Lord which had deliuered them that day, & shewed them the beginning of his mercy.

28 After the sabboth, they distributed the spoyles to the sicke, to the fatherlesse, and to widowes, and the residue had they them selues, with theyrs. E Num.31.b.

29 When this was donne, and they al had made a general prayer, they besought the mercyful Lorde to be at one with his seruantes.

30 Of those also that were with Timotheus & Bacchides, whiche fought against them, they slue twentie thousande, wanne hygh and strong holdes, & diuided moe spoyles, euer geuing an equal portion vnto the sicke, to the fatherlesse, to wydowes, and to aged persons.

31 And

31 And when they had diligently geathered theyr weapons togeather, they layde them al in conuenient places, and the remnant of the spoyles brought they to Hierusalem:
32 They slue also Philarches that wicked person, whiche was with Timotheus, and had vexed many Iewes.
33 And when they helde the thankesgeuing at Hierusalem for the victorie, they brent those that had set fyre on the portes of the temple (namely) Callisthenes, whiche was fled into an house, and so they gat a worthy
F rewarde for theyr wyckednesse.
34 As for that moste vngratious Nicanor, which had brought a thousand marchantes
to buye the Iewes,
35 He was through the helpe of the Lorde brought downe, euen of them whom he regarded not: in so muche that he put of his glorious rayment, fled by sea, and came alone to Antioche with great shame and dishonour, whiche he gat through the destruction of his host.
36 Thus he that promised the Romanes to pay them theyr tribute when he tooke Hierusalem, began nowe to say playnely, that God was the defender of the Iewes, and therefore not possible to wounde them, because they folowed the lawes whiche God had made.

The.ix. Chapter.

1. Antiochus wylling to spoyle Persepolis, is driuen to flight. 9. As he persecuted the Iewes, he is striken of the Lorde. 13. The faigned repentance of Antiochus. 28. He dyeth.

A 1 AT the same time came Antiochus a-
1.Mac.6.c gaine with dishonour out of Persia.
2 For when he came to Persepolis, and vndertooke to rob the temple, and to subdue the citie, the people ran togeather, and defended them selues, insomuche that he and his were fayne to flee with shame:
& so after that flight, it happened that An-tiochus came againe with dishonour.
3 But when he came to Ecbatana, he gate knowledge what was happened vnto Nicanor and Timotheus.
4 Nowe as he was maunceyng him selfe in his wrath, he thought he was able to auenge the iniurie that was donne to them vpon the Iewes: and therefore commaunded to make ready his charret, hastyng on his iourney without ceassyng, the iudge-ment of God prouoking hym, because he had spoken so proudely, that he woulde come to Hierusalem, and make it a graue of the Iewes.
But the Lorde God of Israel that seeth al thynges, smote hym with an vncurable and inuisible plague (whiche no man coulde heale:) For as soone as he had spoken these woordes, there came vpon him an horrible payne of his bowelles, and a soare greefe of the inner partes,
6 And that was but ryght: for he had martyred other mens bowels with diuers and strange tormentes.
7 Howebeit, he woulde in no wyse ceasse B from his malice: yea, he was yet the prouder, & more malitious againste the Iewes:
but whyle he was commaunding to make haste in the matter, it happened that he fel downe violently from the charret that ran swiftly, so that it bruised his body, and dyd hym great payne.
8 And so he that thought a litle before, he myght commaunde the fluddes of the sea, (so proude was he beyonde the condition of man) and to weigh the high mountaines in a payre of ballance, was nowe brought downe to the grounde, and caryed vpon a horselytter, knowledgyng the manyfest power of God vpon him:
9 So that the woormes came out of the body of this wycked man in abundance: and whiles he was alyue, his fleashe fel of for payne and torment, and al his armie was greeued at his * smel. * Or, rottennesse.
10 Thus he that a litle afore, thought he myght reache to the starres of heauen, him myght no man nowe abyde nor beare, for the vehemencie of stinke.
11 Therefore he beyng brought from his great pryde, began for to come to the knowledge of hym selfe, for the pounishment of God warned him, and his payne encreased euer more and more.
12 And when he hym selfe myght not abide his owne stinke, he sayde these woordes,
It is reason to be obedient vnto God, and that a man whiche is mortal, thynke not through pryde, hym selfe to be equal vnto God.
13 This wycked person prayed also vnto the Lorde, who nowe woulde haue no mercy vpon hym:
14 And as for the citie that he came vnto so C hastily, to bring it downe to the grounde, and to make it a graue for dead men, nowe
he desyreth to deliuer it free.
15 And as touching the Iewes whom he had iudged not woorthy to be buryed, but would haue cast them out with theyr children, for to be deuoured of the foules & wild beastes, (saying that he would haue destroyed both olde and young:) nowe he promysed to make them lyke the citizens of Athens:
16 And

16 And where as he had ſpoyled the holye temple afore, nowe he maketh promiſe to garnyſh it with great giftes, to increaſe the holy ornamentes, and of his owne rentes to beare the coſtes and charges belongyng to the offerynges:

17 Yea, and that he woulde alſo becomme a Iewe hym ſelfe, to goe throughe everye place of the worlde that was inhabited, and to preache the power of God.

18 But when his paynes would not ceaſſe, (for the ryghteous iudgement of God was comme vpon him) out of a very diſpaire he wrote vnto the Iewes a letter of interceſſion, conteynyng theſe woordes.

19 The kyng and prince Antiochus, wyſheth vnto the vertuous citizens of the Iewes, much health, and good proſperitie.

20 If ye and your chyldren fare wel, and yf al thynges goe after your minde, we geue great thankes.

21 In my ſickneſſe alſo doo I remember you louingly: for as I came out of Perſia, and was taken with ſore diſeaſe, I thought it neceſſary to care for the common wealth:

22 Neither diſpayre I in mee ſelfe, but haue a good hope to eſcape this ſickneſſe.

23 But conſyderyng that my father led an hoſt ſometime in the higher places, & ſhewed who ſhoulde raigne after him,

24 That if there happened any controuerſie, or any harde thing were declared, they in the lande myght know their cheefe lord, that there ſhould be no inſurrection.

25 Agayne, when I ponder with mee ſelfe howe that al the myghty menne, and neighbours round about, are laying waite, and looke but for opportunitie to do harme: I haue ordeyned, that my ſonne Antiochus ſhal raigne after me, whom I ought commended to many of you when I was in the hygher kyngdomes, and haue wrytten vnto him as it followeth hereafter.

26 Therefore I pray you, and requyre you, to remember the benefites that I haue donne vnto you generally, and in eſpecial, and that everye man wyl be faithful to me and my ſonne.

27 For I hope that he ſhalbe of ſober and louing behauiour, and if he folowe my deuice, he ſhalbe indifferent vnto you.

28 Thus that murtherer and blaſphemer of God was ſore ſmitten and like as he had entreated other menne, ſo he dyed a miſerable death in a ſtrange countrey vppon a mountayne, Deut. 8. c.

29 And his body dyd Philip that went with him carry away, whiche fearyng the ſonne of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolome Philometor.

The. x. Chapter.

I. Iudas Machabeus taketh the citie and the temple. 10. He begynneth to ſhew the acte of Eupator. 29. Fiue menne appeare in the ayre to the helpe of the Iewes. 39. Timothi is ſlayne.

1 MAchabeus nowe and his compayne, throughe the helpe of the Lorde, wan the temple and the citie agayne, A 1. Mac. 4. c.

2 Deſtroyed the aulters and chappels that the heathen had builded throughe ỹ ſtreetes,

3 Cleanſed the temple, made another aulter of bricke ſtone, and after two yeeres they offered ſacrifices, ſet foorth the incenſe, the lyghtes, and ſhewe bread. Exod. 20. a.

4 When that was donne, they fel downe flat vpon the grounde, and beſought the Lorde that they might comme no more into ſuche trouble: but if they ſinned any more agaynſt him, he him ſelfe to chaſten them with mercie, and not to comme into the handes of thoſe aliantes, and blaſphemous menne.

5 Nowe vpon the ſame day that the ſtrangers polluted the temple, it happened, that on the very ſame day it was cleanſed agayne, (namely) the twentie and fifth day of the moneth called Caſleu. 1. Mac. 4. f. November.

6 They keapt eyght dayes in gladneſſe, like as in the feaſte of the tabernacles, remembryng that not long afore they held the feaſt of the tabernacles vpon the mountaynes, and in dennes, like beaſtes.

7 And for the ſame token they bare greene bowes, branches, and palmes, & ſong pſalmes before hym that had geuen them good ſucceſſe to cleanſe his place. B

8 They agreed alſo togeather, and made a ſtatute, that euery yeere thoſe dayes ſhould be ſolemply keapt of al the people of the Iewes.

9 How Antiochus then, that was called the noble, dyed, it is ſufficiently tolde.

10 Nowe wyl we ſpeake of Eupator the ſonne of that wicked Antiochus, howe it happened with hym, and ſo with fewe woordes to comprehend the aduerſitie that chaunced in the warres.

11 When he had taken in the kyngdome, he made one Lyſias, which had ben captayne of the hoſt in Phenices and * Syria, ruler ouer the matters of the Realme. * or, Celeſyria.

12 For Ptolome, that was called Macron, being a ruler for the Iewes, and ſpecially to ſit in iudgement for ſuche wrong as was donne vnto them, vndertooke to deale peaceably with them.

13 For

13 For the whiche cause he was accused of his freendes before Eupator: and when he was suspect to be a traitour, because he had let Cypres, that Philometor had committed vnto him, and because he departed from noble Antiochus that he was comme vnto, he poysoned hym selfe, and dyed.

14 Now when Gorgias was gouernour of the same places, he tooke strangers, and vndertooke ofte tymes to warre with the Iewes. C

15 Moreouer, the Idumeans that helde the strong holdes, receiued those that were driuen from Hierusalem, and toke in hand to warre also.

1.Mac.5.a. 16 But they that were with Machabeus, besought and prayed vnto the Lord, that he woulde be their helper, and so they fel vpon the strong holdes of the Idumeans, 17 And wan many places by strength: such as came agaynst them, they slue, and kylled no lesse of altogeather, then twentie thousande.

18 Neuertheless, somme, no lesse then nyne thousande, were fled into two strong towers, hauyng al maner of ordinance to withstande them.

19 Then Machabeus leauyng Simon, Josephus, Zacheus, and those that were with them, whiche were very many, went to besiege them, and to fight where moste neede was.

D 20 Nowe they that were with Simon, being ledde with couetousnesse, were intreated for money, through certayne of those that laye in the castles: and tooke threscore and tenne thousande (a) dragmas, and let somme of them escape.

(a) A dragma is, the eyght part of an ounce, whiche is about three pence.

21 But when it was tolde Machabeus what had hapned, he called the captaines of the people togeather, accusing those persons that they had sold the brethren for money, and let their enimies goe.

22 So he slue those traytours, and immediatly went in hande with the two castles.

23 And when they had ordered them selues manlye with their weapons and handes, they slue in the two castles moe then twentie thousande.

1.Mac.5.b. 2.Mac.8. 24 Nowe Timotheus, whom the Iewes had ouercome afore, geathered a multitude of strange people, brought an host also of horsmenne of the Asians, to wynne Iurie by strength.

2.Mac.11.b 25 But when he drewe nygh, Machabeus and they that were with hym, fel to their prayer, sprynkled ashes vpon their heades, beyng gyrded with heary cloth about their lynes, 26 Fel downe before the aulter, & besought the Lorde that he woulde be mercyful to them, but an enimie vnto theyr enimies, and to take part agaynst their aduersaries, accordyng as it is promised in the law. Deut.28.a.

27 So after the prayer they tooke their weapons, and went on further from the cities: and when they came nygh the enimies, they prepared them selues agaynst them.

28 And betimes in the morning at the breake of the day, both the hostes buckled togeather: the one part had the Lorde for their refuge, whiche is the geuer of prosperitie, strength, and victorie: the other had a manly stomacke, which is a captayne of warre. E Jerem.17.a 2.Chr.32.b

29 The batayle nowe being greate, there appeared vnto the enimies from heauen fiue goodly menne vpon horsbackes, with bridles of golde, leadyng the Iewes: 1.king.6.a. 1.Mach.3.a and.11.b.

30 And two of them hauyng Machabeus betwixt them, that keapte him safe on euery side with their weapons, but shot dartes and lightninges vpon the enimies, where through they were confounded with blyndnesse, and so sore afrayde that they fel downe. E

31 There were slayne of footemenne twentie thousande and fiue hundred, and fiue hundred horsmenne.

32 As for Timotheus him selfe, he fledde vnto Gazara, a very strong holde, wherein Chereas was captayne.

33 But Machabeus and his company layd siege to it chearefully foure dayes.

34 Nowe they that were within, trustyng to the strength of the place, cursed and banned exceedingly, & made great crakyng with wicked wordes.

35 Neuertheless, vpon the fifth day in the morning, twenty young menne of Machabeus company, being set on fire in their mindes because of the blasphemie, came manfully vnto the wal, and with bold stomackes smote downe those that they met. F

36 Others also clymed vp vpon the towres, vndertaking to set fire vpon the portes, and to burne those blasphemous persons quicke with the fires that they had made, others brake open the gates, and receiued the reast of the armie, and tooke the citie.

47 Two dayes were they destroying the castle, whiche when they founde Timotheus that was crepte in a corner, they kylled hym, and slue Chereas his brother in lyke manner, with Apollophanes.

38 When this was donne, they song psalmes with prayses and thankesgeuyng vnto the Lorde, whiche had donne so greate thynges for Israel, and geuen them the victorie.

The

The.xi.Chapter.

1. Lysias goeth about to ouercome the Iewes. 8. Succour is sent from heauen vnto the Iewes.

A 1 NOt long after this, Lysias the kinges stewarde, and a kinsman of his, whiche had the gouernance of his matters, tooke soare displeasure for the thinges that had happened,

2 And when he had geathered fourescore thousande menne of foote, with al the host of the horsemen, he came agaynst the Iewes, thynkyng to winne the citie, to make it an habitation for the heathen:

Iohn. 2.b. 3 And the temple woulde he haue to be an house of lucre, lyke as the other gods houses of the heathen are, and to sel the priestes office euery yeere, Esai.36.b. 4 Not consyderyng the power of God, but was wylde in his mynde, trustyng in the multitude of footemen, in thousandes of horsemen, & in his fourescore Elephantes.

5 So he came into Iurie, and then to Bethsura, a castle of defence, lyeing in a narowe place fiue furlonges from Hierusalem, and layde soare siege vnto it.

6 Nowe when Machabeus and his company knewe that the strong holdes were besieged, they fel to theyr prayers with weepyng and teares before the Lorde: and al the people in lyke manner besought hym that he woulde sende a good angel to deliuer Israel.

2.Mac.10.c

B 7 Machabeus hym selfe was the first that made hym ready to the battayle, exhorting the other that were with hym to ieoparde them selues, and to helpe theyr brethren.

2.Mac.3.d. 8 And when they were goeyng forth of Hierusalem togeather, with a readie and willing minde, there appeared before them vpon horsebacke a man in whyte clothyng, with harnesse of golde, shakyng his speare.

9 Then they praysed the Lord altogeather, whiche had shewed them mercy, and were comforted in theyr myndes, insomuch that they were redy not only to fight with men, but with the moste cruel beastes, yea, and runne through walles of iron.

10 Thus they went on willingly, hauing an helper from heauen, and the Lorde mercyful vnto them,

11 They fel mightily vpon theyr enimies like lions, slue eleuen thousande footemen, sixteene hundred horsemen, and put al the other to flight,

12 Many of them beyng wounded, & some gat away naked: yea Lysias hym selfe was fayne to flee shamefully, and so to escape.

13 Neuertheless, that man was not without vnderstandyng, but consydered by him selfe that his power was minished, & pondred howe the Iewes, beyng defended by the helpe of almyghtie God, were not able to be ouercome: wherefore he sent them worde, 14 And promised that he woulde consent C to al thynges whiche were reasonable, and to make the kyng theyr freende.

15 To the which prayer of Lysias, Machabeus agreed, seeking in al thinges the common wealth: and whatsoeuer Machabeus wrote vnto Lysias concerning the Iewes, the kyng graunted it.

16 For there were letters wrytten vnto the Iewes from Lysias, conteyning these wordes, Lysias sendeth greetyng to the people of the Iewes, 17 Iohn and * Absalon whiche were sent from you, deliuered me wrytynges, and required me to fulfyl the thynges concernyng theyr errande.

* or, Absalom.

18 Therefore looke what myght be graunted, I certified the kyng thereof: and what so euer was conuenient, he agreed thereto.

19 If ye nowe wyl be faythful in these matters, I shal endeuour me selfe hereafter also to doo you good.

20 As concernyng these thynges, by euery article therof, I haue committed them to your messengers, and to those whom I sent vnto you to commune with you of the same particularly.

21 Fare ye wel. In the hundred, fourtie, D and eight yeere, the twentie and fourth day of the moneth Dioscorinthius.

22 Nowe the kynges letter conteyned these woordes, Kyng Antiochus sendeth greetyng vnto his brother Lysias.

23 Forsomuche as our father is nowe translated vnto the gods, our wyl is, that they whiche are in our realme, liue without any insurrection, and euery man to be diligent in his owne matters. 2.Mac. 9.b

24 We vnderstand also that ỹ Iewes would not consent to our father for to be brought vnto the custome of the gentiles, but styfly to keepe theyr owne statutes, for the which cause they require of vs also to let them remayne styl after theyr owne lawes.

25 Wherfore, our mynde is, that this people shalbe in reast: we haue concluded and determined also to restore them their temple agayne, that they may liue accordyng to the vse and custome of theyr forefathers.

26 Thou shalt doo vs a pleasure therefore, if thou sende vnto them, and graunt them peace: that when they are certified of our mynde, they may be of good cheare, and looke to theyr owne wealth.

27 And

27 And this was the letter that the kyng wrote vnto the Iewes, Kyng Antiochus sendeth greetyng vnto the counsel, and the other people of the Iewes, 28 If ye fare wel, we haue our desyre: as for vs, we are in good health.

29 Menelaus came and tolde vs howe that your desyre was to returne home, & peaceably to enioy your owne possessions.

30 Wherefore, those that wil comme, we geue them free libertie vnto the thirtie day of the moneth of *Apyl, *Zanthicus.

31 That they may vse the meates of the Iewes, and their owne lawes like as afore: and none of them by any manner of wayes to haue harme for thinges donne in ignorance.

32 I haue sent also Menelaus, that he may comfort you.

33 Fare ye wel. In the hundred, fourtie, and eight yeere, the fifteenth day of the moneth of Apyl.

34 The Romanes also sent a letter, conteynyng these wordes, Quintus Memmius, and Titus Manilius, ambassadours of the Romanes, sende greetyng vnto the people of the Iewes.

35 Looke what Lysias the kynges kinsman hath graunted you, we graunt you the same also.

36 But as concerning the thinges whiche he referred vnto the kyng, sende hyther some with speede, and ponder the matter diligently among your selues, that we may * cast the best to your profite: for we must depart nowe vnto Antioche.

*or, consult the best.

37 And therefore wryte shortly agayne, that we may knowe your minde.

38 Fare wel. In the hundred, fourtie, and eight yeere, the fifteenth day of the moneth of Apyl.

The. xii. Chapter.

2. Timotheus troubleth the Iewes. 3. The wycked deede of them of Ioppa agaynst the Iewes.

1 When these couenantes were made, Lysias went vnto the kyng: and the Iewes tylied theyr grounde.

2 But Timotheus & Appollonius the sonne of Genaei, Ierome, and Demophon (the proude) Nicanor the captayne of Cypers, and they that lay in those places, wouldе not let them lyue in reast and peace.

3 They of Ioppa also dyd euen suche a shameful deede: they prayed the Iewes that dwelt among them, to goe with theyr wiues and children into the shippes which they had prepared, and dyd with them as though they had ought them no cuyl wyl:

4 Forsomuch then as there was gone foorth a generall proclamation through the citie because of peace, they consented thereto, and suspect nothyng: but when they were gonne foorth into the deepe, they drowned no lesse then two hundred of them.

5 When Judas knewe of this cruelte shewed vnto his people, he commaunded those that were with him to make them ready,

6 Exhortyng them to cal vpon God the ryghteous iudge, went foorth agaynst those murtherers of his brethren, set fire in the hauen by nyght, brent vp the shyppes: and those that escaped from the fyre, he slue (with the swoorde.)

7 And when he had donne this, he departed, as though he wouldе comme agayne, and roote out al them of Ioppa.

8 But when he had gotten woorde that the Iamnites were mynded to doo in like maner vnto the Iewes whiche dwelt among them,

9 He came vpon the Iamnites by nyght, and set fyre on the hauen, with the shippes: so that the lyght of the fyre was seene at Hierusalem, vpon a two hundred & fourtie furlonges.

10 Nowe when they were gone from thence nine furlonges, in theyr iourney towarde Timotheus, fiue thousand menne of foote, and fiue hundred horsemen of the Arabians, fought with hym.

11 So when the battel was earnest, and prospered with Judas through the helpe of GOD, the residue of the (a) Arabians beyng ouercome, besought Judas to be at one with them, and promised to geue hym certayne * pastures, and to doo hym good in other thynges.

(a) The Nomades of Arabia, so called because they were shepheardes.

* or, cattel.

12 Judas thinkyng that they should in deede be profitable concernyng many thynges, promised them peace: whereupon they shoke handes, & so they departed to theyr tentes.

13 Judas went also vnto a citie, which was very fast keapt with bydges, fensed round about with walles, and diuers kyndes of people dwellyng therein, called Caspin.

14 They that were within it, put such trust in the strength of the walles, & in theyr store of victuales, that they were the slacker in theyr booynges, cursyng and reuiling Judas with blasphemies, and speakyng suche woordes as it becommeth not.

15 But Machabeus callyng vpon the great prince of the worlde, (whiche without any battayle rammes or ordinances of warre, did cast downe the walles of Iericho in the time of Iosuah) fel manfully vpon the walles, Iosu. 6. c.

16 Tooke

16 Toke the citie, & thorow the helpe of the Lorde made an exceedyng great slaughter: insomuche that a lake of two furlonges brode, whiche lay thereby, seemed to flowe with the blood of the slayne.

17 Then departed they from thence seuen hundred and fiftie furlonges, and came to * Caraca, vnto the Iewes that are called Tubianei.

* or, Characa.

18 But as for Timotheus, they coulde not geat him there: for (not one matter dispatched) he was departed from thence, & had leaft certayne menne in a very strong hold.

19 But Dositheus and Sosipater, whiche were captaynes with Machabeus, slue those that Timotheus had left in the house of defence, more then ten thousande menne.

20 And Machabeus prepared hym with the fire thousande menne, that were about hym, set them in order by companies, and went forth agaynst Timotheus, whiche had with hym an hundred and twentie thousande menne of foote, two thousande and fyue hundred horsemen.

D 21 When Timotheus had knowledge of Judas comming, he sent the women, chyldren, and the other baggage vnto a castle called Carnion: For it could not be won, and was harde to comme vnto, the wayes of the same places were so narrowe.

22 And when Judas his first bande came in sight, the enimies were smitten with feare, through the presence of God, whiche seeth al thinges: insomuche that they fleeing one here, another there, were rather discomfited of their owne people, and wounded with the strokes of their owne swoordes.

Jud.viii.f. 1.Sa.14.c 2.Chr.20.d

23 Judas also was very earnest in folowing vpon them, pounishyng those vngodly, and slue thirtie thousande menne of them.

24 Timotheus also him selfe felle into the handes of Dositheus & Sosipater, whom he besought with much craft to let him goe with his lyfe, because he had many of the Iewes fathers & brethren in prison, whiche if they put him to death, should be despised.

25 So when he had promised faythfully to deliuer them agayne, according to the condition made, they let hym goe without harme, for the healthy of the brethren.

26 Then Machabeus marched forth to Carnion and Atargation, and there slue twentie and fiue thousande menne.

1.Mach.v.c

27 Nowe after that he had chased away, and slayne his enimies, he remooued the host towarde Ephron a strong citie, wherein was Lysias and a great multitude of diuers nations: and the strong young menne keapt the walles, defendyng them mightyly: In this citie was muche ordinance and prouision of dartes.

28 But when Judas and his company had called vppon almyghtie GOD, whiche with his power breaketh the strength of the enimies, they wanne the citie, and slue twentie and fiue thousande of them that were within. E

29 From thence went they to the citie of the * Scythians, whiche lyeth fyre hundred furlonges from Hierusalem.

* or, Scythopolis,

30 But when the Iewes whiche were in the citie, testified that the citezins dealt louyngly with them, yea and intreated them kindly in the tyme of their aduersitie,

31 Judas and his companye gaue them thankes, desyring them to be freendly styl vnto them: and so they came to Hierusalem, the hygh feast of the weekes beyng at hande.

32 And after the feast of Pentecost, they went forth against Gorgias the gouernour of Idumea, 33 Who came out with three thousande menne of foote, & foure hundred horsemen.

34 Whiche when they met togeather, it chanced a fewe of the Iewes to be slayne.

35 And Dositheus one of the Bacenors, a mightie horseman, tooke holde of Gorgias, and would haue taken hym quicke: but an horseman of Thracia felle vppon him, and smote of his arme, so that Gorgias escaped, and fled into * Mozesa. F

* Or, Maresa.

36 When they now that were of * Gorgias side had foughten long, and were wery, Judas called vpon the Lorde, that he would be their helper, and captayne of the feelde: * or, Elzin.

37 And with that he beganne in his owne language, and song Psalmes with a loude voyce, insomuche that he made the enimies afrayde, and Gorgias menne of warre toke their flyght.

38 So Judas geathered his host, and came into the citie of Odolla: and when the seuenth day came vpon them, they cleansed them selues as the custome was, and keapt the Sabboth in the same place.

39 And vpon the day folowing, as necessitie required, Judas and his company came to take vp the bodyes of thē that were slayne, and to burie them in the fathers graues.

40 Nowe vnder the coates of certayne Iewes which were slayne, they found iewels that they had taken (out of the temple, and) from the idols of the Jamnites, which thing is forbidden the Iewes by the lawe: then euery man sawe that this was the cause wherfore they were slayne. Deut.vii.b. Josue.7.a.

41 And so euery man gaue thankes vnto the Lorde for his ryghteous iudgement, whiche had opened the thing that was hid.

42 They fel downe also vnto their prayers, and besought GOD that the fault whiche was made, might be put out of remembrance: Besides that, Judas exhorted the people earnestly to keepe them selues from suche sinne, forsomuche as they sawe before their eyes that these menne were slayne for the same offence.

43 So he geathered of euery one a certayne, and sent two thousande drachmes of siluer vnto Hierusalem, that there might a sacrifice be offered for the misdeede: in the whiche he did wel and ryght, for he had somme consyderation and pondring of the lyfe that is after this tyme.

44 For if he had not thought that they whiche were slayne shoulde rise agayne, it had benne superfluous and vayne to make any volwe or sacrifice for them that were dead.

45 But forsomuche as he sawe that they whiche dye in the fauour & beleefe of God, are in good rest and ioy, he thought it to be good and honorable for a reconciling, to do the same for those whiche were slayne, that the offence might be forgeuen.

The.xiii.Chapter.

1. The commyng of Eupator into Iurie.
4. The death of Menelaus.

A 1 IN the hundred fourtie and niene yeere, gate Judas knowledge that Antiochus Eupator was commyng with a great power into Jurie,

2 And Lysias the steward and ruler of his matters with hym, hauing an hundred and ten thousand men of foote of the Gretians, fiue thousande horsemen, twentie and two Elephantes, and three hundred charets set with hookes.

3 Menelaus also ioyned hym self with the, but with great disceipt, spake fayre to the kyng, not for any good to the countrey, but because he thought to haue benne made somme great man of auctheritie.

4 But the kyng of kynges mooued Antiochus mynde agaynst this vngodly person, and Lysias enfourmed the king that this Menelaus was the cause of al mischiefe: so that the king commaunded to bring him vnto Berea, and as the manner of them is, to put hym vnto death in the same place.

5 There was also in the same place a towre of fiftie cubites hygh, heaped with asshes: and it had an instrumet that turned round, and on euery side it rouled downe into the asshes, and there whosoeuer was condemned of sacrilege, or of any other greeuous crime, was cast of al menne vnto the death.

6 Whereinto the kyng commaunded that shameful person to be cast amog the asshes, as one that was cause of al vngratiousnesse.

7 And reason it was that the vnthrift should dye suche a death, and not to be buryed: B

8 For he had donne muche mischeefe vnto the aulter of GOD, whose fire and asshes were holy: therefore was it ryght that he hym selfe also shoulde be destroyed with asshes.

9 But the king was wood in his mind, and came to shew him selfe more cruel vnto the Jewes, then his father was.

10 Whiche when Judas perceiued, he commaunded the people to cal vpon the Lorde nyght and day, that he wouldе nowe helpe them also, lyke as he had donne alway: for they were afrayd to be put from their law, from their natural countrey, and from the holy temple: 1.Mach.19.

11 And not to suffer the people, which a litle whyle afore began to recouer, to be subdued agayne of the blasphemous nations.

12 So when they had donne this togeather, and besought the Lorde for mercye, with weepyng and fastyng three dayes long, flat vpon the grounde, Judas exhorted them to make them selues redy.

13 But he and the eldest togeather deuised to goe forth (first with the people) afore the kyng brought his host into Jurie, and afore he besieged the citie, and so to commit the matter vnto God.

14 Wherefore he committed the charge of al thinges vnto GOD the maker of al the worlde, exhorting his people to fight manfully, yea euen vnto death, for the lawes, the temple, the citie, their owne natiue countrey, and to defende the citezins: and he set his host before Modin. C

15 He gaue them also that were with him a token of the victory of God, choosing out the manlyest young men, went by night into the kynges pauilion, slue of the host fourteene thousande menne, and the greatest of the Elephantes, with those that sate vpon them. 1.Mach.6.f

16 Thus when they had brought a great feare and rumour amog the tentes of their enimies, and al thinges went prosperously with them, 17 They departed in the breake of the day, God beyng their helper and defender.

18 Now when the kyng perceiued the manlynesse of the Jewes, he went about to take the strong places by crafte,

19 And remoued his host vnto Bethsura, which was a wel keapt house of defence of the Jewes: but they were chased away, 2.Mac.11.a hurt,

hurt, and discomfited.
20 And Judas sent vnto them that were in it, suche thinges as were necessarie.
21 In the Jewes hoast also there was one Rhodochus, which tolde the enimies their secretes: but they sought hym out, & when they had gotten hym, they put hym in prison.
22 After this dyd the kyng commune with them that were in Bethsura, tooke truice with them, departed, and stroke a batayle with Judas, whiche ouercame hym.
D 23 But when he vnderstoode that Philip, whom he had left to be ouerseer of this businesse at Antioch, beganne to rebel against him, he was astonyed in his minde, so that he yeelded him selfe to the Jewes, & made them an othe to doo what so euer they thought ryght.
24 Nowe when he was reconciled with them, he offered, made muche of the temple, gaue great gyftes vnto it, 25 Embraced Machabeus, makyng hym captayne and gouernour from Ptolemais vnto the Gerrhenes.
26 Neuertheless, when he came to Ptolemais, the people of the citie were not content with the bonde of frendship: for they were afrayde that he woulde breake the couenant.
27 Then went Lysias vp into ỹ iudgement seate, & excused the fact as wel as he could, and enfourmed ỹ people, shewed them the cause why, and pacified them: so he came againe to Antioch. This is nowe the matter cõcernyng ỹ kynges iourney, & his returne.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

1. By the motion of the Lorde, Demetrius sendeth Nicanor to kill the Iewes.

A 1 AFter three yeeres was Judas infourmed howe that Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus was comme vp with a great power and shippes, through the hauen of Tripolis,
2 To take certayne commodious places and countreys, agaynst Antiochus and his captayne Lysias.
3 Nowe Alcimus, whiche had benne hygh priest, and wylfully defiled him selfe in the tyme of the mixting, seeyng that by no meanes he coulde be helped, nor haue any more entrance to the aulter,
4 He came to kyng Demetrius in the hundred fiftie and one yeere, presenting vnto hym a crowne of golde, a paulme, and an Oliue tree, whiche as menne thought belonged to the temple: and that day helde his tongue.
5 But when he had gotten opportunitie for his madnesse, Demetrius called him to counsel, and asked hym what thynges or counsels the Jewes leaned vnto?
6 He answeared, The Jewes that be called Assidei (whose captayne is Judas Machabeus) maynteyne warres, make insurrections, and wyl not let the realme be in peace.
7 For I beyng depriued of my fathers honour (I meane the hygh priesthood) am comme hyther:
8 Partly because I was faythfull vnto the kyng, and partly because I sought the profite of myne owne citizens: And why? all our people through the wickednesse of them are not a litle troubled. B
9 Wherefore I beseeche thee, O kyng, consyder al these thinges diligently, and then make some prouision for the lande and the people, accordyng to the kyndnesse that thou hast offered vnto them.
10 For as long as Judas lyueth, it is not possible that meame can liue in peace.
11 When he had spoken these woords, other freendes also hauyng euyll wyl at Judas, set the kyng Demetrius on fire (agaynst hym.)
12 Whiche immediatly sent Nicanor, ruler of the Elephantes, a captayne, in Jurie, 1. Mac. 7. c.
13 Commaundyng him to slay Judas, and to scatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus high priest of the great temple.
14 Then the heathen, whiche fledde out of Jurie from Judas, came to Nicanor by flockes, thynkyng the harme and decaye of the Jewes to be their welfare. C
15 Nowe when the Jewes hearde of Nicanors comming, and the geathering togeather of the heathen, they sprinckled them selues with earth, and besought him whiche made them his people, and euer defended his owne portion with euident tokens, that he woulde preserue them stil. 2. Ma. 10. c
16 So at the commaundement of the captayne, they remooued strayght wayes from thence, and came to a towne called Dessau.
17 And Simon Judas brother felle in hand with Nicanor: but through the sodayne * comming of the enimies, he was afrayde. * or, science
18 Neuertheless, Nicanor hearyng the manlynesse of them that were with Judas, and the bolde stomackes that they had to fight for their natural countrey, durst not prooue the matter with bloodsheddyng.
19 Wherefore he sent Possidonius, * Theodorus, and Mathathias before, to geue and to take peace. * or, Theodosius, Matthias.
20 So when they had taken long aduisemẽt therupon, and the captayne shewed it vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one minde to haue peace.

21 And they appoynted a day to sitte vppon these matters quietly among them selues, & for euery one stooles also were brought, and set sooth.

D 22 Neuertheless, Judas commaunded certayne menne of armes to wayte in conuenient places, lest there shoulde sodenly aryse any euyl through the enimies: and so they communed reasonably togeather.

23 Nicanor whyle he abode at Hierusalem, ordered hym selfe not vnreasonably, but sent away the people that were geathered togeather.

24 He loued Judas euer with his hart, and fauoured him.

25 He prayed him also to take a wyfe, and to bring sooth chyldren. So he maryed, liued in rest, and they ledde a common lyfe.

26 But Alcimus perceauyng the loue that was betwixt them, and howe they were agreed togeather, came to Demetrius, and tolde him that Nicanor had taken strange matters in hande, and ordeyned Judas, an enimie of the realme, to be the kinges successour.

27 Then the kyng was soare displeased, and through the wicked accusations which Alcimus made of Nicanor, he was so prouoked, that he wrote vnto Nicanor, sayeing that he was very angry for the freendship and agreement whiche he had made with Machabeus, neuertheless, he commaunded him in al the haste that he shoulde take Machabeus prisoner, and sende hym to Antioche.

E 28 Whiche (letters) when Nicanor hadde seene, he was at his wittes ende, and soare greeued, that he shoulde breake the thinges wherein they had agreed, specially seeing Machabeus was that man that neuer dyd hym harme.

29 But because he myght not withstande the kyng, he sought opportunitie to fulfil his commaundement.

30 Notwithstandyng, when Machabeus sawe that Nicanor beganne to be churlishe vnto him, and that he entreated him more roughly then he was wont, he perceaued that suche vnkyndnesse came not of good, and therefore he geathered a fewe of his menne, and withdrewe hym selfe from Nicanor.

31 Which when he knewe that Machabeus had manfully preuented him, he came into the great and most holy temple, and commaunded the priestes whiche were dooyng their vsuall offeringes, to deliuer hym the man.

32 And when they sware that they coulde not tel where the man was, whom he sought, 1. Mac. 7.

33 He streatched out his ryght hande toward the temple, and made an oth, sayeing, If ye wyll not deliuer me Judas captiue, I shal remooue this temple of GOD into the plaine feelde, I shal breake downe the aulter, and consecrate this temple vnto Bacchus.

34 After these woordes he departed. Then the priestes lyft vp their handes towarde heauen, and besought hym that was euer the defender of their people, sayeing,

35 Thou, O Lorde of al, whiche hast neede of nothyng, wouldest that the temple of thy habitation shoulde be among vs:

36 Therefore now, O most holy Lord, keepe this house euer vndefiled, whiche lately was clensed, and stoppe al the mouthes of the vnryghteous. 1. Mac. 4.

37 Nowe was there accused vnto Nicanor one Razis, an alderman of Hierusalem, a louer of the whole citie, and a man of good report, whiche for the kynde hart that he bare vnto the people, was called a father of the Jewes.

38 This man oft tymes when the Jewes were mynded to keepe them selues vndefiled, defended and deliuered them, beyng content stedfastly to spende his body and his lyfe for his people. F

39 So Nicanor wyllyng to declare the hate that he bare to the Jewes, sent fiue hundred menne of warre to take hym:

40 For he thought yf he gate hym, he should bryng the Jewes in great decay.

41 Nowe when the people beganne to rushe in at his house, to breake the doores, and to set fyre on it, he beyng nowe taken, (c) felle vpon his swoorde,

42 Choosyng rather to dye manfully, then to yeelde him selfe to those wicked doers: and because of his noble stocke, he had rather haue benne put to extreme crueltie.

43 Notwithstandyng, what tyme he myssed of his stroke for haste, and the multitude rushed in violently betwixt the doores, he ranne boldly to the wal, and cast him selfe downe manfully among the heapes of them:

44 Whiche gaue soone place to his falle, so that he fel vpon his belly.

45 Neuertheless, while there was yet breath within him, being kyndled in his minde, he rose vp, and whyle his blood gushed out exceedyngly (for he was very soare wounded) he ranne through the middest of the people, & gate hym to the toppe of a rocke.

46 So when his blood was nowe gonne, he tooke out his owne bowels, and with both his handes threwe them vppon the people, ples, calling vpon the lord of lyfe and ſpirite to rewarde him this agayne: and ſo he dyed.

The.xv.Chapter.

2. Nicanor goeth about to comme vppon Iudas on the Sabboth day. 5. The blaſphemie of Nicanor.

A 1 MOwe when Nicanor knewe that Iudas and his company were in the countrey of Samaria, he thought with al his power to ſtryke a feelde with him vpon a Sabboth day.

1.Mac.7.d.

2 Neuertheleſſe, the Iewes that were compelled to goe with him, ſaide, O doo not ſo cruelly and vnkindly, but halow the Sabboth day, and woorſhippe him that ſeeth al thinges.

3 (For al this) yet ſaide the vngratious perſon, Is there a mightie one in heauen that commaunded the Sabboth daye to be keapt?

1.king.20.c

Exod.20.b.

4 And when they ſaid, Yea the liuing God, the mightie Lorde in heauen commaunded the ſeuenth day to be keapt:

5 He ſaide, And I am mightie vpon earth to commaunde them for to arme them ſelues, and to perfourme the kinges buſineſſe: Notwithſtanding, he might not haue his purpoſe.

6 Nicanor had deuiſed with greate pride to ouercomme Iudas, and to bryng away the victorie:

B 7 But Machabeus had euer a faſte confidence and a perfecte hope in God that he woulde helpe him:

8 And exhorted his people not to be afrayd at the comming of the heathen: but alwaye to remember the helpe that had benne ſhewed vnto them from heauen, yea and to be ſure nowe alſo at almightie God woulde geue them the victorie.

9 He ſpake vnto them out of the lawe and prophetes, putting them in remembraunce of the batayles that they hadde ſtricken afore, and made them to be of good courage.

10 So when their hartes were pluckt vp, he ſhewed them alſo the deceiptfulneſſe of the heathen, and howe they woulde keepe no couenant nor othe.

11 Thus he weaponed them, not with the armour of ſhielde and ſpeare, but with wholeſome woordes and exhortations, he ſhewed them a dreame alſo worthye to be beleeued, wherethrough he made them al glad.

12 Whiche was this: He thought that he ſawe Onias whiche had benne high prieſt, a vertuous and louing man, ſad, and of honeſt conuerſation, wel ſpoken, and one that had benne exerciſed in godlyneſſe from a chylde, holding vp his handes toward heauen, and praying for his people.

13 After this, there appeared vnto him another man, whiche was aged, honourable, and glorious,

14 And Onias ſayde, This is a louer of the brethren, and of the people of Iſrael: this is he that prayeth much for the people, and for al the holye citie, Ieremie the prophete of God. C

15 He thought alſo that Ieremie helde out his ryght hande, and gaue vnto Iudas a ſwoorde of golde, ſayeing, 16 Take this holye ſwoorde, a gyfte from God, wherwith thou ſhalt ſmite downe the enimies of the people of Iſrael.

17 And ſo they were wel comforted through the woordes of Iudas, whiche were very ſweete, and able to ſtirre vp their courage, and tooke courage vnto them, ſo that the young menne were determined in their mindes to fight, and to abide ſtifly at it, in ſo muche that in the thinges whiche they tooke in hande, their boldneſſe ſhewed the ſame, becauſe the holy citie, the ſanctuarie, and the temple were in peryl.

18 For the whiche they tooke more care, then for their wyues, chyldren, brethren, and kinſfolkes.

19 Againe, they that were in the citie, were moſt careful for thoſe which were to fight.

20 Nowe when they were al in a hope that the iudgemente of the matter was at hande, and the enimies drue nygh, the hoſt being ſet in aray, the Elephantes and horſmenne euery one ſtanding in his place.

21 Machabeus conſyderyng the comming of the multitude, the ordinance of diuers weapons, the cruelneſſe of the beaſtes, helde vp his handes towarde heauen, calkyng vpon the Lorde that dooth woonders, whiche geueth not the victorie after the multitude of weapons and power of the hoſt, but to them that pleaſe him, accordyng to his owne wyl. D

Iud.7.b.

22 Therefore in his prayer he ſayde theſe woordes, O Lorde, thou that dyddeſt ſend thine angel in the time of Ezechias king of Iuda, and in the hoſt of Sennacherib ſlueſt an hundred, fourefcore and fine thouſande:

2.king.19.g

23 Sende nowe alſo thy good angel before vs, O Lorde of heauens, in the fearfulneſſe and dreade of thy myghty arme, 24 That they whiche comme agaynſt thy holy people to blaſpheme them, maye be afrayde. And ſo he made an ende of his woordes.

25 Then Nicanor and they that were with him, drue nigh, with trumpettes and showtinges for ioy:

26 But Judas and his companie, with prayer and calling vpon God, encountred with the enimies.

27 With their handes they smote, but with their hartes they prayed vnto the Lord, and slue no lesse then thirtie and fiue thousand menne: for through the present help of God they were gloriously comforted.

28 Nowe when they least of, and were turnyng againe with ioy, they understood that Nicanor him selfe was slayne with the other for al his armour.

29 Then they gaue a great shoute & a cry, praysing the almighty Lorde in their owne language.

30 And Judas whiche was euer readye to spende his bodye and lyfe for his citizens, commaunded to smyte of Nicanors head, with his arme and hand, and to be brought to Hierusalem.

31 When he came there, he called al the people and the priestes to the aulter, with those that were in the castle, 32 And shewed them Nicanors head, and his wicked hand, whiche he had presumptuously holden vp agaynst the Temple of God.

33 He caused the tongue also of that vngodly Nicanor to be cut in litle peeces, and to be cast to the foules, and that cruel mans hande to be hanged vp before the temple.

34 So euery man gaue thankes vnto the Lorde, sayeing, Blessed be he that hath keapt his place vndefiled.

35 As for Nicanors head, he hanged it vp vppon the hygh castle, for an euident and playne token of the helpe of God.

36 And so they agreed altogeather to keepe that day holy, (namely) the thirteenth day of the moneth * Adar:

37 Whiche in the Syrians language is called, the next day before Mardocheus day.

38 Thus was Nicanor slayne, and from that time forth the Iewes had the citie in possession: & here wyl I now make an end.

39 If I haue donne wel, and as the storie required, it is the thing that I desired: but if I haue spoken slenderly and barely, I haue donne that I coulde.

40 For as it is hurtful to drynke wyne alone, and then agayne water, and as wyne tempered with water, is pleasant, and deliteth the taste: so the setting out of the matter, delighteth the eare of them that reade the storie: and here shalbe the ende.

Iesus Christe.

For better vnderstandyng of the contentes of this Table, ye shal note that the Euangelistes saint Matthewe, and saint Luke, haue diuerslie recited the generation of our sauiour Christ, accordyng to the fleashe, and yet tende both to one ende: that is, to proone, that (accordyng to that whiche is written of hym in the prophecies) he is descended of the royal blood of Dauid, and ryghtly succeeded hym in the kyngdome. So the diuersitie of the said recital consysteth in this: that saint Matthewe setteth foorth the sayde generation descendyng from father to sonne, and saint Luke ascendeth from sonne to father, whiche comes al to one ende. But to shew the agreement of saint Luke with saint Matthewe, we haue here set foorth the generation by hym described, descendyng after the order of saint Matthewe, to the ende that the one may be conferred with the other. Furthermore, saint Matthewe describeth the generation of Ioseph, though it belong nothyng to Iesus Christe after the fleashe, and saint Luke that of the virgin Marie: for it was very necessary to recite both, forasmuche as women were commonly reputed of the ligne or kynrede of theyr husbandes: And so aswel on her husbandes syde, as on her owne offspring, it is manifest that she was of the royal ligne of Dauid.

*Juda of the ligne of Nathan, engendred Simeon, called Ioas, which came to the royal seate, because the posteritie of Solomon fayled in Ochosias: and therefore the kyngdome belonged to Nathans posteritie, accordyng to the ordinance of Dauid, as Philo reciteth, that is, the youngest of the children of Berseba (which was Solomon) should raigne after hym, and that yf the posteritie fayled, the kyngdome should come to the posteritie of the next younger, whiche was Nathan: and therefore Nathan was called Ahiscar, that is to say, Brother of the prince, and they of his posteritie Ahiscarim, that is to say, Brothers of the prince, and Nathitim, whiche signifieth, geuen to succeede. The sayd Philo reciteth that the posteritie of the sayde Nathan was so honoured of the kyng Iosaphat, that he called his children the brothers of Ioram his sonne, and theyr children the brothers of Ochosias his nephewe: and this is the cause why the scripture sayth, that Ioas was the sonne of Ochosias, though he were not his natural sonne, but the sonne of Juda, descended from Nathan.

Note that saint Matthewe, goeyng about to describe the generation by foureteenes, dyd first leaue out Ioas, Amazias, and Azarias, whiche are set in betweene Ochosias, the last of the race of Solomon, and Ioathan. Further, he hath leaft out Iehaas, and Ioacim, placed betweene Iosias and Iechonias. Al which we haue here set in theyr order, to make the same description more perfect and playne.

*Forasmuch as it seemeth that saint Luke maketh no mention of the generation of Marie, but rather of Ioseph, for he vseth these woordes, that Iesus was counted the sonne of Ioseph, which was of Heli, that is to say, the sonne of Heli: we must vnderstand that in this place, ỹ name of sonne is taken for the name of sonne in lawe, and that saint Luke meaneth that Ioseph was the sonne in lawe to Heli, for that he tooke to wyfe the virgin Marie daughter to the sayde Heli, whiche manner of speach, is common in the scripture: for we fynde that Noemi calleth Ruth her daughter, whiche was but her stepdaughter, her sonnes wyfe,

John Clark his book

¶ A Preface into the newe Testament.

*HE newe Testament, so called, conteynyng the wri-*tinges of the Euangelistes, with the Epistles of Christes Apostles, and with other suche diuine bookes, declare playnely vnto vs the summe and effect of all the scriptures expressed in the olde Testament. That whiche was in figure and in obscuritie inuolued by the patriarkes and prophetes in their prophetical volumes, written by the inspiration of the holy ghost: is in this booke more playnely and euidently set out, vttered also in the selfe same spirite by the chyldren of the prophetes, the holy Apostles. In deede the lawe was geuen by Moses, but grace and veritie came by Iesus Christ, which grace this booke of the newe Testament doth most euidently commende and set out. In this is discoursed the whole mysterie of our saluation and redemption, purchased by our sauiour Christe, here is his holy conception described, his natiuitie, his circumcision, his whole lyfe and conuersation, his godly doctrine, his diuine miracles. In this booke of the newe Testament is set out his death, his resurrection, his assentiō, his sending of the holy spirite, his session in our flesh on the ryght hande of his father, making continual intercession to him for vs. In this booke is conteyned the fourme and order of his last iudgement, after the general resurrection of our bodies. These be the mysteries of our fayth, these be the groundes of our saluation, these be thus written that we shoulde beleeue them, and by our beleefe shoulde enioy lyfe euerlastyng. Once and in tymes past God diuersly and manye wayes spake vnto the fathers by the prophets, but in these last dayes he hath spoken vnto vs (vpon whom the endes of the worlde be come) by his owne sonne, whom he hath made heire of al thynges, whose dignitie is suche, that he is the brightnesse of his fathers glory, the very image of his substance, rulyng al thynges by the word of his power. This heauenly doctour so indued with glory & maiestie, we ought most reuerently to beleeue, as commended vnto vs from the authoritie of the heauenly father, to be heard as his most welbeloued sonne, in whom is his whole delight, by whom he wyl be pleased and pacified: It wyll els come to passe, saith that prophete Moses, that whosoeuer shal not heare and obey that prophete in the wordes that he shall speake in his fathers name, I wyll be, sayth the father, reuenger of hym. This is the last prophete to be looked for to speake vnto vs: In hym be vniuersally inclosed the riches and treasures of the wisdome and knowledge of GOD his father, by him he hath decreed finally to iudge the whole world, the liuing & the dead: by him hath he decreed to geue to his elect the life euerlasting, and to the reprobate (who hath contemned his lyfe and doctrine) death euerlasting. Let vs therfore seriously heare and obey this our heauenly teacher, submit our selues to this our iudge and rewarder: Let vs esteeme his doctrine and conuersation, as a ful, perfect, and sufficient patterne of al holinesse and vertue: Let vs esteeme the doctrine of this booke, as a most inflexible rule to leade vs to al trueth and newnesse of lyfe. Here may we beholde the eternal legacies of the newe Testament, bequeathed from God the father in Christe his sonne to all his electes, I say, the legacies lincly renewed vnto vs, not of deliuerance from Pharao his seruitude, but from the bondage & thraldome of that perpetuall aduersarie of ours the deuil: here may we behold our inheritaunce, not of the temporal land of Chanaan, or of the translation of vs to the place of worldly paradise: but here we may see the ful restitution of vs, both in body and soule, to the celestial paradise, the heauenly citie of Hierusalem aboue, there to raigne with God the father, God the sonne, and God the holy ghost for euer. Which legacies of his Testament promised and bequeathed, were notwithstandyng recorded in the bookes of the olde Testament to our auncient fathers, which in hope beleeued in Christ to come, who was paynted before them in figures and shadowes, and signified in their old sacramentes ordeined for that time: but now more euidently renewed & exhibited vnto vs, not in figure, but in deede, not in promise, but in open sight, in feeling, in handling and touchyng of this eternall lyfe, most manifestly confirmed vnto vs in Christ his blood in this his newe Testament continued and reuiued, yet in new sacraments, the better to beare in our remembraunce this his eternal Testament of al ioyfull felicities. Let vs nowe therefore good christian people, reioyce in these glad tidinges expressed vnto vs by the name of the Gospell of our sauiour Iesus Christ, and let it neuer fal out of our remembrance that we were sometyme ouervvhelmed in darknesse, and set in the shadovv of death: let vs consyder that we were sometyme by our natural birth the chyldren of God his wrath, and vvholy estranged from the housholde of God. Let vs beare in mind that vve were sometyme no people of God, nor his beloued, that vve vvere by nature braunches of the vvilde oliue, and novv by mere mercy grafted into the ryght and natural oliue tree: vvhercupon let vs the rather repose our lyfe in feare and reuerence. If vve be now the chyldren of light, let vs vvalke in this our light in al holynesse & godlynesse of lyfe, approuing that vvhiche is pleasing to the Lord. Let vs haue no felovvship vvith the vnfruitfull vvorkes of darknesse, and let vs hencefoorth be no more chyldren, vvauering and caried about vvith euery vvinde of doctrine, and by the deceipt and craftynesse of menne, whereby they lay in wayte to deceaue vs: but let vs folovve the trueth in loue and charitie, and in al thinges growe vp into hym which is the head, that is Christ our sauiour. If we be now the children of grace, and made liuely members of his body, though sometime straungers and forreyners farre of, and made neare by the blood of Christ, and made citizens with the saintes, and of the housholde of God:

The Gospel on the Epiphanie.

1 When Jesus was borne in Bethlehem, a citie of Jurie, in the dayes of Herode the king: beholde, there came wyse men from the east to Hierusalem,

2 Sayeing, Where is he that is borne king of the Iewes? For we haue seene his * starre in the east, & are come to worship him.

Num. 24. a.

3 When Herode the king had hearde these thinges, he was troubled, and al (the citie of) Hierusalem with him.

4 And when he had geathered al the cheefe priestes & scribes of the people togeather, he demaunded of them where Christe shoulde be borne.

5 And they saide vnto him, At Bethlehem in Iurie: For thus it is written by the prophete, Miche. 5.a. John. 7.f. 6 * And thou Bethlehem (in) the lande of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: For out of thee shal there comme a captayne, that shal gouerne my people Israel.

7 Then Herode, when he had priuily called the wyse men, enquired of them diligently what time the starre appeared.

8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, & saide, Goe, and searche diligently for the young childe, and when ye haue found him, bring me woord agayne, that I may comme and worship him also.

9 When they had hearde the king, they departed, and loe, the starre which they sawe in the East went before them, till it came and stoode ouer (the place) wherein the young childe was.

10 When they sawe the starre, they reioyced exceedingly with great ioy, 11 And went into the house, and they sawe the young childe with Marie his mother, Psal. 62.d. Esai. 60.b. * and fell downe, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, presented vnto him giftes, golde, and frankensence, and myrre.

12 And after they were warned of God in a dreame that they shoulde not returne to Herode, they departed into their owne countrey another way.

The Gospel on Innocents day. 13 When they were departed, beholde, the angel of the Lorde appeared to Joseph in a dreame, sayeing, Arise, and take the young childe, and (a) his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there till I bring thee woord: for it wyl comme to passe, that Herode shal seeke the young childe, to destroy him.

(a) Ioseph was not the father of Christe, els the angel woulde not haue sayde, Take the childe and his mother, but rather, Take thy childe.

14 When he arose, he tooke the young childe and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt:

15 And was there vnto the death of Herode, that it might be fulfilled whiche was spoken of the Lorde by the prophete, sayeing, Osee. 11.a. * Out of Egypt haue I called my sonne.

Num. 24.c. 16 Then Herode when he sawe that he was mocked of the wyse menne, was exceeding wroth, and sent foorth, and slewe al the childzen that were in Bethlehem, and in al the coastes therof, as many as were two yeeres olde and vnder, according to the time, whiche he had diligently searched out of the wyse menne.

17 Then was fulfilled that whiche was spoken by Jeremie the prophete, sayeing, 18 In Rama was there a voyce hearde, * lamentation, weeping, and great mourning, Rachel weeping (for) her childzen, and would not be comforted, because they were not. Jere. 31.c.

19 But when Herode was dead, beholde, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dreame to Joseph in Egypt, 20 Sayeing, Arise, & take the young childe and his mother, & goe into the lande of Israel: * For they are dead, whiche sought the young childes lyfe. Mark. 1.b. Luke. 3.d.

21 And he arose, & tooke the young child and his mother, & came into the land of Israel. John. 1.d.

22 But when he hearde that Archelaus did reigne in Iurie in the roome of his father Herode, he was afrayd to goe thyther: notwithstanding, after he was warned of god in a dreame, he turned aside into the parties of Galilee:

23 And when he was come thyther, he dwelt in a citie, whiche is called Nazareth, that it might be fulfylled which was spoken by the prophetes, He shalbe called a Nazarite.

Mar. 9.k. 42 And who so euer shal geue vnto one of these litle ones to drinke, a cup of cold water only, in the name of a disciple, verily I say vnto you, he shal in no wyse lose his rewarde.

The. xi. Chapter.

1. Christe preacheth. 2. John Baptist sendeth his disciples vnto him. 7 Christes testimonie concerning Iohn.

A 1 AND it came to passe, that when Jesus had made an end of commaūding his twelue disciples, he departed thence to teache, and to preache in theyr cities.

The Gospel on the third Sunday in Aduent. 2 Whē John had heard in ỳ prison the workes of Christe, he sent two of his disciples,

3 And sayde vnto him, Art thou he that should come? Or do we looke for another?

4 Jesus answeared, and sayde vnto them, Goe, and shewe John againe those thinges whiche ye do heare and see:

Esai. 35.b. 5 * The blinde receiue theyr syght, the halt do walke, the lepers are cleansed, and the deafe heare, the dead are raised vp, and the poore * haue the Gospel preached to them.

Esai. 61.a. 6 And happy is he who so euer shal not be offended in me.

B Luke. 11.d 7 * And as they departed, Jesus began to say vnto the multitude concernyng John, What went ye out into the wyldernesse to see? A reede shaken with the winde?

8 Or what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Beholde, they that weare soft (clothing) are in kynges houses.

9 But what went ye out for to see? A prophete? yea, I say vnto you, and more then a prophete.

Mala. 3.a. Mark. 1.a. 10 For this is he of whom it is written, Beholde, I send my messenger before thy face, whiche shal prepare thy way before thee.

11 Verily I say vnto you, Among them that are borne of women, there hath not ryssen a greater then John the Baptist: Notwithstanding, he that is lesse in the kyngdome of heauen, is greater then he.

12 From the dayes of John the Baptist, vntil nowe, the kingdome of heauen suffereth violence, & the violent plucke it (vnto them.)

(a) We haue song mournyng songes vnto you.
18 For Johan came neyther eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a deuyl.
19 The sonne of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold a man glutton, and a wyne bybber, & a freende vnto publicanes and sinners: and wysdome was iustified of her chyldren.
Luke.10.c. 20 *Then began he to vpbrayde the cities, wherein most of his myghty woorkes were done, because they repented not.
D 21 Woe vnto thee Chorazin, woe vnto thee Bethsaida: for yf the myghty woorkes which were done in you, had ben done in Tyre and Sidon, they woulde haue repented long agoe in sackcloth and ashes.
22 But I say vnto you, It shalbe easyer for Tyre and Sidon at the day of iudgement, then for you.
23 And thou Capernaum, which hast ben lyfted vp into heauen, shalt be brought downe to hel: For yf the myghty woorkes which haue ben done in thee, had ben done among them of Sodome, they would haue remayned vntyl this day.
24 But I say vnto you, that it shalbe easier for the lande of Sodome, in the day of iudgement, then for thee.
The Gospel on saint Matthias day. 25 At that time Jesus answeared, & sayde, I thanke thee, O father, Lord of heauen & earth, because thou hast hyd these thinges from the wyse and prudent, and hast shewed them vnto babes.
26 Euen so, O father, for so was it thy good pleasure.
Mat.28.d. Luke.10.d. Johan.3.d. Johan.7.d. and.8.c. 27 *All thinges are geuen vnto me of my father: * & no man knoweth the sonne, but the father: neyther knoweth any man the father, saue the sonne, and he to whomsoeuer the sonne wyl open (hym.)

The .xii. Chapter.

3. Christe excuseth his disciples which plucke the eares of corne.

A 1 AT that time, Jesus went on the Sabboth dayes* through the corne, and his disciples were an hungred, and began Marke.2.d Deut.23.d. to *plucke the eares of corne, and to eate.
2 But when the Pharisees sawe (them,) they sayde vnto him, Behold, thy disciples doo that whiche is not lawful to doo vpon the Sabboth day.
3 But he sayd vnto them, Haue ye not read what Dauid dyd when he was an hungered, and they that were with hym,
4 *Howe he entred into the house of God, and dyd eate the shewe bread, whiche was not lawful for hym to eate, neyther for them whiche were with hym, but only for the priestes? I.Sa.21.a.
5 Or haue ye not read in the lawe, how that on the Sabboth dayes the priestes in the temple (a) prophane the Sabboth, and are blamelesse? (a) That is, do vncleane woorkes.
6 But I say vnto you, that in this place is (one) greater then the temple.
7 But yf ye had knowen what this meaneth, *I wyl mercy and not sacrifice, ye woulde not haue condemned the giltlesse. B Marke.11.b Osee.6.b.
8 For the sonne of man is Lord of the Sabboth day.
9 And when he was departed thence, * he went into theyr synagogue, Marke.3.a.
10 And beholde, there was a man whiche had his hand dried vp, and they asked him, saying, *Is it lawful to heale vpon ý Sabboth dayes, that they myght accuse hym. Luke.14.a.
11 And he sayde vnto them, What man of you wyl there be that shal haue * one sheepe: and yf it fal into a pit on the Sabboth day, wyl he not take holde of it, and lyft it out? Deut.22.a.
12 Howe muche more then is a man better then a sheepe? Wherefore it is lawful to do wel on the Sabboth dayes.
13 Then sayth he to the man, Stretche foorth thy hande: and he stretched it foorth, and it was restored whole like as the other.
14 *Then the Pharisees went out, and held a counsayle agaynst hym, how they myght destroy hym. E Marke.3.a. Johan.10.g.
15 But when Jesus knewe (it,) he departed thence: and great multitudes folowed hym, and he healed them al,
16 And charged them that they should not make hym knowen:
17 That it myght be fulfilled whiche was spoken by Esaias the prophete, sayeing,
18 *Beholde my chylde whom I haue chosen, my beloued, in whom my soule wel delighteth: I wyl put my spirite vpon him, & he shal shewe iudgement to the Gentiles. Esai.43.a.
19 He shal not stryue, nor crye, neyther shal any man heare his voyce in the streetes.
20 A bruysed reede shal he not breake, and smoking flaxe shal he not quench, til he send foorth iudgement vnto victorie:
21 And in his name shal the Gentiles trust. D
22 *Then was brought vnto him one possessed with a deuyl, blinde & dumbe: and he healed him, insomuche that the blynde and Luke.11.b.
dumbe dumbe both spake and sawe.

23 And al the people were amased, & sayd, Is not this that sonne of Dauid?

Mat.12.d. Marke.3.c. Luke.11.c. 24 *But when the Pharisees hearde (it) they sayde, This (felowe) dooth not caste out the deuils, but by Beelzebub the prince of the deuils.

25 But when Jesus knew theyr thoughtes, he sayde vnto them, Euery kyngdome diuided agaynst it selfe, is brought to desolation: & euery citie or house diuided against it selfe, shal not stande.

26 And if Satan cast out Satan, then were he diuided agaynst hym selfe, how shal then his kyngdome endure?

E 27 Also if I by Beelzebub caste out deuyls, by whom doo your children cast them out? Therefore they shalbe your iudges.

28 But yf I caste out the deuyls by the spirite of God, then is the kyngdome of God comme vpon you.

Luke.11.c. 29 Or els, *how can one enter into a strong mans house, and spoyle his goodes: except he first bynde the strong man, and then wil spoyle his house?

30 He that is not with me, is agaynst me: & he that gathereth not with me, scattereth abroade.

Marke.3.d. Luke.12.b. 31 Wherefore I say vnto you, *Al manner of sinne and blasphemie shalbe forgeuen vnto men: but the blasphemie against the (holy) spirite, shal not be forgeuen vnto men.

1.Reg.2.c. 32 *And whosoeuer speaketh a word against the sonne of man, it shalbe forgeuen hym: but whosoeuer speaketh agaynst the holye ghost, it shal not be forgeuē hym, neither in this worlde, neyther in the worlde to come.

F 34 O generation of vipers, howe can ye speake good thynges, when ye your selues are euyl? *For out of the abundance of the hart, the mouth speaketh.

Psal.40.b. Luke.6.g.

35 A good man out of the good treasure of the hart, bryngeth foorth good thynges: and an euyl man out of euyl treasure, bringeth foorth euyl thynges.

36 But I say vnto you, That of euery idle worde that men shal speake, they shal geue accompt thereof in the day of iudgement.

2.Reg.1.c. Luke.15.d. Marke.8.b 37 *For of thy wordes thou shalt be iustified, and of thy wordes thou shalt be condemned.

Luke.11.d. Mat.16.a. 38 Then certaine of the Scribes, and of the Pharisees, answeared hym, saying, *Maister, we wyl see a signe of thee.

Marke 8.b. John.6.b. 39 But he answeared, and said to them, An euyl and adulterous generation *seeketh a signe, and there shal no signe be geuen to it, but the signe of the prophete Jonas. Jonas.2.a.

40 For as Jonas was three dayes and three nyghtes in the Whales belly: so shal the sonne of man be three dayes & three nightes in the hart of the earth.

41 The men of Ninive shal ryse in iudgement with this nation, and condemne it: because *they repented at the preachyng of Jonas, and beholde here (is) one greater then Jonas. Jonas.3.c.

42 *The queene of the South shal ryse in the iudgement with this generation, & shal condemne it: for she came from the vtermost partes of the earth to heare the wysedome of Solomon, & beholde in this place (is) one greater then Solomon. Luke.11.d. 3.Reg.10.a. 2.Para.9.a

43 *When the vncleane spirite is gone out of a man, he walketh throughout drye places, seeking rest, and findeth none. Luke.11.d.

44 Then he sayth, I wyl returne into my house from whence I came out. And when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished.

45 Then goeth he, and taketh with hym selfe seuen other spirites woorse then hym selfe, & they enter in, and dwel there: *And the last state of that man is woorse then the firste. Euen so shal it be also vnto this froward generation. G 1.Pet.2.d. Hebr.6.a.

46 Whyle he yet talked to the people, *behold, his mother and his brethren stoode without, desyryng to speake with hym. Marke.3.d. Luke.8.c.

47 Then one sayde vnto hym, *Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiryng to speake with thee. Marke.3.d. Luke.8.c.

49 And when he had stretched foorth his hande towarde his disciples, he sayd, *Behold my mother and my brethren. John.15.b.

50 For whosoeuer shal doo the wyl of my father whiche is in heauen, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

The.xiii. Chapter.

3. The parable of the seede, 24, and of the tares.

1 THe same day when Jesus was gonne out of the house, *he sate by the sea side. A Marke.3.a.

2 And great multitudes were gathered togeather vnto hym, (so) that he went into the shyp, and sate, and the whole multitude stoode on the shore.

3 And he spake many thyngs to them in parables, sayeing, Beholde, the sower went foorth to sowe.

4 And when he sowed, somme seedes fel by the wayes side: and the foules came, and deuoured them vp.

5 Some

5 Some fel vpon stonie places, where they had not much earth: and anone they sprong vp, because they had no deepenesse of earth.
6 And when the sunne was vp, they caught heate: and because they had not roote, they wythered away.
7 Agayne, some fel among thornes: and the thornes sprong vp, and choked them.
8 But some fel into good grounde: and brought forth fruite, some an hundred fold, some sixtie folde, some thirtie folde.
9 Who hath eares to heare, let hym heare.
10 And the disciples came, and sayde vnto hym, Why speakest thou vnto them by parables?
Mar.4.a Luke.7.b 11 He answeared, and sayd vnto them, *Because it is geuen vnto you to knowe the secretes of the kingdome of heauen, but to them it is not geuen.
Mat 25.c. Mar.4.c. Luke.8.b. and.19.d. 12 * For who so euer hath, to him shalbe geuen, and he shal haue more abundance: but who so euer hath not, from hym shalbe taken away, euen that he hath.
13 Therfore speake I to them in parables: because they seeing, see not: & hearing, they heare not, neyther do they vnderstande.
14 And in them is fulfylled the prophecie of Esaias, which sayth, With the eare ye shal heare: and shal not vnderstand, and seeing, ye shal see, and shal not perceiue.
Esai.6.c. Mar.4.b. Luke.8.b. John.12.b. Actes.28.f. Rom.11.b. 15 For this peoples hart is waxed grosse, and their eares are dul of hearyng, & theyr eyes haue they closed: lest at any time they shoulde see with theyr eyes, and heare with theyr eares, and shoulde vnderstande with theyr hart, & shoulde conuert, that I might heale them.
Luke.10.d. 16 * Blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your eares, for they heare.
1.Pet.1.d. 17 Verily I say vnto you, * that many prophetes and righteous men haue desyred to see those thinges whiche ye see, and haue not seene: and to heare those things which ye heare, and haue not hearde.
Mar.4.b. Luke.8.b. 18 Heare ye therfore the similitude of the sower.
19 When one heareth the woord of the kyngdome, and vnderstandeth it not, then commeth that euil, and catcheth away that whiche was sowen in his hart: this is he whiche receiued seede by the way syde.
20 But he that receiued the seede into stony places, the same is he that heareth ỹ word, and anone with ioy receiueth it:
D 21 Yet hath he not roote in him selfe, but dureth for a season: for when tribulation or persecution aryseth because of the woorde, by and by he is offended.
22 He also that receiued seede into ỹ thornes, is he that heareth the woorde, and the care of this world, and the deceiptfulnesse of riches, choke vp the woord, and so is he made vnfruiteful.
23 But he that receiued seede into the good ground, is he that heareth the woorde, and vnderstandeth it, which also beareth fruit: and bringeth forth, some an hundred folde, some sixtie folde, some thirtie folde.
24 Another parable put he forth vnto them, saying, * The kyngdome of heauen is lykened vnto a man, whiche sowed good seede in his seelde. Mar.4.c. The Gospel on the fifth sunday after the Epiphanie.
25 But while men sleapt, his enimie came and sowed tares among the wheate, and went his way.
26 But when the blade was sprong vp, and had brought forth fruite, then appeared the tares also.
27 So, the seruantes of the housholder came, and sayde vnto hym, Syr, dyddest not thou sowe good seede in thy seelde, from whence then hath it tares?
E 28 He sayde vnto them, the malitious man hath done this. The seruantes sayde vnto him, Wilt thou then that we goe, and geather them vp?
29 But he sayde, Nay: lest while ye geather vp the tares, ye roote vp also the wheate with them.
30 Let both growe togeather vntyl the harueste: and in tyme of harueste, I wyl say to the reapers, Geather ye togeather first the tares, and bynde them in bundels to burne them: but cary the wheate into my barne.
31 Another parable put he forth vnto them, saying, The kyngdome of heauen is lyke to a graine of mustarde seede, which a man tooke and sowed in his seelde. Mat.4.c. Luke.13.d.
32 Which in deede is the least of al seedes: But when it is growen, it is the greatest among herbes, and is a tree: (so) that the byrdes of the ayre come and make theyr neastes in the branches thereof.
33 Another parable spake he vnto them, (saying,) * The kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto leauen, whiche a woman tooke, and hydde in three peckes of meale, tyl al were leauened. Luke.13.d.
34 * Al these thynges spake Jesus vnto the people in parables, and without a parable spake he not vnto them: Mar.4.c.
35 That it might be fulfilled whiche was spoken by the prophet, saying, * I wil open my mouth in parables, I wil speake forth thinges which haue ben keapt secrete from the fundation of the worlde. F Psal.68.a.
36 Then Jesus, when he had sent the people away, went into the house: * And his disciples came vnto hym, saying, Declare vnto vs the parable of the tares of the seelde. Mar.4.c.
37 He

37 He answeared, and sayde vnto them, He that soweth the good seede, is the sonne of man.

38 The feelde, is the worlde. The good seede, these are the children of the kingdome: But the tares, are the children of the wicked.

39 And the enimie that sowed them, is the deuil. The harueste, is the ende of the worlde. The reapers, be the angels.

40 Euen as the tares therefore are geathered and brent in the fyre: so shal it be in the ende of this worlde.

G

Apoc. 14.d. 41 * The sonne of man shal sende foorth his angels, and (they) shal geather out of his kyngdome al thynges that offende, and them whiche do iniquitie:

42 And shal cast them into a furnace of fyre: there shalbe wayling, & gnashing of teeth.

Dani.12.a Sapi.3.b. 1.Cor.15.f 43 * Then shal the righteous shyne as the sunne in the kyngdome of their father. Who hath eares to heare, let him heare.

44 Agayne, the kyngdome of heauen is like vnto treasure hyd in the feelde: the whiche when a man hath founde, hydeth, and for ioy therof goeth and selleth al that he hath, and buyeth that felde.

45 Agayne, the kyngdome of heauen is like vnto a marchant man, seekyng goodly pearles:

46 Which when he had found one precious pearle, went and solde al that he had, and bought it.

47 Agayne, the kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto a net that was cast into the sea, and geathered of al kynde, 48 Which, when it was ful, (the fishers) drue to land, and sate downe, and geathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away.

49 So shal it be at the ende of the worlde: the angels shal come foorth, and seuer the bad from among the iust, Mat.22.b. and.25.a. 50 And shal cast them into a furnace of fyre: * there shalbe waylyng, and gnashyng of teeth.

51 Iesus sayth vnto them, Haue ye vnderstande al these thynges? They say vnto hym, Yea Lorde.

52 Then said he vnto them, Therfore euery scribe whiche is taught in the kingdome of heauen, is like vnto a man that is an housholder, whiche bryngeth foorth out of his treasure thynges newe and olde.

Mar. 6.a. 53 And it came to passe that when Iesus had finished these parables, he departed thence.

Luke.4.c. 54 And when he came into his owne countrey, he taught them in their synagogue, in so muche that they were * astonyed, and sayde, Whence commeth this wysedome and mightie woorkes vnto hym?

Mar.3.a. Iohn.6.c. 55 * Is not this the carpenters sonne? Is not his mother called Marie? & his brethren, Iames, and Ioses, & Simon, and Iudas?

56 And are not al his sisters with vs? whence hath he then al these thynges?

Mar.6.a Luke.4.d Iohn.5.f 57 And they were offended in him. But Iesus sayd vnto them, A prophet is not without honour, saue in his owne countrey, and in his owne house.

58 And he did not many mightie woorkes there, because of their vnbeleefe.

9 And the king was sory: neuertheles, for the othes sake, and them which sate also at the table, he cõmaunded it to be geuen her:

10 And sent (a tormenter) and beheaded Iohn in the prison.

11 And his head was brought in a platter, and geuen to the damsel: and (she) brought it to her mother.

12 And his disciples came, and tooke vp his body, and buried it: and went and tolde Iesus.

Mar.6.d. Luke.9.b. Iohn.6.a. 13 When Iesus hearde of it, he * departed thence in a ship, vnto a desart place out of the way: & when the people had heard therof, they followed him on foote out of the cities.

C

14 And when Iesus went foorth, he sawe much people, and was moued with mercy toward them, and he healed their sicke.

15 And when it was euening, his disciples came to hym, saying, This is a desart place, and the houre is nowe past: let the people depart, that they may goe into the villages, and buye them vittayles.

16 But

36 But Jesus sayde vnto them, They haue no neede to goe away: geue ye them to eate.
17 They say vnto hym, We haue not here but fyue loaues, and two fysshes.
18 He sayde, Bryng them hyther to me.
19 And when he had commaunded the people to sit downe on the grasse, and had take the fiue loaues, and the two fysshes, and lyfted vp his eyes towarde heauen, he blessed: and when he had broken (them) he gaue the loaues to his disciples: and his disciples to the people.
20 And they dyd al eate, and were suffised: And they tooke vp (of the fragmentes that remayned) twelue baskets ful.

Mark.6.f John.6.b 22 * And strayghtway Jesus constrayned his disciples to geat vp into a ship, and to goe before hym vnto the other side, whyle he sent the people away.

24 But the shyp was nowe in the middest of the sea, and was toste with the waues: for it was a contrary wynde.
25 And in the fourth watche of the night, Jesus wēt vnto them, walkyng on the sea.
26 And when the disciples sawe him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, That it is a spirite: and they cryed out for feare.
27 But straightway Jesus spake vnto them, sayeing, Be of good cheare: it is I, be not afrayde.
E 28 Peter answered hym, and sayde, Lorde, yf it be thou, bydde me comme vnto thee on the water.
29 And he sayd, Comme. And when Peter was comme downe out of the ship, he walked on the water to goe to Jesus.
30 But when he sawe a myghtie wynde, he was afrayde: and when he began to sincke, he cryed, sayeing, Lorde saue me.

3. Christe excuseth his disciples, and rebuketh the Scribes and Pharisees.

1 Then came to Jesus Scribes and Pharisees, whiche were comme from Hierusalem, sayeing, A Mat.7.s
2 Why do thy disciples transgresse the tradition of the elders? for they washe not their handes when they eate bread.
3 But he answeared, and sayde vnto them, Why doo ye also transgresse the commaundement of God by your tradition?
4 For God commaunded, sayeing, *Honour thy father & thy mother. And he that curseth father or mother, let him die the death. Exod.20.b. Mark.7.b
5 But ye say, Whosoeuer shal say to his father or his mother, *By the gyft that (is offered) of me, thou shalt be helped: Exod.21.b Ephel.6.a

12 Then came his disciples, and sayde vnto hym, Knowest thou not that the Pharisees were offended after they heard this saying?
13 But he answeared and sayde, Al manner planting whiche my heauenly father hath not planted, shalbe rooted vp.
14 Let them alone: they be blynde leaders of the blynd. If the blinde leade the blind, both shal fal into the ditche. C
15 Then answeared Peter, and sayde vnto hym, Declare vnto vs this parable.
16 Jesus sayde, Are ye also yet without vnderstandyng?
17 Doo not ye yet vnderstande, that whatsoeuer entreth in at the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?
18 But those thinges which procede out of the mouth, comme forth from the hart, and they defile the man.

21 And Jesus, when he went thence, departed into the coastes of Tyre and Sidon.

22 And beholde, a woman of the Chanaanites, whiche came out of the same coastes, cryed vnto hym, sayeing, Haue mercye on me, O Lorde, thou sonne of Dauid, my daughter is greeuously vexed with a deuil.

25 Then came she, and wooꝛ ipped hym, sayeing, Lorde helpe me.

27 And she sayde, Yes Lorde, for the litle dogges also eate of the crummes which fal from their maisters table.

E 28 Then Jesus answeared, and sayde vnto her, O woman, great is thy fayth: be it donne vnto thee euen as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole euen from that same houre.

29 And Jesus, when he was departed from thence, came negh vnto the sea of Galilee, and when he was gonne vp into a mountayne, he sate downe there.

30 Then great multitudes came vnto him, hauyng with them those that were lame, blynde, dumbe, maymed, and other many, and cast them downe at Jesus feete, * and he healed them:

A 1 The Gospel on Septuagesima Sunday.

FOr the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a man that is an housholder, whiche went out early in the morning to hyre labourers into his vineyarde.

2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a peny a day, he sent them into his vineyarde.

3 And when he went out about the thirde houre, he sawe other standyng idle in the market place,

4 And sayde vnto them, Goe ye also into the vineyarde, and whatsoeuer is ryght, I wyl geue you. And they went their way.

5 Agayne, when he went out about the sixth and nienth houre, he dyd lykewyse.

6 And about the eleuenth houre, when he went out, he founde other standyng idle, and sayth vnto them, Why stande ye here al the day idle?

B 7 They saye vnto hym, Because no man hath hired vs. He sayth vnto them, Goe ye also into the vineyarde: and whatsoeuer is ryght, that shal ye receiue.

8 So when euen was comme, the Lorde of the vineyarde sayth vnto his stewarde, Cal the labourers, and geue them their hire, beginning from the last, vntyl the first.

9 And when they came that (were hyred) about the eleuenth houre, they receiued euery man a peny.

10 But when the first came also, they supposed that they shoulde haue receiued more: & they likewyse receiued euery man a peny.

11 And when they had receiued it, they murmured agaynst the good man of the house, 12 Saying, these last haue wrought but one houre, and thou hast made them equal vnto vs, whiche haue borne the burden and feruent heate of the day.

13 But he answeared to one of them, and sayde, Freende, I doo thee no wrong: diddest thou not agree with me for a peny?

14 Take that thyne is, and goe thy way: I wyl geue vnto this last, euen as vnto thee. ℭ

15 Is it not lawful for me to doo that I wyl with myne owne? Is thyne eye euyl, because I am good?

16 *So the last shalbe first, and the first (shalbe) last: for many be called, but fewe (be) chosen. Mat.19.d Mark.10.c Luke.13.f

37 * But as the dayes of Noe were, ſo ſhal Gen.7.d. alſo the comming of the ſonne of man be. Luke.17.f.

38 For as in the dayes that were before the ſiudde, they were eating, and drynkyng, marrying, & geuing in marryage, euen vntyl the day that Noe entred into the arke, 39 And knewe not tyl the ſiudde came, and tooke them al away: ſo ſhal alſo the comming of the ſonne of man be.

44 Therefore be ye also redy: for in such an houre as ye thynke not, the sonne of man commeth.

45 Who then is that faythful and wise seruant, whom his Lorde hath made ruler ouer his houshold, to geue them meate in season:

46 Blessed is that seruant, whom his Lord when he commeth, shal find so doyng.

47 Verely I say vnto you, that he shal make hym ruler ouer al his goodes.

48 But & yf that euyl seruant shal say in his hart, My Lord wil be long a comming:

49 And so begin to smite his felowes, yea, and to eare and drinke with the drunken:

50 The same seruantes Lord shal come in a day when he looketh not for hym, and in an houre that he is not ware of:

51 And shal hewe hym in peeces, and geue hym his portion with the hypocrites: there shalbe weepyng, and gnashing of teeth.

The .xxv. Chapter.

1. The ten virgins. 14. The talentes deliuered to the seruantes. 32. And of the general iudgement.

A1 THen shal the kingdome of heauen be likened vnto tenne virgins, which when they had taken their lampes, went forth to meete the bridegrome.

2 But fiue of them were wyse, and fiue were foolishe.

3 They that were foolishe, when they had taken their lampes, tooke none oyle with them:

4 But the wyse tooke oyle in their vessels, with their lampes also.

5 While the bridegrome taryed, they al slumbred and sleapt.

6 And euen at mydnight there was a crye made, Beholde, the bridegrome commeth, goe ye out to meete hym.

B7 Then al those virgins arose, and prepared their lampes.

8 So the foolishe said vnto the wise, Geue vs of your oyle, for our lampes are gone out.

9 But the wise answeared, saying, (Not so) lest there be not ynough for vs and you: but goe ye rather to them that sel, and buye for your selues.

10 And while they went to buye, the bridegrome came: and they that were ready, went in with hym to the maryage, and the doore was shut vp.

11 Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, *Lorde, Lorde, open to vs. Mat.7.c.

12 But he answeared, and sayde, Verely I say vnto you, I knowe you not.

13 *Watche therfore, for ye knowe neither the day, nor yet the houre, wherin the sonne of man commeth. Mat.24.d. Mar.13.d. Luke.12.c.

14 *Lykewyse as (when) a (certayne) man taking his iourney into a strange countrey, called his owne seruantes, and delyuered vnto them his goodes. C Mar.13.d. Luke.19.b.

15 And vnto one he gaue fiue talentes, to another two, and to another one, to euery man after his habilitie, and strayghtway tooke his iourney.

16 Then he that had receiued the fyue talentes, went and occupyed with the same, and made (them) other fiue talentes.

17 And lykewyse he that had receiued two, he also gayned other two.

18 But he that had receiued one, went and digged in the earth, and hid his lordes money.

19 After a long season, the lord of those seruantes commeth, & reckeneth with them.

20 And so he that had receiued fiue talentes, came and brought other fyue talentes, saying, Lorde, thou deliueredst vnto me fiue talentes, beholde, I haue gayned besydes them fyue talentes moe.

21 His Lord sayd vnto hym, Wel done thou good and faythful seruant, thou hast ben faythful ouer fewe thinges, I wyl make thee ruler ouer many thynges: enter thou into the ioy of thy Lorde. D

22 He also that had receiued two talentes, came, and sayde, Lorde, thou deliueredst vnto me two talentes: beholde, I haue wonne two other talentes besydes them.

23 His Lorde sayde vnto hym, Wel done good and faythful seruant, thou hast ben faythful ouer fewe thynges, I wil make thee ruler ouer many thynges: enter thou into the ioy of thy Lorde.

24 Then he whiche had receiued the one talent, came, and sayd, Lord, I knewe thee that thou art an hard man, reapyng where thou hast not sowen, and geathering where thou hast not strawed:

25 And therefore was I afrayde, and went and hyd thy talent in the earth: loe, there thou hast that thyne is.

26 His Lorde answeared, and sayde vnto him, Thou euil and slouthful seruant, thou knewest that I reape where I sowed not, and geather where I haue not strawed:

27 Thou oughtest therefore to haue delyuered my money to the exchangers, and then at my comming shoulde I haue receiued myne owne with vantage.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and geue it vnto him which hath ten talentes. E Mat.13.c.

29 *For vnto euery one that hath, shalbe geuen, Mar.3.c.

uen, and he shal haue abundance: but from hym that hath not, shalbe taken away, euen that whiche he hath.

30 And caste the vnprofitable seruant into vtter darknesse,* there shalbe weping, and gnashyng of teeth.

31 When the sonne of man shal come in his glory, & al the holy angelles with him, then shal he sit vpon the throne of his glory.

32 And before hym shalbe gathered al nations,* and he shal separate them one from another, as a shepheard diuideth his sheepe from the goates.

33 And he shal set the sheepe on his right hande, but the goates on the leaft.

34 Then shal the king say vnto them (which shalbe) on his right hand, Come ye blessed of my father, inherite the kingdome, which hath ben* prepared for you from the fundation of the worlde.

35 *For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me meate: I was thirstie, & ye gaue me drinke: I was a stranger, and ye tooke me in:

F 36 Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sicke, and ye visited me: *I was in prison, and ye came vnto me.

37 Then shal the ryghteous answeare him, saying, Lorde, when sawe we thee an hungred, and fedde thee? or thirstie, and gaue thee drynke?

38 When sawe we thee a stranger, & tooke thee in? or naked, and clothed thee?

39 Or when saw we thee sicke, or in prison, and came vnto thee?

40 And the kyng shal answeare, and say vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, in as much as ye haue donne it vnto one of the least of these my brethren, ye haue donne (it) vnto me.

41 Then shal he say also vnto them on the leaft hande, Departe from me, ye cursed,* into the euerlastyng fire, whiche is prepared for the deuyl and his angels.

42 For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me no meate: I was thirstie, and ye gaue me no drynke:

43 I was a stranger, and ye tooke me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sicke, and in prison, and ye visited me not.

44 Then shal they also answeare hym, saying, Lorde, when saw we thee an hungred, or a thyrst, or a stranger, or naked, or sicke, or in prison, & did not minister vnto thee?

45 Then shal he answeare them, saying, Verily I say vnto you, in as muche* as ye dyd it not to one of the least of these, ye dyd it not to me.

46 And* these shal go away into euerlasting paine: but the ryghteous into life eternal.

John.20.a

IN the latter ende of the Sabboth day, which dawneth ỳ first (day) of the weeke, came Marie Magdalene, and the other Marie, to see the sepulchze.

2 And beholde, there was a great earthquake, foz the angel of the Lozde descended from heauen, and came and rolled backe the stone from the dooze, and sate vpon it.

3 His countenance was lyke lightning, and his rayment whyte as snowe.

4 And foz feare of hym the keepers dyd shake, and became as dead menne.

5 *The angel answeared, and sayd vnto the women, Feare ye not: fez I knowe that ye seeke Jesus, whiche was crucifyed. Mark.16.b Luke.24.a

6 He is not here, he is risen, as he sayde, Comme, see the place where that the Lozd was layde,

7 And go quickly, and tel his disciples that he is rysen from the dead. And beholde, he goeth befoze you into Galilee, there shal ye see hym: loe, I haue tolde you. B

8 *And they departed quickly from the sepulchze, with feare, and great ioy, and dyd runne, to bzyng his disciples woozde. Mark.16.b Luke.24.b.

9 And as they went to tel his disciples, beholde, Jesus met them, sayeing, Al hayle. And they came, and helde hym by the feete, and woozshipped hym.

10 Then sayde Jesus vnto them, Be not afrayde: goe tel my bzethzen that they goe into Galilee, and there shal they see me.

11 When they were gonne, beholde, somme of the watche came into the citie, & shewed vnto the hygh priestes al the thynges that were donne.

12 And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gaue large money vnto the souldiers,

13 Sayeing, Say ye, His disciples came by nyght, and stole hym away whyle we slept. C

14 And yf this come to the deputies (eares) we wyl perswade him, and make you careless.

15 So they, when they had taken the money, dyd as they were taught. And this sayeing was noysed among the Jewes vntyl this day.

16 Then the eleuen disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountayne, where Jesus had appoynted them.

17 And when they sawe him, they woozshipped him: but somme doubted.

18 And Jesus came, and spake vnto them, sayeing, *Al power is geuen vnto me in heauen and in earth. Mat.11.d John.17.a

The fyrst Chapter.

2. The office of Iohn Baptist. 9. The baptisme of Christe, 13. his fastyng, 14. and preachyng.

A 1 THE begynnyng of the gospel of Jesu Chryst, the sonne of God.

2 As it hath ben wrytten in the prophetes, * Beholde, I sende my messenger before thy face, whiche shal prepare thy way before thee. (Mala.3.a, Matth.11.b, Luke.7.d)

3 A voyce of hym that crieth in the wylderneſſe, *Prepare ye the way of the Lord, and make his pathes straight. (Esai.40.a, Matth.3.a, Luke.3.a)

4 * Iohn was baptising in the wylderneſſe, and preachyng the baptisme of *repentance, for the remission of sinnes. (Mark.3.b, Luke.4.c)

5 And al the land of Jurie, and they of Hierusalem, went out vnto hym, and were al baptised of him in the ryuer of Jordane, confessing their sinnes. (Mark.3.b, Luke.3.c)

6 *Iohn was clothed with Camels heare, and with a girdle of a skinne about his loynes: and he did eate locustes and wilde hony, (Matth.3.a)

B 7 And preached, sayeng, *He that is stronger then I, commeth after me, whose shoo latchet I am not woorthy to stoupe downe, and vnloose. (Mark.3.b, Luke.3.c, Iohn.1.d)

8 I haue baptised you with water: but he shal baptise you with the holy ghost.

9 And it came to passe in those dayes, that Jesus came fro Nazareth (a citie) of Galilee, *and was baptised of Iohn in Jordane. (Matth.3.c)

10 And assoone as he was comme vp out of the water, * he sawe heauen open, and the spirite descendyng vpon hym lyke a doue. (Matth.3.d)

11 And there came a voyce from heauen, *Thou art my deare sonne, in whom I am wel pleased. (Matth.3.d, Luke.3.b, Luke.17.b)

12 And immediatly *the spirite driueth him into wylderneſſe. (Matth.4.a, Esai.42.a, Mark.9.a)

13 And he was there in the wylderneſſe fourtie dayes tempted of Satan, and was with the wyld beastes, *and the angels ministred vnto him. (Matth.4.b)

C 14 After that Iohn was deliuered (to prison) *Jesus came into Galilee, * preaching the gospel of the kyngdome of God, (Matth.4.c, Luke.4.b)

15 And sayeng, The tyme is comme, and the kingdome of God is at hande: *repent ye, and beleeue the Gospel. (Matth.4.b)

16 * As he walked by the sea of Galilee, he sawe Simon, and Andrewe his brother, casting nettes into the sea (for they were fyshers.) (Matth.3.a, Matth.4.c)

17 And Jesus sayd vnto them, Folowe me, and I wyl make *you to become fyshers of menne. (Jere.16.c)

18 And straightway they forsoke their nets, and folowed him.

19 And when he had gonne a litle further thence, he sawe James (the sonne) of Zebedee, and Iohn his brother, which also were in the shyp mendyng their nettes.

20 And anone he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the shyp with the hired seruantes, and folowed hym.

D 21 And they came into Capernaum, and straightway on the Sabboth dayes he entred into the synagogue, and taught.

22 And they were astonied at his learning: *for he taught them as one that had auctoritie, and not as the Scribes. (Matth.4.b, Matth.7.d, Luke.3.e)

23 * And there was in their synagogue, a man vexed with an vncleane spirite, and he cryed alowde, (Matth.7.d, Luke.4.c)

24 Sayeng, Let vs alone, what haue we (to do) with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? Art thou comme to destroy vs? I knowe thee what thou art (euen) that holy one of God.

25 And Jesus rebuked hym, sayeng, Hold thy peace, and comme out of hym.

26 And when the vncleane spirite had torne him, and cried with a loude voyce, he came out of hym.

27 And they were al amased, insomuche that they demaunded one of another amõg them selues, sayeng, What thyng is this? What new doctrine is this? For with auctoritie commaũdeth he the foule spirites, and they doo obey him.

28 And immediatly his fame spread abrode E throughout al the region bordering on Galilee.

29 And forthwith, when they were comme out of the synagogue, *they entred into the house (Matth.8.b, Luke.4.f) house of Simon & Andrewe, with Iames and Iohn.

30 But Simons wyues mother lay sicke of a feuer: and anone they tel him of her.

31 And he came and tooke her by the hande, and lift her vp: and immediatly ỹ feuer forsooke her, and she ministred vnto them.

32 And at euen, when the sunne was downe, they brought vnto him al that were diseased, & them that were vexed with deuils:

33 And al the citie was geathered togeather at the doore.

34 And he healed many that were sicke of diuers diseases, and * cast out many deuils: and suffered not the deuils to speake, because they knewe him.

Luke.4.g. Mark.3.b.

35 And in the morning very early before day, Iesus when he was risen vp, went out, & departed into a solitarie place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon, & they that were with hym, folowed after him:

37 And when they had founde him, they said vnto him, Al menne seeke for thee.

38 And he saide vnto them, Let vs goe into the next townes, that I may preache there also: for therefore am I comme.

39 And he preached in their synagogues in al Galilee, and cast the deuils out.

40 * And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling downe to him, & sayeing vnto him, If thou wylt, thou canst make me cleane.

Mat.8.a. Luke.5.c.

41 And Iesus hauing compassion on him, when he had put foorth his hande, touched him, and sayth vnto him, I wyl, be thou cleane.

42 And assoone as he had spoken, immediatly the leprosie departed from him, and he was made cleane.

43 And after he had geuen him a strait commaundement, he sent him away foorthwith:

44 And sayth vnto him, * See thou say nothyng to any man: but geat thee hence, shewe thee selfe to the priest, and offer for thy clensyng those thinges whiche Moses commaunded, for a witnesse vnto them.

Mark.7.d.

45 But he, assoone as he was departed, began openly to declare many thinges, and to publishe this rumour: insomuche, that Iesus coulde no more openly enter into the citie, but was without in desart places: and they came to him from euery quarter.

1 AFter (a fewe) dayes also, he entred A

2 And anone many were geathered togeather, (insomuche) that nowe there was no roome to receiue (them,) no not so much as about the doore: and he preached the word (of the Gospel) vnto them.

3 * And they come vnto him, bringing one sycke of the paulsie, whiche was borne of foure menne.

Mat.9.a. Luke.5.d.

4 And when they coulde not comme nygh vnto him for preasse, they vncouered the roofe (of the house) that he was in: & when they had broken vp the roofe, they do (with cordes) let downe the bedde wherein the sycke of the paulsye lay.

5 When Iesus sawe their fayth, he sayde vnto the sycke of the paulsie, * Sonne, thy synnes be forgeuen thee.

Esai.43.c. and.44.d. Luke.5.d.

6 But there were certayne of the Scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their harts,

7 Why dooth he thus speake blasphemies? Who can forgeue synnes, but GOD onlye? B

8 And immediatly, when Iesus perceiued in his spirit that they so reasō within themselues, he sayth vnto them, Why reason ye suche thinges in your hartes?

9 Whether is it easyer to say to the sicke of the paulsie, Thy sinnes be forgeuen thee: or to say, Arise, take vp thy bedde and walke?

10 But that ye may knowe that the sonne of man hath power in earth to forgeue sinnes, (he sayth to the sycke of the paulsye,)

11 I say vnto thee, * Aryse, and take vp thy bedde, & geat thee hence into thyne house.

15 And it came to passe, that when Iesus sate at meate in his house, many publicans and synners sate also togeather at meate with Iesus and his disciples: for there were many, and they folowed him.

16 And when the Scribes and Pharisees sawe him eate with publicanes and sinners, they sayde vnto his disciples, Howe is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicanes and synners?

18 And the disciples of Iohn, and of the Pharisees dyd fast: and they comme and say vnto him, Why doo the disciples of Iohn, and of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not?

19 And Iesus said vnto them, Can the children of the bryde chamber fast, whyle the bridegrome is with them? As long as they haue the bridegrome with them, they can not fast.

20 But the dayes wyl comme, when the bridegrome shalbe taken away from them, and then shal they fast in those dayes.

D 21 No man also soweth a peece of new cloth, vnto an olde garment: otherwayes, his newe peece taketh away (some what) from the olde (garment,) and so the rent is made woorse.

8 (For he sayde vnto hym, Comme out of the man, thou foule spirite.)

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answeared, sayeing, My name is legion: for we are many.

10 And he prayed hym instantly that he woulde not sende them away out of the countrey.

11 But there was there nygh vnto the mountaynes, a great heard of swyne, feedyng.

12 And al the deuyls besought him, saying, Sende vs into the swine, that we may enter into them. Matth.8.b. Luke.8.d

13 And anone, Jesus gaue them leaue. And the vncleane spirites went out, and entred into the swine, and the heard ranne headlong into the sea, (they were about two thousande,) and were choked in the sea.

14 And the swyneheardes fledde, and tolde it in the citie, and in the countrey. And they went out for to see what was donne: C

19 Howebeit, Jesus suffered him not, but sayth vnto him, Goe home to thy freendes, and shewe them howe great thinges the Lorde hath donne for thee, and had compassion on thee.

D 20 And he departed, and began to publishe in Decapolis, how great things Jesus had donne for him: and al menne dyd marueyle.

E 27 When she had heard of Jesus, she came in the preasse behinde him, and touched his garment.

28 For she saide, If I may but touche his clothes, I shalbe whole.

29 And straightway the fountayne of her blood was dryed vp: and she felt in her body that she was healed of the plague.

30 And Jesus immediatly knowyng in him selfe that vertue proceeded from him, turned him about in the preasse, and saide, Who touched my clothes?

31 And his disciples saide vnto him, Thou seest the people thrust thee, and askest thou, Who dyd touche me?

32 And he looked round about, for to see her that had donne this thing.

33 But the woman fearing and tremblyng, knowyng what was donne within her, came and fel downe before him, and tolde him al the trueth.

34 And he saide vnto her, Daughter,* thy fayth hath saued thee, goe in peace, and be whole of thy plague. Luke.4.g.

35 Whyle he yet spake, there comme from the ruler of ỹ synagogues (house,) certaine whiche sayde, Thy daughter is dead, why diseasest thou the maister any further? Mat.9.c. Luke.8.g. F

37 And he suffered no man to folowe hym, saue Peter, and James, and John, the brother of James.

38 *And he commeth to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and seeth the tumult, and them that weapt and wayled greatly. Mat.9.c. Luke.8.g.

39 And when he was comme in, he sayth vnto them, Why make ye this a doo, and weepe? ỹ Damsel is not dead, but sleepeth.

40 And they laught him to scorne: but he, after that he had put them al out, taketh the father and the mother of the Damsel, and them that were with him, and entreth in where the Damsel lay.

41 And when he had taken the Damsel by the hande, he sayth vnto her, Talitha cumi, whiche is, being interpreted, Damsel, (I say vnto thee) aryse.

42 And straightway the Damsel arose, and walked: for she was of the age of twelue yeeres: and they were astonyed out of measure. G

38 He sayth vnto them, How many loaues haue ye, go, and looke. And when they had searched, they say, Fyue, and two fishes.

39 And he commaunded them to make them al sit downe by companies vpon the greene grasse.

40 And they sate downe, here a rowe, and there a row, (by) hundredes & (by) fifties.

The.vii.Chapter.

2. The Pharisees find fault at the disciples eating of meate with vnwashen handes.
32. The healing of the deafe and dumbe.

1 AND the Pharisees come togeather vnto him, and certayne of the Scribes, whiche came from Hierusalem. A Mat.15.a.

2 And when they saw some of his disciples eate bread with defiled (that is to say, with vnwashen handes) they founde fault.

3 For the Pharisees, & al the Iewes, except they wash their handes oft, eate not, obseruing the tradition of the elders.

4 And (when they) come from the market, except they wash, they eate not. And many other thinges there be, which they haue taken vpon them to obserue, (as) the washing of cuppes and pottes, brasen vessels, and of tables.

5 Then asked him the Pharisees & Scribes, Why walke not thy disciples accordyng to the tradition of the elders, but eate bread with vnwashen handes?

6 He answeared, & sayde vnto them, Surely Esaias hath prophecied wel of you hypocrites, as it is wrytten, *This people honoureth me with their lippes, but their hart is farre from me. Esai.29.b. Mat.15.a.

7 Howbeit, in vaine doo they woorshyp me, B teaching doctrines, the commaundements of men.

8 For, the commaundement of God being layd aparte, ye obserue ỹ tradition of men, as the washyng of pottes and cuppes: and many other suche lyke thinges ye doo.

9 And he sayde vnto them, Ful wel ye cast aside the commaundement of God, that ye may keepe your owne tradition.

10 *For Moses sayde, Honour thy father & thy mother: and who so curseth father or mother, let hym dye the death. Exod.21.b Deut.5.b. Ephes.6.a.

11 But ye say, if a man shal say to his father or his mother, Corban (that is, by the gift) that (is offred) of me, thou shalt be helped. Exo.20.b. Leuit.20.b. Pro.20.c.

12 And so ye suffer him no more to do ought for his father, or his mother, 13 Making the woorde of God of none effecte through your tradition, whiche ye haue ordeyned: And many suche thinges doo ye.

14 And when he had called al the people vnto him, he sayde vnto them, Hearken vnto me euery one of you, and vnderstande,

15 There

Mat.15.b. 15 There is nothing without a man that can defile him, when it entreth into him: but the thinges whiche proceede out of a man, those are they that defile the man.
16 If any man haue eares to heare, let him heare.
17 And when he came into the house, away from the people, his disciples asked him of the similitude.
18 And he saith vnto thē, Are ye also so without vnderstandyng? Doo ye not perceyue that whatsoeuer thyng from without, entreth into the man, it can not defile him, 19 Because it entreth not into his hart, but into the belly, & goeth out into the draught, purgyng al the meates?
20 And he sayd, That which commeth out of the man, defileth the man.
D 21 For from within, euen out of the hart of men, proceede euyl thoughtes, adulteries, fornications, murders,
22 Thefte, couetousnesse, wickednesse, deceite, wantonnesse, a wicked eye, blasphemie, pride, foolishnesse:
23 Al these euil thinges come from within, and defile the man.
Mat.15.b. 24 And from thence he rose, and went into the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entred into an house, and woulde that no man shoulde haue knowen, but he coulde not be hyd.
25 For a certayne woman, whose young daughter had an vncleane spirite, when she had heard of him, came and fel at his feete.
26 (The woman was a Greke, out of the nation of Syrophenissa:) and she besought him, that he would cast out the deuyl from her daughter.
27 But Iesus sayde vnto her, Let the chyldren firste be fed: for it is not meete to take the childrens bread, and to caste it vnto the litle dogges.
E 28 She answered, and sayde vnto him,
Mat.15.b. Yes Lorde, * for the litle dogges also eate vnder the table, of the childrens crumbes.
29 And he sayde vnto her, For this saying, goe thy way, the deuyl is gonne out of thy daughter.
30 And when she was comme home to her house, she founde that the deuyl was departed, and her daughter lyeing on the bedde.

Mat.15.c. Mat.9.d. 32 And they bring vnto him one that was deafe, & had an impediment in his speach: and they pray him to put his hande vpon him.
33 And when he had taken him aside from ỹ people, he put his fingers into his eares, and when he had spit, touched his tongue.
34 And when he had looked vp to heauen, sighed, and sayde vnto him, Ephphatha, that is to say, Be thou opened.
35 And straight way his eares were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake playne.
36 And he commaunded them that they shoulde tel no man: but the more he commaunded them, so muche the more a great deale they published it. Mar.1.d.
37 And were beyond measure astonied, saying, He hath done al thynges wel: he hath made both the deafe to heare, & the dumbe to speake.

The.viii.Chapter.

2. The miracle of the seuen loaues. 34. How we shoulde folowe Christe.

1 IN those dayes, * the companie being very great, and hauing nothing to eate, when Iesus had called his disciples vnto him, he sayth vnto them, A The Gospel on the.vii. sunday after Trinitie.
2 I haue compassion on the people, because they haue nowe ben with me three dayes, and haue nothyng to eate: Mat.15.d.
3 And if I send them away fasting to their owne houses, they shal faynt by the way: * for diuers of them come from farre. Esai.9.a. Tobi.13.b.
4 And his disciples answeared him, From whence can a man satisfie these men with bread here in the wyldernesse?
5 And he asked them, Howe many loaues haue ye? They sayde, Seuen.
6 And he commaunded the people to syt downe on the grounde: and he tooke the seuen loaues, and when he had geuen thankes, he brake, and gaue to his disciples to set before them: and they dyd set them before the people.
7 And they had a fewe smal fishes: & when B he had blessed, he commaunded to set them also before them.
8 So they dyd eate, and were sufficed: and they tooke vp of the broken meate that was left, seuen baskettes ful.
9 And they that had eate, were about foure thousande: And he sent them away.
10 And anone, when he had entred into a shyppe with his disciples, he came into the parties of Dalmanutha.
11 And the Pharisees came forth, and beganne to dispute with him, seeking of him a signe from heauen, tempting him, Mat.16.a. Luke.11.d. Iohn.6.d.

12 And

12 And when he had sighed deepely in his spirite, he sayth, Why do this generation seeke a signe? Verily I say vnto you, There shal no (a) signe be geuen vnto this generation.

(a) It is in the Greeke text, yf a signe, which the Hebrues vse a vehement negation.

13 And when he had left them, and entred into the shyp agayne, he departed ouer the water.

14 And they had forgotten to take bread (with them) neither had they in the shyppe with them more then one loafe.

C 15 And he charged them, saying, *Take heede, beware of the leauen of the Pharisees, and of the leauen of Herode.

Mat.16.b. Luke.12.a.

16 And they reasoned among them selues, saying, We haue no bread.

17 And when Iesus knewe (it,) he sayth vnto them, Why reason ye, because ye haue no bread? Perceiue ye not yet, neither vnderstande? Haue ye your hart yet hardened?

18 Hauing eyes, see ye not? and hauing eares, heare ye not? Do ye not remember?

Mat.14.c. 19 *When I brake the fiue loaues among fiue thousande (men,) howe many baskettes ful of broken meate tooke ye vp? They say vnto hym, Twelue.

Mat.15.d. 20 When I brake the seuen among foure thousande, howe many baskets of the leauynges of the broken meate tooke ye vp? They sayde, Seuen.

D 21 And he sayd vnto them, Howe happeneth it that ye do not vnderstande?

22 And he commeth to Bethsaida, and they bring a blinde man vnto him, and desyred him to touche him.

23 And when he had caught the blynde by the hand, he led him out of the towne: and when he had spyt in his eyes, and put his handes vpon him, he asked him if he sawe ought.

24 And he looked vp, & said, I see men: for I perceiue thē walke, as (they were) trees.

25 After that he put his handes againe vpon his eyes, and made hym see: and he was restored, and sawe euery man clearely.

26 And he sent him home to his house, saying, Neither goe into the village, nor tel it to any in the village.

30 And he charged them that they shoulde tel no man.

31 And he began to teache them that the sonne of man must suffer many thynges, and be reproued of the elders, and of the high priestes and scribes, and be killed, and after three dayes rise agayne.

32 And he spake that saying openly, and Peter toke hym aside, & began to rebuke hym.

33 But when he had turned about, & looked on his disciples, he rebuked Peter, saying, Goe after me Satan: for thou sauerest not the thynges that (be) of God, but the thynges that be of men.

34 *And when he had called the people vnto hym, with his disciples also, he sayde vnto them, Who so euer wyl come after me, let hym forsake hym selfe, and take vp his crosse, and folowe me. Mat.16.d. Luke.9.c. and.14.f.

35 For who so euer wyl saue his lyfe, shal lose it, but who so euer shal lose his life for my sake and the Gospelles, the same shal saue it.

36 For what shal it profite a man, yf he shal winne al the world, & lose his owne soule?

37 Or what shal a man geue, for a raunsome of his soule?

38 *Whosoeuer therefore shalbe ashamed of me, and of my woordes, in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him also shal the sonne of man be ashamed, when he commeth in the glory of his father, with the holy angels. Mat.10.c. Luke.12.b.

5 And Peter answeared, & sayth to Iesus, Maister, here is good being for vs: and let vs make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

18 And where so euer he taketh him, he teareth hym, and (he) foameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they shoulde cast hym out, and they coulde not.

19 He answeareth him, and sayth, O faythlesse nation, howe long shal I be with you, howe long shal I suffer you? Bryng hym vnto me.

20 And they brought him vnto him: and when he saw hym, straightway the spirite tare hym, and when he fel downe on the grounde, he wallowed, foming.

D 21 And he asked his father, Howe long is it agoe since this came vnto him? And he sayde, Of a chylde.

Mat.17.d.

22 * And oft tymes it hath cast him into the fyre, & into the waters, to destroy him: but yf thou canst do any thyng, haue mercy on vs, and helpe vs.

23 Jesus sayde vnto hym, This thyng yf thou canst beleeue, *al thinges are possible to hym that beleeueth.

Mat. 17. d.

24 And straightway, when the father of the childe had cryed with teares, he sayd, Lord I beleeue, helpe thou mine vnbeleefe.

25 When Jesus sawe that the people came running togeather, he rebuked the foule spirite, saying vnto him, Thou dumbe and deafe spirite, I charge thee come out of him, and enter no moze into hym.

26 And (the spirite) when he had cryed, and rent him soare, came out of him, and he was as one that had ben dead, insomuch that many sayde, He is dead.

27 But Jesus, when he had caught him by the hande, lyfted hym vp: and he arose.

28 And when he was come into the house, E *his disciples asked him secretely, Why coulde not we cast hym out?

Mat. 17.d

29 * And he sayde vnto them, This kynde Mat. 17.d. * can come fooyth by nothyng, but by * of deuils. prayer and fastyng.

30 And after they departed thence, they toke theyr iourney through Galilee, & he would not that any man shoulde knowe (it.)

31 For he taught his disciples, and sayd vnto them, * The sonne of man is deliuered into Mat.16.c. the handes of men, and they shal kyl hym, Luke.9.c. and after that he is kylled, he shal rise the thirde day.

32 But they vnderstoode not that saying, and were afrayde to aske hym.

33 And he came to Capernaum: and when he was come into the house, he asked them, What was it that ye disputed among your selues by the way?

34 And they held their peace: For by ỹ way they had reasoned among them selues, who (shoulde be) the cheefest.

35 And when he was set downe, he called the twelue, and sayth vnto them, If any F man desyre to be first, the same shalbe last of al, and seruant vnto al.

36 * And when he had taken a young child, Mat.18.a. he set him in the midst of them: and when Luke.6.f. he had taken him in his armes, he sayd vnto them.

37 Who so euer shal receiue any such a young childe in my name, receiueth me: and whoso euer shal receiue me, receiueth not me, but him that sent me.

38 John answeared him, saying, Maister, we saw one casting out deuils in thy name, and he foloweth not vs, and we forbade hym, because he foloweth vs not.

39 But Jesus sayde, * Forbyd hym not, for I. Cor. 12.a. there is no man, whiche, if he do a miracle in my name, can lightly speake euil of me.

40 For he that is not agaynst vs, is on our part.

41 * Who so euer shal in my name geue you G a cuppe of colde water to drinke, because ye Mat.10.d. be long to Christe: veryly I say vnto you, he shal not lose his rewarde.

2. Of diuorcement. 17. A riche man questioneth how he should inherite eternal life.

A Mat.19.a. 1 AND whē he rose from thence, he* commeth into the coastes of Iurie, through (the region that is) beyonde Iordane: and the people resorte vnto hym a freshe, & as he was woont, he taught them agayne.

2 And the Pharisees came, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wyfe? temptyng hym.

Deut.24.a. Mat.19.a. 3 And he answeared, and saide vnto them,* What did Moses commaunde you to doo?

4 And they sayd, Moses suffered to write a booke of diuorcement, & to put her away.

5 And Iesus answeared, and sayde vnto them, For the hardnesse of your harte he wrote this precept vnto you.

Gene.1.d. 1.Cor.6.d. Mat.19.a. 6 But from the beginning of the creation* God made them male and female, 7 (And said,) For this cause shal a man leaue his father & mother, and bide by his wyfe, Ephes.5.g. Gene.2.d. 8 *And they twayne shalbe one flesh: so thē are they no more twayne, but one flesh.

9 Therefore, what God hath coupled togeather, let not man separate.

10 And in the house his disciples asked hym agayne of the same matter.

Mat.5.c. and.19.a. Luke.16.b. 11 And he saith vnto them,* Whosoeuer shal put away his wyfe, and marrie another, committeth adulterie agaynst her.

12 And if a woman shal put away her husbande, and be married to another, she committeth adulterie.

Mat.19.b. Luke.18.d. 13 *And they brought young children to him, that he shoulde touche them: and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

C 14 But when Iesus saw it, he was sore displeased, and saide vnto them, Suffer the young children to comme vnto me, and forbidde them not: for to suche belongeth the kingdome of God.

15 Verely I say vnto you, Whosoeuer shal not receiue the kingdome of God* as a young childe, he shal in no wyse enter therin. Mat.18.a. Luke.17.a.

16 And when he had taken them vp in his armes, putting his handes vpon them, he blessed them.

17 And when he was gone forth into ỳ way, there came one runnyng, and kneeled to hym, & asked hym,* Good maister, what shal I doo that I may inherite eternal life? Mark.19.b Luke.18.d.

18 Iesus sayde vnto him, Why callest thou me good? There is no man good but one, (whiche is) God.

19 Thou knowest the commaundementes, Doo not commit adulterie, Doo not kyl, Doo not steale, Doo not beare false witnesse, Defraude (no man) Honour thy father and mother.

20 He answeared and sayd vnto hym, Maister, al these haue I obserued from my youth.

D 21 Iesus beheld him, and loued him, and sayde vnto hym, One thyng thou lackest: *Goe thy way, sel whatsoeuer thou hast, & geue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come folowe me, when thou hast taken vp the crosse. Mark.19.b Luke.18.d.

22 But he was discomforted because of that sayeing, and went away mournyng: for he had great possessions.

23 And when Iesus had looked rounde about, he sayth vnto his disciples,* Howe hardly shal they that haue riches enter into the kyngdome of God? Mat.19.c. Luke.18.c.

24 And the disciples were astonied at his woordes. But Iesus answeareth againe, & sayth vnto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in richesse to enter into the kyngdome of God.

25 It is easier for a Camel to goe through the eye of a needle, then for the riche to enter into the kyngdome of God.

26 And they were astonied out of measure, sayeing betweene them selues, Who then can be saued?

27 Iesus, when he had looked vpon them, sayth, With men it is vnpossible, but not with with God: for with God al thynges are possible.

E 28 And Peter began to say vnto him, Loe, *we haue forsaken al, and haue folowed thee.

Mat.19.c. Luke.18.

29 Jesus answeared, and sayde, Verely I say vnto you, There is no man that hath forsaken house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wyfe, or chyldren, or landes, for my sake and the Gospels, 30 But he shal receiue an hundred fold now at this present, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and chyldren, and landes, with persecutons, and in the worlde to come eternal lyfe.

Mat.25.b. Luke.13.f. 31 *But many that are first, shalbe last: and the last, first.

32 And they were in the way goeyng vp to Hierusalem: and Jesus went before them, and they were amazed, and as they folowed, were afrayde: and when he had againe taken with him the twelue, he began to tel them what thinges shoulde happen vnto hym, Mat.16.c. 17.c.& 20.c. Luke.15.k. and.22.c. 33 (Saying,) *Behold, we goe vp to Hierusalem, and the sonne of man shalbe delyuered vnto the high priestes, and vnto the Scribes: and they shal condemne hym to death, and shal deliuer him to the gentiles.

F 34 And they shal mocke him, & scourge him, and spit vpon him, and kyl him: and the thirde day he shal aryse.

Mat.20.c. 35 *And James and John the sonnes of Zebedee come vnto him, saying, Maister, we wyl that thou shouldest do for vs whatsoeuer we shal desire.

36 He sayde vnto them, What wyl ye that I shoulde doo for you?

37 They sayde vnto hym, Graunt vnto vs that we may sit one on thy ryght hand, and the other on thy left hande in thy glory.

38 But Jesus saide vnto them, Ye wote not what ye aske: Can ye drynke of the cuppe that I drynke of? and be baptised with the baptisme that I am baptised with?

39 And they sayd vnto hym, That we can. Jesus sayde vnto them, Ye shal in deede drynke of the cuppe that I drinke of: and with the baptisme that I am baptised withal shal ye be baptised:

40 But to sit on my right hande, and on my left hand, is not mine to geue, but (it shalbe geuen) vnto them for whom it is prepared.

Mat.20.d. 41 *And when the (other) ten heard it, they began to disdaine at James and John.

42 But Jesus, when he had called them to him, saith vnto them, Ye knowe that they *which seeme to beare rule among the gentiles, raigne as lordes ouer them: and they that be great among them, exercise authoritie vpon them.

43 But so shal it not be among you: but whosoeuer of you wyl be great among you, shalbe your minister:

44 And whosoeuer of you wyl be the chiefest, shalbe seruant of al.

45 For *the sonne of man also came not to be ministred vnto, but to minister and to geue his life a ransome for many. Mat.20.d.

46 And they came to Hierycho: *and as he went out of the citie of Hierycho with his disciples, & a great number of people, blind Bartimeus, the sonne of Timeus, sate by the hygh wayes syde, beggyng. Mat.20.d. Luke.18.g. G

47 And when he hearde that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to crye, and say, Jesus thou sone of Dauid, haue mercy on me.

48 And many rebuked him, that he shoulde holde his peace: but he cryed the more a great deale, Thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercy on me.

49 And Jesus stoode stil, and commaunded him to be called, and they cal the blynde, saying vnto him, Be of good comfort, rise, he calleth thee.

50 And when he had throwen awaye his cloke, he rose, and came to Jesus.

51 And Jesus answeared, & saide vnto him, What wylt thou that I doo vnto thee? The blynde saide vnto him, Maister, that I myght see.

52 Jesus sayde vnto him, Goe thy way, thy fayth hath saued thee. And immediatly he receiued his sight, and folowed Jesus in the way.

A 1 AND when they came nigh to Hierusalem, vnto Bethphage and Bethanie, at the mount of Oliues, he sendeth foorth two of his disciples, Mat.21.a. Luke.19.f.

3 And if any man say vnto you, Why doo ye so? Say ye, that the Lorde hath neede of him: and straightway he wyl sende him hyther.

4 And they went their way, and found the colte tyed by the doore without, in a place where two wayes met: and they lose him.

23 For verily I say vnto you, that who so euer shal say vnto this mountayne, Be thou remooued, and be thou cast into the sea, and shal not doubt in his hart, but shal beleeue that those thynges whiche he saith shal come to passe: what so euer he shal say, shalbe vnto hym.

41. The poore wydowes farthyng.

1 AND he began to speake vnto them by A parables. A certayne man planted a vineyarde, and he set an hedge about it, and bygged a wineprese, and built a towre, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange countrey.

2 And when the tyme was come, he sent to the husbandmen a seruant, that he might receiue of the husbandmen of the fruite of the vineyarde.

3 And they caught him, and beat him, and sent hym away emptie.

4 And againe he sent vnto them another seruant: and at him they cast stones, and brake his head, and sent him away also reuiled.

5 And agayne he sent another, and him they kylled: and many other, beating some, and killing some.

6 And so when he had yet but one beloued sonne, he sent him also at the last vnto them, saying, They wyl stande in awe of my sonne.

Psal.118.c Mat.21.d. Actes.4.d.
10 Haue ye not read this scripture? The stone whiche the builders disalowed, is become the cheefe stone of the corner:

Mat. 22.d. Luke. 20.b
13 And they sent vnto hym certayne of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, to take him in his woordes.
C 14 And when they were come, they say vnto him, Maister, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou consyderest not the persons of men, but teachest the way of God in trueth: Is it lawful to geue tribute to Caesar, or not?
15 Shal we geue, or shal we not geue? But he knowing theyr hypocrisie, sayde vnto them, Why tempt ye me? Bring me a peny, that I may see it.
16 And they brought it: & he saith vnto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they sayde vnto him, Caesars.

18 There come also vnto hym the Saduces, whiche say there is no resurrection, and they asked hym, saying,
19 Maister, Moses wrote vnto vs, if any mans brother dye, & leaue his wyfe behind him, and leaue no children: that his brother shoulde take his wyfe, and rayse vp seede vnto his brother.
20 There were seuen brethren: and the first tooke a wyfe, and when he dyed, leaft no seede behynde hym.
D 21 And the second toke her, and died, neither leaft he any seede: and the third lykewise.
22 And seuen had her, and leaft no seede behinde them: last of al the wyfe dyed also.
23 In the resurrection therefore when they shal ryse, whose wife shal she be of them? for seuen had her to wyfe.
24 And Jesus answearing, said vnto them, Do ye not therefore erre, because ye knowe not the scriptures, neither ý power of God?
25 For when they shal ryse from the dead, they neyther mary, nor are geuen in marryage: but are as the angels which (are) in heauen.

32 And the scribe said vnto him, Wel maister, thou hast sayde the trueth: for there is one God, and there is none other but he.
Jacob.2.d. Mat.5.g.
33 And to loue him with al the hart, & with al the vnderstanding, & with al the soule, and with al the strength, & to loue a (mans) neighbour as hym selfe, is greater then al the burnt offerynges and sacrifices.
34 And when Jesus sawe that he answeared discretely, he sayd vnto him, Thou art not farre from the kyngdome of God. And no man after that durst aske hym any question.
35 And Jesus answearing, sayd, teaching in the temple, How say the scribes that Christ is the sonne of Dauid? F

F 35 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Holde thy peace, and come out of hym. And when the deuil had throwen him in the middes, he came out of him, and hurt him not.

36 And feare came on them al, & they spake among them selues, saying, What manner of saying is this? For with auctoritie and power he commaundeth the foule spirites, and they come out.

37 And the fame of him went out into euery place of the countrey rounde about.

Mat.8.b. Mar.1.c. 38 And when he was rysen out of the synagogue, he entred into Simons house: and Simons wiues mother was taken with a great feuer, and they made intercession to him for her.

39 And he stoode ouer her, and rebuked the feuer, and it left her. And immediatly she arose, and ministred vnto them.

40 When the sunne was downe, al they that had any sycke with diuers diseases, brought them vnto hym: and when he had layde his handes on euery one of them, he healed them.

G 41 * And deuyls also came out of many, crying, and saying, Thou art that Christe the sonne of God. And he rebukyng them, suffered them not to speake: for they knewe that he was Christe.

Mat.1.a. and.13.d.

42 And when it was day, he departed, and went into a desart place: and the people sought hym, and came to hym, and keapt him, that he shoulde not depart from them.

43 And he sayd vnto them, I must preache the kyngdome of God to other cities also: For therefore am I sent.

44 And he was preaching in the synagogues of Galilee.

The.v. Chapter.

1. Christe teacheth out of a shyp, 36. newe and olde agree not,

A 1 IT came to passe, that when the people preassed vpon him to heare the woorde of God, he was standyng by the lake of Genezareth,

The Gospel on the fifth Sunday after Trinitie.

2 * And he sawe two shyppes stande by the lakes side: but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washyng their nettes. Mar.4.c.

3 And when he was entred into one of the shyps which parteyned to Simon, he prayed him that he woulde thrust out a litle from the lande: and he sate downe and taught the people out of the shyp.

4 When he had left speaking, he sayd vnto Simon, Lanche out into the deepe, and let slyp your nettes to catche.

5 And Simon answearing, said vnto hym, Maister, we haue laboured al nyght, and haue taken nothyng: neuertheless, at thy commaundement I wyl loose foorth the nette.

6 And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes, but their nette brake:

B 7 And they beckened vnto their parteners, whiche were in the other shyp, that they shoulde come, and helpe them. And they came, and filled both the shyppes that they suncke (agayne.)

8 When Simon Peter sawe (this) he fel downe at Jesus knees, saying, Goe out from me, for I am a sinful man, O Lorde.

(a) By the preaching of the Gospel, as one then appoynted to be an apostle.

9 For he was vtterly astonyed, and al that were with him, at the takyng of the fishes whiche they had caught together,

10 And so was also James and John the sonnes of Zebedee, whiche were parteners with Simon. And Jesus sayde vnto Simon, Feare not, from hencefoorth thou shalt (a) catche men.

(b) That is, nothing, that they possessed, was an impediment, whereby they might be let or hyndered frō the preaching of the Gospel.

11 And when they had brought vp their boates to the shore, (b) they forsooke al, and folowed hym.

12 And it came to passe, that when he was in a certaine citie, beholde, (there was) a man ful ful of leprosie: and when he had spyed Jesus, he fel flat on his face, & besought him, sayeing, Lorde, if thou wylt, thou canst make me cleane.

13 And when he had stretched forth his hande, he touched him, sayeing, I wyl: be thou cleane. And immediatly the leprosie departed from hym.

C 14 And he charged him to tel no man: but, Goe, (sayth he) * and shew thee selfe to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commaunded, for a witnesse vnto them. Leuit.14.a.

15 But so much the more went there a same abroade of him, and muche people came together to heare, and to be healed of hym from theyr infirmities.

16 And he kept him selfe aparte in the wyldernesse, and prayed.

17 And it came to passe on a certaine day as he was teaching, that there were Pharisees, and doctours of the lawe sitting by, whiche were come out of al the townes of Galilee and Jurie, and Hierusalem: and the power of the Lord was present, to heale them.

Mat.9.a. Marke.2.a. 18 *And behold, men brought in a bedde a man whiche was taken with a palsie: and they sought meanes to bryng him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not finde on what side they might bring him in, because of the preasse, they went vpon the top of the house, and let him downe through the tiling with his coutche, euen into the middes before Jesus.

20 When he sawe their fayth, he sayd vnto him, Man, thy sinnes are forgeuen thee.

D 21 And the Scribes and the Pharisees began to * thinke, sayeing, What felowe is this, which speaketh blasphemies? * Who can forgeue sinnes, but God onely? * or, reason Marke.2.c. Esai.43.d. and.44.d.

22 But whē Jesus perceiued their thoughtes, he answearing, saide vnto them, What thinke ye in your hartes?

23 Whether is easier to say, Thy sinnes be forgeuen thee: or to say, Ryse vp, & walke?

Mat.9.a. Mark.2.c. Act.2.a.9.f 24 *But that ye may knowe that the sonne of man hath power to forgeue sinnes on earth (he sayde vnto the sicke of the palsie) I say vnto thee, Arise, and when thou hast taken vp thy coutche, goe vnto thine house.

25 And immediatly he rose vp before them, & when he had taken vp his coutch, whereon he laye, he departed to his owne house, glorifiyng God.

26 And they were al amazed, and they gaue the glory vnto God, and were filled with feare, sayeing, Doubtlesse we haue seene strange thynges to day.

27 *And after these thinges he went forth, and saw a Publicane, named Leui, sitting at the receipt of custome: and he sayd vnto him, Folowe me. Mat.9.a. Marke.2.b

28 And when he had left al, he rose vp, and folowed him.

29 And Leui made him a great feast in his owne house: and there was a great companie of Publicanes, and of other that sate (a meate) with them.

30 *But they that were Scribes and Pharisees among them, murmured against his disciples, saying, Why doo ye eate & drinke with Publicanes and sinners? Mat.9.a. Marke.2.b Luke.7.c. and.15.a.

31 And Jesus answearing, sayd vnto them, They that are whole, neede not a phisition: but they that are sicke.

32 I came not to cal the (c) righteous: but sinners to repentance. (c) Those whiche accompt themselues, or would seeme in the eyes of the world to be righteous.

33 And they sayd vnto him, *Why doo the disciples of John fast often, & make prayers, and lykewyse the disciples of the Pharisees: but thyne eate and drynke. Mat.9.b. Marke.2.c.

34 He sayde vnto them, *Can ye make the children of the wedding chamber faste, whyle the brydegrome is with them?

35 But the dayes wyl come: and when the brydegrome shalbe taken away from them, then shal they fast in those dayes.

36 He spake also vnto them a similitude. No man putteth a peece of a new garment into an olde vesture: for then the newe renteth (the olde,) and the peece that was (taken) out of the newe, agreeth not with the olde.

37 And no man powreth newe wyne into olde vessels: For if he doo, the newe wyne wyl burst the vessels, and runne out it selfe, and the vessels shal perishe.

38 But newe wyne must be put into newe vessels, and both are preserued.

39 No man also hauing drunke olde wyne, wyl strayghtway haue newe: for he sayth, The olde is better.

The. vii. Chapter.

2. He healeth the captaynes seruant, 6. The fayth of the Centurion. 37. The woman washeth his feete with her teares.

A 1 WHen he had ended al his sayinges in the audience of the people, * he entred into Capernaum.

Mat. 8.a. John. 4.f.

2 And a certaine Centurions seruant, whiche was deare vnto hym, beyng sicke, was in peryl of death.

3 And when he hearde of Iesus, he sent vnto him the elders of the Iewes, beseechyng hym that he woulde come, and heale his seruant.

4 And when they came to Iesus, they besought him instantly, saying, He is worthy that thou shouldest do this for hym.

5 For he loueth our nation, and hath built vs a synagogue.

6 Then Iesus went with them. And when he was nowe not farre from the house, the Centurion sent freendes to him, saying vnto him, * Lord, trouble not thee selfe: for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter vnder my roofe. Mat. 8.a.

7 Wherfore, I thought not mee selfe worthy to come vnto thee: but say thou the worde, and my seruant shalbe whole. B

8 For I also am a man set vnder power, hauyng vnder me souldiers: and I say vnto one, Goe, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he commeth: and to my seruant, Doo this, and he doth it.

9 When Iesus hearde these thynges, he marueyled at hym, and turned him about, and sayde to the people that folowed hym, I say vnto you, I haue not founde so great fayth, no, not in Israel.

10 And they that were sent, when they were returned home, founde the seruant whole that had ben sicke.

11 And it came to passe (the day) after, that he went into a citie called Naim: and many of his disciples went with hym, and muche people. The Gospel on the. xvi. sunday after Trinitie.

13 And when the Lorde sawe her, he had compassion on her, and sayde vnto her, Weepe not.

14 And when he was come nygh, he touched the beere, (& they that bare him stoode styl.) And he sayde, Young man, I say vnto thee, Aryse. C

15 And he that was dead, sate vp, and began to speake: * and (he) deliuered hym to his mother. 3. Reg. 17.b 4. Reg. 4.f.

16 And there came a feare on them al, & they gaue the glory vnto God, saying, * that a great prophete is rysen vp among vs, and veryly God hath visited his people. Actes. 9.c. John. 4.c. and. 6.b.

17 And this rumour of hym went forth throughout al Iurie, and throughout al the regions whiche lye rounde about.

18 And the disciples of John, shewed him of al these thynges. Mat. 9.a.

19 * And John, when he had called vnto him two of his disciples, he sent them to Iesus, saying, Art thou he that commeth, or looke we we for another?

20 When the men were come vnto hym, they sayde, Iohn Baptist hath sent vs vnto thee, saying, Art thou he that commeth, or looke we for another?

21 And in that same houre he cured many of their infirmities and plagues, & of euyl spirites, and vnto many that were blynde, he gaue syght.

22 Then Iesus answearing, sayde vnto them, Goe your way, and bring woorde againe to Iohn what thinges ye haue seene, and heard, howe that the *blind see againe, the halt goe, the lepers are cleansed, the deafe heare, the dead rise, to the poore is the Gospel preached.

24 *And when the messengers of Iohn were departed, he began to speake vnto the people concerning Iohn: What went ye out into the wildernesse for to see? A reede shaken with the winde?

Mat.9.c.

25 But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft rayment? Beholde, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and lyue delicately, are in kynges courtes.

26 But what went ye foorth to see? A prophete? Yea I say vnto you, and more then a prophete.

Mat.11.b. Mat.3.a.

31 And the Lord sayde, *Whereunto shal I liken the men of this generation? and to what (thyng) are they like?

32 They are like vnto children, sitting in the market place, & crying one to another, and saying, We haue piped vnto you, and ye haue not daunced: We haue mourned to you, and ye haue not weapt.

33 For Iohn Baptist came, neyther* eatyng bread, nor drynkyng wine, and ye say, He hath a deuyl.

34 The sonne of man is come, eatyng and drinking, and ye say, Behold a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, a freende of publicanes and sinners.

35 And wisdome is iustified of (b) al her children.

(a) That is, praysed god, & acknowledged hym to be moste faythful, good, and mercyful.

(b) That is, the children of wisdome, or the wise, whiche beleue the gospel. do acknowledge the wisdome of god therin, whiche the Pharisees condemne, so that wysedome is then iustified of her children, when the Gospel is receiued.

36 And one of the Pharisees desyred hym that he would eate with him. And he went into the Pharisees house, and sate downe to meate.

37 And behold, a woman in that citie, which was a sinner, when she knewe that Iesus sate at meate in the Pharisees house, she brought an alabaster boxe of oyntment:

38 And stoode at his feete behind him, weepyng, and began to washe his feete with teares, and did wipe them cleane with the heares of her head, & al to kissed his feete, and annoynted them with the oyntment.

39 When the Pharisee, which had bidden hym, sawe (it,) he spake within hym selfe, saying, If this man were a prophete, he woulde surely knowe who, and what manner of woman this is that toucheth hym, for she is a sinner.

40 And Iesus answearing, sayde vnto hym, Simon, I haue somewhat to say vnto thee. And he sayth, Maister, say on.

41 There was a certayne lender, which had G two debters: The one ought fiue hundred pence, and the other fiftie.

44 And he turned to the woman, and sayde vnto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entred into thyne house, thou gauest me no water for my feete: but she hath washed my feete with teares, & wiped them with the heares of her head.

45 Thou gauest me no kysse: but this woman, since the tyme I came in, hath not ceassed to kysse my feete.

46 Myne head with oyle thou diddest not annoynt: but this woman hath annoynted my feete with oyntment.

47 Wherefore, I say vnto thee, many sinnes are forgeuen her, for she loued muche: to whom litle is forgeuen, the same loueth litle.

48 And he sayde vnto her, Thy sinnes are forgeuen thee.

49 And they that sate at meate with hym, began to say within them selues, Who is this that forgeueth sinnes also?

23 But as they sayled, he fel a sleepe, * and there came downe a storme of winde on the lake, and they were fylled (with water,) and were in ieopardie. Matth.8.c. Mark.4.b

24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Maister, maister, we are lost. Then he arose, and rebuked the winde, and the tempest of water: and they ceassed, and it waxed calme.

25 And he sayde vnto them, Where is your fayth? And they feared, and wondred, sayeing one to another, Who is this? For he commaundeth both the windes and water, and they obey him.

26 * And they sayled vnto the region of the Gadarenites, whiche is ouer against Galilee. Matth.8.b Mark.5.a

27 And when he went out to land, there met him out of the citie a certayne man whiche had deuyls long tyme, & ware no clothes, neither abode in (any) house, but in graues.

30 And Jesus asked him, sayeing, What is thy name? And he sayde, Legion: because many deuyls were entred into him.

31 And they besought hym that he woulde not commaunde them to goe out into the deepe.

32 And there was there an hearde of many swine, feedyng on an hyl: and (b) they besought hym that he woulde suffer them to enter into them: and he suffered them.

(b) That is, the deuyls.

33 Then went the deuils out of the man, and entred into the swyne: and the hearde ran headlong with violence into the lake, and were choked.

34 When the heardmen sawe what was donne, they fledde: and when they were departed, they tolde it in the citie, and in the villages.

F 35 Therfore they came out to see what was donne, and came to Jesus, and founde the man out of whom the deuyls were departed, sitting at the feete of Jesus, clothed, & in his ryght minde: and they were afrayde.

36 They also whiche sawe it, tolde them by what meanes he that was possessed of the deuyls, was healed.

37 Then the whole multitude of the countrey about the Gadarenites, besought hym that he woulde depart from them, for they were taken with great feare: *and he gate hym vp into the ship, and returned backe agayne.

Matth.8.c Mar.5.b

46 And Jesus sayde, Somme bodye hath touched me: for I perceiue that vertue is gonne out of me.

47 When the woman sawe that she was not hyd, she came trembling, & fel (at his feete) and tolde him before al the people, for what cause she had touched hym, and howe she was healed immediatly.

48 And he sayde vnto her, Daughter, be of good comfort, * thy fayth hath saued thee, goe in peace.)

Mat.9.d Mar.5.d

49 Whyle he yet spake, there commeth one frō the ruler of the synagogues house, sayeing to hym, Thy daughter is dead, disease not the Maister.

50 But when Jesus heard (that woorde,) he answeared him, (sayeing,) *Feare not, beleeue onely, and she shalbe made whole.

Mat.9.c Mar.5.d

51 And when he came into the house, he suffered no man to goe in with him, saue Peter, and James, and John, and the father and the mother of the mayden.

52 Euery body wept, and sorowed for her: and he sayde, Weepe not, the damsel is not dead, *but sleepeth.

Iohn.11.b

53 And they laughed him to scorne, knowing that she was dead.

54 And he thrust them al out, and tooke her by the hande, and cryed, sayeing, Mayde, aryse.

55 And her spirite came againe, and she arose strayght way: and he commaunded to geue her meate.

56 And her parentes were astonyed: but he warned them that they shoulde tel no man what was donne.

29 When the people were gathered thicke togeather, he began to say, This is an euil nation: * they seeke a signe, and there shal no signe be geuen them, but the signe of Jonas the prophete. Mat.12.c Mar.8.b
30 For as *Jonas was a signe vnto the Niniuites, so shal also the sonne of man be to this nation. Iohn.6.d Jonas.2.c
31 The queene of the south shal rise in iudgement with the men of this nation, and condemne them: for she came from the vtmost partes of the earth, to heare the wisedome of Solomon: and beholde, a greater then Solomon is here. 3.Reg.10.a 2.Par.9.a Mat.11.d
32 The menne of Niniue shal rise in iudgement with this nation, and shal condemne them: for they repented at the preaching of Jonas, and beholde, a greater then Jonas is here.
33 *No man when he hath lighted a candel, putteth it in a priuie place, neither vnder a bushel: but on a candlesticke, that they whiche comme in, may see the lyght. Mat.5.b Mark.4.b Luke.8.c
34 * The (a) candel of the body, is the eye: therefore, when thyne eye is single, al thy body also is ful of lyght: but if thyne eye be euyl, al thy body also is ful of darkenesse. Matth.6.c (a) That is, the lyght.
35 Take heede therfore, that the lyght whiche is in thee, be not darkenesse. F
36 If al thy body therfore be cleare, hauing no part darke: then shal it al be ful of lyght, euen as when a candel dooth lyght thee with bryghtnesse.
37 And as he spake, a certaine Pharisee besought sought him to dyne with him: And Jesus went in, and sate downe to meate.

38 When the Pharisee sawe it, he marueyled that he had not first washed before dinner.

Mat.23.c. 39 And the Lorde saide vnto him, * Nowe doo ye Pharisees make cleane the out side of the cup, & the platter: but your inwarde part is ful of rauening, and wickednesse.

40 Ye fooles, did not he that made that whiche is without, make that whiche is within also?

(b) Christe requireth here two things. First, that we come truely by our meate: next, that we geue almes: for charitie is the perfection of the lawe.

41 But rather (b) geue almes of those things which are " within: and behold, al things are cleane vnto you.

42 *But wo vnto you Pharisees, for ye tithe mint, and rue, and al manner hearbes, and passe ouer iudgement, and the loue of God: These ought ye to haue donne, and yet not to leaue the other vndonne.

Mat.23.c. Mat.13.c. 44 Wo vnto you Scribes and Pharisees hypocrites: for ye are as graues which appeare not, and the menne that walke ouer them, are not ware of them.

45 Then answeared one of the lawyers, and sayd vnto him, Maister, thus sayeing, thou puttest vs to rebuke also.

Esai. 10.a. Mat. 23.b. 46 And he saide, Wo vnto you also ye lawyers: for ye lade menne with burdens greeuous to be borne, & ye your selues touche not the burdens with one of your fingers.

Mat. 13.d. 47 Wo vnto you, for ye builde the sepulchres of the prophetes, and your fathers kylled them.

48 Truely ye beare witnesse that ye alowe the deedes of your fathers: for they kylled them, and ye builde their sepulchres.

Mat. 23.d. 49 Therefore saide the wysdome of God, * I wyl sende them prophetes and apostles, and (somme) of them they shal slay and persecute:

50 That the blood of al the prophetes, whiche was shedde from the fundation of the world, may be required of this generation,

52 Wo vnto you lawyers, for ye haue taken away the (c) keye of knowledge: ye entred not in your selues, and them that came in, ye forbade.

53 When he thus spake vnto them, the lawyers and the Pharisees beganne to vrge (hym) vehemently, and to prouoke hym to speake many thinges:

54 Laying wayte for him, and seeking to catche somethyng out of his mouth, where-by they myght accuse hym.

The. xii. Chapter.

1. The leuen of the Pharisees is to be auoyded.
20. Agaynst care of earthly thinges.

A 1 IN the meane time, when there were gathered togeather an innumerable multitude of people, (insomuche) that they trode one another, he beganne to say vnto his disciples, First of al beware of the leuen of the Pharisees, whiche is hypocrisie.

Mark. 4.c. Luke.8.c. Mat. 10. D. 2 For there is nothing couered, that shal not be vncouered, neither hidde, that shal not be knowen.

Luke.8.b. 3 Therefore, what so euer you haue spoken in darknesse, shalbe heard in the light: and that which ye haue spoken in the eare, euen in secrete places, shalbe preached (a) on the toppe of the houses.

(a) Openly, that al men may heare.

Mat. 10.b. 4 * And I say vnto you my freendes, Be not afrayde of them that kil the body, and after that, haue no more that they can doo.

5 But I wyl forewarne you whom you shal feare: Feare him, which after he hath kylled, hath power to cast into hel, yea, I say vnto you, Feare him.

6 Are not fyue sparowes solde for two farthinges, and not one of them is forgotten before God?

B 7 But, euen the very heares of your head are numbred: Feare not therefore, ye are more of value then many sparowes.

8 Also I say vnto you, Who so euer shal confesse me before men, hym shal the sonne of man knowledge also before the angels of God.

9 But he that shal deny me before menne, shalbe denyed before the angels of God.

Mat.12.c. Mark. 3.D. Mat.12.c. Luke. 12.b. 10 And who so euer shal speake a woorde against the sonne of man, it shalbe forgeuen hym: but vnto him that blaspheneth the holy (b) ghost, it shal not be forgeuen.

(b) He that shal resyst agaynst the woorde of God purposely of malice, or agaynst his owne conscience.

11 And when they bring you vnto the synagogues, and vnto the rulers and officers, take ye no thought howe or what thing ye shal answeare, or what ye shal speake:

12 For the holy ghost shal teache you in the same houre, what ye ought to say.

13 One of the company saide vnto him, Maister, speake to my brother, that he diuide the inheritance with me.

14 And he saide vnto him, Man, who made me a iudge, or a diuider ouer you?

C 15 And he saide vnto them, Take heede, and beware of couetousnesse: for no mans lyfe standeth in the abundance of the thinges whiche he possesseth.

16 And he put forth a similitude vnto them, sayeing, The grounde of a certayne ryche man brought foorth plentiful fruites.

17 And he thought within him selfe, saying, What shal I doo, because I haue no roome where to bestowe my fruites?

18 And he saide, This wyl I doo, I wyl pul downe my barnes, and builde greater, and therein wyl I geather al my fruites and my goodes.

Eccle. 11.c. 19 And I wyl say to my soule, Soule, thou hast muche goodes layde vp (in store,) for many yeeres, take thyne ease, eate, drinke, and be merry.

Iere. 17.b. 20 But God saide vnto him, Thou foole, this night doo they require thy soule againe from thee: then whose shal those thinges be, whiche thou hast prouided?

Psal. 39.b. 21 So is he that geathereth richesse to him selfe, and is not riche towardes God.

22 And he spake vnto his disciples, Therefore I say vnto you,* Take no thought for your lyfe what ye shal eate, neither for the body what ye shal put on.

Mat. 6.d. 1. Pet. 5.c.

23 The lyfe is more then meate, and the body is more then rayment.

24 Consyder the Rauens, for they neyther sowe nor reape, whiche neither haue storehouse nor barne, and (notwithstanding,) God feedeth them: Howe muche more are ye better then the fowles?

Mat. 6.d. 25 * Which of you with taking thought, can adde to his stature one cubite?

26 If ye then be not able to doo that thing whiche is least: why take ye thought for the remnant?

27 Consyder the Lylies howe they growe, they labour not, they spinne not: and yet I say vnto you, that Solomon in al his royaltie, was not clothed like one of these.

28 If God so clothe the grasse, whiche is to day in the feeld, and to morowe is cast into ỳ furnace: howe much more (wyl he clothe) you, (O) ye of litle fayth?

29 And aske not ye, what ye shal eate, or what ye shal drinke, neyther be ye of doubtful minde.

30 For al suche thinges doo the people of the worlde seeke for: and your father knoweth that ye haue neede of these thinges.

Mat. 6.e. 1. Tim. 6.b Eccle. 29.b Prou. 23.a.

31 But rather seeke ye after the kingdome of God, and al these thinges shalbe added vnto you.

32 Feare not (O) litle flocke, for it is your fathers good pleasure to geue you a kyngdome.

Mat. 19.c. Mark. 10.c

33 * Sel that ye haue, and geue almes: and prepare you bagges whiche waxe not olde, (euen) a treasure that faileth not in the heauens, where no theefe approcheth, neyther moth corrupteth.

34 For where your treasure is, there wyl your hart be also.

35 * Let your loynes be gyrde about, & (your) lightes burnyng. Ephe. 6.c. 1. Pet. 1.c.

36 And ye your selues (be) lyke vnto menne that wayte for their Lord, when he wyl returne from the wedding, that when he shal comme and knocke, they may open vnto hym immediatly.

37 Happy are those seruantes, whom the Lorde when he commeth, shal fynde wakyng. Verely I say vnto you, That he shal gyrde him selfe, & make them to syt downe to meate, and wyl comme foorth, and minister vnto them. F

38 And yf he shal come in the second watch, yea, yf he shal comme in the thirde watche, and fynde them so, happye are those seruantes.

39 This vnderstande ye, that yf the good man of the house had knowen what houre the theefe would comme, he would surely haue watched, and not haue suffered his house to be broken through.

40 * Be ye therefore ready also, for the sonne of man commeth at an houre when ye thinke not. Mat. 24.d. Mark. 13.d.

41 Then Peter saide vnto him, * Maister, tellest thou this similitude vnto vs, or to al. Mat. 24.d. Mark. 13.c.

42 And the Lorde saide, Who is a faythful and wyse stewarde, whom his Lorde shal make ruler ouer his houshold, to geue them their portion of meate in due season?

43 * Happy is that seruant, whom his Lord when he commeth, shal fynde so dooyng. Apoc. 16.c.

44 Of a trueth, I say vnto you, That he wyl make him ruler ouer al his substance.

45 But and yf that seruant say in his hart, * My Lord delayeth his comming: & shal beginne to smite the seruantes & maidens, and to eate and drinke, and to be drunken, Mat. 24.d.

46 The Lorde of that seruant wyl come in a day when he looketh not for hym, and at an houre when he is not ware, and wyl hewe him in peeces, and wyl set him his portion with the vnbeleeuers. G

47 And the seruant that knewe his maisters wyl, and prepared not him selfe, neither did accordyng to his wyl, shalbe beaten with many (stripes.)

48 But he that knewe not, (c) and did commit thinges woorthy of stripes, shalbe beaten with fewe (stripes.) For vnto whom so euer muche is geuen, of hym shalbe muche required: and to whom menne haue committed muche, of him wyl they aske the more.

50 Notwithstanding, I must be baptised with a baptisme, (f) and howe am I payned tyl it be ended?

(f) He compareth affliction and his death to baptisme.

51 Suppose ye that I am come to send peace on earth? I tel you, Nay, but rather (g) diuision.

Mat.10.d.

(g) Christe is not the cause that there is destruction for the gospel, but the wickednesse of worldlinges, whiche by malice contemnyng the gospel, be at variance with al that professe it.

52 For from hencefoorth there shalbe fiue in one house diuided, three against two, and two against three.

53 The father shalbe diuided against the sonne, and the sonne against the father: the mother against the daughter, & the daughter against the mother: the mother in lawe against her daughter in lawe, & the daughter in lawe against her mother in lawe.

54 He sayd also to the people, *When ye see a cloude ryse out of the Weast, straightway ye say, There commeth a showre: and so it is.

Mat.16.a.

55 And when ye see the South wynd blow, ye say, It wyl be whot, and it commeth to passe.

56 Ye hypocrites, ye can discerne the face of the skye and of the earth: but howe is it that ye doo not discerne this tyme?

57 Yea, and why iudge ye not of your selues what is ryght?

58 When thou goest with thine aduersarie to the ruler: as thou art in the way, geue diligence, that thou mayest be deliuered from him, lest he draw thee violently to the iudge, and the iudge deliuer thee to the sergeant, & the sergeant cast thee into prison.

The.xiii.Chapter.

6. Of the figge tree that bare no fruite.
24. Fewe enter into the kyngdome of Christe.

A 1 THere were present at the same season, certayne men, that shewed him of the Galileans, whose blood (a) Pilate had myngled with their owne sacrifice.

(a) Pilate murdered them as they were sacrifysing.. Luke.13.f.

2 And Iesus answearing, sayde vnto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were greater sinners thē al the other Galileans, because they suffered such pounishment?

3 I tel you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shal al lykewyse perishe.

4 Or those eightéene, vpon which the towre in (b) Siloe fel, and slue them, thinke ye that they were sinners aboue al men that dwelt in Hierusalem.

(b) Whiche towre stoode by the fyshpoole or ryuer Syloam in Hierusalem. Mat.21.b.

5 I tel you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shal al lykewyse perishe.

6 He tolde also this similitude, A certayne man had a figge tree planted in his vyneyarde, and he came and sought fruite thereon, and founde none.

7 Then sayde he to the dresser of his vyneyarde, Behold, this three yeeres I comme seeking fruite in this figge tree, and fynde none: cut it downe, why cumbreth it the grounde? B

8 And he answearing, said vnto him, Lord, let it alone this yeere also, tyl I shal dygge rounde about it, and doung it:

9 And if it beare fruite, (thou mayest let it alone:) and if it beare not, then after that thou shalt cut it downe.

10 And he was teaching in one of their Synagogues on the Sabboth dayes.

11 And behold, there was a woman which had a spirite of infirmitie eyghteene yeres, and was bowed togeather, and could in no wyse lyft vp (her selfe.)

12 When Iesus sawe her, he called her to him, and sayde vnto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thy disease.

13 And he layde his handes on her, and immediatly she was made straycht, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Iesus had healed on the Sabboth day, and sayde vnto the people, There are sixe dayes in whiche men ought to woorke: in them therfore come, that ye may be healed, and not on the Sabboth day. C

15 But the Lord answeared him, and said, Thou hypocrite, dooth not each one of you on the Sabboth day loose his oxe or his asse from the staule, and leade him to the water? Mat.12.a. Luke.14.a.

16 And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bounde loe eyghteene yeeres, be loosed from this bonde on the Sabboth day?

17 And when he sayde these thinges, al his aduersaries were ashamed: and al the people reioyced for al the excellent deedes that were done by him.

18 Then sayde (Iesus,) What is the kyngdome of God lyke? or whereto shal I compare it?

19 *It is lyke a grayne of mustarde seede, whiche a man tooke, and sowed in his garden, and it grewe, and waxed a great tree: and the foules of the ayre made nestes in the braunches of it. Mat.16.d. Marke.4.c.

20 And agayne he sayde, Wherunto shal I lyken the kyngdome of God?

21 It is lyke leuen, which a *woman tooke and hyd in three peckes of meale, tyl al was leuened. D Mat.14.c. Gene.18.a.

26 Then shal ye begin to say, We haue eaten and dronken in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streetes.

27 And he shal say, I tel you, I knowe you not whence ye are, departe from me al ye that woorke iniquitie.

31 The same day came there certaine of the Pharisees, sayeing vnto him, Geat thee out, and departe hence, for Herode wyl kyl thee.

32 And he sayde vnto them, Goe ye and tel that fore, beholde I caste out deuylles, and I doo cures to day and to morowe, and the thirde day I shalbe perfected.

33 Neuertheless, I must walke to day and to morowe, and the day folowing, for it can not be that a prophet perishe out of Hierusalem.

F Mat.23.D. 34 *O Hierusalem, Hierusalem, which kyllest prophets, and stonest them that are sent vnto thee, howe often woulde I haue geathered thy children togeather, as a henne dooth geather her young vnder her wings, and ye woulde not?

The.xv. Chapter.

4. The great mercie of God is set foorth in the parable of the lost sheepe.

1 THen resorted vnto him * al the Publicanes and sinners for to heare hym. A 2 And the Pharisees & Scribes murmured, saying, He receiueth sinners, and eateth with them.
3 But he put forth this parable vnto them, saying,
4 * What man of you hauyng an hundred sheepe, if he loose one of them, doth not leaue ninetie and nine in the wyldernesse, and goe after that whiche is lost, vntyl he fynde it?
5 And when he hath founde it, he layeth it on his shoulders, reioycyng:
6 And when he commeth home, he calleth togeather his frendes and neighbours, saying vnto them, Reioyce with me, for I haue founde my sheepe whiche was lost.
7 I say vnto you, that lykewise ioy shalbe in heauen ouer one sinner that repenteth, more then ouer ninetie and nine iust persons that neede no repentance. B

10 Likewise I say vnto you, there is ioy in the presence of the angels of God ouer one sinner that * repenteth.
11 And he sayde, A certayne man had two sonnes:

D 21 And the sonne sayde vnto hym, Father, I haue sinned agaynst heauen, and in thy syght, and am no more worthy to be called thy sonne.
22 But the father sayde to his seruantes, Bring foorth the best garment, and put it on hym, and put a ryng on his hande, and shoes on his feete.
23 And bryng (hyther) that fatte calfe, and kyl it, and let vs eate, and be mery:
24 For this my sonne was dead, and is aliue agayne: he was lost, and is founde. And they began to be mery.
25 The elder brother was in the feelde: and when he came and drewe nigh to the house, he hearde mynstrelsie, and daunsyng, 26 And called one of his seruantes, and asked what those thynges meant.
27 And he sayde vnto him, Thy brother is come, and thy father hath kylled the fatte calfe, because he hath receiued hym safe and sounde.
E 28 And (he) was angry, and woulde not goe in: therefore came his father out, and entreated hym.
29 He answearing, sayd to his father, Loe, these many yeeres do I serue thee, neyther brake I at any time thy commaundement, and yet thou neuer gauest me a kyd, that I myght make mery with my freendes:
30 But as soone as this thy sonne was come, whiche hath deuoured thy lyuyng with harlottes, thou hast for his pleasure kylled that fatte calfe.
31 And he sayde vnto hym, Sonne, thou art euer with me, and al that I haue is thyne.
32 It was meete that we should make mery and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is aliue agayne: and was lost, and is founde.

The .xvi. Chapter.

13. No man can serue two maisters. 19. Of the riche glutton, and Lazarus.

The Gospel on the ninth Sunday after Trinitie.

1 AND he sayde also vnto his disciples, There was a certayne ryche man whiche had a stewarde, and the same was accused vnto hym that he had wasted his goodes.
2 And when he had called hym, he sayd vnto hym, Howe is it that I heare this of thee? Geue accomptes of thy stewardshyp: for thou mayest be no longer stewarde.
3 The steward said within him selfe, What shal I do, for my maister taketh away from me the stewardshyp? I can not dygge, and to begge I am ashamed.
4 I wote what to do, that when I am put out of the stewardshyp, they may receiue me into their houses.
5 So whē he had called al his maisters detters togeather, he sayd vnto the first, Howe muche owest thou vnto my maister?
6 And he said, An hundred measures of oyle. And he sayde vnto hym, Take thy byl, and sit downe quickly, and wryte fiftie.
7 Then sayde he to another, Howe muche owest thou? And he said, An hundred measures of wheate. He sayd vnto hym, Take thy byl, and wryte fourescore. B
8 And the Lord commended (a) the vniust stewarde, because he had done wisely: for the children of this worlde, are in their nation wyser then the chyldren of lyght.
9 And I say vnto you, Make you (b) frendes of the vnrighteous (c) Mammon, that whē ye shal haue neede, they may receiue you into the euerlasting (d) habitations.
10 He that is faythful in that which is least, is faythful also in muche: and he that is vnrighteous in the least, is vnrighteous also in muche.
11 So then, yf ye haue not ben faythful in the vnrighteous Mammon, who shal trust you in the true (treasure?)
12 And yf ye haue not ben faythful in that which is another mans, who shal geue you that whiche is your owne?
13 *No seruant can serue two maisters, for either he shal hate the one, and loue the other: or els he shal leane to the one, and despise the other: ye can not serue God and Mammon.
14 Al these thinges hearde the Pharisees also which were couetous: and they mocked hym greatly.
15 And he said vnto them, Ye are they whiche iustifie your selues before men, but God knoweth your hartes, for that which is highly esteemed among men, is abomination in the sight of God.
16 *The law and the prophetes (raigned) vntyl Iohn, and since that tyme the glad tydynges of the kyngdome of God is preached, and euery man striueth to goe in.
17 *Easier it is for heauen and earth to passe away, then one title of the lawe to fayle.

The Gospel on the firste sunday after Trinitie.

19 There was a certayne riche man, which was clothed in purple and fine white, and fared very delitiously euery day.

20 And there was a certaine begger named Lazarus, whiche was layde at his gate ful of sores:

(c) The kingdome of heauen.

23 And being in hel in tormentes, when he had lifted vp his eyes, he seeth Abraham a farre of, and Lazarus in his bosome:

24 And he cryed, and sayde, Father Abraham, haue mercie on me, and send Lazarus that he may dippe the tippe of his finger in water, and coole my tongue, for I am tormented in this flame.

Galat.6.a.

25 But Abraham sayde, Sonne, remember that thou in thy life time receiuedst thy pleasure, and likewise Lazarus paynes, but nowe is he comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 Besides al this, betweene vs and you there is a great gulfe stedfastly set, so that they whiche woulde goe from hence to you, can not, neither haue they passage to vs that woulde come from thence.

27 Then he sayde, I pray thee therfore father, that thou wouldest sende him to my fathers house:

28 For I haue fiue brethren, that he maye witnesse vnto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham sayth vnto him, They haue Moses and the prophetes, let them heare them.

30 And he sayd, Nay father Abraham: but if one come vnto them from the dead, they wyl repent.

(f) We must seeke for trueth in Gods woorde, and not of the dead.

31 He said vnto him, If they heare not Moses and the prophetes, (f) neither wil they beleue though one rose from death.

Mat.18.c.

5 And the Apostles sayd vnto the Lord, Increase our fayth.

6 And the Lorde sayde, *If ye had fayth (as much) as a grayne of mustarde seede, ye shoulde say vnto this Sycamine tree, Be thou plucked vp by the roote, and be thou planted in the sea: and it shoulde obey you.

Mat.17.b. and.21.c.

7 But which of you hauing a seruant plowing, or feeding catayle, wyl say vnto him by B and by when he were come from the feelde, Goe and sit downe at the table?

8 And wyl not rather say vnto him, Dresse wherwith I may suppe, and gyrde vp thee selfe, and serue me tyl I haue eaten & dronken: and afterwarde thou shalt eate and drinke.

9 Dooth he thanke that seruant because he dyd the thynges that were commaunded vnto him? I trowe not.

10 So lykewyse ye, when ye shal haue done al those thinges whiche are commaunded you, say, We are vnprofitable seruantes: we haue done that whiche was our duetie to doo.

11 And so it was, as he went to Hierusalem, that he passed through the middes of Samaria and Galilee.

The Gospel on the xiiii. sunday after Trinitie.

12 And as he entred into a certaine village, there met him ten men that were leapers, whiche stoode a farre of,

16 And fel downe on his face at his feete, geuing him thankes: and the same was a Samaritane.

17 And Iesus answearing, saide, Are there not ten cleansed, but where are those nine?

18 There are not founde that returned agayne to geue glory to God, saue (onely) this stranger.

19 And he sayde vnto him, Arise, Goe thy way, thy fayth hath made thee whole.

20 When

20 When he was demaunded of the Pharisees when the kingdome of God commeth, he answearing them, sayd, The kingdome of God commeth not with obseruation.

D 21 Neither shal they say, Loe here, or loe there: for beholde, the kingdome of God is (d) within you.

(d) It cannot be discerned by any outwarde shew.

22 And he sayde vnto the disciples, The dayes wyl come when ye shal desyre to see one (c) day of the sonne of man, and ye shal not see it.

(e) Either because that gods woorde was preached amongthem, or els because that Christe was amõg them, who they thought was absent.

23 And they shal say to you, See here, see there: goe not after them, nor folow them.

24 For as the lightning that lighteth out of the (one) part that is vnder heauen, shyneth vnto the (other) part whiche is vnder heauen: so shal also the sonne of man be in his (f) day.

2. Christe teacheth to continue in prayer.
31. He foresheweth his death.

1 AND he put foorth a parable vnto them, (to this ende) that men ought alwaies to pray, and not to be (a) weery:

A 1. Thes.5.d.

(a) The greke worde signifieth, not to shrink back, as cowardes in warre, or in dangers, * or, doo me iustice against my aduersaris.

3 And there was a certayne wyddow in the same citie, and she came vnto him, saying, Auenge * me of mine aduersarie.

4 And he woulde not for a while. But afterward he sayd within him selfe, Though I feare not God, nor care for man, 5 Yet because this wyddowe (muche) troubleth me, I wyl auenge her, lest she come at the last, and make me weery.

6 And the Lorde sayde, Heare what the vnryghteous iudge sayth.

7 And shal not God auenge his elect, which crye day and night vnto him, yea, though (b) he deferre them?

(b) That is, although he seeme slowe in reuenging their iniuries

8 I tel you that he wyl auenge them, & that quickly. Neuertheless, when the sonne of man commeth, shal he fynde fayth on the earth?

9 And he tolde this parable vnto certayne whiche trusted in them selues, that they were righteous, and despised other:

The Gospel on the.xi. sunday after Trinitie.

10 Two menne went vp into the temple to pray: the one a Pharisee, and the other a Publicane.

12 I fast twyse in the wecke, *I geue tithe of al that I possesse.

Deut.16.c. Eccle.7.a.

13 And the Publicane standing a farre of, woulde not lift vp his eyes to heauen: but smote vpon his brest, sayeing, God be mercyful to me a sinner.

14 I tel you, this man departed (home) to his house iustified rather then the other: *For euery one that exalteth him selfe, shalbe brought low: and he that humbleth him selfe, shalbe exalted.

The .xx. Chapter.

17. Christ the stone reproued, 41. Christ the sonne of Dauid.

1 And

21 AND it came to passe, that on one of those dayes, as he taught ỳ people in the temple, & preached the Gospel, the high Priestes and the Scribes came vpon hym, with the elders,

2 And spake vnto him, sayeing, *Tel vs by what auctho*r*itie doest thou these thynges? Eyther who is he that gaue thee this auctho*r*itie?

Mat.22.c Mark.11.d.

3 He answearing, sayd vnto them, I wyl also aske you one woo*r*de, and answeare me.

4 The baptisme of (a) John, was it from heauen, o*r* of menne?

(a) That is, the whole ministerie of John.

5 And they reasoned within them selues, sayeing, If we shal say from heauen, he wil say, Why then beleeued ye him not?

6 But and yf we say of menne, al the people wyl stone vs: Fo*r* they be perswaded that John is a pro*p*hete.

B 7 And they answeared, that they could not tel whence (it was.)

8 And Jesus sayde vnto them, Neyther tel I you by what auctho*r*itie I doo these thynges.

9 Then began he to put fo*r*th to the people this parable. A certayne man planted a vineyarde, and let it fo*r*th to husbandmen, and went him selfe into a strange countrey fo*r* a great season.

Mat.22.d Mark.12.a. Esai.5.a Gen.9.c Jerr.7.c

10 And when the tyme was comme, he sent a seruant to the husbandmen, that they shoulde geue him of the fruite of the vineyard. But they, when they had beaten hym, sent him away emptie.

11 And agayne, (he) sent yet another seruant: but they, when they had beaten him also, and entreated hym shamefully, sent hym away emptie.

12 Agayne, he sent the thirde, and when they had wounded him also, they cast hym out.

13 Then sayde the Lo*r*de of the vineyarde, *What shal I doo? I wyl sende my deare sonne: it may be they wyl reuerence hym when they see him.

John.3.b Rom.8.a Gala.4.a

C 14 But when the husbandmen sawe hym, they reasoned within them selues, sayeing, This is the heyre, *comme, let vs kyl him, that the inheritance may be ours.

Gen.37.c Mat.21.d Mark.12.a.

15 And when they had cast him out of the vineyarde, they killed him. What then shal the Lo*r*de of the vineyarde doo vnto them?

Psal.118. (b) By the corner stone, he meaneth Christe hym self, who was refused of the Iewes.

16 He shal come and destroy these husbandmen, and shal let out his vineyard to other. When they hearde (this,) they sayde, God fo*r*bid.

17 And he beheld them, and sayd, *What is this then that is written, The stone that (b) the buylders disalowed, the same is become the head of the corner.

18 Who so euer shal stumble vpon that stone, shalbe broken: but on whom so euer it shal fal, it wyl grinde him to powder.

19 And the high Priestes & the Scribes the same houre went about to lay handes on him, and they feared the people: fo*r* they perceiued that he had spoken this similitude agaynst them.

Mat.21.d Mark.11.c. Luke.19.g

20 And they watched him, and sent fo*r*th spies whiche shoulde fayne them selues righteous men, that they might take holde of his woo*r*des, to deliuer him vnto the power and auctho*r*itie of the deputie.

Mat.22.b Mark.13.b.

21 And they asked him, sayeing, Maister, we knowe that thou sayest & teachest right, neyther consyderest thou the outwarde appearance of any man, but teachest the way of God truely:

D

22 Is it lawful fo*r* vs to geue tribute vnto Caesar, o*r* no?

Mat.22.c Mark.12.b

23 When he had perceiued their craftinesse, he sayde vnto them, Why tempt ye me?

24 Shewe me a peny: whose image and superscription hath it? They answearing, sayde, Caesars.

25 And he saide vnto them, Geue then vnto Caesar the thynges whiche (belong) vnto Caesar: and to God the thinges that parteyne vnto God.

26 And they coulde not repro*o*ue his sayeinges befo*r*e the people: and they marueyled at his answeare, and helde their peace.

27 Then *came to hym certayne of the Sadducees, * (whiche denie that there is any resurrection) and they asked him,

Mat.22.c. Mark.12.b Actes.23.b. Deut.25.b

28 Sayeing, Maister, Moses wro*t*e vnto vs, If any mans bro*t*her dye, hauing a wyfe, and he dye without childre*n*, that then his bro*t*her shoulde take his wife, and rayse vp seede vnto his bro*t*her.

E

29 There were therefo*r*e seuen bre*th*ren, and the first, whē he had taken a wife, died without chyldren.

30 And the seconde tooke her to wyfe, and he dyed chyldlesse.

31 And the thirde tooke her, and in likewise (the residue of) the seuen, and least no chyldren behinde them, and dyed.

32 Last of al, the woman dyed also.

33 Nowe in the resurrection, whose wyfe of them is she? Fo*r* seuen had her to wyfe.

34 Jesus answearing, sayde vnto them, The children of this (c) wo*r*lde marrye wyues, and are married.

(c) That is, al that remaine in the world, and are abydyng therin.

35 But they which shalbe counted woo*r*thy to enioy that wo*r*lde, and the resurrection from the dead, doo not marrie wyues, neyther are married:

4 And he went his way, and communed with the high priestes and captaynes, how he might betray him vnto them.

5 And they were glad, and promised to geue him money.

6 And he consented, and sought opportunitie to betray him vnto them without tumult.

Mat. 26.c. Mark. 14.b 7 * Then came the day of sweete breade, when (of necessitie) the Passeouer must be killed.

8 And he sent Peter and Iohn, sayeing, Goe and prepare vs the Passeouer, that we may eate.

10 And he saide vnto them, Beholde, when ye are entred into ỹ citie, there shal a man meete you, bearing a pitcher of water, him folowe into the same house that he entreth in.

11 And ye shal say vnto the good man of the house, The Maister sayth vnto thee, where is the ghest chamber, where I shal eate the Passeouer with my disciples?

12 And he shal shew you a great vpper chamber prepared, there make redy.

A The Gospel on Christmas day.

1
N the beginnyng was the woorde, and the woorde was with God, and * GOD was that woorde.

* or, and that woorde was God. Gene.1.a.

2 The same was in the beginning with God.

Prou.8.b. 3 * All thinges were made by it, & without (a) it, was made nothing that was made.

(a) Without Christe, no creature was made. Iohn.14.d. Iohn.8.b. and.9.a. 4 * In it was life, & the life was the * light of menne.

5 And the light shineth in the darkenesse, and the darkenesse comprehended it not.

6 There was a man sent from God, whose name was Iohn:

7 The same came for a witnesse, that he shoulde beare witnesse of the (b) light, that al menne through him might beleeue,

(b) That is, of Christe which is the true lyght. Iohn.5.d. Psal.57.b. 8 * He was not that light, but (was sent) to beare witnesse of the light.

(c) Meanyng priuiledge, or dignitie. 9 That (lyght) was the true lyght whiche lyghteth euery man that commeth into the worlde.

(c) That is, God doth fauour vs, and geueth grace to so many as beleeue in Christe, and are become his members that God in his sonne is wel pleased. 13 Which were borne not of blood, nor of the wyl of the fleash, nor yet of the wyl of man, but of God.

14 And the same woord " became (d) fleash, and dwelt among vs, (and we saw the glorye of it, as the glory of the onlye begotten sonne (that came) from the father) ful of grace and trueth.

15 * Iohn beareth witnesse of him, and cryed, sayeing, This was he of whom I spake, He that commeth after me, is preferred before me, for he was " before me.

16 * And of his fulnesse haue al we receiued, and grace (e) for grace.

17 For the lawe was geuen by Moses, but grace and trueth came by Iesus Christe.

18 No man hath seene God at any time, the only begotten sonne whiche is in the bosome of the father, he hath declared hym.

Mat.11.b. Deut.18.c. 21 And they asked him, what then? * art thou, Elias? And he sayth, I am not. * Art thou that prophete? And he answered, No.

31 And I knewe him not: but that he should be declared to Israel, therefore am I come baptising with water.

Mat.3.d. Mark.1.b. 32 * And Iohn bare recorde, sayeing, I saw the spirite dessending from heauen, like vnto a doue, and it abode vpon him.

34 And I sawe, and bare recorde, that this is the sonne of God.

35 The next day after, Iohn stoode agayne, and two of his disciples.

36 And

36 And when he beheld Jesus walking, he sayth, Beholde the lambe of God.
37 And the two disciples heard him speake, and they folowed Jesus.
38 And Jesus when he turned about, and sawe them folowing (him,) sayth vnto them, What seeke ye? They sayde vnto him, Rabbi (whiche is to say if one interprete it, Maister,) where dwellest thou?

write, Jesus of Nazareth the sonne (g) of Gene.4.d. and.22.c. Deut.18.c.
Joseph.
(g) He speaketh after the common opinion, for most menne supposed him to be Iosephes sonne 46 And Nathanael saide vnto him, Can there any good thing comme out of Naza-

47 Jesus sawe Nathanael commyng to him, and sayth of him, Beholde a right
Israelite, in whom is no guyle.
G 48 Nathanael saith vnto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answeared, and saide vnto him, Before that Philip called thee, being vnder the fig tree, I saw thee.
49 Nathanael answeared, and sayth vnto him, Rabbi, thou art euen the (very) sonne of God: thou art the king of Israel.
50 Jesus answeared, and sayde vnto him,
Because I sayd vnto thee, I sawe thee vnder the figge tree, thou * beleeuest: thou

8 And he sayth vnto them, Draw out now, and beare vnto the gouernour of the feaste.
And they bare it.
9 When the ruler of the feast had tasted the whence it was, but the ministers whiche beginning dooth set forth good wyne, and when the ghestes haue wel dronke, then that whiche is woorse: but thou hast keapt

the good wyne vntyl nowe.
11 This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and shewed his glory:
and his disciples beleeued on him.

22 When therfore he was risen from death, his disciples remembred that he thus had sayde: and they beleeued the scripture, and the woordes whiche Iesus had sayde.

23 When he was in Hierusalem at ỹ Passeouer, in the feast day, many beleeued on his name, when they sawe his miracles which he dyd.

The.iii.Chapter.

3. Christe teacheth Nichodemus. 16. The loue of God towarde the worlde.

A 1 THere was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Iewes:

The Gospel on Trinitie sunday. 2 * The same came to Iesus by night, and sayde vnto him, Rabbi, we knowe that thou art a teacher comme from God: for no man can do these miracles that thou dooest, except God be with him.

Iohn.7.g. 3 Iesus answeared, and sayd vnto him, Verely, verely I say vnto thee, except a man be borne from above, he can not see the kingdome of God.

4 Nicodemus sayth vnto him, Howe can a man be borne when he is olde? can he enter the seconde time into his mothers wombe, and be borne?

Iohn.4.b. and.7.d. Titus.3.a. 5 Iesus answeared, Verily, verily I say vnto thee, except a man be borne of water and of the spirite, he can not enter into the kingdome of God.

Roma.8.a. 6 * That which is borne of the flesh, is flesh, and that whiche is borne of the spirite, is spirite.

C 7 Marueile not thou that I said to thee, Ye must be borne from above.

8 The wynd bloweth where it lusteth, and thou heareſt the sounde thereof, * but canst not tel whence it commeth, and whyther it goeth: So is euery one that is borne of the spirite.

Eccle.11.a. 9 Nicodemus answeared, and sayde vnto him, Howe can these thinges be?

10 Iesus answeared, and sayde vnto him, Art thou a maister of Israel, and knowest not these thynges?

11 Verely, verely, I say vnto thee, We speake that we do knowe, & testifie that we haue seene: and ye receyue not our witnesse.

12 If I haue told you earthly thinges, and ye beleeue not: howe shal ye beleeue if I tel you of heauenly thinges?

13 And no man hath assended vp to (a) heauen, but he that came downe from heauen, (euen) the sonne of man whiche is in (b) heauen.

(a) No man by his owne wit cā know the misteries of Christes kingdome, but by Christ him selfe.

14 And as Moses lyft vp the serpent in the wyldernesse: euen so must the sonne of man be lyft vp:

15 That whosoeuer beleeueth in him, should not perishe, but haue eternal lyfe.

16 For God so loued the worlde, that he gaue his onely begotten sonne: that whosoeuer beleeueth in him, shoulde not perishe, but haue euerlasting lyfe.

The Gospel on the munday in Whitsun weeke.

17 * For God sent not his sonne into the worlde to condemne the worlde: but that the (c) world through him might be saued.

(b) This is spoken for the vnitie of person, and that whiche is proper to one nature, is transferred to the other, as, Act.20. and 28. and so Christe was in heauen, accordyng to his diuine nature. Luke.19.a.

18 He that beleeueth on him, is not condemned: but he that beleeueth not, is condemned alredy, because he hath not beleeued in the name of the only begottē sonne of God.

19 And this is the condemnation, * that light is come into the worlde, and men loued darknesse rather then light: because their deedes were euyl.

20 * For euery one that euyl dooth, hateth the lyght: neyther commeth to the light, lest his deedes shoulde be reproued.

21 But he that dooth trueth, commeth to the light, that his deedes may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.

22 After these thinges, came Iesus and his disciples into the lande of Iurie, and there he tarried with them, * and (d) baptised.

(c) That is, al sorts of people that beleeue, whether they be Iewes or Gentiles. Iohn.1.a. and.12.f. Ephe.5.b. Iohn.4.

23 And Iohn also was baptising in Aenon, neare to Salim, because there was muche water there: and they came, & were baptised.

24 * For Iohn was not yet caste into prison.

25 And there arose a questiō betwene Iohns disciples and the Iewes, about puryfying.

26 And they came vnto Iohn, and sayd vnto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Iordane, to whom thou bareſt witnesse, beholde, the same baptiseth, * and al men come to him.

(d) Christe him self baptised not, but his disciples. Mark.4.b. Iohn.4.a.

27 Iohn answeared, and sayde, A man can receyue nothyng, except it be geuen him from heauen.

28 Ye your selues are witnesses, * how that I sayde I am not that Christ, but am sent before him.

Iohn.1.b.

29 He that hath the bride, is ỹ bridegrome: but the freende of the bridegrome, whiche standeth and heareth him, reioyceth greatly, because of the bridegromes voyce: This my ioy therfore is fulfilled.

7. Christe weeried, asketh water of the woman of Samaria. 19. The liuely water.

A 1 AFter that the Lorde knewe howe the Pharisees had hearde that Iesus made and baptised moe disciples then Iohn:

Mat.4.b. 3 * He leaft Iurie, and departed agayne into Galilee.

4 For (it was so that) he must needes goe thorowe Samaria.

5 Then commeth he to a citie of Samaria, which is called Sichar, neare to the possession* that Iacob gaue to his sonne Ioseph. Gen.48.d.

6 And there was Iacobs wel. Iesus then beyng weery of his iourney, sate thus on the wel, & it was about the (a) sixth houre. (a) That is, twelue of the clocke.

7 And there commeth a woman of Samaria to drawe water: Iesus sayth vnto her, Geue me drynke.

B 8 For his disciples were gone away vnto the towne to buye meate.

9 Then saith the woman of Samaria vnto him, Howe is it that thou being a Iew, askest drynke of me, whiche am a woman of Samaria? * For the Iewes meddle not with the Samaritanes. 4.Reg.17.f Iohn.7.b.

10 Iesus answeared, and sayd vnto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that sayth to thee, Geue me drynke: thou wouldest haue asked of him, and he would haue * geuen thee water of lyfe. Iere.2.b. Iohn.7.b.

11 The woman sayth vnto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to drawe with, and the wel is deepe: from whence then hast thou that water of lyfe?

12 Art thou greater then our father Iacob, whiche gaue vs the wel, and he hym selfe dranke thereof, and his children, and his cattel?

13 Iesus answeared, and sayde vnto her, Whosoeuer drinketh of this water, shal thirst agayne:

14 But whosoeuer drinketh of the water C that I shal geue him, shal neuer be more a thirst: but the water that I shal geue him, shalbe in hym a wel of water springyng vp into euerlastyng lyfe.

15 The woman sayth vnto him, Syr, geue me of that water, that I thyrst not, neither come hither to drawe.

16 Iesus sayth vnto her, Goe, cal thy husbande, and come hyther.

17 The woman answeared, and sayde vnto him, I haue no husbande. Iesus sayde vnto her, Thou hast wel sayde, I haue no husbande.

18 For thou hast had fyue husbandes: and he whom thou nowe hast is not thy husbande: In that saydest thou truely.

19 The woman sayth vnto hym,* Syr, I perceiue that thou art a prophete. Luke.7.b.

20 Our fathers woorshypped in this mountayne, * and ye say that in Hierusalem is the place where men ought to woorshyp. 3.Reg.9.a. 2.Par.7.c.

21 Iesus sayth vnto her, Woman, beleeue me, the houre commeth, when ye shal neyther in this mountayne, nor yet at Hierusalem woorshyp the father. D

22 Ye worshyp ye wote not what, we knowe what we worship: *for saluation commeth of the Iewes. Exod.21.c

24 * God is a spirite, and they that worshyp hym, must worshyp him in spirite, and in the trueth. 1.Cor.3.c.

25 The woman saith vnto him, I wote that Messias commeth, which is called Christ: when he is come, he wyl tel vs al thinges.

26 Iesus saith vnto her, *I that speake vnto thee, am (he.) Mat.26.k. Mar.14.g. Luke.22.c. Iohn.9.d. and.10.c.

27 And immediatly came his disciples, and marueyled that he talked with the woman: Yet no man sayde, What seekest thou, or, why talkest thou with her?

28 The woman then left her water pot, and went her way into the citie, and sayth to the menne, 29 Come, see a man whiche tolde me al thynges that euer I dyd: Is not he that Christe?

30 Then they went out of the citie, and came vnto him.

31 In the meane while his disciples prayed him, saying, Maister, eate.

32 He

32 He ſayd vnto them, I haue meate to eate that ye wote not of.

33 Therfore ſayde the diſciples one to another, Hath any man brought him ought to eate?

34 Jeſus ſaith vnto them, My meate is that I do the wyl of him that ſent me, and finiſhe his worke.

F 35 Say not ye, There are yet foure monethes, and then commeth harueſt? Beholde, I ſay vnto you, Lyft vp your eyes, and looke on the regions: for they are white alredy vnto harueſt.

Mat.9.b. Luke.10.a. 36 *And he that reapeth, receiueth wages, and geathereth fruite vnto lyfe eternal: that both he that ſoweth, and he that reapeth, might reioyce togeather.

37 And herein is the ſaying true, That one ſoweth, and another reapeth.

38 I ſent you to reape that, whereon ye beſtowed no labour: other men (a) laboured, and ye are entred into theyr labours.

(a) Meaning the prophetes.

39 Many of the Samaritanes of that citie beleeued on him, for the ſaying of the woman, whiche teſtified that he tolde me al that euer I dyd.

40 So, when the Samaritanes were come vnto him, they beſought him that he would tary with them: and he abode there two dayes.

G 41 And many mo beleeued, because of his owne worde:

42 And ſayde vnto the woman, Nowe we beleeue, not because of thy ſaying: *for we haue heard him our ſelues, and know that this is euen that Chriſte, the ſauiour of the worlde.

John.17.b.

43 After two dayes he departed thence, and went (away) into Galilee.

44 * For Jeſus him ſelfe teſtified, that a prophete hath none honour in his owne countrey.

Mat.13.g. Mar.6.a. Luke.4.c.

45 Then when he was come into Galilee, the Galileans receiued him, when they had ſeene al the thynges that he dyd at Hieruſalem at the day of the feaſt: For they went alſo vnto the feaſt day.

46 So Jeſus came agayne into Cana of Galilee, *where he made the water wine. And there was a certaine ruler, *whoſe ſonne was ſicke at Capernaum.

John.2.a. Mat.8.a. The Goſpel on the .xxi. Sunday after Trinitie.

47 When the ſame heard that Jeſus was come out of Jurie into Galilee, he went vnto him, & beſought him that he would come downe, and heale his ſonne: for he was euen at the point of death.

Luke.7.a.

48 Then ſayd Jeſus vnto him, Except ye ſee ſignes and wonders, ye wyl in no wiſe beleeue.

49 The ruler ſayth vnto him, Syr, come downe or euer that my ſonne dye.

50 Jeſus ſayth vnto him, Goe thy way, thy ſonne liueth. And the man beleeued the worde that Jeſus had ſpoken vnto him, and he went his way.

51 And as he was nowe goeing downe, the ſeruantes met him, and tolde hym, ſaying, Thy ſonne liueth.

52 Then enquired he of them the houre when he began to amende: and they ſayde vnto him, Yeſterday at the ſeuenth houre the feuer left hym.

53 So the father knewe, that it was (done) the ſame houre, in the whiche Jeſus ſayde vnto him, Thy ſonne liueth: *and he beleeued, and al his houſholde.

The.v. Chapter.

5. Chriſte healed on the Sabboth the man that was ſicke thirtie and eight yeeres.

1 AFter this was there a feaſt day of the Jewes, and Jeſus went vp to Hieruſalem. G

2 And there is at Hieruſalem by the ſheepe (a) (market) a poole, whiche is called in the Hebrue tongue Bethesda, hauing fiue porches:

(a) Where ſheepe were ſolde. Or els, by the ſheepe poole: that is, where they waſhed ſheepe, or where ſhepe dranke.

3 In whiche lay a great multitude of ſicke folke, of blinde, halt, and withered, waiting for the mouing of the water.

4 For an angel went downe at a certayne ſeaſon into the poole, and troubled the water: Who ſo euer then firſte after the troublyng of the water ſtepped in, was made whole of what ſo euer diſeaſe he had.

5 And a certaine man was there, which had ben diſeaſed thirtie and eight yeeres.

6 When Jeſus ſawe him lye, & knewe that he now long time had ben diſeaſed, he ſaith vnto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The ſicke man anſwered him, Sir, I haue no man when the water is troubled to put me into the poole: but in the meane time, while I am about to come, another ſtepped downe before me. B

8 Jeſus ſayth vnto him, *Riſe, take vp thy bed, and walke.

Mat.9.a. Mar.2.b. Luke.5.c. Actes.3.b. and.9.f.

9 And immediatly the man was made whole, and tooke vp his bed, and walked: And on the ſame day was the Sabboth.

10 The Jewes therefore ſayd vnto him that was made whole, It is the ſabboth day, it is not lawful for thee to cary thy bed.

11 He anſwered them, He that made me whole, ſayde vnto me, Take vp thy bed, and walke.

12 They

12 Then asked they him, What man is that whiche sayde vnto thee, Take vp thy bed, and walke?

13 And he that was healed, wyst not who it was: for Iesus had gotten him selfe away, because that there was preasse of people in that place.

John.8.a. 14 *Afterwarde, Iesus findeth him in the temple, and sayde vnto him, Beholde, thou art made whole: sinne no more, lest a worse thing come vnto thee.

15 The man departed, and tolde the Iewes that it was Iesus whiche had made him whole.

16 And therefore dyd the Iewes persecute Iesus, & sought (the meanes) to slea him, because he had donne these thinges on the Sabboth day.

1.Cor.12.a. 17 Iesus answeared them, *My father worketh hytherto, and I worke.

18 Therfore the Iewes sought the more to kyl him, not onely because he had broken the Sabboth, but sayde also, *that God was his father, and making him self equal with God.

Mat.26.f. Mark.14.g Luke.21.c.

19 Then answeared Iesus, and sayde vnto them, Verely verely I say vnto you, *The sonne can doo nothing of him self, but that he seeth the father doo: for whatsoeuer he dooth, that also dooth the sonne lykewyse.

John.9.a.

20 For the father loueth the sonne, & sheweth him al thinges that he him selfe dooth: and he wyl shew him greater workes then these, because ye shoulde marueyle.

D 21 For lykewyse as the father rayseth vp the dead, and quickeneth them: euen so the sonne quickeneth whom he wyl.

Mat.11.c. Luke.10.c.

22 *Neyther iudgeth the father any man: but hath committed al iudgement vnto the sonne, 23 Because that al men shoulde honour the sonne, euen as they honour the father. He that honoureth not the sonne (the same) honoureth not ỹ father which hath sent him.

John.6.c.

24 Verily, verily, I say vnto you, He that heareth my worde, and beleeueth on him that sent me, hath euerlastyng lyfe, & shal not come *into damnation: but is escaped from death vnto lyfe.

Luke.22.c.

Mat.5.e. John.11.c.

25 Verily, verily I say vnto you, *The houre is comming, and nowe is, when the dead (b) shal heare the voyce of the sonne of God: and they that heare, (c) shal lyue.

(b) Meanyng those that are drowned in sinne. (c) That is, they that receyue it by fayth.

26 *For as the father hath lyfe in him selfe: so lykewyse hath he geuen to the sonne to haue life in him selfe:

27 And hath geuen him power also to iudge, because he is the sonne of man.

John.1.a. Mat.25.d.

28 Marueyle not at this: for the *houre is comming, in the whiche al that are in the graues, shal heare his voyce,

29 And shal comme foorth, they that haue donne good, vnto the resurrection of lyfe, & they that haue donne euyl, vnto the resurrection of damnation. E

30 I can of mine owne selfe doo nothing: as I heare, I iudge: and my iudgement is iust, because I seeke not myne owne wyl, but the wyl of the father, whiche hath sent me.

31 *If I beare witnesse of mee self, my witnesse is not true. John.8.d.

32 There is another that beareth witnesse of me, and I am sure that the witnesse whiche he witnesseth of me is true.

33 *Ye sent vnto John, and he bare witnesse vnto the trueth. John.1.b.

34 But I receiue not the recorde of man: neuertheless, these thynges I say, that ye myght be saued.

35 He was a burning and a shining lyght: and ye woulde for a season haue reioyced in his lyght.

36 *But I haue greater witnesse then (the witnesse) of John: *for the workes whiche the father hath geuen me to finish, the same workes that I doo, beare witnesse of me, that the father hath sent me. John.5.a. John.20.c.

37 And the father him self which hath sent me, *hath borne witnesse of me. Ye haue not hearde his voyce at any tyme, nor seene his shape, Mat.3.b. and.12.b. Marke.1.b.

38 And his worde haue ye not abyding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye beleeue not. Luke.3.d. 2.Pet.1.b.

39 Searche the scriptures, for in them ye thinke ye haue eternal lyfe: *and they are they whiche testifie of me. Actes.17.b. Deut.18.c. F

40 And yet wyl ye not come to me, that ye myght haue lyfe.

41 I receyue not the prayse of men.

42 But I knowe you, that ye haue not the loue of God in you.

43 I am comme in my fathers name, and ye receyue me not: *if another shal comme in his owne name, him wyl ye receyue. John.2.c. 1.Thes.2.c.

44 Howe can ye beleeue, which receyue honour one of another, and seeke not the honour that commeth of God onely?

45 Doo not thinke that I wyl accuse you to my father: there is one that accuseth you, euen Moses in whom ye trust.

46 For had ye beleeued Moses, ye woulde haue beleeued me: *for he wrote of me. Deut.18.c.

47 But if ye beleeue not his writynges, howe shal ye beleeue my wordes?

The.vi.Chapter.

29. Fayth is the worke of God. 35. Of the bread of lyfe. 40. Of fayth.

A 1 After these thynges, * Jesus went his

3 And Jesus went vp into a mountaine, and there he sate with his disciple.
4 And the passeouer, a feast of the Iewes, was nygh.

Mark.6.d. sayth vnto Philip, Whence shal we buye
Luke.9.b. bread, that these may eate?
6 (This he sayde to proone him: for he him selfe knewe what he woulde doo.)
3. Reg.4.g. 7 Philip answeared him, * Two hundred B (a) penyworth of bread are not sufficient for them, that euery man may take a litle.
(a) This sum amounteth to about fiue pounde sterlyng. 8 One of his disciples, Andrewe, Simon
Peters brother, sayth vnto him:
9 There is a litle lad here, which hath fiue barley loaues, and two fishes: but what are they among so many?
10 And Jesus sayde, Make the people sit downe. There was much grasse in ỳ place.
So the men sate downe in number about fiue thousande.
11 And Jesus tooke the bread, and when he had geuen thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set downe, and likewise of the fishes, as muche as they woulde.
12 When they were filled, he sayd vnto his disciples, Gather vp the broken meate that remayneth, that nothing be lost.
13 And they gathered it together, and filled twelue baskets with the broken meate of the fine barley loaues, whiche (broken meate) remained vnto them that had eaten.
C 14 Then those men, when they had seene the miracle that Jesus dyd, sayde, This is Luke.7.c. of a trueth* the same prophete that shoulde
John.4.b. come into the worlde.
15 When Jesus therefore perceiued that Luke.6.d. they woulde come and take him by * force, to make him king, he departed agayne into a mountayne him selfe alone.
Mat.24.c. 16 * And when euen was nowe comme, his Mar.6.f. disciples went downe vnto the sea.
17 And gate vp into a shyp, and went ouer the sea towardes Capernaum: and it was nowe darke, and Jesus was not comme to them.
18 And the sea rose with a great winde that blewe.
19 So, when they had rowed, about .xxv. or
xxx. furlonges, they saw Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh vnto the shyppe:
and they were afrayde.
20 But he sayth vnto them, It is I, be not D afrayde.
21 And they woulde haue receyued him into the shyp, and immediatly the shyp was at the lande whyther they went.
22 The day folowing, when the people which stood on the other side of the sea, saw that there was none other ship there, saue that one, whereinto his disciples were en-tred, and that Jesus went not in with his disciples into the ship, but that his disciples were gone (away) alone:
23 Howbeit there came other shippes from Tiberias, nigh vnto the place where they did eate bread, after that the Lorde had geuen thankes.
24 When the people therfore sawe that Jesus was not there, neyther his disciples, they also tooke shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Jesus.
25 And when they had founde him on the other side of the sea, they sayde vnto him,
Rabbi, when camest thou hyther?
26 Jesus answeared them, and sayd, Uery-ly, verily I say vnto you, Ye seeke me, not because ye sawe the miracles, but because ye did eate of the loaues, and were filled.
27 Labour not for the meate whiche perisheth, but for that meate whiche endureth vnto euerlastyng lyfe, whiche (meate) the sonne of man shal geue vnto you: for hym hath God the father sealed.
28 Then sayde they vnto him, What shal E we do, that we might worke the workes of God?
29 Jesus answeared, and sayde vnto them,
This is the worke of God, that ye beleue on him whom he hath sent.
30 They sayde therefore vnto him, * What Mat.12.c.

from heauen to eate.
32 Then Jesus sayde vnto them, Uerily, verily I say vnto you, Moses gaue you not Mat.16.c.
that bread from heauen, * but my father giueth you the true bread from heauen.
33 For the bread of God, is he whiche commeth downe from heauen, and geueth life vnto the worlde.
34 Then sayde they vnto him, Lorde, euer- E more geue vs this bread.
35 And Jesus sayde vnto them, I am the bread of life: he that commeth to me, shal not hunger in any wyse: and he that bele-ueth on me, shal neuer thirst.
36 But I say vnto you, that ye also haue seene me, and yet ye beleeue not.
37 All that the father geueth me, shal come to me,

me, and him that commeth to me, I wyl in no wise cast out.

Luke.22.c. 38 For I came downe from heauen, *not to do mine owne wil, but the wyl of him that sent me.

39 And this is the fathers wyl which hath sent me, that of al which he hath geuen me, I shal loose nothing, but rayse it vp agayne at the last day.

40 And this is the wil of him that sent me, that euery one which seeth the sonne, *and beleeueth on him, may haue euerlasting life: and I wyl raise him vp at the last day.

Mat.13.g. Mar.6.a. 22 And they sayde, *Is not this Iesus, the sonne of Ioseph, whose father and mother we knowe? Howe is it then that he sayth, I came downe from heauen?

43 Iesus answeared, and saide vnto them, Murmure not among your selues.

Iohn.7.g. 24 *No man can come to me, except the father, which hath sent me, draw him: and I wyl raise him vp at the last day.

Esai.54.d. 25 It is written in the prophetes, *And they shalbe al taught of God. Euery man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the father, commeth vnto me.

47 Verely verely I say vnto you, He that putteth his trust in me, hath euerlasting life.

48 I am that bread of lyfe.

49 Your fathers did eate Manna in the wyldernesse, and are dead.

50 This is that bread, whiche commeth downe from heauen, that yf any man eate therof, (he) shoulde not dye.

51 I am that lyuyng bread, whiche came downe frō heauen. If any man eate of this bread, he shal liue for euer: * and the bread that I wil geue, is my fleashe, which I wil geue for the lyfe of the worlde.

Luke.22.c.

52 The Iewes therfore strone amongst them selues, saying, Howe can this felowe geue vs that fleashe of his to eate?

53 Then Iesus sayde vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, Except ye eate the fleashe of the sonne of man, and drynke his blood, ye haue no lyfe in you.

54 Who so eateth my fleashe, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life, and I wil raise him vp at the last day.

55 For my fleashe is meate in deede, and my blood is drynke in deede.

56 He that eateth my fleashe, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

57 As the liuing father hath sent me, and I liue by the father: Euen so, he that eateth me, shal liue by (the meanes of) me.

58 This is that bread, which came downe from heauen: not as your fathers did eate Manna, & are dead: he that eateth of this bread, shal lyue euer.

59 These thinges said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 Many therefore of his disciples, when the had heard (this,) sayd, This is an hard saying, who can abide the hearing of it?

61 When Iesus knewe in him selfe that his disciples murmured at it, he said vnto thē, Doth this offende you?

62 (What) and yf ye shal see the sonne of man assende vp thither where he was before?

63 It is the spirite that quickeneth, the fleshe profiteth (a) nothing: The woordes that I speake vnto you, are spirite and life.

64 But there are some of you that beleeue not. For Iesus knewe from the beginning, which they were that beleeued not, & who shoulde betray him.

65 And he said, Therfore sayd I vnto you, that *no man can come vnto me, except it were geuen vnto hym of my father.

66 From that time many of his disciples went backe, & walked no more with him.

67 Then said Iesus vnto the twelue, Wyl ye also goe away?

68 Then Simon Peter answeared hym, Lord, to whom shal we goe? Thou hast the woordes of eternal lyfe:

69 *And we beleeue and are sure that thou art that Christ, the sonne of ỹ liuing God.

70 Iesus answeared them, Haue not I chosen you twelue, and *one of you is a deuyl?

71 He spake of Iudas Iscariot (the sonne) of Simon: For he it was that should betray hym, being one of the twelue.

(a) To wyt, if it be separate from the spirite, whereof it hath the force. For it commeth of the power of the spirite, that the fleshe geueth vs life, and feedeth vs: And therefore, that we may be truely fed & nourished with it, we must bring the spiritual mouth of fayth to receiue it.

9 When he had sayde these woordes vnto them, he abode styl in Galilee.

10 But when his brethren were gone vp, then went he also vp vnto the feast, not openly, but as it were priuily.

11 Then sought him the Iewes at the feast, and sayde, * Where is he? — *John.11.f.

12 And much murmuring of him was there among the people: For some sayde, *He is good: Other sayd, Nay: but he deceiueth the people. — *Mat.21.d. John.4.c. and.6.c.

13 Howbeit, * no man spake openly of hym, for feare of the Iewes. — *John.12.f.

C 14 Nowe when halfe of the feast was done, Jesus went vp into the temple, and taught.

15 And the Iewes marueiled, saying, How knoweth he the scriptures, seeing that he neuer learned?

16 Jesus answeared them, & sayd, My doctrine in not mine, but his that sent me.

17 If any man wil do his wil, he shal knowe of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speake of mee selfe.

18 He that speaketh of him selfe, seeketh his owne glory: But he that seeketh his glory that sent hym, the same is true, and no vnrighteousnesse is in him.

19 *Did not Moses geue you the lawe, and (yet) none of you keepeth the lawe? Why goe ye about to kyl me. — *Exod.20.a. Deut.5.a.

20 The people answeared, and said, Thou hast the deuil, who goeth about to kil thee?

21 Jesus answeared, and said vnto them, *I haue done one worke, and ye al marueyle. — *John. 5.a.

D 22 Moses therefore gaue vnto you the circumcision (not because it is of Moses, *but of the fathers) and yet ye on the Sabboth day circumcise a man. — *Gen.17.b.

23 If a man on the Sabboth day receiue circumcision, without breakyng of the law of Moses; disdayne ye at me, because I haue made a man euery whit whole on the Sabboth day?

24 *Judge not after the (vtter) appearance, but iudge with a righteous iudgement. — *Deut.1.c. Leuit.19.c. Pro.24.c.

25 Then sayde some of them of Hierusalem, Is not this he, whom they goe about to kyl?

26 But loe, he speaketh * boldly, and they say nothyng vnto hym: Do the rulers knowe in deede, that this is very Christe? — * or, openly 27 Howbeit, *we knowe this man whence he is: but when Christe commeth, no man knoweth whence he is. — *Mat.13.g. Mar.6.a. John.6.c.

28 Then cryed Jesus in the temple, as he taught, saying, Ye both knowe me, and whence I am ye knowe, and I am not come of mee selfe, but he that sent me is true, whom ye knowe not. — E

29 But I knowe him, for I am of him, and he hath sent me.

30 * Then they sought to take him: but no man layde handes on hym, because his houre was not yet come. — *Mar.11.c. Luke. 19.g.

31 *Many of the people beleeued on him, and sayde, When Christe commeth, wyl he do moe miracles then these that this man hath donne? — *John.8.d.

32 The Pharisees hearde that the people murmured such thinges concerning hym: And the Pharisees and hygh priestes sent seruantes to take hym. — *Mat. 22.b. Mar.12.a.

33 Then sayde Jesus vnto them, Yet am I a litle whyle with you, and then I goe vnto hym that sent me. — Luke. 20.d.

34 Ye shal seeke me, and shal not finde me: *and where I am, thither can ye not come. — *John.8.c. and. 13.d.

35 Then said the Iewes among them selues, Whither wil he goe, that we shal not finde him? Wil he goe vnto the dispearsed among the Gretians, and teache the Gentiles? — F

36 What (manner of) saying is this that he sayde, Ye shal seeke me, and shal not fynde me: and where I am, thyther can ye not come.

37 In the last day, that great day of the feaste, Jesus stoode, and cryed, saying, If any man thyrst, let him come vnto me, and drynke: — Esai.55.a.

38 He that beleeueth on me, as the scripture hath sayd, out of his belly shal flowe riuers of water of lyfe.

39 (But this spake he of the spirite whiche they that beleeue on him shoulde receiue. For the holy ghost was not yet * (there,) because that Jesus was not yet glorified.) — * or, geuen: vnderstanding by the holy ghost, the visible gifres of the holy ghost. Jo.3.c.6.b.

40 Many of the people therfore, when they hearde this saying, saide, *Of a trueth this is the prophete. — Luke.7.c. Mat.21.b.

41 But other sayde, This is Christe. But some sayde, Shal Christe come out of Galilee? — Miche.5.a.

42 * Hath not the scripture sayd, that Christ commeth of the seede of Dauid, and out of the towne of Bethlehem, where Dauid was? — Mat.2.a.

43 So was there dissention among the people, because of hym.

44 And some of them woulde haue taken hym, but no man layde handes on hym.

45 Then

45 Then came the seruantes to the hygh priestes and Pharisees, and they sayd vnto them, Why haue ye not brought hym?
46 The seruantes answeared, Neuer man spake, as this man dooth.
47 Then answeared them the Pharisees,
Are ye also deceiued?
48 Haue any of the rulers or of the Pharisees beleeued on hym?
49 But this (common) people which know not the lawe, are cursed.
Iohn.3.a 50 Nicodemus sayth vnto them, *(He that came to Iesus by night, being one of thē,) 51 Dooth our lawe iudge any man before it heare him, and knowe what he dooth?
52 They answeared, and sayde vnto hym,
Art thou also of Galilee? searche, and loke:
for out of Galilee ariseth no prophete.
53 And euery man went vnto his owne house.

The.viii.Chapter.

12. Christe the lyght of the worlde, 56. Abraham did see Christes day.

A
1 IEsus went vnto mount Oliuete:
Mat.21.a Mark.11.a Luke.19.c 2 And early in the morning he came a-gayne into the temple, and al the people came vnto hym, and he sate downe, and taught them.
3 And the Scribes and Pharisees brought vnto hym a woman taken in adulterie, and when they had set her in the middes, 4 They say vnto him, Maister, this woman was taken in adulterie, euen as the deede was a doyng.
Luke.20.b 5 *Moses in the lawe commaunded vs that suche shoulde be stoned: but what sayest thou?
6 This they sayde, tempting him, that they might accuse him. But Iesus stowped downe, and with his finger wrote on the grounde, as though he hearde them not.
B 7 So, when they continued asking him, he lyft vp him selfe, and sayde vnto them, Let him that is among you without sinne, first cast the stone at her.
8 And againe he stowped downe, and wrote on the grounde.
9 And when they heard this, beyng accused of their owne consciences, they went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, euen vnto the last: and Iesus was leaft alone, and the woman standyng in the middes.
10 When Iesus had lyft vp him selfe, and sawe no man but the woman, he sayde vnto her, Woman, where are those thyne accusers? hath no man condemned thee?
11 She sayde, No man Lorde: And Iesus
sayde, Neyther doo I condemne thee: Goe, Iohn.5.c * and sinne no more.

12 Then spake Iesus agayne vnto them, saying, I am the light of the worlde: He that foloweth me, * shal not in any wyse Iohn.1.a
walke in darknesse, but shal haue the lyght 9.a.12.g
of lyfe.
13 The Pharisees therfore sayd vnto him,
Thou bearest recorde of thee selfe, thy recorde is not true.
14 Iesus answeared, and sayde vnto them, C
Though I beare recorde of mee selfe, yet my recorde is true: for I knowe whence I came, and whyther I goe: but ye can not tel whence I comme, and whyther I goe.
15 Ye iudge after the fleashe, I iudge no man,
16 And if I iudge, my iudgement is true:
for I am not alone, but I and the father that sent me.
17 *It is also written in your law, that the Num.35.d
testimonie of two menne is true. Deut.17.a 18 I am one that beareth witnesse of mee Mat.18.c
selfe, and the father that sent me, beareth witnesse of me.
19 Then sayd they vnto him, Where is thy father? Iesus answeared, Ye neither know me, nor yet my father: if ye had knowē me, ye shoulde haue knowen my father also.
20 These woordes spake Iesus in the trea-surie, as he taught in the temple: and no man layde handes on him, for his houre was not Mat.6.c
yet comme.
21 Then sayde Iesus agayne vnto them, I D goe my way, and ye shal seeke me, * and shal Iohn.7.c
dye in your sinnes: whyther I goe, thither and 13.d.
can ye not comme.
22 Then sayde the Iewes, Will he kyl him selfe, because he sayth, Whither I goe, thy-ther can ye not comme?
23 And he saide vnto them, Ye are from beneath, I am from aboue: ye are of this worlde, I am not of this worlde.
24 I sayde therefore vnto you, that ye shal dye in your sinnes. For if ye beleeue not Mat.16.d that I am he, ye shal dye in your sinnes. Iohn.3.d 25 Then sayde they vnto him, Who art thou? And Iesus sayth vnto them, Euen the very same thing that I sayde vnto you from the beggynning.
26 I haue many things to say, and to iudge Iohn.14.b
of you: Yea, and he that sent me is true: and I speake to the worlde those thinges which I haue heard of him.
27 Howbeit, they vnderstoode not that he spake to them of his father.
28 Then sayde Iesus vnto them, When ye E haue lyft vp (an hygh) the sonne of man, then shal ye knowe that I am he, and that I doo nothing of mee selfe: * but as my fa- Iohn.12.d
ther hath taught me, euen so I speake these and.14.b
thynges.

29 And he that sent me, is with me, the father hath not left me alone: for I doo alwayes those thynges that please hym.

John.7.D 30 As he spake those woordes, *many beleeued on hym.

31 Then sayd Iesus to those Iewes which beleeued on hym, If ye continue in my woorde, then are ye my very disciples.

32 And ye shal know the trueth, & the trueth shal make you free.

(h) These were not those Iewes that beleeued, but mockers that beleeued not.

33 They (a) answeared him, We be Abrahās seede, and were neuer bonde to any man: how sayest thou then, Ye shalbe made free?

34 Iesus answeared them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, That *who so euer committeth sinne, is the seruant of sinne.

Rom.7.c and.8.a.

35 And the seruant abideth not in the house for ever: but the sonne abydeth euer.

Rom.6.c 2.Pet.2.D

36 If the sonne therfore shal make you free, then ye shalbe free in deede.

F 37 I knowe that ye are Abrahams seede, but ye seeke (meanes) to kyl me, because my woorde hath no place in you.

38 I speake that whiche I haue seene with my father: and ye doo that whiche ye haue seene with your father.

39 They answeared, and said vnto him, Abraham is our father. Iesus sayth vnto them, If ye were Abrahams children, ye woulde doo the woorkes of Abraham.

40 But now ye goe about to kyl me, a man that hath tolde you the trueth, whiche I haue heard of God: this dyd not Abraham.

41 Ye doo the deedes of your father. Then sayde they to him, We be not borne of fornication, we haue one father, euen God.

42 Iesus sayde vnto them, If GOD were your father, truely ye would loue me, for I proceeded forth, and came from god: Neither came I of mee selfe, but he sent me.

43 Why doo ye not know my speache? euen because ye can not heare my woorde.

Gen.3.a 1.Iohn.3.b.

44 Ye are of your father the deuyl, and the lustes of your father wyl ye doe: *he was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the trueth: because there is no trueth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his owne: For he is a lyer, and the father of it.

45 And because I tel you the trueth, therefore ye beleeue me not.

The Gospel on the fifth Sunday in Lent. John.10.c

46 Which of you rebuketh me of sinne? if I say the trueth, why doo not ye beleeue me?

47 *He that is of god, heareth Gods woordes: Ye therefore heare them not, because ye are not of God.

48 Then answeared the Iewes, and sayde vnto him, Say we not wel that thou art a Samaritane, and *hast a deuyl?

John.10.D 49 Iesus answeared, I haue not a deuyl: but I honour my father, and ye doo dishonour me.

50 I seeke not mine owne glory, there is one that seeketh, and iudgeth.

51 Verely, verely, I say vnto you, If a man keepe my sayeing, he shal neuer see death. G

52 Then sayde the Iewes vnto hym, Now know we that thou hast a deuyl. Abraham is dead, and the prophetes: and thou sayest, If a man keepe my sayeing, he shal neuer taste of death.

53 Art thou greater then our father Abraham, whiche is dead? and the prophetes are dead: whom makest thou thee selfe?

54 Iesus answeared, If I glorifie mee selfe, my glorie is nothyng: It is my father that glorifieth me, which ye say, that he is your God:

55 And yet ye haue not knowen him, but I knowe him: and if I say that I knowe him not, I shalbe a lyer lyke vnto you: but I knowe him, and keepe his sayeing.

Gen.17.a

56 Your father Abraham (b) was glad to see my day: and he sawe it, and reioyced.

(b) To see the comming of Christ in the fleash, which thyng Abraham did see a farre of, with the eyes of fayth.

57 Then sayde the Iewes vnto him, Thou art not yet fiftie yeeres olde, and hast thou seene Abraham?

58 Iesus sayd vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, Before Abrahā was, *I am.

Exod.3.c John.10.f Luke.4.c

59 Then toke they vp stones to cast at him: but Iesus was hidde, and went out of the temple.

The.ix.Chapter.

1. Christe restored sight vpon the Sabboth day to hym that was borne blynde.

1 AND as Iesus passed by, he saw a man whiche was blinde from his birth. A

2 And his disciples asked him, sayeing, Maister, who did sinne, this man, or his parentes, that he was borne blynde?

3 Iesus answeared, Neither hath this man sinned, nor yet his parentes: but that the woorkes of God shoulde be made manifest in him.

4 I must woorke the woorkes of him that sent me, while it is (a) day: The night commeth when no man can woorke.

(a) Whyle oportunitie serueth.

5 As long as I am in the worlde, *I am the lyght of the worlde.

John.1.a 8.b.12.G

6 When he had thus spoken, he spat on the grounde, and made clay of the spittle, and he annoynted the clay vpon the eyes of the blynde,

7 And sayde vnto him, Goe washe thee in the poole of Siloe (which by interpretation is, (as much to say, as) sent.) He wēt his way therefore, and washed, and came (agayne) seeyng. B

Esai.8.b

8 The neighbours therefore, and they that had seene him before when he was blynde, saide, Is not this he that sate and begged?

9 Some saide, This is he: Other saide, He is like him. He him selfe saide, I am (euen) he.

10 Therefore saide they vnto him, Howe were thine eyes opened?

11 He answeared, and sayde, The man that is called Iesus, made clay, and annoynted myne eyes, and saide vnto me, Goe to the poole Siloe, and washe: And when I went and washed, I receiued (my) syght.

12 Then saide they vnto him, Where is he? He saide, I can not tel.

13 They brought to the Pharisees, hym that a litle before was blinde.

C 14 And it was the * Sabboth day when Iesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

Mat.12.a. Mark. 2.D. Luke.6.a. Iohn.5.b. and.7.c.

15 Then againe the Pharisees also asked him howe he had receiued his syght? He saide vnto them, He put claye vpon myne eyes, and I washed, and doo see.

16 Therefore said somme of the Pharisees, This man is not of god, because he keepeth not the Sabboth day. Other saide, * Howe can a man that is a sinner doo suche myracles? And there was a ⁎ strife among them.

Iohn.7.g. and.10.d. ⁎ or, scisme.

17 They say vnto the blinde man agayne, What sayest thou of hym, because he hath opened thyne eyes? He saide, * He is a prophete.

Iohn.7.f.

18 But the Iewes dyd not beleeue the man howe that he had benne blinde, and receiued his syght, vntyl they called the parents of him that had receiued his sight.

19 And they asked them, sayeing, Is this your sonne whom ye say that he was borne blinde? howe dooth he nowe see then?

D 20 His parentes answeared them, and said, We knowe that this is our sonne, and that he was borne blinde:

21 But by what meanes he nowe seeth, we can not tel, or who hath opened his eyes, can not we tel, he is of age, aske him, he shal speake for him selfe.

22 Suche wordes spake his parentes, because they feared the Iewes: for the Iewes had agreed already, that if any man dyd confesse that he was Christe, he shoulde be excommunicate out of the synagogue.

Iohn.12.f.

23 Therefore saide his parentes, He is of age, aske him.

24 Then againe called they the man that was blinde, and saide vnto him, Geue God the praise, we knowe that this man is a sinner.

25 He answeared, and saide, Whether he be a sinner or no, I can not tel: One thing I am sure of, that whereas I was blinde, nowe I see.

26 Then saide they to him againe, What did he to thee? Howe opened he thyne eyes?

27 He answeared them, I tolde you yer whyle, and ye dyd not heare: wherefore woulde you heare it agayne? Wyl ye also be his disciples?

28 Then rated they him, and sayde, Thou E art his disciple: we are Moses disciples.

29 We are sure that God spake vnto Moses: as for this felowe, we knowe not from whence he is.

30 The man answeared, and said vnto them, This is a marueylous thing, that ye wote not from whence he is, & yet he hath opened mine eyes.

21 For we be sure that God heareth not synners: but yf any man be a worshipper of God, and dooth his wyl, him heareth he.

32 Sence the worlde beganne was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blinde.

33 If this man were not of God, he coulde doo nothyng.

34 They answeared, and sayde vnto hym, Thou art altogether borne in sinne, & doest thou teache vs? And they cast him out.

35 Iesus hearde that they had excommunicate him: and when he had founde hym, he sayde vnto him, Dooest thou beleeue on the sonne of God?

36 He answeared, and sayde, Who is he Lorde, that I myght beleeue on him?

37 And Iesus saide vnto him, Thou hast both seene him, and it is he that talketh with thee.

38 And he sayde, Lorde, I beleeue: and he (b) worshipped him.

Iohn. 14.c. (b) He declared his fayth by his outwarde profession.

39 And Iesus saide vnto him, I am comme vnto iudgement in this worlde, that they whiche see not, might see: and that they whiche see, myght be made blinde.

40 And some of the Pharisees which were with him hearde these wordes, and sayde vnto him, Are we blynde also?

41 Iesus said vnto them, * If ye were blind, ye shoulde haue no sinne, but nowe ye say, We see: therefore your sinne remayneth.

Iohn.15.d.

1. Christe the true shepheard, and the doore.
34. Princes called goddes.

1 VErely verely I say vnto you, He that A entreth not in by the dooze into the sheepefold, but climeth vp some other way, the same is a theefe, and a robber.

5 A stranger wyl they in no wyse folowe, but wyl flee from him, for they knowe not the voyce of strangers.
6 This prouerbe spake Jesus vnto them: but they vnderstoode not what things they were whiche he spake vnto them.
B 7 Then saide Jesus vnto them againe, Verely, verely I say vnto you, I am the dooze of the sheepe.
John. 14.a.
8 All (a) euen as many as came before me, are theeues and robbers: but the sheepe did not heare them.
(a) He meaneth al false prophetes, who led not men to Christe, but from him to others or els preached them selues.
9 I am the dooze: by me yf any man enter in, he shalbe safe, and shal goe in, and goe out, and fynde pasture.
10 The theefe commeth not, but for to steale, kyl, and to destroy: I am comme that they myght haue lyfe, and that they myght haue it more abundantly.

The Gospel on the second sunday after Easter.
12 An hyrelyng, and he whiche is not the shepheard, neither the sheepe are his owne, seeth the woolfe comming, and leaueth the sheepe, and fleeth: and the woolfe catcheth them, and scattereth the sheepe.

17 Therefore dooth my father loue me, because I put my life (from me,) that I might take it agayne.
18 No man taketh it from me, but I put it away of mee selfe: I haue power to put it from me, and I haue power to take it agayne. This commaundement haue I receiued of my father.
19 There was a dissention therefore agayne among the Jewes, for these sayenges.
D 20 And many of them saide, * He hath a deuil, and is mad, why heare ye hym?
Mat. 9.d. and. 32.b. Mark. 3.b. John. 8.f.

33 The Jewes answeared him, sayeing, For a good woozke we stone thee not, but for thy blasphemie, and because that thou being a man, makest thee selfe God.

The. xi. Chapter.

43. Christe rayseth Lazarus from death.
45. Certayne Iewes beleeue in Christe.

A 1 A Certayne man was sicke, named Lazarus, of Bethanie, the towne of Marie and her sister Martha.

Luke.7.f 2 (It was that Marie * whiche annoynted the Lorde with oyntment, and wyped his feete with her heare, whose brother Lazarus was sicke.)

3 Therefore his sister sent vnto him, sayeing, Lorde, behold, he whom thou louest is sicke.

4 When Iesus hearde that, he sayde, This infirmitie is not vnto death, but for the glory of God: that the sonne of God myght be glorified thereby.

Iohn.9.a 5 Iesus loued Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

6 When he had heard therfore that he was sicke, he abode two dayes styl in the same place where he was.

7 Then after that, sayth he to his disciples, Let vs goe into Iurie agayne.

B 8 His disciples say vnto hym, Maister, the Iewes lately * sought to stone thee, & goest thou thyther agayne?

Iohn.7.d 9 Iesus answeared, Are there not twelue houres of the day? If any man walke in the day, he stumbleth not: because he seeth the lyght of this worlde.

10 But if a man walke in the night, he stumbleth: because there is no lyght in him.

11 These thinges saide he, and after that, he sayth vnto them, Our freend Lazarus sleepeth, but I goe that I may awake him out of sleepe.

Matth.9.c Luke.8.g Mark.5.d

12 Then sayde his disciples, Lorde, if he sleepe, he shal doo wel yenough.

13 Howbeit Iesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of takyng of reast in sleepe.

14 Then sayde Iesus vnto them playnely, Lazarus is dead:

C 15 And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, (because ye may beleeue:) Neuertheles, let vs goe vnto him.

Iohn.20.f

16 Then sayde * Thomas, whiche is called Didymus, vnto his felow disciples, Let vs also goe, that we may dye with him.

17 Then when Iesus came, he founde that he had lyen in his graue foure daies alredy.

18 (Bethanie was nygh vnto Hierusalem, about (a) fyfteene furlonges of:)

(a) Whiche is about two myles.

19 And many of the Iewes came to Martha and Marie, to comfort them ouer their brother.

20 Martha, as soone as she heard that Iesus was commyng, went and met him: but Marie sate styl in the house.

Iohn.11.d 21 Then sayde Martha vnto Iesus, Lord, if thou hadst ben here, my brother had not dyed.

22 But euen nowe I knowe, that what so D euer thou wylt aske of God, God wyl geue it thee.

23 Iesus sayth vnto her, Thy brother shal ryse agayne.

24 Martha sayth vnto hym, I knowe that he shal rise againe in the resurrection at the last day.

25 Iesus sayde vnto her, I am the resurrection, and the * lyfe: he that beleeueth on me, yea, though he were dead, yet shal he lyue. John.1.a and.14.a John.3.b Rom.1.b Abac.2.a Heb.10.g

26 And who so euer liueth, and beleeueth on me, shal neuer dye. Beleeuest thou this?

27 She sayth vnto hym, Yea Lorde, I beleeue that thou art Christ the sonne of god, whiche shoulde comme into the worlde.

28 And when she had so sayde, she went her way, and called Marie her sister secretly, saying, The maister is comme, and calleth for thee.

E

29 As soone as she hearde that, she aryseth quickly, and commeth vnto hym.

30 Iesus was not yet come into the towne: but was in that place where Martha met hym.

31 The Iewes then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they sawe Marie that she rose vp hastyly, and went out, folowed her, sayeing, She goeth vnto the graue, to weepe there.

32 Then when Marie was comme where Iesus was, and sawe hym, she fel downe at his feete, sayeing vnto him, Lorde, if thou haddest benne here, my brother had not ben dead. John.11.c

33 When Iesus therfore saw her weeping, and the Iewes also weepyng whiche came with her, he groned (b) in the spirite, & was troubled in him selfe,

(b) For compassion, feelyng in hym selfe our miseries.

34 And sayde, Where haue ye layde hym? They say vnto him, Lord, comme, and see.

35 * Iesus wept. Luke.19.k

F

36 Then sayde the Iewes, Behold how he loued hym.

37 And somme of them sayde, Coulde not this man whiche opened the eyes of the blynde, haue caused that this man also shoulde not haue dyed? John.9.b

38 Iesus therefore agayne gronyng in hym self, commeth to the graue: It was a caue, and a stone layde on it.

39 Iesus sayde, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, sayth vnto him, Lord, by this tyme he stinketh: for he hath benne dead foure dayes.

40 Iesus sayth vnto her, Sayd I not vnto thee, that if thou wouldest beleeue, thou shouldest see the glory of God?

41 Then they toke away the stone from the place where the dead was layd. And Iesus lift vp his eyes, and sayd, Father, I thanke thee that thou hast heard me.

42 Howbeit, I knowe that thou hearest me alwayes: but * because of the people which stande by, I sayde it, that they may beleeue that thou hast sent me.

43 And when he thus had spoken, he cryed with a loude voyce, Lazarus, come foorth.

44 And he that was dead, came foorth, bounde hand and foote with graue clothes, and his face was bounde about with a napkin. Jesus sayth vnto them, Loose him, and let hym goe.

45 Then many of the Iewes whiche came to Marie, and had seene the thinges which Jesus dyd, * beleeued on him.

46 But somme of them went their wayes to the Pharisees, and tolde them what Jesus had donne.

47 * Then geathered the hygh Priestes and the Pharisees a counsel, & sayd, What doo we? for this man dooth many miracles.

48 If we let him scape thus, al menne wyl beleeue on him, and the Romanes (c) shal comme, and take away both our roome, and the people.

49 And one of them named Caiaphas, being the hygh Priest that same yeere, sayde vnto them, Ye perceiue nothyng at al, 50 * Nor consyder that it is expedient for vs, that one man should dye for the people, and not that al the nation perishe.

51 This spake he not of him selfe: but being high Priest that same yeere, he prophecied that Jesus shoulde dye for that nation.

52 And not for that nation onely, but that also he shoulde geather togeather in one the children of god that were scattered abrode.

53 * Then from that day foorth, they tooke counsayle togeather for to put him to death.

54 Jesus therefore walked no more openly amõg the Iewes: but went his way thence vnto a countrey nygh to a wildernesse, into a citie which is called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.

55 * And the Iewes Easter was nigh at hande, and many went out of the countrey vp to Hierusalem before the Easter, to purifie them selues.

56 Then sought they for Jesus, and spake among them selues, as they stoode in the temple, * What thinke ye, seeyng he commeth not to the feast day?

57 Both the hygh Priestes and the Pharisees had geuen a commaundement, that if any man knewe where he were, he shoulde shewe it, that they myght take him.

The. xii. Chapter.

3. Marie annoynteth Iesus feete. 37. Wherefore the Iewes beleeue not.

1 THEN Jesus before sixe dayes of the Passouer, came to Bethanie, where Lazarus was, which had benne dead, whom he raysed from death.

2 There they made him a supper, & Martha serued: but Lazarus was one of them that sate at the table with him.

3 * Then toke Marie a pound of oyntment, of Spike narde, very costly, and annoynted Jesus feete, & wyped his feete cleane with her heare: and the house was fylled with the odour of the oyntment.

4 Then sayth one of his disciples, Judas Iscariot, Simons sonne, whiche shoulde betray hym, 5 Why was not this oyntment sold for three hundred pence, and geuen to the poore?

6 This he said, not that he cared for ỹ poore: but because he was a theefe, and * had the (a) bagge, and bare that which was geuen.

7 Then sayd Jesus, Let her alone, agaynst the day of my buryeing hath she keapt this.

8 For the poore alwayes ye haue with you: but me haue ye not alwayes.

9 Muche people of the Iewes therfore had knowledge that he was there: & they came, not for Jesus sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, * whom he rayled from death.

10 But the hygh Priestes helde a counsel, that they might put Lazarus to death also, 11 Because that for his sake many of the Iewes went away and beleeued on Jesus.

12 * On the next day, much people that were comme to the feast, when they heard that Jesus commeth to Hierusalem, 13 Tooke branches of Palme trees, & went foorth to meete hym, and cryed, (b) Hosanna, blessed is he that commeth in the name of the Lorde, king of Israel.

14 And Jesus, when he had founde a young Asse, sate thereon, as it is written, 15 * Feare not daughter of Sion: behold, thy kyng commeth, sitting on an Asses colt.

16 These thynges vnderstoode not his disciples at the first: but when Jesus was glorified, then remembred they that suche thinges were written of him, and that such thinges they had donne vnto hym.

17 The people that was with him, when he called Lazarus out of his graue, and raised hym from death, bare recorde.

18 Therefore met him the people also, because they hearde that he had donne suche a miracle.

19 The Pharisees therefore sayde among them selues, Perceiue ye howe ye prenayle nothyng? Beholde, (al the whole) worlde is gonne after him.

5 After that he powreth water into a bason, and beganne to washe the disciples feete, and to wype them cleane with the towel wherewith he was girded.

6 Then commeth he to Simon Peter: & Peter sayth vnto him, Lorde, dooest thou washe my feete?

7 Jesus answeared, and saide vnto him, What I doo, thou woteſt not nowe: but thou shalt knowe hereafter.

8 Peter sayth vnto him, Thou shalt neuer washe my feete. Jesus answeared him, If I washe thee not, thou hast no part with me.

(b) That is, the loue wherewith Christ loued vs.

10 If ye keepe my commaundementes, ye shal abide in my loue: euen as I haue kept my fathers commaundementes, and abyde in his loue.

11 These thinges haue I spoken vnto you, that my ioy myght remayne in you, & that your ioy might be ful.

The Gospel on saint Barnabe Apostle

12 * This is my commaundement, that ye loue togeather, as I haue loued you.

John.13.B. 1.John.3.D.

13 Greater loue hath no man then this: that a man bestowe his lyfe for his frendes.

14 Ye are my frendes, yf ye doo whatsoeuer I commaunde you.

C 15 Henceforth cal I you not seruantes, for the seruant knoweth not what his lorde dooth, but you haue I called frendes, for al (c) thinges that I haue heard of my father, haue I made knowen to you.

(c) So that there is nothing omitted that is necessary for our saluatiō.

16 Ye haue not chosen me, but I haue chosen you, and ordeyned you, that you shoulde goe and bring foorth fruite, and that your fruite should remayne: that whatsoeuer ye shal aske of the father in my name, he may geue it you.

The Gospel on saint Simon and Iudes day.

17 This commaund I you, that ye loue togeather.

18 If the worlde hate you, ye knowe that it hated me before it hated you.

19 If ye were of the worlde, ỹ worlde would loue his owne: howbeit, because ye are not of the worlde, but I haue chosen you out of ỹ worlde, therfore the * worlde hateth you.

Iohn.17.c.

20 Remember the woorde that I said vnto you, The seruant is not greater then the lord: * yf they haue persecuted me, they wyl also persecute you: yf they haue kept my sayeing, they wyl keepe (d) yours also.

Mat.10.C. Luke.21.C. Mar.10.C.

(d) It is called theyr woorde, not that it dooth disagree frō Gods word, but because they preach it. 2.Cor.4.

21 But al these thinges wyl they doo vnto you for my names sake, because they haue not knowen him that sent me.

22 If I had not comme, and spoken vnto them, they shoulde haue had no sinne: but now haue they nothing to cloke their sinne withal.

23 He that hateth me, hateth my father also.

24 If I had not donne among them the woorkes whiche none other man did, they shoulde haue had no (e) sinne: but now haue they both seene, and hated both me and my father.

(e) They are without al excuse that folow not the word of God preached vnto them.

25 But (this commeth to passe,) that ỹ word might be fulfilled that is wrytten in theyr lawe. * They hated me without a cause.

Psalm.35.c and.69.a.

26 But whē the comforter is come, * whom I wyl sende vnto you from the father, euen the spirite of trueth, whiche proceedeth of the father, he shal testifie of me.

The Gospel on the sunday after Assention day.

27 And ye beare witnesse also, because ye haue ben with me from the beginnyng.

John.14.d. and.16.b. Actes.2.a.

The.xvi.Chapter.

7. Of the holy ghost, and of his office. 17. Of Christes assention. 23. To aske in the name of Christe.

A 1 These thinges haue I sayd vnto you, because ye shoulde not be offended.

2 They shal put you out of their synagogue: yea, the time commeth, that whosoeuer killeth you, wyl thinke that he doth God seruice.

Mat.10.b. Mar.13.d. Luke.21.C.

3 * And such thinges wyl they doo vnto you: because they haue not knowen the father, neyther yet me.

Actes.9.a. John.15.d.

4 But these thynges haue I told you, that when the tyme shal come, ye may remember then that I told you: These thinges sayde I not vnto you at the beginning, because I was present with you.

5 But nowe I goe my way to him that sent me, and none of you asketh me, Whyther goest thou?

The Gospel on the.iiii. sunday after Easter.

6 But because I haue sayde suche thynges vnto you, sorowe hath filled your hartes.

7 Neuertheles I tel you the trueth, it is expedient for you that I goe away: For if I goe not away, that comforter wyl not comme vnto you: but if I departe, * I wyl sende him vnto you.

John.14.d. and.15.d. Actes.2.a. * or, convince.

8 And when he is comme, he wyl * rebuke the worlde of sinne, and of righteousnesse, and of iudgement.

(a) That when the world shal see after his assention the power of his spirite, shewed vpon the Apostles by him, they shalbe compelled in conscience to confesse that he was iust, and that he was not condemned of God for a blasphemer, (as they had iudged) but approued and receyued. Actes.2.37.

9 Of sinne, because they beleeue not on me.

10 Of righteousnesse, because (a) I goe to my father, and ye see me no more:

11 Of iudgement, because the prince of this worlde is iudged (already.)

12 I haue yet many things to say vnto you, but ye can not beare them away nowe.

13 Howbeit, when he is comme (whiche is) the spirit of trueth, he wil leade you into al trueth. He shal not speake of him selfe: but whatsoeuer he shal heare, ỹ shal he speake: and he wyl shewe you thinges to come.

14 He shal glorifie me, for he shal receyue of myne, myne, and shal shewe vnto you.

15 *All thinges that the father hath, are mine: therefore sayde I (vnto you) that he taketh of myne, and shal shewe vnto you.
16 *After a while, and ye shal not see me: and againe after a while, and ye shal see me: for I goe to the father.
17 Then sayde (some) of his disciples betweene them selues, What is this that he sayth vnto vs, After a whyle, and ye shal not see me, and agayne, After a whyle, & ye shal see me: and, That I goe to the father.
18 They sayde therefore, What is this that he sayth, After a while? we can not tel what he sayth.
19 Iesus perceiued that they woulde aske hym, and sayde vnto them, Do ye enquire among your selues of that I sayde, After a while, and ye shal not see me: and agayne, after a while, and ye shal see me?
20 Verily, verily I say vnto you, that ye shal weepe and lament, the worlde shal reioyce: ye shal sorowe, but your sorow shalbe turned to ioy.

Iohn. 20.c.

D

21 A woman, when she trauayleth, hath sorowe, because her houre is come: but as soone as she is deliuered of the chylde, she remembreth no more the anguishe, for ioy that a man is borne into the worlde.
22 And ye nowe therefore haue sorowe: but I wyl see you (b) agayne, and your hartes shal reioyce, and your ioy no man taketh from you.
23 And in that day shal ye aske me no question. Verily, verily I say vnto you, What so euer ye shal aske the father in my name, he wyl geue it you.
24 Hytherto haue ye asked (c) nothyng in my name: aske, and ye shal receiue, that your ioy may be ful.
25 These thinges haue I spoken vnto you by prouerbes, the tyme commeth when I shal no more speake vnto you by prouerbes, but I shal shewe you playnely of my father.
26 At that day shal ye aske in my name: and I say not vnto you that I wyl pray vnto my father for you:
27 For the father him selfe loueth you, because ye haue loued me, and haue beleeued that I came out from God.
28 I went out from the father, and came into the worlde: agayne, I leaue the worlde, and *goe to the father.
29 His disciples say vnto him, Loe, now talkest thou playnely, & speakest no prouerbe.
30 Nowe are we sure *that thou knowest al thinges, & needest not that any man should aske thee (any question:) therefore beleeue we that thou camest from God.

(b) By the power of the holy spirite, which I wyl send to you, wherby your hartes shalbe comforted.

The Gospel on the fifth sunday after Easter.

(c) They were not yet induced to the certayne knowledge, that he was the only mediatour: and therfore that whiche they asked before, was nothyng, in respect of that whiche they shoulde aske and obtayne by fayth, when theyr knowledge was grounded, & that he was assended.

Iohn. 20.d. Iohn. 21.c.

31 Iesus answeared them, Do ye nowe beleeue?
32 *Beholde, the houre draweth nigh, and is alredy come, that ye shalbe scattered, euery man to his owne, and shal leaue me alone: and yet am I not alone, for the father is with me.

33 These woordes haue I spoken vnto you, that in me ye myght haue peace, for in the worlde ye haue tribulation: but be of good cheare, I haue ouercome the worlde.

The. xvii. Chapter.

I. Christe prayeth to his father, that theyr glory might be made manyfest.

A

1 THese woordes spake Iesus, and lyft vp his eyes to heauen, and sayde, Father, *the houre is come, glorifie thy sonne, that thy sonne also may glorifie thee.

Iohn. 13.d.

2 As thou hast geuen hym power ouer al fleashe, that he shoulde geue eternal lyfe to as many as thou hast geuen hym.
3 This is the life eternal, that they myght knowe thee the only true GOD, and Iesus Christe whom thou hast sent.

1. Iohn. 1.a.

4 I haue glorified thee on the earth: * I haue finished the woorke whiche thou gauest me to do.

Iohn. 19.f.

5 And nowe glorifie thou me, O father, with thine owne selfe, with the glory whiche I had with thee yer the worlde was.
6 I haue declared thy name vnto the men (a) which thou gauest me out of the worlde: thine they were, and thou gauest them me, and they haue kept thy woorde.

(a) That is, to the apostles.

B

7 Nowe they haue knowen that al thynges what so euer thou hast geuen me, are of thee:
8 For I haue geuen vnto them the woordes which thou gauest me, and they haue receiued them, and haue knowen surely that I came out from thee, and they haue beleued that thou diddest sende me.
9 I pray for them, I pray not for the (b) worlde: but for them whiche thou hast geuen me, for they are thyne.

(b) That is, the reprobate, that seeke the worlde, and not Christ.

10 And al myne, are thyne, and thyne are myne: and I am glorified in them.
11 And nowe am I not in the worlde, and they are in the worlde, and I come to thee. Holy father, kepe through thine owne name them, whiche thou hast geuen me, that they may also be (c) one, as we are.

(c) That they may be ioyned together in loue, and vnitie of loue, fayth, and spirite.

12 Whyle I was with them in the worlde, I kept them in thy name: those that thou gauest me, haue I kept, and none of them is lost, but that (d) lost childe: * that the scripture might be fulfylled.

Iohn. 18.b. (d) That is, Iudas Iscariot. Psal. 109.a

13 Nowe

13 Nowe come I to thee, and these woordes speake I in the worlde, that they myght haue my ioy fulfylled in them selues.

C 14 I haue geuen them thy woorde, and *the worlde hath hated them, because they are not of the worlde, euen as I also am not of the worlde.

15 I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the worlde, but * that thou shouldest keepe them from the euil.

16 They are not of the world, as I also am not of the worlde.

17 Sanctifie them through thy trueth: thy woorde is the trueth.

18 As thou diddest send me into the worlde, euen so haue I also sent them into the worlde.

19 And for their sakes sanctifie I mee selfe, that they also myght be sanctified through the trueth.

20 (Neuertheless,) I pray not for thē alone: but for them also which shal beleeue on me through their preaching:

D 21 That they al may be * one, as thou father art in me, and I in thee, and that they also may be one in vs: that the worlde may beleeue that thou hast sent me.

22 And the glory whiche thou gauest me, I haue geuen them: that they also may be one, as we also are one.

23 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one, and that the world may knowe that thou hast sent me, and hast loued them, as thou hast loued me.

24 Father, I wil that they which thou hast geuen me, * be (e) with me where I am: that they may see my glory which thou hast geuen me, for thou louedst me before the fundation of the worlde.

25 * O righteous father, the world also hath not knowen thee: but I haue knowen thee, and these haue knowen that thou hast sent me.

26 And I haue declared vnto them thy name, & wil declare it: that the loue wherwith thou hast loued me, may be in them, and I in them.

3. Christe is betrayed by Iudas. 40. The Iewes aske Barabbas to be let loose.

The Gospel on good Fryday. Mat. 26. d. Mar. 13. b. Luke. 22. d.

1 When Iesus had spoken these woordes, * he went foorth with his disciples ouer the brooke Cedron, where was a garden, into the whiche he entred and his disciples.

2 Iudas also whiche betrayed him knewe the place: for Iesus oft tymes resorted thither with his disciples.

3 Iudas then after he had receiued a bande of men, and officers of the high priestes and pharisees, commeth thither with lanternes, and torches, and weapons.

4 And Iesus knowyng al thynges that shoulde come on him, went foorth, & sayde vnto them, Whom seeke ye?

5 They answeared him, Iesus of Nazareth. Iesus sayth vnto them, I am (he.) Iudas also whiche betrayed hym, stoode with them.

6 As soone then as he had sayd vnto them, I am he: they went backwarde, and fel to the grounde.

7 Then asked he them againe, Whom seeke ye? They sayde, Iesus of Nazareth. B

8 Iesus answeared, I haue tolde you that I am (he:) If ye seeke me therefore, let (a) these goe their way.

(a) The apostles & disciples that are with me. John. 17. b.

9 That the saying myght be fulfilled whiche he spake, * Of them which thou gauest me, haue I not lost one.

10 Then Simon Peter hauing a swoord, drue it, and smote the high priestes seruant, and cutte of his ryght eare: The seruantes name was Malchus.

11 Therefore sayd Iesus vnto Peter, * Put vp thy swoorde into the sheath: Shal I not drynke of the cuppe whiche my father hath geuen me?

Mat. 26. b. Gen. 9. a.

12 Then the company, and the captaine, and officers of the Iewes tooke Iesus, and bounde hym:

13 And led him away to Annas first (for he was father in law vnto Caiaphas) which was the high priest that same yeere. (And Annas sent Christe bounde vnto Caiaphas the high priestе.)

14 * Caiaphas was he whiche gaue counsayle to the Iewes, that it was expedient that one man shoulde dye for the people. C John. 11. f.

15 * And Simon Peter folowed Iesus, and so dyd another (b) disciple: That disciple was knowen vnto the high priestе, & went in with Iesus into the pallace of the high priestе.

Mat. 26. f. (b) That is, Iohn.

16 But Peter stoode at the doore without. Then went out that other disciple, whiche was knowen vnto the high priest, & spake vnto the damsel that keapt the doore, and brought in Peter.

17 Then saith the damsel that keapt the doore vnto Peter, Art not thou also one of this mans disciples? He sayth, I am not.

18 The seruantes and officers stoode there, whiche had made a fyre of coales, (for it was colde) and they warmed them selues: Peter also was standyng among them, warmyng hym.

19 * The high priest then asked Iesus of his disciples, Mar. 14. f. Luke. 22. g.

disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Iesus answered him, I spake openly to the worlde, I euer taught in the synagogue and in the temple, whyther al the Iewes resort, and in secrete haue I sayde nothing:

D 21 Why askest thou me? Aske them whiche heard me what I haue sayde vnto them: beholde, they can tel what I sayde.

Actes.23.d. 22 When he had thus spoken, one of the officers whiche stoode by, smote Iesus (with a rodde,) sayeing, * Answearest thou the hygh priest so?

23 Iesus answered him, If I haue euyl spoken, beare witnesse of the euyl: but yf I haue wel spoken, why smitest thou me?

24 Nowe Annas had sent him bound vnto Caiaphas the high priest.

25 Simon Peter was standing, and warming him selfe: Then sayde they vnto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denyed it, and sayde, I am not.

26 One of the seruantes of the high priestes (his cosin, whose eare Peter smote of) saith vnto him, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

Iohn.12.d. Mat.27.a. Mark.15.a. Luke.23.a. 27 *Peter therefore denyed agayne, and immediatly the cocke crewe.

28 *Then led they Iesus from Caiaphas, into the hal of iudgement: It was in the mornyng, and they them selues went not into the iudgement hal, lest they should be defiled: but that they might eate the Passeouer.

E 29 Pilate then went out vnto them, & sayd, What accusation bring you agaynst this man?

30 They answered, and said vnto him, If he were not an euyl doer, we woulde not haue delyuered him vnto thee.

31 Then sayde Pilate vnto them, Take ye him, and iudge him after your owne lawe. The Iewes therefore sayde vnto him, It is not lawful (c) for vs to kyl any man.

(c) Because the Romans had taken that authoritie from them. Mat. 20.a. Mat.27.b. Mark.15.a. Luke.23.b.

32 That the woordes of Iesus might be fulfilled, whiche he spake, signifiyng what death he shoulde dye.

33 *Then Pilate entred into the iudgement hal agayne, and called Iesus, and sayd vnto him, Art thou the king of the Iewes?

34 Iesus answered him, Sayest thou this thing of thee selfe, or did other tel it thee of me?

F 35 Pilate answered, Am I a Iew? Thine owne nation and high priestes haue delinered thee vnto me: what hast thou done?

36 Iesus answered, My kyngdome is not of this worlde: yf my kingdome were of this worlde, then would my seruants surely fight, that I shoulde not be deliuered to the Iewes: but nowe* is my kingdome not from hence.

Iohn.6.b.

37 Pilate therfore sayd vnto him, Art thou a king then? Iesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king: For this cause am I borne, and for this cause came I into the worlde, that I shoulde beare witnesse vnto the trueth, & al that are of the trueth heare my voyce.

38 Pilate sayth vnto him, What is trueth? And when he had sayde this, he went out agayne vnto the Iewes, and sayth vnto them, * I finde in him no fault at al.

39 Ye haue a custome that I should deliuer you one loose at the Passeouer: wyl ye that I loose vnto you the king of the Iewes? Mat.27.c. Mark.15.a. Luke.23.c.

The.xix. Chapter.

I. Christ is whipped, beaten, and crowned.
II. Al power of God.

1 THen Pilate tooke Iesus therefore, and scourged him. A

2 *And the souldiers when they had wounde a crowne of thornes, they did put it on his head, and they did cast about him a purple garment, Mat.27.c. Mark.15.b.

3 And sayd, Hayle king of the Iewes. And stroke him with roddes.

4 Pilate went forth againe, and sayd vnto them, Beholde, I bring him forth to you, that ye may knowe that I finde no fault in him.

5 Then came Iesus forth, wearyng the crowne of thorne, and the robe of purple: and (Pilate) sayth vnto them, Beholde the man.

6 *When the high priestes therfore and officers sawe him, they cryed, sayeing, Crucifie him, crucifie him. Pilate sayth vnto them, Take ye him, and crucifie him: for I finde no fault in him. Mat.27.c. Mark.15.a. Luke.23.d.

7 The Iewes answered him, We haue a lawe, and by our lawe he ought to dye: because* he made him selfe the sonne of God. B Leuit.23.c.

8 When Pilate heard that sayeing, he was the more afrayde, Iohn.5.b.

9 And went agayne into the iudgment hal, and sayth vnto Iesus, Whence art thou? But Iesus gaue him none answeare.

10 Then saith Pilate vnto him, Speakest thou not vnto me? Knowest thou not that I haue power to crucifie thee, and haue power to loose thee?

11 Iesus answered, Thou couldest haue no power at al agaynst me, except* it were geuen thee from aboue: therfore he that deliuered me vnto thee, hath the more sinne. Sapi.6.a.

12 *And

12 *And from thencefoorth sought Pilate (meanes) to loose him: but the Iewes cried, sayeing, If thou let him goe, thou art not Caesars freend: * For whoso euer maketh him selfe a kyng, speaketh agaynst Caesar.

13 When Pilate heard that sayeing, he brought Jesus foorth, and he sate downe in the iudgement seate, in a place that is called the pauement, but in ỹ Hebrue tongue, Gabbatha.

14 It was the preparing of the Passeouer, and about the syxth houre: and he sayth vnto the Iewes, Beholde your king.

15 They cryed, Away with him, away with him, crucifie him. Pilate sayth vnto them, Shal I crucifie your king? The high priestes answeared, We haue no king but Caesar.

16 *Then deliuered he him therefore vnto them to be crucified: and they tooke Jesus, and led him away.

17 And (he) bearing his crosse, * went foorth into a place, whiche is called the place of a skul, but in the Hebrue, Golgotha:

18 Where they crucified him, and two other with him, on eyther syde one, and Jesus in the myddes.

19 And * Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the crosse. The writyng was, Iesus of Nazareth the king of the Iewes.)

20 This title read many of the Iewes: for the place where Jesus was crucified, was nygh to the citie: And it was written in Hebrue, and Greke, and Latine.

21 Then sayd the high priests of the Iewes to Pilate, Wryte not the king of the Iewes: but that he sayde, I am kyng of the Iewes.

22 Pilate answeared, What I haue written, that haue I written.

23 Then the souldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, toke his garmentes, (& made foure partes, to euery souldier a part) and also his coate: ỹ coate was without seame, wouen from the toppe throughout.

24 They sayd therfore among them selues, Let us not diuide it, but caste lottes for it whose it shalbe. That the scripture might be fulfilled, saying, * They parted my rayment among them, and for my coate did they cast lottes. And the souldiers did such thinges in deede.

25 There stoode by the crosse of Jesus, his mother, and his mothers sister, Marie (the wife) of Cleophas, and Marie Magdalen.

26 When Jesus therfore sawe his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he (a) loued, he sayth vnto his mother, Woman, beholde thy sonne.

(a) That is, Iohn.

27 Then sayth he to the disciple, Beholde thy mother. And from that houre the disciple tooke her vnto his owne (house.)

28 After these things, Jesus knowing that al thinges were nowe performed, * that the scripture might be fulfilled, he sayth, I thirste.

29 So there stoode a vessel by, ful of vineger: * Therefore when they had filled a spunge with vineger, and put it vpon hysope, they offered it to his mouth.

30 When Jesus therefore had receyued the vineger, he sayde, * It is (b) finished, and when he had bowed his head, he gaue vp the ghost.

31 The Iewes therfore, because it was the preparing (of the Sabboth) that the bodyes should not remayne vpon the crosse on the Sabboth day (for that Sabboth day, was an high day) besought Pilate that their legges might be broken, and that they might be taken downe.

32 Then came the souldiers, and (c) brake the legges of the first, and of the other whiche was crucified with him.

33 But when they came to Jesus, and sawe that he was dead alredy, they brake not his legges.

34 But one of the souldiers with a speare thrust him into the side, & foorthwith came there out blood and water.

35 And he that sawe it, bare record, and his record is true, and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye myght beleue also.

36 For these thinges were donne, that the scripture shoulde be fulfilled, * A bone of him shal not be broken.

37 And agayne another scripture sayth, * They shal loke on him whō they pearsed.

38 *After this, Joseph of Arimathea (being a disciple of Jesus, but secretely for feare of the Iewes) besought Pilate that he might take downe the body of Jesus, and Pilate gaue him licence: he came therfore, and tooke the body of Jesus.

39 And there came also Nicodemus (which at the beginning came to Jesus by night) and brought of myrrhe and aloes myngled togeather, about an hundred pounde (weyght.)

40 Then tooke they the body of Jesus, and wound it in linnē clothes, with the odours, as the maner of the Iewes is to bury.

41 And in the place where he was crucified, there was a garden, and in the garden a newe sepulchre, wherin was neuer man yet layde.

42 There laid they Jesus therfore, because of the preparing (of the Sabboth) of the Iewes, for the sepulchre was nigh at hande.

3 Peter therfore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre.

4 They ranne both togeather, and the other disciple did outrunne Peter, & came firste to the sepulchre.

5 And when he had stowped downe, he saw the lynnen clothes lying, yet went he not in.

13 They say vnto her, Woman, Why weepest thou? She sayth vnto them, For they haue taken away my Lorde, and I wote not where they haue layde hym.

14 When she had thus sayd, she turned her selfe backe, and sawe Iesus standing, and knewe not that it was Iesus.

15 Iesus sayth vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? Whom seekest thou? She supposyng that he had ben the gardiner, sayth vnto him, Sir, yf thou haue borne hym hence, tel me where thou hast layde hym, and I wyl fetche hym.

16 Iesus sayth vnto her, Mary: She turned her selfe, and sayde vnto hym, Rabboni, whiche is to say, Maister.

17 Iesus sayth vnto her, Touch (a) me not, for I am not yet assended to my father, but goe to my brethren, and say vnto them, I assende vnto my father and your father, and to my God and your God.

The Gospel on the firste Sunday after Easter. Luke. 24. d. * or, weke.

20 And when he had so said, ye shewed vnto them his handes and his syde. Then were the disciples glad, when they saw the Lorde.

(b) He came in myraculously, to geue the Apostles comfort, as also an outwarde taste & sure argument of his diuinitie, that by his notable myracle, he might confyrme the Apostles in the fayth of his resurrection.

21 Then sayd Iesus to them agayne, Peace be vnto you: As my father hath sent me, euen so sende I you also.

22 And when he had sayde those woordes, He breathed on them, and saith vnto them, Receiue ye the holy ghost.

23 Whosoeuers sinnes ye remit, they are remitted vnto them, & whosoeuers sinnes ye reteyne, they are reteyned.

24 (*) But Thomas, one of ỹ twelue, which is called Didymus, was not with them when Iesus came.

25 The other disciples therefore sayd vnto him, We haue seene the Lord. But he sayd vnto them, Except I shal see in his handes the print of the nailes, & put my fynger into the print of the nayles, and thrust my hand into his syde, I wyl in no wise beleeue.

26 And after eyght dayes, agayne his disciples were within, & Thomas with them: Then came Iesus, the doores being shut, and stoode in the middes, and sayde, Peace be vnto you.

27 After that sayth he to Thomas, Bryng thy fynger hyther, and see my handes, and reache hither thy hand, & thrust it into my syde, and be not faythlesse, but beleeuyng.

28 Thomas answeared, and said vnto him, My Lorde, and my God.

29 Iesus sayth vnto him, Thomas, because thou hast seene me, thou hast beleeued, blessed are they that haue not seene, and yet haue beleeued.

30 And many other signes truely did Iesus before the eyes of his disciples, whiche are not written in this booke.

(c) The scripture written is sufficient to confyrme our faith vnto saluation by Christe.

31 These are written, that ye might (c) beleeue that Iesus is Christ the sonne of god, and that in beleeuyng, ye myght haue lyfe through his name.

The.xxi. Chapter.

19. Christe forewarneth Peter of his death and persecution.

1 After-

A 1 AFterwarde did Jesus shewe him selfe agayne to his disciples at the sea of Tiberias, and on this wise shewed he him selfe.

2 There were togeather Simon Peter, and Thomas, which is called Didymus, and * Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sonnes of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples.

Iohn.1.f.

3 Simon Peter sayth vnto them, I goe a fishyng. They say vnto him, We also goe with thee. They went theyr way, and entred into a ship immediatly, and that night caught they nothing.

4 But when the morning was nowe come, Jesus stoode on the shoare: neuertheless, the disciples knewe not that it was Jesus.

" or, Syrs. 5 Jesus saith vnto them, " Children, haue ye any meate? They answeared him, No.

6 And he sayth vnto them, Cast out the net on the ryght syde of the shyp, and ye shal finde. They cast out therefore, and anone they were not able to drawe it for the multitude of fishes.

B 7 Then sayde the disciple whom Jesus loued, vnto Peter, It is the lord: When Simon Peter hearde that it was the Lorde, he gyrd his coate vnto him, (for he was naked) and dyd cast hym selfe into the sea.

8 The other disciples came in a litle shippe (for they were not farre from lande, but as it were two hundred cubites) drawing the net with fishes.

9 As soone then as they were come to land, they sawe whot coales, and fishe layd theron, and bread.

Luke.24.f. 10 Jesus saith vnto them, *Bring of the fish, whiche ye haue nowe caught.

11 Simon Peter went vp, and drewe the net to the lande, ful of great fishes, an hundred and fiftie and three, and for al there were so many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Jesus sayth vnto them, Come, and dyne. And none of the disciples durste aske hym, Who art thou? knowyng that it was the Lorde.

13 Jesus then commeth, and taketh bread, and geueth them, and fyshe lykewyse.

C 14 This is nowe the thirde tyme that Jesus appeared to his disciples, after that he was rysen from death.

15 So when they had dined, Jesus sayth to Simon Peter, Simon * Joanna, louest thou me more thē these? He saith vnto him, Yea Lorde, thou knowest that I loue thee. He sayth vnto him, Feede my lambes. " or, sonne of Iona.

16 He saith to him againe the seconde time, Simon Joanna, louest thou me? He sayth vnto him, Yea Lorde, thou knowest that I loue thee. He sayth vnto hym, Feede my sheepe.

17 He said vnto him the third time, Simon Joanna, louest thou me? Peter was sory, because he saide vnto him the thirde tyme, Louest thou me: And he sayde vnto hym, Lorde, thou * knowest al thynges, thou knowest that I loue thee: Jesus sayth vnto hym, Feede my sheepe. John.16.g.

18 Verily verily I say vnto thee, when thou wast younger, thou gyrdedst thee selfe, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but whē thou shalt be olde, *thou shalt stretch forth thy handes, and another shal gyrd thee, and cary thee whither thou wouldest not. John.13.d. Actes.12.a

19 This spake he, signifiyng by what death he shoulde glorifie God. And when he had spoken this, he sayth vnto hym, Folowe me.

20 Peter turnyng about, seeth the disciple *whom Jesus loued, folowyng, which also leaned on his brest at supper, & sayd, Lord, whiche is he that betrayeth thee? John.13.c. and.19.c.

21 When Peter therfore sawe hym, he sayth to Jesus, Lorde, what shal he do? D

22 Jesus sayth vnto hym, If I wyl haue him to tary tyl I come, what is that to thee? Folowe thou me. The Gospel on .S. Iohn Euangelistes day.

23 Then went this saying abroade among the brethren, that that disciple shoulde not dye: Yet Jesus sayde not to hym, He shal not dye: but, If I wyl that he tary tyl I come, what is that to thee?

24 The same disciple is he whiche testifieth of these thinges, and wrote these thynges, and we knowe that his testimonie is true.

25 * There are also many other things whiche Jesus did, the which if they shoulde be written euery one, I suppose the worlde coulde not conteyne the bookes that should be written. Amen. John.20.g.

2 And sodaynly there came a sounde from heauen, as it had benne the commyng of a mightie wynde, and it fylled al the house where they were sitting.

Actes. 4. f and. 11. b.
4 *And they were al fylled with the holy ghost, and began to speake with other tongues, as the spirite gaue them vtterance.
(a) It is most lyke that the miracle was both in the speakers and also in the hearers. In the speakers, for that they speakyng the Hebrue tongue, dyd wel perceiue that strangers of diuers natiõs & languages dyd vnderstand them: And in the hearers, for that euery man hearde sensibly his owne countrey lãgnage out of the Apostles, speakyng in their mother tongue.
5 There were dwellyng at Hierusalem Iewes, deuout menne, out of euery nation of them that are vnder heauen.
6 When this was noysed about, the multitude came togeather, and were astonied, because that euery man heard them speake in his owne languague.

14 But Peter standyng foorth with the eleuen, lyft vp his voyce, and sayde vnto them, Ye menne of Iurie, and al ye that dwel at Hierusalem, be this knowen vnto you, and heare my woordes,

4 And Peter fastening his eyes vpon hym, with Iohn, saide, Looke on vs.
5 And he gaue heede vnto them, trusting to receiue something of them.
6 Then saide Peter, Siluer & golde haue I none, but suche as I haue, geue I thee, In the name of Iesus Christe of Nazareth, * ryse vp and walke. Mat.9.a.

Philip. 2. b.

11 This is the stone whiche was set nought by of you buylders, whiche is the head of the (a) corner.

(a) Christe is called the cheese corner, or corner stone, because the Iewes, and the Gentiles are ioyned togeather, & builded vpon him by faith, & made one Churche.

12 Neither is there (b) saluation in any other: for among menne vnder heauen, there is geuen none other name wherein we must be saued.

(b) Neither Saint, nor angel, nor woorks, nor ought els can saue, but Christ alone.
John. 11. f.

13 Nowe when they sawe the boldnesse of Peter and John, and vnderstoode that they were vnlearned, and ignorant menne, they marueyled, and they knewe them that they had benne with Jesu:

14 And beholding also the man whiche was healed standyng with them, they could not say agaynst it.

15 But when they had commaunded them to goe aside out of the counsel, they counsayled among them selues, 16 * Sayeing, What shal we doo to these men? for a manifest signe is done by them, & is openly knowen to al them that dwel in Hierusalem, and we can not denye it.

17 But that it be noysed no farther among the people, let vs threaten, & charge them that they speake hencefoorth to no man in this name.

18 And they called them, * and commaunded them, that in no wyse they shoulde speake nor teache in the name of Jesu.

Actes. 5. g.

19 But Peter and John answeared, and said vnto them, Whether it be right in the syght of God, to hearken vnto you more then to God, iudge ye.

20 For we can not but speake that, whiche we haue seene and hearde.

21 So when they had more sharply threatned them, they let them goe, fyndyng nothing howe to punishe them, because of the people, for al men glorifyed God, because of * that whiche was donne.

D

Actes. 3. b.

22 For the man was about fourtie yeeres olde, on whom this myracle of healing was shewed.

23 Then assoone as they were let goe, they came to their felowes, and shewed al that the high priestes and elders had sayde vnto them.

24 And when they hearde that, they lift vp their voyces to God with one accorde, and sayde, Lord, thou art God which hast made heauen & earth, the sea, & al that in them is,

25 Whiche

25 Which by the mouth of thy seruant Dauid hast sayd, *Why did the Heathen rage, Psal.2.a and the people imagine vayne thinges?
26 The kynges of the earth stoode vp, and the rulers came togeather against the lord, and agaynst his Christe.
27 For of a trueth agaynst thy holy childe Iesus, whom thou hast annoynted, both Herode and also Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, geathered them selues togeather,
E 28 For to doo what so euer thy hande and thy counsel determined before to be donne.
29 And now lord, behold their threatnings, and graunt vnto thy seruantes, that with al boldnesse they may speake thy woorde, 30 So that thou stretch foorth thyne hand, that healing, and signes, and woonders, be donne by the name of thy holy childe Iesus.
Actes.16.f 31 And assoone as they had prayed, *the place mooued where they were assembled togeather, *and they were al filled with the holy Actes.2.a and.19.b

32 And the multitude of them that beleeued, *were of one hart, & of one soule: Neyther Actes.2.g and.5.b

33 And with great power gaue the apostles witnesse of the resurrection of the Lord Iesu, and great grace was with them al.
34 Neither was there any among them, that lacked: For as many as were possessours of landes, or houses, solde them, and brought the price of the thinges that were solde,

Actes.1.d 36 And *Ioses which was also called of the Apostles Barnabas (that is to say if ye interprete it, the sonne of consolation) beyng a Leuite, and of the countrey of Cypers,

The.v.Chapter.

12. Miracles are donne by the Apostles.
34. The sentence of Gamaliel.

A 1 BUT a certayne man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wyfe, sold a possession, 2 And keapt away (part) of the price, his wyfe also beyng of counsel, and brought a certayne part, and layde it downe at the Apostles feete.
3 But Peter sayd, Ananias, how is it that Satan hath filled thine hart, to lye vnto the holy ghost, & keepe away (part) of the price of the lande?
4 Whyles it remayned, was it not thyne owne? and after it was solde, was it not in thyne owne power? why hast thou conceiued this thing in thyne hart? thou hast not lyed vnto menne, but vnto God.
5 Ananias hearing these woordes, fel downe, & gaue vp the ghost: And great feare came on al them that hearde these thynges.
6 And the young men rose vp, and put him apart, and caried him out, and buried him.
B 7 And it came to passe, that as it were about ỳ space of three houres after, his wyfe came in, not knowing that whiche was donne.
8 And Peter sayde vnto her, Tel me, solde ye not the lande for so much? And she sayd, Yea, for so muche.
9 Then Peter sayd vnto her, Why haue ye agreed togeather, to tempt the spirit of the Lorde? beholde, the feete of them whiche haue buryed thy husband, are at the doore, and shal cary thee out.
10 Then fel she downe strayght way at his feete, and yeelded vp the ghost: And the young menne came in, and found her dead, and caryed her out, and buryed her by her husbande, 11 And great feare came vpon al the church, and vpon as many as hearde these thinges.
12 And by the handes of the Apostles, *were many signes and woonders shewed among the people. (And they were altogeather with one accorde in *Solomons porche. The Epistle on saint Bartholomewe the Apostle. Mat.16.d

15 Insomuch that they brought the sicke into the streetes, & layde them on beddes and couches, that at the least way, the (a) shadowe of Peter when he came by, myght shadowe somme of them.
16 There came also a multitude of the cities rounde about, vnto Hierusalem, bryngging sicke folkes, and them whiche were vexed with vncleane spirites: & they were healed euery one.
17 *Then the cheefe priest rose vp, & al they that were with him, (whiche is the sect of the Saducees,) & were ful of indignation, 18 And layde handes on the Apostles, and put them in the common prysom.
19 *But the angel of the Lorde by nyght opened the prison doores, and brought them foorth, and sayde, 20 Goe, and stande and speake in the temple to the people al the woordes of this lyfe.

(a) God at the first publishing of his Gospel, wrought woonders by these thinges that seemed trifles to the world, which thinges as they were donne for a tyme, so now the like must not be looked for. Actes.4.a Actes.12.a and.16.f.

D 21 And when they heard that, they entred into the temple early in the mornyng, and taught: but the cheefe Priest came, and they that were with him, and called a counsel togeather, and al the Elders of the chyldren of Israel: and sent to the prison to fetche them.

22 But when the officers came, and founde them not in the pryson, they returned, and tolde, 23 Sayeing, The pryson truely founde we shut with al diligence, & the keepers standing without before the doores, but when we had opened, we founde no man within.

24 Then when the cheefe priest, & the captayne of the temple, and the high priestes heard these thinges, they doubted of them whereunto this would growe.

25 Then came one and shewed them, (sayeing,) Beholde, the menne that ye put in prison, are standyng in the temple, & teaching the people.

26 Then went the captayne of the temple with the officers, & brought them without violence: (For they feared the people, lest they should haue benne stoned.)

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the counsel. And the cheefe priest asked them, E 28 Sayeing, *Dyd not we straytghtly commaunde you that ye should not teache in this name? And behold, ye haue fylled Hierusalem with your doctrine, and intende to bring *(b) this mans blood vpon vs.

Actes.4.d

Mat.27.e

(b. By this speache, they meane that they woulde charge them as gyltie of Christes blood that was shed.

29 Then Peter and the other apostles answeared, and sayde, *We ought more to obey God then menne.

Actes.4.d

30 The God of our fathers rayled vp Jesus, whom ye slue, and hanged on tree.

31 Hym hath GOD lift vp with his tyght hande, to be a prince and a sauiour, for to geue repentance to Israel, and forgeuenesse of sinnes.

32 And we are recordes of these things whiche we say, & so is also the holy ghost, whom God hath geuen to them that obey him.

33 When they heard that, they clane asunder, and sought meanes to slea them.

34 Then stoode there vp one in the counsel, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctour of lawe, had in reputation among al the people, and commaunded to put the Apostles foorth a litle space,

Actes.22.a.

35 And sayde vnto them, Ye men of Israel,

F take heede to your selues, what ye entende to doo as touchyng these menne.

36 For before these dayes rose vp one Theudas, reporting him selfe to be somme great man, to whom a number of menne, about a foure hundred, ioyned them selues: whiche was slayne, and they al whiche * beleeued hym were scattered abroade, and brought to nought.

* or, agreed vnto.

37 After this man arose vp one Judas * of Galilee, in the dayes of tribute, and drue away muche people after him: he also perished, and al, euen as many as obeid him, were scattered abroade.

Luke.13.a

38 And nowe I say vnto you, refrayne your selues from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this woorke be of men, it wyl comme to nought.

39 But and if it be of God, ye can not destroy it, lest haply ye be founde to stryue agaynst God.

40 And to him they agreed: and when they G had called the apostles, and beaten them, they * commaunded that they shoulde not speake in the name of Jesu, & let them goe.

Actes.4.d

41 And they departed from the face of the counsel, *reioycing that they were counted woorthy to suffer shame for his name.

Matth.5.b.

42 And dayly in the temple, and in euerye house, they ceased not to teache and preach Jesus Christ.

11. Steuen is accused.

1 AND in those dayes, when the number A of the disciples grewe, there arose a grudge among the Grekes agaynst the Hebrues, because their widowes were despised in the dayly ministerie.

2 Then the twelue called the multitude of the disciples togeather, and sayde, It is not good that we shoulde leaue the woorde of God, and serue tables.

3 Wherfore brethren, loke ye out among you seuen menne * of honest report, and ful of the holy ghost and wysdome, to whom we may commit this businesse.

8 And Steuen ful of fayth and power, dyd great woonders and miracles among the people.

9 Then

9 Then there arose certayne of the (a) synagogue, whiche is called (the synagogue) of the libertines, and Cyrenians, and of Alexandria, and of Cilicia, and of Asia, disputing with Steuen:

10 And they coulde not resiste the wysedome and the spirit by the which he spake.

11 Then they priuily prepared men, whiche saide, (b) We haue hearde him speake blasphemous woordes against Moses, and agaynst God.

12 And they mooued the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came vpon him, and caught him, and brought him to the counsel:

13 And brought foorth false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speake blasphemous woordes against this holy place, and the lawe.

14 For we heard him say, that this Iesus of Nazareth shal destroy this place, and shal change the ordinances whiche Moses gaue vs.

15 And al that sate in the counsel, lookyng stedfastly on him, sawe his face as it hadde benne the face of an angel.

5 And he gaue him none inheritance in it, no not the breadth of a foote: * and promised that he woulde geue it to him to possesse, and to his seede after him, when as yet he had no childe.

4. The Apostles are scattered abrode. 38. Philip baptiseth the Eunuche.

A Actes.22.d. 1 AND Saul was consenting vnto his death: And at that time there was a great persecution agaynst the Church whiche was at Hierusalem, and they were al scattred abroad throughout the regions Mat.10.c. Actes.11.g. of Iurie & Samaria, except the apostles.

2 And deuout men caried Steuen togeather to his buryal, and made great lamentation ouer him.

Actes.9.a. 1.Cor.15.b. Galat.1.c. 3 As for Saul, he made hauocke of the Churche, entryng into euery house, and drawing out both men and women, dyd put them into prysон.

4 Therefore they that were scattered abroade, went euery where preaching the woorde of God.

5 Then came Philip into the citie of Samaria, and preached Christe vnto them.

6 And the people gaue heede vnto those thynges which Philip spake, with one accorde, hearing and seeyng the miracles whiche he dyd.

B Mat.16.d. 7 For * vncleane spirites, crying with loude voyce, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with paulsies, and many that halted, were healed.

8 And there was great ioy in that citie.

9 But there was a certayne man called Simon, whiche beforetyme in the same citie vsed witchcraft, and bewitched the people of Samaria, saying that he was a man that coulde do great thynges:

10 To whom they al gaue heede, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And him they set muche by, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But when they beleeued Philips preaching of the kyngdome of God, and of the name of Iesus Christ, they were baptised, both men and women.

13 Then Simon him selfe beleeued also: and when he was baptised, he continued with Philip, and wondred, beholdyng the miracles and signes whiche were done.

14 When the Apostles which were at Hierusalem, hearde say that Samaria had receyued the woorde of God, they sent vnto them Peter and Iohn.

15 Which when they were comme downe, prayed for them that they might receiue the holy ghost.

16 (For as yet he was comme downe vpon none of them: but they were baptised (a) onely in the name of Christ Iesu.)

17 Then layed they their handes on them, and they receyued the holy ghost.

18 And when Simon saw that through laying on of the Apostles hands, the holy ghost was geuen, he offered them money, 19 Sayeing, Geue me also this power, that on whomsoeuer I put the handes, he maye receyue the holy ghost.

20 But Peter sayd vnto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou hast thought * that the gift of God may be obteined with money.

21 Thou hast neyther parte nor felowship in this businesse: for thy hart is not ryght in the sight of God.

22 Repent therfore of this thy wickednesse, and pray God, yf perhappes the thought of thine hart may be forgeuen thee.

23 For I perceiue that thou art (b) in the gal of bitternesse, and in the bonde of (c) iniquitie.

24 Then answeared Simon, & sayd, Pray ye to the Lorde for me, that none of (these thinges) whiche ye haue spoken, fal on me.

25 And they, when they had testified and preached the woorde of the Lord, returned towarde Hierusalem, & preached the Gospel in many villages of the Samaritanes.

26 And ỳ angel of the Lord spake vnto Philip, saying, Arise, & goe toward the South, vnto the way that goeth downe from Hierusalem vnto Gaza: whiche is desart.

27 And he arose, and went in: and behold a man of Ethiopia, an Eunuch, and of great authoritie with Candace, Queene of the Ethiopians, and had the rule of al her treasure, * whiche came to Hierusalem for to woorshyp.

28 And as he returned home againe, sitting in his charret, he read Esaias the prophet.

The.x. Chapter.

3. The vision that Peter sawe, 17. He was sent to Cornelius.

1 THere was a certayne man in Cesarea, called Cornelius, a captayne of the bande, called the Italian bande, A

2 A deuout man, and one that feared God with al his housholde, whiche gaue muche almes to the people, and prayed GOD alway.

3 The same sawe by a vision euidently, about the ninth houre of the day, an angel of God comming in to him, and saying vnto him, Cornelius.

(a) The prayers & almes of Cornelius pleased God before he was baptised: but without fayth God can not be pleased. Cornelius therfore (as Bede truely noteth) had fayth, wherby his prayers & almes pleased god. For (sayth he) he came not to fayth through woorkes, but to woorkes through fayth.

4 And when he looked on hym, he was afrayde, and sayde, What is it Lord? And he sayde vnto hym, Thy (a) prayers and thine almes are come vp into remembrance before God.

5 And nowe sende men to Ioppa, and cal for one Simon, whose surname is Peter.

6 He lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea syde: He shal tel thee what thou oughtest to do.

7 And when the angel whiche spake vnto Cornelius was departed, he called two of his housholde seruantes, and a deuout souldier of them that wayted on hym,

8 And tolde them al the matter, and sent them to Ioppa.

9 On the morowe as they went on theyr iourney, and drew nigh vnto the citie, Peter went vp vnto the highest part of the house to pray, about the sixth houre.

10 And when he wared hungry, he woulde haue eaten: But whyle they made redy, he fel into a traunce, 13 And there came a voyce to him, Ryſe Peter, kyl, and eate.

14 But Peter ſayde, Not ſo Lorde: for I haue neuer eaten any thing that is common or vncleane.

16 This was donne thryſe: and the veſſel was receiued vp agayne into heauen.

17 Now while Peter doubted in him ſelfe what this viſion which he had ſeene ſhould meane: beholde, the men whiche were ſent from Cornelius, had made inquirance for Simons houſe, and ſtoode before the dooze, 20 Aryſe therfore, and get thee downe, and goe with them, doubting nothing: for I haue ſent them.

21 Then Peter went downe to the menne whiche were ſent vnto him from Cornelius, and ſayde, Beholde, I am he whom ye ſeeke: what is the cauſe wherefore ye are comme?

22 And they ſayd, Cornelius the captayne, a iuſt man, and one that feareth God, and of good repoꝛte among al the people of the Iewes, was warned by an holy angel, to ſende for thee into his houſe, and to heare woordes of thee.

23 Then called he them in, * and lodged them: And on the morowe, Peter went away with them, * and certayne brethren from Joppa accompanied him.

24 And the thirde day after entred they into Ceſarea: & Cornelius wayted for them, and had called togeather his kynſmen and ſpecial freendes.

25 And it came to paſſe as Peter came in, Cornelius met him, and fel downe (c) at his feete, and woorſhypped (hym.)

26 But Peter tooke him vp, ſaying, Stand vp, I mee ſelfe alſo am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, he came in, & findeth many that were come togeather.

28 And he ſayd vnto them, Ye know howe that it is an vnlawful thing for a man that is a Iewe, to company or comme vnto one of another nation: but God hath ſhewed me, that I ſhoulde not cal any man common or vncleane.

29 Therfore came I vnto you without delay, aſſoone as I was ſent for: I aſke therfore for what intent ye haue ſent for me?

30 And Cornelius ſaide, Foure dayes agoe vntil this houre I was faſting, and at the ninth houre I prayed in my houſe, and beholde, a man ſtoode before me in bright clothing,

2 As they ministred to the (a) Lord, and fasted, the holy ghost sayde, Separate me Barnabas and Saul, for the worke whereunto I haue called them.

3 And when they had fasted and prayed, and layde theyr handes on them, they let them goe.

4 And they, after they were sent forth of the holy ghost, departed vnto Seleucia, & from thence they sayled to Cyprus.

5 And when they were at Salamine, they preached the worde of God in the synagogues of the Iewes: and they had also John to theyr ministter.

6 And when they had gone through the Ile vnto Paphos, they founde a certayne sorcerer, a false prophet, a Iewe, whose name was Barieſu:

7 Which was with the deputie of the countrey, one Sergius Paulus a prudent man: the same when he had called vnto hym Barnabas and Saul, desyred to heare the worde of God.

Exod.7.a. and.8.b. Acts.8.b.

8 But Elymas * the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstoode them, seekyng to turne the deputie away from the fayth.

9 Then Saul (which also is called Paul) beyng ful of the holy ghost, set his eyes on him,

10 And sayd, O ful of al subtiltie & al mischefe, thou chyld of the deuil, thou enimie of al righteousnesse, wilt thou not ceasse to peruert the right wayes of the Lorde?

11 And nowe behold, the hande of the Lord is vpon thee, & thou shalt be blinde, not seeing the sunne for a season. And immediatly there fel on hym a myste and a darkenesse, & he went about, seeking (them) that should leade him by the hande.

12 Then the deputie, when he sawe what was done, beleeued, and woondered at the doctrine of the Lorde.

14 But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antioch in Pisidia, and went into the synagogue on the sabboth day, and sate downe.

Abac.1.a.

42 And when they were gone out of the ſynagogue of the Iewes, the Gentiles beſought that theſe woordes myght be preached to them the next ſabboth.

43 Nowe when the congregation was broken vp, many of the Iewes, and vertuous Proſelytes folowed Paul and Barnabas, whiche ſpeakyng to them, exhorted them to continue in the grace of God.

Actes.11.d.

44 And the next ſabboth day came almoſt the whole citie togeather to heare the word of God.

45 But when the Iewes ſawe the people, they were ful of indignation, and ſpake agaynſt thoſe thinges whiche were ſpoken of Paul, ſpeaking agaynſt, and raylyng.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and ſayd, It was neceſſary* that the worde of God ſhoulde firſte haue ben ſpoken to you: but ſeeing ye put it from you, & thynke your ſelues vnworthy of euerlaſting lyfe, loe, we turne to the Gentiles.

Mat.10.b. Eſai.49.b. Luke.1.c.

47 For ſo hath the Lorde commaunded vs, (ſayinge) I haue made thee a lyght of the Gentiles, that thou be the ſalnation vnto the ende of the worlde.

48 And when the Gentiles hearde this, they were glad, and glorified the worde of the Lorde: and as many as were ordeyned to eternal lyfe, beleeued.

49 And the woorde of the Lorde was publiſhed throughout al the region.

50 But the Iewes mooued the deuout (c) and honeſt women, and the cheefe men of the citie, and rayſed perſecution agaynſt Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coaſtes.

51 But they ſhooke of the duſt of their (d) feete againſt them, & came vnto Iconium, 52 And the diſciples were filled with ioy, and with the holy ghoſt.

(c) Theſe were wealthie and ſubſtancial women, and yet ſuperſtitious, beyng led with a blind zeale, whom the cõmon people eſteemed very godly, and therefore Luke ſpeaketh here of theſe women, as the worlde eſteemed them. (d) This they did according to the commaundement of the Goſpel, for a wytneſſe of their trauayle, that they came into their citie, & offered to them the doctrine of the Goſpel, whiche they contemned, & therby ſignified alſo that they ſo deteſted their company, for this their contempt, that they would not haue the duſt of their citie hang vpon their ſhoes.

The.xiiii. Chapter.

1. God geueth ſucceſſe to his woorde.
19. Paul is ſtoned.

1 AND it came to paſſe in Iconium, that they went both togeather into the ſynagogue of the Iewes, and ſo ſpake, that a great multitude both of the Iewes, and alſo of the Greekes beleeued. A

2 But the vnbeleeuing Iewes ſtyrred vp, and corrupted the myndes of the Gentiles agaynſt their brethren.

3 Long tyme therefore abode they there, ſpeaking boldly with the helpe of the lord, whiche gaue teſtimonie vnto the woorde of his grace, and graunted ſignes and woonders to be done by their handes.

(a) As it is a curſed vnitie the which do ſeparate vs from God, ſo it is better an hundred times that a fewe depart from al the world, & to be at vnitie with God, then being at variance with him, to be in peace with the worlde.

4 But the multitude of the citie (a) was diuided: and part held with the Iewes, and part with the apoſtles.

5 And when there was an aſſault made both of the Gentiles, & alſo of the Iewes, with their rulers, to do them violence, and to ſtone them,

6 They were ware of it, and fledde vnto Lyſtra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and vnto the region that lyeth rounde about.

7 And there were they preaching the (b) Goſpel.

(b) The perſecution of the Goſpel, is an occaſion oft tymes of further aduaunce-ment of the Goſpel.

12 And they called Barnabas Jupiter, and Paul Mercurius, because he was ỳ cheefe speaker.

13 Then Jupiters preest, whiche was before their citie, brought oxen and garlandes vnto the doore, and would haue donne sacrifice with the people.

C 14 Whiche when the Apostles, Barnabas and Paul hearde of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying, 15 And saying, Syrs, why doo ye these thynges? * We also are mortal menne lyke vnto you, and preache vnto you the Gospel, that ye shoulde turne from these vanities, vnto the liuing God, which *made heauen, and earth, and the sea, and al thinges that are therein.

Actes.17.f Rom.1.b

18 And with these sayeinges scarse refrayned they the people, that they had not done sacrifice vnto them.

19 Then thyther came certayne Iewes from Antioche and Iconium, whiche when they had perswaded the(c) people, & had stoned Paul, drewe him out of the citie, supposing he had benne dead.

(c) They that a litle before woulde haue worshipped Paul as God, now they are content that he shoulde be stoned as a wicked man; suche inconstancie is in the ignorant multitude.

20 Howbeit, when the disciples stoode rounde about him, he rose vp, and came into the citie, and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 And when they had preached the Gospel to that citie, and had taught many, they returned agayne to Lystra, and to Iconium, and Antioche,

D 22 And strengthed the disciples soules agayne, * and exhorted them to continue in the fayth, and that we must *through much tribulation enter into the kyngdome of God.

Actes.13.c 2.Tim.3.c.

23 And when they had ordeyned them Elders in euery Churche, and had prayed with (d) fastyng, they commended them to the Lorde, on whom they beleeued.

(d) Here we learne, that when so euer we go about any waighty matter, we ought with abstinence prepare our mindes vnto prayer, that it may be the more earnest

24 And when they had gonne throughout Pisidia, they came to Pamphylia.

25 And when they had spoken the woorde (of God) in Perga, they descended into Attalia, 26 And thence departed by ship to Antioche, from whence they were committed vnto the grace of God, to the woorke whiche they fulfilled.

27 And when they were comme, and had E gathered the Churche togeather, they rehearsed al that God had donne with them, and howe he had opened the dooze of fayth vnto the Gentiles.

28 And there they abode long tyme with the disciples.

The.xv.Chapter.

I. The decree of the Apostles concernyng circumcision, and other ceremonies of the Iewes. 35. Paul and Barnabas preache in Antioche. 39. Paul and Barnabas fallyng at stryfe, breake company.

1 AND certayne menne whiche came A downe from Iurie, taught the brethren; (and sayde,) * Except ye be circumcised after the maner of Moses, ye can not be saued.

Galat.5.a

2 So when there was rysen dissention and disputing, not a litle vnto Paul and Barnabas, against them, they determined that Paul and * Barnabas, and certayne other of them, should goe vp to Hierusalem vnto the Apostles & Elders, about this question.

Galat.2.a

3 And after they were brought on their way by the Churche, they passed through Phenice and Samaria, declaring the conuersation of the Gentiles: and they brought great ioy vnto al the brethren.

4 And when they were comme to Hierusalem, they were receiued of the Churche, and of the Apostles, and Elders, and they declared al thinges that God had donne with them.

5 Then rose vp certayne of the sect of the Pharisees which dyd beleeue, sayeing that it was needeful to circumcise them, and to commaunde to keepe the lawe of Moses.

6 And the Apostles and Elders came togeather for to consyder of this matter.

7 And when there had benne muche disputing, Peter rose vp, and sayd vnto them, Ye menne and brethren, ye knowe howe that a good whyle agoe, God dyd choose among vs, that the Gentiles by my mouth shoulde heare the woorde of the Gospel, and beleeue. B

8 And God whiche * knoweth the hartes bare them witnesse, and gaue vnto them the holy ghost, euen as he dyd vnto vs:

Actes.1.b Psal.7.c 1.Par.28.b

9 And put no difference betweene vs and them, purifyng * their hartes by fayth.

John.13.b

10 Nowe therefore why tempt ye GOD, to put on the disciples neckes the (a) yoke,

(a) He meaneth the holy lawe, and not the ceremonies onely, and calleth it a yoke not able to be borne, because no man, not the most holyest & perfect that euer was (Christe onely excepted) was able to perfourme the same in al poyntes, both outwardly according to the letter, and inwardly according to the spirite.

whiche neyther our fathers nor we were able to beare?

11 But we beleeue that throughe the grace of the Lorde Jesu Christe, we shal be saued, euen as they.

12 Then al the multitude kept silence, and gaue audience to Barnabas and Paul, whiche tolde what signes and woonders GOD had shewed among the Gentiles by them.

13 And when they held their peace, James answeared, sayeing, Menne and brethren, hearken vnto me.

C 14 Simeon tolde howe God at the begynnyng dyd visite, to receiue of the Gentiles, a people in his name.

15 And to this agree the woordes of the prophetes, as it is written,

16 After this I wyl returne, and wil buylde agayne the (b) tabernacle of Dauid, which is fallen downe: and that whiche is fallen in decay of it, wyl I buylde agayne, and I wyl set it vp:

17 That the residue of menne myght seeke after the Lorde, and al the Gentiles vpon whom my name is called, saith the Lorde, whiche dooth al these thinges, 18 Knowen vnto GOD are al his woorkes from the begynnyng of the worlde.

19 Wherfore my sentence is, that we trouble not them whiche from among the Gentiles are turned to God:

20 But that we write vnto them, that they abstayne them selues * from filthynesse of idols, and from fornication, & from strangeled, and * from blood.

21 For Moses of olde tyme, hath in euery e citie them that preache him in the synagogues, when he is read euery Sabboth day.

D 22 Then pleased it the Apostles & Elders, with the whole Churche, to sende chosen menne of their owne company to Antioch, with Paul and Barnabas: (That is,) * Judas, whose surname was Barsabas, and Silas, whiche were cheefe menne among the brethren, 23 And wrote letters by them after this manner, The Apostles, and Elders, and brethren, sende greeting vnto the brethren whiche are of the Gentiles in Antiochia, Syria, and Cilicia.

24 For as much as we haue heard that certayne whiche departed from vs, haue troubled you with woordes, and cumbred your myndes, sayeing, Ye must be circumcised, and keepe the lawe, to whom we gaue no suche commaundement:

25 It seemed therefore to vs a good thyng, when we were comme togeather with one accorde, to sende chosen menne vnto you, with our beloued Barnabas and Paul,

26 Menne that haue ieoparded their lyues for the name of our Lorde Jesu Christe.

27 We haue sent therfore Judas & Silas, which shal also tel you the same thynges by mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the holy ghost and E to vs, to lay vpon you no greater burden then these necessarie thinges.

29 (That is to say,) That ye abstayne from thynges offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangeled, and from fornication: from whiche if ye keepe your selues, ye shal doo wel. So fare ye wel.

30 Nowe therefore, when they were departed, they came to Antioche: and when they had geathered the multitude togeather, they deliuered the Epistle.

31 Whiche when they had read, they reioyced of the consolation.

32 And Judas and Silas, being prophetes also them selues, exhorted the brethren with many woordes, and strengthed them:

33 And after they had taryed there a space, they were let goe in peace of the brethren vnto the apostles.

34 Notwithstandyng, it pleased Silas to abyde there styl.

35 Paul also and Barnabas continued in F Antioche, teaching & preachyng the woord of the Lorde, with many other also.

36 But after a certayne space, Paul sayde vnto Barnabas, Let vs goe agayne and visite our brethren in euery citie where we haue vttered the woorde of the Lorde, and knowe (and see) howe they doo.

37 And Barnabas gaue counsel to take with them John, whose surname was Marke.

38 But Paul woulde not take hym vnto their company, which departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the woorke. Actes. 12. c

39 And (c) the contention was so sharpe betweene them, that they departed asunder one from the other: and so Barnabas tooke Marke, and sayled vnto Cypers.

40 And Paul chose Silas, and departed, beyng committed of the brethren vnto the grace of God.

41 And he went throughe Cyria and Cilicia, stablishing the Churches.

(b) The prophete in this place, prophecied of Christes cõmyng in the flesh, which should build agayne the tabernacle of Dauid, whiche figured gods church, but then vterly defaced and brought to ruine, by the Pharisaical and Iewesse superstitions.

The. xvi. Chapter.

1. Paul circumciseth Timothie. 7. The spirite calleth them from one countrey to another. 24. Lydia is conuerted.

1 THen came he to Derbe, and to Lystra: A and beholde, a certayne disciple was there, named Timotheus, a womans mans sonne whiche was a Jewesse, and beleeued: but his father was a Greke.

2 Which was wel reported of the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium.

3 Paul woulde that he shoulde goe forth with him, and tooke and circumcised him, because of the Jewes whiche were in those quarters: for they knewe al that his father was a Greke.

4 And as they went through the cities, they deliuered them the decrees for to keepe, that were * ordeyned of the apostles and elders whiche were at Hierusalem.

Actes. 15.c.

5 And so were the Churches stablished in the fayth, and encreased in number dayly.

6 Nowe when they had gonne throughout Phrygia, and the region of Galatia, and were * forbidden of ỳ holy ghost to preache the woorde in Asia,

Rom.1.c.

B 7 They comming to Mysia, sought to goe into Bithynia: but the spirite suffred them not.

8 And they passing through Mysia, came downe * to Troada.

Actes. 18.c.

9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the nyght, There stoode a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, sayeing, Comme into Macedonia, and helpe vs.

10 And after he had seene the vision, immediatly we prepared to goe into Macedonia, gathering by conference, that the lord had called vs for to preache the Gospel vnto them.

11 Then we being caryed from Troada, came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis:

12 And from thence to Philippos, whiche is the chiefe citie in the parties of Macedonia, and a free citie: and we were in that citie abidyng certayne dayes.

13 And on the day of the sabbothes we went out of the citie, besides a riuer, where prayer was wont to be made: & we sate downe, and spake vnto the women whiche resorted thyther.

(a) Whiche coulde tel of thinges past, and gesse of thinges to come, which knowledge in many thinges God permitteth to the deuil, to this ende (as Austen noteth) that he might the more mightyly deceiue those that woulde beleeue him.

14 And a certayne woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the citie of the Thyatirians, whiche woorshipped God, gaue vs audience: Whose hart the Lorde opened, that she attended vnto the thinges whiche were spoken of Paul.

15 And when she was baptised, & her household, she besought vs, sayeing, If ye haue iudged me to be faythful to the Lord, come into my house, & abide there. And she constrayned vs.

16 And it came to passe, as we went to prayer, a certayne damsel possessed with a spirit of (a) soothsayeing, met vs: which brought her maisters muche vantage with soothsayeing,

17 The same folowed Paul and vs, and cryed, sayeing, These men are the seruantes of the most high God, whiche shewe vnto vs the way of saluation.

18 And this dyd she many dayes: But Paul not content, turned about, and sayde to the spirite, I commaunde thee * in the name of Jesu Christe, that thou comme out of her. And he came out the same houre.

Mat. 16.d. Actes. 19.c.

19 And when her maisters saw that ỳ * hope of their gaines was gonne, they caught Paul and Silas, and drewe them into the market place, vnto the rulers,

20 And brought them to the officers, sayeing, These menne being Jewes, doo exceedingly trouble our citie:

21 And preache ordinances, whiche are not lawful for vs to receiue, neither to obserue, seeing we are Romanes.

D

22 And the people ranne against them, and the officers rent their clothes, & commaunded * to beate them with roddes.

2. Cor. 11.f.

23 And when they had layde many stripes vpon them, they cast them into prison, commaunding the iaylour of the prison to kepe them diligently.

24 Whiche when he had receiued such commaundement, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feete fast in the stockes.

25 And at midnight, Paul and Silas prayed & lauded God: and the prisoners heard them.

26 And suddainely there was a great earthquake, so that the fundation of the prison was shaken: & * immediatly al the doores opened, and euery mans bandes were losed.

Actes. 5.b. and. 12.b.

E

27 When the keeper of the prison waked out of his sleepe, and sawe the prison doores open, he drewe out his swoord, and would haue killed him selfe, supposyng that the prisoners had benne fledde.

28 But Paul cryed with a loude voyce, sayeing, Doo thee selfe no harme, for we are al here.

29 Then he called for a light, and sprang in, and came trembling, and fel downe before Paul and Silas.

30 And brought them out, and sayde, Syrs, * what must I doo to be saued?

Luke. 3.a.

31 And they saide, * Beleeue on the Lorde Jesus Christe, and thou shalt be saued, and thy household.

Actes. 2 f. John. 6.b.

32 And they spake vnto him the woorde of the Lorde, and to al that were in his house.

33 And he tooke them the same houre of the night, and washed their woundes, and was baptised him selfe, and al they of his houshold straightway.

34 And when he had brought them into his house, he set meate before them,* and ioyed that he with al his houlholde beleeued on God. Luke. 19.g.

35 And when it was day, the officers sent the sergeantes, sayeing, Let those menne goe.

36 And the keeper of the prison tolde this sayeing to Paul, The officers haue sent woorde to loose you: Nowe therefore, geat you hence, and goe in peace.

37 Then saide Paul vnto them, They haue beaten vs openly vncondemned, being Romanes, and haue cast vs into prison, nowe doo they thrust vs out priuily? Nay verely: but let them come them selues, and fetche vs out.

38 And the sergeantes told these woords vnto the officers: and they feared when they heard that they were Romanes.

Mat. 8.d. 39 And they came and besought them, and brought them out, and desyred them to depart out of the citie.

40 And they went out of the prison, and entred into (the house) of Lydia, and when they had seene the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

The.xvii.Chapter.

1. Paul commeth to Thessalonica, where the Iewes set the citie in an vprore.

A 1 AS they made their iourney through Amphipolis, & Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Iewes.

2 And Paul, as his manner was, went in vnto them, and three sabboth dayes disputed with them out of the scriptures,

Luke. 24.g. 3 Opening and alleaging, that* Christ must needes haue suffered & risen agayne from the dead: & that this is Christ Iesus which I preache vnto you.

Actes. 28.f. 4 And *somme of them beleeued, and ioyned with Paul & Silas, and of the deuout Grekes a great multitude, & of the cheefe women not a fewe.

5 But the Iewes which beleeued not, mooued with enuie, tooke vnto them certayne vagaboundes, and euyl menne, and gathered a company, & set al the citie on a roze: and made assault vnto the house of Iason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

6 And when they found them not, they drue Iason & certayne brethren vnto the heads of the citie, cryeing, These that haue troubled the worlde, are comme hither also,

B 7 Whom Iason hath receiued (priuily:) and John. 19.c. these al doo contrary to the decrees of Caesar, (a) saying that there is another king, (one) Iesus.

8 And they troubled the people and the officers of the citie, when they hearde these thinges.

9 And when they had taken sufficient suretie of Iason, and of the other, they let them goe.

10 And the brethren immediatly sent away Paul and Silas by night vnto Berea: whiche when they were comme thyther, they entred into the synagogue of ỹ Iewes.

11 These were the noblest of byrth among them of Thessalonica, whiche receiued the woorde with al readynesse of minde, and searched* the scriptures dayly, whether those thinges were so. John. 5.g.

12 Therefore many of them beleeued: also of honest women whiche were Grekes, and of men not a fewe.

13 But when the Iewes of Thessalonica had knowledge that the woorde of GOD was preached of Paul at Berea, they came thyther, and mooued the people.

14 And then immediatly the brethren sent away Paul, to goe as it were to the sea: but *Silas and Timotheus abode there stil. C Actes. 18.b.

15 And they that guyded Paul, brought him vnto Athens, and receiued a commaundement vnto Silas and Timotheus, for to come to him with speede, and went their way.

16 Whyle Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was moued in him, when he saw the citie geuen to woorshipping of idols.

17 Therefore disputed he in the synagogue with the Iewes, and with the deuout persons, and in the market dayly with them that came vnto him by chaunce.

18 Then certaine philosophers of the (b) Epicures, and of the (c) Stoickes disputed with him: and some saide, What wyl this babler say? Other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of new gods: because he preached vnto them Iesus, & the resurrection.

19 And they tooke him, and brought him into the streete of Mars, sayeing, May we knowe what this newe doctrine whereof thou speakest is?

20 For thou bringest certaine strange thinges to our eares, we would knowe therefore what these thinges meane.

21 (For al the Athenians and strangers whiche were there, had leysure to nothing els, but eyther to tel or to heare some newe thing.)

22 Then Paul stoode in the middes of the streete of Mars, and saide, Ye menne of Athens, I perceiue that in al thinges ye are to superstitious.

23 For

(a) Like quarel piking they vsed against Christ, and these be the weapons whereby the worlde continually fighteth agaynst the members of Christe: treason and sedition.

(b) The Epicures were a sect of learned menne, whiche (being without the knowledge of god) helde opinion, there was no lyfe or ioy after this lyfe, but that al mans felicitie dyd consist in the pleasures of this worlde.

(c) The Stoickes were an other kinde of learned men, whiche likewise wanting the knowledge of god, affirmed that mans whole felicitie and happinesse did consist in the qualities and vertues of the mind,

23 For as I passed by, and beheld the manner howe ye worshyp your gods, I founde an auiter wherein was written, Unto an vnknowen god. Whom ye then ignorantly worshyp, him shewe I vnto you.

Gen.1.a. Actes.14.c Psal.46.a Apoc.14.b Actes.7.f Esai.66.a 4.Reg.8.c

24 *God that made the worlde, and al that are in it, seeyng that he is Lorde of heauen and earth, * dwelleth not in temples made with handes:

1.Par.5.c Gen.1.b.

25 Neither is worshipped with mens hands, as though he needed of any thyng, seyng he him self *geueth lyfe and breath to al euery where:

26 And hath made of one blood, al nations of menne, for to dwel on al the face of the earth, & hath determined the times before appoynted, and also the bondes of their habitation:

27 That they should seeke the Lorde, if perhaps they myght haue fealt & founde hym: though he be not farre frō euery one of vs.

C 28 For in him we lyue, & moone, and haue our being, as certayne of your owne Poets haue sayd, For we are also his offspring.

(d) The Apostle, tearmeth vs the generation of God, not that we be of the substance & nature of God, but because God hath created vs, and by his sonne Iesus Christe hath redeemed vs, and made vs his chyldren by adoption.

29 For as muche then as we are the (d) offspring of God, we ought not to thinke that the godhead is lyke vnto golde, sluer, or stone, grauen by art and mans deuice.

30 And the tyme of this ignorance GOD winked at, but now byddeth al menne euery where to repent:

31 Because he hath appoynted a day in the whiche he wyl iudge the worlde in ryghteousnesse, by that man whō he hath appoynted, and hath offered fayth to al menne, in that he hath rayfed him from the dead.

32 And when they heard of the resurrectiō from the dead, some mocked: & other sayd, we wyl heare thee agayne of this matter.

33 So Paul departed from among them.

34 Howbeit, certayne men claue vnto him, and beleeued: among the which was Dionys Areopagita, and a woman named Damaris, and other with them.

The. xviii. Chapter.

3. Paul preacheth at Corinth. 24. Of Apollos, 26. Aquila, and Priscilla.

A 1 After these thinges, Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth,

Rom.16.a 2.Tim.4.d

2 And found a certayne Iewe named Aquila, borne in Pontus, lately come from Italie with his wyfe Priscilla (because that Claudius had commaūded al Iewes to depart frō Rome) & he came vnto them.

3 And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, & wrought, (for by their occupation they were tent makers.)

4 And he disputed in the synagogue euery Sabboth, and exhorted the Iewes and the Grekes.

5 And when * Silas and Timotheus were comme from Macedonia, Paul was constrained by ỳ spirit to testifie to the Iewes, that Iesus was Christe. Actes.17.d.

6 And when they sayde contrary, and blasphemed, *he shooke his rayment, and sayde vnto them, Your blood be (a) vpon your owne heades: from hencefoorth wyl I goe blameleſſe vnto the Gentiles. B Mat.10.b Mark.6.b Actes.13.g

(a) By this Hebrue speache he signifieth, that he that dyeth and perisheth, shal perishe through his owne fault.

7 And he departed thence, and entred into a certayne mans house, named Iustus, a worshypper of God, whose house ioyned harde to the synagogue.

8 And one Crispus the cheefe ruler of the synagogue * beleeued on the Lorde with al his housholde: and many of the Corinthians hearing, beleeued, and were baptised. John.4 f Actes.17.b.

9 Then spake ỳ Lorde to Paul in the night *by a vision: Be not afrayde, but speake, and holde not thy peace.

10 For I am with thee, and no man shal inuade thee to hurt thee: For I haue muche people in this citie.

11 And he continued there a yeere and sire monethes, teaching the worde of God among them.

12 And when Gallio was the deputie of Achaia, the Iewes made insurrection with one accorde against Paul, and brought him to the iudgement seate, 13 Sayeng, This felowe counselleth men to worshyp God contrary to the lawe.

14 And when Paul now was about to open C his mouth, Gallio sayde vnto the Iewes, Yf it were a matter of wrong, or an euyl deede, O ye Iewes, reason woulde that I shoulde beare with you:

(b) Cenchrea is a hauen at Corinth, where Paul takyng ship, dyd sheare his head, according to his vowe: For accordyng to the lawe of Moses, they that vowed them selues to God, were commaūded to suffer their heare to growe as long as they woulde continue Nazarites, and afterwarde to 15 But if it be a question of woordes and names, or of your lawe, looke ye to it your selues: for I wyl be no iudge of suche matters.

16 And he draue them from the iudgement seate.

17 Then al the Greekes tooke Sosthenes the cheefe ruler of the synagogue, & smote him before the iudgement seate: and Gallio cared for none of these thinges.

18 And Paul after this tarryed (there) yet a good whyle, and then tooke his leaue of the brethren, and sayled thence into Syria, (Aquila and Priscilla accompanying hym.) And he shaue his head in (b) Cenchrea: for he had a vowe.

19 And he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he him selfe entred into the synasheare it, and to burne it. This dyd Paul, not forgettyng what he had before decreed with the Apostles, touchyng the abolishyng of the lawe: but lest the Iewes whiche beleeued should be offended, he fayned hym selfe a Iewe, to wynne the Iewes.

gogue, and reasoned with the Iewes.

20 When they desyred hym to tary longer tyme with them, he consented not:

D 21 But bade them farewel, sayeing, I must needes at this feast that commeth, be in Hierusalem, but I wyl returne agayne vnto you if God wyl: And he sayled from Ephesus.

22 And when he was comme vnto Cesarea, and assended vp, and saluted the Churche, he went to Antioche.

23 And when he had taryed there a whyle, he departed, and went ouer al the countrey of Galatia and Phrygia by order, strengthyng al the disciples.

I.Cor.1.b 24 And a certayne Iewe named Apollos, borne at Alexandria, came to Ephesus, an eloquent man, & mightie in the scriptures.

25 The same was informed in the way of the Lorde, and beyng feruent in the spirite, he spake and taught diligently the thinges of the Lorde, knowyng onely the baptisme of Iohn.

26 And the same began to speake boldly in the synagogue: Whom when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they tooke hym vnto them, and (c) expounded vnto him the way of God perfectly.

(c) Apollo beyng a wittie and learned man, was not ashamed to be taught & instructed in the doctrine of Christ, of a poore craftes man and his wyfe.

27 And when he was disposed to goe into Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receiue him: Whiche when he was comme, helped them muche whiche had beleeued through grace.

28 For he ouercame the Iewes myghtily, and that openly, shewyng by the scriptures that Iesus was that Christe.

The.xix.Chapter.

3. Of baptisme. 6. Of the holy ghost geuen by Paules handes. 9. The Iewes blaspheme the doctrine of Paul.

(a) By the holy ghost, here ne meaneth the visible graces of the holy spirite.

(b) By this place, Iohns baptisme signifieth Iohns doctrine: which therefore is so called, for that he sealed his doctrine with the seale of baptisme in them that beleeued.

1 And it came to passe, that whyle Apollos was at Corinth, Paul passed thyough the vpper coastes, and came to Ephesus, and found certayne disciples,

2 And sayde vnto them, Haue ye receiued (a) the holy ghost sence ye beleeued? And they sayde vnto him, We haue not heard whether there be any holy ghost or no.

3 And he sayde vnto them, Vnto what then were ye baptised? And they sayd, Vnto (b) Iohns baptisme.

4 Then sayde Paul, Iohn verely baptised with the baptisme of repentance, sayeing vnto the people, that they shoulde beleeue on hym whiche shoulde comme after him, that is, on Christe Iesus.

5 When they heard this, they were baptised in (c) the name of the Lorde Iesus.

(c) They that were baptised, were not baptised with water beyng before baptised of Iohn with water: but they were baptised with visible gyftes of the holy ghost, which saint Luke declaryng howe it was, writeth that it was by the layeing on of saint Paules handes.

6 And when Paul had layde his handes vpon them, the holy ghost came on them, & they spake with tongues, and prophesied.

7 And al the menne were about twelue.

8 And he went into the synagogue, & spake boldly for the space of three monethes, disputing and perswading those thinges that (appartayne) to the kyngdome of God.

9 But when diuers waxed harde harted, & beleeued not, but spake euyl of the way (of the Lorde) and that before the multitude, he departed from them, & separated the disciples: and he disputed dayly in the schoole of one called Tyrannus.

10 And this continued by the space of two yeeres, so that al they which dwelt in Asia, heard the woorde of the Lord Iesus, both Iewes and Greekes.

11 And God * wrought special miracles by the handes of Paul:

Mark.16.d
Actes.5.c

12 So that from his body were brought vnto the sicke, napkins, and partlettes, and the diseases departed from them, and the *euyl spirites went out of them.

Mat.16.d

13 Then certayne of the vagabonde Iewes exorcistes, toke vpon them to cal ouer them whiche had euyl spirites, the name of the Lorde Iesus, sayeing, We adiure you by *Iesus whom Paul preacheth.

Matth.7.c C

14 And there was seuen sonnes of one Sceua a Iewe, and cheefe of the priestes, whiche dyd so.

15 And the euyl spirite answeared, and said, Iesus I knowe, and Paul I knowe, but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the euyl spirite was, ranne on them, and ouercame them, and preuayled agaynst them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17 And this was knowen to al the Iewes and Greekes also whiche dwelt at Ephesus, and feare came on them al, & the name of the Lorde Iesus was magnified, 18 And many that beleeued, came, and * confessed, and shewed their woorkes.

Mark.1.c

19 Many also of them whiche vsed curious craftes, brought their bookes, and burned them before al menne: and they counted the price of them, and founde it fyftie thousand peeces of siluer.

20 So myghtily grewe the woorde of god, and preuayled.

D

21 After these thinges were ended, Paul purposed in the spirite, when he had passed ouer Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Hierusalem, saying, After I haue bene there, I must also see Rome.

22 So sent he into Macedonia two of them that ministred vnto him, Timotheus and Erastus, Erastus, but he him selfe remayned in Asia for a season.

23 And the same time there arose no litle a doo about that way.

24 For a certayne man named Demetrius, a syluer smith, whiche made siluer shrines for Diana, ministred no smal gayne vnto the craftes men:

25 Whom he called togeather, with ỳ workmen of like occupation, and saide, Syrs, ye knowe that by this craft * we haue aduantage.

Actes.16.d.

26 Moreouer, ye see & heare that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout al Asia this Paul hath perswaded and turned away muche people, sayeing that they be no goddes whiche are made with handes.

Psal.115.a.

27 So that not only this our craft commeth into peril to be set at nought: but also that the temple of the great goddesse Diana shoulde be despised, and her magnificence shoulde be destroyed, whom al Asia and the worlde worshipped.

E

28 And when they hearde these sayeinges, they were ful of wrath, and cryed out, sayeing, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And al the citie was on a roze, and they rushed into the common hal, with one assent, and caught Gaius and Aristarcus, men of Macedonia, Paules companions.

30 When Paul woulde haue entred in vnto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 But certayne of the cheefe of Asia, which were his freendes, sent vnto him, desyring him that he woulde not preasse into the common hal.

32 Some therefore cryed one thing, & some another: and the assemblie was al out of quiet, and the more part knewe not wherefore they were come togeather.

33 And (certayne) of the people drewe Alexander out of the multitude, the Iewes thrusting him forwardes. And Alexander * beckened with the hand, and would haue geuen the people an answeare.

Actes.21.g.

34 But when they knewe that he was a Iewe, there arose a shoute almost for the space of two houres, of al menne, cryeing, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

F

35 And when the towne clarke had pacifyed the people, he saide, Ye menne of Ephesus, what man is it that knoweth not how that the citie of the Ephesians is * the temple keeper of the great goddesse Diana, and of the (image) whiche came downe from Iupiter?

* Some reade, a worshipper

36 Seeing then that these thinges can not be spoken agaynst, ye ought to be quiet, and to doo nothing rashely.

37 For ye haue brought hyther these menne, whiche are neither robbers of Churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddesse.

38 Wherefore, yf Demetrius & the craftes men whiche are with him, haue a matter against any man, the lawe is open, & there are deputies, let them accuse one another.

39 But yf ye enquire any thing concernyng other matters, it shalbe determined in a lawful assembly.

40 For we are in ieopardie to be accused of this dayes vprore, forasmuche as there is no cause wherby we may geue a reckening of this concourse of people.

41 And when he had thus spoken, he let the assemblie depart.

The.xx. Chapter.

I. Paul goeth into Macedonia and Grecia, 7. he celebrateth the Lordes supper, and preacheth.

1 AND after the vprore was ceassed, Paul called the disciples, and tooke his leaue of them, and departed, for to goe into Macedonia.

A

2 And when he had gone ouer those parts, and had geuen them a long exhortation, he came into Grece,

3 And there abode three monethes: and when the Iewes layde wayte for him, as he was about to sayle into Syria, he purposed to returne through Macedonia.

4 And there accompanyed him into Asia Sopater of Berea: and of the Thessalonians Aristarcus, and Secundus, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus: and out of Asia Tychicus and * Trophimus.

Actes. 21.f. 2.Tim.4.b

5 These going before, taried vs at Troas:

6 And we sayled away from Philippos after the daies of sweete bread, and came vnto them to Troas in fyue dayes, where we abode seuen dayes.

7 And vpon one of the sabboth dayes, when the disciples came togeather for to breake bread, Paul reasoned with them, ready to depart on the morowe, and continued the talke vnto midnight.

B

8 And there were many lightes in an vpper chamber where they were geathered togeather.

9 And there sate in a windowe a certayne young man named Eutichus, being fallen into a deepe sleepe, and as Paul was long reasonyng, he was ỳ more ouercome with sleepe, and fel downe from the thirde loft, and was taken vp dead.

10 But when Paul went downe, he fel on him, and * imbraced him, and sayd, Make nothing a doo: for his lyfe is in him.

12 And they brought the young man aliue, and were not a litle comforted.

13 And we went afore to shippe, and sayled vnto Asson, there to receiue Paul: for so had he appointed, minding him selfe to goe a foote.

C 14 And when he was come to vs to Asson, we tooke him in, and came to Mitylene.

15 And we sayled thence, and came the next day ouer agaynst Chios, and the next day we arriued at Samos, and tarryed at Trogyllium: the next day we came to Miletum.

16 For Paul had determined to sayle ouer by Ephesus, because he woulde not spende the time in Asia: for he hasted, yf it were possible for him, to be at Hierusalem the day of Pentecost.

17 And from Miletum he sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the Churche.

18 Whiche when they were comme to him, he saide vnto them, Ye knowe from the fyrst day that I came into Asia, after what maner I haue ben with you at al seasons,

19 Seruing the Lorde with al humblenesse of minde, and with many teares and temptations, whiche came vnto me by the layetinges awayte of the Jewes:

20 And howe I kept backe nothing that was profytable vnto you, but haue shewed you, and haue taught you openly, and thorowe out euery house:

D 21 Witnessing both to the Jewes and also to the Grekes, the *repentance that is towarde God, and the fayth whiche is toward our Lorde Jesus Christe.

Luke. 24.c.

(a) That is to say, I goe by the impulsion and commaundement of the holy ghost, who draweth me as with a bonde.

22 And nowe beholde, I goe bounde (a) in the spirite vnto Hierusalem, not knowyng the thinges that shal comme vnto me:

23 But that the holy ghost witnesseth in euery citie, sayeing that bondes and troubles abyde me.

24 But none of these thinges moue me, * neither compt I my lyfe deare vnto mee selfe, so that I might fulfyl my course with ioy, and the ministerie whiche I haue receiued of the Lorde Jesu, to testifye the Gospel of the grace of God.

2. Tim. 2.b

25 And nowe beholde, I am sure that henceforth ye al among whom I haue gonne preaching the kingdome of God, shal see my face no more.

26 Wherfore, I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of al men.

E 27 For I haue kept nothing backe, but haue shewed you al the counsel of God.

28 Take heede therfore vnto your selues, and to al the flocke, ouer the whiche the holy ghost hath made you ouerseers, to rule the Churche of God, whiche he hath purchased (b) with his owne blood

(b) That whiche apparteyneth to Christes manhood (whiche is shedding of blood) is here spoken of his godhead, because of the communion of the properties and vnion of two natures in one person.

29 For I knowe this, that after my departing, shal greeuous woolfes enter in among you, not sparing the flocke.

30 Also of your owne selues shal men aryse, speaking peruerse thinges, to (c) drawe away disciples after them.

(c) Through their ambition, whiche is mother of al sectes and heresies.

31 Therefore watche, and remember that by the space of three yeeres I ceassed not to warne euery one night & day with teares.

32 And nowe brethren I commende you to God, and to the woord of his grace, which is able to builde further, and to geue you an inheritance among al them whiche are sanctifyed.

35 I haue shewed you al thinges, howe that so labouring ye ought to helpe the weake, and to remember the woordes of the Lorde Jesu (howe that he sayde) It is more blessed to geue, then to receiue.

36 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled downe, * and prayed with them al.

37 And they al wept sore, and fel on Paules necke, and kissed him, 38 Sorowyng most of al for the woordes whiche he spake, that they shoulde see his face no more: And they accompanyed him vnto the shippe.

The.xxi. Chapter.

I. Pauls iourney by shippe. 8. Of Philip the Euangelist, 10. and Agabus the prophete.

1 A AND when it came to passe that we had lanched foorth, & were departed from them, we came with a straight course vnto Choos, and the day folowyng vnto the Rhodes, & from thence vnto Patara.

2 And when we had found a shippe sayling vnto Phenice, we went aboord, & set forth.

3 Now when Cyprus beganne to appeare (vnto vs) we leaft it on the leaft hande, and sayled into Syria, and came vnto Tyre: for there the shippe vnladed the burden.

4 And when we had founde disciples, we taryed there seuen dayes: who saide to Paul through the spirite, * that he shoulde not goe vp to Hierusalem.

Actes. 20.c.

5 And when the dayes were ended, we departed, and went our way, and they al brought vs on our way, with wiues and children, til we were come out of the citie:

and

Actes.20.g and we kneeled downe on the shore, and * prayed.

6 And when we had taken our leaue one of another, we tooke shyp, and they returned home agayne.

B 7 When we had ful ended the course from Tyre, we went downe to Ptolomaida, & saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next day, we that were of Paules company, departed, and came vnto Cesarea, and we entred into the house of Philip the Euangelist (whiche was one of the seuen) and abode with him.

Actes.6.b. and.8.a.

9 And the same man had foure daughters, virgins, whiche dyd * prophecie.

Ioel.2.g.

10 And as we tarried there a good many of dayes, there came a certayne prophet from Iurie, named Agabus.

11 And when he was comme vnto vs, he tooke Paules gyrdle, and bounde his owne handes and feete, and sayd, Thus sayth the holy ghost, * So shal the Iewes at Hierusalem bynde the man that oweth this girdle, and shal deliuer him into the handes of the Gentiles.

Actes.9.c. 1.Cor.11.c.

12 And when we heard these thinges, both we & other whiche were of the same place, besought him, that he woulde not goe vp to Hierusalem.

13 Then Paul answeared, What doo ye weeping and vexing mine harte? for I am ready, not to be bound only, but also to dye at Hierusalem for the name of the Lord Iesus.

C 14 And when we could not turne his mind, we ceassed, saying, * The wyl of the Lorde be fulfilled.

Mat.6.b.

15 And after those dayes we tooke vp our burdens, and went vp to Hierusalem.

16 * There went with vs also (certayne) of the disciples of Cesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an olde disciple, with whom we shoulde lodge.

Actes.9.c.

17 And when we were comme to Hierusalem, the brethren receiued vs gladly.

18 And on the morowe Paul went in with vs vnto (a) Iames, and al the elders came togeather.

19 And when he had saluted them, he tolde by order al thinges that God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministerie.

20 And when they heard (it) they glorified the Lorde, and sayde vnto him, Thou seest brother, howe many thousand Iewes there are whiche beleeue, and they are al earnest folowers of the lawe.

21 And they are enformed of thee, that thou teachest al ỹ Iewes which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, saying that they ought not to circumcise their children, neyther to walke (after) the customes.

(a) This Iames was the Lordes brother the son of Marie, whiche was the sister of the blessed virgin: which Iames afterwarde was byshop of Hierusalem.

D 22 What is it therfore? the multitude must nedes comme togeather: for they shal heare that thou art comme.

23 Doo therefore this that we say to thee: We haue foure menne whiche haue a vowe on them,

Num.6.a.

24 Them take, and purifie thee selfe with them, and doo cost on them, that they may shaue their heades: and al shal knowe that those thynges whiche they haue heard concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thee selfe also walkest and keepest the law.

25 As touching the Gentiles whiche beleeue, * we haue wrytten and concluded, that they obserue no suche thing, saue onely that they kepe them selues from thinges offered to idolles, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.

Actes.14.d.

26 Then Paul tooke the men, and the next day purifiyng him selfe with them, entred into the temple, declaring the accomplishment of the dayes of the purification, vntyl that an offering shoulde be offered for euery one of them.

27 And when the seuen dayes were almoste ended, the Iewes whiche were of Asia, when they sawe him in the temple, mooued al the people, and layde handes on him, 28 Crying, Menne of Israel, helpe: this is E the man that teacheth al men euery where agaynst the people, and the lawe, and this place: he hath also brought Grekes into the temple, and hath polluted this holy place.

29 (For they had seene before with him in the citie * Trophimus an Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)

Actes.20.b 2.Tim.4.b

30 And al the citie was mooued, & the people swarmed togeather: and they tooke Paul, and drew him out of the temple: and foorthwith the doores were shut.

31 And as they went about to kil him, tydinges came vnto the high captaine of the souldiers, that al Hierusalem was in an vproare.

32 Whiche (immediatly) tooke (b) souldiers, and vnder captaines, and ranne downe vnto them: and when they sawe the cheefe captayne and the souldiers, they left smytyng of Paul.

(b) God often times appoynteth his magistrates to deliuer his faythful ministers fro al dangers of their enimies.

33 Then the cheefe captayne came neare, & tooke him, and commaunded him to be bound with two chaynes, and demaunded who he was, and what he had donne.

34 And some cried one thing, some another, F among the people: and when he coulde not knowe the certaintie for the rage, he commaunded him to be carried into the castle.

35 And

35 And when he came vpon the stayres, it was so that he was borne of the souldiers for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people folowed after, cryeing, Away with him.

37 And when Paul beganne to be carried into the castle, he sayde vnto the high captayne, May I speake vnto thee? Who said, Canst thou speake Greke?

38 Art not thou that Egyptian whiche before these dayes madest an vprore, and ledest out into the wyldernes foure thousand men that were murderers?

Actes 9.b. and.22.a. 39 *But Paul sayd, I am a man which am a Iewe of Tarsus, a citie in Cilicia, a citizen of no vyle citie: and I beseeche thee suffer me to speake vnto the people.

40 And when he had geuen him licence, Actes.21.f. Paul stoode on the stayres, and *beckened with the hande vnto the people: and when there was made a great silence, he spake vnto them in the Hebrue tongue, sayeng,

The. xxii. Chapter.

3. Paul rendereth an accompt of his life and doctrine, 25. he escapeth the whippe by reason he was a citizen of Rome.

A 1 MEnne, brethren, and fathers, heare ye myne answeare whiche I make vnto you.

2 (And when they heard that he spake in the Hebrue tongue to them, they kept the more silence: and he sayth,) Actes.9.b. and.21.g. Actes.5.f. 3 I am verily a man whiche am a Iewe, borne in *Tarsus (a citie) in Cilicia, and yet brought vp in this citie at the feete of Gamaliel, and taught according to the perfect manner of the lawe of the fathers, and was zelous towarde God, as ye al are this same day.

Actes.8.a.9 and.26.a. 1.Cor.15.b. Galat.2.b. 4 And *I persecuted this way vnto the death, binding and deliuering into prisons both men and women, 5 As also the cheefe prieste dooth beare me witnesse, and al the estate of the elders: of whom also I receyued letters vnto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bryng them which were there, bound vnto Hierusalem, for to be punished.

Actes.9.a. (a) Iesus was nowe in heauen, & could not be persecuted of Paul But the persecutiō whiche Paul exercised against the faythful being his members, Christe counted it as donne to him selfe. 6 And it came to passe, that as I made my iourney, & was comme nigh vnto Damascus a'bout noone, sodainly there shone from heauen a great lyght rounde about me:

7 And I fel vnto the earth, & heard a voyce sayeng vnto me, *Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 And I answeared, Who art thou Lorde? And he sayde vnto me, I am Iesus of Nazareth (a) whom thou persecutest.

9 And they that were with me, sawe verily the light, and were afraide: but they heard not the voyce of him that spake to me.

10 And I saide, What shal I doo Lorde? And the Lorde sayde vnto me, Aryse, and goe into Damascus: and there it shalbe told thee of al thinges which are appoynted for thee to doo.

11 And when I saw nothing for the brightnesse of the light, being ledde by the hande of them that were with me, I came into Damascus.

12 And* one Ananias, a deuout man as pertayning to the lawe, hauing a good reporte of al the Iewes whiche there dwelt, Actes.9.a.

13 Came vnto me, and stoode, and sayd vnto me, Brother Saul, receiue thy sight. And the same houre I loked vp vpon him.

14 And he said, The God of our fathers hath ordeyned thee before, that thou shouldest knowe his wyl, and see that iust one, and shouldest heare the voyce of his mouth. C

15 For thou shalt be his witnesse vnto al menne, (of those thinges) whiche thou hast seene and hearde:

16 And now, why tarriest thou? Arise, and be baptised, and washe away thy sinnes, in calling on the name of the Lorde. Rom.10.a

17 And it came to passe, that when I was comme agayne to Hierusalem, and prayed in the temple, I was in a traunce,

18 And sawe him sayeng vnto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Hierusalem: for they wyl not receiue thy witnesse concerning me.

19 And I sayde, Lorde, they knowe that I prisoned, & beat in euery synagogue them that beleeued on thee.

20 *And when the blood of thy witnesse Steuen was shed, I also was standing by, and consenting vnto his death, and keapt the rayment of them that slue him. Actes.3.a.

21 And he said vnto me, Depart: for* I wyl sende thee farre hence vnto the Gentiles. Actes.13.D. Galat.1.D. D

22 And they gaue him audience vnto this woorde, and then lyfte vp theyr voyces, and sayd, Away with such (a fel we) from the earth: for it is no reason that he should liue.

23 And as they cryed, and cast of their clothes, and threwe dust into the ayre, 24 The cheefe captaine commaunded him to be brought into the castle, and bade that he shoulde be scourged, and examined: that he might knowe wherefore they cryed so on him.

25 And as they bounde hym with thonges, Paul sayde vnto the Centurion that stoode by, Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a (b) Romane, and vncondemned?

(b) He was not borne at Rome, but at Tarsus: the citizens wherof, enioy the priuiledge of the citie of Rome, and were counted as Romanes.

26 When the Centurion heard that, he went and told the cheefe captayne, saying, Take heede what thou doest: for this man is a Romane.

27 Then the cheefe captayne came, and said vnto him, Tel me, art thou a Romane? He sayde, Yea.

28 And the cheefe captaine answeared, With a great summe obteyned I this freedome. And Paul sayde, I was free borne.

29 Then strayghtway departed from him they whiche shoulde haue examined hym: and the cheefe captayne also was afrayde after he knewe that he was a Romane, and because he had bounde him.

30 On the morowe, because he woulde haue knowen the certayntie wherefore he was accused of the Iewes, he loosed him from his bandes, and commaunded the hygh priestes and al the counsel to come togeather, and *brought Paul foorth, and set him before them. Actes.23.b.

The .xxiii. Chapter.

I. Paul commeth before the counsel. 2. Ananias causeth him to be stricken.

A

1 AND Paul earnestly beholdyng the counsel, sayde, Men and brethren, *I haue lined in al good conscience before God vntyl this day. Actes.34.d

(a) Paul doth not curse the high priest, but denounce sharpely the punishment of god, whiche shoulde light vpon him in the way of prophesiyng. Deut.17.d. Iohn.18.d.

2 And the high priest Ananias commaunded them that stoode by to smyte him on the mouth.

3 Then sayde Paul vnto him, GOD shal smite thee thou (a) paynted wal: for *sittest thou and iudgest me after the law, and commaundest me to be smitten contrary to the lawe?

4 And they that stoode by, sayde, *Reuilest thou Gods high priest?

5 Then sayde Paul, I wyst not brethren, (b) that he was the high priest: For it is written, Thou shalt not curse the ruler of thy people. (b) It is thought that Paul in mockerie thus excused him selfe, as though thus he shoulde say, I see nothing in this man worthy the office of the high priest. Phil.3.a. Actes.23.c.

6 But when Paul perceiued that the one part were Saducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the counsel, Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the sonne of a Pharisee: *of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am iudged. Mat.22.c. Mar.12.b. Luke.20.c.

7 And when he had so sayde, there arose a debate betweene the Pharisees & the Saducees: and the multitude was diuided.

8 *For the Saducees say that there is no resurrection, neyther angel, nor spirite: but the Pharisees confesse both.

9 And there arose a great crye: And when the Scribes which were of the Pharisees part arose, they stroue, saying, We fynd no euyl in this man: but yf a spirite or an angel hath spoken to him, let vs not stryue agaynst God.

10 And when there arose a great debate, the cheefe captayne fearyng lest Paul shoulde haue benne pluckt asunder of them, commaunded the souldiers to goe downe, and to take him from among them, & to bryng hym into the castle.

11 And the nyght folowyng, the Lorde stoode by him, and sayd, Be of good cheare Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Hierusalem, *so must thou beare witnesse also at Rome. Actes.16.c. Actes.27.b

12 And when it was day, certayne of the Iewes geathered them selues togeather, and made a (c) vowe, saying that they woulde neither eate, nor drinke, tyl they had killed Paul. (c) The word properly, signifieth cursing, as when a man either sweareth, voweth, or wisheth him selfe to dye, or to be geuen to the deuil, exeept he bring his purpose to passe.

13 And they were more then fourtie (men) whiche had made this conspiracie.

14 And they came to the cheefe priestes and elders, and sayde, We haue bounde our selues with a vowe, that we wil eate nothyng vntyl we haue slayne Paul.

15 Nowe therfore gene ye knowledge to the chiefe captayne, and to the counsel, that he bryng him foorth vnto you to morowe, as though ye woulde knowe somethyng more perfectly of him: and we, or euer he come neare, are redy to kyl hym.

16 And when Paules sisters sonne hearde of theyr laying awayte, he went and entred into the castle, and tolde Paul.

17 And Paul called one of the vnder captaynes vnto him, and sayde, Bryng this young man vnto the high captayne: for he hath a certayne thyng to shewe him.

18 And he tooke him, and brought hym to the high captayne, and sayde, Paul the prisoner called me vnto him, and prayed me to bryng this young man vnto thee, whiche hath a certayne matter to shewe thee.

19 Then the hygh captayne tooke hym by the hande, and went with him out of the way, and asked him, What is it that thou hast to tel me?

20 And he sayd, The Iewes are determined to desire thee that thou wouldest bryng foorth Paul to morowe into the counsel, as though they woulde enquire somewhat of hym more perfectly.

21 But folowe not thou theyr myndes: for D there lye in wayte for him of them mo then fourtie men, whiche haue bounde them selues with a vowe, that they wyl neyther eate nor drinke, tyl they haue kylled hym: and nowe are they redy, and loke for a promise from thee.

22 The cheefe captayne then let the young man man depart, and charged him, See thou tel it out to no man, that thou hast shewed these thynges to me.

23 And he called vnto him two vnder captaines, saying, Make ready two hundred souldiers to goe to Cesarea, and horsmen threescore and tenne, and spearemen two hundred, at the thirde houre of the night:

24 And deliuer them beastes, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe vnto Felix the high deputie.

25 And he wrote a letter after this manner,

26 Claudius Lysias vnto the most mightie ruler Felix, sendeth greetinges.

Actes.20.k. 27 *This man was taken of the Iewes, and shoulde haue ben killed of them: Then came I with an armie, and rescued hym, and perceiued that he was a Romane:

E 28 And when I woulde haue knowen the Actes. 22.g cause wherefore they accused him, *I brought him forth into theyr counsel.

29 Whom I perceiued to be accused of que-
Actes. 25.e. stions of their lawe: *but hauing nothyng layde to his charge worthie of death, or of bondes.

30 And when it was shewed me howe that the Iewes layde waite for the man, I sent (him) straightway to thee, and gaue commaundement to his accusers, that the thinges whiche they haue agaynst him, they shoulde tel before thee. Farewel.

31 Then the souldiers as it was commaunded them, tooke Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatridis.

32 On the morowe, they leaft the horsmen to goe with him, and returned vnto the castle.

33 Which when they came to Cesarea, and deliuered the Epistle to the deputie, presented Paul also before him.

34 And when the deputie had read (the letter) he asked of what prouince he was. And when he vnderstoode that he was of Cilicia:

Deut. 17.a. 35 *I wyl heare thee, sayde he, when thine accusers are come also. And he commaunded him to be kept in Herodes iudgement halle.

The.xxiiii. Chapter.

10. Paul being accused, answereth for his lyfe and doctrine.

Q 1 AND after fiue dayes, Ananias *the Actes.25.d. high priest descended, with the elders, and with a certayne oratour, named Tertullus, whiche appeared before the deputie agaynst Paul.

2 And when Paul was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeyng that we haue (a) obteyned great quietnesse by the meanes of thee, and that many good thinges are done vnto this nation through thy prouidence,

(a) Felix by his diligence had taken Eleazarus the captayne of the murderers, and put the Egyptians to flight, which raised vp tumultes in Iurie. For these the oratour praised him: other wayes he was both cruel & couetous. Actes. 21.f.

3 That alowe we euer, and in al places, most noble Felix, with al thankes.

4 Notwithstanding, that I be not tedious vnto thee, I pray thee, that thou wouldest heare vs of thy curtesie a fewe wordes.

5 For we haue founde this man a pestilent felowe, and a mouer of debate vnto al the Iewes in the whole world, and a maynteiner of the sect of the Nazarites.

6 Whiche also hath gone about to pollute the temple: *whom we tooke, and woulde haue iudged accordyng to our lawe.

7 But the high captayne Lysias came vpon vs, and with great violence tooke hym away out of our handes,

8 Commaunding his accusers to come vnto thee: of whom thou mayest, yf thou wylt enquire, knowe the certaintie of al these thinges, whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Iewes lykewise affirmed, saying, that these thynges were so.

10 Then Paul, after that the deputie hym selfe had beckened vnto him that he should speake, answeared, With a more quiet minde do I answeare for mee selfe, forasmuch as I vnderstande, that thou hast ben of many yeeres a iudge vnto this nation:

11 Because that thou mayest knowe, that there are yet but twelue dayes, since I went vp to Hierusalem for to worshyp.

12 And they neyther founde me in the temple disputing with any man, eyther raysyng vp the people, neyther in the synagogues, nor in the citie:

13 Neither can they proone the things whereof they accuse me.

14 But this I confesse vnto thee, that after the way whiche they cal (b) heresie, so worship I the God of my fathers, beleeuyng al thinges whiche are written in the law and the prophetes,

C (b) No marueile though in our tyme Gods true religion be called heresie, for so it was counted of the wycked, euen in the begynning of Christes kingdome. Actes. 13.a. Rom. 15.f. Actes. 11.d

15 And haue hope towardes God, that *the resurrection of the dead, which they them selues looke for also, shalbe both of the iust and vniust.

16 And herein *studie I, to haue alway a cleare conscience towarde God, and toward men.

17 *Nowe after many yeeres, I came *and brought almes to my nation, and offerynges:

18 In the whiche they founde me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor yet with vnquietnesse.

19 Howbeit, there were certayne Iewes out of Asia,

20 Whiche

D 20 Whiche ought to be here (c) present before thee, and accuse me, if they had ought agaynst me.

(c) These accusers spake but vppon false reports, whiche the bellowes of Satan had blowen abroade, and durst not for shame appeare themselues. Actes.23.a.

21 Or els let these same here say, yf they haue found any euyl dooing in me, while I stande here in the counsayle.

22 Except it be for this one voyce, that I cryed standing among them, * That of the resurrection from the dead, am I iudged of you this day.

23 And when Felix heard these thinges, he deferred them: for he knew very wel of that way, and saide, When Lysias the captaine is comme downe, I wyl knowe the vttermost of your matter.

Jerem.39.c Actes.27.a. 24 And * he commaunded an vnder captaine to keepe Paul, & to let him haue rest, and that he shoulde forbidde none of his acquaintance to minister vnto him, or to come vnto him.

25 And after certayne dayes, when Felix came with his wyfe Drusilla, which was a Jewesse, he called foorth Paul, and hearde him of the fayth whiche is toward Christ.

26 And as he reasoned of righteousnesse, temperance, and iudgement to come, Felix (d) trembled, and answeared, Go thy way for this time, when I haue a conuenient season, I wyl sende for thee.

(d) Suche is the might & force of gods heauenlye woorde, that it causeth the verye wicked to tremble and quake. Actes.25.d.

27 He hoped also that money shoulde haue ben geuen him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him.

28 But after two yeeres, Portius Festus came in to Felix roome: and Felix *, wylyng to shewe the Iewes a pleasure, left Paul bound.

The .xxv. Chapter.

3. The Iewes accuse Paul before Festus,
8. he answereth for himselfe,

A 1 THen when Festus was come into the prouince, after thyee dayes he assended from Cesarea vnto Hierusalem.

2 Then enfourmed him the high priest, and the cheefe of the Iewes agaynst Paul, and they besought him,

3 And desired fauour agaynst him, that he woulde sende for him to Hierusalem, layeing wayte in the way to kyl him.

4 But Festus answeared, that Paul should be keapt at Cesarea, and that he him selfe woulde shortly departe thyther.

5 Let them therfore, sayd he, which among you are able, come downe with vs, and accuse him, if ther be any fault in this man.

6 And when he had tarried among them more then ten dayes, he went downe vnto Cesarea, and the nexte day sate downe in the iudgement seate, & commaunded Paul to be brought.

7 Who being come, the Iewes which were comme from Hierusalem, stoode about (him) and layde many and greeuous complayntes agaynst Paul, whiche they could not (a) prooue,

B

(a) Whyles Paul lyued vnder the lawe lyke other Iewes, his conuersation was perfect and notable, and after his conuersion vnto Christe, he became a more notable example of innocencie: but it is a cõmon case, that the seruants of god are euyl spoken of for theyr wel dooyng.

8 While he answeared (for him selfe) that neyther agaynst the law of the Iewes, neyther agaynst the temple, nor yet agaynst Caesar, haue I offended any thing at al.

9 But Festus wyllyng to doo the Iewes a pleasure, answeared Paul, and sayd, Wylt thou goe vp to Hierusalem, and there be iudged of these thinges before me?

10 Then sayde Paul, I stand at Caesars iudgement seate, where I ought to be iudged, to the Iewes haue I done no wrong, as thou very wel knowest.

11 For if I doo any wrong, or haue committed anye thing woorthy of death, I refuse not to dye: but if there be none (of these thinges) whereof they accuse me, no man may deliuer me vnto them. I appeale vnto (b) Caesar.

(b) The iniquitie of the Iudge, who contrary to equitie, wyllyng to pleasure the Iewes, deuised howe to betray Paul, draue Paul to appeale, which is the vttermoste remedie for suche as by wrong iudgement are oppressed: and this appellation by gods prouidence, was a meane that Paul should testifie of Christ at Rome also Actes.23.f

12 Then spake Festus, with the counsayle, and answeared, Hast thou appealed vnto Caesar? vnto Caesar shalt thou goe.

13 And after certaine daies, king Agrippa, and Bernice, came vnto Cesarea, to salute Festus.

14 And when they had ben there a good season, Festus rehearsed Paules cause vnto the king, sayeing, There is a certayne man leaft in bondes of Felix, 15 About whom, when I came to Hierusalem, the high priestes and elders of the Iewes enfourmed me, and desyred to haue iudgement agaynst hym.

16 To whom I answeared, It is not ỹ maner of the Romans, for fauour to deliuer any man that he should perish, before that he which is accused, haue the accusers face to face, and haue licence to answeare for him self, concerning the crime laid against him.

17 Therfore when they were come hither, without any delay, on the morow I sate on the iudgement seate, and commaunded the man to be brought foorth.

18 Against whom, when the accusers stood vp, * they brought none accusation of suche thinges as I supposed.

19 But had certayne questions against him of their owne superstition, and of one Jesus whiche was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be aliue.

20 And because I doubted of suche maner of questions, I asked him whether he woulde goe to Hierusalem, and there be iudged of these matters.

21 But

D 21 But when Paul had appealed to be kept vnto the knowledge of Augustus, I commaunded him to be kept til I might sende him to Caesar.

22 Then Agrippa sayde vnto Festus, I woulde also heare the man mee selfe. To morowe sayde he, thou shalt heare him.

23 And on the morowe when Agrippa was come, and Bernice, with great pompe, and were entred into the counsayle house, with the cheefe captaynes and cheefe men of the citie, at Festus cõmaundement was Paul brought foorth.

24 And Festus sayde, King Agrippa, and al men whiche are here present with vs, ye see this man, about whom al the multitude of the Iewes haue intreated me, both at Hierusalem, and also here, crying that he ought not to lyue any longer.

25 Yet founde I nothing woorthy of death that he had committed: Neuertheless, seeing that he hath appealed to Augustus, I haue determined to sende him:

26 Of whom I haue no certayne thing to write vnto my Lorde: Wherefore I haue brought him foorth before you, and specially before thee, O king Agrippa, that after examination had, I might haue somewhat to write.

27 For mee thinketh it vnreasonable for to send a prisoner, and not to shewe the causes whiche are layde against him.

The. xxvi. Chapter.

1. King Agrippa heareth Paul. 25. Paules modest answere against the iniury of Festus.

1 THen Agrippa sayde vnto Paul, Thou art permitted to speake for thee selfe. Then Paul stretched foorth the hand, and answeared (for himselfe.)

2 I thinke mee selfe happy, king Agrippa, because I shal answere this day before thee of al the thinges whereof I am accused of the Iewes.

3 Namely, because thou art expert in al customes & questions whiche are among (a) the Iewes: wherefore I beseeche thee to heare me patiently.

4 My life that I haue led of a child, which was at the firste among myne owne nation at Hierusalem, knowe al the Iewes,

5 Whiche knewe me from the begynning, (yf they would testifie) that after the most straytest secte of our (b) religion, I lyued a Pharisee.

6 And nowe I stand, and am iudged for the hope of the promise made of God vnto our fathers:

7 Unto whiche promise our twelue tribes instantly seruing God day and night, hope to comme: For whiche hopes sake, kyng Agrippa, I am accused of the Iewes. D

8 Why shoulde it be thought a thing incredible vnto you, that God rayseth the dead?

9 I also verily thought in mee selfe, that I ought to doo many contrary things, cleane against the name of Iesus of Nazareth:

10 *Which thing I also did in Hierusalem, and many of the saintes did I shut vp in prisons, hauing receiued auctoritie of the high priestes, and when they were put to death, I gaue the sentence. Actes.8.a. 1.Cor.15.b. Galat.1.c.

11 And I punished them ofte in euery synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme, and was yet more mad vpon them, & persecuted them euen vnto strange cities.

12 About which thinges as I went to Damascus, with auctoritie and commission of the high priestes, 13 Euen at midday, O kyng, I saw in the way a light from heauen, aboue the brightnesse of the sunne, shyne rounde about me, and them whiche iourneyed with me.

14 And when we were al fallen to the earth, I heard a voyce speaking vnto me in the Hebrue tongue, and saying, *Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It is harde for thee to kicke against the pricke. Actes.9.a. and.22.c.

15 And I said, Who art thou Lord? And he sayd, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But ryse and stand vpon thy feete, for I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister & a witnesse, both of those thinges whiche thou hast seene, and of those things in the which I wil appeare vnto thee,

17 Deliuering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, vnto whom now I send thee, 18 To open their eyes, that they may be turned from darkenesse to light, and from the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receiue forgeuenesse of sinnes, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by fayth that is in me.

19 Wherefore, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient vnto the heauenly vision.

20 But shewed firste vnto them of Damascus, and at Hierusalem, and throughout al the coastes of Iurie, and then to the Gentiles, that they shoulde repent and turne to God, and doo suche woorkes as becomme them that repent.

21 For this cause the Iewes caught me in the temple, and went about to kyl me. D

22 Seeyng therefore that I haue obteyned helpe of God, I continue vnto this day, witnessing both to smal and great, sayeing nong

(a) He knew muche, but he fayled in the right applying of his knowlege, as they do whiche be wyse in their own conceites only, and haue the zeale of god, but not accordyng to knowledge.

(b) He taketh the sect of the Phariſees to be perfectest, because their doctrine was better then the other sectes. The Saducees denyed the resurrection of the dead. The Effeis glorying in straightnesse of life, litle regard true doctrine.

none other things then those which the prophetes and Moses did say should come:
23 That Christ shoulde suffer, and that he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and shoulde shewe light vnto the people, and to the Gentiles.
24 And as he thus spake for him selfe, Festus sayd with a loude voyce, Paul thou art beside thee (c) selfe, much learning doth make thee mad.
25 But he sayde, I am not mad, most noble Festus, but speake foorth the woordes of trueth, and soberneſſe.
26 For the kyng knoweth of these thinges, before whom also I speake freely, neither beleeue I, that any of these thinges are hydden from him, for this thing was not done in a corner.
27 Kyng Agrippa, beleeuest thou the prophetes? I wote wel that thou beleeuest.
28 Then Agrippa saide vnto Paul, Somewhat thou perswadest (d) me to be a Christian.
29 And Paul sayd, I woulde to God, that not only thou, but also al that heare me to day, were both somewhat, & also in a great deale suche as I am, except these bondes.
30 And when he had thus spoken, the kyng rose vp, and the deputie, and Bernice, and they that sate with them.
31 And when they were gone apart, they talked betweene them selues, saying, This man doth nothing woorthy of death, or of bondes.
32 Then sayd Agrippa vnto Festus, This man might haue ben let loose, yf he had not appealed vnto Caesar.

(c) Festus being much troubled with Pauls declaration, and hauing nothing to say agaynst it, yet would not yeelde vnto it, but clamorously condemned it as wicked and superstitious: for worldlynges are loth to be cumbred with godly matters, and count al such fooliſhe that trouble them selues therwith.
(d) He sawe a lide lyght, but it was soone out, lyke vnto those that hearyng a Sermon, are for the same wel minded, but after returne to their olde trade.

The. xxvii. Chapter.

1. Paul shippeth toward Rome. 3. Iulius the captayne entreateth him curteously.

27 1 AND when it was concluded that we shoulde sayle into Italie, they deliuered both Paul and certayne other prisoners vnto one named Julius, an vnder captayne of Augustus bande.
2 And we entred into a shyp of Adramyttium, & loosed from land, appoynted to sayle by the coastes of Asia, one *Aristarchus out of Macedonia, of the countrey of Thessalonica, tarying styl with vs.
3 And the next day we came to Sidon: And Julius* curteously entreated Paul, & gaue him libertie to goe vnto his frendes, and to refreshe him selfe.
4 And when we had launched from thence, we sayled harde by Cypers, because the windes were contrary.
5 And when we had sayled ouer the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra (a citie) whiche is in Lycia,
6 And there the vnder captayne founde a shyp of Alexandria, sayling into Italie, and he put vs therein.
7 And when we had sayled slowly many dayes, and scarse were come ouer agaynst Gnidum, because the wind withstoode vs, we sailed harde by * Candie, ouer against Salmone,
8 And with much woorke sailed beyond it: and came vnto a place whiche is called the Fayre hauens, nigh whereunto was the citie of Lasea.
9 When muche time was spent, and when sayling was nowe ieopardous, because also that the fast was now alredy past, Paul put them in remembrance,
10 And sayd vnto them, Syrs, I perceiue that this voyage wyl be with hurte and muche domage, not of the ladyng and shyp only, but also of our liues.
11 Neuertheleſſe, the vnder captayne beleeued the gouernour and the maister of the shyp, more then those thinges whiche were spoken of Paul.
12 And because the hauen was not commodious to winter in, many tooke counsel to depart thence, yf by any meanes they might atteyne to Phenice, & there to winter, whiche is an hauen of Candie, and lyeth towarde the Southwest & Northwest winde.
13 And when the South winde blewe softly, they supposing that they had obteyned their purpose, loosed vnto Asson, and sayled past Candie.
14 But not long after, there arose against their purpose a flawe of winde out of the Northeast, whiche is called Euroclydon.
15 And when the shyp was caught, and coulde not resist the winde, we let her goe, and were driuen with the weather.
16 But we were caried into an Ile, whiche is named Clauda, and had muche woorke to come by a boate, 17 Which they tooke vp, and vsed helpe, and made fast the ship, fearing lest they shoulde fal into the Syrtes: and so they let downe * a vessel, and were caryed.
18 The next day when we were tossed with an exceedingtempest, they lighted the ship:
19 And the third day we cast out with our owne handes the tackling of the shippe.
20 And when neither the sunne nor starres in many dayes appeared, and no smal tempest lay vpon vs, al hope that we shoulde be saued was then taken away.
21 But after long abstinence, Paul stoode forth in the mids of them, and sayd, Sirs, ye Colos. 4. a.

* or, Creta, whiche was an high hyl of Candie.
* Some reade, the sayles.

ye shoulde haue hearkened vnto me, and not haue loosed from Candie, and to haue gayned vnto vs this harme and losse.

22 And nowe I exhorte you to be of good cheare: for there shalbe no losse of any mans lyfe among you, but of the shippe.

23 For there stoode by me this night the angel of God, whose I am, & whom I serue, Actes.25. 24 Saying, Feare not Paul, thou must be brought before Caesar, and loe, God hath geuen thee (a) al them that saile with thee.

(a) The graces and blessinges which God geueth to his children, profite many tymes the enimies, whiche are vnworthie to receiue the fruite thereof. 25 Wherefore syrs be of good cheare: for I beleeue God that it shalbe euen as it was tolde me.

26 Howbeit, we must be cast into a certaine Ilande.

27 But when the fourtienth night was come, as we were sayling in Adria about mydnight, the shipmen deemed that they drewe neare to some countrey:

28 And sounded, and founde it twentie fadomes: and when they had gonne a lytle further, they sounded agayne, and founde it fyfteene fadomes.

29 Then fearing lest we should haue fallen on some rocke, they cast foure ankers out of the sterne, and wished for the day.

30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the shyp, when they had let downe the boat into the sea, vnder a colour as though they would haue caste ankers out of the foreshyp,

31 Paul sayde to the vnder captayne, and to the souldiers, Except these abyde in the ship, ye (b) can not be saued.

(b) Paul woulde vse such meanes as God had ordeyned, lest he shuld seme to haue tempted him 32 Then the souldiers cut of the rope of the boate, and let it fal away.

33 And when the day began to appeare, Paul besought them al to take meate, saying, This is the fourteenth day that ye haue taried and continued fastyng, receiuing nothing at al.

34 Wherefore, I pray you to take meate, for this no doubt is for your health, for there shal not (c) an heare fal from the head of any of you.

(c) By this Hebrewe speache is meant that they should be in al pointes safe & sounde. 1. Tim. 4. a 35 And when he had thus spoken, he tooke bread, and gaue thankes to GOD in presence of them al: and when he had broken it, he began to eate.

36 Then were they al of good cheare, and they also tooke meate.

F 37 And we were altogether in the shyp, two hundred, threescore, & sixteene soules.

38 And when they had eaten ynough, they lighted the ship, and cast out the wheate into the sea.

39 And when it was day, they knewe not the lande: but they spied a certaine hauen with a banke, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the shyp.

40 And when they had taken vp the ankers, they committed * (themselues) vnto the sea, and loosed the rudder bandes, and hoysed vp the maine sayle to the wind, and drewe to lande.

* or, the shyppe.

41 And when they fel into a place whiche had the sea on both sydes, they thrust in the ship, and the foreparte stucke fast & moued not, but the hinder part brake with the violence of the waues.

42 And the souldiers counsel was to kylle the prisoners, lest any of them when he had swomme out, shoulde runne away.

43 But the vnder captaine willing to saue Paul, keapt them from their purpose, and commaunded that they whiche coulde swimme, shoulde cast them selues first into the sea, and scape to lande:

44 And the other, some on boordes, and some on broken peeces of the shyppe: and so it came to passe, that they escaped al safe to lande.

The .xxviii. Chapter.

5. The viper hurteth not Paules hande.
23. Paul preacheth Christe at Rome.

1 AND when they were escaped, then they knewe that the Ile was called Melita.

(a) Suche is the peruerse iudgement of men, that they condemne them whom they see in any affliction. 2 And the barbarous people shewed vs no litle kindnesse, for they kyndled a fyre, and receiued vs every one, because of the present rayne, and because of the colde.

(b) By this myracle god performed his promyse made to his disciples, that neither serpentes, nor poyson, should hurt them, and also by the same, was confirmed the Gospel of his sonne Iesus Christ, which Paul preached vnto the world 3 And when Paul had geathered a bundle of stickes, and layde them on the fyre, there came a Viper out of the heate, and caught him by the hande.

4 And when the strangers sawe the beast hang on his hande, they sayd among them selues, No doubt this man is (a) a murderer, whom though he haue escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to lyue.

5 And he shooke of the Viper into the fyre, and (b) felt no harme.

(c) Beholde the extremitie of infidels, for after any rage and errour, they fal forthwith into the contrary. 6 Howbeit, they wayted when he shoulde haue swolne, or fallen downe dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no harme come to him, they changed their mindes, and sayd that he was a (c) God.

7 In the same quarters were possessions of the cheefe man of the Ile, whose name was Publius, whiche receiued vs, and lodged vs three dayes courteously.

8 And it came to passe that ye father of Publius lay sicke of a feuer, & of a bloody flyxe, to whom Paul entred in, and prayed, and layde his handes on him, and healed him.

9 So

9 So when this was donne, other also whiche had diseases in the Ile, came, and were healed:

10 Whiche also dyd vs great honour, and whē we departed, they laded vs with such thinges as were necessarie.

11 And after three monethes we departed in a shyp of Alexandria, whiche had wyntred in the Ile, whose badge was (d) Castor and Pollux.

(d) These the Painims fayned to be Iupiters chyldren, Gods of the sea, 12 And when we came to Syracusa, we tarryed there three dayes.

13 And from thence we fet a compasse, and came to Rhegium, and after one day the south wynde blewe, and we came the next day to Puteolus:

€ 14 Where we founde brethren, and were desired to tary with them seuen dayes: and so we came towarde Rome.

15 And frō thence, when the brethren heard of vs, they came to meete vs at Appii forum, & at the three tauernes: When Paul sawe them, he thanked GOD, and waxed bolde.

16 And when we came to Rome, the vnder captayne deliuered the prisoners to the cheefe captayne of the host: but Paul was suffered to dwel by him selfe, with a souldier that keapt him.

17 And it came to passe, that after three dayes, Paul called the cheefe of the Iewes togither. And when they were comme together, he sayde vnto them, Menne and brethrē, though *I haue committed nothing agaynst the people or lawes of the fathers, *yet was I deliuered prisoner from Hierusalem into the handes of the Romanes.

Actes.23.c

Actes.23.c.

18 Whiche when they had examined me, woulde haue let me goe, because there was no cause of death in me.

19 But when the Iewes spake contrary, I was constrayned to appeale vnto Caesar, not that I had ought to accuse my nation of.

Actes.23.b.

20 For this cause then haue I called for you, euen to see (you) and to speake with you: because that for the (e) hope of Israel I am bounde with this chayne.

(e) That is, for Iesus Christes sake whom they had lōg looked for, to be the redeemer of the worlde, 21 And they sayde vnto him, We neyther D receiued letters out of Iurie concernyng thee, neyther any of the brethren that came shewed or spake any harme of thee.

22 But we wyl heare of thee what thou thinkest: for as concernyng this sect, we know that *euery where it is spokē against. Luke.2.c

23 And whē they had appointed him a day, there came many to him into his lodging, to whom he expounded and testified the kyngdome of God, perswading them concerning Iesus, both out of the lawe of Moses, and out of the prophetes, euen from morning to nyght.

24 And * somme were perswaded in the thinges whiche were spoken, and somme beleeued not. Actes.17.a

25 And when they agreed not among them selues, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one woorde, (that is to say,) Wel spake the holy ghost by Esaias ỹ Prophet, vnto our fathers,

26 Saying, *Go vnto this people, and say, With your eares shal ye heare, and shal not vnderstand, and with your eyes shal ye see, and not perceiue. Esai.6.c. Mat.13.b Mark.4.b Luke.8.b. Iohn.12.k

27 For the hart of this people is waxed grosse, and their eares are dul of hearyng, and their eyes haue they closed: lest they shoulde see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and vnderstande with their hartes, and shoulde be conuerted, and I shoulde heale them.

28 Be it knowen therefore vnto you, that € this saluation of GOD is sent to the Gentiles, and they shal heare it.

29 And when he had sayde these woordes, the Iewes departed, and had great reasoning among them selues.

30 And Paul dwelt two yeeres ful in his owne hyred house, & receiued al that came in vnto him, 31 Preachyng the kyngdome of God, and teachyng those thinges which concerne the Lorde Iesus Christ, with al confidence, no man forbiddyng hym.

¶ The Epistle of the Apostle Saint Paul, to the Romanes.

The fyrst Chapter.

1. Paul sheweth to whom and to what purpose he is called. 16. What the Gospel is. 18. The vengeance of God vpon the wicked. 20. The vse of the creatures. 24. The ingratitude and pounishment of the wicked.

PAUL the seruant of Jesus Christ, (a) called (to be) an apostle, seuered into the Gospel of God,

2 Which he had promised afore by his prophetes in the holy scriptures,

3 Of his sonne, whiche was made of the *seede of Dauid after the fleashe:

4 And hath benne declared to be the sonne of (b) God, with power after ỹ spirite that sanctifieth, by the resurrection from the dead, of Jesus Christe our Lorde:

5 By whom we haue receiued grace & apostleship, that obedience might be geuen vnto the fayth in his name among al heathen,

6 Among whom, ye are also the called of Jesus Christe:

7 To al that be in Rome, beloued of God, saintes by callyng: *Grace to you, & peace, from God our father, and the Lorde Jesus Christe.

8 First veryly I thanke my God through Jesus Christe for you al, that your fayth is published throughout al the worlde.

9 For God is my witnesse, whom I serue *with my spirite in the Gospel of his sonne, that without ceassyng I make mention of you:

10 Praying alwayes *in my prayers, that by somme meane at the last, one tyme or other, I might take a prosperous iourney by the wyl of God, to comme vnto you.

11 For I long to see you, that I myght bestowe among you some spiritual gyft, that ye might be stablished.

12 That is, that I myght haue consolation togeather with you, ech with others fayth, yours and myne.

13 I would that ye shoulde know brethren, howe that I haue oftentymes purposed to comme vnto you (*and haue ben let hytherto) that I myght haue somme fruite also among you, as among other of the Gentiles.

14 I am debter both to the Greekes, and to the (c) barbarous, both to the wyse, and to the vnwyse.

15 So that as muche as in me is, I am redy to preache the Gospel to you that are at Rome also.

16 For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christe, because it is the power of God vnto saluation to al that beleeue, to the Iewe first, and also to the Greeke.

17 For by it is the ryghteousnesse of GOD opened from fayth to fayth. As it is writte, The iust shal lyue by fayth.

18 For the wrath of GOD (d) is reuey led from heauen, agaynst al vngodlynesse, and vnryghteousnesse of men, whiche (e) withholde the trueth in vnrighteousnesse.

19 For that that may be knowen of God, is manifest among them, because God hath shewed it vnto them.

20 For his inuisible thinges, beyng vnderstanded by his woorkes, through the creation of the worlde, are seene, that is, both his eternal power & godhead: so that they are without excuse.

21 Because that when they knewe GOD, (notwithstandyng) they glorified him not as GOD, neyther were thankful, but wared ful of vanities in their imaginations, * and their foolishe hart was blynded.

22 When they counted them selues wyse, they became fooles:

23 *And turned the glory of the incorruptible God vnto an image, made not onely after the similitude of a corruptible man, but also, of birdes, & foure footed * beastes, and of creepyng beastes.

24 Wherfore God gaue them vp to vnclenneasse, through ỹ lustes of their owne harts, that their owne bodyes shoulde be defiled among them selues.

25 Whiche changed his (f) trueth for a lye, and worshypped and serued the creature, more then the creator, whiche is to be praysed for euer, Amen.

26 Wherefore GOD gaue them vp vnto shameful lustes: for euen their women dyd change the natural vse, into that whiche is aygnst nature.

27 And

(a) By this he declareth, that he came not into the office of the apostleshyp by his owne arrogancie, but by the callyng of God, wherby he differeth frō the false apostles. Matth. 1.a

(b) Three manner of wayes Paul sheweth here Christ to be declared the sonne of god. First, by power or worcking of miracles. Secōdly, by the holy ghost appearing in visible signes. Thirdly, by his resurrection from the dead. 1.Cor. 1.a Galat. 1.a

John. 4.c. 1.Cor. 3.c Philip. 1.a Coloss. 1.a

Actes. 26.b.

(c) Al those that were not Iewes, by a commō woorde were called Heathen. And here they are diuided into Greekes & Barbarous. By Grekes, he vnderstandeth those that were learned, ciuile, and of good bringing vp. By barbarous, he meaneth rude & sauage people, with whom no man coulde wel haue to doo.

(d) Whiche appearance the worlde knoweth nothyng of. For in the sight of God al menne are godlesse, sinners, and the chylren of wrath: and when they knowe any thing of god, yet they be nought, because they neyther thanke hym, nor serue hym, & therfore plagues are powred vpon them from heauē.

(e) They hold the trueth in vnrighteousnesse, the whiche vnderstand the trueth, and doo not expresse the same in their deedes and lyfe. Psal. 106.c Jere. 2.c Ezech. 14.b

(f) By his trueth, here he vnderstandeth the glory of god, and his true religion: and a lye he calleth idols, because the idolaters went about to take away from wood and stone that which they were, thinking them to be neyther wood nor stone, but attributed to them that that they were not, that is, diuine power and nature.

27 And lykewyse also, the men left the natural vse of the woman, and brent in their lustes one with another, and menne with menne wrought fylthinesse, and receiued in them selues the rewarde of their errour (as it was accordyng.)

℣ 28 And as they regarded not to know god:
Actes.7.f * (euen so) God deliuered them vp vnto a lewde minde, that they shoulde doo those thinges whiche were not comely:

29 Beyng ful of al vnrygheousnesse, fornication, craftinesse, couetousnesse, malitiousnesse, ful of enuie, murder, debate, deceypt, euyl conditioned, whisperers,

30 Backbiters, haters of God, despiteful, proude, boasters, bringers vp of euyl thinges, disobedient to father and mother:

The.ii.Chapter.

1. Gods iudgement vpon the hppocrites.
13. Al meane are sinners.

A 1 THerfore art thou inexcusable, O man, whosoeuer *thou be that (a) iudgest: For in that same wherein thou iudgest another, thou condemnest thee selfe. For thou that iudgest, doest euen the selfe same thinges.

2 But we are sure that the iudgement of GOD is accordyng to the trueth, agaynst them whiche commit suche thinges.

3 Thinkest thou this, O thou man that iudgest them whiche doo suche thinges, and doest the same (thee selfe) that thou shalt escape the iudgement of God?

4 Eyther despisest thou the rychesse of his goodnesse, and pacience, & long sufferance, not knowyng that the goodnesse of God leadeth thee to repentance?

5 But thou after thy stubbernesse and hart that can not repent, heapest vnto thee selfe wrath, agaynst the day of wrath and declaration of the rygheous iudgement of God:

6 *Whiche wyl rewarde euery man accordyng to his (b) dedes:

7 To them whiche by continuyng in wel doyng seeke for glory, and honour, and immortalitie, eternal lyfe.

8 But vnto them that are contentious, and Matth.7.a (a) S. Paul speaketh here agaynst those menne onely, who beyng them selues filled with al wickednesse, & impietie, yet beof al other most busie & curious in notyng and reprehēdyng other mens faultes: not of any godly zeale, but to iustifie them selues, & to bryng other menne into hatred and contempt.

16 At the day * when God shal iudge the secretes of menne by Iesus Christ, accordyng to (c) my Gospel.

(c) It is his Gospel, both for the feruent loue & zeale that he beareth to it, and also for the great paynes that he hath take in setting foorth the same.

17 Behold, thou art called a Iewe, & (d) restest in the lawe, & makest thy boast of God,

18 And knowest (his) wyl, and alowest the thynges that be excellent, informed by the lawe:

19 And beleuest that thou thee selfe art a guyde of the blynde, a lyght of them (which are) in darknesse, 20 An informer of them whiche lacke discretion, a teacher of the vnlearned: whiche hast the fourme of knowledge, and of the trueth in the lawe.

Esai.52.a
Ezech.36.g

23 Thou that makest thy boast of the lawe, through breakyng the lawe dishonourest thou GOD?

24 For the name of God is euyl spoken of among the Gentiles, throughyou, *as it is written,

25 For circumcision verily auayleth, if thou keepe the lawe: but yf thou be a breaker of the lawe, thy circumcision is made vncircumcision.

26 Therfore, yf the (e) vncircumcision kepe the ordinances of the lawe, shal not his vncircumcision be counted for circumcision?

(d) He awaketh the Iewes which were a sleepe through a certayne securitie and confidence in the lawe.

(e) By this woorde he meaneth al the people, of what countrey or natiō soeuer they be, whiche haue not receiued the signe of circumcision, according to the lawe of Moses.

27 And

27 And shal not vncircumcision which is by nature, if it keepe the lawe, iudge thee, whiche being vnder the letter and circumcision, dooest transgresse the lawe?

28 For he is not a Iewe, whiche is (a Iewe) * outwarde. Neither is that circumcision whiche is outwarde in the fleashe.

* or, openly

John. 8.c. 29 But * he is a Iewe, whiche is one * inwardly, and* the circumcision of the hart, whiche consysteth in the spirite, and not in the letter (is circumcision) whose prayse is not of menne, but of God.

* or, secretlye. Rom. 9.b. Colos. 2.b.

The. iii. Chapter.

1. The Iewes haue a prerogatiue. 12. Al are iustifyed by grace through fayth, and not thorowe woorkes.

A 1 What preferment then hath the Iewe? or what profyte is there of circumcision?

Rom. 9.a. 2 Muche euery way. Fyrst, for * because that vnto them were committed the woords of God.

3 What then though somme of them dyd not beleeue? Shal their vnbeleefe make the (a) fayth of God without effect?

(a) Which is the performance of gods promise. For fayth is take after two sortes, both for our beleefe, when we assure our selues that God wil performe his promise, and also for the stedfastnesse of gods promise to this people. For although some of the Iewes dyd not beleeue, yet Gods trueth neuer fayled.

4 God forbyd: Yea let god be true, and euery man a lyer, as it is written, That thou myghtest be iustifyed in thy sayeinges, and ouercome when thou art iudged.

5 But yf our vnrighteousnesse setteth forth the ryghteousnesse of GOD, what shal we say? Is God vnrighteous whiche taketh vengeance? (I speake after the manner of menne,) 6 God forbid: for how then shal God iudge the woorld?

7 For if the trueth of God hath more abounded thrugh my lye vnto his glory, why am I as yet iudged as a synner?

8 And not rather (as we be slaunderously reported, & as some affirme that we say) let vs doo euyl, that good may come thereof? whose damnation is iust.

9 What then, are we better (then they?) No, in no wyse: for we haue before accused both Iewes & Gentiles, that they are al vnder sinne:

10 As it is written, * There is none ryghteous, no not one:

Psal. 14.a. and. 52.a.

11 There is none that vnderstandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.

12 They are al gonne out of the way, they are al become vnprofytable: there is none that dooth good, no not one.

Psal. 5.b. 13 * Their throte is an open sepulchre, with their tongues they haue deceiued, the poyson of Aspes is vnder their lippes.

Psal. 5.b. 14 * Whose mouth is ful of cursyng and bitternesse:

15 * Their feete are swift to shed blood. Prou. 1.b.

16 * Hartes greefe and miserie are in theyr wayes. Esai. 59.b.

17 And the way of peace haue they not knowen.

18 * There is no feare of God before theyr eyes. Psal. 36.a.

19 Nowe we knowe that what thinges so euer the lawe sayth, it sayth it to them whiche are vnder the lawe: that euery mouth may be stopped, and that al the woorlde may be indangered to God.

20 Because that * by the deedes of the (b) lawe, there shal no fleashe be iustifyed in his syght: For by the lawe commeth the knowledge of synne.

Gala. 2.c.

(b) He includeth here the whole lawe, both the ceremonial and moral, whose works can not iustifye, because they be imperfect in al menne.

21 But nowe the righteousnesse of GOD without the lawe is made manifest, beyng witnessed by the lawe and the prophetes.

22 The righteousnesse of God (commeth) by the faith of Jesus Christ, vnto al and vpon al them that beleue. There is no differēce:

23 For al haue sinned, and haue neede of the glory of God,

24 (But are) * iustifyed freely by his grace, thrugh the redemption that is in Christe Jesu:

Esai. 53.d.

25 Whom God hath set forth * to be a (c) propitiation, through fayth in his blood, to declare his righteousnesse, by the forgeuyng of the synnes that are past,

John. 2.c.

(c) Which is a pacifying of gods displeasure.

26 Whiche God dyd suffer, to shewe at this time his righteousnesse: that he myght be iust, and the iustifyer of him whiche beleeueth on Jesus.

27 Where is then thy boasting? It is excluded. By what lawe? Of woorkes? Nay: but by the lawe of fayth.

28 Therefore, we holde that a man is iustifyed by fayth, without the deedes of ỳ law.

29 Is he the God of the Iewes only? Is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, euen of the Gentiles also.

30 For it is one God whiche shal iustifye the circumcision by (d) fayth, and vncircumcision thrugh fayth.

Galat. 2.c.

(d) Meaning that the Iewe and the Gentile are both iustifyed by one meanes, whiche is by fayth.

31 Doo we then destroy the lawe thrugh fayth? God forbyd: but we rather maynteyne the lawe.

The. iiii. Chapter.

7. Iustifycation is the free gyft of God, as it appeareth by Dauid and Abraham, 13. and also by the office of lawe & fayth.

1 What shal we say then that * Abraham our fathers as parteynyng to ỳ fleashe dyd finde?

A Esai. 51.a.

2 For yf Abraham were iustifyed by woorks, then hath he wherein to boast, but not before God.

Gene. 15.b. Galat.3.a. Iames.2.d.

3 For what sayth the scripture? * Abraham beleeued God, & it was counted vnto him for righteousnesse.

4 To him that worketh, is the rewarde not reckened of grace, but of duetie.

(a) That is, which meaneth not to obteyne saluation thorowe woorthynesse of his workes. Psal. 32.a.

5 To him that worketh (a) not, but beleeueth on him that iustifieth the (b) vngodly, his fayth is counted for ryghteousnesse.

6 Euen as Dauid describeth the blessednesse of the man vnto whom God imputeth ryghteousnesse without woorkes:

7 (Sayeing) * Blessed are they whose vnrighteousnesse are forgeuen, & whose sinnes are couered.

The Epistle on Newe yeeres day.

8 Blessed is that man to whom the Lorde wyl not impute sinne.

(b) God is saide to iustifie the vngodly, because he pardoneth his sinnes, and of a wicked man, maketh him good.

9 (Came) this blessednesse then vppon the circumcision only, or vpon the vncircumcision also? For we say that fayth was reckened to Abraham for ryghteousnesse.

Gene. 15.b. Gene. 17.b.

10 How was it then reckened? when he was in the circumcision, or (when he was) in the vncircumcision? * Not in the circumcision, but in vncircumcision.

(c) So was Abrahams circumcision called, because thereby was sealed the righteousnesse that through fayth was impured to him before his circumcision.

11 And he receiued the * signe of circumcision, as the (c) seale of the ryghteousnesse of fayth, whiche he had yet being vncircumcised: that he shoulde be the father of al them that beleeue, though they be not circumcised, that righteousnesse might be imputed vnto them also.

12 And that he myght be father of circumcision, not vnto them which are of circumcision only, but vnto them whiche walke also in the steppes of the fayth that was in our father Abraham, before the time of circumcision.

13 For the promise that he shoulde be the heyre of the worlde, (was) not to Abraham, or to his seede through the lawe, but thorowe the ryghteousnesse of fayth.

Galat.3.c.

14 * For yf they whiche are of the lawe be heyres, then is fayth but vaine, and the promise made of none effect:

15 Because the lawe causeth wrath: For where no law is, there is no transgression.

16 Therefore by fayth (is the inheritance geuen) that it myght (be) by grace, that the promise myght be sure to al the seede, not to that only whiche is of the lawe, but to that also whiche is of the fayth of Abraham, * whiche is the father of vs al.

Esai.51.a. Gene. 17.a.

17 (As it is written, * I haue made thee a father of many nations) before God whom he beleeued, whiche restoreth the dead vnto lyfe, and calleth those thinges whiche be not, as (d) though they were.

(d) In the creation of the worlde this appeared. For whē he commaundedany thing to be, and hoped as to mans

18 Who contrary to hope, (e) beleeued in hope, that he shoulde be the father of many nations: accordyng to that whiche was spoken, So shal thy seede be.

(e) foorthwith it was. That is, which beleeued for those things which god did promise, when reason they were without hope.

19 And he fainted not in the fayth, nor considered his owne body nowe dead, when he was almost an hundred yeeres olde, neither yet the (f) deadnesse of Saraes wombe.

(f) For that she was pak childe bearyng.

20 He stackered not at the promise of God through vnbeleefe: but was strong in faith, geuing glory to God, 21 And being ful certified, that what he had promised, he was able also to performe.

22 And therefore was it reckened to hym for ryghteousnesse.

23 * Neuertheless, it is not written for him only, that it was reckened to him:

Rom. 15.a.

24 But also for vs, to whom it shalbe reckened, so that we beleeue on him that raysed vp Iesus our Lorde from the dead.

25 Whiche was deliuered for our synnes, and was raysed agayne for our iustification.

The.v.Chapter.

1. The fruite of fayth. 12. From whence commeth death, and from whence lyfe.

1 Therefore beyng iustifyed by fayth, we are * at (a) peace with God, through our Lorde Iesus Christe:

A John. 16.a.

(a) By peace which is the fruite of faith, is ment the incredible and most constant ioy of mind, our conscience being quiet, and established in gods grace.

2 By whom also we haue had an entrance by fayth, vnto this grace wherin we stand, * and reioyce in hope of the glory of God.

3 Not that only: but also we reioyce in tribulations, knowing that tribulation woorketh patience:

4 Patience proofe, proofe hope:

Heb.3.a.

5 And hope maketh not (b) ashamed, because the loue of God is shed abrode in our hartes by the holy ghost, whiche is geuen vnto vs.

(b) Both for that the hope of the godly is not disapoynted of that whiche they hope for, and also for that they are not ashamed of any affliction in this worlde, as the worldly minded be: but constantly abyde without 6 For when we were yet weake, accordyng to the time, Christe dyed for the vngodly.

7 Now scarse wyl any man dye for the righteous: Yet peraduenture for the good summe man durst dye.

8 But God setteth out his loue toward vs, seeyng that whyle we were yet sinners, Christe dyed for vs.

9 Muche more then nowe, we that are iustified by his blood, shalbe saued from wrath through hym.

10 For yf when we were enimies, we were reconciled to GOD by the death of his sonne: muche more, seeyng we are reconciled, we shalbe saued by his lyfe.

11 Not only so, but we also ioy in GOD, through shame, whatsoeuer trouble God doth send to them.

thrꝛough our Lord Jesus Chriſte, by whom we haue nowe receiued the attonement.

12 Wherefore, as by one man ſinne entred into the worlde, and * death by ſinne: euen ſo, death entred into al menne, inſomuche as al haue ſinned. Gne.2.c. Roma.6.d.

13 For vnto the law was ſinne in the world: but ſinne is not imputed when there is no lawe.

¶ 14 Neuertheleſſe, death raigned from Adam to Moſes, ouer them alſo that had not ſinned with lyke tranſgreſſion as did Adam, whiche is the figure of him that was to comme.

15 But not as the ſinne, ſo is the free gyfte. For if thrꝛough the ſinne of one manye be dead: much moꝛe the grace of God, and the gyft by grace, * which (is) by one man Jeſus Chriſte, hath abounded vnto many. Iohn.1.b.

16 And not as by one that ſinned (euen ſo) the gift: for the ſinne entred by one (offence) into condemnation: but the gyft (c) of many ſinnes into iuſtification.

(c) For by Chriſt we are not only deliuered from the ſinnes of Adam, but al ſo from al ſuch ſinnes aa we haue added therunto.

17 For if by the ſinne of one death raigned by the meanes of one, muche moꝛe (they) whiche receyue abundance of grace and of the gyft of ryghteouſneſſe, ſhal raigne in lyfe by the meanes of one, Jeſus Chriſt.

18 Lykewyſe then, as by the ſinne of one (ſinne came) on al menne to condemnation: euen ſo, by the ryghteouſneſſe of one (good came) vpon al menne to the ryghteouſneſſe of lyfe.

19 For as by one mans diſobedience many became ſinners: ſo by the obedience of one, ſhal many be made ryghteous. Galat.3.a.

20 But * the lawe in the meane time entred in, that ſinne ſhoulde encreaſe. But where ſinne was plenteous, grace was moꝛe plenteous.

21 That as ſinne hath raigned vnto death: euen ſo might grace raigne thrꝛough righteouſneſſe vnto eternal life, by Jeſus Chriſt our Lorde.

The.vi. Chapter.

5. Newneſſe of lyfe foloweth iuſtification, to the whiche he exhorteth.

1 What ſhal we ſay then? Shal we continue in ſinne, that grace may abound? God forbyd.

(a) He dyeth to ſinne, in whom the ſtrength of ſinne is broken by the power of Chriſte.

2 Howe ſhal we that are dead (a) to ſinne, lyue any longer therein?

(*) The Epiſtle on the vi. ſunday after trinitie.

3 (*) Knowe ye not, that al we which haue ben baptiſed into Jeſus Chriſte, haue ben baptiſed (b) into his death?

(b) That is, that ſinne through Chriſtes death may be aboliſhed and dye in vs: and that as we are made cleane outwardly with water in our baptiſme, ſo inwardly our ſinnes may be waſhed away, & cleanſed by the blood of Chriſte.

4 We are buryed then with him by baptiſme into his death, that lykewyſe as Chriſt was rayſed vp from the dead by the glory of the father: euen ſo, we alſo ſhould walke in newneſſe of lyfe.

5 For yf we be grafte togeather by the likeneſſe of his death: euen ſo ſhal we be (partakers) of the reſurrection:

6 Knowing this, that our olde man is crucified with him alſo, that the body of ſinne might vtterly be deſtroyed, that hencefoꝛth we ſhoulde not ſerue ſinne.

7 For he that is dead, is iuſtified frō ſinne. B

8 And if we be dead with Chriſte, we beleeue that we ſhal alſo lyue with him: 2. Tim.2.b

9 Knowyng that Chriſt beyng rayſed from the dead, * dyeth no moꝛe, death hath no moꝛe power ouer him. Apoc.1.b.

10 For as touching that he dyed, he dyed concernyng ſinne once: And as touching that he lyueth, he lyueth vnto God.

11 Lykewyſe recken your ſelues to be dead to ſinne: but aliue vnto god, thrꝛough Jeſus Chriſte our Lorde.

12 Let not ſinne raigne therefore in your moꝛtal body, that ye ſhould thereunto obey by the luſtes of it.

13 Neyther geue ye your members * as inſtrumentes of vnryghteouſneſſe vnto ſinne: but geue your ſelues vnto God, as they that are aliue from the dead, & your members * as inſtrumentes of ryghteouſnes vnto God. * or weapons.

14 For ſinne ſhal not haue power ouer you, becauſe ye are not vnder the (c) lawe, but vnder grace. * or, weapons.

15 What then? Shal we ſinne, becauſe we are not vnder the lawe, but vnder grace? God forbyd.

(c) That is, vnder the curſe of the law, whoſe office is to accuſe and condemne: but vnder grace, wherby we haue forgeueneſſe of our ſinnes, and are ſanctified by the holy ghoſte into the newnes of lyfe. Iohn.8.d. Roma.8.a.

11 Knowe ye not howe that to whomſoeuer ye commit your ſelues as ſeruants to obey, his ſeruantes ye are to whom ye obey: whether it be of ſinne vnto death, or of obedience vnto ryghteouſneſſe?

17 But God be thanked, that ye were the ſeruantes of ſinne: but ye haue obeyed with hart the fourme of doctrine, into the which ye were brought vnto.

18 *Being then made free from ſinne, ye are become the ſeruantes of ryghteouſneſſe.

19 I ſpeake after the (d) manner of menne, becauſe of the infirmitie of your fleſhe. For as ye haue geuen your members ſeruantes to vncleanneſſe and iniquitie, vnto iniquitie: euen ſo nowe geue your members ſeruantes to ryghteouſneſſe vnto holyneſſe.

(d) Men vſe to ſpeake gētilly to their frendes, and not to exact ſo muche as they myght, but ſo farre forth as reaſō requireth.

20 For when ye were the ſeruants of ſinne, ye were free from ryghteouſneſſe.

21 What fruit had ye then in thoſe things, whereof ye are nowe aſhamed? For the end of thoſe thinges, is death.

22 But

22 But now ye being made free from sinne, and made the seruantes of God, haue your fruite vnto holynesse, and the ende euerlastyng lyfe.

Gene.2.c. Rom.5.c. 23 For the *rewarde of sinne is death: but the gyfte of God is eternal lyfe, through Jesus Christe our Lorde.

The.vii. Chapter.

23. The fyght betweene the lawe of the flesshe, and the lawe of the spirite.

A

(a) Before the cóming of Christ, al menne were married and bound to the lawe, whiche did thē none other seruice but disclosed their sinne & wickednesse, forceyng thē to seke helpe for their sinnes where. Nowe then the lawe being abolished for her imperfectiō, & they elensed through Gods grace, are spoused vnto Christe their newe husbande, him to serue in newnesse of lyfe.

* 82, called.

(b) Because the body of Christe is made an offeryng and a sacrifice for our sinnes, whereby god is pleased, & his wrath appeased: and for Christes sake the holy ghost is geuē to al beleeuers, whereby the power of sinne is in vs dayly weakened: we are counted dead to the lawe, for that the lawe hath no dominion ouer vs.

1 KNowe ye not brethren (for I speake to them that knowe the (a) lawe) (how) that the lawe hath power ouer a man, as long as he lyueth?

2 For the woman which hath an husband, is bound by the lawe to her husband, as long as he liueth: but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the lawe of her husbande.

3 So then if while her husbande liueth, she couple her selfe with another man, she shalbe * counted a wedlocke breaker: but if her husbande be dead, she is free from the lawe, so that she is no wedlocke breaker, though she couple her selfe with another man.

4 Euen so, ye also my brethren, are dead concerning the lawe by the (b) bodye of Christe, that ye shoulde be coupled to another, who is raised from the dead, that we shoulde bring foorth fruite vnto God.

5 For when we were in the flesshe, the lustes of sinne (which were) by the law wrought in our members to bring foorth fruite vnto death.

6 But now are we deliuered from the law, & dead vnto it wherevnto we were in bondage, that we shoulde serue in newnesse of spirite, and not in the oldnesse of the letter.

7 What shal we say then? Is the law sinne? God forbyd. Neuertheless, I knewe not sinne, but by the law: For I had not known lust, except the lawe had sayde, Thou shalt not lust.

8 But sinne taking occasion by the commaundment, wrought in me al manner of concupiscence. For without the lawe sinne (was) dead.

9 I once lyued without lawe: but when the commaundement came, sinne reuiued,

10 And I was dead: & the very same commaundement whiche was (ordeyned) vnto lyfe, was founde (to be) vnto me an occasion of death.

11 For sinne taking occasion by the commaundement, hath deceiued me, and by the same slue (me.)

12 Wherfore the law is holy, and the commaundement holy, and iust, and good.

13 Was that then whiche was good, made death vnto me? God forbid. But sinne, that sinne might appeare, by that whiche was good to worke death in me: that sinne by the commaundement myght be out of measure sinful.

14 For we know that the lawe is spiritual: but I am carnal, * solde vnder (c) sinne.

Esai.52.8.

(c) Lyke as bondmē are violentlye thrust, hurled, and tormoyled, as it pleaseth their cruel maister: So are we thorowe heapes of sinnes drawen to many euyl dooynges, which we do neither like nor alowe.

15 For that whiche I doo, I alowe not: for what I woulde, that doe I not: but what I hate, that doo I.

16 If I doo now that which I would not, I consent vnto the lawe that it is good.

17 Nowe then, it is not I that doo it: but sinne that dwelleth in me.

18 For I know, that in me (that is to say in my flesshe) dwelleth no good thing. For to wil, is present with me: but I fynd no meanes to performe that whiche is good.

19 For the good that I would, do I not: but the euyl whiche I woulde not, that doe I.

20 And if I doo that I woulde not, then is it not I any longer that dooth it, but sinne that dwelleth in me.

21 I fynde then by the lawe, that when I woulde doo good, euyl is present with me.

22 For I delite in the lawe of God, after the inwarde man.

23 But I see another lawe in my members, rebellyng agaynst the lawe of my mynde, and subduyng me vnto the lawe of sinne, which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am: Who shal delyuer me from the (d) body of this death?

(d) It is called the body of sinne, for that it is an whole lump of sinne, tossyng and tormentyng the whole man, & pluckyng him frō god, wherby plagues and miseries are heaped on, and man lyueth as he were in the midst of death.

25 I thanke God through Jesus Christ our Lorde. So then, with the mind I mee selfe serue the lawe of God: but with the flesshe, the lawe of sinne.

The.viii. Chapter.

1. The assurance of the faythful. 6. The fruites of the holy ghost.

1 THere is then no damnation to them whiche are in Christe Jesu, whiche walke not after the flesshe, but after the spirite.

(a) The lawe of the spirit, and the lawe of sin, is here taken improperly for the power and strength, of the lawe and sinne: and it is called the spirit of lyfe, because it quickneth & geueth lyfe.

2 For the law of ỹ (a) spirit of life, through Jesus Christe, hath made me free from the lawe of sinne and death.

3 For what the lawe coulde not doo, in as much as it was weake through the flesshe, God hauyng sent his owne sonne, in the similitude of sinful flesshe, euen by sinne, (b) condemned sinne in the flesshe:

(b) God thorow the sacrifice of sinne, whiche Christe his onely sonne offered vpon the crosse in his flesshe, hath condemned and abolished synne, whiche raigned in our mortal flesshe.

4 That

4 That the ryghteousnesse of the lawe, might be fulfilled in vs, which walke not after the fleashe, but after the spirite.

5 For they that are carnal, are (c) carnally mynded: but they that are spiritual, are spiritually mynded.

6 To be carnally minded, is death: But to be spiritually minded, is lyfe and peace:

7 Because that the fleshly minde is enmitie agaynst God: for it is not obedient to the lawe of God, neyther can be.

8 So then, they that are in the fleashe, can not please God.

9 But ye are not in the fleashe, but in the spirite, if so be that the spirite of God dwel in you. If any man haue not the spirite of Christe, the same is none of his.

10 And if Christe be in you, the body is dead because of (d) sinne: but the spirite is lyfe for righteousnesse sake.

11 But yf the spirite of hym that raised vp Jesus from the dead, dwel in you: euen he that rayled vp Jesus from the dead, shal also quicken your mortal bodyes, because that his spirite dwelleth in you.

12 Therefore brethren, we are detters, not to the fleashe, to liue after the fleashe.

13 For if ye liue after the fleshe, ye shal dye: but if ye through the spirite, do mortifie the deedes of the body, ye shal liue.

14 For as many as are ledde by the spirite of God, they are the sonnes of God.

15 For ye haue not receiued the spirite of bondage agayne to feare: but * ye haue receiued the spirite of adoption, whereby we crye, Abba, father.

16 * The spirite it selfe beareth witnesse to our spirite, that we are the sonnes of God.

17 If we be sonnes, then are we also heyres, the heyres of God, and iointheyres with Christe: So that we suffer togeather, that we may be also glorified togeather.

18 For I am certaynely (e) perswaded that the afflictions of this time, are not woorthy of the glory whiche shalbe shewed vpon vs.

19 For the earnest expectation of the creature abydeth, looking when the sonnes of God shal appeare:

20 Because the (f) creature is subiecte to vanitie, not wylling, but for hym whiche hath subdued the same in hope.

21 For the creature it selfe shalbe made free from the bondage of corruption, into the glorious libertie of the sonnes of God.

22 For we knowe that euery creature groneth with vs also, and trauayleth in payne with vs, euen vnto this time.

23 Not only (they,) but we also which haue the firste fruites of the spirite, and we our selues mourne in our selues, waytyng for the adoption, (euen) the deliuerance of our body.

24 For we are saued by hope: But hope that is seene, is no hope. For howe can a man hope for that whiche he seeth?

25 But and if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience abide for it.

26 Likewise, the spirite also helpeth our infirmities. For we knowe not what to desyre as we ought: but the spirite it selfe maketh great (g) intercession for vs, with groninges, whiche can not be expressed.

27 And he that searcheth the hartes, knoweth what is the meaning of the spirite: for he maketh intercession for the saintes according to the pleasure of God.

28 For we knowe that al thinges woorke for the best, vnto them that loue God, to them whiche also are called of purpose.

29 For those which he knewe before, he also dyd predestinate, that they shoulde be lyke fashioned vnto the shape of his sonne, that he might be the firste begotten among many brethren.

30 Moreouer, whom he did predestinate, them also he called: and whom he called, them also he iustified: and whom he iustified, them he also glorified.

31 What shal we then say to these thinges? *If God be on our side, who can be against vs? Num.14.b. Luke.20.b. Iohn.3.b. Esai.53.b.

32 Whiche spared not his owne sonne, *but gaue him for vs al: howe shal he not with hym also geue vs al thynges?

33 Who shal lay any thyng to the charge of Gods chosen? It is God that iustifieth:

34 Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ whiche dyed, yea rather whiche is rayled agayne, whiche is also on the ryght hande of God, and maketh intercession for vs.

35 Who shal separate vs from the loue of Christ? (Shal) tribulation, or anguishe, or persecution, eyther hunger, either nakednesse, eyther peryl, eyther swoorde?

36 (As it is written, * For thy sake are we killed al day long, and are counted as sheepe for the slaughter.) Psal.44.b.

37 Neuertheless, in al these thinges we ouercome, through him that loued vs.

38 For I am sure, that neither death, neither lyfe, neither angels, nor rule, neither power, neither thinges present, neyther things to come,

39 Neither heigth, nor deapth, neither any other creature, shalbe able to separate vs from the loue of God, whiche is in Christ Jesu our Lorde.

The

(c) φρονῆσαι & φρόνημα Greke wordes, do not so much signifie wysedome and prudence, as affectiõ, carefulnesse, and minding of any thing.

(d) Albeit we haue a body whiche is dead to al goodnes, by reason of sinne, which so strongly rayneth in it, yet when we are grafted in Christ, his spirite of life geueth vs lyfe, and iustifieth vs.

The Epistle on the .viii. Sunday after Trinitie.

(e) λογίζομαι signifieth to weigh, or to consyder. But because ỹ matter was certayne, &c. S. Paul nothing doubted therof, it is thus made: I am perswaded.

(f) The creatures shal not be restored before gods chyldrẽ be brought to their perfection. In ỹ mene season they dese, grone, & waite.

(g) The right fourme and affection of prayer, cometh by the holy ghost, who maketh intercession for vs, not that he praieth & mourneth: but that he so styrreth our hartes, that we lift them vp to heauen earnestly & fervently, which is the true prayer.

The.ix. Chapter.

1. Paul declareth his feruent loue towarde his nation.

A 1 I Say the trueth in Christ, I lye not, (my conscience also bearing me wytnesse by the holy ghost,)

2 That I haue great heauinesse, and continual sorowe in my hart.

3 For I haue wished mee selfe to be cursed from (a) Christe, for my brethren, my kinsmen as partayneth to the fleashe,

4 Whiche are the Israelites: to whom partayneth the adoption, and the glory, and the couenantes, and the lawe that was geuen, and the seruice of God, and the promises:

5 Of whom are the fathers, & of whom as concerning the fleashe Christ (came) which is God, in al thinges to be praysed for euer, Amen.

6 And it can not be, that the woord of God hath taken none effect. * For they are not al Israelites, whiche are of Israel:

7 Neyther are they al children that are the seede of Abraham: but * in Isahac shal thy seede be called.

8 That is to say, * They which are the children of the fleshe, these are not the children of God: but they whiche be the children of promise, are counted the seede.

9 For this is the woorde of promise: * About this tyme wil I come, and Sara shal haue a sonne.

10 Not only this, but also Rebecca was with chylde by one (euen) by our father Isahac.

11 For yer the (children) were borne, when they had neither done good, neyther bad, (that the purpose of GOD by (b) election might stand: not by the reason of woorkes, but by the caller,) 12 It was said vnto her, The elder shal serue the younger.

13 As it is written, Jacob haue I loued, but Esau haue I hated.

14 What shal we say then? Is there any vnrighteousnesse with God? God forbid.

15 For he sayth to Moses, * I wil shewe mercy to whom soeuer I shewe mercy: and wil haue compassion, on whom soeuer I haue compassion.

16 So then (election) is not of the willer, nor of the runner: but of God that taketh mercy.

17 For the scripture saith vnto Pharao, * Euen for this same purpose haue I stirred thee vp, that I might shewe my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout al the worlde.

18 So hath he mercy on whom he wyl, and whom he wyl he hardeneth.

19 Thou wilt say then vnto me, Why then blameth he (vs) yet? For who hath resisted his wyl?

20 But O man, what art thou whiche disputest with God? Shal the woorke say to the woorkeman, Why hast thou made me on this fashion? Esai.45.b. Eccle.33.b. Iere.18.a.

21 Hath not the potter power ouer the clay, euen of the same lumpe to make one vessel vnto honour, and another vnto dishonour? D

22 What if God, willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power knowen, suffered with long patience the vessels of wrath ordeyned to destruction:

23 To declare the richesse of his glory on the vessels of mercy, whiche he had prepared vnto glory?

24 Whom also he called (I meane) vs, not of the Iewes only, but also of the gentiles.

25 As he sayth also in Osee, * I wil cal them my people, which were not my people: and her beloued, whiche was not beloued. Osee.2.b. 1.Pet.2.b.

26 And it shal come to passe, that in the place where it was sayd vnto them, Ye are not my people: there shal they be called the children of the liuing God.

27 And Esaias cryeth concernyng Israel, * (though) the number of the children of Israel be as the sande of the sea, yet (but) a remnant shalbe saued. Esai.10.c.

28 For he finisheth the (c) woorde, and maketh it short in righteousnesse: for a short woorde wyl the Lorde make on earth. E

29 And as Esaias sayde before, Except the Lorde of Sabboth had leaft vs (d) seede, we had ben made as Sodoma, and had ben lykened to Gomorrha.

30 What shal we say then, That the gentiles whiche folowed not righteousnesse, haue obteyned righteousnesse: euen the righteousnesse (which commeth) of fayth?

31 But Israel whiche folowed the lawe of ryghteousnesse, hath not atteyned to the lawe of righteousnesse.

32 Wherefore? Because (they sought it) not by fayth, but as it were by the woorkes of the lawe: For they haue stumbled at the stumbling stone, 33 As it is written, Beholde, I put in (e) Sion a stumbling stone, and a rocke of offence, and who so euer beleeueth on hym, shal not be confounded.

The

(a) He sawe the losse and destruction of his whole natiō, falling so farre from gods true religiō, he considered how soare GOD shoulde be dishonored, when his woonderful benefites & blessings bestowed vpon his people, shoulde take none effect, but vtterly be defaced, whiche so mightily moued him, that he wyshed rather to be cut of from Christ, then those thinges should come to passe. Rom. 2.d. Gen.21.b. John.8.d. Rom.2.d. Gen.18.b.

(b) The wyl & purpole of God, is the cause of the election and reprobation. For his mercy & calling, through Christe, are the meanes of saluation: & the withdrawing of his mercy, is the cause of damnation. Exod. 33.d. Exod.9.b.

(c) The word here is taken for a thyng or matter. The Lorde diminished his people by sundrye plagues, persecutions, & banishmentes, and brought thē to a verye fewe. Lykewise meaneth saint Paul, that a few of them shalbe saued, whiche fewe notwithstandyng shal abounde in righteousnesse to the glory of god.

(d) The seede is Christe Iesus, sowen abroade by his apostles and disciples, (e) Christe doth iustifie vs by fayth without woorkes, whiche thyng the Iewes and Iusticiaries can not beleeue. Therfore they stumble at Christe, and are offended with him.

BRethren, my hartes desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saued.

2 For I beare them record, that they haue a (a) zeale of God: but not according vnto knowledge.

3 For they being ignorant of Gods righteousnesse, and goeing about to stablish their (b) owne righteousnesse, haue not bene obedient vnto the righteousnesse of God.

4 For Christe is the ende of the law, (c) for righteousnesse to al that beleeue.

5 For Moses writeth of the righteousnesse whiche (is) of the lawe, howe that the man which doth those things, shal liue by them.

6 But the righteousnesse which is of fayth, speaketh on this wyse: Say not thou in thine hart, who shal assend into (d) heauen? That is, to fetche Christe downe from aboue.

7 Either who shal dessende into the deepe? That is, to fetche vp Christe againe from the dead.

8 But what sayth he, The woorde is nygh thee, euen in thy mouth, and in thy harte. This same is the woord of faith, which we preache.

9 (*) For if thou shalt knowledge with thy mouth the Lord Iesus, and shalt beleeue in thyne harte that God rayled him from the dead, thou shalt be saued.

10 For with the harte man beleeueth vnto righteousnesse, and with the mouth confession is made vnto saluation.

11 For the scripture sayth, Whosoeuer beleeueth on hym, shal not be confounded.

12 There is no difference betweene the Iew and the Greke: for the same Lorde ouer al, is riche vnto al that cal vpon him.

13 For whosoeuer shal cal on the name of the Lorde, shalbe saued.

14 How then shal they cal on him, on whom they haue not beleeued? Howe shal they beleue on him, of whom they haue not heard? Howe shal they heare, without a preacher?

15 And how shal they preach, except they be sent? As it is written, Howe beautiful are the feete of them whiche bring good tidinges of peace, and bring good tidinges of good thinges?

16 But they haue not al obeyed the Gospel, for Esaias sayth, *Lord, who hath beleeued our sayeinges?

17 So then fayth commeth by hearing, and hearing commeth by the woorde of God.

18 But (I aske) haue they not heard? No doubt, their sound went out into al landes, and their woordes into the endes of the worlde.

19 *But I demaunde whether Israel did knowe, or not? First Moses sayth, I wyl prouoke you to enuie by them that are no people: and by a foolishe nation I wyl anger you. Deut.13.c.

20 And Esaias is bold, and sayth, *I haue ben founde of them that sought me not: I haue ben made manifest vnto them that asked not after me. Esai.52.b.

21 But against Israel he saith, *Al day long haue I stretched foorth my handes vnto a people that beleeueth not, but speaketh against me. Esa.65.a.

The.xi. Chapter.

29. God repenteth him not of his gyftes.
33. The depth of Gods iudgementes.

1 I Say then, hath God cast away his people? God forbyd. For I also am an Israelite, of the seede of Abraham, of the tribe of Beniamin.

2 God hath not cast away his people which he knewe before. Wote ye not what the scripture sayth of Elias? how he maketh intercession to God against Israel,

3 Saying, *Lord, they haue killed thy prophetes, and dygged downe thyne (a) aulters: and I am leaft alone, and they seeke my lyfe.

4 But what sayth the answeare of God vnto him? *I haue reserued vnto mee selfe seuen thousande men, which haue not bowed the knee to (the image of) Baal.

5 Euen so at this time there is a remnant according to the election of grace.

6 If it be of grace, then is it not nowe of woorkes: for then grace is no more grace. But if it be of woorkes, then is it nowe no grace, for then woorke is no more woorke.

7 What then? Israel hath not obteined that whiche he seeketh for, but the election hath obteined it, the remnant hath ben "blinded,

8 (According as it is written, *God hath geuen them the spirite of (b) remorse: eyes that they shoulde not see, & eares that they shoulde not heare) euen vnto this day.

9 *And Dauid saith, Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, and a stumbling stocke, and a recompence vnto them.

10 Let their eyes be "blinded, that they see not, and bowe thou downe their backe alway.

11 I say then, Haue they therfore stumbled, that they shoulde fal? God forbid, but thorowe their fal, saluation (is comme) vnto the (c) gentiles, for to prouoke them withal.

12 Now if the fal of them be the richesse of the worlde, and the minishing of them, the richesse of the Gentiles: howe muche more theyr

(*) The Epistle on saint Andrewes day.

(c) That is, Christe hath fulfilled the whole lawe, and therefore whosoeuer beleeueth in him, is counted iuste before God, as wel as he had fulfylled the whole lawe himselfe.

15 For if the castinge away of them be the reconcilinge of the worlde: what shal the receiuing (of them) be, but life from the dead?

16 For if the first fruites be holy, the whole lumpe also (is holy.) And if the roote be holy, the branches also.

17 And if somme of the branches be broken (d) of, and thou beyng a wyld Olyue tree, wast grafte in among them, and made partaker of the roote and fatnesse of the Olyue tree.

(d) These broke branches, were the vnbeleeuing Iewes, whiche for their vnbeleefe, were cut of from the promise of God, in whose steade was the wild Olyue, that is the gentiles, grafted through fayth.

18 Boast not thee selfe against the branches. For if thou boast thee selfe, thou bearest not the roote, but the roote thee.

19 Thou wylt say then, The branches are broken of, that I might be graft in.

20 Wel: because of vnbeleefe they were broken of, & thou stoodest stedfast in fayth. Be not hygh mynded, but feare.

28 As concerning the Gospel, they are enimies for your sakes: but as touchyng the election, they are loued for ỹ fathers (sakes.)

29 For the free gyftes and calling of God are without repentance.

30 For as ye in time past haue not beleeued God, yet haue ye now obteyned mercy throwe theyr vnbeleefe.

31 Euen so nowe haue they not * beleeued the mercy shewed vnto you, that they also may obteyne mercie.

6. Howe euery man shoulde walke in his seueral calling.

The Epistle on the first sunday after the Epiphanie.

* or, present

2 And be not ye fashioned lyke vnto this (b) worlde: but be ye changed in your shape, by the renuing of your mynde, that ye maye proue what is the good, and acceptable, and perfect wyl of God.

(a) The Iewes in Moses law were cōmaunded to offer vp the dead carkases of beastes: but christians should exhibit their owne liuely bodyes for a sacrifice to God, in mortifying their carnal lustes, and framing them selues by fayth to godlinesse & charitie.

3 For I say, thyrough the grace geuen vnto me, to euery man that is among you, that no man esteeme of him selfe more then he ought to esteeme: but so esteeme (him selfe) that he behaue him self discreetly, according as God hath dealt to euery man the measure of fayth.

The Epistle on the. iiii. Sunday after the epiphanie. Sapi.6.a. Iohn.3.d.

1 LEt euery soule be subiecte vnto the higher powers: For *there is no power but of God. The powers that be, are ordeyned of God.

2 Who so euer therfore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance God: & they that resist, shal receiue to them selues damnation.

3 For rulers are not feareful to good woorkes, but to the euil. Wilt thou not feare the power? Doo wel, and thou shalt haue prayse of the same.

4 For he is the minister of GOD for thy wealth. But yf thou do euyl, feare: for he beareth not the sworde in vayne: For he is the minister of God, reuenger of wrath on hym that doth euil.

(b) The further we goe, the nearer are we to the ende. Nowe therfore our perfect and ful saluation, is nearer vnto vs, then when we firste began to beleeue. Luke.21.f. Eccle.31.c. and.38.d.

12 The night is passed, the day is come nigh. Let vs therfore cast away the deedes of darkenesse, and let vs put on the armour of light.

13 Let vs wake honestly, as in the day, *not in rioting and dronkennesse, neyther in chamberyng and wantonnesse, neyther in stryfe and enuiyng.

14 But put ye on the Lorde Iesus Christe, and make not prouision for the fleashe, to (fulfyl) the lustes (thereof.)

The.xiiii.Chapter.

15. One ought to beare with anothers conscience in charitie.

1 HYm that is weake in the faith receiue, not to doubtfulnesse of (a) disputations.

(a) That is, not to this end, contentiously to dispute with him in matters of religion, whervnto, thorowe the weakenesse of fayth, he can not as yet atteyne, lest he shuld depart with a greater scruple of conscience, or be offended with vns charitable reasonyng.

2 One beleeueth that he may eate euery thing, another whiche is weake, eateth hearbes.

3 Let not him that eateth, despise him that eateth not: and let not hym whiche eateth not, iudge him that eateth. For God hath receiued him.

4 * What art thou that iudgest another mans seruant? To his owne maister he standeth or falleth: Yea, he shalbe holden vp, for God is able to make hym stande.

5 This man putteth difference betweene day & day. Another man counteth al dayes alyke. Let euery man be fully perswaded in his owne (b) mynde.

6 He that esteemeth the day, esteemeth it vnto the Lorde: and he that esteemeth not the day, Iacob. 4.b.

(b) We must be assured in our conscience by Gods woorde in al thing that we do, that yf we be strong, we may knowe what is our libertie: and yf we be weake, we may learne to profite dayly.

* or wrath. (a) For we are bounde in conscience by the word of God, to obey the higher powers, and in disobeying, we shoulde hurt the consciences of others, thorow our euil example.

day, to the Lorde he doth not esteeme it. He that eateth, eateth to the lord, for he geueth God thankes: and he that eateth not, eateth not to the Lorde, and geueth God thankes.

B 7 For none of vs liueth to him selfe, and no man dyeth to him selfe.

8 For if we liue, we liue vnto the Lorde: and if we dye, we dye vnto the Lord: Whether we liue therefore, or dye, we are the Lordes.

Actes.2.f. 9 *For to this ende Christe both dyed, and rose, and reuiued, that he might be Lorde

Philip.2.b. *both of quicke and dead.

10 But why doest thou then iudge thy brother? Eyther, why doest thou set at nought thy brother? we shal al stande before the iudgement seate of Christe.

11 For it is written, I liue, sayth the Lord,

Esai.65.c. * and al knees shal bowe to me, and al

Philip.2.b tongues shal geue prayse to God.

12 So shal euery one of vs geue accompt of him selfe to God.

13 Let vs not therefore iudge one another any more: but iudge this rather, that no man put a stumbling blocke, or an occasion to fal, in his brothers way.

C 14 For I knowe, and am perswaded by the Mar.2.g. 15 But if thy brother be greeued with thy meate, nowe walkest thou not charitably: destroy not him with thy meate, for whom Christe dyed.

16 Let not your good be euyl spoken of.

17 For the kingdome of God is not meate and drinke: but righteousnesse, and peace, and ioy in the holy ghost.

Titus.1.d. (r) Fayth is here taken for a ful perswasion of the christian libertie in thinges indefferent.

18 For he that in these thinges serueth Christ, pleaseth God, and is commended of men.

19 Let vs therefore folowe those thynges whiche make for peace, and thinges wherwith one may edifie another.

20 Destroy not the worke of GOD for meates sake: * al thinges are pure, but it is euil for that man whiche eateth with offence.

21 It is good neither to eate fleashe, neyther to drinke wine, neither (any thing) whereby thy brother stumbleth, either is offended, or is made weake.

22 Hast thou (c) fayth? Haue it with thee selfe before God. Happy is he that condemneth not him selfe in that (thing whiche) he alloweth.

23 For he that maketh conscience, is damned yf he eate, because (he eateth) not of fayth: For what so euer is not of fayth, is (d) sinne.

(c) Or, sacrifisyng.

(d) This sentence, both Augustine & Origene do take to be generally meant of al mens works what so euer they be, whiche proceede not of a right conscience, and an vndoubted faith grounded vpon the word of god.

The.xv. Chapter.

14. Paul sheweth his zeale towarde them, 30. and requireth the like of them.

1 WE whiche are strong, *ought to beare the fraylenesse of the weake, and not to standе in our owne conceiptes. Galat.6.a.

(a) To edifie, signifieth to do al manner of dueties to our neighbours, eyther to bryng him to Christ, or if he be won that he may goe forwarde in vertue.

2 Let euery man please his neighbour in that that is good to (a) edifying.

3 For Christe pleased not him selfe, but as it is written, The rebukes of them which rebuked thee, fel on me.

4 (*) For what so euer thinges haue ben written afore tyme, were written for our learning: that we through patience & comfort of the scriptures, might haue hope.

(*) The Epistle on the.ii. Sunday in Aduent.

5 The GOD of patience and consolation, graunt you to be like minded one towards another, after the ensample of Christ Iesu:

6 *That ye al agreeing together, may with Leuit.19.d. one mouth prayse God, and the father of our Lorde Iesus Christe.

7 Wherfore, receiue ye one another, as B Christe receiued vs to the glory of God.

8 And I say, that Iesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the trueth of God, to confirme the promises (made) vnto the fathers:

9 *And that the Gentiles might glorifie Deut.20.f. God for his mercy, as it is written, * For 2.Reg.22.d this cause I wyl prayse thee among the Psal.18.g. Gentiles, and sing vnto thy name.

10 And agayne he sayth, *Reioyce ye Gen- Deut.32.f. tiles with his people.

11 And agayne, *Prayse the Lord al ye Gen- Psal.117.a. tiles, and laud him al ye people together.

12 And againe Esaias saith, There shalbe the *roote of Iesse, and he that shal rise to Esaias.11.a raigne ouer the Gentiles, in hym shal the Gentiles trust.

13 The God of hope fyl you with al ioy and peace in beleeuing, that ye may be riche in hope, through the power of the holy ghost.

14 I my selfe am perswaded of you, my bre- C thren, that ye also are ful of goodnesse, and filled with al knowledge, able also to exhort one another.

15 Neuertheless, brethren, I haue somwhat more boldly written vnto you, as puttyng you in remembrance through the grace that is geuen to me of God,

16 That I shoulde be the minister of Iesus Christe to the Gentiles, * and shoulde ministre the Gospel of God, that the offering of the (b) Gentiles might be acceptable, and sanctified by the holy ghost.

(b) He calleth here the offeryng of the gentiles, the people of the gentiles, whom he wonne to god by preaching of the Gospel.

17 I haue therefore wherof I may reioyce through Christe Iesus, in those thynges whiche pertayne to God.

18 For I wil not be bolde to speake of any of those those thinges whiche Christe hath not wrought by me, to make the Gentiles obedient with woorde and deede, 19 In mighty signes and woonders, by the power of the spirite of GOD, so that from Hierusalem, and the coastes rounde about vnto Illyricum, I haue fully preached the Gospel of Christe.

D 20 So haue I enforced mee selfe to preache the Gospel, not where Christe was named, lest I shoulde haue buylt vpon anothers mans (e) fundation.

(e) An other mans fundatiō he calleth here the Churches that were taught and instructed of other Apostles.

21 But as it is written, To whom he was not spoken of, they shal see: and they that heard not, shal vnderstande.

22 For this cause I haue benne oft let, that I coulde not comme vnto you.

23 But now hauing no more to doo in these countreys, & also hauing a great desire many yeeres to comme vnto you:

24 Whensoeuer I take my iourney into Spayne, I wyl comme to you: for I trust to see you in my journey, and to be brought on my way thytherwarde by you, after that I be somewhat filled with you.

Actes. 11. d (d) That is, to carry to the poore saints that lyued at Hierusalem, the almes that he gathered for them among the Gentiles where he preached.

25 But now goe I vnto Hierusalem, to minister vnto the (d) saintes.

26 For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia, to make a certayne common gathering for the poore saintes whiche are at Hierusalem.

27 It hath pleased them verely, and their debters are they. For yf the Gentiles be made partakers of their spiritual thinges, their dutie is to minister vnto them in carnal thynges.

E 28 When I haue performed this, & haue (e) sealed to them this fruite, I wyl come by you into Spayne.

(e) That is, when I shal faythfully deliuer it to them, as it were sealed most surely. By fruite he meaneth almes, whiche is the fruite of the fayth of those that had receiued the Gospel.

29 And I am sure that when I comme vnto you, I shal comme with abundance of the blessyng of the Gospel of Christe.

30 I beseeche you brethren for the Lorde Jesus Christes sake, and for the loue of the spirite, that ye helpe me in my busines with your prayers to God for me:

31 That I may be deliuered from them whiche beleeue not in Iurie, and that this my seruice whiche I haue at Hierusalem, may be accepted of the saintes:

32 That I may comme vnto you with ioy by the wyl of God, and may with you be refreashed.

1. Cor. 14. f. 33 * The GOD of peace be with you al, Amen.

The. xvi. Chapter.

1. A number of salutations. 17. Paul wylleth them to beware of false brethren. 20. He prayeth and geueth thankes for them.

1 I Commende vnto you Phebe our sister, A whiche is a minister of the (a) Churche of Cenchrea:

(a) In the primatiue Churche ancient wyddowes, and other vertuous women, were chosen and appoynted to minister vnto the needy, and therfore called ministers: and not because they had any publique authoritie to teach in the congregation.

2 That ye receiue her in the Lorde, as it becommeth saintes, and that ye assiste her in what so euer businesse she hath nede of you: For she hath succoured many, and mee self also.

3 Greete Priscilla, and Aquila, my helpers in Christe Jesu:

4 (Whiche haue for my lyfe layde downe their owne neckes: Unto whom, not only I geue thankes, but also al the Churches of the Gentiles:)

5 Likewyse (greete) the Churche that is in their house. Salute my welbeloued Epenetus, whiche is the first fruite of Achaia in Christe.

6 Greete Marie, whiche bestowed muche labour on vs.

7 Salute Andronicus & Junia my cosins, and prisoners with me also, which are well taken among the apostles, & were in Christ before me.

B 8 Greete Amplias, my beloued in the lord.

9 Salute Urban, our helper in Christ, and Stachys my beloued.

10 Salute Apelles, approoued in Christe. Salute them whiche are of Aristobulus houshold.

11 Salute Herodion my kynseman. Greete them that be of the houshold of Narcissus, whiche are in the Lorde.

12 Salute Tryphena, & Tryphosa, whiche labour in the Lord. Salute ỹ beloued Persis, whiche laboured muche in the Lorde.

2. Cor. 12. c. (b) This was a signe of amitie among the Iewes, whiche saint Paul wylleth to be holy, that is, that it come from a mind ful of godly charitie.

13 Salute Ruphus chosen in the Lorde, and his mother and myne.

14 Greete Asyncritus, Phlegon, Herman, Patrobas, Hercurius, and the brethren whiche are with them.

15 Salute Philologus, and Julia, Nereus and his sister, and Olympas, and al the saintes whiche are with them.

16 * Salute one another with an holy (b) kisse. The Churches of Christ salute you.

17 Now I beseeche you brethren, (c) marke them which cause diuision, and geue occasions of euyl, cõtrary to the doctrine which ye haue learned, and auoyde them.

(c) There are two markes to know the falie apostles by. The one is when they leaue Christ, & serue their belly. The other, when they regarde not the holy scripture, but preache lyes, and their owne fantasies.

18 For they that are such, serue not the lord Jesus Christ, but their owne belly, & with sweete and flattering woordes deceiue the hartes of the innocentes.

19 For your obedience is gone abrode vnto al men. I am glad therfore on your behalf: but yet I woulde haue you wyse vnto that which is good, and simple concerning euil.

20 The God of peace shal treade Satan vnder your feete shortly. The grace of our Lorde Jesus Christe be with you, Amen.

D 21 Timotheus my workefelowe, and Lucius, and Jason, and Sosipater my kinsmen, salute you.

22 I Tertius whiche wrote this Epistle, salute you in the Lorde.

23 Gaius mine host, & of the whole Church, saluteth you. Erastus the chamberlayne of the citie saluteth you, and Quartus his brother.

24 The grace of our Lorde Jesus Christe be with you al, Amen.

25 To hym that is of power to stablyshe you, according to my gospel, and preaching of Jesus Christe, by reuealyng of the mysterie whiche was kept secrete sence the worlde beganne,

26 But nowe is opened, & by the scriptures of the prophetes, at the commaundement of the euerlastyng God, to the obedience of fayth, among al nations published, 27 To (the same) God, wyse onely, be glory, through Jesus Christe, for euer, Amen.

¶ This Epistle was written to the Romanes from Corinthus, (and sent) by Phebe the minister of the Churche at Cenchrea.

¶ The.i.Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians.

The fyrst Chapter.

1. He prayseth the great graces of God shewed towarde them, 10. exhortyng them to concorde and humilitie.

A 1 PAUL called (to be) an Apostle of Jesus Christe, through the wyl of god, and brother Sosthenes:

2 Unto the Church of God whiche is at Corinthus, to them that are sanctified in Christe Jesus, (a) saintes by callyng, with al that cal on the name of our Lorde Jesus Christe in euery place, both of theirs and ours:

(a) Made holy by the free mercy & callyng of God. Rom 1.a. Galat.1.a

3 *Grace be vnto you, and peace from God our father, and from the Lorde Jesus Christe.

The Epistle on the.xviii. Sunday after Trinitie.

4 I thanke my GOD alwayes on your behalfe, for the grace of God whiche is geuen you in Jesus Christe:

5 That in al things ye are enriched in him, in al vtterance, and in al knowledge:

6 As the testimonie of Jesus Christe was confirmed in you.

B 7 So that ye are destitute of no gyft, waytyng for the appearyng of our Lorde Jesus Christe.

* or, confirme.

8 Whiche shal also * strength you vnto the ende, that ye may be (b) blameleße in the day of our Lorde Jesus Christe.

(b) For there is no condemnation to thē that are grafted in Christ Iesus. Num.23.c 1.Cor.10.c.

9 *God is faythful, by whom ye haue benne called vnto the felowship of his sonne Jesus Christe our Lorde.

10 Nowe I beseeche you brethren by the name of our Lorde Jesus Christ, that ye al speake one thing, & that there be no discentions among you: but that ye be perfectly ioyned togeather in the same minde, and in the same meaning.

11 For it hath benne declared vnto me, my brethren, of you, by them whiche are of the house of Cloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 This I say, that euery one of you sayth, I am of Paul, and I am of *Apollo, and I am of Cephas, and I am of Christe. Actes.18.d. 1.Cor.3.a. and.16.c.

13 Is Christe diuided? was Paul crucified for you? eyther were ye baptised in ỳ name of Paul?

14 I thanke God that I baptised none of you, but Crispus and Gaius: C

15 Lest any shoulde say that I had baptised in myne owne name.

16 I baptised also the houshold of Stephana: Besides, I knowe not whether I baptised any other.

17 For Christ sent me not to baptise, but to preache the Gospel: not with wysedome of (c) woordes, lest the crosse of Christ shoulde be made of none effect.

(c) When men shoulde attribute that vnto eloquence, whiche only belongeth to the power of God. Rom.1.b

18 For the preachyng of the crosse, is to thē that perish, foolishnesse: but vnto vs which are saued, *it is the power of God.

19 For it is written, *I wyl destroy the wysedome of the wyse, and wyl cast away the vnderstandyng of the prudent. Esai.29.d

20 Where is ỳ wise? where is the Scribe? where is the disputer of this worlde? hath not God made the wysedome of this worlde foolishe? Esai.33.c

21 For after that in the wysedome of God, the worlde through their wysedome knewe D not not God, it pleased God through foolishnesse of preaching, to saue the that beleeue.

Matth. 8.d. Luke. 11.d. Iohn. 6.d.
22 For * the Iewes require a signe, and the Grekes seeke after wysedome.
23 But we preache Christe crucifyed, vnto the Iewes a stumbling blocke, and vnto the Grekes, foolishnesse:
24 But vnto them whiche are called, both Iewes and Grekes, Christe, the power of God, and the wysedome of God.
25 For the foolishnesse of God is wyser then menne: and the weakenesse of god is stronger then menne.
26 Bye thyen, ye see your calling, howe that not many wyse men after the fleashe, not many mighty, not many noble (are called:)
27 But God hath chosen the foolishe things of the worlde, to confounde the wyse: and God hath chosen the weake thinges of the worlde, to confound the thinges which are mighty:
28 And vnnoble thinges of the worlde, and thinges which are despised, hath God chosen, (yea) and thinges whiche are not, to bryng to nought thinges that are:
29 That no fleashe shoulde glory in his presence.
30 And of him are ye in Christ Iesus, which of God is made vnto vs wysedome, & righteousnesse, and sanctifycation, and redemption:
31 That accordyng as it is written, He that gloryeth, let him glory in the Lorde.

The. ii. Chapter.

1. He putteth for example his manner of preachyng, whiche was accordyng to the tenor of the Gospel.

A 1 AND I, bye thren, when I came to you, came not in * glorioulnesse of words, or of wysedome, shewing vnto you the (a) testimonie of God.
* or, excellencie.
(a) That is, the Gospel, whereby God dooth manifest him selfe to the worlde, or whereof god is the aucthour and witnesse.
2 For I esteemed not to know any thing among you, saue Iesus Christ, and him crucifyed.
3 And I was among you in weakenesse, and in feare, and in muche trembling.
4 And my woordes and my preaching was not with entising woordes of mans wysedome, but in shewyng of the spirite, and of power:
5 That your fayth shoulde not stand in the wysedome of menne, but in the power of God.
6 And we speake wysedome among them that are perfect: not the wysedome of this world, neither of the princes of this world, whiche come to nought:
B 7 But we speake the wysedome of God in a mysterie (euen) the hyd (wysedome) which God ordeyned before the worlde, vnto our glory.
8 Which * none of the princes of this world knew: For had they knowen it, they would not haue crucifyed the Lorde of glory. Actes. 13.g.
9 But as it is written, * The eye hath not seene, and the eare hath not hearde, neither haue entred into the hart of man, the thinges whiche GOD hath prepared for them that loue him. Esai. 63.a.
10 But God hath reuealed them vnto vs by his spirite: For * the spirite searcheth al thinges, yea the deepe thinges of God. Rom. 8.
11 For what man knoweth the thinges of a man, saue the (b) spirite of man whiche is in him? Euen so the thinges of God, knoweth no man, but the spirite of God.
(b) Mans mind, which vnderstandeth and iudgeth.
12 And we haue not receiued the spirite of the worlde, but the spirite whiche is of God, that we myght knowe the thynges that are geuen to vs of God.
13 Whiche thinges also we speake, not in the woordes whiche mans wysedome teacheth, but whiche the holy ghost teacheth: comparing spirituall thinges with spirituall thinges.
14 But the natural man perceiueth not the thinges of the spirite of God, for they are foolishnesse vnto him: Neither can he know (them) because they are spiritually discerned. C
15 But he that is spirituall, discerneth al thinges, yet he him selfe is iudged of no man.
16 * For who hath knowen the mind of the Lorde, that he might instruct him? But we haue (c) the minde of Christe. Rom. 8.a. Esai. 40.c.
(c) That is, Christes spirite.

The. iii. Chapter.

3. Paul rebuketh the sectes and aucthours thereof. 13. Christe is the fundation of the Churche.

1 AND I coulde not speake vnto you, bye thren, as vnto spirituall, but as vnto carnal (euen) as vnto (a) babes in Christe.
(a) Being ingraffed in Christe by fayth, we begin to moue by his spirit: and as we profyte in fayth, we growe vp to a ripe age. And here let him take heede that teacheth, lest for milke he geue poison. For milke & strong meate in effect are one, but only differ in manner and fourme.
2 I haue nourished you with milke, & not with meate: for ye then were not strong, neither are ye as yet.
3 For ye are yet carnal: Seeyng then there is among you enuiyng, and strife, & sectes, are ye not carnal, and walke as menne?
4 For whyle one sayth, I am of Paul, & another, I (am) of Apollo, are ye not carnal?
5 For what is Paul? what is Apollo? But ministers by whom ye beleeued, euen as the Lorde gaue to euery man.
6 I haue planted, Apollo watered: but god gaue the encrease.

B 7 So then, neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth: but God that geueth the encrease.

8 He that planteth, and he that watereth, are one: and euery man shal receiue his rewarde according to his labour.

Ephe.2.d. 9 For we to geather are Gods labourers, ye are Gods husbandry, ye are * Gods buylding.

10 Accordyng to the grace of God whiche is geuen vnto me, as a wyse maister buylder haue I layde the fundation, and another buyldeth thereon. But let euery man (b) take heede howe he buildeth vpon.

(b) He reproueth the ministers of Corinth, as teachers of curious doctrines and questions.

11 For other fundation can no man lay then that is layde, * whiche is Jesus Christe.

Mat.16.c. 12 If any man buylde on this fundation, golde, siluer, precious stones, timber, hay, (or) stubble:

13 Euery mans woorke shal be made manifest. The day shal declare it, because it shalbe reuealed by the fyre, and the fyre shal trie euery mans woorke what it is.

C 14 If any mans woorke that he hath built vpon abyde, he shal receiue a rewarde.

15 If any mans woorke burne, he shal suffer losse, but he shalbe sake him selfe: yet as (it were) through fyre.

1.Cor. 6.d. 16 * Knowe ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the spirite of God dwelleth in you?

* or, destroy 17 If any man * defyle the temple of God, him shal GOD destroy: for the temple of God is holy, whiche (temple) ye are.

18 Let no man deceiue hym selfe: If any man among you seeme (to him selfe) to be wyse in this worlde, let him become a foole, that he may be wyse.

Job. 5.b. 19 For the wysedome of this worlde, is foolishnesse with God: for it is written, * He comprehendeth the wyse in (c) their owne craftinesse.

(c) Whē they them selues are entangled in the same snares whiche they layde for others.

20 And agayne, The Lorde knoweth the thoughtes of the wyse, that they be vayne.

21 Therefore let no man glory in (d) menne: for al thinges are yours.

(d) But in God, who woorketh by his ministers to his owne glory, and the comfort of his Churche.

22 Whether Paul, or Apollo, or Cephas, eyther the worlde, eyther lyfe, or death, whether thinges present, or thinges to comme, al are yours:

23 But ye are Christes, and Christe (is) Gods.

The.iiii.Chapter.

1. After that he had described the office of a true apostle, 3. seeing they dyd not acknowledge him suche one, 4. he appeaseth to Gods iudgement.

The Epistle on the thirde sunday in Aduent. I LEt a man so esteeme of vs as the ministers of Christe, and disposers of the secretes of God.

2 Furthermore, it is required in the dispossers, that a man be founde faythful.

3 With me it is but a very smal thing that I shoulde be iudged of you, eyther of mans iudgement: yea I iudge not (a) myne owne selfe.

(a) Whether I haue great gifts or litle, few or many

4 For I knowe nothing by mee selfe, yet am I not thereby iustifyed: but he that iudgeth me is the Lorde.

5 Therefore iudge nothing before the time, vntyl the Lorde comme, who wyl lighten the hidden thinges of darknesse, and open the counsels of the hartes: and then shal euery man haue prayse of God.

6 And these thinges brethren, I haue figuratiuely applyed vnto mee selfe and to Apollos, for your sakes: that ye might learne by vs, not to be wyse aboue that whiche is written, that ye swel not one against another for any mans cause.

7 For who (b) separateth thee? And what hast thou that thou hast not receiued? If thou haue receiued it, why doost thou glory as though thou haddest not receiued it?

(b) To wit, from other menne, and preferreth thee.

B 8 Nowe ye are ful, nowe ye are riche, ye haue raigned as kynges without vs, and I woulde to God ye dyd raigne, that we also myght raigne with you.

9 For me thinketh that God hath set forth vs whiche are the last apostles, as it were men appoynted to death. For we are made a gasyng stocke vnto the worlde, and to angels, and to menne.

Psal. 64.d. Rom.8.f. 10 We (are) (c) fooles for Christes sake, but ye (are) wyse in Christe. We (are) weake, but ye (are) strong: Ye (are) honourable, but we (are) despised.

(c) By this bitter taunting, in abiecting him selfe, and exalting the Corinthiās, he maketh them ashamed of their vaine glory.

11 Euen vnto this * tyme we both hunger and thirste, and are naked, and are buffeted, and haue no certayne dwellyng place, * or, houre.

12 And labour, * woorkyng with our owne handes: being reuiled, we blesse: beyng persecuted, we suffer it:

Acts. 20.g 1.Thes.2.c. 2 Thes. 3.b C

13 Beyng defamed, we pray: we are made as the fylthynesse of the worlde, (and are) the offscouring of al thinges vnto this day.

14 I write not these thinges to shame you, but as my beloued sonnes I warne you.

15 For though ye haue tenne thousande instructours in Christe, yet (haue ye) not many fathers: For in Christ Jesus I haue begotten you through the Gospel.

16 Wherefore I desyre you, be ye folowers of me.

17 For this cause haue I sent vnto you Timotheus, which is my beloued sonne, and faythful in the Lorde, who shal put you in remembrance of my wayes whiche be in Christe, as I teache euery where in al Churches.

The.v. Chapter.

1. He reprooueth sharpely their negligence in punishyng hym that had committed incest, 3. wylling them to excommunicate him, 7. to imbrace puritie, 9. and flee wyckednesse.

8 Therefore let vs keepe holy day, not with old leauen, neither with the leauen of malitiousnesse and wickednes: but with the vnleauened (bread) of pureneſſe and trueth.

9 I wrote vnto you in an Epistle, that ye shoulde not company with fornicatours.

10 (I dyd not meane) not at al with ỹ fornicatours of this worlde, or with the couetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters: for then must ye needes haue gone out of the world.

2.Thes.3.b 11 But nowe (this) I wrote vnto you, *not to company togeather, yf any that is called a brother be a fornicatour, or couetous, or a worshipper of idols, or a rayler, or a drunkarde, or an extortioner: with him that is suche, not to eate.

Matth.7.d.

4 If then ye haue iudgemēt of thinges parteynyng to this lyfe, set vp them to iudge whiche are least esteemed in the Churche.

5 I speake it to your shame. Is it so that there is not a wyse man among you? no not one that shalbe able to iudge betweene his brethren?

6 But brother goeth to lawe with brother, and that vnder the vnbeleeuers?

7 Now therefore there is vtterly a * fault among you, because ye goe to lawe one with another: Why rather suffer ye not wrong? why rather suffer ye not harme?

B * or, want.

8 Nay, ye your selues doo wrong, and doo harme, and that to your brethren.

9 Knowe ye not that the vnryghteous shal not inherite the kingdome of God? Be not deceiued: neyther fornicatours, nor idolatours, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of them selues with mankynde, 19 What, knowe ye not that your body is the temple of the holy ghost (whiche is) in you, whom ye haue of God, and ye are not (d) your owne?

(d) To lyue after your owne wyl, but after the wyl of hym that hath bought you.

The. vii. Chapter.

The Apostle answeareth to certayne questions whiche the Corinthians desired to knowe.

A 1 NOw as concernyng the thyngs whereof ye wrote vnto me: It is (a) good for a man not to touche a woman.

2 Neuertheless, to auoyde fornication, let euery man haue his owne wife, and let euery woman haue her owne husbande.

3 Let the husbande geue vnto the wyfe due benevolence: Lykewyse also the wyfe vnto the husbande.

4 The wife hath not the power of her owne body, but the husbande: And lykewyse also the husbande hath not the power of his owne body, but the wyfe.

5 *Defraude you not the one the other, except (it be) with both your consentes for a tyme, that ye may geue your selues to fastyng and prayer: and afterwarde comme togeather agayne, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinencie.

6 This I say * of fauour, and (b) not of commaundement.

7 For I would that al menne were euen as I my selfe: but euery man hath his proper gift of God, one after this manner, another after that.

8 I say therefore to the vnmarryed & wyddowes, it is good for them yf they abyde euen as I:

9 But * if they can not absteyne, let them marrie: for it is better to marrie then to burne.

10 Vnto the married commaunde, not I, but the Lord, *let not the wyfe depart from the husbande:

11 But and if she depart, let her remayne vnmarried, or be reconciled to her husband (agayne:) And let not the husbande put away his wyfe.

12 But to the remnant speake I, not the Lorde, If any brother haue a wyfe that beleeueth not, and she consent to dwel with hym, let hym not put her away.

13 And the woman whiche hath to her husbande an infidel, and he consent to dwel with her, let her not put him away.

14 For the vnbeleeuing husbande is sanctified by the wyfe, and the vnbeleeuyng wife is sanctified by the husband: els were your chyldren vncleane, but nowe are they (c) holy.

15 But yf the vnbeleeuing depart, let hym depart: A brother or a sister is not made subiect in suche (thynges:) but GOD hath called vs in peace.

16 For how knowest thou, O woman, whether thou shalt saue thy husbande? or howe knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt saue thy wyfe?

17 But as GOD hath distributed to euery man, * as the Lorde hath called euery one, so let him walke, and so ordeyne I in al Churches.

18 Is any man called beyng circumcised? let him not adde (vncircumcision:) Is any called in vncircumcisiō? let him not be circumcised.

19 Circumcision is nothing, and vncircumcision is nothyng, but the keepyng of the commaundementes of God.

20 Let euery man abyde in the same calling wherein he was called.

21 *Art thou called a seruant? care not for it: neuertheless, yf thou mayest be made free, vse it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lord (being) a seruant, is the Lordes free man: likewyse also he that is called (being) free, is Chriſtes seruant.

23 Ye are bought with a price, be not ye the seruantes of menne.

24 Brethren, let euery man wherein he is called, therin abyde with (d) God.

25 Nowe concernyng virgins, I haue no commaundement of the Lorde: yet geue I counsel, as one that hath obteyned mercy of the Lorde to be faythful.

26 I suppose therfore that it is good for the present necessitie, that (I say) it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bounde vnto a wyfe? seeke not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wyfe? seeke not a wyfe.

28 But and yf thou marry, thou hast not sinned: and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned: neuertheless, such shal haue trouble in the Esai. 60. b.

32 * I woulde haue you without care. He that is vnmaryed, careth for the thynges that belong to the Lorde, howe he maye please the Lorde:

1. John. 2. c. Matth. 6. d. Luke. 6. c.

33 But he that hath maryed, careth for the thinges that are of the worlde, how he may please his wyfe.

34 There is difference betweene a virgin and a wyfe: The vnmaryed woman careth for the thinges that are of the Lorde, that she may be holy both in body & in spirite: But she that is maryed, careth for the thinges that parteyne to the worlde, howe she may please her husbande.

35 This speake I for your profyte: not that I may cast a snare vpon you, but for comelynesse sake and syttyng fast vnto the Lord without separation.

36 But yf any man thinke that it is vncomely for his virgin yf she passe the time of maryage, (e) and neede so require, let him doo what he wyl, he synneth not: let them be maryed.

(e) That is, that she should marry to auoyde fornication.

37 Neuertheless, he that standeth stedfast in his hart, hauyng no neede, but hath power ouer his owne wyl, and hath so decreed in his hart that he wyl keepe his virgin, doth wel.

38 So then he that geueth in marriage, dooth wel: but he that geueth not in maryage, dooth better.

Rom. 7. a.

The. viii. Chapter.

1. He rebuketh them that vse their libertie to the sclaunder of other, in goyng to the idolatrous sacrifyces.

I. Cor. 10. c.

6 Yet vnto vs is there but one God, (which is) the father, of whom are al thynges, and we in him, and one Lorde Iesus Christe, by whom are al thinges, and we by hym.

7 But there is not in euery man that knowledge: * For some hauyng conscience of the idol vnto this houre, eate as a thing offered vnto idols, and their conscience beyng weake, is defyled.

B I. Cor. 8. g.

8 But meate dooth not commende to God: For neither yf we eate, haue we the more: neyther yf we eate not, haue we the lesse.

9 But take heede lest by any meanes this libertie of yours becomme a stumblyng to them that are weake.

10 For if any man see thee which hast knowledge, syt at meate in the idols temple: shal not the conscience of him whiche is weake, be (b) boldened to eate those things which are offered to idols,

The. ix. Chapter.

1. He exhorteth them by his example to vse their libertie to others edifycation.

1 AM I not an apostle? am I not free? * haue I not seene Iesus Christe our Lorde? Are not ye my worke in the Lorde?

A Actes. 11. a.

2 If I be not an apostle vnto other, yet doubtlesse am I vnto you: For ye (a) seale of myne apostleship are ye in the Lorde.

(a) I neede no further declaration, but the workes that I haue wrought among ou.

3 Myne answeare to them that aske me, is this,

4 Haue we not power to eate and to drynke?

5 Haue we not power to leade about a (b) syster a woman, aswel as other apostles, and as the brethren of ỳ lorde and Cephas?

6 Is the libertie of not labouring * taken from me and Barnabas only?

7 Who goeth a warfare any time at his owne cost? who planteth a vineyarde, and eateth not of the fruite thereof? or who feedeth a flocke, and eateth not of the milke of the flocke?

8 Say I these thinges after the manner of men? or sayth not the lawe the same also?

9 For it is written in the lawe of Moses, Thou shalt not muosel the mouth of the ore that treadeth out the corne. Doth God take care for oxen?

10 Either sayth he it not altogether for our sakes? For our sakes no doubt (this) is written: that he whiche careth, shoulde care in hope: and that he which thresheth in hope, shoulde be partaker of his hope.

11 If we haue sowen vnto you spiritual thinges, is it a great thing yf we shal reape your carnal thinges?

12 If others be partakers of (their) power ouer you, (wherefore are) not we rather? Neuertheless, we haue not vsed this power: but suffer al thinges, lest we should hinder the Gospel of Christe.

13 Doo ye not knowe that they whiche minister about holy thinges, eate of the thynges of the temple? and they whiche wayte at the aulter, are partakers with ỳ aulter?

14 Euen so hath the Lorde ordeyned, * that they whiche preache the Gospel, shoulde liue of the Gospel.

15 But I haue vsed none of these thinges. Neuertheless, I wrote not these thinges, that it shoulde be so donne vnto me: For it were better for me to dye, then that any man shoulde make my * reioycing vaine.

16 For yf I preache the Gospel, I haue nothing to * reioyce of: for necessitie is layd vpon me. But wo is vnto me yf I preache not the Gospel.

17 For if I doo this thing with a good wyl, I haue a rewarde: but yf against my wyl, the (c) dispensation is committed vnto me.

18 What is my rewarde then? Verily that when I preache the Gospel, I may make the Gospel of Christe free, that I misuse not mine authoritie in the Gospel.

19 For though I be free from al menne, yet haue I made mee selfe seruant vnto al men, that I might winne the more.

20 * Vnto the Iewes, I become as a Iewe, that I might winne the Iewes: to them that are vnder the lawe, as vnder the lawe, that I might winne them that are vnder the lawe:

21 To them that are without lawe, as without lawe, (when I was not without lawe as parteynyng to the law of God, but was in the lawe of Christ) that I might winne them that are without lawe.

22 To the weake became I as weake, that I might winne the weake: I am made * al thinges to al menne, that I myght by al meanes saue some. 1. Cor. 10. d

23 And this I doo for the Gospels sake, that I might be partaker thereof.

24 Knowe ye not, that they whiche runne in a race, runne al, but one receiueth the rewarde? So runne, that ye may obteyne. The Epistle on Septuagesima sunday.

26 I therefore so runne, not as at an vncertayne thing: so fyght I, not as one that beateth the ayre: 1. Pet. 5. b.

27 But I tame my (d) body, and bring it into subiectiō: lest by any meanes that when I haue preached to other, I mee selfe shoulde be a cast away.

(d) Lest he shoulde be reproued of men when they shoulde see him doo contrary, or contemne that thyng whiche he taught other to doo.

The .x. Chapter.

1. He feareth them with the examples of the Iewes, that they put not their trust carnally in the graces of God, 14. Exhorting them to flee al idolatrie, 23. and offence of their neyghbour.

1 BRethren, I woulde not that ye shoulde be ignorant, howe that al our fathers were vnder the cloude, and al passed through the sea:

5 But in many of them had god no delight: for they were ouerthrowen in the wyldernesse.

17 This I warne you of, and commende not that ye come togeather for the better, but for the woorse.

18 For firste of al, when ye come togeather in the Churche, I heare that there be dissentions among you, & I partly beleeue it.

Mat.18.a. 19 For * there must be also heresies among you, that they whiche are " approoued among you, myght be knowen.

* or, tryed.

20 When ye come togeather therefore into one place, " you can not eate the Lordes supper:

" or, this is not to eate.

21 For euery one preuenteth other, in eating his owne supper: and one is hungry, and another is dronken.

22 What, haue ye not houses to eate and to drinke in? Or despise ye the Churche of God, and shame them that haue not? What shal I say vnto you, shal I prayse you? in this I prayse you not.

23 That whiche I deliuered vnto you, I receiued of the Lorde, that the Lord Iesus the same night in the which he was betrayed, tooke bread:

24 And when he had geuen thankes, he brake (n) and sayde, * Take ye, eate ye, this is my body whiche is broken for you: this doo ye in the remembrance of me.

Mat. 26.e. Mar. 14.b. Luk. 22.b.

25 After the same maner also (he tooke) the cup when he had supped, saying, This cup is the newe Testament in my blood: this do ye as oft as ye drinke it, in remembrance of me.

1. Pet. 2.b. Actes. 1.b.

26 For as often as ye eate this bread, and drynke this cup, ye doo shewe the Lordes death * til he come.

(b) By peruerting the true & pure vse of the same.

27 Wherefore, whosoeuer shal eate this bread, and drinke this cup of the Lorde (b) vnworthyly, shalbe guilty of the body and blood of the Lorde.

2. Cor. 12. b Eccle. 28. c.

28 But let a man examine him selfe, and so let him eate of this bread, & drynke of this cup:

(c) But as though these holy mysteries of the Lordes body and blood were cómon meates, so without reuerence he commeth vnto them.

29 For he that eateth and drinketh vnworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation vnto him (c) selfe, making no difference of the Lordes body.

* or, pounished.

30 For this cause many are weake and sicke among you, and many sleepe.

" or, pounished.

31 For yf we woulde iudge our selues, we shoulde not be " iudged.

" or, instructed.

32 But when we are " iudged, we are * chastened of the Lorde, that we shoulde not be damned with the * worlde.

1. Ioh. 2.c.

33 Wherefore my brethren, when ye comme togeather to eate, tarry ones for another.

34 If any man hunger, let him eate at home, that ye comme not togeather vnto condemnation. The rest wyl I set in order when I come.

The .xii. Chapter.

1. The diuersitie of the gyftes of the holy ghoste, ought to be vsed to the edifiyng of Christes Churche, 12. as the members of mans body serue to the vse one of another.

1 CConcerning spiritual (gyftes) brethrē, I woulde not haue you ignorant.

The Epistle on the .iiij. sunday after trinitie.

2 Ye know that ye were Gentiles, caryed away vnto dumbe idolles, euen as ye were (a) ledde.

(a) By Satans suggestion.

3 Wherefore I declare vnto you, that * no man speaking by the spirit of God, " defieth Iesus: also no man can say " that Iesus is the Lorde, but by the holy ghost.

Marke. 9.f. " or, calleth Iesus accursed.

4 There are diuersities of gyftes, but it is the selfe same spirite.

B Ephes. 4. b.

8 For to one is geuen by the spirite the woorde of wysedome, to another the woord of knowledge by the same spirite:

9 To another (is geuen) fayth by the same spirite: to another the gyftes of healing by the same spirite:

10 To another power to (doo) miracles, to another (b) prophecie, to another discerning of spirites, to another diuers kindes of tongues, to another the interpretation of tongues.

11 But these al woorketh euen that one and the self same spirite, diuiding to euery man seuerally euen as he wyl.

12 * For as the body is one, and hath many members, and al the members of that one body being many, are one body: euen so is Christe also.

Roma. 12. a. Ephes. 4. b.

13 For by ons spirite are we al baptised into one body, whether (we be) Iewes or Gentiles, whether (we be) bonde or free: and haue al * dronke of one spirite.

Esai. 55. a. C

14 For ỹ body is not one member, but many.

15 If the foote doo say, Because I am not the hande, I am not of the body: is it therfore not of the body?

16 And if the eare do say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body: is it therfore not of the body?

17 If al the body (were) an eye, where were then the hearing? If al (were) hearing, where where were the smelling?

18 But nowe hath GOD set the members, euery one of them seueral in the body, as it hath pleased him.
19 If they were al one member, where were the body?
20 Nowe are there many members, yet but one body.
D 21 And the eye can not say vnto the hande, I haue no neede of thee: nor agayne, the head to the feete, I haue no neede of you.
22 Yea rather a great deale those members of the body which seeme to be more (c) feeble, are necessary:
(c) Whose vse semeth to be more vile.
23 And vpon those (members) of the body whiche we thinke to be lesse honourable, we owe (d) more honour: and our vncomely (partes) haue more comelynesse.
(d) We are more careful to couer the.
24 For our comely (members) neede it not: But GOD hath tempered the body together: hauing geuen the more honour to that (part) whiche lacked:
25 That there shoulde be no strife in the body: but that the members shoulde haue the same care one for another.
26 And if one member suffer, al the members suffer with it. If one member be honoured, al the members reioyce with it.
27 Ye are the body of Christ, and members (e) in part.
(e) That is, euery one is a member of the bodie of Christe for his part. Mat. 10. a. Luke. 11. a. Ephes. 4. c.

The. xiii. Chapter.

1. Because loue is the fountayne and rule of edifiyng the Churche, he setteth foorth the nature, office, and prayse thereof.

A 1 THough I speake with the tongues of men, and of (a) angels, and haue not charitie, I am (as) sounding brasse, or (as) a tynckling Cymbale.
The Epistle on quinquagesima Sunday.
(a) If ỹ angels had tongues, & I had the vse therof, and dyd not bestow thē to profite my neighbour, it were nothyng but vayne babbling. Luke. 17. a.
2 And though I haue prophecie, and vnderstande al secretes, and al knowledge: Yea, yf I haue al fayth, * so that I can remoone mountaynes, and haue not charitie, I am nothyng.
3 And though I bestowe al my goodes to feede the poore, and though I geue my body that I shoulde be burned, and haue not charitie, it profiteth me nothing.
4 Charitie suffereth long, and is curteous: Charitie enuieth not, charitie doth not frowardly, * swelleth not,
* or, is not puft vp. 1. Cor. 10. c. Philip. 2. a.
5 Dealeth not dishonestly, * seeketh not her owne, is not bitter, thinketh not euyl,
6 Reioyceth not in iniquitie, but reioyceth in the trueth:
7 Suffereth al things, beleeueth al things, B hopeth al thinges, endureth al thynges.
8 Though that prophesiynges fayle, either tongues ceasse, or knowledge vanish away, (yet) charitie falleth neuer away.
9 For our knowledge is * vnperfect, and our prophesiyng is vnperfect:
* or, in part
10 But when that which is perfect is come, then that whiche is vnperfect shalbe done away.
11 When I was a childe, I spake as a child, I vnderstoode as a childe, I imagined as a childe: but assoone as I was a man, I put away childishnesse.
12 Nowe we see in a (b) glasse, euen in a darke speaking: but then (shal we see) face to face. Nowe I knowe vnperfectly: but then shal I knowe, euen as I am knowen.
(b) The mysteries of God.
13 Now abydeth fayth, hope, and charitie, these three, but ỹ cheefe of these is charitie.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

1. He exhorteth to charitie, commendeth the gift of tongues, and other spiritual gyftes. 5. But cheefely prophesiyng.

1 FOlowe after charitie, and couet spiri- A tual (gyftes:) but moste cheefely that ye may prophesie.
2 For he that speaketh with (an vnknowen) tongue, speaketh not vnto men, but vnto GOD: For no man (a) heareth (hym:) Howbeit, in the spirite he speaketh mysteries.
(a) Vnderstandeth him
3 But he that prophesieth, speaketh vnto men to edifiyng, and exhortation, and comfort.
4 He that speaketh with (an vnknowen) tongue, edifieth him selfe: * but he that prophesieth, edifieth the Churche.
Rom. 12. b. Num. 11. g.
5 I would that ye al spake with (b) tonges, but rather that ye prophesied: For greater is he that prophesieth, then he that speaketh with tongues, except he expounde it, that the Churche may receiue edifiyng.
(b) Tongue in this place & such lyke, signifieth not the instrument that we speake with, but proprietie of some language that the hearer vnderstandeth not without an interpreter.
6 Nowe brethren, if I come vnto you speaking with tongues, what shal I profit you, except I shal speake to you, eyther by reuelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesiyng, or by doctrine?
7 And euen thinges without lyfe geuyng sound, whether (it be) a pipe, or an harpe, except they geue a distinction in the soundes,

howe

howe shal it be knowen what is pyped or harped?

8 For yf the Trumpe geue an vncertayne sound, who shalbe prepared to the warre?

9 So likewise you, except ye vtter woordes by the tongue easie to be vnderstoode, howe shal it be knowen what is spoken? For ye shal speake into the (b) ayre.

(b) Your wordes shal be lost, & ye shal glorifie God the holy, nor profite man.

10 There are happily so many kyndes of voyces in the worlde, and none (of them) are without signification.

11 Therfore if I knowe not the meaning of the voyce, I shalbe vnto him that speaketh an aliant, and he that speaketh shalbe an aliant vnto me.

12 Euen so ye, forasmuch as ye conet spiritual (gyftes) seeke that ye may excel, vnto the edifiyng of the Churche.

13 Wherefore, let him that speaketh with tongue, pray that he may interprete.

℣ 14 For yf I pray with (an vnknowen) tongue, my spirite prayeth, but my vnderstandyng is vnfruiteful.

15 What is it then? I wyl pray with the spirite, and wil pray with the vnderstanding also: I wil (c) sing with the spirite, and wil sing with the vnderstanding also.

(c) Or, geue thankes by singing.

16 For when thou shalt blesse with the spirite, howe shal he that * occupieth the roome of the vnlearned say Amen at thy geuing of thankes, seeing he vnderstandeth not what thou sayest?

* or, filleth.

17 Thou verily geuest thankes wel, but the other is not edified.

18 I thanke my God, I speake with tongues more then ye al.

19 Yet had I rather in the Church to speake fiue woordes with my vnderstanding, that by my voyce I may teache other also, then tenne thousande woordes in (an vnknowen) tongue.

20 Brethren, be not children in vnderstandyng: howbeit, as concerning noughtinesse be ye children, but in vnderstanding be perfect.

D 21 In the lawe it is written, *With (men of) sundry tongues and sundry lippes, wyl I speake vnto this people: and yet for al that wyl they not heare me, sayth the Lorde.

Esai. 28. c.

22 Wherefore tongues are for a signe, not to them that beleeue, but to them that beleeue not: But prophesiyng (serueth) not for them that beleeue not, but for them whiche beleeue.

23 If therefore al the Churche be come together into one place, and al speake with tongues, and there come in they that are vnlearned, or they whiche beleeue not, wil they not say that ye are madde?

24 But if al prophecie, and there come in one that beleeueth not, or one vnlearned: he is rebuked of al men, he is iudged of al men.

25 And so are the secretes of his hart made manifest, and so hauing fallen downe on his face, he wil worship God, saying that God is in you of a trueth.

26 Howe is it then brethren? When ye come together, euery one of you hath a psalme, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a reuelation, hath an interpretation: Let al thinges be done vnto edifiyng.

27 If any man speake with tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course, and let one interprete.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let hym keepe scilence in the Churche, and let hym speake to him selfe, and to God. ℣

29 Let the prophetes speake two or three, and * let the other iudge. 1. Iohn. 4. a 30 If any reuelation be made to another that sitteth by, let the first holde his peace.

31 For ye may al prophecie one by one, that al may learne, and al may be comforted.

32 And the (d) spirites of the prophetes are subiect to the prophetes.

(d) That is, the doctrine that they do bring, as being put in mind by the spirite of God.

33 For God is not (the auchour) of confusion, but of * peace, as in al Churches of the saintes. Rom. 15. g.

34 * Let your women keepe scilence in the Churches: for it is not permitted vnto them to speake, but (they are commaunded) to be vnder obedience, as also saith ỳ lawe. 1. Tim. 2. a. Gene. 3. c.

35 If they wil learne any thing, let them aske their husbandes at home: For it is a shame for women to speake in the Churche. 1. Cor. 11. a 36 Sprong the woorde of God from you? eyther came it vnto you only?

37 If any man thinke him selfe to be a prophete, either spirituał, let hym knowe that the thinges that I wryte vnto you, are the commaundementes of the Lorde.

38 But yf any man be ignorant, let hym be ignorant.

39 Wherfore brethren, couet to prophecie, and forbyd not to speake with tongues.

40 Let al thinges be done honestly, and in order.

The. xv. Chapter.

1. He prooueth the resurrection of the dead, 3. and first that Christe is risen.

A 1 MOreouer, brethren, I declare vnto you, that the Gospel which I preached vnto you, whiche also ye haue receiued, and wherein ye haue * continued,

3 For I delyuered vnto you fyrſt of al, that whiche alſo I (a) receyued, howe that * Chriſt dyed for our ſinnes, according to the ſcriptures:

(a) He sheweth that nothing ought to be taught, whiche we haue not learned by Gods word. Mat 28.b. John.20.a. Luke.24.b.

4 *And that he was buryed, and that he aroſe the thirde day according to the ſcriptures:

5 And that he was ſeene of * Cephas, then of the twelue:

6 After that he was ſeene of moe then fiue hundred brethren at once: of whiche, the more part remaine vnto this day, and ſome are fallen a ſleepe.

B 7 After that he was ſeene of Iames, then of al the Apoſtles.

8 And laſt of al he was ſeene of me, as of one borne out of due tyme.

9 For I am the leaſt of the Apoſtles, which am not worthy to be called an Apoſtle, becauſe * I perſecuted the Churche of God.

Actes.7.a. Galat.1.c.

10 But by the grace of God, I am that I am: & his grace whiche is in me, was not vayne: but I laboured more abundantlye then they al, yet not I, but the grace of God whiche is with me.

11 Therefore, whether it were I or they, ſo we preache, and ſo haue ye beleeued.

12 If Chriſte be preached how that he roſe from the dead: howe ſay ſome among you, that there is no reſurrection of the dead?

13 If there be no ryſing of the dead, then is Chriſte not ryſen.

C 14 If Chriſte be not ryſen, then is our preaching vaine, & your fayth is alſo (b) vaine.

(b) For yf Chriſte be ſwalowed vp of death, there remaineth no hope of lyfe any more.

15 Yea, and we are found falſe witneſſes of God, becauſe we haue teſtified of God, howe that he rayſed vp Chriſte: whom he raiſed not vp, if ſo be that the dead riſe not.

16 For if the dead riſe not, then is not Chriſt riſen.

17 If ſo be that Chriſte is not riſen, then is your fayth vayne, ye are yet in your ſinnes.

18 But alſo they whiche are fallen a ſleepe in Chriſte, are periſhed.

19 If in this lyfe onely we haue hope in Chriſt, then are we of al menne moſt miſerable.

20 But now is Chriſt riſen from the dead, he is become * the (c) firſte fruites of them that ſleapt.

30 And why ſtande we in iopardie euery houre?

31 (I proteſt) by our reioycing which I haue in Chriſte Ieſus our Lord, I dye dayly.

32 If I haue fought with beaſtes at Epheſus after the (e) maner of men, what auantageth it me, if the dead riſe not? * Let vs eate and drynke, for to morowe we dye.

33 Be ye not deceiued: Euyl woordes corrupt good maners.

34 Awake to righteouſneſſe, and ſinne not: for ſome haue not the knowledge of God, I ſpeake this to your ſhame.

35 But ſome man wyl ſay, Howe are the dead rayſed vp? With what body doo they come?

37 And that whiche thou ſoweſt, thou ſoweſt not that body that ſhalbe, but bare corne, it may chaunce of wheat, or of ſome other (corne.)

40 There are alſo celeſtial bodyes, & bodyes terreſtrial: But the glory of the celeſtial is one, & (the glory) of the terreſtrial another.

41 There is one glory of the (f) Sunne, and another glory of the Moone, and another glory of the ſtarres: For (one) ſtarre differeth from (another) ſtarre in glory.

(f) Euen as the Sunne & the Moone being of one ſubſtance, differ in dignitie: ſo in the reſurrection, our bodyes ſhal haue more excellēt qualities then they haue nowe.

42 So is the reſurrection of ỹ dead, it is ſowen in corruption, it riſeth in incorruptiō.

43 It is ſowen in (g) diſhonour, it riſeth in honour. It is ſowen in weakeneſſe, it riſeth in power.

48 As is the earthy, suche (are) they that are earthy: And as is the heauenly, suche (are) they also that are heauenly.

49 And as we haue borne the image of the earthy, we shal also beare the image of the heauenly.

50 This say I brethren, that flesche & blood can not inherite the kingdome of God: neyther doth corruption inherite incorruptiō.

53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal (man) put on immortalitie.

54 When this corruptible shal haue put on incorruption, and this mortal shal haue put on immortalitie, thē shalbe brought to passe the sayeing that is wrytten, * Death is swalowed vp in victorie.

55 * O death, where is thy styng? O * hel where is thy victorie?

56 The styng of death (is) sinne, and the (h) strength of sinne is the lawe.

57 * But thankes be vnto God, whiche geueth vs the victorie through our Lorde Iesus Christe.

58 Therefore my beloued brethren, be ye stedfaste, vnmoueable, alwayes abunding in the woorke of the Lorde, for as much as ye knowe that your labour is not in (i) vayne in the Lorde.

(b) That is, the first whiche imbraced the Gospel

(c) The greefe that I tooke for your absence, was greatly assuaged by theyr presence.

* A woorde wer with the accursed or vyle person in the extremest degree is signified.

¶ The first Epistle to the Corinthians, was wrytten from Philippos by Stephana, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus, and Timotheus.

The seconde Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians.

The first Chapter.

4. He declareth the great profite that commeth to the faythful by theyr afflictions.

A 1 PAul an Apostle of Jesu Christ, by the wil of God, and brother Timotheus, vnto the Church of God, whiche is at Corinthus, with al the Saintes whiche are in al Achaia:

2 Grace (be) with you, and peace from God the father, and from the Lorde Jesus Christe.

Rom.1.a. 1.Cor.1.a. Gala.1.a. Ephes.1.a. 1.Pet.1.a. 3 *Blessed be God the father of our Lorde Jesus Christ, (whiche is) the father of mercies, and the God of al comfort:

4 Whiche comforteth vs in al our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them whiche are in al manner trouble, with the comfort wherewith we our selues are comforted of God.

Colos.1.c. 5 For as the* (a) afflictions of Christ are plenteous in vs: euen so is our consolation plenteous by Christe.

(a) Whiche I suffer for Christe, or which Christ suffereth in me.

6 Whether we be troubled, (it is) for your consolation and saluation, whiche (saluation) is wrought by the suffering of the same afflictions whiche we also suffer: or whether we be comforted (it is) for your consolation, and saluation, and our hope of you is stedfast:

B 7 Knowing that as ye are partakers of the afflictions, so (ye shalbe partakers) also of the consolation.

8 For we would not, brethren, haue you ignorant of our trouble which came vnto vs

Actes.19.f. in* Asia: that we were greeued out of measure, passing strength, in so muche that we were in great doubt, euen of lyfe.

9 But we receiued the sentence of death in our selues, that we should not put our trust

1.Reg.2.d. Deut.8.d. in our selues, *but in God, whiche rayseth the dead:

10 Who deliuered vs from so great a death, and doth deliuer: in whom we truste that hereafter also he wil deliuer (vs:)

11 You also helping together by prayer for vs, that for the benefites (bestowed) vpon vs by the meanes of many persons, thanks

2.Cor.4.c. may be geuen of many* on our behalfe.

12 For our reioycing is this, the testimonie of our conscience, that in simplicitie and godly pureneſſe, not with fleshly wisdome, (b) but by the grace of God, we haue had our conuersation in the worlde, and moste of al to youwardes.

(b) Vsing that wisedome whiche God gaue me frō heauen.

13 For we wryte none other thynges vnto you then that ye reade, or also that ye acknowledge: and I trust ye shal acknowledge vnto the ende.

14 Euen as ye haue acknowledged vs partly, that we *are your reioycing, euen as ye are (c) ours, in the (d) day of the lord Jesus. C

1.Thes.2.c.

(c) Because we haue wonne you to Christ.

15 *And in this confidence was I minded first to haue come vnto you, that ye might haue had * one pleasure more:

1.Cor.16.a.

(d) Whiche shal abolish al worldly glory.

16 And to passe by you into Macedonia, and to come agayne out of Macedonia vnto you, and to be led forth of you into Iurie.

* or, the seconde benefite.

17 When I therfore was thus minded, did I vse lightnesse? or minde I (e) carnally those thinges whiche I mynde, that with me shoulde be yea yea, and nay nay?

(e) Nowe to affirme one thing, and then to denie it, which is a signe of inconstancie

18 Yea (f) God is faythful, for our preaching to you, was not yea and nay.

(f) He taketh God to witnesse, that he preacheth the trueth.

19 For Gods sonne Jesus Christ, which was preached among you by vs, euen by me, and Syluanus, and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but in him it was yea, 20 (For al the promises of God in hym are yea, and are in hym Amen,) vnto the glory of God through vs.

21 And he whiche stablisheth vs with you in Christe, and hath annoynted vs (is) God:

22 Whiche hath also sealed vs, and* hath geuen the earnest of the spirite in our hartes.

Rom.8.a. Ephes.4.c.

23 I cal God for a recorde vnto my soule, that to spare you, I came not as yet vnto Corinthus.

24 *Not that we be Lordes ouer your faith, but are helpers of your ioy: for by fayth ye stande.

1.Pet.5.a.

The.ii. Chapter.

14. Paul reioyceth in God for the efficacie of his doctrine.

1 BVt I determined this in mee selfe, A that I woulde not come agayne to you in heauinesse.

2 For yf I make you sory, who is he that maketh me glad, but the same whiche is made (a) sory by me?

(a) Whiche was geuen to Satan, but nowe doth repent.

3 And I wrote this same vnto you, lest when I came, I shoulde take heauinesse of of them of whom I ought to reioyce, hauing confidence in you al, that my ioy, is (the ioy) of you al.

4 For in great affliction and anguishe of hart, I wrote vnto you with many teares: not that ye shoulde be made sory, but that ye might perceiue the loue whiche I haue most abundantly vnto you.

5 But yf any man hath caused sorowe, the same hath not made me sory, but partly, lest I shoulde ouergreeue you al.

1.Co.5.b. 6 * It is sufficient vnto the same man that he was rebuked of many.

B 7 So that nowe contrariwise ye ought rather to forgeue him, and comfort him, lest that same (person) shoulde be swalowed vp with ouermuche heauinesse.

8 Wherefore, I pray you that you woulde confirme your loue towardes him.

9 For to this ende also did I write, that I might knowe the proofe of you, whether ye be obedient in al thinges.

10 To whom ye forgeue any thing, I (forgeue) also: For if I forgaue any thing, to whom I forgaue it, for your sakes (forgaue I it) in the (b) sight of Christe,

(b) That is, truely and from mine hart, euen as in the presence of Christe, 11 Lest we shoulde be circumuented of Satan: for we are not ignorant of his deuises.

12 Furthermore, when I came to Troada, to (preache) Christes Gospel, and a doore was opened vnto me of the Lorde, 13 I had no reast in my spirite, because I founde not Titus my brother, but when I had taken my leaue of them, I went away into Macedonia.

C 14 Nowe thankes be vnto God, whiche alwayes causeth vs to triumph (c) in Christ, and openeth the sauour of his knowledge by vs in euery place.

(c) In woorking mightily by vs, he maketh vs partakers of his victorie & triumph.

15 For we are vnto God the sweete sauour of Christe in them that are saued, and in them whiche perishe.

Luke.2.c. 16 * To the one (are we) the sauour of death, vnto death: and vnto the other, the sauour of lyfe, vnto lyfe: And who is meete vnto these thinges?

17 For we are not as many are, whiche chop and change with the woorde of God: but as of pureneſſe, but as of God in the syght of God, speake we * in Christe.

* or, of Christe.

The .iii. Chapter.

6. Paul exalteth his apostleship agaynst the braggers of the false apostles.

A 1 DO we begin to commende our selues agayne? Or neede we, as some (other) Epistles of commendation vnto you? or (letters) of commendation from you?

2 Ye are our Epistle written in our hartes, * vnderstoode and read of al men:

* or, known.

3 Forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared that ye are the Epistle of Christ ministred by vs, written not with ynke, but with the spirite of the liuing God, * not in stonie tables, * but in fleashie tables of the hart.

Exod. 24.d Deut. 5.d. Ierc. 31.a.

4 Suche trust haue we through Christe to Godwarde.

5 Not that we are sufficient of our selues to thinke any thing, as of our selues: * but our sufficiencie (is) of God:

The Epistle on the .xii. Sunday after Trinitie. Phil. 2.b. 1.Co.4.b.

6 Whiche hath made vs able * ministers of the newe testament, not of the letter, but of the spirite: For the letter killeth, but the (a) spirite geueth lyfe.

(a) Meaning the spiritual doctrine whiche is in our hartes, (b) After that god had spoeken with him, & geuen him the lawe.

7 But if the ministration of death in letters figured in stones, was with glory, so that the children of Israel coulde not stedfastly beholde the face of Moses, for (b) the glorie of the countenance, whiche (glory) is done away:

Exod. 24.d

8 Howe shal not the ministration of the spirite be muche more in glory?

9 For if the ministration of condemnation be glory: muche more doth the ministration of ryghteousnesse exceede in glory.

10 For euen that whiche was glorified, was not glorified in this behalfe, because of the exceeding glory.

(c) Moses shewed the lawe as it was couered with shadowes, so that the Iewes eyes were not lightned, but blinded, and so could not come to Christ who was the end thereof. Agayne, the Gospel setteth foorth the glory of god clearely, not couering our eyes, but driuing the darkenesse away from them.

11 For yf that which is put away was glorious: muche more that whiche remayneth, is glorious.

12 Seeing then that we haue suche hope, we vse great boldenesse of speache:

13 And not as Moses, which * put a (c) vale ouer his face, that the children of Israel shoulde not stedfastly looke into the ende of that whiche is abolished.

* or, hardened.

14 But their mindes were * blynded: for vntil this day remayneth the same vale vntaken away in the readyng of the olde testament, whiche (vale) is put away in Christe.

John.4.c.

15 But euen vnto this day when Moses is read, the vale is layde vpon their hart.

16 Neuertheleſſe, when it shal turne to the Lorde, the vale shalbe taken away.

17 * The Lorde is the spirite: and where the spirite of the Lord (is) there (c) libertie.

(d) In Christ who is God manifest in the flesshe, we see God the father as in a most cleare glasse.

18 But we al beholding (as) in a (d) myrrour the glory of the Lorde, with his face open, are changed vnto the same image from glory to glory, euen as of the spirite of the Lorde.

The .iiii. Chapter.

1. He declareth his diligence and roundenesse in his office, 17. shewyng what profite commeth thereby.

1 Therefore

A The Epistle on saint Matthewe the Apostle.

1 THerefore, seeyng that we haue suche a ministerie, as we haue receiued mercy, we faynt not:

2 But haue cast from vs the clokes of vnhonestie, walkyng not in craftinesse, neyther handling the woorde of GOD deceitfully, but in openyng of the trueth, cõmendyng our selues to euery mans conscience, in the sight of God.

3 If our Gospel be hidde, it is hid in them that are lost:

4 In whom the (a) *GOD of this worlde *hath blynded the myndes of them whiche beleeue not, lest the lyght of the Gospel of the glory of Christ should shyne vnto them, (whiche is the image of God.)

5 For we preache not our selues, but Christ Iesus the Lorde, and our selues your seruantes for Iesus sake.

6 For it is GOD that *commaunded the lyght to shyne out of darknesse, who hath *shyned in our hartes, for (to geue) the light of the knowledge of the glory of God, in the face of Iesus Christe.

B 7 But we haue this treasure in *earthen vessels, that the excellencie of the power may be Gods, and not of vs.

8 We are troubled on euery side, yet are we not *without shyft: We are in pouertie, but not in extreme powertie.

9 We are persecuted, but are not forsaken therein: we are cast downe, but we perysh not:

10 We alwayes *beare about in the bodye the dyeing of the Lorde Iesus, that the lyfe of Iesus myght also be made manifest in our body.

11 *For we whiche lyue, are alwayes deliuered vnto death for Iesus sake, that the lyfe also of Iesus might be made manyfest in our mortal fleashe.

12 So then, death woorketh in vs, but lyfe in you.

13 Seyng then that we haue the same spirit of fayth, (accordyng as it is written, *I beleeued, and therefore haue I spoken) We also beleeue, and therefore speake:

C 14 Knowing that he, whiche raysed vp the Lorde Iesus, shal rayse vp vs also by the meanes of Iesus, and shal set vs with you.

15 For al thinges * (do I) for your (sakes,) * that the plenteous grace by thankesgeuyng of many, may redounde to the prayse of God.

16 Wherefore we are not weeryed: but though our outwarde man perysshe, yet the inwarde man is renued day by day.

17 *For the momentanie (b) lyghtnesse of our tribulation, prepareth an exceedyng, and an eternal wayght of glory vnto vs:

18 Whyle we looke not on the thinges whiche are seene, but on the thynges which are not seene: For the thinges which are seene, are temporal: but the thinges whiche are not seene, are eternal.

The. v. Chapter.

1. Paul proceedeth to declare the vtilitie that commeth by the crosse.

1 FOR we knowe that if our earthly (a) house of this tabernacle were destroied, we haue a buyldyng of God, (euen) an habitation not made with hands, but eternal in heauen.

2 For *therefore sigh we, desyryng (vpon our clothyng) to be further clothed with our house whiche is from heauen:

3 If so be that we beyng clothed, shal not be founde naked.

4 For we that are in this *tabernacle, sigh being burdened, because we would not put of our clothyng, but vpon the same put on more, that mortalitie myght be swalowed vp of lyfe.

5 He that hath ordeyned vs for the self same thyng, (c) God, *whiche hath also geuen vnto vs the earnest of the spirite.

6 Therefore we are alway of good cheare, and knowe that as long as we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lorde.

7 (For we walke by faith, not after outwarde appearance.)

8 Neuertheleese, we are of good comfort, and had rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lorde.

9 Wherefore, whether we be at home, or from home, we endeuour our selues to be accepted vnto him.

10 *For we must al appeare before the iudgement seate of Christe, that euery man may receiue the woorkes of his body, according to that he hath donne, whether it be good or bad.

11 Knowing therfore the feare of the Lord, we perswade men, for we are (b) knowen wel ynough vnto God: I trust also that we are knowen in your consciences.

12 For we commend not our selues agayne vnto you, but geue you an occasion to glory on our behalfe, that ye may haue somewhat agaynst them whiche glory in the face, and not in the hart.

13 For (c) yf we be to feruent, to God are we (to feruent:) Or if we keepe measure, for your cause (keepe we measure.)

14 For the loue of Christe constrayneth vs, because we thus iudge, that if one dyed for al, then were al dead.

15 And *he dyed for al, that they which liue,

An exhortation to Christian lyfe.

A 1 WE also as helpers (to him) exhort you, that ye receiue not the grace of God in vayne,

The Epistle on the first Sunday in Lent.

2 (For he saith, *I haue heard thee in a tyme accepted, and in the day of saluation haue I succoured thee: Beholde, nowe is that (a) accepted tyme, beholde, now is that day of saluation,)

(a) To wit, Gods free mercy, wherin he hath poured forth his infinite loue.

3 Geuyng no offence in any thing, that the ministerie be not blamed:

4 But in al thinges behauing our selues *as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in anguishes,

5 In stripes, in prisonmentes, in stryfes, in labours, in watchinges, in fastynges,

6 By pureness, by knowledge, by long suffering, by kyndnesse, by the holy ghost, by loue vnfayned:

B 7 By the worde of trueth, by the power of God, by the armour of ryghteousnes, of the ryght hande and on the left,

8 By honour and dishonour, by euyl report and good report, as deceiuers, & (yet) true,

9 As vnknowen, and (yet) knowen: as dyeing, and beholde we lyue: as chastened, and not killed:

10 As sorowyng, and yet alway merie: as poore, & yet making many riche: as hauyng nothyng, and yet possessing al thinges.

(b) Signifiyng his most vehement affection.

11 O ye Corinthians, our (b) mouth is open vnto you, our hart is enlarged.

12 Ye are not prested into a narrowe roome in vs, but are prested into a narrowe roome in your owne bowels.

13 Now for the same recompence, (I speake as vnto (my) chyldren) be ye also (c) enlarged.

(c) Shewe like affection towardes me

14 And* * beare not ye the yoke togeather with the vnbeleeuers. For what felowshyp hath righteousnesse with vnrighteousnesse? or what communion hath lyght with darknesse?

The.vii.Chapter.

1. He exhorteth them by the promyse of God to keepe them selues pure.

A 1 HAuyng therfore these promises (dearely beloued) let vs clense our selues frō al filthinesse of the flesh and (a) spirite, perfiting holynesse in the feare of God.

(a) That is, of body and soule.

2 * Receiue (b) vs: we haue wronged no man, we haue corrupted no man, we haue defrauded no man.

* or, vnderstande.
(b) To preach the Gospel vnto you.

3 I speake not this to condemne (you:) for I haue shewed you before, that ye are in our hartes to dye and lyue with you.

4 I vse great boldnesse of speach towardes you, I glory greatly in you: I am filled with comfort, and am exceedyng ioyous in al our tribulation.

5 For when we were comme into Macedonia, our *flesshe had no rest, but we were troubled on euery side: without were fightynges, within were feares.

Acte.16.c

6 Neuertheles, *God that comforteth the humble, comforted vs by the comming of Titus.

2.Cor.1.a

7 And not by his commyng only, but also by the consolation whiche he receiued of you, when he told vs your vehement desire, your weepyng, your feruent mynd toward me: so that I reioyced the more.

B

8 For though I made you sory with a letter, I repent not, though I did repent: For

I

I perceiue that the same epistle made you sory, though it were but for a season.

9 I nowe reioyce: not that ye were made sory, but that ye were made sory to repentance: For ye were made sory to godward, that in nothing ye might be hurt by vs.

10 For godly sorowe, causeth repentance vnto saluation, not to be repented of: but the sorowe of the * worlde causeth death.

Eccle.30.c.

11 For beholde this selfe same thing that ye were made sory to Godwarde, howe much carefulnesse it hath wrought in you: yea (what) (c) clearing of your selues, yea (what) indignation, yea (what) feare, yea (what) vehement desyre, yea (what) zeale, yea (what) reuenging: for in al thinges ye haue shewed your selues that ye were cleare in that matter.

(c) In asking God forgeuenesse.

12 Wherefore, though I wrote vnto you, (I dyd it) not for his cause that had done the hurt, neither for his cause that was hurt: * but that your good minde to vswarde, myght appeare among you in the syght of God.

* or, but that our care toward you in the syght of God, might appeare vnto you. So hath Coster Complutensis, Ambrosius, and Theophilactus, and so readeth the olde translation, and the translation of Stephanus.

13 Therefore we are comforted in your comfort: yea and exceedingly the more ioyed we for the ioy of Titus, because his spirite was refreshed by you al.

14 But yf I haue boasted any thing vnto him of you, I haue not ben shamed (therein) for as we spake al thinges vnto you in trueth, euen so our boasting which I made vnto Titus is founde a trueth.

15 And his * inwarde affection is more abundant towarde you, whyle he remembreth the obedience of you al, howe with feare and trembling ye receiued him.

* or, his bowels are.

16 I reioyce that I haue confydence in you in al thinges.

The.viii.Chapter.

1. By the exampie of the Macedonians, 9. and Christe, he exhorteth them to continue in releeuing the poore saintes, commending their good begynnyng.

A 1 MOreouer, we doo you to wit brethrē, of the grace of God, whiche was geuen in the Churches of Macedonia.

2 Howe that in muche trial of affliction their ioy abounded, and their deepe powertie abounded into the riches of their liberalitie.

3 For to their powers (I beare them recorde) yea and beyonde their powers, they (were) wylling of them selues:

4 Prayeing vs with great instance, that we would receiue this (a) grace and societie of the ministerie whiche is towarde the saintes.

(a) Grace here signifyeth beneuolence or almes.

5 (And this they dyd) not as we looked for: but gaue their owne selues fyrst to the lord, and (after) vnto vs by the wyl of God,

6 That we should desyre Titus to accomplishe the same grace among you also, euen as he had begunne.

7 Nowe therefore as ye are plenteous in al thinges, in fayth, and in woord, & in knowledge, and in al feruentnesse, and in loue whiche ye haue to vs: euen so, see that ye be plenteous in this grace also.

* or, reade, but through the feruentnesse of other, prouoking also the perfectnesse of your loue.

8 This say I not by commaundement, but because of the feruentnesse of * other, and proouing the vnfaignednesse of your loue.

9 For ye knowe the grace of our Lorde Iesus Christe, that though he was * rich, yet for your sakes he became poore, that ye through his powertie might be made rich.

Rom. 10.a.

10 And I geue counsel herein: For this is expedient for you, which haue begunne not to doo only, but also to wyl a yeere agoe.

11 Nowe therefore perfourme to doo (it) also: that as there (appeared in you) a redynesse to wyl, euen so there may appeare a redynesse to perfourme, * of that whiche ye haue.

1. Pet. 4.c. Prou. 3 b. Mark. 12.d Luke. 21.a.

12 For * yf there be fyrst a wyllyng minde, it is accepted accordyng to that a man hath, and not accordyng to that he hath not.

13 Truely, not that other be set at ease, and you burdened:

14 But of lyke condition nowe at this time your abundance (supplyeth) their want, that their abundance also may supply your want, that there may be equalitie:

C

15 As it is written, * He that (had gathered) muche, had nothyng ouer, and he that (had gathered) litle, had no lacke.

16 Thankes be vnto God, whiche put the same earnest care for you in the hart of Titus.

17 Because he accepted the exhortation: and being the more careful, came of his owne accorde vnto you.

18 We haue sent with him that brother (b) whose prayse is in the Gospel throughout al the Churches:

(b) In preaching the Gospel. Some vnderstande Luke, other Barnabas.

19 (And not that onlye, but he was also chosen of the Churches to be a felowe with vs in our iourney, concerning this * grace that is ministred by vs vnto the glory of the same Lorde, and (declaration) of your redy minde,) * or, benefycence. Rom. 12. c.

20 Eschewyng this, that any man shoulde rebuke vs in this plenteous distribution that is * ministred by vs:

(c) His wel dooyng is approued before God and man.

21 Makyng prouision for (c) honest thinges, not only in the syght of the Lorde, but also in the syght of menne.

22 We haue sent with them a brother of ours, whom we haue oftentimes prooued diligent in many thinges, but nowe muche more diligent, for the great confydence * (whiche I haue) in you:

* or, which he hath.

23 Whether (any doo enquire) of Titus, he is my felowe and helper concernyng you: or of other whiche are our brethren, they are the messengers of the Churches, (and) the glory of Christe.

24 Wherefore, shew ye vnto them the proofe of your loue, and of our * boastyng on your behalfe in the sight of the Churches.

A Actes. 11. d. 1. Cor. 16. a 2. Cor. 8. a. Rom. 15. f.

1 FOR of the * ministring to the saintes, it is superfluous for me to write vnto you:

2 For I knowe the redinesse of your mind, wherof I boast on your behalfe vnto them of Macedonia, that Achaia was prepared a yeere agoe: and * your zeale hath prouoked many.

* or, zeale in you.

3 Yet haue I sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you shoulde be in vaine in this behalfe, that as (I haue saide) ye may be prepared.

4 Lest haply yf they of Macedonia comme with me, and fynde you vnprepared, we (I wyl not say you) shoulde be ashamed in this boldnesse of boastyng.

5 Therefore I thought it necessarie to exhort the brethren, that they woulde comme before vnto you, and prepare your forepromised beneficence, that it might be redy as a beneficence and (a) not as an extortion.

(a) That is, as a thing extorted, or violently wrong from you.

6 This yet (I say) he whiche soweth sparingly, shal reape sparingly: and * he that soweth bountifully, shal reape bountifully.

Prou. 11. d. Galat. 6. b. Exod. 25. a. Eccle. 35. a.

7 Euery man according as he purposeth in his hart, so let him geue, not grudgingly, or of necessitie: * for God loueth a cheereful geuer.

8 God is able to make you plentiful in al grace, that ye in al things hauyng alwayes sufficience vnto the vttermost, may be plentiful in euery good woorke:

9 As it is written, * He hath (b) dispearsed abroade, he hath geuen to the poore, his righteousnesse remayneth for euer.

Psal. 112. b. (b) Dauid speaketh of that man whiche feareth god, and loueth his neighbour.

10 (Moreouer (I beseeche him) that ministreth seede vnto the sower, to minister bread also for foode, and to multiplie your seede, and to encrease the fruites of your righteousnesse:

11 That in al thinges ye may be made riche vnto al bountifulnesse, whiche causeth thorowe vs thankes geuing vnto God.

12 For the administration of this seruice, not only supplyeth the want of the saintes: but also is abundant by the thankes geuing of many vnto God,

13 (Whyles by the experiment of this ministration, they glorifye God for the obedience of your consenting to the Gospel of Christe, and for your liberal distribution to them, and to al menne:)

14 And by their prayers for you, whiche * long after you for the abundant grace of God in you.

* or, are greatly affectioned towarde you.

15 Thankes be vnto God, for his vnspeakeable gyft.

The .x. Chapter.

1. He toucheth the false apostles, and defendeth his authoritie, exhorting them to obedience.

1 I Paul mee selfe beseeche you by ỹ meekenesse and gentlenesse of Christe, whiche in presence am lowly among you: but am bolde towardes you being absent. A 2 I beseeche you that I may not (needs) to be bold when I am present, with that same boldnesse, wherewith I * am supposed to haue benne bolde agaynst some, whiche repute vs as though we walked accordyng to the fleashe.

* or, wherewith I meane to be bolde.

3 For walkyng in the fleashe, yet we doo not warre accordyng to the fleashe.

4 (* For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but myghty thorough God, to the ouerthrowyng of strong holdes,) Ephes. 6. c.

5 Wherewith we ouerthrowe counsels, and euery high thing that is exalted agaynst the knowledge of God, and bring into captiuitie al imagination to the obedience of Christe:

6 And hauing in a redyneſſe wherewith to take vengeance on al disobedience, when your obedience is fulfylled.

7 Looke ye on thinges after the vtter appearance? If any man trust in him selfe that he is Christes, let him consyder this agayne of him selfe, that as he (is) of Christe, euen so (are) we of Christe. B

8 For though I shoulde boast somewhat moze of our authozitie, whiche the Lozde hath geuen to vs for edifycation, & not for your destruction, I should not be ashamed. 2. Cor. 13. c

9 Lest I shoulde seeme as it were to make you afrayde by letters.

10 For the letters (a) (sayth he) are soare and strong: but (his) bodyly presence is weake, and his speache nothing woorth.

(a) Meaning a certaine man among them, which thus spake of Paul.

11 Let hym that is suche a one, thinke on this wyse, that as we are in woorde by letters when we are absent, suche also are we in deede when we are present.

12 For

12 For we dare not number or compare our selues with certayne whiche prayse them selues: neuertheles, whyle they measure them selues with them selues, and compare them selues with them selues, they vnderstande not.

13 But we wyl not boast above measure: but accordyng to the (b) measure of the rule whiche GOD hath distributed vnto vs, a measure to reache euen vnto you.

(b) That is, the gifres & vocation whiche God had geuen hym to win others by.

14 For we stretche not out our selues beyond measure, as though we reached not vnto you: For euen to you also haue we comme with the Gospel of Christe: C

15 Not boastyng our selues out of measure in other mens labours: but hopyng when your fayth is encreased, to be magnified among you accordyng to our measure abundantly, 16 That I may preache the Gospel in those (regions) whiche (are) beyonde you: and not glory of those thinges whiche by another mans measure are prepared alredy.

17 But let hym that glorieth, glory in the Lorde.

18 For he that commendeth him self, is not alowed, but whom the Lord commendeth.

The. xi. Chapter.

2. He declareth his affection towarde them. 5. The excellencie of his ministerie, 9. and his diligence in the same.

A 1 WOulde to God ye coulde suffer a litle (my) foolishnesse, & in deede suffer me.

2 For I am gelous ouer you with godly gelousie: For I haue coupled you to one man, to present (you) a chast virgin vnto Christe.

Gen. 3. a.

3 But I feare lest by any meanes, that as the serpent beguyled Eue through his subtyltie, euen so your myndes shoulde be corrupted from the singlenesse that is towarde Christe.

(a) That is, more perfect doctrine cõcernyng Christ Iesus.

4 For if he that commeth, preacheth another (a) Iesus, whō we haue not preached: or yf ye receiue another spirite whom ye haue not receiued: eyther another Gospel whiche ye haue not receiued, you woulde wel haue suffered (hym.)

5 Verely, I suppose that I was not behind the chiefe Apostles.

6 But though (i be) rude in speakyng, yet not in knowledge: but in al thinges among you we haue benne wel knowen to the vttermost.

B 7 Haue I committed an offence because I submitted me selfe, that ye myght be exalted, because I preached to you the Gospel of God freely?

8 I robbed other Churches, taking wages of them, to doo you seruice.

9 And when I was present with you, and had neede, * I was chargeable to no man by my idlenesse: for that whiche was lacking vnto me, the brethren whiche came from Macedonia supplyed: & in al thinges I haue kept mee selfe not chargeable to you, and (so) wyl I keepe mee selfe. Actes. 20. g. 2. Cor. 12. d

10 (b) The trueth of Christe is in me, that this boasting shal not be shut vp against me in the regions of Achaia. (b) Let not the trueth of Christe be thought to be in me, if I suffer my ioy to be shut vp, whiche I haue conceiued of Grecia, 11 Wherefore? because I loue not you? God knoweth.

12 But what I doo, that wyl I doo, that I may cut away occasion from them whiche desire occasion: that they myght be fonnde lyke vnto vs, in that wherein they glory.

13 For suche false apostles, are deceiptful woorkers, transfourmed into the Apostles of Christe.

14 And no marueyle: for Satan him self is transfourmed into an angel of lyght. C

15 Therefore it is no great thing if that his ministers also be transfourmed as the ministers of righteousnesse: whose ende shalbe accordyng to their woorkes.

16 I say agayne, Let no man thynke that I am foolish: or els euen now take ye me as a foole, that I also may boast mee self a litle. (c) In this earth, he had respect to the Lorde: but this fashion of boastyng seemed accordyng to man, whereynto they compelled hym.

17 That I speake, I speake it not after the (c) Lorde: but as it were foolishly in this boldnesse of boastyng.

18 Seeyng that many glory after the flesh, I wyl glory also.

19 For ye suffer fooles gladly, seeing ye your selues are wyse.

20 For ye suffer, if a man bryng you into bondage, yf a man deuour, if a man take, yf a man exalt hym selfe, if a man smite you on the face. The Epistle on Sexagesima Sunday,

21 I speake concerning reproche, as though we had benne weake: Howbeit, wherein so euer any man is bolde, (I speake foolishly) I am bolde also. D

22 *They are Hebrues, euen so (am) I: they are Israelites, euen so (am) I: they are the seede of Abraham, euen so (am) I: Phil. 3. a.

23 They are the ministers of Christe, (I speake as a foole) I am more, in labours more abundātly, in stripes above measure, in prison more plēteously, in deathes (d) oft. (d) In the present danger of death.

24 * Of the Iewes fyue tymes receiued I fourtie (stripes) saue one. Deut. 25. a 25 *Thrise was I beaten with roddes, once stoned, thrise I suffered shipwracke, a night and a day haue I benne in the deapth: Actes. 16. c. Actes. 13. c. Actes. 27. g.

26 In iourneying often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils of mine owne nation, in perils among the Heathen, * in Actes. 10. d.

perils in the citie, in perils in the wylderneſſe, in perils in the ſea, in perils among falſe brethren.

27 In labour and trauayle, in watchynges often, in hunger and thirſt, in faſtinges often, in colde and nakedneſſe,

E 28 Beſydes the thynges whiche outwardly (comme) vnto me: the trouble which priuily conſpireth agaynſt me dayly, (is) the care of al the Churches.

1.Cor.9.D. 29 *Who is weake, and I am not weake? who is offended, and I burne not?

30 If I muſt needes glory, I wyl glory of the thynges that cõcerne myne infirmities.

31 The God and father of our Lorde Jeſus Chriſte, whiche is bleſſed for euermore, knoweth that I lye not.

32 In (the citie of) Damaſcus, the gouernour of the people appoynted by kyng Aretas, layde watche in the citie of the Damaſcens, deſyrous to haue caught me:

Act.9.D. 33 And *at a wyndowe was I let downe in a baſket thrugh the wal, and ſcaped his handes.

The.xii.Chapter.

1. He reioyceth in preferment, 5 but chiefly in his humbleneſſe.

A 1 IT is not expedient doubtleſſe for me to glorie, I wyl comme to viſions & reuelations of the Lorde.

(a) That is, Chriſtian or I ſpeake in Chriſte.

2 For I knew a man in (a) Chriſt aboue fourteene yeeres agoe, (whether in the body I can not tel, or whether out of the body, I can not tel, God knoweth) taken vp into the thirde (b) heauen:

(b) That is to ſay, into the higheſt heauen.

3 And I knew the ſame man (whether in the body, or out of the body, I can not tel, GOD knoweth,)

(c) Mans infirmitie was not able to declare thẽ, neyther were they ſhewed vnto hym for that ende.

4 How that he was taken vp into (c) paradiſe, & heard vnſpeakeable wordes, whiche is not lawful for man to vtter.

* or, thing.

5 Of ſuch * (a man) wil I glory, yet of mee ſelfe wil I not glorie, but in myne infirmities.

6 For though I would deſire to glory (of thẽ) I ſhal not be a foole, for I wyl ſay the trueth: but I nowe refrayne, leſt any man ſhoulde thynke of me, aboue (that) which he ſeeth me (to be,) or (that) he heareth of me.

B 7 And *leſt I ſhoulde be exalted out of Iohn.2.b meaſure thrugh the abundance of the reuelations, there was geuẽ vnto me a pricke to the fleſhe, the meſſengers of Satan to buffet me, becauſe I ſhoulde not be exalted out of meaſure.

8 For this thing beſought I the lord thrise, that it myght depart from me.

9 And he ſayde vnto me, My grace is ſufficient for thee: for my ſtrength is made perfect in weakeneſſe. Moſt gladly therefore I wyl rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Chriſte myght dwel in me.

10 Therefore haue I delectation in infirmities, in rebukes, in neceſſities, in perſecutions, in anguiſhes for Chriſtes ſake: For when I am weake, then am I ſtrong.

11 I am become a foole in glorying, ye haue compelled me: for I ought to haue ben cõmended of you. * For nothyng was I inferiour vnto the cheefe apoſtles, though I be nothing. 1.Cor.9.a.

12 Truely the ſignes of an Apoſtle were wrought among you, in al patience, in ſignes, and woonders, and mighty deedes.

13 For what is it wherein ye were inferiour vnto other Churches, except (it be) that I was not chargeable vnto you by my idleneſſe? forgeue me this wrong.

14 Behold, nowe the thyrde tyme I am redy to comme vnto you, and yet wyl I not be chargeable vnto you by my idleneſſe: For *I ſeeke not yours, but you. For the chyldren ought not to lay vp for the parentes, but the parentes for the chyldren. C Act.20.g. 2.Cor.11.c. Eccle.46.c. 1.Reg.12.a

15 I wyl very gladly ſpende, & wyl be ſpent for your ſoules, though the more abundãtly I loue you, the leſſe I be loued agayne.

16 But be it, (that) I was not chargeable vnto you: (d) Neuertheleſſe, beyng craftie, I caught you with guile. (d) Thus ſaid his aduerſaries, that though he toke it not by hym ſelfe, yet he dyd it by the meanes of others

17 Dyd I pyl you by any of them whom I ſent vnto you?

18 I deſyred Titus, and with hym I ſent a brother: Dyd Titus defraude you of any thing? Haue we not walked in the ſame ſpirite? not in the ſame ſteppes?

19 Agayne, thynke you that we excuſe our ſelues vnto you? We ſpeake in Chriſte in the ſyght of God: but (we doo) al thynges dearely beloued for your edifieyng.

20 For I feare leſt when I comme, I ſhal not finde you ſuche as I woulde, and that I ſhalbe found vnto you, ſuche as ye would not: leſt there be *debates, enuyinges, wrathes, ſtrykes, backbittinges, whiſperynges, ſwellynges, and ſeditions: Galat.5.D.

21 And that when I comme agayne, my god bryng me lowe among you, and I ſhal bewayle many of them which haue ſinned alredy, & haue not repented of the *vncleanneſſe, and fornication, & wantonneſſe which they haue committed. D 1.Cor.5.a.

The.xiii.Chapter.

1. He threatneth the obſtinate, 5. and declareth what his power is, by their owne teſtimonie.

A 1 NOwe comme I the thirde tyme vnto you. *In the mouth of two or three witneſſes ſhal euery woord be eſtabliſhed. Deut.19.D Mat.18.c Iohn.8.c Hebr.10.f

I

2 I tolde you before, and tel you before, as though I had benne present (with you) the seconde time, so write I nowe beyng absent, to them whiche in time past haue synned, and to al other: that yf I comme agayne, I wyl not spare.

3 Seeing that ye seeke experience of Christ * whiche speaketh in me, whiche to you-warde is not weake, but is mighty in you. Mat. 10.d.

4 For though he was crucifyed of weakenesse, yet liueth he of the power of GOD: And we also are weake in him: but we shal liue with him by the might of God toward you.

5 * Examine your selues whether ye are in the fayth: Proue your owne selues. Know ye not your owne selues howe that Jesus Christe is in you? except ye be reprobates. 1.Cor. 11.f. Eccle. 18.c.

6 But I trust that ye shal knowe that we are not reprobates.

7 Truely I pray to God that ye doo none euyl, not that we shoulde seeme approued, but that ye shoulde doo that whiche is honest, though we be as (a) reprobates.

8 For we can do nothing against the trueth, but for the trueth.

9 For we are glad when we are weake, and ye are strong. Truely this also we wishe, euen your perfection.

10 Therefore write I these thinges beyng absent, lest beyng present, I shoulde vse sharpnesse, accordyng to the power * whiche the Lorde hath geuen me to edifycation, and not to destruction. 2.Cor. 10.c

11 Finally brethren, farewel, be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, liue in peace, and the God of loue and peace shalbe with you.

12 * Greete one another in an holy kysse. 2.Cor.16.f.

13 Al the saintes salute you.

14 The grace of * our Lorde Jesus Christ, and the loue of God, and the * communion of the holy ghost, be with you al, Amen.

* or, the Lorde.

* or, felowshyp.

¶ The seconde Epistle to the Corinthians, was written from Philippos, (a citie) of Macedonia, by Titus and Lucas.

(a) In that he humbled him selfe, & tooke vpon him the fourme of a seruant.

The Epistle of the Apostle Saint Paul to the Galathians.

The first Chapter.

6. Paul rebuketh their inconstancie, whiche suffered them selues to be seduced by the false apostles.

1 PAUL an apostle, not not of menne, neither by man, but by Jesus Christe, and by God the father, whiche rayſed him vp from the dead:

2 And al the brethren whiche are with me, vnto the Churches of Galatia:

3 Grace (be) with you, and peace from god the father, & from our Lorde Jesus Christ:

4 Whiche gaue hym selfe for our synnes, to deliuer vs from this (a) present euyl world, accordyng to the wyl of God, and our father: Rom.1.a. 1.Cor.1.a. 2.Cor.1.a.

5 To whom (be) glory for euer and euer, Amen. (a) Which is the corrupt lyfe of man without Christe.

6 I marueile that ye are so soone turned from him that had called you in the grace of Christe, vnto another Gospel:

7 Whiche is not another (Gospel) but that there be some whiche trouble you, and * intende to peruert the Gospel of Christe. Actes.15.g.

8 Neuertheless though we, or an angel from heauen preache any other Gospel vnto you, then that whiche we haue preached vnto you, let hym be accursed.

9 As we sayde before, so say I now againe, If any man preache any other Gospel vnto you then (that) ye haue receiued, let him be accursed.

10 Doo I nowe perswade menne, or God? Other doo I seeke to please menne? * For yf I yet pleased menne, I shoulde not be the seruant of Christe. Iohn. 13.d.

11 I certifye you, brethren, that the Gospel whiche was preached of me, is not after man.

12 For I neyther receiued it of man, neither was I taught (it,) but by the reuelation of Jesus Christe. Actes.8.a.

13 For ye haue heard of my conuersation in time past, in the Iewes religion (how) that beyonde measure * I persecuted the Church of God, and spoyled it: * or, myne age. 1.Cor. 15.b Phil.3.a.

14 And profyted in the Iewes religion aboue many of my * companyons in myne owne nation, * being a very feruent mayntayner of the (b) traditions of my fathers. (b) That is, of the lawe of God, whiche was geuen to the auncient fathers.

15 But when it pleased God, whiche separated me from my mothers wombe, and * called (me) by his grace, Actes.9.a.

16 To reueale his sonne by me, that I should by the Gospel preache him among the heathen: immediatly I communed not with (c)* fleashe and blood:

(c) That is, with any man, as though I had neede of his counsel to approoue my doctrine. Mat. 16. c.

17 Neither went I vp to Hierusalem, to them whiche (were) apostles before me: but went my wayes into Arabia, & came agayne vnto Damascus.

18 Then after three yeeres, I went vp to Hierusalem to see Peter, and abode with him fyfteene dayes.

19 But other of the apostles sawe I none, saue James the Lordes brother.

D

20 The thinges therefore whiche I write vnto you, beholde, before God I lye not.

Actes. 22. d

21 *Afterwarde I came into the coastes of Cyria and Cilicia, and was vnknowen in face vnto the Churches of Iurie whiche were in Christe:

22 But they had hearde only, that he which persecuted vs in times past, now preacheth the (d) fayth, whiche before he destroyed.

(d) That is, the Gospel which is the doctrine of fayth.

23 And they glorifyed God in me.

The. ii. Chapter.

1. Confyrmyng his apostleship to be of God, 3. he theweth why Titus was not circumcised.

A

1 THen fourteene yeeres after, I went vp agayne to Hierusalem *with Barnabas, and tooke Titus with me.

Actes. 15. a.

2 I went vp by reuelation, and I declared vnto them the Gospel whiche I preache among the Gentiles: but priuately with them whiche were esteemed the cheefe: lest by any meanes I shoulde runne, or hadde runne in vayne.

3 But neither Titus which was with me, being a Greke, was compelled to be circumcised:

4 And that because of incommers, beyng false brethren, whiche came in priuily to spie out our libertie whiche we haue in Christe Iesu, that they might bring vs into bondage.

5 To whom no not for an " houre, we gaue place by subiection, that the trueth of the Gospel myght continue with you.

" or, moment.

6 Of them whiche seemed to be somewhat (what they (a) were in times passed it maketh no matter to me, God accepteth no mans person:) for they whiche seemed cheefe, (b) added nothyng (to me.)

(a) Albeit, they had ben conuersant with Christe aforetyme. (b) That is, they taught me not: but approued my doctrine perfect in al poyntes.

7 But contrarywyse, when they sawe that the Gospel of the vncircumcision was committed vnto me, as the Gospel of the circumcision was committed vnto Peter:

8 (For he that was mighty in Peter to the apostleship of the circumcision, the same was mighty in me towarde the Gentiles:)

9 When they perceiued the grace that was geuen vnto me, (then) James, Cephas, and John, whiche seemed to be pillers, gaue to me and Barnabas the right hands of felowship: that we (shoulde be apostles) vnto the heathen, and they vnto the circumcision.

10 Only *that we shoulde remember the poore: Wherin also I was diligent to doo the same.

* they admonished. Actes. 11. b. 2. Cor. 9. a.

11 But when Peter was come to Antioche, I withstoode him (b) to the face, because he was to be blamed.

(b) Meaning before al menne.

12 For before that certaine came frō James, he did eate with the Gentiles: but when they were comme, he withdrewe, and separated him selfe, fearing them (which were) of the circumcision.

13 And the other Iewes dissembled likewyse with him: insomuche that Barnabas also was brought into their simulatiō.

14 But when I sawe that they went not the ryght way to the trueth of the Gospel, I sayde vnto Peter before them al, If thou being a Iewe, liuest after the manner of the Gentiles, and not as doo the Iewes: Why compellest thou the Gentiles to liue as doo the Iewes?

C

15 We (whiche are) *Iewes by nature, and not (c) synners of the Gentiles,

Phil. 3. a. (c) For so the Iewes called the Gentiles in reproche.

16 Knowe that a man* is not iustifyed by the deedes of the lawe, but by the fayth of Iesus Christe: and we haue beleeued on Iesus Christe, that we might be iustifyed by the fayth of Christe, and not by the deedes of the lawe, because by the deedes of the lawe no fleashe shalbe iustifyed.

Rom. 3. c.

17 If then, whyle we seeke to be made righteous by Christe, we our selues also are founde synners: is therefore Christe the minister of synne? God forbyd.

18 For yf I buylde agayne the thinges which I destroyed, then make I mee selfe a trespasser.

19 For I, through the lawe, am dead to the lawe, that I myght liue vnto God: I am crucifyed with Christe.

20 Neuertheless, I lyue: yet nowe not I, but Christe lyueth in me: and the lyfe whiche I nowe lyue in the fleashe, I lyue by the fayth of the sonne of God, *whiche loued me, and gaue him selfe for me.

Ephes. 5. c.

21 I reiect not the grace of God: For *yf righteousnesse (comme) of the lawe, then Christe is dead in vayne.

Rom. 4. c.

The. iii. Chapter.

1. He rebuketh them sharply, 2. and prooueth by diuers reasons, that iustifycation is by fayth.

1 O foo-

A 1 O Foolish Galathians, who hath bewitched you, that ye shoulde not obey the trueth: to whom Iesus Christe was before (a) described before the eyes, and among you crucified?

(a) To whom Christe was so lyuelye preached, as if his liuely image were set before your eyes, or els had ben crucified among you.

2 This onely woulde I learne of you, whether ye receiued the spirite by the deedes of the lawe, or by the hearyng of the fayth?

3 Are ye suche fooles, that after ye haue begun in the spirite, ye woulde nowe ende in the flesh?

4 Haue ye suffered so great things in vaine? If it be yet in vayne.

5 He therfore that ministreth to you the spirite, and worketh miracles among you, doth he it through the deedes of the lawe, or by hearing of the fayth?

Gene.15.d. Roma.4.a. Iames.2.d. B 6 *Euen as Abraham beleeued God, and it was ascribed to him for ryghteousnesse.

7 Knowe ye therefore, that they whiche are of fayth, the same are the children of Abraham.

8 For the scripture seeing afore hande that God woulde iustifie the Heathen through faith, shewed before hand glad tidinges vnto Abraham, (saying,) * In thee shal al nations be blessed.

Gen.12.a. and.22.b.

9 So then, they which be of faith, are blessed with the faythful Abraham.

(b) Whiche thinke to be iustified by them. Deut.27.d. Abac.2.a. Rom.20.c. Heb.10.g. Leuit 28.a. Ezec.20.b. Rom.10.a. Deut.21.d.

10 For as many as are of the (b) deedes of the law, are vnder the curse: For it is written, * Cursed is euery one that continueth not in al thinges whiche are wrytten in the booke of the lawe, to doo them, 11 But that no man is iustified by the lawe in the sight of God, it is euident: * For the iust shal lyue by faith.

12 And the law is not of faith: * but the man that dooth them, shal lyue in them.

13 Christ hath redeemed vs from the curse of the lawe, beyng made a curse for vs: For it is wrytten, * Cursed is euery one that hangeth on tree:

14 That the blessyng of Abraham myght come on ỹ Gentiles through Iesus Christ, that we might receiue the promise of the spirite through fayth.

15 Brethren (c) I speake after the maner of men: Though it be but a mans testament, yet if it be allowed, no man reiecteth it, or addeth thereto.

(c) I wyl vse a cõmon example, that you may be ashamed to attribute les vnto God, thẽ to suche couenantes, whiche one man maketh to another.

16 To Abraham and his seed were the promises made. He sayth not, To the seedes, as of many: but, To thy seede, as of one, whiche is Christe.

The Epistle on the.xiii. sunday after trinitie.

17 This I say, that the law whiche began afterwarde beyonde * foure hundred & thirtie yeeres, dooth not disanul the testament that was confirmed afore of GOD vnto Christwarde, to make the promise of none effecte.

Gene.15.d. Exod.12.f. Iudith.5.b. Actes.7.a.

18 For if the inheritance be of the law, then nowe of promise. But God gaue (the inheritance) vnto Abraham by promise. Rom.4.c.

19 Wherefore then (serueth) the lawe? * It was added because of transgressions, tyl the seede shoulde comme to whom the promise was made: and it was ordeyned * by angels in the hande of a mediatour. Rom.5.c. * the lawe. Actes.7.g.

20 A mediatour is not (a mediatour) of one, but God is (d) one. (d) Cõstant, and alwayes lyke hym selfe.

21 Is the lawe then agaynst the promise of God? God forbid. For if there had ben a lawe geuen whiche coulde haue geuen life, then no doubt ryghteousnesse shoulde haue ben by the lawe. D Roma.7.c. 1.Tim.1.b.

22 But the scripture hath concluded al vnder sinne, that the promise by the fayth of Iesus Christe shoulde be geuen vnto them that beleeue.

23 But before faith came, we were kept vnder the lawe, & were shut vp vnto the faith whiche shoulde afterwarde be reuealed.

24 Wherefore the lawe was our scoolemaister vnto Christe, that we should be iustified by fayth.

25 But after that fayth is comme, we are no longer vnder a scoolemaister.

26 For ye are al the childrẽ of God by faith in Christe Iesus.

27 For * al ye that are baptised, haue put on Christe. * Somme reade, al ye that are baptised into Christe, haue put on Christe.

28 There is no Iew, neyther Greke, there is neyther bonde nor free, there is neyther male, nor female: for ye are al one in Christ Iesus.

29 If (ye be) Christes, then are ye Abrahams seed, and heyres according to the promise.

The.iiii.Chapter.

2. He sheweth wherefore the ceremonies were ordeyned, whiche being shadowes, must ende when Christ the trueth commeth.

6 Because ye are sonnes, * God hath sent foorth the (b) spirite of his sonne into your hartes, cryeing, (c) Abba, father.
7 Wherefore thou art no more a seruant, but a sonne: if thou be a sonne, thou art also an heire of God, through Christe.
8 Notwithstandyng, when ye (d) knew not God, ye dyd seruice vnto them whiche by nature are no goddes.
9 But now after that ye haue knowen God, yea rather are knowen of God, howe turne ye agayne vnto the weake and beggerly rudimentes, whereunto agayne ye desire a freshe to be in bondage.
10 Ye obserue dayes, and monethes, and tymes, and yeeres.
11 I am in feare of you, lest I haue bestowed on you labour in vayne.
12 Brethren, I beseche you be as I (am) for I (am) as ye are: Ye haue not iniuryed me at al.
13 Ye know howe through infirmitie of the flesshe, I preached the Gospel vnto you at the first:
14 (e) And my temptation whiche was in my flesshe ye despised not, neyther abhorred: but receiued me as an angel of God, euen as Christe Iesus.
15 What is then your felicitie? for I beare you recorde, that yf it had ben possible, ye would haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue geuen them to me.
16 Am I therefore become your enimie, because I tel you the trueth?
17 They are gelous ouer you (f) amisse: Yea, they intende to exclude (g) you, that ye shoulde be feruent to themwarde.
18 It is good alwaies to be zelous in a good thing, and not onely when I am present with you.
19 My little childzen, of whom I trauayle in byrth agayne, vntyl Christ be (h) fashioned in you.
20 But I desire to be present with you now, and to change my voyce: for I stande in doubt of you.
21 (*) Tel me, ye that desire to be vnder the lawe, doo ye not heare the lawe?
22 For it is written, that Abraham had two sonnes: * the one by a bondmaide, the other by a free woman.
23 But he whiche was of the bondwoman, was borne after the flesshe: but he whiche was of the free woman (was borne) by promise.
24 Whiche thinges are spoken by (i) an allegorie: For these are two testamentes: the one from the mount Sina, whiche gendereth vnto bondage, whiche is Agar:
25 For * Agar is the mount Sina in Arabia, and bordereth vpon the citie whiche (is) nowe (called) Hierusalem, and is in bondage with her childzen.
26 But * Hierusalem whiche is aboue, is free, whiche is the mother of vs al. Apoc.21.a.
27 For it is written, * Reioyce thou barren that bearest no childzen, breake foorth and crye, that thou trauaylest not: For the desolate hath many moe childzen then she whiche hath an hus bande. Esai.54.a.
28 But brethren, we are after Isahac the childzen of promise. C
29 But as then he that was borne after the flesshe, persecuted him that was borne after the spirite: euen so is it nowe.
30 Neuertheless, what saith the scripture? * Put away the bondwoman & her sonne: for the sonne of the bondwoman shal in no wyse be heyre with the sonne of the free woman. Gen.21.b.
31 So then brethren, we are not childzen of the bondwoman, but of the free.

The.v. Chapter.

wherewith Christe hath made vs free, and be not intangled * agayne with the yoke * of bondage. * or, contrarywise.
2 Beholde, I Paul say vnto you, that * yf ye be (a) circumcised, Christe shal profite you nothyng. Esai.9.a. Actes.25.a.

5 For we through the spirite, wayte for the hope of righteousnesse by fayth.
6 * For in Iesus Christ, neyther is circumcision any thing woorth, neither yet vncircumcision: but fayth, whiche woorketh by loue.

11 And brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why do I yet suffer persecution? Then is the slaunder of the crosse ceased.

12 I

12 I would to God they were cut of which trouble you.

13 For brethren, ye haue ben called vnto libertie: only *let not libertie be an occasion to the flesshe, but by loue serue one another.

14 For al the lawe is fulfilled in one worde (which is this) *Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thee selfe.

15 If ye bite and deuoure one another, take heede lest ye be consumed one of another.

16 Then I say, walke in the spirite, and ye shal not fulfil the lust of the flesshe.

17 For the flesshe lusteth contrary to the spirite, *and the spirite contrary to the flesshe: these are contrary one to the other, so that ye can not do what ye woulde.

18 But and yf ye be led of the spirite, then are ye not vnder the lawe.

19 The deedes of the flesshe are manifest, which are these, aduiterie, fornication, vncleanneisse, wantonnesse,

20 Worshipping of images, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, sectes,

D 21 Enuyinges, murders, drunkennesse, gluttonies, & such like: of the whiche I tel you before, as I haue tolde you in time past, that (euen) *they whiche do suche thinges, shal not inherite the kingdome of God.

22 But the fruite of the spirite is, loue, ioy, peace, long suffring, gentlenesse, goodnesse, fayth, 23 Meekenesse, temperancie: agaynst such there is no lawe.

24 They truely that (are) Christes, (b) haue crucified the flesshe with the affections and lustes.

7 Be not deceiued, God is not mocked: for *whatsoeuer a man soweth, that shal he also reape.

9 *Let vs not be weery in wel dooing: for in due season we shal reape, if we faint not.

10 While we haue therefore time, let vs do good vnto al men, specially vnto them whiche are of the houshoulde of fayth.

13 For they them selues whiche are circumcised keepe not the lawe: but desire to haue you circumcised, that they myght glory in your flesshe.

14 God forbid that I shoulde glory, but in the crosse of our Lord Jesus Christ: wherby the (b) worlde is crucified vnto me, and I vnto the worlde.

After his salutation, 4. he sheweth that the cheefe cause of theyr saluation standeth in the free election of God through Christe, 16. he declareth his good wyl towarde them, geuyng thankes, and praying God for theyr fayth. 21. The maiestie of Christe.

1.Pet.1.a. Galat.1.a. 3 * Blessed be God the father of our Lorde Iesus Christe, whiche hath blessed vs in al spiritual blessyng in heauenly thynges by Christe:

5 Who hath predestinated vs into the adoption of (a) chyldren by Iesus Christ vnto hym selfe, accordyng to the good pleasure of his wyl:

(a) Whereas we were not the natural children, he receiued vs by grace, & made vs his children. Colos.1.b.

9 And hath opened vnto vs the mysterie of his wyl, accordyng to his good pleasure whiche he had purposed in hym selfe,

10 * That in the dispensation of the fulnesse of the times, he might gather togeather in one al thynges in Christe, both whiche are in heauens, and which are in earth, in him.

11 In whom also we are chosen, being predestinate accordyng to the purpose of hym who worketh al thinges after the counsel of his owne wyl:

12 That we shoulde be vnto the prayse of his glory, whiche before beleeued in Christe.

13 In whom also ye (hoped) after that ye heard the worde of trueth, the Gospel of your saluation: wherein also after that ye beleeued, were * sealed with the holy spirit of promise, 14 Which is the earnest of our inheritance, vnto the (b) redemption of the purchased possession, vnto the prayse of his glory.

(b) Though we be redeemed frō the bondage of sinne by the death of Christ. Ro.6 yet we hope for this seconde redemption, which shalbe whē we shal possesse our inheritance in the heauens, whereof we haue the holy ghost for a gage, as ca.4.

15 Wherefore, I also after that I heard of the fayth which ye haue in the Lord Iesus, and loue vnto al the saintes: C

16 Ceasse not to geue thankes for you, making mention of you in my prayers, 26 *Be ye (f) angry, and sinne not: let not the sunne goe downe vpon your wrath. Psal 4. a.

(f) If so be that ye be angry, so moderate your affection that it burst not out into an euyl worke, but be soone appeased.

27 Neyther geue place to the deuyl.

28 *Let him that stole, steale no more: but let him rather labour, worckyng with his handes the thing whiche is good, that he may geue vnto him that needeth.

29 Let no filthy communication proceede out of your mouth, but that which is good to edifie withal, as ofte as neede is, that it may minister grace vnto the hearers.

2. Thes. 3. b

30 And (g) greeue not the holy spirite of God, by whom ye are sealed vnto the day of redemption.

(g) So to behaue your selues, that the holye ghoste may wyllyngly dwel in you, & geue him no occasiō to depart for sorow by your abusing of gods graces.

31 Let al bitternesse, and fiercenesse, and wrath, and crying, and euyl speaking, be put away from you, with al naughtinesse.

32 Be ye curteous one to another, merciful, forgeuing one another, euen as God for Christes sake hath forgeuen you.

The. v. Chapter.

22. He entreateth of corporal marriage, and of the spiritual betwixt Christ & his church.

BE ye * therefore folowers of God, as deare chyldren:

A The Epistle on the. iii. in Lent.

2 And walke ye in loue, euen as * Christ hath loued vs, and hath geuen him selfe for vs an offering & a sacrifice of a swette smelling sauour to God.

1. Pet. 2. d. John. 13. b. Galat. 2. d. Exod. 23. b.

3 But fornication, and al vncleanesse, or couetousnesse, let it not be once named among you, as it becommeth saintes:

4 Neither

4 Neyther fylthinesse, neyther foolishe talking, neither iesting, whiche are not comely: but rather geuing of thankes.

5 For this ye knowe, that no * whoremonger, neyther vncleane person, nor couetous person, which is a worshipper of images, hath any inheritance in the kingdome of Christe, and of God.

Galat. 5. d. 1. Cor. 6. b.

Mat. 24. a. Colos. 2. b. Mar. 13. a. Luke. 21. b.

6 * Let no man deceiue you with vayne wordes: For because of suche thynges commeth the wrath of God vpon the children of disobedience.

7 Be not ye therfore companions of them.

8 For ye were sometimes darkenesse, but nowe are ye light in the Lorde: * Walke as children of lyght.

Iohn. 12. e. 1. Thes. 5. a.

9 (For the fruite of the spirit (is) in al goodnesse, and ryghteousnesse, and trueth, 10 Approouing what is acceptable vnto the Lorde.)

11 And haue no felowshyp with the vnfruitful woorkes of darkenesse, but rather euen rebuke them.

12 For it is shame euen to name those thinges whiche are done of them in secrete.

13 But al thinges when they are * rebuked, are made manifest of the light: For al that whiche doth make manifest, is light.

14 Wherfore he sayth, (a) Awake thou that sleepest, and stande vp from the dead: and Christe shal geue thee light.

15 Take heede therefore that ye walke circumspectly: not as vnwyse, but as wyse, 16 Redeeming the time, because the dayes are euyl.

17 Wherefore be ye not vnwise, but vnderstanding what the wyl of the Lorde is.

18 And be not dronke with wine, wherein is excesse: but be filled with the spirite, Psal. 33. a. Colos. 3. c.

19 Speaking vnto your selues in * psalmes, and hymnes, and spiritual songes, singing and making melodie to the Lorde in your hartes:

20 Geuing thankes alwayes for al thynges vnto God and the father, in the name of our Lorde Iesus Christe:

D

21 Submitting your selues one to another in the feare of God.

22 Wiues, submit your selues vnto your owne husbandes, as vnto the Lorde:

23 For the husbande is the head of the wyfe, euen as Christ is * the head of the Church, and he is the sauiour of the body.

Gen. 2. d. 1. Cor. 11. a. Ephes. 5. d.

24 But as the Churche is subiecte vnto Christe, likewise the wiues to their owne husbandes in al thinges,

25 Ye husbandes loue your wiues, euen as Christe also loued the Churche, and gaue him selfe for it,

26 To sanctifie it, when he had cleansed (it) in the (b) fountaine of water in the woorde:

(b) Baptisme is a token that God hath consecrated the Churche to hym selfe, and made it holy by his woord: that is, his promise of free iustification in Christe.

27 That he might present it vnto hym selfe a glorious Churche, not hauing spot or wrynckle, or any suche thyng: but that it shoulde be holy, and without blame.

28 So ought men to loue their wyues as their owne bodies: he that loueth his wife, loueth him selfe.

29 For no man euer yet hated his owne flesshe: but nourisheth and cherisheth it, euen as the Lorde the Churche.

30 For we are members of his body, of his flesshe, and of his bones.

31 * For this cause shal a man leaue father and mother, and shalbe ioyned vnto his wyfe, and two shalbe made one flesshe.

Gene. 2. d. Mat. 19. a. Mar. 10. a. 1 Cor. 6. d. Ephes 5. g.

32 This is a great secrete: but I speake of Christe and of the Churche.

33 Therefore euery one of you (do ye so:) Let euery one of you loue his wyfe euen as him selfe, and (let) the wyfe reuerence her husbande.

The. vi. Chapter.

1. How children should behaue them selues toward their fathers and mothers, 4. likewise parentes toward their children, 5. seruantes towarde their maisters, 9. maisters towarde their seruantes.

1 CHyldren, * obey your parentes in the Lorde: for this is right.

Exod. 20. b

Deut. 3. b.

5 Seruantes obey them that are (your) bodily maisters with feare and trembling, in singlenesse of your hart, as vnto Christ.

6 Not with seruice vnto the eye, as men pleasers: but as the seruants of Christ, doyng the wyl of God from the hart,

7 With good wil seruing the Lorde, and not men:

B

8 Knowing that whatsoeuer good thyng any man doth, that shal he receiue agayne of the Lorde, whether (he be) bonde or free.

9 And ye maisters do the same thinges vnto them, putting away threatninges: knowyng that your maister also is in heauen, * neither is respect of person with hym.

The Epistle on the. xxi. Sunday after Trinitie.

11 Put on al the armour of God, that ye may stande agaynst the assaultes of the deuyl.

12 For

(a) The faythful haue not only to striue agaynst men, & them selues: but against Satan the spirituall enimie, who is moste dangerous: for he is ouer our heades, so that we can not reache hym, but he must be resisted by Gods peace. Luke.12.c. 1.Pet.1.c.

12 For we wrestle not agaynst (a) blood and flesshe, but agaynst rules, agaynst powers, agaynst worldly gouernours of the darkenesse of this worlde, against spiritual wickednesse in heauenly (places.)

13 Wherfore take vnto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to resist in the euil day, and hauing finished al thinges, to stande fast.

14 Stande therefore, * hauing your loynes gyrt about with the trueth, and hauing on the brest plate of ryghteousnesse:

15 And your feete shod in the (b) preparation of the Gospel of peace.

(b) That ye may be redy to suffer al thinges for the Gospel.

16 Aboue al, takyng the shielde of fayth, wherewith ye may quenche al the fyerie dartes of the wicked.

17 And take the helmet of saluation, and the swoorde of the spirite, whiche is the woorde of God:

Luke.18.a. 1.Thes.5.d

18 * Prayng alwayes in al prayer and supplication in the spirite, and watching for the same purpose with al instance and supplication for al saintes:

20 Wherof I am a messenger in bondes, that therein I may speake freely, as I ought to speake.

21 But that ye may also know my affayres, and what I do, Tychicus a deare brother and faithful minister in the lord, shal shew you al thinges: D

22 Whom I haue sent vnto you for the same purpose, that ye might knowe of our affayres, & that he might comfort your hartes.

23 Peace (be vnto you) brethren, & loue with fayth from God the father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christe.

The Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Philippians.

The first Chapter.

1. Saint Paul discouereth his hart towardes them, 3. by his thankesgeuyng, 4. prayers, 8. and wishes for their fayth and saluation.

A 1 PAul and Timotheus the seruantes of Iesus Christe, to al the saintes in Christ Iesus, whiche are at Philippos, with the Bishops & Deacons:

2 Grace (be) vnto you, and peace from God our father, and (from) the Lorde Iesus Christe.

The Epistle on the.xii. sunday after Trinite. Rom.1.b. Colos.1.a.

3 I thanke my God with al remembrance of you.

4 (Alwayes in al my prayer for al you, makyng prayer with gladnesse:)

(a) That ye receiued the Gospel.

5 For your felowship in the gospel, from the first (a) day vntil nowe:

(b) Of this peculier benefite to suffer for Christes sake.

6 Being perswaded of this same thing, that he whiche hath begun a good woorke in you, wil performe it vntil the day of Iesus Christe:

7 As it becommeth me to iudge this of you al, because I haue you in my hart, and in my bondes, in the defence and confirmation of the Gospel, you al being partakers of my (b) grace.

(c) That is, from the very hart roote of Iesus Christ.

8 For God is my recorde howe greatly I long after you al in the (c) bowels of Iesus Christe.

9 And this I pray, that your loue may abounde yet more and more in knowledge, and in al vnderstandyng:

10 That ye may discerne thinges that differ: that ye may be pure and without offence tyl the day of Christe, 11 Beyng fylled with the fruites of righteousnesse, whiche (are) by Iesus Christ, vnto the glory and prayse of God.

12 But I woulde ye shoulde vnderstande, brethren, that the thinges whiche (came) vnto me, hath come rather vnto the furtherance of the Gospel.

13 (So) that my (d) bondes in Christe are manifest throughout al the iudgement hal, and in al other places. (d) Whiche I suffeyne for Christes cause. C

14 And many of the brethren in the Lorde, beyng incouraged through my bondes, dare more plentifully speake the woorde without feare.

15 Some preache Christ of enuie and stryfe, and some of good wil:

16 The one preache Christ of strife, not sincerely, supposing to adde more affliction to my bondes:

17 But the others of loue, knowyng that I am am set to the defence of the Gospel.

18 What then? so that Christ be preached any maner of way, whether it be by pretẽce, or by trueth, I ioy therin, and wyl ioy.
19 For I knowe that this shal turne to my
2.Cor.1.b *saluation through your prayer, and ministryng of the spirite of Jesus Christe,
20 According to my earnest expectation and my hope, ỳ in nothing I shalbe ashamed: but that with al boldnes, as alwayes, (so) nowe also Christe shalbe magnified in my body, whether it be by lyfe, or by death.
D 21 For Christ (is) to me life, and death is to me aduantage.
22 But whether to lyue in the flesh, this (be) the fruite of my labour, and what I shal choose, I wote not.

* or, body. 24 Neuertheles, to abyde in the * flesh (is) more needeful for you.
25 And this am I sure of, that I shal abide, and continue with you al, for your furtherance and ioy of fayth:
26 That your reioycyng may be the more abundant in Jesus Christe for me, by my comming to you againe.
Ephes.4.a 27 Onely let your conuersation* be as it becometh the Gospel of Christ, that whether I come and see you, or els be absent, I may yet heare of your matters, that ye continue in one spirit, in one soule, holding together in defence of the fayth of the Gospel.
E 28 And in nothyng fearyng your aduersaries, which is to them a token of perdition: but to you of saluation, and (e) that of god.
(e) God sheweth by this meanes of bearing the crosse, who are his, and who are not.
29 For vnto you it is geuen for " Christ, not onely this to beleeue on him: but also this, to suffer for his sake, 30 Hauyng the same fight which ye saw in me, and nowe heare in me.
* or, Christes cause.

The, ii. Chapter.

3. He exhorteth them aboue al thinges to humilitie, whereby pure doctrine is chiefly mainteyned.

A 1 IF (there be) therefore any (a) consolation in Christ, if any comfort of loue, if any fellowship of the spirite, if any compassion and mercy:
(a) If you so loue me that you desyre my comfort.
2 Fulfil ye my ioy, that ye be like mynded, hauing the same loue, beyng of one accord, of one minde.
3 Let nothing (be donne) through strife or vayne glory, but in meekenesse euery man esteeme one the other better then him selfe.
1.Cor.10.f. 4 *Looke not euery man on his owne thinges, but euery man also on the thynges of others.
5 Let the same minde be in you, which was in Christe Jesus:
The Epistle on the sunday next before Easter.
6 Who beyng in ỳ fourme of God, thought it not (b) robberie to be equal with God:
B (b) For he that was God, should therein haue donne no iniurie to the godhead.
7 But made him selfe of no reputation, taking on him the fourme of a seruant, and made in the lykenesse of menne, and founde in figure as a man:
8 He humbled hym selfe, made obedient vnto death, euen the death of the crosse.
9 Wherefore God also hath hyghly exalted him, & geuen him a name whiche is aboue euery name:
10 That in * the name of Jesus * euery (c) knee shoulde bowe, (of thinges) in heauen, and (thinges) in earth, and (thinges) vnder the earth:
Matth.1.c Rom.13.c (c) Worship, and be subiect to hym.
11 And that euery tongue shoulde confesse that the Lorde is Jesus Christe, to the glory of God the father.
12 Wherefore, my dearely beloued, as ye haue alwayes obeyed, not as in my presence onely, but nowe much more in my absence, woorke (d) out your owne saluation with feare and trembling.
Actes.2.f Rom.14.b (d) Our health hangeth not on our workes, and yet are they saide to woorke out their health, who doo run in the race of iustice. For although we be saued freely in Christe by fayth, yet must we walke by the way of iustice vnto our health.
13 For it is God whiche woorketh in you, both to wyl and to doo, of good wyl.
14 Doo al thynges without murmuring and disputing:
15 That ye may be blameles and pure, the sonnes of GOD, without rebuke in the middes of a crooked and peruerse nation, among whom shine ye as lyghtes in the woorlde,
16 Holdyng fast the woorde of lyfe, to my * reioycing in the day of Christ, that I haue not runne in vayne, neyther laboured in vayne.
17 Yea, and though I be offered vp vpon the sacrifice & seruice of your fayth, I reioyce, and reioyce with you al.
18 For the same cause also doo ye reioyce, and reioyce with me.
2.Cor.1.c 1.Thess.2.c
19 But I trust in the Lord Jesus, to *sende Timotheus shortly vnto you, * that I also may be of good comfort, when I knowe your state.
Actes.16.a 1.Thess.3.b
20 For I haue no man lyke minded, who wyl naturally care for your state.
21 For al seeke their owne, not the thinges whiche are Jesus Christes.
D
22 Ye knowe the proofe of him, that as a sonne with the father, he hath serued with me in the Gospel.
23 Hym therefore I hope to sende, as soone as I knowe my state.
24 But I trust in the Lorde, that I also mee selfe shal comme shortly.
25 But I supposed it necessary, to send to you Epaphroditus my brother and companion in labour, and felowe souldier, but your apostle, and minister of my neede.

26 For he longed after you al, and was ful of heauinesse, because that ye had hearde that he had benne sicke.

27 And no doubt he was sicke nigh vnto death, but God had mercy on him: and not on hym onely, but on me also: lest I should haue sorowe vpon sorowe.

C 28 I sent hym therefore the more diligently, that when ye see him agayne, ye may reioyce, and that I may be the lesse sorowful.

29 Receiue him therefore in the Lorde with al gladnesse, and *make muche of suche:

2. He warneth them to beware of false teachers, 3. agaynst whom he setteth Christe.

A 1 MOreouer my brethren, reioyce in the Lorde. It greeueth me not to wryte the same thynges often to you, for to you it is a sure thyng.

(a) Which barke against the true doctrine, to fille their bellies.

2 Beware of (a) dogges, beware of euyl workers, beware of (b) concision.

(b) S. Paul here alludeth vnto circumcisiō by semblance of a lyke woord, because that they who craked therof, did rather cause a scisme, diuision, or cutting of and tearyng in sunder, then an accorde in the Churche.

3 For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirite, & reioyce in Christe Iesus, and haue no confidence in the flesh:

4 Though I myght also haue confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more:

5 Circumcised ỳ eight day, of the kinred of Israel, of ỳ tribe of Beniamin, an Hebrue of the Hebrues, after the lawe a Pharisee.

* or, pelfe, or chaffe.

9 And be founde in him, not hauyng mine owne ryghteousnesse which is of the lawe: but that whiche is through the fayth of Christ, the ryghteousnesse which commeth of God through fayth:

10 That I may know hym, and the power of his resurrection, and the felowship of his passions, being made conformable vnto his death,

* Assaying.

11 * If by any meanes I myght atteyne vnto the resurrection of the dead.

12 (c) Not as though I had already atteyned, either were already perfect: but I followe, if that I may comprehende, wherein also I am comprehended of Christe Iesus.

(c) Or, haue nowe taken ful possession thereof, not that he doubted to atteine vnto it, but because he woulde declare the excellencie thereof.

13 Brethren, I count not mee self as yet that I haue atteyned: but this one thing (I say,) I forgeat those thinges which are behind, and endeuour mee selfe vnto those thinges whiche are before,

C

14 And I presse toward the marke, for the price of the hygh calling of God in Christe Iesus.

15 Let vs therfore as many as be perfect, be thus minded: And if ye be otherwyse minded, God shal reueale ỳ same also vnto you.

16 Neuertheless, vnto that which we haue atteyned vnto, let vs proceede by one rule, that we may be of one accorde.

17 *Brethren, be followers togeather of me, and looke on them whiche walke so as ye haue vs for an ensample.

6 Be careful for nothyng: but in al thinges let your petition be manifest vnto God, in prayer and supplication with geuing of thankes.

7 And

7 And the peace of God whiche passeth al vnderstandyng, shal (b) keepe your hartes and your mindes throughe Christe Iesus.

(b) From Satan, who seeketh to take from vs this peace of conscience.

8 Furthermore brethren, what so euer thinges are true, what so euer thinges (are) honest, what so euer thinges (are) iust, what so euer thinges (are) pure, what so euer things parteyne to loue, what so euer thinges (are) of honest report: yf there be any vertue, and if there be * any prayse, thinke on these thinges:

* or, any thyng prayse woorthy.

9 Whiche ye haue both learned, and receiued, and heard, & seene in me, these things doo: and the god of peace shalbe with you.

10 But I reioyce in the Lorde greatly, that nowe at the last you are renued agayne to care for me in that wherein ye were also careful, but ye lacked opportunitie.

11 I speake not because of (c) necessitie: for I haue learned, in what so euer estate I am, * therewith to be content.

(c) That I was not able to endure my pouertie, 1. Tim. 6. b

13 I can doo al thynges throughe Christe, whiche strengtheneth me.

14 Notwithstandyng, ye haue wel donne, ¶ that ye dyd communicate to my affliction.

15 Ye Philippians knowe also, that in the (d) beginnyng of the Gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no Church communicated to me, as concerning geuing and receiuing, but ye only.

(d) When I first preached the Gospel vnto you.

16 For euen in Thessalonica ye sent once, and agayne vnto my necessitie.

17 Not that I desyre a gyft: but I desyre fruite aboundyng to your accompt.

18 But I haue receiued al, and haue plentie: I was euen fylled after that I had receiued of Epaphroditus the thinges (whiche were sent) from you, an odour of a sweete smel, a * sacrifyce acceptable, pleasant to God.

4 Sence we heard of your fayth (a) in Christe Iesus, and of the loue whiche ye haue to al saintes:

6 Whiche is comme vnto you euen as (it is) in al the worlde, and is fruiteful, as it is also in you, from the day ye heard (of it) and knewe the grace of God in trueth.

(b) Because these questionistes preferred their curious fables to al other knowledge, & beautified them with the lawe, as if they had ben the very lawe of God: Saint Paul sheweth that the ende of Gods lawe is loue, whiche can not be without a good conscience, neither a good conscience without fayth, nor fayth without the woord of God: So their doctrine whiche is an occasion of contentyon, is worth nothing. 5 But the (b)ende of the commaundement, is charitie out of a pure hart, and of a good conscience, and of fayth vnfaigned.

6 From the whiche thinges some hauyng erred, haue turned vnto vayne iangling:

A 1 THis is) a faythful saying: If a man desyre the office of a Bysshop, he desyreth a good worke.

2 A Bishop therfore must be blameleſſe, the husbande of one wyfe, watchyng, sober, comely apparelled, a louer of hospitalitie, apt to teache,

3 Not geuen to ouermuche wine, no striker, not greedie of filthie lucre: but gentle, abhorryng fyghting, abhorryng couetousnesse:

10 And let them first be proued, then let them minister, beyng blameleſſe.

11 Euen so must theyr wiues be graue, not euyl speakers, sober, faythful in al thyngs.

12 Let the deacons be the husbandes of one wyfe, and suche as can rule theyr children wel, and theyr owne houholdes.

13 * For they that haue ministred wel, geat them selues a good degree, and great libertie to speake in the fayth (whiche is) in Christe Iesus. Mat. 25. b.

15 But yf I tary long, that thou mayest knowe howe thou oughtest to behaue thee selfe in the house of GOD, whiche is the Churche of the liuing God, the pyller and grounde of the * trueth.

* or, stay.

16 And without doubt, great is that mysterie of godlynesse: * God was shewed manyfestly in the flesshe, was iustified in the spirite, was seene among ỹ angels, was preached vnto the gentiles, was beleeued on in the worlde, and was receiued vp in glory. John. 1. b.

The. ii. Chapter.

1. He exhorteth vs to be obedient vnto the newe lawe whiche Christe hath geuen vs.

A 1 Wherefore we ought to gene the more earnest heede to the thinges whiche we haue heard: lest at any (a) tyme we shoulde let them slippe.
(a) We must diligently kepe in memorie, the doctrine whiche we haue learned, lest lyke vessels ful of chaps, we leake and runne out on euery part.
2 For yf the (b) woorde spoken by angels, was stedfast, and euery transgression and disobedience receiued a iust recompence of rewarde:
(b) As the Gospel is, whiche only offereth saluation.
3 How shal we escape if we neglect so great saluation? whiche at the fyrst begamne to be preached of the Lorde, and was confyrmed vnto vswarde by them that heard it,
Mark. 16.d 4 * God bearing witnesse (thereto) both with signes and woonders also, and with diuers powers, & gifts of the holy ghost according to his owne wyl.
5 For vnto the angels hath he not put in subiection the worlde to comme, whereof we speake.
Psal. 7 a. 6 But one in a certayne place witnessed, sayeing, What is man, that thou art mindful of him? or the sonne of man that thou visitest him?
B 7 Thou madest him for a litle whyle lower then the angels, thou hast crowned him with (c) glory and honour, and * hast set him aboue the woorkes of thy handes.
(c) In makyng him felowe heyre with Christe Psal. 8.b. 1. Cor. 15.a.
8 Thou hast put al thinges in subiection vnder his feete. In that he put al thinges vnder him, he left nothing that is not put vnder him. But nowe we see not yet al thinges put vnder him.
9 But him that for a whyle was made lesse then the angels, we see (that it was) Jesus, who through the suffering of death, was crowned with glory and honour, that he by the grace of God, shoulde taste of death for al.
10 For it became him, for whom are al thinges, and by whom are al thinges, after he had brought many sonnes vnto glory, that he shoulde make the captayne of their saluation perfect through afflictions.
11 For both he that sanctifyeth, and they whiche are sanctifyed (are) al of one: For which cause, he is not ashamed to cal them brethren, 12 Sayeing, I wyl declare thy name vnto my * brethren, in the middes of the Church wyl I prayse thee.
Psal. 22.e. John. 20.d.
13 And agayne, I wyl put my trust in hym. And agayne, Beholde here am I, and the children whiche God hath geuen me.
14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of fleash and blood, he also him selfe C likewyse tooke part with them, that thorowe death he might expel him that had lordship ouer death, that is the deuil:
15 And that he might deliuer them whiche through feare of death, were al their lyfe time in danger of bondage.
16 For he in no place taketh on him the (d) angels: but the seede of Abraham taketh he on him.
(d) Not the nature of angels, but of menne.
17 Wherefore in al thinges it became hym to be made like vnto his brethren, that he myght be mercyful, and a faythful high priest in thinges concernyng GOD, for to purge the peoples synnes.
18 For in that he him selfe suffered, and was tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

The. iii. Chapter.

1. He requireth them to be obedient vnto the woorde of Christe, 3. who is more woorthy then Moses.

1 Therefore holy brethren, partakers of A the celestial callyng, (a) consyder the apostle and high priest of our profession Christe Jesus,
(a) Take heede to his woordes and heare him.
2 Beyng faythful to him that appoynted hym, as also Moses (was faythful) in al his his house.

3 For this (man) is counted worthy of more glory then Moses, inasmuche as he whiche hath buylded the house, hath more honour then the house.

4 For euery house is buylded of some man: but he that buylded al thinges, is God.

5 And Moses veryly was faythful in al his house, as a seruant, for a witnesse of those thinges whiche were to be spoken after:

6 But Christe as a sonne hath rule ouer his owne house: (b) whose house are we, if we holde fast the confidence and the reioycyng of that hope vnto the ende.

(b) For in obeying the sonne, we are made the house of god Rom. 5. a. B

7 Wherefore, as the holy ghost sayth, To day if ye wyl heare his voyce,

8 Harden not your hartes, as in the prouocation in the day of the temptation in the wyldernesse:

9 Where your fathers tempted me, proued me, and sawe my woorkes fourtie yeeres.

10 Wherefore I was greeued with this generation, and sayde, They doo alway erre in hart, they veryly haue not knowen my wayes.

(c) Here note the Hebrue phrase, meanyng that they shal not enter.

11 So that I sware in my wrath, (c) If they shal enter into my rest.

12 Take heede brethren, lest at any tyme there be in any of you an euyl hart of vnbeleefe, to depart from the lyuing God:

13 But exhort ye one another dayly, whyle it is called to day: least any of you be hardened through the deceiptfulnesse of sinne.

C

(d) Whiche is, by faith to imbrace and hold fast the true doctrine of Iesus Christe.

14 For we are made partakers of Christ, if we keepe sure vnto the ende (d) the begynnyng of the substance.

" or, whyle. * The lorde.

15 " So long as it is sayd, To day if ye wyl heare his voyce, harden not your hartes, as in the prouocation.

16 For somme when they had hearde, dyd prouoke*: howe be it, not al that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 But with whom was he displeased fourtie yeeres? Not with them that had sinned, whose carkases fel in the desart?

18 And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but vnto them that were not obedient?

19 And we see that they could not enter in, because of vnbeleefe.

The. iiii. Chapter.

2. The woorde without fayth is vnprofitable. 3. The Sabboth or rest of the Christians. 6. Pounishment of vnbeleeuers. 12. The nature of the woorde of God.

A 1 LEt vs feare therefore, lest at any tyme by forsakyng the promise of entring into his rest, any of you shoulde seeme to be defrauded.

2 For vnto vs was the Gospel preached, as wel as vnto them: but the woorde whiche they heard, did not profite them, not beyng coupled with fayth to them that hearde.

3 For we which haue beleeued, doo enter into his rest, as he sayde, Euen as I haue sworne in my wrath, if (a) they shal enter into my rest: although the woorkes were made perfect from the fundation of the worlde.

(a) Although that God by his rest after the creation of his woorkes, signified the spiritual rest of the faythful: yet he sware to geue rest in Chanaan, whiche was but a figure of the heauenly rest, & dured but for a tyme. Gen. 2. a. B

4 For he spake in a certayne place of the seuenth day on this wyse, * And God dyd rest the seuenth day from al his woorkes.

5 And in this place agayne, If they shal enter into my rest.

6 Seeyng therfore it foloweth that somme must enter there into, & they to whom the Gospel was first preached entred not therin for vnbeleefe.

7 Agayne, he appoynteth a certayne day, by to day, sayeing in Dauid after so long a time (as it is sayd,) To day if ye wyl heare his voyce, harden not your hartes.

8 For if (b) Iesus had geuen them rest, then woulde he not afterwarde haue spoken of another day.

(b) By Iesus is meant Iesua.

9 There remayneth therefore yet a rest to the people of God.

10 For he that is entred into his rest, hath ceassed also from his owne woorkes, as god (dyd) from his.

11 Let vs studie therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fal " after the same example of disobedience.

" or, into.

12 For the woorde of G O D is quicke and mightie in operation, and sharper then any two edged swoorde, and entreth through euen vnto the diuiding a sunder of the (c) soule and the (d) spirite, and of the ioyntes and the marowe, and is a discerner of the thoughtes and of the intentes of the hart.

(c) Where the affections are. (d) Whiche conteyneth wyl and reason.

13 Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in the sight of him: but al thinges (are) naked and open vnto the eyes of hym of whom we speake.

14 Seeyng then that we haue a great hygh priest, which is entred into heauens, Iesus the sonne of G O D, let vs holde fast (this) confession.

C

15 For we haue not an high priest which can not be touched with the feelyng of our infirmities: but * was in al poyntes tempted lyke as we are, and (yet) without sinne.

Phil. 2. a.

16 * Let vs therfore comme boldly vnto the throne of grace, that we may obteyne mercy, & finde grace to helpe in tyme of neede.

Exod. 25. b.

The. v. Chapter.

5. He compareth Iesus Christe with the Leuitical priestes, shewing wherein they eyther agree, or dissent.

A 1 FOr euery high priest taken from among men, is ordeyned for menne, in thynges (parteynyng) to God, to offer (a) gyftes, and sacrifices for sinne:

Leuit. 9. b

(a) He sheweth that man can haue none accesse to god, without an hygh priest, because that of him selfe he is prophane and sinneful.

2 Whiche can sufficiently haue compassion on the ignorant, and on them that erre out of the way, forasmuche as he hym selfe also is compassed with infirmitie.

3 And for the same (infirmitie) he is bounde to offer for sinnes, aswel for him selfe, as for the people.

4 And no man taketh the honour vnto hym selfe, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.

5 Euen so, Christ also glorified not him self to be made the high priest: but he that sayd vnto hym, * Thou art my sonne, to day I haue begotten thee (gaue it hym.)

Psal. 2. b. Actes. 13. c

6 As he sayth also in another place, * Thou art a priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech.

Heb. 1. b. Psal. 110. b

B 7 Whiche in the dayes of his flesshe, when he had offered vp prayers & supplications with (b) strong cryeing and teares, vnto hym that was able to saue him frō death, and was heard in that whiche he (c) feared:

(b) He meaneth the most earnest prayer which Christ prayed in the garden, where he sweat drops of blood.

8 Though he were the sonne, yet learned he obedience, by these thinges whiche he suffered.

(c) Beyng in perplexitie, and fearing the horrours of death.

9 And beyng perfect, was made the authour of eternal saluatiō vnto al them that obey hym:

10 And is called of God an high priest after the order of Melchisedech.

11 Of whom we haue many thinges to say, and harde to be vttered, seeyng ye are dul of hearing.

12 For when as concernyng the tyme, ye ought to be teachers, yet haue ye neede agayne that we teach you the first principles of the beginning of the woorde of God, and are become suche as haue neede of * mylke, and not of strong meate.

I. Cor. 3. a

13 For euery one that vseth mylke, is vnexpert of the woorde of ryghteousnesse, for he is a babe.

C 14 But strong meate belongeth to them that are perfect, euen those whiche by reason of vse, haue their wittes exercised to discerne both good and euyl.

The. vi. Chapter.

I. He proceedeth in reprouing them, and exhorteth them not to faynt, 12. but to be stedfast and patient, 18. forasmuch as God is sure in his promise.

(a) Whereby it may appeare that you are fully perswaded of lyfe euerlastyng.

1 THerfore leauing the doctrine of the beginning (a) of Christ, let vs goe forth vnto perfection, not laying agayne the foundation of repentance from dead woorkes, and of fayth towarde God,

2 Of the doctrine of baptismes, and of laying on of handes, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal iudgement.

3 And this wyl we doo, * yf God permit.

Actes. 4. b and. 18. c

4 For it can not be that they whiche were once lyghted, & haue tasted of the heauenly gyft, and were become partakers of the holy ghost,

5 And haue tasted of the good woord of god, and the powers of the worlde to comme:

6 * And they fal away, shoulde be renued agayne into repentance, crucifying to them selues the sonne of God a freshe, and makyng a mocke of him.

Mat. 12. B 2. Pet. 2. d Heb. 10. b.

7 For the earth whiche hath dronken in the rayne that commeth oft vpon it, and bryngeth forth herbes meete for them by whō also it is tylled, receiueth blessing of God:

B

8 But that grounde which beareth thornes and bryers, is reprooued, and is nygh vnto cursing, whose ende is to be burned.

9 Neuertheles, deare freendes, we are perswaded better thinges of you, and thynges whiche accompany saluation, though we thus speake.

10 For GOD is not vnryghteous, * to forgeat your woorke and labour of loue, whiche ye haue shewed towarde his name, hauing ministred to the saintes, and (doo) minister.

Mat. 25. c

11 Yea, and we desyre that euery one of you doo shewe the same diligence, to the ful assurance of hope, vnto the ende, 12 That ye faynt not, but be folowers of (b) them, whiche thorough fayth & patience inherite the promises.

(b) As the holy fathers, prophetes, & martyrs, that were before vs.

13 For when God made promise to Abraham, because he coulde sweare by no greater, * he sware by hym selfe,

Gen. 12. c

14 Sayeing, Surely, blessing, I wyl blesse thee, & multiplying, I wil multiply thee.

C

15 And so after that he had tarryed patiently, he obteyned the promise.

16 For menne verily sweare by the greater, * and an othe for confirmation, is to them an ende of al strife.

Exod. 22. a.

17 Wherein God wyllyng more (c) abundantly to shewe vnto the heyres of promise the stablenesse of his counsayle, confirmed by an othe:

(c) Because of mans wickednesse, whiche wyl not beleeue God, except he sweare,

18 That by (d) two immutable thynges, in which it was impossible for God to lye, we myght haue a strong consolation, whiche haue fledde to holde fast the hope layde before vs:

(d) Goddes woorde and othe, are two thynges in him vnchangeable.

19 Whiche (hope) we holde as an ancker of the soule both sure & stedfast, and entring in in into that thing whiche is within the vayle:

20 Whither the forerunner is for vs entred, (euen) Iesus, after the order of Melchisedech made * a priest for euer.

Hebre. 8.a.

The.vii. Chapter,

1. He compareth the priesthood of Christe vnto Melchisedech, 11. also Christes priesthood with the Leuites.

A Gene. 14.d.
1 FOR this Melchisedech king of *Salem, priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kynges, and blessed hym:
2 To whom also Abraham gaue tithe of al thinges: first being called by interpretation king of righteousnesse: and after that also, king of Salem, which is king of peace,
(a) So called, because that Moses maketh no mention of his parentes or kinsfolkes, but as he had ben sodenly sent of God into the worlde, to be a figure of Christe, or euerlastyng priest, and shortly taken out of the worlde agayne. So Christe as touchyng his humanitie, had no father, and concernyng his diuinitie, no mother.
3 Without (a) father, without mother, without kin, hauing neither beginning of dayes, neyther ende of lyfe, but likened vnto the sonne of God, continueth a priest for euer.
4 Nowe consyder howe great this (man) was, vnto whom also the patriarche Abraham gaue tithe of the spoyles.
5 And verily they whiche are of the chyldren of Leui, which receiue the office of the priestood, haue a commaundement to take tithe of the people accordyng to the lawe, that is, of their brethren, though they came out of the loynes of Abraham.
6 But he whose kinrede is not counted among them, receiued tithe of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.
7 And without al controuersie, the lesse is blessed of the better.
8 And here men that dye, receiue tithes: but there he (receiueth them) of whom it is witnessed that he liueth.
9 And (to say the trueth) Leui also whiche receiueth tithes, paied tithes in Abraham.
10 For he was yet in the loynes of his father, when Melchisedech met Abraham.
Rom. 2.c. Galat. 3.c.
11 *If therfore perfection was by the priesthood of the Leuites (For vnder that priesthood the people receiued the lawe) what needed it furthermore that another priest should rise after the order of Melchisedech, & not to be called after the order of Aaron?
12 For yf the priesthood be translated, of necessitie also there is made a translation of the lawe.
13 For he of whom these thinges are spoken, parteyneth vnto another tribe, of whiche no man gaue attendance at the aulter.
C Mat. 1.a.
14 For it is euident that our Lorde sprong *out of Iuda, of whiche tribe spake Moses nothyng concernyng priesthood:
15 And (it is) yet a farre more euident thing, yf after the similitude of Melchisedech there aryse another priest,
16 Whiche is not made after the lawe of the carnal commaundement, but after the power of the endlesse lyfe:
17 For he thus testifyeth,* Thou art a priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech. Psal. 110.b Hebre. 4.a.
18 For there is truely a disanullyng of the commaundement goyng before, for the weakenesse and vnprofytablenesse thereof.
19 For the *lawe made nothing perfect, but (was) the bryngyng in of a better hope, by the whiche we drawe nigh vnto God. Rom. 8.a. Galat. 3.c.
20 And in as muche as that was not without an othe, (For those priestes were made without an othe:
21 But this priest with an othe, by him that sayde vnto hym, The Lorde *sware, and wyl not repent him, thou art a priest for euer after the order of Melchisedech,) D Psal. 110.a
22 By so much was Iesus made a suretie of a better testament.
23 And among them many were made priestes, because they were forbidden by death to endure:
24 But this man, because he endureth euer, hath (b) an vnchangeable priesthood. (b) Therfore al others are blasphemous that eyther make them selues his successours, or pretende any other sacrifyce. 1. Tim. 2.a.
25 Wherfore he is able also euer to saue them to the vttermost, that come vnto GOD by hym, seeing he euer liueth, *to make intercession for them.
26 For suche an high priest became vs, (whiche is) holy, harmelesse, vndefyled, separate from synners, and made hygher then heauens:
27 Whiche needeth not dayly, as those hygh priestes, *to offer vp sacrifyce, first for his owne synnes, and then for the peoples: for that dyd he once, when he offered vp hym selfe. 1. John 2.b Leuit. 9.b.
28 * For the lawe maketh men high priestes whiche haue infyrmitie: but the woord of the othe whiche was after the lawe (maketh) the sonne, whiche is perfect for euermore. Hebre. 5.a.

The. viii. Chapter.

6. He proueth the abolyshyng aswel of the Leuitical priesthood, as of the olde couenant, by the spiritual and euerlastyng priesthood of Christe, 8. and by the newe couenant.

1 BVT of the thinges whiche we haue spoken, (this is) the summe: * We haue suche an hygh priest, that sytteth on the ryght hande of the throne of the maiestie in the heauens, A Hebre. 6.b. and. 10.c.
2 A minister of holy thynges, and of the true tabernacle, whiche the Lorde pight, and not man.

3 For euery high priest is ordeyned to offer gyftes and sacrifyces: Wherefore it is of necessitie, that this man haue somwhat also to offer.

4 For he were not a priest, yf he were on ẏ earth, seing that there are priestes, that according to the lawe offer gyftes, Colos. 2.c. Hebre 10.a. 5 Who serue vnto the example and *shadow of heauenly thinges, as Moses was admonished of God, when he was about to finishe the tabernacle: *For see, sayth he, that thou make al thinges according to the paterne shewed to thee in the mount.

6 But nowe hath he obteyned a more excellent office, by howe muche also he is the mediatour of a better * couenant, whiche was confyrmed in better promises.

B 7 For yf that fyrst (couenant) had ben faultlesse, then shoulde no place haue ben sought for the seconde.

Jere. 31.f. 8 For in rebuking them, he sayth, *Behold, the dayes (a) comme, sayth the Lorde, and I wyl finishe vpon the house of Israel, and vpon the house (b) of Juda, a newe couenant:

(a) That is, when Christ shal remit our sinnes by the preaching of the Gospel.

9 Not lyke that, that I made with their fathers, in the day when I tooke them by the hande, to leade them out of the lande of Egypt: because they continued not in my couenant, and I regarded them not, sayth the Lorde.

(b) Signifying that there should be no more diuision, but al shalbe made one Churche.

10 For this is the couenant that I wil make with the house of Israel after those dayes, sayth the Lorde: geuing my lawes into their minde, and in their hart I wyl write them, and I wyl be to them a God, and they shalbe to me a people.

11 And they shal not (c) teache euery man his neighbour, and euery man his brother, sayeing, Know the Lorde: for al shal know me, from the litle of them, to the great of them.

(c) Men shal not in the time of the Gospel be so ignorant as they were before: but shal knowe God muche more perfectly thorowe Christ.

12 For I wyl be merciful to their vnrighteousnesse, and their sinnes and their iniquities wyl I thinke vpon no more.

13 In that he sayth a new (couenant) he hath worne out the fyrst: For that whiche is worne out and waxed olde, is ready to vanishe away.

The. ix. Chapter.

I. Howe that the ceremonies and sacrifyces of the lawe are abolished, II. by the eternitie and perfection of Christes sacrifyce.

1 THe fyrst (couenant) then had verely * iustifying ordinances, seruinges of God, and worldly holynesse.

* or, ceremonies of seruice. Exod. 25.b

2 For * there was a tabernacle made, the fyrst (truely) wherin was the candelsticke, and the table, and the shewe bread, whiche is called holy.

3 But after the (a) seconde vayle, (was) a tabernacle, whiche is called holiest of al:

(a) That is, on the inwardd syde of the vayle, whiche was hidde from the peopie. Exod. 16.g. Leuit. 17.a. Exod. 40.c. Exod. 30.b Leuit. 16.d.

4 Whiche had the golden sencer, and the arke of the couenant ouerlayde rounde about with golde, wherein was the golden pot hauing * Manna, and * Aarons rodde that had budded, and * the tables of the couenant:

5 And ouer it the Cherubims of glory, shadowing the mercie seate: Of whiche thynges we can not nowe speake particulerly.

6 When these thinges were thus ordeyned, the priestes went alwayes into the fyrst tabernacle, accomplishing the seruice of God.

7 But into the second (went) the high priest alone, *once euery yere, not without blood, whiche he offered for him selfe, and for the ignorances of the people.

(b) So long as the hygh priest offered once a yeere for his owne sinnes and for the peoples, and also whyle this earthly tabernacle stoode, the way to the heauenly tabernacle, whiche is made open by Christes blood, could not be entred into. Hebre. 6.d. 1. Pet. 1 b.

8 The holy ghost this signifiyng, that the (b) way of holy thinges, was not yet made manifest, whyle as yet the fyrst tabernacle was standyng:

9 Whiche (was) a similitude for the tyme then present, in whiche were offered gifts, and sacrifyces, that coulde not make the worshipper perfect as parteynyng to the conscience,

10 With only meates and drinkes, and diuers washinges, and iustifyinges of the fleashe, whiche were layde vp vntil the tyme of reformation.

The Epistle on the fyfth sunday in Lent.

11 But * Christe being come an high priest of good thinges that shoulde be, by a greater & more perfect tabernacle, not made with handes, that is to say, not of this buildyng, 12 Neither by ẏ blood of Goates, & Calues: but by * his owne blood he entred in once into the holy place, and founde eternal redemption.

(c) The Leuitical priestes offered beastes blood: But Christ the true and eternal priest, offered his own blood, which was most holy and pure. The Leuitical priest offered yeerely, and therfore dyd only represent the true holynesse: but Christ by one only sacrifyce hath made holy for euer them that beleeue:

13 For yf the (c) blood of Oxen & of Goates, and the asshes of a young Cowe, sprinckling the vncleane, sanctifyeth to the purifiyng of the fleashe:

14 Howe muche more the blood of Christe, whiche through the eternal spirite offered him selfe without spot to God, shal purge your conscience from dead workes, to serue the liuing God?

15 And for this cause is he the mediatour of the newe * couenant, that through death, whiche was for the redemption of the transgressions (that were) vnder the fyrst * couenant, they whiche are called might receiue the promise of eternal inheritance.

16 For where as is a testament, there must also of necessitie be the death of him that made the testament.

The Epistle on the Wednesday before Easter.

17 For

17 For a testament is confirmed when men are dead: for it is yet of no value, as long as he that made the testament is alyue.

18 For whiche cause also, neyther the first (testament) was dedicated without blood.

19 For when Moses had spoken euery precept to al the people accordyng to the lawe, taking the blood of Calues, and of Goates, with water and purple wool, and hysope, he sprynkled both the booke it selfe, and al the people, Exod.24.b 20 Sayeing, This (is) the blood of the testament, whiche God hath enioyned vnto you.

D 21 And lykewyse he sprynkled with blood both the tabernacle, and al the vesselles of the ministerie.

22 And almoste al thinges are by the lawe purged with blood, and without sheddyng of blood is no remission.

23 It is neede then that the paternes of heauenly thinges be purified with suche thinges: but the heauenly thinges them selues (be purified) with better sacrifices then are those.

Actes.16.c. 24 * For Christe is not entred into the holy place made with handes (whiche are) paternes of true thinges: but into heauen it self, now * to appeare in the sight of God for vs.

1.Ioh.2.a.

(d) Therfore to make any other offering or sacrifice for sin, after that Christes body was once offered, is blasphemie. 25 Not that he shoulde offer him selfe (d) often, as the high priest entreth into the holy places, euery yeere in strange blood.

26 (For thē must he haue often suffered since the fundation of the world:) but now once in the end of the world hath he appeared, to put away sinne, by the sacrifice of him self.

27 And as it is appoynted vnto men once to dye, and after this the iudgement:

Rom.5.b. 1.Pet.3.d. 28 * Euen so Christ once offred to take away the sinnes of many, the seconde time shalbe seene without sinne of them whiche wayte for him vnto saluation.

The.x. Chapter.

1. The olde lawe had no power to cleanse away sinne, 10. but Christe did it with offering of his body once for al.

A 1 FOR the lawe hauing the (a) shadowe of good thinges to come, and not the very fashion of the thynges them selues, can neuer with those sacrifices whiche they offer yeere by yeere continually, make the commers thereunto perfect.

The Epistle on good Friday.

Colos.2.c. Heb.8.a. (a) Whiche was as it were the first draught and purtract of the lyuely paterne to come.

2 For would not then those (sacrifices) haue ceassed to haue ben offered, because that the offerers once purged, shoulde haue had no more conscience of sinnes?

3 Neuertheless, in those (sacrifices) is mention made of sinnes euery yeere.

5 Wherefore when he commeth into the worlde, he sayth, * Sacrifice and offeryng thou wouldest not haue: but a body hast thou ordeyned me. Psal.40.b.

6 In burnt sacrifices (and offerynges) for sinne thou hast had no pleasure:

7 Then sayde I, Loe, I come, (In the beginning of the booke it is wrytten of me) to doo thy wyl, O God. B

8 Aboue when he sayth, that sacrifice and offering, & burnt offeringes, (and offerings) for sinne thou wouldest not, neither haddest pleasure (therein) (which are offred by the lawe:)

(b) That is, sacrifices. (c) Which is the wyl of god, to stand content with Christes sacrifice.

10 In the which wyl we are made holy, euē by the offeryng of the body of Iesus Christ once for al.

11 And euery priest standeth dayly ministring, and offeryng oftentimes the same sacrifices, whiche can neuer take awaye sinnes:

12 But this man after he hath offered one sacrifice for sinnes, is sit downe for euer on the ryght hande of God, 13 From hencefoorth tarrying tyl his foes be made his footstoole.

14 For with one offeryng hath he made perfect for euer them that are sanctified. C

15 And the holy ghost also beareth vs recorde: For after that he had tolde before,

16 This is the " couenant that I wyl make vnto them after those dayes, (sayth the Lorde) geuing my lawes in their hart, and in their myndes wyl I wryte them:

17 And their sinnes and iniquities, wyl I in no wyse remember any more.

18 And where remission of these thinges (is) there (is) no more offering for sinne.

19 Hauing therfore, brethrē, libertie to enter into holy (places) in the (d) blood of Iesus,

(d) We by Christ haue that libertie whiche the ancient fathers coulde not haue by the lawe.

20 By the newe and (e) liuing way, which he hath prepared for vs through the vayle, that is to say, his flesh:

(e) The blood of Christe is alwaies fresh and lyuely before the father, to sprinkle and quicken vs.

21 And (seeyng we haue) an high priest ouer the house of God:

22 Let vs drawe nigh with a true hart, in assurance of fayth, sprynkled in our hartes from an euyl conscience, and washed in body with pure water.

23 Let vs holde the profession of the hope without wauering, (for he is faythful that promised:)

24 And let vs consyder one another to prouoke vnto loue, and good woorkes, 34 For ye suffered also with my bondes, & tooke in woorth the spoyling of your goods with gladnesse: knowyng in your selues how that ye haue in heauen a better and an enduring substance.

35 Cast not away therfore your confidence, whiche hath great recompence of reward.

36 For ye haue neede of patience, that after ye haue done the wyl of God, ye might receyue the promise.

The.xi Chapter.

1. What fayth is, and a commendation of the same.

* or, representation.

FAyth is the * grounde of thinges hoped for, the euidence of thinges not seene:

" or, our forefathers. (a) Haue ben approued, & ib. obteyned testimonie. 2 For by it " the (a) elders obteyned a good reporte.

3 Through fayth we vnderstande, that the worldes were ordeyned by the woorde of God, & that thinges which are seene, were made of thynges * which were not seene. Actes.13.c. Roma.1.c.

4 * By fayth Abel offered vnto God a more excellent sacrifice then Cain, by whiche he was witnessed to be (b) righteous, God testifiyng of his gyftes: by whiche also he being dead, yet speaketh. Gene.4.a. (b) Because God receiued hym to mercy, therfore he imputed hym ryghteous.

5 By fayth was * Enoch translated, that he should not see death, neyther was he found, for God had taken him away: For afore he was taken away, he was reported of to haue pleased God. Gene.5.g. Sapi.4.b.

6 But without fayth it is vnpossible to please him: for he that commeth to God, must beleeue that God is, & that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seeke him. Eccle.44.b

7 * By fayth Noe being warned of God of thinges not seene as yet, mooued with reuerence, prepared the arke to the sauing of his house, through the which (arke) he * condemned the worlde, & became heire of the ryghteousnesse whiche is by fayth. B Gene.6.d. Mat.12.d.

8 By fayth * Abraham when he was called, obeyed (God) to go out into a place which he should afterward receiue to inheritance: and he went out, not knowing whither he shoulde goe. Gene.11.a. Actes.7.a.

9 By fayth he remoued into the land of promise, as into a strange countrey, when he had dwelt in tabernacles with Isahac and Jacob, heires with him of ỹ same promise:

10 For he looked for a citie hauing a fundation, whose buylder and maker is God.

11 Through fayth also Sara her selfe receiued strength to conceiue seede, and was deliuered of a childe when she was past age, because she iudged him faithful whiche had promised. Gene.21.a.

12 And therfore sprang there of one, euen of one which was as good as dead, * (so many) in multitude as are the starres in the skye, and as the sande whiche is by the sea shore innumerable. Gene.15.a.

13 These al died according to faith, not hauing receiued the promises, but when they had seene them a farre of, and beleeued, and saluted, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrimes on the earth. Job.8.g. Gene.47.b. 1. Par.29.d C

14 For they that say suche thinges, declare that they seeke a countrey. Exod.3.f. Gen.12.a.

15 Also yf they had benne myndeful of that (countrey) from whence they came out, they had leysure to haue returned: Eccls.44.c

16 But now they desire a better (countrey) that is, a heauenly: Wherefore God is not ashamed of them * to be called their God, for he hath prepared for them a citie. (c) For it might seeme to the flesh, that the promise was cõtrary to the commandement, to sacrifice his sonne.

17 * By fayth Abraham offered vp Isahac when he was (c) proued: and he that had receyued receiued the promises, offered vp his only begotten sonne,

18 To whom it is sayd, that in Isahac shal thy seede be called.

19 For he considered that God was able to rayse the dead vp agayne, from whence also he receiued him in a (certayne) similitude (of the resurrection.)

Gene.27.B. 20 * By fayth did Isahac blesse Iacob and Esau, concerning thinges to come.

D 21 * By fayth Iacob when he was a dying, blessed both the sonnes of Ioseph, and worshipped ° towarde the top of his scepter.

Gen.49.a. * Some reade, leanyng vpon his staffe.

22 * By faith Ioseph when he dyed, remembred the departing of the children of Israel: & gaue commaundement of his bones.

Gen.50.d. 23 By fayth * Moses when he was borne, was hyd three monethes of his father and mother, because they sawe he was a proper childe, neyther feared they the kinges commaundement.

Exod.2.b. 24 * By fayth Moses when he was great, refused to be called the sonne of Pharaos daughter:

25 Choosing rather to suffer aduersitie with the people of God, then to enioy the pleasures of sinne for a season:

26 Esteeming the rebuke of Christ, greater riches then the treasures of Egypt: For he had respect vnto the recompence of the reward.

Exod.12.k. 27 * By faith he forsooke Egypt, fearing not the wrath of the king: For he endured, euen as though he had seene him which is inuisible.

Exod.12.d 28 * Through fayth he ordeyned the Passouer & the effusion of blood, lest he that destroyed the first borne, should touche them.

Exod.14.c 29 * By fayth they passed through the red sea, as by dry land: which the Egyptians assaying to do, were drowned.

Iosue.6.c. 30 * By fayth ỹ walles of Iericho fel downe, after they were compassed about seuen dayes.

Iosue.2.a. 31 * By faith the harlot Rahab perished not with them that were disobedient, when she had receiued the spyes with peace.

32 And what shal I more say? for the tyme would fayle me to rehearse of Gedeon, of * Barac, and of * Sampson, and of * Iephthae, of * Dauid also * and Samuel, and of the prophetes:

35 * The women receiued theyr dead, raysed to lyfe agayne: Other were racked, not lookyng for deliuerance, that they myght receiue a better resurrection. 3.Reg.19.a

36 And others were tryed with mockinges, and scourginges: Yea, moreouer with bondes and prysonment:

37 * They were stoned, were hewen a sunder, were tempted, were slaine with swoorde, wandred about in sheepskinnes, and goate skinnes, being destitute, afflicted, (and) tormented: 3 Reg. 21.b Esai.38.a.

38 Of whom the woorld was not woorthy: They wandred in wildernesse, & in mountaynes, and in dennes, & caues of the earth.

39 And these al through fayth, hauing obteyned good reporte, receiued (d) not the promise:

40 Whereas GOD had prepared a better thing for vs, that they without vs, should not be made perfect.

(d) They had not suche cleare lyght as we, for they looked for that whiche we haue, therefore it were shame for vs, yf at leaste we haue not as great constancie as they.

2. He exhoreth to reioyce in trouble, 6. to be feruent in prayer, with stedfast beleefe, 17. and to looke for al good thynges from aboue.

A The Epistle on saint Philip & Iames day.

1 Ames a seruant of God, and of the Lord Jesus Christe, to the twelue tribes whiche are scattered abroade, greeting.
2 My brethre, count it al ioy when ye fal into diuers temptations:
Job.42.a. Sapi.3.a. Rom.5.a.
3 Knowing (hir) that * the tryeing of your fayth woorketh patience,

5 If any of you lacke wysedome, * let him aske of God, that geueth to al men indifferently, and casteth no man in the teeth: and it shalbe geuen him.
6 But let him aske in fayth, nothing wauerynge: For he that wauereth, is lyke a waue of the sea, tost of the wynde, and carried with violence.
B 7 Neyther let that man thynke that he shal receiue any thyng of the Lorde.
8 A double mynded man is vnstable in al his wayes.
9 Let the brother of low degree, reioyce in that he is (a) exalted:

11 For (as) the Sunne hath ryssen with heat, and the grasse hath wythered, and his floure hath fallen away, and the beautie of the fashion of it hath perished: so also shal the riche man fade away in his wayes.
12 Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tryed, he shal receiue the crowne of lyfe, whiche the Lorde hath promised to them that loue him.
13 Let no man say when he is (b) tempted, I am tempted of God: For God can not be temped with euyl, neyther tempteth he any man.

23 For if * any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like vnto a man beholding his bodily face in a (d) glasse.

24 For he hath consydered him selfe, and is gone his ways, and hath forgotten immediatly what his fashion was.

25 *But who so looketh in the perfect lawe of libertie, and continueth (therein) he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the worke, shalbe blessed in his deede.

1. He forbiddeth to haue any respect of persons, 5. but to regarde the poore as wel as the riche.

1 A MY brethren, haue not the faith of our Lorde Jesus Christ the Lord of glory, (a) with respect of persons.

2 For if there come into your " company a man wearing a golde ring, in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poore man in vyle rayment:

3 And ye haue a respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, & say vnto him, Sit thou here in a good place: and say vnto the poore, Stande thou there, or sit here vnder my footstoole:

4 Are ye not partial in your selues, and are made iudges of euyl thoughtes?

5 Hearke, my deare beloued brethren, Hath not God chosen the poore of this worlde, (that they myght be) riche in fayth, & heyres of the kingdome, whiche he promised to them that loue him?

6 But ye haue despised the poore. Doo not riche menne oppresse you by tyrannie, and drawe you before the iudgement seates?

7 Doo not they blaspheme that good (b) name, by the whiche ye are named?

8 If ye fulfil the royal lawe accordyng to the scripture, Thou shalt loue thy neyghbour as thee selfe, ye doo wel:

9 But yf ye regarde one person more then another, ye commit sinne, and are rebuked of the lawe as transgressours.

10 Whosoeuer shal keepe the whole lawe, and yet fayle in one poynt, he is gylty of al.

11 For he that sayd, Doo not commit adulterie: sayd also, Doo not kyl: Though thou doo none adulterie, yet if thou kyl, thou art become a transgressour of the lawe.

12 So speake ye, and so doo, as they that shalbe iudged by the lawe of (c) libertie.

13 For he (shal haue) iudgement without mercy, that hath shewed no mercy: and mercy reioyceth agaynst iudgement.

14 What profiteth it, my brethren, though a man say, he hath fayth, & hath not deedes? can fayth saue him?

15 If a brother or a sister be naked, and destitute of dayly foode,

16 And one of you say vnto them, Departe in peace, be you warmed and filled: notwithstandyng, ye geue them not those thinges whiche are needeful to the body: what (shal it) profite?

17 Euen so fayth, yf it haue not deedes, is dead in it selfe.

18 But some man wyl say, Thou hast faith, and I haue deedes: shewe me thy fayth by thy (d) deedes, and I wyl shewe thee my fayth by my deedes.

19 Thou beleeuest that there is one God, thou doest wel: the deuyles also beleeue, and tremble.

20 But wylt thou knowe, O thou vayne man, that that fayth (whiche is) without woorkes, is dead.

21 Was not Abraham our father iustified through woorkes, when he had offered Isahac his sonne vpon the aulter?

22 Seest thou not howe that faith wrought with his deedes, and through the deedes was the fayth made perfect?

23 And the scripture was fulfilled, whiche sayth, Abraham beleeued God, and it was reputed vnto him for righteousnesse: and he was called the freende of God.

The.iii.Chapter.

2. He forbiddeth al ambition to seeke honour aboue our brethren. 3. He describeth the propertie of the tongue.

A 1 MY brethren, be not many maisters, knowyng howe that we shal receiue the greater damnation.

Mat.23.f. Prou.17.a.

2 For in many thinges we sinne al. If a man sinne not in (a) worde, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle al the body.

(a) He that is able to moderate his tongue hath atteyned to an excellent vertue.

3 Beholde, we put bittes in the horses mouthes, that they may obey vs, and we turne about their whole body:

4 Beholde also the shippes, whiche though they be so great, and are driuen of fierce windes, yet are they turned about with a very smal helme, whither soeuer the lust of the gouernour wyl:

13 Who is a wyse man, and endued with knowledge among you? let hym shewe his workes out of good conuersation with meekenesse of wysedome.

C 14 But if ye haue bitter enuyng and stryfe in your hart, glory not, neyther be lyers agaynst the trueth.

15 For suche wisdome descendeth not from aboue: but is earthly, sensual, & deuilishe.

16 For where enuyng and strife is, there is sedition, and al manner of euil workes.

17 But the wisdome that is from aboue, is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, & easie to be entreated, ful of mercy & good fruites, without iudging, without simulation.

18 Yea, and the fruite of righteousnesse is sowen in peace, of them that make peace.

The.iiii.Chapter.

4. He exhorteth them to loue God, 7. and submit them selues to hym.

A 1 FRom whence commeth warres & fyghtynges among you? Come they not here hence, (euen) of your lustes that (a) fyght in your members?

(a) For the lawe of the members, continually fighteth agaynst the lawe of the mynde.

3 Ye aske, and receiue not, because ye aske amisse, euen to consume it vpon your lustes.

4 Ye adulterers, and (b) adultresses, knowe you not howe that the freendshyp of the worlde is enmitie with God? Whosoeuer therfore wyl be a freende of the worlde, is made the enimie of God.

(b) He calleth adulterers here, after the manner of the scriptures, them which preferre the pleasures of the worlde, to the loue of God.

4 And it seemeth to them a strange thyng, that ye runne not also with them vnto the same excesse of riot, and therefore speake they euyl of you:

5 Whiche shal geue accomptes to hym that is redy to iudge quicke and dead.

6 For vnto this purpose verely was the Gospel preached also vnto the (a) dead, that they shoulde be iudged lyke other men in the fleashe, but shoulde liue before God in the spirite.

7 The ende of al thinges is at hande. Be ye therfore sober, and watche vnto prayer.

8 But aboue al thynges haue feruent charitie among your selues: for charitie shal couer the multitude of synnes.

9 * Be ye harberous one to another, without grudging.

10 As euery man hath receiued the gyft, euen so minister the same one to another, as good stewardes of the manifolde grace of God.

11 If any man speake, (let him talke) as the wordes of God: * yf any man minister, let him doo it as * of the abilitie whiche God ministreth (vnto hym) that God in al thynges may be glorifyed through Jesus Christe, to whom be prayse and dominion for euer and euer, Amen.

12 Dearely beloued, thynke it not strange concernyng the fiery tryal, whiche thyng is to trye you, as though somme strange thing happened vnto you.

13 But reioyce, in as muche as ye are partakers of Christes passions: that when his glory appeareth, ye may be merey & glad.

14 * If ye be rayled vppon for the name of Christe, happy (are ye:) for the spirite of glory & of God, resteth vpon you: on their part he is euyl spoken of, but on your part he is glorifyed.

15 See that none of you be punished as a murderer, or as a theefe, or an euyl doer, or as a busye body in other mens matters.

16 If any (man suffer) as a Christian man, let hym not be ashamed, but let him glorifye God on this behalfe.

17 For the time is (comme) that iudgement must beginne at the house of GOD. If it first (beginne) at vs, what shal the end be of them which beleeue not the Gospel of God?

18 And * yf the ryghteous scasely be saued, where shal the vngodly and the synner appeare?

19 Wherefore, let them that are troubled according to the wil of God, commit the keeping of their soules to him with wel dooing, as vnto a faythful creatour.

The Epistle on the sunday after Assention day. (a) Although the wicked thinke this gospel newe, and vexe you that imbrace it, yet hath it ben preached to them of tyme past, whiche now are dead: to the intent that they might haue ben condemned or dead to sinne in the fleashe, & also might haue liued to God in the spirit, which two are the effect of the gospel. The seconde Epistle of saint Peter.

The first Chapter.

4. Forasmuche as the power of God hath geuen them al thinges parteynyng vnto lyfe, he exhorteth them to flee the corruption of worldly lustes.

1 Simon Peter, a seruant and an apostle of Jesus Christe, to them whiche haue obteyned lyke pretious fayth with vs, through the ryghteousnesse of our God and sauiour Jesus Christe:

1. Pet. 1.a. 2 * Grace and peace be multiplyed vnto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lorde:

3 According as his godly power hath geuen vnto vs al thinges that (parteyne) vnto lyfe and (a) godlynesse, through the knowledge of him that hath called vs vnto glory and vertue:

(a) The sum of our saluation & religion is, to be led by Christ to the father who calleth vs in the sonne. John. 1.c. Colos. 2.b. 4 By the whiche are geuen vnto vs excellent and most great promises, that by the meanes thereof, ye myght be * partakers of the godly nature, yf ye flee the corruption of worldly lust.

5 And herevnto geue al diligence, in your fayth minister vertue, in vertue knowledge, 6 * In knowledge temperance, in temperance patience, in patience godlynesse, 1. Cor. 8.a.

7 In godlynesse brotherly kyndnesse, in brotherly kindnesse, charitie.

8 For yf these thinges be among you, & be plenteous, they make you that ye neyther shalbe idle, nor vnfruiteful in the knowledge of our Lorde Jesus Christe. B

9 But he that lacketh these things, is blind, and can not see farre of, and hath forgotten that he was purged frō his old sinnes.

10 Wherefore brethren, geue the more diligence for to make your callyng and election (b) sure: for yf ye doo suche thinges, ye shal neuer fal.

(b) Albeitie be sure in it selfe, forasmuche as God can not change: yet we must confyrme it in our selues by the fruites of the spirite, knowyng that the purpose of God electeth, calleth, sanctifieth, and iustifieth vs. 2. Cor. 5.a.

11 Yea and by this meanes an entring in shalbe ministred vnto you abundantly, into the euerlastyng kingdome of our Lorde and sauiour Jesus Christe.

12 Wherefore I wyl not be negligent to put you alwayes in remembraunce of suche thinges, though ye know them your selues, and be stablished in the present trueth.

13 Notwithstandyng I thinke it meete, as long as I am in this * tabernacle, to stirre you vp, by putting you in remembrance:

14 Knowyng that shortly I must put of this my Iohn.21.d my tabernacle, * euen as our Lorde Iesus Christe shewed me.

15 I wyl euer also geue my diligence, that ye may haue wherewith to stirre vp the remembrance of these thynges after my departyng.

16 For we haue not folowed deceiptful fables, when we opened vnto you the power and comming of our Lorde Iesus Christe, but * with our eyes we sawe his maiestie:

1.Iohn.1.a

17 Euen then veryly when he receiued of god the father honour and glory, and when there came suche a voyce to hym from the excellent glory: * This is my deare beloued sonne in whom I delyte.

Mat.17.d Mark.1.b Luke.3.d.

18 This voyce we heard comme from heauen, when we were with hym in the holye mount.

19 We haue also a ryght sure woord of prophesie, whersunto ye ye take heede, as vnto a * lyght that shyneth in a darke place, ye do wel, vntyl the day dawne, & the day starre aryse in your hartes.

2.Cor.4.b

20 So that ye first knowe this, that no prophesie in the scripture is of any priuate * motion.

* or, interpretation.

21 For the prophesie came not in olde tyme by the wyl of man: but holy menne of God, spake as they were moued by the holye ghost.

The.ii. Chapter.

1. He prophesieth of false teachers, and sheweth their pounishment.

A 1 THere were false prophetes also among the people, euen as * there shalbe false teaches among you, whiche priuily shal bryng in damnable heresies, euen denying the Lord that hath bought them, & bryng vpon them selues swift damnation.

Actes.20.f. 1.Tim.4.a. 2.Tim.3.a. 2.Pet.3.a. Iudic.1.c.

2 And many shal folowe their damnable wayes, by whom the way of trueth shalbe euyl spoken of:

3 And through couetousnesse shal they with faigned woordes make (a) marchandise of you, whose iudgement nowe of long tyme ceaseth not, and their damnation sleepeth not.

(a) That is euidently seene in the Pope and his prieستes, whiche by lyes and flatteries fel mens soules: so that it is certaine that he is not the successour of Simon Peter, but of Simon Magus.

4 For if God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them downe into hel, and deliuered them into chaynes of darknesse, to be keapt vnto iudgement:

5 Neyther spared the olde world, but saued Noe the eyght (person) a preacher of righteousnesse, and brought in the flood vpon the worlde of the vngodly,

Gen.7.a.

6 And turned their cities of Sodome and Gomorrhe into asshes, ouerthrewe them, dammed them, and made of them an ensample vnto those that after shoulde lyue vngodly:

7 And iust * Lot, vexed with the vncleane conuersation of the wicked, deliuered he. B Gen.12.d

8 (For he beyng righteous, and dwellyng among them, in seeyng and hearyng, vexed his ryghteous soule from day to day with (their) vnlawful deedes.)

9 * The Lorde knoweth how to deliuer the godly out of temptation, and to reserue the vniust vnto the day of iudgement for to be pounished:

Iob.15.b 1.Cor.10.c.

10 But cheefely them that walke after the flesshe in the lust of vncleannesse, and despise auctority. Presumptious (are they) and stande in their owne conceyt, whiche feare not to speake euyl of them that excel in worshyp.

11 When the angels which are greater both in power and myght, geue not (b) raylyng iudgement against them before the Lorde.

(b) Albeit the angels condemne the vice and iniquine of wicked magistrates, yet they blame not the auctoritie and power which is geuē them of God.

12 But these as bruite beastes, led with sensualitie, and made to be taken and destroyed, speake euyl of the thinges that they vnderstand not, and shal perish through their owne corruption:

13 And receiue the reward of vnryghtousnesse, they count it pleasure to lyue delitiously for a season: spottes they are & blots, (c) delighting them selues in their deceiuinges, in feasting with you:

(c) For in your holy feastes they sitte as members of the Churche, where as in deede they be but spots, and so deceiue you.

14 Hauyng eyes ful of adulterie, and that can not ceasse from sinne, layeing bayte for vnstable soules: hartes they haue exercised with * robberie, they are cursed chyldren,

* or, couetousnesse.

15 Whiche haue forsaken the ryght way, and are gonne astray, folowyng the way of * Baalam (the sonne) of Bosor, which loued the rewarde of vnryghteousnesse:

Num.22.b.

16 But was rebuked of his iniquitie. The dumbe beast, and vsed to the yoke, speaking with mans voyce, forbad the madnesse of the prophete.

17 * These are welles without water, cloudes that are caryed with a tempest, to whom the myst of darknesse is reserued for euer.

Iudic.1.d

18 For when they speake the great swelling woordes of vanitie, they entice through lustes with the bayte of wantonnesse of the flesshe, them that were cleane escaped from them, whiche are wrapped in errour:

19 Whyle they promise them libertie, whereas they them selues are the bonde seruants of corruptiō: * For of whom a man is ouercome, vnto the same is he brought in bondage.

Iohn.8.d Rom.6.c

20 * For yf they, after they haue escaped from the fylthynesse of the worlde, thorowe the knowledge of the Lord and the sauiour Iesus Christe, are yet tangled againe therin, and *ouercomme, then is the latter ende worse with them then the beginning.

Mat.12.d

D 21 For it had benne better for them not to haue knowen the way of ryghteousnesse, then after they haue knowen it, to turne frō the holy commaundement that was geuen vnto them.

22 But the same is happened vnto them that is vsed to be spoken by the true prouerbe, *The dogge is turned to his owne vomite agayne, and the sow that was washed, (is turned agayne) to her wallowyng in the myre.

Prou.21.a.

The.iii. Chapter.

3. He sheweth the impietie of them whiche mocke at Gods promises. 7. After what sort the ende of the worlde shalbe. 8. That they prepare them selues therunto. 16. Who they are whiche abuse the wrytynges of saint Paul, and the rest of the scriptures, 18. concludyng with eternal thankes to Christ Iesus.

A 1 THis is the second Epistle that I nowe write vnto you, dearely beloued, wherwith I stirre vp and warne your pure myndes,

2 To be mindeful of the woordes whiche were tolde before of the holy prophetes, and also the * commaundement of vs, whiche be apostles of the Lorde and sauiour:

* or, our doctrine.

Actes.20.f. 2.Pet.2.a Iudi.1.e. 1.Tim.4.c 2.Tim.2.a

3 *Knowyng this first, that there shal come in the last dayes mockers, walking after their owne lustes,

4 And sayeing, Where is the promise of his cōmyng? For sence the fathers fel a sleepe, al thynges continue alyke from the beginnyng of the creation.

(a) He meaneth them whiche had once professed Christian religion, but became afterward contemners and mockers, as Epicures, and Atheistes.

5 For this they know not (and that (a) wylfully) howe that the heauens were of olde, and the earth consistyng of the water, and by the water, by the woorde of God:

6 By the whiche thinges the worlde that then was, perished, beyng then ouer runne with water.

7 *But the heauens and earth whiche are nowe, be keapt by his woorde in stooze, and reserued vnto fire agaynst the day of iudgement, and perdition of vngodly menne.

John.14.b Esai.51.b

8 Dearely beloued, be not ignozant of this one thing, howe that *one day is with the Lorde as a thousand yeeres, and a thousand yeeres as one day.

B Psal.90.a 1.Cor.7.c.

9 The lord that hath promised is not slacke, (as somme menne count slackenesse) but is patient to vsward (forasmuch) as he would haue no man lost, but wyl receiue al menne to repentance.

10 Neuertheless, * the day of the Lord wyl comme as a theefe in the nyght, in the whiche the heauens shal passe away with a great noyse, and the elementes shal melt with feruent heate, the earth also and the woorkes that are therein, shalbe vtterly burned.

Mat.24.d 1.Thess.5.a Apoc.3.a

11 Seeyng then that al these thynges shal perishe, what manner persons ought ye to be in holy conuersation and godlynesse, 12 Looking for, and hasting vnto the comming of the day of God, * by whom the heauens shal perishe with fire, and the elementes shal melt with feruent heate?

* Somme reade, wherin.

13 *Neuertheless, we according to his promise, looke for a newe heauen, and a newe earth, wherein dwelleth ryghteousnesse.

Apoc.21.a

C 14 Wherefore dearely beloued, seeyng that ye looke for suche thinges, be diligent that ye may be founde of hym in peace, without spot, and vndefiled:

15 And suppose that the long sufferyng of the Lorde is saluation, euen as our dearely beloued brother Paul also, according to the wysedome geuen vnto hym, hath written vnto you:

16 Yea almost in euery Epistle, speakyng of suche thinges, among whiche are manye thinges harde to be vnderstande, whiche they that are vnlearned and vnstable, peruert, as they doo also the other scriptures, vnto their owne destruction.

17 Ye therfore, beloued, seyng ye be warned afore hande, beware lest ye also beyng led away with the errour of the wicked, fal from your owne stedfastnesse:

18 But growe in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord & sauiour Iesus Christe: To whom be glory both now and for euer, Amen.

¶ Here endeth the seconde Epistle of Saint Peter.

The

The first Epistle of saint Iohn the Apostle.

The first Chapter.

2. True witnesse of the euerlastyng woorde of God. 7. The blood of Christe is the purgation of synne. 11. No man is without synne.

A 1 The Epistle on saynt Iohn the Euangelist day.

HAT whiche was from the beginnyng, whiche we haue heard, whiche we haue seene with our eyes, which we haue looked vpon, and our handes haue handled, of the woorde of life:

2 (And the lyfe appeared, and we haue seene, and beare witnesse, and shewe vnto you, * that eternal lyfe whiche was with the father, and appeared vnto vs.)

Mat. 17.a.

3 That whiche we haue seene and heard, declare we vnto you, that ye also may haue (a) felowshyp with vs, and that our felowshyp may be with the father, and his sonne Iesus Christe.

(a) The effect of the gospel is, that we al beyng ioyned togeather in Christe by fayth, should be the sonnes of God.

4 And these thinges wryte we vnto you, that your ioy may be ful.

5 And this is the tydinges whiche we haue heard of him, and declare vnto you, that God is lyght, and in him is no darknesse at al.

6 If we say that we haue felowshyp with him, and walke in darknesse, we lye, and doo not the trueth.

B 7 But yf we walke in the lyght, euen as he is in the lyght, then haue we felowshyp (b) one with another, and the blood of Iesus Christe his sonne cleanseth vs from al synne.

(b) That is, Christe with vs, and we with our selues.

8 * If we say that we haue no synne, we deceiue our selues, & the trueth is not in vs.

3. Reg. 8. c. 2. Par. 6. g. Iohn. 13 c. Psal. 32. d. Luke. 15. d.

9 * If we knowledge our synnes, he is faithful and iust to forgeue vs our sinnes, & to cleanse vs from al vnrighteousnesse.

10 If we say that we haue not synned, we make him a lyer, and his woorde is not in vs.

The. ii. Chapter.

1. Christe is our aduocate. 10 Of true loue, and howe it is tryed. 18. To beware of Antechriste.

A 1 MY litle children, these thinges wryte I vnto you, that ye sinne not. And yf any man synne, we haue an aduocate with the father, Iesus Christe the ryghteous.

2 And he is the attonement for our synnes: not for our (sinnes) onlye, but also for the (sinnes) of al the worlde.

3 And hereby we are sure that we (a) know him, yf we keepe his commaundementes. (a) That is, by fayth, and so obay him: for knowledge can not be without obedience.

4 * He that sayth, I knowe him, and keepeth not his commaundementes, is a lyer, and the * veritie is not in him. John. 13. d. * or, trueth

5 But who so keepeth his woorde, in hym is the loue of God perfect in deede: Hereby knowe we that we are in hym.

6 He that sayth he abydeth in hym, ought hym selfe to walke, euen as he walked.

B 7 Brethren, I wryte no newe commaundement vnto you, but an olde commaundement whiche ye haue heard from the begynnyng. The olde commaundement, is the woorde whiche ye haue heard from the begynnyng.

8 Agayne, a new commaundement I wryte vnto you, that is true in him, and (the same is true) also in you, for the darknesse is past, and the true lyght nowe shineth.

9 He that sayth how that he is in the light, and yet hateth his brother, is in darknesse euen vntyl this time.

10 He that loueth his brother, abydeth in the lyght, and there is none occasyon of euyl in hym.

11 He that hateth his brother, is in darknesse, and walketh in darknesse: and can not tel whyther he goeth, because that darknesse hath blynded his eyes. Leuit. 19. d.

12 Babes I wryte vnto you, because your sinnes are forgeuen you for his names sake.

13 I wryte vnto you fathers, because ye haue knowen him that is from the begynnyng. I wryte vnto you young men, because you haue ouercome the wicked.

14 I wryte to you litle children, because ye haue knowen the father. I haue written to you fathers, because ye haue knowen him that (is) from the begynnyng. I haue written vnto you young menne, because ye are strong, and the woord of God abydeth in you, and ye haue ouercome the wicked.

15 See that ye loue not * the worlde, neyther the thinges that are in the worlde. If any man loue the worlde, the loue of the father is not in him. John. 17. b.

16 For al that is in the worlde, as the lust of the fleashe, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of lyfe, is not of the father, but of the worlde.

17 And the worlde passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that fulfylleth the wyl of God, abydeth for euer.

18 Litle children, it is the last tyme: and as ye haue heard howe that antechriste shal comme, euen nowe are there many antechristes: whereby we knowe that it is the last time.

Actes. 20.f. 19 * They went out from vs, but they were not of vs: For yf they had benne of vs, they woulde no doubt haue continued with vs: But " that it might appeare that they are not al of vs.

" this commeth to passe.

20 Neuertheles, ye haue an (b) oyntment of him that is holy, and ye knowe al thynges.

(b) The grace of the holy ghost.

D 21 I haue not written vnto you as though ye knewe not the trueth: but because ye know it, and that no lye is of the trueth.

22 Who is a lyar, but he that denyeth that Jesus is Christe? the same is antechriste, that denyeth the father and the sonne.

23 Who so euer denyeth the sonne, the same hath not the father: (But he that knowledgeth the sonne, hath the father also.)

24 Let therefore abide in you, that same whiche ye harde from the begynnyng: yf that whiche ye haue harde from the begynnyng shal remayne in you, ye also shal continue in the sonne, and in the father.

25 And this is the promise that he hath promised vs, (euen) eternal lyfe.

26 These thinges haue I written vnto you concernyng them that deceiue you:

E Esai. 54.d. 27 And the annoynting whiche ye haue receiued of him dwelleth in you: and ye neede not that any man teache you, but as the same (c) annoynting teacheth you of al thinges, and it is true, and not lyeing: and as it taught you, ye shal abide in it.

(c) Christe communicateth him self vnto you, & teacheth you by the holy ghost and his ministers.

28 And nowe (d) babes, abyde in him: that when he shal appeare, we may be bold, and not be ashamed * of him at his comming.

(d) By this name, he meaneth the whole Churche of Christe in general.

* or, before.

29 If ye knowe that he is righteous, knowe also that euery one whiche dooth ryghteousnesse, is borne of him.

The.iii.Chapter.

I. The singuler loue of God towarde vs, 7. and how we againe ought to loue one another.

A 1 BEholde what charitie the father hath shewed vs (euen) that we shoulde be called the * sonnes of God: for this cause the worlde knoweth vs not, because it hath not knowen him.

Luke. 20.f. Johan. 1.b.

2 Dearely beloued, nowe are we the sonnes of God, and yet it dooth not appeare what we shalbe: But we knowe that when he shal appeare, we shalbe like him: for we shal see him as he is.

3 And euery man that hath this hope in him, purgeth him selfe, euen as he also is pure.

4 Who so euer committeth synne, transgresseth also the lawe: for synne is the transgression of the lawe.

5 And ye knowe that he appeared to take away our sinnes, and in him is no synne.

6 As many as byde in him, sinne not: whoso euer synneth, hath not seene him, neither knowen him.

7 Babes, let no man deceiue you: he that B dooth ryghteousnesse, is ryghteous, euen as he is ryghteous.

8 Ye that committeth sinne, is of the deuil: * for the deuil sinneth sence the beginning: For this purpose appeared the sonne of God, to loose the woorkes of the deuil.

Gene. 3.a. Johan. 8.f.

9 Who so euer is borne of GOD, sinneth not: for his seede remayneth in him, & he can not synne, because he is borne of God.

10 In this are the children of God knowen, and the children of the deuil: who so euer dooth not righteousnesse, is not of God, neither he that loueth not his brother.

11 For this is the tydinges that ye harde from the beginnyng, that ye shoulde loue one another.

12 Not as * Caine (whiche) was of that wicked, and slue his brother: And wherefore slue he him? because his owne workes were euyl, and his brothers ryghteous.

Gene. 4.b.

13 Marueyle not, my brethren, yf the worlde hate you.

The Epistle on the.ii. sunday after trinitie.

14 We knowe that we are translated from death vnto lyfe, because we (a) loue the brethren: he that loueth not his brother, abydeth in death.

(a) This loue is the special fruite of our fayth, & a certayne signe of our regeneration

15 Who so euer hateth his brother, is a manslear: and ye knowe that no manslear hath eternal lyfe abyding in him.

16 Hereby perceiue we loue, because he layd downe his lyfe for vs: and we ought to lay downe our lyues for the brethren.

17 But who so hath this worldes good, and * seeth his brother haue neede, and shutteth vp his compassion from him: howe dwelleth the loue of God in him?

Deut. 15.d.

18 My babes, let vs not loue in woorde, neyther in tongue, but in deede & in veritie.

19 Hereby we know that we are of ỹ trueth, and shal assure our hartes before him.

20 For yf our hart condemne vs, God is greater then our hart, and knoweth al thinges.

21 Dearely beloued, yf our hart condemne vs

vs not, then haue we boldnesse towarde God.

Mat.7.a. Iohn.15.d. Iacob.1.a.

22 And *whatsoeuer we aske, we receiue of him, because we keepe his commaundementes, and doo those thinges whiche are pleasing in his sight.

1.Ioh.5.a. Iohn.13.d.

23 And 'this is his commaundement, that we should beleeue on the name of his sonne Iesus Christe, and loue one another, as he gaue vs commaundement.

24 And he that keepeth his commaundementes, dwelleth in him, & he in him: and hereby we knowe that he abydeth in vs, (euen) by the spirite whiche he hath geuen vs.

1. Difference of spirites, 2. how the spirite of God may be knowen from the spirite of errour.

A

Matth.7.c. Deut.13.a. Mat.24.a. Mark.13.a. Luke.21.d.

1 DEarly beloued, *beleue not euery spirite, but prooue the spirites whether they are of God or not: for many false prophetes are gone out into the worlde.

2 Hereby shal ye knowe the spirite of God: Euery spirit that confesseth that Iesus (a) Christe is come in the flesshe, is of God:

(a) Who being very god came frō his father, and tooke vpon hym our flesshe. He that confesseth or preacheth this truely, hath the spirite of god, els not.

3 And euery spirit which confesseth not that Iesus Christe is come in the flesshe, is not of God, & this is that (spirite) of Antechrist, of whom ye haue heard how that he should come: and euen nowe already is he in the worlde.

4 Litle chyldren, ye are of God, and haue ouercome them: for greater (is) he that is in you, then he that is in the worlde.

5 They are of the worlde, therefore speake they of the worlde, and the worlde heareth them.

6 We are of God: he that knoweth God, heareth vs: he that is not of God, heareth vs not. Hereby knowe we the spirite of veritie, and the spirite of errour.

The Epistle on the first sunday after trinitie.

7 Dearly beloued, let vs loue one another, for loue commeth of God: and euerye one that loueth, is borne of God, and knoweth God.

Iohn. 13.d. 1.Thes.1.b.

8 He that loueth not, knoweth not God: for God is loue.

9 In this appeared the loue of God to vswarde, because God sent his only begotten sonne into the worlde, that we myght lyue through him.

Iohn.3.e. Rom.5.b.

10 Herein is loue, not that we loued God, but that he loued vs, & sent his sonne to be the agreement for our sinnes.

11 Dearly beloued, if God so loued vs, we ought also to loue one another.

Exod.33.d. Iudic.5.e.

12 *No man hath seene God at any tyme. If we loue one another, God dwelleth in vs, and his loue is perfect in vs.

13 Hereby knowe we that we dwel in him, and he in vs: because he hath geuen vs of his spirite.

14 And we haue seene, and doo testifie that the father sent the sonne (to be) the sauiour of the worlde. C

15 Whosoeuer confesseth that Iesus is the sonne of God, in him dwelleth God, and he in God.

16 And we haue knowen and beleeued the loue that God hath to vs. God is loue, and he that dwelleth in loue, dwelleth in God, and God in hym.

17 Herein is the loue perfect in vs, that we shoulde haue boldnesse in the day of iudgement: For as he is, euen so are we in this worlde.

18 There is no feare in loue, but perfecte loue casteth out feare: for feare hath paynfulnesse He ỹ feareth, is not perfect in loue.

19 We loue him, for he loued vs first.

20 If a man say, I loue God, and yet hate his brother, he is a lyar: For howe can he that loueth not his brother whom he hath seene, loue God whom he hath not seene?

21 And this commaundement haue we of him, that he whiche loueth God, shoulde loue his brother also.

The.v.Chapter.
Of the fruites of fayth.

A

1 WHosoeuer beleeueth that Iesus is Christe, is borne of God: and euerye one that loueth him whiche begate, loueth him also whiche is begotten of him.

2 *By this we knowe that we loue the chyldren of God, when we loue God, and keepe his commaundementes.

Iohn.12.c. Mat.12.d.

(*) The Epistle on the firste sunday after Easter,

3 For this is the loue of God, that we keepe his commaundementes: & *his commaundementes are not greeuous.

1.Coz.15.g.

4 (*) For al that is borne of God, ouercōmeth the worlde: and this is the *victory that hath ouercomme the worlde, (euen) our fayth.

5 Who is it that ouercommeth the worlde, but he whiche beleeueth that Iesus is the sonne of God?

6 This Iesus Christe is he that came by water and (a) blood: not by water onely, but by water and blood: and it is the spirit that beareth witnesse, because the spirite is (b) trueth.

(a) The water & blood that came out of his side, declare that we haue our sinnes washed by hym, and he hath made ful satisfactiō for the same.

(b) Whiche testifieth to our hartes, that we be the children of God.

7 For there are three whiche beare recorde in heauen, the father, the woorde, and the holy ghost, and these three are one.

8 And there are three whiche beare recorde in in earth, the spirite, and water, and blood, and these three agree in one.

9 If we receyue the witnesse of men, the witnesse of God is greater: For this is the witnesse of God, whiche he testified of his sonne.

10 He that beleeueth on ỹ sonne of God, hath the witnesse in him selfe: He that beleeueth not God, hath made him a lyer, because he beleeued not the recorde that God gaue of his sonne.

11 And this is the recorde, that God hath geuen vnto vs eternal lyfe, and this lyfe is in his sonne.

12 He that hath the sonne, hath life: and he that hath not the sonne of God, hath not life.

13 These thinges haue I wrytten vnto you that beleeue on the name of the sonne of God, that ye may knowe that ye haue eternal life, and that ye may beleeue on the name of the sonne of God.

¶ 14 And this is the trust that we haue in him: that * yf we aske any thing accordyng to his wyl, he heareth vs.

Mat.7.a. Mark.11.d. Luke.11.b. Iohn.14.b.

15 And if we knowe that he heare vs whatsoeuer we aske, we know that we haue the petitions that we desired of him.

16 If any man see his brother sinne a sinne (whiche is) not vnto death, he shal aske, and he shal geue him life for them that sinne not vnto death. There is a sinne vnto death: I say not that he shoulde pray for it.

17 All vnryghteousnesse is sinne: and there is sinne not vnto death.

18 We knowe that whosoeuer is borne of God, sinneth not: but he that is begotten of God, keepeth him selfe, and that wicked toucheth him not.

19 We knowe that we are of God, and the whole worlde lyeth in wickednesse.

20 We know that the sonne of God is come, and hath geuen vs a minde to knowe him which is true: & we are in him that is true, through his sonne Iesus Christe: This same is very God, and eternal lyfe.

21 Babes, keepe your selues from * idols, Amen. * or, images.

1. He wryteth vnto a certayne Lady, 4. reioycyng that her children walke in the trueth, 5. and exhorteth them vnto loue.

a 1 THE elder vnto the elect Lady and her children, whom I loue in the (a) trueth: and not I only, but also all that haue knowen the trueth:

(a) According to godlinesse, and not with any worldly affections.

2 For the truethes sake whiche dwelleth in vs, and shalbe with vs for euer:

3 Grace be with you, mercy, and peace from God the father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christe, the sonne of the father in (b) trueth and loue.

(b) We can not receiue the grace of God, except we haue the true knowledge of him, of the which knowledge loue procedeth.

4 I reioyced greatly that I founde of thy children walking in (c) trueth, as we haue receiued a commaundement of the father.

5 And nowe I beseeche thee Lady, not as though I wrote a newe commaundement vnto thee: but that same whiche we haue had from the begynnyng, that we shoulde loue one another.

6 And this is the loue, that we should walke after his commaundementes: This is the commaundement, that as ye haue hearde from the begynning, ye should walke in it.

(c) Accordyng to gods woorde.

Iohn.14.f. 1.Iohn.5.a.

7 For many deceiuers are entred into the worlde, whiche confesse not that Iesus Christ is come in the fleashe. This is a deceiuer, and an Antechriste. b

8 Looke on your selues, that we lose not that we haue wrought: but that we may haue a ful rewarde.

9 Whosoeuer trangresseth, and abydeth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God: He that endureth in the doctrine of Christ, hath both the father and the sonne.

10 If there come any vnto you, and bryng not this learning, him receiue not to house, nether byd him God speede.

11 For he that byddeth him God speede, is partaker of his euyl deedes.

12 Hauyng many thynges to wryte vnto you, I woulde not wryte with paper and inke: but I trust to come vnto you, and speake with you mouth to mouth, that our ioy may be ful.

13 The sonnes of thy elect sister greete thee. Amen.

2. He is glad of Gaius that he walketh in the trueth, 8. exhorteth to be louyng vnto the poore Christen in theyr persecution.

A 1 THE elder vnto the welbeloued Gaius, whō I loue in the trueth.
2 Beloued, I wysshe in al thinges that thou prosperedst and faredst wel, euen as thy soule prospereth.
3 For I reioyced greatly when the brethren came, and testified of the trueth that is in thee, howe thou walkest in the trueth.
4 I haue no greater ioy, then (for) to heare howe that my sonnes walke (a) in veritie.
(a) That is, in godly conuersation, as they whiche haue both the knowledge and feare of God.
5 Beloued, thou doest faythfully whatsoeuer thou doest to the brethren and to strangers:
6 Which haue borne witnesse of thy charitie before the Church: whom if thou bring forwardes on theyr iourney after a godly sort, thou shalt do wel.
B 7 Because that for his names sake they went forth, taking nothyng of the Gentiles.
8 We therfore ought to receiue suche, that we might be helpers to the trueth.
9 I wrote vnto the Churche: but Diotrephes which loueth to haue the preeminence among them, receiueth vs not.
10 Wherefore yf I come, I wyl declare his deedes whiche he doth, ietting on vs with malitious woordes: and not content therwith, neither he him selfe receiueth the brethren, and forbiddeth them that would, and thrusteth them out of the Churche.
11 Beloued, folowe not that which is euyl, but that whiche is good. He that doth wel, is of God: but he that doth euyl, hath not seene God.
12 Demetrius hath good report of al men, and of the trueth it selfe: Yea, and we our selues also beare recorde, and ye know that our recorde is true.
13 I had many thinges to wryte: but I wil not with ynke and penne wryte vnto thee.
14 I trust I shal shortly see thee, and we shal speake mouth to mouth. Peace be vnto thee. The louers salute thee. Greete our freendes by name.

The Epistle of Saint Iude.

Saint Iude admonisheth al churches generally to take heede of deceiuers, which goe about to drawe away the hartes of the simple people from the trueth of God.

A 1
The Epistle of saint Simon and Iude.
IUde the seruant of Iesus Christe, the brother of Iames, to them which are called and sanctified in God the father, and preserued in Iesus Christe:
2 Mercy vnto you, and peace, and charitie be multiplyed.
3 Beloued, when I gaue al diligence to wryte vnto you of the common saluation, it was needeful for me to wryte vnto you, exhorting you that ye should earnestly (a) contende for the fayth whiche was once geuen vnto the saintes.
(a) Agaynst assaultes of Satan and heretikes.
4 For there are certaine vngodly men craftily creapt in, which were before of olde ordeyned to this condemnation, turnyng the grace of our God vnto wantonnesse: and denying God, whiche is the only Lord, and our Lorde Iesus Christ.
5 My mynde is therefore to put you in remembrance (thereof,) forasmuch as ye once knowe this, howe that the Lord after that he had deliuered the people out of Egypt, destroyd them which afterwarde beleeued not.
6 The angels also whiche keapt not theyr first estate, but left theyr owne habitation, he hath reserued in euerlasting chaines vnder darkenesse, vnto the iudgement of the great day.
7 * Euen as Sodome and Gomorrhe, and B
the cities about them, whiche in like manner defyled them selues with fornication, and folowed strange fleashe, are set forth for an ensample, and suffer the payne of eternal fyre. Gen. 19. k.
8 Likewise these being deceiued by dreames, defile the fleashe, despise rulers, and speake euyl of them that are in auctoritie.
9 Yet Michael ỹ archangel, when he stroue agaynst the deuyl, and disputed about the body of Moses, durst not geue rayling sentence, but sayde, The Lorde rebuke thee.
10 But

10 But these speake euyl of those thynges which they knowe not: and what thynges they know naturally, as beastes which are without reason, in those thinges they corrupt them selues.

11 Wo be vnto them, for they haue gone in the way of Cain, & are vtterly geuen to the errour of Balaam for lucres sake, * & haue perished in the gaynesaying of Core.

Gen.4.b. Num.16.k

* or, trees, withered in Autumne, when the fruite harnest is, and so ỹ Greeke woorde importeth: or, trees bearing corrupt fruite: or, trees corruptyng theyr owne fruite. Apoc.1.b.

13 They are the ragyng waues of the sea, foming out their owne shame: they are wandring starres, to whom is reserued the myst of darkenesse for euer.

Esai.13.c.

14 Enoch the seuenth from Adam prophesied before of such, saying, Behold, the Lord shal come with* thousandes of saintes, 15 To geue iudgement agaynst al men, and to rebuke al that are vngodly among them, of al their vngodly deedes which they haue vngodly committed, and of al theyr cruel speakinges whiche vngodly sinners haue spoken agaynst hym.

16 These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their owne lustes, whose mouthes speake proude thinges, they haue men in great reuerence because of aduantage.

17 But ye beloued, remember the woordes whiche were spoken before of the Apostles of our Lorde Jesus Christe.

18 *(Howe) that they tolde you, that there shoulde be mockers in the last tyme, which shoulde walke after theyr owne vngodly lustes.

Actes.20.f. 1.Tim.4.a 2.Tim.3.a. 2.Pet.2.a.

19 These are makers of sectes, fleashly, hauyng not the spirite.

20 But ye dearely beloued, edifie your selues in your most holy fayth, prayng in the holy ghost,

21 And kepe your selues in the loue of God, looking for the mercy of our Lorde Jesus Christe vnto eternal life,

D

22 And haue compassion of some, * separatyng them:

* or, in puttyng difference.

23 And other saue with feare, pullyng them out of the fyre: hatyng euen the garment spotted by the fleashe.

24 Unto hym that is able to keepe you free from sinne, and to present you faultlesse before the presence of his glory with ioy,

25 To God our sauiour whiche only is wise, be glory, and maiestie, dominion, and power, nowe and euer. Amen.

12 And I turned backe to see the voyce that spake to me. And when I was turned, I sawe seuen golden candlesticks, 13 And in the midst of ỹ seuen candlesticks, (one) like vnto the sonne of man, clothed with a garment downe to the feete, & gyrde about the pappes with a golden gyrdle.

C 14 His head and his heares were whyte, as white wool, & as snowe, and his eyes were as a flame of fire.

15 And his feete lyke vnto fyne brasse, as though they burnt in a furnace: and his voyce as the sounde of many waters.

The. ii. Chapter.

I. He exhorteth foure Churches, ỹ to repentance, 10. to perseuerance, patience, and amendment, 14. 20. 23. as wel by threatninges, 7. 10. 17. 26. as by promises of rewarde.

A 1 VNto the angel of the Churche at Ephesus, wryte, These thinges sayth he that holdeth the seuen starres in his ryght hande, and that walketh in the middes of the seuen golden candlesticks:

2 I knowe thy woorkes, and thy labour, & patience, and howe thou canst not forbeare them whiche are euyl: and hast examined them whiche say they are Apostles, and are not, and hast found them lyers:

3 And hast suffered, and hast patience, and for my names sake hast laboured, and hast not fainted.

4 Neuertheless, I haue (somewhat) against thee, because thou hast leaft thy first loue.

5 Remember therfore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first woorkes: or els, I wyl comme vnto thee shortly, and wyl remooue thy candlesticke out of his place, except thou repent.

6 But this thou hast, because thou hatest the deedes of the * Nicolaitanes, whiche (deedes) I also hate. Actes. 6. b.

7 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirite sayth vnto the Churches, To him that ouercommeth, wyl I gene to eate of the tree of lyfe, * whiche is in the myddes of the paradise of God. B Gene. 2. b.

8 And vnto the angel of the Churche of Smyrna, wryte, These thinges sayth he that is first and the last, whiche was dead, and is (a) alyue:

9 I knowe thy woorkes, and tribulation, and pouertie, (but thou art (b) rich:) and I know the blasphemie of them which cal them selues Iewes, and are not, but (are) the synagogue of Satan.

10 Feare none of those thynges which thou shalt suffer: behold, the deuyl shal cast some of you into prison to tempt you, and ye shal haue tribulation ten dayes: be thou faithful vnto the death, and I wyl geue thee a crowne of lyfe.

11 Let hym that hath an eare, heare what the spirite sayth vnto the Churches, He that ouercommeth, shal not be hurt of the seconde death.

12 And to the angel of the Churche in Pergamos, wryte, These things sayth he whiche hath the sharpe (c) swoorde with two edges:

13 I knowe thy woorkes, and where thou dwellest (euen) where Satans seate is, & (that) thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denyed my fayth, euen in those dayes when Antipas my faythful martyr was slayne among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 But I haue a fewe thynges agaynst thee, C because thou hast there them that mainteyne the doctrine of Balaam, whiche taught " Balac to put a stumblyng blocke before the children of Israel, that they shoulde eate of meate sacrificed vnto idols, and commit fornication. Num. 31. c.

18 And vnto the angel of the Churche of Thyatira, wryte, These thynges sayth the sonne of God, who hath eyes lyke vnto a flame of fire, and his feete (are) like fyne brasse:

19 I know thy woorkes, and thy charitie, seruice, and fayth, and thy patience, and thy deedes, whiche are moe at the last then at the fyrst.

D 20 Notwithstanding, I haue a fewe thinges agaynst thee, because thou suffrest that woman Iesabel, which called her selfe a prophetisse, to teach, & to deceiue my seruants, to make them commit fornication, and to eate meate sacrificed vnto idols.

2 Be awake, & strengthe the thinges whiche remayne, that are ready to die: For I haue not founde thy woorkes perfecte before God.

C 14 And vnto the angel of the Church whiche is in Laodicea, write, These thynges sayth Amen, the faythful & true witnesse, the beginning of the creatures of God.

15 I knowe thy woorkes, that thou art neither colde, nor hot: I woulde thou were colde or hot.

16 So then because thou art luke warme, and neyther colde nor hot, I wyl spewe thee out of my mouth:

17 Because thou sayest, I am riche, and encreased with goodes, and haue neede of nothyng: and knowest not howe that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poore, and blynde, and naked.

18 I counsel thee to buye of me golde tryed in the fyre, that thou mayest be riche, and white rayment, that thou mayest be clothed, that thy filthie nakednesse do not appeare, & annoynt thine eyes with eye salue, that thou mayest see.

2.Cor.5.a.

Pro.2.b. Hebr.12.b.

19 *As many as I loue, I rebuke and chasten: be feruent therefore and repent.

20 Beholde, I stande at the doore, and knocke: yf any man heare my voyce, and open the dooze, I wyl come in to hym, and wyl suppe with hym, and he with me.

21 To him that ouercommeth, wil I graunt to sit with me in my throne, euen as I ouercame, and haue sitten with my father in his throne.

22 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirite sayth vnto the Churches.

The.iiii.Chapter.

1. The vision of the maiestie of God. 2. He seeth the throne, and one sitting vpon it. 8. and.xxiiii.seates about it, with.xxiiii. elders sytting vpon them, and foure beastes prayesyng God day and night.

A 1 AFter this I loked, and behold a dooze was open in heauen: and the fyrste voyce which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet talking with me, which sayd, Come vp hyther, & I wyl shewe thee thynges whiche must be fulfylled hereafter.

The Epistle on Trinitie Sunday.

2 And immediatly I was in the spirite: and behold, a throne was set in heauen, and (one) sate on the throne.

3 And he that sate, was to looke vpon lyke a Iasper stone, and a Sardine stone: and there was a rainbowe about the throne, in sight lyke vnto an Emerald.

4 And about the throne were foure & twentie seates, & vpon the seates I sawe foure & twentie elders sitting, clothed in white rayment, and they had on theyr heades crownes of golde.

5 And out of the throne do proceede lyghtnynges, and thundrynges, and voyces: and there were seuen lampes of fyre burnyng before the throne, whiche are the seuen spirites of God.

6 And before the throne there was a sea of glasse, like vnto Crystal: & in the middest of the throne, and rounde about the throne, were foure beastes ful of eyes before and behynde.

7 And the first beast was lyke a Lion, and the second beast like a Calfe, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was lyke a fleeyng Eagle. B

8 And the foure beastes had eache of them sixe wynges about hym, and they were ful of eyes within, and they had no reast day neyther night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, lord God almyghtie, which was, and is, and is to come.

9 And when those beastes gaue glory, and honour, and thankes to him that sate on the throne, which liueth for euer and euer, Esai.6.b.

10 The foure and twentie elders fel downe before hym that sate on the throne, and woorshipped him that liueth for euer and euer, and cast theyr crownes before the throne, saying,

11 Thou art woorthy, O Lorde, to receiue glory, and honour, and power: for thou hast created al thynges, and for thy pleasures sake they are, and were created.

The.v.Chapter.

1. He seeth the lambe openyng the booke, 8. 14. and therefore the foure beastes, the xxiiii. elders, and the angelles prayse the lambe, and do hym woorshyp. 9. for theyr redemption, and other benefites.

1 AND I sawe in the ryght hand of him that sate on the throne, a booke wrytten within, and on the backesyde, sealed with seuen seales. A

2 And I saw a strong angel preaching with a loude voyce, Who is woorthy to open the booke, and to loose the seales thereof?

3 And no man in heauen, nor in earth, neyther vnder the earth, was able to open the booke, neyther to looke thereon.

4 And I weapt much, because no man was founde woorthy to open and to reade the booke, neyther to looke thereon.

5 And one of the elders sayth vnto me, Weepe not: beholde, that Lion that is of the tribe of Iuda, the roote of Dauid, hath obteyned to open the booke, and to loose the seuen seales thereof.

6 And I beheld, and lo, in the middest of the throne and of the foure beastes, and in the myddes middes of the elders, stoode a lambe as though he had ben killed, hauyng seuen homes and seuen eyes, which are the seuen spirites of God, sent into al the earth.

B 7 And he came, and tooke the booke out of the right hande of hym that sate vpon the throne.

8 And when he had taken the booke, ỹ foure beastes and foure and twentie elders fel downe before the lambe, hauing euery one of them harpes, and golden vialles ful of odours, whiche are the prayers of saintes:

9 And they song a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the booke, and to open the seales thereof: for thou wast killed, and hast redeemed vs to God by thy blood, out of al kinrede, and tongue, and people, and nation:

10 And hast made vs vnto our God kynges and priestes, & we shal raigne on the earth.

11 And I behelde, and I hearde the voyce of many angels about the throne, & (about) the beastes and the elders, and heard thousande thousandes, 12 Saying with a loud voyce, Worthy is the lambe that was kylled to receiue power, & riches, and wisdome, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessyng.

13 And al the creatures whiche are in heauen, and on the earth, and vnder the earth, and in the sea, & al that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, honour, glory, and power be vnto hym that sytteth vpon the throne, and vnto the lambe for euermore.

14 And the foure beastes sayd, Amen. And the foure and twentie elders fel vpon theyr faces, and worshipped him that lyueth for euermore.

The. vi. Chapter.

The lambe openeth the .vi. seales, and many thinges folowe the opening thereof.

A 1 AND I sawe when the lambe opened one of the seales, and I heard one of the foure beastes say, as it were the noyse of thunder, Come, and see.

2 And I sawe, and behold, (there was) a white horse: and he that sate on him had a bowe, and a crowne was geuen vnto hym, and he went forth conquering, and for to ouercome.

3 And when he had opened the second seale, I heard the seconde beast say, Come, and see.

4 And there went out another horse that was redde: and power was geuen to hym that sate thereon to take peace from the earth, & that they should kil one another: *and there was geuen vnto hym a great sworde.

Esai. 27. a.

5 And when he had opened the third seale, I heard the third beast say, Come, and see. And I behelde, and loe a blacke horse: and he that sate on him had a payre of ballances in his hande.

6 And I heard a voyce in the middes of the foure beastes say, A measure of wheate for a penie, and three measures of barley for a peny, and oyle and wine see thou hurt not.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seale, B I heard the voyce of the fourth beast say, Come, and see.

8 And I looked, and behold a pale horse, & his name that sate on hym was death, and hel foloweth with hym: and power was geuen vnto them ouer the fourth part of the earth, to kyl with sworde, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beastes of the earth.

9 And when he had opened the fifth seale, I sawe vnder the aulter the soules of them that were kylled for the woord of God, and for the testimonie whiche they had. John. 21. d.

10 And they cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Howe long (taryest) thou Lorde holy and true, to iudge and to auenge our blood on them that dwel on the earth?

11 And long white garmentes were geuen vnto euery one of them: and it was sayde vnto them that they shoulde reast yet for a litle season, vntil their felowe seruantes, and theyr brethren that shoulde be kylled as they were, shoulde be fulfylled.

12 And I behelde when he had opened the sixth seale, and loe there was a great earthquake, & the sunne was as blacke as sackcloth made of heare, and the moone waxed al euen as blood.

13 And the starres of heauen fel vnto the earth, euen as a fygge tree casteth her vntimely figges when she is shaken of a mightie winde.

14 And heauen vanished away as a scrowle C when it is rolled togeather, and al mountaynes and Iles were mooued out of theyr places.

15 And the kynges of the earth, and the great men, and the ryche men, and the cheefe captaynes, and the mightie men, and euery bondman, and euery free man, hyde them selues in the dennes, & in the rockes of the hylles:

16 *And sayde to the hilles and rockes, Fal on vs, and hyde vs from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, & from the wrath of the lambe: Osee. 10. b. Luke. 23. d.

17 For the great day of his wrath is come, and who is able to endure?

The

The.vii.Chapter.

4. 9. He seeth the seruantes of God sealed in theyr foreheades, out of al nations and people, 15. which though they suffer trouble, yet the lambe feedeth them, leadeth them to the founraynes of lyuyng water, 17. and God shal wype away al teares from theyr eyes.

A 1 AND after that, I sawe foure angels standyng on the foure corners of the earth, holding the foure wyndes of the earth, that the wynde shoulde not blowe on the earth, neyther on the sea, neither on any tree.

The Epistle on al Saintes day

2 And I saw another angel ascendyng from the rysing of the sunne, hauyng the seale of the lyuyng God: and he cryed with a loude voyce to the foure angels to whom power was geuen to hurt the earth and the sea,

3 Sayeing, Hurt ye not the earth, neyther the sea, neyther the trees, tyl we shal haue sealed the seruantes of our GOD in their foreheades.

4 And I heard the number of them whiche were sealed: and there were sealed an hundred and fourtie and foure thousande of al the tribes of the chyldren of Israel:

5 Of the tribe of Iuda were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Ruben were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelue thousande.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Nephthali were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelue thousande.

B 7 Of ỹ tribe of Simeon were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Leui were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelue thousande.

8 Of the tribe of Zabulō were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Ioseph were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Beniamin were sealed twelue thousande.

9 After this I beheld, and loe a great multitude whiche no man coulde number, of al nations, and kinredes, and people, and tongues, stoode before the throne, and before the lambe, clothed with whyte garmentes, and palmes in their handes:

10 And cryed with a loude voyce, sayeing, Saluation (be ascribed) to hym that sitteth vpon the throne of our God, and vnto the lambe.

11 And al the angels stoode in the compasse of the throne, and of the elders, and of the foure beastes, and fel before the throne on their faces, and woorshypped God,

12 Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wysedome, and thankes, and honour, and power, and myght, be vnto our GOD for euermore, Amen.

13 And one of the elders answeared, saying vnto me, What are these which are arayed in whyte garmentes? and whence came they?

C 14 And I sayde vnto hym, Lorde thou woost. And he sayde to me, These are they whiche came out of great tribulation, and haue washed their long robes, and made (a) them whyte by the blood of the lambe.

(a) That is, the sayde long robes.

15 Therefore are they in the presence of the throne of God, and serue him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth in the throne wyl dwel among them.

16 They shal hunger no more, neither thirst, neyther shal the sunne lyght on them, neyther any heate.

17 For the lambe whiche is in the middes of the throne shal feede them, and shal leade them vnto lyuyng fountaynes of waters: and GOD shal wype away al teares from their eyes.

The.viii.Chapter.

1. The seuenth seale is opened, there is silence in heauen. 6. The foure angels blowe theyr trumpettes, and great plagues folowe vpon the earth.

A 1 AND when he had opened the seuenth seale, there was silence in heauē about the space of halfe an houre.

2 And I saw the seuen angels which stoode before God, and to them were geuen seuen trumpettes.

3 And another angel came and stood before the aulter, hauyng a golden censer, and many odours were geuen vnto hym, that he shoulde offer with the prayers of al saintes vpon the golden aulter whiche was before the throne.

4 And the smoke of the odours which came of the prayers of saintes, ascended vp before God, out of the angels hande.

5 And the angel tooke the censer, and filled it with fire of the aulter, and cast it into the earth: and voyces were made, and thunderinges, and lyghtnynges, and earthquake.

6 And the seuen angels which had the seuen trumpettes, prepared them selues to blow.

B 7 The first angel blewe, & there was made hayle & fyre mingled with blood, and they were cast into the earth, and the third part of trees was burnt, and al greene grasse was burnt.

8 And the seconde angel blewe, and as it were a great mountayne burnyng with fire was cast into the sea, and the thirde part of the sea turned to blood.

9 And the thirde part of the creatures whiche were in the sea and had lyfe, dyed, and the thirde part of the ships was destroyed.
10 And the third angel blewe, and there fel a great starre from heauen, burnyng as it were a lampe, and it fel into the third part of the riuers, & into fountaynes of waters:
11 And the name of the starre is called Wormewood, and the third part was turned to wormewood, and many men dyed of the waters, because they were made bitter.
12 And the fourth angel blewe, & the thirde part of the Sunne was smitten, and the thirde part of the Moone, and the thirde part of starres, that the thirde part of them should be darkened: and the day was (smitten) that the third part of it should not shyne, and lykewyse the nyght.
13 And I beheldе, and heardе an angel fleeing through the middes of heauen, sayeing with a loude voyce, Wo, wo, wo to the inhabiters of the earth, because of the voyces to comme of the trumpe of the three angels whiche were yet to blowe.

The. ix. Chapter.

12. The firste wo is past. 14. The foure angels that were bound are loosed. 18. And the thirde part of menne is kylled.

A 1 And the fyfth angel blewe, and I sawe a starre fal frō heauen vnto the earth: and to him was geuen the keye of the bottomlesse pit.
2 And he opened the bottomlesse pit, and the smoke of the pit arose, as the smoke of a great fornace, and the Sunne and the ayre were darkened, by the reason of the smoke of the pit.
3 And there came out of the smoke locustes vpon the earth, and vnto them was geuen power, as the Scorpions of the earth haue power.
4 And it was commaunded them that they shoulde not hurt the grasse of the earth, neither any greene thing, neyther any tree: but onely those menne which haue not the seale of God in their foreheades.
5 And to them it was geuē that they should not kyl them, but that they should be vexed fiue monethes, and their payne was as the payne that commeth of a Scorpion when he shal haue stricken a man.
Esai. 2. d Ose. 10. c Luke. 23. d
6 *And in those dayes shal men seeke death, and shal not finde it, and shal desire to dye, and death shal flee from them.
B 7 And the similitude of the locustes was lyke vnto horses prepared vnto battayle, & on their heades (were) as it were crownes lyke vnto golde, and their faces were as it had benne the faces of menne.
8 And they had heare as the heare of womē, and their teeth were as the teeth of Lions.
9 And they had habergions as it were habergions of iron, and the sounde of their wynges was as the sound of charets when many horses runne to batayle.
10 And they had tayles lyke vnto Scorpions, and there were stinges in their tailes: and their power was to hurt menne fiue monethes.
11 And they had a kyng ouer them, whiche is the angel of the bottomlesse pit, whose name in the Hebrue tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greke tongue hath his name Apollyon (that is to say, a destroyer.)
12 One woe is past, and beholde two woes comme yet after this.
13 And the sixth angel blewe, and I heardе a voyce from the foure hornes of the golden aulter, whiche is before God, 14 Sayeing to the sixth angel whiche had C the trumpe, Loose the foure angels whiche are bounde in the great ryuer Euphrates.
15 And the foure angels were loosed, whiche were prepared for an houre, and a day, and a moneth, and a yeere, for to slay the thirde part of men.
16 And the number of the horsmen of the armies were twentie thousande tymes tenne thousande: and I heardе the number of them.
17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sate on them, hauing fierie habergions of a iacint colour, and brymstone, and the heades of the horses were as the heades of Lions, and out of their mouthes commeth foorth fyre, and smoke, and brymstone.
18 And of these three was the thirde part of menne kylled (that is to say) of the fire, and of the smoke, and of the brymstone, whiche proceeded out of the mouthes of them.
19 For their powers be in their mouthes, & in their tayles: for their tayles were like vnto serpentes, hauyng heades, and with them they doo hurt.
20 And the remnant of the menne whiche were not kylled by these plagues, repented not of the deedes of their handes, that they shoulde not worshyp diuels, and idols of golde, and syluer, and brasse, and stone, and of wood, whiche neyther can see, neyther heare, neyther goe:
21 Also they repented not of their murders, D and of their sorceries, neither of their fornication, neyther of their thefte.

The

The.x. Chapter.

1. The angel hath the booke open, 6. he sweareth there shalbe no more tyme, 9. he geueth the booke vnto Iohn, whiche eateth it vp.

A 1 AND I sawe another myghty angel comme downe from heauen, clothed with a cloude, and the raynebowe vpon his head: and his face as it were the sunne, and his feete as it were pillers of fyre.

2 And he had in his hand a litle booke open: and he put his right foote vpon the sea, and his leaft foote on the earth:

3 And cryed with a loude voyce, as when a Lion roreth: and when he had cryed, seuen thunders vttered their voyces.

4 And when the seuen thunders had vttered their voyces, I was about to write: and I heard a voyce from heauen, saying vnto me, Seale vp those thinges which the seuen thunders vttered, and write them not.

5 And the angel whiche I sawe stande vpon the sea and vpon the earth, lyft vp his hande to heauen,

6 And sware by him that liueth for euermore, whiche created heauen, and the thinges that therein are, and the earth, and the thinges that therein are, and the sea, & the thinges which therin are, that there should

B be no longer tyme.

7 But in the dayes of the voyce of the seuenth angel, when he shal begin to blowe, and the ministerie of God shalbe finished, as he declareth to his seruantes the prophetes.

Ezech.2.c. 8 And the voyce whiche I heard from heauen, spake vnto me agayne, and said, *Goe, and take the litle booke (whiche is) open in the hande of the angel whiche standeth vpon the sea and vpon the earth.

9 And I went vnto the angel, and sayd vnto him, Geue me the litle booke. And he sayde vnto me, Take it, and eate it vp, and it shal make thy belly bitter, but it shalbe in thy mouth as sweete as hony.

Ezech.3.c. 10 *And I tooke the litle booke out of the angels hande, & eate it vp, and it was in my mouth as sweete as hony: and assoone as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.

11 And he said vnto me, Thou must prophesie agayne among the people, and nations, and tongues, and to many kynges.

The.xi. Chapter.

1. The temple is measured. 3. Two witnesses rayfed vp by the Lorde, are murdered by the beast.

1 AND then was geuen me a reede lyke A vnto a rodde, and the angel stoode by, saying, Ryse and meate the temple of God, and the aulter, and them that worship therein.

2 But the court which is without the temple cast out, and meate it not: for it is geuen vnto the gentiles, and the holy citie shal they treade vnder foote fourtie and two monethes.

3 And I wyl geue (power) vnto my two witnesses, and they shal prophesie a thousande, two hundred, and threescore dayes, clothed in sackcloth.

4 These are two oliue trees, and two candlesticks, standyng before the God of the earth.

5 And yf any man wyl hurt them, fyre proceedeth out of their mouthes, and consumeth their enimies, and yf any man wyl hurt them, this wyse must he be kylled.

6 These haue power to shut heauen, that it rayne not in the dayes of their prophecying: and haue power ouer waters, to turne them to blood, and to smite the earth with al manner plagues, as often as they wyl.

7 And when they haue finished their testi- B monie, the beast that commeth out of the bottomelesse pit, shal make warre agaynst them, and shal ouercomme them, and kyl them.

8 And their bodyes shal lye in the streetes of the great citie, whiche spiritually is called Sodome and Egypt, where also our Lorde was crucifyed.

9 And they of the people, and kinredes, and tongues, and they of the nations, shal see their bodyes three dayes and an halfe, and shal not suffer their bodyes to be put in graues.

10 And they that dwel vpon the earth shal reioyce ouer them, and be gladde, and shal sende gyftes one to another: for these two prophetes vexed them that dwelt on the earth.

11 And after three dayes and an halfe, the spirite of lyfe (comming) from God, entred into them: And they stoode vp vpon their feete, and great feare fel vpon them which sawe them.

12 And they heard a great voyce from heauen, saying vnto them, Come vp hyther. And they assended vp to heauen in a cloude, and their enimies sawe them.

13 And the same houre was there a great earthquake, & ẏ tenth part of ẏ citie fel, & C in ẏ earthquake were slaine names of men seuen thousande: and the remnant were afrayd, and gaue glory to the god of heauen.

14 The seconde wo is past, and beholde the thirde wo commeth anone.

15 And the seuenth angel blewe, and there were made great voyces in heauen, sayeing, The kingdomes of this worlde are our Lordes, and his Christes, and he shal raigne for euermore.

16 And the .xxiiii. elders whiche syt before God on their seates, fel vpon their faces, and worshipped God, 17 Sayeing, We geue thee thankes, O lord God almighty, whiche art, and wast, and art to comme: for thou hast receiued thy great myght, and hast raigned.

18 And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is comme, and the tyme of the dead that they shoulde be iudged, and that thou shouldest geue rewarde vnto thy seruantes the prophetes and saintes, and to them that feare thy name, smal and great, and shouldest destroy them whiche destroy the earth.

19 And the temple of GOD was opened in heauen, and there were seene in his temple the arke of his testament: and there folowed lightninges, and voyces, and thunderinges, and earthquake, and muche hayle.

The .xii. Chapter.

1. There appeareth in heauen a woman clothed with the sunne.

A 1 AND there appeared a great "woonder in heauen, A woman clothed with the Sunne, and the Moone vnder her feete, & vpon her head a crowne of twelue starres:

" or, signe.

2 And she being with childe, cryeth trauayling in byrth, and payned redy to be deliuered.

3 And there appeared another woonder in heauen, for beholde a great red Dragon, hauyng seuen heades, and ten hornes, and seuen crownes vpon his heades.

4 And his tayle draweth the thirde part of the starres of heauen, and he cast them to the earth: And the Dragon stoode before the woman whiche was redy to be deliuered, for to deuoure her childe assoone as it were borne.

5 And she brought forth a man child, which shal rule al nations with a rodde of iron: and her sonne was taken vp vnto God, and (to) his throne.

6 And the woman fled into the wylderneſſe, where she hath a place prepared of GOD, that they shoulde feede her there a thousande, two hundred, and threescore dayes.

The Epistle on saynt Michael and al angels.

7 And there was a batayle in heauen, Michael and his angels fought with the Dragon, and the Dragon fought and his angels,

8 And preuayled not, neyther was theyr place founde any more in heauen.

B 9 And the great Dragon, that olde serpent, called the deuil & Satanas, was cast out, whiche deceiueth al the worlde: and he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loude voyce sayeing in heauen: Nowe is comme saluation and strength, and the kyngdome of our God, and the power of his Christe: For the accuser of our brethren is cast downe, whiche accused them before our GOD day and nyght, 11 And they ouercame him by the blood of the lambe, and by the worde of his testimonie, and they loued not their lines vnto the death.

12 Therefore reioyce heauens, and ye that dwel in them. Wo to the inhabiters of the earth and of the sea: for the deuil is comme downe vnto you, which hath great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon sawe that he was cast vnto the earth, he persecuted the woman whiche brought forth the man child.

C 14 And to the woman were geuen two winges of a great Eagle, that she might flee into the wylderneſſe into her place, where she is nourished for a tyme, and tymes, and halfe a tyme, from the face of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water after the woman, as it had ben a flud: that he myght cause her to be caryed away of the fludde.

16 And the earth holpe the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swalowed vp the riuer whiche the dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 And the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went and made warre with the remnant of her seede, whiche keepe the commaundementes of God, and haue the testimonie of Iesus Christe.

18 And "I stoode on the sea sande.

" Somme reade, and he stoode.

The .xiii. Chapter.

1. 8. The beast deceiueth the reprobate. 2. 4. 12. and is confyrmed by another. 17. The priuiledge of the beastes marke.

A 1 AND I sawe a beast ryse out of the sea, hauyng seuen heades, and tenne hornes, and vppon his hornes tenne crownes, and vpon his heades the name of blasphemie.

2 And

2 And the beast whiche I sawe was lyke a Leoparde, and his feete were as (the feete) of a Beare, and his mouth as the mouth of a Lion: & the Dragon gaue him his power, and his seate, and great auctho|ritie.

3 And I sawe one of his heades as it were wounded to death, and his deadly wounde was healed: And al the worlde woondred after the beast.

4 And they worshipped the Dragon which gaue power vnto the beast, and they worshipped the beast, sayeing, Who is lyke vnto the beast? Who is able to warre with him?

5 And there was geuen vnto him a mouth, speakyng great thynges, and blasphemies, and power was geuen vnto hym, to doo fourtie and two monethes.

6 And he opened his mouth vnto blasphemie agaynst God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwel in heauen.

B 7 And it was geuē vnto him to make warre with the saintes, and to ouercomme them: And power was geuen him ouer al kinredes, and tongues, and nations,

8 And al that dwel vpon the earth shal worship him, whose names are not written in the booke of lyfe of the lambe, whiche was kylled from the begynnyng of the worlde.

9 If any man haue an eare, let hym heare.

10 He that leadeth into captiuitie, shal goe into captiuitie: *He that killeth with a swoorde, must be kylled with a swoorde. Here is the patience and the fayth of the saintes. Gen.9.b. Mat.26.c

11 And I behelde another beast commyng vp out of the earth, and he had two hornes lyke a lambe, and he spake as dyd the Dragon.

12 And he doeth al that the first beast could do in his presence, and he causeth the earth and them whiche dwel therin to worship the first beast, whose deadly wounde was healed.

13 And he doeth great woonders, so that he maketh fyre comme downe from heauen on the earth in the sight of menne,

C 14 And deceiueth them that dwel on the earth, by the meanes of those signes which he had power to do in the sight of the beast, saying to them that dwel on the earth, that they shoulde make an image to the beast whiche hath the wounde of a swoorde, and dyd lyue.

15 And he had power to gene a spirite vnto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast shoulde both speake, and should cause that as many as woulde not worship the image of the beast, shoulde be kylled.

16 And he causeth al, both smal and great, riche and poore, free & bonde, that he should geue them a marke in their ryght hande, or in their foreheades.

17 And that no man myght by or sel, saue he that had the marke, or the name of the beast, other the number of his name.

18 Here is wysedome. Let hym that hath wit, count the number of the beast: For it is the number of a man, and his number is sixe hundred threescore and sixe.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

1. The notable company of the lambe. 6. One announceth the Gospel. 8. Another, the fal of Babylon. 9. And the thyrde warneth to flee from the beast. 18. Of the Lordes haruest.

A The Epistle on the Innocentes day.

1 AND I looked, and loe a lambe stoode on the mount Sion, and with hym an hundred fourtie and foure thousande, hauyng his fathers name written in their foreheades.

2 And I heard a voyce from heauen as the sounde of many waters, and as the voyce of a great thunder: and I heard the voyce of harpers harping with their harpes,

3 And they sing as it were a newe song before the throne, & before the foure beastes, and the elders, and no man coulde learne that song, but the hundred and fourtie and foure thousande, whiche were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they whiche were not defyled with women, for they are virgins: These are they whiche folowe the lambe whyther so|euer he goeth: These were redeemed frō menne, beyng the first fruites vnto God, and to the lambe.

5 And in their mouth was found no guyle: for they are without spot before the throne of God.

6 And I sawe another angel flee in the middest of heauen, hauing the euerlastyng Gospel, to preache vnto them that dwel on the earth, and to al nations, and kinredes, and tongues, and people,

7 Sayeing with a loude voyce, *Feare god, and geue glory to hym, for the houre of his iudgement is comme: and worship hym that made heauen and earth, and the sea, and fountaynes of waters. B Acte.14.d.

8 And there folowed another angel, sayeing, *Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great citie, for she made al nations drynke of the wyne of the wrath of her fornication. Esai.21.c Iere.51.a

9 And the thirde angel folowed them, sayeing with a loude voyce, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receiue his marke in his forehead, or on his hande,

10 The same shal drinke of the wine of the wrath of God: (yea) of the pure wine whiche is poured in the cup of his wrath, and he shalbe pounished in fyre and brimstone before the holye angels, and before the lambe.

11 And the smoke of theyr torment assendeth vp euermore: And they haue no rest day nor nyght whiche worshyp the beast and his image, and who so euer receiueth the print of his name.

12 Here is the patience of the saintes: Here are they that keepe the commaundements of God, and the fayth of Jesus.

13 And I hearde a voyce from heauen, sayeing vnto me, wryte, blessed are the dead, whiche hereafter dye in the Lorde. Euen so sayth the spirite, that they may rest from their labour, & their workes folowe them.

℣ 14 And I looked, and behold a white cloud, and vpon the cloude one sitting like vnto the sonne of man, hauyng on his head a golden crowne, and in his hande a sharpe sickle.

15 And another angel came out of the temple cryeing with a loude voyce to him that sate on the cloude: * Thrust in thy sickle and reape, for the time is come to reape, for the harueſt of the earth is * ripe.

Joel. 3. c.

* or, dryed.

16 And he that sate on the cloude thrust in his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out of the temple which is in heauen, hauing also a sharp sickle.

18 And another angel came out from the aulter, whiche had power ouer fyre, and cryed with a loude crye to him that hadde the sharpe sickle, sayeing, Thrust in thy sharpe sickle, and geather the clusters of the vineyarde of the earth, for her grapes are ripe.

19 And the angel thrust in his sharpe sickle on the earth, and cut downe the vineyarde of the earth, and cast it into the great winefat of the wrath of God.

20 And the winefat was troden without the citie, and blood came out of the fat euen vnto the horse bridels, by the space of a thousande and fyre hundred furlonges.

The. xv. Chapter.

3. The song of them that ouercomme the beast.

℟ 1 AND I sawe another signe in heauen great and marueylous, seuen angels hauyng the seuen last plagues, for in them is fulfylled the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were a glassie sea, mingled with fyre, and them that had gotten the victorie of the beast, and of his image, and of his marke, & of the number of his name, stande on the glassie sea, hauing the harpes of God.

3 And they syng the song of Moses the seruant of God, and the song of the lambe, sayeing, Great and marueylous are thy woorkes, * Lorde God almyghty: iust and true are thy wayes, thou king of saintes.

Esai. 21. c. Iere. 51. a.

4 Who shal not feare thee, O Lorde, and glorifye thy name? for thou only art holy: And al Gentiles shal comme, and worship before thee, for thy iudgementes are made manifest.

5 And after that I looked, and beholde, the temple of the tabernacle of the testimonie was open in heauen:

6 And the seuen angels came out of the temple, hauyng the seuen plagues, clothed in pure and bright linnen, & hauyng theyr brestes gyrded with golden gyrdles.

7 And one of the foure beastes gaue vnto ℣ the seuen angels seuen golden vials, ful of the wrath of God whiche liueth for euermore.

8 And the temple was ful of the smoke of the glory of God, and of his power, and no man was able to enter into the temple, tyl the seuen plagues of the seuen angels were fulfylled.

The. xvi. Chapter.

1. The angels power out their vialles ful of wrath, 6. and what plagues folowe therof. 15. Admonition to take heede and watche.

1 AND I heard a great voyce out of the ℟ temple, sayeing to the seuen angels, Goe your wayes, powre out the vials of the wrath of God vpon the earth.

2 And the fyrst (angel) went, and powred out his vial vpon the earth, and there fel a noysome and a sore botche vpon the menne whiche had the marke of the beast, and vpon them whiche woorshipped his image.

3 And the seconde angel shed out his vial vpon the sea, and it turned as it were into the blood of a dead man: and euery liuyng thyng dyed in the sea.

4 And the thirde angel shedde out his vial vpon the riuers and fountaynes of waters, and they turned to blood.

5 And I hearde the angel of the waters say, Lorde whiche art, and wast, thou art ryghteous and that holy one, because thou hast geuen suche iudgementes:

6 For they haue shed out the blood of saintes and prophetes, and therefore hast thou geuen geuen them blood to drynke: for they are worthy.

B 7 And I heard another out of the aulter say, Euen so Lord God almyghty, true and ryghteous are thy iudgementes.

8 And the fourth angel powred out his vial on the Sunne, and power was geuen vnto him to vexe men with feruent heate of fire.

9 And men boyled in great heate, and blasphemed the name of God, whiche hath power ouer these plagues, and they repented not, to geue him glory.

10 And the fifth angel powred out his vial vpon the seate of the beast, & his kingdome waxed darke, and they gnew their tongues for sorowe, 11 And blasphemed the God of heauen, for their sorowes, and for their sores, and repented not of their deedes.

12 And the sixth angel powred out his vial vpon the great riuer Euphrates, & the water therof dried vp, that the way of the kinges of the East should be prepared.

13 And I sawe three vncleane spirites lyke frogges, come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophete.

C 14 For they are the spirites of deuyls worckyng miracles, to goe out vnto the kynges of the earth, and of the whole world, to gather them to the batayle of that great day of God almyghty.

Mat. 24. d. 2. Pet. 3. c. 1. Thes. 5. a.

15 *Beholde, I come as a theefe. Happy is he that watcheth, & keepeth his garmentes, lest he walke naked, and men see his filthynesse.

16 And he gathered them together into a place, called in the Hebrue tongue Armagedon.

17 And the seuenth angel powred out his vial into the ayre: and there came a great voyce out of the temple of heauen, from the throne, saying, It is done.

18 And there folowed voyces, thunderynges, and lightnings: & there was a great earthquake, suche as was not since men were vpon the earth, so myghty an earthquake, and so great.

19 And the great citie was diuided into three partes, & the cities of the nations fell: And great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to geue vnto her the cup of the wyne of the fiercenesse of his wrath.

20 Euery Ile also fled away, & the mountaynes were not founde.

21 And there fel a great hayle, as it had ben talentes, out of heauen vpon the men, and the men blasphemed God, because of the plague of the hayle: for the plague therof was exceeding great.

The. xvii. Chapter.

3. The discription of the great whoore,
8. and her sinnes, and pounishment.

1 AND there came one of the seuen angels, whiche had the seuen vials, and talked with me, saying vnto me, Come, I wyl shewe vnto thee the iudgement of the great whoore, that sitteth vpon many waters: A

2 With whom haue committed fornication the kinges of the earth, and the inhabiters of the earth are drunken with the wyne of her fornication.

3 So he carryed me away in the spirite into the wyldernesse: And I sawe a woman sit vpon a scarlet coloured beast, ful of names of blasphemie, hauing seuen heades, and ten hornes.

4 And the woman was arayed in purple & scarlet colour, and decked with golde, precious stone, and pearles, hauing a cup of golde in her hand, ful of abominations and filthynesse of her fornication.

5 And in her forehead was a name written, a mysterie, great Babylon, the mother of whoredome & abominations of the earth.

6 And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saintes, and with the blood of the martyrs of Iesus: And when I sawe her, I woondred with great marueyle.

7 And the angel sayde vnto me, Wherefore marueylest thou? I wyl shewe thee the mysterie of the woman, and of the beast that beareth her, whiche hath seuen heades, and ten hornes. B

8 And the beast that thou sawest, was, and is not, & shal assende out of the bottomlesse pit, and goeth into perdition, and they that dwel on the earth shal woonder, (whose names are not written in the booke of lyfe from the begynnyng of the worlde) when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 And here is a meanyng that hath wysedome. The seuen heades, are seuen mountaynes, on which the woman sitteth: They are also seuen kynges.

10 Fyue are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come: And when he commeth, he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, is euen the eyght, and is one of the seuen, and goeth into destruction.

12 And the tenne hornes whiche thou sawest, are tenne kynges, whiche haue receyued no kyngdome as yet: but receiue power as kynges at one houre with the beast.

13 These haue one minde, and shal geue their power and strength vnto the beast.
C 14 These shal fight with the lambe, and the lambe shal ouercome them: * For he is the
1. Tim. 6. Lorde of Lordes, and King of Kinges, and they that are on his syde, are called, and chosen, and faythful.
15 And he saith vnto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the whoore sytteth, are people, and folke, & nations, and tongues.
16 And the ten hornes whiche thou sawest vpon the beast, are they that shal hate the whoore, and shal make her desolate, and naked, and shal eate her fleashe, and burne her with fyre.
17 For God hath put in their hartes to ful-fyl his wyl, and to do with one consent, for to geue their kyngdome vnto the beast, vn-tyl the woordes of God shalbe fulfilled.
18 And the woman whiche thou sawest, is that great citie whiche raigneth ouer the kynges of the earth.

The. xviii. Chapter.

3.9. The louers of the worlde are sory for the fal of the whore of Babylon. 20. But they that be of God, haue cause to reioyce for her destruction.

A 1 AND after that, I sawe another angel come from heauen, hauyng great power, and the earth was lightned with his glory.
2 And he cried mightily with a strong voice,
Esai. 21. f. saying, * Great Babylon is fallen, is fal-Iere. 1. a. len, & is become the habitation of deuilles, and the hold of al foule spirites, and a cage of al vncleane and hateful byrdes:
3 For al nations haue dronken of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, & the kings of the earth haue committed fornication with her, and the marchantes of the earth are waxed riche of the abundance of her pleasures.
4 And I heard another voyce from heauen say, Come away from her my people, that ye be not partakers of her sinnes, and that ye receiue not of her plagues.
5 For her sinnes are gone vp to heauen, and God hath remembred her wickednesse.
6 Rewarde her euen as she rewarded you, & geue her double according to her woorkes, and powre in double to her in the same cup whiche she fylled vnto you.
B 7 And as much as she glorified her selfe, and liued wantonly, so muche powre ye in for her of pounishment and sorow: for she sayd Esai. 46. d. in her hart, * I syt beyng a queene, and am no wydowe, and shal see no sorowe.
8 Therefore shal her plagues come in one day, death, and sorow, and hunger, and she shalbe vtterly brent with fyre, for strong is the Lorde whiche iudgeth her.
9 And they shal bewaile her, and the kings of the earth shal lament for her, which haue committed fornication with her, and haue liued wantonly with her, when they shal see the smoke of her burnyng:
10 Standyng a farre of for feare of her pounishment, saying, * Alas, alas, that great Iere. 51. a. citie Babylon, that myghtie citie, for at one houre is thy iudgement come,
11 And the marchantes of the earth do weepe and wayle ouer her, for no man byeth there ware any more.
12 The ware of gold, and syluer, and pretious stones, and of pearle, and raynes, and purple, and silke, and scarlet, & al Thyine wood, and al manner vessels of yuorie, and al manner vessels of moste pretious wood, and of brasse, and iron, and marble,
13 And Cinamome, and odours, and oyn-mentes, and Frankensence, and wine, and oyle, and fine floure, and wheate, & beastes, and sheepe, and horses, and charets, and bodyes and soules of men,
14 And the apples that thy soule lusted after, C are departed from thee, and al things whiche were dayntie and had in price, are departed from thee, and thou shalt find them no more at al.
15 The marchantes of these thyngs which were waxed riche, shal stande a farre of from her, for feare of the pounishment of her, weepyng and waylyng,
16 And saying, * Alas, alas, that great citie, Iere. 51. d. that was clothed in raines, and purple, and skarlet, and decked with golde, and pretious stones, and pearles:
17 For at one houre so great riches is come to nought. And euery shyp gouernour, & al they that occupie ships, & shipmen, and as many as woorke in the sea, stoode a farre
of,
18 And cryed when they sawe the smoke of her burning, saying, What citie is like vnto this great citie?
19 And they cast dust on their heades, and cried, weeping, and waylyng, and saying,
* Alas, alas, that great citie, wherin were Iere. 51. d.
made riche al that had shyppes in the sea, by reason of her costlinesse, for at one houre is she made desolate.
20 Reioyce ouer her thou heauen, and ye holy apostles and prophetes, for God hath geuen your iudgement on her.
21 And a mightie angel tooke vp a stone lyke a great mylstone, & cast it into the sea, saying, With suche violence shal that great citie Babylon be cast, and shalbe founde

founde no more at al.

22 And the voyce of harpers, & musitions, and of pipers & trumpetters, shalbe hearde no more at al in thee: and no craftes man, of whatsoeuer craft he be, shalbe found any more in thee: and the sounde of a myl, shalbe hearde no more at al in thee:

23 And ỹ light of a candle shal shine no more at al in thee, and the voyce of the bridegrome & of the bride, shalbe hearde no more at al in thee: for thy merchantes were the great men of the earth, and with thyne enchantment were deceiued al nations.

24 And in her was founde the blood of the prophetes, and of the saintes, and of al that were slayne vpon the earth.

The. xix. Chapter.

1. Prayses are geuen vnto God for iudging the whoore.

¶ 1 AND after these thynges, I hearde a great voyce of much people in heauen, sayeing, (a) Alleluia: saluation, and glory, and honour, and power, (be ascribed) to the Lorde our God:

(a) That is, prayse ye god, because that antechrist and al wicked nesse is taken out of the world.

2 For true and righteous are his iudgmentes, for he hath iudged the great whoore whiche dyd corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath throughly auenged the blood of his seruantes of her hande.

3 And agayne they sayde, Alleluia: and her smoke rose vp for euermore.

4 And the foure and twentie elders, and the foure beastes fel downe, and woorshypped God that sate on the throne, sayeing, Amen, Alleluia.

5 And a voyce came out of the throne, sayeing, Prayse our Lorde God al ye that are his seruantes, and ye that feare him both smal and great.

6 And I hearde as it were ỹ voyce of much people, euen as the voyce of many waters, and as the voyce of strong thunderynges, sayeing, Alleluia: for the Lorde our God omnipotent raigneth.

B 7 Let vs be glad, and reioyce, and geue honour to hym: for the marriage of the lambe is come, and his wyfe hath made her selfe ready.

Mat. 22. a. Luke. 14. a. 8 And to her was graunted that she shoulde be arayed with pure and goodly raynes: for the raynes is the ryghteousnesse of saintes.

9 And he sayd vnto me, Write, Happy are they whiche are called vnto the supper of the lambes marriage. And he said vnto me, These are the true sayeinges of God.

10 And I fel at his feete to woorship hym: And he sayde vnto me, See thou doo it not: for I am thy felow seruant, and of thy brethren that haue the testimonie of Iesus. Woorshyp God: for the testimonie of Iesus, is the spirite of prophecie.

11 And I sawe heauen open, and beholde a whyte horse: and he that sate vpon him, was called faythful and true, and in ryghteousnesse (he) dooth iudge & make batayle.

12 His eyes (were) as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crownes, & he had a name wrytten, that no man knew but he him selfe. Esai. 53. b.

13 And he was clothed with a vesture dypt in blood: and his name is called the woord of God.

14 And the armies whiche were in heauen folowed him vpon white horses, clothed with whyte and pure raynes. C

15 And out of his mouth goeth a sharpe swoorde, that with it he shoulde smyte the heathen: And he shal rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the winefat of the fiercenesse and wrath of almyghty God.

16 And he hath on his vesture, & on his thigh a name wrytten, Kyng of Kynges, and Lorde of Lordes.

17 And I saw an angel stand in the Sunne, and he cryed with a loude voyce, sayeing to al the foules that flee by the middes of heauen, Come and geather your selues togeather vnto the supper of the great God:

18 That ye may eate the fleashe of kinges, and the fleashe of high captaynes, and the fleashe of myghty men, & the fleashe of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the fleashe of al free men, and bond men, and of smal and great.

19 And I sawe the beast, and the kinges of the earth, and their armies geathered togeather, to make batayle agaynst him that sate on the horse, and agaynst his armie.

20 And the beast was taken, and with him that false prophete that wrought miracles before him, with whiche he deceiued them that receyued the beastes marke, and them that woorshypped his image. These both were caste quicke into a ponde of fire, burnyng with brymstone:

21 And the remnant were slayne with the swoorde of hym that sate vpon the horse, which swoord proceeded out of his mouth: and al the foules were filled with their fleashe. D

The. xx. Chapter.

2. Satan being bounde for a certayne tyme, 7. and after let loose, vexeth the Churche greeuously.

1 AND I sawe an angel come downe from heauen, hauyng the key of the bottomlesse A bottomlesse pyt, and a great chayne in his hande.

2 And he tooke the dragon, that old serpent, whiche is the deuyl and Satanas, and he bounde him a thousande yeeres:

3 And cast him into the bottomlesse pit, and, he shut him vp, and set a seale on him, that he shoulde deceiue the nations no more, tyl the thousande yeeres shoulde be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed (for) a litle season.

4 And I sawe thrones, and they sate vpon them, & iudgement was geuen vnto them: and I sawe the soules of them that were beheaded for the witnesse of Iesus, and for the worde of God, and which had not worshypped the beast, neither his image, neyther had taken his marke vpon theyr foreheades, or in theyr handes, and they lyued and raigned with Christe, a thousande yeeres.

5 But the other of the dead men did not liue agayne, vntyl the thousande yeeres were finished. This is the first resurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is he that hath parte in the first resurrection: for on such the second death hath no power, but they shalbe the priestes of God and of Christe, and shal raigne with him a thousande yeeres.

B 7 *And when the thousande yeeres are expired, Satan shalbe losed out of his prison: Esai.38.

8 And shal goe out to deceiue the nations which are in ỹ foure quarters of the earth, Gog and Magog, to geather them togeather to batayle: whose number is as the sande of the sea.

9 And they went vp in the playne of the earth, and compassed the tentes of the saintes about, and the beloued citie: and fire came downe from God out of heauen, and deuoured them:

10 And the deuyl that deceiued them, was cast into a lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophete shalbe tormented day and night for euermore.

11 And I sawe a great whyte throne, and him that sate on it, from whose face fled away both the earth and the heauen, and theyr place was no more founde.

12 And I sawe the dead both smal & great stand before God: and the bookes were opened: and another booke was opened, whiche is (the booke) of lyfe: and the dead were iudged of those thynges whiche were wrytten in the bookes, accordyng to theyr deedes.

13 And the sea gaue vp her dead which were in her: and death and hel deliuered vp the dead whiche were in them: and they were iudged euery man accordyng to his deedes.

14 And death and hel were cast into the lake of fire: this is the seconde death.

15 And whosoeuer was not founde wrytten in the booke of lyfe, was cast into the lake of fire.

The.xxi.Chapter.

3. 14. The blessed estate of the godly.
8. 27. and the miserable condition of the wicked.

A 1 AND I sawe a new heauen and a new earth: for the first heauen and the first earth were vanished away, and there is no more sea. Esai.45.c. 2.Pet.3.a.

2 And I John sawe the holy citie newe Hierusalem, come downe from God out of heauen, prepared as a bride garnished for her husbande.

3 *And I hearde a great voyce out of heauen, sayeing, Beholde, the tabernacle of God (is) with men, and he wyl dwel with them, and they shalbe his people, and God him selfe shalbe with them, & be their God. Esai.25.d.

4 * And God shal wype away al teares from their eyes, and there shalbe no more death, neyther sorowe, neyther cryeing, neyther shal there be any more payne: for the former thynges are gone. Esai.43.b. 2.Cor.5.b.

5 And he that sate vpon the throne, sayde, Beholde, I make al thynges new. And he sayde vnto me, Wryte: for these woordes are true and faythful.

6 And he sayde vnto me, It is done: I am Alpha and Omega, the beginnyng and the ende. I wyl geue vnto him that is a thirste of the wel of the water of lyfe freely.

7 He that ouercommeth, shal inherite al thinges, and I wyl be his God, & he shalbe my sonne. B

8 But the fearful and vnbeleeuing, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and al lyers, shal haue their parte in the lake whiche burneth with fire and brimstone: whiche is the seconde death.

9 And there came vnto me one of the seuen angels, whiche had the seuen vials ful of the seuen last plagues, and talked with me, sayeing, Come hyther, I wyl shewe thee the bryde, the lambes wyfe.

10 And he carried me away in the spirite to a great & high mountayne, and he shewed me the great citie holy Hierusalem, descendyng out of heauen from God, 11 Hauing the glory of God: and her shyning (was) lyke vnto a stone most pretious, euen lyke a Iasper, cleare as Crystal.

12 And had a wal great and hygh, and had twelue gates, and at the gates twelue angelles, gels, and names written, whiche are the names of the twelue tribes of Israel.

13 On the east syde three gates, and on the north syde three gates, and towardes the south three gates, and from the west three gates.

C 14 And the wal of the citie had twelue fundations, and in them the twelue names of the lambes twelue apostles.

15 And he that talked with me, had a golden reede to measure the citie withal, and the gates thereof, and the wal thereof.

16 And the citie lyeth foursquare, and the length was as large as the breath: and he measured the citie with the reede twelue thousande furlonges, and the length, and the breadth, and the heigth of it are equal.

17 And he measured the wal therof an hundred, and fourtie, and foure cubites, by the measure of man, that is of the angel.
